

David Nichol Becomes Berlin War Reporter

Chicago News Sends Plymouth Youth to Germany

Lands Today in Lisbon, Spain, and in Berlin Early Next Week

David Nichol, son of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol of this city, will arrive in Lisbon, Spain today on his way to Berlin, where he will next week become the war correspondent of the Chicago Daily News in the capital of Germany.

He left New York City yesterday, Thursday morning, by clipper, the flight from America to Spain requiring less than 24 hours. From Lisbon he goes to Barcelona tomorrow, then to Rome on Monday where he will meet the News correspondent in Italy, spending a day or so in that city. He will arrive in Berlin Wednesday or Thursday. The entire trip is being made by airplane.

He will work with the present News' correspondent in Berlin for the time being, but will assume the entire responsibility for news reports to the Chicago News within the next few weeks, when the news correspondent who has been in Berlin for several years will return to Chicago.

The assignment that has been given to "Dave," as he is best known about Plymouth, is one that every newspaper man hopes to receive but for which few are chosen. It is the "ace" job in the newspaper profession and indicates the remarkable success that the youthful Plymouth newspaper man has won in his profession. He is a tireless worker and a most accurate writer.

Dave graduated from the Plymouth high school and then attended the University of Michigan school of journalism, graduating with outstanding honors. After completing his University work, he secured a position on the Iron River Reporter in the Upper Peninsula and later was given a place on the editorial staff of the Chicago News, covering suburban assignments. During the last year or so he has been covering numerous special assignments for the News and apparently more than made good, judging from the new and higher important assignment just given him.

Mrs. Nichol and little son will continue to reside in Evanston, near Chicago, as German war regulations do not permit the entry of families of war correspondents. David spent Saturday and Sunday in Plymouth with his parents and left by plane Monday for Washington to secure necessary passports and official documents required for admission into the war zones of Europe. The Chicago News is rated as one of the greatest newspapers in the world. Its foreign news service has long been regarded as excellent by that of no other newspaper. Its publisher, Frank Knox, is at present a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, serving as secretary of the navy.

Prof. E. W. Waugh Addresses Kiwanians

Kiwanian Miller Ross Tuesday evening presented as his guest speaker Professor E. W. Waugh of Ypsilanti State Normal college, who gave an interesting speech on the European events form the close of the World War leading up to the beginning of the present war situation. He pointed out the important part that each of the several major countries played in the formation of a peace pact that, as he explained, could only produce another outbreak such as has been witnessed during the last 12 months.

At a board meeting held after the regular club meeting plans were formulated for a special evening in the near future to raise additional funds for the club's Crippled Children fund. John Blyton was appointed general chairman for this event, further particulars of which will be announced later.

Did You Know That

Blunk & Thatcher display a complete line of Duo-Therm oil stoves; also Zenith and Philco radios. A. Z. Turner and Miss Mary Zollinger of Indianapolis, Indiana, nieces of Mrs. Ida Taft, are registered at the Mayflower hotel, while they are here to visit their aunt, Mrs. Ida Taft, who has been ill.

City Commission Votes for New Street Lights

Installations in Main Business District to Require 60 Days

A proposed change to modernize the city's street lighting was approved at the meeting of the city commission Monday night. The present 15 lights of 600 candle power, now labeled obsolete and inefficient, will be replaced with 17 new lamps of 1000 candle power having an 18-foot mounting which throws the light upward toward the pavement instead of reflecting upward toward the buildings.

The Detroit Edison company estimates that it will require about 60 days to make the necessary installations of new lights in the main business districts on Myrtle street and Penniman from Main to Harvey street. The two concrete posts in front of the Plymouth United Savings bank are to be removed also.

"The city pays $3 per month for each boulevard light now in operation and the new lights will cost $6 per month, making the net increase to the city $25.62," said C. H. Elliott, city manager.

Mrs. Robert Willoughby presented a petition to the commission Monday signed by 48 citizens of Plymouth requesting a traffic signal at the corner of Harvey street and Penniman avenue. The matter was referred to the police for study.

Another petition for a sidewalk on the east side of Mill street from Rose street to Park drive was presented, and a hearing date was set for Monday, October 1.

Congregation Tables Decision

The consideration by the congregation of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church regarding a call extended to the Rev. Edgar Hoenecke was tabled Tuesday evening at the request of the pastor to provide time for deliberation by members of the church's governing body at their next meeting, September 25, when the congregation will meet at 8 o'clock.

Starkweather P. T. A. Meets

"The P. T. A. At Work in Its Community" is the 1940-41 theme of the Starkweather P. T. A. The association, which first met on Thursday, September 26 with Alvin Zander, research assistant in the adult education department of the University of Michigan, Mr. Zander is taking Dr. Howard McCleary's place in the absence of the speaker who will view the topic from a general standpoint and tell of community activities being carried out at different points in the state.

Favor Ruth Huston Whipple will speak in November on "Democracy and the Community." Professor E. W. Waugh, of Ypsilanti, will bring one of his inspiring messages in January. The next meeting will be held at the mothers' meetings will be held. Plans are being made to make these of special interest and help, with speakers who will aid mothers and teachers in their mutual problems.

Capitol collection will be carried on again this year and proceeds will help with speech correction work and similar activities. Anyone may become a member of the P. T. A. They need not be a parent of a school child. The only requirement is an earnest desire to be of service to the school and community.

Annual City Report Contains Pictures of 'Typical Homes'

The annual report of the city of Plymouth, being distributed this week to every local home, contains an interesting feature in two full pages of pictures of typical Plymouth homes taken by Mrs. Caroline Dayton. The only requirement is an earnest desire to be of service to the school and community. The annual report represents a complete review of the proceedings of the city commission, and the work of all city departments. It is an index to city affairs and a commendable practice to inform the people of the activities of its representatives in the city government.

Supply Firm Invites Visitors to Farm

Residents of Plymouth and neighboring communities are extended an invitation from the Saxton Farm Supply stores to visit the Larro Research farm at Ten and One-Half Mile road and Northwestern Highway, Sunday, September 29. This farm is devoted exclusively to dairy products and the raising of pigs, turkeys and chickens.

Plymouth Mail Introduces Woman's Page

"Features for Homemakers," a page devoted exclusively to women readers, appears in this week's paper for the first time. The Plymouth Mail presents the first, fast series of picture interviews with women in the community on recipe suggestions and favorite menus. The first "kitchen-aid" interview is with Mrs. Loren J. Goodale, sweepstakes winner of a kitchen-aid exhibits at the Michigan state fair this year.

Each week The Plymouth Mail will feature pictures of local women with menu suggestions, and a complete page of the latest fashion and household furnishing news of interest to women.

U. of M. Club Membership Over the Top

Membership in the University of Michigan club went over the top reaching a total of 104 at the "sendoff" dinner party given in the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower Monday evening. Mrs. Thomas Bateman, president of the club reports. By attaining a membership of 100, the club is entitled to curscholarships for which students may compete by examination from the university.

The academic counseling system whereby faculty members serve as counselors for small groups of students, forming valuable personal contact with student and faculty was explained by Arthur Van Duren Jr., guest speaker who is assistant professor of German and chairman of the academic counselors for the college of letters and science at the University of Michigan.

Paul Harsha, toastmaster of the evening, introduced T. Hawley Tapping, general secretary of the alumni association who gave a message of appreciation to the new students. The banquet hall was decorated in Michigan's maize and blue and resounded with Wolverine songs.

Speaking on "What We Found at Michigan," Elizabeth Hegge stressed the feeling of appreciation for the opportunity to go to the university, and Roland Rhead facetiously informed students of class routine and warned new students of writers' cramp incurred in signing their names on the courses' registration cards.

The students who attended honored guests of the club included Dorothy Bohl, Richard G. Dunlop, Vera A. Enss, Richard Strong, and Margaret Emory, freshmen; Belva Barnes, Carol Campbell, Jack DeLaurier, Betty Mastick, and Alfred C. M. Madsen, sophomores; Lawrence Smith, junior; Elizabeth Hegge, George Stetzni, Robert Beyer, and R. Roberts, seniors; and Roland Rhead, student in the university law course.

George A. Smith was general chairman of the event; Lewis Evans, music committee; C. H. Elliott, tickets; Mrs. Roy Crowe and Mrs. Miller Ross, decorations; and Sidney Strong, hospitality.

Night School Classes Begin Monday, Sept. 30

Curriculum Offers Six New Courses for Business and Home

Night school classes at Plymouth high school will commence Monday, September 30, for a ten-week period, as announced by the board of education this week. The curriculum includes 14 courses, six of which are being offered for the first time.

Credits will be given persons who have not graduated from high school and wish to apply them toward graduation in the machine shop, shorthand, typing, art, and English classes. The Ford Trade school group taking eleventh grade English this year will graduate with the June, 1941 class.

A recreational program which will include badminton, basketball, and Early American dancing will be organized later this fall, and an additional class in child psychology will be conducted by Mrs. Mallory of The Detroit News starting January 6.

A new course in food specialties is being introduced this year, registration for which will cost $1.00. The cost of all other courses will be $2.50.

Among the new courses offered this year is one in bookkeeping, accounting, and business arithmetic to be given Monday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock in room 13 by D. Sutherland. The bookkeeper class is designed for persons who wish to learn the fundamentals of double entry bookkeeping, or for those who have taken bookkeeping in high school and would like to review the principles. The accounting class will study double entry accounting, social security records, sales tax records, and income tax returns. The business arithmetic course instructs students in the short-cuts useful in the business world and also in civil service examinations.

Students in the art class which will meet Wednesday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock in room 20 under the direction of Miss E. Fry will receive instructions in linoleum block printing, picture prints, wall hangings, Christmas cards, metal working and enameling, copper plates and dishes, clay modeling, and still life drawing in pastels, charcoal, and oils.

The homemaking department is offering three courses including the first meeting Monday, September 30, 7 to 9 o'clock in room 21. The class in dress making will meet on Monday nights, and the class in tailoring will meet on Wednesdays, but both classes will meet in a combined first meeting Monday, September 30, 7 to 9 o'clock. At this time John Blyton will give a talk on textiles using samples of fabrics.

The new class on food specialties will meet Tuesday, October 1, from 7 to 9 o'clock in room 12. The series will be conducted by women determined by the topic chosen by the group each week. The first meeting will be led by Mrs. Coello Hamilton, who will demonstrate making Parker House rolls at which she is particularly interested. The next speaker will demonstrate pie and cake baking.

The ladies' physical education classes meeting Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock in the grade school gymnasium under Mrs. L. Mink are interested in different volleyball, badminton, ping pong, and general calisthenics.

The remainder of the curriculum of courses being repeated this year include: machine shop, Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m. room 10; Campbell; typing, Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 8 p.m. H. Fountain; shorthand, Monday and Wednesday, 8 to 9 p.m. H. Fountain; current books, Monday, 8 to 9 p.m. in the library, Mrs. A. S. Matulis; apprentice training, Monday and Wednesday, 7 to 9 o'clock; Wm. C. Bentley; and eleventh grade English, Tuesday and Wednesday, 7 to 9 p.m. room 35, J. Latture.

Classes may be started in additional subjects provided 15 persons are interested and an instructor can be found.

A course in effective sales speech will begin Tuesday night, October 1, at 7:00 p. m. This course is being sponsored by the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce through the State Board for Vocational Control and the local Board of Education.

Designed to increase the ability of anyone engaged in the distribution of goods or services, the optional topics covered in the course are sales demonstrations, the sale, personality, voice, speech, human relations, and English. Projects assigned during the course will help each member improve the tools with which he works.

Plymouth Boys Enlist in Reserves

Robert West yesterday enlisted in the Naval reserves at Detroit and will be stationed for the present at Grose Isle, where he will be employed in the office. Keith Lawson also went to Detroit yesterday to enlist in the Naval Reserves.

Thompson Appointed Assessor, Supervisor

Fills Vacancy Created by Death of William Petz

Walter Smith Also Appointed to Board of Review Post

Arno Thompson was appointed city assessor and supervisor by Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple and confirmed by the city commission at its meeting Monday night to fill the vacancy created by the recent death of William C. Petz. As city assessor, Thompson automatically becomes a member of the board of review.

Walter Smith was also appointed to the board of review at Monday night's meeting to fill the post previously held by Thompson. Both new officers were sworn in by County Clerk Caspar J. Lingeman yesterday.

Thompson has served two years on the board of review during which he has had experience working under the new assessing system. Active in civic affairs, he was instrumental in getting the directors of the Plymouth civic committee of which he is a member, he is a charter member of the Old Newsboys' Goodfellows association, and has been chairman of the President's Ball committee here for several years. Past commander of the Ex-Service Men's organization of Plymouth and a member of the John Faust post, American Legion, Detroit, Thompson, who is particularly interested in Boy Scout work, was instrumental in getting the Ex-Service Men to sponsor Boy Scout Troop P-2 in 1933.

A native of Detroit, the new assessor was graduated from Western high school and took correspondence courses in income tax administration from a fraternal service organization. A resident of Plymouth since 1922, he lives at 324 North Harvey street with his wife and son, Jean, 11 years old.

Walter Smith, new appointee to the Board of Review, had served on that board for eight years before 1936. Smith is a member of the Wayne County Conservation association and the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce.

The present board of review is composed of Thompson, Smith, and Mrs. Maude B. Bennett.

J. C. C. Invited to Conference

An invitation to attend the conference of Junior Chamber of Commerce organizations in the southeastern Michigan district was extended to the Plymouth J. C. C. members by the Dearborn chapter this week. The conference will be held at the Dearborn Inn and the Dearborn hotel Saturday, September 28.

Registration, morning sessions, and a luncheon will be held at the Dearborn hotel after which delegates will be transported by bus to the Dearborn Inn for a dinner to be held at 6:30 Saturday.

"The purpose of the conference called by the state president is to coordinate and to study the work of J.C.C. groups in various cities so that the local chambers can better serve their own communities and install in the membership enthusiasm and service the best year of community service ever attempted," said Kenneth Schuessler, conference committee chairman from Dearborn. Frank Padzieski, president of the Dearborn chapter, promises a worthwhile program and urges all Plymouth members to attend.

Seven Persons Injured in Head-on Collision as Wheel Flies From Car

Seven persons were injured Sunday afternoon on Ann Arbor Trail near Powell road when the left rear wheel of a car driven by Cecil R. Dayton, 23 years old, of Jackson, came off causing the driver to lose control of the car and collide head-on with an oncoming car driven by Henry Torrence, 47, of Detroit.

Mrs. Dayton and two-year-old son, Gerald, received first aid treatment at the Plymouth hospital, after which they were removed to the University hospital at Ann Arbor. Also taken to the University hospital were Dayton, Torrence, Mrs. Torrence, and their two children, Thomas, 10, and Mary, 7 years old.

Mrs. William Parmenter returned home from Harper hospital Monday greatly improved in health.

D. A. R. Hears Talk on Constitution

"The Constitution" was the subject of the talk given by Russell Ammerman, to the members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R., at a meeting held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Brant Warner.

Mr. Ammerman felt that most of those present were somewhat familiar with the constitution and so devoted himself to talking about its background. He related most interestingly the travail that accompanied the birth of this historic and useable document.

"The Declaration of Independence (1776) and the Articles of Confederacy (1781) were long and arduous steps towards the constitution. However, neither of these documents were authoritative enough upon which to conduct a unified but independent government."

"It was not until 1785 that Maryland and Virginia convening together to discuss mutual problems, recommended that a constitutional convention be called. It took two years for the states to agree to this. In May 1787, 55 men from 12 of the 13 states, convened in Philadelphia to frame a constitution. Washington was elected president of this body. In September of the same year, after working for four months behind locked doors, the members of this body returned to their home states, and tried to convince their state legislatures to ratify the constitution.

"During these months there were many basic questions to be decided, such as state representation, commercial powers, judiciary powers and national sovereignty. Compromises being reached, the paper was finally put into such a form that eventually all the states ratified it. Virginia and Maryland, the last to do so, held out until they were promised that the Bill of Rights would be included in it."

After Mr. Ammerman's most delightful talk Mrs. J. Merle Bennett, regent, read some excerpts from a letter of the President General, who wrote, "The only safe assurance against 'total war' must be 'total defense'."

Total defense is not alone a building of physical and material bulwarks; it is dependent as much upon the creation of mental and spiritual attitudes. Only free men can be secure."

"In America the people are still paramount. If they fail the country fails. Preserve your usual activities; keep up your play, keep up your buying. Be slow in accepting or passing on rumors or claims whose truth you cannot prove."

In an era of great destruction it seems good to be able to pass on these constructive thoughts of the President General.

Mrs. Warner was assisted in her duties as hostess by Mrs. Tracy McMurtry.

Home Economics Class Starts Girls' Employment Bureau at High School

Because of the numerous girls who desire jobs an employment bureau has been established in the Plymouth high school. The girls of home economics class III have started the new project. Girls seeking jobs are requested to file an application blank with the bureau giving her qualifications and the type of work for which she is looking.

The employment bureau has two distinct divisions. It deals with those who seek jobs and those who have jobs available. The faculty sponsor is Miss I. Lundin of the home economics department. The student directors are Inez Westfall and Marian Parsons. The bureau is open from 8 to 8:30 a.m., 12:15 to 12:30, and from 3:30 to 3:45 p.m. in room 12. Those desiring additional information may call Principal Dykhouse in the high school office.

Theodore Sieloffs Feted on Golden Wedding Date

Saturday evening, September 14, 100 guests gathered in the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower to celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sieloff, 1041 Brush street.

A chicken dinner was served at tables decorated with yellow marigolds, gladioli and dahlias. The bride of 50 years ago was gowned in a purple silk velvet dress with matching accessories.

Sketches included a vocal duet given by Russell Powell and Dr. E. E. Champe, interviews with Rev. Walter Nichol and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Lunn, Mr. and Mrs. William Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell.

The Mission society of the Lutheran church met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Amelia Esch for its annual meeting. Assisting Mrs. Esch during the social hour were Mrs. Maggie Gentz, Mrs. Lena Drews, Mrs. Caroline Kaiser, Mrs. Anna Rengert, Mrs. Amanda Ballen and Mrs. Gus Eschels.

The wedding of Catherine Potts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Potts, of Mount Clemens, and Robert Delvo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Delvo, of this city, was solemnized Saturday, September 14, in St. Peter's church in Mount Clemens.

Mrs. Cecil Owen, of this city, sister of the bridegroom, attended the bride, wearing a floor length gown of peach lace with jacket. Her shoulder length veil was attached to a turban in matching color.

Richard Delvo, twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Palms and gladioli decorated the church for the wedding while candles and cake centered the table at the breakfast which followed in the bride's home.

Guests were present from Detroit, Plymouth, Emmet and Mount Clemens. Mr. and Mrs. Delvo who are residing in Plymouth have the best wishes of their many friends.

Townsend Club Members Present Plan Principles

Continuing in their efforts to further the Townsend Plan local Townsdenites present some of the reasons why they believe the Townsend Plan is an economic necessity.

The machine age has solved the problem of production," say the plan's exponents, "but it has not solved the problem of distribution. There are now an estimated ten millions out of work. They must be either supported on charity or given work. The number now supported by charity or either official or private sources costs the nation billions of dollars a year and there is only bankruptcy ahead. Labor can be distributed only by limiting hours or by limiting age.

The Townsend Plan offers age as the logical and humane way of distributing jobs. It follows our traditions and habits. It will rescue the life of the American youth and the American habits. It is the check upon communism and fascism. The Townsend Plan is emphatically American and is pledged to the preservation of our American rights assured by the Bill of Rights.

A no-luck supper will be served at 6 o'clock Monday evening, September 23, in the Grange hall. A brief business meeting will be held immediately following the supper and the members will enjoy cards and games.

Rotary Makes "Record" With Novel Program

Rotarians entertained the Rotary Army night at a "recording" party which proved most interesting and entertaining. The program under the direction of Stuart Dube consisted mainly of brief sketches put on by members and their wives which were recorded and then played back to the group on a victrola.

Sketches included a vocal duet given by Russell Powell and Dr. E. E. Champe, interviews with Rev. Walter Nichol and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Lunn, Mr. and Mrs. William Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell.

Music for the evening was furnished by the Ford Motor Company Dixie Eight. The affair was staged at the Mayflower hotel and the feature of the buffet dinner was the dessert of ice cream served in the form of peaches which were wired on miniature peach trees.

Robert Delvo Marries Girl From Mt. Clemens

DOUBLE your illumination with this new COOL LIGHT IN A TUBE

Fluorescent lighting is increasing in popularity by leaps and bounds... one reason being that you get DOUBLE THE LIGHT for the same amount of electricity.

But fluorescent lighting is so new, and the demand for it so great, that the average buyer is bewildered when he sets out to buy the proper fixtures. There are so many fixtures on the market, so many erroneous and exaggerated claims being made for fluorescent lighting...

For your protection, and to help you get your money's worth, a STANDARD has been set up by the Mazda lamp manufacturers to assure dependability and high quality in fluorescent fixtures. These approved fixtures (in commercial styles for stores, offices, etc.) are called certified Fleur-O-Liers, and conform to rigid specifications checked by Electrical Testing Laboratories.

Our experienced lighting staff will be glad to give you full information about this revolutionary new lighting. Call your Detroit Edison office. The Detroit Edison Company does not sell fluorescent fixtures or lamps. See your electrical contractor or lighting fixture dealer. The Detroit Edison Company.

JOHN A. ROSS
OPTOMETRIST
809 Penniman
Plymouth

When your paper passed from the control of the venerated and respected E. D. Stair, and a new hand came to guide the policies of the Detroit Free Press, which has been "On Guard for Over a Century," Michigan paused and wondered, "Cast aside after years of confidence and expected service to our Commonwealth, Michiganers asked, 'What manner of man is this John S. Knight, the newcomer to Michigan journalism?'"

A few weeks of question, and we found answer. Michigan now knows that the newspaper that has been "On Guard for Over a Century" still walks its post and challenges from afar enemies of the printed word and democratic freedom. The vigor, the fairness, the sound reasoning of your editorials challenges our mental processes. No political thought or mold the logic of your contentions. We are glad to see that you have deemed it wise to retain on your staff of contributors those men whom time and confidence have recommended to our respect and trust.

Through years of breakfast contacts with the "Good Morning" column of Malcolm W. Bingham, we have never ceased to marvel at the versatile humor and inbred wisdom of the Old Architect of the Pellicud Pillar. Fortified with a wealth of knowledge of history, events, literature, sports and the hearts of thousands of his readers as in the hollow of his hand, a judge of true value in things and folks, he finds time to doer appreciative note to the doers, things both great and small. The criteria of his praise is service to humanity.

With your intimate knowledge of subscribers' interest, we have often wondered if the works of Dr. George W. Crane, eminent psychologist of Northwestern University, wouldn't enhance and balance an already stellar group of contributors and daily features. "The Worry Clinic, Case Records of a Famous Psychologist" by Dr. Crane offers a Five-One human interest feature. This feature covers a wealth of the personal problems of our readers. Many of us are interested in Dr. Crane's treatment of Child Behavior, Personality Development, Business and Domestic Problems, found therein. A true diagnosis, found therein, a true evaluation of Dr. Crane's works would add much to our appreciation of your invaluable newspaper.

As we see it, yours, Mr. Knight, is a heritage of character. Among those honored of the glory of the "times" is the sentinel of the century, your own Detroit Free Press. May you ever continue to hold aloft the beacon of light and enlightenment, never lacking for courage to speak your voice, raised in defiance of graft, vice, and corruption, and champions democracy and the offense of the American way, so long will some of all men who live, have and struggle willingly shoulder the burdens of the hour while you lead them on with the visions of the tomorrows of mankind.

Sincerely and cordially yours,
JOHN A. ROSS

Why I Wrote An Open Letter to The Detroit Free Press

Since writing my open letter to the Detroit Free Press I have been besieged by letter writers, phone callers, and personal inquiries regarding the idea and purpose of my letter. So many people have rated me openly as touching the borders of insanity, or of playing the role of a meddling, but benevolent King Midas that I feel constrained to explain the Why and Wherefore of that communication.

Hundreds of telephone calls and letters have flooded my office with inquiry, commendation, suggestion, criticism, and reprimand. We have been chided and reminded on almost everything, but most especially have we been berated for not remembering Walter Lippmann in our constellation of Free Press stars. Frankly we never knew a writer had so many staunch friends as have resented our failure to mention Mr. Lippmann. Undoubtedly Mr. Lippmann is one of the most widely read commentators in our contemporary journalism. Caustic, pointed, and bold, we feel that no writer is doing more to awaken public thought to the challenge of the hour than Mr. Lippmann. His column is a stimulating breakfast menu for thousands of wide awake and thoughtful citizens. Here again, the Detroit Free Press has coralled a real journalistic giant.

As a former student and associate of Dr. George W. Crane, it has been my unique privilege to acquire first-hand information in reference to the real worth and effectiveness of his educational newspaper column, "THE WORRY CLINIC." This helpful service column, we believe, offers a great boon to hundreds of our good people who daily seek to enhance the abundance of their life.

Dr. Crane is doing more than any other one individual I know to add to the sum total of happiness and success, and to lessen human misery and woe. He is teaching young people to acquire sane and healthful attitudes toward life, helping young and old alike to rid themselves of many outmoded superstitions, instructing young couples who are contemplating marriage; giving courage to the weak, the self-conscious, and the down-trodden. Dr. Crane is talking would-be suicides and helping them to acquire a new lease on life. He is instructing inharmonious couples in proper techniques which will add to their happiness and success; teaching parents to successfully train their children; in short, giving helpful advice to men, women, boys, and girls in all walks of life. Following are the highlights of a cross section of some of the characteristic cases to which Dr. Crane gives personal attention.

CASE X. Here is the case of a young woman whose husband was suddenly killed in an accident after only six months of marriage. She fairly worshipped him, so felt it was absolutely hopeless to try to continue on without him. Suicide, she thought, was the proper solution—but Dr. Crane was able to get her promise that she would defer this act for at least "three short months."

Today she is happily married to another, and says if it did not sound "almost miraculous," she would say she is even happier now than before.

CASE W. This has to do with a well educated young man who possessed many characteristics necessary to the success of an executive. But he simply did not know how to handle people—couldn't gain the respect of those under him in his new position, and was definitely headed for the "firing" line. He came to consult Dr. Crane.

The results are that today he is one of the up-and-coming young business men in Chicago. He not only has the respect and admiration of those under him, but is actually the envy of some of his superiors as well.

CASE B. This case deals with a minister who complained of having to "preach to empty pews" on Sunday mornings while the majority of his parishioners were out playing golf, or away for a week-end of fishing. This minister corresponded with Dr. Crane and now his church is well-filled the year around. People come not only to hear him preach, but also to hear his wise counsel and advice; with many of their personal, marital, and business problems.

CASE Q is in reference to a plucky little fellow of eleven years of age whose mother and father were on the verge of separation. Bobby loved both parents equally well, and simply felt he could not stand being separated from either of them. So he wrote Dr. Crane a very earnest letter, telling him as best he could all about the entire situation. He did as he was instructed by Dr. Crane, and today Bobby's parents probably are still wondering how Bobby turned the tide, for Dr. Crane worked it so that Bobby would get all the credit.

CASE F has to do with a timid salesman who just couldn't get up sufficient nerve to call on his prospects. A letter of personal advice and a psychological bulletin from Dr. Crane changed this timid soul into an extroverted live-wire salesman.

CASE G deals with a young physician who was struggling along trying to build up a clientele. He said that the university which he attended had taught him all it could in regard to medicine, but relatively little, if anything, regarding what is commonly termed "human nature." He was at a loss, therefore, in the matter of gaining the good will of people about him and thus building up a practice. The consultation with Dr. Crane set him thinking aright in this regard, and today this young doctor is definitely headed toward success.

Suffice it to say that Dr. Crane is constantly dealing with problems of people from every station in life; rich and poor, literate and illiterate, young and old. Nor is Dr. Crane an armchair philosopher. He is a successful business man, the author of a textbook which has had adoptions in over 275 colleges and universities in the United States and Canada, a nationally famous lecturer, and last but not the least, the successful, proud, and happy father of five splendid children.

That Dr. Crane returned hope and inspiration to thousands of people weary of puzzling and struggling in the current of life's strange circumstances, leads me to believe that here among us are hundreds, yes, thousands who need and long for such help... help that often means success or failure, an existence of dreary drudgery or inspired happiness. Even today fifty thousand personal letters solicit and fifty thousand personal replies each year bear evidence of a growing demand for reliable, confidential, and definite help in personal problems. Each communication meriting individual and personal attention offers uncontradictable evidence of a great work sorely needed, amply appreciated, and surely worthy of our commendation, and the immediate sponsorship of the greatest in our midst.

Sincerely,

J. C. C. Golfer Gets Hole-in-One

While competing in the State Junior Chamber of Commerce golf tournament Sunday at Plymouth Country club, Dr. Jack Campbell, a member of the Highland Park contingent, aced his tee shot on No. 11. The doctor used his four-iron in dropping the 168-yard shot.

Dr. Richard A. Thompson, Campbell's J.C.C. partner from Highland Park; J. A. Stoughton, and C. G. Lewis, of Detroit's chapter, witnessed the act.

Those who are familiar with the country club course will recall that the eleventh is a so-called "blind hole." That is, the green cannot be seen from the tee, making the hole-in-one a doubly difficult feat to perform.

Campbell said his shot from the tee looked to be dead on the pin, but when the ball could not be seen from the crest of the hill overlooking the green, he thought he had over-driven it.

O. E. S. Holds Initiation and Dinner Tuesday

Tuesday, September 24 will be advanced officers and friends night for Plymouth chapter No. 115 O. E. S. There will be a co-operative dinner at 6:30, followed by a reception for Mrs. Ann Conley, Wayne county chaplain. Two candidates will be initiated by the advanced line officers and friends of the appointed officers.

The regular monthly meeting of the Plymouth chapter will follow a chicken dinner at 6:30, Tuesday, October 1. For reservations call Catherine Henderson at 477 in the morning before Monday, September 30.

Alley Paving Project Ready for First Pour

The alley paving project at the rear of the Main street business district, undertaken two weeks ago by the city with WPA help, is expected to be ready for the first pour of pavement Monday, according to S. L. Besse, city engineer.

The alley which extends 715 feet to the street line will require about six weeks for completion. Last week, the gas company lowered parts of their main and services, and adjusted catch basins to the grade for right-of-way in the alley paving. A two-foot curb is nearly completed on each side of the 20-foot alley drive. The 16 feet of pavement will be poured in two half-strips.

Softball Champions of 1940

Official Proceedings Of The Commission

Plymouth, Michigan September 16, 1940

A regular meeting of the City Commission held in the City Hall on Monday, September 16, 1940, at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mayor Whipple, Commissioners Hondorp, Wilson and Worth.

Absent: Comm. Robinson.

The minutes of the regular meeting of September 3 and the special meeting of September 11 were approved as read.

The following reports were presented:

1. Traffic Violations
2. Municipal Court Cases.

It was moved by Comm. Hondorp and supported by Comm. Wilson that the reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

Comm. Robinson appeared at this time.

The matter concerning the construction of a storm sewer on Amelia Street was again discussed. Mr. Robert Joffille representing the property owners again presented their viewpoints. Mr. Andrew Dunn told of the water conditions at the Dunn Steel Products.

After considerable discussion, Mr. Worth moved that the Commission meet with the interested parties at the site. The motion was supported by Comm. Robinson.

Ayes: Commissioners Worth

FIRST METHODIST. Stanford S. Closson, minister. The new schedule of Sunday services will go into effect this week, as follows: Sunday school at 10 o'clock and church at 11 o'clock. 10 a.m., Sunday school. 11 a.m., Church service—Music will be provided by the adult choir and Mrs. James Sessions will sing a solo. The pastor's sermonette to the children will be on "Captive Birds" and the regular sermon subject will be "The Master's Teach." Nursery care for small children is provided every Sunday during morning service. Bring the whole family to church. 12:15, a brief special meeting of the official board will be held following the morning service. 6:30 p.m., Epworth League devotional service for youth. Tuesday, 7:30, the first quarterly conference will be held at the church with the district superintendent, Rev. William E. Harrison, presiding. All organizations of the church will submit reports and plans. This is an open meeting and everyone is invited. On Wednesday, September 27, 7:30, the Women's Society of Christian Service will hold its first program meeting with installation of officers. Methodist's new organization for women held its charter meeting in the Plymouth church on Sunday, September 11. Every woman of the parish is urged to be present and become a charter member. Thursday, 8:00, choir rehearsal at the church. Friday, September 20, 6:30, the Booster class will hold its monthly gathering with potluck supper, business and social hour. Rally Day in the Sunday school will be observed with two occasions again this year. On Friday evening, October 4, a potluck supper will be held with a program of moving pictures following. Sunday, September 6, the annual Sunday observance will be held with promotions and consecration. A School of Religion will be held again this year on six Monday evenings beginning October 7 with several denominations and communities cooperating. Sessions will be held in this church.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00. "Matter" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 22. The golden text (I John 5:21) is: "Little children, keep yourselves from idols." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 103:2, 3): "Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all His benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy diseases." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (page 120): "Health is not a condition of matter, but of Mind; nor can the material senses bear reliable testimony on the subject of health."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Holbrook and Hardinberg, Lynn B. Stout, pastor. You are invited to attend any and all services of Calvary church. The Lord's day services: Preaching at 10 o'clock. North, pastor. 10:00, Bible school; 11:00, morning worship; young people, 6:30; evangelistic service, 7:30; mid-week devotions, Wednesday, 7:30. Sunday is Harvest Festival day in our church. Everybody is invited to give a special invitation to visit our Sunday school on this day. Come and see our beautiful new class rooms that have been recently installed in our basement. At our mid-week service we are studying the use and ministry of Christ together, the interest has been increasing. Only two more days to hear Rev. W. M. Mack. He will preach tonight at 7:30 and at both morning and evening services Sunday. His messages have been drawing large crowds every night. The Home-like Church of Plymouth extends to all a hearty welcome.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. Sunday school, 10:00 a.m.; church worship, 11:00 a.m. The Mission Study class will meet at the church Tuesday, September 24. The officers of the class are the committee in charge. Supper will be served at 6:30 p.m. and an interesting program will follow. Division No. 3 of the Women's Auxiliary is sponsoring a Fall Festival to be held Wednesday, September 25, with booths filled with articles useful and beautiful and a cafeteria supper at 5:30 p.m. Rally Day will be observed in the Sunday school, September 29. All students on the roll and many new students are expected to be on hand. World Wide communion Sunday is set for October 6. Christian people of many denominations in many lands will share in this observance. A School of Leadership Training for the Plymouth and Northville areas will open in the Methodist church, Plymouth, Monday, October 7. This offers a real opportunity to parents, leaders and all interested in youth and Christian growth.

NEUBURG METHODIST church. Robert M. Trerney, pastor. Morning worship will be held at 10:00 o'clock. This Sunday Holy Communion will be served. Sunday school will follow immediately at 11:00. A cordial invitation is extended to all to share in the worship and fellowship of both of these services. ## Third Annual Flower Show, Characterized by Originality, Draws A Record Attendance

Outstanding for its originality and variety of entries, the third annual flower show of the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association drew a record attendance of 500 persons at the Crystal room of the Hotel Mayflower last Thursday.

The miniature exhibits in china shoes, sea shells, and thimble-sized jars were particularly attractive. The water pails of one Dutch boy and girl figurine were filled with tiny border flowers, and another entry which won honorable mention was a china sprinkling can filled with miniature buds.

A specialty which drew a great deal of attention at the show was a Sunday night informal supper table exhibited by Miss Marion Beyer. The table, in Swedish motif, was a collection of pieces gathered by Miss Beyer on her trip to Sweden. Little hand-painted wooden butter plates, small match boxes with painted figures, glass coasters from the Swedish-American line carrying the toast "skal," and little Koppitz beer bottle salt and pepper shakers decorated the table. In the center was a miniature beer stein from Heidelberg which was filled with flowers.

The formal Sunday night table arranged by Mrs. Harry Lush was set with black lacquered dishes in the Mexican-Indian motif with silver goblets. The dinner table prepared by Mrs. Andy Dunn and Mrs. Luther Peck was decorated with a centerpiece of mixed flowers with individual nosegays for the ladies and boutonnières for the gentlemen dinner guests. Elaborate gold figured china and amber glassware completed the table arrangement.

A platter of large, perfectly formed tomatoes, cabbage, carrots, egg plant, green peppers, and green beans won a blue ribbon in the fruits and vegetables class for Dr. Whitright.

The complete list of ribbon winners at the show is as follows: Baskets under 24 inches: first, Mrs. Anna Stever; second, Mrs. Floyd Wilson; third, Mrs. Carl Lewis; honorable mention, Mrs. Erwin Hadley; baskets over 24 inches: first, Mrs. Anna Stever; second, Mrs. John Root; third, Mrs. M. R. Smith; luncheon centerpiece: group one, first, Mrs. Harvey Whipple; second, Mrs. Paul Wiedman; third, Mrs. Currier; honorable mention, Mrs. A. S. Matulis; group two, first, Mrs. Lawrence Lyon; second, Mrs. Austin Whipple; honorable mention, Mrs. John Root.

Judges for the show were Mrs. W. D. Thompson and Mrs. Lee Joslyn of Birmingham. Committee members in charge of arrangements for the flower exhibit were Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mrs. William Wood, Mrs. John Dalton, Mrs. L. R. Von Stein and Mrs. C. D. Brannigan.

League of Women Voters to Study Local Affairs

The board of directors of the League of Women Voters of Plymouth at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Bruce Woodbury last Friday afternoon decided to center its fall program largely around local affairs with "Our Town and Its Government" as its general theme.

Several members of the local league are planning to attend the state convention of the group to be held at the Pentland hotel in Grand Rapids Thursday and Friday, September 26 and 27.

While the English sparrow is still increasing in numbers and extending its range in the far West, a decline in its abundance is noted by the federal Fish and Wildlife service east of the Alleghenies and in some areas of the Middle West. First brought to this country in 1850, this bird now inhabits all of the continental United States except Alaska.

State's Prizewinning Cook Reveals Some Favorite Mealtime Recipes

—Courtesy The Detroit Times

Mrs. Loren J. Goodale, 196 Hamilton avenue, who won grand sweepstakes honors with her 29 prizes for cookery, 19 for canning, and three in needlework division at the Michigan State fair to capture the title of "Champion Homemaker of Michigan" for Plymouth, revealed in an interview this week that her family's favorite dinner is chicken with biscuit and gravy.

Mrs. Goodale, who has entered her wares in the Michigan State fair for the last five years, this year duplicated her feat of winning sweepstakes honors in baking in 1936. She won a prize last year for making a cake, and was awarded a red ribbon this year for prize canned goods.

Her husband works in the Pentland grocery store from which she gets fresh vegetables and fruits to do her own canning. Each year she puts up about 500 cans of preserves, fruits, and vegetables. The complete menu for the family's favorite chicken dinner which she serves with her own prepared vegetables and preserves include:

- Tomato Juice
- Chicken with biscuit and gravy
- Buttered Beans
- Mashed Potatoes and Gravy
- Celery fans
- Carrot Strips
- Lettuce, Tomato, and Cucumber Salad
- Pickles and Jelly
- Angel Food Cake with Whipped Cream
- Tea

The celery fans are made by cutting two or three inch stalks of celery, and slicing them in thin strips, and spread out in a relish dish in the shape of a fan. Strawberry and apple jelly are the Goodales' favorite dinner preserves. Mrs. Goodale's apple jelly, made with honey, won a first prize at the state fair.

The Goodale children are especially fond of buttered beans and buttered beets. Raw carrot strips and green pepper strips provide nutritious value to the meals.

Two of Mrs. Goodale's suggestions for school children's noon-time lunches are creamed dried beef on toast, sliced tomatoes, raw carrot strips, milk, fresh fruit and brownies, and an egg toast plate with lettuce and tomatoes, cocoa, fruit and chocolate cake.

The Goodales have four children—Caroline, 12 years old, who has won prizes at the North-

House and Garden Magazine Selects Historic Furniture

American history makes news today, even in decoration, and that is why the editors of House & Garden chose the Federal style for their October room of the month, in the magazine just published. The room is now on display at Blunk & Thatcher's.

"We chose Federal" for this bedroom, House & Garden explains, "not only because all eyes are focused on that period of our history when the principles of our nation were being laid down, but because that period also contributed much of lasting charm to decoration."

"We are still intrigued by the warmth of choice mahogany, the graceful and at the same time substantial lines that American furniture developed. And either through association with the beautiful old homes of the past, or through something intrinsically appealing about it, we still manage to feel very much at home with this style."

House & Garden goes on to say that often the older models were too large and overscale for the modern house and apartment. Therefore, the bedroom group which they selected for their October room, while retaining the charming qualities of the Federal style, has been scaled down and adapted to suit the average size room in the average house.

The decorative scheme, while modernized, adheres to the feeling of the period. Worked out in dusty blue and pinks, it has a crisp, fresh effect and sets off the rich red brown of the mahogany. The carpet is a charming floral design against a soft peachy-beige ground. The walls are covered in an all-over classic medallion paper in dusty blue with a touch of pink. The bedspreads are smartly tailored, with wide box pleat flounces, and penny pale blue bolsters. They are made of a crisp ridged rayon taffeta; the top of the bedspreads and the curtain valances are made of this material in a pink self-tone satin stripe plaid, while the bedspread flounce is in the plain taffeta.

According to professional guides of the north who have accompanied tourists on both camera and hunting trips, it is much more difficult to secure a good picture of game in its native wilderness than to kill it with a high powered rifle.

American-Canadian cooperation on Great Lakes fisheries regulation moves a step nearer with approval by the house appropriations committee at Washington of a $7,500 item for an international board of inquiry. More than 20 years of conferences among the eight lake states and the province of Ontario have left the fisheries without uniform regulation, while such problems as overfishing and lack of protection in spawning seasons still threaten the Great Lakes commercial fish supply.

Independents

A radio commentator pointed out the other day that Wendell L. Willkie is out gunning for the comparatively few independent voters who in the last election were fairly solid for Roosevelt.

In this observation, the commentator established two points: one, he showed that the results of any election hinge on the independent voter; and two, he paid the independent voter an indirect compliment.

Previously this commentator had been connected with a radio poll to find out what the average man thought about the presidential candidates. He received such answers as these: "I vote for Willkie because he is a business man."

"I want Roosevelt because he's done a lot of good things."

Neither of these was a good answer because neither was a good enough reason for voting for one man or the other. Yet as these typical voters affirmed, it is the reason they are voting for Willkie or Roosevelt.

These answers prove clearly that an average Democrat is solid Democrat and an average Republican is solid Republican. No amount of persuasion through the use of logical or illogical arguments can sway the independent voter who is ambitious enough to analyze the arguments of both parties and to vote for the one whom he believes is best qualified. It is this voter who decides the tide.

That is why both nominees are doing their best to impress their own virtues on the independent voters and to belittle their opponents. It is an honor to be an independent voter.

Social Register

This year's social events are starting with a bang for Plymouth students. With fall here, anything from hay-rides to birthday parties may be in view.

Dorothy Smith and Doris Shinn gave a steak roast at Cass Bronson park Wednesday, September 11, the occasion honoring Mary Stout's birthday anniversary. Also present were Bill McLarry, Carl O'Sullivan, and Winston Lawler, all of Wayne.

Last Friday Ruth Wellman entertained sixteen girls at a pajama party, which by all means lacked sleep until the wee hours of the morning. After an evening of roller skating and bowling, the girls came back to Ruth's for a midnight pot-luck snack. Those present were Mary Ellen Dahmer, Jeanette Welch, Betty Maas, Beverly Smith, Lillian Fisher, Olive May Bakewell, Phyllis Campbell, Jean Engelson, Phyllis Nichols, Marie Stitt, Lois Hoffman, Grace Squires, Dorothy Ebersole, Frances Morgan, Helen Jones, and Margery Merriam.

Afternoon bowling games appear to be foremost in the girls' minds this year. Many are trying their luck at this sport, probably being inspired by the boys' boasts of high scores.

The Swing Bowl in Detroit is being frequented by many Plymouth couples. On Saturday, Margery Merriam, Ed Holdsworth, Doris Dube, and Wesley Hoffman spent the evening there, while last Friday, Marian Parsons, Orlyn Lewis, Gloriette Galloway, and Jack Getleson visited the Swing Bowl after seeing "The Sea Hawk" at the Michigan theatre.

Doug Lorenz accounted for a very enjoyable week-end at Kalamazoo with his cousins, beginning September 14.

Really making the rounds last Sunday were Gloriette Galloway and Jack Getleson. After visiting the Fenton Music in Ann Arbor, they visited the German restaurant and the Majestic theatre, having seen "Boom Town."

Other visitors to Ann Arbor were Mary Jane, commonly known as "Red," Olsaver and Bob Norman, having seen "Coming Around the Mountain" at the Michigan.

Many of the graduates are a little bit nostalgic for their good old Alma Mater, and are coming to see how things are going. Arlene Soth, Ingrid Ericson and Ross Neidspal, of the class of '39, and West Hoffman, Gordon Robinson, Bill Ajuia, Larry Newman, Jim Kelley, Helen Jane Springer, Ruth Kirkpatrick, Betty Barlow, and Doris Williams of the class of '40, and Ellen Mulry, Barbara Hubell, and Ireta McLeod of the class of '37 were some who were here.

Virginia Rock, a girl who writes very much is a member of the Young Writers' creative group sponsored by The Detroit News. She attended the first fall meeting, which was held in the studio of WJW in Detroit, Saturday, September 7.

Not only the pupils, but also the teachers seem to be entertaining. Mrs. Dykhouse and Mrs. Smith collaborated to have two teas at Mrs. Smith's house on Sheridan avenue. The first was given Tuesday, and the teachers of the two grade schools were guests, while Wednesday the high school teachers enjoyed the tea and refreshments.

Editorial

An interesting and somewhat surprising fact was revealed by the 1940 school census when it was disclosed that this year's total of school students of the Plymouth district jumped almost ten per cent over the figures of 1939. The 1939 students registered in this district represent an increase of more than 200 over the total of last year. This fact would seem to indicate that Plymouth is growing, and growing rapidly.

The total number of students registered in the schools has also shown a marked increase. Although it has been generally assumed that the rapid growth in the enrollment of Plymouth high school has been the result of the increasing number of students entering from rural areas, this was not the sole reason. More and more students have been coming from the Plymouth district itself. The high school, built originally for 500 pupils, now contains nearly 1100. If this record increase continues, not too far in the future an addition or even a new school to accommodate these students will be necessary. What will be done about this problem, remains for the future to disclose.

Side-Glances

Dear Patrons: Today is the day! You know—the one I told you about last week. Here's hoping we show Melvindale that Plymouth's made of, and also I'll be seeing you this afternoon.

This week my letter concerns the accepted sportsmanship rules at a football game. You see, I was told about them by Archibald King who was told by a football player (by the way, he was a senior and he had a black sweater).

The first important thing to remember as a spectator on the football team is to consider your visitor or the school you're visiting. That does seem kind of hard because I know many a time I've wanted to shout, "Hurray Plymouth!" (except Northville for some reason).

Another important factor toward showing the proper etiquette on the football field is to keep back of the sidelines. If this isn't done our side may be penalized and lose the game.

One may show a school spirit at proper times since it not only shows interest but supports the morale of our team. It is fitting and twice as conspicuous to cheer for our opponent.

So much for football. By the way, what do you think of the new government? Congratulations from me to all the "Best Men." Of course, since a "new broom sweeps clean," I'll be wondering how broad the broom is this time.

Yours with best wishes,
CLARABELLE

Literary Scraps

With this issue, the staff hopes to have a literary column each week in the Pilgrim Prints. Included in this column will be short stories, essays, and poems. Anyone wishing material published see your English teacher or Virginia Garrison.

We Are Youth
We love and trust our elders;
Yet we quarrel with them;
We envy calmness and poise;
Yet, we speed madly past them,
For—we are Youth.

We are Youth.
We respect tradition and convention;
Yet, we throw aside that which is old.
We despise cheapness in others;
Yet, we are often cheap ourselves
For—we are Youth.

We are Youth.
We demand fairness in judgment;
Yet, we jump at conclusions.
We want wisdom beyond our years;
Yet, we refuse to listen to advice,
For—we are Youth.

Game Rules

With the coming of football season certain rules, new and old, should be explained to give the Plymouth high school students a better understanding of the game.

This year there is only one new rule which states that a ball may be passed either forward or backward anywhere behind the line of scrimmage, instead of last year's rule which said that a ball could be passed only if the passer was five yards behind the line of scrimmage.

This speeds up the game. The line of scrimmage is the place where the ball rests. "Punting" is kicking the ball and "passing" is throwing it to a receiver. A "laterals" is passing the ball to a receiver behind the passer. The "offense" is the team having possession of the ball while the "defense" is the side which hasn't the ball. The only eligible men to catch passes on offense are the "backs," the center and the ends.

School Changes

Being lost in the halls this year has been quite a problem for the students of this school. Even some of the old-timers, such as seniors, have been complaining about the changes. Probably the most notable change is seen in the form of sudden shrinkage of Miss Ford's room to provide a classroom for Miss Hale. And probably everybody has noticed that Mr. Dykhouse's office contains part of Miss Tyler's classroom. Some new brown linoleum has also been laid in the office which seems to give it a note of prosperity.

During the last summer the school board bought 72 new wide arm chairs with 28 to be ordered along with about 50 lockers. Twelve new tables are in use in the cafeteria supplementing the six older ones. The fire extinguishers were filled with new fluid last week. There are also two new water fountains installed outside the back door and a unit of several fountains across the hall from Miss Waldorf's room.

War Report

Associated Press dispatch, August 13—"Germans had something to talk about today besides the war. Their beer has regained its 'kick'."

Associated Press headline, "BERLIN RAISES MALT CONTENT, RESTORING BLITZ TO NAZI BEER."

London comment—"Every British citizen has as much tea as he wants to drink."

Results: A doll Heidelberg speaking before a huge assembly at Beer hall, Berlin, thundered that Great Britain will inevitably lose the present war.

The renowned leader of Germany who has been doing constant research on Anglo-German relations for some time summed up his impressive findings before a crowd of (censored) Germans.

He based his certainty of the eventual loss of the war by England on two newspaper clippings which appeared only yesterday.

"The great question which faces England today," he said, "is simply whether she can 'bear up' under the strain. My findings have proved she can't. Similarly, I can prove that Germany can bear up much better than England under the same circumstances."

Mr. Heidelberg said that it is the German BLATZerieg that is primarily responsible for Germany's winning ways. These frequent I-PS by his armies are responsible for the present state of conditions in Germany. All of which suits Mr. Heidelberg to a T.

Mr. Heidelberg talked in this vein on the effects of the German SCHLITZerieg for over an hour. He was accorded a (censored) ovation at the conclusion of his talk which according to German witnesses, "rolled them in the HEELS."

Class Brevities

Miss Allen's English literature class has just completed the study of ancient Britain, its inhabitants, its geography, and its literature. The students are reading from "England of Song and Story" to provide a background for the thousand years of English development. Perhaps the class of 1941 will be the last to study England as a great power. Much of England's background may be physically demolished, but nothing can alter the fact that its literature has influenced men's minds and will continue to do so long after the nation is gone. It is interesting to note that before modern Germany existed, German students and professors were the greatest scholars of Shakespearean literature. Physical structures may be destroyed but the spirit can never be killed.

Commercial arithmetic students, instructed by Mr. Dykhouse, are keeping notebooks pertaining also business subjects. They are working on rapid mental arithmetic and percentages.

This year's public speaking class is discussing the fundamentals and essentials of good speaking and the importance of clear enunciation.

The background of the American short story, its influence on American literature, and its importance have been the topics under discussion in the tenth grade English classes thus far in the semester.

The first few weeks of Miss Doris Hamill's second year as music teacher in the high school have been taken up with the teaching of the value of music study in several respects. Miss Hamill has been stressing its value as entertainment, as a hobby, as training, as being healthful, and as being educational and cultural. The difference between boys' and girls' voices has also been a subject for the music class. By studying parts of the throat, the students have been learning the reasons for the difference between the masculine and feminine voice.

The first composer to be studied was Stephen Foster, his life and songs.

Winnifred Hix, Jean Compton, and Phyllis Campbell, the first of the three a soprano and the latter two altos, have been added to the Girls' Octette to replace last year's graduates.

The art classes have been doing a variety of work. The first hour class has been modeling and designing silver bracelets. Junior high art class is blocking print curtains for the art room.

Oil painting has been the interest of the older art classes. Still life pictures of flowers have been the object of intrigue to Ruth Parmalee, Lesteen Sides, Norman Pearsall, Norma Bailey, Patricia Kinahan, Jeanette Welch, Eloyce Zimmerman, Mathilda Sauer and Ethyl Veresh, all of whom but Ethyl are seniors.

Miss Bryce's eighth grade history class has been carrying on a study of Indian lore. Exhibits of Indian folk lore have been brought in by the students, and are now on display in room 26. Students other than those who prepared exhibits told folk tales and reported on the religion of the Indian tribes. The class as a whole has been studying about the Indians in Plymouth and vicinity and comparing the Indian legends with the myths of ancient Greece.

The other eighth grade history class, which is made up of half-year students and which is also taught by Miss Bryce, will carry on a debate next week. The topic will be "Trusts vs. Private Ownership."

Mrs. Miller reports that she has six gym classes this year, with between 60 and 70 members in each. The ninth grade has gym on Monday, Wednesday and Friday; the eighth grade on Thursday and Friday; and the seventh grade Tuesday and Thursday.

Miss Rainburn's 9-B class is studying the short story unit in its books. The students are also trying to see how many short stories they can read outside of class.

The seventh grade class, along with the other classes, is getting ready for election. This year they number 114.

Miss Shaffer's seventh grade sewing classes are starting their construction work by making blouses and skirts. The 8-B classes are studying good grooming before beginning a laboratory clothes unit.

Rural Resident Has Unusual Hobby Collection

Mrs. Joseph Richard Gathers Novel Salt and Pepper Shakers

Mrs. Joseph Richard, 33858 Orangelawn road, near Plymouth and Stark roads, has a hobby which sets a new high in originality—collecting salt and pepper shakers.

With a collection of 118 sets none of which are duplicate, Mrs. Richard confides that she has purchased less than 10 of these herself. Her friends started and continue to share in her hobby which dates back to two years ago when Mrs. Richard was confined to her home with ill health. The collection has grown until now all her friends and neighbors are on the look-out for unusual additions. It is because they are all gifts that Mrs. Richard values the collection so much.

The sets are made of china, glass, and wood, and many have interesting histories, one set with sterling silver tops coming from England, and several others which children have teethered on. One particularly attractive set is a chrome candelabra style with red "candle wicks." The colonial New England sets in maple are styled in the fashion of liberty bells, old oaken buckets, and wooden gavel.

The initial gift which started the collection is a Dutch boy and girl set given to Mrs. Richard when she lived in Detroit. The variety of shapes and figures include salt and pepper shakers of cowboy boots, octopuses, chefs, horses heads, Indians, penguins, tomatoes, apples, strawberries, and all varieties of fruit, pigs, elephants, sunfish, ducks and other animals, hobnail glass designs, and a china teapot and sugar bowl. One set represents Mexican figures with large sombreroes out of which the salt and pepper flows. Other novelties are a set of old-fashioned railway lamps, little beer barrels, trumble replicas, and a set of Mayflower ships in white china with gold stripes.

Mrs. Richard is particularly fond of one pair depicting a doctor and his nurse for she is a graduate nurse from Cook county, Chicago. Mrs. Richard has decorated many sets with original hand-painting.

Phone Directory Gets New Type

Adoption of a new kind of type for directories of the Michigan Bell Telephone company that will make listings easier to read than now, has been announced today by John R. MacLachlan, local manager for the company.

The new type, known as "Bell Gothic," is to be used in virtually all forthcoming directories of the company throughout its territory, including the one at this exchange. Bell Gothic differs chiefly from the present type face used in directories by having thinner characters, allowing more space about the characters, and thus making for greater legibility.

The next issue of the local telephone directory here will be published in November.

Oddity: Men rent expensive offices so people can find them conveniently and then hire secretaries and receptionists to keep 'em out.

Pontiac Launches Streamliner Torpedo

Pontiac Streamliner Torpedo Two-Door Sedan... full width rear seat for three... choice of 122 inch wheelbase... A daring advance in six or eight cylinder engine.

Spurred on by the success of its new and original Torpedo models in 1940, and with its factory and dealer organization geared up to surpass its most successful year, the Pontiac Motor division today launches an entire Torpedo fleet for 1941. It is announced by the Ross Berry agency.

There will be three complete lines of cars styled in the Torpedo manner, says Ralph Hunsinger, of the Berry Pontiac agency, including the low-priced deluxe Torpedo of 119 inch wheelbase, the new streamliner model of 122 inch wheelbase, and an ultra-smart custom model of the same wheelbase.

A side-view of the Torpedo streamlined bodies presents improved hood and trunk lines, as well as new chromium belt moldings, and a new treatment of fender skirts and running boards, blending into cowl and trunk. Rear fenders are protected from flying stones by rubber pads.

A new method of mounting the 1941 bodies to the chassis makes it possible for Pontiac to further lower the front and rear door sills without sacrificing road clearance, according to engineers. Utilizing this advantage, a new feature of individual door steers completely enclosed and concealed by a flare in the lower edge of the door has been added.

An important new safety and convenience feature of the 1941

Pontiac is the automatic lighting of the car interior. Whenever either front door is opened, a switch located on the rear edge of the door pillars turns on the dome light.

What holds promise of becoming an important engineering innovation is the exclusive new full flow built-in oil filter. It is an entirely new type of cleaner designed and patented by Pontiac.

Changes in the transmission make gear shifting by Pontiac's original steering column lever method smoother and quieter than ever. Pontiac claims to have first developed and patented this gear shift and used it in 1938.

Two Detroiters Injured When Car Hits Tree

Two Detroit persons were seriously injured Thursday night at 11 o'clock when the car in which they were riding on West Ann Arbor road east of Garfield avenue went out of control and hit a tree in the front of Walter Harms' property.

Ralph Szubczak, 22, who suffered a couple of broken ribs, and Miss Rieta Poski, his 19-year-old companion, whose right arm and leg were broken in the crash, were given first aid treatment by a local physician at the Plymouth hospital and then removed to the Highland Park general hospital. The driver told police he hit a "bump" in the pavement, losing control of the car, which was badly damaged in the front end.

A Personal Message To The People of Plymouth

... from one of her PRIVATE citizens.

Seventeen years ago I founded a business in this community. It was modest in its beginning, and its only hope of success lay in the belief that the people of Plymouth would afford me equal advantage with others in merchandising goods and services to them.

That business succeeded. The people of Plymouth proved to me that equal opportunity for all still exists in this country of ours, and that it best can be found where home life and business life are bound together in the thriving small cities of America.

For 17 years, I was given an opportunity to service the wants of the people in my chosen community, to make business and social friends of those who found their way to my store. I treasure those friendships and they are a part of my plans for the future.

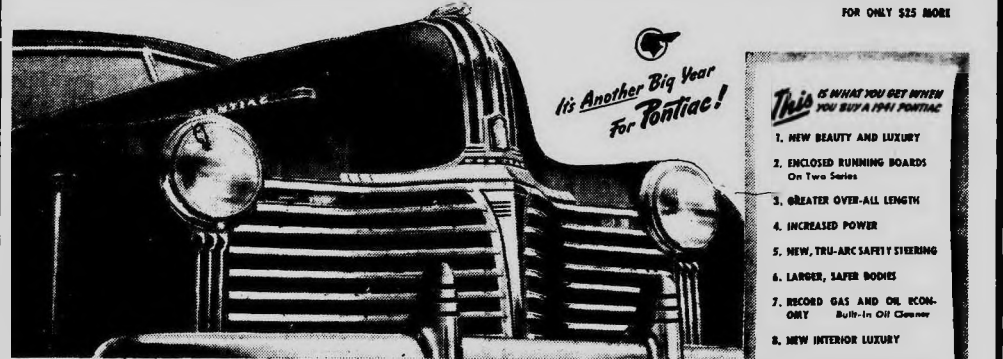

I recently closed my business and retired to private life. It is my intention to continue to live in the community which made me welcome during the early days of my enterprise and contribute as much as possible to the future prosperity and civic growth of the city which has become my home.

As I close the doors of the business which I started with such high hopes in our city 17 years ago, I want to thank each person who reads this personally for his or her help in making those hopes come true.

IF—FOR NO OTHER REASON.

Newspapers throughout the nation Tuesday morning printed a picture taken of President Roosevelt, showing him in high glee just after he had attached his name to the only peace time draft law ever enacted in American history. Two members of congress were also shown with him, in jocular spirit, as the law was enacted which deprives some 16,000,000 young men of this nation of the freedom only Americans have enjoyed down through the generations of our independence.

The only two grave faces in the photograph were those of General George Marshall and Secretary of War Henry Stimson. These two know what the President's signature means, they know that the bill which has just been made into a law, will take millions and millions of young men from peaceful pursuits and make them soldiers in an army.

Such a thing is not a laughing matter—it is one of the most serious, one of the gravest things that could possibly happen in the life of any man.

And the great Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, is shown in the highest of glee as he signs the bill!

The military training of our young men may be necessary, but certainly such a tragic thing in the lives of our young men is not the cause for such great glee as is manifest in the picture taken of the President as he signed the draft bill.

If, for no other reason, such an attitude on the part of the chief executive, in the face of so grave a situation, should remove him from the White House.

CAUSE FOR PRIDE.

(By W. K. Kelsey in The Detroit News, Sept. 14, 1940)
Rep. Elton R. Eaton, who ran fifth in the Republican primary for Lieutenant Governor, is a proud man, and he has good right to be proud. Fifth place wasn't bad; he finished only 7,000 votes behind the third-place man. But that isn't the reason for the Plymouth publisher's pride. It is the fact that in the city of Plymouth and Plymouth township he received 1,063 votes to only 47 for all the other candidates combined; while in the neighboring township of Northville he polled 450 votes to 119 for all the rest.

So Mr. Eaton knows how he stands with his neighbors; and few hard fighters in politics have ever received a similar tribute. For Mr. Eaton is a fighter, and fighters usually make enemies. The question now arises whether Plymouth ought to give Mr. Eaton a banquet, or Mr. Eaton ought to banquet Plymouth.

JUST SUPPOSE!

A soldier drove up in front of your farm the other day, went up to the house and ordered you to deliver to a stockyard considerably over half of your cows, sheep, pigs, turkeys, goats and chickens. You were commanded to make the delivery without delay. You were also advised to keep the poorest of the stock for yourself and bring only the best that you had. For this you were to receive no pay.

No, that didn't happen here in Michigan or the United States. But it did happen the other day in France. The Germans ordered the French in the unoccupied portion of that country to immediately deliver to the Germans 58 per cent of the best livestock possessed by the French. Not only must the French immediately turn over this amount of their livestock, but they must pay something like $8,000,000 per day in cash to support the German army in France.

Meanwhile down in Washington statesmen are conniving ways and methods to keep their jobs for another four years and giving little thought to the dangers confronting our country. Some day, and maybe that some day is not very far away, we will wake up to the dark threat that faces our own country and really do something about it.

SHOULD NOT BE SEATED.

Election returns in Detroit show that Richard A. MacRae is one of the successful candidates for the Republican nomination for the state legislature in that city. Mr. MacRae was also a candidate for the Democratic nomination for this same office.

If Mr. MacRae should be elected, the legislature should refuse to seat him. When a person becomes a candidate for nomination for office upon the Republican ticket he is supposed to belong to that party. If he seeks a Democratic nomination and votes the Democratic primary ballot, he is supposed to be a Democrat.

When a person seeks a nomination in two different political parties, he is misleading either the voters of the Democratic party or the voters of the Republican party. In this case some 11,000 Democrats voted for MacRae believing him to be a Democrat. They were Democrats, or else they would not have voted the Democratic ballot. He secured the Republican nomination because some 34,000 Republicans believed him to be a Republican. He misled the voters of one of these parties by appearing as a candidate on both ballots and any candidate who will do that is not entitled to a seat in the legislature.

POLITICAL BUNK.

"I stand, with my party, upon the platform adopted at Chicago," said Candidate Roosevelt the other night in a paid radio political speech. That's what he said he would do back in 1932. History proves that he didn't. Why should he expect the voting public to accept his pledge at this time?

THE FLOWER SHOW.

Congratulations to the ladies of Plymouth who made possible such a successful flower show as that held last week. It excelled in interest and attractiveness that of previous years. It simply shows what can be accomplished if a group of enthusiastic workers decide to do something worthwhile. It was a wonderful exhibit, and the flowers were the products of Plymouth gardens.

SEEING THE LIGHT

Former Governor William A. Comstock, former Judge Ferris H. Fitch, former Democratic State Chairman Alfred Debo, and a great lot of other Democrats who have stood high in the party's councils and in state governments, all of them still Democrats, are perfecting an organization of real Democrats (not New Dealers) to help elect Wendell L. Willkie president. These men realize that the battle this year is to make the United States safe for democracy, and that real Democrats and Republicans must unite to accomplish the defeat of President Roosevelt for a third term.—William Berkey in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

A large barn owned by M.C. Jones, who resides on the Ann Arbor road, about two miles east of here, was struck by lightning early last Friday evening and was completely destroyed. The barn was filled with grain, which was also lost, and several hogs and chickens perished.

Merrill Murray got the highest score, 40 out of a possible 50, at the Plymouth Gun club last week. W. W. Murray followed, with 39, and W. T. Petingill and Frank Rambo were tied at 38. J. M. Youngs scored 31 and Matt Powell, 30.

Mrs. Oliver Wingard is spending the week with her sister at Bay City.

Miss Mabel Gottschalk has gone to Milford, where she has a position as trimmer in a millinery store.

Mrs. Mary Robinson, who has been living in Detroit for some time past, has come to Plymouth, and is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bunyee. She has gone into the telephone office, where she is learning to be an operator.

The Alter Motor Car company has installed several fire hydrants about the factory buildings, and has had water piped into the interior of the buildings for fire protection. Mr. and Mrs. Gus Gates, with their guests, enjoyed a motor trip to Farmington, Redford, and Detroit last Sunday.

John E. Wilcox has returned home from Twin Falls, Idaho, where he has been visiting his son, George, for the past two months.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Huston of Birmingham and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Huston of Canton were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Huston.

While doing carpenter work on William T. Conner's house last week Thursday, George Gebhardt accidentally ran a rusty nail in his left foot. He has since been confined to his home.

We have been enjoying the warmest weather of the summer this week.

Harry Willis has sold his tenant house on Deer street to Mr. Lorenz, the blacksmith, who will take possession immediately.

George Richwine goes as delegate from the Plymouth Methodist church to the Lay Electoral conference at Port Huron. This conference is a quadrennial meeting, and meets Friday, September 17, simultaneously with the ministerial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church.

No fishing allowed on Church street, between Blunk avenue and Penniman avenue.

Mrs. L. C. Rough and Dr. and Mrs. John Olsaver are now occupying their new bungalow on Main street.

Harry Tanger is improving the appearance of his home at the corner of Maple and Deer street, by the addition of a large porch.

The Plymouth and Northville Gas company is making rapid progress in extending the main pipe line to Northville. The big trench digger is approaching our neighboring village at the rate of about 2,000 feet a day. The officers of the company hope to have the line to Northville completed by September 25, and expect to be able to furnish gas to the Northville people by the middle of October.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

YOU'LL like the size of this trim new Buick SPECIAL for '41—its room, its softer ride, its Permi-firm steering, its fresh smart style and all that.

But what you'll go for is what happens under that broad bonnet—the thrill and the thrust you get from that husky, big, 115-hp. Buick FIREBALL® Eight.

For in each flame-packed cylinder of that silk-smooth power plant a flaring ball of fire is set off with each spark-leap.

Packed to higher compression than ever before, fuel gives up more power and more mileage — power when you need it, economy throughout the whole driving range.

Indeed, so great is the power at your command that at 30 you use only one-eighth of the energy at your disposal. All the rest is there waiting for pick-up, hill-climb and sudden getaway.

Even at 50 you use less than one-quarter of your available power, and at 75 still have nearly half "on call" for emergency use.

More than that, to this engine you can likewise add Compound Carburetion—and step up both power output and your mileage. At 30 you'll get nearly one and one-half more miles per gallon, at 50 almost two, and at 70 an extra mile and one-fifth.

But that's just one side of the story—the facts side. Only one thing will give you the stirring feel of Buick's thrill-packed behavior on the road.

That's a demonstration — and it's yours for the asking. When will you be in to ask for it?
