First Quota Calls for Three Men

The first three young men to be called in the selective service quota from local Board No. 61, which includes Plymouth and Northville and the townships of Livonia and Redford, will be inducted into army service at the Light Guard armory at 7:30 Friday morning, November 22.

Eligibility for service, including status and physical fitness, of these men will be reviewed at the armory Friday, and after men take the oath of service to their country, they will be sent out in army trucks to training camp the same afternoon. The men may be sent to Camp Curtis, Fort Sheridan, or some more distant post to begin their year of training for national defense.

Though physical examinations have not yet been completed on those eligible to enter the first quota, it is believed that volunteers will supply the first three men needed from this district.

Walter Harris, chairman of the local board, announced this week that questionnaires have been issued to men holding the first 50 order numbers in the selective service program. Men for the second draft to be issued in December will be drawn from this list of 50 to whom questionnaires have been sent.

To Build Big War Industry Plant Near Plymouth

Reported That Kelsey-Hayes Co. Buys Big Site

Immense Factory to Be Erected in Immediate Future

While definite information is not yet available, it has just become known that the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company of Detroit has purchased 80 acres of land located at the southwest corner of the intersection of the Pere Marquette tracks and Eckles road and will immediately begin the construction of a factory for the production of war materials.

The factory, which will probably be a one story structure, will have over 250,000 square feet of floor space. A floor space of this size will require a building of about 350x-800 feet.

One can gain some idea as to the immensity of the probable size of the new factory when it is realized that the distance between the Mayflower hotel intersection at Ann Arbor Trail and Penniman avenue is only about 350 feet.

It is also unauthoritatively stated that contractors will be requested to make bids on material and work within the next few days and that actual construction will begin in the immediate future with the purpose in view of having the new plant in operation early in the new year. One report stated that the new factory may produce machine guns.

Draper Retires After 47 Years

Charles G. Draper who has been in business in Plymouth for 47 years announced his retirement this week. While Mr. Draper will sell his business and retire as a jewelry store owner, he will continue to work "just to keep busy." He plans to take space in the store next door, formerly occupied by A. G. Taylor, where he will continue to do watch repair and optical work.

Born in Lyon township, Mr. Draper attended watchmakers' school at Ann Arbor, and first located in business in South Lyon. Two years later he came to Plymouth with his boyhood chum, Charles Fisher. He rented a window in the old Hall Taylor goods store located where Taylor and Blyton's department store is now. The entire block of stores on Main street burned down while Mr. Draper was in South Lyon getting his tools to set up work here.

He then moved to the general store at the corner of Main and Penniman avenue, now occupied by the barber shop, which was at that time operated by G. R. Rauch and son. The general store carried a stock of clothing and groceries, and Mr. Draper rented space in the front window for watch and clock repair. Later he occupied two other sites on Penniman avenue before moving into his present location at 290 South Main street about 30 years ago.

In January, 1901, he married Miss Sadie Merrill who was a dressmaker in Plymouth. At one time the couple lived in the Carl Conner home on Penniman avenue which was razed recently to make way for a new store building.

Post Office Asks for Names on Mailboxes

Cooperation from mail subscribers in rural sections was asked this week to insure prompt delivery of Christmas mails by Postmaster Frank Leaned of the Plymouth post office.

Rural residents are advised to paint their names on their mailboxes to aid substitute as well as regular mail men in delivering mail properly. All mail that cannot be located in proper boxes must be returned to the post office for a checkup of information, it was explained. This delay may be avoided if everyone has his name clearly painted on his mailbox.

ATTENTION MERCHANTS!

Frank Rambo, secretary of the chamber of commerce, wishes all merchants to notify him immediately if they wish any laurel or Christmas decorations for their business property, because he is placing the order for such material this week.

My Rev. Robert A. North

Thanksgiving Day is one of the oldest of our annual festivals. It antedates both Easter and Christmas. Its origin reaches back to the early days of God's ancient people, Israel. God commanded them to keep the feast of the Harvest, at which time they brought the first fruits of the harvest and presented them to Jehovah God with prayer and thanksgiving for the bountiful harvest. The spirit of this feast has been recognized in all ages of the Christian Church in harvest festivals and Thanksgiving Days.

Our Thanksgiving Day is a typical American institution, which had its beginning with the Pilgrim fathers, who had endured great hardship and the loss of their loved ones. The Pilgrim fathers and mothers of Plymouth Rock gathered in the ship in which they had made their fateful voyage and on that first Lord's Day in the new land held a solemn service to Almighty God. They offered thanks for a protecting providence and for the new land, which appeared to have such a promising future. In spite of sickness, death, and hardship that continually stared them in the face, they were happy on that initial American Thanksgiving.

Once again we pause in the midst of our duties to give thanks to Almighty God. Our President has sent forth the proclamation admonishing the people to gather in their places of worship, and to offer their sacrifices of Thanksgiving and their prayers of deep and sincere gratitude to God for His remembrance of us as a nation and as individuals, with many rich and exceedingly precious blessings during the year.

Abundant causes for thanksgiving can be found in our material blessings. While famine is shadowing many lands, our harvests are plentiful. Three-fourths of the people of the world are at war, but we are at peace. No plague has scourged our people; no great catastrophe in nature has fallen upon us. America is the most prosperous nation on the globe. Discoveries made in the realm of science continually increase the convenience and happiness of our people.

Higher and loftier than all other benefits are the spiritual blessings that God has bestowed upon us. Church spires are to be seen in every section of our cities. Our people worship God according to the dictates of their own hearts while millions in other parts of the world, suffering under the cruel hand of dictatorship, must worship in dungeon and cave. We enjoy a rich spiritual heritage handed down to us by our Pilgrim forefathers and their successors.

What shall we render unto the Lord, then, for all His benefits toward us? Shall we make of it merely a day of feasting and pleasure? Would it not be wise for us to make the same reply as King David to this question? "I will take the cup of Salvation, and call upon the name of the Lord. I will pay my vows unto the Lord now in the presence of all His people."

City Commission Studies Revised Sign Ordinance

A revised sign ordinance presented to the city commission Monday night passed its first and second reading. City Manager Clarence H. Elliott is to meet with a committee of business men from the Chamber of Commerce to review the ordinance within the next week.

The effect of the proposed ordinance is to eliminate projecting signs in the future, and to allow five years for the eventual removal of all present non-conforming signs unless they constitute a serious hazard before that time. The ordinance will require permits and the payment of fees for licenses, indemnity for all damages arising from outdoor advertising, and a licensing tax on the business of outdoor advertising generally.

Sign companies installing signs are to pay a minimum guarantee of $10 and merchants are to pay an average permit fee of about $1 for the erection of signs on business frontage. An annual fee for the renewal of sign permits will cost 50 cents.

The proposed ordinance will also prohibit the use of red or green lights in any advertising device situated within a distance of 150 feet from a traffic light, and will limit billboards to industrial sections only.

City's Bonded Indebtedness at Lowest Point

Plymouth's bonded indebtedness will on December 31, 1940, drop to the lowest amount it has been in the last quarter of a century. City Manager Clarence Elliott stated yesterday. This favorable condition will be due to bond payments the city has been able to make regularly.

With the beginning of the new year the total outstanding bonds will amount to only $119,000.

At the end of the city's fiscal year in July, 1941, the bonded indebtedness will drop to $105,000. Of this amount $53,000 is in the general obligation fund, most of which is for sanitary sewers, and $52,000 is in water bonds paid out of the revenue of the water department. Five years ago, the amount of outstanding bonds totaled $313,000.

The city also retired its indebtedness of $450,000 on the library site in November, clearing the way for a future library building at the corner of Adams and Church streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hux daughter, Geraldine, and son, Glenn, were Sunday visitors of Mrs. Anna Holmes, in East Dearborn.

Mrs. J. M. McAllister Cut on Head in Auto Crash

Mrs. Jack McAllister received a cut at the back of her head, which required two stitches, when the car in which she was riding went into a ditch on North Territorial road Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. McAllister and Mr. and Mrs. George Todd were returning to Plymouth from the football game at Ann Arbor.

McAllister claimed he was crowded off the road in trying to pass another car. McAllister's car was badly damaged, but none of the other occupants was injured.

Annual Red Cross Membership Drive Closes This Week

Fund to Finance National Relief Work in Floods and Fires

As the deadline approached in the annual American Red Cross roll call, volunteer workers in Plymouth this week redoubled their efforts to raise funds. The drive will close Thanksgiving, Miss Pauline Peck, local director, reports.

Though detailed reports from chairman in charge of house-to-house canvasses, factory and club solicitation, and bank booths are unavailable, progress in signing up 81 memberships is satisfactory. The Ford plant at Nankin Mills donated the first contribution in the city, pledging 10 memberships before the drive formally opened.

Ten million new memberships is the quota in the present national drive. There were 500 10 memberships in Plymouth last year, and this year's membership is expected to exceed that number.

"Only 50 cents of each membership fee is used to support national Red Cross service. The balance is retained by the Plymouth chapter for local work. Any donation over $1 remains in Plymouth," explained Miss Peck.

The current drive is distinct from the $10,000,000 campaign for European war victims undertaken last June. Contributions to the present membership drive are to finance basic Red Cross services in times of national disaster resulting from floods, fire, and other forces of destruction.

Christmas Lights for City Parks

Plans for municipal Christmas decorations were announced this week by City Manager Clarence H. Elliott.

The art department of Plymouth high school, under the direction of Miss Evelyn Fry, is designing and planning a Christmas "Manger scene" to be placed in Kellogg park as a part of the city's plans for decorations. The Three Wise Men and other figures, made of three-ply wood, will be placed around the manger, which will be floodlighted.

The city will also decorate Christmas trees in Kellogg park and in the parkway at Stark-weather and Liberty streets. Two small trees, decorated with lights, will be placed on lamp posts around Kellogg park, and the city hall will be appropriately decorated for the Christmas season.

Patriotic Prom Set for Dec. 6

Patriotism will be the theme of the Patriotic Prom to be held in the High School gymnasium Friday evening, December 6. Decorations in red, white and blue will conform to that motif.

One side of the gymnasium will be decorated with American flags, and drapes of red, white and blue lighting will cover the bleachers. Torches will be mounted at the corners of the bleacher stands. In the center of the stage as a background for the orchestra will stand a huge Statue of Liberty. Norman Pearsall is chairman of decorations and did most of the art work.

Tommy Marvin's orchestra which played at the J-Hop last February will play for the prom. Marvin's nine-piece orchestra and girl vocalist have appeared at the Gravestone ballroom, Westwood Gardens, and had a program over station CKLW.

Church Honors Hanna Strasen

Miss Hanna Strasen, who resigned her position as organist and choir director of the First Presbyterian church, was honored for her service by the congregation last Sunday, November 10, and presented with a beautiful 10 karat gold wrist watch.

After serving nearly seven years as organist and choir director of the church, Miss Strasen tendered her resignation because of increased classes in piano teaching.

Following the regular Sunday morning service, Rev. Walter Nichol requested the congregation to remain. Raphael Mettetal, representing the choir of the church, and Rev. Nichol, speaking for the congregation, both paid tribute to Miss Strasen's service. Rev. Nichol commended Miss Strasen for her dependability remarking that she had never once been late.

In behalf of the church members, Chauncey Rauch presented the watch which bears an engraved inscription on the back. Miss Strasen responded with an expression of her appreciation.

At the last meeting of the junior choir, Saturday, Miss Strasen was presented with a gold mesh evening bag and a formal chiffon handkerchief from the group, and Tuesday night the senior choir gave a joint party for the retiring director also welcoming the new director, Dr. Kephardt, who is staff psychologist at the Wayne County Training school. Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. W. S. McAllister were co-chairmen of the party.

If we didn't get more than we give, how could we pay our bills?

Basketball Season to Open Dec. 2

The Community basketball league will start its season Monday, December 2. There remains an opening for one more girls' team and two boys' teams. An effort is being made this year to have more players participate.

After the third game there will be a sixty-six and two-thirds per cent handicap if there is a difference of 10 points in the total points made in the first games played. This will balance the teams in games won and lost. No handicap will be allowed in the playoffs or if a team does not have at least five players present at starting time. First games start at 7 o'clock, and the second game at 8 o'clock.

The referees are to be appointed by the captains of the teams according to a schedule arranged by the manager of the league. All players must secure a ticket before entering competition in the third game.

Teams entered in the girls' division include Daisy Manufacturing company, Ilene Williams, captain; Cloverdale Creamery, Elaine Elfert, captain; Hi-Speed, Jane Burley, captain. In the boys' division, the teams are Plymouth Plating, Howard Schryer, captain; Daisy, Don Schiffe, captain; Davis, Dunbar Davis, captain; Blunk and Thatcher, Lionel Coffin, captain; Perfection, Bud Holmes, captain; George's Service, Bob Hill, captain.

It is the desire of the committee to make it possible for everyone who likes basketball as a recreation to take part either as a player or a spectator fan. Season tickets may be obtained at the high school. Anyone wishing to play basketball may do so by calling the general manager of the league at 238-W or call at 1210 South Harvey street.

Car Demolished; Driver Uninjured

The occupants of a car which was demolished when it turned over into a ditch at the intersection of U.S. 12 and Mill street Sunday escaped with slight injuries.

Police report met Mary E. Hatton, 55 years old, of 905 Washenaw avenue, Ypsilanti, was driving west on Ann Arbor road at about 50 miles per hour Sunday night at 7 o'clock when approaching lights blinded her vision preventing her from seeing the narrow pavement. The car turned over into a ditch about 200 feet west of Mill street where the pavement narrows.

Mrs. Martha E. Hatton, 80-year-old mother of the driver, was given first aid treatment at the Plymouth hospital for lacerations and shock.

A fish can drown. And he does if he is placed in water devoid of oxygen. But certain swift-moving fish, such as the mackerel, also will drown if restricted so that they cannot swim rapidly. The current of water produced solely by the movements of the gills does not supply sufficient oxygen for these fish to live, even though the water is saturated with oxygen.

More Power to Thrift—more Thrift from Power

MAYBE you wonder what a big car like Buick is doing talking about economy.

All right, we'll tell you.

Most people would be willing to spend a little extra for what Buick has to offer—style, size, room, steadiness, durability—if part of that extra could be paid back through lower operating costs.

Especially they would like really satisfying performance—quick take-off, easy hill-climbing, sure power, fast response—if they could have it in a car that's stingy with gasoline.

That's what we've given them—through the extra power in this 1941 Buick.

The added wallop of FIREBALL engine design and Compound Carburetion lets us use more thrifty gear ratios, saving money without complicating extra gears or mechanisms.

And the tremendous reserve-power in these Buick engines—at 40, for instance, you have as much as 85% of your power "on call"—still permits the flashing get-away, the swooping hill-climb, the sure lift out of pinches you once had to buy with heavy gasoline consumption.

So we say—more power to thrift—it helps put Buick thrill and comfort within easy reach.

And the reason is—more thrift from power—from abler engines.

It all adds up to the sensation of the year—the car you ought to see first—the brilliant, able beauty your Buick dealer has waiting for you.

Northville Will Entertain Club

One of the most enjoyable Women's club meetings of the year was held last Friday afternoon at the Mayflower hotel. A large group of members was present to share in the interesting program prepared and presented by a group of club members.

Wearing dresses they had worn in the early 1920's, Mrs. Maxwell Muen, Mrs. William Bake and Mrs. E. J. Cutler sang songs which were popular during that period.

Mrs. Mattulis delighted the audience with her review of "The Good Old Days" and the exhibit of articles which included dress, a fur coat, a clock, a watch and chain, stereoscopes and several catalogues and issues of the Ladies' Home Journal added much to make this a most delightful program.

The next Women's club meeting will be held two weeks from Friday when all club members are to be the guests of the Northville Women's club for an afternoon program, Friday, December 6. Additional information regarding this meeting will appear in the next issue of The Plymouth Mail.

At the club meeting last Friday, Mrs. Willoughby read a letter from the Detroit Federation of Women's clubs telling of the Carnival of Foods to be held at the Federation clubhouse, Second avenue at Hancock, on Thursday and Friday, December 5 and 6. It will be held from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock in the evening and is being sponsored by the ways and means committee to help finance the work of the Federation. There will be foods to taste; samples to take home; moving pictures of various phases of the food industry shown in the auditorium twice each day; and door gifts to be awarded each day. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Willoughby and will also be on sale at the door of the clubhouse on the days of the carnival.

Thursday of each week is Women's club day at the Red Cross sewing room. This room which is open to the public daily from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. is at Starkweather school. Because of the holiday this week, the room will not be open Thursday but members are invited to come to sew on Thursday of next week, November 28, when some member of Women's club will be at the room all day to give out the sewing to be done.

Mrs. Rolfe Smith, chairman of the Women's Club Red Cross sewing committee will provide transportation for anyone who wishes to sew any Thursday. Call Mrs. Smith at 301.

Mrs. Zella Livingston and daughter Beth, of this city; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lyke and family, of Salem, will be entertained Thanksgiving day in the home of the former's son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Livingston, in Clawson.

Mrs. Douglas Miller and Catherine Kalesky were joint hostesses, Tuesday evening of last week, at a red and white kitchen shower, honoring Ellen Nystrom, a bride-to-be. Various games were played and dainty refreshments served. The guests other than Miss Nystrom were Betty Ridley, Betty Smith, Norma Corbett, Lucille Price, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. L. Roy Simons and Mrs. Linell Coffin. Miss Nystrom received many lovely gifts.

Simplicity Is Keynote of Dinner Table Arranged by Mrs. Cass Hough

MRS. CASS HOUGH

Good taste punctuated by its simplicity is shown in the model dinner table arrangement submitted this week by Mrs. Cass Hough of Ann Arbor Trail.

The table is set with "Evening Star" pastel blue service plates, bread and butter plates of white Victorian ware with pale blue figures, and goblets and sherbet glasses of a deeper shade of blue. A lace runner and individual lace place mats are the only covering on the mahogany dining table which is of the Duncan Phyfe period. A centerpiece of pink azaleas and blue delphiniums completes the table arrangement.

Mrs. Hough is not only a specialist at attractive table arrangement, but is also an excellent cook. The recipes for some of her best menus follow:

Dinner Menu
Roast beef and Yorkshire Pudding with gravy
Broccoli
Onion-Tomato Salad
Parfait
Coffee

Yorkshire Pudding Recipe
3 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
2 tablespoonsful drippings from roast beef
2 cup flour
1/4 teaspoonful salt
Beat eggs; add milk. Then stir in flour and salt and beat the mixture with an egg beater for three minutes. Add drippings. (Fix 1/2 hour before meat is done.) Put in large shallow pan, and when pan is hot, pour in the mixture. Bake at 450 degrees for 30 minutes. Cut into squares and serve immediately with gravy over the top.

Mrs. Hough makes the onion-tomato salad by slicing mild Bermuda onions, marinated in vinegar, salt and pepper, and alternate the layers of onion and sliced tomato on lettuce leaf.

The family's favorite parfait is a concoction of vanilla ice cream, orange ice, and homemade butterscotch sauce.

Butterscotch Sauce for Parfait
1 1/2 cups brown sugar
2 3 cup corn syrup
4 tablespoonsful butter
"Boil together to soft ball stage; then let stand until partially cool. Add one cup of cream and one teaspoonful of vanilla."

Another favorite dinner menu of the Hough family is braised spare-ribs with apples.

"Select two racks of ribs, about three pounds, and have them cracked to make serving easier," directs Mrs. Hough. "Brown in a very hot oven (450 degrees) or in a broiler. Then place them in a large baking pan and spread with a mixture of two tablespoons of prepared mustard, 1/4 cup brown sugar, and two tablespoons of Angostura bitters. Prepare six medium sized apples, peeled half way down sides, core, and place in pan with the meat. Fill centers with brown sugar. Add 1/2 cup hot water, cover the pan, and bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees) for one hour. Baste apples once during cooking."

A three-deck hot sandwich is popular with the two Hough children, Emmv Lou, 11 years old, and Kit, 8 years old.

A slice of buttered bread is covered with lettuce to form the bottom layer, sliced tomatoes, salt and pepper, with a little mayonnaise is laid on top of that; another slice of buttered bread next, and a fried egg with three strips of bacon next with another slice of bread for the third deck.

With a view to supplying essential iodine in the children's diet, Mrs. Hough serves tuna fish or salmon frequently. She dresses up her creamed tuna on toast by putting a chooped hard boiled egg in the white sauce along with two tablespoons of strong grated cheese and one teaspoonful of Worcester sauce.

Mrs. Hough also contributes an

Historical Thanksgiving

Many scenes have been written into American history since the first Thanksgiving was observed! Styles have changed. Laws have changed. Science, industry and mechanization have made fast strides in every phase of business and life.

Much has changed. But people remain the same—and today as generations ago, we still are thankful for the land we live in. For the religious freedom that was made our heritage by those first Americans—emigrants, all, from lands of persecution.

History has seen many changes. But to us in America, there is still much to be thankful for.

400 Parents Visit School

More than 400 parents, alumni, and friends attended Open House, held annually during National Education Week, at Plymouth high school last Thursday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. All classes, half an hour in length, were held according to their usual routine.

Students conducted speech classes and gave special talks. Some of the classes were taught entirely by students in order to illustrate modern educational methods. First aid classes demonstrated methods of bandaging various injuries. The senior dramatics' class presented a play for the benefit of the visitors.

Everyone expressed interest in the classes, and the freshman and sophomore classes drew the largest number of parents again this year.

Grade schools held open house during the entire week. Special projects in electricity, the building of an African village, a community project, a museum showing articles contributed from all over the world, and one of interesting spots in England were exhibited at Starkweather grade school. Following an assembly Tuesday, 40 members of the Mothers' P.T.A. club held a meeting at which tea and cookies were served.

Look at my bill—

($1.55 a month—average— for a family of 3 persons)

"It costs me less than 40c a week to cook on my electric range. Before I got my range, my cooking bill used to run a little lower."

"But for a matter of a few cents a week, an electric range is worth every bit of the difference! Just think: I enjoy electric cooking for less than the price of a loaf of bread or a quart of milk."

"We have a small family—there are three of us—but my neighbor next door cooks for five persons, and HER bill for electric cooking runs about 45c a week. So you see, an electric range costs less than you think. I wish I'd known that long ago... I'd have bought my electric range much sooner."

Another electric servant worth "discovering" is the automatic electric water heater. It provides hot water at all hours—and it is so fully automatic you simply install it and forget it. Electric water heating costs less than 10c a day (for an average family of three)... The Detroit Edison Company.

Kindergarten and First Grade
 Most of the beginners are writing their names and numbers. This is exceptional and Miss Toomey is very proud of them. Robert Ernest of the first grade entertained the kindergarten Thursday morning by reading to them out of his reader.
Second Grade
 The second grade is making a grocery store out of clay.
Third and Fourth Grades
 The third and fourth grades are preparing a play, "Thanksgiving with the Upsoots," which is a humorous play. Most of the class is in the play and those who aren't are on the stage crew. The boys and girls have provided their own costumes and two of the boys are building a stove and cupboard out of orange crates. They plan on giving the play for their mothers on Tuesday, November 19.
Fourth and Fifth Grades
 The fourth grade has made dinosaurs out of clay. We made "Thundering Rattles, Tyrants, and a three-horned Face. We are studying about the age of reptiles in our science class. The fifth grade is making a map of Michigan, and using symbols to show where the lumber, crops and fruits are. We have also added cities, rivers and lakes. As we study about the different parts of Michigan, we add them to our map. Our class enjoys working on this map.

Sixth Grade
 The past two weeks we have been working on an interesting unit in our reading. It is called "Telling the World." Now that we have completed the unit we are writing some plays about F. B. Morse, Alexander Graham Bell and some of the others. The best ones we are planning to dramatize. In our English work we are planning to publish a newspaper. We have not yet decided on a name for it, but we plan to do so this week. Danny Ball's sister has promised to typewrite our paper for us. We hope we will soon be ready to publish it. Wilma Walbridge told us a very interesting story about a movie she saw called, "20,000 B. C." It helped us with our science work quite a lot.
Seventh and Eighth Grades
 In art, Mr. Yeoman drew a picture of a train on the board. Then we made cars with fruits and vegetables in it. Mr. Yeoman drew an engine and we hitched them together. We got two new books Thursday, November 14. They are, "Wild Flowers" and "Birds of America."—Lorraine Zabel.

Church News

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

As is customary in all Christian Science churches, a special Thanksgiving service will be held on Thanksgiving day. Following the usual order of service there will be a brief period in which members of the congregation may express their gratitude for aidings and other help which they have received during the past year. The Golden Text from Psalms (97:12), will be very appropriate for the occasion and reads: "Rejoice in the Lord, ye righteous; and give thanks at the remembrance of his holiness." The Bible citations include: "Praise ye the Lord. O he thanks unto the Lord; for he is good; for his mercy endureth for ever" (Psalms 106:1). Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be the following: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avoid our selfishness of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more."

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 24. The Golden Text (Psalms 66: 8, 9) is: "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard; which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 103: 1-3): "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless his holy name. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits. Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 350): "Divine Truth must be known by its effects on the body as well as on the mind, before the science of being can be demonstrated."

PENTECOSTAL ASSEMBLIES of God, Berea Gospel Chapel, Rev. John Walaskav, pastor. Our special meetings are still going on this week every night except Monday and Saturday, with our evangelists, Roland and Mary Hummel, gifted speakers, singers, musicians, also our guest gospel singer, Homer Hummel, Sunday services, Sunday school, 10 a.m.; morning worship, 11:00; young people, C. A., 6:30 p.m.; and evening service 7:30. We extend a welcome to all to come to the church where the whole Bible is being taught. Remember this is Thanksgiving week. Let us give thanks unto God for all blessings not only at this time, but all times. God always keeps His word. We have to look to His promises or rest in them, expecting their literal fulfillment. Some are asking in the place of acceptance: some wish it were so, instead of believing that it is so. We have never to wait for God's giving for God has already "blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly things in Christ." We may reverently say, He has nothing more to give; for He has given His all.—J. Hudson Taylor.

D. A. R. Members Hear Talk on National Defense

Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter Meets at Northville Monday

The Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the D. A. R. met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Del Hahn of Northville. Mrs. E. J. Cutler, chaplain, read the 103rd Psalm and two original poems. Mrs. Nichol announced that her home would be open from 1 until 5 on Mondays to those wishing to sew for the Red Cross.

The guest speaker, Mrs. Norton Pearl, of the Louisa St. Clair chapter of Detroit, spoke on national defense. She emphasized the point that patriotism is not just a matter of celebrating special holidays, but a daily privilege and duty.

She asked that we be alert to any subversive activities and suggested that one of the places to stop such activities is in the schoolroom textbooks. Both Plymouth and Northville schools have been checked in this regard and all their textbooks approved. "Patriotism," said Mrs. Norton, "begins in our own community. We can best show our good citizenship by striving to alleviate poverty, eliminate unemployment, taking part in social service work, and improving educational standards."

In conclusion the speaker said, "A nation can be only as strong as its communities." After a short discussion, tea was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Robert Coolman and Mrs. Robert Leary. Mrs. Walter Nichol and Mrs. D. P. Yerkes presided at the beautifully appointed tea table.

Birthdays of the Week

Two famous men will celebrate their birthdays on the same day—November 22. Retiring Vice President John Nance Garner will celebrate his seventy-first birthday, and Sir Charles Morton Forbes, commander in chief of the British home fleet, will observe his sixtieth birthday.

Tom Brock Wins College Honor

Thomas Brock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Irwin, 2000 Canton Center road, was recently named the most outstanding Albion college student. A student committee nominated 16 Albion seniors and a faculty committee of nine prominent professors made the final selections. Brock was the unanimous choice for first place and six other students were named to the honor list.

Others on the honor list were Richard Ford, Mildred Plate, Lois Tapert, Leslie Fleming, all of Detroit; Martin Kurtz, Alpena, and Donn Doten, Bay City. The decision was based upon scholastic achievement, participation in activities, personal character, contribution to the college, and degree of campus leadership. Brock was also recently elected president of the Forum club, an organization composed of history and political science majors who have attained high scholarship.

Hard-Working Farm Couple Mark Fifty Years of Married Life

If Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz are any indication, you can be assured that the recipe for a long life is hard work. This couple who live at 2663 Lilley road, Plymouth, marked their fiftieth year of married life together Tuesday, November 19.

They spend every day taking care of their 10-acre farm just outside the city, and look hale and hearty for it. When interviewed this week, 72-year-old Mr. Schwartz was loading corn shocks up into the loft of the barn where Mrs. Schwartz, who is 74 years old, was piling the feed corn away for next year.

Mr. Schwartz met his wife when they both stood up as attendants at the wedding of a mutual friend. Following a courtship of two years, they were married on November 19, 1890, in the home of Mrs. Schwartz's sister at Wyandotte. Prankster relatives set the clock back that night so the bridal couple missed the train, their only transportation back to Detroit.

Mr. Schwartz worked as a carpenter in Detroit, until about six years after their marriage, when he was threatened with consumption from the wood dust. Doctors advised that he move to the country for the fresh air, and the couple has farmed ever since, first in Redford, and for the last 20 years near Plymouth where they have a small fruit orchard and about 70 chickens.

"We've never bought any canned goods in our life," said Mrs. Schwartz who puts up all her own preserves and meats each year. Mrs. Schwartz spent her early years as a professional cook, and her home cooking, especially baked beans and mince pies, is still tops with her husband.

Mr. Schwartz, born in Detroit, around Fifteenth street, down near the Detroit river, has worked since he was nine years old. He went through the first three grades at the old Trowbridge school on Twenty-first street. As a boy he recalls his father saying that 100-acre plots of land around the city hall could be bought for $100. Another of his recollections is the horse-drawn trolleys in early Detroit. In the winter, he said, the street cars were packed with straw to keep passengers warm. "If you wanted to go downtown to the opera house, you walked, because the trolleys often came off the tracks," Mr. Schwartz claimed.

Mrs. Schwartz, born near Berlin, Germany, went to work at the age of 10 after her mother died. She came to this country when she was 15 years old.

The couple has one son, John O. Schwartz, who with his wife and three children live not far from the Schwartz home.

Edgar Guest Purchases Christmas Seals

Edgar A. Guest is evidently amused over little Sarah Shurly William's method of selling him tuberculosis Christmas seals. Sarah comes by her interest in tuberculosis naturally since her grandfather, Dr. B. S. Shurly, president of the Detroit Tuberculosis Sanatorium, was instrumental in organizing the Christmas seal movement in Michigan. Mr. Guest himself is a staunch supporter for the Michigan Tuberculosis Association for whom he has written his famous Christmas seal poem.

Milk Fund Ball Raises $180

Nearly 400 tickets were sold for the third annual Milk Fund ball, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers' associations, and held at the high school auditorium November 8. A total of $180 was realized this year to contribute to the milk fund for undernourished school children. It is expected that this fund will carry the program through next April.

Donations from private industries and clubs in the city totaled $63.75. Edward Ebert again won the honor of selling the most tickets for the Starkweather school P.T.A., and Mr. Berridge's fifth grade class at Central grade school set a record for ticket sales, for which they received a treat of ice cream and cake.

The money is to be turned over to the schools and all children from kindergarten through the sixth grade who are not able to purchase their own milk each day will be supplied from the fund. Members of the P.T.A. point out that in many cases this is the only milk children receive during the winter months.

General chairmen in charge of the ball this year were Mrs. Jess Hines, president of the Starkweather P.T.A., and Mrs. F. R. Hohelsel, president of the Central P.T.A. Committees included Mrs. Ray Covell, Mrs. R. Farran, Mrs. Bert Swanson, Mrs. Jewell Bell, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. Carl Adler, and Mrs. Drivless from Starkweather P.T.A., and Mrs. William Arcott, Mrs. Leo Crane, Mrs. John Blossom, Mrs. Edward Debbs, Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. Murray O'Neil, and Mrs. Nellie Bird from Central P.T.A.

Jesse Ziegler, Leon Ziegler, Dan McKinney, Charles Wolfram and Gerald Ziegler and Homer Middlewood spent the first of deer hunting season at Ziegler's cottage at Houghton lake.

Dykhouse Visits Former Students

Claud Dykhouse, of Plymouth high school, was in Ann Arbor last Thursday consulting with former students, now freshmen at the University of Michigan. University freshmen from Plymouth this year are Vera A. Ess, 494 North Mill street; Richard Strong, 251 Auburn avenue; Margaret B. Thompson, 12414 Middle Belt road, and Richard G. Dunlop, 11418 Cranston avenue, Rosedale Gardens.

More than 150 principals and teachers, from 96 high schools in four states, attended the conference from 19 other colleges and junior colleges were invited to meet and transfer students at the University from their schools. Approximately 675 freshmen at the University were interviewed by their former principals.

The consultation plan, which has been in operation for 13 years, is intended to bring about closer understanding and co-operation between high schools and the university, stated Roosevelt M. Smith, sponsor of the plan.

High school teachers are enabled through these conferences to direct their instruction in vocational systems and to become more familiar with university methods. University instructors are also aided in studying preparatory school methods and in the solution of the problems of freshmen.

An unbandaged sharp-tail shot in east central Benzie county is proof that birds released in the area last spring raised at least one family. Forty-nine banded sharp-tailed grouse live-trapped in Wisconsin were released in early March by conservation department game men north of Thompsonville. Conservation officers have reported seeing birds in the vicinity and a sharp-tailed grouse has been located one mile west of the place where the birds were released.

Motors Cut Cost in Grinding Feed

Dairy herds and poultry flocks consume feed ground at lower cost these days because small motor driven hammer mills have slashed the amount of power and labor necessary for the job.

One good example is found on the R. J. Sackett farm near Marshall. A half horsepower motor uses only about four and a half kilowatt hours of electric energy to grind up a ton of feed for the 20 dairy cows or for the poultry flock of 100 hens. Proper installation of the grinder and shelling of corn before grinding are credited with savings.

"Proper feed grinding installation is one that delivers an ample supply of ground feed at the point of feeding with a minimum of labor, time and investment."

That is the definition offered by D. G. Ebinger, rural electrification extension specialist at Michigan State college.

An ideal situation, he says, would include a year's supply of whole grain stored where it would flow by gravity to the grinder and to have a day's supply of feed freshly ground and dropped into a small bin or rubber tired cart to eliminate storage of large amounts of ground feed.

On the Sackett farm less power is used because only shelled corn is ground. Mr. Sackett believes that ground corn cobs are unnecessary for adding bulk to the ration of the dairy herd.

Small motor driven hammer mills, Ebinger points out, are available in sizes ranging from a half to five horsepower. These lend themselves to automatic operation, conserving the operator's time.

Prosperity will be short of 100 per cent until the salespeople frown when the customers ask for something "less expensive."

PREPARED... They Beat the Gale's Destruction

The value of this company's preparedness to protect your telephone service in emergencies was proven once more last week while storm-broken trees and branches smashed great gaps through Michigan's long distance telephone lines. Riding a 60-mile gale from the western plains, the shrieking blasts caused wide-spread destruction throughout Michigan. But a well-built, well-protected plant minimized damage to telephone service. And experienced telephone men, 1500 of them... ready when needed, and where... patrolled the lines, repaired the breaks, even as the storm raged.

Only because of their experience, and long, careful training in standardized methods and with standardized tool- and equipment, were these motorized and mechanized forces enabled to beat the storm's damage and restore service rapidly.

This company's preparedness is an asset to Michigan's telephone service.

Third and Fourth Grades
The third grade had the best writers this week. Their names are Louise Jayska, Ray McCammon, Dorothy Maloney, Robert Thomas and Edgar Trocks. No one in the fourth grade received an A. The fourth grade is practicing a Thanksgiving play which they hope they can entertain with. If they can do it well they will choose a room to visit before Thanksgiving. Fruit bowls of colored paper decorate the room and they are proud to it is all free-hand cutting.

Fifth and Sixth Grades
We shall have our Mothers' tea

Tuesday, November 19. Our bulletin boards are decorated with Thanksgiving pictures which we have been making. We have no school on November 28 and 29. We are preparing two plays for our mothers' tea. We are glad to hear that Bob Jensen's father is much better. There are about 28 or 30 children who want to go to the football game at Lansing. We have a new boy in our fifth grade. His name is Edward Colling.

Seventh and Eighth Grades
The eighth grade is studying a unit on America after the Civil War. The seventh grade is studying a unit on the Colonial times. Last Tuesday we had an election. It came out as follows: President, Roosevelt 23, Willkie 7. Vice-president, Wallace 18, McNary 11, Moorman 1. U. S. Senator: Fitzgerald 20, Vandenberg 10, Governor, Van Wagener 22, Dickinson 8.

Our Puppet Show
Our puppet show is about Safety First. There are seven puppets. Their names are as follows: Junior Patrolman, Careless Carl, Safety Sue, Traffic Signal, Caution, Policeman and Fireman. We made our puppets out of paper-mache. Then we mixed it with paste. Neil Billy Newstead, Jack, Michael, Arthur Frost and Tommy formed the bodies of the puppets. We had trouble with our puppets. We had a difficult time getting Safety Sue's leg to walk. One morning we found that a mouse had eaten the arm of our Policeman. Many times we had to untangle string.

We had fun getting the costumes for the puppets. No one brought blue cloth for the Policeman so Delores colored some white cloth blue.

We made our stage out of orange crates and cardboard. We got four crates. We put two on top of each other, nailed them together, and there was one side of the stage! We did the same for the other side. Then we covered it with white paper. Marilyn and Betty brought a blue curtain for the stage.

We made our song with the help of Mrs. Pettit. First we made up a safety poem, then Mrs. Pettit helped us with the music. The name of our song is "Safety Class for All"—Kathryn Hembree.

Plymouth Whips Northville 21-6

Plymouth high school's football team ended its 1940 season on a satisfactory note last Friday by delivering its seventh straight whipping to its long-time rival, Northville, at Cass Benton park.

Warren Hoffman, one of eleven Plymouth seniors playing their last high school football game, was chief production man with Plymouth's first and last touchdown on his shoulders.

With a six years' record of wins behind its back, Plymouth set out in high gear and scored the winning points five minutes after the initial kick-off.

Hoffman delivered the first six points with a pass starting from the Northville 17-yard line. Jack Baker, Plymouth's hefty fullback, converted the extra and winning point on a three-yard plunge.

It was Hoffman who scored the touchdown, but it was a blocked Northville kick by Ronald Swegles. Plymouth left tackle, that directed the arrow toward the first score. Again it was Swegles' recovery of a Northville fumble that started motion toward the second touchdown.

After Jack Seguin had gained 40 yards with accurate passes to Bob Norman, Jack Baker furnished the second touchdown in the usual Baker manner with a slam over the Northville left guard.

Jim Funke scored Northville's six points with ease in the last of the second period by intercepting a Plymouth pass and tearing 60 yards down the sidelines for a score. Funke and his pass receivers, LaRue and Janord, however, threatened another score several times in the latter period.

Out for the Plymouth varsity for three years, Erland Bridge, one of Plymouth's departing seniors, stepped out of his position of left guard twice Friday to deliver two perfect drop kicks which resulted in two points after touchdown. Usually Plymouth attempts the extra point through a placement kick by Fullback Jack Baker.

Plymouth started its final touchdown march from the Northville 47-yard line after George Petrazewsky had forced a hurried Northville kick by throwing a runner for a 15-yard loss.

Warren Hoffman and Jack Baker alternated in working the ball up to the Northville 17-yard line from which point Hoffman scored on an off-tackle run.

Despite the cold, brisk weather, Northville gained a good portion of its yardage on passes from quarterback Jim Funke, to halfback Jack Baker and Plymouth's kicking, on the other hand, was better than Northville's.

The lineups:

Plymouth—Sessions, lg; Huntley, lg; Swegles lt; Stout lt; Petrazewsky lg; Stout lg; Dunham c; Klöf rg; Erdelyi rt; Darnell re; Norman qb; Herter qb; Hoffman rb; Gettleton lb; Seguin lb; Baker fb.

Northville—LaRue lg; Davis lt; Bongiovanni lg; Widmaier c; Vogtlin rg; Widmaier rt; Eaton re; Funke qb; Holcomb rb; Janord lb; McArthur fb; Fritz fb.

Plays for Senior Prom

As another Thanksgiving rolls around, a group of athletes, perhaps not as well known as the football squad, finish another year of hard, vigorous running with a good record. Last year Plymouth was last in Cross Country. This year it is second. Good coaching, and an interest on the part of the boys no doubt account for the showing.

To start the season Plymouth had Kirkpatrick, Trick, and Kisabeth with previous experience at the two mile distance. There were lots of newcomers, so in the first competition with other schools, Plymouth won. Lincoln Park was the victim to the tune of 23-37. Two days later the season opened officially in a meet with a T.V.A.A. school. Plymouth was good, but being better, Dearborn won, 22-36. Lincoln Park, not satisfied with losing once to Plymouth, lost once more, this time 28-31. In the regionals Plymouth placed third among the T.V.A.A. schools, being but four points behind first-place Rouge. At the state meet Plymouth again took second among the T.V.A.A. to conclude the season. Thus the Rocks ended the year with three victories to two losses.

Bob Kirkpatrick, Bob O'Connor, and Jack Christianson led the Plymouth team. Kirkpatrick was No. 1 man with two firsts, two second, and a third in seven meets. O'Connor was No. 2 with a first, third, three fourths and two fifths. Christianson was No. 3, running two thirds, two fourths, and a fifth. Herman Trick, Carl Robelli, Hoyt Hessler, Orly Lewis, and Philip Kisabeth each scored more points than in a school meet or won a medal in the T.V.A.A.

Of this year's team Bob O'Connor, Jack Christianson, Herman Trick, and Orly Lewis will be graduated. Kirkpatrick, Robelli, Trick, and Kisabeth will be eligible next year. Harold Young was the student manager, while the team was coached by Leo Wallace.

New Teacher

Buchanan, Michigan is the birthplace of Miss Margaret George, newly hired commercial teacher of Plymouth high school. Miss George received her high school education in Buchanan and attended Michigan State college. While there, she was a member of a Greek letter sorority Alpha Omicron Pi and the Spartan Women's League. Graduating from state in 1939, Miss George taught commercial subjects in Three Oaks, Michigan.

Miss George likes to bowl and watch football games and her hobby is coin collecting. While in Plymouth she resides at 275 Adams street.

Personalities

Monday, November 11—Armistice day, celebrated for those who died in the last great war by only one nation—the United States, called for an assembly. "The Land of the Free," a very interesting movie, was procured and before everything was finalized, straightened out for the assembly, a total of five notices were sent to some 40 rooms. (I felt sorry for the office girls. They should be able to get jobs as messengers any time.)

Tuesday—The day before Report Card day and we suddenly wish that we had given that report the history teacher wanted us to, or that we had handed all our work in the day it was due, or that we hadn't talked "diddle so much." I'm going to call this the "Jitters Day."

Wednesday—Our school seems to be running a rampage on assemblies, but we like it. Another one today, and all music at that. The girls' octet, as always, was greatly enjoyed. Lois Ridley is rapidly becoming a school favorite, and the little pantomime which accompanied "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" amused everyone. Apparently Plymouth high school really does enjoy music.

Thursday—Traffic jams, harassed troopers, or no troopers at all, lost and bewildered parents, short classes (thank goodness) and "scared" students, featured the annual Night school, held for National Education Week.

Friday—The last football game of the year with our traditional rivals—Northville! Featured at the game were the girls who twirl the batons. The white skirts of the cheer leaders were "snazzy" (high school slang), and Plymouth's cheering section really worked. Of course, the result of the game mustn't be forgotten. It is a great satisfaction to be able to say, "Well, we beat 'em again." (The alumni are happy, too.)

Debaters Win

Plymouth high school's debate squad won its second decision of the current season at the expense of Ypsilanti Central on November 14. The local's negative team was composed of Virginia Rock, Marjorie Goodman, and James Zuckerman, while Alta Gable, Ernestine Barnes, and Edith Nicoll made up Ypsilanti's affirmative. Phyllis Hawkins was a member of the original team, but because of illness was unable to participate. Ypsilanti based their case on the possibility of dictatorship in the United States, but the locals knocked down the affirmative case well enough to convince the judge, Mr. Rice of Melvindale, that Plymouth should have the decision.

The next league debate is with Ecorse, here, November 27.

Social Register

Bob Widmaier was host to a group of school "kids" at a hay ride last Friday evening. Bob's partner was Gertrude Kelley, and others there were Jim Mulholland and Shirley Reamer, Pete Wilson and Charlotte Welch, Eugene Shipley and Nancy Dunham, Dale Kaiser and Marion Parsons, Dan Harris and Gloria Johnson, Bob Bowdler and Lillian Shoebridge of Northville. After the ride refreshments and games were enjoyed at Bob's house.

Skating seems to be the fad and fashion of the year. Evelyn Kohl and her sister Dorothy roller skated at the Arena Gardens while Roberts Greenway visited the Riverside roller rink last Friday.

Eldon Martin, Bayliss Erdelyi, Bob Sessions, and Albert Donovan were among those present at the Swing Bowl in Detroit Friday night.

Sally Haas, Arvel Curtner, Gloriette Galloway and Jack Gettleton visited the Majestic theatre in Ann Arbor Friday evening. After the show, they went to the Sugar Bowl.

Derua DePlanche gave a surprise party in honor of her sister Elaine last Saturday afternoon. The guests were Bernice and Pat Kinahan, Janice Elzerman, Pat Tyson and Doris Trotman.

Jeanne Detling, Agnes Schomberger, and Gloriette Galloway were among the Plymouth guests at a Hungarian wedding in Detroit last Saturday. The bride was the former Margaret Horvath.

Alvin Jackson was the weekend guest of Terry Radcliffe of Redford.

Virginia Rock attended a meeting of the Detroit News Creative group in the Detroit News building last Saturday afternoon which she spent the night with her cousin, Doris Gable.

Mary Jane Olsaver, Margery Merriam and Virginia Rock attended the November Ring meeting for Girl Reserves at the Central branch of the Y.W.C.A. in Detroit, Saturday, November 16. It was the second meeting for Mary Jane and Margery and the last one for Virginia.

Sally Haas saw the U. of M.—Northwestern football game at Ann Arbor, Saturday.

Carolyn Castle, Evelyn Stewart and Betty Wake were joint hostesses at a hayride last Friday night.

Trash Heap

Well, well, what have we here? Sally Haas in one corner of the well-known triangle with Bob Daily and Arvel Curtner making the other two angles complete. From what I can tell, that triangle seems to be turning into a race-track with Arvel the current leader. Right, Sally?

Will someone tell me who La-marr Hugo is? His name sounds glamorous, mysterious, entrancing, and so on. I guess I'll have to ask Pat Mason for more information.

Jack Owens has one of the romantic leads in the Junior play, but don't get your hopes up too high, girls. His girl friend, if I may judge from appearances and the "Social Register" is Rosemary Kinsler.

It seems that the eighth graders have their "puppy love" problems as well as senior high school students. Did you congratulate George Newton on his triumph in winning Shirley Hitt, Donald? (Or am I wrong?) Well, never mind; there's always "Silver linings to dark clouds." Try the senior girls; they seem interested.

Here are some more theme songs—"Who Stole My Heart Away?"—Milton Humphries. "Only Forever"—Betty Brown and Warren Hoffman. "Where Did You Get Those Eyes?"—Pauline Wiedman. "Little Man, You've Had a Busy Day"—Bruce McAllister. "Strike Up the Band"—Mr. Evans. "You Can't Pull the Wool Over My Eyes"—the teachers. "Wishing Will Make It So"—prospective Prom dates.

Editorial

Thursday is Thanksgiving. Once again a controversy will come up concerning Roosevelt's right to change the date.

By President Roosevelt's proclamation in 1939, Thanksgiving, which had been declared a holiday annually by the president before this time, may be proclaimed by the governors of the states. This holiday is now celebrated on the last Thursday or the second to the last Thursday of November. The District of Columbia and United States possessions celebrate it according to the President's proclamation.

When the Pilgrims landed in Plymouth in 1620, a thanksgiving was offered. From 1621 on, the governors at their own will proclaimed dates to be set aside for thanksgiving. During 1776 and 1784 Congress recommended a day of Thanksgiving because of the wars.

Washington in 1795 recommended that Thanksgiving be observed because of its moral effects on the public. In 1799 the Episcopal church recognized the authority of setting aside this day to be vested in the hands of the civil government; the Roman Catholic church recognized this in 1888.

Since 1863 the custom has arisen of setting the last Thursday in November aside. So you see we've been having much on President Roosevelt!

Girl Reserves

Attending the city-wide ring meeting held at the Central branch of the Y. W. C. A. last Saturday, November 16, three Senior Girl Reserves, Mary Jane Olsaver, Margery Merriam, and Virginia Rock, are learning how to become a "wearer of the Girl Reserve Ring." Everyone is required to attend three of these meetings, of which there is one held every semester, before she is eligible to receive her ring. Requirements are high also in that she must have been a member of the Girl Reserves for three semesters before she is able to attend her first ring meeting.

Each individual club is required to have a ring meeting prior to the one at Detroit at which a little talk is given about what it means to be a "wearer of the Girl Reserve ring." Miss Fiegel spoke to the girls last Thursday noon upon the request of Mary Gots, ring chairman, who had received her ring last year.

The meeting held Saturday was the second one that Mary Jane and Margery had attended while it was the third for Virginia.

The special ring ceremony for those who are to receive their rings will be held Sunday, December 15 at the Central branch of the Y. W. C. A.

Personal History

Among the one-thousand-odd students and pupils in Plymouth high school is a sophomore girl who until three years ago lived in Europe. In fact, in five years she has lived in Germany, Spain, Switzerland, and the United States, besides traveling through Italy and France. That girl is Dorrit Straus.

Dorrit lived in Mannheim, a small, industrial town near Heidelberg, in southern Germany. In June the next year the Spanish Revolution began. There were no air-raids while we were there, only occasional fights between Loyalist and Rebel sympathizers. In September my mother and I decided to go to Switzerland where it was more peaceful. We left Barcelona by airplane. How well I remember that plane! It was an old airplane painted yellow and blue with two sets of wings, and seated ten persons. The air was rough, so I became air-sick. We were up for about three and a half hours, flying out across the Mediterranean to Marseilles, France.

From France we proceeded by train (how hard the seats of European trains are) along the French Riviera, passing Monte Carlo, to Genoa. From there we went to Milan where we saw the Cathedral. The same day we came to Lake Como, one of the larger lakes in northern Italy. The next morning we arrived in Switzerland where we went to Ascona on Lake Maggiore which is half Italian and half Swiss. Ascona is no bigger than Plymouth, if not smaller. We stayed there for a year—until September 1937 when we left for the United States.

We went through Zurich, Tours, Vichy, and Paris. We stayed in Paris for a few days and saw for the last time the Cathedral of Notre Dame, the Louvre, the Tomb of Napoleon, and the near-by Palace of Versailles.

At Le Havre we embarked on the S. S. Washington. It was October 7, 1937. The next morning we left Southampton, England, and had our last glimpse of The Continent. Our first glimpse of the U.S.A. came at nine o'clock the evening of October 14.

The man with the umbrella is dead. Not knowing whether the war, with which he was so closely concerned, will be won by Germany or England, Neville Chamberlain was given a very quiet ceremony in Westminster Abbey, in the funeral programs, in red ink, directions concerning shelters in case the possibility of an air raid were found. People are now wondering whether these words would have been there if Mr. Chamberlain had taken a different stand in Munich.

Debaters Win

Plymouth high school's debate squad won its second decision of the current season at the expense of Ypsilanti Central on November 14. The local's negative team was composed of Virginia Rock, Marjorie Goodman, and James Zuckerman, while Alta Gable, Ernestine Barnes, and Edith Nicoll made up Ypsilanti's affirmative. Phyllis Hawkins was a member of the original team, but because of illness was unable to participate. Ypsilanti based their case on the possibility of dictatorship in the United States, but the locals knocked down the affirmative case well enough to convince the judge, Mr. Rice of Melvindale, that Plymouth should have the decision.

The next league debate is with Ecorse, here, November 27.

Editorial Brevities

A shortage of rifles is the greatest problem of the deer hunters this season. It seems that rifles will be used in the future to oppose the dictators' people instead of deer.

And what about the students who are studying physics from a text by Mr. Dull?

On the lighter side comes the story of Ole Man Mose, a character of Lil Abner renown. He is a philosopher who knows the fate of all persons. For some reason he lives in a dark cave. In their appreciation for his prophecies, his neighbors gave him a phosphorous bucket so he would not "kick the bucket" in the dark.

Inspirations

Said Mr. Latture to a math pupil: "Draw an acute angle and letter 'F L Y.'"

"I don't understand. What do you mean? Draw an acute angle and let 'er fly?"

Out of a clear sky the kid sister exclaims, "I don't like your looks if you don't like mine."

Trying to be thoughtful (and perhaps win a compliment) we reply, "I like your looks. Do you like mine?"

"No, I think they're funny."

All joking aside Wendell Wilkie should be given a real hand for his intelligent conviction that there should be an active opposition party in this country, and that the opposition should not oppose merely for the love of bone-picking.

When a fellow who is refused enlistment in the Marine Corps and Navy because of a bad heart can join the Army Air Corps, we at last realize why Elliott Roosevelt is another INDISPENSABLE MAN.

We hear there is a movement underfoot which desires to have Hawaii represented on our national flag with a moon. While we don't think much of the proposal, it would keep the government associated with astronomy—a national debt in astronomical figures, and a flag with 48 stars and a moon.

Class Brevities

Reading the selection, "Lady of the Lake," Miss Lovewell's English literature students are studying the historical background of Scotland which deals with this selection. This extra work helps students to enjoy the selection.

Students of English literature are reading as background material "England of Song and Story." Chapter in the book deal with a number of interesting topics. Among them are the story of thieves, beggars, and rascals, the types and immense quantities of food eaten by the British in early history, famous old landmarks, the story of how streets got their names, and styles of dress during the sixteenth, seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. When Queen Elizabeth died she had 3,000 very elaborate costumes.

The British, until after the days of Queen Elizabeth, were noted for the great amounts of food they consumed. They had wild boar, venison, bear, all kinds of wild fow, pastry, meat pies, and home-brewed ale. One meal usually lasted three hours or more.

Ah! the reason has been discovered—you know, the reason why one of the female leads in the Junior play objects to her leading man—he has whiskers which bother her in the love scenes—Tsk, tsk.

Can it be that the numerous rumors flying around concerning "Red" Herter and Lesteen Sides really have some foundation? Perhaps the whole affair will be brought into the light at the proposed hayride at which they are to be co-attendants—hmm—a new word—Ah! a new possibility has arisen—the school mayor's speculated heart interest in one of her many senior classmates—well after all she has a heart as well as a head.

Castor oil is about the only medicine that lives up to the claims of its makers.

Music Assembly

Because of the demand for more assemblies that are different from former ones yet also interesting, the Council has been planning such. Last Wednesday, both the junior and senior high schools enjoyed an unusually interesting music assembly which not only provided entertainment but also showed what the music departments are doing.

Mayor Virginia Rock acted as chairman and introduced the first program, given by the girls' triple trio.

The next number was given by three students of Miss Hamill's violin class. Allene Parmelee, Owen Gorton, and Meric Whitesall played as a trio the "Spanish Dance" by Morkoswski.

Lois Ridley, a promising tenth grade singer, gave "In Between." This interested both students and teachers since Lois' voice and ease in singing resembles that of Deanna Durbin and Judy Garland.

The last program consisted of the Girls' Chorus led by the three student directors. The most amusing selection was "The Wedding of the Painted Doll" in which a mock wedding from the rich to the bouquet and the nervous bridegroom took place in pantomime.

Practice Debate

Plymouth was again host to the debate squad of Jackson high school on November 6. This is the second time the locals have competed with Jackson in a practice debate. Jackson again used charts on which were printed figures that the negative quoted and worked into their case. The Jackson affirmative team and the locals had very much the same case; they both objected to the autocratic powers of the bureau.

Plymouth's next league debate is with Ecorse, here, on November 28.

It's an Art

This is a story of misplaced talent, of latent ability, of the foot in football and anything else you care to read into it.

It includes humor, tragedy, destiny and hard work besides a good example of life as it passes daily.

Its main character is Erland Bridge, right guard on the Plymouth football team, and its supporting cast is the Plymouth football team. The properties are a football and a pair of uprights.

It concerns purely and simply the ancient art of drop-kicking points after touchdown.

Last week with its eleven comfortably ahead in the last game of the season, Plymouth tried a unique way to convert the point after touchdown. Instead of running the ball over from the three-yard line, or passing, or kicking from placement, they gave Erland Bridge the ball and he drop-kicked it for and high over the opposing uprights.

With Plymouth still more comfortably ahead in the last period, Bridge was again given the ball and he responded just as mightily.

Now this bit of heroics was not as simple as it may seem. Very few teams can boast a good drop-kicker, and drop kicking has been called a vanishing art. And so when a right guard who has never attempted a goal before in competition steps up and delivers two in a row, something must be behind it.

According to Bridge there is something behind it: A game of kick-goal after practice every day, and plenty of additional practice. These two things resulted in the only two consecutive extra points Plymouth has converted all year.

Unlike Dutch Clark, best drop-kicker in the business, Bridge steps to the side something after the manner of a punt. Just as the ball hits the ground he kicks it in a sidewise sweeping motion.

You may wonder where the humor, tragedy and destiny work their way into the picture. Well, it's simple: Bridge drop-kicked his first two points last Friday with accuracy. He also played in the last game of his high school career.

He is the happiest, be he king or peasant, who finds peace in his home.

What to Do if You Have Lost Number

The questionnaire which draft boards are now sending to men whose names are among the first on the selective lists asks for the social security account numbers of these men. If any persons receiving this form have lost or misplaced their social security account number cards, duplicate cards can be obtained from the Dearborn field office located at 14246 Michigan avenue, Dearborn, Michigan. For the convenience of those outside of Dearborn, a representative of this office will be in the postal inspector's room, in the basement of the Plymouth post office from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

This statement is made by Charles L. Hickey, manager of that field office. Duplicate account cards may readily be obtained by filling in a simple application which may be secured from any post office, the branch office in Plymouth, or through the Dearborn office.

"I strongly urge any young man who has lost his account number and who needs it for his selective service questionnaire, to be sure he gets a duplicate of his original social security number, and not a new number, as the latter practice often delays posting of wage credits of those who are covered by the Social Security Act," Mr. Hickey said.

A NIGHTMARE COLOR.

Some one over in Lansing apparently with a better taste for a public job than for proper colors, has dobed up the front entrance of the capitol building—and what a mess they have made!

One of the country's most beautiful public buildings has been turned into a sort of "nightmare color" in an effort to do some sort of a painting job. Apparently the smear is the direct result of a desire on the part of some penny-ante political jobholder to try and approve the general appearances of the beautiful building without consultation with any one who knew what to do.

What can be done to remove the smear from the great granite blocks, only an expert can tell. It will probably be necessary to spend many thousands of dollars—but if necessary, it should be done as quickly as possible to restore the general attractive appearances of the great building.

When Michigan's capitol was erected some 63 years ago, records of the geological survey of the department of conservation tell of the search at that time for suitable native stone for the commonwealth's chief structure.

The roof was to have been made of copper, if the copper came from Michigan mines and could be delivered here at 25 and a half cents a pound. Cost of copper delivered in Lansing was then 31 cents a pound (it is now 12 cents) so a corrugated iron roof was considered, but the building was finally roofed with tin especially prepared in Wales.

Foundation footings are of Bellevue, Eaton county, limestone, crushed and mixed with river sand and Utica cement. Overlying footing stones are of Lamont, Illinois, limestone, the floors of vaults of Euclid, Ohio, freestone, and the superstructure of Amherst, Ohio, sandstone. It was the Amherst stone that caused most of the trouble.

The Amherst stone has a resistance of 7,892 pounds per square inch while the best Michigan stone then known had a resistance of only 3,362 pounds per square inch and was of inferior color, but some Michigan quarry men, especially at the old Flushing, Genesee county quarry, were quite unhappy about it all.

The capitol cornerstone is of Massachusetts granite. Corridors of the first, second and third floors are of Vermont marble. Fifteen million bricks used were made of Lansing clay. Plate glass was brought from England, and skylights over legislative halls were made of American hammered glass. Logs of Michigan trees on exhibit at the 1876 Centennial in Philadelphia were sawed up to make patterns for the ironwork castings used in the structure and to crate the iron decorations of the dome.

The state board of auditors should lose no time in removing the dobs of paint around the entrances that give every appearance of being the result of some Hallowe'en prank.

A PUBLIC SERVICE.

Announcement of the distribution of over $50,000 to Plymouth residents by the two local banks as the result of Christmas savings clubs is a tribute to the thrift of Plymouth people as well as to the alertness of the banks in creating the spirit of savings among our citizens.

Here is more than $50,000 that will find its way into the trade channels of Plymouth just at a time when everybody has the Christmas spirit—the spirit of good will and the desire to express that good will by gifts of various kinds. Truly the Christmas savings clubs are a wonderful thing.

Throughout the country three hundred and sixty-five million dollars was distributed to more than seven and one-half million Christmas Club members by approximately forty eight hundred banking and savings institutions and other organizations during National Prosperity Week which started Monday, December 2nd, according to an estimate given out by Herbert F. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation, sponsors of National Prosperity Week.

The total distribution for 1940 is about four and a half percent in excess of 1939. The average distribution per member amounts to $48.50 as against $48.80 for 1939. The estimates are based on a substantial number of reports received from institutions operating the Christmas Club plan in different sections of the country.

Based upon recent reports from individual Christmas Club members and applying these reports to the entire distribution for 1940, the estimated fund of $365,000,000.00 will be used by the recipients approximately as follows:

Christmas Purchases	32.4%	$118,260,000
Permanent Savings	26.7%	95,655,000
Year End Bills	14.0%	51,000,000
Taxes	9.7%	36,400,000
Insurance Premiums	9.3%	34,000,000
Education, Travel, Charity	4.2%	15,330,000
Mortgage Interest	2.3%	8,400,000
Unclassified	1.4%	5,955,000
Total	100.0%	$365,000,000

In the distribution of Christmas Club funds this year, New York state leads the other states with about $106,000,000; the estimates for Pennsylvania are $38,000,000; for Massachusetts $33,000,000; for New Jersey $26,000,000. New York's metropolitan district will receive about $63,000,000. The Bank of America N. T. and S. A. in California will distribute $16,000,000 to 250,000 members. The Bank of the Manhattan Company has $4,800,000 for 90,000 members enrolled at 49 offices in greater New York. ### YOUR CITY . . . AND YOU.

You'll find elsewhere what you left behind,
If you want to live in the kind of a town
That's the kind of a town you like,
You needn't slip your clothes in a grip
And start on a long, long hike.
You'll find elsewhere what you left behind,
For there's nothing that's really new;
It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town,
It isn't your town—it's you.
Real towns are not made by men afraid
Lest somebody else get ahead;
When everyone works and nobody shirks
You can raise a town from the dead.
And if while you make your personal stake
Your neighbor can make one, too,
Your town will be what you want to see,
It isn't your town, it's you.

Rambling With Editors Of Michigan

Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

THE REAL CAUSE

Government reports, deploring the annual loss of wild waterfowl, which wastes a quarter of the yearly kill, lays the blame at the door of the wanton hunter who blazes away at such a distance that there is little or no chance of his retrieving what he has bunglingly hit, but only wounded. "Of forty ducks supposed to have started, half were found to have died of lead poisoning. If you can't be an effective hunter after ample target practice, for mercy's sake don't hunt at all.—Emerson Gildart in The Utica Sentinel.

QUITE RIGHT

One thing about riding in a taxi, you don't have to worry about the fenders.—L. J. Jeffries in The Lowell Ledger.

POPE SAYS SOMETHING

Why certain people try to peep the hide from the back of an editor because this man has the nerve to express his viewpoints is not understandable. They argue it's all right for the politician, for the lawyer, the clergyman, for the average leader to voice his convictions, but not for a newspaperman. What in Sam Blazes is a newspaper for if it can't express its viewpoints, and its honest convictions? It owes these viewpoints to its readers, most of whom look forward to an "honest opinion," even if they can't agree with the editor after this is offered. Surely, the critics would not go so far as asking the government to suppress these papers because they disagree with their own personal viewpoints. That would be interfering with free press and free speech. This is a democracy.—J. John Pope in The Grandville Star.

MIGHT BE A BOOMERANG

This "no third term" idea, used in the last general election, may have gained sufficient favor to prove a boomerang to all such aspiring candidates in coming elections. And why not? —Charles Seed in The Rochester Clarion.

THE NEW SUPREME JUDGE

Mr. Justice Boyles gave the state's first non-partisan test a conscientious and sympathetic interpretation. He kept out of the party affairs and confined his campaigns to a moderate and dignified presentation of the mere fact that he was one of the nominees. He is an easy winner, 100,000 or more, and the outcome—where only one can win—is a wholesome endorsement for this new streamlined idea in judicial selections.—Murl H. De Foe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

A GOOD SIGN

Even though a majority of U. S. citizens may not be profound enough to think through the basic issues of a national election, the candidates do flatter them by appealing to their fundamental yearning for Utopia. That is a good commentary upon democracy; some day, when the masses become more intelligent upon social, economic, and political issues, the candidates will have to be more careful in their promises; this means, human nature being what it is, that no politician will win an election by playing the role of Santa Claus. People will then know that they will have to pay the bills for the things that a governmental Santa Claus brings them.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eclectic.

THE DAYS OF REST

*Sunday used to be a day of rest and today you rest the other six to be ready for Sunday.—L. J. Jeffries in The Lowell Ledger.

HEARTS ARE TRUMPS

The best explanation that I have heard about the election was made by a manufacturer friend. He said: "My head was for Willkie, but my heart was for Roosevelt." He voted for Willkie, but he was not downcast because Roosevelt was elected.

I agree also with his opinion that the result of the election will be to force government and business into a closer and more friendly alliance. Certainly we need it in these days of world crisis.

Most of us are beginning to wonder whether a certain amount of ruthlessness is not inevitable in all big organizations. This applies both to big business and big government.

My manufacturer friend went on to declare that Roosevelt reforms were necessary because Big Business had been too hard-boiled, too mercenary; so intent on building things bigger and greater that it had overlooked many of its obligations to society. It took a few years for the general public to realize this.

Now Big Business is being curbed. That is a good thing. Only we do not want to create an equally selfish and ruthless Big Government.

The fact that Roosevelt had been re-elected for a third term should drive into the cyclone cellar those rabid Republicans who can see no good in his administration. Likewise the fact that for every 25 persons who voted for Roosevelt, 21 voted for Willkie should make the attitude of the administration less bitter and more practical than in the past. If this happens, perhaps we will all be better off.—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

But It's True

Hurlbur was walking across a hill when a sudden gust of wind threw his shoulder out of joint. The Trougnac river, narrow and short, passes through a series of grape arbors. At that point there is a rapids. The grapes are so great in number that the volume crushed on the rocks turns the river to the color of wine. The taste is actually that of grape-juice.

This Year Charters in 320 Years of Unparalleled Progress for America . . . No People Have More Reason to Be Thankful!

The year 1940 . . . a year of great crisis, of sober, even terrifying thoughts for people all over the world, a year of humanity's greatest struggle for preservation . . . brings in a Thanksgiving which, for the American people, has never been more symbolic in its imperishable image for free men. When the Pilgrims stepped forth on Plymouth Rock they carved not merely a new nation, but a new civilization. America has many traditions, many precious heritages. But none has the spiritual value, the immense humility, the scope of reverence, inherent in Thanksgiving.

Yes, we have a right to be thankful. We have a duty, too . . . that our thankfulness be embodied in our determination to preserve those ideals which gave us Thanksgiving. Today, more than ever in our nation's history, the bounty of American fields and farms, the productivity and skill of American machines and factories, the resources and creativeness for human welfare of American men and women, is our greatest weapon for the continuation and preservation of the American life . . . and the true destiny of Thanksgiving Day in America.

May we express our thankfulness to you for your kindness of the past and expect a continuation of the same in the future?
