

Record Snow Fall Blankets Michigan

Many Accidents Caused by Icy Highways

Old Timers Declare Early Snow Breaks All Records

With a snow fall of more than nine inches during the past few days, old timers say the prospects are that Plymouth and the rest of Michigan is in for one of those good old fashioned winters they used to talk about.

Not for years has there been such a heavy and constant snowfall so early in the season. Beginning late in November, snow has fallen to some extent almost daily.

Coupled with the snowfall, has been an icy condition of the highways that has prevailed almost constantly for nearly two weeks.

While there have been no fatal accidents in this locality, scores of automobiles have been damaged, and such intense cold weather. At one time last week there were nine machines stalled on the Plymouth road in the valley about a mile east of the Burroughs plant. The slippery condition of the hill in that section caused the machines to skid from the roadway, no matter how careful the driver of the machine operated his car.

Plymouth garage men say they have experienced one of the busiest times they have ever had as the result of so many accidents and such intense cold weather.

The lowest point to which the mercury has dropped in this locality during the past week was eight above zero, the coldest spell this part of Michigan has experienced so early in the season in years.

There has been a greater snowfall so far this year than south-eastern Michigan experienced last year before January.

The early freeze-up has caused coal dealers and plumbers so much extra work that fuel dealers are being called in and plumbers cannot get caught up with their work. There is every prospect that Michigan is in for a real old-fashioned winter.

Bank Contest Closes Saturday

As a part of "Coming Generations Week," sponsored by the Michigan Bankers' association, 85 seniors from Plymouth and other banks visited the Plymouth United Savings bank last week. After viewing the work of the several departments of the banking institution, the students were invited to participate in a state-wide contest by writing an essay on "Why I Would Choose Banking for My Life's Work."

Seniors participating in the contest are reminded that the deadline for submitting essay entries to the bank is Saturday, December 7.

Five large posters outlining the work of the various departments of the local bank are now on display there. Posters on the commercial and savings departments show sample forms used by the bank and also a record of the bank's accounts and a list of checks handled by the bank. Other posters detail the work of the real estate mortgage department, other loans for automobiles or life insurance, and an account of the bank's bond investments.

Building Activity in Seasonal Decline

With the advent of winter weather, building activity began to fall off during November. The valuation of building work in Plymouth during the last month was only $11,387 which is one-third of the total for the month of October. Several building permits were issued during November, but less than in the previous month.

The only commercial buildings for which permits were issued were for alterations to enlarge the Sam and Son store at 929-30 Penniman avenue, estimated at $4,000, and for the remodeling of offices at 710 Ann Arbor road for a veterinary hospital for Dr. E. B. Cavell Jr. This job called for the installing of partitions to make offices and the building of a unit for dog cages, the cost of which was approximately $50. The only new house under-taken last month is a one-story frame house at 496 Auburn street between Indiana and Blanche streets for C. H. Manwaring, at an estimated cost of $3600. Clarence Pelley took out a permit for $1500 worth of repairs from fire damage to his home at 1083 Starkweather avenue. The remainder of the permits were issued for re-roofing, new furnaces, garages, and siding repairs.

Heart Attack Victim Dies in Car

William A. McGregor, 49 years old, of 2315 West Ann Arbor Trail, victim of a heart attack, was found dead in his automobile in front of Session's Service station on North Main street, early Friday morning by Officer Lee Sackett.

The tires on the car, which were purchased only the day before, were badly burned from the spinning of the wheels after the car struck the garage doors of the station.

Funeral services were held Monday, from the Schrader Funeral home, under the auspices of Zion lodge No. 1, F. & A. M. of Detroit, with the Rev. Walter Nichol officiating.

A native of Newberry, Michigan, Mr. McGregor had been employed as a printer at the Detroit Electrograph company for about 20 years. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Etta B. McGregor, and a sister, Miss Nellie M. McGregor, teacher at the Bay City junior college.

Although there have been 333 aliens registered at the Plymouth post office, local postal officials are sure that the total number of these who should have their names filed, have not yet complied with the federal regulation. While December 26 is the final day for registration, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week have been set aside by Postmaster Learned as days when aliens who have not yet complied with the federal act can come to the post office and register. It is urged that they come on Tuesday if possible, as appointments for next Wednesday are practically filled.

Because of the long waits, Detroit aliens have been registering with outlying post offices. Postmaster Learned believes that fact possibly explains the reason why so many aliens have come to Plymouth to register for Detroit.

It is estimated that when the various post offices throughout the United States close for business on Thursday night, December 26 the total registration of aliens will exceed the 3,500,000 mark. Aliens failing to register at that date are subject to arrest. The picture above shows aliens in the various steps of registering as they beat the approaching deadline. Sonja Henie, figure skater and screen actress (right) seemed quite jovial when she came to Plymouth to register at the Norway as her native country.

Commission Sets Special Hearing on Sign Ordinance

Sponsors Withdraw Petition to Amend Zoning Ordinance

The city commission at its meeting Monday night voted to call a special hearing on the proposed city sign ordinance Monday, December 30 at the city hall. The date was set after Christmas to enable merchants to give the proposal due consideration.

Appearing before the city commission were Ed Bolton, representing the Walker Sign company, and Ralph Lorenz who spoke for the merchants of Plymouth, regarding the provision of the ordinance to prohibit projecting signs. For the most part, the ordinance seems to be meeting with general approval, City Manager Clarence Elliott reports.

The effect of the proposed ordinance is to eliminate projecting signs in the future, and to allow five years for the eventual removal of all present non-conforming signs unless they constitute a serious hazard before that time. The ordinance will also require permits and the payment of fees for licenses.

A petition to amend the city zoning ordinance by changing the classification of property located at the southeast corner of the city was withdrawn by its sponsors, Matt Powell and Allan Tillotson. It is expected that Mr. Powell will erect a garage on the property to qualify for the requirements of a local business area. The garage will not be used as a storage and supply garage to house contracting equipment as originally intended. The proposed building, thus becomes a matter for the board of appeals instead of requiring an amendment to the zoning ordinance.

Quit claim deeds were presented to the city at Monday's meeting by Mr. and Mrs. Cal Simon for 66 square feet for the purpose of alley widening at the rear of business property on Main street.

The department issued 350 new driver's licenses during the last month and 20 chauffeur's licenses. Court cases included one breaking and entering, one failure to stop at a red light, one disorderly charge, William Wilson, held for breaking and entering the Halstead and Herick jewelry store, was bound over to circuit court, the three persons pleading guilty to drunk driving, one intoxicated charge, one fine amounting to $30, and court costs of $10, and the disorderly prisoner was committed to the Ypsilanti state hospital.

Grief Over Accidental Death of Little Daughter Kills Father

Wednesday afternoon up in the little village of Deckerville in the Thumb of Michigan there was a double funeral—the funeral of a little eight-year-old girl and of her 51-year-old father.

The life of Shirley Ann Smrcina had been crushed out last Thursday when the sled on which she was sliding down a sidewalk skidded off the walk and into the path of an approaching automobile in the roadway.

The father had aided in carrying the lifeless body of his daughter and her broken sled from the road to the house. The father, overcome by grief, fainted Sunday morning attending physicians became alarmed at Mr. Smrcina's heart action.

As the hours of the day passed on, his condition grew worse and just at evening, his broken heart beat for the last time—the sorrowing father had joined his little daughter in death.

Only those who knew Leo Smrcina can understand. He lived but for one thing—his family. His devotion to his dependents was intense.

A number of years ago Leo was employed for a time by The Plymouth Mail. He came here from Muskegon. Then one of his sons purchased a newspaper up in the Thumb district and the father moved his family to that part of Michigan where they have lived for the last several years. He was employed on The Deckerville Recorder.

Burial of father and daughter took place in Deckerville. Mrs. Smrcina and a number of children survive to mourn the passing of one of the most devoted fathers who ever lived. He was not only devoted to his family, but he was as good a citizen as ever walked the streets of any community. Fate had not been too kindly to Mr. Smrcina during the last 15 or 20 years. But he never complained and he had a way of making the best of things. The surviving members of his family will always be able to find happiness in the thought that every one who knew Leo as they did will forever cherish his memory.

Plan Tree Lighting Ceremonies Here

After a short business meeting, a musical program and tea will be given with Mrs. Gerald Honors in charge of music and Mrs. Henry Hendorp and members of her circle in charge of the tea.

The Plymouth Woman's Club chorus will make its first appearance at this meeting presenting Christmas music and the junior church choir will also sing. Miss Hanna Strasen will preside at the organ.

Decorations for the affair will be appropriate to the Yuletide season.

Post Office Has Early Rush in Christmas Mails

Postal Receipts for November Show Huge Gain Over Last Year

An early rush in Christmas mailing, especially in parcel post, was reported this week by Postmaster Frank Learned who urges people to hurry in getting their Christmas greeting cards and packages ready for mailing to insure prompt delivery.

"Indications point to a record Christmas business this year," said the Postmaster who reminded readers that the volume of incoming mail in the next few weeks also doubles the work of the post office staff. An early dispatch of outgoing mail will aid in relieving the Christmas rush.

The postmaster also reports that there was a 53 per cent increase in postal receipts during November above the same month last year. Postal receipts from parcel post, direct mail advertising, and regular mail is considered a good barometer of business conditions. There has been a corresponding increase of 15 per cent in the auxiliary help needed this year at the post office.

A total of 333 alien registrations have been completed at the local post office. Appointments for alien registration filled every hour Wednesday, and post office officials advise persons who must register to make appointments for next week since the post office will be busy with Christmas business the week before the holiday. The deadline for existing registrations is December 26, and if applications for appointments warrant they will be taken for any day during the week.

City Installs 25 New Parking Signs

Twenty-five new parking signs have been installed by the city in the main business district this week. The new signs, placed according to state specifications, are mounted on seven foot posts. The old signs were attached to Edison poles which were removed in the program for more modern street lighting facilities.

The green letters on white signs read "Two Hour Parking Limit from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. Trucks Prohibited."

Civic Committee Stages Program Wednesday, Dec. 11

Arlene Tennant and Joan Gillies to Reign as Princesses

The Christmas season will be inaugurated in Plymouth with community Christmas tree lighting ceremonies next Wednesday evening, December 11, under the sponsorship of the Civic Committee.

The ceremonies will begin at 7:15 o'clock in the park at the north end of the city. Little Arlene Tennant from Starkweather school will be the Christmas Princess to pull the switch lighting the tree at north end park.

Joan Gillies, eight-year-old student at Central Grade school, will preside as Christmas Princess at the tree lighting program to be held in Kellogg Park at eight o'clock. The program will open with a selection from the high school band, played under the direction of Lewis Evans. The tree lighting will be erected in Kellogg Park from which the program will be presented.

Following the lighting of the Christmas tree, the high school girls' double quartet and the high school chorus will sing Christmas carols under the direction of Miss Doris Hamill.

Bruce and Jimmy McAllister will present a Christmas novelty skit, and the sixth grade choral singers from Starkweather and Central schools will sing under the direction of Miss George Zemer. Following a trumpet solo by Neal Curtis, the program will close with community singing of familiar carols with band accompaniment.

Those in charge of the program promise that Santa Claus will be on hand at the ceremonies. It was also announced this week that Santa Claus will be at his headquarters in Kellogg Park during the afternoon and evening of Saturday, December 21 to receive Christmas orders from the children of Plymouth.

City Removes Ice From Streets

Ice coating the streets of Plymouth has been removed by the city street cleaning crew this week. A grader equipped with a carrier and blade to cut icy pavement has been in operation the last few days clearing ice from the business sections along Main street and Penniman avenue. City officials believe that Plymouth is the only city in the state to use the grader machine for this purpose.

The scarifier ruts up the ice with its teeth-like prongs, and then the blade is lowered by a hoist to cut the ice from the pavement along the gutter. The machine breaks up ice, clearing the streets in a matter of minutes. The city's street cleaning crew follows the grader and shovels chunks of ice into the city truck.

Half as much sand and chloride has been put on Plymouth streets during the last winter as was used last winter, putting the streets in good driving condition.

The public works department has also completed the installation of a new 12-inch by-pass in the alley between the Wolf's Market for drainage of catch basins on Penniman avenue.

Churches Join in Union Service

A community fellowship service representing the unity of different church groups in the city will be held Sunday evening, December 8, at 7 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. The organist and choir of the Presbyterian church will lead the musical part of the service. The young people of the First Baptist church will have charge of the devotions, and Presbyterian youth groups will add a word. The Rev. Stanford S. Clouston of the First Methodist church will preach.

The purpose of the union gathering is to provide an opportunity for people from all different churches to get together and do not claim any church connection to join in an hour of evening worship. Everyone interested in encouraging community Christian fellowship is invited to attend the service.

Mrs. Mary Polley, who suffered a heart attack recently, is steadily improving.

Praises Work of Federal Grand Jury in Detroit

Local Resident Is Speaker Before Milford Club

"The federal department of justice through the investigation it is making of alleged politically corrupt conditions in the conduct of Michigan affairs is doing the public an outstanding service. Every citizen, including both Republican and Democrats should approve of the efforts being made by the department to clean up rumors of graft and dishonesty in connection with our state government," stated Elton R. Eaton, of Plymouth in a talk Monday night before the Milford club at Milford. This is an organization made up of the business and professional men of that community.

"It is not a party matter, as some who are involved would attempt to have the public believe. It is a matter of intense interest to every taxpayer and every citizen who believes in good government. Furthermore, it is the duty of every good citizen to stand squarely back of the work of law enforcing officers in their efforts to see to it that all of the laws of the state and nation are obeyed.

"If we have grafters within the Republican party in Michigan, they should be punished just as were the Democratic grafters in Louisiana and Kansas City.

"Dishonesty in the conduct of our public business is one problem in our state and country in which there can be no compromise, no matter how rich or how influential or how important the office holder or the political official involved might be.

"Unless we can drive all forms of corruption from public affairs, unless we can maintain in public positions representatives and officials who are unscrupulous and beyond the influence of the greedy, money grabbing political manipulators we are headed directly for the condition that now prevails in most countries on continental Europe. It will not be Hitler who will take from us our freedom and independence under the Democracy we now enjoy. It will be our own apathy towards corrupt public conditions as has been revealed in our own and other states that will cause the loss of individual rights we now enjoy."

Representative Elton R. Eaton explained also the proposed legislation that will provide for a consolidation of the various collecting agencies of the state government. He discussed also briefly the re-apportionment problem that will come before the forthcoming session of the legislature.

Despite much scientific investigation, nothing is known of the spawning of the sailfish and his cousin, the swordfish. Neither sailfish nor swordfish are ever caught in a spawning condition, and it is a rare occasion when a sailfish under three feet long is caught. Where they spawn and where the young spend their time is one of the greatest mysteries of the ocean.

The first woman Senator was Mrs. Felton, of Georgia, who was appointed in 1922 to fill out an unexpired term of 36 days. The only woman ever elected as a United States Senator for a full term is Senator Hattie Caraway, of Arkansas, now serving her second term.

City Officials Attend Conference on Planning

Speaker Points Out Influence of Defense Building on Housing

A delegation representing the city of Plymouth attended a regional planning conference in the auditorium of the Rackham Foundation at Ann Arbor last Friday, November 29.

Those attending the conference were City Manager C. H. Elliott, Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple, George Robinson, Mrs. Maude Bennett, Sidney Strong, J. Merle Bennett, and T. Glenn Phillips.

Of chief interest was a talk by Walter Bucher, executive director of the national planning commission, on "The Affect of the National Defense Program on Planning and Housing."

With the prospect of many new factory buildings for the manufacture of munitions and defense materials in smaller communities of the state, the planning of housing for the families of men to be employed in these new factories becomes a significant problem for city planners," Mr. Bucher explained.

Daisy Girls' Plating Teams Win First Games

Independents Form Fifth Girls' Team for Basketball League

The Daisy girls' team got off to a good start by defeating Hi-Speed girls 42 to 2 in the first basketball game of the season Monday night, and Plymouth Plating won from George's Service by a score of 23 to 12.

No team has any practice and there were considerable fumbles made. George's Service is a new team composed of boys having recently graduated from school and the Hi-Speed team is also mostly new.

The independents have re-organized with Marian Krumm as captain and will make the fifth girls' team. One girls' team will be idle every week. A few more boys could get on the teams, or there is a sponsor if some boy wishes to organize another team.

Next week's schedule is as follows: Monday, December 9, Cloverdale vs. Daisy; Daisy vs. Perfecton; Tuesday, December 10, Independents vs. Midgets; Plymouth Plating vs. Davis; Wednesday, December 11, George's Service vs. B & T; Daisy vs. Davis. The teams to furnish the referees are as follows: Monday, Independents and Midgets; George's and B & T; Tuesday, Cloverdale and Daisy; and Perfecton; Wednesday, Daisy and Davis, and George's and B and T.

Young Actor on Town Hall Series

Robert Porterfield, widely publicized young actor and producer who founded the unique Barter theatre in Abington, Vermont will be the Detroit Town Hall speaker in the Fisher theatre next Wednesday, December 11 at 11 a. m. "Home for Playwrights" will be his subject. Mr. Porterfield will close the pre-holiday season. The series will re-open Wednesday morning, January 9, with Frank Crumit and Julia Sanderson, long-time favorites on stage and radio.

Time and Life magazines and the New York Times have devoted full pages to Porterfield's amusing theatre, the only playhouse in the world which accepts produce in lieu of cash at the box office. The "brain child" of this handsome young man has now grown to three companies playing on the original barter plan. Chickens, eggs, butter, honey, jams and meats are a few of the products which find their way to the box office, brought by farm and country people eager to see the plays. Such playwrights as Robert Sherwood, Noel Coward, Maxwell Anderson and Thornton Wilder accept hams instead of cash for royalties. George Bernard Shaw, a vegetarian, takes his in spinach.

The young man, of whom Rob Wagner, Hollywood columnist, wrote, "Robert Porterfield is so good he could probably recite the Congressional Record and make it funny," has had a successful acting career on Broadway, appearing in plays produced by David Belasco, Gilbert Miller, and the Actora Repertory company. Among them were "The Petrified Forest," "Let Freedom Ring" and "Cyrano de Bergerac." Well known as a featured radio star, he has also been interviewed on Ripley's, Joe Cook's and Fred Allen's programs.

Club to Elect Officers Monday Eve

Members of the Plymouth Townsend club are expecting a large attendance at the meeting to be held Monday evening in Grange hall because of the fact that officers are to be elected for the ensuing year. At the meeting last Monday evening, nominations were made for membership on the club council.

In addition to making the nominations, the club members heard an address by Ward B. Long of Detroit, who gave a report of the recent state-wide meeting held in Lansing and discussed some of the economic problems of the present day.

Cherry Tree About to Blossom

Maybe folks down in Washington will have to wait until next April for their cherry blossom festival—but not Plymouth residents who know something about the cherry trees in the backyard at Charles Greenlaw's home on South Main street.

The other day (before the advent of cold weather) Mr. Greenlaw brought a cherry tree twig down town to The Plymouth Mail office to show some of the doubting-Thomases that there is a cherry tree in his back yard just about ready to pop open with as big a display of cherry blossoms as ever popped forth on any of the cherry trees down in the tidal basin at Washington, D. C.

"I haven't fixed the date for the festival up in my back yard, and maybe since this cold weather came on, I will have to postpone it for a while, but if we get a thaw in the next few days, I'll let you know and maybe we can have a cherry blossom festival in Plymouth before they go down in Washington," declared Mr. Greenlaw.

With weather conditions continuing favorable, Michigan's forest fire fighters have extended to six weeks their run of merely nominal losses. In the entire state in the six weeks the loss of forest cover on state and private lands has been held to 18 acres.

Plymouth Grads Receive Honors

Miss Jewel Starkweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Starkweather, 711 Starkweather avenue, who will receive her A.B. degree from Kalamazoo college in June, was elected Phi Beta Kappa member of the class.

Mr. Brock was also graduated from Plymouth high school in 1937 with an "A" average. During his high school career he was president of the Plymouth Youth Federation, president of his junior and senior classes, president of Torch and Hi-Y clubs, captain of the state football team, and very active in speech work.

City Completes Street Lighting

Installation of new, improved city street lighting is nearly complete, and the new lights will be turned on in the main business district this week-end, it was announced by City Manager C. H. Elliott this week.

Seventeen new lamps have been installed with 18-foot mountings to provide 1000-candle power which throws the light down upon the paving instead of reflecting upward toward the buildings. The new lights are being installed on Main street from Dodge street to Maple street and on Penniman avenue from Main to Harvey street.

It is estimated that the new increased candlepower furnishes four times as much light as the former lamps. The city paid $5 a month for each boulevard light formerly in operation and the new lights will cost $6 a month, making the net increase to the city $25.62.

Lester Russell Wins U. of A. Student Honors

Lester Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Russell of 287 Irving avenue, has been elected secretary of the Omicron Deuteron chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa at the University of Alabama.

Mr. Russell is a sophomore in the school of commerce and business administration. In addition to his affiliation with this fraternity he is also a member of the Greeks, an interfraternity organization, Blackfriars, the players group, Druids, a sophomore service organization, and a member of the University of Alabama radio staff.

The provision of the law declaring it to be unlawful for any person to hunt, pursue, worry or kill any ringnecked pheasants, squirrel, rabbits, ruffed grouse, sharpshinned grouse, or prairie chicken before 7 a. m. eastern standard time, each day of the open season, appears in paragraph 1-1 of section 10 of Act 335 of the 1939 legislature, which amended section 6218 of the compiled laws of Michigan. Frequent shooting was prohibited before the hour of sunrise.

Farmers' Credit Assn. to Meet

More than 500 notices addressed to stockholders and their wives are being placed in the mails this week by the Adrian Production Credit association concerning the sixth annual meeting to be held at Milan on Wednesday, December 11, it was announced by H. F. Johnston, secretary-treasurer. County agents, teachers in vocational agriculture and national farm loan officials in the territory are expected to join with the members at this meeting.

The main speaker will be Leon H. Tolverson, of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul, who will assist in conducting a "quiz" contest, an educational feature that is proving popular at similar meetings held throughout the state.

Why not try to see things from your wife's point of view? President J. A. Cosner of Milan will be the presiding officer and will call the meeting to order at 10 o'clock in the morning in the Methodist church. A lunch will be served to members and guests at noon and arrangements are being made to present a short musical program during the meeting.

The main business to be transacted is the election of two directors to fill terms expiring at this session, the election being open only to stockholders of the association. One of the highlights of the meeting will be the report of the secretary-treasurer on the financial position and growth of the association.

The Adrian association serves farmers in Wayne, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe counties and is one of more than 500 farmer cooperative credit institutions set up under the Farm Credit administration throughout the United States.

Choral Union to Present "Messiah"

The University Musical society will present the Choral Union of 300 voices, and the University Symphony orchestra of 80 players, under the direction of Thor Johnson, in Handel's "Messiah" Wednesday evening, December 18, at 8 o'clock sharp, in Hill auditorium. This constitutes the society's Christmas contribution to the music lovers of Ann Arbor and its environs. No admission charge will be made, but to avoid undue congestion and confusion, admission will be by tickets which may be procured in advance at the office of the University Musical society in Burton Memorial Tower. Requests, accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes will be filled by mail. Tickets will be honored up to 7:50, after which time admittance will not be guaranteed. Four distinguished soloists will perform: Thelma von-Eisenhauer, operatic soprano of Detroit, who has made an enviable record in opera in Chicago, will be heard for the first time in several years. Joan Peebles, contralto, who made such a splendid impression last year, will come from New York for her second appearance here.

William Hain, distinguished tenor, whose reputation is widespread, will also be heard again. The baritone role will be sung by Richard Hale, who on past occasions has been heard in May Festival concerts.

The organ portion of the program will be played by Palmer Christian, University organist, whose reputation as a performer is well known throughout the country.

Charles A. Sink, president of the musical society predicts that as usual, a large audience will be present, and he suggests that those interested call or write for tickets as far in advance as possible.

Plymouth Grads Receive Honors

Miss Jewel Starkweather, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl H. Starkweather, 711 Starkweather avenue, who will receive her A.B. degree from Kalamazoo college in June, and Thomas Brock, son of Mrs. Harry Brock, Canton center road, who will receive his A.B. degree from Albion college in June, are among those students who will be listed in the 1939-40 issue of 'Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges.' The book will be released in January.

The purpose of Who's Who is to serve as an incentive to students to get the most out of their college careers, as a means of compensation for what they have done, as a recommendation to the business world, and as a standard of comparison for students comparable to Phi Beta Kappa and the Rhodes Scholarship awards. These volumes, published through the cooperation of more than 500 American schools, are placed in the hands of hundreds of companies and others who annually recruit outstanding students for employment.

Miss Starkweather, who is one of two students of Kalamazoo college to receive this honor twice, was recently elected president of the Michigan Alpha chapter of Phi Kappa Delta. Last year she was elected manager of forensics, the first woman to ever hold that honor. She is a member of the Eurodaiphian literary society, Women's Athletic association, and International Relations club. This year marks the third successive year she has been a member of the League Council of the college. At the recent honors day program, she received recognition for being a member of the scholars' group and an honor student. Miss Starkweather is one of the college debaters and last year represented Kalamazoo in oratory in the state contest. She is also active on social committees serving as social chairman of the Women's League this year.

Miss Starkweather was graduated from Plymouth high school in the class of 1937. She was co-valedictorian of the class and received the citizenship award. During her high school career she was active in debating, taking part in the state championship debate in 1936 at Hill auditorium, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Brock is vice-president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity at Albion, president of Delta Sigma Rho, president of the student body, president of Forum club, president of the Economics club, state intercollegiate debate champion for two years, state extemporaneous speaking champion, winner of state honors in oratory and peace oratory, winner of the Fellowe Peace prize, winner of the Berry, Silliman, and Bancroft prizes, and has maintained a Phi Beta Kappa scholarship average.

Mr. Brock was also graduated from Plymouth high school in 1937 with an "A" average. During his high school career he was president of the Plymouth Youth Federation, president of his junior and senior classes, president of Torch and Hi-Y clubs, captain of the state finalist debate team, and very active in speech work.

City Completes Street Lighting

Installation of new, improved city street lighting is nearly complete, and the new lights will be turned on in the main business district this week-end, it was announced by City Manager C. H. Elliott this week.

Seventeen new lamps have been installed with 18-foot mountings to provide 1000-candle power which throws the light down upon the paving instead of reflecting upward toward the buildings. The new lights are being installed on Main street from Dodge street to Maple street, and on Pennington avenue from Main to Harvey street.

It is estimated that the new increased candlepower furnishes four times as much light as the former lamps. The city paid $5 a month for each boulevard light formerly in operation and the new lights will cost $6 a month, making the net increase to the city $25.62.

Lester Russell Wins U. of A. Student Honors

Lester Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Russell of 287 Irvin avenue, has been elected secretary of the Omicron Deuteron chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa at the University of Alabama.

Mr. Russell is a sophomore in the school of commerce and business administration. In addition to his affiliation with this fraternity he is also a member of the Greeks, an interfraternity organization, Blackfriars, the players group, Druids, a sophomore service organization, and a member of the University of Alabama radio staff.

The provision of the law declaring it to be unlawful for any person to hunt, pursue, worry or kill any ringnecked pheasants, squirrel, rabbits, ruffed grouse, sharp-tailed grouse, or prairie chicken before 7 a.m. eastern standard time, each day of the open season, appears in a paragraph 1-1 of section 10 of Act 335 of the 1939 legislature, which amended section 8218 of the compiled laws of Michigan. Previously shooting was prohibited "before the hour of sunrise."

Farmers' Credit Assn. to Meet

More than 500 notices addressed to stockholders and their wives are being placed in the mails this week by the Adrian Production Credit association concerning the sixth annual meeting to be held at Milan on Wednesday, December 11, it was announced by H. F. Johnston, secretary-treasurer. County agents, teachers in vocational agriculture and national farm loan officials in the territory are expected to join with the members at this meeting.

The main speaker will be Leon H. Toliverson, of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul, who will assist in conducting a "quiz" contest, an educational feature that is proving popular at similar meetings held throughout the state.

Why not try to see things from your wife's point of view?

Choral Union to Present "Messiah"

The University Musical society will present the Choral Union of 300 voices, and the University Symphony orchestra of 80 players, under the direction of Thor Johnson, in Handel's "Messiah" Wednesday evening, December 18, at 8 o'clock sharp, in Hill auditorium. This constitutes the society's Christmas contribution to the music lovers of Ann Arbor and its environs. No admission charge will be made, but to avoid undue congestion and confusion, admission will be by tickets which may be procured in advance at the office of the University Musical society in Burton Memorial Tower. Requests, accompanied by self-addressed stamped envelopes will be filled by mail. Tickets will be honored up to 7:50, after which time admittance will not be guaranteed. Four distinguished soloists will perform: Thelma von-Eisenhauer, operatic soprano of Detroit, who has made an enviable record in opera in Chicago, will be heard for the first time in several years. Joan Peebles, contralto, who made such a splendid impression last year, will come from New York for her second appearance here.

William Hain, distinguished tenor, whose reputation is widespread, will also be heard again. The baritone role will be sung by Richard Hale, who on past occasions has been heard in May Festival concerts.

The organ portion of the program will be played by Palmer Christian, University organist, whose reputation as a performer is well known throughout the country.

Charles A. Sink, president of the musical society predicts that as usual, a large audience will be present; and he suggests that those interested call or write for tickets as far in advance as possible.

Kiwanians View Movie of Capitol

Members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night enjoyed an imaginary trip to Washington, D. C. by movies with sound descriptions of the interior and exterior of buildings in the nation's capital.

Among the views shown in the movies, furnished by Carvek Bentley, program chairman, were congress in session, Mt. Vernon, the Smithsonian Institute, the Potomac with cherry trees in blossom, and Washington by day and by night.

A consistent preponderance of females among fox squirrels has been found by studies in progress at Swan Creek wildlife experiment station near Allegan. In the last quarter, 134 females and 101 males were live trapped by men of the conservation department's game division, and in the previous quarter the ratio was 91 females to 56 males. A count of 28 females and 14 males in litters found in dens supports the presumption that the preponderance of females is normal here.

Safety Council Warns of Heavy Traffic Toll of Holiday Season

Check accidents off your Christmas list! The National Safety Council made that appeal today to drivers and pedestrians throughout the nation in an effort to cut down the heavy December traffic toll.

Police Chief Vaughan Smith states, "Bad weather, more darkness, the very rush and excitement of the holiday season itself, usually sends the traffic toll to its peak for the year."

"To prevent this, the National Safety Council again is conducting a year-end campaign. We need your help to put it over." Each year, the Council pointed out, the Christmas spirit of

"Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men," undergoes an ironic transformation. It is converted by the very geniality and excitement of the holiday season into suffering and sorrow through wholesale slaughter on the streets and highways.

Thirty-two national organizations are joining the Council in the drive, which has a two-fold purpose.

Not only is it aimed at the blight on Christmas happiness, but it is a last-ditch fight to keep traffic fatalities this year from soaring far above 1939. Last year 3,540 persons were killed in December traffic. All this year highway deaths have been running ahead of last year. This means, the Council says, that the nation will pile up one of its biggest holiday traffic tolls unless drivers carry the Christmas spirit onto the highways and pedestrians do their part by being extra careful.

Why does December invariably bring one of the heaviest traffic tolls—more than one and a half times as great as June, the safest month?

The Council blames bad weather, more hours of darkness and the Christmas holiday rush. To thwart these traffic bugaboos, it suggests:

1. Don't drive if you drink.
2. Balance more darkness and bad weather with less speed and more caution. Start earlier.
3. Don't let the hustle and bustle of the holiday season make you impatient or careless when you drive or walk. Take it easy.

"Bill" Baker Gets His "Letter"

William Baker, rated as Plymouth's number one fan for the high school football team, was awarded his "letter" at last Friday's meeting of the Plymouth Rotary club.

Maybe his "letter" was just a wooden one, but it served to emphasize the fact that "Bill" has not missed a single opportunity to be right out on the front line "rooting" for the Plymouth boys at every game played this year.

Last Friday's meeting was in charge of Walter Harms, who is chairman of the boy's work committee. He had as guests of the club members of the Plymouth high school football team, James Morgan of the University was present and showed in motion pictures the detail of the University of Michigan game when it played California early in the season. Each play was explained as it appeared on the canvas.

G.O.P. Takes Steps to Clean up Party

First steps to clean out the Republican party the McKay, McKeligan, Barnard element were taken at a meeting of the Wayne County Republican committee Wednesday afternoon in Detroit when the committee voted unanimously favoring a resolution presented by State Representative Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth demanding that Frank D. McKay resign as a member of the Republican National committee.

The resolution was presented at a meeting held the week previous and at that time it was referred to a committee for inquiry and a recommendation. At the first meeting, Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple, a member of the county committee, strongly supported the resolution when it appeared that some members thought it might be better to wait until after the trial of party officials indicted by a federal grand jury before taking action.

The sub-committee in its report yesterday decided that no such delay was necessary and recommended immediate enactment of the resolution. It had the favorable vote of every member of the county committee present.

The deeds of charity we have done shall stay with us forever. Only the wealth we have bestowed do we keep; the other is not ours.

Plymouth to Witness Peace-Time "Blackout" Thursday, December 12

Plymouth will witness its first "blackout" next Thursday, December 12, when the Plymouth All-Stars and the Harlem Stars, heralded pro Negro team, clash in an evening of "ghost basketball." The game, scheduled for 8 o'clock at the Plymouth high school gymnasium, will be played during the last half in darkness with phosphorus lighting the basketball, the rim of the basket, and the players' letters.

This novel exhibition will bring to the city the Harlem Stars, an aggregation of colored stars who graduated into the pro ranks from Negro colleges a few years ago. Leading the Negro team into action will be 6-foot, 5-inch Jeff Lewis, one of the cleverest men in the pro game. Before joining the Stars, Lewis attended Wilberforce college and played with the famed Harlem Globe Trotters. The colored team noted for its speed, clever ball handling, and a knack of sinking baskets from all angles, has won 16 and lost two games. The Plymouth All Stars, sponsored by Coach Anthony Matulis, will feature Orlan Egloff as captain. Egloff and Gordon Moe will play forward spots, Lawrence Moe, at the center position, and Jack Ross and Don Schiffe as guards. All of the Plymouth players were former high school basketball stars and have since played in city basketball league competition.

A preliminary game will begin at 7:15, and novelties will be presented at the half of the featured game. Proceeds from the exhibition match will go to the student council of the Plymouth high school to purchase athletic equipment.

Virginia Rock Receives Award for Prize Poem

Virginia Rock, mayor of Plymouth high school, has received a special senior award, her choice of a book from the Detroit News for her poem "We Are Youth." Her contribution printed on the Pilgrim Prints page September 20, was published on the Young Writers' Page of the News, Saturday, November 23.

But It's True

Most Indian girls marry before they are 12. Often they have been promised to their husbands as much as ten years before they are born. There is a record of a child having become a mother at the age of nine, although, generally, the husband and wife live apart until the girl reaches the age of 12.

Judge Murphy Is D.A.R. Speaker

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin A. Hill were hosts to the members and guests of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R., Monday evening, December 3rd. For several years it has been the pleasant custom of the Hills to open Greenmead for the annual Christmas party of this organization.

Mrs. J. Merle Bennet, regent, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Max well Moon lead the group in singing "America" and Christmas Carols.

Mrs. Allan J. Buckley introduced the speaker of the evening, Judge Thomas H. Murphy, of the probate court in Detroit.

"The only justice today," said Judge Murphy, "is exemplified by our actions toward each other every day. In a democracy each individual is entitled to his own opinions. This resembles the tower of Babel." According to some interpretations of the Constitution, in a democracy, every man is a law in his own right.

"This is the only country founded on the idea of a Creator who made men equal. The writers of the constitution acknowledged this when they put this into the Constitution."

Judge Murphy explained the set-up of the Probate Court and told of its activities. He related that the idea of the probate court goes back to the Roman Empire and has submitted to changes throughout the years until it has reached its present functions.

The first probate court in Michigan was established in 1838, with one Judge. Today there are 84 probate judges in Michigan, four being located in Wayne county. Theoretically there is supposed to be one judge to each 250,000 people. There are over 3,000,000 in Wayne county and only four judges to serve them in as much as there have been no appropriations made for additional judges.

Judge Murphy closed his talk by telling several interesting incidents that had happened in court to serve them in as much as there have been no appropriations made for additional judges.

Misses Lois and Betty Ridley, accompanied by Miss Ruth Drevs entertained those present with several songs.

"Charity suffereth long and is kind," but wisdom must govern charity, else love's labor is lost and giving is unkind.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Forethrift

FORETHRIFT means thrift in reference to the future.

Fore-timed means: Timed in advance.

These two words apply to The Christmas Club depositor. He anticipates the expenses that come with Christmas and fore-times deposits to meet them. For illustration, a man wishing $100 at Christmas deposits $2.00 weekly, each week, in his Christmas Club bank. In 50 weeks he has $100 to his credit, and his bank, two weeks before Christmas, presents him a check for $100.00.

"Handy—I'll say it is" is what thousands say about it. Forethrift and fore-timed means a carefree Christmas. Many thus save for other approaching expenses. Ask us more about it.

Historic Tree Is Removed

Another old landmark of Plymouth was removed this week. The big maple tree at the corner of Penniman avenue and Harvey street was cut down to clear the way for the installation of a two-way traffic light at that intersection.

Frank Burrows, 870 Penniman avenue, has a picture of the tree which his father planted in 1881 soon after Mr. and Mrs. William Burrows moved into the new brick house located on the corner. Frank Burrows was born in the house which is now the residence of Mrs. R. E. Cooper. At about the same time his uncle, Cyrus Pinckney built the house next door. There was no street next to the house at that time, but instead a barn owned by the late William Bassett. The Bassetts lived in what is now the A. W. Chafec residence. Across the street were corn fields and a pasture, Mr. Burrows reports.

The Stars and Stripes was designed by Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence and a member of the Continental Congress in 1777. Betsy Ross made the first American flag according to this design, but suggesting the five-pointed star herself. Her four daughters also were employed by the government to make flags.

Mrs. Mattick Gets Biggest Deer

Mrs. Frank Mattick, a Plymouth woman deer hunter, is the 1940 champion among women deer hunters—she shot and brought to her home on East Ann Arbor trail probably the biggest deer killed by any woman in northern Michigan this year. The deer that Mrs. Mattick killed weighed well over 200 pounds, although it was only an eight pointer. There were 14 in the party that Mr. and Mrs. Mattick hunted with. Their camp was located near Champion, in Marquette county in the Upper Peninsula. Thirteen of the hunters in the camp got their deer.

Among the Bible citations in this passage (Psalms 40: 5): "Many, O Lord my God, are thy wonderful works which thou hast done, and thy thoughts which are to us: ward; they cannot be reckoned up in order unto thee; if I would declare and speak of them, they are more than can be numbered." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 502): "There is but one creator and one creation. This creation consists of the unfolding of spiritual ideas and their identities, which are embraced in the infinite Mind and forever rectified."

Recipes for German Christmas Cookies

Now is the time to start making cookies and fruit cakes to put away for Christmas, for fruit and spice cookies improve with age. A local resident who is well-known for her excellent cooking has submitted some of her favorite recipes for German Christmas cookies this week:

Lebkuchen

- 1 qt. molasses
- 1 cup lard
- 1 lb. brown sugar

"Heat until the lard is melted but not boiled. When cool, add the following:

- 1 pt. sour cream
- 1 cup sour milk
- 2 table-spoonful soda
- 1 table-spoonful cinnamon
- 1 table-spoonful cloves
- 1 table-spoonful nutmeg
- 1/4 lb. citron
- 1/4 lb. lemon and orange peel
- 1 cup nutmeats
- 1 table-spoonful salt
- 10 cups flour

"Stir together and let stand overnight in a cool place. Cut in oblong shapes, put almonds on top, and bake for 15 or 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Allow to cool before putting away in a crock. Recipe makes about 140 cookies."

Pfeffernusse (pepper nuts)

- 2 1/2 cups sugar
- 15 Yolks of 2 eggs
- 1 cup sweet milk
- 1 cup nut meats
- Box of dates chopped up
- 5 cups flour
- 2 table-spoonful cream tartar
- 1 table-spoonful soda
- 1 table-spoonful salt
- Whites of 3 eggs beaten
- 1 table-spoonful anise seeds

"Cream sugar and yolks of eggs first, and add remaining ingredients. Drop a teaspoonful onto the cookie tin, placing them close together. Bake for 15 or 20 minutes at 350 degrees. Roll in powdered sugar and put in a cookie jar. Recipe makes about four dozen, peffernusse which are chewy little balls."

Springerle

- 4 eggs
- 1 lb. powdered sugar
- 1 table-spoonful vanilla

"Beat half an hour. Add the juice of one lemon, one teaspoonful of baking power, and then cake flour to make a stiff dough. Roll out and press on a Springerle board. The board bears impressions of figure and flower designs, characteristic of the Springerle cookie. Let stand in a cold place overnight to dry, and bake in a moderate oven for 15 or 20 minutes. The cookie tin should be greased and sprinkled with anise before the cookies are placed on it. The recipe makes about 60 cookies."

Dress Contributions Continue To Come in for Goodfellow Fund

Dresses for the needy children are still being contributed for the Goodfellow fund, bringing the total received to 38. Ten dollars has been pledged by the Woman's club and several other organizations have also made pledges. The quota of 60 dresses must be reached by Friday, December 20 to enable the committee members to sort and wrap gift boxes for delivery Christmas eve.

The most popular sizes have proved to be for six-, twelve- and fourteen-year-olds. Persons planning to sew or buy dresses for the fund are advised to contribute dresses for two-, five- or seven-year-olds.

The Taylor and Blyton department store contributed 10 dresses in sizes 12 and 14 to the fund this week.

All food and clothing donated by the Goodfellow Old News-boys' association are purchased in Plymouth, and local merchants cooperate generously by boxing and wrapping Christmas gifts for Goodfellow distribution. Therefore, it is fitting that persons wishing to contribute to this Goodfellow dress fund remember to "Buy in Plymouth."

Sieloffs Get Five Big Deer

When Theodore Sieloff of 1041 Brush street and his four sons go deer hunting, they go to get their "bucks." There is no question about that. Not only do they get what they go after, but they get big ones. Hunting with the Sieloffs in the Porcuine mountains up on the eastern shore of Lake Superior was Peter Fallot of the Territorial road.

One of the deer they brought back had probably the largest pair of antlers of any deer ever brought out of the north woods. Dozens of deer hunters who saw the deer Saturday and Sunday declared they had never before seen such big antlers. The deer weighed considerably over 240 pounds and was shot by Louis Sieloff.

This hunting party had another unusual experience. The father shot a deer and it ran down into a valley in the woods. They tracked it for a considerable distance. When they came upon the deer, it was standing upright, with its head down—but it was stone dead.

In the party with Theodore Sieloff were the four sons, Louis, Victor, Mayford, Theodore Jr. and Peter Fallot.

Hi-Y Conference

With memories of a two-day snow avalanche, notes on discussions and lectures, and praise for Muskegon hospitality, three boys from Plymouth disembarked late Saturday night from a special train that had carried them with 141 Detroit delegates across the state from the thirty-eighth Michigan Older Boys conference at Muskegon.

The 458 Hi-Y and Y.M.C.A. boys who gathered at Muskegon from all over Michigan for their annual conference, were absorbed in the homes of greater Muskegon in attending the two-day discussion of Christian Youth and world affairs.

Cooperative families within a wide radius of the Muskegon Y. and the huge Methodist church took the boys singly or in pairs into their homes for the night, gave them breakfast, and invited them back again if the heavy snow prevented their leaving town on schedule. Paul Harsh, Dean Folsom, and Dean Metzger were the Plymouth delegation.

The conference this year as explained by Bruce Tallman, state YMCA secretary, was aimed at dispelling the hopeless attitude that seems to surround youth today. "Hope Ahead" was the conference theme, and every one of the conference speakers aimed his words in that direction.

Dr. Harold F. Carr, Flint Methodist church pastor, delivered the keynote address the first afternoon on "Hope Ahead in Religion."

Besides speeches from Youth workers including Coach Hudson Hyames of Kalamazoo, Dr. Miller of Town of Chicago and Dr. Carr, the conference introduced authorities on eight different subjects for discussion groups. Including studies of the present world situation, personality development, college preparation, recreation and sports, and four others, the discussion groups were selected as the places in which the delegates could express their own opinions. Three hours in the two days were devoted to discussion.

The lively snowfall had more than its quota of activity in the conference. Three speakers, a double quartette, and undetermined other numbers were scratched off the program due to the activity of the elements. The conference closed an hour early because the main speaker was snowbound 200 miles upstate.

The YMCA furnished an additional service to Hi-Y delegates who felt their note-taking ability insufficient. For every talk and discussion group there was a secretary who took the discussion verbatim and transcribed it to a professional writer who sends each delegate a copy.

Northwestern high school of Detroit took over double honors in the election of officers. Stuart Anderson and Harold Erickson, who belong to one of the number of Northwestern Hi-Y clubs, were elected president and secretary. Nathan Scott, a negro of Wayne, was vice president.

Over 100 committees of the Michigan YMCA carried on the handling of meals, registration and guide service with precision. In addition to being the headquarters of the conference the "Y" provided most of the recreation—bowling, ping pong, billiards, and reading matter.

Third Victory

By downing Ecorse's negative debate team, Plymouth added a third scalp to its belt on November 28. The Ecorse squad was made up of George Bemis, Robert Holland, and Leona Lorenz. Phyllis Hawkins, Marion Goodman, and Jim Zuckerman comprised the local affirmative. This was the last debate in which Marion may compete because a league ruling that each may debate only three times.

Plymouth based its case on the power of the Federal Government to own, operate, and interfere with business, while Ecorse defended the New Deal. Following a great deal of quibbling over whether or not the Federal government has the constitutional power to interfere with business, the judge, Professor Kelly of the speech department of the Michigan State Normal College, awarded the decision to Plymouth.

The league debate standings below this round were:

	W	L	Pct.
Plymouth	2	0	100
River Rouge	2	0	100
Wayne	1	1	50
Ecorse	1	1	50
Ypsilanti	0	2	0
Dearborn	0	2	0

Girls' Basketball

Enough girls to make 17 teams from the four grades signed up for the annual girls' basketball tournament. Six of these teams were freshmen, five sophomores, and three each from the juniors and seniors.

Due to the large number of teams in the tournament, the same plan will be used this year as was last. Each grade will have a tournament to decide the winner of that class. The four winners will then have a tournament to determine the school winner.

I. Q. Tests

Final results of the "I. Q." tests given several weeks ago to the ninth grade, and new students of the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades, have been recorded and compiled. Mr. Carvel Bentley, vocational director of Plymouth high school announced last Monday afternoon. Results of the tests would seem to indicate that in general students of Plymouth high school rate above the average of high schools all over the nation. A total of 7.4 per cent of all the students who took the test attained a score of 120 or above, a very superior rating. Of the four grades, the tenth exceeded all others in this category with 11.4 per cent of their members receiving this rating. The score of 110 to 119, a superior rating, was attained by 26.6 per cent of the students in the high school. Here the ninth grade grade exceeded other classes by having 30.7 per cent of its students scored in this division.

A total of 477 students, or 56.6 per cent had average scores of 90 to 109. It is interesting to note that in totaling some of these results that 34 per cent of the entire high school were above normal in their intelligence ability and that more than 50 per cent were of average or normal calibre.

It should be emphasized here that the individual results of the tests are used only by the teachers in order that they may determine what their students are capable of doing, and that these results are not publicized. The information in this article, furthermore, is in no way meant to reflect upon the ability of a class or an individual, but is written merely to inform those interested about the general rating of the entire school.

Pat and Bernice Kinahan attended the Ford Sunday Evening Hour at the Masonic Temple, where they heard Gladys Swarthout.

An evening of tobogganing was enjoyed by Mary Jane Olsaver, Bob Norman, Betty Brown, Warren Hoffman, Margery Merriam and Eddie Holdsworth after which they went to Margery's house for ping pong and waffles, Sunday.

Wes Hoffman, Doris Dubec, Warren Hoffman and Betty Brown saw Woodie Herman and his orchestra at the Fox theatre Saturday night. They also saw Lucille Ball in "Too Many Girls."

Gloria Jones entertained at dinner last Sunday, Florence Mielkie, Carl Meuser, Marilyn Valentine and Newton Cowgill, who are members of Lawrence Institute of Technology in Detroit where he is studying aeronautical engineering.

Onella Thorpe and Martin Shafer of Detroit saw Boris Karloff in "Before I Die," and "Dr. Christian Meets a Woman," at the Mayfair theatre after the play Friday night.

Gerry Flynn, Donna Smith, Bill McCloughry and Leval Rustin of Wayne saw "Argentine Nights," at the Loop theatre after the play Friday night.

Mr. Wallace was guest of honor at a cross country banquet at the Finnish theatre in Detroit last Monday night. After the banquet they went to the theatre, and even though Old Man Winter doesn't get cold enough to freeze the nearby lakes for skating, that doesn't stop Plymouth kids from enjoying the ice. Betty Maas and De Rua De Planche were among those who skated at the Olympia last Saturday.

Once again the Swing Bowl draws a lot of Plymouthites for Friday night fun. Frances Morgan, Bob Brown, Linnice Downing, and Bob Dailey, made up one party while Lois Hoffman and Bob Birt, Phyllis Nichols and Owen Gorton, and Shirley Reamer and Carl Robelli made up another.

Mary Lewis was escorted by Charles George, a former Plymouth graduate, to Thelma Grover's toboggan party last Saturday night.

Mildred Brose and Bob Kilmer of Detroit were among the dancers at the Grand Terrace ballroom last Wednesday.

Jack Gettleison visited the Michigan theatre last Wednesday evening.

Sally Haas was the week-end guest of her brother in South Bend, Indiana.

Exchanging nightly visits seems to be fun for Doris Starkweather and Betty Curtis who did just that all last week-end. Gloriette Galloway and Jack Gettleison visited the Michigan theatre in Ann Arbor, where they saw Noel Coward's "Bitter Sweet."

The Methodist church youth people's group of Detroit and Plymouth held their institute last week-end. Among other places they visited the Wayne County Training school.

Evelyn Bohl, who sang a solo, and Virginia Rock, who spoke on "Youth and Democracy," assisted the Epworth League last Sunday.

Pat Hudson will be hostess tonight, after the Prom, to four couples for a desert. Those who will be there are: Mildred Humphries, Ione Stuart, and Mike Klein, Schmidt, Dot Fisher and Bob Fisher, and Marileta Martin and Bill Keefer.

Jack Crisp, Eugene Wilnow, Bill McAmich, Donald Holman and Paul Harsha went tobogganing.

Bank Trips
In connection with "Coming Generations Week," sponsored by the Michigan Bankers' association, Plymouth high school's seniors visited the Plymouth United Savings bank last Thursday. The tour was a very interesting behind-the-scenes view of the activities of a bank. The visitors were shown how monthly statements are prepared, the duties of teller, and the general construction of the bank.

It seems that it is practically impossible to break into the United Savings bank. It is protected by tear gas, a high-powered rifle, and each teller has a pistol. The vault doors also make it very difficult for safe-crackers to practice their profession. The doors weigh more than two tons and they are so well built that a piece of tissue paper or a spot of rust will keep them from closing.

This bank handles approximately $9,000,000 each year. It is also sponsoring an essay contest on the subject "Why I Would Choose Banking for My Life's Work." There are to be three prizes for Plymouth, three dollars, two dollars, and one dollar. The winning essay will be entered in the state contest. The state prizes are $25, $75, second, $50, third $25. An all expense trip to Mackinac Island next summer will be given the first prize winner. The winner of the second prize will receive an expense trip on the Great Lakes. The winner of the third prize will get four box seats to a Detroit Tiger game.

Junior Play

After six weeks of rehearsal under the direction of Miss Winifred Ford, assisted by Mary Lewis Wright and senior dramatic students, Dorothy Waters, Archie King and Jeanne Compton, the junior class presented its play, "Young April," produced by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York, last Thursday and Friday nights in the high school auditorium.

"Young April," a comedy, is a sequel to "Growing Pains," which was given as a junior play several years ago in Plymouth. "Young April" was given each night with a different cast, and there was little choice between them, as those who saw the play both nights will testify that both did an excellent job of acting. Bob Kurtz was especially effective as the awkward and bashful mother's darling.

Between the acts music was furnished by the girls' triple trio and the high school orchestra, both under the direction of Miss Hamill.

The total profit was about $180 with an attendance of about 900 people.

When friendship is settled, you must pass judgment.

Student Council

At a result of the growing interest in student government for schools, the Student Council has received three letters regarding the system of government in effect at Plymouth high school. These letters are from Hazel Park, Tecumseh, and University high school in Ann Arbor. There are two requests for a copy of the school constitution and numerous questions on the part of the council, the system of officers, and the elections.

The student council of University high school has made plans to visit other schools in an effort to find ways of improving their system of government. The council has received word that they are planning to observe the system used in the Plymouth high school.

Harriers Get P's

Twelve boys of the cross-country team will be awarded their letters, Mr. Wallace has announced. They are as follows: Larry Arnold, Joe Butler, Jack Christensen, Herbert Gorton, Bob Kirkpatrick, Phillip Kisabeth, Orlyn Lewis, Bob O'Connor, John Paineau, Carlo Robelli, Herman Trick, and Harold Youn, the manager. Of these, six boys were awarded ribbons for the T.V.A.A. meet in Detroit this fall. They are Bob Kirkpatrick and Bob O'Connor who took third and fourth, Jack Christensen, Orlyn Lewis, and Herman Trick.

To win a letter, one must be 16 years of age (except the manager), and qualify in one of the following requirements: Be out for practice all of the days; run in all of the meets; be one of the school's first seven in 75 per cent of the meets or first five in fifty per cent of the meets; be among award winners in the Regional, State, or T.V.A.A. meet. He must also be the owner of a Student Council ticket and show proper conduct at all times and places which will not cause any reflection on the team or school.

Eighth Grade Doings

In Boot and Buskin last week Edith Moltie told Dickens' Christmas Carol. The members plan to go in groups and dramatize Christmas stories. These are to be presented at their Christmas party.

The Girl Reserves had a talk in their last meeting on the symbols used in their club, such as the triangle in a circle and the lighted candles. For devotions they used a poem called "To Be Thankful," written by Miss Lovewell.

Last week in the Girls' Science Club, they blew glass. Now the inexperienced females thought the heat greater if they held the glass down at the base of the flame. They stood all noon hour each with a glass tube. Finally it was discovered that it was much better at the tip of the flame and took only a few minutes. At last the tube was ready for blowing, but the hour had been spent on the heating.

Student Drivers

Because of numerous reports that students have been driving recklessly during the noon hour, Superintendent George A. Smith in cooperation with Chief of Police Vaughan Smith, concluded the following agreement:

- All pupils for whom it is necessary to drive their automobiles at noon may get a permanent permit from the police department of the city.
- All who find it necessary to drive for one noon may get a one-day permit from the superintendent of schools.
- Those found driving during the noon hour without consent of their parents and without permit No. 1 or No. 2, will have their right to drive within the city of Plymouth revoked.

This system has so far worked out satisfactorily, since fewer students have been driving at noon and those that are driving have been more careful.

With snow and ice now covering the ground, student drivers are urged, more than ever, to be careful.

Personalities

Monday, November 25. Back from Thanksgiving vacation and we're still thinking about all that turkey. Excitement and great interest reigned among the seniors because they had received their name cards. Among the comments most frequently heard were, "Oh I don't like her name cards. They're too fancy," or "Aren't hers pretty with all those curlicues," or "How about trading name cards, huh?" And the girls judged the boys' cards by how "mannish" they looked!

Tuesday, the first real snow of the year brought choruses of "Ohs" and "Ahs" from students. As if they had never seen snow before. But it did look so pretty twisting and twirling in huge white flakes. (I'll bet they've had enough of it already.)

Wednesday, if you've ever noticed there are girls playing basketball in the gym every noon. And when the Seniors play you know it's going to be a good game, especially if Lillian Fisher and Olive Mae Bakewell are through the basket when they throw it, more often than not. Thank heaven they aren't on the same team for the tournament!

Thursday, At long last, the Junior Play! And of all the love affairs there seem to be, I wonder how these pictures came out of Phyllis Nichols. And Owen was that lipstick nut on your check by natural or artificial means?

Friday, One week from the Prom, and excitement is really going. New normals have been described in glowing terms and decorations are nearly completed. The girls had a lot of fun sewing up drapes, didn't you, Ruth and Margery? Especially when you found you had left one of the white panels out.

Give work rather than aims to the poor. The former drives out indolence, the latter industry.

Morning Ride

Riding a rural bus is an unforgettable experience. You are to imagine you just boarded a bus bound for the local high school. It is not filled to capacity but most of the seats are taken.

"Hi, Janet."
"Hi, Mary. Got your English done?"
"No, have you?"
"We're having one of those awful standardized tests, too."
"Look, there's Marilyn running for the bus. She almost missed it."
"Gee, the driver stopped so suddenly I nearly sat on Bill's lap."
"Hi, kids. Huh! You'd think some people would be gentlemanly enough to move and let a lady sit down."
"Bill, pretending ignorance of everything until now, remarks, 'Yeah, but ladies are polite and don't talk about people either!'"
In the background can be heard squeals and shouts of laughter, and now and then a bar of music above the din.

"Jack, stop! Please don't pull my hair. I didn't mean to kneel your lunch all over the floor."
"Hey, what did the skinn mill say to the cream?"
"Hi, skunk."
At one stop quite a few youngsters going to grade school were scrambling in carrying their lunch pails which are constantly bumping against the legs of the passengers who resent it greatly. By now the bus was really full. Some one close by just commented on the passengers to sardines. Now you know what it feels like to ride a fish.

At last you're at school and the scrambling really begins. Students are collecting books from the laps of those seated, and lunches are being dropped, in fact there goes an orange rolling down the aisle.

And that's how the girls must have felt that stocky closer than a brother.

Inspirations

No, Dora, HARMONIZE is nothing to do with the Michigan back.

The Greeks have stuck it out longer than the Norse, Danes, Bulgarians, Dutch, or even the French (timed from the start of the German drive). Only England and Finland have offered resistance longer. It is imperative to realize that Greece is fighting Italy, not Germany. To be more accurate she is not fighting in the sense that the Finns fought. She doesn't have to. Even as France collapsed the Italians could make no progress. History is interesting. When the Italians attacked the Ethiopians at the end of the nineteenth century, the untrained Ethiopians using spears, drove the invaders out of their country with a terrible loss of life. In the World War the Italians suffered one of the most humiliating defeats of the war at the hands of the Austrians. The Italians are not a nation of conquering warriors. Mussolini is no Caesar.

The whole Rome-Berlin Axis is interesting. In "Mein Kampf," the only real source of what Hitler believes, Hitler denounces the Kaiser for bringing Italy into the Triple Alliance. His grounds

Trash Heap

Alas, alas, so Jim Sexton has gone mechanized. From what I understand, he has traded a flesh-and-blood Lizzie for a tin Lizzie. The deal seems to have worked quite well—so far, at least in Jack Wilkie's satisfaction.

In room 33, many people still haven't noticed the new clear glass window replacing the broken, frosted glass window of the type that discourages the traditional "window gazer" found in almost every class. Now, she and I are waiting for some unsuspecting individual to throw a paper wad or what-have-you through the "open" window.

Miss Ford has a profound distaste for unsuspected portraits, especially the one Marie Ann Miller snapped. (Confidentially, I'm positively funny.)

Who is that little freshman from Cleveland that Dick Neale is so interested in? Ask Dick Butler, he knows. So Harry Webster has finally awakened from his "School Daze" and is snoring "O" the heart of an "O" freshman. Has he spread you on his trombone yet?

I never realized the ignorance of the student body until I heard from an information-boother that several students didn't know what the third floor was during the night school. Really, this is getting serious. It may be the result of too much concentration on school work—but it is more likely the other extreme.

PREPARED against emergencies... big or little

A squirrel is perhaps the last thing you'd think of as a menace to telephone service... but he can do a lot of damage by gnawing through the lead sheathing of a telephone cable. To guard against damage from punctures, many cables are kept filled with gas. The instant gas escapes, the lowering pressure automatically sounds an alarm in a central office. The location of the break is determined within a few feet, and often the damage is repaired without interruption of your service. Whether the emergency is large or small, this Company is prepared to protect telephone communication, a vital factor in national defense.

THE DAY OF RECKONING IS AT HAND!

Among the indictments returned by the federal grand jury in Detroit the other day against Frank D. McKay, (notorious but not prominent) boss of the Republican party of Michigan, was one in which he was charged with shaking down Edsel Ford of the Ford Motor company for $9,918.00. He secured the money, so states the grand jury, upon the pretext that it was to pay off a phoney "deficit" of the Republican State Central committee.

Upon reading the article one would think that $9,918.00 was probably all that had been raised in Michigan to pay off this alleged deficit of the Republican State Central committee.

Well, kind reader, the amount collected was probably far in excess of a few hundreds of thousands of dollars—yes, maybe it amounted to a million or more—not just $9,918.00.

For a period of two years or more there was a systematic solicitation made by political shake-down chisellers in all parts of Michigan. No hamlet or city escaped attention. No one, not even government officials, will probably ever find out how vast a sum was collected to pay off a phony political deficit. Plymouth citizens were among the victims.

Knowing how these fellows have operated over a period of years, it was no surprise to the writer to read of their indictments. The only exceptional thing about it so far has been the fact that so few indictments have been returned. But maybe it was impossible to find any direct law violations on the part of some others. Many, very many questionable things can be done "within the law." You can rest assured that these fellows put forth every effort to keep from stepping over the border line, if such a thing can be done, in efforts to get "easy" money.

It may be amazing to some citizens to know of the extensiveness of the operations of the McKay crowd.

Surprising, too, to know that ex-Purple gangsters were mixed up with self-styled Republican leaders.

But to the writer, who has had McKay's number for more than a dozen years, the astonishing thing about it is how easy they have made suckers out of people who ought to know better.

Take Harry Bennett, for instance. He is supposed to know every crook in Michigan—and he is supposed to be smarter than the smartest of these schemers who try to get money without giving value in return for it.

It was Bennett who made possible McKay's entry into Edsel Ford's pocketbook. Well, if Edsel Ford or Harry Bennett had been careful readers of The Plymouth Mail, possibly Mr. Ford would not have been a victim of the "deficit" trick.

It was just about a year ago when the writer made an objection to James Thomson, then chairman of the Republican State Central committee, about the solicitation of funds in behalf of the Republican party by McKay. In the letter to Mr. Thomson protesting against McKay's collection of money for the party, the writer pointed out the temptation and danger of letting McKay solicit money for the Republican organization

"money of which no one except the individual concerned has any record of knowledge."

The writer said further that:
It is not necessary to emphasize to you or anyone else what such a thing means.

Continuing in the letter to Mr. Thomson, the writer demanded that

"all settlements of accounts as well as CONTRIBUTIONS MUST be made directly with the OFFICIAL party organization. There is a right way to do these things, and let us do it the RIGHT way."

Was it done? NO! It was not.

And McKay kept on getting all of this money and "settling" accounts of the Republican party BEFORE he had stooze delegates to the national convention elect him as the Republican National Committeeman from Michigan and before he had any official connection with the party. His scheme was helped along by newspapers publishing carefully "planted" stories about the Republican deficit at the same time he was putting the "heat" on Republicans interested in party affairs.

Just as a little side-light on the way this "McKay machine" operated will be interesting to Plymouth Mail readers. One day last spring a state job holder named Leon Bogart drifted into the office of a prominent Plymouth Republican.

He claimed he was on official business from the secretary of state's office. His only inquiry was about the "services" of the department pertaining to some little thing of a routine nature that a three-cent stamp could have taken care of, even if it was necessary to ask the question at all.

He talked and talked—and finally he said he had really come to Plymouth to see why the "right fellows" here in town didn't play along with the McKay, Barnard, McKeighan crowd.

"And of course this fellow who is your representative here, you should get rid of him. He refuses to play ball with the real fellows over in Lansing and he's all the time bucking McKay, Barnard and McKeighan. They're the ones that run things up in Lansing and just as long as he stays outside the crowd, you can't get any place," said Mr. Bogart of the Secretary of State's office, to this Plymouth citizen.

That was the drift of his talk for nearly three hours. He wanted this Plymouth Republican to come into Detroit some day and meet these three great "Republicans."

"You'll find that they are swell fellows and they'll do things for you if you go along with them," said Mr. Bogart to our Plymouth resident. "Get busy, and organize your party here and play along with the right ones," meaning, of course, McKay, Barnard and McKeighan.

The next day news of the efforts of this gang to try and kick up some local support for the McKay crowd was conveyed to the writer.

We had never heard of Mr. Bogart. So we went over to Lansing to find out about this "representative" of the Secretary of State's office who was out doing "missionary" work for McKay, Barnard and McKeighan.

Who is he? and where does he come from?

It wasn't at all difficult to find out. Mr. Bogart lives in Flint. He is a henchman of Bill McKeighan. (Yes, it's the same McKeighan who has been indicted by the federal grand jury along with Mr. McKay.) Bill McKeighan, one day, went over to Lansing and told Mr. Kelly he wanted Bogart's name on the secretary of state's payroll. Mr. Bogart was hired forthwith. It seems that Bill McKeighan has a lot of drag in Lansing in numerous places. Then Mr. Bogart's chief job became his efforts to "get" the writer at the behest of Mr. McKeighan who, apparently, was taking orders from Mr. McKay.

That's what the taxpayers of Michigan paid Mr. Bogart to do last spring and summer. It is all interesting, isn't it? Especially when you know what has been going on in the inside.

There is no defense of rottenness in politics, and irrespective of party, The Plymouth Mail believes that the Department of Justice has performed one of the greatest of services to the people of Michigan.

Maybe every one of the indicted men is innocent. But federal indictments of the character of these that have been returned are not generally based upon mere hearsay. The record of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been one of carefulness and of outstanding service to the country in cases of this kind.

Many believe that the fate of America hinges upon the outcome of the war. That may be true—but it has no greater bearing upon our future than does the conduct of public business. Unless we can clean out the grafters and the dishonest and weak-kneed public officials, we will not have to worry about the outcome of the war or what Hitler might do to us with his air raids. We will destroy ourselves. That is why it is so important that we — REPUBLICANS AND DEMOCRATS—unite in one common cause to drive dishonesty in every form from public affairs.

Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

THE STRIKES.

We do not know all the facts connected with recent strikes, and there may be extenuations, but can anyone see any reason why the problem should not be left to arbitration by disinterested parties or to a joint committee, without stopping production? On the face of it, it seems, the Dies committee is probably justified in charging "fifth column" activities. If there is any one thing that will bring restrictive laws against deliberate walk-outs, the action of these labor unions here involved will do it.

We remember very distinctly the dissatisfaction that existed at the time of the World War against business profiteering and excessive wages paid labor while service men were laying down their lives at the meager pay of $1 per day. We can't but believe the veterans of that war today resent the attitude of these labor unions in demanding $9 for an 8-hour lark compared with the service man's duties in war. We are today again preparing about 1,400,000 young men for the slaughter at less pay for 24 hours than these strikers are already getting for one hour.

Profiteering on a large scale has already been eliminated from business and industry through taxes and other restrictions as well as contract provisions, but nothing except encouragement has been offered labor organizations to demand shorter hours at increased pay—resulting in a selfishness that excludes every iota of patriotism.

This is a condition that existed in France at the outbreak of the present war, at which time strikes continued to hamper production of war materials and supplies, which, coupled with the sense of France's impregnability, resulted in an indispensable indulgence with flabby hands and flabby minds, a practically resistless victim of a German pushover.

Fortunately, America has not lost the will to defend herself and her rights, but it is not the striking labor element nor the big pay element that is maintaining American patriotism. It is the element that puts patriotism above pay, that puts sacrifice and service above selfishness that is keeping America on its feet. And although there are a great many shadings of thought between these two basic principles, it is the latter principle that will prevail.

The sooner those who refuse to meet these principles are forced to do so, the better it will be for America.—Adrian Van-Koevever in The Zealand Record.

BETTER ACCEPT IT!

The politicians had civil service left on their doorstep by the Michigan voters. Frankly, they don't know whether to attempt to kill it legally or to accept it. Rejecting it after such a heavy popular approval would be anything but smart.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

Harry Wagenschutz was pleasantly surprised at his home on Harvey street last Friday evening, when his classmates, to the number of twenty, came in to remind him of his birthday. Games furnished the entertainment of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

"I want a gift that will KEEP ON GIVING—for years to come"

Working Toward a New Day

A NEW note of understanding has come into the American Public's thoughts concerning the railroads.

It is now recognized that the coming of new forms of transportation has brought about disruption of the normal transportation situation. These new agencies must be properly fitted into the nation's distribution system if the best interests of the public are to be served. And certainly that program must include attention to the present disordered and unfair regulation requirements under which the railroads are the worst sufferers.

Armed with this new sympathy, the public in recent years has sought to rectify this injustice. Congress, in 1935, and the various states have passed laws to this end. This year Congress enacted the so-called Transportation Act of 1940.

But much additional progress along this line must be made before the railroads are on a parity with their competitors. To achieve equality will not harm other forms of transportation; is no more than justice requires; and definitely will be in the public interest.

Our members of the Michigan legislature and our representatives in Congress are urged to exercise justice, fairness and common sense in considering any legislation intended to bring equality into our transportation industry.

"I believe in giving my wife something sensible for Christmas. She's a practical person . . . says she wants something that she'll use every day, that won't be forgotten after the holidays.

"Well, she won't forget THIS gift. An electric range is a gift that lasts. She's always wanted one—and it tops the list for usefulness. Do I sound selfish? You're wrong. There's sentiment wrapped up in my choice. Anything that lightens her job of cooking meals shows thoughtfulness and consideration. I know—I've tried getting meals myself."

The man's right. When you bring the magic of electricity into your home, you open up a whole new world. Tireless, quiet, inexpensive servants take over your household drudgery. Electric cooking and electric water heating lift two major burdens from your wife's shoulders. This Christmas, be one of the thousands who have learned a simple truth: The gifts that give the most are the gifts that serve the best. . . The Detroit Edison Company.
