

Building Activity Continuing—Exceeds $23,000

Construction of Four New Houses Started

Despite reported shortages in building materials and skilled workmen as a result of government priorities and the defense program, Plymouth's building program continues at full speed ahead with a total of 21 building permits issued at a total valuation of $23,507 for the month of September.

The month's building activity included four new homes, six new garages, a couple of commercial projects and repair work. Among the commercial buildings started during September were a frame office building for the new Elmer Austin used car lot at 614 South Main street between Wing and Brush streets, at a valuation of $215, and an addition to Blickenstaff's Community Pharmacy at 330 South Main street, at a valuation of $2,000.

Ira Hank of the Plymouth police department is building a new house at 1053 Brush street between Jener and South Harvey streets. The four-room house, valued at $3500, will be of frame construction.

Contractor Fred A. Hubbard is building a new house, five-rooms and bath of frame construction, for Jack Montieth at 442 Adams street between Farmer and Blanche streets, at an estimated cost of $4500.

Another new house is under construction by G. B. Crumble for Manna Blunk at 434 Blunk avenue between Farmer and Blanche streets, a six-room house, of frame construction, at a valuation of $5000. Contractor Daniel S. Mills is building a five-room brick veneer house for Alfred A. Smith at 866 Simpson avenue between South Main and South Harvey streets, at an estimated cost of $5000.

To Sing in All Local Churches

The Southern Gospel Jubilee Singers, who sing regularly over CKLW on Wednesday nights are returning to Plymouth for all day Sunday, October 5. Note their schedule for the day: Calvary Baptist church, 10:00 a.m.; Presbyterian church, 11:00 a. m.; Methodist church, 11:30 a.m. and a great sacred concert in the high school auditorium at 8:30 p.m. No admission, but a free will offering will be taken.

My Michigan

(Continued from page 1) the others throughout the nation, have believed during the ups and downs of more than a century of tribulations and progress that the one safeguard to a future of security is the right of freedom of expression.

Often challenged in the past, it is being challenged again by powerful influences.

But this freedom has become so firmly established that it will never perish in America. If it does, then the America as we know it will perish with it.

But what about the weekly newspapers? True, we know they are wholeheartedly with the metropolitan press when it comes to safeguarding the first article in our Bill of Rights.

But there is something more, something that ties the weekly newspaper closer to the people than just this issue alone. What is that tie—that binds with a grip that nothing can break?

Bristow Adams sometime ago wrote the following brief poem which answers the question perfectly:

I Am The Country Weekly
I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from friends; I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vineclad porch; or the glow of winter's lamp.
I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.
I am the chronicler of birth, and love and health—

the three great facts of man's existence. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort.

I bring buyer and seller together to the benefit of both; I am part of the market place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter; and which minister to comfort, ease, health and happiness.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.

I am the Country Weekly.

I am the defender of a FREE PRESS.

I am the Light of Liberty.

The Lutheran Woman's club will meet Monday evening, October 6, at 7:30 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. Carl Wagenschutz on the Five Mile road, first house west of Idyl Wyld golf club. At this time officers will be elected for the coming year. All members are urged to be present.

Miss Flossie Rowland, a bride-elect of October was honored at a miscellaneous shower last Friday evening given by Mrs. Ray Dunham, of Belleville and Mrs. Elmer Horvath, of Plymouth at the former's home. The house was decorated throughout with garden flowers, and as each guest entered the home she was presented with a corsage. A delightful evening was passed in playing games, after which a cainty lunch was served. The guests present were Miss Rowland, Mrs. Richard Brown, Mrs. Norman MacLeod, Mrs. Joseph Rowland, Mrs. Russell Travis, Mrs. Claud Waterman, Miss Ardith Rowland, Mrs. Mike Very, Mrs. Albert Sockow, Mrs. John Sockow, Mrs. Levi Sockow, Mrs. Russell Sockow, Mrs. Leo Wright, of Plymouth, Mrs. Murray Rowland Jr., of Detroit, Mrs. William Smith, of Wayne, and Mrs. George Matavia, of Belleville. Many lovely and useful gifts were received by Miss Rowland.

Mrs. Raymond Lowry and Mrs. Kenneth Thorpe were joint hostesses, Thursday evening of last week, when they honored Mrs. Anthony Signorelli by entertaining ten guests at a shower and lovely luncheon in the home of Mrs. Thorpe on Davis street. Bingo was played during the evening after which Mrs. Signorelli was presented with a lovely gift. The guests included Mrs. John Lutz, Mrs. Charles Grainger, Mrs. Fred Stocken, Mrs. Vito Simonetti, Mrs. Minnie Bennett, Mrs. Fred Clement, Mrs. Russell Cook and Eva Scarpulla.

Mary Jane Parmalee was the guest of honor at a party, Tuesday evening, given in the home of Miss Luella Meyers, who with the Misses Merle Smith and Grace McCullum were hostesses. The guests played bingo during the evening after which Miss Parmalee was showered with various kitchen utensils and other gifts for a blue kitchen. She will become the bride of Clark Felton, of Rochester, on October 11. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Elvin Taylor is to be the honored guest this afternoon, at a party to be given by Mrs. Cassler Stevens and Mrs. Frank Allison in the latter's home on Penniman avenue. On Wednesday, October 8, Mrs. Taylor will be honored with another party when Mrs. Melvin Blunk and Mrs. William Kirkpatrick will be hostesses, in the home of Mrs. Kirkpatrick.

Your Newspaper

BRINGS the NEWS and KNOWLEDGE of OUR COMMUNITY to YOUR HOME and FAMILY

Breakfast, lunch, dinner. A place to live, clothes to wear; YOUR NEWSPAPER. You take them pretty much for granted—just because they're the very things no one can do without and enjoy a well balanced life. But skip a meal—get locked out of the house—have your clothes borrowed from the hickory limb while you take a swim—forget to bring home YOUR NEWSPAPER—and you experience a hollowness, a sense of loss no substitute can fill!

Because our mental needs are equally as important as our physical needs, the newspaper becomes part of our very sustenance.

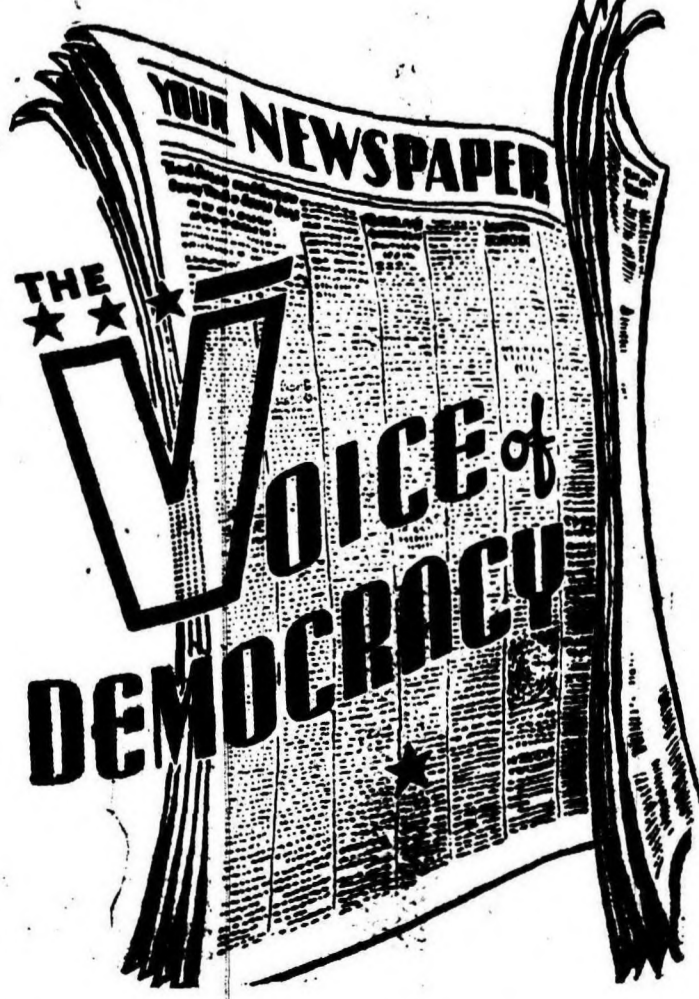

The metropolitan newspapers tell the truth about what is going on far and near. They relate, as far as humanly possible to do so, the details of events in the state, nation and world which have a direct bearing upon you and yours. A great metropolitan paper provides one with a far greater knowledge than one can gain from any other source.

Its weekly companion—the community newspaper—serves its community in exactly the same way that a great paper endeavors to serve the metropolitan centers. It provides a community and its surrounding territory with information about civic, church, fraternal and school events. It keeps a community informed of all that is worth knowing about, all that will prove of aid and benefit to the individual and to the city.

There is no conflict between the great metropolitan paper and the community paper. Their purposes and ideals are the same—service to mankind.

Your newspaper, large or small, leads you to the stores that tell in their advertising what they have to sell so you can maintain a satisfying standard of living.

Like food, shelter and clothing, YOUR NEWSPAPER is something you take for granted. But only in America is the newspaper still the unfettered organ of a Free Press. The American Newspaper does and will always champion the people's cause for honest, fearless, free reporting of the truth. The American Newspaper will always sound out loud and clear, the never-to-be-stilled VOICE OF DEMOCRACY.

Mrs. John Heckman in the laundry of her farm home at 2741 Little Road, Clinton Twp., Macomb County

Electricity DOES THE WASHING

At best, washday on the farm isn't exactly a holiday. But for Mrs. John Heckman, Macomb County, it isn't all drudgery, either.

These four electric servants take much of the work of washday off her hands:

- 1. Running water—pumped electrically. No tiresome pumping or heavy carrying.
2. Hot water—plenty of it without waiting—supplied automatically by a 110-gallon electric water heater.
3. A fully automatic "Home Laundry" which does practically everything but hang up the clothes—soaking, washing, rinsing and damp drying without attention.
4. An electric ironer which makes ironing an easy, sit-down operation.

These four big helpers use only about 20c worth of electricity in doing the complete laundry, including ironing, for the Heckman family. Any woman will tell you that's a pretty good bargain.

Grange Observes 75th Anniversary

Members of the Plymouth Grange Tuesday night observed the seventy-fifth anniversary of the formation of the organization by a big "booster" meeting in Grange hall. Sam Spicer, one of the most active members of the Grange, made a few remarks, telling of the splendid efforts that have been made during its entire existence in behalf of the farmers. The Grange is the oldest farm organization in Michigan. Mrs. William Greer gave a recitation, Chase Willett showed motion pictures of the West and Mr. Mettetal sang two solos. The next meeting of the Grange will be held Thursday, October 9.

Petitions Oppose Ice-Fishing Act

Petitions for the referendum of the Winter Ice Fishing act, which prohibits winter ice-fishing for bluegills and sunfish, are being circulated by the Western Wayne County Conservation association in Plymouth. Petitions are available for signers at the local banks, William Rose's Plymouth Hardware store and the office of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Local Stores Adopt New Policy on Returns

All Plymouth stores have adopted the same policy now in effect in Detroit department stores for a one-week limit on the return of merchandise purchased. Sales slips must also accompany all goods returned. The stores must report all refunds to the government along with the original slips, it is explained.

Ducks in the 93,000-acre Seney wild fowl refuge are having dessert with their meals these days in the form of blueberries. On small islands or knolls in the flooded marsh area, inaccessible to blueberry pickers except by boat, ducks have been observed by biologists of the conservation department and the federal Fish and Wildlife service feeding on the berries. Hindered by an early frost, the "blue-gold" crop has not been up to the usual standard this year.

Claude Dykhouse On Program at Big Conference

Plymouth Instructor To Discuss School Problems

Claude Dykhouse, principal of the Plymouth high school, will take part in the annual Region One conference of the Michigan Education Association in Detroit Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 23, 24 and 25.

Mr. Dykhouse will participate in a Saturday morning topic discussion group considering how teachers can best make use of community resources in their teaching.

Besides Plymouth, Region One embraces all the remainder of Wayne county including Detroit. A large percentage of the region's 9,928 teacher-members is expected to attend the Detroit conference.

In line with the trend of world events, discussions at the Region One conference, as well as at seven other regional conventions for the Association's 34,500 teacher-members, will center about preparation of the child as a citizen of the American democracy and training of young men and women for industrial defense work.

Also to claim attention will be education for citizenship of Michigan's 300,000 alien population; maintenance of adequate teacher salaries so that the new tempo of industry will not deprive Michigan boys and girls of qualified teachers; and remedies for overcrowded school conditions resulting from the defense boom, particularly in areas living near military or industrial defense centers.

We like fine things, but can't afford the upkeep.

Receives Honor

CHARLES J. THUMME

Charles J. Thumme, captain of the Plymouth police department, was elected to the directorship of the board of the Scientific Identification Association of Michigan at a meeting at Jackson prison Saturday. Robert Moore of the Wayne county sheriff's office was re-elected president of the group.

Maver Ruth H. Whipple, Commissioner Henry Hondorp, Robert Jelliffe, George Robinson and Judge J. R. Cutler attended the meeting. Commissioner Edward Wilson was unable to attend because of illness. The meeting at which Plymouth officials were the guests of Warden Harry Jackson, featured discussions of fingerprinting for industrial sabotage and plant protection purposes.

Wildlife Club To Meet Monday

Sportsmen Invited To See Pictures

Plymouth sportsmen and camera fans will have an opportunity to see five reels of the finest outdoor pictures ever shown in Michigan at the next meeting of the Wildlife Club Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

These movies which were taken in color by E. C. Schwimmer, noted Detroit photographer and sportsman run the gamut from trout fishing in the Rockies and Alaska to deep sea fishing and duck and goose shooting. This latter picture will be extremely timely as it comes just at the start of the open duck shooting period and also on the first day of Michigan Conservation Week which is being celebrated in all sections of the state where there are organized conservation clubs.

In addition to showing the outdoor films which will take in the neighborhood of two hours to run, Mr. Schwimmer is also bringing with him for the edification of the camera fans of this city several of the newest types of American built cameras and other photographic accessories. He has announced that he will be agreeable to showing the camera "bugs" the latest "kinks" in photography and explain how to take those hard to get unusual shots that every camera fan desires over.

Schwimmer makes a charge for showing his films and making his talk but donates every cent taken in to the fund which takes one hundred orphan girls and boys on a 1,200 mile trip each summer. Usually these underprivileged children are taken up to the French River district of Canada and while their trip was limited to Michigan last year due to the difficulty in getting across the border he feels that next year they will again be able to take the boys and girls into the wilds of upper Canada again.

The new Michigan Conservation stamps which are resplendent in outdoor scenes indigent to Michigan sports will be available to those who wish them at this meeting. The proceeds from the sale of these stamps which are very much in demand by sportsmen and firms who take an interest in promoting Michigan as a tourist and recreational state goes to the state and local conservation clubs for the promotion and safeguarding of better fishing and hunting within the state borders.

Postoffice Employees Attend Housewarming

Rush Work on New Theatre

Complete Difficult Floor-Laying Task

Workmen have completed the laying of over 4,000 square feet of concrete floor in the new motion picture theatre Harry Lush is building on East Penniman avenue, an exceedingly difficult task because of the fact that the floor had to be laid "up-hill," so to speak.

There is a drop of some five or six feet from the rear of the theatre to the front, and it was no easy construction job for workmen to lay a perfectly smooth concrete floor on such an incline.

The front of the theatre has been faced with a marble block and the cooling and heating system is now being installed. If the present rate of progress can be continued the theatre will be ready for opening late in November.

Ruth Draper First On Town Hall

At Fisher Theatre On October 15

Ruth Draper, creator of the one-woman theatre, will open the Detroit Town Hall season in the Fisher theatre Wednesday morning, October 15 at 11 o'clock, in a program of her inimitable sketches. This occasion will be Detroit's first glimpse of this great actress since 1935 when she appeared alone at the Cass theatre for a three-day engagement.

Miss Draper returned to Broadway last winter, after several years retirement, in joint performance with her nephew, dancer Paul Draper. They were an unequalled hit. "The Drapers are emphatically tops!" wrote the World Telegram. "Brought down the house!" reported the Herald Tribune.

Her universal appeal has made Miss Draper a delight to audiences in every nook of the globe. She has played in France, Spain, Portugal, Italy, Germany, Scandinavia, the Balkans, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa, Egypt, Java, Siam, India, Singapore, Burma—in fact, everywhere except in China and Japan. She spent last season touring South America and Canada.

Wife of Dr. Bramigk, Long Ill, Expires

News of the death of Mrs. Agnes Catherine Bramigk, wife of Dr. Fritz W. Bramigk, 178 Lakewood avenue, Detroit, has been received in Plymouth. Dr. Bramigk was a practicing physician for a number of years in Plymouth and during their residence here both Dr. Bramigk and his wife became well acquainted and their many friends here will regret to learn of her death. She had been ill for some time. She was well known in scientific circles and worked many years with her husband in chemical research. Dr. Bramigk and a 16-year-old son, Ernest, survive.

Army Calls Brother Of Claude Dykhouse

Jay Dykhouse, superintendent of Charlotte schools and brother of Claude J. Connected with the Officers' Reserve infantry for many years, Dykhouse is a Major in the army reserves.

Brothers Home In Uniforms

One A Soldier, Other State Trooper

"Brothers in uniform"—one a soldier in Uncle Sam's army, the other a newly appointed member of Michigan's outstanding state police force, walked into the office of The Plymouth Mail this week to say "hello" to their friends.

The soldier was Robert Burley, home on a brief furlough from the army camp at Boise, Idaho. The state trooper was his brother Harold Burley, who has just completed his police school work at East Lansing and has been assigned to the state police post at Rockford, near Grand Rapids.

It was the first visit of the two young men to their home in Plymouth since donning the uniforms of the army and the troopers.

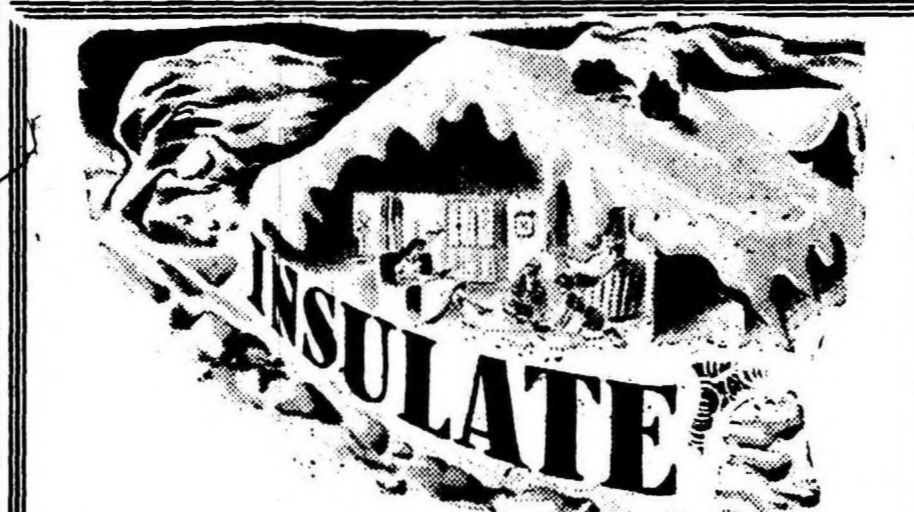

Robert Burley is a member of the 42nd Bombardment group. He states that in the Boise camp in the far West is a number of Plymouth soldiers.

"They are all fine and are doing well. In fact, they have got to a point where they like army life. When we first went out there the food wasn't so good, but it couldn't be better than it is now. Of course in setting up a new camp there are always some things that have to be straightened out, and we were out there during the early days of the camp. But these conditions have been overcome and everything is going along smoothly," said Soldier Burley.

Gordon Moe, another Plymouth lad in the Idaho camp, is on the soldier football team, said the visitor, Milton Moe, a brother of Gordon, has taken up army radio work, and Joe Schomberger, popular manager of the fast Schrader-Haggerty baseball team before he left for army service, has been assigned to a wrecking crew of the air force, an organization that cares for wrecked army planes, he said. Bud Archer is now an army truck driver at the Boise camp.

Mr. Burley was fortunate in getting a ride from the far West to Plymouth with Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pike of Boise, who came to Plymouth to visit Mr. and Mrs. Dan Grubisich. He will return to the western city with the visitors when they make the trip home. Mr. Burley stated that all of the Plymouth boys in the camp wished to be remembered to their many friends.

Father Gabriel Richard, a Catholic priest, brought the first printing press used west of the Alleghenies to Michigan in 1809.

Library Lists Animal Stories

Books of Interest To Juvenile Readers

The Plymouth library has listed several animal stories for boys and girls who wish reading suggestions. The books include "High Hurdles," by Frances Duncombe, a story of Debby, an American girl who loves horses; "Children of the Sea," by W. S. Bronson, the friendship of a dolphin and a boy of Nassau with authentic information about the sea and many fine illustrations; "The Goat That Went to School," by Ellis Credle, a story of a goat that caused a lot of trouble but who finally secured his master's greatest wish; "Captain," by Lucy Crockett, a story told in the first person by Captain, an army mule who saw service in China, the Philippines and France and is recognized for bravery under fire; "Pete," by Tom Robinson, a story about an airfield for all dog lovers, and "Dogs," by James L. Cannon, which presents excellent pictures and a short informational text about the origin and development of different breeds.

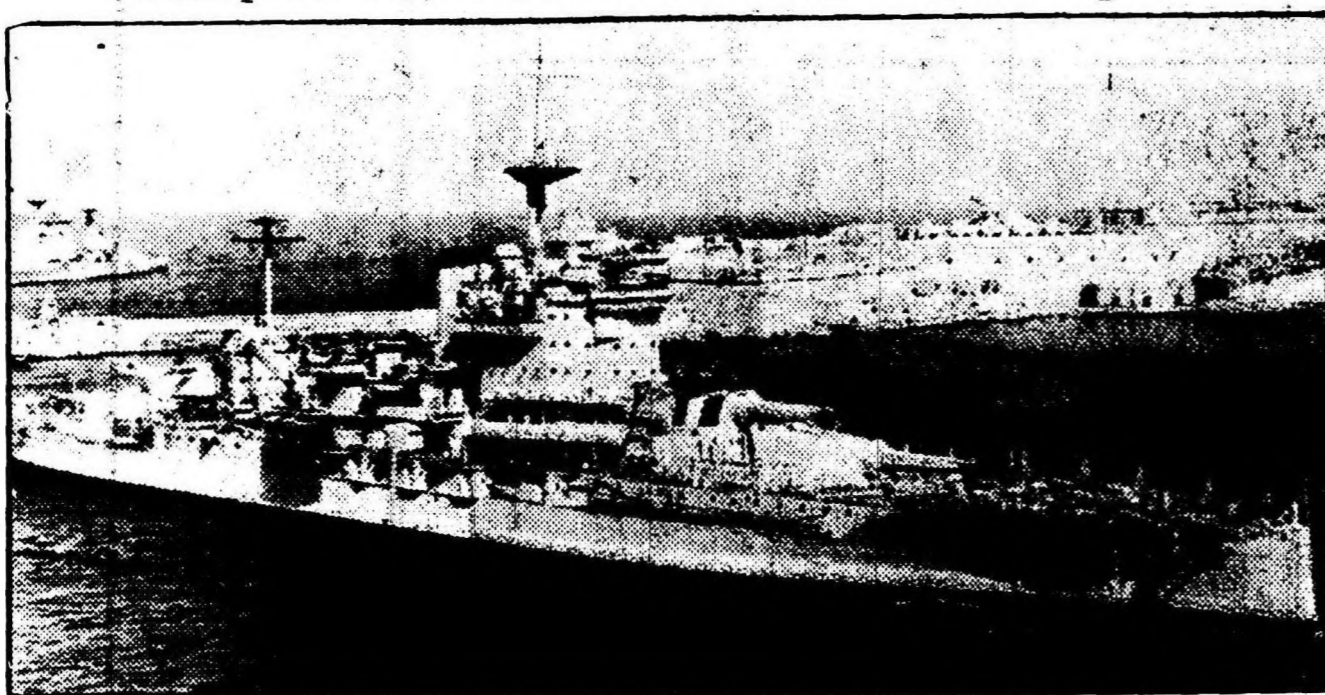

Everybody likes to talk about his troubles and ailments.

Hunt Club to Stage Trials

Plans Second Annual Amateur Hunter Trials

The Northville Hunt club will stage its second annual amateur hunter trials on Sunday, October 5, at Dr. Harold L. Morris' "Truemoor Farm," 701 East Eleven Mile road, east of Novi. The trials will begin at 10 o'clock Sunday morning and four events will be run off before the luncheon intermission. The afternoon program, which consists of seven events, will begin at 1:30 o'clock. At the Northville Hunt club hunter trials, the horses will be shown across country over natural fences, under conditions as similar as possible to those encountered in the hunt field. Three courses will be used, a short course of eight jumps, a long course of ten jumps and a special course for the handy hunter event.

The program consists of the following classes: Green hunters, hunters for juniors, (18 years and under), pairs of hunters (tandem), horses suitable to become hunters, working hunters (other than thoroughbred), working hunters (thoroughbred), ladies hunters, pairs of hunters (abreast), Northville Hunt challenge trophy, teams of three hunters and the handy hunters. The officials for the hunter trials include William Reeves Clark, Metamora Hunt, judge; R. Edmund Dowling, chairman; Jack Gibson, associate manager; Mrs. Joseph J. Marshall and Mrs. Thomas McDonald, clerks and Verne Kirby, announcer.

Camera Club Goes On Field Trip

The eighth grade Camera club took a trip to Riverside park last week. Under the railroad viaduct they found and photographed a water fall. Specimens were caught for their Science club. The school playground under construction was also photographed. This week they will develop and print their own pictures assisted by their sponsor, Mr. Balden.

Poultrymen to Meet Here

Session Today at Perry Hix Farm

Poultrymen in the Plymouth area will meet at the farm of Perry Hix, Warren road at Haggerty highway, today (Friday), October 3 at 2:00 p.m.

O. E. Shear, extension poultryman, Michigan State college will discuss culling and flock management.

The United States Department of Agriculture is calling for an increased production of poultry and poultry products. Every farm will be visited this fall and help given in adjusting the farm program.

An evening meeting will also be held at the Belleville high school, Belleville, Michigan at 7:45 p.m. In addition to Mr. Shear's discussion the sound film "Tuberculosis in Poultry and Swine" will be shown. All poultrymen are invited.

History Repeats 80 Years Later

Ella Chaffee Recalls Trip to Botsford Inn

Ella S. Chaffee, Plymouth's "Miss Bishop," not only has a fine spirit for all her 87 years but she has a remarkable memory. Last Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Chaffee attended a meeting of the Plymouth Bridge club held at the Botsford Inn on Grand River avenue near Farmington.

She recalled on this occasion that it was just 80 years ago this month that she and her mother rode from their home in Novi to Botsford Tavern in a stage-coach to meet her aunt there. As a 7-year-old girl, she was thrilled to ride in the stage-coach drawn by four horses to the tavern meeting-place—more thrilled than when in later years she went to Europe.

Mrs. Chaffee delighted in finding the old historic tavern little changed, with the same old rag carpets covering the board floors and a small melodion in one of the inn rooms. The same stage-coach in which she rode as a girl is now kept in a barn on the Botsford Inn property. Built in 1856, Botsford Inn, which formerly stood at the edge of the road, has been moved back off of Grand River avenue.

Ella Chaffee came to Plymouth 66 years ago to become principal, or preceptress as they were then called, of the Plymouth high school when she was 20 years old. Though she has not taught school in many years, like school-teacher "Ella Bishop" she still reads a great deal trying to keep up with the affairs of the world and she has a ready chuckle and twinkle in her eye when she recalls former pupils and past experiences.

When Warren Shapton, conservation department biologist, recently visited a small swale to inspect a set used in live-trapping rabbits at Rose lake wildlife experiment station, he found just about everything except rabbits. Within 50 feet he flushed a hen pheasant with five young, a brood of nine quail, six mallards and one black duck.

Police Mobilize For Defense

FBI Experts Discuss Bombs and Explosives

Police officials of the metropolitan Detroit area, with Police Chief Vaughan R. Smith representing Plymouth, heard discussions of the police role in civilian defense at a quarterly police conference at FBI headquarters in the Federal Building in Detroit last Friday afternoon.

Malcolm Bingray, of The Detroit Free Press, discussing "Public Relations and the Police," spoke of his experiences with police reporting in England several years ago. Captain Don Leonard of the Michigan State Police reported his recent trip to England to investigate civilian defense procedures there for Mayor LaGuardia and the Civilian Defense Committees of this country.

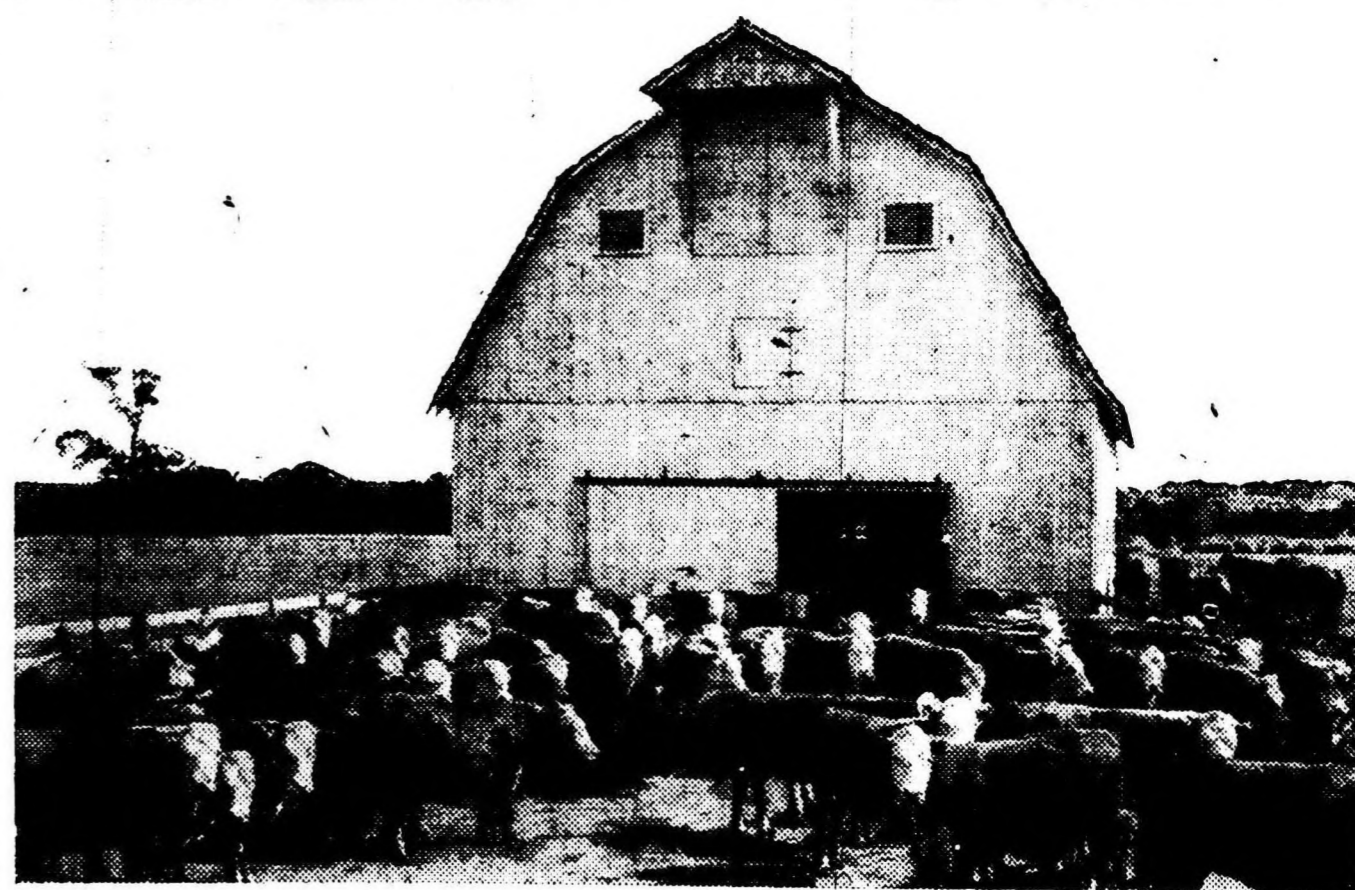

As a part of the FBI's mobilization for civilian defense, Mr. Thompson, a technical specialist in bombs and explosives, discussed simple methods of sabotage and fire fighting methods in dealing with explosions. Incendiary bombs reach a heat of 500 degrees Fahrenheit, he stated, and the best fire extinguisher is a stirrup pump which feeds oxygen by spray around the burning bomb.

Namesake Group Asks Aid for Young Britons

A group of 90 young English flyers arrive at Grosse Ile every four weeks for a month's training program in aviation. The Namesake Town committee of Plymouth has made arrangements to provide for the weekend recreational needs of these young men, most of whom are under 20 years of age.

Any member of the Namesake group or any family in Plymouth interested in taking one of these British boys into their home for the week-end is asked to contact any member of the executive board of the Namesake committee. Members of the executive committee include Arno Thompson, Robert Jolliffe, Al Smith, James Gallimore, Mrs. Otto Berger, Mrs. Thomas Moss and Mrs. Ruth H. Whipple. John Neale of Auburn avenue is in charge of making arrangements for leave from Saturday noon to Sunday night for British youths stationed at the Grosse Ile air base.

Michigan Beef for Michigan Brawn

A barnyard-full of Hereford steers. The "white-faces" are among the most popular of beef cattle breeds.

SYNTHETIC foods may have their place in the war-time economy of some nations. But Michigan workers who are arming America for defense want meat that will "stick to their ribs"—good roasts, steaks and stews.

The farms of Michigan will sell more than $27,000,000 worth of beef cattle and calves this year. Wherever there's a surplus of corn and other grains, steers are fattened for market.

Farmers who specialize in beef cattle use the telephone to buy young steers, order feed, and keep in touch with the market price of beef on the hoof. The meat packer does much of his buying and selling by telephone. And the amazing efficiency of the system that keeps every neighborhood store supplied with fresh, wholesome meat would be impossible without complete and dependable telephone service.

Shorthorn cows and calves have the typical lines of the beef breeds—long, straight back; short legs and broad, chunky body.

City Constructs New Sidewalk

Widens Penniman Ave. Near Main St. Corner

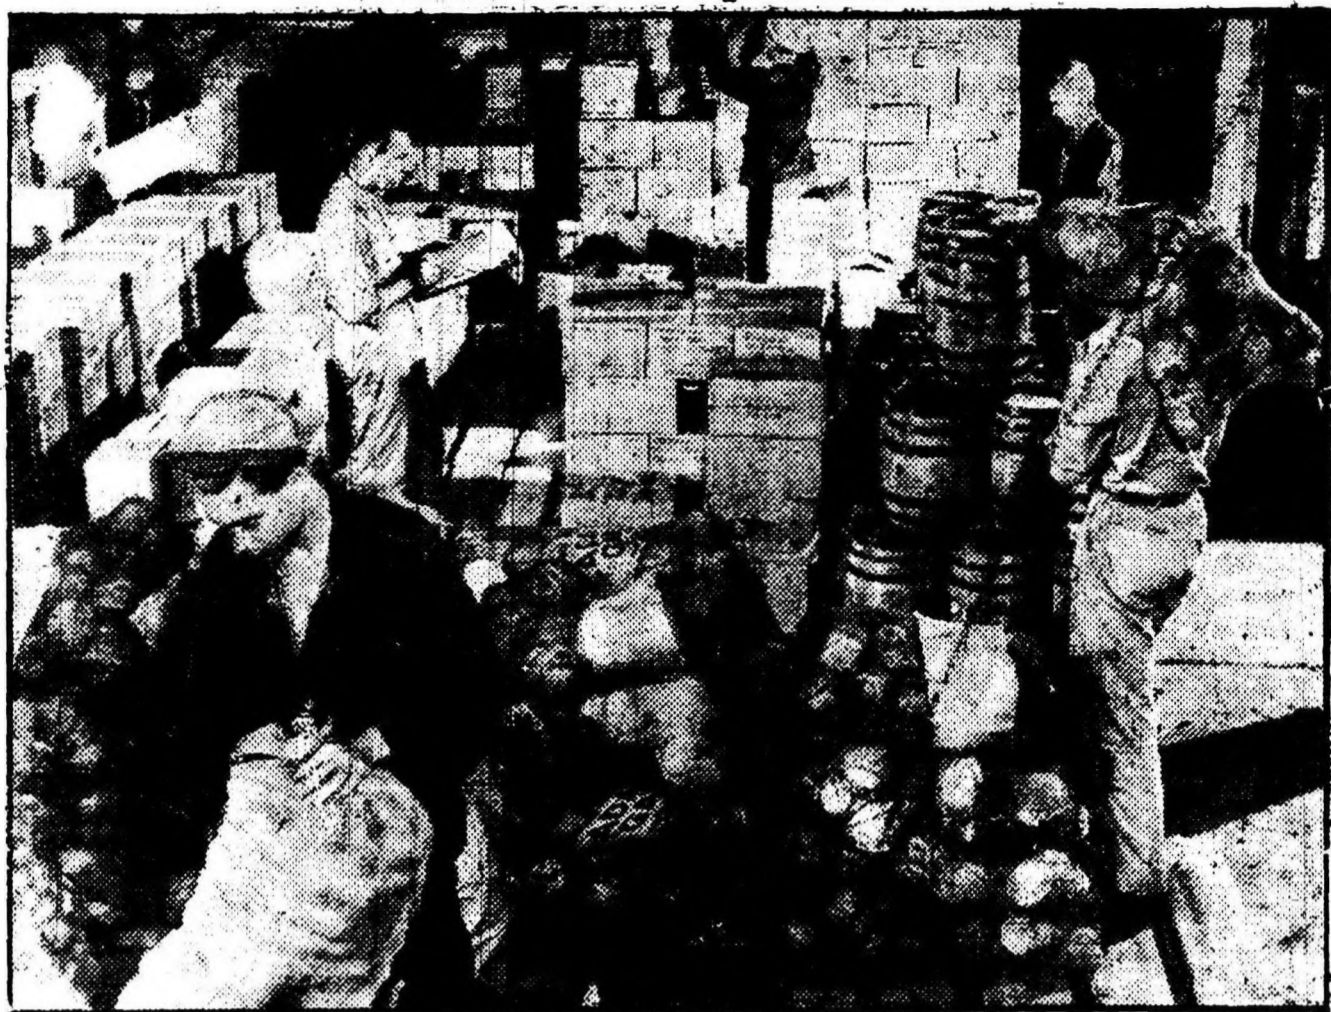

The latest of the city's many improvement projects this fall is the construction of a new sidewalk, 11 feet wide and 87 feet long which extends from the corner of Main street to the rear of the Conner hardware property, on Penniman avenue. As a preliminary step in the long-range program of the planning commission, the city has moved the curb line back widening the street two and a half feet.

The present right-of-way of property lines on this street is 66 feet with a pavement width of 40 feet. Eventually, when the store-fronts are moved back to conform with the new property line, the right-of-way will measure 72 feet with a pavement width of 48 feet. At the present time, the new C. F. Smith store is the only one in the block conforming to this new property line.

During the construction of the new sidewalk, the city also hooked up the water drainage lines from the drinking fountain to a sewer in the alley at the rear of the Conner store. The water formerly backed up in the curbs because of inadequate drainage. A new drinking fountain fixture has also been installed on this corner.

All that is human must retrograde if it do not advance.—Gibson.

Primary Room We had a fair at our school. We had fun at the fair. We have a new girl in our room. Her name is Martha Sue King. Mr. Thomas put up our new bulletin board. It is nice. It is 20 feet long. It is three feet wide. We have a new flag stand. We learned a new song about the flag. We learned a song about a duck, too. His name is Ducky Duddle. He went wading in a puddle. We have fun at school. —Mrs. Schofield, teacher. Third, Fourth and Fifth Grades We have a new standard for our flag. Two more pupils have entered our room. Their names are Dorothy King and David Remus. We have been working hard on handwriting and samples of our writing are on our new bulletin board. Glenn Pace is on the boys' safety patrol. All our Citizenship officers went to the Citizenship meeting at the Plymouth high school last Wednesday evening to be inaugurated. —Wanda Sue Branthoover. Sixth, Seventh, Eighth Grades The Newburg school fair, held on September 19, was a great success. Many parents and friends came to see our exhibits. For a detailed report see next week's paper. Mr. Brake, our deputy school superintendent, presented Newburg school with a set of junior Britannica encyclopedias, last Friday afternoon at a special assembly held for that purpose, and held also to introduce our C.J.C. officers who were inaugurated into office last Wednesday evening at the Plymouth high school. The program was in the form of a Citizenship meeting, led by Alan Kidston, president of our room. Barbara Pace was the program chairman. She announced the program numbers and introduced Mr. Brake and Miss Jameson, our helping teacher. The boys' softball team played Stark school last week Monday and lost 14-13, after being tied at the end of the seventh inning. On Wednesday the Newburg boys won 10-5 from Patchen. We are proud to have seven names on the dental honor roll now: James Ayres, Barbara Pace and Lorraine Merriman are now O.K. Mary King enrolled in the seventh grade on Monday. Her former home was in Tennessee. —Jean Shepco.

Local Youth in Midst Of Texas Storm Area

Stanley Blondell, 25-year-old son of Mrs. William Simpson of Plymouth, was transferred to Camp Hulen in southern Texas a week ago Saturday just before the raging storms and floods swept across the southern belt of the Lone Star state. Mrs. Simpson has not heard from her son since his transfer to the storm-devastated section. He was formerly stationed in the quartermaster's office at Camp Wallace near Galveston, Texas. In the army service since June 1, young Blondell recently received a promotion to the rank of Corporal.
