

From The Michigan Educational Journal is taken the following interesting article about Michigan flag.

If an artist were commissioned to design a new flag for the state of Michigan, one in keeping with the tempo of today, he would find it difficult to improve upon the present state flag which was created more than one hundred years ago.

Emblazoned upon the state flag's field of blue is the state coat of arms with the silver motto, "Tuebor" (I will defend). Could any other motto be more apt for 1941?

In the shield below the motto, a man stands at the tip of a peninsula, clutching a gun in one hand. Guns for defense are as timely today as in 1835 when the state coat of arms was adopted. Supporting the shield are an elk and a moose rampant, symbolical of Michigan's wild life which attracts hundreds of thousands of sportsmen to the woods and waters each year. And on the scrolls beneath the shield are the words: "Si Quæris Peninsulam Amoenam—Circumspice" (If you seek a pleasant peninsula—look about you). Polished by the passing of one hundred and six years, these words shine brighter than ever today.

An American eagle with an olive branch and a sheaf of arrows clutched in his talons is rising in flight above the shield, and over the eagle the words, "E Pluribus Unum" (from many—one) are imprinted upon a scroll. Could a more fitting crest be selected for a 1941 coat of arms?

On February 22, 1837, Stevens T. Mason, first governor of Michigan, presented the first Michigan flag to the Brady Guard of the militia, and this flag is now in the capitol at Lansing. On one side, it bore the devices and inscriptions of the Michigan seal together with a Brady Guard and lady; on the reverse side, the portrait of the Boy Governor. The Brady Guard was the first uniformed company of militia in Michigan.

Numerous Michigan flags bearing the Michigan coat of arms and with various designs and emblems were in use until 1865 when an official flag of Michigan was adopted. This bore the state coat of arms on one side and the United States coat of arms on the reverse. The legislature of 1911 adopted the present state flag and the Governor's flag and specified that the Governor's flag should be white charged with the arms of the state.

The 1911 legislature ordered the Michigan flag to be displayed upon the capitol daily during sessions of the Legislature and of the Supreme Court, and on public occasions. It also specified that the state coat of arms should be the official pictorial device for all state public office stationery and for title pages of all state documents and publications.

Actually, there is no official picture of the state flag of Michigan, and artists interpret the description of the flag which was adopted by the 1911 legislature according to their imagination and their knowledge of the language of heraldry.

Big Stores Come to Plymouth to Trade

Are materials getting scarce? You may know they are when one of the biggest department stores of Detroit and another big construction concern of the same city will come to Plymouth to buy sufficient materials from Jewell & Blach, plumbers, to finish jobs they have started.

The speaker is just what happened this week. One day a representative of the big department store walked into Mr. Jewell's office and asked him if he had a certain piece of plumbing material that he could secure. Mr. Jewell sold it to him, the representative stating that it was all that was needed to finish a job started weeks ago.

The very next day in came the representative of another concern and he wanted a certain piece of pipe.

But that's the end of the story. While Mr. Jewell helped out these fellow plumbers in distress, he is going to hold on to the rest of his material for use right here in Plymouth.

PROF. H. M. EHRMANN
He is going to tell members of the Plymouth University of Michigan Club about European troubles at first fall meeting on October 28.

Plans Complete For Hallowe'en

The first, second and third grade children of Starkweather and Central schools will meet in the high school auditorium at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon where there will be motion pictures and a story dramatized by Miss Winniford Ford. There will also be refreshments and favors for the youngsters.

The fourth, fifth and sixth grade children will meet in their respective school auditoriums at 7 o'clock in the evening to enjoy motion pictures and other entertainment that is being arranged. There will also be refreshments.

Plans for a party for the seventh and eighth grade students to be held in the high school auditorium at 7 o'clock in the evening, have been perfected, states Alvin Baiden, chairman of the committee providing for the entertainment of this group. Beginning at 7 o'clock there will be games, motion pictures and dancing. Prizes will be given for the best costumes in this group.

High school students will meet at the Masonic temple where a costume party will be given and a prize awarded for the best Hallowe'en costume. There will be fortune telling and several specialty acts during dance intermissions.

Hunt have named the following committee to help in the arrangements for the three lower grades: Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mrs. J. Monteth, Mrs. S. Eklund, Mrs. G. Rush, Mrs. L. Truesdell, Mrs. R. Bloomfield, Mrs. F. Hokenson, Mrs. H. Agosta, Mrs. G. Brink, Mrs. M. Ross, Mrs. R. Covell, Mrs. A. Pint, Mrs. C. Colby, Mrs. N. Goebel, Mrs. J. Ribar, Mrs. T. Passage, Mrs. L. Burchett, Mrs. P. Munster.

Dental Clinic Proves of Benefit To Students

Report Shows Over 300 Children Received Treatment

Plymouth's summer dental clinic sponsored by the board of education in association with the Children's Fund of Michigan, shows a fine record for work accomplished.

The board of education, working through a local committee, secured the services of the community nurse, Mrs. Mary Strasen, and dental clerk, Miss Evelyn Stewart. Mrs. Linden Tebo ably assisted the clinic during Mrs. Strasen's two weeks' vacation, and the Children's Fund of Michigan furnished a doctor for the clinic, Dr. Annabelle Richter.

The local committee was comprised of the following: George A. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Mary Strasen, sub-chairman; Dr. B. E. Champe, Mrs. Nellie Bird, Mrs. Jewell Bell, Mrs. Lawrence Burgett, Mrs. Roy Proctor, Mrs. William Arscott and Mrs. Henry Munster.

The clinic which convened on July 19, and terminated on September 13, did work on the teeth of 311 different children, 245 of the 311 had second or third visits to the clinic. Along with the prophylactic treatments and necessary extractions the clinic did 768 separate fillings on the 311 children.

This was a large quantity of work done well, and will reflect itself materially in the health of these children and their ability to do a better grade of work during the year 1941-42 than would otherwise have been possible.

Good Fellows Seek Broken Toys

Ready to Start Christmas Work

It is none too early to prepare for Christmas—that is why the Plymouth Good Fellow News-boys organization is asking people who have broken or discarded toys to send them to the city hall immediately so that they can be repaired and made ready for distribution at Christmas time.

Paul Groth and George Howell, who have charge of this activity in connection with the work of the Good Fellows, hope that immediate attention will be given to this request, as there is plenty of time now to prepare the toys. Later on it will not be so convenient to have the work done.

You will be surprised what can be done with an old toy your boy or girl has thrown away. The Good Fellows will appreciate your immediate attention to this request—and some little boy or little girl at Christmas time will be made happy by your cooperation.

Following the usual business meeting a garden quiz was held with Mrs. Gerald Hondorp in charge. Plants were awarded as prizes. Later the ladies enjoyed accounts given by Mrs. Vetal and Mrs. Eismor of Farm Week at Lansing held in July when they were guests of the Plymouth branch. Mrs. Thomas Moss and her committee then served dainty sandwiches, cookies and cakes with tea. On Tuesday Mrs. C. E. Elliott, president, Mrs. William Wernet, Mrs. George Cramer, Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mrs. Horace Thatcher, Mrs. Carlton Lewis and Mrs. A. ## Harry Wrench Utility President

Former Plymouth Resident Goes High

Harry Wrench, former Plymouth resident and manager of the old Michigan Federated Utilities properties in this vicinity, has just been elected president and general manager of the Minneapolis Gas Light company. He takes the place of Fred W. Seymour of that city, who died suddenly while on a business trip to New York City.

Mr. Wrench has been serving as vice-president and general manager of the company for some time. He does not plan to relinquish his position as general manager, even though he now becomes the company's president. During his residence in Plymouth, Mr. Wrench was active in community affairs. He was a member of the Plymouth Rotary club and erected the attractive residence at the southwest corner of Ann Arbor Trail and McKinley street, now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas T. Bateman and family.

Soon after he left school at Michigan State in East Lansing he was appointed to a position with the gas company in Marshall, his experience in that city just preceding his appointment in Plymouth. During their residence in this city Mr. and Mrs. Wrench made many close friends.

Hunters Find But Little Game

Blame Pre-Season Shooting for Scarcity

It was pretty slim picking for the hundreds and hundreds of pheasant hunters who waited for the opening of the hunting season on Wednesday—they didn't find much of anything to shoot at, not in this part of Wayne county at least. A few reported that they were successful in getting the two pheasants allowed per day.

Hunters and others reported that for weeks past there has been plenty of banging going on. In fact, not in years has there been so many reports of suspected game violations as this year. Some weeks ago hunters thought that this was going to be a good season about here. Numerous pheasants were reported everywhere—but practically none were to be seen on the opening day, which confirms to some extent the reports of pre-season hunting.

Unfortunately, the state has no game warden working in this district and the fact seems to be pretty well known. While Wayne county pays for the services of another game warden, no one has ever seen or heard of the fellow about here.

Home Nursing Group Elects Officers

The Canton-Beek Home Nursing group met last Thursday, October 9, at the home of Mrs. Allan Campbell. Mrs. Campbell was again elected chairman, Mrs. Fred Aldrich, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. James Spigarelli, nutrition chairman; Mrs. Aldrich, housing chairman. Miss Reid, leader, led the group in a general review. The next meeting will be October 23 at Mrs. Jack Travis' on Hanford road.

Did You Know That

There will be a regular meeting of the Townsend club at the Grange hall Monday evening.

Walter Richwine who recently resigned a temporary position he had at the postoffice to accept a full time position with a finance company in Detroit, is pleased with his new connection. The Salvation Army is anxious to secure the donation of a single bed and springs. It is for the use of a cripple, say Army officials. Any one having a bed spring can donate it by calling the Salvation Army Captain at phone number 575-J.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blunk and son, Douglas, were entertained at dinner, Sunday, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mummy.

Jonas Carlson, who has spent the past three months with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vickstrom, returned Thursday morning to his home in Cadillac.

Choir to Stage Minstrel Show

Event Scheduled for October 21 and 22

Maybe it is something new, something old—maybe it is something in-between—the minstrel show is going to be presented by members of the Methodist church choir on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, October 21 and 22 at the Methodist church house. Whether old or new, it is going to be good, there is no question about that.

That's right—choir members are going to appear as blackface minstrels. Of course there will be an interlocutor, end men, a chorus, dancers and an orchestra. Dick Chilson, chief of the publicity staff for this big event, says it is really going to be two shows in one, and it is going to be a screamingly hilarious burlesque. Maybe, he says, it ought to be referred to as "an Olio just preceding the minstrel proper."

The entertainment is being sponsored for the benefit of the Methodist choir. According to Mr. Chilson, the event is going to be really worthwhile—and will provide a lot of good fun in these troubled times.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde entertained at dinner, Sunday, the following guests, Mr. and Mrs. B. Belden, of Royal Oak, Mrs. Ruhle and Mrs. Marie Gerking, of Detroit. Miss Clara Wolf, who had spent three weeks in Royal Oak visiting in the Belden home, returned with them to Plymouth.

Career Is Ended

MRS. KATHERINE ALLEN
(This picture is an enlargement made from a kodak picture taken of Mrs. Allen but a short time before she became ill. She died last Saturday.)

Mrs. Katherine Allen died after a brief illness. She was born and lived a long, happy, useful life. Mrs. Katherine M. Allen, one of Plymouth's most prominent residents, died last Saturday morning following an illness of several weeks. Her passing removes one of the strongest ties of the present day progressive city of Plymouth with the Plymouth of years gone by, for it was her father, the distinguished E. J. Penniman who had much to do with the early development of this community.

Then followed the public activities of her husband, the late W. O. Allen, and for the past quarter of a century or more, there has been no more liberal, although unheralded contributor, to the upbuilding of Plymouth than Mrs. Allen. It was her delight to aid any worthy cause or any worthy person, but it was aid given without ostentation and without public knowledge. No one will ever know how extensive were her gifts to the churches, to charity and to other worthy purposes and individuals. Probably every established church in the community has at some time been aided through

Ask Contributions For Hallowe'en

A campaign is under way by the finance committee of the Civic Hallowe'en committee to raise funds to provide means for purchasing refreshments for Plymouth kiddies on Hallowe'en night.

Under the direction of Frank Walsh, Michael Huber, Charles Cushman and Glenn Jewell, contribution boxes are being placed in Plymouth stores this week-end. Local residents are asked to contribute a few cents so that ample funds can be raised for procuring entertainment and refreshments for the children.

America Is Headed Directly for A Shooting War, John L. Lovett Tells Chamber of Commerce

Banquet Notes

Sale of tickets for the banquet just equalled the capacity of the dining room. It has been frequently suggested that steps be taken to enlarge the banquet hall of the hotel so that larger crowds can be accommodated.

President Earl Russell of the C. of C. has reason to be highly pleased with the first banquet under his administration. He presided at the affair most acceptably.

Manager Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower gave the banquet guests not only a splendid menu, but excellent service.

John Blyton, who opened the program, told one of those good stories that he puts over in such a way that every one is pleased.

Chauncey Rauch had charge of the musical program. He had a group of singers from the high school, who demonstrated real ability.

Edward C. Hough, an old friend of the speaker, was unable to be present because of the fact that the wedding anniversary of the Houghs was being celebrated.

The speaker following his address, asked for questions from the floor. He answered them in a direct and forceful way. The question and answer feature of public meetings has become a most interesting feature these days.

Plan Benefit For Milk Fund

Bridge Party to Be Held Nov. 5

At a meeting of the Central grade school P.T.A. Wednesday, plans were discussed for the benefit card party to be given on November 5. The emergency fund is in need of more cash and the members of the association are anxious to have their first benefit a real success.

Mrs. William Arscott was appointed general chairman of the committee which will direct the affair. She will be assisted by Mesdames Blossom, Alex Floyd, Edward, Dobbs, Thomas Phillips, Vaua Campbell, Nellie Bird, Eugene Benson, Murray O'Neil, and June Jewell and Grace Robinson.

Funds are used chiefly for the purchase of crackers and milk for needy school children, and no one knows better than do the teachers how beneficial during past years this little aid has proven in a large number of cases. The members of the Association are hopeful that they will be able to raise a very substantial sum at the forthcoming event. There is now on hand only $198.12, raised chiefly from dues.

All Invited to Church Mission

St. Michael's Plans Special Series

Father John E. Contway, pastor of St. Michael church in Rosedale Gardens, yesterday announced that beginning on Sunday, October 19 and continuing through Sunday, October 26, there will be conducted a mission at the church to which all non-Catholics as well as Catholics are invited.

Paulist Father, the Rev. Bertrand Robert, C. S. P., will conduct the mission. He is one of Michigan's best known churchmen and his coming to Rosedale Gardens is regarded as an event of more than ordinary importance.

The mission constitutes a series of sermons and lectures which seeks to provide information to non-catholic friends as well as Catholics, as to what the beliefs of the church really are and what it teaches.

The doctrines and practices of the church are explained and demonstrated in all friendliness and the questions of non-Catholic friends are answered through the question box method. The lectures also show how practical are the aims of the teachings of the church in solving the problems of every day life.

Father Contway has issued a warm welcome and a cordial invitation to all to attend the series.

Evening services will be at 7:45 p.m. Sunday masses will take place at 8 and 11 o'clock. Week-day masses will be at 6 and 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Erland Bridge will accompany a few ladies from Garden City today (Friday) to a luncheon meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service to be held in the Metropolitan Methodist church in Detroit.

Sees No Way to Avoid Conflict

Believes It Will Be Five Years Before Hitler Falls

John L. Lovett, secretary-manager of the Michigan Manufacturers Association in speaking before the annual banquet of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night left no doubt in the minds of those present as to what he believed the future holds for the United States.

It is a shooting war—and it will not be a brief war.

"We are engaged in a great defense effort," he said, "and now that we are in it, I see no way of backing out."

"Even though the United States has declared war on no one, we are in the war up to our ears.

"It is impossible, from any information which I have, to see the end of this under five years. It will take at least three years for the United States to manufacture the equipment and to train two million men in its use. It will take another year to move the men and equipment to Europe because they have not a year to whip Hitler when it gets there.

"We should not put ourselves to sleep with the idea that we are not going to be in a shooting war, nor that we will not send men to Europe," he continued.

"In the light of that situation, we might examine the present situation. We are engaged in a great defense effort, and now that we are in it, I see no way of backing out. That effort is going to disarrange our daily lives as no effort has in our lifetime. Non-essential industries are not going to get materials. Men who are not skilled will find jobs few. Manufacturers, in many instances, will be forced to close their plants because they have no equipment to manufacture the modern type of mechanical equipment used in war. Theirs are industries that cannot be used to make instruments of death.

"The goods on the shelves of retailers will be limited and we shall probably find ourselves fairly well rationed on many items, if we can get them at all.

"Thousands of workers are going in to work in the transition period from our peacetime production to the manufacture of war instruments. Many of these men, who have been for years in peacetime industry, will find that they have not the skill nor the ability to become skillful enough to work in this highly specialized nature of the means of destruction.

"The cost in dollars will be tremendous. Already the public debt is close to sixty billion dollars, and mounting rapidly. We have the heaviest tax burden in the history of the nation. That is only a starter, we are told by Washington. I anticipate that our public debt will probably reach one hundred fifty billion dollars. It would not surprise me if we reached a tax rate that takes half of the income in the low income brackets.

"We in the Middle West do not realize to what extent the Administration has committed this nation.

"On the eastern seaboard, you will find a strong opinion in support of the Administration's activities. In New York they can see Hitler's bombing planes circling around the Empire State building. In Boston, they can see the Commons blasted full of holes, and rowboats being used to cross the Charles River.

"The South wants war. Cotton is high, and all that can be grown is being sold at high prices. But from the Appalachian Mountains on the East to the Pacific Ocean on the West, the people don't want war. They are hoping that we will not be in the war. They are hoping that if we do get in the war that most of our boys will be sent overseas.

"And this hope makes us reluctant here to realize what is ahead of our nation, and what is ahead of us as individuals."

Mr. Lovett declared that in behalf of Michigan industry he had been complaining bitterly to officials in Washington because there are so few contracts being let in this state for defense production.

"Plants are built in the south or southwest, and contracts are not let until those new government-owned plants are built and equipped, while our equipment here lies idle," he continued.

"It is hoped that before a big shutdown in the motor car industry comes in January, that the Government will be supplying enough contracts in this district. I mean, contracts on which manufacturers can be started at once—to take up a lot of this slack. If it does not, we are going to

JayGees Plan to Attend Banquet

Plymouth Members Invited to Dearborn

An invitation has been received by members of the Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce, to attend the southeastern Michigan District's Junior Chamber of Commerce's President's Night Banquet to be held in Dearborn, Michigan at the Dearborn Inn, Friday night, at 7 p.m. on October 24. Representatives of the Plymouth Chamber have attended organizational meetings in Dearborn recently. There are 14 Chambers in this district and more than 300 are expected to attend the Dearborn affair.

The banquet sponsored by the Dearborn Chamber is to be held in honor of Walter Finke, national president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce from Chicago, Illinois. Finke, elected to his post last year, is a Minnesota man and will bring the Chamberites in this area the story of how the National State and local chambers are carrying on with the dark cloud of war hanging lowly on the horizon.

The Dearborn Chamber's committee sponsoring the party, headed by John K. Schuessler, chairman and vice-chairman, Leo Simplicio, with their group, have planned a program that will feature Mayor John L. Carey of Dearborn, and the main speaker, Walter Finke. Robert Allen Boyer, a Ford Motor company plastic Chemist and honorary member of the Dearborn Chamber will also be on the program talking on "Plastics and Their Place in Future Industry" and entertainment will be supplied by the Ford Motor company.

Dearborn was selected for the affair by the State Organization early this year because of its central location. The same night, the Dearborn Chamber will honor its Boss's combining Boss's Night and the President's Affair in one celebration.

Prison Officer in Boxing Series

Ed Frank in Heavyweight Clash

Officer Ed Frank, House of Correction guard and former heavyweight champion of the U. S. army, will climb into the ring at Olympia stadium in Detroit this (Friday) evening, Oct. 17 to compete in one of the 64 bouts scheduled for the International White Heavyweight tournament. Many Plymouth fight-fans are expected to attend the tournament to see the local contende in action.

Frank, who is six feet three inches tall and weighs 210 pounds, was heavyweight champion in the army when stationed in Hawaii ten years ago and has competed in many professional bouts in the last ten years. Frank went nine rounds with Max Baer in 1935 and has fought several "name" fighters.

Officer George Gillies of the House of Correction has taken over the management of Chal Jenger Frank and is supervising his training for the fight tournament which has been dubbed "The White Hope" bout. Frank works out each day in the gymnasium at the House of Correction for ten rounds and does road work each morning between the prison and Northville.

Seeks Aid for Next Year's Work

Salvation Army Tells of Efforts

The Plymouth Salvation Army corps is staging its annual home service appeal the second week in October for the maintenance of its program in this community for another year. There will be a house to house canvass of the city by local members of the Army and interested citizens who wish the Army's program to go on.

There will be window displays in the windows of some of the stores depicting the various phases of Army activity in this community. The Army's Service report tells of a very worthy work, much of which is efficiently done "behind the scenes."

Mr. Plymouth Gas & Oil Co.:
I read your columns in the Plymouth Mail last week about your great motor oil, and it did prove to me to be a great oil. I own a Packard, and I use the best oil, as well as gas. I used your products on my last Sunday's trip with my family. My car never gives me any trouble because I buy the best. I use my car every day in my business. Just last week I drove a friend of mine to the northern part of the state to sell him a farm. I sold him and closed the deal all on the same trip. After we had returned home that evening he turned to me and said, "Say, pal, confidentially, where did you buy your oil and gas for this wonderful trip? ... Why I buy mine there too."

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

BY W.W. REID

American Jews have recently contributed $500,000 to the Jewish National Fund of America and this has been sent to the Jerusalem headquarters of the Fund as a "New Year message of encouragement," it is announced by Dr. Israel Goldstein, president of the organization in America. The Fund is used by the Jewish people for the acquisition and reclamation of the soil of the Holy Land as property of the race and nation.

The United Lutheran church is considering a wide expansion of its missionary work in South America, following the recent visit to that continent of Dr. Samuel Texter, head of the United Lutheran Synod of New York, and president of the denomination's Board of Foreign Missions. Dr. Texter is also recommending that some of the young men of South America be brought to theological seminaries in the United States for training for ministry to their native countries. At the present time, the Lutherans have missions in Argentina and British Guiana under the care of a dozen American missionaries and forty national workers.

A number of medical missionaries in both Asia and Africa are looking with interest at successful cures which the U. S. Indian Service has effected for trachoma sufferers among the American Indians. If this treatment can be used as effectively by medical missionaries overseas, one of their great problems will be solved. Scientists say that trachoma is endemic over half the world's surface. More than half the trachoma victims in the United States are Indians. Dr. Fred Loe, for 20 years an Indian Service physician, has begun the treatment of several victims by daily doses of sulfanilamide pills taken internally. Heretofore all treatment for the disease has been external. The first Indians to whom the pills were given were discharged as "arrested" within a month. They had been under treatment externally for several years without improvement. Medical men believe this "magic drug" is on the way to conquering trachoma.

Scarrit College, Nashville, Tennessee, which prepared young men and young women for Christian and missionary work, claims to have one of the most international student bodies of any school in America. Numbered among its students this fall are representative young people and missionaries - on furlough from Algeria, Brazil, Burma, China, Congo Belge, Cuba, Java, Japan, Korea, Malaya, Mexico, and the Philippine Islands.

"Recent evidences of anti-Jewish prejudice in our own country compel us to speak again a word of solemn warning to the nation," says a statement of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. "Divisiveness on religious or racial grounds is a potent menace to American democracy. If one group is made the target of attack today, the same spirit of intolerance may be visited on another group tomorrow and the rights and liberties of every group thus be put in jeopardy. We condemn anti-Semitism as un-American. Even more strongly we condemn anti-Semitism as unchristian. In churches which comprise the Federal Council we voice our renewed determination to unite in combating every tendency to anti-Semitism in our country. We recognize that a special responsibility rests upon us, who belong to the numerically strongest group, to be staunch advocates of the rights of minorities. We pledge our best efforts in their defense."

Dr. Charles A. Ainslie and those associated with him in the American Hospital of the Presbyterian Mission, Guatemala City, have given Guatemala three important "firsts": They organized the nation's first school for training nurses, gave the country its first modern sanitary hospital, and introduced the first hospital ambulance. The Hospital has been described as an important factor in breaking down prejudice against the evangelical gospel.

Bull's Eye No. 101: Driving an old rut is both expensive and monotonous, and takes skill and effort to get out—yet when once out, care is taken not to get in again. Most churches are in a rut—listen, it is worth the risk and effort to get out—why not try it?

have unemployment and distress.
"I am frequently asked why it is necessary to shut out the non-essential manufacturers from their supplies. There are certain critical materials unquestionably. There is a shortage of aluminum, magnesium and, perhaps, copper. But the copper mines in Michigan are still closed down. I don't think there is any shortage of steel, but it is on the critical list. We have capacity for producing about 100 million tons of steel a year in this country. We were using, up to the time of the defense program, about 60 million tons per year. We certainly have not fabricating facilities counting in all the defense projects, that would use more than 30 million tons of steel per year. I think 25 million would be nearer the correct figure, but to allow for any kind of a contingency, we cannot possibly use in defense more than 50 million tons of steel per year, which will leave a surplus of 50 million tons for distribution to those so-called non-essential industries. Well, 50 million tons of steel to those industries would very well take care of their desires, keep their men at work and save these companies from going out of business.

"I believe that the Administration should definitely decide whether it is in this program for the purpose of defeating totalitarian governments, or whether it is in the defense program for the purpose of foisting a lot of social theories upon the people of the United States. I think the President believes in the Free Enterprise System, but I am not so sure that there are not many of his close associates who much prefer national socialism to the Free Enterprise System. Certainly the activities of the Administration ought to be examined by every citizen to make sure that the motives are defense and not the loss of the Free Enterprise System and, with it, freedom of religion, freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

"I believe that the fundamental thing that we must save in this country is the Free Enterprise System. Ordinarily, I would have no fear of the people ever letting go of their personal liberties which they enjoy in America as in no other country in the world. But what I do fear now is that we will lose these privileges by having them whittled away one by one by executive order and executive action as we are being led into war by such action.

"The point I want to make about this whole war situation is this: I object strenuously to being led into war or having our liberties taken away from us surreptitiously and by piecemeal. The Constitution of the United States says that Congress shall have the power to declare war. I think the Administration ought to go to Congress and frankly say, 'We are in a war' and ask Congress to act within its constitutional power. You and I know that if Hitler is to be destroyed, it means war, and we have been told that Hitler must be destroyed. So why not be honest with ourselves and have a war? I feel strongly that the time has come when the people of the United States are entitled to be taken into the confidence of the Administration, and the time has further come for Congress to assume its constitutional rights and prerogatives and represent the people.

"I have no doubt in my own mind that in the end Hitlerism and all dictator governments will be wiped out or fall by the wayside. And, further, I have no doubt that our war problems are going to be serious and many, and that England will be one of those who will give us the worst battle in the world for foreign trade. But we are in a situation which we must face, and we should face it knowingly. I think the time has come when we can no longer kid ourselves that in some way or in some manner we must avoid the terrible pressure of a war affecting the United States.

"Now, as to Michigan. As I have indicated, Michigan will play a prominent part in the conduct of the war. As Mr. Hendrickson said yesterday, 'By the end of next year I expect 45 percent of the facilities in this district to be utilized for the production of war material.' I have no doubt that is true.

"Therefore, the problems of Michigan governmentally and politically are insignificant compared to the one job to which we seem to have dedicated ourselves nationally. That being so, the elections of Michigan next year are going to be settled on national issues. There are few State issues. The State has plenty of money and there is no need for further taxes. There is no need for further legislation upon any subject that I can think of at the moment. The next election will be one that is settled upon emotional and national issues and not upon whether we had an economical administration in Lansing, of whether Civil Service is good or bad for the State.

"We are flirting with the idea of having a Constitutional Convention. Certainly such a thing should not take place in these abnormal times. What we ought to do, in the next primary and election, is to return to office those men who have given a good honest substantial account of themselves, both Congress and State officials, and to defeat those who attempt to ride into office on the emotions of the moment.

"In conclusion, let me say that I have faith that the Free Enterprise System of the United States will stand when the public is awakened. I do not believe there is any substantial number who want to give up what we have in America for the kind of government that is anywhere else in the world. Our government may be inefficient and expensive, which is more the man than the system, but we still want it, and the privileges and freedoms it guarantees us. So I hope as we go out of here tonight, we will weigh particularly the thought and belief that for several years to come we are engaged in a gigantic campaign to preserve, not only the rest of the world from totalitarian governments and dictatorships, but also the United States.

Mrs. Allen

the gifts of Mrs. Allen. Her philanthropic spirit was doubtless inspired by that of her father, who saw to it that every boy and girl in and around Plymouth received a 25-cent piece as a gift at Christmas time. If he came to his home and wished him a Merry Christmas.

It would never have been known if it had remained for Mrs. Allen to tell it, but every Plymouth boy called into service during the last World War was presented with a beautiful gold wrist-watch by Mrs. Allen before he left for service in Uncle Sam's army. It was through the gratefulness of the soldiers that this kindly deed on her part became public.

She was intensely loyal to her friends and associates, especially was she devoted to the friends she had known since early childhood. The home occupied during her lifetime was built in the early days of Plymouth by her father. During her early life much of the social activities of the community centered in the spacious residence that has been one of the show places in this part of Wayne county. It is located on Penniman avenue, in a place that older residents recall as the "Penniman woods." As the community grew and as this attractive part of the city built up, most of the trees disappeared, except those that surround the residence, which Mrs. Allen, like her father, protected with all the zeal of the most ardent lover of nature.

It was but natural for her to be especially interested in community affairs, for her father was the organizer and first president of Plymouth's First National bank and among her possessions was one of the dollar bills issued by the bank with her father's signature attached to the currency.

Although interested in extensive business matters and the real estate development of the community, her father found time to take an active interest in all public affairs. He became one of the outstanding political leaders of the city and served as a member of congress from this district, having been elected on the Whig party ticket. He was one of the original leaders in the anti-slavery movement.

It fell to his distinction also to be one of the organizers of the Republican party at the famous convention "Under the Stars and Jackson." Before this Mr. Penniman had served in various capacities in village and township offices. Mrs. Allen, who had been brought up in a home that teemed with interest in community, state and national development, just naturally had more than an ordinary interest in these affairs.

The street on which she lived was named in honor of her father. The beautiful little Penniman-Allen park that lies to the east of the old homestead was named in tribute to both her father and her husband.

In the days when Plymouth badly needed business structures, Mrs. Allen built the Penniman-Allen block on Penniman avenue. During her school days she was intensely interested in amateur theatricals, and much of the amusement provided in the community in the years gone by was due to her energetic organization and direction of these entertainments.

She was married August 18, 1886 in Detroit to William O. Allen, who was also born in Plymouth and had grown up in the community with his bride. In early life he became interested in the home building development of the village, and had much to do with the later development of the western side of the community. He was a director of the Plymouth United Savings bank and one of the first directors of the Buick Motor Car company of Flint.

The passing of Mrs. Allen leaves but one near surviving relative of this distinguished Plymouth family, Mrs. Sarah Penniman Burgess, widow of the well known Dr. Claude Burgess of Detroit. She was a niece of Mrs. Allen, being the daughter of Julius Penniman, a brother of Mrs. Allen, who died a number of years ago. Also surviving is a grand niece, Mrs. Benjamin Stockwell of Detroit, and a cousin, Miss Mary Conner of this city.

home Monday afternoon was largely attended, attesting the esteem in which she was held in the community. Rev. Walter Nichol, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiated. Bearers were those who had long been associated with Mrs. Allen in the management and care of her properties. They were Julius Kaiser, Manna Blunk, Harry Lush, John John, Allen Bernash, and Sam Stremich. Her remains were laid to rest in the family mausoleum in Riverside cemetery.

Ford Cars for '42 Stress Safety

Lower Body Styles Are Big Factor

The Ford car for 1942, powered with either an advanced six-cylinder engine or the famous V-8, went on display today in dealers' salesrooms throughout the country.

Featuring new exterior lines and new styling within, the 1942 Ford car was disclosed to be lower, safer and easier riding than any of its more than 29,000,000 predecessors.

Either of the optional, Ford engines delivers 90 horsepower. Their performance is even higher than before, and operating economy has been improved through a long series of engineering refinements.

Although production of 1942 Ford cars will be sharply curtailed as the immense program of defense work being carried out by the company gets into full swing, Ford engineers declare the new cars are unquestionably the finest in the 38 years of the company's history. While some new materials have replaced old ones because of defense requirements, the change has meant added manufacturing cost rather than any let-down in service or appearance of the parts affected.

Three lines of Ford cars are offered—the Super DeLuxe, the DeLuxe and the economy Special. The first two are equipped at the factory with either the six or eight-cylinder engine. The Special is offered with the six-cylinder power plant only.

In appearance the new cars are larger and more massive. A completely new frontal design has a low, wide grille of bright metal as its dominant feature. Headlamps and auxiliary lamps are recessed in the front of the wider fenders, and the fenders themselves flow smoothly into the body lines to accentuate the general streamlined effect of the car's styling.

Bodies flare out at the bottom concealing the running boards completely. The Super DeLuxe models have bright exterior moldings around all windows as an additional style touch.

Advanced style innovations are evident in the interior treatment of the 1942 Ford cars. Most striking of these are found in the Super DeLuxe body styles which this year reach a new high in luxury and comfort. Leather and cloth upholstery are used in combination to achieve an appealing two-tone effect in a variety of colors and fabrics.

The new instrument panel in all three Ford lines is exceptionally attractive, with instruments designed for easy reading. The speedometer, and a thirty-hour clock in the Super DeLuxe, now have large circular dials, one on either side of the new plastic radio speaker panel. Most of the other instruments are grouped directly in front of the driver.

One of the chief engineering advances in the 1942 car is a softer and more stable ride. The car tread—that is, the width between wheels—has been widened two and a quarter inches in front and one and three-quarters inches in the rear. Springs have been redesigned and lengthened. Double-action high-pressure type hydraulic shock absorbers are provided all around. The effect of the improvements is to produce a "velvet" ride, even on rough country roads.

Bodies are of all-steel construction. No wood whatever is used in the body structure. They have been very carefully sound engineered and are remarkably quiet, in part because rubber is used at all points of metallic contact as a sound insulator or vibration absorber.

Additional power, greater fuel economy and improved cooling of the 1942 engines highlight the year's engineering advances on the engines. Faster acceleration and improved climbing ability have been brought about through a "streamlined" exhaust system which permits faster disposal of exhaust gases, reduced back pressure and correspondingly improved performance. The compression of the Ford V-8 90-horsepower engine has been maintained at 6.50, and the compression of the 90-horsepower six-cylinder engine is 6.70.

There are six Super DeLuxe body types, including a convertible club coupe with quarter windows in the sides of the top for the rear seat passengers, and an eight-passenger station wagon. The Super DeLuxe cars are available with a choice of six colors, all in the durable Ford baked synthetic enamel.

DeLuxe car body types are the Tudor sedan, Fordor sedan, coupe and a new sedan coupe, with a choice of three colors, which the Special body types are coupe and Fordor sedans. The Special comes in black only.

D.A.R. Plans Bridge Parties to Raise Funds For Student Loans

During the last 18 years more than 5000 boys and girls in the United States have been helped by D.A.R. Student Loans.

These funds are divided into state, chapter and private memorial groupings.

Michigan's funds are exceeded in size only by those of Texas and Georgia.

At present 39 boys and 39 girls in this state are being helped by D.A.R. loans.

The principle established for this purpose, being a revolving one, due to the almost perfect record of re-payments, may be used again and again.

One young man inducted into the army last June has been unable to continue his re-payments, but there has been no other exception in the last five years.

Administrators of the fund credit this fine record to the high scholastic and moral standards on which applicants are selected.

Recently a ruling has been made that funds may be loaned for business and professional training, and more requests have come for this type of loan than for any other. In fact, worthy applicants have had to be refused due to the exhaustion of funds.

The Sarah Ann Cochran chapter expects to materially add to its loan fund through the sale of tickets for six benefit bridge parties to be held at the homes of Mrs. George Wilcox, Mrs. Henry Baker, Mrs. Earl Mastick, Mrs. Merle Bennett, and Mrs. Walter Hammond in Plymouth and at Mrs. Adelbert Hahn's home in Northville on October 30 at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Lawrence E. Lyons is general chairman of the benefit. Any one wishing to attend may contact Mrs. Lyon or one of the hostesses.

Deep freezer and storage cabinet on "Hook's Acres" farm, Livingston County

OLD SMOKEHOUSE
becomes MODERN QUICK-FREEZE ROOM

Farmers like to freeze their own fruits, vegetables, and meats, and are finding the new deep freezer and storage cabinets convenient and profitable. Here is what Mr. Robert K. Herbst, Manager of "Hook's Acres," near Brighton, says about the installation pictured here:

"We converted a 75-year-old smokehouse into our own meat, fruit and vegetable market by installing a below-zero storage plant. Now we have our own fresh foods right at our back door all year long. We supply the table with our own beef, pork and lamb, and this winter we will enjoy fresh strawberries, raspberries, peas and beans. This solves many problems for the one who prepares the meals. In addition to the convenience, we find the cold storage box a real economy—in time, food, and money."

Deep freezer and storage cabinets are available in a wide variety of sizes and types. For further information, ask your Edison Farm Man or drop a postcard to The Detroit Edison Company, Farm Service Division.

Fralick Parking Lot Good Idea

Harry Robinson Says City Needs It

"Glad to see that the city plans to make Fralick avenue into a good parking area. It's one of the best ideas the city has had in a long time," said Harry C. Robinson yesterday when discussing the crowded parking condition in the city Saturday nights.

"With the new parking lot that has already been opened, which is a good one, and the proposed new parking lot in Fralick avenue, the city will have solved some of its parking difficulties for some time to come. There is one thing we must not forget, Plymouth is growing like a weed and we must take care of the automobiles of people who come here to trade," added Mr. Robinson.

The Fralick avenue parking project has been recommended to the city commission by the planning board. It is a problem that the city officials hope to act upon in the near future.

Russell Barnes Now in Europe

Plymouth Speech Was Last in U. S.

Plymouth Rotarians who a few weeks ago heard the interesting talk by Russell Barnes, war analyst of The Detroit News, will be interested in knowing that he is now in England where he is making a first hand study of the war situation in that country.

His talk before the Plymouth Rotarians was the last one he made before boarding one of the bombers being flown across the Atlantic.

Pictures Wanted

Pictures are wanted for exhibit by the Camera club. Anyone connected with the school can enter as long as they contribute school activities. Please put your negative and a print into an envelope and give it to Louis Kolin. All prints and negatives will be returned. Remember this is not a contest. Let's have all the pictures we can get.

Junior Dance Committees Chosen

The committees for the Junior Dance, to be held October 17, were announced by Ione Stuart, president of the class. The adviser for the decorations and publicity committee is Miss Fry and the chairman is Bob Wolf. Miss Saffell and Signe Hegge have charge of the choreone committee. Mary Lorraine Geary is chairman of the tickets assisted by Mr. Latture. Miss Killham is adviser for the music with Sally Jean Haas the chairman. Marileta Martin is the head of refreshments with Miss Bryce helping her. The clean-up committee has Rosemary Ray as its chairman and Mr. Bentley as its adviser.

Girl Scouts Hold Cook-Out

Girl Scout Troop I under the leadership of Miss Sweet went on a cook-out to Tramps Hollow October 8. The purpose of the trip was to give the girls a chance to pass their second class rank requirements in outdoor activities. Miss Olmstead accompanied them.

Girl Scout Troop II, senior high group, has Miss Hatcher as their new leader.

The largest gypsum deposits in the world are located in Alabaster, Michigan. Scientists estimate that if no other sources of gypsum were available the Wolverine state supply is sufficient to take care of all plaster needs by the United States building industry for the next 200 years.

Mrs. Alexander Sanislaw of Northville pleasantly entertained her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Hayball at a 8 o'clock dinner Monday of last week in honor of their forty-ninth wedding anniversary.

Night School Homemaking

The adult night school homemaking classes have had two lessons, the first on canning with Mrs. L. Goodale, one of Plymouth's outstanding homemakers, giving a worthwhile demonstration. The second concerned baking, expressly rolls and variations, with Mrs. C. Hamilton, another Plymouth homemaker, demonstrating this lesson. In the night school homemaking classes emphasis is being placed on balancing meals for better nutrition.

Twelve Admitted To Leaders' Club

Leaders' Club is planning an initiation party for the 12 freshmen girls who are to be admitted. There will be two initiations—one formal, to be held at school; the other an informal party taking place at Lois Vetal's home. Committees have been chosen with Marileta Martin general chairman, assisted by these girls, who each is the chairman of a committee: Food, Virginia Dunham; informal initiation, Barbara Sawyer and Norma Robinson; formal initiation, Pat Evans; program committee, Anabelle Heller; cleanup, the executive board.

Free T.B. Tests To Be October 21

Through the aid of the Detroit Tuberculosis society, tuberculosis tests will be given for the juniors and seniors October 21. The society obtains its money from the sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals. These tests will be entirely free; if anyone is thought to have tuberculosis, X-rays will be given also.

Because the number of tests is limited, they will not be given next year and so this is the last chance for the juniors to have it done. Mrs. Strasen urges each and everyone to take these.

Band Appears Twice Oct. 10

When the curtains of the stage were pulled Friday of last week to reveal only four drummers and the band president, it caused quite a commotion which was immediately halted when the drummers went into a routine and then into a roll-off bringing to view, from the side door of the gymnasium, the entire band blaring the school song. The band marched up the center aisle and on to the stage and took their places to help the spirit of both junior and senior high pep assemblies. Their contributions at the junior high assembly were the school song, and a march, "Test Pilot." At senior high they were the school song, the "March of the Steel Men" featuring four trumpets and four trombones, and a new band yell. The band appeared again between halves of the Plymouth-Ypsilanti football game to play the letters P and Y after leading a parade from the high school to the field. The band will appear next at the Ecorse game Friday.

Ypsi Drives Back Reserves, 12-6

Ypsi Central slashed their way to a muddy victory over Plymouth's Reserves last Thursday on their terrain to the tune of 6-0. The defeat was their scoring in the first and third quarters while the Rocks crossed the goal line in the third.

The line was composed of the following: Ends, Bob Labbe and Dale Wisely; tackles, Aubry, Hoover; guards, Dick Wisely, Butler; center, Jack Labbe. In the backfield were Newton, Hall, Ward, Leamon. There were three substitutes, Cummings, Williams and Schife.

Beth Livingstone Manager of Bowling

Both Livingstone was appointed manager of the bowling league this year, with Hazel Pankow as secretary. Playing is to be held Wednesday and Thursday nights. Girls living in Rosedale Gardens are to bowl at the Livonia Recreation on Wednesday nights. Anyone who cannot play at least two games or who is unable to come every time will not be able to enter the league.

Rocks Beat Ypsi In Rain, 20-0

The Rocks won the kick-off in the game against Ypsi last Friday. While defending the south goal with strong west wind, they were forced to kick from the west side of the field. The kick was taken deep in Ypsilanti territory with the man gaining very few yards before he was brought down. The Rocks held them for four downs. The first time Plymouth took the ball, Sessions, on a reverse play, carried the ball over for a touchdown. Sequin, seconds later, made good the conversion. Later in the quarter Ypsi had the ball on the Rocks' 18-yard line. A line buck took them to the one-yard line where Plymouth held them for two downs, after which they punted out of danger. The quarter continued to bring running plays with no score.

After being hit hard in the second quarter "Pinky" Folsom had a temporary loss of memory, but was in the game again in the third quarter. A few minutes later, Sessions intercepted a pass and ran 20 yards before being brought down. With two line bucks and an end run, the Rocks forced the ball over for a touchdown. A few seconds later the kick went wild. The rest of the quarter was scoreless.

Early in the third quarter it started to rain, making the ball slippery and hard to handle. The Rocks kicked off. Slowly coming up the field in spite of the many fumbles was Ypsi, until Hunt intercepted a pass and ran 35 yards to Ypsi's 10-yard line before being tackled. With two line plunges the Rocks plunged their way to a touchdown. The conversion was good a few seconds later. The remainder of the quarter both teams passed and ran the ball with no scoring.

The weather cleared in the first minutes of the last quarter. Plymouth worked the ball on running plays, deep into Ypsi territory where they lost the ball on an intercepted pass. The remaining part of the game the teams tried hard to gain ground by running and passing plays.

Since the Rocks defeated them only 13-0, the Rocks expect to down the latter 7-0.

Outstanding Pep Meeting Held

Perhaps the best pep meeting Plymouth has seen in years was held last Friday morning. Louise Carter made a startling exhibition of baton twirling and the band played "March of the Steel Men," featuring an ensemble of trumpets and trombones. Several velders were led by the new cheer leaders; then the band led their own drill. The players and the managers were introduced by Mr. Matulis. To conclude the assembly everyone sang the school song.

Behind Scenes

We got our nose caught again in the mouse trap of unimportant events in and around old P.H.S. when we suddenly became aware of the fact that a boy's stomach can do things to him which it is in a vacuumated state of affairs. We caught ourselves going out the front door one third hour when we should have been going to physics. . . And we had our lessons done, too!

It may be a bit early for Christmas, BUT—one day we were sitting in the big arm chair by the window gazing over the Pilgrim Prints, as if we already didn't know what was happening, had happened, or going to happen, when a big Hudson's truck bounded into our not-too-smooth driveway. The driver crawled way back into the heap of packages and proceeded to pile boxes, ranging in size from shoe boxes to hat boxes and then some, into the front seat. "Migawshi!" we moaned as we pictured ourselves showing a meaningless approval to some "hat." "Are all those things for us?" As if in reply the driver joyfully bounced out of the capacious inners with a bottle of perfume.

While on the subject of "hats" we almost collected on our accident insurance when we hovered a bit too close to L. N.'s, ah, er, "hat." It is a bright red; we know that. But from there on we had to guess. It faintly suggests a fugitive from a Bunde for Britain. We might call it a half completed sock. On the other hand, it could be a misplaced wool muff. But anyhow, what really caught our eye, figuratively speaking, were four of the meanest looking darned needles we ever saw, neatly stuck in the open tip of this "thing" ready for immediate action.

Class News

Mr. Goodman's third and sixth hour geography classes are learning the names and capitals of all the states in the United States.

Remember that attendance record in Mr. Goodman's third hour class? Two more days have been added making a grand total of five continuous days of perfect attendance.

Miss Delaforte, our new typing teacher, reports a total of one hundred and ninety-nine students in her six classes.

The 1941 edition of the Americana can now be found in the library. The thirty new encyclopedias replace the 1931 edition which has been on the shelves.

A new part containing a classified index is a helpful addition to this set of books.

Mrs. Soule's eighth grade sewing classes are making broomstick skirts this week. Some are making jenkins to match. At the same time her beginners' classes, '7B, are learning the principal parts of and to thread and operate the sewing machine.

Mr. Reeves' class in world geography is doing research work on glaciation. Pupils are learning how it multiplied the relief especially in Michigan and the northern Ohio Valley.

His commercial geography class is also doing research work. They are now studying the paper industry and its location.

Mrs. Hecox led her ninth grade sewing classes on a field trip to Taylor and Blyton's department store October 8. The girls were especially interested in cotton materials but the trip also included study of corduroy and velvet.

Mr. Blyton, explaining what it was that increases or decreases the prices of the various types of materials.

For the first time in many weeks Miss Allen's twelfth grade English class went for one week with no one absent.

Miss Hunter's 9B English class is making sketches of scenes portrayed in "The Ancient Mariner" which they are now studying. Joyce Hartzell is also making an altabross of clay in art class.

An excellent record has been made in Mr. Goodman's third hour geography class, for there has been 100 per cent attendance for three days in a row. Perhaps it is the influence of the new teacher.

Mrs. Hecox's sewing I classes, including the eighth and ninth grades, have chosen patterns and fabrics, materials for their fall clothing projects, and intend to start making the article of their own choice, be it dress, skirt, blouse, or pajamas.

Both Mrs. Soule's ninth grade and Mrs. Hecox's seventh grade home making food classes are working on meal planning. Each day they plan three full meals and then prepare the breakfast. They must repeat this until they can prepare a good breakfast before they proceed to lunch and dinner.

Velma Kainey gave a report in the 7A Geography on animal life in the sea. She illustrated her talk by showing a collection of sea shells gathered from Florida, California and the Gulf of Mexico.

Miss Waldorf's eleventh grade English classes are giving their first oral speeches. The teacher reports that no one has fainted yet. Her classes also have been developing paragraphs from topic sentences. Since American literature is stressed in the eleventh grade, the juniors in her classes are writing accounts of American novels.

Miss Saffell's world history classes are making maps of the early Greek world.

Mr. Blunk's ninth grade vocational classes have started a library of catalogs and bulletins of colleges throughout the United States. Each student is sending for a bulletin which is to be left in the vocations room for the use of the other members.

The business training class, under the supervision of Mr. Blunk, has completed the study of banks and banking. The business forms used, the types of banks, and the services they render to the community were some points of discussion.

Five-minute speeches and two-minute rebuttals are being given by the debating squad for practice. They have divided into pairs to give these talks.

Once a week Miss Allen's twelfth grade English classes have a lesson from England of Song and Story, which furnishes a background for English literature. It contains chapters on games and sports; how London streets got their names; rascals

Senior Sketches

The ambition of Jane Ellen Lehman is to become an expert dietitian. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lehman of 225 Ann Arbor road but her birthplace is Detroit. Her hobby is sewing and her pet peeve is "bored people." She was the president of her class the first term of the freshman year, treasurer in the tenth grade, and secretary in the junior year. She has served on one of the J-Hop committees and belonged to Leaders' Club four years and Drama Club one year.

A senior who is very interested in dramatics is Charles Milton Bowdlear. He also likes photography. Charles lives at 11026 Melrose, Rosedale Gardens and is the son of Leslie Bowdlear. He was born in Greeley, Colorado and has traveled in north-west Canada and the western states. To become a speech teacher is Charles' aim. Accomplishments include Pilgrim Prints, Photography Club, and Dramatics. His pet peeve is surprise tests.

A quiet little Easterner is Margaret Ruth Bellfleur, niece of Mrs. Mary Walsh. This first Rosedale Gardener of the group lives at 11032 Auburndale. Born in Limestone, Maine, October 8, 1924, she has lived there until moving to this location a little over a year ago. Her hobby is collecting pictures of pretty girls; her pet peeves—well, they are too numerous to mention. Oh yes, her ambition is to be a stewardess.

Sylvia Helen Bassett, a true Girl Reserve, if there ever was one, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bassett of 33180 Ann Arbor Trail. She was born in the same house she now lives in on January 21, 1924, but has too many ambitions to stay in one place very long. Her pet peeve is women that smoke.

Shirley Mae Bernard, 11258 Laurel road, Plymouth, was born in Detroit, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bernard. Her chief hobby is her accordion, while her ambition is to be a buyer in a retail store. She is an active participant in all girls' sports. Her other activities are Girl Reporter for the Club, drum major, and she had a part in last year's junior play. Her pet peeve is women who wear slacks and high heeled shoes at the same time.

Glady Irene Badelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Badelt, was born in Garden City and has lived at 7760 Middle Belt road ever since. Her ambition is to be either a secretary or a stenographer. Her hobbies consist of playing piano, ice skating and snow sports of all kinds. Her pet peeve is seeing a short boy with a tall girl.

Plans for the Noon Program

As cold weather draws near more and more students will be eating their lunches in the school. Although there are no exact figures, about 200 will be buying their lunches fourth hour, 200 carrying their lunches fourth hour, and a combination of 300 students fifth hour.

This will bring a problem of room, entertainment, and places to study. Because of the large number who buy lunches, those who bring their fourth hour lunch will not be permitted to eat in the lunch room. It is also very inconvenient to have them study in there, as the girls must prepare the tables for fifth hour. Therefore, later on, a plan will be worked out for them to go to the library or another place to study.

The entertainment provided will be movies. Mr. Dykhouse plans to have them shown two or possibly three days a week. Clubs will fill the remaining days.

Musical Family Found in P.H.S.

The Ash family has a parallel in the musical field. Here at school this family is represented by two members, Bill and Harry. And the band claims both boys. Harry has the first chair in the trombone section while Bill occupies the solo cornet chair. Yes, it's the Wooster gang.

Harry joined the band and orchestra two years ago. Even then after only two years of lessons he was the "top." Last year he started taking lessons on trumpet technique from Leonard Smith, solo trumpeter in Goldkman's Band and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra. Very shortly afterward Harry joined Mr. Smith's own concert band, an organization composed of the cream of the high school musicians in and around Detroit, organized to further their ability.

Bill, Harry's younger brother by two years who started playing only two and a half years ago, already is at the top of the band ladder. He, too, takes lessons from Mr. Smith.

Mr. Wooster has the background to help the boys. He plays the saxophones, flute, trumpet, piano, and as Harry said, "anything else he feels like learning to play." He also played in Guy Lombardo's orchestra.

Harry and Bill also have an uncle who plays a violin and a cousin who plays a trombone in an orchestra at London, Ontario. And then there is Grandfather Wooster who played solo trumpet in Sousa's band.

Junior Rotarians' Sixth Year

Mr. Smith, Mr. Dykhouse, and Mr. Matulis have begun choosing this year's Junior Rotarians. The Rotary club, a service group, has sponsored this practice for the last six years. The points on which the boys are chosen are citizenship, scholarship, special ability, and the type of boy that would profit most by association with Rotarians. The boys selected are the guests of the club every Friday noon for one month. At the end of this time each is called upon to give a talk at the meeting. The Rotarians set a fine standard for the boys by living up to their high code of ethics. The first boy to be honored was Russell Ash and the second is to be George Chute. Each month a new boy will be selected.

Party Honors Tots Of Pre-School Age

Home Making II classes, having just completed a child study unit, entertained pre-school children at a party October 6. They put the children, who had never seen each other before, in a play room, and then studied their reactions in playing games together. The girls gave a satisfactory report, saying that the tots compensated very well in everything they did, ice cream and cookies were served.

The girls' guests were Fay Ann Parmenter, Doris Glass, Kay Porter, Ellen Cowgill, Darlene King, Melvin Sawyer, Lindon Mills, Darlene Bergknight, Carole Laker, and Elizabeth Gustin.

The students, who brought and entertained the youngsters were Dorothy Melberg, Martina Dougan, Betty Jo Crayons, Norma Bauman, Virginia Landau, Mildred Shingler, Marian Oldenburg, Ila Laugolin, Doris Heckemberry, Yvonne Sawyer, Elinore Shoemaker, Norma Robinson, Geraldine Dahmer, Velma Jett, and Violet Gracey.

Two thoughts stood solemn sentinel throughout all the planning of our 1942 cars. The first was: - in their materials these cars must not trespass on the current needs of national defense. The second was: - in their quality and performance they must not be an "ersatz" product. If you think this leaves only a cramped and stifling byway for engineering to advance in, remember that difficulties are sometimes the spur that real ability needs. ### Announce Dates For Convention

Crippled Children Society to Meet

Percy C. Angove, executive secretary of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, has sent out notices of the annual meeting of the organization which will be held in Saginaw November 6, 7 and 8. Charles H. Bennett, long active in crippled children work in connection with the Plymouth Rotary club, is chairman of the board of directors of this outstanding Michigan charitable organization.

Mr. Angove, in his notice of the convention, states that any one interested in the problems of the physically handicapped will be welcome to attend the meeting in Saginaw.

The Plymouth Rotary club under the direction of Mr. Bennett, for many years led the state, and frequently the entire nation for cities of its size in contributions to this humane endeavor.

Walter Eskra Given Release From Army

Walter Eskra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eskra of West Ann Arbor road, who was inducted into the army last spring, has been relieved from further military training and sent to his home. Following the army maneuvers in Tennessee last summer he was confined until recently in the Fort Custer hospital, due to illness. He has now sufficiently recovered to be released from the hospital and returned home. The young man speaks in highest terms of the treatment he received from all of his officials.

State Police Warn Of Active Forger

Look out, Mr. Store Keeper, if some good looking gent comes into your store and asks to cash a check, claiming that he is an employe of the state highway department and is in town on business.

Notices have been sent to Plymouth advising that there is at large in this vicinity a smooth operating forger who claims to live in Lansing and who is having especially good success in getting rid of bad checks. Numerous hotel clerks have also fallen victims to his operations. The notices say he is about 33 years old.

Sharptails Are More Plentiful

Good Bird Hunting In Prospect

Northern lower Michigan bird hunters will bag more sharptails than ever this fall, according to conservation department game men who have been checking reports of these grouse throughout the region.

Several releases of sharptails made about three years ago by the conservation department on the Pigeon river, Higgins lake and Ogemaw state forests have been successful, according to reports of officers and field men. Previous to these releases, private plantings had been made at Traverse City and Alpena.

Birds released by the department were banded, but young birds of broods seen this spring will show up in the hunters' game bags without markings. To get more information on the spread of sharptails in lower Michigan, the conservation department is asking hunters to report their kill of this species to its Lansing office. If unable to identify their grouse, hunters may send wing or tail feathers to the department's game division for identification.

In the lower peninsula sharptailed grouse and prairie chickens may be hunted as far south as the north line of township 12 North, a line which crosses the state from east to west at a point between Saginaw and Bay City. The season is October 15 to November 5.

Many Attend Traffic School

Group From Plymouth Guests at Prison

Traffic safety classes conducted by Herbert German and Guy Mullholland of the Safety Bureau, Detroit police department, proved entertaining as well as instructive to Plymouth safety patrol boys, their parents and teachers of Central and Starkweather schools last week Monday evening at the Detroit House of Correction traffic school.

The group of about 100, under the guidance of Captain Charles Thumme of the Plymouth police department, took active part in the class work which was highlighted by the Port Board, a very clever apparatus composed of a large frame on which is stretched a square of black felt for background, with little life-like characters of varied colored felt, each a part of the safety lesson.

During this part of the instruction period, the children showed he grown-ups a thing or two about safety by their alertness in detecting flaws in the safety problems as set up by Mr. German. But the grown-ups came right back when it came to the "Fairy Tale" stage of the board lesson.

Brief talks by Captain Thumme, secretary of the school, who explained the apparatus and appealed for greater recognition of the Safety Patrol, were followed by a motion picture portraying the U. S. Navy on duty in the Orient entitled "The Yangtze Patrol."

Superintendent A. Blake Gillies, of the House of Correction, through whose courtesy the group was permitted to attend the classes, has extended an invitation to Plymouth residents to attend these classes at any time.

Announce Dates For Convention

Crippled Children Society to Meet

Percy C. Angove, executive secretary of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, has sent out notices of the annual meeting of the organization which will be held in Saginaw November 6, 7 and 8. Charles H. Bennett, long active in crippled children work in connection with the Plymouth Rotary club, is chairman of the board of directors of this outstanding Michigan charitable organization.

Mr. Angove, in his notice of the convention, states that any one interested in the problems of the physically handicapped will be welcome to attend the meeting in Saginaw.

The Plymouth Rotary club under the direction of Mr. Bennett, for many years led the state, and frequently the entire nation for cities of its size in contributions to this humane endeavor.

Walter Eskra Given Release From Army

Walter Eskra, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eskra of West Ann Arbor road, who was inducted into the army last spring, has been relieved from further military training and sent to his home. Following the army maneuvers in Tennessee last summer he was hospitalized at the Fort Custer hospital, due to illness. He has now sufficiently recovered to be released from the hospital and returned home. The young man speaks in highest terms of the treatment he received from all of his officials.

State Police Warn Of Active Forger

Look out, Mr. Store Keeper, if some good looking gent comes into your store and asks to cash a check, claiming that he is an employee of the state highway department and is in town on business.

Notices have been sent to Plymouth advising that there is at large in this vicinity a smooth operating forger who claims to live in Lansing and who is having especially good success in getting rid of bad checks. Numerous hotel clerks have also fallen victims to his operations. The notices say he is about 33 years old.

Sharptails Are More Plentiful

Good Bird Hunting In Prospect

Northern lower Michigan bird hunters will bag more sharptails than ever this fall, according to conservation department game men who have been checking reports of these grouse throughout the region.

Several releases of sharptails made about three years ago by the conservation department on the Pigeon river, Higgins lake and Ogemaw state forests have been successful, according to reports of officers and field men. Previous to these releases, private plantings had been made at Traverse City and Alpena.

Birds released by the department were banded, but young birds of broods seen this spring will show up in the hunters' game bags without markings. To get more information on the spread of sharptails in lower Michigan, the conservation department is asking hunters to report their kill of this species to its Lansing office. If unable to identify their grouse, hunters may send wing or tail feathers to the department's game division for identification.

In the lower peninsula sharptailed grouse and prairie chickens may be hunted as far south as the township of 12 North, a line which crosses the state from east to west at a point between Saginaw and Bay City. The season is October 15 to November 5.

Many Attend Traffic School

Group From Plymouth Guests at Prison

Traffic safety classes conducted by Herbert German and Guy Mullholland of the Safety Bureau, Detroit police department, proved entertaining as well as instructive to Plymouth safety patrol boys, their parents, and teachers of Central and Stark-weather schools last week Monday evening at the Detroit House of Correction Traffic school.

The group of about 100, under the guidance of Captain Charles Thumme of the Plymouth police department, took active part in the class work which was highlighted by the "Felt Board," a very clever apparatus composed of a large frame on which is stretched a square of black felt for background, with little life-like characters of varied colored felt, each a part of the safety lesson.

During this part of the instruction period, the children showed they had grown-up a thing or two about safety by their alertness in detecting flaws in the safety problems as set up by Mr. German. But the grown-ups came right back when it came to the "Fairy Tale" stage of the board.

Brief talks by Captain Thumme, secretary of the school, who explained the safety patrol work, and appealed for greater recognition of the Safety Patrol, were followed by a motion picture portraying the U. S. Navy on duty in the Orient entitled "The Yangtze Patrol."

Superintendent A. Blake Gillies of the House of Correction, through whose courtesy the group was permitted to attend the classes, has extended an invitation to Plymouth residents to attend these classes at any time.

For What Good?

Newspapers reported the details a few days ago of a labor riot over in Hillsdale in which twelve or more working men were badly injured in a fight between unions. Hillsdale, as most Michigan people know the beautiful little city over in south central Michigan, has always been regarded as one of those outstanding municipalities where there exists all of the benefits one desires in a community in which they live. It has a fine public school system. Its churches provide religious opportunities. It boasts of a college. The city lies in the very heart of one of the finest sections in the mid-west. The Hillsdale county fair is one of the best in Michigan. The homes of its people are attractive and there is no such a thing as a "slum" district, such as exists in great metropolitan centers. The people of Hillsdale are good citizens, loyal Americans, who take a just pride in their community. The city maintains a few factories—factories where good American citizens have been able to earn a living for themselves and families.

It has wide, beautifully shaded streets. It is one of those favored cities where its very spirit reflects peace and happiness. Up to the present there has been that communal something that gave one the impression that in Hillsdale there lives one, big family of happy and contented people.

It is difficult, almost impossible to believe, that men, many of them fathers of the future citizens of America, would sink to the spirit of the mob and beat each other!

Men, fighting like the wild beasts of the jungle!

Men, tearing at each other's throats, driving deeper and deeper into the hearts of MEN the hatreds and the enmities that eventually lead to the sure destruction of the civilization we are striving to save from the slaughter pen!

The writer absolutely refuses to believe that we have reached the peak of the cherished dreams of civilization and that we have turned on the downward course and once again will become roving tribes, living in caves like wild beasts as we did in the early ages of mankind.

But when civilized men, such as live in a city like Hillsdale, will take up clubs, just as did the men of the jungles and the caves, and beat each other, one has a right to fear that maybe we are on the downward descent—that MAN has failed in his mission in this world!

May the good Lord forgive such a thought! We cannot and we will not surrender to the fear that the day of reckoning has arrived!

Our struggle since the beginning has been a fight for the right to produce, for the opportunity to create happiness for ourselves and our dependents, to buy and to sell—and to go forward to the limits of our ability and strength—and to enjoy a freedom and an independence possessed by no other people since the beginning of time.

But America must rise from its slumber and shake off its hatreds, the ill-will and the discontent, if we are to save ourselves from destruction, if we are to retain all that we have gained through a century and half of struggle and go forward to even a better life for ourselves and our posterity.

What possible good can come from a fight between working men, such as disgraced the beautiful city of Hillsdale, the other day?

Of course, the answer is negative! What can we do, you ask, to save ourselves and our children?

There is much we can do—so much that sometimes the task seems one of impossible accomplishment—but it CAN BE DONE.

We can each one of us become an Apostle of GOOD WILL and FAITH. We can work to restore the good will that was jerked from under our feet by the injection of political domination of the rights of men and women to work. Vicious, greedy, aspiring politicians are interested in the welfare of no one except themselves and their political organizations. Their work is the work of the Devil on earth. In six or seven brief years they have created class hatreds in America—where classes among people were never known before this damnable condition was created by political quacks.

We can talk to our neighbors, just as do the good pastors of our city, about the glory of accomplishment, the happiness that comes from doing something worthwhile, the satisfaction that one enjoys from honestly performing an honest day's work. We can rebuild our faith in our neighbors, our associates and our companions in the factories, in the front offices, in the workers in the fields, and the stores—we can re-light the hope and the aspirations of the America of our dreams—the AMERICA WHERE ALL ARE CREATED EQUAL AND ALL ARE FREE!

Plow Under the Pork Barrel

Editor George Neal of The Orion Review doesn't like the way the care-free, happy-go-lucky, throw-the-money-to-the-wind boys and girls spend tax dollars down in Washington. He thinks it is about time to call a halt on some of this unnecessary wild-eyed spending that has shamed the country for eight or nine years. The Lake Orion editor recently said in The Review:

"The record breaking tax bill that Americans will have to pay this year emphasizes, once again the immediate need for economy in government expenditures. Substantial cuts can be made in non-defense items, providing pork barrel politics can be forgotten long enough to permit them to be made.

"Many Americans fail to realize that non-defense spending has doubled within the past ten years. Every year since 1931 Washington has spent more money than it has collected. Today's rate of tax collection is double that of the peak of the World War period. Untold billions of defense spending are being piled on a tremendous level of civil spending. These non-military expenditures have only been reduced by a comparatively few millions since the emergency began—and this in spite of the fact that millions of people recently unemployed are now working. The government debt has reached gigantic proportions and is steadily going up.

"This debt has a tremendous effect upon the standard of living of every one of us. Today the average person pays about 25 per cent of his income in direct and indirect taxes. Every wasted dollar—every unnecessary expenditure—means that he has to pay more money to the government. It means that he has that much less to spend for the necessities and luxuries that every American family needs and wants.

"Today, when the rest of us are pulling in our belts to help pay for the defense program that we must have, it's time to insist that Washington pull in its belt, too. In the past it has had considerable experience in plowing under pork. Why not plow under the pork barrel now?"

Congratulations

The Plymouth Mail is pleased to extend to Mayor Edward Jeffries of Detroit its congratulations upon his splendid victory in the recent primary election in that city. The voters have indicated clearly what they intend to do in the final election. There is not a single reason in the world why Mayor Jeffries should not be reelected and there is not a single reason why anybody should vote for Judge Joseph Gillies for mayor. He has been a sort of political grandstander ever since he landed in Detroit and there is nothing in his public career which entitles him to the votes of our great metropolis for the post of chief executive. If he had been of the right sort of material for the high post he seeks, he would have resigned his present highly paid public position when he became a candidate for another office in an entirely different branch in the government of Detroit. But like many of his type of public job holders, he wants to keep the pay checks rolling in, no matter what the propriety of the matter might be. Congratulations, Mayor.

With Prominent Michigan Editors
 Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

WAS A MISTAKE MADE?

Did the government make a mistake in rejecting the League of Nations? Wouldn't the police authority of such a body have uncovered the unprecedented military activity of Germany and as a consequence halted the subsequent arrogance of that country with regard to certain provisions of the Versailles Treaty? These thoughts came to mind in reading the Roosevelt-Churchill program of eight points, which is the Woodrow Wilson 14-point program streamlined to meet the requirements of today's tabloid thinker. In other words, what good is any world peace minus the power and authority to enforce its provisions? It's ample power rather than points that the world of the future is going to need.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

OTHERS THINK SO, TOO!

Apparently we have had too much Franklin and not enough frankness.—Adrian Van Koevoering in The Zealand Record.

SOME SENSE TO THIS

The old saying is 'that misery likes company,' and it has been proven many times when one reads about the way the populace flocks to the lakes and amusement centers over a holiday. While thousands of people seem to like it, personally we cannot see anything—not a thing—in tearing over the highways with life at stake every minute, then when arriving at our destination finding it impossible to find a place to sleep, no place to eat, no conveniences, no enjoyment, no boats available, the bait for fishing all sold out, standing in line for gasoline, being bumped out of here and knocked out of there, and returning home feeling as though we had been put through a corn husker or spent a couple of days in the hay field. To us personally that is some vacation with a big question mark. The quiet and solitude of our back yard, where we can loaf, enjoy life and take in all the beauties of nature and the things the creator has provided for our pleasure and comfort, is our idea of spending a holiday.—Robert Gifford in The Eaton Rapids Review.

BOTH, OF COURSE

We don't know who's winning the German-Russian war, but we know who's lying about it.—William Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

NEW TREATY WITH MEXICO

It is interesting to report that the Mexican and United States Senates have unanimously ratified a treaty between their countries providing for the reciprocal use of air bases, by military airplanes.

While the agreement is in terms of mutuality, actually it benefits the United States more than Mexico. Our airplanes, anxious to get to Panama, if necessary, can fly over Mexican territory, stop at Mexican airports and get supplies of gasoline.

The president, in submitting the pact to the Senate, declared that "in view of the exceptional circumstances which have arisen from the present European conflict" both countries realized the necessity of insuring conditions of maximum speed for movements of planes in connection with defense of the American continent.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

PAYING FOR THINGS TWICE

To celebrate the close of the last war the voters of Michigan approved two whopping bond issues, $50,000,000 for highway improvement and $39,000,000 for soldiers' bonus. Here we are on the verge of another war and the bonds are not yet entirely paid, the roads are worn out and a new crop of soldiers will soon be asking for a bonus. Michigan taxpayers have actually paid the bond issues almost twice.

The $50,000,000 highway bond issue was passed in 1919. There is probably not a rod of the highway surface left to remind taxpayers of their investment, but by studying the state financial chart over the 22-year period the highways are much in evidence. The taxpayers have already paid $41,239,704.56 in interest on the $50,000,000 and another $3,779,137 in interest will have to be paid before the bonds can be retired. When the last of the bonds are paid in 1944 the taxpayers will find they have paid interest of $44,913,618.31 on the $50,000,000, or have paid $94,913,618.31 for $50,000,000 worth of highways which were worn out or became obsolete 10 years ago. That's paying double.

The soldiers were paid $39,000,000 as a Michigan reward for saving the world for democracy. Those were 20-year bonds issued in 1921 and due this year. Of the total issue, $25,000,000 is still outstanding. Interest in the amount of $30,308,750 has already been paid on the $39,000,000 issue and another $706,250 will be paid within the year, making a total of $31,015,000 in interest on the $39,000,000 borrowed. In other words to pay a bonus of $39,000,000 to Michigan soldiers the taxpayers will cough up $70,015,000 besides the administrative expense. The bond-holders received a bonus almost equal to that paid the soldiers.

Mason school district taxpayers have paid in interest a sum almost equal to the cost of the school built 20 years ago.

Bond issues are expensive ways to raise money. In too many instances those who pay them off pay double.—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County (Mason) News.

LET'S NOT FORGET

The fact that Russia is at present fighting an enemy of the United States should not blind our eyes to the fact that there are communistic forces in this country (who take orders direct from Moscow) attempting to get control of our governmental machinery.

Organized labor is one medium in which these Red elements are making alarming headway.

The power of these communistic factions was demonstrated at a series of national union meetings where attempts to "purge" union leadership of Red influence either backfired or was held to a virtual stalemate.

The communists lost no ground as a result of these "purges"; in fact, may have strengthened their position a bit.

An advantage possessed by the Reds is that they are a solid, compact, disciplined group who work under absolute orders from a central board of strategists. Their opponents, although more numerous, usually fight among themselves and get nowhere.

Divide and conquer is a basic rule of Hitler's success.

This same principle is being used effectively by Red organizations in the United States.—Dick Cook in The Hastings Banner.

AMAZING FACTS FROM A SPY TRIAL

The people of the United States are naturally interested in the work of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and will no doubt be fascinated by details of the trial of sixteen spies now underway in the Federal Courtroom in Brooklyn, New York.

Among the Revelations brought to light, there is the fact that in 1939 an American citizen, who had served as a machine-gunner in the German Army during the World War, was forced to become a spy while in Germany. Upon returning to this country, he revealed all facts to the Government.

As a result, the FBI built a short-wave station to establish communications with the German spy ring at Hamburg. For sixteen months the G-men exchanged worthless "information" about American defense plans for valuable details of the Nazi spy activities in this country.

It will also come as a shock to the people of this country to be informed that, in the opinion of G-men, the Germans have been in possession of our valuable Norden bomb-sight for many months. It will be remembered that quite a furore was created in this country at the mere suggestion that the bomb-sight be turned over to the British air force.

The question became a national issue, with Isolationists and patriots vying with each other to protect our "great military secret." Now comes the revelation that it was no secret at all in Berlin where complete details have been delivered by an employe of the plant making the bomb-sight in this country.—Fred Keister in The Ionia County News.

TOO EARLY

No use talking about issues or advantages still or that candidate has in a primary contest this or that year away. In our present crisis a single circumstance can defeat this or that candidate—and probably will. So skip it until after the holidays, at least.—Muri H. DeFoe in The Charlotte Republican-Tribune.

ROGER BABSON SAYS

Be Optimistic But Up-to-Date at the Same Time

Next to Truth, the greatest need today is for Faith—faith in God, faith in America, and faith in our fellow men. On the other hand, the greatest danger lies with Fear, fear of death, fear of sacrifice, and fear of losses of various kinds. Yet, there are many columnists, authors, and even political leaders who make their livings crying "Wolf! Wolf!" when there is no wolf.

Even radicals are now pretty much agreed that our generation has nothing to fear from Socialism or Communism. They have entirely changed their tune as to this fear. Karl Marx is no longer their idol and they have lost faith in the proletarian. They instead talk of a "Managerial Revolution."

They still pretend to believe that most stocks and bonds will become worthless through state competition,—that we are entering an era when the government will become the owner of all income—producing property and will operate it along technocratic lines. They say that the "Managers" thereof will be the aristocracy of the nation, taking the place of bankers and capitalists in general.

To some extent, these calamity howlers are doing good in causing us to take out "insurance" in the form of vocational education for our children! Wise parents are calling such pessimistic talk to their children's attention so that the young people will not depend upon what they inherit; but will have a profession, trade, or job of their own. So much, so good.

The college professors who are preaching the elimination of the capitalist class are doubtless right in their forecast that the government will gradually take over more and more industries. This, however, is nothing new. It has always been going on. Armies, navies, highways, postal service etc. all started as private enterprises. This process will doubtless be speeded up to include armament factories, public utilities, railroads, milk distribution, bread bakeries, and certain of the great producers of raw materials.

Here is what the pessimists overlook: For every old industry any government has taken over, two new industries have sprung up in its place. This, moreover, applies to Russia and Germany as well as to the United States and Canada. Initiative, enterprise, and invention grow best in a free soil apart from government ownership or management. As long as the English race is in economic competition with Europeans or Asians, you may be sure that private enterprise will be encouraged in the United States and Canada.

This means that businessmen and investors who keep ahead of the procession have nothing to fear from the New Deal. Those who recognize that the only thing really "permanent" is change, and who wisely shift their investments accordingly, should continue to prosper. The lazy investor, the self-satisfied businessman, and the so-called conservative banker who worship "bond ratings" are the ones who will suffer during the changes ahead of us.

Most readers are asking what will happen after World War II. Will there be a great business slump? Will revolutions follow? The current low stock market prices are due—not to present conditions—but to fear of what will happen a few years hence.

Of course, one should know how long the War is to last before answering these questions. The after-effects of a long war would be more serious than if it should end in the Winter of 1942. But, the real answer depends upon to what extent employers, wage-workers, and investors are willing to adapt themselves voluntarily to the changed conditions. The stagecoach owners and drivers of 100 years ago who fought the railroads, went broke; but those who sold out and re-invested in railroad securities became very prosperous.

This is one reason why I prefer the chemical companies rather than the "steels"; prefer the motor coach companies rather than the "trails"; and prefer the peace stocks rather than the "war-babies." I prefer to have the bonds of some almost unknown little town run by good people than the popular bonds of great cities which are run by grafters.

Recognize CHANGE, insist upon GROWTH, and align yourself with active people of CHARACTER and you have nothing to fear. The world is constantly getting better, while more opportunities exist today than ever for those who study, pray, work, save, and venture. Beware of "cobwebs" in your home, business, church, or safe deposit box!
