

U. of M. Speaker Urges People To Start Thinking

Advocates Repeal of Neutrality Legislation; Armament Program

The stakes in this war are terrific; no war in history has had so many implications. It is to be viewed as a great war with the outcome to determine the future ways of life for millions of people...

Urging the American people to start thinking, the speaker forcibly reiterated the thesis that the situation in Europe is critical and the future welfare of the United States is vitally concerned...

Although the professor did not advocate an actual participation in the war by this country, he did express the belief that something more than lease-lend and delivery of goods is necessary. He emphasized that we must get fully behind the President to bring about the arming of vessels, the repeal of the neutrality laws and a program of armament production.

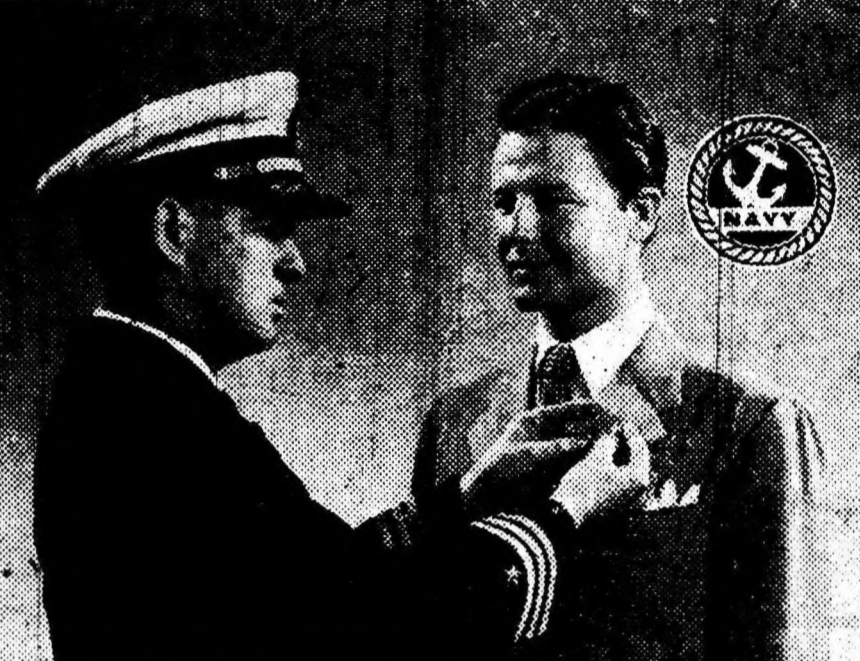

That Great Britain will come out of this war a second-rate power with the United States rising in importance and power was the speaker's opinion. Germany grew to tremendous power after a succession of concessions by the British, he stated...

Members of the U. of M. club of Plymouth responded enthusiastically to the speaker's personality and message in the open forum discussion which followed his talk. The Tuesday night lecture was the first in a series of five weekly talks, open to the public and sponsored by the U. of M. club at the high school.

When the Angola Africa Methodist conference met recently, a translation of Prof. Earl Marlett's now famous hymn, "Are ye able?" in the Kimbundu dialect, was sung lustily and with fervor and made a deep impression, according to Mrs. John M. Springer, wife of the Bishop who presided. The translation was made by the Rev. Joachim D. Nana, one of the young African preachers. The translation into Kimbundu from abstract English cannot be made literally, says Mrs. Springer, "but the heart of the hymn was the line with which the translator started, 'Can you take an insult?' Every man there, layman as well as pastor, knew that that question struck home to the core of his being. Could they take it? They sang with fervor, 'Lord, we can take it in thy name!'"

The Rev. Miss Maude Royden and the Rev. Dr. Leslie Weatherhead, two of England's outstanding ministers, are expected to arrive in the United States late in October for a speaking and preaching tour of the principal cities of this country. The ministry of both has been in connection with the famous City Temple of London, now badly damaged by recent air raids. Dr. Weatherhead is the present pastor of the Temple, but has been carrying on his services at the nearby Church of the Holy Sepulchre which has opened its doors to the otherwise homeless congregation. The initial American meeting of these visitors is expected to be in New York City on Monday, November 3. The World Council of Churches is planning this and other early meetings; later Dr. Weatherhead and Miss Royden will take part in the National Praching Mission.

Recent word from colleges and universities carried on in China under the leadership of various Protestant mission agencies from America, and supported in part by American gifts, indicates that the war has hampered but not stopped their teaching. Yenching University, near Peking (Peking), remains on its own campus and has a large enrollment of students. Hangchow University is now located in Shanghai where it cooperates with three other Christian schools in a rented office building. Three other colleges—Gaijing College, the University of Nanking, and Chiao Tung University—are "refugee" institutions, having "migrated"—students, faculty and as much equipment as they could carry—out of invaded territory into West China. They are the "guests" of West China Union University on its campus in Chengtu, Szechwan Province. Despite their crowded quarters, the four colleges in China report the largest enrollments in their history.

Michigan has longer growing seasons, considering the latitude, than any of the North Central states, due to the influence of large bodies of water bordering it.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN church. Walter Nichol, pastor. One of the statements of The Apostles Creed is "I believe in the communion of saints." What does the communion of saints mean? On what does this meaning depend? And what is the significance of this belief for the Christian? These are questions to be considered Sunday morning in the sermon. The subject is The Communion of Saints. The University of Life program continues Sunday 6 to 9 p.m. at the Methodist church. The women of the Presbyterian church will serve the supper at 6 p.m. The speaker at the vesper service will be Tom Brock, a Plymouth young man. His subject is "The Call to Character Building." J. W. McCracken, secretary of Christian Education for Michigan, will lead the discussion in the out-of-school age group, Troop P-4 Boy Scouts will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. A. R. Kidston is the scout master. The Board of Trustees will meet Wednesday, November 5 at 7:30 p.m. A reception will be held for the teachers of the Plymouth schools with their husbands and wives on Tuesday, November 4 at 8:00 p.m. at the First Baptist church, Mill street. The Methodist and Presbyterian churches will join with First Baptist church in this recognition of the fine staff of educational leaders who man our schools. The presbytery of Detroit and the presbyterial society will meet on Monday at 10 a.m. at Westminster church, Detroit. A group from this church will attend The School of Religion which will hold its next session at the Presbyterian church, Northville Monday evening, 7:30 p.m.

"Everlasting Punishment" will be the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, November 2. The golden text (Proverbs 14: 34) is: "Righteousness exalteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Matthew 12: 36, 37): "But I say unto you, That every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgement. For by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 435): "Christian Science commands man to master the propensities, to hold hatred in abeyance with kindness, to conquer lust with chastity, revenge with charity, and to overcome deceit with honesty."

was in the shelter which fortunately stood untouched through the raid. Mrs. Jones expresses her gratitude for little Stanley's adoption and thanks his local "steparent."

All of these children have been adopted by the people of this community from the proceeds of various benefit projects sponsored by the Namesake Town committee of Plymouth. Funds for the adoption of the children are transmitted through the Save-the-children fund.

Margaret Glanfield, another child of the group whose pictures were sent here this week, is nine years old and one of two children in the family. Margaret, dressed in a tucked woollen dress, has dark hair and eyes and a Buster Brown haircut. Her father is serving with the Navy at present in the East, and her mother receives only the small allowance. Their home was bombed too during one of Plymouth's heavy raids and they lost all of their possessions. Margaret was very brave through that time and her one concern was to take care of her baby brother. Mrs. Glanfield is a hard working woman and is very happy for the extra help for Margaret. This enables the child to have extra nourishment and clothing which she otherwise would not have.

The second set of twin girls in the group are Sylvia and Gladys Waller, six years of age. There are six other boys in the family. The father of these two freckle-faced youngsters, is reported to be a hard working man, but has only been able to obtain employment recently owing to a severe illness which was an after effect of the Great War when he served in foreign lands. The family has had a difficult time but in spite of all the children have encountered, they are very brave and are keeping their "chins up." Their home is in Plymouth, but the twins are now evacuated. Mrs. Waller is thankful for her adoption grants which enable the children to have extra nourishment which she finds very expensive.

The Namesake Town committee at its meeting last week voted to set its permanent adoption quota at $750 which is now providing for 25 children in Plymouth, England. The committee will attempt to renew each of these 25 adoptions each year for the duration of the emergency. The group will sponsor no benefit projects until after the Christmas holidays, but individual contributions for the adoption fund with which to renew aid to these children will be appreciated.

Evelyn Stanible and Donald Lord Wed
At four o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 25, Evelyn May Stanible, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Stanible of this city, became the bride of Donald D. Lord, of Fremont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lord of White Cloud, at a ceremony performed by Dr. McCune, in the People's church in East Lansing.

Mrs. Roland Rhead, of Ann Arbor, a cousin, attended the bride, wearing a wine crepe dress with black accessories. Pink chrysanthemums and pink roses formed her corsage.

PLYMOUTH GAS & OIL COMPANY

260 South Main Street Plymouth, Michigan

Dear Mr. Plymouth Gas & Oil Co.:

I am a lady driver and I own a Chevrolet. I have read in the Plymouth Mail columns the reports of several car owners about your wonderful gas and oil and how swell their cars run on it, and get extra mileage. Now, my predicament is just this way: A few weeks ago my husband became very indignant when I insisted that I was going to set up a family budget in our home and take over our family troubles to iron out. My first trouble was with the family car; it has been cutting up something awful, so I would like to ask you to assist me in straightening out my car difficulties. On these chilly mornings I am in a hurry to get my children off to school, and this is how the 'blame' thing would act: I turn on the switch and all I get is a buzz; I touch the starter and it growls at me; I pull the choke and a dry cigarette cough will belch from a muffler that sounds full of marbles and none too sweet to the ears of my neighbors sleeping next door, and by the time I do get the motor running I am getting pretty hot about it and when I look out at the radiator, it also is hot—and steaming. Anyway, I could just go on and on boring you with my troubles, but I want you to know that I am just a woman driver and can't understand why all these things should happen to me. I have become so nerved over it all, but I feel that you can relieve me of my distress by replying and advising me just what to do to overcome my motor trouble. I will be very grateful if you will answer me in next week's columns.

Yours very respectfully,
I AM A WOMAN DRIVER

Jennie Bassett and Theron Talmadge Wed in Newburg Church

The Newburg Methodist church was filled to capacity, Saturday afternoon, when the wedding of Jennie E. Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bassett of Plymouth, to Theron Talmadge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira Talmadge, of Wayne, took place. Rev. Verle Carson read the service at two o'clock.

The altar was banked with white mums and ferns. Mrs. Arthon Kross sang "I Give You Truly" and "O Promise Me." The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gown in white satin made in princess style. Her fingertip veil was caught to a coronet of satin. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Rita Archer of Plymouth, was maid-of-honor, and her gown was of pale green brocaded satin. She carried pink tea roses.

The bridesmaids, Zella Talmadge, sister of the bridegroom, and June Bassett, sister of the bride, were gown in pink and blue satin. Yellow roses and stephanotis formed their bouquets.

Adith Bassett, sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore figured taffeta.

Milton Heike, of Ypsilanti, attended the bridegroom as best man and the other attendants were William May, of Ypsilanti, and Cecil Hodgson, of Inkster.

A reception followed in the church house for 140 guests. The lace covered table was centered with the tiered wedding cake flanked by tall tapers and bowls of pink and white bebe mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge took a short trip to Chicago. For traveling Mrs. Talmadge wore a light blue wool dress with maroon accessories. Her corsage was of bebe mums and roses.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bassett, of Brownsville, Texas; Mrs. Claude Bassett, of La Porte, Indiana; Mrs. Addie Larabee, a great great aunt of the bride, from Vassar; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bassett, of Wayne; Edward Bassett of New York; Chicago, and Donald Smith, of Macataw Station at Holland.

Church Wedding for Flossie Rowland and Harold Brown

Flossie Lorena Rowland, daughter of Murray M. Rowland, and Harold Richard Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brown, were united in marriage Saturday evening, October 25, in the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by Rev. Walter Nichol in candlelight. Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the altar.

"O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" were beautifully sung by Duget Duguid, of Northville, accompanied by Hannu Strassan.

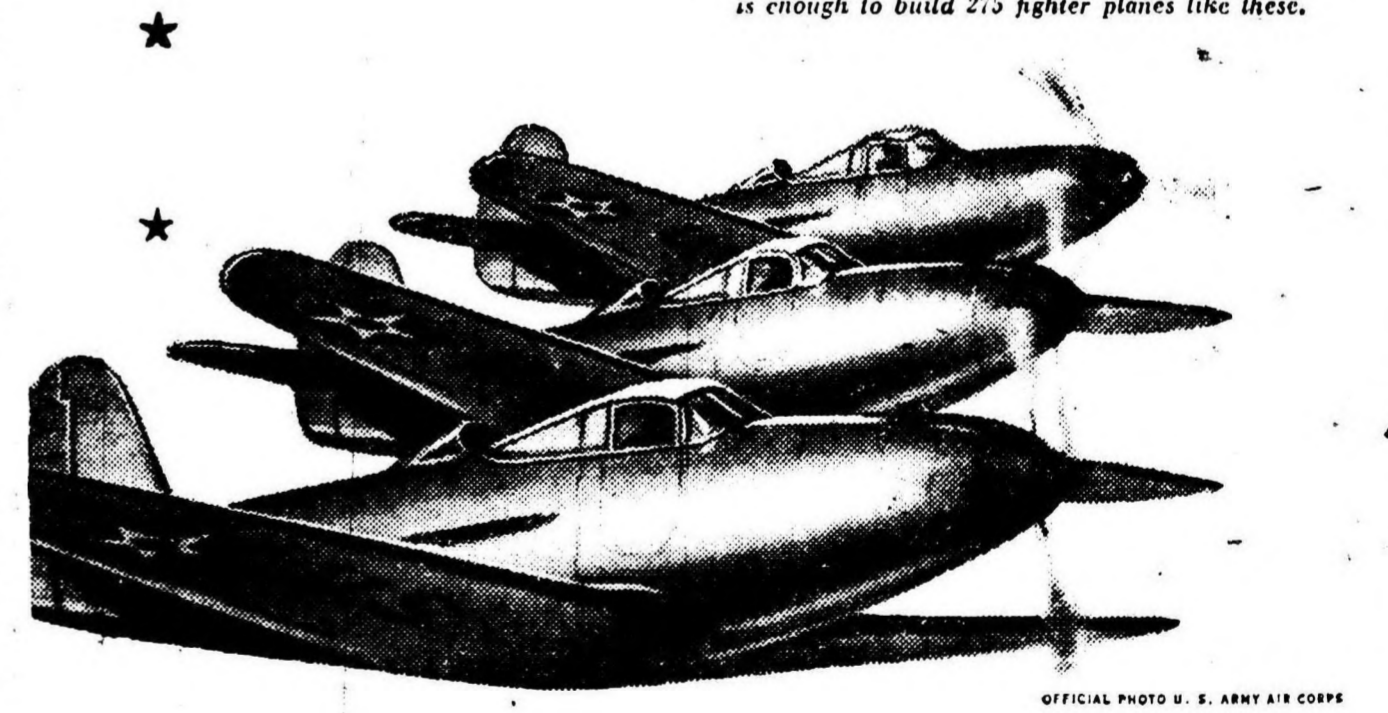

The bride was given away by her father. Her wedding gown of ivory taffeta was made with light bodice, elbow length sleeves and very full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was fastened to a band of orange blossoms. Gardenias and chrysanthemums formed her arm bouquet.

Adith Rowland attended her sister wearing a gown which had a sheer golden chiffon bodice with large sleeves and full skirt of taffeta. A brown velvet bow was worn in her hair. Vari-colored chrysanthemums were used in her arm bouquet.

Kenneth Brown attended his brother as best man and the ushers were William Smith, of Wayne, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Harry Rowland, brother of the bride.

One hundred guests were present at the reception held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rowland, on East Ann Arbor Trail, following the ceremony.

ALUMINUM for the Nation's Air Defense

Because aluminum and various other metals are so vital to the nation's security, the Bell System has been busy finding ways to use less of them.

By substituting materials in telephone construction, 5,000,000 pounds of aluminum, zinc, magnesium and other metals have been saved this year. The saving in aluminum alone totals more than 1,700,000 pounds—enough to build 275 fighter planes. Just by using steel instead of aluminum in the little "finger wheel" on dial telephones, 65 tons of that metal are being made available, on an annual basis, for defense needs!

Still greater savings are foreseen. The search for new ways to conserve defense metals goes on steadily.

It is the objective of your Telephone Company to contribute every possible resource in meeting the challenge of the national emergency.
