Rebekahs and I.O.O.F. Mark Anniversaries
At their hall last Friday evening, November 14, the Plymouth Rebekah lodge and Tonquish lodge I.O.O.F. honored their past Noble Grands with a chicken dinner. The occasion was also the thirty-eighth anniversary of Rebekah and the ninety-fourth of the Oddfellows in Plymouth.
Following dinner, the lodge members were entertained with several selections by Misses Lois and Betty Ridley. Mrs. Harry Hunter, acting as toastmistress, introduced Glenn Hammell of Kalamazoo, Grand Master of the state of Michigan, who gave a splendid talk on the work of the order and plans for the next year. Mildred Collins gave an excellent reading.
Mrs. Mary Sharpe, wife of Supreme Court Justice Sharpe of Bay City and also president of the Rebekah assembly, outlined her work for the coming year. Remarks were also given by Orla Frazier, deputy grand master; Dora Haight of Holland, vice-president; Zetta Timpson, assembly warden; Hope Sheldon, assembly conductor; Earl Pfoff, grand herald and Lowell Patterson, grand guardian. Drunk Drivers Draw Stern Fines
Court Reports Record Toll of Convictions

Three persons have been convicted of drunk driving within the first 12 days of the month of November, records of the police department and local municipal court reveal. Convictions on drunk driving charges are drawing stern fines from the municipal court and revoking of drivers' licenses for a year.

Since August 20, there have been nine convictions for drunk driving. In the 12-month fiscal period from June, 1940 to July, 1941, there were only five convictions for the same offense.

On November 3, the municipal court fined one drunk driver, $87.50 and revoked the defendant's driver's license pursuant to the law which permits the driver to apply for reinstatement after three months. He was arrested Sunday, November 2 when he lost control of his car and it struck a telephone pole at North Main street near North Mill. Approaching Main street from Plymouth road at a high rate of speed, according to the police report, the car jumped the curb and hit the telephone pole after skidding about 35 feet.

Another was fined $58 and his driver's license revoked a year in municipal court November 12. The drunk was arrested Saturday evening, November 8 and held in jail until released on bond. Charged with causing an accident in which five persons from Salem received minor injuries in a collision on Starkweather avenue, he entered a plea of guilty and was fined. He was driving a borrowed car and was ordered by the court to pay damages on both wrecked automobiles.

Soon after local police received a teletype message from the Wayne County Sheriff's office reporting an erratic driver on Schoolcraft road, a police officer, on traffic duty in front of the school on Main street, arrested another driver on Armistice day. His car narrowly escaped striking school children on Main street. The defendant was held in jail until his trial the next day.

The records reveal that most of the nine defendants convicted of drunk driving in recent months are first offenders. "Things are a little too 'free and easy' these days," commented the municipal judge. "With the exception of one neurotic and one habitual offender case, all of these cases reflect free spending and more money to spend," said the judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean, of Detroit, were Sunday guests of their parents, and grandparents, respectively, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers.

Rev. and Mrs. G. H. Ess of the Baptist church were in Lansing Monday and Tuesday where they attended the annual conference of the Northern Baptist association. Rev. Ess was the representative of the local Baptist association.

Thanksgiving

Three hundred and twenty years ago a thin band of figures made footprints in the crisp, white New England snow... wending their way to a small and simple place of worship where they might offer a prayer of Thanksgiving for the first harvest in the new world to which they'd come as pioneers. Too often we think of them as adventuresome men and women... crossing chopping seas in a too-small craft... landing at Plymouth... cutting down forestry and building a community where there'd been nothing but wasteland and roaming bands of the only Americans who preceded them—the Indians.

All that is true. Yet these were more than adventurers, or seekers of commercial routes, or gold. These were men to whom a life bereft of freedom was more to be dreaded than the loss of life itself. Their women, too, found strength to courageously face privation and suffering—so that the children they bore might enjoy a heritage of liberty in thought and action... a most precious heritage, even though there must be times when shoes would be worn thin; tears would be shed over the gnawing hurt of hunger; and lives would be lost through hardship, disease and combat. These were the Pilgrim pioneers, who three hundred and twenty years ago knelt in prayer and so observed the first American Thanksgiving, in the year 1624.

We in America have much to be thankful for. We are particularly proud of students in Plymouth schools who took part in our slogan contest, and we wish to thank them for the interest that they displayed.

We are grateful to Frank Isbey, chairman of the Michigan Defense Bond Committee, and his office for the cooperation they gave us in the contest, and we wish to state here that we think it would be a fine thing if more public spirited business men in Plymouth would undertake programs of this kind. It's the American spirit of cooperation that gives us the things we are thankful for today, and certainly all of us are more than thankful that today we are Americans.
