

Primary Election Will Be Held in Plymouth Mar. 2

Five Candidates File For Three Places on City Commission

A primary city election will be held in Plymouth on Monday, March 2, it was announced this week by City Manager C. H. Elliott following the closing date Saturday for filing nominating petitions for the election of three city commissioners.

Three candidates have filed petitions of nomination seeking election to the short one-year term on the city commission. The latest candidate to file is Carlton Lewis, local carpenter-contractor and general insurance agent, who resides on Hartsough street. Before moving to Plymouth 14 years ago, Mr. Lewis served as treasurer of Canton township for three years, and he sought office as city commissioner in Plymouth three years ago. Candidate Lewis is a member of the local Kiwanis club, the First Methodist church and chairman of the local Boy Scout committee and has many friends throughout the city. The knowledge and experience of Mr. Lewis as a building contractor, say friends, would be of value to the city just at a time when there is a home building campaign in prospect.

The other candidates for the short-term on the city commission are Richard L. Straub and B. E. Giles, both well and favorably known. Two of the three candidates are to be nominated at the March 2 primary for a place on the April 6 ballot and one candidate is to be elected for the short term office in the April general election.

Mayor Ruth Huston Whipple and Commissioner Henry Hondorp, incumbents, are unopposed for re-election to two-year terms on the city commission.

In accordance with state law, the last date for registration of voters for the primary election will be Tuesday, February 10. The city hall will remain open until 5 o'clock daily and until 8 p.m. next Tuesday to accept registrations. Those who have changed their residence within the city in recent months should change their address on registration cards at the city hall and all new residents who wish to vote in the primary election should register at the city hall before next Tuesday.

Parrott Agency Now 25 Years Old

Mrs. Florence Parrott Awarded Plaques

A quarter of a century ago—25 seemingly long years—but not so long as one looks back—marked the establishment in Plymouth of the Parrott Insurance agency.

To remain in business for such a long period of years is an outstanding accomplishment, and because Mrs. Florence Parrott has done so, she was recently awarded two beautiful anniversary plaques by insurance companies that she has represented during all of these years.

Mrs. Parrott, one of Plymouth's most successful business women, started in the insurance business in Plymouth with her husband, Roy R. Parrott, who founded the agency along with a real estate business. The couple moved here 29 years ago from Traverse City when Mr. Parrott's work with the Pere Marquette railroad brought him to the Detroit area.

The Parrott agency started in a little office building which is now Roy Critch's gas station at the corner of Main and Frick streets. The office has been located in the present building on Ann Arbor Trail for the last ten years.

While her husband worked at the local draft board during the last war, much of the detail of the insurance business fell to Mrs. Parrott and she has carried on the business alone since the death of her husband seven years ago.

Mrs. Parrott's business experience dates back earlier than her 25-year career in the insurance field. Forced by the death of her parents to make her own way, she has been "on her own" since 14 years of age. Before coming to Michigan, she worked in the millinery business in her hometown of Danville, Illinois.

A veteran business woman during two wars, Mrs. Parrott observes that "values are not yet inflated as much as during the last war, when prices were much higher." Mrs. Parrott, who has raised her family, one daughter, and still maintains a home, is a member of the Plymouth Woman's club, the Chamber of Commerce and the First Methodist church. After 25 years in business here, her greatest satisfaction is her daily contact with people, which, she says, "keeps things interesting."

Motion Picture "March of Dimes" Totals $200, Reports Chairman Lush

A check for $200 is on its way from Plymouth to the National Infantile Foundation as the result of the remarkably successful "March of Dimes" conducted by Harry Lush in Plymouth and Northville.

Mr. Lush, owner of the Penn theatre and manager of the Penniman-Allyn theatres in Plymouth and Northville, was elated over the fact that through the generosity of Plymouth and Northville residents that he was able to send such a substantial check for so worthy a purpose.

And the best part of it is that one-half of this amount will come right back into this locality to help children who are suffering from infantile paralysis. The contribution from the Northville theatre was over $63, states Mr. Lush. He says this was especially good, in view of the fact that Northville also raised funds from a President's ball for the same humane purpose.

Burglars Loot Residence of Edwin Schrader

$550 Worth of Goods And $65 Cash Reported Stolen From Home

Burglars broke into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Schrader on South Main street Saturday night and stole $550 worth of goods and $65 in cash. The thieves entered the house by breaking the glass in a grade door at the side entrance. It is believed that the robbery occurred between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Michigan State police of the Redford station responded to the call and took charge of the investigation with the cooperation of the local police department. The Schrader home is located outside the city limits and local police jurisdiction.

Valuables stolen from the home were, a table model radio, two small Oriental rugs, a table model clock, two rhinestone pins, a string of Richeieu pearls, two men's suits, a cigarette lighter and case, and a 47-piece set of silverware. Local police report that it is the first breaking and entering case in this vicinity this winter.

Cars Wrecked, Three Are Hurt

Another Accident In "Death Valley"

Two automobiles were demolished and three people injured in another "Death Valley Highway" accident Wednesday morning.

A Buick car, owned and driven by Harold Crossman, former employee of the Plymouth Motor Sales company, was traveling east on the Plymouth road, about a half mile east of the Burroughs plant, when a Ford car, occupied by three local girls and a Detroit man ran into the rear of the Buick.

The Ford turned completely over and landed directly on top of the Buick. The occupants of the car were injured, but not fatally.

The injured are a Florence Blessing, Jessica Goebel and Eva Scarpulla, all of Plymouth, who were taken to Sessions' hospital in Northville. Miss Blessing suffered a broken nose and a skull concussion and Miss Scarpulla has a slight concussion. The driver of the car was Marvin E. Smith of Detroit, who was uninjured.

Officers say they never saw two automobiles so badly wrecked as were these two cars.

Later in the day another minor accident took place in the same locality.

Probably more accidents take place on this section of the Plymouth road than on any other highway in Wayne county. That section of the road is now generally referred to as the "Death Valley Highway."

Tuesday Proved to Be "Grandfathers' Day" Along Main Street

Tuesday, February 3, it seems, was "Grandfathers' day" in Plymouth.

Some friends of John Blickenstaff dropped into the store Tuesday forenoon to chat with him for a minute.

"Have a cigar," said John.

"What for?" they asked.

"Why don't you know? I'm granddaddy today," said John.

Down on North Main street, Ernest Allison gave some cigars to his friends.

"What's going on, Ernie? What's this all about?" his friends asked.

"Why don't you know? I'm granddaddy today," said Ernie.

Monday morning in Plymouth hospital, a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison.

P. S.—Pat Willst said today that the shortage of cigars at the store is over. He's been able to replenish the stock during the past few hours.

CHANGE DEFENSE CLASS

The regular Tuesday meeting of the class for auxiliary policemen training for civilian defense has been cancelled because of the annual father and son banquet for Plymouth Boy Scouts on Tuesday, February 10. The defense training class will meet again on Tuesday, February 17 at the usual time.

No Easy Victory In Sight, Says David Nichol

War Correspondent Visits Parents For Few Days

David Nichol, son of Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol, who has been in Germany for the last 18 months as correspondent for the Chicago Daily News and its newspaper syndicate, spent the early part of the present week in this city with his parents. Upon his return to Chicago this week, he begins a three weeks' vacation, the first he has had since he was sent abroad by The Chicago News nearly two years ago.

Mr. Nichol has probably more inside information pertaining to Germany than any other newspaper man who has returned from the European continent since the outbreak of the war. He is the last American correspondent to leave Germany and because of this fact his information is most timely.

"German people have been sold on the idea that they must win this war or they will be destroyed," states Mr. Nichol. "They now firmly believe it and as a result, no one should look for a quick and easy victory over Germany or should any one expect Germany to collapse from within."

The Detroit News has been publishing his articles, pertaining to inside Germany, syndicated by The Chicago News. Probably no recent series published by The News has created more interest than those written by Dave Nichol.

The youthful Plymouth writer is not sure as to his future plans or where he will be sent by The News. That is something that will be decided when his vacation is over.

Local Citizens Take Initiative In Home-Building

Group Pledges Five New Low-Cost Houses In Plymouth Area

Plymouth citizens have taken the initiative in a program to provide low-cost homes in the Plymouth defense area. A group of individuals, headed by Perry Richwine, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce housing committee, has pledged the building of five new homes an initial move to provide 50 to 100 new houses in Plymouth during the present year.

Preliminary plans have been completed and construction of the first bloc of five houses will start within 30 days, according to Chairman Richwine.

The plan for private initiative in defense home-building grew out of public response to a talk given by Harry M. Steffey, assistant to the state director of the Federal Housing Administration, at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce housing committee last Friday evening in Plymouth. The group of interested citizens met this week to discuss plans for the project.

The FHA will insure for any person not only for actual defense workers, desiring to build a house within a designated defense area which includes Plymouth, Mr. Steffey explained before a group of 30 representatives of local building firms, real estate agents and lumber companies last Friday.

The FHA official urged local people to take over the building of low-cost homes themselves not only as a local need but as a national need. Housing is a part of the war effort and necessary for the morale of the persons engaged in defense.

Priorities will be available for materials for homes of less than $6,000 within this designated defense area, and FHA loans up to $6,000 will be insured. It only remains for local citizens to make lots available for the building of new modern homes, explains Chairman Richwine.

The group of local individuals who have pledged the building of these five houses will guarantee the mortgages and build the houses on their own lots. The proposed new houses will be within the $4500 to $5000 bracket. A prospective buyer of a $4500 home will have 30 months in which to pay for his lot and any amount in excess of $4,000, FHA mortgage equity, after which his home payments will be rated on a monthly FHA basis including taxes and insurance.

The FHA, under Title 6, insures for 90 percent of the valuation set by them, the price of the mortgage not to exceed $4,000 on single residences; $6,000 on two-family houses; $8,000 on three-family dwellings and $10,500 on four-family dwellings.

Collides With Freight At Main Street Tracks

A new 1942 Chevrolet was wrecked when hit by a freight train at the Main street crossing of the Pere Marquette railroad shortly after midnight Wednesday. The driver, Fremont Laforie of Detroit, and two passengers received only minor cuts and bruises in the crash.

The car skidded on the ice approaching the crossing, hit a railroad switch and careened down the railroad tracks before it collided with the engine.

Plymouth to Go On "Fast Time" Next Monday Morning

It's time to get up! Time to get up—early in the mornin'!

That's what you and all the rest of the folks in Plymouth and the rest of the country will be singing Monday morning. For that is the time that "suntime" really begins in Plymouth.

If you get up at 6 o'clock "in the mornin'" now, you will be getting up at 5 o'clock Monday morning.

But it will really be 6 o'clock at 5 o'clock—figuring the new way that congress wants folks to figure.

There's only one safe way to do all of this—when you go to bed Sunday night, go up to the clock, open up its smiling face, say "Oh Hum" and then set the hands ahead for just one hour.

The next morning when it is 5 o'clock, it will be 6 o'clock—and you won't think anything about it, until it is time to go to bed again.

What a long afternoon and evening it will be when the sun gets back up around the Tropic of Cancer!

Board Changes School Hours

Time to Conform With Daylight Saving Law

School will start at 8:45 beginning Monday morning, February 9, at both the high school and the grade schools, in accordance with the new daylight saving law. This action was voted at a special meeting of the board of education Monday evening. The new opening time of school will be actually a half hour earlier in the day but a half hour later according to the new time standard.

The school board explained that the new school hours are not permanent and that as the season advances the hours will be subject to further change. It was considered inadvisable at this time to start school earlier because of the added use of electricity and because young children would have to go to school in the darkness.

Noon recess in the high school will be from 11:45 to 2:45 for the first group and from 12:45 to 1:45 for the second group. Noon dismissal for the later elementary grades will be from 11:30 to 12:30, and school will recess at 3:45 in the afternoon.

Local Debaters Win Tournament

Plymouth Advances In State Elimination

Plymouth high school's debate team won its first tournament of three debates in the state eliminations series at the Roosevelt high school in Ypsilanti Saturday. The local high school received a bronze plaque for winning the tournament and each of the local debaters received gold medals from The Detroit Free Press, co-sponsors of the state forensic tournament.

Members of Plymouth's winning debate team are Malcolm MacGregor, Dorritt Strauss and Louise Powell. Plymouth high won its debates from Roosevelt school, Ypsilanti, Wayne and Tecumseh high schools. Judges for the contests were Prof. H. T. Wood of Ypsilanti state normal college, Prof. Glenn Mills of the University of Michigan speech department and George Cosper, debate coach at Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

Coach James Latture of the Plymouth high school announces that the next tournament, a single debate, in the state elimination series, will be Friday, February 13 at the local high school. Plymouth will defend the affirmative against the East Lansing high school team upholding the negative of the military service question for 18-year-olds. Eight teams will be selected throughout the state following the February 13 tournament for competition in the quarter-finals.

Plymouth Citizens Buy 100 More Machine Guns in January

Night School Gives Additional Defense Courses

Joint Labor-Industry Group and School Board Plan Program

A joint labor-industry defense board and the board of education for Plymouth public schools completed plans this week for a new defense course for training women inspectors for defense plants. When approved by the federal government, the plan will provide night school training in shop mathematics, micrometer reading and blueprint reading.

A group of 50 employees of the Phoenix plant of the Ford Motor company is now in class attendance at night school, the students paying their own expenses until the project is approved by the federal government as a part of the night school defense program.

The defense board which cooperates with the board of education in planning defense courses is comprised of James Gallimore, superintendent of the Wilcox and Newburg plants of the Ford Motor company; C. H. Rauch, superintendent of the service department of the Daisy Manufacturing company; Lloyd Lambert, an employee of the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant representing the CIO, and Clifton Tillotson, an employee of the Wall Wire Products company, representing the AFL.

This advisory board meets once a month with the superintendent of Plymouth schools to consider additions and changes in the set-up of federal courses in night school.

Champe to Plan Annual Banquet

Wildlifeers Decide To Revive Interest

At the regular February meeting of the Western Wayne County Conservation association held Monday evening in the Mayflower hotel, Dr. Brick Champe was appointed chairman of a committee, he will name to prepare for the annual meeting and banquet of the association to be held the first Monday evening in April.

It was decided that the regular winter banquet would be dispensed with and a special effort put forth to make the annual banquet in April a most outstanding one.

Charles Welch, of the Michigan Conservation department, in an interesting way discussed the recent "doe" law that has been so roundly condemned by every sportsman in the state. He was advised that every deer hunter in this part of Michigan was strongly opposed to the law and that they demanded that no similar condition be permitted during another hunting season.

He displayed some interesting pictures of conservation development in Michigan. The meeting was one of the best attended in several months.

Daring Rescue Made of Youth

Wayne County Lad Saved From Drowning

Archie Garrow, 19-year-old student at the Wayne County Training school, and Mac Estep, an employee of the training school, rescued James Coil, 16 years old, from the overflowing waters of the creek near the culvert under Sheldon road last Saturday.

The Coil boy, on his way to vocational assignments in the greenhouse and dairy group of the training school, slipped from the edge of the concrete abutment at the side of the road and was pulled into the stream by the current. Young Garrow jumped into the water and grabbed the Coil youth, keeping him above the surface until assistance came. Two employees of the training school, Al Bauman and Bill Kimball, found it necessary to tie a rope around the struggling boy to pull him from the creek. Mac Estep, another employee, plunged into the water and assisted Garrow in the rescue.

No Lag Here in Purchase of Defense Bonds

City Maintains Its Excellent Record Started in Past Year

Send us airplanes! Send us men! Send us battleships! Send us MACHINE GUNS! That is the cry of American soldier boys fighting for America—fighting for the homes of their parents and their friends and all the other people of our country—fighting so that we can once again live in peace and contentment!

Keep 'Em Rattling

Keep 'em Flying!
Keep 'em Rolling!
Keep 'em Rattling!

To Keep 'em Rattling is Plymouth's job. How many machine guns are we going to buy during February for our boys at the front? We buy 'em—Let them rattle 'em!

How many do you say? We did a fine job during January—bought nearly a hundred machine guns through our defense bond and stamp purchases.

Keep 'em Rattling!

Townships to Register Men

All Men 20-44 to Sign For Draft February 16

Registration places for signing all men in the age group from 20 to 44 years, both inclusive, for the selective service and training act, on Monday, February 16, from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m., have been established in each local district in the local board's jurisdiction.

Headquarters for registrations are as follows: Plymouth city hall and local draft board offices for Plymouth; Northville high school for Northville; Pierson school, Livonia town hall and Rosedale Gardens school for Livonia township; Canton township hall for Canton residents and the Roosevelt and Beech schools for Redford township.

Approximately 40 citizens have volunteered to assist local board officials in the registration. A group of 27 women members of the American Legion auxiliary volunteered their services for the day in Plymouth. An instructional meeting for volunteer registrars will be held next Thursday evening, February 12, at 7:30 o'clock. Meetings will be held at the Plymouth city hall, Northville town hall, Livonia township hall and the new Redford township hall on Five Mile road.

Let's get busy and buy an additional 100 machine guns during the month of February—and do our part in a big way!

Workers out at the Kelsey-Hayes plant have shot the production up to a higher point than any one believed that the plant could produce.

So consistent are the guns coming from the finishing department that the officials of the company have been forced to do testing work night times as well as during the day.

Building Activity Totals $24,000

Construct Two New Homes in January

Only eight permits for new buildings were issued during January but the months' building valuations maintained a good average according to the report of the city building inspector submitted to the city commission Monday evening.

Total valuations for January's building permits amounted to $24,455, including two new residences and one new commercial building. A new house on Ross street is under construction by Contractor Daniel S. Mills for Albert Smith of Canton Center road. The house includes four rooms and bath with a one-car garage. The second new home started last month is a four-room frame construction at 1113 Palmer street for William Fehlig.

The month's only commercial project is the construction of a $14,000 addition to the office of the Michigan Bell Telephone company in Plymouth. The balance of the month's building permits were issued for additions, alterations and repairs.

Services at the Presbyterian church will take place Sunday morning at the usual time. Because of the decision of the government not to change to the new time until Sunday night, the church services will be at the customary hours this Sunday.

Peter J. Wagner of Beech road, Oakland county, is in the Plymouth hospital with injuries sustained Thursday morning when he lost control of his car, hit a tree and overturned in a ditch on Ann Arbor road west of Dix road. Wayne county sheriffs reported the driver was blinded by bright lights of an approaching car. The man suffered cuts on his face and possible fractured ribs.

Mrs. Bessie Wileden, Misses Ruth Parmalee, Dorothy Hughes and Lillian Smith were guests of Mrs. Carl Witt, a recent bride, near Wayne Friday evening.

Trucker Steals Cinder Blocks

Loot Taken From New Penn Theatre

Of all the nerve! Some two weeks ago a driver of a truck drove up in front of the New Penn theatre.

He wanted to know from Harry Lush what he would sell some left-over building material and cinder blocks for, stating that he had some building to do soon. He made sure that workers around the building saw him talking to Mr. Lush.

There was NO SALE.

A few days later just after Mr. Lush had left the theatre to go home for dinner before the evening show, the same truck driver drove up beside the theatre and loaded all of the cinder blocks on and drove away.

Some who saw him believed that Mr. Lush had sold him the surplus material.

About the most surprised man in Plymouth was Mr. Lush when he returned to the theatre to find that the blocks had been stolen.

Police so far have not been able to find the speak thief.

Words, like fine flowers, have their colours too.—Ernest Dhy.

Church Plans Service For Holy Name Society

The membership drive has been most successful. A goal of 30 new members was set at the start of the campaign and the committee reports 125 men have now joined.

Harry Ayers Writes To Local Rotarians

Fellow Rotarians received a letter from Harry Ayers this week from Santa Monica, California. "We appreciate your weekly letters from the Rotary club, always a welcome visitor. It must be pleasant living where everyone is busy! I don't get out much—just Friday to Rotary, and to the doctors," writes Rotary's absentee member and friend.

Two or three times a week, some of our friends come in to play bridge in the afternoon. Think I am some better. The car is working fine but don't drive much. People here are not alarmed about invasion; we are well guarded. The radio and papers keep us well informed. We have a nice bunch of fellows at Rotary and I have not missed a meeting. The sun is shining but it is a little chilly. Our flowers are nice; a Jonquil blossomed yesterday and the almond trees are in bloom. Think of Rotary at home and sometimes wish I could be at the meetings. Best wishes to all. Harry."

Word from England states that the 1941 Christmas seal sale went over the top, despite more than two years of war. Dr. Harley Williams, secretary general of the England National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, declared that the public's support of this past Christmas seal sale was "an improvement on 1940 which again was an improvement on anything we had done previously."

Lilly Viola Wickstrom And Orrin Snyder Of Wayne Wed

Baskets of gladioli and chrysanthemums formed the background for the wedding ceremony which united Lilly Viola Wickstrom, of this city, and Orrin K. Snyder, of Wayne, at 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning, January 31, in the Bethlehem Swedish Lutheran church in Detroit, the Rev. Reuben E. Norling reading the service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wickstrom, of Amelia street, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Snyder of Wayne.

The bride wore a street length dress of sheer wool in pastel blue with fitted jacket. Her accessories were in navy blue and corsage of vari-colored sweet peas and gypsophylla.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Munch, of Dearborn, attended the young couple, Mrs. Munch wearing a beige crepe jacket dress with brown accessories and corsage like that of the bride.

Mrs. Wickstrom chose a du-bonnet crepe dress for her daughter's wedding with black accessories and Mrs. Snyder wore all black.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder are residing on Plymouth road.

Whatever weighs in the eternal scale of equity and mercy tips the beam on the right side, where the immortal words and deeds of men alone can settle all questions amicably and satisfactorily.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Judges for Michigan high school papers entering the community health project were scheduled to meet January 28 in Lansing. The best paper will be sent on to the National contest which is jointly sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. Michigan judges include A. A. Applegate, Michigan State college journalism and publications; Gene Alteman, Michigan Press association; and Miss Ida Houston, department of Public Instruction.

What—No Uniform?

★ SHE doesn't wear an overseas cap on the job—or the smart bur, gray or khaki of the women's war-work units. But she is right in the thick of war activity just the same.

★ Through her switchboard flash hundreds of calls every day. Perhaps only one of those calls—she can't know which one—deals directly with the war emergency. But the swift completion of that one call may speed the delivery of a whole squadron of planes or a battalion of tanks! That's why she knows it's important to give the fastest possible service on all calls. Her quick mind and deft fingers help keep the nation's vital communication system operating.

★ Material shortages are making it increasingly difficult to meet service demands as promptly as in the past. But, while civilian requests may not always be satisfied, telephone people are conscientiously determined that every war need will be met.

Police Recover Scribe's Stolen Car in Plymouth

The Plymouth police department received a teletype message from the Detroit police that a 1940 Chevrolet automobile had been stolen January 29 from Fourth street and Lafayette boulevard in Detroit. On Friday, January 30, the Plymouth police recovered the stolen car after investigating a clue from a neighbor near Mill and Caster streets that a strange car had been parked at the curb for the last couple of days.
Recovering stolen cars is routine police business, but the local police took a special interest in the case when they discovered that the owner of the recovered car is Boyd Simmons, reporter for The Detroit News and an old friend of Acting Chief Charles Thumme. "Boyd" is known to many News readers as the former Cooley high school lad who contributed many interesting stories for H. C. L. Jackson's "Listen! In on Detroit" column before he graduated into a full-time reporter's job on the News staff. There were many reminiscences and renewing of old acquaintances at the Plymouth police station Monday when the reporter came here to claim his car.

Tree Rings
Dr. Andrew Elliott Douglas, University of Arizona astronomer, is the founder of the "twentieth century" science of "dendrochronology"—telling time (in years) by means of tree rings. The thickness of the annual growth rings in trees is proportional to the year's rainfall. Thus the rings fall in patterns corresponding to the varying rainfall supplies during the life span of the tree. By matching patterns from logs of recent date to successively older and older specimens, Dr. Douglas carried a continuous record back several hundred years. Examining logs in the ruins of Indian pueblos built before Columbus, he was able to tell the exact year when the wood was cut.

Recently Dr. Douglas announced that his rainfall calendar had been carried back to the lifetime of Christ, specifically to the year 11 A. D.

Hispanic Society
The Hispanic Society of America is an international organization, with a membership limited to 100 active and 300 corresponding members, which include specialists and scholars of all countries who have become distinguished in the Hispanic field. The deed of foundation provides for the establishment, in the city of New York, of a public library and museum designed to be a link between the English, Spanish and Portuguese-speaking peoples. It provides also for the advancement of the study of the Spanish and Portuguese languages, literature, art and history and the study of the countries wherein Spanish and Portuguese are or have been spoken languages.

Woolens, Worsted
The consumer should remember that large or small percentages of other fibers—rayon, cotton, silk—have been added to wool fabrics in the past years. Often these combination fabrics, as "silk-and-wool" dress materials, are beautiful and with unusual possibilities in taking colors and dyes.

One other point on which every buyer should be alert, is the difference between "woolen" and "worsted." Woolens are soft, fluffy, spongy, and their wearing qualities depend on the twist of the yarn and the weave of the material. Worsteds are more wiry and free from nap, and provide excellent wear, although they tend to get shiny after continued use.

To put in the hands of all people the means for a freer, broader and more healthful life—I don't know of a better purpose in life than that for anyone.

Lungfish Can Live Out Of Water Many Months

A common everyday fish may have an air sac in its body, but it is not used for breathing. Fish breathe with gills. In other words, oxygen is taken from the water as it passes through the gills.

The chief purpose of the air sac is to keep the fish in balance, so it won't fall over when it swims about.

In the Lake Victoria region of Africa, also in some other parts, there are fish which have turned the air sac into a lung. It serves to take oxygen from the air.

An African lungfish (also called a mudfish) is from two to three feet long and has a weight of six or seven pounds. When the river in which it swims dries up, it goes into the mud at the bottom and curls up.

The mud melts away in the water, and from it comes a fish more or less like an eel. It uncurls, but seems rather sleepy. In an hour or so, it swims about in a lively way.

Mudfish of much the same kind are found in certain river swamps of South America. The Australian "Barramunda" is another relative of the African lungfish.

Gaining Maximum Yield From Peas, Beans, Lupins

Peas, beans and lupins belong to a family of plants known botanically as legumes.

They have the unusual attribute of taking nitrogen from the air and secreting it in the roots in little bumps easily seen when the plant is pulled up.

These are usually referred to as nodules.

A special form of bacteria performs the work for the legumes of taking the nitrogen from the air.

In some soils these bacteria are absent or deficient and it is necessary to inoculate it with a culture containing it. To accomplish this the seed is treated before sowing.

To gain the maximum yield from peas, beans and other legumes, particularly in large plantings, the seed may be inoculated with nitrogen culture now commercially available and sold by all seed houses, the cans containing complete directions for its use.

The various legumes require different cultures, clovers and alfalfa being legumes as well as peas and beans.

It would be an interesting experiment for the home gardener to plant a row of inoculated peas and beans and another row which has not had the nitrogen inoculation and note the difference in the vigor and growth of the two rows.

Those present in uniform should render the right hand salute. Those men not in uniform should remove their headress with the right hand and hold it at the left shoulder, the hand being over the heart. Women should salute by placing the right hand over the heart. The salute to the flag in a moving column is rendered as the flag approaches the spectator and is held until it has passed.

Eminent Domain
The federal government may acquire land owned by individuals by simple purchase, by gift or by eminent domain.

Under the Constitution the federal government has the right to take private property for public uses without the consent of the owner, provided just compensation is given.

Eminent domain is based on the principle that an individual's private interest should not be permitted to stand in the way of the community interest.

Printing!

A new-comer called at the office of The Plymouth Mail the other day and wanted to know if he could get some printing done.

Yes, Most Assuredly!

"Would you like to see our printing department?" he was asked. The invitation was accepted.

The Best Outside Detroit!

"I certainly am surprised to find such a complete printing plant in a city the size of Plymouth. It is one of the best small printing plants I have ever seen," he said.

Liked Service, Too

When the printing job was delivered, he was pleased too. "That's mighty good work, and the price is as reasonable as one could expect," he declared.

Plymouth is Fortunate.

"This city is most fortunate in having a printing establishment where the printing needs of the community can be so well taken care of," he added.

Thanks, Many Thanks

The Plymouth Mail does attempt to give good printing service, and it does keep its prices within reason. Call Phone 6 if you need printing.

Lincoln's Words Furnish Inspiration for Freedom

This photograph, copyrighted by Bachrach, is one of the most famous pictures of Lincoln, the kind and gentle President who has achieved immortality in American history.

BY RALPH HERBERT. Pearl Harbor as they were on the day he delivered his address. 'They serve as a guiding light now to those who fight anew for freedom.

WHEN men gather to write the peace that must come, surely no better example can be offered than that of Lincoln, when he said: 'With malice toward none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nation's wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan—to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations.'

Plymouth Youths Write Home Folks

Edmund Zielasko and Rob't West Send News

Two Plymouth boys, Edmund P. Zielasko of the U. S. Army and Robert West of the U. S. Navy, sent letters this week to The Plymouth Mail telling of their activities in the armed forces.

Writing from a camp in Kentucky, Corporal Zielasko says, 'I want to thank you for sending me the weekly edition of The Plymouth Mail. It really makes me happy to read all about the things that are happening in that 'big city' of Plymouth.

'I have been stationed here in Kentucky since I was inducted, which was February 25, 1941. I was in the quartermaster battalion until January 1. Since then this battalion has been inactivated and a maintenance battalion has been formed. While in the quartermaster, I worked as a clerk in the orderly room and later I was transferred to the personnel section. I received my corporal's rating January 15 and am now classified as company clerk,' continues Zielasko.

'We are all ready to pull out of here at a moment's notice. Every truck has a machine gun mounted to the body, all the tanks are in A-1 condition and all the other vehicles such as motorcycles, peeps, jeeps, half-trucks and scout cars are in the best of condition. We will be pulling out of here sometime before February 15 but where we are going, nobody knows. This armored division is a strong division and will be a great help towards the defeat of the enemy. Once again I want to thank you for your kindness and splendid cooperation we are getting from you and other business men in the city of Plymouth,' concludes the local soldier.

'I have been wanting to write to you for a long time,' writes Robert West from a port in Louisiana, 'but the way Uncle Sam is working us, we have very little time to ourselves. We're working six days a week and every night stand sentry duty. Being a yeoman, of clerical worker, my duty is standing by the office after the base has been secured and the sentry watch has taken over the security of the base. I am to be available in case an officer should want any clerical work done.

'Thanks for the copies of The Plymouth Mail I have been receiving. I want to tell you that it does me a great deal of good to be able to read about home every so often. I am enjoying myself immensely here although my work is hard and long. I met a very fine girl (a Southern belle) some months ago whom I date as often as my work allows. She has seen your paper and agrees with me that it is a very fine one. I wish you and all of Plymouth the very best of luck in these troubled, precarious times,' concludes Sailor West.

THE STORY OF ELECTRICITY

Number Three in a series published by The Detroit Edison Company

Until the middle of the 17th century, men produced electricity by rubbing objects laboriously by hand. Then a burgo-master of Magdeburg, Otto von Guericke, invented the first machine for generating electric sparks . . . a revolving ball of sulphur on a wooden shaft, turned with a crank. In 1675 Sir Isaac Newton, in his book Opticks, described the same experiment using a glass ball:

"A Globe of Glass . . . if swiftly turn'd around its Axis, will . . . shine where it rubs against the palm of ones Hand apply'd to it: And if a piece of white Paper, Cloth, or the end of ones Finger be held at a small distance from the Glass where it is most in motion, the electric Vapour which is excited by the friction will . . . be put into such an agitation as to emit Light, and make the white Paper, Cloth or Finger appear lucid like a Glow-worm."

In 1709 Francis Hawksbee, a talented Englishman who held the post of Curator of Experiments at the Royal Society, made a similar machine using a glass ball with the air evacuated. When he held his hand against the whirling globe, it became filled with a weird light "so great that large print . . . could be read by it, and at the same time the room, which was large and wide, became sensibly enlightened, and the wall was visible at the remotest distance, which was at least ten feet."

A trace of mercury vapor in Hawksbee's globe made the strange light even more intense. This phenomenon was the forerunner of the mercury vapor arc lamp invented by P. Cooper Hewitt in 1901 . . . that strong greenish-blue light seen so often in factories and engraving plants.

"Spirit" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 8. The Golden Text (Ezekiel 39: 29) is: "I have poured out by spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord God." Among the Bible citations in this passage (Phil. 4:8): "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 510): "How much more should we seek to apprehend the spiritual ideas of God, than to dwell on the objects of sense! To discern the rhythm of Spirit and to be holy, thought must be purely spiritual."

ROGER BABSON SAYS War Is Forcing Many Real Changes

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 6—All of us are slaves of habit, custom, and style. It's awful hard for us to change our personal purchases; but we simply must do so if this war lasts more than 18 months longer. Let me this week give you some possible illustrations:

There will be no scarcity of wheat, corn, cotton, sugar, most vegetables, and fruits. This also applies to beef, chicken, and certain other meats. But cheese, butter, milk, eggs, and pork are wanted badly abroad. This means they will go up in price. Dieticians will probably advise you to continue your milk purchases, but cut down on the other items that are needed in England and by the armed forces. Instead of buying pork, sausages, and bacon, use other meats and poultry. Fish is high, not because of scarcity of fish but of boats and fishermen.

If the war lasts long enough, readers must substitute South American "mate" for tea, must cut down on cocoa and give up pepper and most spices. It is well to keep a good supply of soap in the house. Paine quality is sure to suffer due to the use of less lead and zinc. Tung oil—coming from China—is getting scarcer. Burlap bags—coming from India—will be cut 50 percent. Stock up now on the kitchen utensils which you'll need for the next two years. Always keep a good advance supply of canned goods on hand as well as a new oil stove for use in an emergency.

My evidences for coming changes beyond our imagination are certain statistics just received from Washington. These show that to the 5,000,000 persons now working in munition plants, 5,000,000 more are to be added. To the 2,000,000 men now in uniform, 4,000,000 more are to be drafted. To the 3,000,000 workers now on the farms, 4,000,000 more will be needed to harvest the 1942 bumper crops. Perhaps a total of 30,000,000 soldiers, munition workers, and farmers will be needed to lick Hitler and the Japs. All this means that great changes in home life and in business are in the cards.

It is true that these millions will not need pleasure cars and tuxedo suits, but on account of them the army will need more cars, more tires, more clothing, more shoes, and more food. There will be plenty of opportunities for those businessmen, salesmen, and workers who are willing to get out of their ruts and change into something more useful. The chances are favorable that your old business will—after the war—come back with a bang, but you cannot be certain. The war is developing new inventions, methods, and habits which will surely revolutionize some lines forever.

The effect of the tire and gas rationing will force more changes. It will temporarily help city property and handicap suburban property. It will help the railroads, street cars, and bus lines and handicap the tourist homes and popular camps—along the highway. Children—as well as parents—will stay home more. Money saved on tires will be spent on records, movies, and books.

Surely much of the money which formerly went into downpayments and installments on cars and into the purchase of tires, gas, etc. is to be spent upon something. If you happen to be in a business that the war is hurting, get busy and change. The purchasing power is still there for someone.

Although there now is plenty of sugar and most things other than rubber, metals, and chemicals; yet sugar, woolen blankets, certain wearing apparel, stockings, shoes, spice products, refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, and other certain things may be rationed. This will not be done—as in the case of autos and tires—because of scarcity, but to prevent hoarding. Furthermore, certain items may be adulterated by the addition of substitutes or second-hand materials.

Since the demand for our repair materials is great, we are forced to adopt a cash policy pertaining to any and all repair plumbing supplies, labor and materials, from this date on.

This policy will enable us to better serve you, and will insure you of almost immediate delivery of any plumbing article you may need.

Your cooperation will be appreciated, and we know that you can see the necessity of our adopting a cash policy if we are to serve your needs throughout the months ahead.

Plymouth Rocks Take Defeat

Closing the Northville basketball rally, Plymouth was left with the short end of the score 44 to 32. At the half it was either team's game, Northville leading 23 to 20. The final defeat may be laid to the school's black cat which walked across the floor during a rest period in the third quarter. Gordon, with a total of 12 points, four field goals and four charity shots, was high scorer for the home team. Completing the line-up, Ebersole scored seven points, Donohue six, Birt four, Gillis, Old and Shepperd each one; Woodard, Kearney and Bennett, none. Northville's high scorer was Hartner, with 10 points.

Contrary to the first team's record, the second team left the younger Northville team the smaller score, 37 to 24. Plymouth led at the half, 22 to 7. High score was held at a tie by Johnson and Hunt, with nine points each. Three new players appeared on the local line-up: Sasal, Byrd and Mason. Waack, Newton, Williams and Dely completed the line-up.

Between games the seventh and eighth graders provided the excited crowd with a few minutes of fast, amusing basketball. The Plymouth girl cheer leaders took every opportunity to lead a yell and introduced a new conga with the beat of drums.

Senior Sketches

To be a technical engineer is the aim of Arthur Fulton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fulton of 8880 Hix road, Newburg. Arthur was born in Nanty Glo, Pennsylvania where he has done some traveling; also he has been in Ohio and northern Michigan. Crying girls is his rather different pet peeve. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and all sports. During his six years here in school he has been busy with band and orchestra and one year of basketball. He worked on J-Hop. Prom, Junior play and he was in stunt night.

Jonathan H. Maxey, son of Ernest R. and Winnifred Mae Maxey, lives at 383 Starweather avenue. He was born in Rochester and has lived in Royal Oak and Phoenix, Arizona. Love of the out-of-doors is apparent in both his hobbies and accomplishments during his four years of high school. His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and skating while his accomplishments include one year of golf, two years of baseball, one year of football, and two years of basketball. This lad's pet peeve is people who call him "Jonathan." He has traveled through every one of the 48 states of the union. His aim in life is "to become a good accountant."

Robert Gordon Kirkpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kirkpatrick, was born in Plymouth and lives at 357 Auburn street. A trip to Isle Royale in a fishing boat working as cook, deck hand, and assistant navigator has been his longest trip. Last year Bob was successful in getting his buck. This was right along his line of hobbies which are hunting and fishing. Bad drivers are his pet peeve. Bob plans to enter the navy as soon as he graduates and later his ambition is to own a small schooner and sail around the world.

The best thing about obstacles is that they make us prove ourselves. Some of life's keenest satisfaction comes from doing things we thought we couldn't do.

Rocks Lose 10 To Ypsi 17

With three seniors, Hunter, Wilkie, and Baker who have completed four semesters of play gone from the line-up, the Plymouth Rocks' quintet lost to the Ypsilanti Braves by the score of 59 to 35 on Wednesday, January 28 at Plymouth. Being forced throughout the whole game by the Ypsi quintet, the Rocks had to be content with a half time score of 31 to 11. Ebersole was high scorer for both teams, sinking six field goals and swishing three free throws for a total of 15 points. Three field goals and one free throw were credited to Gordon for nine points. Gillis was credited with six points and O'Leary with four points. Shepperd sank a free throw for his tally. Substitutes for the Rocks were Bennett, Donahue, Kearney, Birt, and Woodard. The high scorer for the Ypsi Braves was Freatman with 11 points.

Using passing continuously the teams kept the crowded gymnasium full of excitement to the final buzzer. Although it was a rather rough game with 31 personal fouls and one technical foul, only one player was forced from the game.

Reserves Ditto First Team.

The Rocks lost their fifth game by the score of 37 to 27 here Wednesday, January 28. High-point man of the game was Bower of the Ypsi quintet with 13 points. Curmi sank three field goals and two free throws to be Plymouth's high man with eight points. Superior height gave the Braves a definite edge.

Because of the recent demand for more math, a short course in trigonometry will be taught this semester by Mr. Blunk. He is teaching a class of seven, five seniors, Joe Measel, Bob Bachelder, Gordon Ross, Bob Kirkpatrick and Bill Upton; one junior, Bob Boyce, and one post-graduate student, Jack Baker. They all say they like math. Most of them hope to be engineers.

Introducing fifty new students to public speaking is Mr. Latture's job this semester. His students of course, are juniors and seniors. There is a class for commercial students, for whom public speaking is required. Also, there is a class for students who elect to take the course another semester. Perhaps in another month there will be a great deal heard about these future orators, but right now they are just a lot of kids waiting to make their first speech in front of the class and everyone who hears them. Especially Mr. Latture.

Starting the new semester at Plymouth high school were about sixty chemistry students who have completed one semester's work. At the present time they are studying the properties of acids, bases and salts. This study will lead them into a number of experiments regarding different foods.

Gym classes were resumed Monday, with the students who had gym three times a week taking it only twice. There are six boys' gym classes, of which four are ninth and tenth graders. The largest class has 72 enrolled, and the smallest has 35. All the classes will continue to play basketball for two months, after which they will use the bars.

Council, Hi-Y Co-Sponsor Dance

The Student Council and Hi-Y are co-sponsoring a dance tonight (February 6) in the high school gym, with Don Barnard's orchestra furnishing the music.

The committee members are: Nancy McLaren, chaperons; Annabelle Heller, refreshments; Marie Ann Miller, publicity; Wendell Johnson and Marian Goodman, decorations; Hugh Harshbarger, floor; and Dorothy Fisher, orchestra.

The council recently decided to allow former graduates or students from other schools who wish to attend with local pupils to come to school dances. It is believed that the attendance of school parties will increase due to this new system.

Band Seeks New Members

With the help of band and orchestra officers, a huge recruiting drive for these two organizations was carried out last week by Mr. Luchtman in hope of acquiring a well-rounded class, a high school band and orchestra for the coming concert season and for future years. Through this effort students of the seventh, eighth, ninth, tenth and eleventh grades received questionnaires. After writing their name, address, phone number and grade, they were asked these questions: "Would you like to play in the Plymouth High School band or orchestra?" "What instrument would you like to play?" and "Do you have an instrument at home?"

The well-rounded class A high school band consists of ten flutes, six saxophones, 24 clarinets, two alto clarinets, two oboes, two bassoons, ten cornets, six trombones, six French horns, three tubas, one tympani and a limited number of drums.

The string section of the orchestra is made up of 30 violins, 10 violas and eight bass violins. Mr. Luchtman would like to see in the music room at any time of the day anyone who is interested in an instrument. In his words, "This affords an excellent opportunity for every student in the high school."

Class News

Miss. Hearn, the teacher of Latin at Plymouth high school has classes all day except her lunch period. She has three first year Latin classes with about 25 students in each. The second year classes are much smaller as there are only two, with about 30 students to each. The other is third year Latin, with only five girls studying Virgil. They are all juniors except Carmel Stitt, a senior.

There are many history classes in Plymouth high school. Miss Saffell has five full World History classes, and Mrs. Bixler two story classes, and Mrs. Bixler two. Miss Fiegel, the American history teacher, has four, and Mrs. Bixler has a twelfth grade U. S. history class besides a number of eighth grade groups. Miss Hamill teaches two ancient history and two American, so there is a total of 14 history classes in our school.

Introducing fifty new students to public speaking is Mr. Latture's job this semester. His students of course, are juniors and seniors. P.H.S. Grads Visit During Exams

Two girls wearing red plaid coats visited the school the other day. They were Pat and Bernice Kinahan of the class of '41. With them was Dorothy Waters, also of the class of '41. They peeped in all the windows on the third floor and especially in Mrs. Bixler's room. They didn't stay long, though, and I am wondering if they were scared out? "Red" O'Leary of the '41 class rushed into library Thursday morning just as though she were still going to school. She stopped at the desk and informed the astonished librarians that she was in the midst of first semester exams at Denison, the college she attends. Then she chatted with Miss Taylor the rest of the hour. It seems good to see these graduates back in school once in awhile.

Elaine DePlanche came to school the other day with a girl friend. Her name is Jean Hleuty, and she attends Chadsey high school in Detroit. She remarked that she enjoyed her visit to Plymouth very much, and that the teachers were exceptionally nice.

Ross Re-Elected President Hi-Y

Election of Hi-Y members became almost a re-election on Thursday, January 29. Gordon Ross was re-elected president. Bob Birt moved from vice president to secretary, and Bob Bachelder remained treasurer. Jack Baker was the only newly elected officer and became the club's new vice president, while Earl Merriman, former secretary, left his office, withdrawing his nomination because he has a class fourth hour. The present sergeant of arms, Owen Gordon, will remain in that office, this officer being elected once a year.

Three weeks ago Hi-Y pins and cards were collected and a constitution set up. Pins and cards will be returned only to the member when he has learned articles two, five, and six of the newly acquired constitution.

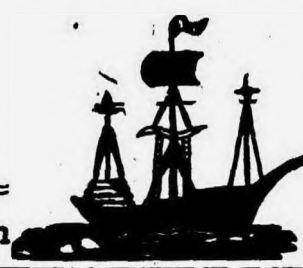

Dearborn Frosh Win Two Games

Defeating P.H.S.'s freshman basketball team on Friday, January 30, Dearborn was at the end of scores in the two games played. The Plymouth team was ahead most of the game but Dearborn succeeded in winning in the last minute with a score of 25 to 27. Harold Shultz was the highest scorer on the Plymouth team with 10 points. The score of the other game was 45 to 12. Dearborn being the victor, Ronald Brink was Plymouth's high-point man with four points.

Council Stresses Citizenship

In order to make citizenship more important to the average student the student council has voted for a new punishment ticket when a pupil gets a ticket in the halls. After his first offense the culprit will be given a warning. When he receives a second ticket he must do the work that the school traffic court metes out to him and if he then receives a third, his parents will be asked to confer with Mr. Dykhouse in order to make the necessary adjustments.

Boy Dates Girl, Minus Tires

To advertise the Junior play an enterprising group placed an ancient and now uncommon buggy on the school campus. It caused much comment among the high school students who had never seen one before, but also it was noted that it did not require any precious rubber tires. Does that prompt an idea? Well, it is doubtful if a gal will spy her date seated high on a shiny black buggy pulled by the family brone in the near future, but since high school students have always put a lot of frivolous wear and tear on dad's car, they are the ones who should heed a warning. Since the government has placed a tax on the purchase of tires, it is important that the present ones be saved for pop's job. When the young ones do use the car, why dash around madly, skidding, bumping curbs, and otherwise using the tires up?

When a popular girl who lives out of town was confronted with the problem of mileage on her date's car, she solved it by having him use the chariot only to call for and take her home. The rest of the date they spend truckin' around town. This saves a lot of stop and go tearing around and that wise miss will have more dates full of fun to her credit for being such a good sport. Another way students are conserving is to put six friends aboard and take turns driving for different occasions. It's more fun and means only one couple using one gas buggy. Up until this time it was considered smart when a couple went to Detroit for entertainment; now more and more kids are taking advantage of the excellent recreations in the old home town.

There was a time when a mother would fret "Oh, why can't Junior entertain his high school friends at home" and when parlor games were considered "dumb," but the market increase in the number of private parties is apparent. When mother was a girl she managed very well to enjoy herself almost entirely in this manner and the up and coming generation isn't wasting any time adjusting themselves to this new situation. Then, of course, there is always the funny side. Recently when a senior boy was scolded for getting in so late, his come-back was, "But, Dad, you told me to save on the tires so I cruised at 20 knots all the way home." Oh, you can't win!

"Dear Arabella"

"Dear Arabella" could be the theme song in Mr. Wallace's science classes for she is the new (or old) skeleton in school. Mr. Wallace says Arabella is a woman, because of her small brain cavity. The fact that her legs are not attached and a few teeth are missing does not harm her popularity. Otherwise she is in perfect condition. Someone with a kind heart donated a pair of earmuffs to keep Arabella's ears (?) warm. Anyone who wants to pay her a visit is perfectly welcome.

Gettin' Around

Joyce Tarnutzer, Jim Sexton, Lenore Kennedy and Louis Kolin saw Jimmy Dorsey blow his horn at the Michigan theatre in Detroit Monday p.m.

Seen truckin' at Northville's ball to help President Roosevelt celebrate his sixtieth birthday Friday were Jan Downing, Bob Vogtlin of Northville, Ione Stuart, Mike Kleinschmidt, Barb Lutzenburger, and Wally Echer.

Jan Downing donned her Sunday-go-to-dinner clothes to be guests of friends in Detroit Sunday afternoon.

Joe Measel had Marie Ann Miller, Fern Bower, and George Chute to his house after the picture "How Green Was My Valley" at the Penn. That's what I call being patriotic. More "get-arounders" are taking advantage of Plymouth instead of tearing to neighboring towns.

A product hardly expected from a giant mass production industry is the school textbook, yet thousands are published monthly at the Henry Ford Trade school, within the big Rouge plant at Dearborn, Michigan.

Vegetable Growers To Meet Monday

Wayne county vegetable growers are invited to attend a meeting at the Romulus township hall at 8 p.m. on Monday, February 9 according to E. I. Besemer, county agricultural agent.

Starting vegetable plants will be discussed by Raymond Klackle, assistant county agricultural agent for the Detroit area.

His discussion will include varieties, disease control, and general care of plants in the vegetable greenhouse and not bed.

Motion pictures will also be shown.

With an increased demand for canned and frozen vegetable growers will want to get their early plants started right, then more attention will have to be given to labor short cuts, proper application of fertilizer, and strict attention to insect and disease control.

Plymouth Scout Group Wins Honor

Stag Patrol Receives "A" Rating in First Aid

The Stag patrol of Troop P-1, Plymouth Boy Scouts, received an "A" rating in first aid drill awarded at the Detroit Area council first-aid-ree finals held at the Burroughs school in Detroit last Friday evening. Members of the local patrol who won the honor rating in practice for emergency first aid service were: Charles Strachan, Richard Daniels, Robert Chubb, Edward Strong and Carroll Cushman.

Thirty patrol from troops in the Detroit Area council competed for "A" or "B" ratings in the first aid drill. American Legion members skilled in first aid acted as judges. A novel feature of one of the drills was the administration of first aid by Scouts out rehearsal. Carlton Lewis, chairman of the P-1 troop committee and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney D. Strong from Plymouth accompanied the local Scouts to the drill competition.

Kroger Plans Way For Bond Sales

Employees of the Kroger Grocery and Baking company, now may purchase defense bonds by means of a payroll deduction plan, Albert H. Morrill, Kroger president, announced today.

By special arrangement with the employee-sponsored credit union, any of the firm's 23,000 employees may authorize a weekly deduction of not less than one dollar to be applied toward the purchase of a $25 maturity value bond. The credit union has arranged to keep records and purchase their bonds when the required amounts have been accumulated.

Bonds of larger denomination also may be purchased by specifying correspondingly larger weekly deductions.

"Participation in the plan is entirely voluntary," Mr. Morrill explained. "Many of our employees have asked for some method which will facilitate their investment in national defense by buying bonds. By paying for them in weekly installments, many more Kroger people will be able to subscribe for Defense Bonds."

A man will not be the better because he had a well-born father, if he himself is nought. But true high-birth is in the mind, it was never in the flesh.—King Alfred.

A Good Turn Daily—For 32 Years

A LEGISLATIVE RESPONSIBILITY

Have the people of Michigan and other states of the Union become so calloused to graft, wrong-doing and malfeasance in the conduct of public business that they no longer give even second thought to alleged official misconduct?

Has the tendency during the past eight or nine years on the part of some elective public officials and their political henchmen to grab public funds for personal gain by every conceivable trick become so commonplace that it doesn't even rate editorial comment or even second mention in our newspapers? Is there so much of it that if newspapers devoted proper space to a consideration of this question, there would be nothing else in the papers except news pertaining to graft and wrongdoing in the conduct of public business?

Have the high executive officials of our state and nation lost all regard for their sworn duty to see to it that public business is honestly and economically conducted and that no one shall remain in a public position who has transgressed?

Not so long ago Congressman Engel placed in the records of Congress charges that Lieutenant Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan had attempted to secure a fee from a Michigan company that was endeavoring to secure a contract from the federal government for the making of war materials. Officials of the Michigan concern, stated Congressman Engel, were perfectly willing and anxious to place before any proper official or officials full information as to the alleged malfeasance of the Lieutenant Governor of this state.

The newspapers did their duty and published the charges made by Congressman Engel. They also published some sort of a denial from the accused official. There the matter ended until a day or so ago. Early this week Congressman Engel forced a member of the house military affairs committee to say that the charges will receive consideration. But that does not satisfy Michigan citizens.

Meanwhile the Michigan legislature has met and adjourned. No public official in Michigan said anything to the Michigan legislature pertaining to the Engel charges, although the legislature does have the power and right to do something about such a matter as this.

The Governor has announced that it is his intention to call the legislature back into session on February 9.

It lies within the power of the house of representatives of the Michigan state legislature to vote impeachment proceedings against the lieutenant governor.

We believe that at the forthcoming session it is the duty of this body to do so. Mr. Murphy has been accused of corrupt conduct in office. He is alleged to have used his office as lieutenant governor in an effort to secure for himself a fee in connection with the awarding of a government contract. If true, that constitutes serious misconduct in public office and is sufficient reason for impeachment.

If the charges are not true, an impeachment trial will clear his name. Lieutenant Governor Murphy is quoted as having asked congress to make an inquiry into the charges. The proper body to make such an inquiry is the Michigan state legislature and the Lieutenant Governor should be anxious to have such proceedings started, if he is innocent of the charges made by Congressman Engel and the officials of a large Muskegon manufacturing concern.

It would seem, too, that Governor Van Wagoner, if interested in the honest conduct of public business as we believe him to be, should welcome the inquiry into the charges against one of his official family. The lack of interest in the Engel charges upon the part of the Governor has been somewhat mystifying.

It should not be a Michigan newspaper, but the Governor asking for impeachment proceedings.

We regard it as an important public duty for the house of representatives in the forthcoming session to vote an impeachment trial of the Lieutenant Governor. If he is guilty, remove him from office. If he is innocent, clear his name. An impeachment trial is the only way it can be done.

The Lieutenant Governor's record has not been of the kind that would inspire one with a belief that he has had too much regard for the careful spending of tax dollars. It will be recalled that it was necessary for proper state officials to reject an expense account he filed some months ago. Then he had the audacity to ask the taxpayers to buy him an automobile—for a state position that requires absolutely no legitimate travel.

We have a war to win, and we cannot afford to be bothered by a lot of greedy, selfish, grasping public officials. There is no room for them in the all-out fight to preserve an HONEST America.

SHERRILL AMBLER

The funeral of Sherrill Ambler was held in Northville last Saturday afternoon. It was one of the largest funerals held in our neighboring community in many a year. Not many people in Plymouth knew Mr. Ambler, who was the son of prominent and well known pioneer residents of this part of Wayne county. But seemingly every one in and around Northville knew and liked Sherrill Ambler.

Although but 47 years of age, he had served his community well. As a member of the school board, he had distinguished himself and helped the school district by his knowledge of financial matters. He had served the village as its clerk, and here, too, he made an excellent public record.

He possessed the priceless quality of being able to maintain good cheer and hope, no matter how strong the tide was running the other way. In the last dozen or so of years when no man, whether possessed of great wealth and position, has known such a thing as security, Mr. Ambler faced the problems of a distressed world with a courage and smile that shamed others in a far more secure position than most of us enjoy.

It was his cheerfulness, his hope, his ability to smile, no matter what the ups and downs might have been, that won for him the lasting friendship of hundreds who paid tribute to his memory last Saturday. Surviving members of the family through the years to come can find comfort in the fact that Sherrill Ambler stood out during the last years of his life as one who faced the troubles of a troubled world with a courage and cheerfulness that few men can claim, a spirit of hope that others would give anything to possess.

His death is most untimely, because just at this time we need men of his type so badly—men who can by their geniality help others to be cheerful—cheerful in a world where men are fast losing their ability to smile in the face of adversity and conflict. To the members of his family, to his host of friends and to his community, The Plymouth Mail extends its deepest sympathy.

RAMBLING AROUND

With Prominent Michigan Editors
 Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

A FAIR WARNING

"Blood, sweat, and tears" is the classically described toll that Winston Churchill says England must pay to win this war; automatically, now, this statement includes the people of the United States. As this statement becomes true, as days go by, it will behoove much of the New Deal to be certain that America's war effort gets results, or the righteous wrath of our people will engulf it.—George Averill in The Birmingham Eccentric.

ONLY TWO FRONTS

There are only two fronts—the war front and the home front. If a man or woman cannot be at the war front he or she must serve on the home front. On the home front are many tasks to do. There are auxiliary defense services, there are bonds to buy, there are weapons to make, there is morale to be sustained, there are families to feed and clothe, there are the everyday duties to perform. We can't build bombers and warships and use our auto-

ABOUT TIME

Just about a year ago The Plymouth Mail suggested that because of our preparation for the war that our country was sure to enter, that the taxpayers of the nation would be bled white in order to pay for it. We suggested at that time that our state government take some steps towards lowering the costs of operating the various departments and commissions so that Michigan taxpayers would be able to meet the tremendously increased and necessary federal tax burden.

What has the present state administration done about it? NOTHING! Instead of our expenses being reduced as promised during 1941 the cost of state government has INCREASED. During the present year the state is bound to experience a reduced income. With expenses going higher, with taxpayers experiencing a reduction of income, with a tremendously increased federal tax burden—we wonder if some one up in Lansing will not show at least a little regard for the plight of the citizens of Michigan? The Governor of New York has already taken steps to slash the expenses of that state at least 25 percent.

Michigan less than ten years ago operated its various departments and institutions for less than $15,000,000 per year. It now exceeds $30,000,000. And mind you, practically none of this total is involved in Michigan's participation in the national defense program.

Uncle Sam needs our tax dollars and our Defense bond dollars much worse than does a big political machine in Michigan. It would seem as though the plight of our nation and the needs of our army and navy are far more important than the retention of hundreds, yes, thousands of useless political job holders, on Michigan's payroll.

KEEPING STEP

Announcement of the improved bus service between Plymouth and Detroit is good news to this city. With a 45-minute service to and from the metropolis, Plymouth for the first time since the interurban days is enjoying adequate travel service. We heartily commend the Plymouth Coach company. It was not so many years ago when the city had no bus service to Detroit. During the first three or four years of its existence the company operated its coaches at a loss, but it kept up the service irrespective of its early financial difficulties. Constantly improving its service, the company has been able to increase its patronage until now the Coach line is giving Plymouth as good transportation service as enjoyed by any Michigan community. We commend officials of the company for making their transportation venture an outstanding success and for giving to Plymouth such excellent service.

mobiles as we have in the past. We can't feed the men at the front and our allies in other lands and have all the food we have enjoyed in the past. We can't convert our merchant ships into troopships and still import tons of goods from other countries. We are in a war, with men and machines scattered far and wide over the face of the earth. All of us can't be on the fighting fronts but all of us can enlist and must enlist in the home fronts without which the fighting fronts would swiftly crumble.

—Nelson Brown in The Ingham County News.

NOW WE ARE GETTING SOMEWHERE... OR, ARE WE?

It has been no secret that one of the biggest—if not the biggest—bottle-necks in our whole war effort has been right in Washington, D. C. One prominent observer has had the temerity to say that President Roosevelt himself has been the first and most important bottleneck. Pass that—he may not have liked the President. It remains that things have not been going as they should—even since Pearl Harbor.

Of course, the best evidence of this is the fact that the President has been making changes. It looks as if we are now on the right track... that we are getting somewhere. Not that we have made no progress to date—that would be untrue. The point is, or has been, we have not been "clocking."

Pearl Harbor brought its speedy changes. It was and is evident that someone, or several, were asleep at the switch.

It has been long known and repeatedly published that the OPM firm of Knudsen-Hillman-Henderson were not hitting it off. Divided authority which Bernard Baruch warned against for the past year or more, resulted in no one of the three knowing just who was boss and when.

Now that has been changed.—Schuyler Marshall in The Clinton County (St. Johns) Republican-News.

NO SHORT WAR

Although there can be only one result to the present conflict with Japan, it is going to take many months to come to a successful conclusion for the Allies. Before the tide of battle can be turned through superiority of numbers in guns, tanks and planes, Japan will have established herself on many far-flung islands from which it will have to be dislodged "piece by piece." It cannot be done by indolence nor by hysteria; it must be done by constant hard pushing, just as a crew of men would chew up a big mountain with steam shovels until the deadweight has been exhausted. America has the resources, it has the men, it has the will to do the job and it has the stamina to "take it" no matter how long it takes. The end is inevitable.—Adrian VanKovering in The Zealand Record.

A REAL AMERICAN SPEAKS

We confess to a prejudice against the Reuthers, Murphys, and others who made sit-down strikes possible in Michigan and caused their spread to other states, hence we also now confess to a prejudice against seeing some of those fellows sitting in high places in Washington. Very evidently our president was not prejudiced against them because of what they did.—William Berkeley in The Cassopolis Vigilant.

25 YEARS AGO...

And 50 years ago news taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail

Theodore Harmon, who has acquired quite a reputation as a curio collector, has lately come into possession of an especially interesting article, namely, the barrel in which Mrs. Edna Edson Taylor of Bay City, Michigan, made a trip over Niagara Falls in the year 1910. The barrel was constructed according to her own ideas. It is made of very hard wood, bound with twelve iron hoops fastened with bolts. The diameter of the barrel is 15 inches at the bottom, 30 inches in the largest part, just above the center and 25 inches at the top and it is four and a half feet high. Mrs. Taylor went over Horseshoe Falls on the Canadian side. Three men took her in a small boat to the middle of the river, where air was pumped in to the barrel, the cover put on, and it was then thrown overboard. The woman was in the water between ten and 15 minutes, and when brought ashore was so overcome by fright and exhaustion that she had to be taken to a hospital. Mr. Harmon came into possession of the barrel through a distant relative.

Saturday evening, 40 relatives and friends gathered at the pleasant home of W. S. Birch, to help Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon celebrate their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. At eight o'clock strains of the wedding march were heard and to the enjoyment of all Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon were re-married again, the bride appearing in the usual veil and orange blossoms. The bride was presented with a beautiful bouquet of carnations and the bridegroom with a bag of silver.

The local lodge of Odd Fellows are planning on a big event here Wednesday when they will hold an inspiration meeting in their hall over the Rockwell pharmacy. The lodge is in a most flourishing condition, enjoying a healthy growth, and its members are enthusiastic over its future outlook.

Three adult classes are being organized in the Methodist Sunday school in evidence of the increased interest in the adult department. The Woman's Friendly Bible class was organized last week at a social gathering held at the home of Mrs. R. R. Parrott. The Sorosis Bible class is made up of young women and they have about 30 members. The men are not going to be left out, for last Sunday 21 men met at the Sunday school hour and began plans for organization.
