WILKIE FUNERAL HOME 217 North Main Street Phone Plymouth 14 or Redford 0584 THE STAFF of this organization has been trained to provide many courteous services beyond those normally expected from funeral directors. They act, too, in a spirit of honest human sympathy that is more than professional duty. We realize that, in times of grief, the bereaved are helpless to contend with the many details that arise. It is the duty, then, of the funeral director to act as friend and counselor, helping his clients carry their unhappy burden. It is this spirit that prompts our acts of service. To it we ascribe the confidence that has been ours in this community, and trust that we will never fail to merit your respect and patronage.

POLITICS, AS USUAL

We liked very much the sentiments expressed by Governor Van Wagoner at the Jackson day dinner in Detroit last Saturday evening relative to the spirit displayed by both political parties in Lansing during the recent extra session.

But the thing we didn't like about the banquet was the fact that over a thousand Democratic office-holders and aspirants for political favors were assessed $25 each for the right to stuff themselves with the finest foods of the land so that the Democratic party might have more slush funds for the forthcoming campaign.

In recent depression years we have tried to shame the Democrats out of this notorious scheme of shaking down the "faithful" through their $25 per plate banquet by holding here in Plymouth four-bit Lincoln day charity day dinners of salt pork, boiled potatoes and corn bread.

But it seems there is no such thing as shaming a group of greedy, office-holding politicians.

Now of all times, it seems downright demagoguery for any political party to hold such a feast as that which took place last Saturday evening at the Book-Cadillac hotel.

Think of it! Those $25,000 shaken down from Democratic office holders at the banquet would buy nearly 35 machine guns for our boys who are fighting and dying at the front so that our nation might continue to exist!

Twenty-five thousand dollars in the hands of the Red Cross would heal many a wound and relieve untold suffering.

But NO! The money must go for politics—politics at the very time our national existence is threatened!

It would probably be unfair to blame Governor Van Wagoner for what his party leaders did in this matter. The Governor was only a speaker at the banquet. It would probably be unfair to censor Senator Prentiss Brown for his part in this shake-down affair. He, too, was only a speaker. But Senator Brown knows how desperately serious is our situation.

Upon the Democratic State Central committee, however, does lie the responsibility for this modernistic Bels-hazzar political shake-down feast at a time when America's temples of justice, truth, equality and freedom are threatened by the Gods of Hate, Jealousy and Revenge.

Might we suggest to the Governor, who has been putting his heart and soul into our war effort, that he immediately demand that his political party machine, convert these food-tainted dollars from a political slush-fund into the Nation's defense fund? Michigan voters would applaud such an effort upon the part of our Governor.

It would be a good test, too, of Democratic loyalty to our Nation now begging for dollars to defend and protect itself.

MR. BINGAY! SUCH WORDS!

Dashes and exclamation points apparently are not needed to convey printed impressions of strong words when Editor Malcolm Bingay of the Detroit Free Press takes typewriter in hand to tell some folks what he thinks about some things.

The other day in writing about the once famed Teddy-The-Dee-Lighted, Editor Bingay made critical reference to the "fauna that infests the House of Representatives" in Washington. Well, one is entitled to say many unkind things about the self-voting pensioners, but we wonder if Editor Bingay might not have had reference to the national museum?

Noah Webster defines a fauna as "one of a class of rural deities, half goat and half man, or of human shape, with pointed ears, horns and a goat's tail."

Or maybe, you meant just what you said, Mr. Bingay. If you did—might we say that "them that are pretty rough words."

ON THE OFFENSIVE

CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE.

To the press of America must be given a large share of the credit for bringing about repeal of the law providing pensions for the President, Vice-President, Senators and Congressmen. The pension measure was slipped into another bill which had some merit, was passed without any of the congressmen having time to learn all that was in it, was passed by the Senate on a recorded vote, and was signed by the President, who approved of it.

FOOD COSTS STILL WAY BELOW THE 1917-29 MARK.

We hear considerable nowadays about the rising cost of living. We are apt to refer to former days in generalities, instead of getting down to facts and figures. One of the largest food distributing concerns in America has kept accurate records, as has the government, and is in a position to tell exactly how 1942 compares with 1917. The 1942 workingman has all the best of it so far.

Illiteracy Proved Surprise

Auto Branch Office Filled Out Forms

"I was amazed at the number of people who could not read nor write who applied for automobile license plates during the last few weeks," stated Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth secretary of state office yesterday when discussing the big rush the office experienced this year.

Mr. Rambo stated that the illiterate were practically all newcomers to this locality, as most of them had never before had Michigan license plates.

"It required the work of one clerk most of the time to fill out their blanks. We were more than surprised at this condition," he stated.

By far the largest number of plates ever issued at the Plymouth office were recorded this year, states Mr. Rambo.

The Detroit Edison Company advertisement for electric servants. Text: 'How to keep your ELECTRIC SERVANTS longer! Today "making things last longer" is both practical and patriotic. Here are some suggestions for prolonging the life of the helpful electric servants that save so much time and labor in your household. (1) After using an appliance, don't disconnect it by pulling on the electric cord. Yanking on the cord shortens its life. Always take hold of the plug when disconnecting cord. Don't let cord touch hot appliances. (2) Never immerse any electric appliance in water. (3) Do not use a fork to remove toast from a toaster. Remove crumbs from your automatic toaster periodically. (4) Don't go away and leave your iron turned on—even to answer the phone or doorbell. Don't leave iron cord dangling so that it can be caught accidentally and the iron pulled to the floor. (5) Do not let large amounts of dirt collect in vacuum cleaner bag. (6) To protect the electric heating units and switches on appliances, avoid spilling food or fluids on them while cooking. (7) Do not let electric percolators, teakettles, etc. boil dry. Do not completely drain them while they are still hot. THE DETROIT EDISON COMPANY'
