Plan Clinic for County Patients At Detroit Prison

New Department at D. H. of C. to Relieve Congestion at Eloise

Establishment of an infirmary clinic at the Detroit House of Correction to care for county psychopathic and alcoholic cases has been proposed and is now under study by the Wayne County Board of Auditors.

The plan would relieve overcrowded conditions at Eloise and eliminate the farming out of small, private hospitals at considerable cost to the county.

The Detroit House of Correction has available facilities to accommodate 300 county patients immediately with complete segregation from the prison inmates, according to A. Blake Gillies, superintendent, who outlined the proposed plan at a luncheon conference of the auditors and prison commission last week.

The institution offers the added advantage to the patients of modern, fully-equipped medical and psychiatric departments and facilities and a program for the rehabilitation of many patients. There are three large dormitories available for occupancy, entirely separate from the present inmates, and a dining room where patients may be fed separate from others. Supt. Gillies proposes to construct corridor passageways between each of the dormitory buildings to facilitate supervision of the patients. The House of Correction will care for these patients at a rate of approximately $3.50 a day.

Through a work program of vocational training and proper treatment by the medical and psychiatric departments, not afforded by private hospitals with limited facilities, these patients, particularly alcoholic cases, may be rehabilitated and returned to usefulness in a comparatively short time, relieving the county of a long-term burden of constant confinement, Supt. Gillies recommends.

It is also pointed out that Eloise, primarily a mental institution, carries a social stigma which patients and their families object. The Detroit House of Correction, the warden declares, is a corrective short-term institution, where a segregated clinic would carry no such stigma.

Thug Robs and Beats Local Man

Negro Assailant Steals Car From Donald Grow

Donald Grow, inspector for the Wayne County Road commission, who resides on Sheldon road was robbed and beaten by a Negro assailant early Monday morning near Oakland and Davison avenues in Detroit. He was leaving work where he is employed on the Davison avenue highway project.

The victim was left stunned as the result of a severe blow on the back of his head. The thug forced Grow to start the motor of his automobile, parked nearby, and then ordered him at the point of a gun to get out of the car.

After lying unconscious for about two hours, the injured man was found and taken to Receiving hospital for first aid treatment. The stolen car has not yet been recovered.

Appeal for More Victory Gardens

Newburg School Class Offers Help March 24

"Help Uncle Sam with the food, tin and farm labor problems by raising and canning your own vegetables and small fruits. Help to prevent a food shortage by planting a Victory Garden," declares Mrs. Horace Thatcher, garden club chairman of the defense gardens' program in Plymouth, in an appeal to local citizens.

"It pays fine dividends both in the good you are doing for your country, your family and yourself. The expenditure of a little time and work will result in better health for all. If you do not have a lot, the city has 75 lots available for Victory gardens. Apply at the city hall or phone Mrs. Thatcher."

Gardeners may obtain help in planning their projects at a meeting in the Newburg school next Tuesday, March 24. Advice will be offered on soil, fertilizers and control of insects.

Stinging Letters From Plymouth To Washington

This City Takes Its Part in National Protest

Plymouth citizens have apparently joined with others throughout the country in which they are demanding that the government place an immediate check upon the strikes and other labor difficulties that have been raising so much havoc with production of war munitions.

While it is not definitely known how many letters have gone from Plymouth, it is known that there have been several and that they have been emphatic.

One Plymouth woman who follows Washington events closely, declared that she had written to Senator Prentiss M. Brown, not only "demanding" that he get up out of his seat and do something to stop labor troubles and delays, but that he cut out politics and do something constructively for his country.

Apparently that is the vein of all letters going to Washington. Judging from news dispatches from that city.

Criticism of congress and the administration seemingly is growing bitter and severe. People want decisive action.

That citizens here, like they are everywhere, are closely following every step taken in Washington, is reflected by the fact that the Tuesday night talk by Donald Nelson was heard by an exceptionally large number of local radio listeners, more so than usual. While there is stinging criticism of Congress, there is praise for Nelson's determination to get something done.

Churches Unite For Good Friday

Plan Community Service on April 3

The annual community Good Friday services will be held at the First Methodist church in Plymouth from 12 to 3 o'clock on Friday, April 3. The Tre Ore service will include three one-hour periods.

The Rev. Verle Carson, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church, will be the guest speaker for the first hour period. A group of seven ladies from local churches will present a drama, "The Challenge of the Cross," under the direction of Mrs. S. S. Closson during the second period. The Rev. Walter Nichol of the First Presbyterian church will conduct the third period service. Everyone in the community is invited to attend all or any part of the Good Friday program.

Lodges to Present Defense Movie Mar. 24
The I.O.O.F. and Rebekah lodges of Plymouth will sponsor a showing of the civilian defense movie, "Fighting Fire Bombs," at the Odd Fellow hall on Main street next Tuesday evening, March 24 at 8:30 o'clock. An air raid warden official in Plymouth will also explain the duties of air wardens. Earl Gray and Mrs. Harry Hunter are co-chairmen in charge of the meeting. All members with their families and friends are urged to attend.

Did You Know That

All members of the Townsend club are urged to be present at the regular meeting Monday night at the Grange hall. Important matters concerning the March 30 mass meeting will be discussed.

City Designates Wednesday as "Defense Day"

Citizens to Inspect Protective Equipment And Meet Air Wardens

Next Wednesday, March 25, has been designated as Plymouth Defense Day, to be sponsored by the civilian defense council of the city and the League of Women Voters. A community open house for residents of Plymouth and Plymouth township will be held at the city hall from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:30 in the evening.

Citizens are invited to inspect civilian defense exhibits by each of the four protective services in the commission rooms at the city hall. Directors of the departments in charge of fire, police, medical and air raid warden services for defense will demonstrate the use of equipment and answer questions on bomb-protection. The display will include photographs of blackout equipment for residences, shelters, automobiles, motorcycles, traffic lights, streets and stores; pictures of incendiary bombs with details of their composition and exhibits of protective equipment and defense communications.

The movie, "Fighting Fire Bombs," purchased recently by the city of Plymouth, will be shown continuously from 2:00 o'clock through the afternoon and evening in the recreation room of the city hall.

Defense Day will afford every resident an opportunity to become acquainted with the air raid warden and assistants in their neighborhood block and to become informed on civilian defense necessities for home protection. Mrs. C. H. Elliott, director of war-time services for the League of Women Voters, is chairman of the program.

Airport Forms Civil Air Patrol

Government Approves Mettetal Field

A civil air patrol is being organized under the direction of the federal government for defense of the Plymouth area at the Mettetal airport near Joy and Livonia roads. The airport has been approved by the Civil Aeronautics authority for use in the defense program.

Forty civilian pilots have already enrolled in the patrol, according to Raphael Mettetal, airport manager. Kenneth Bailey of Dearborn, who holds a commercial pilot's and instructor's rank, will be leader of the patrol. Patrol pilots must complete an 80-hour training course, including 20 hours of drill, 20 hours of first aid instruction and 40 hours of aeronautical schooling. Ground school instructions are being offered every Wednesday night at the Northville high school.

The Mettetal airport includes 70 acres of ground with 1800-foot east-west runways and 2,000-foot north-south runways. The landing field has been improved and is in excellent condition for the flight patrol program. The training pilots will use 12 planes now at the Mettetal hangar, including those of the Branta flying club and privately-owned ships.

City Approves Well Construction

New Water Supply to Increase Pressure

The city commission Monday evening accepted a bid for $6,600 from the Layne-Northern company of Indiana for the drilling of a water well in Plymouth. The company guarantees a minimum pumping capacity of 300 gallons per minute, and not to exceed 700 gallons a minute. The new well which will increase the city's water pressure and provide an auxiliary source of water supply for emergency needs, will be located on a site adjacent to Blanche street between Theodore and Karmada streets.

The gravel-packed well, operated by a turbine type pump, will be driven at a depth of 239 feet with a 16-inch steel casing enclosed in cement 189 feet deep and a 32-inch well another 50 feet deep. Construction of the new well will begin soon.

Breakfast—Bananas, with fresh milk and assorted cereals; chipped beef omelet; fried potatoes; toast; butter; coffee.

Dinner—Chicken-rice soup; roast chicken with giblet gravy and bread stuffing, mashed potatoes and buttered peas; tomato-onion-lettuce salad with French dressing; bread and butter; orange pudding with apricot sauce; coffee.

Supper—Cold cuts of liver wurst, ham sausage, cheese, baked potatoes, raw carrot strips, sweet pickle relish, rye bread and butter, doughnuts and coffee.

Lightning Sets House Afire; Girl Proves Heroine

Saves Small Brother When Home Is Destroyed

Nine-year-old Marilyn Schumacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schumacher of Westmore avenue in Coventry Gardens, proved a real heroine Monday night when lightning struck the Schumacher home and set it on fire while the parents were away.

Asleep in the house with Marilyn was her little four-year-old brother, Franz, when the lightning struck the house, igniting an electric refrigerator.

The fire smoldered in the kitchen of the home nearly half an hour before the girl detected smoke. She awoke her little brother, but he persisted in remaining within the house.

Finally Marilyn shoved him through a window and followed him through with an armful of pillows and bedclothing. The children then ran through the heavy rain to the home of a neighbor. The parents were attending a meeting of the P.T.A. at the Livonia school nearby and did not know of the fire until summoned by neighbors.

The Plymouth and Livonia fire departments answered the call but were unable to save the little three-room bungalow burned to the ground. Loss of the house and furnishings was estimated at $4,000. The family has found refuge at the home of a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schumacher on Surrey road, and neighbors and friends have donated clothing and toys for the children.

Miss Evangeline Pursell, teacher of economics and history at Northwestern high school in Detroit, will speak on "Mexico" and her travel experiences there a year ago. Group singing will be led by Miss May Jirasek of Detroit, instructor of visual piano method, who will also play a two-piano selection with a Detroit piano pupil, Mrs. Roy Purcell, as program chairman in charge of the meeting.

Legion Post Plans Anniversary Dinner
Plymouth's Myron H. Beals post, American Legion and auxiliary, will celebrate the Legion's anniversary and also the March birthdays of post members with a joint potluck supper Friday evening (tonight) at 6:30 o'clock. The junior installation team from Wayne will install the junior officers of the local post.

The junior officers are Lois Ridley, chairman; Rosemary Gunder, secretary; Ruth Kieffer, secretary; Mary Ellen Sexton, treasurer; Doris Rose, sergeant-at-arms and Ellen MacAninch, chaplain. Miss Ridley will sing a solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Edna O'Connell, followed by travel pictures of the John Jacobs' vacation trip. The Legion juniors will meet at the home of Miss Lois Ridley on March 24.

City Submits Utility Survey To Government

Compile Data Of Available Facilities For Defense Housing

Plymouth officials have submitted to the federal government complete information pertaining to local public utilities and expansion possibilities. The survey is the latest development in the controversy over housing in defense areas and grew out of a Public Works conference held in Detroit recently, of public officials and engineers from cities in Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, Oakland and Monroe counties.

Letters were received this week in response to telegrams expressing the opposition of city officials in Plymouth to the proposed construction of a new city at Willow Run. Responses were received from Mayor George A. Dornier, John B. Blandford Jr., administrator of the National Housing Agency, Senator Prentiss M. Brown, Senator Arthur Vandenberg and Richard R. Rath, assistant regional coordinator of defense housing. The prevailing sentiment of the officials' letters favored utilization of available property and improvements existing in cities near the Bomber plant site.

City Manager C. H. Elliott is to confer with Raymond Foley, state director of the Federal Housing administration, and Lynn Trout of the National Resources Planning board next week about defense housing in Plymouth.

The sum of 13 billion dollars in war contracts has been placed in the Detroit metropolitan area, according to Abner Learned, state WPA administrator, who estimates that more than 178,000 additional war production workers will be employed in this area by the latter part of 1943 than were engaged in civilian employment during former peak periods.

Ask Longer Hours For Bowling

City Officials to Make Decision Later

The city commission tabled a request Monday night to allow local bowling alleys to remain open until 3:30 a.m. for defense workers on midnight shifts. The present closing time of bowling alleys is 11:45 o'clock.

W. Lee Butler and R. W. Butler of the Plymouth Recreation alleys requested the extension of closing hours. Many Kelsey-Hayes and other defense plant workers in Plymouth would like to bowl after leaving work at midnight, the managers stated. They estimate that there are about 160 bowling patrons who would spend $120 a week on four nights of bowling if the hours could be extended. Under the present closing rule they said, these men travel to neighboring towns where alleys remain open later.

An ordinance to change the closing hours would require five weeks for preparation and enactment, according to the city commission, who advised that the request be referred until late summer for consideration before the start of the fall bowling season.

Auto Hits Tree; 2 Seriously Hurt

Mrs. Clara Smith and Elmer Birch in Crash

Elmer Birch, of Joy road, near Plymouth, and Mrs. Clara Smith of Brookfield avenue, Livonia township, were critically injured in an automobile accident early Wednesday morning on the Seven Mile road east of Northville road.

The car, driven by Mrs. Smith, crossed the road and hit a tree when the driver fell asleep at the wheel, according to the Michigan State Police report. Mrs. Smith sustained a fractured, an injured knee cap and a skull fracture. Mr. Birch, who is employed at the Hotel Anderline, suffered a severe skull fracture and lacerations of the head. Both are in a serious condition at Redford Receiving hospital.

Baptist Church to Honor Retiring Pastor
Members of the First Baptist church and Sunday school and their families will honor Rev. G. H. Hens at a farewell party to be held at the church Friday evening, March 27 at 7:30 o'clock. The Baptist pastor plans to move to Olivet about April 15 and will retire from the local pulpit in May. The committee in charge of entertainment and refreshments includes James Stull, Mrs. George Humphries and Thomas Campbell. Everyone is invited.

Plymouth Citizens Pay Uncle Sam Over Quarter of Million Income Tax

While no exact figures are available, it is estimated that Plymouth residents paid Uncle Sam over a quarter of a million dollars in income taxes last week.

Postmaster Harry Irwin states that so large was the number of returns mailed during the last two or three days before the expiration date, that postal clerks made up many mail sacks filled to overflowing with only income tax returns.

If all of this money had been paid into the city government of Plymouth, the city's entire bonded indebtedness could have been wiped out, and there would have been sufficient amount left to operate the affairs of the city government for years to come without levying another cent of taxation.

But war is expensive business. And taxpayers better beware—because Washington reports say that this year's income tax is but a drop in the bucket of what it is going to be next year.

Methodist Bishop To Speak Next Thursday Eve

Famed Churchman Will Be Guest Of Plymouth

Bishop Raymond J. Wade of the Methodist church, one of the country's outstanding church leaders, will next Thursday evening be a guest of the Plymouth Methodist church at the last of the Lenten supper series, announced Rev. S. S. Closson yesterday.

Bishop Wade was for years a resident of the various countries of Europe, having been the director of all of the Methodist church activities on that continent.

He resided for a time in Russia, and was located in many of the other countries that have been raided by Hitler's armed forces. He returned to America but a short time before the outbreak of hostilities to become Methodist bishop of the north central states. Since locating in Detroit, he has kept in close contact with European affairs and probably knows almost as much about what is going on in that part of the world as high Washington officials.

His Plymouth address will without question be of more than ordinary interest.

Victory Notes

Over 50 women were present at the city hall Wednesday afternoon to complete plans for the organization of Motor Corps classes. Miss Barbara Runney of the Detroit Red Cross, Mayor Ruth H. Whipple and Mrs. Helen Burkett were in charge of the meeting. Paul Wiedman of the Ford Motor Sales has donated the room and the equipment for the class which will start Thursday, March 26 or Thursday, April 2.

The Plymouth Defense Council will meet at the city hall next Monday, March 23, at 4 o'clock. Citizens with suggestions are welcome.

Mayor Ruth Whipple attended a meeting of mayors of out-county cities in Mayor Jeffries' office Thursday, March 19. The purpose of the meeting was to coordinate further the defense work of Detroit and the rest of Wayne county.

All people who registered for first aid courses will be called for classes eventually, as soon as there are enough teachers and enough classes to accommodate them. Auxiliary firemen, auxiliary policemen and air wardens must be given first aid classes. First, next come the motor corps and then the remainder of the men and women who have registered for first aid. If you have registered and yet haven't been called, you are one of a hundred or more for whom classes are not yet available because of a lack of accredited instructors.

This is the second week of air warden classes under the direction of Chief Air Raid Warden Floyd Eckles and teachers, Harold Anderson, William Rose and Harry Hunter.

There are yet no official instructions for the rent committee but the local council has been promised some from the Detroit committee that went to Washington to get the rules.

Seniors Postpone Play Presentation
Plymouth high school's senior play, "What a Life," which was to have been presented this week, has been postponed until Thursday and Friday evenings, April 9 and 10. The cast has been depleted by an epidemic of measles.

A supper party was given recently by Mr. and Mrs. Ragnar Blomberg for their son, Richard, and several of his friends. Covers were laid for Douglas Fuelling, Lynn Becker, Donald Todd, Kenneth Gust, Wally Rush and Eric Eklund. The youngsters enjoyed playing various games before supper was served.

Kelsey-Hayes Production Now At Top Speed

Guns Rolling Out So Fast, Testers Work Sundays

Maybe fighting seacraft are not rolling from the shipyards as fast as they should, maybe there are slow-ups in the production of munitions and guns in other parts of the country, but NOT so in Plymouth!

Increasing by leaps and bounds, the production of machine guns at the Kelsey-Hayes plant is exceeding all expectations. In fact, it is stated that the production of the plant far exceeds the capacity that was originally set for it.

The Plymouth Mail has been advised by many of the workmen that every plant in the Kelsey-Hayes organization seems determined to get out just as many machine guns as humanly possible and as quickly as possible.

In fact, the cry out at Kelsey-Hayes is "Hurry-Up!" instead of "Slow-Up," and that's just what every worker is doing.

Plymouth knows, too, that this is true because all day last Sunday machine guns were being tested. So fast are they being produced that testers for the first time found it necessary to do some of this work on Sunday.

This same fine condition prevails in every plant in and around Plymouth working on war materials. Wall Wire, Daisy, Dunn Steel, Ford, Plymouth Tool & Gauge, Burroughs and all other plants report a similar enthusiastic and patriotic spirit on the part of every one of their workers.

The slogan, "The Plymouth Spirit For America," would be a good one for the country, says Plymouth.

The two prize winning and second best papers were sent to Lansing where they will be rated by state judges.

Citizens Petition To Close Alley

Edison Co. Seeks Right of Way Grant

The city commission tabled a petition presented at Monday night's meeting by owners of property, in the Kate E. Allen addition, to discontinue the use of the alley at the rear of Adams street and deed the land to the property owners. The present alley is only 10 feet wide, but the commission is considering widening the alleyway to 20 feet to continue its use for city garbage collection.

The commission also received a letter from the Detroit Edison company stating that it may be desirable in order to properly serve customers in that vicinity to enable building wooden pole distribution lines along the alley. The electric company requested a grant of right-of-way for this purpose if the alley is closed.

75 Teachers Have "Get Together"
Seventy-five teachers from out county districts had a get-together party on Monday, March 16, in the Plymouth gymnasium. Teachers and guests from Garden City, Redford Union, Plymouth, Northville and small country schools attended.

Mr. Travar and his musicians, whom he has trained himself, entertained with square dancing. Mr. Travar taught old time dancing at this school last year. Punch and cookies were served.

Army Changes Physical Exams

Local Board to Induct Next Group March 30

Pre-induction physical examinations at army medical stations of selective service registrants has been discontinued. All men will now be sent directly to the induction station at Fort Custer by the local board without having been previously examined.

A call to fill its third draft quota for this month on March 30, has been received by the board.

Plymouth sent in 64 men last Saturday for the final pre-induction physical examination in Detroit. Hereafter, all men approved by the clinical survey of the local medical examining board will be sent directly to the induction station for approval or rejection. If accepted for service, 10-day furloughs to permit termination of personal business may be granted upon the recommendation of the board.

Revetments Protect Pacific Northwest Coast

Revetments augmented by mobile and stationary anti-aircraft emplacements, are part of the defenses in the Pacific northwest coastal area. On the alert, a gun crew mans a 37-mm. anti-aircraft piece. Planes in the background would be in the air at once in case of alarm.

City Makes Profit On Dump Pile

Now Gets Regular Monthly Rental

Even the city dump has a value in these days of soaring prices and priorities.

City Manager Clarence Elliott has just made a deal whereby City Treasurer Charles Garlett will add five dollars every month to the city's bank balance from a "rental" income of the city dump.

Yes, sir, the city is collecting five good American dollars every month for rent of the dump. But there is a little string tied to the deal—the renter has the right to sort over the dump and pick out and keep anything he can find which he may regard of value.

But there hasn't been anything of much value going to the dump lately, as Plymouth residents are keeping all of their scrap paper as well as old iron and other metals, and selling it, so that Uncle Sam will have the benefits of its use.

Whatever gets by local residents, will be caught at the city dump—for which the city will reap a reward of $5 every month—and you can bet that the city officials are pretty tough landlords to deal with.

Jack Henry's Model Planes Win Awards

Jack Henry, 15-year-old student at Plymouth high school, who resides on Stark road, recently won two honorable mention awards in a model airplane contest sponsored by The Detroit Free Press at the Hotel Statler in Detroit. The two prize-winning models, selected from among more than 1,000 contest entries, are on display in the Woodward store window.

The smaller plane, painted black with yellow wings, is a Curtiss Hawk P-6-E model, a replica of an Army pursuit ship. The other prize-winning entry is a silver plane with yellow wings, modeled according to a U. S. Navy Vaught-Sikorsky XF 4U1 type.

Young Henry, who has made a hobby of model airplane building for the last five years, constructs his models of balsam framework covered with sheet balsam. The instrument panels of small pins and nails are completed with excellent detail. The youth, who has a collection of about 20 model planes, is interested in motor mechanics.

$15,000 Pet

One hundred of the tiny, furry animals whose coats give them a combined value of $1,500,000, are entered in the first annual National Live Chinchilla Show at Los Angeles. No wonder Dorothy Hunters is careful as she gives this little chinchilla its vitamins through an eye dropper.

Used Car Salesmen Have Their Own Jalopy Jive

Used car salesmen have an expressive language of their own, designed to say in one word what might otherwise require half a dozen.

Here are most of the more common terms, standing not all of them are in good standing with reputable dealers:

BALONEY—A worn tire.

CANARY—A jalopy which is full of squeaks.

CHISELER—A customer who won't buy unless he can get a car for less than the dealer has in it.

CRACKER—A car that's been through a collision.

Turkey Production To Be Increased

Turkey producers intend to buy or hatch about eight percent more poulters for raising than last year, according to February 1 reports to the U. S. Department of Agriculture from over 5,000 growers, who had about two and a half million poulters for raising last year.

The number of turkey breeding hens on hand February 1 was only 5 percent more than a year ago, and the somewhat larger intended increase of eight percent in poulters suggests a shortage of eggs for early hatching in March and April, just as in 1941. Producers plan to increase their purchases and their hopes hatch about the same proportion.

This report relates to poulters intended for raising, and does not necessarily indicate the number of turkeys that will actually be raised this year. Some difference between intentions and actual performance is to be expected, the difference depending on the price of feed, the supply and price of hatchery eggs and poult prices during the hatching season. In former years the intention of turkey producers to buy and hatch poulters has slightly exceeded their actual performance. In 1938, intentions exceeded performance by three percent, in 1939 by two percent, in 1940 by four percent, but in 1941, one percent more poulters were produced than were intended on February 1 of that year.

Unless hatching begins earlier this year than last and continues late, the supply of eggs may be insufficient to produce the intended eight percent larger number of turkey poulters.

"Feed" Lawn Early In Spring to Get the Best Summer Results

(By The Master Gardener)

The best time to feed your lawn is in the early spring, before the grass begins to grow. This is the best time to get the most out of your lawn, and it is the best time to get the most out of your money.

When you feed your lawn in the early spring, you are giving it the best start of the season. The grass will grow more vigorously, and it will be able to withstand the heat and drought of the summer.

It is important to feed your lawn in the early spring, because this is the time when the grass is beginning to grow. If you wait until the summer, the grass will be too dry to absorb the fertilizer, and it will not be able to get the most out of it.

To get the best results, you should feed your lawn in the early spring, before the grass begins to grow. This will give it the best start of the season, and it will be able to withstand the heat and drought of the summer.

City Appoints

(Continued from page 1) now used to commute school children to Plymouth which will be available for other use during the summer months, according to coach company officials.

A Pere Marquette commuter train between Plymouth and Detroit has also been suggested along with a plan for providing extra stops on regular trains at Plymouth.

The transportation committee is to study relief of transportation congestion at the hours of shift changes in local defense plants and may adopt a plan to stagger working hours in stores, plants and schools so that public conveyances will be able to handle greater numbers of patrons and reduce the use of private autos. Another proposal which the committee is considering is the establishing of a "clearing house" by which neighbors and friends may ride to and from work in each other's cars.

Details of the transportation conservation plan will be announced later following a meeting of supervisors and officials in neighboring townships and districts around Plymouth.

War Refugee Speaks Before Kiwanis Club

Members of the Plymouth Kiwanis club and their wives enjoyed a talk by Mrs. Martynas Ycas, war refugee from Lithuania, at Tuesday night's club meeting. "The people of the totalitarian countries are even more deeply enslaved than those of the nations they have conquered," declared the speaker, who attended the Versailles peace conference in 1919 as a delegate from Lithuania.

Mrs. Ycas, who arrived in Rio de Janeiro, South America a year ago Tuesday night from Germany, emphasized the important role of the United States in effecting a just peace after this war. James Sessions was program chairman of the Kiwanis meeting.

Draft Lottery

Bentley, Berwick avenue, Rosedale Gardens; T-2203. Otto F. Stamnitz, Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth; T-606. Richard B. Vealey, Elizabeth street, Plymouth; T-259. Clifford W. Tait, Northville road, Plymouth; and T-129. Elijah M. Barber, Detroit.

The letter "T" preceding each number designates the third draft registration. The youngest man classified in the first group of lottery numbers is 37 years of age and the group ranges in age from 37 to 44 years.

The sequence in which numbers were drawn in Tuesday's lottery determines the order in which these men will be called for military service unless deferred. The complete list of order numbers will not be available at the local board offices for about two weeks until they can be checked against a master list and released by the army. The numbers will be posted at that time in the office of the local board. It is not believed that questionnaires will be distributed to these registrants until some time in May.

City Submits

The survey of Plymouth, compiled by S. L. Besse, city engineer, reveals that the city is in a favorable position to accommodate additional residents as its share of the anticipated war production influx. There are 1015 vacant lots within the corporate limits of the city, 650 of which are served by sewer facilities and 636 of which are served by water. There are 263 acres of unoccupied acreage within the corporate limits, 64 acres of industrial property and 405 acres or 34 percent of the city area without sewers, water or drainage.

Computing an average of four persons per family, Plymouth could accommodate 2,665 additional persons without increasing present facilities on the 650 lots available with sewer facilities according to the survey. Of the 650 lots available, part are located in Zone Area "B" which would allow construction of apartments if desired. This would increase the number to about 3,000 persons.

Facts disclosed in the survey reveal a present water capacity of 1.3 million gallons per 24-hour day, with present plant pumps operating at maximum capacity of the existing system during the summer months. The per capita usage of water is 91 gallons per day; present industrial requirements are 13 million gallons per day; per capita industrial usage is 24 gallons per day. The city has a network of sanitary sewers discharging directly into the Wayne County sewage disposal system. The sewage is conducted through the county system to a new, up-to-date disposal plant on Merriman road. The city pays the county quarterly rental for the service and the disposal plant is maintained by Wayne county.

The Plymouth school board has recognized the crowded conditions and has petitioned for Federal assistance in expanding its facilities, according to the survey. The school board now owns property for and is planning on another primary school which would relieve conditions at other schools.

The survey also included reports on streets, highways, recreational facilities, fire and police protection, transportation facilities, private gas and electrical utilities and disclosed that there are nine industrial plants on defense work in the city of Plymouth.

You can have grass so thick it chokes out weeds!

Grass becomes active earlier in the spring than weeds. If you'll give your grass a square meal, even before the frost is out of the ground, it will get such a thriving head start that weeds will find little room to grow.

But the kind of dense, heavy turf that chokes out weeds results only from feeding with a complete plant-food like Vigoro. Your grass needs eleven different food elements from the soil. Use Vigoro to make sure all these are supplied in balanced proportions.

For the very best from plantfood on your lawn, remember to...

48th Anniversary for The William Bartels

Mr. and Mrs. William Bartel of Plymouth celebrated their forty-eighth wedding anniversary on Tuesday, March 10, with a small family dinner, attended by their two sons, William and George Bartel and families. A large cake decorated with a basket scroll of roses formed the table centerpiece.

Besides the little family gathering in honor of the occasion, their host of friends and neighbors extended congratulations to this well known couple, famed for the growing of some of the finest flowers raised in America. While Mr. Bartel and his sons operate the greenhouses, Mrs. Bartel is just as much a lover of flowers as her husband and children.

Outside of their home activities, the chief interests of Mr. and Mrs. Bartel lie in their work at the Lutheran church, where both are active members and which they attend regularly. They are in excellent health and are looking forward to the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary two years hence.

A plaque with an original poem written by the Quaye twins, sisters of Birmingham, friends of the Bartels, was presented as an anniversary gift. The verses follow:

Together eight-and-forty years, The self-same road they've trod; Sharing life's laughter and its tears, With faces turned to God.

Through winters' snow, 'neath summer's sun, They've marched, all unafraid, For weaker footsteps following on. A firmer path have made.

The old-time faith, the old-time love, Have they exemplified, God's smile shines on them from above. As they walk side by side,

To light the path their feet must tread, That other eyes might see, That they by hand Divine are led To closer company.

With One, their Savior and their Guide, Whom faithfully they serve, Whence naught could make them step aside, Or cause their love to swerve.

'Come sorrow or come joy to them, Undaunted, on they go, His will alone is law to them, Through woe or bitter war.

They've nursed the sick, the hungry fed, They've clothed the naked poor, And those in need of prayer, A pathway to their door.

Christ's tender "Inasmuch" some day, When earth's last light grows dim, Will gladden their eternity, For they've done it "Unto Him."

Communication

Royal Oak, Michigan, Mr. Walter Gehrke, President of Michigan Bankers' Assn., Detroit, Michigan.

Dear Mr. Gehrke: In these times of 10-hour days, and seven-day working weeks, "War Time," and a need for co-operation on the part of everyone, doesn't it seem entirely out of place that the Banking Practice has not fallen in line?

With factories working three shifts a day, and banking hours being from 10 to 2—just how many of these workers can use the banking facilities?

We see such slogans as "For Year Convenience," "Convenient Branches for City-Wide Service," "The Community Bank," and "The People's Bank." They aren't convenient at all, not even for the neighborhood merchant, who must hide his day's receipts and wait until 10 o'clock the next morning to make his deposit.

Some merchants do most of their business after 3 o'clock. And for the day worker who goes to work at 8:30, and gets home again at 5 or 6 o'clock in the evening, when shall he go to the bank? That there are reasons for this 10 to 2 program because of detail work before and after hours, is recognized; but let the banks, like all other firms, work out their own problem of employe hours. If necessary, two shifts of tellers, the same as two shifts of press operators, could be installed. Make some of the tellers would like to earn a little overtime money anyway.

In Detroit, and the outlying and suburban communities like Royal Oak, or Ferndale, the banks are crowded to the doors on Saturday forenoons. Why do they have to close at 12 o'clock? Couldn't they remain open until 5, and give some of the people a chance to make a deposit without standing in line for half an hour? Also, when has a factory worker, working from 12, midnight, to 8 a.m., or the worker who works from 8 a.m. to 4:30 or 6:30 p.m., an opportunity to go to his bank? He doesn't want to let his wife do all the banking; he would feel safer doing it himself, and he might not have to cash his checks in some beer garden.

Something ought to be done about it, and I wish you would bring this matter up at the next meeting of the Michigan Bankers' association. Possibly some of them will see it as I do, and actually make some changes.

The recommendation is that the banks be open from 8:30 to 5:30, daily, and until 9 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday. I am sure that the defense working public would appreciate it very much, and make more use of banking facilities.

Yours very truly, G. H. LUDWIG.

She has been in Girl Reserves, Glee club, Home Economics club, and served on the Senior Annual committee. She has traveled in northern Michigan and Wisconsin. Her pet peeve is people who insist on mispronouncing her name. She is aspiring to have a successful business career.

Maybe confusion, which is George Ross's pet peeve, causes him to chew his gum so hard, because that is what George is always doing. He was born in Detroit and now lives at 9805 Melrose in Rosedale Gardens, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ross. He has traveled through the Upper Peninsula of Michigan and also through New York. His chief hobbies are bowling and collecting records which seem to be a very popular pastime of late. George is really aiming high because he wants to become a pharmaceutical chemist.

Projects Worked Out In Latin Classes

During the past several weeks the second year Latin classes have been working on projects. These can be on anything having to do with old Roman history, Italy, or the Latin language. Some wrote booklets on their subjects, but for the most part they constructed models. Barbara Stover, Mary Brandt, Nancy Baker and Barbara Butt drew a map of Rome. The buildings were made of little blocks of black wood, and the city wall was constructed with wood also.

Another interesting project was Gale Wilson's boat, an old fashioned type with long oars on each side. Joe Brisbois made a litter, a sort of cart carried by four men. Another model constructed by Fred Byrd was the Circus Maximus and a chariot. Bill Neathammer made a Roman villa which is an old Roman farm house. Roger Smith was the only one who worked out a stone thrower which was used to besiege towns and when the stones were thrown they helped to break down the towers and walls. If anyone is interested, go to Miss Hearn's room to see them.

Who's Who In P. H. S.

This Week: Electrical Wizard. The electric bug and radio technician referred to is a six-foot-three junior, Glenn Frederick.

When Glenn started gadgeting, he soon became a victim of circumstances. It was never his fault that the clock wouldn't run or that the radio squeaked. But he's just a chip off the old block, because his father caters to the trade.

He was chairman of lighting arrangements for the junior play and the J-Hop. He works in a radio shop after school and Saturdays. Besides running the school movie projector at noon, he has his own movie camera and projector and made his own amplifying and recording outfit; he installs car radios.

He also collects stamps, plays the piano and accordion and toots a saxophone in Mike Klein-schmidt's orchestra.

Next week: Korm King.

Leaders' Club Chosen As First Aiders to Girls

Leaders' Club has been chosen as the group to give first aid to the girls in case of an air raid. All of the grades will take the training, to be given by the school nurse, Mrs. Strason, and the girls' gym teacher, Miss Olmstead. Half of each Leaders' Club meeting will be devoted to this training.

The girls will be taught artificial respiration, bandaging and shock treatment. Two girls will each be given a post somewhere in the halls with a first aid kit to care for anyone injured.

The H-Y Club has been chosen as first aiders to the boys.

McAllister Wins Reading Contest

A dramatic reading contest was held for students on March 10, in which Bruce McAllister won first place and will soon compete in the district contest at Ypsilanti. His reading was entitled "Submerged." Phyllis Nichols placed second with her interpretation of "Mary of Scotland." Mae Murphy and Patricia Hudson also entered the match. All four of the participants are in Drama Club. Mrs. Carey, Miss Lovewell, and Mr. Latture were the judges.

Honor Roll

With the finish of the February marking period as compared with last month, it appears that the student body as a whole "slipped." There were more than 30 students on last month's honor roll whose names did not appear this period.

Last month 12 pupils received all A cards and only five did this time.

Class News

Miss Hamill's modern history class is studying the opening up of China and Japan to the trade of the western nations. The ancient history class is studying the development of European states and the growth and development of democracy in England. Her current events class is discussing crime with a round table discussion of the cause and cost of crime.

Miss Adele Miele, a dietitian from the University of Michigan hospital will speak to the adult class in night school on March 24 at 7 p.m. The adult class is studying "Family Meals."

The clothing class made a trip to Taylor and Blyton's store last week. Mrs. Rotour answered the girls' questions on materials and coming styles.

Nora Lock gave a report in Mr. Reeves' seventh hour geography class based on the experiences of an escaped Norwegian. The camera club is collecting and taking pictures for the senior annual.

One of Mr. Latture's public speaking classes is studying speeches to create action while the other is taking those of presentation and acceptance.

His government group is learning about federal court system.

Miss Lamb's senior retail selling class is writing letters of application for jobs. They take actual want ads from various newspapers and write the letters to answer the advertisements. Of course they do not actually mail their letters.

Miss Saffell's second semester world history classes are studying the unification of Italy, for which they are making regional maps.

Design work has been the object of study in Miss Fry's third hour art class for the past week. There are several outstanding design blocks displayed on the walls of the art room, and an invitation to inspect these and other drawings is extended to all.

The Battle of the Sexes has now become almost a weekly institution in Miss Fiegel's American history classes. The subject of the quizzes is current events taken from the weekly scholastic magazine. The results of the February marking period show that the boys had quite a substantial lead over the girls, as a whole, the box score being boys 130, girls 135. This should be an incentive for the girls to study harder during the month of March.

The Plymouth Home Economics club will entertain the Northville Home Economics club on Tuesday, March 31. Beatrice Johnston and Marion Fisher, who are working together as general co-chairmen, will plan the entertainment.

Mrs. Hecox's home-making beginners are spending this week learning to use the sewing machine. They are also doing some hand sewing and working on Red Cross hot water bags.

Students Solemnly See Bombing Picture

Bombing of local areas seemed very dreadfully close to the high school students as they listened closely and in deep silence to the movie presented by the O.C.D. showing how to put out an incendiary fire from the bombs. The picture showed the necessary equipment and stressed the fact of using a spray and not a steady stream of water on the incendiary bomb. One of the students remarked that bombing had seemed silly before, but now it seemed too close. Mr. Elliott stated that fire had long been a military weapon. The Lord Mayor of London said 85 percent of the damage there was caused by incendiary bombs, and Mr. Elliott said that it was very probable most of our damage would be caused by incendiary bombs because an airplane can carry from 1,000 to 2,000 of them, while it could carry only four to eight explosion bombs.

Gordon Moe Is Now Army Aviator

Gordon Moe, one of the hundreds of Plymouth boys in military service, has advised Plymouth relatives and friends that he has just made his first "solo" airplane flight for the army. Gordon, who was for a time located in Idaho, was transferred a few months ago to a training center in California for the aviation training. He apparently has been a very apt student as it is not often that one is able to make his first flight alone so quickly. Before leaving for army service he was employed by the Michigan Bell Telephone company.

D. A. R. Selects School 'Pilgrims'

Honors Frances Weed, Laura Litsenberger

Frances Weed, senior student of Plymouth high school, and Laura Jean Litsenberger, senior of the Northville high school, have been selected as the "Good Citizenship Pilgrims" of the Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The two girls will be honor guests of the local DAR chapter at its state conference in Jackson March 27 at which a Good Citizenship Pilgrim will be selected to represent the state.

Miss Weed is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian C. Weed of South Harvey street in Plymouth. Her high school activities include participation in one-act play contests, sophomore and junior years; stunt night, freshman and sophomore years; junior play, committee for the junior-senior banquet, mother and daughter banquet, senior play and J-Hop; general chairman of the senior prom; president of the Senior Girl Reserves; delegate from Girl Reserves to summer and mid-winter conferences, junior-senior banquet during her junior year.

Miss Litsenberger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Litsenberger of Randolph street, Northville. Her school record includes the following activities: high school choir, operettas, junior play, senior play, J-Hop decorating committee, senior prom committee, Latin club, freshman and sophomore years; biology club, junior and senior years; vice-president of the freshman class; secretary of the junior and senior classes; Northville Fair booth, junior year and library staff member, junior and senior years and cashier of the senior booth.

The DAR in promoting the appreciation of good citizenship offers annually in April a trip to Washington, D.C. for one public high school girl from each state. Many educational tours which interpret national history and government are featured. Members of the senior class in each high school select three outstanding girls as candidates for the Pilgrim title and the school faculty selects the final representative of the school.

Candidates are selected on a basis of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. The state winner and two reserves will be announced at the state conference in Jackson following the judging of questionnaires submitted by each of the candidates.

To the People of Michigan . . . a Report

For the information of the people of Michigan who have entrusted to this Company the responsibility of providing the major part of the telephone service of the State, for the employees of the Company who operate the service, and for those who have invested their savings to build the telephone system, the Michigan Bell Telephone Company presents this report of its problems and accomplishments during 1941.

MONTHS of feverish expansion of Michigan's defense industries, capped by the arrival of war, made 1941 a year of unparalleled problems and important responsibilities for your Telephone Company.

Before the outbreak of hostilities, the Company was engaged in meeting the greatest single-year expansion in its history. Expenses already were increasing faster than revenues. And throughout the year, a growing scarcity of materials essential to the business made it increasingly difficult to meet the unprecedented demands for service.

When war came, it not only multiplied an already tremendous demand for telephone service, but also made the swift handling of that demand even more vital to the nation.

1941 saw the largest service demand in the Company's history

Under the pressure of the Defense and War Programs, industry and its workers used more telephones and used telephones more. Michigan Bell's rate of increase in telephones was nearly double the average rate of the Bell System as a whole. The volume of both long distance and local calls was the largest in the Company's history.

A telephone gain of 110,223, more than 41% above 1940's record growth.

929,411 telephones at the end of the year, 35% over pre-depression peak.

An average of 4,789,000 local calls daily, 17% above the 1940 record.

A record total of 30,137,000 toll and long distance calls, 19% over 1940.

1941 required record expenditure for construction

The tremendous demand for service required an expenditure of $27,710,000 for new construction, a program which brought the total cost of telephone plant up to $226,500,000.

1941 material shortage made job difficult

Construction work was handicapped by shortages of essential materials. Because those scarce materials also are essential to other defense industries, their use was held to a minimum through emergency engineering methods and by the use of alternate materials. Work was restricted to that absolutely necessary for short-period demand and material was salvaged which normally it would not be economical to salvage.

1941 construction required new financing

Financing of the construction program was greatly simplified by Michigan Bell's membership in the Bell System. To help pay for the expansion work, $10,000,000 in common stock was sold to the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at par of $100 per share. In December, the State of Michigan authorized issuance of an additional $25,000,000 in common stock, to be sold as necessary.

1941 taxes totaled $9,466,000

17 cents per $1 of telephone revenue $10.79 per telephone $720 per employee

Due mainly to rapidly mounting Federal taxes which support government and war activities, Michigan Bell's operating taxes for 1941 were $9,466,000. That was the equivalent of 17 cents out of each dollar of revenue, or $10.79 per telephone, or $720 per employee, or $6.59 per share of stock. We also collected, and paid the United States Government, approximately $1,500,000 our customers paid as direct Federal tax on telephone service.

1941 wage rates were increased $2,750,000

It is the aim of the Michigan Bell to pay wages in each locality that compare favorably with wages paid by other employers for work requiring similar ability. Adjustments in wage levels in 1941 totaled approximately $2,750,000 on an annual basis, and brought rates of pay to a higher level than ever before.

1941 showed revenues UP, earnings DOWN

Revenues were higher than in 1940, but the growth in expenses, mainly wages and taxes, was greater than the revenue increase. Consequently, net income declined.

Revenues increased	+ 13%
Expenses, including taxes, increased	+ 19%
Net income decreased	- 4%

Reduction in net income would have been even greater had it not been for the effect on taxes of the refunding in 1941 of certain toll revenues collected in previous years.

After payment of $7 per share of stock, there was $841,000 left for surplus, the "rainy day" reserve which every financially sound company must have.

1941 rates reduced $1,500,000 annually

Local and long distance rate reductions placed in effect in 1941 will save Michigan telephone users some $1,500,000 a year, based on current usage. In addition, $1,500,000 was refunded to users of certain intrastate long distance service.

1941 brought 26% increase in workers

Rapid increases in telephone demand require corresponding increases in the number of employees. Additions during the year brought the total number employed to 13,872, a net increase of 26%.

AND NOW, THE WAR YEAR OF 1942

Summed up, 1941 was a year of challenging problems. To the men and women of the telephone organization, recognition is given for a job well done. The problems of 1942 will be greater than those of 1941. In military communications, in speeding our country's industrial production, in warning civilians of danger, in mustering defense workers, the telephone will play a vital role.

It is with confidence and sober determination that telephone people approach the 1942 job. While they recognize the increasing difficulty of supplying service demands as promptly as in the past, they are determined that every war-time need will continue to be met.

Storm Sewer Flood Maroons Livonia Township Family of Five

A family of five in Livonia Township was marooned for three days last week when backwater from a plugged storm sewer flooded their lot, the water rising three feet deep about the door of their home.

Confined within the house at 28524 West Seven Mile road from Monday until Thursday were Clarence Necker, 49, disabled DSR bus driver; his wife, Esther, an invalid daughter, Gladys, 22; her year-old baby and her brother, Clarence, Jr., nine years old.

For two days neither food nor water was brought into the house which has no sanitary facilities. Unable to afford a water connection from the house to the main, the family must carry water from a neighbor's house. Scant food and water provisions were rationed, while no fuel oil was delivered and the supply was dwindling.

Another daughter, Velma, 19, who is a nurse at Grace hospital, summoned aid when she returned home from duty and discovered her family's plight. The flood situation was reported to the Wayne County Drain Commission and the Wayne County road commission. Harry Wolfe, township clerk, delivered food provisions and fuel oil to the marooned family.

Trenches have been dug around the property to relieve the overflow but public agencies continue toicker over which department is responsible to remedy the condition.

The Necker family reports that last week's was the third similar experience since they moved into the house last June. The condition has been reported several times, they claim, with no action from any public agency. There are no ditches or culverts along the highway and a more adequate drainage system is needed.

Necker was forced to retire last year because of ill health and he failed to receive a DSR pension because he was three years short of the required 20 years' seniority. His only income is derived from his daughter's salary, peddling eggs among friends and $50 a month from a health and accident insurance policy. The family's meager savings were used to purchase the little house which has no basement and a "sub-standard" foundation. Surrounding property along Seven Mile road, is still swamped and many side-roads are impassable.

Dr. Gordon Retires From Public Service

Dr. Glen H. Gordon after serving the state and city of Detroit for more than 23 years as a meat and health inspector, has retired from active public service. A few nights ago employees of the department in Detroit in recognition of his long and efficient services, presented him with a gold watch and chain. Dr. Gordon, who resides on Maple street, has no definite plans for the future, but he states that he intends to take a badly needed rest before resuming activities of any kind.

Livonia Seeks Local Postoffice

Residents Protest Present Service

Township citizens, protesting against the inefficient postal service and mail-delivery in that district, voted at a meeting of the Livonia Taxpayers' association Wednesday night, to circulate petitions seeking the establishment of a local postoffice station.

Their action followed the report of a letter from the U. S. postal department at Washington which stated that it is believed a majority of the township residents are satisfied with the present service. The taxpayers' association seeks to obtain an expression from the majority of citizens by the petition now being circulated. The signed petitions will be filed with Representative George A. Dondero to submit to authorities of the postal department in Washington.

Postmaster Norman Lee of Farmington discussed the situation and answered citizens' questions at Wednesday's meeting which was attended by more than 60 residents.

The postal system is operated today as it was when the township population was only 3,000 and the growth of the township has resulted, in an acute postal problem during the last few months. Township mail is served from 10 different mail routes and is delivered by six different postoffices. Roy Davis, president of the taxpayers' association, urges township residents to sign the petitions immediately to insure prompt action.

Township Starts Warden Classes

Plan to Divide Livonia Into Warden Sectors

Two more classes for volunteer air raid wardens in Livonia township were started this week, it was announced by Fred Bamsey, coordinator of civilian defense, at a meeting of the Livonia Taxpayers' association last Wednesday evening.

One air raid warden training class started Wednesday, at the Livonia Center school from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock. This class is open to residents of the area bounded by Six Mile road and the railroad and Inkster to Haggerty roads. Another class will meet Friday evening, March 20, at the Pierson school, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, for residents between Six and Eight Mile roads from Inkster to Haggerty roads. The first air warden class in the township was organized at the Rosedale Civic clubhouse last Monday evening for residents of that district.

Coordinator Bamsey, reporting on civilian defense organization throughout the township, declared that Livonia will be divided into sectors and subdivided into posts. Sector warden chiefs are now recruiting volunteer assistants to organize 12 wardens for each post to serve in three shifts. It is planned to organize 15 air raid wardens for each group of 500 residents. Volunteer air raid wardens will canvass homes in their districts soon to take a census of residents in the township for civilian defense headquarters.

Registration instructions for civilian defense volunteers were distributed from house to house by the local defense committee assisted by the Livonia Boy Scouts and disused. More volunteer workers are needed for air raid warden duty and for auxiliary fire and policemen.

Rosedale Gardens Civic Club Meets

Discuss Mail Service And Transportation

Postmaster Harry Irwin of Plymouth was guest speaker at a meeting of the Rosedale Gardens Civic association last Friday evening. The postmaster explained the present rural mail service from the Plymouth postoffice and discussed the possibilities of house to house service in Rosedale Gardens.

The association passed a resolution of commendation for the good mail service in Rosedale Gardens since the establishment of the new rural route No. 5 which now serves the subdivision. The postmaster stated that house to house service may be obtained only if Rosedale Gardens can obtain a sub-station postoffice for the sale of stamps, money orders and other postal services. The subdivision would only receive one delivery a day with house to house service. The chief advantage, appears to be one of appearance in abolishing mail boxes along the subdivision streets in favor of drop boxes in each house.

Fred Van Deventer was appointed chairman of a transportation committee to establish a clearing house for motorists and passengers between Rosedale Gardens and Detroit. The measure is advocated to conserve automobiles and tires. The committee plans to make a survey of available automobile transportation to accommodate extra passengers at rush work hours.

Plymouth boys are moving into action. They need guns, munitions, food, clothing. Have you bought another Victory bond this week?

Police Arrest Youths In 70-Mile-Hour Chase

Two juvenile youths from Detroit were arrested by Plymouth police early Sunday morning following a 70-mile-an-hour chase through city streets. Driving a car with no operator's license, the young driver and his companion ran through a red light at the corner of Main street and Ann Arbor Trail before a police car halted their 70-mile-an-hour joy ride. The youths were turned over to juvenile detention and probation authorities in Detroit.

Fire Damages Home in Livonia

$3,000 Blaze Starts From Short Circuit

Fire severely damaged the home of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Randall at 32320 Myrna avenue, Livonia township last Tuesday morning. It started in the kitchen from a short-circuit in the refrigerator motor about 8:30 in the morning, only an hour after the couple left the house. The Livonia volunteer firemen had to force their way into the house. Quick action by the Livonia fire department prevented the flames from spreading beyond the kitchen, but smoke caused heavy damage throughout the house. An electric range, inlaid linoleum and wood flooring were burned in the kitchen and the house will have to be re-decorated throughout, and all furniture re-finished. Damage was estimated at $3,000.

WE WONDER

It is the same old alibi, the same for Manila, Singapore and the Pacific. "Too little and too late" seems to be the answer to the serious defeat suffered by the United Nations fleet in their first major engagement in the Pacific. One cannot help but wonder how the congressional blockaders feel now about the situation they have helped to bring about in the world encircling war that threatens our destruction, because of lack of preparedness.

HASTY JUDGMENT

The other day when the newly appointed county auditors discovered to their amazement that Wayne county farmers had a county agent, they apparently learned for the first time that Wayne county is an important agricultural district, that we grow and produce each year hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of fruits, grains, vegetables, live-stock and poultry. They gave to newspapers a story which indicated that they were going to decapitate Mr. Besemer. After taking their first lesson in the ABC's of Wayne county, their enthusiasm about eliminating one of the very few non-political jobs cooled to a considerable extent. It now looks as though an important non-political public official is going to be left undisturbed in his services to the farmers of Wayne county.

GOOD WORK

That was a good piece of police work on the part of Acting Chief Charles Thumme and his officers in clearing up the recent robbery cases in Plymouth. The careful way in which every bit of evidence was saved, the fingerprint records which Chief Thumme took and the alertness in quickly acting upon every tip received, brought its reward by the arrest of two suspects and the return to the owners of some of the stolen property. Congratulations.

DO IT NOW!

Plymouth coal dealers have urged residents of this city and vicinity to fill their coal bins early this spring for the forthcoming winter. They say that it will be exceedingly difficult next winter to secure coal regularly and for that reason future supplies should now be built up. The coal dealers know what they are talking about. Do not fail during the next few weeks to see to it that your coal bin is filled to overflowing for next winter and next spring—because you MAY NOT be able to get coal next winter.

OUT-SLICKING UNCLE SAM

Last week we challenged the Democratic State Central committee to use the $25,000 it shook down from the "faithful" who attended the Jackson day feast in Detroit to use that big sum of money to purchase Victory bonds instead of using it to corrupt voters in the forthcoming election.

At the time that editorial was written we did not know that even Uncle Sam had been "short-changed" in the deal. It remained for cautious, fact-finding Hub George of The Detroit Free Press to reveal all the facts about this notorious political shake-down.

Wrote Mr. George in last Sunday's Free Press: "Almost forgotten as Michigan lines up for the year's political battles is the restraining influence of the Hatch Act on excessive political zeal by appointed Federal executives and prospects are not bright that regulations of the Michigan Civil Service Commission will be treated with any more respect."

A case in point is the recent Jackson Day Dinner under auspices of the Democratic National Committee, the $25-a-shot contributors to which constituted almost a "Who's Who" in Michigan public life.

"Because wartime taxes called for 10 per cent, or $2.50 on each $25 plate, a slick detour was arranged whereby turkey and trimmings went free to each 'guest' who paid $25 into the Democratic campaign chest. The 'guest' list, which included an eleven-hour supplement for the names of those who got hungry late in the day, was therefore an accounting of campaign contributors."

"Nothing in the Hatch Act, according to United States District Attorney John C. Lehr, who with his assistants was conspicuous among the 'guests', directly forbids voluntary contributions by an appointed Federal executive to his party's campaign fund."

RAMBLING AROUND

With Prominent Michigan Editors
Their Views About Public Problems and Issues

OLD HAM, NEW EGGS

Another example of the failure of some people in Washington to recognize that all activities must be geared to the war effort is provided by Senator Sherman Downey of California. He seized upon the popular demand that Congress repeal the pension grab by its members to attempt to insert a rider providing federal pensions of $30 a month for every one more than 60 years old.

Mr. Downey's home state is prodigal of such schemes, as witness "ham 'n' eggs" and "$30 every Thursday." The Congressional Pension Act was politically stupid, but it would have been no great drain on the treasury. To hand out the monthly pensions he suggests would certainly hasten the country's already fast trot over the hill to the poor house. The proposal was defeated, but whether or not Mr. Downey was merely making a gesture to ingratiate him with his pension hungry constituents, he has given new encouragement to the crackpot economists who would bankrupt the country faster than it is being done now.—George Neal in The Orion Review.

FORGET POLITICS

This talk (in Washington) about forgetting politics is getting sickening to the American citizen. The average individual was ready at once when war was declared to throw political issues out the window and fight the war. It is Washington that has forced the man back home to change his mind. The average citizen today is becoming rapidly more convinced that he is going to have to very nearly forget the war and fight out a down-to-the-last-man political battle whether he wants to or not.

There seems to be no other way open to force the present government of the United States to target politics long enough to give its full attention to the most serious war that has ever threatened the North American continent.

And finally, if we are going to fight a political war here at home, let's fight it! And quickly. The first thing we know we'll have Hitler and the Japs taking a hand in what won't be our politics to fight over any more.—Andrew Johnson in The Benzie (Beulah) Record.

LET'S PROTECT OUR BOYS

We can't do much today to remedy the failures of yesterday; but we can be much more certain that the men who are going into service every day now are more adequately provided with the weapons and transportation they absolutely must have.

It is true that if they are not careful, the families of our soldiers, sailors and marines may have their energy diverted into the wrong channels. Clever Fifth Columnists, stupid demagogues who are still playing politics or thinking mainly of their own selfish interests, or hair-trigger patriots, who start shouting before they look around—these groups may misdirect considerable of the force of public opinion. Not in the main, however, if we keep our mind on the essentials.

The men in the service are doing a lot of thinking about this, too. In time their letters will help stir up their families to insist that we have speed, and more speed, and still more speed.

In writing letters home, however, they will be handicapped by the censorship, which will make it impossible for them to convey information that might be of value to the enemy. Anyhow, we can't wait six or eight months until we hear from the boys who are now going into the service. And we don't want to wait that long.

A Royal Oak woman whose husband has been in the service for some time sends me part of a letter from him. He sees other difficulties in the lagging spirit of the men. He writes:

"Had a lot of argument about our Army, but for the most part I guess my argument was lost. I still can't understand why every American can't realize the seriousness of our position. 'Most of them seem to think that all we have to do is to huff and puff and blow our enemies away. But I am afraid that isn't the case in this war.'"

"I think our elementary history is to blame for the attitude that most of our men have. History teaches that we have always been better than other people. Now our kids think that they have the world licked just because we are us, but this time I think we are going to have to prove that to most of the rest of the world, which in my opinion is a large order, and in the attitude that our people are in now, will take a long time and hell of a lot of fighting."

"We have kids here in this Battery that are college graduates and that still think this war is a joke and that we can end it by just saying 'stop.' I can't understand what they were taught in their schools to make them think that we could win a war sitting down, but that seems to be the general attitude, both in the army and civilian life. Maybe it's so, but I am afraid it isn't."

"Next to you, I think this country comes next in my affections. I love my children also, but I don't want to see them completely under the heel of some dictator."—Floyd Miller in The Royal Oak Tribune.

ROGER BABSON SAYS . . .

Urges Everyone to Save for Next Tax Bill

Babson Park, Michigan, says: "Income taxes are a larger group than ever, and the thousands of individuals, after making payments, are not giving more careful thought to their personal expenditures in the budget of the year. For the first time in our history, making up a budget, probably however, few individuals have ever stayed with a budget. It is a bitter end and will be a disaster. However, with much thought as in the old days, many families can save a considerable amount of money by making ends meet."

"I'll take a course in budgeting including a process to the time of the budget of the war and as a result, success is a sure thing. When it comes to my head and my knees are on me. Unless you are familiar with all the individual and family circumstances, only a catch-as-catch-can program can be outlined. Furthermore, the so-called human element is so unpredictable that it is difficult to make any budget recommendations with assurance that they will work out."

Here are some times I see today: A truck driver with an annual income of $1600 says, 'I have no money in the bank to pay my next tax installment but will borrow from friends.' A junior executive earning $2700 says, 'I'll have to save every penny from now on.' He's starting a little late. An executive who earned $3000 last year confesses, 'Unfortunately I didn't save anything. I had to use the installment plan.' A government worker earning $1800 says, 'I paid my income tax on the 15th but now am broke.'"

There's only one answer to this, namely, our 40,000,000 families should at once start making a budget. If I were a young man, exempt from military service and get by on this year. It will be a good thing for once to cut out random spending, to operate strictly on a budget, and to watch the dollars pile up. Budgets—along with bullets—are needed to win World War II.

With our national income now running at the rate of $90,000,000,000 per year, the total income of each family averages $2250. Of course, some families have larger incomes than $2250 and others have far less on which to get along. However, as family incomes rise above the present average of $2250 per year, the number of families so benefiting decreases rapidly. Remember, that less than five per cent of the people receiving any income at all have more than $5,000 a year. Any pre-war arguments to the effect that the so-called money interests control our country are entirely fallacious. Control—politically and from a purchasing point of view—is embraced in the great mass of families which have incomes of even less than $2250 per year. Let me assume that an average family of four, of which two are children, has after provision is made for Social Security payments, a net income of $2250. This may seem small potatoes to a few readers of this column, but let me say that an income of this size is not to be sneezed at. Personally, I am much more interested in how families in this income group handle their money than I am in how those in the larger income brackets spend their money.

The above family might disburse its funds as follows:

Savings and Taxes	$223
Food	627
Clothing	290
Housing	577
Transportation	210
Personal & Misc.	260
Benevolences	63

In spite of Social Security, a family's first duty is to preserve its own economic independence. Thus, I have allocated nearly 10 percent of the average family's net income to taxes and savings. This is a relatively high per cent and the majority of families never anywhere near reach it. About half this saving should go into straight life insurance and the balance kept in a savings bank account or invested in Defense Bonds, Savings, as well as steel, will do much to win this war. I again urge my readers to get out of debt as soon as possible; but by all means make out a budget today and stick to it. It also may be pleasantly surprised by how little in the way finally over, credit may be hard to get.

contemplating a business career, go into the "budget business." Most successful corporations prepare and adhere strictly throughout the year to a predetermined budget. Through an examination of the past year's production figures, receipts, and expenditures, an analysis of the business outlook for their particular industry, they are usually able to estimate with a fraction of a percent in forecasting what their present year's income, expenses, and profit, or deficit, will be.

This, perhaps, is too much to expect of the individual; but, especially this year, an attempt should be made to plan coming expenditures as well as hoped-for savings. The job should, if anything, be easier now that the expense of many items for citizens is restricted. Many families may be pleasantly surprised by how little in the way finally over, credit may be hard to get.
