I WASH the cups and saucers, And I turn back the sheet, And starlight dusts the windows... Oh, April dreams are sweet! AND springtime has enchantment, And gypsy trails are brief, So here's my gingham apron, And if I come to grief WITH some tall lad who gives me Love potions from his pack, And breaks my heart a little, Then maybe I'll come back!

Construction will start this week-end on the new modernistic office building, for the Pilgrim Products steel company on Firwood street in front of the factory and grounds occupied by the Choice Foods company in this city. The property was purchased from the Peninsular Metal Products company of Detroit more than a month ago. It is expected that the new office building will be completed within four to six weeks and the personnel will move from the downtown office in the Fisher building, immediately upon completion. Construction of an addition, 16x53 feet, to the factory building is nearing completion and machinery is arriving daily. The Pilgrim company, manufacturers of cold drawn steel, will take possession of the plant on May 1 and go into war production employing about 50 workers, according to Robert Green, president and general manager. The Choice Foods company will soon move to Center Line.

sumner Credit," by Richard Stout of the Morris Plan bank and "Opportunities and Safeguards in Wartime Banking," by C. B. Upham, first deputy controller of the currency. The bankers emphasized that during the war period the durable goods industry is curbed to release materials and money for the war and the people must pay for the war by buying defense bonds. The prime consideration must be "all out" for the war and not for post-war planning at this time, the bankers agreed. The curtailment of consumers' goods will mean sacrifices to everyone and all reserve funds must be diverted to the purchase of defense bonds to win the war and to preserve the American way of life and economic system.

Former Resident Dies in Belleville

Old timers will regret to learn of the death of David Corkins, a former well-known resident of this city, at his home in Belleville last Saturday.

Mr. Corkins was employed for over 35 years in the ivory stable formerly conducted by Harry C. Robinson on Penniman avenue. The livery barn, which stood for more than half a century on the site now occupied by the Penniman-Allen theatre, was for years one of the busiest places in this part of Wayne county. It was about 25 years ago when Mr. Corkins left Plymouth to reside near Belleville, where he owned a farm. He was well known about Plymouth and many of his old friends still reside about here. The funeral was held Monday and was largely attended. Burial took place in Belleville.

Dry Sand Proves to Be Best Weapon

Stuart Dubee Views Test Demonstration

Dry sand was proved the best material for snuffing out incendiary bombs at a test demonstration for civilian defense in Detroit last week. Stuart Dubee of the Plymouth office of the state highway department attended the exhibition.

Six tests were demonstrated for the benefit of 75 civilian defense leaders from Detroit's factories and stores and from other cities in the metropolitan area.

Three and a half pounds of magnesium shavings were placed on a one-inch thick board platform raised above the ground by two-by-fours for each test.

Materials used in the tests to extinguish the bombs included moist sand, pitch and sand, sand and granulated asphalt. Portland cement and granulated asphalt alone. The dry sand readily extinguished the flaming magnesium. The pitch and asphalt mixtures added fuel to the flame and gave off a heavy black smoke.

Army Approves Chiropractors

Profession Wins Official Support

The efforts of chiropractors in the United States to obtain recognition of their profession by the nation's armed forces appears to have gained a measure of official support.

An army bulletin just issued recommends the classification of chiropractors as physicians important to the welfare of military personnel.

The movement for recognition began several years ago when chiropractors, at the behest of veteran's organizations, sought the right to care for disabled veterans in government hospitals.

Prominent in the movement are several Michigan chiropractors including Dr. F. O. Logic of Iron Mountain, who as head of the Chiropractic Ex-Servicemen's League, has been an important figure in the action which has led to this success.

What Your Sugar Rationing Card Looks Like

APPLICATION FOR WAR RATION BOOK (To be filled in by Registrar only)

IMPORTANT—A separate application must be made by (or, where the Regulations permit, on behalf of) every person to whom a War Ration Book is to be issued.

Application form for War Ration Book with fields for name, address, family unit, and registrar information.

Applicants for sugar rationing books are urged by the Office of Price Administration to study carefully the application card, illustrated above, and have the correct answers when they register on May 4, 5, 6 and 7.

Registration

located south of Five Mile road, and west of Farmington road, it is explained by George A. Smith, superintendent of Plymouth schools and director of the local registration.

It is estimated that there are approximately 200 industrial and retail users to be registered in the Plymouth area. The trade registration will require the services of 10 registrars who will be school teachers and volunteers from the community.

Industrial and institutional users include bakeries, candy manufacturers, boarding houses, hospitals, churches, Parent-Teachers' associations, fraternal groups and others who use sugar in large quantities either in its original state or in processing its products.

Application blanks to be filled out by retail dealers and industrial users require statistical data from last year's business reports. For that reason, Superintendent Smith will be glad to issue blanks to those who plan to register at the school office from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday (today) and next Monday.

Retailers will be issued sugar certificates based on their sales and inventories. It is understood that they will then replenish supplies by submitting to wholesalers ration stamps which they collect from consumers.

Following the registration of trade and private consumers, all users will apply for additional supplies of ration books at the local ration board offices.

upon filing an order certifying that it is not possible to make repairs. Persons may also buy any material now in stock not to exceed the amount of $5.

All material must be secured on priority rating for defense building. All plans for houses and alterations must be submitted first to the FHA for preliminary approval and then submitted by the FHA to the War Production Board for preference rating even though the building is not FHA-financed.

The Jewell and Blaich concern in Plymouth reports approximately $9,000 worth of inventory in frozen materials, including two carloads of furnaces, 10 oil units, 12 bath tubs, 14 water tanks, 15 oil burning water heaters and other miscellaneous supplies.

Jewell and Blaich is supplying materials for nine houses now under construction with priority defense ratings and has applied for preference ratings on 11 other new defense houses to be constructed in this area.

The Gustin Plumbing company reports about $1500 worth of frozen inventory with five houses now under construction and two applied for future construction.

Pythian Knights Hold Large Meeting

At the last regular convention of Plymouth lodge, Knights of Pythias, their castle hall was the scene of the largest gathering of Knights and their families held in recent years.

Knights and their families and friends to the number of 100 were present from Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Milan and Manchester.

after their marriage and his graduation from the University, the young couple moved to Adrian where he immediately entered the practice of law.

His progress was rapid and in a few brief years he had become known as one of the outstanding attorneys in that city. He was to have been the Republican candidate for prosecuting attorney this fall.

The Adrian Junior Chamber of Commerce in 1940 recognized him as the outstanding young citizen of Adrian of that year and awarded him the distinguished service medal for his valuable community work.

He was elected president of the Lenawee Bar association in 1940 and in 1937 he had served as president of the Michigan Alumni club of Adrian.

Surviving are Mrs. Michener, three children, Earl C. II, eight years old, Elizabeth, five years old, and Sandra, one year old, also his parents and one sister. The funeral Monday in Adrian was one of the largest held in that city in many years. Burial took place in Oakwood cemetery.

WPB Restricts

is that in the national interest all construction which is not essential to the war effort, directly, to the successful prosecution of the war and which involves the utilization of labor, material or construction plants urgently needed in the war effort should be deferred for the duration of the emergency.

The restriction is considered in accord with the government's theory for a planned post-war economy. Its effect is designed to achieve the same purpose as the ban on manufacture of consumers' goods to absorb the post-war slack.

The order will not necessitate curtailment of the city's planned improvement program during the summer months, according to City Manager C. H. Elliott. Several projects for street paving, curb and gutter installation and sewer construction which the department of public works plans to undertake this summer have already been submitted for approval and preference ratings on materials have been granted.

Michigan's pheasant population traces indirectly back to 1790 when Richard Bache, son-in-law of Benjamin Franklin, first introduced the birds in the United States. Out in Iowa, pheasants took to the open country by accident. A windstorm 40 years ago is credited with the liberation. Two thousand birds took flight when pens were blown over on a pheasant farm near Cedar Falls.

Horton Home Has Been Sold

Russell Walker of Northville Purchaser

The beautiful country home of Mrs. Allen Horton, corner of West Territorial and Beck roads, has been sold by Mrs. Horton to Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker of Northville, who will take possession of the property about the middle of May.

The Horton residence is surrounded by about 40 acres of good farming land as lies in Wayne county. It surmounts a hill, enabling one to secure excellent views over the entire surrounding country.

The many Plymouth friends of Mrs. Horton will be glad to know that she plans to remain in Plymouth, providing she can find a suitable small home. Mr. Walker is engaged in the used automobile business in Detroit. He is one of the enthusiastic supporters of the Northville-Wayne County horse show and it is probable that he will erect a suitable barn on his new property to house his riding horses. The barn on the Horton place burned a number of years ago. The transaction was made through Elmer L. Smith of Northville.

Library Lists Folklore Books

Carl Carmer Writes Pioneers "Tall Tales"

Carl Carmer spoke in Detroit recently and in his talk emphasized his interest in the folklore of America and in "tall tales" of the pioneers especially. He plans to publish soon a book for children giving them the folk songs of America.

Some of his books which are now available in branches of the Wayne county library include "Hurricane's Children," a collection of 20 humorous American folk tales including some of Paul Bunyan, Ichabod Paddock, Kemp Morgan and Febold Feboldsen; "Listen for a Lonesome Drum," in which the author describes the social life and customs of his native New York wandering from Buffalo to the Adirondacks across upstate New York. The title of this book refers to a dull sound not unlike a distant drum which is often heard in northern New York and which has been explained in several different folk-lore tales.

Other Carmer books are "Stars Fell on Alabama," "The Hudson," and "Genesee Fever," a novel of the settlement of upstate New York in the early 1790's.

The European corn borer is moving slowly westward despite strenuous measures to hold it in check. The number of Illinois counties reporting infestation increased from five in 1939 to 43 in 1941.

Prison Bars Go Into Munitions

DeHoCo Old Timers Help Collection

Hearts are being broken out at the Detroit House of Correction—in fact, some of the guards say they think they have detected "crocodile tears" trickling down the cheeks of some of the old timers who have spent many a moon at this Haven of Rest and Recreation.

It seems that Warden Blake Gillies and his associates have turned their time and attention to the collection of scrap metal lying about the place—metal that will go into the making of war munitions.

"See dat old bar there?" said one "trusty" as he was picking up a piece of old iron for the scrap pile.

"I hate to see that one go. If memory serves me right that's the very bar I helped Slipper Jim saw off way back when life was worth living around here," said one of the "trusties" quoted as he helped about the collection.

"Of course, that's bad when you know it's going to help blow the innards out of some yellow Jap. That's the only good thing about this whole business. It's what's turning our sorrow over seeing these old keepsakes go the way of all earthly things into a bit of joy. Joy—that's what it is. We're sheddin' crocodile tears, we're so happy in seeing these old relics of days gone by, we have cherished all these years, going into bullets and the like," said another old timer as he hustled about digging up bits of old cell bars, iron doors and things like that.

"You know if this Warden of ours would just let us boys out to scout around the country, we'd get him more old metal than Uncle Sam could possibly use. We know the ways to get it—tricks that some of the other folks don't know anything about," said another.

But it seems that Warden Gillies and his "Willing Workers" have been doing a pretty good job in collecting up old cell rods and other scrap. They have over 80 tons that are now being advertised for sale. Before summer is over these old iron cell bars will be bursting over Japan and Germany—blowing to bits the war machines that have turned the world upside down.

WEAVER SAFETY SERVICE

If It Happens Here!

STURVEY emergencies must be expected in wartime. The important thing is to be ready—to know what to do.

One of the first rules to fix in your mind is: Leave telephone lines as free as possible to speed the work of rescue and defense.

In black-outs—during air-raid alarms and other local emergencies—you add to public danger if you use your telephone needlessly. You may clog the lines and hinder the efforts of the fire-fighters, police and rescue squads.

In any time of public emergency, use your telephone only for vital messages.

WHILE AMERICA IS AT WAR
Help vital messages go through without delay by:

- Keeping telephone conversations short.
- Avoiding the busy hours—10 A. M. to noon, 2 to 4 P. M.
- Answering your telephone promptly.
- Giving the number when placing Long Distance calls.

Garden Club Has Anniversary Tea

Meeting Features Victory Garden Talk

The Rosedale Gardens branch of the National Farm and Garden association observed its fourth anniversary at a birthday tea last Tuesday afternoon in the community clubhouse.

Mrs. C. W. Avery of Detroit discussed the role of garden clubs in the war emergency in a talk before 25 members of the Rosedale club. Local garden clubs may perform a valuable service by offering advice to the public about nutrition and victory garden problems.

The Rosedale Garden club

plans to have the property offered by the Sheldon Land company for victory garden plots ploughed within the next two weeks to start cultivation by the first of May. Anyone interested in obtaining garden plots is requested to call Mrs. Lyman Hedden, Mrs. Charles Piper or Mrs. Frank Johnson.

A large birthday cake formed the centerpiece of the tea table decorated in yellow and white. Mrs. Charles Cook was chairman of the tea, assisted by Mrs. Carson Johnson and Mrs. M. Lynch, and Mrs. Kenneth Gibson was program chairman of Tuesday's meeting.

Because it is apparently easy to digest, goats milk is often recommended for infants, children, convalescents, adults troubled with digestive disturbances and those allergic to other milk.

Many Attend Birthday Lunch

Church Auxiliary Sponsors Party

One hundred ladies attended the annual birthday luncheon, Tuesday, given by the Women's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church in Rosedale Gardens. The tables were decorated to represent the 12 months of the year. A snow scene for January; a mail box of silver paper with valentines at each place for February; a shamrock plant flanked by tall tapers with shamrock mats of green crepe paper at each place represented the month of March; an all pink table centered with a bunny and colored eggs signified April.

Graduates standing around a dictionary centered the June table and favors were tiny diplomas; a low white cake centered with an American flag, surrounded by real red and white carnations and firecracker place cards represented July; a swimming pool and bathers for August; white tapers, crystal dishes and white cake topped with yellow daisies for September; a barn, bundles of hay, animals and vegetables for October; orange and yellow decorations with small tapers in pumpkins for November and for December miniature carolers, Santa Claus and a snow man. Each table had a birthday cake in keeping with the decorations.

An interesting program followed the luncheon with Mrs. Stafford Francis in charge, which consisted of songs, piano selections, charades, a monologue and a playlet. A neat sum was added to the treasury. Guests were present from Detroit, Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens.

Rosedale Civic Club Holds Dance Saturday

The Rosedale Gardens Civic club will sponsor an open house program at the clubhouse Saturday evening, April 25 at 8:30 o'clock. The program will feature old-time square and round dances led by the director of the Ford old-time orchestra from Edison Institute. Mr. and Mrs. V. H. Smale are in charge of the program, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. H. R. MacGregor, Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Cook.

London's passenger transport board has reduced all tickets by .004 inches in thickness, as a contribution to the war effort. This microscopic saving multiplied by the use of nearly 1,900,000,000 tickets yearly, adds up to approximately 480 tons of paper pulp.

Maybe your chances of buying a new car are better than you think Here's clarifying information about the rules on the purchase of new automobiles—and how you can get one if you are eligible.

MORE people are entitled to buy new automobiles under Government rationing regulations than may have been generally realized.

Indeed, if you are eligible to buy a new car, and continue to drive an old and inefficient model, you may actually burn up more gasoline, consume more oil and wear out tires faster than is desirable in the interest of conservation of critical materials and supplies.

The principal groups eligible for the purchase of new cars are as follows:

- 1 Physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses, veterinarians and regularly practicing ministers of a religious faith, when their cars are used for professional purposes.
- 2 Persons engaged in fire-fighting services, police services, public health services, mail services or highway construction and maintenance of equipment when cars are used in direct line of duty.
- 3 Persons furnishing transportation to the public, when the purchase is required in the interest of public safety and convenience.
- 4 Persons engaged in the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly, including executives, engineers, technicians and workers. Such cars must be used in transportation to or from or within factories, power plants, transportation or communication facilities, farms, lumber camps, mines, military or naval establishments, when the work done in such place of employment is essential, directly or indirectly, to the prosecution of the war.

- 5 Persons transporting produce and supplies to and from a farm when applicant does not own or possess a truck or other practicable means of transportation.
- 6 Traveling salesmen, when the car is required in selling foods and medical supplies or machinery and equipment to farms, factories, mines, oil wells, lumber camps or similar productive establishments.
- 7 Persons delivering newspapers, when the car is required for wholesale delivery.

The first step in getting a car is to fill out the proper application form, which we will be glad to obtain for you.

It is then necessary only to demonstrate to the local rationing board that your need for a car is bona fide to get a "certificate of purchase" entitling you to immediate delivery on the model of your own selection.

If you have any questions about your eligibility after reading the above list, we will be glad to answer them for you to the best of our ability.
