Brother Killed In Train Wreck

Eugene Orndorff Back From Funeral

Eugene Orndorff, well known Plymouth resident and an engineer on the Pere Marquette, was called to Louisville last Tuesday because of the death in a train accident of Harry Orndorff, a younger brother, who was also an engineer.

His passenger train on the Louisville & Kentucky railway, was sideswiped by a freight pulling out from a switch near Louisville, Kentucky.

The funeral was held in Louisville last Thursday and was largely attended not only by railway men, but by residents of the city where he had lived the most of his life.

He had never been married. His estate was left to the Louisville Humane Society and the Crippled Children organization of Kentucky.

Back From Brief Vacation In Canada

Miss Neva Lovewell and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Armbruster, who were guests recently at Miss Lovewell's island cottage in St. Mary's river, have returned home.

While up on Pine island they enjoyed some excellent fishing.

From Miss Lovewell's summer home, the big barrage balloons that are sent up each night to protect the Soo locks from possible air raids, are plainly visible.

Deputy Sheriffs Endanger Lives

Traffic Laws Flaunted By Officers

Plymouth residents lived through Monday's wild "monkey-parade" staged by imitation wild-west and wild-eyed drivers from Wayne county sheriff's office without the loss of a single life and as far as known, with not a single cracked skull or broken leg, suffered by a resident of the city.

But how and why every one escaped injury no one can explain. Probably never before, except once at the Northville-Wayne county fair grounds, did any one ever witness such fool driving as was indulged in by the "procession" of deputy sheriffs, who were said to be escorting a string of automobiles through the city, as took place in Plymouth Monday.

If there was any provision of the city traffic ordinance that was not violated by these "officers," no one knows where that provision can be found.

They drove through traffic lights. They drove on the wrong side of the street, they cut in and out of traffic and they violated speed regulations as though there was no such a thing as speed control within the city.

If Leon Henderson wants a perfect demonstration of what not to do to save tires and gas, he'd better write to the sheriff of Wayne county and ask for a demonstration upon the part of his deputies, the demonstration to be made by the cuckoo drivers who drove through Plymouth last Monday afternoon.

Youth Survives Torpedo Action

Seaman Clark Norris Rescued From Raft

Clark Norris, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Norris of Newburg road, suffered burns and injuries when an Atlantic tanker on which he was a fireman was torpedoed about three weeks ago, according to word received by his parents last week.

Young Norris, seaman second class, was burned and thrown 50 feet clear of his ship after the torpedo struck. He spent two days and nights on a raft without food or water before the survivors were picked up by a destroyer at sea. The youth stated that all of the ship's crew survived the "incident."

The local boy, who attended Plymouth high school and enlisted in the navy seven months ago, has spent the past three weeks in a navy hospital at the Pensacola, Florida base. He told his parents that he has recovered from his injuries and is "ready to go back to duty."

Former Hoyt Homestead Sold

Lester Ferenczi Is New Owner

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Edson O. Huston on South Main street, one of the city's most attractive homes, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ferenczi, who are at present living at 525 West Ann Arbor Trail. They will move into their new home next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Huston are taking rooms for the summer in the Edson Huston home at 923 Penman avenue, but definite plans for the future have not yet been made.

The residence on Main street is best known to the older residents as the Hoyt homestead. The house is not only a beautiful structure, but the grounds surrounding it are among the most attractive in the city. Mrs. Huston was formerly Mrs. Hoyt, the property passing to her upon the death of her husband.

Mr. Ferenczi, a former resident of Walled Lake, is an employe of the Ford Motor company in the aircraft division at Dearborn.

Diesel Engineer Buys Home Here

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Hulsing have purchased from Mrs. L. E. Britt, of Detroit, the residence located at 1010 Church street and expect to move into their new home in the near future. Mr. Hulsing, a former resident of Chicago, is now employed as a research engineer in the Detroit Diesel Engine Division plant of General Motors, just off the Plymouth road between Plymouth and Detroit.

The residence is probably best known as the old Passage home. It has been occupied by Attorney Reed Hunt, who plans to move back to Detroit.

Credit Buyers Given Warning

Delinquent Accounts To Be Paid By July 10

Credit buyers in Plymouth who have 30-day charge accounts in local or Detroit stores are warned that all delinquent accounts must be settled in full before July 10 when government credit penalties go into effect.

John Blyton, of the Taylor & Blyton department store, said that many accounts are in danger of being closed out under the new wartime restrictions no matter how small is the unpaid balance on the account. Every account with an unpaid balance remaining over from May, even if it amounts to only a few cents on purchases running into hundreds of dollars, must be closed July 10 under the credit restrictions, according to an announcement from the Retail Merchants' association in Detroit.

Merchants generally in the past have not insisted on full payment on the due date of bills, which is the tenth of the month following purchase. As a result, many persons pay in round sums, letting odd amounts carry over. All such unpaid balances must be paid in full by July 10 and all 30-day charge accounts in all stores throughout the country must be paid in full on the tenth of each month following purchases. Stores extending credit on delinquent accounts are subject to a federal penalty and government inspectors have already checked credit registers in Plymouth and Detroit stores and will re-check after the July 10 deadline for delinquent payments.

Plan To Amend Building Code

Commission Studies Ordinance Draft

The city commission at its meeting Monday evening approved the first and second reading of an ordinance to amend the city building code. The proposed ordinance will be given its final reading at the commission meeting on July 6.

"Existing frame buildings within the fire limits, if in good condition and with exterior walls plumb and true, may be veneered with four inches of brick, tile stone or concrete.

Don't Boot The Cow If You Want A Big Pail Of Milk

There's more to this job of milking a cow than meets the eye.

All jokes about faucets forgotten, take the word of a man who has studied cow psychology and the chemistry and other mysteries of why a cow gives milk.

Cows often get into the habit of giving down milk at a regular signal, like the rattling of a feed cart, starting of the milking machine or when she is eating grain.

Other tips suggested by Huffman include: If milking twice daily, space the periods 12 hours apart.

Presence of a strange dog in the barns at milking time may keep a cow from giving down her milk.
