Defense Council Issues Report of Year's Activities

Summary Presents Outline of Defense Units, Personnel

A report of the first year's activities of Plymouth's civilian defense organization was submitted to Coordinator C. H. Elliott this week by Arno Thompson of the local defense council.

"On September 22, 1941, the Mayor called an organizational meeting and confirmed the appointment of a civilian defense council for the city of Plymouth. Plymouth was one of the first communities in the state to set up a defense organization and council. At its second meeting, preparations were started for the general registration of civilian volunteers for community service and during November and December a total of 1200 citizens were registered for specialized duties. A classified file was set up and the registrants were divided into 110 classifications. With the Coordinator and the council working in close relationship with county and state councils, and with the Mayor as liaison officer, the planning stages of a protective defense force were underway by the close of 1941," reviews Mr. Thompson.

"Training for air raid wardens, the auxiliary police and auxiliary firemen was started early in 1942 and other protective services were organized for road repair and public utility repair by March, 1942. The medical division of the defense corps established first aid stations which were fully equipped with supplies, instruments and medicines through the generosity of the Red Cross chapter in Plymouth, and physicians and nurses were assigned to medical units. Red Cross activities were in full operation for war service before the defense council was authorized. The local chapter has cooperated with the defense council and volunteer registration committee, taking on many additional duties required by civilian defense.

"The Red Cross offered classes in knitting, sewing, bandage rolling and first aid. Following these primary courses the chapter framed plans for the secondary program of civilian defense activities for the shelter, feeding and emergency treatment of the civilian population in case of disaster. In cooperation with the school authorities and medical service unit, the Red Cross instituted classes in canteen work, mass feeding, motor corps and nurses corps.

"Early in 1942, the defense council recognized the necessity of an overall salvage program and a local salvage committee was appointed to supervise the collection of scrap metals, rubber, paper, rags, grease and glass. This committee has perfected an organization with area and block captains to cover the entire territory.

"Last fall, a committee of one was appointed by Frank Isbey, state chairman of the War Bond and Stamp Committee to stimulate the sale of U. S. war bonds and stamps in Plymouth. Through this committee, Plymouth became the first city to receive the coupon and regular assistance of the school system in stamp sales, through the medium of the schools, the Chamber of Commerce, service organizations, retail merchants group and the Minute Women organization, over half a million dollars were invested by Plymouth citizens in war bonds. No other community of comparable population in Michigan can equal this record in per-capita sales. Other committees more recently appointed are on agriculture and victory gardens, transportation, nutrition and consumer information and counsel."

"The air raid warden corps includes one chief, an assistant chief, two deputies, five sector wardens, 16 senior post wardens and 210 wardens. Twenty-one posts are identified by signs signifying sectors and posts and all wardens have received full first aid and special defense training.

"The police protection unit includes the regular police force, chief, captain, lieutenant and three patrolmen and 46 auxiliary men assigned to city duties and 22 auxiliaries assigned to township sectors. Each auxiliary patrolman is assigned to a particular post and district providing a complete network of fully trained guards for the city and township. The fire force includes the regular fire department, chief, lieutenant, and 27 auxiliary firemen assigned to four stations in the city.

"The public works division of defense includes the city engineer and city employees and a staff of 50 volunteer auxiliaries trained for emergencies involving municipal services. All emergency service units and the council members are provided with civilian defense arm bands authorized for their units and trucks and cars to be provided with letters 'E's for identification, the report reveals.

A. C. Dunn's Nephew Dies in Plane Crash

Corporal R. A. Arens of Dayton, Ohio, a Coast Artilleryman returning to his post following a leave, who was killed when an Army bomber crashed at Newark, Ohio Tuesday, is a nephew of A. C. Dunn of Dunn Steel Products company in Plymouth. The youth was one of seven who lost their lives when the disabled plane fell in the midst of the city's residential section. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn will attend the funeral services to be held Friday at Newport, Kentucky.

Board Announces New Draft Rules

Eliminates Class 1B; Reclassifies 300 Men

"All men between the ages of 20 and 45 are potential soldiers and must be prepared to answer the call when their country needs them," General Lewis B. Hershey, director of Selective Service instructed all local boards this week.

Officials of local board No. 61 announce several new rulings which affect eligible draft registrants. Induction postponements to permit registrants to seek enlistments and commissions in other branches of the service have been cancelled. The local board has also started reclassifying all Class 1B registrants. On September 1, Class 1B registrants were eliminated and all men in that group will be reclassified as Class IA men or Class 4F. It is estimated that the reclassification will release nearly 300 men from local board No. 61 for active military service. There is no appeal on a classification determined on the basis of physical condition, it is explained.

Plymouth's local board will soon exhaust its supply of single men and will then begin to reclassify Class 2A registrants, single men with secondary dependencies, such as parents and other relatives. Any deferment granted merely affects the order of a registrant's induction. The growth of the nation's need for military power will decide the duration of any deferment granted to any man with dependents. There are only two reasons for deferment at this time: the expansion of the military force has not yet reached the point where the man is needed, or the registrant is more valuable to the war effort in his civilian occupation.

Wood Urges Tire Men To Report

Dealers Asked To Send In Inventories

All tire dealers in the Plymouth area who have not yet filled their quarterly inventory reports covering the period ending June 30, 1942, are urged to make their return immediately by William Wood, chairman of War Price and Rationing Board No. 82-19.

Although extensions for return of the reports ran to August 31, Mr. Wood said only 2,640 of Michigan's 6,800 tire dealers had their reports returned to the state OPA office by the deadline. All tire dealers, automobile supply companies, motor vehicle dealers and finance companies that sell or hold new or used tires and tubes for sale must file the inventory report under provisions of a recent amendment to the revised tire rationing regulation.

The amendment calls for not only an inventory statement of all unmounted tires as of June 30, but also for similar reports quarterly thereafter. These reports are to show the inventory position as of the final day of the quarter and are to be filed in duplicate on or before the fifteenth of the succeeding month with the local board to be forwarded to OPA's inventory unit in New York City.

OPA Form R-17, on which the report must be filed, can be obtained at local war price and rationing boards.

City Considers Curfew Ruling

Youths on Streets at Night Offer Problem

Curfew may ring in Plymouth! The city commission at its meeting Tuesday instructed the city manager to obtain information about the practice of walking around at night in other Michigan cities. The curfew ruling has been proposed to solve the problem of young high school boys and girls strolling around the city streets and congregating on street corners at late hours.

During a recent blackout test, a group of youths drew an admonition from local police as they insisted on smoking during the blackout period in Kelllogg park. According to police, the practice of walking around at night is not only a problem during blackout tests but requires extra protection by police patrols at all times.

Canteen Fund Drive Nets $100

Donations Provide Kits for Selectees

Response was most generous to the fund campaign organized by the Plymouth Canteen club during the past week, according to a report from Arno B. Thompson, fund director. Various business places, industries and clubs have been organized into groups in which employes or members pledge donations to provide utility canteen kits to local selectees entering Army service.

The canteen club was organized last fall at the suggestion of the Ex-Service Men's club. Representatives from various service organizations, fraternal orders and church groups, including the Ex-Service Men's club, Salvation Army, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs and I.O.O.F., helped organize the club and have furnished funds up to this time. Groups from church, bridge clubs, neighborhood and factories have not yet been contacted to participate or invited to appoint a group captain and obtain pledge envelopes.

Nearly $100 was raised during the first month of the canteen drive and has been turned over to the Salvation Army to purchase and pack the utility canteen kits. These kits will be distributed to Plymouth selectees leaving with the next group Thursday. Part of the fund has been used to pay up deficits on purchases during recent months.

Howard Gladman Saves Silver for Bonds

Shown with Miss Charlotte Walker of the Penn theatre and Mrs. Lisle Alexander of the Plymouth United Savings bank above is Howard Gladman of Northville road, Plymouth, who last Tuesday night converted into war bonds the pennies, dimes and quarters he saved during the past two years. The $225 accumulation of change included 52 silver dollars. Mr. Gladman has two boys in the service, M. Darwin Gladman, first class seaman at the Great Lakes Naval Training station near Chicago, and Howard E. Gladman, who is in the Marines at San Diego. Mr. Gladman is employed by the Wayne county road commission.

Bert's Place Wins Top Honors In Sale of War Bonds and Stamps in City

To the smallest, busiest little business place in Plymouth, goes first honors in bond and stamp sales during last week. Bert's Place, the popular little lunch counter on North Main street, almost directly across the street from the draft registration board's office, last week sold a total of $27,665.50 in war bonds and stamps! Since the merchants have been selling war bonds and stamps, Mr. Swadling has sold a total of $3850.00 in bonds and stamps, a record that is outstanding.

Not only has Bert's Place been outstanding in its sale of bonds and stamps, but it is one of the "one hundred percent" places in Plymouth, where every employe is a holder of war bonds.

"Bert's Place" has set a mighty high record for other business places in Plymouth to shoot at—a record of which it can well be proud.

Following are the names of "champion" saleswomen at Bert's place: Nellie Long, Audrey Huff, Lucille Cloar, Jane Vipond and Mrs. Bert Swadling.

City Votes to Remove Rails of Old D. U. R. Interurban Line on Main St.

Another of Plymouth's historic relics of former days is to be removed. The city commission voted Tuesday night to remove the rails of the old D.U.R. interurban line from Main street between Fralick and Mill streets.

It is estimated that the 2400 feet of double tracks from the old street-car line will yield 72 tons of rail. The city will sell the salvage material through an agency of the War Production Board to aid in the war effort.

The tracks were originally laid by the Detroit, Plymouth and Northville line in 1898 and the enterprise was later consolidated as a part of the Detroit United Railways. Many of Plymouth's old-timers served on the interurban which operated between Wayne and Northville. The line became inoperative nearly 30 years ago.

Retail War Stamp Sales at Low Ebb

Week's Purchases Total Only $3,711

Plymouth's retail store campaign for the sale of war stamps and bonds sank to its lowest ebb since the drive started in July with 36 local merchants reporting a total sale of only $3,711 worth during the past week.

Eight of the 36 stores and business places reporting this week sold no stamps or bonds, according to Horace Thatcher, auditor of the Plymouth Commando committee. There were many other merchants who failed to report their sales records. There are 78 retail business places in the city pledged to participate in the campaign.

South Lyon Plans Big Scrap Drive

Kiwanis Club Directs Patriotic Drive

Members of the South Lyon Kiwanis club are "going to town" on the scrap metal drive so strongly urged by the government.

Beginning Thursday evening, the club members staged a big "scrap festival" in South Lyon. Streets were roped off and there was entertainment galore. One of the outstanding features was the free barbecue—but nobody got anything to eat unless they brought some scrap along with them. "We're out to beat any town in the state of our size" declared Frank Holt, one of the active members of the South Lyons Kiwanis club when in Plymouth yesterday. "This is just a starter. What we will do in the weeks and months to come, will surprise the whole state", he added.

Plymouth School Enrollment Sets New High Record

Late Registrations To Set Total Between 2,100-2,200 Students

Enrollment in Plymouth's public school system set a new record this fall with a total of 2,062 students in the city's three schools. Registrations began with the opening of the fall school term Tuesday noon and continued Wednesday and Thursday. It is expected when the final registrations are completed, the total enrollment will be between 2,100 and 2,200 students, according to Superintendent George A. Smith.

High school enrollment this year is 1144 students, only slightly less than the school's maximum capacity. Last year's high school enrollment was 1,075 students. The total enrollment in the two grade schools is 918 with 581 enrolled at Central grade school and 337 at Starkweather school. Central grade school enrollment has reached its maximum capacity but Starkweather school is not overcrowded, according to school officials. Last year's grade registration was 509 at Central school and 310 at Starkweather.

The large increase in student population is attributed to building activity within the school district during the past year. In kindergarten alone this year, due to the change in age limits to four and a half years instead of five, the enrollment at the two schools is 60 additional beginners, requiring two full-time teachers at Central school for the kindergarten department.

Victory Notes

A Red Cross Motor Corps class will start Wednesday evening, September 16 from 7 to 9 in the Ford sales room, through the courtesy of Paul Wiedman, Floyd Tibbets, who taught the course last spring has agreed to teach it again. This means a great deal to the success of the class, because those who took Class I were very enthusiastic about the teaching.

A new class in First Aid will start the first Monday of next school, Monday evening, October 5, at the high school. It will be taught by Mrs. Helen Burgett, and is open to both men and women who have not earned their certificates in First Aid. This is the fourth First Aid class that Mrs. Burgett has taught.

The Plymouth Defense Council will meet Tuesday, September 15, at 4 o'clock at the city hall. Citizens with suggestions or criticisms of Plymouth's war program are urged to present them at that time.

Chief Air Warden Floyd Eckles announced at his meeting Tuesday evening that there will be a regular monthly meeting for all air wardens, an advanced class for air wardens starting in October as soon as the Detroit teachers are ready, and Course I for all air wardens who have not taken it.

Mrs. Harold J. Brisbois (Telephone 457-W) is still taking registrations for the surgical dressings class which will be given by the Red Cross sometime this fall. Mrs. Winston Cooper is taking registrations for Class II in Canteen and Class I in Home Nursing (387-J).

Anyone in civilian defense work who wishes a driver at any time may call Mrs. Helen Burgett, chairman of the Red Cross Motor Corps, of Plymouth, and she will provide transportation.

Stores Sponsor Camp Broadcast

WCAR, Pontiac Plans Program on Sunday

Several Plymouth merchants are sponsoring a radio program to be broadcast direct from a United States Training camp, to be heard over radio station WCAR at Pontiac on Sunday, September 13 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

"Every effort has been made to make this an outstanding civic affair for the people of southeastern Michigan and for their boys in the service. In planning the broadcast, it has been found that boys from this area are being moved rapidly from one camp to another. Service officials are keeping us informed from time to time and a last minute check-up, two or three days in advance of the broadcast, will determine from which training center the broadcast will originate," explains Parnell Thompson of radio station WCAR.

It is presumed that possibly some Plymouth boys in training will be heard on the broadcast. WCAR is publicizing the program daily on the air and the names of Plymouth merchants are being mentioned as sponsors.

Contractor Guy Dunn Goes Out of Business

War has taken another contractor out of active work in Plymouth, Guy Dunn, for years a well-known mason contractor, is announcing this week the fact that he has gone out of business until after the war. He has taken a job at the Ford bomber plant and intends to work there until America has defeated its enemies. "I feel as though my services will be far more beneficial making bombers than keeping my business going, so I have decided to give up mason work until the war has been won," stated Mr. Dunn yesterday.

Just a word to Plymouth
Voters!

You may be sure that I will appreciate most sincerely your support at the polls Tuesday. During the time I served this district in the legislature, I fulfilled every election pledge that I made.

When nominated and elected United States Senator from this state I will be as faithful to my pledge as I was during the time I served you in the state legislature.

I am the ONLY candidate in the Republican contest free of all support of party bosses and their henchmen. I stand pledged to no one, except the people of all of Michigan.

No one knows my record and the things that I stand for better than do you.

You may be sure that I will appreciate your support Tuesday.

With Plymouth Boys Defending The Flag

Dear Editor:

Just a little letter to tell you I appreciate receiving The Plymouth Mail every week.

I've got my basic training over with and I am now going to school here at Fort Crook, Nebraska. They sure give you wonderful courses in mechanics.

I'm sending you a little poem I made up. I think it fits Plymouth pretty good. Again thanking you for sending The Plymouth Mail. It's really swell to read about what is going on back home.

My farm must produce more this coming year! . . . and I've figured a good way to help it along.

First of all I'm going to feed Eckles feeds and grains exclusively to assure myself of the maximum production from my stocks and poultry.

What better way to insure yourself of top results—Feed the feeds that do the business—

YOU CAN GET THEM HERE

where I come from. You just wave and yell, 'Hi Pete, Hi Bud, Hi everyone.' So when we get done mopping up the Japs, You know darn well that I'm heading back.

Sincerely yours,
Private Elmer Passage.

Where I Come From

When the war is over I'll be heading back. To where the sky is blue and never black. Where the fields are green and never bare. They're just full of grain, brown and fair. Where the streams are clear and not very wide. But they're just full of fish waiting to be fried. When you walk down a street,

Aviation Cadet Marvin Criger is in Plymouth on a 15-day furlough following his transfer recently to Ellington Field near Houston, Texas where he will undergo nine weeks' training in navigation when he returns to his base September 15. Following that period, young Criger will have 15 weeks' training at Kelley Field, Long Island, where he is to receive his commission, and five weeks' training at Las Vegas.

Private Byron C. Laskey, who was recently inducted into service from Plymouth, writes that he is now stationed at Camp Wallace, Texas, about 17 miles from the Gulf of Mexico. "It is pretty hot down here, about 120 in the shade," writes Pvt. Laskey. "This is where we receive our basic training for a period of eight weeks."

The Plymouth Hardware softball team will meet at the Plymouth Hardware store Monday night at 7:30.

Campbell is being transferred to a new camp, a tank destroyer division at Camp Hood, Texas. The camp is an unusually large one covering 106,000 acres.

Cub Scouts, Pack 620 will meet in the small gymnasium at the school Friday evening at 7:30. The past month has been a busy one for the boys as they have been devoting much of their time in the making of model airplanes, boats, tanks, pertaining to the war industry.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilbert Hannah and son, Kenneth, returned home Tuesday evening from an interesting week of travel to Nashville, Tennessee, and other cities. While in Nashville they visited the new bomber base near there at Murphystown; also an aircraft factory. TAKE CARE OF IT AND MAKE IT DO!

Every farmer knows the vital importance of farm machines in the winning of this war. The need for increased food production is urgent. So is the demand for machines to help plant, cultivate, and harvest your crops. But because of the urgent demands of war production, new farm machines are going to be harder to get.

This simply means that farmers must take the best of care of the farm machines they have. They must make their present equipment last longer. They must take care of everything until we win the Victory.

Defense Chiefs Address Rally

Civilians To Expect Daylight "Alert" Soon

"Too little, too late, too often will be too bad for us," declared Melvin F. Lanphar, commander of the Citizens' Defense Corps for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, at a pep rally for Plymouth's civilian defense volunteers at the Plymouth high school auditorium last Thursday evening.

More than 200 citizens and members of civilian defense protective services attended the meeting at which Commander

Lanphar and Frank W. Atherton, chief air raid warden for the three-county district, were guest speakers. The presiding chairman of the program was Col. Paul H. Hazelton of Plymouth, who represents the U.S. Government in the manufacture of Pratt-Whitney engines at the River Rouge plant of the Ford Motor company.

Both speakers warned those present to expect a surprise daytime "alert" very soon. Warning civilians not to relax their vigilance or precautions, Chief Atherton declared civilians' behavior during an air raid determines how many people are killed. Praising members of Plymouth's defense corps, the speakers urged that they continue their training and preparations. There are now nine million citizens enrolled in civilian defense service in the United States, a ratio of one to every 14 persons of civilian population. Both speakers appealed for more women to serve as air raid wardens, disclosing that 60 per cent of the air raid wardens in England are women who serve efficiently both during the day and night vigils.

Warning the population to expect daylight raids, the speakers agreed that further blackout tests, planned and announced in advance, are without practical use and that all future tests would be without advanced notice. The local defense council, represented at the meeting with Mayor Ruth H. Whipple, were advised to issue permit cards to defense volunteers for the operation of emergency "E" cars within certain bounds during blackout or raid tests.

The speakers advised citizens to try not to criticize in the interests of national unity and not to think of "alert" tests as just trials. Civilian defense preparations and training were compared to carrying insurance policies which are never cashed in. In addition to air raid warden, auxiliary police, auxiliary fire and other defense units, members of the Northville medical unit were present in uniform coming to Plymouth in their emergency station wagon ambulances. Police Chief Charles J. Thumme was responsible for arranging the program.

Clyde V. Fenner Offers Platform

Citizens' League Supports Candidate

CLYDE V. FENNER

Clyde V. Fenner, former state senator and preferred candidate of the Detroit Citizens' League, for reelection on the Republican ticket in the primary next Tuesday, September 15, has a progressive platform for Michigan. He is particularly interested in securing adequate state aid funds for the public schools in the metropolitan area of Detroit, who have suffered from gross injustice in the past.

As state senator in 1939-1940, Senator Fenner secured substantial sums for all the schools in his district by vigilant, determined action.

In this paper is an advertisement which quotes from such outstanding school authorities as Frank Cody of Detroit, W. H. Lemmie of Highland Park, and George A. Smith of Plymouth. All of these gentlemen testify to Clyde V. Fenner's ability to get results.

The former senator advocates immediate plans by the Michigan legislature for financial aid and employment for service men when the war is won. He advocates rewriting the Michigan sales tax law so that sales taxes paid will be deductible from federal income tax. He advocates a larger representation in the legislature for Wayne county. He believes in economical state government and advocates the consolidation of state departments.

Mr. Fenner calls to the attention of Republican primary voters that each of the two contestants for the state senate has served one term; that the Detroit Citizens' League investigated the records of both and unanimously recommends Clyde V. Fenner.

Editorial Writer Approves Report

Commentator Praises Training School

Following the report of the committee of investigators named by the administrative board of the Wayne County Training school which presented a vindication of the institution, W. K. Kelsey, the Commentator of The Detroit News, wrote an editorial which is re-printed below:

"Of course if officials want to continue to investigate the Wayne County Training school, they may. But the Commentator, for one, is quite satisfied with the report of the investigators named by the school's administrative board. Men like Fred M. Butzel, William J. Norton and M. Hubert O'Brien, who have been thoroughly familiar with institutional work for years, cannot be easily led astray or deceived. Moreover, the Commentator has the utmost confidence in Dr. Robert H. Haskell, superintendent of the school, who has shown something which, if not genius, falls not far short of it, in the planning and administration of the institution.

"The complaints against the school were directed principally to acts of specific individuals, which were either not known to, or not condoned by, the management. Some were of the sort that can always be obtained from inmates of correctional institutions, and even old ladies' homes. The trained newspaperman always looks at such reports with skepticism, and demands absolute proof before he credits them. A distinction must always be drawn between the plan on which an institution is run, and the occasional acts of employees which run contrary to the aims thereof.

While responsibility for such acts, if they are persisted in, must rest on the management, no good purpose is served by raising a public yell about them when correction can be obtained in the regular way. The principles on which the Wayne County Training school is operated are sound, and the management is excellent. So says the report of the investigators, and it is convincing to the Commentator."

American Petroleum Earliest mention of American petroleum, which was known to the Indians, was made in a letter dated July 18, 1627, in which Joseph de la Roche D'Allion, Frenchman missionary, described the oil springs near what is now Cuba in western New York state. Petroleum had been known centuries before to the ancient peoples of the East. Prior to the use of petroleum as a lubricant, vegetable and animal oils had been used for that purpose. TANKS - for not telephoning It takes a lot of telephoning to keep war plants humming. And today, that's the big job. War calls must go through. It may take the same amount of Long Distance equipment to make a personal call as it does to rush through an order for tank parts. That's why every telephone call you do not make is a contribution to the war effort. In normal times, we'd get busy and build sufficient additional equipment to keep step with needs. But right now that is not possible. Telephone materials are more urgently needed for tanks, bombers and machines of war. Here are three simple ways you can help make the most of available equipment and keep vital messages moving: 1. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls. 2. Keep ALL your conversations as brief as you can. 3. When possible, give the number of the distant telephone you are calling. Remember the war every time you pick up the telephone. Keep your calls as short as possible. Don't ask information for numbers listed in the directory. You can help save wires for war! Michigan Bell Telephone Company

Howell Proposes Sales Tax Change

Seeks State Senate Seat in 18th District

John T. Howell, Republican candidate for State Senator from the eighteenth district, proposes to have the state sales tax law amended so that the tax will be collected at the source of supply instead of by different retailers and to discontinue the sales tax on food.

Mr. Howell, with eight years' experience with the state welfare department, probably the largest spending revenue department in the state government, and four years' experience in the sales tax department, the largest revenue collecting department in the state, declares that the proposed amendment to the sales tax law would net about five million dollars more a year to the state than they now realize.

National Dog Week, Sept. 20 - 26 To Be Observed in This Community

National Dog Week this year will be observed throughout the country for seven days from September 20 to 26. This movement in its fifteenth year has won sincere support from all elements of our population, reports Mrs. Edson Huston of Plymouth, interested dog lover and active member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.
 Captain Will Judy, editor of the Dog World magazine and general chairman of National Dog Week, explains the purpose of the movement in the following objectives: (1) A good home for every dog; (2) Eliminate stray dogs from the streets; (3) Better dog owners; (4) Teach kindness and consideration on the part of children; (5) Emphasize the use of the dog as a home protector, faithful companion and useful servant of mankind; (6) Secure fair and just laws for dogs and their owners.
 "Respect the rights of those persons who do not own dogs. We have at this time only one over-all job—to win this war completely and quickly. Today, more than ever, we need our dogs to help, along with many other things, in building up home morale, keeping us in good spirits and being useful in several ways," states Chairman Judy.
 "Crime increases petty thieving and pilfering during a blackout. The dog is still the best burglar alarm and can help greatly in giving protection. Thousands of defense workers find wholesome recreation with their dogs. The dog is also a weapon against the saboteur and fifth columnist, Mr. Rat."
 "Dogs for Defense is a national movement which secures and trains dogs for guard and sentry duty at ammunition plants, defense plants and government warehouses. The Quartermaster General of the Army has asked for 200 such trained dogs. In thousands upon thousands of homes, the father or son, sometimes both, have left the home and are serving in uniform. The void of loneliness through their absence is filled partly by the presence of a dog as a protector of the home and a playmate for the children."
 "A Dog's Prayer For His Master," a composition of Will Judy, follows:
 "O Lord of Humans, make my master faithful to his fellowmen as I am to him, Grant that he may be devoted to his friends and family as I am to him. May he be open-faced and undeceptive as I am; may he be true to trust reposed in him as I am to his. Give him a face cheerful like unto my wagging tail; give him a spirit of gratitude like unto my licking tongue. Fill him with patience like unto mine that awaits his footsteps uncomplainingly for hours; fill him with my watchfulness, my courage and my readiness to sacrifice comfort of life. Keep him always young in heart and crowded with the spirit of play even as I. Make him as good a man as I am a dog; make him worthy of me, his dog."

Lt. John E. Moore Wins Silver Wings

Army Aviation Cadet Becomes Officer

Lieut. John E. Moore, 22-year-old flying cadet who formerly lived on Northville road near Plymouth, now wears a pair of silver wings. He was one of 41 fliers from the Detroit area who received "wings" at ceremonies at Randolph Field, Texas on Sunday. The class, including graduates of seven advanced schools of flying in the Gulf Coast Army Air Forces Training centers, is the biggest in the history to graduate in the Gulf coast area.
 Plymouth's new officer in the air branch of the U. S. Army enlisted as an aviation cadet in January, 1942, and was graduated from Moore Field. He was graduated from Plymouth High school and attended Michigan State college and Wayne University. Prior to his entering military service, he was employed as a stock clerk at the Plymouth plant of the Burrough's Adding Machine company. Young Moore's graduating class is a part of the 1,000,000 men in the Army air service, field crews, ground crews, fliers and mechanics.

No Particular Indian

Several Indians have been publicized as the original of the Indian-head or "Buffalo" nickel, but James Earle Frazer, who designed it, said the head is an idealized portrait and represents no particular Indian. Several Indians posed for him, at the time he was making preliminary studies, including Chief Two Guns, White Calf of the Blackfoot tribe, and Iron Tail, a Sioux chief of the Pine Ridge reservation.

Duck Season To Open Sept. 26

Department Sets Up Rules For Blinds

Despite a five-day earlier opening of the waterfowl hunting season, there has been no advance in the deadline for placing permanent blinds, the conservation department announced today. Permanent blind owners have until September 25, the day before duck shooting starts, to get their blinds in place.
 Owners applying for the $5 licenses to date are receiving equal consideration in determining priority of locations for the blinds. Applications postmarked after September 10 will get permits in the order in which they are received, but these late permits are not considered in determining priorities on the most sought-after sites.
 Designed to prevent monopoly of the shooting sites on public hunting grounds, the licensing of permanent blinds is limited to eight of the state's most popular duck shooting grounds. They are: Lake Leelanau, Leelanau county; Round Lake, Grand Traverse and Kalkaska counties; Big Platte Lake, Benzie county; Houghton Lake, Muskegon Lake, Tawas Bay of Lake Huron; Saginaw Bay from Point Lookout to Point Aux Barques, excepting that part of Wildfowl bay south of a line from Bayport fish docks to North Island; and Lake St. Clair, in Anchor Bay from Perch Point to Point Huron and along the west shore from Point Huron to Grrosse Pointe village, but none of these blinds may be more than half a mile from shore.

On all waters other than those designated, temporary blinds so cheaply built as to involve no personal property rights may be used within 100 feet of shore or any well defined brush, rush, reed or grass bed or other emergent vegetation.
 If a permanent blind is not occupied by the owner by 8 a.m. Eastern War Time, then any other licensed hunter may enter it and use it for the rest of the hunting day.

Government Asks Press Support

Stores to Feature Salvage Displays

High government officials this week appealed for the support of daily and weekly newspapers to assume leadership in sponsoring and promoting the campaign for collection of scrap in conjunction with local salvage committees. The newspapers are charged with the responsibility to "quicken the consciousness of the people into the importance of gathering scrap."
 William C. Hartmann, chairman of the metal collection and tin can campaign in Plymouth, announces that a display of tin cans illustrating salvage methods will be featured in the windows of Todd's Market, Purity Market and Lidgard Market during the week of September 21. Citizens are invited to inspect the salvage displays to learn how to prepare tin cans for salvage collection and to start saving cans immediately. The next tin can collection in Plymouth will be early in October and city collection trucks will pick up containers left at the curb or alley.

Roger Babson Says . . .

Right Now Is Time To Buy Heavy Winter Clothing

Babson Park, Mass., September 11. I have been reprimanded by Washington for the last advice which I gave you readers to buy now certain things. At the risk of further scoldings, let me talk about now preparing for winter!

A study of department store advertising indicates that people still demand the same kind of light-weight clothing which they have worn during the past ten years. Working girls, especially, fail to realize the tremendous changes taking place in the world today which must change our mode of dressing, eating, and living in general. We have the greatest war of history on our backs.

Let's take clothing as an example. Before the days of the closed automobile and oil heat people wore very warm clothing in winter. This included heavy underwear, long drawers, woolen stockings, high buttoned boots, and warm dresses. Overcoats were bought to keep us warm, not for looks. We wore caps and pulled down over our ears and mufflers around our necks. Why? Because our houses were unheated and we walked instead of rode.

Now, Washington officials can do many things but they cannot change the weather! We are soon to have snow storms, zero winds, and all that goes with an "old-time" winter. Yet, most families will have no fuel to WASTE and will be obliged to walk in the snow and cold instead of to ride in sedan cars. Are you preparing to change your clothing back to grandmother days to meet the conditions under which grandmother lived and under which you may live this winter?

Most readers will reply that I'm a Jeremiah—that it will be time enough to buy these "out-moded" goods in winter if they are then really needed. Let me tell you that such people are sure to be terribly disappointed. They owe it to the merchants, the manufacturers, and the railroads to buy now. Only by so doing can more warm clothing be rushed through the mills and over the railroads in time for use this winter.

Take warm sweaters for instance. Factories, office buildings, stores, and even homes must use less fuel this winter. This means you will feel cold. The light-weight suits and rayon dresses which men and women have worn during the past ten years, been soon to have winter won't keep you warm this coming winter. You will not have the money to buy a new suit or dress. Hence, you'll shiver for a few weeks and then try to buy a heavy sweater.

But millions of others will then do the same thing! Result? All sweaters will be sold out in a few days and it will be too late to replace them. It is

Irving Finds Good Support in Race

Many Back Him For Sec'y. of State

The boom launched for William A. Irving, Sandusky publisher, who is being prominently mentioned for Secretary of State on the Republican ticket, has received favorable statewide comment and brought forth offers of support from many counties, members of the group backing Irving report.

Seventh congressional district Republicans with a sizeable representation of delegates at the state convention will back Irving solidly and several other counties have already promised strong support, making certain that Irving will have a large block of votes when his name is presented to the state convention September 25 in Detroit.

Mr. Irving is the best known of any candidates whose names so far have been advanced as Republican possibilities for Secretary of State.

Mr. Irving has had considerable experience in the state department, having served as deputy secretary of state under John Haggerty, Frank Fitzgerald and Orville Atwood. He was chairman of the State Civil Service Commission during the Fitzgerald and Dickinson administration. He also managed the Fitzgerald gubernatorial campaigns in Sanilac County and Kelly's secretary of state campaigns there during the past four years.

He has published the Sandusky Republican-Tribune for 11 years and has made this paper one of the leading weeklies in the state. He is a member of the Michigan Press Association and Secretary of the Sandusky Board of Education and Sandusky Library Board.

Irving supporters contend the Thumb district's long record of turning out big Republican majorities as one reason Irving should receive the secretary of state nomination.

Approve Curb, Gutter Project

War Problems To Delay Construction

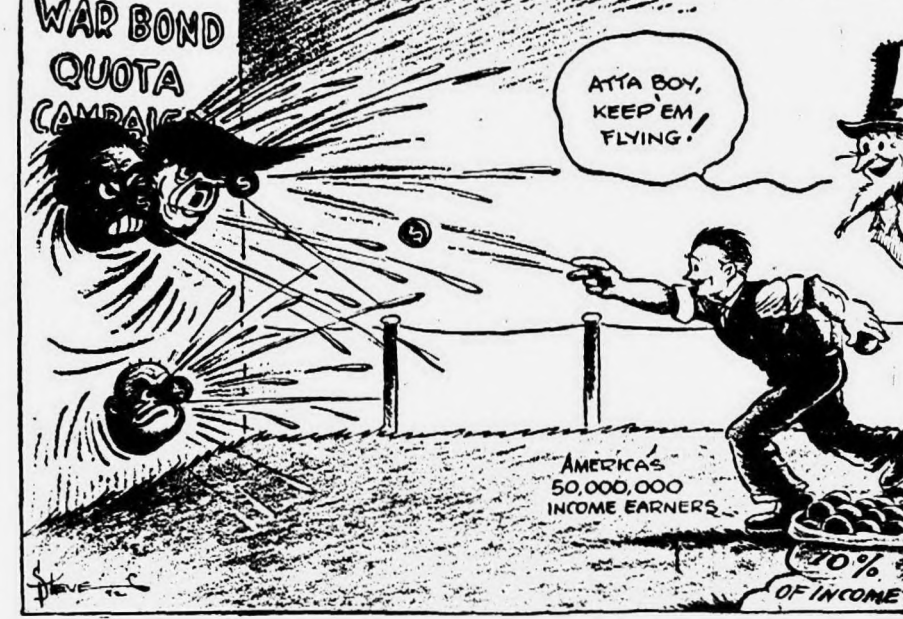

The city commission at its meeting Tuesday evening approved the proposed project for the installation of curb and gutter on Auburn street between Pennington and Blanche with instructions to go ahead with the work as soon as possible.

Because of the war situation, material shortages and pressure of other public improvement work, there is no possibility that the project will be started this year, according to City Manager C.H. Elliott.

Members of the city commission and other city officials plan to attend the annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League at the Detroit Leland hotel in Detroit October 1 and 2. The commission also authorized the city manager to attend the annual International City Managers' convention in Indiana October 11 to 15 to confer on vital war problems as they concern municipal government.

25 Years Ago

In Plymouth and Vicinity—Interesting News of Days Gone By Taken From The Plymouth Mail Files

A simple service at which only the immediate families were present, solemnized the marriage of Miss Ethel Conner, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. City Comptroller of Ionia, to Robert J. Jolliffe of Plymouth. The ceremony was performed Monday noon, September 3 by Dr. C. E. Hoig at the home of the bride's parents in that city.

The bride was gowned in a dress of white taffeta, with over-lace and silver trimmings, and wore a bouquet of roses and swansonia. The parlors were prettily decorated with palms and cut flowers. The color scheme in the dining room was pink and white, which was carried out in the center piece of roses and other table decorations. The wedding dinner was served by Miss Dora Gokay of Nashville, Mich., and Miss Nellie Hall of Ionia.

The bride was formerly a teacher in the Plymouth public schools, and of late has been a teacher of home economics in the Highland Park High school, while the groom is a successful young business man of this village. The couple left on an afternoon train for a trip through the east. They will be at home to their friends after October 1, in this village.

The formal opening of the handsome new building of the Detroit Edison Co., on Main street in this village, will occur next Saturday afternoon and evening, September 8.

The local board of the Fourth District called an additional three hundred men for examination the first of the week. The following men from Plymouth, have been certified for military service: Walter O. Seiff, Rudolph B. L. Kruger, Clarence J. Gottschalk, Ray Sackett, Edward Thomas Remus, Clarence Schwab, Harry Mumby, Alton H. Warner, Harry B. Brown, Lee R. Sackett, Harold W. Jolliffe, Henry W. Grimm, Paul Koss, Murvale W. Huston, Scott D. IT'S A big wash for the duration...

give your electric washer this PREFERRED TREATMENT

To HELP YOUR WASHER stand up under the big load it faces for the duration, keep in mind these few simple rules:

- (1) Drain washer and rinse tub thoroughly after each washing. Remove agitator or suction cups and rinse.
- (2) Wipe dry with a soft cloth to remove any soap curd or lint that may remain. If your washer has a spinner dryer, this too should be cleaned, rinsed and wiped dry.
- (3) Don't try to force thick, bulky articles through your wringer—and especially don't run through belt buckles or other hard objects that might cut the rolls. They are rubber, and precious!
- (4) Release the pressure on wringer when not in use. This saves the spring and the rubber, and prevents the rolls from becoming flat on one side.
- (5) Don't overload your washer. Cramping in too big a wash simply puts a strain on the motor, and results in a less satisfactory job.
- (6) When you finish washing, dry the wringer thoroughly, also dry the connecting cord and wind it up carefully. Leave cover off washer to prevent it from becoming musty. The Detroit Edison Company.
