Uncle Sam Is Plymouth's First Gas Rationing Victim

City's Mail Truck Runs Out of Gas — No Rationing Card, No Gas, Said Gas Men

Well! Well!
Of all things!!!
The first victim of Uncle Sam's gas rationing in Plymouth was old Uncle Sam himself.

As the Plymouth postoffice mail truck was skidding about the slippery streets Tuesday forenoon, being driven here and there with loads of mail, the engine suddenly went "poof-poof" and the mail truck came to a dead stop right in front of the Hotel Mayflower.

The driver couldn't get it started. Suddenly he happened to think that the gas tank might be empty.

He looked—and there was "nary" a drop of gas in the tank.

The postoffice was called for help.

The accommodating officials of Uncle Sam who look after the mail business of this busy little city, directed him to go to a gas station and buy some gas.

Up to a gas station he went, to get a gas can filled to take down to the truck.

"Where's your rationing book?" asked the gas man who had stood idly by his pumps all Tuesday morning waiting for a customer who had an A, B or C card.

"That's Uncle Sam's car. He doesn't have to have a rationing book," said the gentleman who works for Uncle Sam.

"No gas rationing book—no gas," declared the idle gas pump-cr. "You are not going to get me in a jam with Uncle Sam on the very first day of gas rationing even though it's Uncle Sam who is out of gas," retorted the gas man.

P.S.—After having stood idle for a good portion of the day, Plymouth's gas mail wagon was rescued from its rationing plight by Earl Fluelling of the Hi-Speed station. Upon the suggestion of the rationing board, he delivered ten gallons of gas to Uncle Sam's stalled truck, but now Earl is worrying because the postoffice didn't have any gas rationing card and no gas dealer is supposed to let any one have gas without coupons. And that's that.

Kiwanians Honor Edwin Schrader

Members of the Plymouth Kiwanis club at its meeting Tuesday evening presented Edwin Schrader, long an active member of that organization who soon leaves for naval service, a pen and pencil set. The presentation was made by Robert Jolliffe, veteran secretary of the organization, who reviewed the splendid activities of Mr. Schrader in connection with Kiwanis club work.

The program of the evening was of a patriotic nature. James Latture of the high school arranged the program which enabled a number of his students to participate. The war stamp sales totaled $125 at the meeting.

He's Thankful He Never Became A "New Dealer"

Over at Northville the other day, the Rotary club conducted an interesting Thanksgiving day program.

Each member was requested to give some reason or reasons why he was thankful.

Charles Schultz, a veteran of the first World War who has never fully recovered from the disability he received during that conflict, was one of the Northville Rotarians who responded to the President's request.

"I'm thankful," said Charles, "that I have had brains enough never to become a New Dealer."

His response was greeted by expressions of seemingly unanimous approval.

Livonia Center School Wins War Bond Honors

State Chairman Awards Bull's Eye Flag to District

To the teachers and employes of the Livonia Center school, district number 4, located at Farmington and Five Mile roads, goes the distinction of being the first group of school employes in any district in Wayne county to win the award of the Bull's Eye flag for the purchase of war bonds.

Every one of the teachers and employes of the school, seven in number, are now regular purchasers of war bonds.

Because of their patriotic effort, State Chairman Frank N. Isbey has awarded to the district a certificate of honor and at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association to be held on Monday evening, December 21, the award will be officially made by the school board to the teachers and school employes.

M. H. Blankenhagen, treasurer of the district, who saw to it that proper recognition was awarded to the school for its one hundred percent support of the nation's war effort, says the flag of presentation at the meeting on December 21 will be one of the big events of the year for the residents of Livonia Center district.

"Swap The Ride" Data Available

Riders Can See Cards at City Hall

All arrangements for the use of the "Swap the Ride" survey cards have been completed and they are now available to the public. Anyone who is not now riding with some other driver or who is driving his own car, can secure riders or rides by consulting these cards. They are on a table in the city hall, and due to all employes being so busy with their own work, must of necessity be self-servicable.

Interested persons will find them all separated by precincts. In each precinct pile the employes of individual concerns are put together. If you want a ride to Bomber plant or Kelsey-Hayes look through the cards where these employes are listed.

There will also be blank cards where riders may register by precinct and give their place of work, to be available for drivers who are looking for passengers.

The survey was made by the Plymouth War Bond Minute Women and the Transportation committee wishes to thank them for the fine job they did.

Methodist Choir To Present Cantata Sunday Eve, Dec. 6

Herbert, Harold Bond, Austin Whipple, Harold Jolliffe, and Al Smith. Duet, trio, and quartet numbers by Mrs. Larry Ransom, Mrs. John Osterhout, Mrs. George Curtis, Jr., Mrs. Bernard Curtis, Mrs. Arthur Donnelly, Mrs. Robert Lidgard, Roy Clark, Wesley Ward, and George Curtis Jr. The public is invited to attend.

Sugar Coupon Good Until December 15

If holders of sugar rationing cards do not use their number 9 stamp before December 15, the coupon will be no good, advises Raymond Bachelder, secretary of the Plymouth rationing board.

Mr. Bachelder also states that people who had sugar on hand when rationing started and did not register, must register before December 15 or they will be unable to secure sugar at any time in the future.

Mail Christmas Packages Now Says Postmaster

Harry Irwin Asks Cooperation of Postal Patrons

Postmaster Harry Irwin, who is putting forth every effort to handle Plymouth's tremendously increased mailing problems, without delay, today asked the cooperation of patrons of the local office in helping to expedite Christmas mailing.

He urges that all mail being sent to states west of the Rocky Mountains be placed in the Plymouth postoffice before Monday night if possible. Mail going to Texas and states lying north to Montana, should be sent from Plymouth not later than Tuesday.

If delivery is to be assured before Christmas, Christmas gifts and greetings, states Postmaster Harry Irwin, should be mailed to Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Kansas, Nebraska, and the Dakotas before December 9.

Mail to nearby states should be sent before December 15 and to all points in lower Michigan and northern Ohio not later than December 18.

Postmaster Irwin urges, also, exceptional care be taken in wrapping packages this year. The excessive amount of mail makes it necessary that packages be wrapped securely with straw and heavy wrapping paper to prevent crushing and breakage.

Open Nursery For Children of War Workers Dec. 14

Salvation Army Seeks More Playthings for Children

"If necessary we will open the nursery school at 6 o'clock in the morning and keep it open until 6 o'clock in the evening," stated Lieutenant Marie House of the Salvation Army yesterday when she announced that Plymouth's first nursery school for children of war workers will be open on Monday, December 14.

Lieutenant House requests that mothers who desire to leave their children at the school, kindly contact her at once so that plans can be made for their care in advance of the opening of the school.

Conducting a nursery school is no new experience for this energetic Salvation Army worker. Previous to coming to Plymouth, she was in charge of a similar nursery school in Petoskey.

She is glad of the opportunity to open a similar nursery school in Plymouth.

"We must all do our part—and there is so much to do. The Salvation Army stands ready always to help carry the burden of our nation," stated Lieutenant House.

"We want this to be your school and we must know the needs of the mothers as soon as possible. Toys have not been coming in as rapidly as we had hoped they would. I ask the mothers of Plymouth if they will look through the old playthings of their children and select the articles they think we might be able to use," she added.

Story books for children between the ages of 3 and 6, dolls, small chairs, and playthings are needed. "This is Plymouth's day nursery school for the small children of mothers working in war industries," said Miss House, "and we ask your help in making your school a success."

No Juvenile Delinquency Here

Officials Praise Youth Standards

According to a report made by Chief of Police Charles Thumme Tuesday afternoon at the regular meeting of the city defense council, there is practically no juvenile delinquency in Plymouth.

In fact, records show, stated the Chief, that the conduct of youths in and about Plymouth is of the highest type it has ever been.

His statement was verified by Supt. George A. Smith, of the Plymouth public schools, who was present at the meeting.

"We feared that with both parents of so many of our children working in munition factories that there might be a tendency toward delinquency," said Chief Thumme, "but that has not been the case."

These reports indicate the same favorable condition that has prevailed in and about Plymouth over a period of many years.

Keep 'em rolling! We mean dollars! Buy U. S. Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Husband Missing in Action, Wife Is Given Medal

Mrs. Oswald Gaynier, of Coronado, California, who was formerly Ireta McLeod, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McLeod, of this city, has received a navy cross given to her husband, Ensign Gaynier, a pilot on a torpedo bomber, for his part in the Midway battle. The letter accompanying the medal said "that he continued on with his attack in the face of withering fire from anti-aircraft and attacks of Jap zeros." Ensign Gaynier has been missing for the last six months. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Gaynier of Monroe.

No Rationing of Winter Weather

Blizzard and Ice Come Ahead of Time

Maybe it's summer over in New Guinea where Plymouth boys are fighting the Japs—maybe the sun is hot and the dust is flying over in Egypt where the Nazis that they are up against some tough days ahead—but it's cold, mighty cold right here in Plymouth.

Winter has arrived ahead of time—there isn't any question about that.

It breezed in with the gas rationing and it looks as though it is here to stay.

Not only is it cold, but there has been more snow so far this year than there has been in many years so early in the season.

In fact, it was a regular blizzard that prevailed a good portion of the time Wednesday. Reports say that some of the highways to the west are so icy that traffic has been stopped. Some 50 or more trucks were tied up just west of Jackson because of ice conditions.

Plymouth coal dealers, short of help, have been forced to work longer hours than the long hours they have already been working in order to fill rush orders.

Plymouth Mother Offers a Worth-While Idea

Urges that Boy Workers in Factories Not be Forgotten Christmas

Dear Editor:
I have a little request to make, as a mother of Plymouth and Red Cross worker. Please print this plea to the citizens of Plymouth.

Christmas is drawing near and the dearest desire and fondest hope of every mother is to have her children with her at Christmas. There are many boys around Plymouth who can't be home for Christmas this year. They are the boys in Kelsey-Hayes and the Bomber plants. I think the USO is one of the finest organizations in our country, and it is wonderful what it does for our boys in uniform—but did we ever stop—stop and think of the hundreds of boys who are away from home this year—and who will have no Christmas dinner only in a restaurant. Boys who day after day work hard and only a glass of pop or milk and a sandwich (and that not so hot) at noon—and no home-cooked meal at night. Boys who will work with heavy hearts all day Christmas wishing they could go home to Mom and Dad for dinner at night. I have four of those boys—four of the finest boys God ever gave life to, in my home (boys like my own three), boys who make our home their home. Three are Kelsey-Hayes boys and one is at the Bomber plant. Two are from the northwestern point of Upper Michigan and one from 100 miles east from Indianapolis, Indiana and the other a Michigan man. None will be able to go home Christmas. They will all have Christmas with us. Citizens of Plymouth help make a war worker away from home happy this Christmas. Ask him in to dinner. And feel you did your part for God and our country. Let's start another new club in Plymouth, one that will think of the boys behind the machines and in the foundries and in the war plants. They, too, have hearts and long for home and a white Christmas. Let's make all their Christmases white Christmases this year. Open your hearts and doors to the boys behind the boys at the front Christmas day. Give them an old fashioned Christmas welcome and dinner.

Yours with a plea from the working boys,
A Plymouth Mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strong entertained at a family dinner, on Thanksgiving day, having covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. J. Rusing Cutler and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor and daughter, of Plymouth, and Richard Strong, who attends the University of Michigan.

Horn "Tooters" Better Look Out

Police Chief Issues a Warning

Horn "tootin'" mothers came in for a little chiding yesterday from Chief of Police Charles Thumme, when he issued a warning that there should be less automobile horn tooting around the school buildings.

It seems that some mothers who have been driving their cars to the schools to pick up Dick, Mary, Bob, Susie, Sam and other youngsters have made it a practice to toot the horns of their cars to attract the attention of their youngsters.

In the days before many Plymouth fathers became day sleepers because of night work, it was not so bad. But there are many, many men who are now required to sleep during the day time because they work nights in war munition factories.

This "horn tootin'" according to police reports, greatly disturbs many of these night workers and it is for that reason that the Chief has requested a discontinuance of automobile horn blowing around the schools.

As a matter of fact, says Chief Thumme, there is too much automobile horn blowing down in the business section of the city at night times, and unless it is stopped there may be some warrants issued charging disturbances of the peace.

Help Aid War by Cutting Long Distance Calls

Plymouth Office Shows Tremendous Phone Use Increase

The Michigan Bell Telephone company today offered evidence as to why it is urging the general public to restrain its use of long distance service by pointing to an increase of nearly 31 per cent in the daily volume of toll calls originating at Plymouth since Pearl Harbor.

John R. MacLachlan, manager for the company, said the rate of increase in long distance traffic at Plymouth since America entered the war is among the largest in the state.

MacLachlan attributed the increase almost entirely to war calls. The public, he said, is giving a gratifying response to the company's plea for less use of the telephone in order that war calls get the right-of-way.

MacLachlan said the volume of long distance calls placed at Plymouth is averaging nearly 1,320 a day compared with slightly over 1,000 a day just before Pearl Harbor.

The number of local calls here is up nearly 14 per cent over pre-Pearl Harbor days, with an average daily volume of 9,500 against 8,350 a year ago.

To handle the increased calls, the company has added seven operators in its traffic department here.

"In normal times, telephone facilities would be expanded sufficiently to meet all increased traffic demands but materials required for such expansion are now going into weapons of war, where they belong," MacLachlan said. "That is why we are urging the general public to restrain its use of both local and long distance service, particularly to out-of-state points, and to make all calls as brief as possible."

Women Work Long Hours to Aid Autoists

Speed Efforts To Keep Cars Rolling To War Plants

To the credit of Mrs. Katherine Henderson and her 78 assistants, Plymouth applicants for B and C gasoline rationing cards have not been required to wait for days or even hours as applicants have in many places about the state, to secure their necessary allotment of additional gasoline.

By working 12 hours a day, sometimes longer, this patriotic group of Plymouth women, assisted by many from Rosedale Gardens and surrounding territory, have been able to process the gasoline rationing cards without delay.

Chairman William Wood of the Plymouth rationing board, stated yesterday that the work of the Plymouth committee was of the highest type.

"It is possible, of course, that some errors might be found and that some corrections may have to be made later, but on the whole, the work of Mrs. Henderson and her committee has been outstanding and Plymouth car drivers owe these workers a real vote of thanks," said Mr. Wood yesterday.

Not only did Mr. Wood express high praise for the work of the Plymouth committee, but he expressed similar appreciation for the splendid cooperation given the rationing board by the Northville committee of workers. A group of Northville ladies served most efficiently and devoted the same long hours to this important task as did the Plymouth committee. Forrest Doren, the Northville member of the rationing board, devoted his time and effort as willingly and as enthusiastically as did Mr. Wood in Plymouth.

These long days of work, preceded by other long days of study in preparation for the task they assumed to assist the government and automobile drivers, were served without one cent of pay for their efforts. Their only compensation lies in the knowledge of the fact that their time and effort has been spent in the services of their country.

Following are the names of the women who so efficiently and patriotically served this section of Wayne county in the processing of gas rationing cards:

Florence Talmage, Eileen Gretzinger, Harriet Spring, Sadie A. Draper, Helen Farwell, Mildred

Plymouth Boys Leave For Fort Custer Thursday

About 34 Make up Next List of Inductees To Enter Army

Another group, comprising some 34 boys from Plymouth and vicinity, will leave next Thursday afternoon for military training at Fort Custer. In the group are 11 boys from Plymouth. The others are from Northville, Garden City and other places about here. The boys will meet at the induction center at 2:30 o'clock and from there march to the Pere Marquette depot. The train leaves at 3:20.

In proportion to population, however, Plymouth does not need to take its hat off to Redford as a result of the auction sales. While Redford did exceptionally well, Plymouth did considerably better when the size of the communities are taken into consideration.

But One Welfare Case in Plymouth

No Public Support For Local Residents

In this prosperous little city of some 6,000 people there is but one welfare case at the present time which requires public support, according to a report filed this week at the city hall.

In fact, during the darkest days of "New Deal" prosperity when ex-Governor Frank Murphy was calling for millions of tax dollars for welfare expenditures, Plymouth had an exceedingly low average of welfare cases.

"Maybe there is a reason for it," said a Plymouth citizen yesterday when he heard of the one welfare case. "Maybe that reason lies in the fact that Plymouth people have never been educated to the belief that their country owes them a living without working for it."

Maybe that's true. Plymouth has always been one of Michigan's busiest little cities—where people have thought it honorable to do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Otwell and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Blair attended the Wilson Theatre in Detroit, Saturday evening and enjoyed the musical comedy, "Life of the Party."

Robinson Does Real War Bond Job At Redford

Plymouth Auctioneer Sells over $65,000 Worth at Big Sale

When Uncle Sam looks around to find some one to crown with a wreath of roses for doing some crack-bang-up good work in connection with war bond sales, he will not have to look very hard, for right here in Plymouth there lives a worker who will some day in some way be rewarded for serving his country faithfully and exceptionally well.

Uncle Sam can place that crown of roses right on the bald, but handsome, head of Harry C. Robinson, Michigan's oldest and best known auctioneer.

Mr. Robinson was invited over to Redford the other night to conduct a war bond auction similar to the one recently held in Plymouth. The committee in Redford had heard of the Plymouth auction and of its wonderful results. So they planned one like it—and of course they had to have the same auctioneer.

When the totals were counted up, it was found that something like $65,000 worth of war bonds had been purchased by the patriotic citizens of that community.

Auctioneer Robinson, who played baseball and drove race horses up and down Main street in Plymouth more than half a century ago, has a way of putting pep into an auction that keeps the crowd right on its toes—and how he did sell the bonds over at Redford.

In proportion to population, however, Plymouth does not need to take its hat off to Redford as a result of the auction sales. While Redford did exceptionally well, Plymouth did considerably better when the size of the communities are taken into consideration.

Ken and Ork Will Serve Breakfasts

Local Committee to Soon Make Collection

Plymouth housewives, who have not failed in doing their part in the war effort, are now being impressed with the necessity of saving every bit of fat they can for use in the making of army munitions.

Mrs. Walter Harms, who recently consented to take charge of the drive in this city, has just been provided with considerable data by the county committee which points out the vital necessity of saving every ounce of fat that can be collected.

"I find that there hasn't been very much done up to the present time, but that is the fault of no one. Our committee has decided that the first thing we should do is to urge Plymouth women to begin right now to save in tin cans all of the grease and fats they can, in the immediate future we will work out plans for its collection," stated Mrs. Harms yesterday.

"But the first important thing is to begin saving all the fats we possibly can. When it is realized that just one pound of broiler, frying pan or roaster fat drippings will make enough glycerine to fire four 37mm. anti-aircraft shells, we can realize how important it is that we collect all of the spare fats we can possibly find."

So, good ladies, begin right now, if you are not already doing so, to save every ounce of fat you can spare when you are doing your cooking.

Plymouth Goal For War Bonds in December Fixed at $200,000

Sales for November Nearly $70,000 — City Seeks Record For This Month

Plymouth citizens continue to "ring the bell" in the purchase of war bonds. The total for the month of November was just a few dollars under $70,000, the exact amount of war bond and stamp purchases for the month being $69,354.45. The high for the year was reached during October, when Plymouth citizens purchased more than $100,000 worth of war bonds and stamps.

What about December? What about making Plymouth boys on the fighting fronts in all parts of the world a Christmas present of the largest bond purchase made during any one month since Uncle Sam was stabbed in the back by the Japs?

One hundred thousand dollars was a big total for October! Two hundred thousand dollars for the month of December!

What do you say? War bonds make the finest Christmas presents old Santa can offer—it's a two-way present. The one who receives it appreciates it, and Plymouth fighting boys facing the Japs and the Nazis appreciate such a gift too, because Uncle Sam can immediately use the money to buy munitions, food and clothing for America's soldiers and sailors.

What do you say? Two hundred thousand dollars in war bonds for December! Plymouth has the habit of doing the unusually big things. Here is the opportunity to do another BIG and patriotic thing. It's $200,000—the goal for December!

Ken and Ork Will Serve Breakfasts

Local Committee to Soon Make Collection

Ken Groth, owner of the popular Ken & Ork restaurant, stated yesterday that he had decided to continue serving breakfasts to the workers in war plants about Plymouth and others who find it necessary to get an early morning meal.

"I plan to open up early in the morning so that those who find it necessary to get their meals down town can get something to eat before going to work. The help situation is bad, but we are going to do the best we can and we will not cut out serving the morning meal. Our closing hour at night remains the same," stated Ken yesterday.

The following teachers of the Plymouth schools were entertained at dinner, Thursday evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Hees on Arthur street: Mrs. Nancy Holliday, Miss Jean Peterson, Miss Frances Adams, Mable Smith, Miss Marian Weatherhead and Miss Elizabeth Lucas.

Think Before You Call Your Doctor!

More People to Care For, Fewer Doctors

With the population of Plymouth suddenly increased by many hundreds, and the number of doctors decreased, it has become apparent that this city must immediately give some consideration to its overworked physicians.

The following excellent statement has been given to The Plymouth Mail to publish:

During the war, think twice before you phone the doctor! One of the heavy burdens the physician has to carry and which not only costs him the loss of much needed rest but also often costs the patient needless expense, is the failure of many people to know how to call a doctor. He is anxious to serve his patients efficiently, and he can if they will co-operate with him and place their calls properly. The doctor needs rest just as everyone else does and, while he is eager to respond to necessary night calls, experience has taught him that 90 percent of them are unnecessary. Don't call at night without at least describing the situation clearly, thus giving the doctor a choice of delaying his call if it appears safe. During the day anticipate a possible restless night and call early. Don't insist that the doctor come "right away" for every call as he may have others to make, too. If he is not in when the call is made, leave enough information to guide him on what to do, and he will not fail. When calling it is always safer to give some pertinent data about the illness. Some instrument or some medication not habitually carried in the doctor's bag may be added with consequent saving of time and effort. Don't insist on talking to the doctor personally. Those whom he trusts to answer his phone can be relied upon to transmit any message faithfully and to efficiently serve the patient's interests. There's a shortage of doctors! Plymouth Library Changes Hours The Plymouth Library is co-operating in the defense effort and gasoline shortage by opening at 10 a.m. and closing at 9 p.m. The story hour will take place on Saturday at 11 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates were Thanksgiving day dinner guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Curtis, of Wayne.

Asks Every One To Purchase Christmas Seals

Committee Plans To Put Plymouth Over Top in Big Way

Plymouth is making its usual excellent response to the fight against tuberculosis in Michigan through the purchase of Christmas seals. Mrs. John J. Scheel, chairman of the 1942 committee in charge of the Plymouth campaign who is being so ably assisted by Mrs. Edwin Campbell, Mrs. Harold Brisbois and Mrs. Perry Richwine, reports that an effort will be made to give every person in Plymouth and vicinity an opportunity to make liberal purchases of Christmas seals. Mrs. Scheel urges that every letter that is mailed out from now until after the holidays carry a Christmas seal on the back of the letter.

In today's world so somber with lies, bloodshed, and the fear of death there are still men who dare to draw blueprints for an honest, strong, gentle, laughing mankind of the future. What has given them courage for such planning has been victory like that partly won against tuberculosis. Now the backs of all death fighters—not excepting those against the white plague—are to the wall. The call is for more death, and more, and we are all too likely to forget that, to kill our enemies efficiently, we cannot relax our fight for life. This is made especially plain by the condition of our battle against tuberculosis.

This year bids fair to find our vaunted national conquest of the disease at a standstill for the first time since World War I. The sinister sickness is beginning to flame high again. It gnaws at the vitals of America's productive power. It kills more and more Americans under the new strain of work in defense of our nation's life. The year 1940 saw an upsurge of the tuberculosis death rate in many of our leading cities. What may happen if we relax our war against this form of mass murder is shown by ominous warnings from across the ocean. In 1939, England, Wales, and Scotland were pretty well satisfied with only 29,000 annual deaths. Then came their strain of all-out war production effort. The White Plague's toll, 1941, was well up in the 30,000's on that embattled island.

The money, given so ungrudgingly by millions of Americans, since 1907, to the Christmas Seal Campaign of the National Tuberculosis Association, has been the most powerful single factor in our half-successful fight against the white terror.

This year, with the grim need for us to keep our men on the industrial front in top physical condition, and with their peril from tuberculosis greater because of the strain under which they work, it is especially important that all of us do our utmost, buying Christmas Seals with every spare nickel, dime and dollar.

The workers will be at Central grade school today (Friday) and Saturday from 1:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Don't let gas rationing keep you from stopping at Hewer's Feed Store, Canton Center road. —Adv.

School Bazaar Plans Complete

The Livonia Center P.T.A. will hold a bazaar on Saturday, December 5, starting at 2 p.m. at the Livonia Center school.

Mrs. John Hacker, general chairman, says that all the committees are working diligently to make this affair a success, and that she would like more donation of canned and baked goods. Anyone unable to bring their donation may call Mrs. Hacker and she will see that arrangements are made to pick it up. Mrs. Daniels wishes to inform those ladies who have donations of fancy work, that they will be called for on Wednesday, December 2. Mrs. Meyers, chairman of novelties, announces that there will be all kinds of gift wrappings, birthday and Christmas cards available. The P. T. A. would like all their friends and neighbors in the community to attend the bazaar and to purchase as many of their Christmas gifts here as possible.

Tells of Peace Plans After War

PTA Hears Talk By Charles Brake

Over 100 members of the Central Grade Parent-Teachers' association were in attendance at the meeting held in the high school gymnasium Tuesday evening. The feature attraction for the evening was an address entitled, "Preparation for Peace After the War" delivered by Charles Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne county schools. The speaker based his talk upon the scripture and stated that it would be impossible to establish a lasting peace after the war unless it is based on the precepts of the scripture. "The people of today need courage because there is a job ahead, but I believe in the future because I have confidence in the boys and girls of America, who will have a lot to say in the bringing about of the peace," said Mr. Brake. Mr. Brake also cautioned the parents in regard to the passing along of war information to their children. He said that he was of the opinion that parents should tell their children the actual facts, because children were constantly in touch with the progress of the war through radio and the newsreels. He concluded his address with an appeal for tolerance on the part of all Americans. He called for a better understanding and suggested that we start at home. He mentioned the racial difficulties that were springing up in the city of Detroit and asked how anyone thought it possible that we could go to a foreign country and adjust their problems when here at home we can't handle our own. This he said could be and should be solved with tolerance. After the meeting was over members and their guests were served refreshments in the school cafeteria.

Fire Department Has Two Calls

The Livonia Fire department was called Monday, November 17 evening at 6:20 p.m. to extinguish a grass fire in the north end of Coventry Gardens. Quick work by the department and residents kept the fire from entering the thick woods nearby which might have caused considerable damage. The department was also called by the Michigan State police Monday morning at 3 a.m. when a second fire broke out in a car in the driveway of Don Carscadden, 15191 Faderowski avenue. The 300 gallons of water carried on the fire truck easily extinguished the blaze. Damage was estimated at $50.00.

Patriotic Thrift Is Not Hoarding — Not In Plymouth, Anyway

Something that looks like patriotic thrift to Plymouth residents is "hoarding" to The Detroit Free Press.

A week or so ago The Mail reported that a Plymouth woman, who had been saving old silk stockings for the purpose of making a silk rug, had donated the 20 or more pounds of silk stockings she had saved to the Plymouth silk collection that will go to Uncle Sam for war munitions.

The Free Press picked the item up, re-published it and declared that a "Plymouth woman who had been hoarding silk stockings," had given them to the stocking drive.

Possibly it was all just an unfortunate use of the wrong word on the part of the Free Press.

At any rate, Plymouth women have without much question donated more old silk and nylon stockings to the war effort than any other city of its size in the nation—just as its residents are among the leaders in the nation in purchases of war bonds and stamps.

A man with sufficient construction or mechanical experience may give him a monthly income of $190, plus all living expenses.

Plymouth Fortunate In Meat Supply

Plymouth residents have been lucky, indeed, when it comes to being able to get bacon, ham and fresh beef during recent weeks of the meat shortage. While some of the stores were sold out for brief periods, most of them have been able to supply their customers. The Wolf's Cash Market has been exceedingly fortunate, having been able to keep a sufficient supply on hand at all times to supply its customers.

Stolen Automobile Recovered Here

An automobile stolen from Belleville last Sunday afternoon was recovered Sunday night in Plymouth by Patrolman Sherman, who also arrested the young fellow who had stolen the car. Because of the fact that the youthful Belleville offender was about to be inducted into the army, the charge of automobile theft was not pressed by the prosecutor's office.

THE MOST IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT EVER MADE BY THE U. S. TREASURY DEPARTMENT

The 9 Billion Dollar Victory Loan Drive Is On!

This week the United States Government begins the task of borrowing nine billion dollars from accumulated savings and idle funds in the next several weeks as an essential part of winning the war more quickly and more completely.

During these critical weeks you probably will be visited by a representative of one of the securities firms or banks which are contributing their time and effort—without compensation of any kind—to the Victory Fund Committee. He will explain to you, for instance, the benefits that you can obtain from the new Victory 2½—available for the first time. Welcome him as a war worker when he calls. If you miss him, ask your banker or securities dealer for full particulars. There is no limit to the amount that you can purchase.

Today many American families are torn apart. Millions have left their homes or their jobs; thousands have given their lives and many more are prepared to do so.

But the government, your government, is not asking you to give anything to this Nine Billion Dollar Drive. It is asking you to lend it all of the money you can possibly invest in what is the safest investment in the world—at a good rate of interest.

When the Victory Fund representative calls, please remember this: it is in your own interest, as well as that of your country, to listen to him—and to invest.

BUY THESE VICTORY 2½'s NOW

Twenty-six year 2½ per cent bonds due December 15, 1968, callable December 15, 1965. Issued in coupon or registered form at the option of the buyer. Commercial banks will not be permitted to hold these bonds until ten years after the date of issue. There is no limit on the amount any eligible investor may purchase. Interest is paid semi-annually, June 15 and Dec. 15. The bonds will be sold in denominations from $500 to $100,000. In the event of the death of a holder, the bonds may be redeemed at 100% and accrued interest for the purpose of satisfying federal estate taxes.

Two series of shorter term obligations: (a) 1½ per cent bonds due June 15, 1948, and (b) ½ per cent certificates of indebtedness due one year after issuance. These securities are open for subscription by banks, and also by all other classes of investors, whether private, corporate or institutional.

Other Treasury Securities offered to investors through the Victory Fund Committee are Treasury Tax Savings Notes A and C, and U. S. Savings Bonds, Series F and G.

TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS:

There is no shortage of electricity in this area.

Other things are scarce. Tires are not to be had; a pound of coffee is a real prize; it is no disgrace to wear a well-darned stocking; there are not enough buses or street cars at the rush hour; sugar is rationed; but you can have what electricity you need, even at the electric-rush hour in the early evening.

Perhaps we were just lucky: Our judgment could have been wrong; we have been wrong before. But more than five years ago we raised the money and placed the orders for the first of the three big new turbines that make us pretty sure now that electricity will not have to be rationed here

And so it is with coal for our power houses. No shortage has developed but just the same we have enough coal on hand to last many months at full-tilt if our supply should be cut off. That stock of coal cost us six million dollars but electricity is too vital a thing to take chances on.

Michigan Potato Crop Slumps

Start Efforts To Increase Yield

Searching for some of the lost Michigan potato acreage which has caused a drop to 182,000 acres in 1942 from the 1931-40 average of 278,000 acres has been recommended as a Michigan farm contribution to the war effort.

Rain and blight put a dent in the 1942 total production, estimated at 17 million bushels, far below the 27 to 30 million bushels that used to be turned out annually within the state.

Growers are urged to start checking now on 1943 seed supplies. H. C. Moore, potato specialist of the Michigan State College staff, points out that approximately 4,000,000 bushels of seed will be needed in planting potato fields next spring.

Normally, out-of-state potato growers take a large share of the Michigan certified seed. This demand likely will increase through the winter, Moore says, indicating the importance of Michigan growers locating a seed supply earlier than usual. Out-of-state orders usually are placed in January and February.

One of the protections provided potato growers lies in the seed certification service supervised by the college. Growers in 40 counties have seed supplies certified for variety and freedom from disease. Larger crops of better quality come from use of the better seed, Moore reports.

Lists of growers who have certified seed for sale can be obtained from the Michigan Crop Improvement association, in care of Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Varieties available include Russet Rural, White Rural, Green Mountain, Katahdin, Irish Cobbler and Pontiac. The Russet Rural constitutes approximately 60 per cent of the certified seed supply, with the Chippewa next in importance by volume. Both varieties are considered well adapted to Michigan conditions. County agricultural agents and members of the college farm crop department have pledged aid to growers attempting to locate suitable seed supplies.

Weddings

LITSENBERGER-HONEY

A wedding of interest to many in Plymouth was that of Laura Jean Litsenberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Litsenberger, of Northville, and James H. Honey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Honey, of Plymouth, which took place in the bride's home in Northville, at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, The Rev. Leslie W. Williams of the Methodist church performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

Both the bride and her sister, Mrs. Charles Strautz, of Northville, who acted as matron-of-honor, wore powder blue gowns. The bride's corsage was of carnations and Mrs. Strautz' corsage was of red rosebuds and white cyclamen.

Earl Lyke of Plymouth acted as best man. The young couple enjoyed a trip to Niagara Falls. They will reside at 250 Rayson avenue in Northville. Mr. Honey is a machinist first mate at Grosse Isle.

METSGER-MAAS

The wedding of Dorothy Vernon Metsger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde L. Metsger, of Rosedale Gardens, and Willard Henry Maas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Y. Maas, of Detroit, was solemnized Saturday, November 21, in the Emmanuel Presbyterian church in Detroit. The candlelight service was read by the Rev. Albert J. Lindsay Jr.

The bride wore an eggshell satin gown made with a yoke of lace with high neckline, long train and fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a sheaf of white roses.

Mrs. Edward Breitmeyer, of the Gardens, was matron-of-honor, wearing a dusty rose gown with satin bodice and skirt of crepe. Tailsman roses formed her bouquet which was tied with matching ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Betty Overman, of the Gardens, and Geneva Dix, of Ypsilanti, wore blue satin and crepe gowns made the same as that of the matron-of-honor with high neckline. They carried pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a gown of plum colored crepe and Mrs. Maas wore grey crepe. Each wore black accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

The bridegroom had as his attendants, James Evans, of Ypsilanti, as best man, and Norman Maas, brother of the bridegroom, and Dean Metsger, brother of the bride, as ushers.

A reception followed in the church after which the young couple left for a few days in the South, the bride wearing grey and blue wool dress trimmed with fur and blue accessories.

TEAGUE-GAUNTLETT

The Martha-Mary chapel at Greenfield Village, Dearborn, was the scene of the wedding on Wednesday evening, November 25, at 7 o'clock of Miss Marjorie H. Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Teague, of Davison, to David Gauntlett, son of Mrs. Kathryn Gauntlett, of Ypsilanti. The service was read in candlelight, by the Rev. Howard G. Eicher, of Davison. White chrysanthemums, palms and woodwardia decorated the chapel.

The bride was charming in her wedding gown of white tulle, which had a sweetheart neckline, full-length sleeves with points over the hands. The skirt was fastened in points to a long bodice and extended in a long train. She wore a small spray of bouvardia in her hair, to which was attached her veil of illusion. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations, roses, chrysanthemums and bouvardia.

The maid-of-honor, Miss Carol Teague, of Detroit, a sister of the bride, wore a gown of gold tulle, bracelet-length sleeves and full skirt with cartridge pleats. Mrs. Donald Ehle, of Ypsilanti, wore rust taffeta and Mrs. Sidney Teague, of Bloomfield Hills, wore autumn green, the gowns being made the same as that of the maid-of-honor. All three wore caps of gold net and carried colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums and carnations tied with contrasting ribbon.

Both Mrs. Teague and Mrs. Gauntlett wore gowns of black crepe with white accessories and corsages of roses and gardenias. Wellington Grimes, of Flint, was best man and the guests were seated by Gwen Morhouse, of Ypsilanti, and Ralph Teague Jr., of Davison.

The 125 wedding guests attended the reception which followed at Dearborn Inn. Later Mr. and Mrs. Gauntlett left on a brief honeymoon and are now residing at 1014 Dewey street in Plymouth. Mrs. Gauntlett chose a beige suit with brown alligator accessories for her going away costume with which she wore a corsage of white roses.

The Coming J-Hop

The J-Hop this year is a big question mark because of the lack of patrons. Using the Prom as an example there were only 124 couples, not enough to pay expenses and the Hop, which will be given after gas rationing sets in, will probably be less well attended.

The expenses could be cut down because the orchestra costs about two-thirds of the total bill, but of course our students just couldn't stand a local orchestra. They want a name band, nothing less.

Another angle that should be considered is that of corsages. Did you realize that this high school hit its lowest expenditure in war stamps the same week as the prom, and yet the girls all attended bedecked with flowers which could be considered unnecessary in time of war?

It is up to you, the students of Plymouth high school. If you want a J-Hop you must understand that you just cannot get what you want now and you will have to take what the Juniors can give you—the best they can get in wartime!

We anticipate a time when the love of truth shall have come up to our love of liberty, and men shall be cordially tolerant and earnest believers both at once.—Phillips Brooks.

Student Trappers Look For Good Year

After setting and baiting their traps along the creeks and streams and in the swamps of the "frontierland" about Plymouth, Carl Hale, Alvin Jackson, Kenneth Brinks, Ed Kincaid, and Bob Schepple, six trappers of P.H.S., are expecting it to be a good season for muskrats and minks this December due to the induction of many men trappers into the armed services.

Bob Schepple is an old hand at trapping, having set 25 traps annually for the last few years. Bob caught 12 muskrats last year, each of whose pelt is worth about $1.25.

Last year Ed Kincaid had one of his traps spring on a mink. Mink pelts are worth up to $10 each.

The traps set for minks, which are seldom caught around here, are baited with fish or muskrats while those set for muskrats have apples or corn for bait.

Dear Readers

We've been lying low for quite some time but since the other columns have been on the trail of the gossip we thought we'd join them.

Some Picturesque Speech and Patter applied to P.H.S.

Advice to girls: A good line is the shortest distance between two dates.

In certain embarrassing moments how easy it is to develop a "Swiss cheese memory."

Miss Fiegel during Prom week: She was the center of distraction.

Pat H.: She babbles incessantly as if she has sprung a leak.

Reflections after the Prom: Time tells on a man—especially a good time.

H. Crisp: His eyebrows whistled as she passed.

Certain "goldiggers" around school: When money talks, they don't miss a word.

If the girls go around with long faces this week we'll know gas rationing has taken effect.

By the way, have you heard about the moron who moved to the city because he heard the country was at war?

Sincerely yours,
US MORONS.

The Navy needs thousands of young men, 17, 18, 19 and 20 years old, because these men are the most ideal candidates of Navy trade schools.

Bob lives at 3900 East Ann Arbor Trail and this is the place that his favorite hobby, photography, is carried out. The Japs had better watch out because his "pet peeve" is "The Japs of Pearl Harbor." Bob's aim in life is to be an aeronautical engineer.

Students Need Good Lunches

(This is the second article written by Home Economic students on the subject of School Lunches.)

"A nation is as strong as its children," was once said by an early statesman. It is true isn't it? Without a strong, well developed, and alert younger generation, a nation would soon be faced with an era of decay.

We Americans have always eaten just the way we liked whether or not we got the foods we needed. Many of us have very poor food habits and that is why more than a third of the nation is inadequately fed. A lot of people were shocked when so many men were rejected from army training, but did they know why? Well, it was due directly or indirectly to very poor food habits. Our government asks us to keep physically fit for any job we have to do in the future. One way to meet this demand is to eat food that will do a fighting job for our bodies. Do you think all of you get these foods daily?

When Johnny leaves home his mother hands him his lunchbox packed with cold meat and peanut butter and jelly sandwiches both on enriched white bread. Oranges, oatmeal raisin cookies, and milk. Now James lives next door. When he leaves home his mother gives him twenty-five cents for his lunch. Then he buys two candy bars and an ice-cream cone, also mashed potatoes. Which lunch would you choose? John's lunch would be physically fit to meet his job and will build a stronger America.

Prom Held November 20

There were approximately one hundred twenty-four paid couples together with several navy and army men at the annual Senior Prom which was held Friday, November 20 in the high school gym.

The class lost money on the dance, but as yet they are not sure how much, however, the crowd was just the right size for dancing without bumping into others.

Rev. Sanders Speaks To Hi-Y and G. R.

Reverend Sanders spoke before the Hi-Y and Girl Reserve of Plymouth high school Wednesday noon, November 25. He gave the group a word picture of the first Thanksgiving. Reverend Sanders also said that all of us had many things to be thankful for. He pointed out the fact that none of us have to worry about our homes being bombed during the night.

Senior Sketches

Signe Hegge, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Hegge, lives at 4575 Phoenix road. Among her school accomplishments are being a member of the Pilgrim Prints staff, on the Student Council for one year, a Girl Scout, a Girl Reserve treasurer, in the Junior play, one act plays, Drama Club, on J-Hop and Senior Prom committees, Junior and Senior banquet committee, and a 1000 point letter. Signe has traveled through Canada and the Eastern states. Among her hobbies is knitting but her favorite hobby is horse-back riding. To success in whatever she does is her aim in life while her pet peeve is riding her bike to school.

Some day when automobiles are on sale again there may be a new salesman or a new man in the automobile business since that is Tom Lacy's aim in life. Tom has lived in Tennessee, in Ohio and now lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry A. Lacy, at 1469 Sheridan. Being on the basketball, football, and baseball teams are his accomplishments in school. So it is easy to see his hobby is sports.

He shares the pet peeve of many others—two faced people.

Shirley Jacobson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jacobson, lives at 9229 Newburg road. Among her school accomplishments are: a junior letter, member of J-Hop committee, Prom committee, annual committee, Library club, and all girls' sports. She has traveled through most of northern, eastern and western United States and parts of Canada. To be a nurse is her aim in life while girls who wear anklets with high heels is her pet peeve. Among Shirley's hobbies are tennis and roller-skating.

Janice Downing, daughter of Winifred and William Downing of 9311 South Main street, wants to travel extensively. Acting in plays and collecting lumps of sugar from various hotels are her chief hobbies. During her four years in P.H.S. she is credited with many accomplishments: Girl Scouts two years; Girl Reserves three years; Leaders Club six years; J-Hop and Senior Prom committees; a lead in the Junior play, secretary of the senior class, three one-act plays, and she is on the Senior Annual committee. As her pet peeve she hates "wolves" who whistle at any girl in general.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Bovee's son Robert has done many things during his four years of high school. Some of them are fresh man's stunt night, junior play, court judge, orchestra, four years; prom and J-Hop committees, staff of the Senior Annual, Pilgrim Prints, tennis, and Hi-Y.

IF

If I could be the Principal for just one single day, I would change the rules around, less work, more time for play. The classes would be shorter with more time in between. I would wear a charming smile and always be serene. Every Monday morning I would call for an assembly. With Double Quartet to sing and make things sort of friendly. There would be no more home work, no studying at night. No class in vocations but an extra hour for type. If I could be the Principal for just one single day, The Board of Education would fire me without pay.

Bataan Defender

Recently Miss Walkdorf's eleventh grade college English class had their choice of writing either a feature, human interest, or news story as their exam on a chapter on journalism in their English textbook. The following human interest story, an original composition, was turned in by one of the boys.

"I could say that the following is an outline of a great and wonderful story of Private John P. Jones, but it is the outline of the stories of all the great men fighting for our country's freedom. "Private Jones's name appeared several months ago with many others in a column of a Philadelphia newspaper under the heading "Died in Action on Bataan." He was one of the men MacArthur mentioned in his famous message that concerned the weary and begrimed men who rose out of the foxholes of Bataan.

"He joined the army in 1940 when he thought his country was in danger. He was one of many who embarked for the battle stations of the Pacific. Private Jones was present when Bataan's days were numbered. He and his comrades spent many sleepless nights and faced great odds as they battled for every inch of ground. There were times when he faced the enemy with an empty stomach and a face drawn from the great strain. There were also times when he faced the enemy with an empty gun.

"When finally he went down, he did so fighting. His spirit and his courage will live on and when MacArthur returns, as he will to Bataan, with him will go men with the same spirit and courage as the men that he left behind.

"It is men like John P. Jones who will make this world safe for free people and decent living. There was a John P. Jones in the American Revolution and there has been and always will be in every war America fights. For this reason America will live safe from her enemies and John P. Jones will fight for her safety as well as his comrades in the air, on the land, or on the sea.

"He is one of the great heroes of today, not because he flies a plane, not because he glides beneath the water's surface; but because he wears a pack on his back and a rifle over his shoulder and tramps over muddy roads and crawls through ditches to do and to die for the country he loves."

This War Costs 6 Times the Others

This war will be costly—costlier than any we have ever been engaged in. Compared with other wars in our history:

1. The War of the Revolution cost $104,000,000 (approximately);
2. The War of 1812 cost $130,000,000 (approximately);
3. The Mexican War cost $64,000,000 (approximately);
4. The Civil War (North only) cost $3,500,000,000 (approximately);
5. The Spanish-American War cost $582,000,000 (approximately);
6. World War I cost $35,413,000,000 (approximately).

This war will cost over six times as much as the total cost of all our other six wars combined. This amounts to nearly 3,000 dollars per person which of course cannot be collected in taxes. President Roosevelt has called for enormous amounts of planes, tanks, ships, and guns. In 1942, an amount that probably be boosted up to a much greater figure in 1943.

When Plymouth high school entered the contest with Wayne, they invested enough to buy one Army Scout car or two field ambulances or even five reconais-sance cars which will not win the war alone, but if every high school in America could do the same or better every week or two it would bring the terrific bill on the people down and in ten years it will be repaid.

Odds and Ends

Mr. Hedrick's 9A biology class is studying the conservation of trees and flowers. Depending on forests are an adequate supply of water and satisfactory soil and wild flowers, birds, animals, and fish. Through our knowledge and application of biology the conservation of these things can be carried out.

The annual loss in forest areas during the course of one year is fifty million dollars. Many people wonder how this is possible. A large number of fires are started by little careless acts such as throwing away lighted cigarettes or leaving a camp fire without first extinguishing it. Forests are valuable not only for the timber but as a shelter for wild animals.

We wonder how Gordon Vetsal's brunette and redhead were getting along last week, seeing that he was absent the entire week. They did look rather lonely.

Oh, yes—that must be Mr. Jones' call! I'll try to find him for you

War is on the Wires, Mr. Jones!

ALL TIME is precious these war days—and especially telephone time. Yet hundreds of hours are wasted daily by people who place a Long Distance call, then leave the telephone and are not there to take the call when the connection is made.

Long Distance lines now are crowded with military and war production calls. Normally we would build enough additional lines and equipment to take care of all demands. But we can't do that today because the necessary materials are more urgently needed for fighting.

To make the most efficient use of what we have—to keep the wires clear for the fast transmission of war calls—these are responsibilities shared by every telephone user. For war calls must go through!

Here are some ways in which you can help:

1. Keep all your telephone calls as brief as you can.
2. Don't call information for numbers listed in the directory.
3. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls, and avoid especially the crowded lines to war production centers.
4. When possible, give the number of the distant telephone you are calling.
5. If the operator can't complete your call promptly, stay close to the telephone, ready to answer when it comes in.

How To Get Your Deer Hides to Army

Pressed with offers of free deer hides hunters want to donate for war uses, the conservation department this week declared it cannot accept the hides directly, but again urged making them available through the regular established trade channels, to meet wartime needs. Quickest way for a hunter to dispose of his deer hide is to call the local hide and fur buyer—and there is one such buyer in almost every town. Prices are low, but at a dollar or so they compensate the hunter for the trouble he takes to deliver the skin. Both the War department and the War Production Board have said armed forces have definite need for deer hides, particularly since Asiatic and South American imports formerly depended upon have been curtailed. The Federal Fish and Wildlife service has been definitely assured the hide and leather trade will pick up the deer skins and see that they are properly channeled to tanners and manufacturers. Many states besides Michigan are cooperating in the drive to deliver this material needed especially by our arctic troops.

Many of us have never made God a real partner in our daily affairs and when we come to an obstacle in the pathway of Christian living, we ask the question, "Why do I seem so far away? The remedy for this is to fit ourselves into God's plan rather than to try to fit God into ours. The Home Front in Michigan

The Michigan coffee-lover, beginning with breakfast on last Sunday, November 29, now faces the world on about a cup a day. Starting on that day, stamp No. 27 in your War Ration book—the book you use to get sugar—will entitle you and each member of your family over 14 years old to one pound of coffee. This will have to last you for five weeks.

Most of the rules applied to sugar rationing will apply also to coffee. The main exception is that you will not be able to get coffee with coupons from the books of your children 14 years old or younger. And you probably will want to take care of your coffee purchases differently than you have sugar. Most women are accustomed to buying sugar in large quantities, but coffee loses its flavor and freshness and should be bought a pound or two at a time.

Advice to Christmas shoppers from the Office of Defense Transportation! Carry your packages home with you (store delivery has been cut 25 per cent under last year), but carry them on buses and street cars during off-peak hours between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. In cases of purchases that cannot be carried, do your shopping immediately. Avoid the all-time record crush anticipated for mid-December.

Kitchen gadgets are out for the duration. The War Production Board has ordered that bare essentials must be the rule, which eliminates most of the varied and colorful array of metal gadgets, cooking utensils and housewares that in recent years have characterized the American home and kitchen.

Price reductions are always good news—and here's a report of them from the Office of Price Administration. The cost of knitted underwear is expected to drop from three to 20 cents per garment under an OPA order requiring that savings in material costs of these garments due to necessary war-time substitutions of less expensive carded yarn for combed yarn be passed on to the consumer.

BOND BUYING SONG

By William Rose Benet

Factory, camp and farm
Arming the land;
All together toiling,
Head, heart, and hand—
Tank, destroyer, and plane,
By land and sea—
Millions surging forward
For the land of the free!

For your country, for your own—
Not slaves, but a people free from fear—
For the God of your open choice,
For the might of the people's voice
Lifted in the forum loud and clear,
For life in the light of the sun,
For the stars—and the eagle's way—
Buy Bonds against Bondage—
Buy Tomorrow with Today!

Our nation now like one
Heaving against the load,
Shouldering rolling wheels
Up the victory road—
Strong, determined, grim,
Till the task be done—
Tread of thunderous millions
Marching as one!

For this day, for all days,
For this day, for all days,
For your country, for your own—
For your children in the great days to be—
For truth of our honest word
Tried in fire, battle-stirred,
Like a light on the land of the free,
Doom to the pit of darkness
The liar and tyrant's way!
Buy Bonds against Bondage—
Buy Tomorrow with Today!

DICK INNIS BACK IN ARMY—JOINS WHILE ON TRIP DOWN SOUTH
Dick Innis, well known Plymouth resident, just can't keep out of the army. In a letter to The Mail from Spence Field, Moultrie, Georgia, he says:
"Certainly enjoy reading The Mail and all that Plymouth is doing to help the war cause along. If all the downs the size of Plymouth were doing what Plymouth is doing, it would not be long before this war would be over."
"I left Plymouth early in October to visit friends in Florida and then enlisted at Camp Blending on the 21st of October. Later I was sent to Spence Field, which is an advanced flying school. We graduate several hundred flying officers each month. It is quite a new field and is fast becoming one of the foremost training fields in the United States. I have passed all qualifying examinations for the Officers' Candidate school and I hope to leave for the Miami Air school sometime in January. Due to my previous training in the army air corps and the practical experience gained at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun factory, I am now teaching a group of flying cadets the maintenance and repair of Air Craft armament. Thanks again for The Mail."

LIFE LINES

Ah, no—you're not as youthful now
As when you came to me—
And yet, those furrows in your brow,
My Dear, I seldom see.
But when I do observe them, though,
And sometimes see a hair
Or two, that's turning gray, I know
I helped to put them there!

But as I see your youth depart
And middle age draw near,
I do not pine, with yearning heart,
For one more youthful year!
For though, of course, we older grow,
And each year takes its due,
Both you and I as lovers know
Life grows the sweeter, too.

SOLDIER GETS HIS DEER IN MOUNTAINS

Wilbert H. Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler of Plymouth road who is now stationed at Ellis Island, came home a year ago from the army to get his deer in northern Michigan. This year he couldn't get off to come to Michigan for his annual deer hunt, but his officers did give him enough time to take a brief trip up in the Amapole mountains in New York. He returned to camp with a nice four-point buck, he says in a letter to Plymouth friends.

Bluejackets will be granted a nine-day leave, at which time they will probably come home. They are: Ralph Neilson, 11798 Sherwood Lane; Robert Cortland Lostutter, 17, 11971 Sherwood Lane; Duane Niel Ostund, 17, 133 East Ann Arbor; William Huston Stevenson, 18, 323 Maple avenue; Keith Sprott, 19, 641 Forest street.

MORE PLYMOUTH BOYS AT GREAT LAKES STATION

Five more names were inscribed last week on the honor list of Plymouth men who are fighting with the U.S. Navy in the war against the Axis. These new recruits have arrived at the U.S. Naval Training station at Great Lakes, Illinois, to begin recruit training.

Now being whipped into top fighting form through the Navy's vigorous physical hardening program, the new recruits are also getting instruction in military drill, seamanship, and naval procedure. Soon they will be given a series of aptitude tests to determine whether they are qualified to attend one of the Navy's many service schools with an opportunity of earning a petty officer's rating.

Rev. Richards Writes of Florida
Says State is "War Conscious"

"We are all war conscious down here, being surrounded with army camps, and air and naval bases on the Indian river," writes Rev. William Richards, well known retired Methodist minister from his winter home at Scottsboro, Florida, to The Plymouth Mail.

"The Halifax and Indian rivers are being used as inland water ways to escape submarine losses out in the ocean. Airplanes and bombers are continually over our head, but how thankful we are that they are not enemy planes," he states in his interesting letter.

"The weather is perfect here and we are thoroughly enjoying the warm sunshine and the beautiful evenings."

Rev. Richards served as pastor of the Northville Methodist church for ten years. Then he was assigned to the church at Belleville and following several years of service in that community he was retired.

Friends in Northville purchased and presented to him the orange trees that are growing on his little winter ranch in Florida. His permanent home is on the Seven Mile road just east of Northville.

Roger Babson Says . . .

We Need Better Training For Business

Annapolis, Maryland, December 4—I have attended recently a Sunday Morning chapel service at what I consider the best college in America—the U. S. Naval Academy. Incidentally, it sets a good example to other colleges by having it compulsory that every student attend Divine Worship at some church EVERY Sunday morning. Out of over 3,000 men nearly 2,500 were at the service which I attended.

The sermon was entitled, "A Challenge To Be Real," it was both practical and inspirational. It was primarily an appeal for honest thinking, but the preacher had the courage to beg the midshipmen to let liquor alone and to beware of "smokes." He also gave them some sound advice about women, saying, "check the man who does not look you in the eye; but beware of the woman who does look you in the eye." Regarding business, he said that only as more is produced is there more to divide.

The new Naval Academy chapel is most dignified and impressive. Its beautiful stained glass windows are significant of Peace. There is nothing to remind one of war or to arouse any feelings of hate against any group or nation. The closing words of their closing hymn well express the creed of this great college. These words are: "In peace which only Thou canst give, Oh Master let me with Thee live." In my talks with the students, I found a seriousness and religious fervor that exists on few college campuses. Unlike average college men, upset by long-haired radical economic professors, these Annapolis boys know where they are going and that they must struggle to get there.

But why should I begin this financial column by writing of this U.S. Naval Academy? The reason is that two diametrically opposite philosophies about Peace are being taught by the colleges of the United States. The State Universities are teaching that Peace is a means to an end—that is, only Peace will bring us what we want. This Naval Academy is teaching that Peace is not the means to prosperity, but rather that Peace can be found only at the end of a long, long road. They believe that only prosperity brings Peace.

Every businessman and investor should decide whether the state universities or the Naval Academy is teaching the truth. The length of the War, the ultimate victory and conditions after the War depend upon whether our leaders in politics, industry, and education are thinking soundly, or sleeping soundly. We see the evils of the Germans and Japanese worshipping war; and we know what befell France and her northern neighbors for worshipping Peace. We cannot safely ride two horses when they are going in opposite directions.

Most State University professors are talking about "winning the Peace"; but the Annapolis professors expect World Federation after World War II which will enable the U.S. to disarm and live in Peace for evermore. The Annapolis professors teach that this is a goal to work for, but we will be at least 100 years more in reaching it. They believe, in accordance with the above-mentioned hymn, that Peace can come not through treaties, leagues, or even the military, but only through the peoples of the world following Jesus' teachings.

Our armed forces have definite ideas as to "keeping-the-Peace" after World War II. They claim that either the English-speaking peoples must police the world or else that Germany must be turned over to the Russians and Japan turned over to the Chinese. This lines up with the subject of that Sunday morning sermon that church people should be realistic as well as idealistic; that businessmen should, after the war, depend for protection on armed forces rather than on forced tariffs.

I wonder if the United States would not be better off if all educational institutions would follow the lead of the U.S. Naval Academy. Nothing bombastic is taught there; no glorification of war is apparent; yet, not even nationalism per se is talked about. Certainly, one hears much more of jingo doctrines at a National Chamber of Commerce Convention.

An earnest effort is made to teach the fundamentals of living. Most of all, the men are trained. Knowledge can be purchased, but habits come only through training, discipline, and self-control. These midshipmen are taught that life always has been a struggle and always will be. To let any young people get the false idea that "security"—either national or personal—can be bought or legislated is a wicked crime, condemned by both God and history.

Naturally, I tried to ascertain from officers and others whom I met their ideas as to the length of the war. The consensus of opinion is that we will know nothing definite until Christmas. If Germany, during 1942, breaks through to contact Japan, the war will last for five years more. If, on the other hand, Germany is held back at the Caucasus and compelled to go through another winter without more oil, rubber, and other supplies, the war will end in 1943. But whenever it ends, we will be living in a different world and wise are those businessmen, wage workers, and investors who now change their plans accordingly.

To Start Chick Sex School

State College To Aid Poultrymen

Chick sexing, once a Japanese dominated profession, gets a more American slant with an announcement by Michigan State College officials approving a baby chick sexing school to be conducted on the campus January 18 to February 12, just ahead of the 1943 commercial hatchery season. A limit of 30 students qualified by eyesight and willing to bear a large share of the cost of conducting the school has been set by the short course and the poultry husbandry departments. Dwight Wyngarden, Zeeland, one of the nation's most expert baby chick sexers, will serve as instructor, with the aid of college talent.

Wyngarden took lessons originally from a Japanese woman and for six years has been credited with an average of 98 to 100 per cent accuracy. Commercially, an individual who can be accurate to 95 percent passes as an expert.

Japanese have been put into army service, into internment camps and some have just disappeared, the hatcherymen using their report. In recent years, of approximately 50 professional Michigan chick sexers, 17 had been Japanese.

Another purpose in the school is to increase efficiency of the poultry industry which is serving an important role in the Food for War program. Sexing has come into demand in the past 10 years, following development of the process by the Japanese. Pullets and cockerels are separated by handling and keen eyes. The sexed chicks then are sold to those poultrymen who demand pullets alone or who purchase the lower priced cockerels just for meat purposes. An increase in the laying flock can be obtained with no increase in brooding equipment if the poultrymen buys only pullets.

Possibilities for the profession are found in the fact that an increasing number and percentage of baby chicks are being sold after sexing. Estimates indicate possibly a third of the total of 33 million baby chicks hatched in Michigan in 1942 were sold after determining sex.

Pay for the work is seasonal but exceptionally high. Sexers work at rates that range from a half cent to more than a cent per chick, yet they handle 800 or more an hour and work night and day at times during a 10 weeks to three months season.

Some of the details for the course already have been worked out at the college. The poultry department will obtain 5,000 chicks per student for training purposes and this cost will be one of the principal expenses which the student will be asked to share. Persons interested in taking the instruction can contact hatcheries out in the state or the short course or poultry departments at the college.

DO HONOR TO GOLD STARS

Out there on all the fronts during this gigantic combat our brave boys are struggling to keep for us the freedom of which we are all so proud. Many will join that great caravan of heroes who can never return, whose supreme sacrifice is designated by a gold star in the service flag. To do the honor deserved to these heroes, we make available all of our facilities, our establishment, and experience acquired in creating beautiful memories. Families, friends . . . will find us willing always to give our finest in every way.
