Women Prepare For Tin Can Collection

Ration Board Office Not To Be Open Wednesday Afternoons

The Plymouth rationing board office in the city building will be closed on Wednesday afternoons in the future. The office was closed last Wednesday afternoon for the first time under the new policy, permitting the office staff to catch up with its work, which often times is hampered by the large number of people who appear at the office every day.

"Bert's Place" Sells Nearly $12,000 in Bonds

'Commando' Campaign Has Never Ended For Soldier Lads

This is a brief story of what can happen when a person puts his heart and soul into the accomplishment of a purpose.

It is the story of one who puts the welfare of our country and that of our fighting lads scattered over the face of the earth above and beyond all other interests.

It was last July when the "Main Street Commandos" of Plymouth inaugurated the sales campaign of war bonds and stamps. When first started, seemingly every business place in Plymouth buckled into the campaign and did a splendid job in selling stamps and bonds.

But there has been one little business place that has "carried through." No matter how busy have been the hours, no matter how much other work there has been to do, the sale of war bonds and stamps came first.

To the everlasting credit and glory of Mrs. Bert Swadling, whose work days are seldom less than twelve hours, and sometimes longer, belongs the distinction of having sold $11,872.90 worth of war bonds and stamps during August, September, October, November and December.

Down on North Main street, patrons know the little Swadling lunch counter as "Bert's Place." Everyone in Plymouth knows Mrs. Swadling as "Bert" and that is why the restaurant carries his name. Bert and Mrs. Swadling like to advertise their little restaurant as "Plymouth's Smallest Business Place." The little building the restaurant occupies is not much bigger than an "overgrown pint," but no customer, regular patron or stranger, ever gets out of the place without first being given the opportunity to buy war bonds or stamps.

Sometimes workers who find it impossible to get up town to the postoffice or banks, will give Mrs. Swadling a roll of bills and ask her to convert the money into war bonds.

With the help shortage, there is no place busier these days than a Plymouth restaurant, but "Bert" or Mrs. Swadling are never too busy to go up town and convert the money entrusted to them into war bonds for their customers.

"Well, maybe you think we did a pretty good job during last year," Mrs. Swadling told The Plymouth Mail yesterday, "but wait and see what we do this year. We hope to make a much better record."

And that's the kind of spirit which has made "Bert's Place" one of the outstanding, not only in Plymouth but all of Michigan, in the sale of war bonds and stamps.

Many Thanks For The Kind Words!

It was with some misgivings that The Plymouth Mail decided late in December to announce an increase in the subscription rate of The Mail from $1.50 per year to $2.00, because of increased costs of production. After weeks of figuring and hesitation, the conclusion was definitely reached that it was absolutely essential that it be done. The very pleasing thing about it has been the most kindly comment that has come from our big family of readers. Not one single protest has been made—some have even suggested that they had expected the raise long before this. A subscriber who works diligently each day at hard manual labor, declared that to him The Mail had for years been worth more than $2.00 per year. Other comments have been equally as pleasing. And amazing as it may seem, there has not been one single order of discontinuance. Thanks for the good will and your splendid cooperation.

Fixed Saturday, January 16 For Big 'Round-Up'

To Start Hundreds of Pounds of Ammunition Against Enemies

Women of Plymouth and vicinity are preparing to fire their first big barrage of the new year against Hitler and Hirohito on Saturday, January 16, according to "Field Marshall" Maxine Willoughby, when thousands and thousands of tin cans will be collected and started on their way against America's enemies.

For many weeks the busy housewives of Plymouth have been diligently assembling the big rounds of "ammunition" that have in past years gone into the scrap heap, but are now being turned into shells, bombs and hand grenades.

Mrs. Willoughby believes that the tin can collection to be made one week from next Saturday will be the biggest of any so far made in Plymouth. She anticipates that it will be twice as large as was the collection made late in the fall. The chairman of the tin collection committee asks that housewives of Plymouth be sure and place their tin cans in the usual place where they leave the scrap, ashes and other refuse collected by the city trucks. But be sure that the cans are placed in some sort of containers for convenient dumping.

The collection one week from Saturday will be made by the regular city trucks, so be sure and cooperate by having the tin cans in convenient places for the men who will make the collection.

Plymouth Aids Victory Loan

Nation Exceeds Goal Set For Drive

Russell Daane, vice president and manager of the Plymouth United Savings Bank, has announced purchase by the bank of United States government securities to the total of $125,000, and the handling of another $50,000 purchase for one of the bank's customers.

The purchases were made as follows: $50,000 in 7 1/2 per cent certificates; $75,000 in 1 1/2 per cent bonds and $50,000 (for a customer) of 2 1/2 per cent bonds.

The purchases were made in the victory loan drive, national goal of which was $9,000,000,000 (nine billion). Daane reported that he had been informed that the goal had been exceeded by nearly three billions of dollars.

Pointing out that it is the purpose of the bank to distribute its funds to the most equitable advantage, at the same time investing in only the highest type of securities, Daane said there also is the matter of patriotism involved in the purchases.

Must Return Questionnaire

Draft Board Wants Occupational Blanks

It has come to the attention of the Plymouth Induction board that there are some delinquencies in the returning of the occupational questionnaires. It is very essential that this occupational questionnaire be returned to the local board office at once, completely filled out in ink.

This information is required by the Selective Service System as well as the United States Employment Service, also by the War Manpower board.

In case a registrant has lost or mislaid his questionnaire he should call at the local board requesting a new form.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Matevia and children Robert and Sharon, of near Ypsilanti, were recent dinner guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Addie Westfall.

City Treasurer Not To Enter Army

City Treasurer Charles Garlett has found out that he isn't going to become an officer in the army after all.

He has been notified that President Roosevelt's order eliminating the service of men 33 years or older from military services, has automatically retained him in civil life.

The city commission sometime ago when it was learned that Mr. Garlett had planned to take an officer's training course, granted him an indefinite leave of absence, which has been automatically cancelled by the executive order.

How High School Boys Can Complete Terms

Selective Service Board Makes Public Proper Steps

So that Plymouth high school students may know how to secure temporary deferment in order to complete their school year, if they have reached the age of 18 years, the local Selective Service Board has made public the following data as to the proper steps to take:

Paragraph 1, Amendment to Selective Service Act.—"The Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 has been amended to provide that any person 18 or 19 years of age, who while pursuing a course of instruction at a high school or similar institution of learning, is ordered to report for induction during the last half of the academic year at such school or institution, shall, upon his request, have his induction postponed until the end of such academic year."

Paragraph 3, Request for postponement of induction.—"A registrant in high school who has been ordered to report for induction shall be inducted in the usual manner unless he shall request in writing that his induction be postponed. Upon such a request the local board shall, before inducting the registrant, determine:

(a) If he has reached the eighteenth anniversary of the day of his birth but has not reached the twentieth anniversary of the day of his birth; (b) If he is pursuing a course of instruction at a high school or similar institution of learning; and (c) If he is pursuing such course of instruction in the last half of the academic year at such school or institution.

If the registrant fulfills all three of these requirements, the local board shall postpone the induction of such registrant until the end of the academic year at such school or institution. If the registrant fails to fulfill any one of these above mentioned requirements, he shall be inducted in the usual manner."

It is suggested that students bear in mind that it will be necessary for them to write their local board requesting an induction postponement.

Few Violations Of Traffic Laws

Decided Drop Here In Number of Offenses

Traffic violations in the city of Plymouth decreased during December according to reports of the police department and the municipal court, but violations in the county, trial of which was held in municipal court, increased during the month.

The court record showed the following cases handled during the month: Five black-out violations; nine reckless driving cases; four traffic violations; six disorderly conduct; 11 civil cases—all municipal violations; three violations of the motor vehicle law, 12 violations of traffic laws and one car theft—all state violations.

The police department reported that during the month there had been 18 traffic tickets issued and warrants for one drunken driver, four intoxicated persons, one wife and child desertion, one probation violator and one arrest for investigation.

Police Chief Charles Thumme said the reduction in traffic violations was traceable to two causes—first the smaller number of automobiles on the highways; and second the knowledge that the police department intends to arrest all violators and the stiff fines or jail sentences that have been handed out by Judge J. Rusling Cutler.

Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Chambers were their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Holmes and daughters, Kathryn and Barbara Jean, and also another granddaughter, Mrs. Dayton Churchman and baby, Jimmie, all of Detroit.

Jack Gordon Held Prisoner By The Japs, His Parents Advised

Plymouth Lad First Reported Missing In Action, Alive, Says War Department

Jack Gordon, Plymouth high school graduate of 1936, son of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gordon, who was reported last May as missing in action on Bataan peninsula, is held a prisoner by the Japanese, according to information which has just been sent to his parents by the war department.

In a letter to The Plymouth Mail, Dr. Gordon, now a resident of Edmore, states that the war department has definitely established the fact that Jack is alive and is held in a prison camp somewhere in the Philippines.

Jack enlisted in the United States Marines in 1940 and following a period of training in California, he was in one of the very early army forces sent to the Philippines.

From such news as could be patched together about the military operations in the Philippines, Jack saw plenty of front line action from the day that the Japs invaded the inlands until General Wainwright surrendered his badly depleted forces.

News of the safety of Jack gives hope that possibly Joe Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt, also reported missing in action about the same time that Jack was reported lost, might, too, be held a prisoner by the Japs.

Plymouth Women Favor Plan to Ration Food

House to House Check Made by Salvage Committee

Most of the housewives in the city of Plymouth and in the township are violently in favor of compulsory rationing of all foodstuffs of which there is a shortage.

This is the consensus of opinion based on a survey conducted by the Salvage Committee, headed by Mrs. Russell Powell.

The survey also sought to determine whether or not the housewives would be interested in a series of food demonstrations at which experts would show the housewives how low cost foods could be made into highly palatable dishes.

To this question, a majority of the women expressed an interest, especially in Plymouth. In the rural section, a lack of transportation, the housewives said, might prevent their appearance at such demonstrations.

All, however, were very firm in their convictions that rationing would be better than the present method of buying what is available every time it is available.

There were 550 replies to the survey in the township. Of this number, 326 were interested in the food demonstrations, but all expressed their desire to cooperate with the salvage committee. In the city of Plymouth 1,244 of the 1,297 women con-

No Drunks Here On New Years

Not One Arrest Made By The Police

Just where the credit should go is open to question, but—THERE WERE NO DRUNKS ARRESTED IN PLYMOUTH NEW YEAR'S EVE!

Chief of Police Charles J. Thumme says: "We have nice people in Plymouth."

But there are some who give the credit to a shortage of liquor. Only seventy cases were available at the liquor store two days before the New Year's celebration.

And there are those who say that most of the celebrating was done at private parties, with the result that if there were those who left the state of sobriety for one of inebriation, they were well shielded from the public gaze, particularly that of the police.

A Jap Prisoner

JACK GORDON The war department's fact definitely established the fact that this former Plymouth high school boy is now a prisoner of the Japs. He was reported last May as missing in action on Bataan Peninsula.

Rationing Board Chairman Warns Auto Drivers

Tire Inspection Is Necessary During Present Month

This is a warning. It is a warning issued by William Wood, chairman of the local price and rationing board and failure to heed the warning will result in drastic steps.

Despite the fact that there are 17 garages and filling stations licensed to inspect tires, a comparatively few residents of Plymouth have had such an inspection made.

Now, here is the warning: If said tire inspection is not made on or before January 31, it is likely that all gasoline ration books will be revoked.

With only a small percentage of motorists registered as having completed their tire inspection, Mr. Wood was advised by the Office of Price Administration in Washington, to let the public know that drastic steps will follow failure to comply with this phase of the National Mileage Rationing program, which is designed to save rubber and preserve essential transportation.

Commercial vehicle tires must be inspected on or before January 15. Thereafter a new

Victory Notes

Mrs. Harold Brisbois (telephone 487-J) is still taking registrations for a third group of women to work in surgical dressings at the work room at the Starkweather school.

Also needed are six more women for district Salvage Aides (telephone Mrs. Russell Powell, 50); 30 men and women for fire watchers, 40 men for auxiliary firemen, and 100 air wardens to fill vacancies. Telephone 93 or write a card to Arno Thompson, secretary of the Defense Council.

The Plymouth Defense Council met Tuesday afternoon with members Eaton, Blickenstaff, Cushman and Thompson, Elliott, Bessie, Whipple and Powell present. It was decided not to have the three sirens practice signaling again until the repairs are completed on the city fire siren. Mrs. Walter Harms was appointed to the vacancy on the Salvage Finance committee caused by the resignation of Mrs. Mildred Barnes.

The district salvage chairman held their regular monthly meeting at the city hall Monday evening, January 4, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Russell Powell. They voted to meet the second Monday of each month at 8 o'clock at the city hall.

The next meeting of the Plymouth Defense Council will be Tuesday, January 19, at 4:30 at the city hall. Mrs. Pelletier of Detroit will present a program for the day care of children which is being carried out in many defense area cities. Any citizens who are interested are invited to attend.

Mrs. Russell Powell was Plymouth's representative at the meeting on war clubs at the Stark school Thursday, January 7. Mrs. Russell Powell and Mrs. Walter Harms are Plymouth representatives at the war club luncheon called by Dr. Preston Scott in Detroit this Friday, January 8.

January 16 (Saturday) is tin collection day. Are you ready?

Plymouth Invests $738,800.00 In War Bonds During 1942

PROGRESS AGAIN WHEN PEACE COMES.

Plymouth is a mighty fine little city in which to live. Home owners have long been proud of its progress and of its substantial ideals. But now the war has stopped our development. There is no home building in this "City of Homes"—there can be no community advancement until the war has been won. But there is one thing of which we are sure—Plymouth, when the war is over, is going to be one of the best places in all America in which to live—because its citizens are preparing for the future by exchanging their dollars for war bonds. Every penny invested in a war bond is a direct investment in the future of Plymouth. When victory comes and peace again prevails over the earth, Plymouth people, because of their all-out investment in war bonds, will have the funds to help maintain this community in the front ranks of progressive, American cities. Plymouth's objective in 1943 is to pace all America in the purchase of war bonds!

Wm. Pettingill, After 39 Years in Business, Retires

Sells Grocery Store to Chief Clerk, Loren Goodale

Announcement was made this week of the retirement from business by William T. Pettingill after a career of nearly 40 years of grocery retail service to the community. He has sold the Pettingill store to Loren J. Goodale, who has been his chief clerk for a period of nearly 19 years.

The decision of Mr. Pettingill to give up his business activities proved a surprise to his many associates about the city. His plans for the immediate future have not been announced, but he hopes to take a much needed vacation.

It was nearly 40 years ago when Mr. Pettingill, who had served as a conductor and motor man on the old D.U.R. became a partner of William Brown, one of the pioneer grocers of Plymouth.

The store became known as the Brown & Pettingill grocery, then located on Main street where the Kroger store is now located. Mr. Pettingill later purchased the interests of Mr. Brown and moved the store to its present location on Penniman avenue about 20 years ago. Since that time he has conducted the business without a partner. During the years, he has been active in various community affairs, the Chamber of Commerce and is a charter member of the Rotary club. It is not his purpose to give up these associations.

The new owner of the store has been Mr. Pettingill's "right hand" man for many years. Loren, as he is best known to his friends, is thoroughly experienced in the grocery business and it is his purpose to carry on the same high type of grocery business that has characterized the Pettingill store.

More Boys Leave For Fort Custer

First 1943 Group Left on Thursday

Twenty-one boys left the Plymouth army induction center Thursday afternoon for Fort Custer where they will begin their services in Uncle Sam's army, the group being the first to leave Plymouth in the new year.

The boys met at the induction board office at 2:30 and marched from there to the Pere Marquette depot, where they entrained for Fort Custer.

Many relatives and friends were present to bid the boys good-bye and good luck. The complete list from this district follows: Louis Covach, 6265 Tower, Plymouth; Charles Hirschfeld, 488 Main, Plymouth; Harry McClellan, 15854 Wormer, Detroit; Phillip Lee, Box 300, Addison; Roy Tank, 20411 Angling, Farmington; Alfred Passow, 19261 Central, Detroit; Floyd Schroeder, Jr., 645 Forest, Plymouth; Clyde Askron, 19131 Olympia, Detroit; Cleston Hurst, RFD 3, Box 290-C, Detroit; John Kurtz, 18361 Graydale, Detroit; William Russell, 8880 Hix, Plymouth;

All Retiring City Commissioners Willing To Run

But Will Not Circulate Their Own Petitions

While none of the three city commissioners, whose terms expire at the close of the current city fiscal year, said they are outright candidates to succeed themselves, all of them said they would not refuse the nomination.

The commissioners are George Robinson, who has been a commissioner for 24 years; Robert Joliffe, who has been a commissioner for 24 years; Robert Joliffe, who has been a commissioner for two years and Carlton Lewis, who served an unexpired term of one year.

Robinson said he would not circulate his own petitions. "I have never circulated petitions for myself," Mr. Robinson declared. "But upon questioning, he said he would not decline another term."

Similar expressions were obtained from Mr. Joliffe, and Mr. Lewis said that he felt that he could do a much better job as a city commissioner through the experience gained in his one year in office.

If petitions are filed for more than six candidates, a primary election to choose the six candidates will be held the first Monday in March. If six or less candidates file, the final election on the first Monday in April will be held, and no primary election will be necessary.

Salary of the city commissioners is $5 per meeting, with a maximum of 50 meetings in a year. There are 24 regularly scheduled meetings. The mayor is chosen by the city commissioners.

Students Plan to Complete Terms

Boys to Enter Army At End of School Year

High school senior boys, who have or will register for selective service before the end of the current school year, already are settling down with the view of completing their high school education before entering any one of the armed services.

This was the opinion of Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith, who has received official notification from the Selective Service Board that Senior students who are 18 will receive deferment from induction under certain conditions.

Principal Claude Dykhouse estimated that 45 senior boys already have registered under the Selective Service Act.

None of these youths have been called for induction up to this time, and it is not likely that any will be called before the end of the present semester, which ends January 29.

Those who are called after that date may be deferred to the end of the second school semester if they are pursuing school work which will lead to graduation, and if they are maintaining their work in such manner as to insure graduation with the spring class.

Women Voters to Hear About City Affairs

The January meeting of the League of Women Voters will be held Friday, January 9, at 1:00 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Austin Whipple on Penniman avenue. It will be a dessert meeting. The hostess will be assisted by Mrs. Peter Foster, Mrs. Alan Reid and Mrs. Ed Wikkie. The program for the afternoon will be in charge of the chairman of government and local affairs and will be a symposium on city affairs with city officials on the panel.

Local Residents Far Exceed Hopes Of Committee

Goal of a Million And a Half Dollars Has Been Set For The Present Year

$738,800.00! That vast sum of money was invested by Plymouth residents during the year 1942 in war bonds and stamps!

$738,800.00! That vast figure represents almost four times the entire amount paid by the citizens of Plymouth in city, school and county taxes last year.

It represents a total in excess of $200,000 more than had been expected would be invested in war bonds and stamps in a city of only 5,230 population—a city made up chiefly of so-called "middle class" people.

Last January it was suggested that Plymouth might possibly invest a half million dollars in war bonds during the year of 1942.

No one had expected that the amount would exceed that figure by more than another quarter of a million dollars!

This total represents only the money spent in the purchase of war bonds of the "E" series. It does not include more than $50,000 invested in "G" bonds or considerably more than $10,000 invested in the "F" series of war bonds. Neither does it include the $50,000 invested by Plymouth in the Victory bonds or more than one hundred thousand dollars invested in income tax notes.

The war bonds of series "E" are the bonds that are purchased chiefly by business men who operate stores, restaurants and other small business places, by professional people and by factory workers, farmers, ministers and salesmen.

When Plymouth fighting lads who are in Africa, India, New Guinea, Australia, Alaska, Ireland—on the far-spaced battle fronts of the world—it will be joyous news to them to know that the good people of Plymouth are backing them with their savings—that the city which bears one of the most patriotic names in American history, is not failing to do its duty on the "home front."

Even during the busy holiday period, when every one was buying Christmas presents for children, relatives and friends, Plymouth citizens dug into their pockets and found $78,495 to invest in war bonds during the month of December.

What of the New Year?

Plymouth did well, mightily well in 1942. A million dollars? Will that be our goal?

No! Plymouth plans to double it—a million and a half dollars in 1943! One and a half million dollars for the support of Plymouth boys—and the protection of our homes, from the killers turned loose upon the world by Hitler and the yellow Japs!

More Donors of Blood Sought

Unit Secures Only 124 Pints on Monday

The Red Cross Mobile Unit visited Plymouth Monday, January 4. There were 177 registrations but due to many not keeping their appointments, and rejections, the unit was able to send only 124 pints of blood to the Detroit blood bank, to be used for our armed forces.

All realize the importance of the blood-donor service, so the local Red Cross will continue to lead registrations at the city hall, Beyer's Pharmacy, or telephone 252-W. Many of this week's donors, one of whom gave for the fifth time and many the second and third time, have already registered for the next visit, which will be in about three months.

Any donors who are entitled to silver pins and did not receive them, if they will call Mrs. Penhale, 252-W, they will be forwarded to them.

Owen Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, of Holbrook avenue, left Tuesday for preliminary training in the army air force. He is a 1941 Plymouth high school graduate and enlisted several months ago after his eighteenth birthday.

Chairman Warns Auto Drivers

 inspections must be made on commercial vehicles at least once every 60 days, or every 5,000 miles, which ever occurs first.

In the case of pleasure vehicle motorists, those with "A" ration cards must have their tires inspected once every four months, such inspections to be at least two months apart.

Holders of "B" and "C" rationing books must have inspections made twice as often as the "A" motorists. That is, they must have inspections made every two months, at least a month apart.

Mr. Wood predicted that unless motorists take immediate advantage of the lull in tire inspections, there will be a terrific jam at inspection stations near the end of the month. He pointed out that it might require waiting in line for hours to get the final inspection.

Approximately 4,000 tire inspectors have been authorized in the state, 1,000 of them in Wayne county.

But even with this great number, Mr. Wood said, it will be quite impossible for the 17 tire inspectors to handle jams if and when they occur.

Revocation of gasoline and all other ration books will follow failure to have the tire inspection.

The inspection charge is set by the OPA at 25 cents for all five tires, but an additional charge of 50 cents per tire may be made by the inspector if it is necessary to remove the tires.

Tire inspectors in Plymouth are:

oco service station, 29404 Plymouth road.

E. A. Houseman, 789 West Ann Arbor Trail.

Fluelling One Stop Service, 275 South Main street.

Swanson Super Service, 853 W. Ann Arbor Trail.

Favor Plan To Ration Food

tacted expressed a desire to cooperate and 763 expressed an interest in the food demonstrations.

In connection with the use of low cost foods, one store keeper pointed out that in the future, a comparatively small amount of fine meat would be available for the general public. All of the available good meat which can be shipped is being sent to the army and navy, he said.

At the same time, this store keeper and others interviewed said that there was an inclination on the part of a large number of housewives to buy all of the available material they can get.

Some housewives, he said, are buying the same canned goods day after day. Others are obeying the request of the Secretary of Agriculture Wickard that they not make a rush to buy canned goods which are to be rationed, effective in February.

While all of the grocers have enforced a system of rationing of their own by limiting the amount of goods of a given type which may be purchased, it was pointed out that many housewives are shopping from store to store, buying the same or similar merchandise at each store.

This is a violation of the spirit of advance notice of rationing. And from reliable quarters, it was learned that a strict check on the supply of foodstuffs will be made by the Office of Price Administration when rationing starts.

Inasmuch as each person registering for rationing must state the amount of any given material on hand, there is but little incentive to make overheavy purchases at this time. For all stocks on hand must be registered, and failure to correctly list the supply will result in severe punishment.

Birmingham Trounces Rocks Second Squad

The Birmingham Junior Cagers gave the Plymouth second team a real trouncing last Tuesday, January 5 when they rolled up 33 points to the Rocks' 12.

The Plymouth quintet gave a poor showing in the first quarter, for their only score was a charity loss compared to their opponents' six points. The second period was no better, for the half ended 2-16. The Rocks improved and took five points in the third quarter when the opponents gained nine. The locals continued their shooting to end the game with 12 to Birmingham's 33.

Erdelyi was high scorer with five points to his credit while Williams and Johnson each had two points. Schuler was high man for Birmingham with 15 points and Pearson was next with nine.

Plymouth's starting line-up: Micol, rf; Rienas, lf; Erdelyi, c; Williams, rg; Johnson, lg. Substitutes: Bauman, Schultz, Gdaniec and Phillips.

Birmingham's starting line-up: Pearson, rf; Mobley, lf; Redwine, c; Schuler, rg; Schomfeld, lg. Substitutes for Birmingham, Cameron.

Rationing Rules Must Be Obeyed

Local Board Tells Of Complaints

That rationing is stringent and that there is no indication of the lessening of the rules and regulations can be observed in the reports of violators.

More than sixty gasoline rationing books were taken away from their owners by the courts in Wayne county over the week end.

From reliable sources in Detroit it was learned that numerous complaints are being received from friends, enemies, business competitors and others of violations.

It also was reported in Detroit that these complaints are being thoroughly investigated by government agents.

Since the institution of the rationing of sugar last June, there have been many people who have been having a program with a grain of salt. Many have thought that the rules and regulations set up by the government authorities were rules which could be broken if you knew the right people in the right places.

It is now becoming evident that despite the fact that most people do not like rationing it enters their doors, it is a necessary thing, perhaps a necessary evil.

When there were many people who thought that it would never happen to them. There were many who stored away sugar and coffee and perhaps made a few errors in their applications for gasoline and oil.

There were others who made honest mistakes when they applied for the same commodities. For the most part, the honest mistakes are being rectified.

But there were those who felt that though the government said they could heat their houses only to 65 degrees, they as special cases could get by with the customary 70-75 temperatures.

And it is now becoming certain that such is not true. It is becoming increasingly evident from the facts at hand that the rules were made to be obeyed. The local rationing boards have no choice in their decisions; that the boards must stick to the rules or they as individuals will find themselves in hot water.

Rationing is here to stay until the end of the war. That now seems certain. And there will be an ever increasing number of products rationed because they are scarce.

And while each new product will in itself offer new problems, for the most part the rules are the same. The Office of Price Administration intends to keep everybody alive and healthy. Beyond that the first consideration is the winning of the war.

Thus if everyone bears in mind that if constant honesty with respect to rationing is maintained, there will be fewer complaints for the federal agents to investigate.

Police Rescue Dog From Ice

Things Like This Still Done in America

This is the story of a rescue. As rescues go, perhaps, it isn't so important as others that have been made. But it does go to show that perhaps in America alone of all the world, such things can—and still do—happen.

Things were quiet at the police station last Saturday afternoon, when the telephone rang, and in a casual way it was answered. A resident living near the Wilcox pond informed the police that a small white dog was marooned on a cake of floating ice, unable to make shore.

The police didn't even get the name of the party making the report.

No sooner had the police received that call than they received another about the dog.

Captain Lee Sackett went to the pond and found the dog.

A small white Spitz, it was cold and wet. It at one time reached a cake of ice leaning against the shore. But its wet feet made it impossible to climb the few feet to the shore, and it hopped back onto the floating ice.

Captain Sackett and Ernest Wilson in the latter's boat went out to the ice, got the dog, and returned it to police headquarters where it was later claimed by its owner.

It was just that simple. Nothing sensational about it.

But it did happen.

Imagine one of the Gestapo police doing such a thing.

Duncan Moore Finds Growing Piggies Is Good Business

Duncan Moore, who made a mistake last August and bought six pigs, is now out of the hog business.

Mister Moore, who extemporizes over the air waves on such matters as the war and the price of butter in Hamtramck, sold his sows and pigs this week and by all notices reaped a handsome profit on his investment.

Mister Moore's radio commentator on the affairs of the world and the farm over radio station WJR, like many another farmer at heart, became an auction addict last summer.

He followed the fast talkers around this part of the country, until it was reported there were times when he couldn't get all the stuff home which he bought. Well, one hot day last August, Mister Moore, left his plantation on Newburg road and went to an auction.

He found the auctioneer standing beside a stack of tools. Bidding was started.

Forty, forty, forty, forty—forty-five, forty-five, forty-five. "Bidy," said Mister Moore.

"Sold," said the auctioneer.

Mister Moore hid himself to the clerk and wrote a check for fifty dollars, wondering the while how he might manage to get the tools home.

But the auctioneer and clerk got together and informed him that he had bought six pigs.

Now Mister Moore is not a person to Welch on a thing of that kind, so he got the pigs into his barn lot and began buying feed for them. Then they farrowed and Mister Moore had sows and pigs.

But they're all gone now, and in a way Mister Moore is glad. He hadn't exactly learned to love the pigs, but on the other hand he fondly awaits spring when he intends buying more.

On the other hand, he now tells his city intimates that he can buy a copy of "Esquire" without having them look down their noses at him, a dirt farmer.

But, of course, even they know he is a cosmopolitan world traveler.

Christianity reveals God as ever-present Truth and Love, to be utilized in healing the sick, in casting out evil, in raising the dead.—Mary Baker Eddy.

THREE CHEERS FOR YOU from our men in uniform!

And thanks to you from Greyhound!

for postponing your trip until after the Holiday rush

Thanks to you, a most critical period in wartime bus transportation has been passed with flying colors.

Just before Christmas, Greyhound asked you to "Give your Holiday trips to men in the service". And you who have learned to depend upon Greyhound for travel responded wholeheartedly.

Because you postponed such trips, thousands of men and women in the armed forces were able to go home by bus for Holiday leaves and furloughs. They thank you for the precious hours spent with loved ones — and Greyhound thanks you for cooperating so patriotically.

While helping men in uniform, you also made travel smoother and more convenient for war workers and others whose trips could not wait. It's cooperation like this that makes it possible for Greyhound and other bus lines to carry on the tremendous mass-transportation job so essential to winning the war.

Now that the Holiday rush is past, Greyhound will make every effort to see that the service you count on is available when you need it—and with all the comfort and convenience that war conditions will permit.

We suggest, however, that you phone or call on your Greyhound agent well in advance of any trip. He can help you choose days and schedules that will be most convenient for you—and best for wartime travel.

Pulling together this way, we'll keep America's highways at work for Victory!

MATTINSON-MILLER
Miss Agnes Mattinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Mattinson of Plymouth and Lieut. A. B. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller of Osceola, Iowa, were united in marriage in the Calvary Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The candle-light ceremony was performed by Rev. Lynn Stout.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a dress of white slipper satin made with sweetheart neckline of lace and seed pearls. Her fingertip veil was fastened to a heart-shaped coronet trimmed with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white roses and bouvardia.

Mrs. Robert Kalmbach, sister of the bride was matron of honor, wearing an aqua colored satin dress with a matching head piece of the same material. Her bouquet was of tulle and roses.

Lieut. Miller was attended by Robert Kalmbach. The ushers were Glenn Ford and Arthur Norgrove of Plymouth.

Miss Bernadine Norgrove, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George Hessler.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mattinson wore a soldier blue dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nelson on Union street immediately following the ceremony. About one hundred guests were present from Flint, Detroit, Osceola, Iowa and many from Northville and Plymouth.

Lieut. and Mrs. Miller left that evening for a short trip, after which they will leave for Camp Barkley, Texas where they plan to live. For traveling Mrs. Miller chose an Australian green suit with red and black accessories.

Plymouth Snatches Second Victory

Outscoring the Birmingham quintet 34-32, the Rocks took their second victory of the season on the opponents' home court last Tuesday, January 5.

The points were scarce in the first quarter as it ended 5-8 in favor of Birmingham, but the second period proved more profitable for Plymouth and the half ended 19-18 in the Rocks' favor.

The third quarter scoring was basket for basket and Plymouth came out on the small end of a 26-23 score, but they went into the last quarter with good team play and froze the ball until Birmingham intercepted a pass and raced down the floor to shoot wildly for a few seconds. Then the Rocks took a rebound and held the ball until the end of the game.

Ebersole was the high scorer for Plymouth with 14 points to his credit. He made six out of seven charity throws for a percentage of 85.7. Gillis was next with seven points and Bennett followed close behind with six; Donahue accounted for four and Newton three. Moody was high for Birmingham with seven points. The closest to him were Murray, Hopkins and Peterson all tied for four points.

Plymouth's starting line-up: Ebersole, rf; Bennett, lf; Gillis, c; Newton, rg; Donahue, lg. Substitutes: Hunt, Brink, and Shepard.

Birmingham's starting line-up: Murray, rf; Steelman, lf; Hopkins, c; Zoellin, rg; Peterson, lg. Substitutes: Little, Wangler, Kelly, Olson, Moody, Wright, and Hagggood.

Going to Arizona To Study Desert Plants
Mrs. Anne Labadie, whose hobby of growing cacti developed into Ann's Cactus Gardens on East Ann Arbor Trail, is going to Arizona, where cacti grow wild.

She anticipates spending the remainder of the winter in the Southwest, resting and studying all the forms of cacti which grow in that country.

The cactus gardens will remain open under the management of Mrs. Labadie's daughter, Mrs. Otto Stammitz.

But for all of the customers she has served, Mrs. Labadie has a surprise. She intends sending all of them a cactus from Arizona if they will call at the gardens and leave their names.

HELP! On Want Ads!
The Plymouth Mail finds it necessary to make an appeal to its many readers to get their want ads in earlier.

So overloaded are our telephone lines Thursday morning, that it has become almost an impossibility to take care of the calls that come to the office.

We are, therefore, asking our many patrons to get their want ads in on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, if possible. It would be far better if you could bring them or mail them to the office, very early in the week.

We do not like to set a "deadline" unless it is necessary. But with our telephones so overloaded and the help situation becoming critical, we seek your aid in solving one of our serious problems.

Thanks for whatever you do.

Liquor Store Continues to Run Short of Demand

Manager Able to Get Only Small Supply for City
The first world war brought prohibition to the United States, and it begins to appear that the second world war is going to bring temperance.

The temperance may be enforced by the exigencies of war, but it will be temperance because the liquor just isn't available.

The state liquor store in the Mayflower hotel had a supply for new year revellers. But the store was closed before nightfall, and has not been re-opened.

Ralph Lorenz, manager of the liquor store, said he anticipated a small supply for the week-end, but that he was certain it would last but a short time, and that the store again would be closed pending the receipt of a new supply.

Further, Lorenz was uncertain how large a supply he would receive this week, or in the future.

The shortage of liquor is based on two premises. First, there is the matter of transportation. There will be no transportation of liquor from manufacturers to warehouses to dealers except as secondary freight to munitions, weapons and other war supplies.

Second, all manufacture of spirituous liquors has been stopped in order that distillers may use their plants for the manufacture of alcohol, a vital commodity in the manufacture of munitions.

There has been no whiskey or other spirituous liquor manufactured in the United States since November 1.

The result is that the large manufacturers, while they have a large supply of whiskey and other liquors on hand, are not going to sell it out and be left with empty stocks to again begin business with the end of the conflict.

They, then, are parceling the liquor out to warehouses in small lots. Thus they provide the public with a portion of its normal liquor supply, at the same time keeping their brand names before the public.

On the other hand, the blenders of liquor, who buy whiskey and alcohol from the distillers, and blend it and sell it under brand names are rapidly passing from the picture due to their inability to buy from the distillers.

Warehouses are receiving only a portion of their normal liquor supplies. The warehouses in turn are rationing their supplies to dealers.

Liquor for the local store is obtained at the Ann Arbor warehouse. Lorenz said he had talked with officials there, but that they were as much in the dark as he.

It also was pointed out that with a new state administration, there was no indication of just what course will be pursued in the future.

Lorenz said he did not know whether the store would attempt to operate on curtailed but regular hours, or whether it would be opened, as at present, when a supply is on hand, and closed when the supply is gone.

A life merely of pleasure, or chiefly of pleasure, is always a poor and worthless life, not worth the living; always unsatisfactory in its course, always miserable in its end.—Theodore Parker.

"What on earth has a battleship got to do with my cooking?" JACK: Plenty, Mom... plenty! They tell me down at the Navy yard almost every thing that goes into making those babies is cooked with Gas. MOTHER: Cooked? What do you mean cooked... JACK: Heat-treated... to give the metal proper toughness. For instance, Gas cooks armor plate so it will shake off big shells and not shatter under gunfire. And the steel for tanks, guns, planes and bombs... they're all cooked with Gas! MOTHER: But why Gas? JACK: Why Gas! You ought to know... because it saves time and money makin' a battlewagon—just as it saves you time and money cookin' a meal! MOTHER: So that's why they say we may be asked to conserve Gas for home uses this winter. JACK: That's it, Mom... Gas is mighty important stuff, and they need lots of it to win the war! MOTHER: Well, if I can help... I'll be glad to do my bit. JACK: Now you're cookin' with Gas... Mom! * 85,000,000 Americans depend on Gas to save time, money and food in cooking... to preserve food safely in silent Gas refrigerators... to heat water and homes. That's why they've made the Gas Company community headquarters for cooking and nutrition information! If you want the latest advice on these all-important subjects... consult your Gas Company. GAS is vital to war production... use it wisely! Buy War Bonds today—save for the Certified Performance Gas Range of tomorrow.

Ireland Sees Football Game

American Soldier Lads Stage Benefit

The Belfast (Ireland) Weekly Telegraph, the old home town paper of J. J. Wickens, owner and manager of the Specialty Feed company on Haggerty highway, in the last issue just received by Mr. Wickens, made much of the first American football game ever played in that country, a game played between American soldier lads for the benefit of the Royal Victoria hospital of Belfast.

The teams dubbed themselves "Hale" and "Yarvard," the "Hale" boys defeating old "Yarvard" by a score of 9 to 7.

"It was the first display of this American game ever seen in Belfast," said The Telegraph. A crowd of over 8,000 witnessed the contest.

The Belfast Telegraph is only 17 years older than is The Plymouth Mail. Right up in the "corners" of the first page, where The Plymouth Mail carries little war-bond electros, The Telegraph advertises "Old Bushmills" the "Finest Old Liqueur Whiskey."

For the overseas edition, it is apparent that most of the advertising is eliminated, although there was a liberal sprinkling of display advertising of foods, linen, tobacco, soaps and "drug store" medicines.

The news columns are filled with detailed events of the war—and if any one has an idea that Belfast is not 100 percent for the Allies, a brief review of The Belfast Telegraph would change their minds.

It features the fact that "the tide has now turned in favor of the Allies" and was enthusiastic over recent Allied activities.

Outside of war and church news, there was a half column article giving the details of an egg-laying contest in Ulster, in which the record showed that "Rhode Islands Are Best." White Wyandottes were in second place.

The prisoner and others have shown a surprising willingness to give information concerning their own forces.

D.A.R. Plans More Aid to Soldiers

Will Aid Blood Plasma Campaign

The December meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D.A.R. was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Nichol.

A box luncheon preceded the meeting at which time each member contributed 25 cents for the purpose of sending boxes to some of the soldiers each month.

Mrs. E. J. Cutler in the opening devotions read an original poem which was an appropriate pledge of the Christmas spirit throughout the coming year.

In the business meeting which followed, three new members, Mrs. Blomberg, Mrs. Harry Deyo and Mrs. Lawrence Lyons were welcomed.

The regent, Mrs. Henry Baker, announced that, as Cincinnati is the only city in the United States not seriously affected by war conditions, the national convention has chosen that city for its annual meeting in April.

Detroit will welcome the state convention this year from March 24 to 27. Mrs. Maxwell Moon has been honored as chairman of the music committee for the meetings.

A national project was reported for which each member is to give $1 toward the protection of the blood plasma for the soldiers.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Ruth Osgood delightfully entertained the ladies with a vivid word picture of some of the Christmas festivities enjoyed by the guests, which was included in a 13-day trip on a tramp freighter sailing from New York City to Monrovia, Africa.

The earl of Athlone, governor general of Canada (left) and the Hon. C. D. Howe, Canadian minister of munitions and supply, listen as Geoffrey de Havilland, test pilot and son of the famed plane designer, tells them of the maneuverability of the "Mosquito" bomber, now in mass production in Canada. The bomber, which is shown below, is said to be the fastest in the world.

Mystery Gun Given Test in Los Angeles

One of America's newest weapons, an automatic, pneumatic gun, capable, its manufacturers claim, of firing 12,000 rounds a minute, was demonstrated before army, navy and marine officials in Los Angeles. No powder is used, there is no noise, no flash, and no recoil. The gun's inventor, W. B. Hale, is shown at the right.

Franklin P. Adams At Detroit Town Hall Wednesday Morning

Franklin P. Adams, brilliant star of radio's popular program, "Information Please," will appear at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher theatre, Wednesday morning, January 13 at 11 o'clock.

For five years this whimsical and erudite character has been delighting radio audiences with his unbelievable store of information, unheralded outbursts, of song, and friendly repartee with fellow experts.

Familiarly known as F.P.A. Adams first won fame with "Conning Tower," a clever column which appeared first in the Chicago Journal, then was syndicated in the leading newspapers of the country. Demands for his original jingles, poems, and amusing diary led to the publication of many anthologies including "Tobogganing on Parnassus," "The Diary of Our Own Samuel Pepys," "The Melancholy Lute" and more recently, "Innocent Merriment." In 1938 F. P. A. took his place on the newly created "Information Please" program where he has continued to astonish students with his wide knowledge and prodigious memory.

In his Town Hall talk, Adams will tell what goes on behind the scenes at "Information Please."

Postoffice Custodian Finds Police on the Job, Ready to Act

August Ebert, custodian of the Plymouth postoffice, has found out to both his satisfaction and surprise that the Plymouth police department is on the job, no matter what hour of the day or night.

"Gus," as he is best known to his host of friends around the city, attended a New Year's eve party. It was about 1:30 o'clock in the morning when he decided to go home so he could get up early the next day and go to work.

The thought came to him as he ambled down the street, to stop at the postoffice and check the boiler down in the basement. After he had made his careful inspection, turned out the light and started out of the back door of the postoffice, he found himself confronted by two patrolmen with drawn guns.

Gus turned white in the darkness and asked the officers what they wanted.

When they heard his voice, one of the policemen said in disgust, "Aw, it's just Gus."

Now the custodian of the postoffice knows that the Plymouth police department keeps just as watchful an eye on the postoffice as he does.

ANOTHER PROMOTION COMES TO FORMER "DEVIL" OF THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

From the beautiful Hawaiian Islands where he has been stationed for the last six or seven years with the U. S. Navy, comes a letter to The Plymouth Mail from Albert Miller, better known as "Red" to his host of old friends in Plymouth, in which he tells of another promotion that has just come to him.

It will be recalled that "Red" quit his job as "Devil on The Plymouth Mail" a few years ago to enlist for services on a submarine. After serving way down "under" the deep, blue waves of the Pacific for a number of years, he was transferred to the Naval post office at Pearl Harbor.

"Red" his wife and little son lived through the sneak Jap raid on Pearl Harbor, without suffering personal injury. In his last interesting letter to The Mail received this week, "Red," a son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller of Irvin street, who is now a successful young navyman, says:

"To The Mail staff and many friends: "It has been several months since I last wrote and in my previous letters I said that I would write when anything of any importance happened out here. "Several weeks ago while working at the naval post office as the postmaster I had a very pleasant surprise. Dale Rittenhouse came to see me and we had a regular "gabfest" and during the conversation I learned many new things about many of my friends in Plymouth. Then about two weeks ago my wife, my son and I were in town doing some shopping and I run "smack dab" into Frank Beckwith. As soon as he can get leave again he is coming to visit us and again I will have the good fortune of talking with some one from HOME.

"During the past week I transferred out of the post office to the Naval Air Station at Kaneohe (Ka-nee-o-hee) where I was put in charge of the Engineering section of the boat house. Our main job at the Boat House is to be on hand when there is a plane crash in the water. We use high speed crash boats for this job. The only thing I can say about the boats is that they are "honeys." After being on this job for eight days as Machinist Mate First Class, I was advanced to the rate of Chief Machinist Mate. I am at the top of the ladder now as far as getting any higher ratings in the Navy.

"I can go higher but instead of being a rate it would be a rank as an officer and I hope that before many months pass I will be fortunate enough to be appointed to the rank of Warrant Machinist. "In closing, may I say that The Plymouth Mail is a Godsend, be-## sure. I have had one furlough since I have been in the army, and that was an emergency, I was called back to Plymouth by the serious illness of my mother, but she died before I reached home. I was home eight days at that time. Best regards to all of my old friends in Plymouth," wrote Sergeant Lockwood.

ing so far from home I can keep in perfect touch with the people of Plymouth. "Sincerely yours, "Albert 'Red' Miller."

THANKS FRIENDS IN PLYMOUTH FOR GIFTS

Private John Seguin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Seguin, 1115 Dewey, who enlisted with the United States fighting Marines and is now stationed at San Diego, sends words of thanks to his Plymouth friends for the cards and Christmas boxes that he has received. The young Marine says he likes the service and thinks that the Marines is the finest outfit in the world.

ASKS PLYMOUTH BOYS TO LOOK HIM UP

Captain William A. Kirkpatrick who is with a training battalion at Camp Robinson in Arkansas, in a letter to the Army and Navy column of The Plymouth Mail, says he would like to have any Plymouth boys who are sent to Fort Robinson to be sure and look him up.

"Some of them are very apt to land here as this is one of the important replacement training centers for the Infantry in the United States," he writes. "I received a copy of The Plymouth Mail a few days ago. This is certainly a mighty fine thing on the part of The Mail. While I am not as far from home as some of the boys, I appreciate it more than I can tell you. Many, many thanks."

"The weather down here in Arkansas is what you can rightly call 'lousy.' It is excessively damp most of the time, although it is fairly mild and we do have rather nice days now and then," he added.

SENDS GREETINGS FROM FORT SILL TO FRIENDS IN PLYMOUTH

From Gerald Cooper at the Field Artillery School, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, comes a letter to the Army and Navy column, in which he tells of his own promotion and of the delight of the soldier lads in reading the news of their home town in The Plymouth Mail.

The letter, in part, follows: "I would like to express my thanks for the Plymouth Mail. It is read by many of the fellows who know people in Plymouth. "I have charge of publications in the Motors Course in the Field Artillery School. A lot of fine officer material comes from here, and the course is constantly being changed to give the best methods of instruction to the students.

"I would like to say hello to those friends in Plymouth and in the service.

WAY UP IN ROCKIES, BUT NO SNOW FOR CHRISTMAS

Private James L. Heller, who is located at Camp Carson, near Colorado Springs, in a letter to The Mail, declares that even though they are located way up high in the Rocky Mountains, there wasn't any snow for a white Christmas.

"We haven't had any snow as yet but they say out here you can never tell when it might come, and at times, people who live here, say they get a lot of it," he wrote.

"I am now separated from all the Plymouth fellows, but there certainly is a swell bunch of fellows in this camp from all parts of the country. We get along fine together. You can't beat them. "I have had a little bit of cooking here and I am hoping to go to school and be able to cook the kind of meals they serve out here. It's great food.

"This is a very nice camp and we have many forms of recreation which provides us with plenty to do when we are not on duty. We are just a few miles from Colorado Springs. That is a resort town and there are lots of soldiers there. It's crowded right now, but there is lots to do there. "The people are mighty nice to the soldiers and they do lots of good things for us. This is a very interesting part of the country."

HE'S READY AT ANY TIME TO TAKE A CRACK AT "THOSE JAPS."

Sergeant Russell Lockwood, Plymouth lad who joined up with Uncle Sam's army nearly two years ago, took unto himself a wife and is now stationed out in the state of Washington, writes "Ye Editor" that he is ready at any time to take a "crack at those Japs."

"I have been planning on writing to you for a long time to tell you how much I enjoy The Mail. I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the nice thing you are doing for the soldiers," he writes. "I have been in the army for 21 months. I was married about six months after I entered the service. My wife is a Michigan girl and she has been with me all the time. We were in San Francisco for quite a while. That is a grand place to be. "I am ready to take a crack to the Japs at any time. I may get the chance soon, but I am not ## sure. I have had one furlough since I have been in the army, and that was an emergency, I was called back to Plymouth by the serious illness of my mother, but she died before I reached home. I was home eight days at that time. Best regards to all of my old friends in Plymouth," wrote Sergeant Lockwood.

"HAD A GREAT CHRISTMAS" DOWN AT CAMP WOLTERS, TEXAS.

From Private John Nelson, another one of The Plymouth Mail boys with Uncle Sam's army comes a letter to "Ye Editor" in which he declares that the army certainly put on a "swell Christmas party" for the boys in service. "There was roast turkey—all you could eat—blat gravy, cranberry sauce, stuffed celery, cranberry sauce, lettuce and tomato salad, pineapple upside down cake, ice cream, nuts, candy and coffee," wrote John. "They gave us cigarettes, too, and put on a swell show. Best regards to everybody back home," wrote "General" Nelson.

THANKS FRIENDS IN PLYMOUTH FOR GIFTS

Private John Seguin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Seguin, 1115 Dewey, who enlisted with the United States fighting Marines and is now stationed at San Diego, sends words of thanks to his Plymouth friends for the cards and Christmas boxes that he has received. The young Marine says he likes the service and thinks that the Marines is the finest outfit in the world.

ASKS PLYMOUTH BOYS TO LOOK HIM UP

Captain William A. Kirkpatrick who is with a training battalion at Camp Robinson in Arkansas, in a letter to the Army and Navy column of The Plymouth Mail, says he would like to have any Plymouth boys who are sent to Fort Robinson to be sure and look him up.

"Some of them are very apt to land here as this is one of the important replacement training centers for the Infantry in the United States," he writes. "I received a copy of The Plymouth Mail a few days ago. This is certainly a mighty fine thing on the part of The Mail. While I am not as far from home as some of the boys, I appreciate it more than I can tell you. Many, many thanks."

"The weather down here in Arkansas is what you can rightly call 'lousy.' It is excessively damp most of the time, although it is fairly mild and we do have rather nice days now and then," he added.

SENDS GREETINGS FROM FORT SILL TO FRIENDS IN PLYMOUTH

From Gerald Cooper at the Field Artillery School, at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, comes a letter to the Army and Navy column, in which he tells of his own promotion and of the delight of the soldier lads in reading the news of their home town in The Plymouth Mail.

The letter, in part, follows: "I would like to express my thanks for the Plymouth Mail. It is read by many of the fellows who know people in Plymouth. "I have charge of publications in the Motors Course in the Field Artillery School. A lot of fine officer material comes from here, and the course is constantly being changed to give the best methods of instruction to the students.

"I would like to say hello to those friends in Plymouth and in the service.

Recently another promotion came my way and I am now Sergeant Gerald Cooper.

CHARLES SASAL NOW AT GREAT LAKES

Adding his weight to Uncle Sam's steadily increasing Naval might, Charles Sasal, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sasal, 10052 Wayne road, Plymouth, has reported to the U.S. Naval Training station and is undergoing "boot" training. Young Sasal will take part in a rigid program designed to toughen him physically, and teach him the fundamentals of seamanship and Naval procedure. He also will be given a series of aptitude tests to serve as a guide in assigning him to the type of work for which he is best qualified.

PLENTY OF GOOD FOOD FOR THE BOYS SENT TO AFRICA

The army is seeing to it that the American boys who made the invasion of Africa, are getting plenty of good food, according to letters that have been received from Sergeant Edmund Zielasko, a Plymouth lad with the invading forces. Letters just received from him are the first that have come to Plymouth in some two months. Like the other American lads, he is all "pepped up" over the situation in Africa.

"We have plenty of good food, although it is not up to what we had back home, but there is lots of it and it is good. We have plenty of oranges and sometimes we buy eggs and fry them ourselves," he writes. "The country is very mountainous, and we have plenty of rain. The people speak the French language but I wouldn't say they keep themselves as clean as do the people back home. The Moslem Arabian men wear clothes of white, which they wrap around themselves, wearing the white at all times. The women dress themselves almost the same way, but they completely cover themselves, with only one eye showing. They are very religious. "They ride in carts drawn by mules, and sometimes use camels for transportation. "Never was in better health than I am right now. The boys seem to be enjoying to the fullest this adventure into a new land. "Wish everybody a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year."

By preventing purchasers of new electric motors from buying motors with more horse power than their work requires, the government will save about 15 million pounds of copper, 55,000 tons of carbon steel, and 150,000 pounds of stainless steel annually.

You wouldn't paint piano keys mahogany—

Why CAMOUFLAGE your factory machines?

Piano keys would be difficult to see if they were painted mahogany or walnut, in the same shade as the rest of the piano. But a white and black keyboard provides perfect CONTRAST to make seeing easy and guide fingers quickly and surely.

Why isn't color contrast a good idea for FACTORY MACHINES, where output depends on nimble fingers and the speed and accuracy of machine operators? Actual tests made in industrial plants show that the theory really works: production is increased, errors are cut to a minimum, and improved vision greatly reduces accident hazards.

How is all this accomplished? First, by removing the solid drab color that cloaks most factory machines — the monotonous dull green or gray or black that blends into a solid mass and "camouflages" the working areas from the worker's eyes. (Painting the "danger area" a lighter color provides sharp contrast between the machine and the metal being fabricated.) Second, brightening drab walls and floors and ceilings with a light-colored paint to banish gloomy interior. Third, furnishing GOOD LIGHT to assure speedy, accurate vision and guide hands safely in their tasks.

For the most effective use of light and color contrast in your plant, let our Detroit Edison Lighting Advisors help you. There is no charge for their services. Call RA 2100, Lighting Division. The Detroit Edison Company.

WORDS THAT WASTE WAR HOURS

THERE are two words that crowd the busy telephone wires unnecessarily... they waste 960 hours of switchboard time each day in Detroit alone! "Information, please," whether the request is spoken or dialed, uses central office lines and equipment that already are humming with a war-created burden of calls. All requests for information are unnecessary. But experience shows that three out of four of them are calls for numbers listed in the directory. So please use your telephone directory first. And if you must get a number from information, write it down so you'll have it the next time. It's little things like this that help BIG things go!

Dog Lives In The Easiest Way

Maybe there is a war on, maybe the income taxes are going up, maybe gas is being rationed; but nothing short of being trampled over by the students can make Bowser, a reddish-brown and white dog of some unknown breed, remove his somewhat bedraggled body from the floor of the hall in front of the main doors.

So stood the situation last Tuesday afternoon after Bowser had parked his carcass on the cool hallway floor. It seemed that he had been out on a little hunting jaunt, seeing that his master's supply of meat was being rationed, and had brought upon himself a mean temperature. Even the efforts of Mr. Smith, school superintendent, failed.

If identification of the dog fails, it looks like the Plymouth high school has a new mascot.

Nutrition For National Aid

(This is the sixth of a series of articles written by Home Making III students on phases of Nutrition.)

Are Americans Fed Well?

Well nourished men, women and children are needed to strengthen the human defenses of our democracy. Yet every study made shows that Americans are far from being well fed. Americans need good diets for buoyant health, physical efficiency and long life.

About one third of the young men called for military service were rejected for physical defects due either directly or indirectly to nutritional deficiencies. An analysis of family food supplies, based on a study made by a Bureau of Home Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Department of Labor, shows that the nutritive values of American diets as judged by modern standards differ widely. About one third of the families had diets that might be considered fair. About one fourth had diets that could be rated good. And another one third or more had diets classed as poor. Some 45 million persons in this country are living on diets that are below the health safety line. These persons can be found in every community and in every walk of life.

While it is true that relatively few people die from nutritional deficiency diseases such as scurvy, beriberi, and pellagra, and that only a small proportion of the under-nourished have acute symptoms of disease, it is also true that varying degrees of malnutrition are too common and that much ill health, both physical and mental, exists because of inadequate diets. The newer knowledge of nutrition shows that food fundamentally affects strength, nervous conditions, mental and physical efficiency, life span, and preservation of the characteristics of youth.

A national nutrition conference called by the President of the United States, May 26, 23, 1942, forced national attention on a major problem. The challenging outcome was a determination to take action for better nutrition.

Today, America has the national will and the national means, that is, the nutrition knowledge, the educational machinery, the production capacity, and the manufacturing and distributing facilities to build a strong people.

she does. Mildred's pet peeves are colored knee-length stockings, and conceited people.

People who do not like kittens is the pet peeve of Sally Jean Haas, daughter of George J. and Elizabeth A. Haas of 243 north Main street. She has traveled in Florida, New York, the southern states and Washington, D. C. Her hobbies are swimming, dancing and collecting "really mellow records." In school she has accomplished Leader's Club 6 years, Girl Reserves 2 1/2 years, drama club, cheer leader 3 years, Junior Red Cross, Girl Scouts, Junior play, J-Hop and Prom committees, stunt night, Library club, Pilgrim Prints, and the senior annual committee.

Kay James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. James, lives at 9911 Ingram in Rosedale. While she has been in Plymouth high school, she has been a member of the Library club, on the Senior Prom and J-Hop committees and now is on the Annual committee. Kay has traveled through both northern and eastern parts of the country. She is still undecided as to her aim in life, while her pet peeve is rainy days and her main hobby is collecting phonograph records.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Behler's son, Richard enjoys making airplane models. Dick, as we all call him, lives at 260 Irving street in town. His accomplishments in school have been two years in football, one in track, in Hi-Y, on J-Hop and Prom committees, and in the junior play. It makes Dick angry when people call him "ducky." His only aim in life is to be a success.

Girl hall monitors are the pet peeve of Glen Frederick, son of Alton and Dorothy Frederick of 45989 Ann Arbor Trail. He came to P. H. S. in the tenth grade and has accomplished three years of band, vice-president of the band, on J-Hop and Prom committees, electrician for plays and a saxophonist in Mike's orchestra. His hobby is radio, and his aim in life is radio engineering. Glen has traveled throughout New York and Michigan.

Marjette Martin, Jack Baker, class of '42; Nina Jean Lawson, Cpl. Bob Marshall of the United States Army; Elaine DePlanche, Shiek Erdelyi, class of '42; and Bob Sessions saw "The Invisible Agent" at the State in Ann Arbor last Friday evening.

Jane Scott, Joe Messel, class of '42; Signe Hegge, Jack Christensen, class of '41; Janet Strachan, and Bob Bovee went skiing last Sunday. Afterwards they had lunch at Joe's house and saw "Seven Sweethearts" at the Penn.

Senior Sketches

William Keefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Keefer, lives at 792 Forest. While attending P.H.S. he has been a member of the J-Hop and prom committees, Hi-Y, Camera club, band and orchestra. Bill has traveled through Indiana, Illinois, Ohio, and he has visited Niagara Falls. Un-cooperative girls are his pet peeve. Aviation, hunting, photography, and swimming are his hobbies while to be a pilot in the Army Air Corp is his one aim in life.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bakewell are the parents of Mazie Bakewell of 317 Custer street. Her accomplishments in school are Senior Prom committee, Home Ec club, president of her freshman class, and a participant in all sport. Mazie loves to travel and has been all through Canada and the south, but mainly in Kentucky. She wants to be a career girl; however, her hobby is writing letters to Jack Stout. Mazie's pet peeve is people who still live in the sixteenth century.

533 Starkweather avenue is the home of Patricia Margaret Amheim who lives with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Taylor. She comes from South Lyon this year; while in school there she was very active in speech. She has traveled all through Canada, Ohio, and Indiana. Pat's hobbies are collecting post cards, writing letters, and dancing. Her aim in life is to be able to type very fast. Two-faced people are Pat's pet peeve.

People who say "what" when they are asked a question are the pet peeve of Robert Erdelyi, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B.

Erdelyi of 751 Forest avenue. He has taken an apprentice course in school. He has traveled in Canada, Illinois, Indiana, and northern Michigan. His hobbies are stamp collecting and working on cars, while his aim in life is to do sheet metal layout.

Noel Hover, son of Mrs. Marjorie Hover, lives at 1007 Roosevelt street. He has two years of football, one year on tennis to his credit while he has been a member of the Hi-Y for two years, also of the J-Hop committee, Junior play committee and Senior Prom committee. Noel has traveled to Quebec, two trips west, through northern Michigan and the peninsula four times, and he visited the New York World's Fair. Noel's hobbies are photography and electric trains while his aim in life is to be a photography technician but if the world war lasts long enough he will probably go into either the Navy or the Coast Guard. For once a boy has been found who has no pet peeves, not even crazy hats nor bright nail polish.

Shirley Ann Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman, lives at 10530 Wayne road. As a member of the glee club in the eleventh grade she took part in the Christmas and Spring concerts, she is a member of the Double quartet in her Senior year, and last year was on the decoration committee for the Junior Hop. She has traveled through Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois. Shirley's hobbies are drawing and writing to a boy in the R.C.A.F. Her one aim in life is to get a job and after that—who knows. Instead of having just one pet peeve, Shirley has quite a few among them being—people who don't answer letters, girls who wear anklets with high heels, and girls who wear suntan make-up and that so-called lipstick that's practically black.

Gloria Jane Cramer wants to travel widely and then take up fornia. She lives with permanent residence in California. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cramer at 11779 Haller street. Gloria won an essay contest in her junior year and has been to several Honor banquets. Her hobbies are going to movies, making scrapbooks, and attending baseball games. Charles Thumme, city chief of police, talked briefly to Mr. Cooley's auto mechanics class last Monday on the subject "Traffic Safety." During the talk the students thought up sample traffic situations and Police Chief Thumme explained the conditions involved.

Mr. Thumme explained the complexities of the rubber shortage and reasons for gas rationing and the nation-wide speed limit.

Novelty of the week: Elmo Butler's lock on his locker, number 691, has created widespread interest about P.H.S. for it is not the usual type found on the lockers. Being of some size, four and one-half inches by eight inches, and weighing about twenty pounds, it is almost unpickable by students. Elmo must have a pound of sugar in the locker.

After sleeping in most of the vacation mornings, Wilma Lounsbury, acting a bit sleepy eyed, stumbled into English class last Monday morning and mumbled, "It wasn't even light outside when I got up."

After noseying around a bit, yours truly found that most of the students made but one New Year's Resolution: To buy more War Stamps than last year.

Fashion note: Latest girl's fashion is to wear huge safety pins on their sweaters. One would think the metal pins would be better off in the scrap pile for bullets.

Dick Daniels and Jim Measel became quite interested in "Pascal's Triangle," which is used for finding the coefficients of the various terms in expanding a binomial; they completed the triangle to the forty-third power.

Vegetable Soup Proves Most Popular Food For School Children

School Cafeteria Offers Excellent Variety to Hungry Youngsters

Listen Plymouth mother! Herewith, literally hot off the stew pot, is a course in dietetics. The course may not meet all the requirements of the scientific dietitian, but it meets all the requirements of your child's taste buds.

Taste buds, in event you didn't know it, are those bits of the anatomy occurring in the epithelium on the circumvallate and some of the fungiform papillae of the tongue, on the base of the tongue, and on the anterior pillars of the fauces. (Look it up in Webster. We did.)

The course in dietetics is gleaned from the high school cafeteria which opened again Monday, January 4, with the customary adequate menu, at the customary low prices.

By questioning Mrs. Luella Partridge, manager of the cafeteria, it was quite possible to determine just what the kids who eat at the cafeteria like best.

And inasmuch as the menu runs the gamut—everything that teachers and classes in home economics can think of—the conclusions drawn don't seem open to much question.

For instance, vegetable soup, on which the cafeteria specializes, is the best seller. Conclusion: Favorite dish of kids is vegetable soup. Actually the cafeteria sells at five cents per bowl all the vegetable soup they can make. (Recipe available on request from Mrs. Partridge.)

It is also a fact that the next favorite dish is mashed potatoes (price six cents) two kettles full of which are sold each time they are on the menu.

Here are some of the other favorites and non-favorites of the kids:

Waldorf salad (made of apples, celery and chopped nuts)—the favorite of all favorite salads, and the kids eat the lettuce on which it is served.

Baked custard—a prime desert, especially among the grade children.

Ice cream—on every menu.

Turnips—teacher like 'em. Kids turn up their noses.

Baked potatoes—high school youngsters will eat them; grade school kids pass them by.

Cheese—very little sale!

Sandwiches—meat and peanut butter, okay; others, phooey.

Eggs—can be sold at any time.

Spaghetti—probably the favorite meat dish.

Roast beef—fifteen pounds won't go around.

Of course the school urges the children to bring a sandwich to school with a hot dish. As a matter of fact, teachers stand by and insist that the little grade school youngsters have a hot dish. If the teachers weren't there, they would pass by the hot dish, grab a desert and a piece of candy, and call it a day.

The average price per meal is 15 cents. Mrs. Partridge reports, some of the youngsters spend as much as 30 cents, but these are infrequent. Most of them bring from 20 to 25 cents with them, and there is danger that those in the higher brackets will run into compulsion.

Take a look at the menu for the opening of school after the holidays: cream of tomato soup, 5 cents; wienies and sauerkraut, 12 cents; scalloped potatoes, 6 cents; Harvard beets, 5 cents; vegetable salad, 7 cents; jelly buns, 5 cents; jello 5 cents; ice cream, 5 cents; sandwiches (meat and cheese) 6 cents; milk, 4 cents. If you bought everything on the menu, it would be only 60 cents.

Many youngsters from this menu will choose a hot dog (4 cents) scalloped potatoes (6 cents) desert (5 cents) and milk (4 cents) for a total of 19 cents.

The school averages a gross income of from $35 to $55 a day, and in the first three months of operation this year, the cafeteria showed a profit of $34.53, of which $28.69 was inventory.

The cafeteria, in addition to Mrs. Partridge employs one other full time helper, and eight girl students. The girls are paid 30 cents an hour, which more than covers their lunches.

Mrs. Partridge says she operates the cafeteria which averages 300 guests a day, in the same way that she would operate her own home kitchen. She buys the best food products, for in the long run she thinks they're cheaper, but she also shops for the best prices.

She must charge enough for the food to pay all of the costs of operation, and yet charge no more than is necessary to break even.

It's quite a job.

And the kids love the food.

A MESSAGE FROM HON. ALFRED E. SMITH

EMPIRE STATE, INC.
New York

In order to finance the War and to uphold the hands of President Roosevelt in his fight against inflation, we have all been asked to invest 10% of our earnings in War Bonds.

Aside from the undisputed fact that it is a very sound investment our government is merely asking us to protect ourselves by the investment of this 10%. Compare that to what is being done by the Axis nations to their own people. There is no request for investment there; they simply take the money away from their citizens, to say nothing about what is being done to the occupied countries where all forms of property have been seized.

There is no doubt about our ultimate victory but if you do your share you are helping to bring the War to a close before there is too great a waste of money and material, to say nothing about our boys who are at the front battling for the liberties that we have enjoyed in our country down through the ages.

Wild Lifers To Feast on Venison

Annual Deer Dinner Monday Eye

Monday night members of the Western Wayne County Conservation club will stage the annual venison dinner in the banquet hall of the Jewell & Blain building on Ann Arbor Trail.

Dr. Brick Chaspe, president, and Secretary Ernest Henry, who have been working out details for the event, declare that there will be plenty of venison for all of the members—but that those expecting to attend must get their tickets immediately. Only enough venison will be prepared to care for the number of ticket holders.

President Champe declares that every deer hunter will be given an opportunity to tell all about his deer hunting trip of last fall—and if there are some present who want to "confess" how they missed their buck, he'll listen to their stories, too.

"Of course, the boys should realize that the club is on short-rations, but we will really give them a mighty good meal Monday night. The dinner takes place at 7 o'clock," he added.

No 1943 Auto Plates Received

Car Drivers Use 1942 License

Automobile license plates, ordinarily in stock at the secretary of state's office in November, have not yet been received here.

And there is no indication when they will be received.

Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth branch of the secretary of state's office, said that he had received no information as to the delay.

Neither, he said, had he been informed as to the cause of the delay. However, it was learned from authoritative sources that a shortage of steel, and war work at the state prison where the plates are manufactured, have had a bearing on the situation.

It is presumed that small strips to cover the date on present plates, will be issued this year. It is probable, but not at all certain, that they will be a different color from the green and white plates now in use.

Persons who purchased half year plates last year were issued covering strips for the original issue this year.

Mr. Rambo said that normally a large number of persons had purchased their plates by this time. While they are good until March 1, the plates actually are issued for the period between January 1 and December 31.

Great joy, especially after a sudden change of circumstances, is apt to be silent, and dwells rather in the heart than on the tongue.—Fielding.

Be faithful over home relations; they lead to higher joys; obey the Golden Rule for human life, and it will spare you much bitterness.—Mary Baker Eddy.

I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true. I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have.—Lincoln

Be Watchful!

"INTERCEPT" is more important—in war than in a football game. It is a broad term usually meaning to stop or seize communications intended for the enemy. Information useful to the Axis is intercepted by the Office of Censorship. They are always on the look-out for apparently innocent items in publications and other methods of communication. All newspapers endeavor to meet the requirements of the Censorship Code on a voluntary basis.

Objectional matter occasionally creeps into news columns despite an editor's vigilance and desire to conform to wartime practices for newspapers. Practically every community has boys in service overseas who want the home-town paper no matter how out-dated it is when copies reach them. The only guaranty that each edition will through the censorship screening without the application of the scissors is to print material which cannot be useful to the enemy. Too much detail about soldiers' and sailors' foreign addresses helps the Axis figure out the size and location of our military and naval forces. The approved form of addresses for overseas destinations, particularly that published for public examination, is to list the Army Post Office or Navy Post Office number and the two major mail distribution points—care Postmaster—New York or San Francisco. There will be no occasion for "intercepts" at the Border Control Stations if these simple and sane precautions are observed.

HUNKS INSTEAD OF SLICES.

Do not kick too much about that new administration order which says that bakers can no longer slice loaves of bread for the convenience of customers. Maybe you will be mighty glad to get just hunks of bread to nibble on if congress does not pretty soon put an end to a lot of the faldraln emanating from the hordes of Washington bureaucrats.

IT'S REFRESHING

It is good to read now and then something originating from some labor group which is not in support of pinks, red, communists and other anti-American outfits. Appearing in "The Voice of The People" column of The Detroit Free Press, a few mornings ago, was the following patriotic and common-sense communication:

"To the Editor: Relative to the article in the Free Press of December 24 re "Nowak Wins UAW Support," we the undersigned wish to go on record as not being parties of this endorsement at this time.

"Our confidence in our Government will not permit us to endorse, support, or in any way encourage, any party or parties who are arrested by the FBI until the charges have been cleared, especially when they are of so important a nature.

"We know nothing against Mr. Nowak and will be pleased to have him vindicate himself, but until such time as that happens, we as officers and members of the UAW-CIO in good standing, want it distinctly understood that we do not desire our names connected with something that at this time is contrary to the constitution of the United States of America.

Farmers about here are these days coming into Plymouth banks and cashing government "dole" checks because they did not grow all the crops that their farms could have produced last summer. In other words they are being rewarded by the bureaucracy for not having grown food supplies during the last growing season.

While bankers are cashing these checks, people are being asked to tighten their belts because of a food shortage in the country.

Butter, which has been used in Michigan for generations as a medium of exchange between farmer and grocer, can rarely be purchased in Plymouth stores because of its scarcity. This is just one of the vast number of food items that has practically disappeared from the family table.

Washington has announced rationing of practically every necessary food item at the very time farmers are receiving cash rewards for not having grown all of the food that their farms were able to produce last summer.

Meanwhile Dean Anthony of Michigan State College has issued a statement in which he declared that Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard's recent radio announcement about a forthcoming food shortage, "was a historic UNDERSTATEMENT of fact."

In other words the people of this country face actual hunger, according to Dean Anthony.

We hope that the new Congress will crack down hard on the wild-eyed schemes of the crackpotters and take some real steps to place America back on FULL TIME production both in factory and on farms so that fighting lads and citizens will have a proper amount of food as well as other wartime necessities.

Civilians should follow EVERY suggestion which will in any way help to conserve and increase the food supply of the nation. It is vital to the welfare of our America.

NO LAME-DUCKS.

When the New Deal assumed control of the government it declared, there would be no "lame duck" sessions of congress and that "lame ducks" would be relegated back to the lands from whence they came. We agree with that policy. It has always been our theory that when a person was elected to high office and failed to meet the responsibilities of that position to the satisfaction of the voters, that he should not be appointed to some other important public position.

But the New Dealers didn't carry out this pledge. When Frank Murphy was defeated for re-election as Governor we did not approve of his selection as a member of the United States supreme court. The people of Michigan by their votes had decided that they did not want him in public office after he had been given a trial in high position and proved unsatisfactory.

The same rule holds true with retiring Senator Prentiss Brown. He was tried out in a high position and the voters decided that they did not like the policies he supported. They defeated him for re-election by a small vote. The vote would have been much larger against him if it had not been for unfortunate campaign blunders and political resentments that could not be overcome in a brief campaign. The fact that he had more votes than any other man on his ticket, therefore, makes no difference. He was defeated because of the policies he represented and supported, and not because he was Prentiss M. Brown.

For the administration to now place this defeated official in a high place, where he has far greater influence than he had in his former position, just does not fit in with the American theory of government or with the wishes of the voters of this state.

There can be no criticism of Mr. Brown in this matter. Washington reports from accurate sources say he did not want to accept the high position to which he will be named. The criticism is directed entirely at the "system" which the New Dealers said they would end, but did not. In the palmist days of Hardingism, Coolidgeism and Hooverism there was no such general flaunting of the will of the public as has taken place under New Dealism in the last few years.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Born a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Byron Wilkins, Tuesday, January 2.

All day Sunday the Presbyterian church will be open to people who wish to keep warm. Parents can bring their children to the church parlors whether members of the church or not. In the cities fuel is saved on Sunday by hundreds in this way.

Messrs. Hills and Dickinson of Pontiac have purchased the milk business of Irving Blunk.

Owing to the scarcity of fuel in many homes here the school board has kindly given the Woman's Literary club the privilege of holding their meetings in the kindergarten room at the school house.

Pictures will be the attraction at the Methodist church the next six weeks on Sunday evenings. Everybody likes pictures and it is expected the church will be filled as it has been in other places where pictures have been shown.

Every public school pupil in Michigan will, Friday, January 25 when school opens, salute an American flag in the school room and repeat in unison: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands: one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Every Monday morning thereafter the pupils will go through the same salute and repeat the pledge.

The friends of Earl VanDeCar were greatly surprised last week when just before his departure for the West, he announced his marriage to Miss Olive Dixon of Northville which took place in Detroit last June. They will make their home in Phoenix, Arizona.

Christianity is the companion of liberty in all its conflicts—the cradle of its infancy, and the divine source of its claims.—De Tocqueville.

LIFE'S ALLUREMENT

Oh, let me live in expectation
Of better days that are to be—
And work in sweet anticipation
That Fate some day will smile on me!
And let me hold a fighting sector,
Where I must drive to reach my goal—
Where I, at times, may sip Life's nectar,
But not too often drain the bowl!

And when the day has left me weary,
And I have failed to touch the prize—
May I maintain an outlook cheery,
And never fail to realize
The finest part of Life's attraction,
Lies not in climbing every slope,
Nor in that thing called "Satisfaction"—
It lies in dreams, in faith, and hope!

Babson Says--

Education Cheaper After The War

Next to the spiritual condition of the nation the full employment of its people is of primary importance. Under normal conditions about 45,000,000 are gainfully employed. Today this has gone up to about 55,000,000; while during the depths of the depression of the 1930's there were only 35,000,000 so employed with 10,000,000 unemployed walking the streets. Of these, probably 2,500,000 were unemployable.

Without doubt the United States and Canada will be faced with a big unemployment problem after World War II. Not only will 10,000,000 men be returning from the army, navy and air forces to their homes but another 10,000,000 or more now working in war plants, shipyards, etc., temporarily at least, will be thrown out of work. To the average statistician the situation looks dark and unsolvable. Yet, there is no reason for getting panicky.

To begin with there will be a tremendous "consumer demand" after the war. People will stampede for new automobiles, new refrigerators, new radios and new appliances of all kinds from kitchen utensils to farm implements. Moreover, the people will have the money and bonds to pay for these things. Merchants will again stock up with goods which means that manufacturers must quickly "convert" and re-employ millions of people.

During the years directly following peace, employers should forget themselves in order to save themselves. Many millions will be tired and sick of rationing, price-fixing and government interference. The businessmen will then have a real chance to throw off the "ball and chains" which the New Deal has put upon them. To do this, however, we employers must assume more responsibility and must make a greater effort to give employment than we ever have in the past.

Unless business men do then wake-up and assume leadership, the free-enterprise system may get a severe beating. Those returning soldiers will be in no mood to see factories needlessly shut down. Then the Communists and other radicals will come forward with crazy plans which will make the New Dealers look like hard-shelled Republicans. Yes, the unemployment problem must then fearlessly be met and solved, or else!

No new committees need be formed nor new reports need be issued. The files of the Department of Labor contain voluminous studies on how unemployment can be reduced during a depression. These plans range from raising the school age and getting women back into the homes, to the quota systems in which I was so much interested ten years ago. We will not need new plans for work, but rather we will need merely to work the plans we have.

Here at Washington I have heard of plans to turn some of the great government buildings, now full of clerks, into a mammoth National University for returning soldiers. These plans also include having branches of this great University in different sections of the country using empty munition plants for school rooms and laboratories; while the students can live in the new houses now occupied by war workers. It is estimated that this new National University may have an enrollment of 1,000,000 students!

Of course, such a plan will be fought bitterly both by the old-line endowed colleges like Harvard, Yale, Princeton, etc., and also by the State Universities which have great political influence. On the other hand, the thousands of college professors now working for the government are behind the plan. My own guess is that the decisions will be made, not by those who now have desk jobs of any kind, but by those who are now risking their lives for us in the four quarters of the globe.

Certainly, after World War II, college education will be revolutionized, its cost will be greatly reduced; its "high hat" attitude will be crushed; and the courses will be too much "more practical." Personally I am rather sorry about the latter.

A cultural education is like the foundation of a house. A family which is building a home should not spend all its money on the foundation; but it certainly should not build without a foundation and this should be a good foundation. With the surplus of empty-buildings and idle machine tools after World War II, there, however, will be a great temptation to use many of them for teaching trades, vocations and so-called practical subjects.

Nearly 300 Kits Given Soldiers

Plymouth Canteen Club Makes Report

Between 275 and 300 kits have been distributed to Plymouth soldiers leaving for the service, it has been disclosed by Arno B. Thompson, fund director of the Plymouth Canteen club.

In making his report for the four months' period ending November 30, Mr. Thompson said that $574.70 had been expended for the kits, one of which is given to each soldier or sailor or marine when he leaves for the service. Each kit contains shoe shine set, military sewing kit, writing tablet, change purse, pocket flash light, men's talc powder, brushless shave, nail file, pocket knife, after shave lotion, toilet soap in soap box, tooth paste or powder, two candy bars, two packages life savers, two packages of gum, two pencils, adhesive tape kit, shoe laces (khaki or black), kleenex, one bar laundry soap, small box cookies, small box Ritz crackers, face cloth, face towel.

Purchases for the kits and the packing is handled by the Salvation Army, and they are distributed to the men by the Red Cross Motor Corps. It is estimated that each kit costs about $2.90 and contains materials which the soldier or sailor will find immediately desirable or necessary on his arrival in camp.

Funds for the Canteen Club are supplied by 35 clubs and organizations which contribute each month. Where special clubs have been formed, members are asked to contribute 25 cents each month. Where business institutions contribute, certain specified sums are contributed monthly.

Contributing organizations are: St. John's Episcopal church, city hall office, city hall, department of public works office, Plymouth Tube company club, Plymouth Mail club, Church street club, Eckles Coal and Supply, Smitty's Coffee club, Canton Center club, Vivandiers, Ex-Service Ladies' Auxiliary, Mayflower family table, Purity Market club, Daisy Association, Farm and Garden club, Postoffice club, Ford Motor company, Plymouth, Ford Motor, Newburg, Woman's Club, Michigan Bell boys, Tommy's club, Bill the Barber's club, Business and Professional Women's club, Giles Real Estate club, Senior Girl Reserves, Taylor and Blyton club, Tonquish Lodge Odd Fellows, Kiwanis club, Ex-Service Men's club, Salvation Army, Mom's club, Skip's club, Order of Eastern Star, Sunshine club of Salem, Methodist church ladies' service club. ## What Other Editors Say--

RIGHT THINKING.

Some state officials are more voluble than sensible, more desirous of crashing the headlines than adhering to the functions of their office. This, we believe, applies to Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton when he issues a personal opinion which has the air of an official pronouncement from the department which he heads.

Last week Rushton volunteered the doubt that the legislature could change the time of Michigan by statutory enactment. While his statements were evasive, many people naturally assumed that there was a real constitutional or legal question involved because it was the attorney general speaking. Even if the statement was an official opinion from the department, it would be no more conclusive than one made by any other good lawyer.—Don Vander-Werp in The Fremont Times-Indicator.

A DEMOCRAT SPEAKS UP.

The hungry people of Europe have been led into counting on us to save them from starvation. Yet we are rapidly approaching the tragic position of being unable to feed ourselves, not because we don't have the land and resources, but to put it bluntly, because too much bureaucracy is discouraging and hampering industries that produce and distribute our food.—Charles Seed (Democrat) in The Rochester Clarion.

COMMON SENSE NEEDED.

The post Leon Henderson has held will not likely be one endowed with popularity for anyone who holds it, but Henderson has attracted the wrath of both the public and politicians through appearing to be needlessly tough when explanation and information were what people wanted. In addition to this, in many instances lesser lights in his administration down through state and local organizations have in a few instances seemed to ape his conduct. People just will not be shoved around in what seems to them is an unreasonable manner and the lack of tact on the part of Henderson or anyone else in the organization should be remedied by replacement. We don't need a lot of little dictators in a country that abhors their methods.—Philip T. Rich in The Midland News.
