Old Timer Says This Has Been Mild Winter

Harry Robinson Says It's Nothing Compared To Years Ago

So, you think this has been some winter. Well, it has.

Harry C. Robinson, venerable auctioneer, who has seen winters come and go in Plymouth since 1886, says it has been a humdinger—the worst since 1917, another war year.

But even so, it is nothing compared to the winters way back yonder when.

"I remember," said Mr. Robinson, "the winters we used to have. Why, back in those days, we drove a horse and cutter right over the fences, and the snow would be crusted several inches thick."

"If we started from here to Wayne in the winter time, we paid no attention to the roads. We went, literally, as the crow flies—on a straight line."

When Mr. Robinson came here in 1886, he purchased the livery business which was located where the auction house is now situated on Penniman avenue.

From this livery stable went the horses, sleighs, cutters and bob-sleds which were the transportation of the day.

"In the winters we used to have," said Mr. Robinson, it was necessary to wrap the horses' legs in burlap, because where they would crash through the crusted snow, they would have large cuts on their legs if they were not protected.

But the country around here was more open than it is now. Everywhere you go now there are houses and garages, and business buildings. But in those days, when you left a town, it was open country. The result was that the snow would drift much more than it does now. That was the reason you could drive over the fence tops.

"But even in the towns the snow was worse than it is now. I can remember snow to the bottom of a second story window in Wayne. You had to tunnel across the street."

Still, this has been a tough winter. Two records already have been established in March, with two days recording zero or below. There has been more snow this winter than almost any winter anyone can recall since 1917, when, said Mr. Robinson, there was just about as much snow, and it was just as cold as it has been this winter.

But when it comes to preference—modern winters, or old time winters—says Mr. Robinson: "Give me summer time."

Plymouth High 'Goes To War'

Trained manpower on the war production front is vitally important today as we send more men, women too, to the firing line.

"There has been increased demand for the type of training within industry which prepares job instructors, foremen, and conference leaders for work in those important fields," Director Fern stated. There were 42 courses, with 2,501 new trainees in this field of work, making an accumulated enrollment of 9,858 for the period July 1, 1942-January 31, 1943, or more than twice the total enrolled in these courses during the preceding two years.

New courses listed in the latest report included ship building, and blueprint reading for ship builders.

Machine shop courses, welding, aircraft courses, and inspection and testing continued to be most in demand.

Director Fern urged all unemployed men and women to get in touch with their local superintendent of schools at once and learn what courses now are in operation and what courses are contemplated. There are jobs open in all principal Michigan cities today for trained men and women, he said. Industry cannot meet production goals, and farmers cannot meet the food production goals if there are not sufficient trained men and women to do the work.

Farm areas particularly were urged to start training courses now, if they are not in operation already, to improve knowledge and skill in farm production, or to train farm labor.

Other Michigan cities operating War Production Worker courses, or Rural War Production Worker courses, and the total accumulated enrollment for the past fiscal year, follow:

IF YOU WISH TO READ YOUR OWN METER THIS CARD MAKES IT EASY

To help conserve the nation's stock of automobiles, tires and gasoline, we are reading household meters and some commercial meters every two months instead of monthly.

For the month when your meter is not read, your bill is a payment on account. It is based on your normal use of service, and it enables you to keep your expenses budgeted on a monthly basis. When your meter is read the following month, your bill covers your actual use of service for two months less the amount you have paid on account.

Most customers find this plan convenient and satisfactory. A few have asked the privilege of reading their own meters in the month when our meter reader does not call. That's perfectly agreeable. If you would prefer to read your own meter, drop in at the office and we'll gladly give you some postcards like the one pictured here. They are already stamped and addressed, and it's easy to fill them out.

Everyone is heartily invited to attend. The plate offerings at these services are designated for Missions; the envelope offerings will flow into the church building fund. The Church Building Fund committee, Louis Ribar, chairman; Edward Van Loo, Jens Pedersen, Joseph Rowland, Joseph Schultz Jr. and Roy Fisher, have undertaken the congregation's assignment to raise a great share of the funds for our new buildings during 1943. The total amount to be raised is now tentatively set at $50,000. Contributions in bonds

The Golden Text (I Chronicles 29: 11-12) is: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: . . . both riches and honour come of thee, and thou reignest over all." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Proverbs 3: 13-14): "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding. For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 451): "Man walks in the direction towards which he looks, and where his treasure is, there will his heart be also. WHILE YOU'RE AWAY MY DEAR

The days are longer And the nights so short While you're away at war. I love you dear and Will wait for you, so fight And then fight some more. For as soon as this Battle is won my dear We'll be one once more.

I count the minutes in an hour. The long hours in a day And so my love be true to me While you're so far away.

I made a promise to you And that promise I will keep Though my heart is lonely And I, too, at times may weep. For the time we had together Was as sweet as it could be. I'll cherish it and hold it dear Till you come back to me. Dedicated to my husband in the army. Mrs. Erwin Burdick.

(2) Persons unemployed or working in non-essential jobs must transfer to essential activities. (3) All persons must raise their productive efforts to the highest possible levels.

His Gun Blazes in Raid Over Tunis

Stacking the Deck on the Axis

No Bank Rationing for Small Retailers
Small retailers—with less than $5000 of food sales in December, 1942—have been urged not to open a ration banking account. OPA says small retailers have the option of opening ration accounts, but will help relieve the strain on local banks if they refrain from doing so.

More Harness Leather
Harness leather, demand for which has increased greatly because of enlarged food production goals, will be taken from the armed forces to supply farmers.

Ask Increase For Navy
President Roosevelt has asked Congress for an additional $4,000,000,000 in cash and $210,000,000 in contract authorizations for the Navy; also an increase of $562,000,000 in the amount of 1942 appropriations up and including June 30, 1943. The $562,000,000 was previously allocated for the fiscal year 1942, ending June 30, 1942, but as the money was not spent or obligated, permission must be obtained from Congress for the sum to be continued as part of the 1943 appropriation.

Save 400,000 Tires
About 400,000 passenger car tires were saved by tire inspections during the first two months. These tires needed immediate repair and would have been beyond repair for future use if they had not been taken out of service.

Newsprint Cut Coming
Readers may find it hard to get a copy of their favorite newspaper after April 1, when the second 10 per cent cut in newsprint paper is likely to become effective. WPB's Printing and Publishing Division believes the supply of newsprint if equitably distributed, will prevent undue hardship upon any publication. A newspaper's essential service in wartime is important, and it is hoped will not be materially lessened by this necessary reduction in materials.

Prices for Onions and Potatoes
Prices have been established by OPA for dry onions as follows—Maximum price for all varieties of early dry onions except white $2.60 per 50 pounds (for those harvested February 8, 1943, through Mar. 1943); $1.65 per 50 pounds (for those harvested June 1 to June 30, 1943.)
For white early dry onions, country shippers may add 15 cents per 50 pounds to maximum stated above. For early dry onions of the white boiler or white pickler variety, country shippers may add $1 per 50 pounds. If onions are sold in bulk or the purchaser's container, country shippers must deduct 15 cents per 50 pounds.

For early white potatoes in the South Atlantic, southern central and western areas, prices range from $2.15 to $2.50 per 100 pounds. For Florida and Texas, the maximums are from $3.10 to $3.75 where sold in bulk or the purchaser's container, country shippers must deduct 15 cents per 100 pounds.

Florida Knows There's A War

Angus Heeney Is Back From Trip

★ ★ ★ "If you want to know whether there is a war going on, just go down to Florida and spend a few weeks. By the time you are ready to come home, you will know that there is plenty of trouble throughout this old world of ours," declared Angus Heeney early this week shortly after his return from a few weeks spent in southern Florida.
