Putting on the Heat in a Cold Country

U. S. infantrymen unhesitatingly leap (top) into the icy waters of a mountain stream during maneuvers in Alaska. Below: A machine gun crew takes up position on a snow-covered, wind-swept elevation. Scrubbing through snowbanks and wading through icy streams soon makes tough soldiers of the boys from offices, shops and farms. They become just as tough as the country.

Sound and Fury for the Enemy

Shakespeare wrote of sound and fury "signifying nothing," which is quite the opposite of the sound and fury depicted here. ### City Manager Hints Tax Raise

New Budget Given To Commission

Indications are that the tax rate for the city of Plymouth will be upped about $1 for each $1,000 of valuation, it was stated in a letter to the city commission from City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, together with which he submitted a tentative budget for the next fiscal year.

be taken by the new city commission in the next few weeks.

The city manager recommended that public hearings be held on the proposed budget on May 10. The budget should be approved by the commission within a short time after that date in order that tax notices can be prepared and mailed before June 10.

The increase in the tax rate, which was only estimated by the city manager, is largely due to increases in wages of city employees during the past year and a corresponding drop in the estimated assessed valuation in the city.

The drop in assessed valuation is attributable to a decrease in inventories and a loss of some governmental taxable property.

The budget, which lifts some expenses for the year, decreases other expenses, but comes out with a total of $111,407.50, or approximately $3,000 more than last year. The fact that the budget is not higher still is due to the fact that smaller purchases of material for construction and repair will be possible during the current year.

Anticipated revenue from all state taxes and funds is anticipated to be $30,074.50, leaving a remainder of $81,333 to be raised by direct levy on the taxpayers.

Victory Garden Hints

A fertile, well-drained site is essential. Prepare a good seedbed as soon as soil is dry.

Plant standard, adapted varieties. Order the leading varieties recommended by your local authorities or seedsmen, but don't be too choosy as seed of some varieties is scarce.

Don't waste seeds by planting too thinly. Neither should you buy more seed than you need. In the case of such things as onions and tomatoes, it will pay to buy sets or plants.

Water in dry seasons if possible. Kill weeds as soon as they appear.

Thin young plants early and promptly.

Fertilize well but with care. Spray or dust promptly to control insects and diseases.

Harvest and use crops when young and tender.

Plant in succession for an all-season garden.

Don't waste space on freak novelties.

Can and store all surpluses—don't waste food.

This year it is either grow it or do without.

A half hour a day should be sufficient for the average family size garden, after the garden has been planted.

You must have at least six hours of direct sunlight for vegetables.

Plant a border of showy annuals along the edge of your garden.

bell, in Birmingham, Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Levi Clemens and Mrs. Emma Ryder called on Mrs. Ada Le Van Landis, Friday morning, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emerson Woods, in Plymouth. The ladies had just returned from Los Angeles, California.

Francis Ross, of Ann Arbor called at the Ryder homestead, Saturday afternoon.

Buying Used Car? Get Tire Record

No "A" Books Issued Without Inspection

Because of numerous calls at the Plymouth Price and Rationing board by automobile owners without proper tire inspection records, the board has announced the following rules and regulations:

Whenever a person purchases a used automobile, either from a private owner, or from a used-car dealer, he must obtain from the previous owner the tire inspection record. No "A" gasoline book will be issued to the new owner without the old tire inspection record.

When the automobile is purchased from a private owner, that owner's tire inspection registration must accompany the sale, and is as much a part of the automobile as the title itself.

When the car is purchased from a used-car dealer, it must also be accompanied by a tire inspection record from the original owner, or if it has never been certified to the war ration board an affidavit to that effect, and that the tires on the automobile are the tires which were on it at the start of gasoline rationing.

Old Fashioned Churn For Him

Charles Bennett Wants No Gadgets

Now that the government has advised the farmers and their good housewives of Wayne county that they must produce 6,360,000 pounds of butter this year, which is ten percent more than was produced last year, Charles H. Bennett, president of the Dairy Manufacturing company, wants to buy an old-fashioned paddle churn, so he can help out in this increase butter production.

He's already bought a nice Jersey cow and has it parked out at his place just west of the city on Ann Arbor Trail, but he's lacking a churn.

"I don't want any of these new fangled churns, with motors and a lot of gadgets. I want the kind that my mother had back in the old days, when I had to stand up on a chair to chuck the dash up and down in the old crock churn. I'll show Uncle Sam that the men and women of Wayne county can get out the butter if we can get the tools," said Mr. Bennett yesterday.

Well the production of 63,600 more pounds of butter in Wayne county than was produced last year is no easy task, no matter how many "individualists" like Mr. Bennett put their shoulder to the butter churns. But first its going to be necessary for Mr. Bennett to get the crock churn and then to find a wooden top for the churn and the proper kind of a wooden dash. Maybe somewhere in these United States there might be a churn just like the one that Mr. Bennett is anxious to get for the one cow butter factory he is developing.

Through U.S. Army measures for conserving rubber, the use of crude rubber in war materials has been reduced by 45 percent, and at many posts, camps, and stations animal-drawn vehicles are used in certain jobs to save tires.

More than four million candidates for war jobs have enrolled in vocational courses specializing in training industrial skills for war production.

Thanks For Everything

WALTER ADLOFF

Your patronage during my stay in Plymouth has been greatly appreciated and I am sorry that conditions force my leaving.

I hope you will favor the new owners with a continuation of our pleasant relations of the past.

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

America...you've got to get tougher!

AMERICA—Let's be frank about it... so far, many of us back home have been fighting this war from an easy chair. Many of us have bought War Bonds out of extra cash, out of money we didn't miss too much. We haven't been really tough with ourselves.

But this war is a hard, down-to-reality war. And many of our boys are dying in it.

We've got to buy MORE

So your government asks you to buy Bonds and more Bonds—to get really tough with yourself. We're asking you to give up the frills and "extras."

We know how human it is not to make sacrifices until the crisis drives us to it. In England they felt the same way until the bombs started falling.

Bombs are such persuasive things. But just as persuasive ought to be the spirit of our brothers, sons, husbands.

If you could see Look at it this way—suppose you had a magic carpet that could take you to Africa and New Guinea. Suppose you could hear the groan of American boys wounded, and American boys dying. . . . Say now, how many Bonds would you buy?

That kind of war THEY . . . are dying. And they will keep on dying until we drown the enemy in an overwhelming torrent of bombs, bullets, guns, tanks, planes, ships, and shells.

That's why we're asking you, in this one month of April alone, to lend Uncle Sam 13 billions of dollars—by buying War Bonds. 13 billions of extra dollars—over and above any buying that you'd be doing anyway!

A lot of money

Of course, 13 billion dollars is a lot of money. It'll take sweat and tears to raise it. It'll mean going without now. But also—it will mean savings now—to buy later. It'll mean giving up everything you can't square with your conscience, so that we, us, our children, can have a better, more decent place to live in when this war is won.

The drive is on

So during this month of April, if someone calls on you to ask you to buy War Bonds in this 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE, will you buy to the limit—and then buy more?

Better yet, will you go to your Bank, Post-office, or wherever you're used to buying your Bonds—and buy NOW? Will you lend extra money this month? Money that can hasten the day of Victory? Money that can help to save American lives.

Money buys money

Remember, what you're really buying with your money is still more money. For after all, these Bonds are money! Money plus!

Every dollar you put into War Bonds will bring you a dollar plus interest.

So the more Bonds you buy the better for you, Americans—Get Tough—with yourselves—for your country.

No Change in Recreation Plan

New Director May Not be Engaged

There is every indication that Plymouth's recreation program will be exactly the same as has been followed for the past ten years—operation of playgrounds under the direction of the Plymouth public schools.

While no official action has been taken either by the city commission or the newly appointed recreation commission, there is every indication that a recreation director, authorized by last year's city commission, will not be employed by the new commission.

It was learned on reliable authority that three of the members to be the recreation director, but of the present commission are opposed to spending the money necessary for the employment of such a recreation director, and the setting up of a year-round recreation program, chiefly for adults.

The position of at least one of these city commissioners is that he is not satisfied that the city will be benefited by the program and that, although the city might start out with an appropriation of $5,000, each year would see an additional amount necessary to carry out the work.

At the same time, one of the commissioners said that although he is opposed to the program as it now stands, that "I hope I am not so prejudiced that I cannot be sold."

The recreation commission which was appointed by the city commission last year, already has recommended the appointment of Carl Worden, of Lakewood, Ohio, the appointment has been held in abeyance by City Manager Clarence Elliott pending confirmation of the program by the new commission.

If the proposed recreation program should fall through, it was learned that the previous program which has been operated jointly by the city, the school system, the churches and service clubs, would be continued this summer.

This program under the direction of a joint council representing the various organizations has been in progress for ten years. Last year, in addition to the playgrounds at the Central grade school and at Starkeyweather school, numerous neighborhood play groups were organized.

Superintendent of School G. A. Smith said that the high school band would be kept intact throughout the summer for concerts in Kellogg park and for any other purpose for which it might be needed.

May Consolidate Two Districts

Cooper and Plymouth To Vote On Issue

Residents of the Plymouth and Cooper school districts may be asked to vote at the June school election whether to unite the two districts.

A month ago the Cooper district board of education that grade school pupils from that district could no longer be accepted by the Plymouth schools because of crowded conditions.

The Cooper district school was closed several years ago when the school attendance dropped to one or two students. These were then sent to Plymouth.

At the meeting of the Plymouth board last Monday night, Mrs. Estel Rowland, Mrs. Clinton Gottschalk and Mrs. Don Packard of the Cooper school board talked over what plans could be made for the education of their children without re-opening the school.

Only concrete suggestion was that the Cooper district should become a part of the Plymouth district. If that plan is accepted, the children would automatically attend the Plymouth schools.

The Cooper board members said they would discuss the matter with their constituents, with a view to balloting on the proposal this June.

He has just finished the telephone school and has been promoted to private first class. Phil and I have been together ever since we joined the Marines."

Mr. Dowling is an expert horseman and his assignment to the mounted division is no surprise to his friends.

School Night Pleasing Event

The Plymouth school night at the high school auditorium last Thursday night was one of the most pleasing programs of the current school year, according to the expression voiced following the concert by the patrons who attended.

The auditorium was filled, and many persons were standing preceding the program, which was directed by C. A. Luchtman, head of the music department, and Mrs. Winifred Bixler, director of the senior drama club.

The combined choruses under the direction of Mr. Luchtman sang a group of spring numbers to open the program, including the ever popular "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," by Jerome Kern and concluding with variations of "Easter Parade."

The choruses were followed by the senior drama club's presentation of a one-act play of "The Spoiled Brat." It was the story of a child movie star, spoiled by her mother, who is finally dislodged from the heights to the obvious enjoyment of her child-pecked father. The orchestra under the direction of Mr. Luchtman played a group of numbers, followed by the combined male and women's choirs, which sang a special Easter religious program.

What Happens when you call "Information" needlessly?

Six out of every ten calls to "Information" are for numbers that are listed in the telephone directory. Every time "Information" is asked for a number that is listed, some fifty seconds of war-vital time are wasted. And those fifty seconds, multiplied by the thousands of such unnecessary calls, make a total of 1,180 hours of switchboard and operators' time lost each day in Michigan!

We ask every patriotic telephone user to do these two things—please:

Look in the directory before you call "Information."
If the number isn't listed and you must call "Information," write it down so you'll have it next time.
