All Men Within Draft Age To Face Induction

Plymouth Draft Board Begins Work Of Reclassifying

All men within the draft age limit who are definitely contributing nothing to the war effort are to be reclassified immediately, regardless of whether or not they are fathers.

These are the rules and regulations laid down by national selective service headquarters which will be followed by the local draft board. It was announced this week by Walter Harms, chairman.

"The point is," said Mr. Harms, "that our instructions from Washington are very definite. We have, for instance, a long list of occupations which are definitely non-deferrable. If people are in these classifications and physically fit, they are going in the army. That is definite. And whether they are fathers or not has nothing to do with it."

Help Shortage Threatens Coal Tie Up In City

Local Dealers Are Months Behind On Deliveries

For one reason and another, the fuel situation in Plymouth is not of the best.

Three of the four principal coal dealers in the city report that they are about four months behind on their deliveries. The other is about a month behind, but he has no coal at all to deliver.

Action Taken To Clean Junk Yards

Amelia Street Mess Now Being Moved

After many long months of effort, the city finally has obtained action in its efforts to get the government junk yard at the north end of Amelia street cleaned up.

At the moment, there are more than 800 tons of junk heaped up about the huge yard, but gradually it is being moved out and the Jones Iron and Metal Co., of Dearborn, which has purchased the junk expects to have it all cleared out within the next two months.

A representative of the firm said that torch operators will be sent here within the next week or so to cut up the hundred or more junk automobiles which have been tossed into the rubbish heap.

City Health officer Luther Peck took action against the government owned yard similar to the action taken against the privately owned Plymouth Replacement Parts Co., on Fralick street, and demanded that the yard be cleaned because it was a breeding place for rodents and other germ-carrying animals.

The junk has been piled up at the yard since the spring of 1942 when urgent demands were made by the government for all scrap metal. The WPA which was in existence at that time joined in the drive for all scrap metal. The township was scoured. All of the farm yards were cleared of the metal debris, and the total hauled to the land along the railroad right of way.

When the WPA folded up with the advent of the war, the junk became the property of the War Production Board, which sold the junk to a junk dealer.

About that time, however, the price of scrap iron fell in the market and the dealer was unable to handle all of the junk at a profit. It thus was left lying where it had been piled.

Now, there has been a slight increase in the price of scrap metal, and work has started again.

However, the work was not started until after a letter had been written to the war production board by Dr. Peck, who took the attitude that not only is the junk yard an unhealthy adjunct to the city, but is also a waste of the precious metal which the government has contended it needs.

Next Wednesday, September 1, the Just Sew club will have a potluck picnic dinner at Riverside park near the swimming pool.

New Dentist To Open Offices Here

Dr. Everett Gulden has now occupied the dental suite in the professional building on Ann Arbor road, and will be ready to make appointments by next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gulden, and their two children, Elaine, 10, and Danny, 7, will occupy the Cook residence at Blunk and Williams street, which they have purchased.

Dr. Gulden is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Dentistry, and Mrs. Gulden is a graduate of the University's School of Education.

For the last 15 years, Dr. Gulden has had a heavy practice in Eastern Detroit, and has lived in Grosse Pointe Farms. He said his desire for a change was to move into a smaller community.

His presence will be a welcome addition because of the strain that has been placed on local dentists during the past two years with some of the profession going into the army.

Help Shortage Threatens Coal Tie Up In City

Local Dealers Are Months Behind On Deliveries

For one reason and another, the fuel situation in Plymouth is not of the best.

Three of the four principal coal dealers in the city report that they are about four months behind on their deliveries. The other is about a month behind, but he has no coal at all to deliver.

There are several reasons behind the shortage. The principal one of these reasons upon which almost all of the dealers agree, is the shortage of drivers for the coal trucks.

But, almost equally important, they declare, is the government attitude of urging everyone to fill up their bins.

This urging and scarce publicity, they declare, has prompted more than half of the residents of the city who normally would order two tons of coal, to order four, or six, or even bin fills.

Bin-fill orders (and even more) have been received by the dealers since March, and they are still four months behind.

W. C. Roberts said that the government is now taking advantage of the good weather to fill up the coal docks north of Detroit by boat traffic. This reduces the amount of coal now available in Detroit. But there will be plenty of coal.

The Eckles Coal and Supply Co., which normally has five to six drivers working at this time of year, now has only three to haul not only the coal, but also the building material which it sells.

The Plymouth Lumber and Coal Co., reports that it has a fair amount of coal on hand, but only one driver, who can't work all of the time on coal. Monday, for instance, there was a car load of lumber on the tracks, which had to be unloaded. With only one driver, they had to shut down on coal deliveries.

John McLaren, owner of the Plymouth Elevator Co., said that he had three drivers at work, but like the other coal dealers, is handicapped because it also is necessary to handle building materials. He said it was silly for the government to urge everyone to order big amount of coal—more than they ever have before—especially with the shortage of help.

Most of the dealers who have extra trucks available, are making it possible for home owners to borrow the trucks and haul their own. Exceptions to this rule, of course, are made.

But all of the coal dealers agreed that they will not let the people of Plymouth freeze this winter.

Somehow, some way, the coal will be delivered, even in small quantities for the time being.

All Stoves Are Now Rationed

Buyers Must Have Purchase Certificate

All stoves are rationed. Effective last Tuesday, no new stoves of any kind may be sold without a purchase certificate issued by the Plymouth ration board.

This applies equally to heating and cooking stoves, and to coal, wood, oil and gas stoves.

None of these articles are now being made, as the metal goes into the war program.

New Minister Has A Variety Of Interests

Will Devote Much Energy To Youth Development

Ladies and gentlemen, meet the Rev. Henry Walsh, new pastor of the Presbyterian church.

He's a big, cheerful, ruddy faced, shaggy-haired man, who talks to you between puffs of his sweet-smelling pipes, and tells you of his beliefs, his ideals.

Most significant thing about Rev. Walsh is his ever present good humor, his complete belief in logic, but at the same time his devotion to the doctrines of his church and Christianity.

Statistically, he was born in Rochester, New York, and took his high school work, and the first two years of his college work at Elmhurst, Illinois. After completion of these two years, he received his bachelor of divinity degree from McCormick theological seminary in Chicago, and then completed his undergraduate collegiate work at the University of Rochester, where he also received his master's degree.

He's the father of two children—Sandra who is 10 and Ralph who is 8. With Mrs. Walsh he loves to hike, play badminton and any other sport which is at hand, especially winter sports. He is definitely a party man, who thinks a good time should be had by all.

Mrs. Walsh was a high school teacher of history, mathematics and French, and is a studious reader.

But what impresses more than anything else is the Rev. Walsh's completely logical thought processes. For instance:

"I am not a fundamentalist," said the Rev. Walsh. "Neither am I a modernist. The modernist was too facile. He attempted to square religion with scientific thought, whereas religion should not be scientific at all, but actually is an evaluation of life and what it means.

"Churches, like everything else, change. The church could not exist today as it did in the days of Cotton Mather in New England.

"In those days, it was quite the thing to burn witches at the stake and to frown on usury. To

To Open New Drapery Store Here Saturday

Taylor & Blyton Take Over Place On Penniman Ave.

John Blyton of the Taylor and Blyton store announced the opening tomorrow (Saturday) of a new drapery store to be located on Penniman avenue, in what formerly was the Bartlett and Kaiser grocery.

The store has been entirely renovated, new fixtures have been added and the stock installed for the grand opening.

Mr. Blyton said that the draperies and other similar house furnishings which will be on sale in the store are those that have been located in the basement of the present store.

"However, the demand for this merchandise has increased and we want it more convenient for the public to see it and appreciate its value," said Mr. Blyton.

"At the same time, we are preparing for that time after the war. We want to be ready for it. There is going to be demand for many things after the war, and we hope to be able to satisfy the most fastidious demands of our customers.

"The increasing size of Plymouth has expanded our business to the point where we are actually outgrowing our quarters. This has made necessary this addition to our store.

"We will, of course, offer the same courteous service that has been a business principle of the store since its inception."

In addition to draperies, there will be a good display of curtains, bed spreads, sheets, and blankets in the new store.

Last Street Car Rails Being Taken From City Streets

City workmen are now engaged in taking up the last 35 tons of old street car rails from Main street. The last rails are located between the Pere Marquette railroad and Mill street.

Auto Club Manager Wants Large Maps For Army Use

L. B. Rice, manager of the local branch of the Auto Club of Michigan is searching for large foreign maps of all kinds except those of United States or British territory or maps published by the National Geographic society.

Mr. Rice's efforts are being exerted on behalf of the army map service which is attempting to build up a large map library of all foreign territory.

Travelers, who have had automobile maps of foreign nations are particularly asked to turn their maps in to Mr. Rice who will forward them to the army.

The Auto Club headquarters are in the Mayflower hotel.

Lutherans Plan Annual Festival

Set Date For 5th Of September

The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor of St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church announced this week that the annual Harvest Home Festival will be held at the regular church services on September 5.

The service is held annually to pay homage for another bountiful harvest.

The church will be decorated with the fruits and vegetables raised by the farmer members of the church, who on that day at least will receive from the urban dweller the words of appreciation for the harvest he has raised.

But the farmer will pay his homage to a divine Providence which made the harvest possible.

The Harvest Home Committee this year is headed by William Ash. Other members of the committee are Mrs. Ash; Mr. and Mrs. William Gayle; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Last; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schack; Mr. and Mrs. George Gibbs and Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Eschels.

All of the fruits and vegetables placed at the altar of the church on that date will be given to the Lutheran Institute for the Deaf in Detroit.

Reject Appeal For Deferment

School Teachers To Be Inducted

The Selective service appeal board has unanimously denied appeals made by Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith for deferment of two of his key high school teachers.

The two men are Melvin Blunk, instructor in higher mathematics and Carvel Bentley, coordinator of apprentice training. No action has been taken thus far on the appeal for deferment of Anthony Matulis, director of physical education.

It is not believed that any further appeal for deferment will be made on behalf of the teachers, and that under normal circumstances they will be inducted into the army before the first of October.

Mr. Smith said that "when you consider that the draft is taking men out of total war employment, there is no reason why the school would receive consideration, even though it is difficult to obtain prepared and qualified teachers."

Mr. Smith said that in his work of coordination of apprentice training that apprentices under Mr. Bentley's supervision had worked 5,869 hours during July, and earned $2,976.65. These apprentices study their trades part time, devoting the remainder of their normal school time to normal school studies.

It is expected that a ruling on the appeal made for Matulis will be received shortly, but it was learned also that Matulis also has applied for a navy commission, indicating that one way or another he will be in the service before winter.

Mr. Smith said that all three men would start teaching at the start of the school year and will teach until they are actually taken into the army.

Walter Harms Wins Rotary Award

To Walter Harms, chairman of the Plymouth induction board and one of the most active members of the Rotary club, was last week awarded one of the highest prizes of the Rotary organization, a diamond pin. It was earned as a result of ten years of perfect attendance and interest in club affairs. That means that during the past 10 years he has attended 520 consecutive meetings of the club.

Only five other past or present members of the Plymouth club have ever won this distinction. Rev. Walter Nichol, Otto Beyer, Floyd Eckles, William Conner and Robert Willoughby, were awarded this prized possession for perfect attendance records.

Misses Alma and Dorothy Troyer visited their parents last week-end in Goodrich, Michigan.

Warns About Boys Slighting School Work For Jobs

Points To After War Years As Important Ones

With the opening of schools set for Tuesday, September 7, Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith this week advised all young men that for the sake of their future, they should plan to attend school at least part time during the coming school year.

At the same time, he said that because of the current confusing times, that the high school this year would attempt to arrange courses for the older boys and girls which would not have been possible in normal times.

School will open at 12:30 p.m., on September 7, and Mr. Smith said he was certain that the younger boys and girls should be present at that time to take advantage of the regular opening.

Teachers will arrive by the latter part of next week, and will be ready by the time school opens.

At the same time, Mr. Smith said he recognized that the present economic situation had created in the minds of the older boys and girls, particularly the boys, a question as to whether they should continue their present outside work at high wages, and in a war industry in which their services are unquestionably needed.

Mr. Smith said: "There is no doubt about the fact that industry needs these young men to produce for war. There also is no doubt but what they are making high wages at the present time, and that they are wondering whether or not they should quit these jobs and return to school."

"However, in making their decision, they should bear in mind their future. When this war is over, the competition for jobs will be greater than it ever has been before. Industry will not be able to hire all of the workers who will be available. To the man who is best prepared will go the jobs.

"The young men who are going into the service also should take advantage of the pre-induction training which is being offered to the high school seniors.

"I believe it is to the best interests of the older boys and girls to attend school at least part time.

"To take care of these older boys who wish to go to school only part time, the high school will endeavor to arrange programs which could not be considered in normal times."

Dad Plymouth Talks To Mothers

Dear Parents: I've been wondering the past weeks and months whether any of you parents ever have taken a stroll around Plymouth, Y'know, in these days, we jump into the car and hike down the street and never see a neighbor or a youngster running around the street.

Now, back in the old days, we walked, and we saw things. And I've been walking a lot here lately, and I've seen a few things which many of you have missed, and the things I've seen have made me wonder just how much patriotism there is among some of the parents.

I know, you think I'm an old fogey when I talk about these things, but I've lived long enough to know a few things about kids.

For instance, I know a kid needs his mother—and his father too for that matter. But most of all a kid needs his mother. And I've noticed that a few of you parents are so dad-blamed crazy that you're neglecting your children.

Not all of you, mind. But a lot of you. And I want to tell you that it's not patriotic. Sure, we're fighting a war, but we've got to live and have leaders and a government, and homes after this war is over.

For instance, I saw the other day a kid out on the street who couldn't have been two years old. I know from observation that he wasn't house broke yet. You know what? That kid's mother and father are both working. They hire a little fourteen-year-old girl to look after this youngster.

Now, the little girl is a mighty nice one, and she does the best she can, but it isn't her child that's running around with dirty pants. Maybe that kid will be President some day. The Roosevelts aren't going to live in the White House forever.

The point I'm making is that if you working women, who have children, you'll be doing the country more good than you will by working in the factories.

FATHER PLYMOUTH.

Mrs. Robert McFarland, formerly Lois Schaufele, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Schaufele returned to Akron, Ohio Monday. On Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Schaufele entertained at a family dinner in their home in her honor.

"Rides In Rodeo"

Miss DeRue DePlanche, a graduate of Plymouth high school, and a resident of East Detroit, was one of the performers at the rodeo at the Northville fair last week.

Miss DePlanche who is one of the better horsewomen in this area, rode one of Harry Mack's fine horses in the performance, although she has a horse of her own.

Miss DePlanche, who is 20 years old, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer DePlanche, and is employed at the bomber plant. She rides only for recreation.

Fair Draws Largest Gates

Crowds Biggest In Many Years

Despite the absence of some of the old standbys of the Wayne county fair at Northville, the 1943 edition of the annual extravaganza was one of the best attended in recent years.

And this despite gasoline rationing, despite the absence of the horse races and the horse show and even some of the displays which have always been a part of the fair.

The rodeo was the chief attraction this year instead of the other festivities which from time eternal have come to be recognized as a part of the county fair.

President L. W. Snow of the Wayne county fair board said that he was more than pleased with the attendance at the fair.

Thursday was Plymouth day. Most business houses in the city were closed that afternoon to give everyone an opportunity to attend the fair, see the exhibits and attend the entertainment features.

There was no estimate of the number of Plymouth people who attended the fair from the city, but it was believed to have been a large number of persons took their evening dinner for a picnic.

All announced the exhibits good in spite of the shortage occasioned by gasoline rationing. The rodeo was exceptionally good.

More Volunteer Help Needed To Get Out Gas Ration Cards

Still more volunteer help is needed by the Plymouth Price and Rationing board for sending out the new "B" and "C" gasoline ration cards. An hour or two a day, or even an hour or two a week will help. Those interested should contact Ray Bachelder at the ration board.

Bowling Alleys Ready For Season

The Parkview recreation bowling alleys on Ann Arbor Trail have been thoroughly reconditioned and will be ready for the opening of the fall bowling season. They have been redecorated throughout and they have been air conditioned, it was announced.

The management anticipates a sufficient pin boys this year through the relaxation of present state rules, permitting 15-year old boys to set the pins.

Knitters Needed For Red Cross Work

The Red Cross still needs knitters to help in making trigger mitts for soldiers and sailors. Sufficient yarn for forty pair of these mitts has been received by Mrs. John Bickenstaff. The knitting must be completed and the mitts delivered to Detroit by September 6 if they are to be shipped to the men on the far north, cold fighting fronts in time to be of use this winter.

Plymouth Plans Great Bond Drive

Junior Chamber of Commerce To Repeat Its One Day Campaign—Rotary Plans Auction—Every Father Of Boy In Uniform To Become Salesman

Plymouth, always in first place when it comes to fighting for America, is right now completing plans for the greatest war bond drive ever conducted in any community of its size in America.

It is going to be more than just a war bond drive. It is going to be a LIBERATION bond drive for Plymouth.

Plymouth is going to invest its money in battleships, in bombers, in submarines and in war supplies so that our fighting lads can go to Japan and liberate Joe Merritt and Jack Gordon, Plymouth boys who are held behind Jap barbed wire fences!

Plymouth is going to invest its money during this great LIBERATION bond drive so that other Plymouth boys in uniform will, when our enemies are decisively defeated, be able to return home and enjoy the freedom and the opportunities that the boys of America have always possessed.

Joe Merritt and Jack Gordon, are anxious to get out of the Jap prisons in which they are held.

There is only one way to get them out, and that is equip the biggest and best navy and army of the world has ever known and send that navy and army to Japan to free these Plymouth boys.

It takes dollars, vast numbers of dollars to create great fighting forces.

But America is going to do it. And remember that every dollar you invest in war bonds during the great September drive, will be dollars to help liberate Plymouth boys held Jap prisoners, and to crush desperate enemies of our country.

Two days after the opening of the Third War Loan drive gets underway, Plymouth will splash into the limelight with a gala, carnival style bond drive sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The third war loan drive gets underway on September 9, and on Saturday, September 11, Plymouth streets will be turned over to the Junior Chamber for its gallant effort. Judge J. Rusingh Cutler is president of the organization.

President Cutler has appointed James Hawk as special chairman of the Junior Chamber's war bond drive for Saturday, September 11. A parade at 9 o'clock in the morning will open the Junior Chamber's day of activities. The high school band will head the parade, and efforts are being made to have army equipment a part of the parade.

If the army equipment is available, a "ride in a jeep" for the purchase of a war bond will be one of the feature attractions of the day, says Chairman Hawk.

A bus will be located on Main street near the park throughout the day, and bonds and stamps will be sold from it directly.

Bond purchases also may be made before hand by contacting officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In the last war bond drive, the Junior Chamber sold $35,000 worth of war bonds in its single day of activity. It is anticipated that more will be sold this time.

"I don't want to preach," said Mr. Hawk, "but there is nothing more important than this bond drive.

"Everyone knows what this means. There is no point in my saying again that the soldiers give their lives while we lend only our money. But it is true.

"We are sitting here at home in safety behind the wall of steel which is being erected by our men on the sea and in the field. The least we can do is pay for the steel which our men are using. And actually we are not paying for it. We get this money back and a quarter more besides.

"I know a lot, perhaps even most of the people in Plymouth are paying out ten per cent of their salaries for the purchase of bonds. They are doing it regularly. But that isn't enough. We've got to have more and more and more.

"War is not only hell, it is expensive. But which would you rather be—broke or free? And no one is going broke because of the purchase of bonds. But even if we had to give every penny we have say what we want to say, the right to vote, the right to do as we please as long as we don't interfere with our neighbor.

"I hope every person in Plymouth buys something on Saturday, September 11 which will help our men in the field. I think every child in Plymouth has a dime for a war stamp, or a quarter. I know I see a lot of kids buying ice cream and other trivalities. And this is not a time for trivalities."

Plan Big Season At Woman's Club Takes Solon For A "Ride"

Will Rogers Jr. Up With Col. Hough

Plans have been completed for the winter season of the Plymouth Woman's club, which will be headed this year by Mrs. Catherine Henderson.

Outstanding speakers from Detroit and Ann Arbor will feature the regular meetings, which will be opened October 1 by Betty Roberts of radio station WJBK in Detroit, who will talk on "Interesting Women."

Richey Edwards, organist at the Calvary Presbyterian church in Detroit, will present an organ recital at the Christmas meeting, which will be the only tea held during the year.

Clyde Beck, literary critic of the Detroit News, will present a review of current books at the February 18 meeting and Avard Fairbanks, of the University of Michigan will discuss the theory and technique of sculpture. He will work in sculpture as he talks.

The only meeting of the year at which husbands will be invited will be on January 21, when Arthur Sinclair of Detroit, will give a chalk talk.

Two programs will be featured by talks by local women, the first on January 7 when Mrs. T. Leonard Sanders will be the guest speaker and the second on February 4 when Ruth Whipple will be guest speaker.

All sessions will be held in the Episcopal Parish house.

Doctors Open New Offices In Plymouth

Dr. M. H. Bowers and Dr. E. Falk have opened offices on Ann Arbor road just west of Main street. Both are on the staff of the medical department at the bomber plant, but also will have sufficient time for private practice which it is believed will relieve to some extent the shortage of physicians in this area.

Dr. Bowers has practiced for 33 years at Perrysburg, Ohio, and is a graduate of the Detroit College of Medicine, which is now Wayne University.

Dr. Falk, who has been engaged in practice at Algonac, is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

Both physicians are planning to make their home in Plymouth.

Recreation Commission Has Resigned

Plan To Work Out New Method Of Handling Problem

The Plymouth Recreation Commission which was appointed by the city commission before the last election, was discharged upon its own petition, by the present City Commission at its last session.

The Recreation Commission petitioned for its discharge with a resolution which set forth that it "appears that the city commission has determined that it is not feasible at this time to put into effect its previously adopted program of recreation for the citizens of Plymouth."

It should be pointed out that the recreation program was adopted by the previous city commission, two members of which were defeated at the last election. A majority of the present commission voted against the employment of a recreation director.

In the resolution submitted to the city commission, the recreation commission pledged itself "as individuals and collectively to the establishment of a program sponsored and financed jointly by the Detroit Community Fund and individual citizens of Plymouth through contributions, which would provide recreational activities for the boys and girls and men and women of Plymouth."

The Recreation Commission then recommended support of this program to the members of the city commission and all citizens interested in recreational activities with the conviction that such a program will result in unity of action and early adoption.

The program which was recommended to the city commission received the unofficial, individual support of the members of the commission.

Members of the former recreation commission, still actively engaged in activities to promote the privately financed program are: Charles E. Brake, chairman; Mrs. Jess Hines, Mrs. Arthur Bixler, Robert Wesley, Ralph Taylor, City Manager Clarence Elliott and Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith.

Mr. Elliott said that the program which is being considered is similar to the one which is now in operation at Wyandotte, through the facilities of the Detroit Y.M.C.A.

While the program is sponsored by the Y.M.C.A., it will be open to boys and girls and men and women alike.

Mr. Elliott said that plans are now under way by the discharged Recreation Commission to sponsor a public meeting of interested citizens of the city at which time the entire "Y" program will be explained.

If the public meeting decides to sponsor such a program, and between 200 and 300 $5.00 memberships in the Y.M.C.A. can be sold, then a Board of Directors will be selected, one of which must be a member of the Detroit "Y."

Under the program, the Detroit Community Fund, which in the future will operate as the Wayne County Community Fund will help finance the program here as will the Detroit "Y". An operating secretary would be sent into the community to correlate all of the facilities available for recreation here.

If the program is adopted, the school recreation program, and the various recreation programs now sponsored by churches, clubs, lodges and other organizations, would be correlated into a whole, although continuing to operate individually.

Members of the recreation commission said that the religious aspects of the "Y" program would have a wholesome effect on the restless youth of the community.

The Plymouth Mail desires to be of as much service to want ad customers as possible, but we find recently that many who charge want ads do not send remittance promptly. Our rate is so low that it makes it expensive to send out statements for such small amounts. We do not desire to put the want ad column on a cash basis, but unless remittances are more prompt, it will be necessary to do so. It will be appreciated if want ad payments are made more promptly.

The youthful navyman had but a brief leave of absence after his return from the Mediterranean sea. He states that he is elated over his naval assignment and finds his work most interesting.

Wins Commission As Naval Ensign

ENSING ROBERT CHAMPE

Robert Champe, Plymouth high school graduate, son of Dr. B. Champe, and Mrs. Hildegard Champe of Detroit, recently awarded a commission as Ensign in the United States navy, is now stationed at Fort Schuyler, New York, where he is taking a course in boat gunnery. "Bob" is a graduate of the Plymouth high school and has a wide circle of friends among the young people of the city. During the past year or so he has been employed by the United States Rubber company of Detroit. Ensign and Mrs. Champe have a little two-year-old son.

James W. Adair, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Adair, who reside at 43245 Joy road, died suddenly August 20 while enroute to the University of Michigan hospital in Ann Arbor. Services were held at the Wilkie funeral home Saturday August 21 and interment was made at the Parkview Memorial cemetery.

LENA MELOW

Lena Melow, wife of Howard Melow, passed away August 19 at her home at 28624 Donnelly street after a long illness. Born near Plymouth she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson, six children, three brothers and one sister. Services were held at the Wilkie funeral home with the Reverend Theodore Sauer officiating. Burial was made in the Livonia Center cemetery.

MRS. MITTIE BROWN

Mrs. Mittie Brown who resided at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ora Dyer at 935 York street, Plymouth, passed away Friday morning, August 20 at the age of 83 years. She was the widow of the late William Brown. Surviving are two sons and two daughters, Mrs. Ora Dyer of Plymouth; Mrs. John Haynie, of Pontiac; W. C. Brown and Albert Brown, both of Troy Tennessee; 12 grandchildren and six great grandchildren, a host of other relatives and friends. The body was brought to the Schrader funeral home, and later taken to Troy, Tennessee where funeral services were held Sunday, August 22, at 3:30 p.m. at the Ebenezer church, with the Rev. Raymond White officiating. Interment was made on the family lot in Ebenezer cemetery, at Troy, Tennessee.

HENRY CLAY COMPTON

Funeral services were held Tuesday, August 24, at 11 a.m. at the Schrader funeral home for Henry Clay Compton who resided at 592 North Mill street, and who passed away early Saturday morning, August 21 at the age of 83 years. Mr. Compton is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lottie I. Compton; his son, Harold Compton of Plymouth, four granddaughters, Mrs. Russell Wallace, Mrs. Donald Sherrick and Mrs. Robert Mettetal, all of Plymouth and Mrs. Donald Herrick of Salem, seven great grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends. Rev. George Rothery officiated. Two beautiful hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner. Interment was made on the family lot in Palo cemetery, Palo, Michigan.

ORAH WELCH

Orah Welch, 229 West Pearl street, died early Sunday morning after a long illness. She was born in Northville, February 14, 1913, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Markham, and came to Plymouth to reside ten years ago. She is survived by her husband, Rollin, three sons, Rollin Jr., Wallace and Terry. Also surviving are one sister, Mazzie Markham and brothers, Wallace, Horace, Earl and William Markham as well as her father, Horace Markham. Funeral services were conducted by the Wilkie funeral home from the father's residence at 350 Cady street in Northville, Wednesday, August 25. Rev. A. K. McRae officiating. Burial took place in Rural Hill cemetery in Northville.

Scouts Would Like To Borrow A Tent

Have you a tent—or canvas of any kind? Boy Scout Troop P-2 of Plymouth would like to borrow it. The Scouts of the troop will begin their annual camp on August 30, and there just aren't enough tents in the troop to care for all of them.

Anyone willing to loan a tent or pieces of canvas, are requested to call Arno Thompson at the city hall any evening.

The equipment will be properly labeled and returned to the owner at the conclusion of the camp.

Mrs. Charles Stoneburner and daughter, Margaret, entertained several ladies at their home on Palmer avenue Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Paul Houchins of Texas who has been visiting friends here the past three weeks. Mrs. Houchins left on Thursday morning for Texas.

New Minister Has A Variety Of Interests

day, we don't believe in witches at all and the lending of money at interest is a part of our economy.

"In many respects the church in its various divisions has overlooked the very things which never change. These things which do not change are the doctrines themselves. Many people have fallen away from the church because these doctrines have not been adequately explained.

"The physical side of a church and its activities will change, but the doctrines of Trinity do not.

"I like to stick to logic and to be logical in my thinking. I like to make what I have to say with respect to religion hue to the rules of logic. But for most people, logic alone is too cold. Contradictive emotion without logic runs wild.

"Most people can feel religion whether they understand it or not, but if there is a little understanding, it is much better than to have all emotion, or all logic." Mr. Welch is a great believer in the modern precepts of the church in that he thinks it should be one of the major centers of the social life of a community, and (especially for its members,

Rev. Welch is a great believer in the drama as an outlet for human activity, but he's likewise a believer in all other forms of wholesome activity which takes the place of the less wholesome variety.

On affairs of the world, he also has very definite opinions. He says quite frankly that if he only was to be considered, that he would be in one of the armed services as a chaplain.

"My inclinations are to be with the boys on the battle fronts. But I also have a family, and there is good work to be done on the home front.

"I'm not a believer in war. I wish that we might always get along without war, but it seems to me that I as an individual and as a pastor, must choose between two evils, and take the lesser.

"We can't live off the benefits of war and still preach pacifism. We must love all men because they are men, and the sons of God, but it does not logically follow that we must accept an unwanted way of life because a man with a gun tells us to. We must fight for what is our way of life.

"I don't like war. No one does. But we have a war now which it seems to me was not of our choosing. If I am to preach pacifism, then it seems to me I should go out where the bombs are falling and preach it.

"I can't preach that sort of thing and still accept the benefits which are accruing to me because of the wall which is being erected by our boys in the service against the concept of life which is trying to force its way on us."

Rev. Welch is prone to illustrate many of his statements with down to earth examples of what he is thinking, and for this and other reasons one comes away from an interview with him feeling that he is a real person who undoubtedly will become a real, living, active participant in the affairs of Plymouth.

It's Another "V" For Victory Cucumber

Here's more proof that Mother Nature is interested in the "V" for victory signs.

Yesterday Mrs. Rosalind Reynolds, 49000 North Territorial road, brought to The Plymouth Mail office a perfect "V" for victory sign that had been formed by two cucumbers that had grown from the same stem.

Church News

Hours of services and notices of church organization meetings.

FIRST METHODIST AND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCHES. T. Leonard Anderson and Henry J. Walsh, ministers. Sunday, August 29: 9:00 a.m., church school in each church, with classes for all. 11:00 a.m., union service of worship in the Methodist church with the Reverend Henry J. Walsh preaching on the theme, "Concerning Contentment." The Presbyterian choir will sing under the direction of Mrs. Blankenhagen. Please note that there will be nursery care for small children for the eleven o'clock service. The Sunday school teachers and officers of the Presbyterian school will hold a meeting next week to prepare the program for the year's work. The trustees of the Presbyterian church will hold their regular monthly meeting in Wednesday evening, September 1. If there is need for the services of the pastor for people of either congregation Mr. Walsh may be contacted by calling 138.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Ann Arbor Trail and Elizabeth. Rev. Lynn B. Stout, pastor. "Oh, to have one's soul under heavenly cultivation; no longer a wilderness, but a garden of the Lord! Walked around by grace, planted by instruction, visited by love, weeded by heavenly discipline, and guarded by divine power. One's soul thus favoured is prepared to yield fruit unto the glory of God." Spurgeon. Sunday school, 10:00; morning service, 11:15; evening service, 7:30; young people's, 8:15; prayer meeting, Wednesday, 7:30. This Sunday Rev. William Swihart, North Adams, Michigan, will conduct the services. We were happy to meet you last Sunday. Won't you come again?

ST. PETER'S EV. LUTHERAN CHURCH. Edgar Hoenecke, pastor. Sunday school, 9:30 a.m. Sunday service, 10:30 a.m. Annual Harvest Home Festival, Sunday, September 5, 10:30 a.m. It is extraordinarily appropriate this year for our Christian citizenry to assemble in services of humble and grateful acknowledgment of the bounty of another harvest. What might have resulted, had some of the pessimistic forecasts of last spring materialized, is a matter of gloomy speculation. The fact is, we have been spared a crop failure at this most critical time. "It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because His compassions fail not!" The farmer and producer how much of faith and trust and dependence on the Lord's blessing goes into a successful harvest. The most careful preparation of the soil, the finest seed and fertilizer, back-breaking toil and toil from morn till eve—and your farmer will still scan the skies with anxiety and uncertainty. And the Christian farmer, having done all in his power, will still labour to secure his crop on his knees—in prayer. Recognizing the vital value of the 1943 crop in our national economy as one of the most important contributions of the home front toward a favorable and early termination of the war, and appreciating the crop as a distinct token of the Lord's favor, we shall assemble

FREE METHODIST MISSION— 1058 South Main street, Fred Highfield in charge. Sunday school, 2:30 p.m.; preaching, 3:30 p.m. Prayer meeting Tuesday, 7:45 p.m. Welcome to all to worship with us.

NEWBURG METHODIST church—Verle J. Carson, 9614 Newburg road, Plymouth 860W4. Sunday morning worship at 10:00 a.m. The message will be "First Things." The Sunday school will meet at 11:00 a.m. under the leadership of Mrs. Donald Ryder, superintendent.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service 8:00. "Christ Jesus" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, August 29. The Golden Text (Micah 5:2) is: "Thou, Bethlehem Ephrathah, though thou be little among the thousands of Judah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be ruler in Israel; whose goings forth have been from of old, from everlasting." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 3:14,15): "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p. 473): "Jesus is the name of the man who, more than all other men, has presented Christ, the true idea of God, healing the sick and the sinning and destroying the power of death."

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE. Holbrook at Pearl. Robert A. North, pastor. Phone 749-W. Bible school, 10:00 a.m.; morning worship, 11:15; evening worship, 7:45. Radio broadcast station WEXI, Sunday afternoon 5:00 to 5:30. A welcome to all to worship with us.

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL church. Rev. William P. Mooney, pastor. Masses, 6:00, 8:00, 10:00 and 12:00.

SALVATION ARMY CHURCH. Special services at Salvation Army barracks Sunday, August 8. Envoy Mrs. Talbot, with musical party from Detroit, will give a concert at the Woman's Division, 2 p.m. Sunday. Open air service at the post at 7:30 Sunday evening.

ST. MICHAEL'S CATHOLIC church. Father Contway, pastor. Rosedale Gardens. Masses at 6 a.m., 8 a.m., 10 a.m., and 12 noon.

CHURCH OF CHRIST—188 West Liberty street. Bible school, 10:15 a.m.; worship, 11:00 a.m.; preaching and song service, 7:30 p.m.

SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST church. Sabbath school Saturday, 9:30 a.m. Preaching service following. Place, Jewell-Blaich hall on Ann Arbor Trail. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening, held at various homes. M. V. meetings Friday evening, 8 p.m. at the home of John Denski, 5775 Lilley road. All are invited.

S A L E M CONGREGATIONAL church. Lucia M. Stroth, minister. Divine worship, 10:30 a.m. Next Sunday, August 29, Rev. E. P. Black of Lincoln Park, Michigan, will be the guest speaker in the absence of the pastor who is taking a week's vacation. Rev. Black is a fine Bible teacher and lecturer and will bring an interesting message. Harry Richards will preside. Sunday school, 11:45 a.m. All are cordially invited to attend all services. No mid-week service this week or week following. The Ladies' Auxiliary meeting will convene with Mrs. E. E. Curtis Thursday, September 9 in the afternoon. Potluck supper served. Bring your own dishes and silver and a dish to pass. Everybody is welcome. The E. E. Curtis home is at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Fairground avenue, Plymouth. Every one will enjoy the fine hospitality and lovely home. We are glad to report that Corporal Arthur Lockwood of Tennessee and Sergeant Robert Kisabeth of Walter Reed hospital, Washington, D. C. are both improving.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH. George W. Rothery, pastor. Morning worship, 10:00 a.m.; Sunday school, 11:15 a.m.; evening service, 7:30 p.m.; prayer meeting and Bible study, Wednesday, 7:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to any one of these services.

SALEM FEDERATED CHURCH. C. M. Pennell, pastor. Sunday morning worship, 10:30 o'clock. Sermon subject: "The Reward." Bible school, 11:45 a.m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

CHURCH OF GOD—333 North Main street, Plymouth. Sunday morning services, 9:45; Sunday school, 11:00; Young People's meeting, 6:30; evening service, 7:30. Wednesday evening prayer meeting, 7:30. Reverend Arnold Thompson of Port Huron will be our guest speaker for both morning and evening service. You are cordially invited to attend these meetings. Come and bring someone with you. Rev. Clifford Funk and Alta Skinner will be married at the church August 29 at 3 o'clock. A reception is to follow the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Funk on Newburg road. Everyone is welcome.

Army Chapel Scene Of Wedding For Lois Schaufele
Miss Lois K. Schaufele, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Schaufele of South Main street was united in marriage to Robert L. McFarland, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. McFarland of Akron, Ohio, on Saturday, July 3. The ceremony was performed in the chapel of Camp Wheeler, Georgia.

The young couple were attended by Miss Eugenia Truxell of Akron, a former room mate of the bride and Edgar Parsons of Akron was best man.

Mrs. McFarland is a graduate of Plymouth high school and Michigan State College and is also a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority. She now holds a responsible position as junior computing engineer at the Firestone Rubber company in Akron. Mr. McFarland attended Akron University and is a member of Phi Kappa Tau.

Mrs. McFarland enjoyed a two weeks vacation with her husband in Georgia before returning to her duties at the Firestone plant where she will continue her work for the duration.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaufele attended the wedding ceremony of their daughter in Georgia.

Feature Plymouth Citizens in Pictures

Two well known Plymouth citizens were featured in the illustrated pages of last Sunday's Detroit Free Press. One, that of Dr. John E. Ross, showed the prominent Plymouth optometrist at work in his optical office.

The other picture was that of Ernest Henry, secretary of the Western Wayne County Conservation club, using one of his hands as a roost for a young heron he had found on his place next to Plymouth Riverside park.

This picture was snapped by Jack VanCoevering, wild life photographer of The Free Press.

To Make Drive Soon For Waste Paper

Plans for a paper drive to be conducted either by the school children or Boy Scouts will soon be announced, stated Mrs. Esther Powell, general salvage chairman yesterday. Plymouth's waste paper total has been helped considerably by the collection of four tons of scrap paper from the Wayne County Training school.

The Army's radio photo service, which made it possible for the public to see newspaper pictures of the assault on Sicily on the same day that the invasion was launched, will be augmented in the immediate future by the same type of transmission from the South Pacific theatre, the War Department has announced. Personnel of the U.S. Army Signal Corps, with their equipment, are now in Australia, finishing preparations for the new service.

Born to Technical Sergeant Keith VanAmberg and Mrs. Van Amberg in Salinas Valley hospital, Salinas, California on Wednesday, August 18, a son. He has been named Hugh Franklin. Mrs. Van Amberg was the former Arline Blake, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Blake of Northville.

Official Proceedings of the Plymouth City Commission

August 16, 1943. A regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the City Hall on Monday, August 16, 1943 at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mayor Shear, Comm. Corbett, Hondorp, Lewis and Whipple. Absent: None. The minutes of the meeting of August 2, 1943 were approved as read.

It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Lewis that the bills in the amount of $7111.77 as audited by the Auditing Committee be approved. Ayes: Mayor Shear, Comm. Corbett, Hondorp, Lewis and Whipple. Nays: None.

The Clerk read the following reports: Municipal Court, Police, Violation Bureau, Fire and City Treasurer. It was moved by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Comm. Corbett that these reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

A communication was received from the City Engineer regarding the Amelia street 10-inch storm sewer. He stated that 18 catch basins were already on the 10-inch line. After considerable discussion it was moved by Commissioner Corbett and supported by Comm. Whipple that the City Engineer be instructed to contact Mr. Johnson or Mr. Dunn of the Dunn Steel Products Co. to determine a feasible way for draining the parking lot.

A communication was received from Porth and MacLain in which it was stated that they would place a curb and gutter on Roosevelt between Burroughs and Edison at a cost of $120 per lineal foot. It was moved by Comm. Hondorp and supported by Comm. Corbett that the bid of Porth and MacLain be accepted on a time and material basis.

Ayes: Mayor Shear, Comm. Corbett, Hondorp, Lewis and Whipple. Nays: None. A communication was received from the city of Hamtramck in regards to a resolution passed by their city council. It was moved by Comm. Hondorp and supported by Comm. Whipple that this communication be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

The following communication was received from the Recreation Commission: "Whereas, it appears that the City Commission has determined that it is not feasible at this time to put into effect its previously adopted program of recreation for the citizens of Plymouth, and Whereas, it is apparent, also, that in the absence of such a program, there is no need for the continuance in existence of the Recreation Commission.

Be it Further Resolved, That this commission pledge itself as individuals and collectively to lend support to the establishment of a program sponsored and financed jointly by the Detroit Community Fund and individual citizens of Plymouth through contributions, which would provide recreational activities for the boys and girls and the men and women of Plymouth.

Be it Further Resolved, That the Recreation Commission recommends support of that program to the members of the City Commission and all citizens interested in recreational activities with the conviction that such a program would result in unity of action and early adoption." It was moved by Comm. Whipple that final consideration of this matter be postponed until the next regular meeting. It was moved by Comm. Whipple and supported by Comm. Corbett that the resignations of the members of the recreation commission be accepted with regrets. Carried.

The matter concerning a bus stop was discussed. It was decided that the bus stop at Conner's corner and the Mayflower corner be eliminated and that a new stop be established at the old comfort station.

Mr. Minthorn was present and asked questions concerning compensation. It was moved by Comm. Lewis and supported by Comm. Whipple that the City Manager be instructed to investigate his case with the Travelers Insurance company. It was moved by Comm. Lewis that the meeting be adjourned. Time of adjournment 8:45 p.m.

Army Exchanges, which follow American troops wherever they go, are now dealing in such items as kangaroo rugs, grass skirts, and native-made jewelry, in addition to their staple line of cigarettes, candy, soft drinks, and other home commodities, the War Department has been informed. Since many of the soldiers want to send such things home, the Exchange Service buys them from the natives at a reasonable price and resells them to the soldiers. The natives were inclined to "jack up the price" on direct sales. Grass skirts sell for approximately $1.50, while a good kangaroo rug may cost $20.

The Plymouth Mail desires to be of as much service to its want ad customers as possible, but we find recently that many who charge want ads do not send remittance promptly. Our rate is so low that it makes it expensive to send out statements for such small amounts. We do not desire to put the want ad column on a cash basis, but unless remittances are more prompt, it will be necessary to do so. It will be appreciated if want ad payments are made more promptly.

Take an ICEBERG, FOR INSTANCE

Two-thirds of an iceberg lies beneath the surface of the ocean. And like an iceberg, only one-third of a prescription is visible. Beneath the surface of the medicine are the pharmaceutical manufacturers who produced the drugs and the pharmacist who compounded them. Since these are two-thirds of a prescription, you readily realize the importance of having medicine compounded where you know that the purest quality ingredients will be skilfully weighed, measured and mixed by a thoroughly competent pharmacist.

PETTY OFFICER BOB WEAVER WRITES OF VISIT TO IRELAND

In an exceptionally interesting letter Petty Officer Robert Weaver of the United States Navy writes his mother, Mrs. Louise Leadbetter of 831 Wing street, of a most interesting visit made in recent months to Ireland. "Practically every one had a good time in Ireland, I did especially," he writes. "The country is beautiful. You remember how pretty Kentucky looked when we took a trip down there? Well, Ireland is even prettier. There are so many mountains and they are all green. The trees grow in clusters. I would have given my kingdom for a camera and plenty of film. Sent you some postcards but they do not do the country justice. I saw several old and new castles from the distance. "Belfast itself is very, very old. Remember the picture you saw, 'How Green Is My Valley'?" Well, the buildings in it were almost modern compared to what we saw. The houses in Belfast are built solid and very close together without as much as a blade of grass for a front yard. In fact, they didn't have a front yard. Of course when you get further out from the city in the more exclusive residential areas, everything was very much as it is in the United States. "While in Belfast the Captain gave us liberty from 9 a.m. to 12 midnight. Midnight in Ireland is still as light as it is at 6 p.m. They have only three or four hours of night in the season we visited this country. "My English friend and I took a tramp (train) to Bangor, Ireland, a fairly large city. There we swam in a very modern swimming pool and then went to a very modern building where they had a cafe, cinema, and numerous small stores. We had fish and chips, the best decent meal you can get in Ireland. All the moving pictures shown here are made in America. The USO put on a show with Bob Hope and Frances Langford and some other notables. They are making a personal appearance at all army camps in England and Ireland. It was a really swell show and we certainly enjoyed it. "Sweets are a thing of the past over here, as well as the better meats. When a Yank goes into a cafe, the people try to feed him the best they have because they say if it wasn't for the Yanks, we wouldn't have what we do. "I was going to get you and Eleanor some Irish tablecloths, but I changed my mind in a hurry when they wanted five pounds and 10 shillings apiece for them. "We had so many little fellows come and beg pennies from us. I usually refused them, but later changed my mind when I found that the majority of them were homeless, whose fathers had been killed in battle and their mothers in the German Blitz. They seem to be living in the bomb shelled ruins and begging for what they get to eat. "I really did enjoy my trip to Ireland and would like to go back there for another visit sometime, but not to stay."

WILLIAM KREEGER GRADUATES FROM NAVIGATION SCHOOL

According to a release just sent The Mail from the Carlsbad Army Air Field, at Carlsbad, New Mexico, William Kreeger, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kreeger, 11645 Brownell street, this city, has just graduated from the Carlsbad school, the only one of its kind in the country. All students at the Carlsbad school must be commissioned officers. "Bill" as he is best known to his many Plymouth friends, was commissioned a second lieutenant and received his bombardier wings upon graduation from the Victorville, California, Bombardier school, at Carlsbad where he just graduated, he successfully completed a special intensified course in "dead reckoning" navigation. This training enables a flying officer to direct his plane to its objective and drop bombs on the precise spot most beneficial to the war effort. Mrs. Kreeger is the former Juanita Margaret Wood of Plymouth. Lieutenant Kreeger graduated from the Plymouth high school and was a student at Michigan State Normal in Ypsilanti when he enlisted for military services.

FOUR MORE PLYMOUTH BOYS BECOME AVIATION CADETS

From Maxwell Field, Alabama, comes the information that

GEORGE NOEL BENNETT, 9219 NEWBURG ROAD, ERNEST MARION ENGLISH, 824 SOUTH MAIN STREET, KEITH EVERETT JOLIFFE, 12073 BECK ROAD, AND GORDON B. ROSS, 9810 AUBURNDALE, HAVE REPORTED AT THE ARMY PRE-FLIGHT SCHOOL AT MAXWELL FIELD, ALABAMA TO BEGIN THE THIRD PHASE OF THEIR TRAINING AS PILOTS IN THE U. S. ARMY'S AIR FORCE'S EXPANDING PROGRAM. THEY WILL PROBABLY BE AT MAXFIELD FIELD FOR ABOUT NINE WEEKS.

PREPARING TO BECOME NAVY BLUEJACKET

A brief letter from Sergeant Gerald A. Cooper who has been located at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, has just been transferred to Camp Wolters, Texas, where he expects to be located for some time. Mrs. Cooper is now with him at Camp Wolters, and both anxiously await the coming of The Plymouth Mail each week. He is attached to a replacement battalion.

JOHN NELSON WRITES FROM SOMEWHERE IN ISLAND OF SICILY

From Soldier John Nelson, who has been in North Africa for many months and is now in Sicily, came a letter to his old friends and associates on The Plymouth Mail written July 26 (after the invasion of Sicily) in which he states that "I am hoping for the day to come when this war will be over so I can go back home in Plymouth and live in peace again. Things are going along pretty good and we are still getting enough food—but how I wish I was back in Plymouth eating some of that good fried chicken and nice apple pie. I can't say very much, but I am sending this letter from somewhere in Sicily. Give my regards to all my friends and I hope it will not be long before I'll be back, helping to get out The Plymouth Mail."

DON LEICHTWEIS KNOWS WHAT IT IS TO GO WITHOUT WATER

"We've been out on maneuvers down here in Louisiana. Out all day and all night and the next day. The other day we got a canteen of water in the afternoon, and marched most of the afternoon and then ate supper, but didn't get any water. Then at 11 o'clock at night we ate 'breakfast' and at 1:30 in the morning we moved on again, without water. We sleep for two hours and then at 7 o'clock in the morning we made an attack, and again walked all day—without a drink of water," writes Don Leichtweis, a former Plymouth Mail lad with an army unit in training down in Louisiana. "The boys were able to take it. You can bet we were thirsty but not one fell out," Don wrote.

EVERYBODY HELD UP SPLENDIDLY, WHICH GIVES YOU SOME IDEA OF WHAT GOOD SHAPE THEY GET US IN. BUT IT WASN'T ANY PICNIC AND IT WASN'T A BOY SCOUT HIKE, I CAN TELL YOU. I DON'T THINK WHEN THIS IS ALL OVER WITH WE WILL GO BACK TO CLAIBORNE. WILL PROBABLY GO TO SOME OTHER CAMP, MAYBE OUT WEST SOMEWHERE. WE HAD ANOTHER MARCH THE OTHER DAY. WENT 18 MILES WITH THE THERMOMETER IN THE 90'S ALL THE TIME, AND NOT A SINGLE BOY FELL OUT. ALL IN ALL IT'S A PRETTY RUGGED LIFE FOR A BUNCH OF YOUNG BOYS IN SUCH EXTREME HEAT, BUT WE ARE LEARNING TO TAKE IT AND LIKE IT."

AND THAT'S THE SPIRIT OF THE AMERICAN BOYS WHO ARE GOING TO WIN THIS WAR.

Everybody held up splendidly, which gives you some idea of what good shape they get us in. But it wasn't any picnic and it wasn't a Boy Scout hike, I can tell you. I don't think when this is all over with we will go back to Claiborne. Will probably go to some other camp, maybe out west somewhere. We had another march the other day. Went 18 miles with the thermometer in the 90's all the time, and not a single boy fell out. All in all it's a pretty rugged life for a bunch of young boys in such extreme heat, but we are learning to take it and like it. And that's the spirit of the American boys who are going to win this war.

Reporter Finds City Quiet Place

Not Much News Hereabouts

The editor said: "Well, you'll just have to dig for news this morning. This is the time of year when not much of anything happens."

This is a reporter's report to his editor on his efforts at digging:

To the Editor: Your statement that this is the time of year when news is scarce was a bit of an understatement. As is customary, a visit was made to the city hall. The City manager said he had no news. He submitted the daily police blotter for perusal. Several shop and store windows were reported found open by the police. The police closed them.

The city manager was inclined to discuss conditions in general, especially the national economic and political situation. These matters were discussed at length, but provided no copy. As secretary of the rationing board said that he had no further information, but that he would appreciate a note in the paper that he can use some volunteer help next week in getting out the new gasoline ration books.

Superintendent of Schools George A. Smith said he had nothing to report, and Carvel Bentley, the vocational coordinator, likewise said he had nothing to report. He did say that he had placed about twenty Plymouth kids in the crop corps, picking tomatoes and such, but that he had had very few calls for help this summer.

The school lawn was being mowed. On one side, one of the workmen was pushing a lawnmower, and on the other side the workman had a power mower, but he seemed to be having harder work handling the power mower than the fellow who was doing the pushing himself.

The school traffic light at the junction of Church street and Main street is out. It has been out most of the summer, but it will be turned on again when school starts.

The new police department automobile is now in temporary service while the older ones are being repaired. It's a ritzy affair, and is brown toned in color, not looking like the older black ones. Incidentally, the double lane of Church street when it leaves Main street, is the only one way street in Plymouth.

Curious thing about Plymouth is that there are no corner drug stores. They're all in the middle of the block. That isn't news, but it was noted in passing. Also noted in passing were some marks on the civil war monument in Kellogg Park.

In Kellogg park, a worker was mowing the lawn. Undoubtedly he has the hardest mowing job in the city. Not only are there a lot of shrubs, but he has to move benches all over the place in order to get the grass cut.

This report of efforts to obtain news is written just to show that an effort was made to find some, but as you noted, things certainly are dull.

The reporter.

Ken Corey Says People Careful

Do Not Leave Valuables In Pockets

There is a saying that you can tell about people from their clothes.

If the saying is true, then you may take it from Ken Corey that people are more conscious of themselves today than they were a year ago.

Corey is the owner and manager of the Perfection Laundry Co., which also does dry-cleaning.

And it is about the dry cleaning end of the business that this story is written. To start with, there is more cleaning being done. This is not just more cleaning by different customers. Even the old ones have more of it done.

Suits and dresses are cleaned oftener. People who have never had much cleaning done before, are having it done now. Of course, a portion of this is due to the extra money which is available, but almost equally important is a sense of pride which has been missing in the past.

This meticulousness also is reflected in what is found in clothes sent to the cleaner.

It used to be that you could find anything in clothes from cigars to fountain pens and paid and unpaid bills.

Now, the cleaners seldom find anything in the clothes. There are fewer coins taken from the clothes brought in; fewer handkerchiefs, less and less of this and that.

And it all adds up to the fact that people are more conscious of themselves and their appearance. Most common thing found in clothes now are little gadgets manufactured in the various plants which workmen inadvertently carried away with them. Occasionally there are small tools and gauges. And if possible, everything is always returned to its owner.

About 420 icebergs each year drift into the North Atlantic off the coast of Newfoundland; the area in which they float is about equal to the area of Pennsylvania.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT keeps white houses white

PAINT PROTECTION PAYS

DU PONT House Paint gives you the utmost in protection, because it forms a tough, durable film which guards the surface against rot and decay. And it gives you lasting whiteness, too.

That's because Du Pont House Paint is "self-cleaning"! Like all paints, it collects dirt on exposure to the elements. As time goes on, however, a fine white powder forms on the surface, which is washed away by heavy rains. This powder carries the dirt with it, and exposes a fresh white surface.

This "self-cleaning" process starts after a few months of exposure under normal weather conditions. It may be delayed under unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities. Because this "self-cleaning" process is gradual, the wearing qualities of the film are not abnormally affected.

Du Pont "self-cleaning" House Paint, in white and Tru-Tint colors, costs you no more than other good paints.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT $325 in 5-gallon lots

Because it protects America's war equipment, paint is a vital defense material. Use paint carefully. We will be glad to recommend a reliable painter. He knows how to do the job right, how much or how little paint to use. His skill means savings for you—and paint conservation for America.

Newburg

Rev. Verle Carson is filling the pulpit at Garden City for two Sundays.

The attendance in Sunday school last Sunday, was 106. Miss Martha Britten is spending the week with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jesse at Stockbridge.

Mrs. Jesse Thomas visited in the home of L. S. Thomas, Detroit, Sunday.

Mrs. Frederick Thomas is in Henry Ford hospital for a minor operation.

Visitors in the Justis Slusser home over the week-end were Mr. Slusser's mother, Mrs. Estell Slusser of Flint and his aunts, Mrs. Bay Hall and Orpha DeFoe of Bay City.

Mrs. Melvin Guthrie, her two sons and daughter and nephew, Sammy, of Greensboro, Georgia; also Mrs. Don Ryder and daughter, Doris, spent Monday at Bob-Lo.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Mackender of Indianapolis spent last week with their son, Harold, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Moreland of Detroit called on E. A. Padgug last Sunday afternoon.

Sunday afternoon callers of Mrs. Emma Ryder were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Frost and daughter, Josephine, and Miss Bessie Wood of Muskegon.

Doris Ryder entertained several of her young friends on her thirteenth birthday with a supper in the park and theatre party after.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Armstrong of Strathmoor called at the Ryder homestead last Thursday.

Gives Method Of Drying Foods

Corn, Peas, Beans Easiest To Prepare

Take the results of research and combine it with the experience of hundreds of Michigan housewives—drying fruits and vegetables as a wartime conservation measure rates second to the method of pressure cooking or canning non-acid vegetables, according to Miss Roberta Hershey, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State college.

Inquiries indicate many Victory Gardeners and those cultivating sizeable farm gardens are wondering about preservation by drying.

"The food value is not as high if foods are dried," asserts Miss Hershey. "Sun drying certainly cannot be recommended in Michigan. Oven drying may increase the cost of preservation beyond the value of the preserved food."

When jars are full or pressure cookers not available for canning the non-acid vegetables, some may be dried for wintertime meals. Corn, peas and lima beans, string beans, greens and apples are foods that may be put through a home drying process.

For corn: Gather in milk stage, husk, remove any worm injuries, steam or dip in hot water 15 to 20 minutes to set the milk. Drain, cool, cut kernels from ear. Spread on trays a half to three-fourths inch deep and dry at 130 to 140 degrees. Stir occasionally to separate kernels. When dry, grains will break like glass.

Peas, lima beans: Gather when mature but before pods are dry, shell. Dip four minutes in boiling, salted water, two tablespoons salt to gallon of water, or steam peas eight to 10 minutes. Drain, spread on trays a half or three-fourths inch thick. Dry 115 to 120 degrees allowing temperature to rise gradually to 150 degrees until peas or beans are dry and brittle.

String beans: Cut three-fourths to one inch lengths, steam 10 to 15 minutes or precook five minutes, dry at 155 degrees until brittle.

Greens: Sort, trim leaves, dip in boiling water one to three minutes, or steam two to five minutes, dry at 150 degrees.

Apples: Use mature fruit, but not soft. Pare, trim, slice evenly a fourth inch thick. Keep in salt water, three to teaspoons salt to gallon of water until placed in drier. Start drying 130 degrees, increase to 160 degrees. Apples have elastic, stringy feeling when dry.

Football Practice Open Sept. 1

Announce Games That Will Be Played

Plymouth high school football candidates will gather next Wednesday afternoon to start practicing for their first game which will be played at Farmington on September 17.

Coaches Anthony Matulis and John Tomshack will meet with their prospects at 2 p.m. September first on the school grounds to issue equipment and set hours for regular practice sessions.

Prospects for this year's team are an indefinite quantity but the coaches have some veteran material that will return to play. The team's schedule for this year is as follows: September 17, Farmington there; September 24, Trenton, there; October 1, Ecorse, here; October 8, Dearborn, there; October 15, Birmingham, here; October 22, Wayne, there; October 29, Ypsilanti, here; and November 5, Wayne, here. All games will start at 3:30 this year.

"Polio" Warning Given By State

Warning that August and September are months in which infantile paralysis has occurred most frequently in Michigan in other years, State Health Commissioner H. Allen Moyer today advised parents to take no chances when their children appear unwell.

"Fever, headache, nausea and vomiting may be symptoms of the disease," Dr. Moyer said. "Stiffness or pain in the back or neck, or muscle soreness, are other symptoms. A physician should be called immediately when such symptoms are noticed. Possibility of paralysis is greatly lessened when there is prompt diagnosis and adequate treatment of the disease in its earliest stages."

Nineteen cases of infantile paralysis have been reported to the state health department so far this month. Seven-year average for the period is 35.

Seventy-seven respirators located in 28 Michigan counties now are available when the disease affects muscles of respiration.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Anything new, Bert, on that black market trial up at the county seat?"

"The jury came in 'bout an hour ago, Judge. The verdict was 'guilty.' I understand the sentence is going to be a mighty stiff one."

"Can't be too stiff to suit me. Anything those law-flouting racketeers get will be too good for them. How they thrive every time there's an opportunity to sell something illegally instead of legally in this country. Just like the bootleggers did during the 14 years when liquor was sold illegally instead of legally."

"Unless this black market in meat and other commodities is stamped out and stamped out quickly, Bert, we're in for another dose of the crime, corruption and lawlessness we had following the last World War."

How to STOP FUSE TROUBLE before it happens! It's no fun sitting in the dark simply because a blown fuse has plunged your house into a blackout. Most fuse trouble can be stopped before it happens by observing a few simple precautions. (1) Frayed lamp cords and extension cords are often responsible for short circuits. Such frayed cords are dangerous. Have them repaired BEFORE they cause trouble. (Don't loop cords over a nail. Don't kink cords or tie them in knots. Don't run cord through a door jamb or under rugs.) (2) Never put an electric appliance in water. Never poke at the element of your electric toaster (or any other appliance) with a fork or sharp tool, whether turned on or off. (3) Don't connect too many appliances and extra lamps on one circuit. (4) Be careful not to overload your washer, or feed too many pieces of clothing through the wringer at one time. The same is true of your ironer. (5) Disconnect appliances by pulling on the plug—never jerk out the cord. Do not let cords come in contact with water, grease or acids. (6) If a faulty lamp or appliance burns out a fuse, disconnect it at once—and don't use again until it has been repaired. The Detroit Edison Company. Electricity is not rationed. But its production requires coal and railroad transportation. Don't waste it!

Trimmer Hogs To Be In Style

Farmers Will Sell At Lighter Weights

Michigan hogs will step more lightly and at a younger age when they trip to market this fall, if farmers wisely conserve feed and observe the lessening demand for the heavyweight hogs.

When swine numbers were low and feed was plentiful, it was patriotic and fattened the farm income to market hogs at 50 or 300 pounds, according to F. Moxley, animal husbandry specialist at Michigan State college.

Now hog numbers are high and feed prospects are relatively low. Moxley suggests farmers plan marketing hogs at 180 to 220 pounds, since hogs make the most economical gains up to those weights.

After hogs reach 200 pounds weight, Moxley points out, it takes 50 pounds more of feed to get an 100 pounds of gain than did per hundred for the first 100 pounds.

One proof of the trend to lighter hogs and the ratio of hogs to feed supplies has been the sharp drop in feeder price pigs.

Liberal feeding of concentrates necessary in finishing pigs to 30 or 220 pounds for market. Many early spring pigs are now approaching market weights and will be sold in late August, September and early October. With limited supplies, the early marketing, Moxley concludes, is necessary to make the most economical use of farm feeds and to leave some feed on farms to finish the pigs farrowed after the early spring pigs.

Sugar Story Slightly Sour

Reporter Confuses Worth Of Stamps

Times being what they are, with prices for this and rules for that and something else for something else, the Plymouth Mail last week made an error.

As errors go, no one was hurt except the workers at the office of the Plymouth Price and Reasoning Board who had to answer a lot of question propounded by telephone, and as best they might some irate housewives who thought they had been gypped.

The error was in the sugar story, which said that each sugar stamp was worth 10 pounds, whereas actually it is worth only five pounds.

The women who called, and cashed their sugar ration stamps for five pounds, and then said in The Plymouth Mail that they were worth ten pounds, wanted their extra sugar.

The Mail is sorry, but as mentioned previously, with prices for this and rules for that and registration in one way and another, the error was made.

On his own, man is not a specially fast creature—in the water, at top speed he swims 100 yards in the rate of less than four minutes an hour, while some fish travel at the rate of 80 miles an hour; on land he can race 100 yards at the rate of 21 miles an hour, while some animals do better than 60 miles an hour.

Get Sick on Land to Stop Sea-Sickness

In a giant land, sea and air invasion, Allied military leaders must consider and plan for every emergency—including seasickness. To accumulate data on this subject, the army developed a sea-horse which gets soldiers as sick as they would be after several hours on rough water. As a result of these experiments, capsules to prevent motion-sickness are given to invasion troops an hour and a half before embarkation. Left: Sergt. Arthur F. Problems Many At Liquor Store

Buyers Reduce Stock In Rush

Three-fourths of the liquor stocked at the state liquor store, was sold during the first three days after it was reopened for the sale of rationed liquor.

A. A. Frost, manager of the Mayflower hotel and manager of the liquor store, said that all of the brands which were asked for by the customers were not available, but that as new stock is added, these brands will be available.

Mr. Frost said that the local liquor store has run into some difficulties which will not be encountered by most of the liquor stores in the state.

Because the local store is operated by the hotel, a number of requests have been made by out of state traveling men for liquor. Mr. Frost said that so far as he knows, no provision has been made for the sale of liquor to out of state people who do not hold Michigan cards.

He said that these and other questions are being cleared up as experience is gained.

Mr. Frost said he was interested in the reprint of a state act which says that all persons between the ages of 21 and 25 who purchase liquor after January 1 of next year must have a special card which is issued by the County Clerk. Presumably the act was passed in order to make certain that minors are sold no liquor.

Its effect will be, it is believed, to put added burden on distributors, who already are handicapped by lack of help.

Indiana, New Hampshire and Ohio are the only states which do not have a state motto.

Michigan's Lamb Crop Is Down

Country's Average Is Also Lower

Michigan's lamb crop for 1943 has been estimated at 561,000 head, a reduction of nearly 12 percent from the 1942 crop of 633,000 and 25 percent less than the 10-year (1932-41) average of 749,000. The reductions are due to a continued decrease in the number of breeding ewes on farms and also to the unusually small percentage of lambs saved this spring. The percentage lamb crop (number of lambs saved per hundred breeding ewes) this year was 91 compared with 99 of last year and the 10-year average of 98. The low percentage of lambs saved was largely due to the unfavorable cold and wet spring weather.

The 1943 wool clip in Michigan has been estimated at 6,092,000 pounds from 781,000 sheep shorn with an average fleece weight of 7.8 pounds. This is a reduction of about 5.5 percent in the average weight of fleece. The principal causes of the low fleece weight this year were a long winter with heavy snowfall, and a late spring accompanied by excessive rainfall, which reduced the grease content.

The United States lamb crop for 1943, estimated at 31,101,000 head, was about 1.5 million head or 5 percent smaller than the 1942 crop and the smallest since 1939. Compared with the 10-year (1932-41) average the crop was 3 percent larger. The number of breeding ewes was 1 percent smaller than a year earlier but about 4 percent above the 10-year average.

The percentage lamb crop was 83.3 compared with 86.4 last year and the smallest since 1935. The native lamb crop, estimated at nearly 11 million head was about 5 percent smaller than the record crop of 1942 and the smallest in the last 3 years. In the 13 Western sheep states the estimated lamb crop of 20,137,000 head was about 14 percent below last year's crop. Most of this decrease resulted from the smaller percentage lamb crop.

The quantity of wool shorn or to be shorn in 1943 is estimated at 376,822,000 pounds, about 4 percent smaller than the record production of 1942 but about 3 percent above the 10-year average. The decreased production from the previous year is the result of the smaller number of sheep shorn, as the average weight of wool per sheep shorn (7.90 pounds) was little different from the previous year (7.88 pounds).

Get Your Number! Working Ladies

Yes, Even Though You Work Only Part Time

Women who are now going into the canning industry, whether they work part-time or full time, must have social security account cards, Robert G. Mish, manager of the Dearborn field office of the Social Security Board, said today.

Work of this kind is covered by the Social Security Act.

If the employee does not have a card, one may be obtained from the field office at 14246 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn, which is open between 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m.

There is also an itinerant office in the Plymouth postoffice every 2nd Thursday of each month at 11:00 a.m., which is for the convenience of those living in the surrounding territory.

Mr. Mish also pointed out that wives who take part-time jobs in sales work, as waitresses or in places of business are also covered by the Social Security Act and must have cards.

Women whose cards were obtained before their marriage may be issued duplicate account numbers bearing their present names.

All employers are required to report the wages of part-time employees in any occupation covered by the Social Security Act. The names, earnings and social security account numbers of all employees must be shown when tax returns are made.

All boys and girls working after school and on Saturdays or during their summer vacations in stores and other business and industry must have account cards and numbers Mr. Mish said.

JUST CRITICISM.

The refusal of high state and county officials to use a grand jury inquiry to get at the facts in the recent race riots in Detroit is not in the best interests of the state of Michigan. There is plenty of justification for criticism of the decision.

High crimes have been committed openly and in defiance of all laws, and these crimes came on the crest of a wave of agitation that could result in nothing but riots and bloodshed.

Quack religious leaders did their share to incite feeble-minded white trash to openly commit serious crimes. Misguided colored people who grasp at an opportunity to set themselves up as leaders of their race, played their regrettable part in the affair.

Prosecutor Dowling has arrested a few for commission of actual crimes—but what about the scoundrels, hiding behind white or black robes or no robes at all, the scoundrels who are primarily responsible for the riots but took no part in the actual killings, lootings and beatings—what about them?

Wouldn't a grand jury be able to place proper responsibility upon those who incited the riots but did not actually take part in the crimes? Sure it would.

THE RIGHT ATTITUDE.

The Plymouth Mail has contended over a long period that the New Deal bunglers in Washington should and can be defeated in the next election.

Now comes forth Wendell Wilkie with a statement that "The Republican party should and can win the next presidential and congressional elections."

We are glad to see some one of such a general knowledge of political conditions as Mr. Wilkie possesses, agree with the views of The Plymouth Mail.

We have the most desperate war ever fought in American history to win and it CANNOT be won by an administration that places politics in first place and the war in second place.

The Republicans led the nation to victory in the Civil War, and in the Spanish-American War and they brought long years of peace to the nation.

When victory comes to the Republicans in the elections next year, we will be much nearer VICTORY AND PEACE in this year than we will be if the New Dealers should be able to buy up the election.

POLITICS.

Some few weeks ago The Plymouth Mail commented that Mr. Roosevelt's last address to the country sounded a flat note because of his injection of politics into his war address. He seeks to create the impression that his political party is the only one which has an interest in the welfare of the soldier boys after their return from a victorious war.

The Detroit Times, which has available records and data, used its vast information to show just how apparent was Mr. Roosevelt's political intent in his war address.

The Times editorial contains so much excellent information that it is hereby reproduced in full:

With Congress in recess and most of its members away from Washington, President Roosevelt found occasion in his last fireside chat to deliver an implied rebuke to the legislative branch of the government in the matter of demobilizing the veterans when the war is over.

"Among other things," said Mr. Roosevelt, "we are today laying plans for the return to civilian life of our gallant men and women in the armed services."

"They must not be demobilized into an environment of inflation and unemployment, to a place on the breadline or on a corner selling apples."

"We must, this time, have plans ready—instead of waiting to do a hasty, inefficient and ill-considered job at the last moment . . ."

"I hope that the congress will help in carrying out this assurance, for obviously the executive branch of the government cannot do it alone."

"May the Congress do its duty in this regard."

The speech was promptly interpreted as a New Deal bid for soldiers' votes; and the facts seem to bear this interpretation out.

In anything that it said, the speech plainly indicated that CONGRESS was neglecting the servicemen and women and that THE ADMINISTRATION was taking the initiative in their behalf.

Continuing along such a line, the President presented a sketchy program to give the returning warriors and auxiliaries mustering-out pay, unemployment insurance for prolonged idleness, vocational training opportunities, social security credits based on periods of service, and adequate provision for postwar hospitalization and rehabilitation.

This had a familiar sound to informed persons on the Washington scene.

Among them, George Rothwell Brown, correspondent for the Hearst newspapers, consulted the Congressional Record and produced documentary evidence showing that Congress had actually been SEVEN MONTHS OR MORE AHEAD OF THE WHITE HOUSE in formulating legislation covering all of the President's points and including some additional good proposals besides.

Mr. Brown reported:

"A congressional program, much like the President's plan, begun at the Capitol, as is right and proper, and not in the White House, has been in the making SINCE THIS CONGRESS FIRST ASSEMBLED IN JANUARY . . ."

Among the bills under the consideration when the President spoke are the bills of Rep. Van Zandt (R) of Pennsylvania, Rep. Flosser (R) of Missouri, Rep. Green (D) of Florida, Rep. Angell (R) of Oregon, Rep. Murdock (D) of Arizona, Rep. Keogh (D) of New York, Rep. Kelley (D) of Pennsylvania, Rep. Hollifield (D) of California, Rep. Philbin (D) of Massachusetts, Rep. Hoffman (R) of Michigan, Rep. Murray (R) of Wisconsin, Rep. Wickersham (D) of Oklahoma, Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers (R) of Massachusetts and Rep. Starnes (D) of Alabama.

In the Upper House, Senator Langer of North Dakota has a bill pending; while, according to Mr. Brown's careful survey:

"Senator Tydings of Maryland remains in Washington working on A VERY COMPREHENSIVE PLAN to be presented to the Senate when it assembles in September."

"IT GOES FAR BEYOND THE SIX-POINT PLAN OUTLINED BY THE PRESIDENT."

As to what will happen, and would have happened in any event, Mr. Brown predicts:

"Congress will take the best features of the various pending bills and write them into law before next spring."

With the bitter memories of the last demobilization behind them, the American people—to use a phrase of our good President—who by the way vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill after the last war—do not intend to "let the veterans down when the war is won."

Congress has made it evident that they will not let the veterans down—unless the President again vetoes the measures for the veterans' aid and relief.

There will certainly be no partisan opposition to sound veterans' legislation when Congress reconvenes.

And there should be none.

Justice to the men and women in uniform and in the merchant marine is a NON-PARTISAN and NON-POLITICAL duty, and the administration will not be permitted to make a partisan or political issue of it in the interests of a fourth term for the New Deal—and then forget it after the election.

Babson Says - -

Soldiers Should Look To Future

Babson Park, Mass., August 27.—The stock and commodity markets have already begun to discount peace, although I see no hope thereof until after the Elections of 1944. However, if we should prepare for war in time of peace, we should prepare for peace in time of war.

Germany will surely be licked before Japan is conquered. In some ways this should help materially in shifting from war work to peace work. A year between these two events should serve as an industrial and employment cushion. There are, however, three other things which would surely result from such an event. Let me explain these.

(1) The East will return to normal before the Pacific Coast. This applies to the supply of gasoline, fuel oil and other things to which the East is now severely rationed. The Pacific Coast may then be subject to more rationing, restrictions and other so-called hardships. (2) The Army will commence demobilization before the Navy and Air Forces. In fact, the Government will probably begin to demobilize the Army as soon as Europe is straightened out; while the Navy men will probably be held for their entire term of enlistment or induction. (3) With the exception of the transcontinental lines, railroad earnings should then begin to drop and much war work in the East will then be curtailed.

Following the above three certainties there will be a readjustment in employment. As firms in the East drop war work, plants must be re-tooled for peace. This will mean a temporary layoff of many employees which, added to the demobilized soldiers, should cause a temporary period of unemployment. According to the President's last fireside talk, this employment adjustment period will be taken care of by the Government (1) paying a small salary to the soldiers for awhile after demobilization, and (2) loaning money to the plants for reconversion back to peace work.

In this connection it is well to remember the Act of Congress which provides that all employers, who are able to do so, shall take back any inducted employee who applies within 60 days after honorable discharge. This assumes that the man will have the same job at his former salary. However, if by that time salaries in general have been increased, it seems only reasonable that he should have the same pay that others who are doing his former work will then be getting. A general wage reduction, especially for new employees may be expected, nevertheless, after the war is over.

Industries may be divided into three groups.

Group I. Companies which should suffer severely after peace comes: Aircraft or radio manufacturing, shipbuilding, munitions and machine tools. They must permanently reduce their number of employees after the war.

Group II. Companies which will take some months to change over to peace-time work: Automobile, railroad equipment, heavy machinery, refrigerator, sewing machine, carpet, vacuum cleaner, and electrical equipment companies. These may temporarily lay off some employees after the war.

Group III. Companies which should do well after the war and have very little conversion problems: Air transport, insurance, retail trade, textile, baking, fertilizer, furniture, shoe, meat packing, milling, glass and jewelry, dry goods, tobacco, soap, natural gas, petroleum, soft drinks and paper companies. These should permanently increase their number of employees after the war.

The three groups above need no further comment. It should be self-evident that Group III represents the best immediate post-war opportunities. Group I represents the poorest opportunities. It almost seems as if many of those now engaged in Group I industries must get into some other industry after the war. Surely, unemployed soldiers should not now plan to get employment with the Group I industries after the war is over. As to Group II industries, these should provide for those who were in them before they were inducted; but I doubt if they will have opportunities for many more men or any more women.

Very few returning soldiers will feel justified in starting a four-year college course after returning from the war. They may be wise in completing a college course already started if one or two years more will give the desired degree. All men who can afford it, however, should take a one-year or two-year course to become expert in some one line of work such as accountancy, merchandising, engineering, machine repairing, insurance or any of the other lines mentioned above in Groups II and III. I, however, cannot now recommend aircraft, radio or certain other lines in which a great surplus of Army men are now being trained, many of whom will be a drug on the market after the war is over.

I recently asked a group of employment managers what kind of men will be most demanded by employers after the war is over. The unanimous reply was: "We fear that the war is breaking down the moral foundation of many weaker men; if so, they will find it difficult to get positions after they return. We employment managers will then give special consideration to the character and habits of those who apply to us for positions. We will seek more of good habits, especially those who do not touch liquor."

In re-reading the above, I find that I have made no reference to the WACS and the WAVES and SPARS. As these have enlisted, rather than been drafted, I fear they may be out on an unemployment limb after the war is over. However, legislation could be passed which might be made retroactive in their cases. I have a feeling that the current advertising for and the soliciting of girls to enlist in these divisions of the armed services may be being overdone. However, "Women" is a subject that I should not discuss. I am too much prejudiced in their favor to give impartial judgment as to the present need of sending girls into the war. Besides, statisticians believe the country now is more in need of good babies than of lady soldiers. Of course, we may be wrong.
