Mothers Seek In Vain For Child Underwear

Unable To Understand Why Garments Not Available

Dear Editor—
I have read with much interest the Mail, and they certainly are true and to be taken to heart. However, I'm afraid we will see any number of children on the streets of Plymouth without proper clothing if something isn't done with the powers that be to make them change their minds about children's clothing.

There just isn't anything in the way of children's underclothes. I have scoured the county with no success and every other mother in this town and any other town is doing the same thing. And I can't understand why it should be when all the stores are full of nonessentials. I've never seen more beautiful drapes or curtains or bridge cloths or pillows—and they are cotton.

I wish I could find the answer. Perhaps the manufacturers of the above mentioned articles have a bigger drag in Washington than the manufacturers of children's clothes. Heaven knows the youngsters are getting a bad enough break without taking their clothes away from them.

What do you think of this, Mr. Editor?

This couldn't be blamed on hoarding—no one would hoard children's clothes for they grow out of them too fast.

Oh, well, I suppose it is just a case of more bungling.

I remember with much pride the lovely garments my mother used to fashion for her family. But you can't even buy material to make them now—yet I can buy yards and yards of drapery material.

I believe, Mr. Editor, you'd have the blessing of every mother if you would find the answer for her:

"Where are my children going to get clothes?"

Mrs. Margaret Pierce,
14286 Northville road,
Plymouth, Mich.

Dear Mrs. Pierce—
You're right, of course, or you wouldn't have written your letter.

I have scoured Plymouth for children's clothes and I found none of the standard brands of children's underwear. The stores where you would expect to find such material have none, and expect none.

I did find one small store which had a larger than normal supply of children's winter underwear, but all of the other stores said they just couldn't get it.

John Blyton was in Chicago last week, and he's in New York this week looking for such wear, but at last reports results were not too fruitful. Sophie Trucks of the Jack and Judy shop tells me that it is almost hopeless, and that she feels chagrined when customers come into her store with little tots in tow, seeking something for them to wear—something which she just doesn't have.

There seems to be a variety of reasons why all of this is true. One merchant told me that the cause is directly traceable to the Office of Price Administration. According to this merchant, the OPA has set the price of children's underwear so low that they actually lose money if they make it. Consequently, they take the available cotton and rayon yarn and make it up into men's and women's underwear, night gowns, slips and things of that sort, on which they can make a profit.

Another merchant told me that the government had claimed the available supply of rayon from one of the largest manufacturers of children's and women's underwear.

But there is still another reason. On the basis of available information, which apparently is sound, much of the market in all types of wearing apparel, but more especially the absolute necessities, has been cornered by a group of small (very small) wholesalers in New York and Chicago.

One merchant told me that he had scoured the standard wholesale markets, and that he found them entirely devoid of all of these necessities. He said he had encountered buyers for a large Detroit department store, scouring the small lots in the wholesale centers, and with little or no success. These small wholesalers were reserving their stocks for their "special" customers.

I have not had the opportunity to go to these wholesale markets and get the story direct, but there is no reason whatever to doubt what this merchant says.

Of course there has been a lot of bungling by the bureaucrats in Washington, and they are continuing to bungle, and they will continue to bungle as long as we have laws by decree such as we have now.

But the situation in children's underwear, and in all other commodities, will continue to grow worse until the general public in its righteous wrath arises to fight against special privileges which have been assumed by organized minorities.

Important Notice

Beginning next Friday, October 1, The Plymouth Mail will NOT be on sale until Friday mornings at 8 o'clock. Shortage of help and delivery service has made this action necessary. Neither can purchases be made at The Plymouth Mail office until Friday mornings.

City Show Place Of Years Ago To House Workers

Government Takes Over Famed Wilcox Residence

An old Plymouth landmark, a relic of the Victorian heyday of the gay nineties, is going to war. Mrs. G. H. Wilcox confirmed the report this week that she has leased her home at Penniman avenue and Union street to the federal government for conversion into apartments which will be rented to defense workers.

The giant fourteen room house, which has stood in the parkway since the turn of the century, will be made into five three room apartments, one of which will be retained by Mrs. Wilcox.

The stained glass windows and the ornate colonnades in the house, will be removed for more modern partitions and kitchenettes.

The lease is for seven years, after which the house will be returned to the owner in good condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilcox purchased the house from the Markham estate 32 years ago and the Wilcox family has lived there since then.

The property comprises almost a half acre of ground. The front is set off by a brick wall covered by hand-wrought iron grill work. The garden is a masterpiece of flowers and shrubs built around a fountain, which no longer spouts its beauty.

The stables which formed a part of the original Markham estate, long ago passed into the hands of the Plymouth Grange and is being used as a meeting hall.

Mrs. Wilcox said that now that her family has grown, she no longer has need of the big house. She wants to rid herself of the tremendous amount of work such a place entails. Her son, Ensign J. H. Wilcox, is now stationed at the naval air base at Jacksonville, Fla. Two daughters have homes of their own.

Thomas Moss is the architect for the rearrangement of the house into apartments.

There is no indication when they will be ready for occupancy, but Mrs. Wilcox said that she would have nothing whatever to do with the renting of the apartments and that it will serve no purpose for anyone to apply to her for priorities on the apartments.

Defense Council Buys War Bonds

Salvage Money Goes To War

One thousand dollars of the Plymouth Defense Council's cash, an accumulation of money that has resulted from the numerous salvage drives in this city, has been turned into war bonds.

At a meeting of the council Tuesday afternoon, presided over by Mayor Carl Shear, every member of the council present voted in favor of turning these accumulated dollars back into war purposes.

Unless there is some serious municipal war emergency in the immediate future, the money will remain invested in these fighting bonds until the war is over.

The expenditure leaves a slight balance in the treasury which is regarded as sufficient to take care of any immediate problem that might arise.

Milk Bottles Sell War Bonds

Even the milk bottles in Plymouth shouted "buy war bonds" to the people of this city Wednesday forenoon.

Around the top of each milk bottle delivered in Plymouth, was a sign urging residents of this city to buy war bonds.

Herman Backus, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and operator of numerous milk wagons, saw to it that every milk bottle did its part in the war bond campaign. And it helped, too.

Start Building 14 New Homes

South Side Gets New Brick Houses

Construction of fourteen new brick homes by the Beachlawn Construction Co. in the Brookview subdivision at the south edge of the city will be started immediately, it was announced yesterday by Roderick Cassady, financial representative of the company.

The building permits for the construction of the homes have been taken up, and much of the material for construction is already on hand.

The homes are being built under the Federal Housing Administration and will be available for rent and sale to war workers.

The addition of these homes to the city building program makes a total of only slightly less than 100 new homes under construction, or about to be constructed in the city.

Kisabeth Tells Of German Army Wounded Fighter Talks To Rotarians

"There are two different kinds of soldiers in the German army. The older fellows are Germans. The young fellows are Nazis. They are young fiends, haughty, cruel and domineering." Robert Kisabeth, a Plymouth lad wounded in African fighting, told members of the Plymouth Rotary club Friday.

"The older fellows are more like other folks." Soldier Kisabeth, home on a brief leave from Walter Reid hospital in Washington, was a guest of John Blickenstaff at the meeting.

He was badly wounded in his right arm by machine gun fire during the final clean-up in Tunisia. He told Rotarians that he didn't see the machine gun nest that fired the bullets which riddled his right arm.

Army doctors are doing such a good job on his wounds that Robert expects to have partial use of his arm within the next two or three months.

Purple Heart Is Awarded To Soldier Fred Millard Jr.

To Fred Millard Jr., who is recovering from critical wounds received when dozens of fragments from an exploding shrapnel hit him, has been awarded the Purple Heart, according to advices received from somewhere in the distant Middle East.

The young lad, who entered military service in January and was sent overseas within six months from the time of induction into the army, was wounded somewhere in North Africa or Sicily.

He has been taken to a hospital somewhere along the Mediterranean sea where, according to late reports, he is making an excellent recovery from his wounds. From what can be learned, however, it is not expected he will be able to return to active combat duty.

Through the cooperation of the war department, Mrs. Millard had the pleasure of sending a five word message by radio to her son last week.

DAR To Sponsor War Fund Benefit Bridge, Tuesday, October 5

Members of the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met at the home of Mrs. John Litsenberger in Northville for their first meeting of the season Monday, September 20.

An interesting program was presented. The program chairman, Mrs. Earl Mastick, introduced one of the members, Mrs. Robert Coolman, who read the history of Northville written by the late Mrs. Charles Dubar.

Mrs. Coolman also gave a few outstanding points contained in the Constitution of the United States.

Mrs. Allen J. Buckley, chapter regent, presided at the business meeting. The Chapter voted to have a war fund benefit bridge Tuesday, October 5 at 8 p. m. in the Northville high school gymnasium. The proceeds of the bridge will be pledged for Northville's new American Legion home.

Presbyterians Install New Pastor Sunday

Outstanding Church Event Scheduled For Plymouth

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh will be installed as pastor of the First Presbyterian church here next Sunday night with the pomp and circumstance of ancient Presbyterian ritual.

It will be the first time in eighteen years that the ritual has been used here. At that time, the Rev. Walter Nichol was installed in the old building.

The Rev. Walsh succeeds the Rev. Nichol in the pastorate here, and although he has been chosen by the local congregation, he actually does not become pastor until he receives the charge from the Presbytery.

The combined choirs of the Plymouth, Northville and Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian churches will provide the music for the service which combines the pomp of ancient church authority with the circumstance of today.

The sermon for the service will be preached by Dr. Joseph Vance, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian church in Detroit, one of the outstanding ministers in the United States. It will be his first trip to Plymouth for public participation, since the dedication of the new church.

Dr. Willis Geston, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian church, and moderator of the Detroit Presbytery, will preside at the installation services. Associated with him and Dr. Vance will be the Rev. Francis Tetu, pastor of St. John's Episcopal church, who will deliver the invocation; the Rev. Leonard Sanders, pastor of the Methodist church, who will deliver the pastoral prayer; the Rev. Harold Fredsell, pastor of the Northville Presbyterian church, who will deliver the charge to the pastor; the Rev. John Forsyth, pastor of the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, who will deliver the charge to the congregation and a score or more of visiting pastors and elders who will participate in the processional.

The combined choirs will be under the direction of Mrs. E. W. Blankenhagen, chorister of the local church.

Mr. Walsh will deliver the benediction after he has received his charge from the Presbytery.

The general public is invited to attend the ceremonies.

A reception for the new pastor and his family was held in the church dining rooms last Wednesday evening, during which he was welcomed to the city by representative citizens.

Charles Bennett presided at the reception, and delivered an address of welcome. Other welcomes were extended by the Rev. Leonard Sanders on behalf of the Plymouth churches, by the Rev. Fredsell on behalf of the Sunday school, Mrs. Leslie Daniel on behalf of the public schools. A girl's octette from the high school provided the music for the reception, and Chauncey Rauch led group singing.

Rev. Walsh responded to the welcome on behalf of himself and his family.

Lutheran Church Sends Packages To Boys In Armed Forces

Once each month, a special committee from St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church sends packages to members of the congregation now in the army, navy and marines.

Containing candy, homemade cookies, cigarettes, and many other items, the packages are deeply appreciated by the boys far away from home.

The project has been underway since 1941. Funds are obtained from a Red, White and Blue box to which parishioners contribute.

Periodically, the committee sends out cards asking the boys to state their preferences as to the contents of the packages and for any criticisms they might have.

On the committee are Mrs. William Bakhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Freiheit, Linnea Vickstrom and Viola Luttermoser.

There are approximately 23 boys from the church now in service.

Cub Scout Meeting Set For October 1

Friday evening, October 1, the Cubs, parents and friends will meet at the Central Grade School gymnasium for the monthly pack meeting.

Several boys will graduate into scouting and special awards will be presented.

Skits on the theme, "Christopher Columbus," will be staged by the Cubs and a special display table will be set up for the monthly project.

The Cub Scouts hope to make this first Fall meeting a real success and urge their parents and friends to attend.

No Matter Where Plymouth Boys Go, The Plymouth Mail Goes, Too

"Phil" Williams gets The Plymouth Mail out on the deserts of Africa. His the March 26 issue he's holding.

No matter where in this old world Uncle Sam has sent fighting lads from Plymouth, the good old Plymouth Mail is delivered "right on their front doorstep" every week.

Maybe the boys are in the jungles of the south Pacific. Maybe up among the glaciers of Alaska — and maybe they are on the hot blowing sands of Africa.

It is from somewhere on or along the great Libyan desert in Africa that Pfc. Phillip Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams, 15153 Northville road, sent this snapshot of himself holding a copy of The Plymouth Mail he had just received.

By the use of a strong magnifying glass, the headlines of the paper that he is holding shows that it is the March 26, 1943, issue of The Mail. His parents received the picture just a few days ago in a letter that he is plenty hot where. Phil, as he is best known among his friends in Plymouth, is located. He has been in Africa for over a year and at times has not been so far from Cairo. Phil is a graduate of the Plymouth high school with the class of 1941. For a time before entering the army he was employed by Jewell & Blaich.

Saturday Is Tag Day

Tomorrow, Saturday, is tag day in Plymouth.

It is the day that busy mothers, who are members of the Mom's club, will add to their many duties and long hours of work, by selling tags all day long on the streets of Plymouth.

They're going to sell tags to help your boy who is in the army or navy, to help him enjoy just a few of the little luxuries of life that Uncle Sam cannot provide him.

"So when you buy a tag tomorrow, remember that the money you pay for it, every penny of it, will go to help your boy or some other boy wearing the uniform of the navy, marines or army.

Buy a tag Saturday from some mother who is donating her time and effort to bring a bit of joy into the lives of OUR BOYS in uniform.

Mayor Shear Is Supervisor

Appointed To Take Place Of Hondorp

City Commissioner Henry Hondorp, who has been a member of the County Board of Supervisors for the past six years, resigned from the county governing body at the meeting of the City Commission Monday night.

Mayor Pro Tem Stanley Corbett immediately appointed Mayor Carl Shear to fill the vacancy. Other members of the county supervisors from Plymouth are Mrs. Ruth Whipple, Arno Thompson and Mr. Corbett.

The four supervisors will serve until the first of April when under a new state law there will only be one supervisor for the city, who will be appointed by the commission.

The appointment of Mayor Shear as supervisor was the first official act of Mayor Pro Tem Corbett, an official act that meets the general approval of the city of Plymouth.

Not One New Entry To University From Plymouth This Year

For the first time in the memory of the oldest citizen, no young men from Plymouth high school are entering the University of Michigan this fall.

This was brought out as it was announced that the Plymouth University of Michigan Club's first meeting this fall would be a "going away" party for the Plymouth youngsters who will become freshmen at "M", and in the list of students who will be guests, there is nary a boy.

The youngsters who will attend Michigan are Signe Hegge, Dorothea Strauss, Fern Dippoy, Louise Powell, Margaret Jean Nichol, Marian Goodman, Jean Crandall and Nancy McClaren.

The party will be held in the high school cafeteria on October 7 at 7 p. m.

Prize Awarding To Be Patriotic Event

Wounded Soldiers From Percy Jones Hospital Coming To Tell Stories Of Battle — Band To Play — Men And Women Of This Section Are Invited To Attend

One of the biggest patriotic rallies of the war will be held in the Plymouth high school auditorium next Monday evening when war bond prizes will be awarded to the champion victory gardeners of the city and township.

Feature of the program will be the stories of battles, told by three wounded veterans who are being brought to Plymouth for the Monday night meeting from the Percy Jones Memorial Hospital at Battle Creek.

Army authorities at Battle Creek said they were unable to give the names of the veterans who will participate, but that they would have stories to tell which will interest everyone.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock, with Mrs. Walter Sumner, chairman of the Plymouth victory garden contest, presiding.

Mrs. Sumner said she has made arrangements for music with Clarence Luchman, head of the high school music department, who will arrange that portion of the program.

Decorations for the affair will be from the gardens of the community which have been so prolific this year, and have resulted in thousands of cans of produce for winter use.

A speaker from the Detroit Office of Civilian Defense, under whose management victory gardens of the state were made to produce more than had been expected, a representative of the county agent's office, who will explain further details of storing produce for the winter, and the three veterans, who will tell of their experiences in the defense of this nation.

It is anticipated that the meeting will be one of the biggest and most interesting ever held in the city. Not only are the friends of the prize winners invited, but every man and woman in this entire section of Wayne county is invited to be present.

Puffing For Bonds

This steamless steam engine of the 40 and 8 Club of Detroit "steamed and puffed" Thursday night to help Plymouth sell war bonds during the final days of the campaign. It was sort of a steamless steam but nevertheless it plowed down the streets and helped the war bond sale.

The engine was secured for Plymouth by William Rose, past commander of the American Legion here who incidentally is Plymouth's first Legionnaire to become a member of the 40 and 8 in Detroit.

On Monday, September 20 members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Plymouth held their first dinner meeting in the Episcopal church.

Rebecca Obsniuk, new president, announced her committees for the ensuing club year which are as follows:

Program Co-ordination — Marion Gale, Sarah Gayde, Hanna Strasen, Gertrude Fiegel; public affairs, Betty Marquis; publications, Grace Eaton; publicity, Vaun Campbell and Alice Blyton; education, Lee Terry; finance, Winifred Wolfe and Florence Stader; health, Ada Murray and Gertrude Danol; international relations, Bess Sutherland; membership, Ingeborg Lundin and Hildur Carlson.

As part of the program, each member told of her summer's activities. Mrs. Winifred Wolfe sang two solos assisted by Mrs. Lee Terry at the piano. Singing was later enjoyed by all.

Miss Hanna Strasen, was presented with a club emblem pin, for her services as president for the past two years. The presentation was made by Miss Obsniuk.

The meeting was in charge of Rebecca Obsniuk, Ingeborg Lundin, Gertrude Fiegel, and Margaret Woods.

City Manager Back From Convention

Clarence H. Elliott has returned from a week's meeting of the City Managers of the United States held this year in Chicago.

Postwar planning was emphasized at the meeting, and Mr. Elliott said he obtained a number of good ideas which will be submitted to both the planning commission and the city commission.

No More Poles In Sidewalks

Eaton Company To Make Changes

City Manager Clarence Elliott informed the Detroit Edison Co., this week that three power poles placed on Frialock avenue, will have to be moved because they will interfere with the construction of a sidewalk.

The poles were freshly placed in advance of the paving of the street, which started this week.

City Engineer Stan Besse said he had conferred with engineers for the Edison Co., when application was made for a permit to place the poles. The engineers were informed at that time that the poles must be located two feet back of the sidewalk line.

For some undetermined reason, the poles are within the area where the sidewalk will be placed. The contractors for the paving said that if the poles remain where they are it will be necessary to lay the concrete around them.

City Manager Elliott immediately talked with the district manager of the power company and said he anticipated no difficulty in having the poles moved.

City Engineer Besse explained that moving the poles such a distance was no great task. He said a trench would be dug for the depth of the pole, and that the pole would then be pushed to its proper location with a jack, and the hole then filled in.

Shoe Merchants Urge Patrons To Use No. 18 Shoe Stamp Now

Still have your number 18 shoe stamp?

If you have, use it now, is the plea of Plymouth shoe merchants. They still have visions of impatient crowds, rushed salesmen trying to please everyone, and depleted stocks, all the result of the rush to use stamp 17 in June.

Don't wait till October 30th to use your stamp—use it now and avoid all the last minute rush. It will be to your advantage and will help your shoe merchant.

Help!

There is danger of many Plymouth men, women and children going cold this winter—unless you help!

And this is a plea directed to our thousands of readers. We are not trying to build up our want ad department. We have all the work our limited force can do.

But there is a desperate need for stoves by many people in this vicinity. They cannot be purchased from the dealers—as there are none to be had.

If you have an old stove that can be used, please advertise it in the next two or three issues of The Plymouth Mail.

If you sat at the counter in the office of The Plymouth Mail and could observe the worried look of fathers and mothers who are trying to find a stove they can purchase, you would be willing to sell the extra stove you may possess. It's an easy way for you to help in an emergency.

HOROWITZ-FRANKELTON

When Private First Class Sam J. Horowitz came home to visit his parents, corner Plymouth and Wayne roads the other day, he not only came home to see his relatives, but to get married as well. The young soldier and Miss Sylvia Frankelton of Winnipeg, Canada, were married in Detroit on September 14. She returned to the south with her husband, who is stationed at Camp Gordon, Georgia. The young couple met a year ago when both were on a vacation trip to Toronto, Canada. Charles Frankelton, a brother of the bride, who is a soldier in Canada's armoured force, was on furlough at the time of the wedding and was a Plymouth visitor for the event.

DUNCAN-ELLIS

The First Presbyterian church of Plymouth was the scene of the wedding of Frances Duncan and Elton J. Ellis Wednesday afternoon, September 15, at two o'clock. The Reverend Henry J. Walsh performed the ceremony. Miss Duncan is the daughter of Ernest Duncan of Danville, Virginia, and Mr. Ellis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ellis of the Ellis Restaurant on South Main street.

The bride wore a gown of white satin fashioned with long sleeves. Her veil fell from a halo and she carried an arm bouquet. The maid of honor was Betty Gyetway who wore an orchid satin gown with a matching tiara of flowers. Her arm bouquet was of white roses and asters. The bridesmaids were Irene Sabo, Mary Tompa, and Emma Succotich. Miss Sabo was dressed in pink satin. Miss Tompa in powder blue chiffon, and Miss Succotich wore turquoise chiffon. Each wore matching flower tiaras and carried bouquets similar to that of the maid of honor.

James M. Ellis, brother of the groom, served as best man. Ushers were William Lee Taylor, Altamont Ellis, and L. Roy Crites.

After the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Penn-Mar Cafe for the bridal party.

The newlyweds left on a boat trip to New York where they are spending the week. They will make their home in Plymouth.

WHITE-NEAR

The wedding of Regina White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward White, of Riceville, Iowa, and Corp. Joseph Near, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Near, of Detroit, was solemnized Monday morning at 8 o'clock, in Our Lady of Good Counsel church of Plymouth. Father Edward Mooney read the service in the presence of the relatives and friends of the young couple.

The bride was gowned in white satin made in princess lines with long sleeves ending in buttons trimmed down back to waistline. She wore a full length veil of net which was lace trimmed and fastened to a headress of satin trimmed with orange blossoms. Gardenias formed her corsage and she carried a white rosary.

Mrs. Clinton Everhart, of Minneapolis, Minn., a sister, was the bride's only attendant. She was gowned in yellow chiffon with matching tips in her hair and

The Central Grade Parent-Teacher Association has started making plans for the coming season and feel that the parents should know what the objects of this organization are and the officers elected to fulfil them.

The objects are: first, to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community; second, to raise the standards of home life; third, to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth; fourth, to bring into closer relation the home and the school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child; fifth, to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantage of physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

Officers elected last April are Mrs. Alex Lloyd, president; Mrs. Miller Ross, vice president; Mrs. Howard Bowden, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Pursell, secretary; and Miss Marion Gale, treasurer. Various committees are also being planned.

With the juvenile delinquency problem as it is, the organization urges the cooperation of every mother and father. Fathers are especially invited to attend every meeting and to join in discussions which will help the welfare of the children.

NORSGROVE-PETERS

Miss Burnadene Norsgrove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Norsgrove of Pearl street, spoke her marriage vows to Pvt. Gerencia P. Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Peters of Detroit, Friday, September 10. The early evening services were read at the parsonage of the Reverend Leslie Everett of Reedford.

Miss Norsgrove wore a street length dress of gold with black accessories. A corsage of white gardenias and salmon rosebuds was pinned to her shoulder. Her only attendant, Miss Ester Maynard, was dressed in blue with black accessories and had a gardenia corsage.

Glenn Gopen assisted the groom as best man.

A reception was held at Miss Maynard's home following the ceremony.

Pvt. Peters left September 12 for Camp Pickett, Virginia, where he is stationed. Mrs. Peters is making her home in Detroit.

BOWER-BIRCHALL

Miss Evelyn Bower, daughter of Mrs. S. J. Wheeler of Whitmore Lake and Paul Bower of Ann Arbor, became the bride of Lieutenant John Birchall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John Birchall, Blank avenue, on Saturday evening, September 18. The double ring ceremony was performed by Reverend Henry J. Walsh in the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock.

Burning tapers in cathedral holders cast a soft glow upon the altar which was decorated with palms and tall baskets of white gladioli.

The bride was given in marriage by her cousin, Malcolm Woodard of Detroit. Her gown was fashioned of ivory slipper satin with close-fitting bodice, long sleeves, and a circular skirt which extended into a train. A pearl tiara held her veil of illusion in place. She carried a sheaf of white roses.

Fern Bower, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore an Alice blue gown featuring a lace bodice and full chiffon skirt. A shirred veil of illusion was caught to her halo of blue flowers and her bouquet was of American beauty roses.

The Misses Ingrid Ericsson and Jean Cooper, schoolmates of the bride, acted as bridesmaids. Their gowns and headdresses were fashioned after those of the maid of honor. They carried bouquets of talismans roses.

Before the ceremony, Carol Campbell sang two lovely solos. David Gates performed the duties of best man. The ushers were Roy McAllister and Marvin Sackett.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST Scientist. Sunday morning service, 10:30. Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service 8:00. "Reality" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, September 26. The Golden Text (Isaiah 64:4) is: "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him." Among the Bible citations in this passage (John 3:6): "That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit." Codic relative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (p.317): "The individuality of man is no less tangible because it is spiritual and because his life is not at the mercy of matter. The understanding of his spiritual individuality makes man more real, more formidable in truth, and enables him to conquer sin, disease and death."

Bucket Brigade to Start a Fire

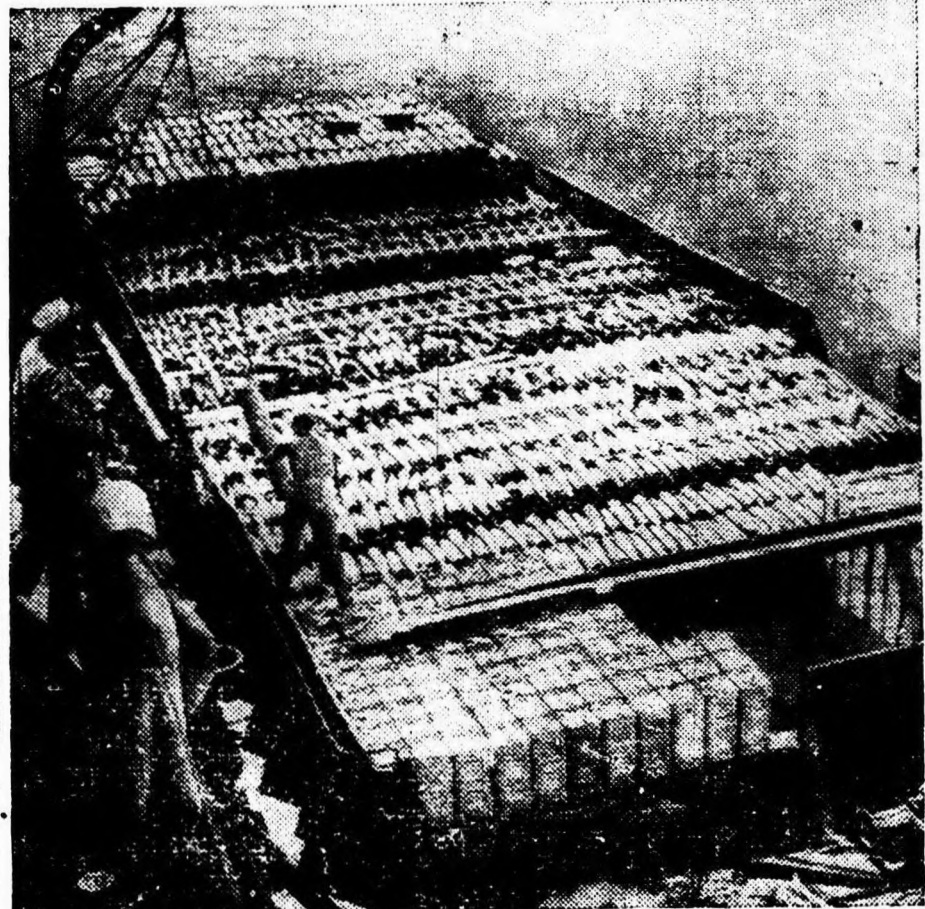

Here is a bucket brigade in action with the object of starting a fire. The members of the brigade are soldiers passing ammunition to bombard Japanese positions on Rendova island. The seizure of this island by our forces was followed by rapid surprise actions of land, sea, and air troops, who are steadily advancing toward Japan proper.

Japs Murder English Before Leaving Kiska

When U. S. troops entered this dugout on Kiska island, they found the Japanese had murdered the English language in a message on the wall. Foolish was spelled "foolische" and Roosevelt became "Rousebelt."

Barging Toward Japanese Shipping

The eventual destination of this ammunition is the interior of Japanese ships where it will be thrown by Allied guns. This barge is loaded with projectiles of both armor piercing and bombardment variety. The cases hold ammunition for anti-aircraft guns. Steadily increasing Allied pressure is pushing the Japs back home.

Allied Bombing Victims Receiving Aid

Victims of Allied bombings over Le Creusot, France, are shown receiving food and clothing, according to a French caption in a Nazi-controlled magazine. The bombing referred to apparently was the second attack by the Allies on the huge Schneider works, one of the biggest war plants in Europe where munitions have been turned out for Germany.

Scheppele Now "His Honor" The Mayor

Robert Scheppele, winner last year of the American Legion Award for the best American history student; tackle and captain of the football team for the last game; and shot putter of the track team, was the students' choice for Mayor when the votes were counted Friday night.

The seniors' choice for president, Annabelle Heller, has been a member of the Student Council for the last two years. Jack Schoof, member of many committees and also an artist, was elected vice-president. Mary Brandt, who has been very active in student government and also a member of many committees, was elected secretary. Barbara Butt, the only carry-over, was again elected treasurer. Shirley Luttermoser, Esther Mettetal, and William Sexton, who all have taken active parts in school activities, were elected members of the Student Council.

The only tie in the election was in the eleventh grade between Donald Rock and Merlin Datcher who ran for vice-president. This tie has not been worked off yet. The other officers were Clarence Hoffman, president; Peggy Hart, secretary; Anna Marie Cooper, treasurer; Kathleen Fisher, Hugh Harsha and Arnold Phillips, Student Council representatives. Out of the 194 students in the eleventh grade, only 89 registered.

In the tenth grade class election Donald Vetal was chosen president; Eleanor Hart, vice president; Natalie Reitzel, secretary; Jacqueline Dalton, treasurer; and Marilyn Vershure and Donald Korte, Student Council representatives.

In the ninth grade, Terrance Hitt the class choice for president; Douglas Blunk for vice-president; Nancy Broman for secretary; David McIntosh for treasurer; Pat Martin and Marilyn Tibo as representatives to the Student Council.

Out of the eighth grade class of 137 pupils only one did not register and only ten of the registered students did not vote. Donald Oppenheim was elected president; Jay Daggett, vice president; Elton McAllister, secretary; Nancy Proctor, treasurer; and Betty Lou Baker was elected Student Council member.

For the seventh grade Margie Tait was elected as class president; Joan Hank as vice-president; Teddy Thrasher as secretary; Joan Cavell as treasurer; and Joan Erb as representative to the Student Council.

Sophs Give Sock Hop

Socks! Socks! Socks! All kinds, colors, and sizes were seen at the "Sophs Sock Hop" held in the gymnasium last Friday night. The huge crowd of over 370 found the gym almost too small; these crowds attest the popularity of class dances and good times. Bill Upton's orchestra, who played for the last time, is now forced to disband because so many are to enter colleges or the armed forces.

Football Shorts

About fifteen recruits are needed for the football team since it is very weak after the first string is broken. The observations of one man to see a practice was that our team had no good replacements when any of the first string are injured. At present a regular tackle, Campbell, is out with injuries.

The coming Ecorse game, October 1, is expected to be a tough one. From the files some hopeful information that twelve members of their team graduated, of whom nine were first-string players.

Here And There

Mary Stout had a birthday party at her home Saturday night. Charlotte Flaherty, Majie Bakewell, Jacqueline Donaldson, and Beatrice Johnson helped her celebrate the occasion.

Shirley Luttermoser and Ruth Hoystradt attended the Girl Reservoir Interclub Council meeting Saturday at the Highland Park Y.W.C.A.

The Presbyterian young people gave a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Matulis Sunday night. June Bassett, Chuck Rowe, Shirley Miller, Donald Vetal, Audrey Book, (Detroit), Gordon Vetal '43, Annie Heller, Bill Bartel '43, Norma Robinson, Bob Deyo, Marilyn Vershure, Linc Hale '43, Marletta Martin, '43, Alan Johnson, Margery Bassett, Dick Heinzman (R.A.F. Pilot), Bernice Nowicki, Lenard Deliniski, (Detroit), Lois Vetal, and Tom Robertson enjoyed a weenie roast and hay ride at the Vetal home Saturday night.

Lois Vetal, the new Leaders' Club president, held the first club meeting Tuesday September 14. The other officers are Norma Robinson, secretary; Irene Neidospal, treasurer; and Eleanor Hart, Lois Mills and Delphine Bogenschutz are the class managers.

The members are preparing to take twelve new freshmen into the club.

Sixteen members of the LAM Service Club were entertained by Nancy Baker at her home in Rosedale Gardens last Saturday night at a slumber party. Her guests were Marilyn Vershure, "Jackie" Dalton, Esther Mettetal, Irene Neidospal, "Nat" Rietzel, Catherine Moss, Joanne Delahunte, Dortha Petschulat, "Jeep" Hart, Virginia Woolsey, Bernice Whyatt, Janet Strachan, Annabel Heller and Norma Robinson.

A surprise luncheon was given Wednesday, September 15, in honor of Juanita Petty's sixteenth birthday. There were ten girls present. The ten present were: Jean Ann Livernois, Rosemary Miller, Kay Fisher, Rosemund Busby, Joan Gillis, Edith Falte, Helen Blum, Doris Sawtelle and Juanita Petty.

Carolyn Trocke left with her family, Friday, September 17, to visit her brother, Kendell, who is a private at Camp McClellan Alabama, graduated from P.H.S. in 1942.

Marge Wilson, former pupil, was a school visitor last week.

Everyone had a gay time at Dick Daniel's last Saturday night. It was especially gay when they all went out in the yard and had a "weenie roast," after which the whole gang trooped over to the Penn to see "Destroyer." Dick's guests were Pauline Weidman, Jim Measel, Margaret Jean Nichol, Harold Todd, and Jane Ann Lyons.

Lincoln Hale has been seen about town, during his ten day leave, "Link" as his friends call him, graduated from P.H.S. last June. He has been studying gunnery at Camp Peary, Williamsburg, Virginia.

Evelyn Kurtz entertained Glenn Kaiser Tuesday night at dinner. Later they saw "This Is The Army" at the Palms State.

Shirley and Helen George had dinner downtown Saturday night and saw "Bombadier" at the Fox.

Shirley Luttermoser helped Betty Ouellette celebrate her birthday Sunday with dinner at Betty's house and seeing "Bombadier" at the Fox.

Jean Gould, Shirley Hokenson, Pudge Stitt, Florence Konazski, Jane Johnston, and Beverly Bauman went horse back riding last Wednesday.

Rose Ericsson spent the weekend with Ruth Campbell. They went to the Soph Fox Dance and attended a wedding the following night.

Home-made "doughnut" shaped pads can give the same relief as commercial air cushions. Take a thick pad of cotton a little larger than the area to be protected, make a hole in the center and wind strips of muslin to form a heavy ring with a comparatively small hole. Rings can be made to fit any part of the body—heel, buttocks, shoulder blades, elbow, etc.

Class News

Students in Miss Kilham's French I class were greatly amused at their new French names, received the first day class assembled. Their vocabulary consists of the first few lessons. They learned two songs in which they used French words. The more advanced class, at the beginning of the semester, told about their vacation in French.

Mrs. Lickfeldt's seventh grade math class have a new room which they like much better. The 7A math classes are working on savings accounts, and are also learning how to write checks. The 7B math classes are getting an introduction to the part mathematics plays in the home.

The first hour eighth grade homemaking class visited Fisher's shoe store, Wednesday morning, September 15. Mr. Houk gave a talk on the material, construction and fitting of shoes. He also explained how the store bought shoes from the factory. The girls learned a great deal from this talk.

The 7A homemaking girls are working with kitchen arrangements and are learning how to make their own kitchens at home more convenient by new arrangements.

Miss Schlosstein expects to be very busy for the next few weeks because she has 270 students enrolled in her typing classes, and in a day she has typewriters enough to teach only 258 pupils, but accommodates the extra because of absences leaving extra machines. Of her 270 students she has 130 first semester pupils. At present she is teaching the beginning students.

Organizing the shop is Mr. Tomshack's chief headache along with teaching three Shop I classes and one Shop II class.

The Drama club has started to practice two new plays. Over thirty students are taking Spanish, taught for the first time in day school, so they will be able to carry on a conversation if they ever travel in Mexico or in South America. They have already learned over 200 words and are reading short stories.

More students are taking advanced algebra since the war started because it is necessary in war work. Before starting study one advanced algebra reviewed first year algebra.

Mrs. Hecox classes are learning how to make and take care of their own clothing since clothing is hard to get in war time.

Miss Hamill's ancient history class is studying the simple and complex cultures of the past and giving extra reports to help understand more history. The modern history classes are studying the cycle of developments of nations, how these became nations and imperialism. The scholastic reports of current events are given every Wednesday.

Miss Hamill would like more pupils who have stringed instruments and who would care to take class lessons which she gives every day first and sixth hours.

Mrs. Glider, the eighth grade teacher of English had allowed the students to appoint two assistants to help keep order, check papers, etc. The A class is studying parliamentary law and having business meetings to learn how to conduct a meeting.

Miss Wresley, the new ninth and tenth grade teacher of English, has all boys in her second hour literature class.

Miss Lovewell's 9-B grade English students have been reading short stories, also giving talks on interesting animals they have known. She also mentions that all of her classes are full.

Mr. Hedrick, biology teacher, tells of the hatching of three turtles and of his water snake and a blue racer, each about three feet long, not to mention a "rib-bon snake about eighteen inches long. The classes are studying

P.H.S. Graduates Go To College

Many graduates from P.H.S. last June, are seeking further education in colleges and universities. This list does not include boys in service.

Those going to University of Michigan are: Jean Crandall, Signe Hegge, Dorritt Strauss, Fern Diphney, Louise Powell, Margaret Jaka Nichol and Marian Goodman.

Michigan State College: Rosemary Ray, Virginia Moss, Carolyn Kirk and Jack Anderson.

Stephens: Beth Hoheisel and Jane Scott.

Michigan State Normal: Ione Stuart, Clare Ebersole and James McAllister.

Albion: Patricia Hudson.

Western State: Betty Jones.

Mt. Carmel Nursing: Marie Josephs.

Detroit Institute of Technology: James Measel.

Odds and Ends

During the class caucus Annabelle Heller said she would answer all questions on dates or anything.

During the sixth hour government class Mr. Latture told the following story. When the tea was dumped overboard at the Boston Tea Party it went into the cold water. The men who fell off the ship swallowed some of the water and like it very much. That was the origin of iced tea.

Another story of his concerns the ancient belief that the world was flat. A little girl asked how they kept the water from running off the edge.

Mr. Kessler was testing the students knowledge of elements and their symbols. "What is BA," he asked. The boy hesitated. "Well," said Mr. Kessler, "what do you do with dead horses?" The face of the boy brightened as he answered, "Barium."

If H. B. in second hour chemistry class would listen to the discussion she wouldn't have to blush so much.

It seems a lot of students are speaking a new foreign language around P.H.S. lately. Perhaps Spanish which was added to our school subjects is the answer to the question that has been bothering you since school started.

Elaine DePlanche is the only post graduate in Plymouth High this year. Her ambition is to become a nurse and it is required that one have latin and chemistry. So she is back this year taking them in the morning.

The importance of biology in daily life.

Miss Lundin's food classes have been canning beets, tomatoes, corn and peaches, using different methods. The pupils bring their own fruits and vegetables so these can be taken home after canning.

They also are studying how to can acid and non-acid foods and the process of drying food to store.

In the exhibit case there are a pressure cooker and several jars of fruits and vegetables below which are colorful posters.

Mr. Thompson's pre-induction classes consisting of auto mechanics and electricity enroll 28 boys who are studying the main parts of a car and static electricity. His shop classes have 70 in both Shop I and Shop II. Shop I students are making working plans and bills of materials for the future.

Shop II students are making plans for wood projects soon to start.

Mr. Campbell says that both of the machine shop classes are full. They have a new 16-inch stroke shaper which caused some work, as they had to rearrange several large machines on the floor.

Help The War By Getting A Job

Students who are interested in finding work of any type should see Mr. Bentley, co-ordinator of occupational training at once. He can find work for nearly everyone at least fifteen years of age. Various jobs in stores, offices, and gasoline stations can be found in and around Plymouth. Pupils may work after school, full or part time, to suit their convenience.

Since the war began there has been a shortage of help. There must be someone to take the places of those who have gone to factories. This is necessary to keep our community smoothly run. At present there are more jobs available than boys and girls to fill them. It will train those who are not planning to go to college to "do something" when they graduate. The experience counts. For college preparatory students it is equally essential. The knowledge of handling money is enough in itself.

To be patriotic, to help your community, to make money to secure an education, see Mr. Bentley in room 24 now for work.

P.H.S. Girls Help In Offices

Girls are helping in both Mr. Dykhouse's and Mr. Smith's offices. Taking care of attendance slips, getting in touch with students, taking notices around, and general office practice are their duties. For credit two years of shorthand is the only subject required. A few of the girls are helping for their own practice without credit. Lois Vetal, Kathryn Trinka and Norma Bauman are helping in Mr. Smith's office; Joyce Whitehead, Betty Spicer, Beatrice Radtke, Mary Stout, Rebecca Benn, Beverly Ash, Geneviva Kisabeth, Shirley Cramer, Shirley George, Lucille Zielasko and Elizabeth Karns are working in Mr. Dykhouse's office.

97 Students Work Half Days

Official reports from Mr. Dykhouse's office states that there are 97 students working half days. This does not include those working after school. Whether Juniors and Seniors will have to combine play casts is a question. Because of so many holding jobs during and after school it would be hard to find talent able to stay until 5:30 for practice.

Hi-Y News

The officers of the Hi-Y elected last May are Richard Daniels, president; Warren Mason, vice president; Harold Todd, secretary; and Hugh Harsha, treasurer.

The topics of interest at the first meeting were hayride, and closing the doors for new members.

At one of the meetings in the near future Mr. Walker, director of local Hi-Y, Detroit, is expected to give a talk on the purposes of the organization.

Rocks Lose 7-0 To Farmington

A pass in the second quarter caused the defeat of the Plymouth football team, Friday, September 17, at Farmington.

The Plymouth fellows had their backs to the wall in the first, second and third quarters and held, but a pass from the twenty-five yard line won the game for Farmington. The team was in scoring territory in the first and fourth quarters, and except for an injury to the ball carrier, was in the clear for a touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Farmington's application of the "T" formation completely baffled both the line and backfield of the Plymouth team.

The starting line-up for Plymouth was: LE, Bennett; LT, Capt. Scheppele; LG, Wiseley; C, Rock; RG, Todd; RT, Livernois; TE, Curran; LG, Hare; FB, Hall; QB, Brink; LH, Simonetti.

Class Caucuses Make Nominations

All class caucuses to elect class officers and mayor were held on Monday with Shirley Luttermoser acting as general chairman. The student chairmen under Shirley were Annabel Heller for twelfth grade; Marilyn Vershure for tenth grade; Pat Martin, ninth grade; Elton McAllister, eighth grade; and Malcolm McGregor, seventh grade. At a general meeting last Friday of all chairmen it was decided that, to avoid complications, all the students would be asked to register again this year. The registration dates were set for Tuesday and Wednesday, September 14 and 15 in the rooms of the class advisers. Election day is Friday, September 17. All students should take part in these activities to make 1943 one of the best years in Student Government.

Mission Has Become Church

St. John's Growth Most Rapid

Last spring the Plymouth Mail carried a story of the progress and growth of St. John's Episcopal church under the leadership of the Rev. Francis Tetu, and of the change in the status of the church from a dependent mission to an independent mission. This independence is financial only, the church still being under the direct supervision of the Archdeacon of the Diocese of Michigan, the Ven. Leonard P. Hagger.

Since last spring the mission has continued to thrive and now the outlook is encouraging enough to warrant a new step in advance. On the evening of Thursday, September 23 there was held a congregational meeting in the parish house, with Archdeacon Hagger present. At this meeting the first legal steps were taken to incorporate St. John's as an independent parish church under the laws of the State of Michigan and the canons of the Episcopal church. The Archdeacon explained these steps and will guide the church through the various necessary proceedings. At the annual diocesan convention in Detroit next February St. John's expects to be received into membership in the Diocese of Michigan as a full-fledged incorporated parish. Its minister, who now ranks as a vicar, being the representative of the Bishop and Archdeacon, will become the rector of the new church. Its local governing body, instead of being a committee appointed by Bishop Creighton, will be a vestry elected by the parishioners.

The new title and dignity of position will be in keeping with the constant growth in membership and the widening of activities in the parish. It is to be hoped that before too long the membership and the activities will outgrow the present parish house which has been used for both church services and social functions since 1927 and that a church building will have to be erected on the front of the property at Harvey and Maple which was bought seventeen years ago with just such a thought in mind. This would leave the parish house facilities entirely for the social and community activities so necessary in the present day life of a church.

Mayor Shear In War Bond Appeal

Applauds Patriotism Of Jaycees

It was the right kind of a patriotic appeal that Mayor Carl Shear made recently in his brief address when he formerly opened the Junior Chamber of Commerce war drive.

In brief, Mayor Shear stated: "As mayor of Plymouth, I am glad to welcome you to this rally. Those of you from outside the city, I invite you to participate in this day's festivities.

"And to all of you, I wish to extend an invitation to buy bonds to the limit of your ability.

"And it is an invitation. There should be no need for anyone to 'SELL' you a bond.

"I do not profess to be an expert in international affairs. It's all I can do to take care of my own business and participate in the affairs of this city. But I do know that this war has not been won, and I do know that it won't be won this winter.

"We've got to buy bonds and bonds and more bonds. And don't get the idea, that just because we've won a small victory in Italy that we can stop buying bonds.

"And after we've bought them, we've got to keep them. It doesn't help any to buy the bonds for a lot of public show, and then run over here to the banks or the Post Office and cash them in.

"We've got to buy them and keep them until maturity. If we do that, we'll realize a profit from our investment, though why we should make a profit while we are protecting ourselves, I'm sure I don't know.

"But everyone, let's buy bonds. Let's remember that our sons and brothers and fathers are giving their lives. Let's remember they are standing like a wall between us and the enemy.

"And let's stand behind them in every way we can. Certainly we know that one way to stand behind them is by making it possible for them to get the guns and tanks and ships and planes they need.

"Let's remember that the man who can buy a bond and won't is as much a deserter from the cause as the man who can fight and won't."

Many Register To Study Trades

School Occupation Courses Popular

Forty students of the Plymouth high school already have been registered for occupational training during the school year, it was announced this week by Carvel Bentley, coordinator of apprenticeship training in the school.

The program is under the joint sponsorship of the school and the state board of public instruction as well as the state bureau of labor and industry.

The apprenticeship courses now being offered for high school credit to the students of the school range from farm workers to dry cleaners and meat cutters. Under the program, the high school student maintains his regular required high school courses, but at the same time takes special courses of training which are correlated with his work in a store, shop or industry.

The required high school courses are three years of English, two years of history, a year of mathematics and a semester of government.

Then in addition, the apprentice takes special courses which are correlated with his outside activities. The farmer studies subjects which are of special interest to the farmer, such as soil testing, fertilizers and methods of culture. The dry cleaner studies fabrics, the chemistry of dry-cleaning and other related subjects.

When the course has been completed, and a complete record made by both the student and the employer, a diploma is issued if warranted which is then available to the student to take with him as he hunts for a regular job.

Tuberculosis is the leading cause of death for persons between the ages of 15 and 45. Financed by tuberculosis Christmas seals, a new pamphlet, "How to Kill TB Germs" is now available from the Michigan Tuberculosis Association, Lansing.

LARGE CROP OF SWEET POTATOES IN SIGHT

To encourage farmers to cure and store as much as possible of this year's expected crop of 21 million bushels of sweet potatoes, farmers will be assured a minimum of $1.50 per bushel for U. S. No. 1 or better grade cured sweet potatoes properly packed in bushel crates, baskets or hampers and offered during January, and $1.65 per bushel beginning February 1, 1944. Prices of U. S. sweet potatoes containing not less than 75 percent No. 1 quality will be 15 cents per bushel less than the above prices. Farmers desiring information concerning the handling of sweet potatoes are requested to get in touch with their state or county agricultural war boards.

It'll cost you an extra $100 Bond to look him in the eye!

HE'S AN AMERICAN SOLDIER.

Some day, if God is with him, he'll come home.

And when he does, you'll get the biggest thrill of your life if you can look him squarely in the eye and say, "I couldn't help you fight—but I did everything in my power to help you win!"

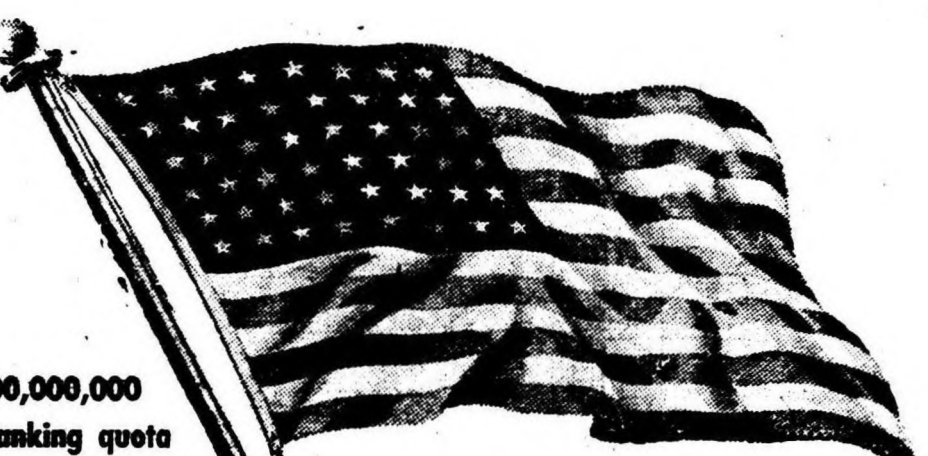

There's only one way you can say that... honestly say it. And that is to help him win now... when he needs all the help you can give him.

Today's particular job for you is to scrape together every dollar you can—and buy an extra $100 worth of War Bonds! That's your job in the 3rd War Loan!

It's not enough to buy your regular amount of Bonds. It has to be more. It has to be an extra buy—a little more pressure for the shoulder that's against the wheel.

REMEMBER THIS—you aren't giving your money. You're lending it to the government for a while. And you're making the best investment in the world.

To all DETROIT EDISON CUSTOMERS

The War Production Board has asked The Detroit Edison Company and all electric utilities to cooperate in a nationwide voluntary program to reduce the use of electricity.

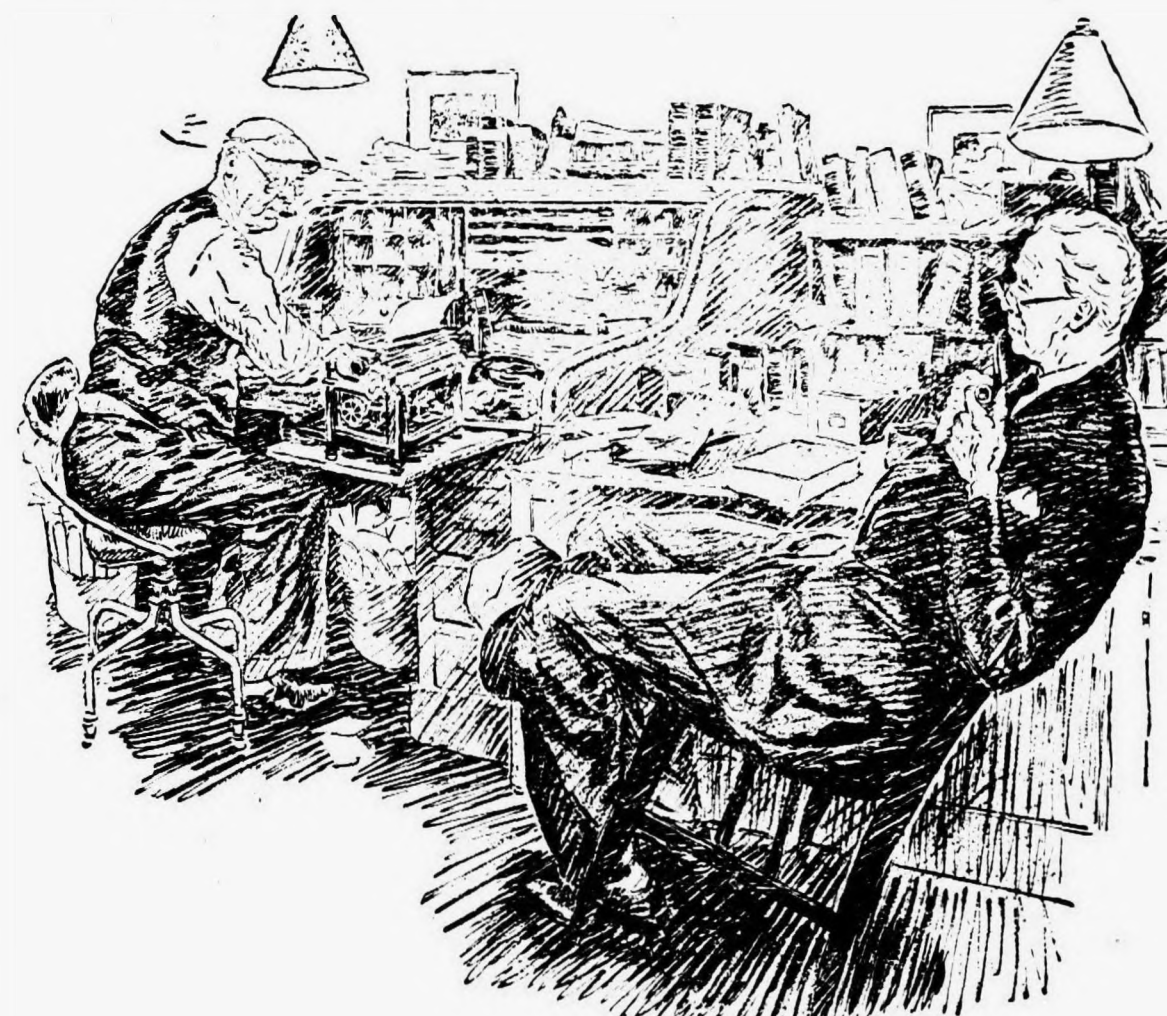

Electricity is cheap and unrationed, and in our Company there is no shortage of generating plant or distribution facilities. But electricity requires thousands of tons of coal per day in its manufacture—besides manpower, transportation and other critical materials. The coal situation is a matter of vital importance to everyone—and when you save electricity you save coal, as well as many other materials needed for war.

Direct savings in lighting and power can be obtained by turning off lights which for a time you can get along without, and by using only essential electrical equipment. No effort need be made to curtail necessary military, aviation and police lighting, or lighting essential to public health—including light for eyesight conservation and safety. Nor will plant protection lighting, transportation, or light for production purposes be affected.

ALL public utilities are included in this nationwide conservation program—gas, telephone, water, transportation—as well as electricity. Your help and the help of all our customers will make the program a success. Here is an opportunity to prove that patriotic self-imposed, voluntary rationing can work. The Detroit Edison Company.

A 3 per cent saving in the Detroit Edison monthly output of electricity will save approximately 7,000 TONS OF COAL PER MONTH (117 CARLOADS) 8,500 MAN-HOURS

Schools Assist Nation's Great War Program

Plymouth Schools Step Out In Front To Help Win War

More than ever before in its long, eventful and helpful history, Plymouth high school in this year of war time is ready to do everything possible for the advancement of the training, intelligence, encouragement, and morale of the people of Plymouth.

Announcing the start of the night school program on October 4, Principal Claude Dykhouse said this week that the high school is prepared to offer any type of training desired by the people themselves.

The night school program has been lined up already for the training and advancement of knowledge of the people, but more than that, the school is ready to offer any type of program which the people themselves want.

The regular program as arranged thus far includes: machine shop, shop mathematics, shop drawing and blue print reading, dress making and tailoring, typing, shorthand, current books, Spanish, badminton, English, history and government, and pre-flight, for all of which high school credit will be given.

But more than that, any subject which any group of 14 to 15 persons wish, will be offered. And this includes everything from civic theater to community singing.

Mr. Dykhouse said that if there are 15 or more persons interested in forming a little theater for the purpose of their own enjoyment, the production of plays or stage designing and technique, the course will be offered, and the charge will be $3 for a ten weeks course.

The same charge is made for all of the regular night school classes, except badminton, for which no charge is made except for equipment.

The classes will meet on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the high school. Anyone interested in the formation of any special group, should communicate with Mr. Dykhouse before the start of the night school program.

There has been some interest advanced in a little theater program, with the hope that one or perhaps two plays can be produced during the winter season.

It was pointed out that this outlet for recreational desire is an adequate substitute for other forms of recreation which require considerable driving.

One person, who already has shown some interest in a little theater said that he had never had so much fun in his life as he did during one winter in which he participated in such a program.

Another evinced considerable interest in a music program, which included chorus, quartet and choir work as well as community singing.

School officials are hopeful that the school will be able to fill a void in the life of the community because of the lack of available transportation, and on the surface it would appear that no other organization is so adequately prepared and equipped to have the center of community activity as the school.

The following standard courses, with the instructors, were announced by Mr. Dykhouse: Machine shop, Monday and Wednesday, Mr. Campbell; shop mathematics, drawing and blue print reading, Tuesday and Thursday, Mr. Ingram; dress-making and tailoring, Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, Mrs. Humphries; typing, Monday and Wednesday, Mr. Fountain; shorthand, Monday and Wednesday, Mr. Fountain; current books, Monday, Miss Lovewell; art, Wednesday, Mrs. Gorton; foods in wartime, Tuesday, Miss Lundin; apprentice training, Monday, Mr. Bentley; Spanish, Monday, Mrs. Bixler; badminton, Tuesday, Mr. Huber; English, history, government for high school credit, Monday and Tuesday, Mr. Lantz; pre-flight, Thursday, Mr. Baker.

Father Plymouth Has Another Word To Say To Folks

Dear Parents: When I was a youngster, which has been some moons past, I remember seeing a play, which was called the "Singin' School Beginning" and say it was a corker. The story of the play was about a singin' teacher and his trials and tribulations in teachin' singin'.

And I got to thinkin' about that play and the fun I had in watchin' it when I read in the paper last week about how the Plymouth High School is willin' for such goin's on, and is even ready to help such things.

And I thought: "Isn't it wonderful that we have schools nowadays like we do have?"

When I was a youngster, we would have walked five miles for a chance to have special trainin' in such things as singin' and play actin' and such.

And the more I thought about it, the more I thought about it, a choral society or a little theater or both might be a mighty good thing for this old town of ours.

All it needs is for somebody with a little spunk to start the ball movin'. We could have one, maybe two plays produced during the winter, and we could have a production of some sort by the singin' society.

That would be fun, of course, but there's somethin' more. It would affect the kids, too, for you know, in my many years of livin' I've learned that there's nothin' which eliminates kid troubles so quick as a lot of culture, and there's nothin' which produces as much culture as a good play, good music or of course good books.

STRIKES DENOUNCED IN LETTER FROM BOY OUT AT SEA

On active duty somewhere on one of the oceans, is Harold J. Jacobs, seaman second class in the Navy, who candidly expresses his thoughts in a letter to The Mail. He writes, "I would like to take this time to thank you for the three copies of The Mail that I have received. It is very seldom that we get a chance to see a newspaper."

"When we do, all we can read about is strikes. I often wonder what the people at home would say if the boys in the Navy, the Army, and the Marines would lay down their guns and say, 'We want more money and less working hours.' I wonder if the people in the States realize just how many hours a day a service man puts in. Thank you for letting me express my thoughts."

"The boys aboard my ship look forward to reading The Mail after I am through with it. There is very little I can tell you about myself or where I am. When I get the chance to go ashore, I try to get some pictures for my album which I have started since I left the States. I hope this letter finds all my friends in and around Plymouth at the very best of health."

PLYMOUTH BECOMES DEAL COMMUNITY O BOY IN NAVY

Russell A. Ash, stationed at the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Illinois, in a letter writes: "I am receiving the Plymouth Mail regularly and await every issue impatiently. Before I left for the service, I had never even Plymouth much thought and only regarded it as a little town on the outskirts of Detroit. Since then, I have changed my viewpoint very rapidly and think it is an ideal community. Even my chums here read the Mail with enthusiasm although they did not know Plymouth existed until a couple of weeks ago."

SEAMAN HAROLD MORGAN SAYS NAVY IS SWELL PLACE TO BE

"I know now that the Navy is swell place to be," writes Seaman Second Class Harold M. Morgan, now out at sea. "Like any of our other boys now in the Navy, I hope to contact him some time in the near future. Our 'boot' training will be completed October 26th. Until then, I anxiously await each Plymouth Mail issue. Thanks ever so much."

OWEN F. GORTON THINKS WEATHER IN FLORIDA IS WONDERFUL

Owen Gorton, who is stationed at Jacksonville, Florida and likes it, writes: "Here's a few lines to inform you of my change of address and how everything is coming along in this great Navy of ours."

PLYMOUTH BOY WRITES FROM SHEEPSHEAD BAY TRAINING STATION

Though busy with his naval duties at Sheepshead Bay, New York, Seaman Second Class Herbert V. Murphy finds time to write. "I have seen quite a few boys from Plymouth and vicinity here. One fellow, 'Chuck' Moon, nearly knocked my head off with a slap between the shoulders."

HARD STUDY, OTHER MILITARY DUTIES OCCUPY SAILOR

From Noel Hoover, stationed with the Navy at Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vermont, is this interesting letter: "I want to thank you for sending The Plymouth Mail to me. It seems just like I'm home again when I open the pages and read about what the other fellows in the service are doing and what is happening back in Plymouth."

RUTH WELLMAN TELLS OF LIFE WITH THE SPARS

"I know that I've been gone from Plymouth only a couple of weeks," writes Ruth E. Wellman, stationed at the U. S. Coast Guard Training Station at Palm Beach, Florida. "But it seems like months. And I want to write while civilian life is still distinctly in my mind—I didn't realize what a great change it would be."

PFC. HARVEY ESCH NOW OUT ON ARMY MANEUVERS

In a letter to The Mail, Pfc. Harvey C. Esch, now on maneuvers, writes: "I am not much at writing letters, but I feel it is my duty to thank you for sending me The Plymouth Mail. I have enjoyed many an evening reading it and I look for it like I would a letter from home."

beautiful, resembling a large college campus. Of course, there is a small disadvantage in that entertainment facilities outside the camp are negligible. This is hardly necessary, however, in the present army set-up as recreational activities are presented to cover every individual. The morale of our troops comes first. It must be satisfactory here in the United States before we dare move them overseas. It is a big job, but our forces are famous for taking on big jobs and succeeding.

FOUR YEARS FOR GOVERNOR

We are in complete agreement with the Michigan State Bar Association in its recommendation that the term of a Governor should be for one term of four years. It is the only way that the state can receive from its Governor the type of services that should be rendered the commonwealth.

But once in the last 40 years has Michigan had a Governor who did not during his first term devote practically ALL of his time to building himself up for re-election. That one exception was Alex Groesbeck. His administration as Governor will forever stand out as the best this or any other state ever had, and it was simply because he forgot politics.

It is one of the unfortunate things in political life that frequently the voters decide the fate of a public official upon matters far remote from actual administrative issues.

Yes, we are in full accord with the recommendation of the State Bar Association.

"SENATOR" BLONDY

So one of Detroit's "distinguished" state Senators is languishing in jail for 60 days because he refuses to comply with the laws of our state and answer a few decent questions asked him by Judge Leland Carr up in Lansing. The leg-running process server says the Judge is attempting to usurp the rights and powers of the legislature.

To use a common street expression, might we say "what a laugh" that statement is.

The legislature itself created the very law in which the Senator finds himself entangled. It gave to circuit judges the RIGHT to demand HONEST answers from SWORN witnesses.

The legislature gave to the judges a RIGHT to impose punishment if a witness did not answer questions asked of him while on a witness stand.

Senator Blondy now finds himself a victim of a just law that the legislature in its wisdom saw fit to pass many years ago. Only through truth can facts be revealed which will bring justice to every person. And only through obedience and respect for law can we hope to maintain an honest government. A lawmaker, above all others, should obey the laws he helps to make for other people to obey.

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will give a motion picture show, featuring Marguerite Clark in "The White Swan" Wednesday evening at the town hall.

Miss Elizabeth Conner will leave next Tuesday for Cambridge, Massachusetts, where she will attend the Sargent School for Physical Education, the coming year.

Mrs. Henry Hondorp pleasantly entertained several ladies at her home Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Jordon of Revere.

Fletcher Campbell of Camp Pike, Arkansas, is home on a few days furlough visiting his parents.

Most of the farmers' wives and daughters around Newburg are going to market these days selling chickens, eggs and last but not least, bouquets. Mrs. John Thompson sold nine dollars worth of asters in one morning.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. John Mining of Flint, a baby girl.

In compliance with the governor's proclamation of properly observing registration day last Tuesday, Plymouth factories and business places closed down at noon. A program was arranged under the direction of village authorities. E. J. Babson Says --

Only Home Owners Can Hope For Security

New York City, Sept. 24—All of us want to be free from worry about jobs or sickness or a poverty-stricken old age. We also want to see peace among workers, farmers and businessmen; and to secure freedom for venture capital and protection against monopolies or unreasonable government regulations. These are splendid goals for Vice President Wallace and the rest of us to seek; but history teaches this simple fact: ONLY AS THE PERCENTAGE OF PEOPLE WHO OWN THEIR OWN HOME AND GARDEN AND HAVE THREE OR MORE CHILDREN AND LIVE BY A SANE RELIGION ARE SUCH GOALS ATTAINABLE.

Although both children and religion are necessary for security; I will this week discuss only land. The soil is the basis of all security; yes, without land there would be no children nor religion! I am especially anxious to discuss land assessments and taxes. Readers will remember that some weeks ago, when discussing this subject, I asked them to write me as to how "land assessments" in their counties compare with actual values; also whether they had rather buy or sell land at the present time.

I am pleased to report that 70% of my replying readers want to buy land and only 30% want to sell. This shows that people are beginning to think wisely. Those desiring to buy predominate in the South and West where the assessments are low enough so that people can afford to own and work the soil. Those desiring to sell, predominate in the East. The replies indicate a strong desire to move out of the big cities into open spaces where people can have a little garden, fresh air and sunshine.

The largest group of people want to buy land in Texas. This means either that Texas' assessments are abnormally low, or else more people think Texas has the best future of all the states. One correspondent suggests that Texas, in seventy-five years, will have a majority of the U. S. House of Representatives. With her climate, soil, oil, seacoast and airfields, this may be true. Next to Texas, the replies prefer Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and the State of Washington, in this respective order. This means that either the land assessments in these states are low or else their people are getting land hungry. Hence, these states may be headed for a land boom. I also had a host of postal-cards from people in Washington, D. C., who are frantic to buy property. They write that Washington is now having a temporary real estate boom.

Massachusetts leads all the states for the number of replies from those desiring to sell real estate. They claim assessments in Massachusetts are too high; they would be thankful for a chance to get out at present assessed values. Other Eastern States feel the same as do the people of Massachusetts. Incidentally, more postal-cards have come from people in Florida, who desire to sell, than from people there who desire to buy. This may mean that the coming Florida boom may not be "just around the corner." Due to its socialistic experiments, there is also an excess of sellers in Wisconsin. A land boom has already started in California.

My study demonstrates two things: (1) That there is great injustice and non-uniformity in present land assessments, and (2) That we should talk about "tax bills" instead of "assessments." In fact, I wish again to forecast that THE TIME MAY COME WHEN THE AMERICAN DOLLAR WILL BE BASED ON LAND EXCHANGEABLE, EITHER WAY. AT THE RATE OF FORTY TIMES THE TAX BILL. Such a dollar would mean something and encourage land owners. I repeat that the security of America is proportional to the percentage of people owning their own home and garden.

Although some of us conservatives may look upon Mr. Wallace as a dreamer; he, nevertheless, interprets the desires of a great many people. I am surprised at receiving so many postal-cards upon which were written these words: "I would like neither to buy nor sell but to be able to retain the property I have earned and paid for by hard work." Yet the Roosevelt Administration has done much to help people along these lines. The Securities and Exchange Commission, the Federal Land Banks, the lowering of interest rates and various other legislation have been in their favor. Land owners, however, should now do their part by working their land, raising good families and going to church.

Just one more thought: Many postal-cards have a P. S. saying that Henry George's ideas must some day be considered. Clippings of statements by England's Archbishop of Canterbury and other prominent men along these lines are also being sent to me. All of these things are signs that bonds, stock certificates and bank books are gradually losing their charm and that people are coming to think more of fertile land, good families and sane religion. Since last writing on this subject, I, therefore, have become quite an optimist; and I especially now thank all who sent me postal-cards. The American people are okay if we will cut out propaganda and give them a chance to do some real thinking as to what are real assets.

mobiles, and the inability of owners to purchase new ones. But, in 1942 there were 8,494 full year plates sold. This included the full year plates sold at the start of the year and the second half plates, which amount to full year plates in conjunction with first half plates. And, in 1943, there were 10,008 plates sold.

The reason, as explained by Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth office of the Secretary of State's office was due to the fact that 1,500 or more Detroit residents came to Plymouth to get their tags because of crowded conditions in Detroit.

In other words, they would rather drive 20 miles to Plymouth, and 20 miles back to Detroit than to stand in line for an hour at a Detroit branch office.

Detroiters Buy Licenses Here

More 1943 license plates were sold in Plymouth than 1942 plates.

This apparent unexpected fact is easily explainable, however.

It had been expected that there would be fewer plates sold because of the discard of auto-

VICTORY'S SONS

THE submarine "Silversides" was on the prow near Tokio. Aboard was Fireman George Platter, whose appendix had to come out. It was life or death.

"You do it," the crew begged

Thomas A. Moore, 22, Moore, a chief pharmacist's mate, had seen a couple of thousand operations as a hospital apprentice. But he felt confident. He was a Yank.

The ocean was smooth as glass but the slipper took her down. They wanted no crash-diving during this amateur operation. Moore was short of equipment. Two bent spoons were used for retractors. When Platter, feeling pain, said "hit me over the head with something" they gave him a can and a half of ether.

An hour went by—two, three, five. During those five hours Moore stood up straight but once to take a deep breath. The operation over, Platter was sewed up and taken to the sick bay.

A few minutes later the sub surfaced, fixed a torpedo into an enemy ship, then submerged.

Moore's patient recovered completely.
