To Honor Three Educational Leaders Of City

Tributes To Supt. Smith And Aides Here 25 Years

Teachers in the Plymouth Public Schools will hold a public reception on Tuesday evening, Nov. 16 in honor of three teachers who have been in the Plymouth Public School system for twenty-five years.

The three teachers are Superintendent George A. Smith, Mrs. Nellie Bird, principal of the Central Grade School, and Miss Edna M. Allen, head of the high school English Department.

All three came to Plymouth in the fall of 1918, and Mrs. Bird had substituted the previous year.

Mr. Smith received his A.B. degree from Michigan State Normal college at Ypsilanti, and his master's degree from Michigan. Miss Allen received her bachelor's degree from Alma college, and her master's from Michigan. Mrs. Bird received her degree from Ypsilanti.

These three teachers have worked and helped the school system to grow from a small organization of 29 teachers in 1918 to the present big system with 72 teachers, during the twenty-five years they have been in Plymouth.

As a matter of fact, there is a great deal of change in the whole town from the village of 1918 to the modern city of today.

And for their contribution to the growth of the city, they will receive the plaques of their former students and the people as a whole.

Greetings from Plymouth school boys who are now in the service should be mailed to Miss Gertrude Fiegel or Miss Irene Waldorf, as soon as conveniently possible.

81 New Homes Being Built

Some Nearing Completion

Four of the new houses which are being constructed in Plymouth will be ready for showing within two weeks, it was announced this week by the manager of the Dawson Construction Co., which is building houses on Harvey street.

In all, there are 81 houses now under construction in the city in one of the biggest building booms in years.

At least nine more houses are to be constructed, it was learned, as soon as sewer and water connections can be installed.

However, the houses are for rent and for sale only to war workers.

City Engineer Stan Besse, who is building inspector, said that the builders had conformed rigidly to the city building code and that the houses are well built.

Oddfellows Blood "Bank" Appeals For More Volunteers

For three years the Odd Fellows have maintained a blood "bank" of their own. And in the period, they have given their blood to many, asking no compensation, only the knowledge that they have helped mankind in its struggle for life.

But at present, the organization is in dire need of more volunteers for their "bank." The group consists of men and women who are available for emergency transfusions at any time and the strain of such occurrences has reduced the available number down to 18.

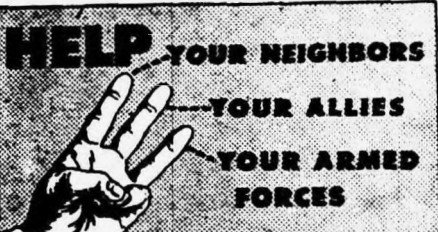

These 18 people must be ready to serve not only the Plymouth territory but also several Detroit and Ann Arbor hospitals.

So the club is appealing to citizens to offer transfusions when they are needed to save a life.

Bromfield is very well known and speaks in the interest of conservation and "Friends of the Land."

The time will be announced later in the paper.

Salvation Army Drive To Start October 28

Seeks More Funds For Badly Needed Work Next Year

The Salvation Army will begin its annual drive for funds on Thursday, October 28 with $3,000 the goal for the operation of the organization in Plymouth during the coming year. This is a slight increase over the previous budget.

Final plans for the collection of funds were made at a meeting of the executive board of the army held at the Schrader Funeral Home, with Fred Schrader, Capt. Arnold, Mrs. Curry, Mrs. Thams and Mrs. Clara L. Alexander present.

Mrs. S. N. Thams was appointed campaign chairman and will contact the heads of the various organizations, schools, clubs, lodges and secure the services of solicitors not only for Plymouth but also for Rosedale Gardens and Northville.

Ernest Allison will contact factory heads.

Headquarters for the drive will be at the Salvation Army hall on Union street where workers will report with their collections.

A report on the Salvation Army nursery school was given at the meeting of the executive board and revealed a very definite need in the community is being filled in the school, which cares for the children of working mothers during the day.

Snow Falls Here October 16

Early Winter Storm Causes Shivers

Snow! Plenty of it—on Saturday, October 16 and on Sunday, October 17!

While Plymouth residents worried about the coal shortage last week end, Old Man Weather did his bit to make the situation worse by providing Michigan with one of the earliest snow storms in years.

Yes, it snowed on October 15, back in 1937, but that snow storm was a mere nothing compared to the one which this part of the state experienced Saturday night and Sunday.

At times the ground was nearly covered. Some fortunate duck hunters who were able to get up to Saginaw Bay over the weekend report that there were snowbanks near Vassar nearly three feet deep in places.

The weather warmed up Monday and the snow disappeared. But it was a sour taste of that which lies ahead for the next six months.

Manager Rice Goes To Ypsi

Auto Club Manager Is Promoted

L. B. Rice, manager of the Plymouth branch of the Automobile Club of Michigan, has been transferred to Ypsilanti as manager of the office there for the duration of the war.

He succeeds Carl Arvin, who has entered the service. Homer Frisbee will take over the management of the local office.

Mr. Rice has been manager here since 1936, and both he and Mrs. Rice will maintain their home here.

Get New Ration Books Here Next Week

Schools Prepared To Issue Them Rapidly

Superintendent George A. Smith of the Plymouth Public Schools said yesterday that the entire program of the schools for the issuance of Ration Book No. 4 had been completed, and that there appeared to be no reason why the entire program cannot be handled with a minimum of effort and waiting.

Under the program as set up by Mr. Smith, all persons with last names beginning with the letters A to G inclusive, will call for their books on Monday.

Persons with names beginning from H to Q inclusive, will apply on Tuesday, and the remainder on Wednesday.

The rationing hours will be from one in the afternoon to nine in the evening, with teachers in charge but many volunteer workers helping out.

Mr. Smith pointed out that there are no set rules and regulations with respect to persons coming on the allotted days, but that if they do come when it is planned for them, there will be no waiting lines, and the entire program can be carried out with considerably more dispatch than if the people come when they wish.

Registrations should be by schools, with the teachers, in all three buildings helping with the issuance of the books, which everyone, even the government fondly hopes will be the last book to be issued by OPA.

Harvest Dinner For Shrine Club At Mayflower On November 6

The Suburban Shrine Club has announced that it will hold a harvest dinner at the Mayflower Hotel on Saturday evening, Nov. 6. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m., and a full round of entertainment has been provided for the evening.

Ernest Allison, general chairman, said that almost all of the available tickets for the party have been sold, but that a few are still available at $1.75 each, and may be obtained from members of the Kiwanis club.

Haze Bennett and a staff of entertainers will provide both the music and the entertainment for the evening, but there will be no dancing.

Dinner, cooked and served by the members of the club, will be at 7 o'clock. It is anticipated that the party will be over by 10:30.

Assisting Mr. Allison with details at the party are Russell Roe in charge of the banquet hall; Paul Ramsdell, in charge of Hallway decorations; Ernie Henry in charge of the kitchen and Ray Bachelder, but all members of the club will be working on Monday and Tuesday afternoon as well as Tuesday evening.

Hillside Closes For Two Months Only Bar Will Remain Open

Jake Stremich, proprietor of the Hillside Barbecue announced this week that the food department of the popular eating place, would be closed Nov. 1 until the first of the year.

The bar will continue to operate.

During the time that the establishment is closed, it will be redecorated and rearranged.

The closing adds to complication of the Plymouth food situation, because restaurants are already overcrowded.

Many of the factory executives had taken their lunch at the Hillside, and these will now be tossed into other restaurants.

The Hillside also was a popular night resort for dinner and supper parties.

No other restaurant remains open after the dinner hour in Plymouth.

Several Sailors Enjoy Leaves From Naval Duties This Week

Sailors and more sailors were back in good old Plymouth enjoying leaves this week. There was Donald H. Pankow, son of Mrs. Minnie Pankow of Ann street, who is a seaman second class at Great Lakes, Illinois. He came home with Bluejackets Johnnie McClain and Eugene Cayton, also stationed at Great Lakes. The boys have just completed their "boot" training and are now full-fledged sailors.

Noel Hoover, who is the son of Mrs. F. B. Hoover of Roosevelt avenue, was also home. Noel is attending the Navy College at Middlebury, Vermont.

Seaman second class Charles Milton Humphries completes the list. He, too, is stationed at Great Lakes with the medical corps.

Ensign Carney Comes To Duck Hunters' Aid

Government Needs Feathers, So Get Busy, Mr. Hunter

Like manna from Heaven came information to enthusiastic Plymouth duck hunters this week from Ensign Elmore L. Carney, a naval student at Harvard University, who says it is a "patriotic duty" to hunt ducks and geese—providing you turn the feathers over to Uncle Sam.

Ensign Carney, who is expected home in a few days upon the completion of his course, has sent to The Mail a clipping from a Boston paper which supports his plea for the hunters.

The item from the Boston paper says: "If you're lucky enough to be able to go duck and goose shooting in this fall and the missus says no—tell her it's your patriotic duty, the WPB advised yesterday."

"It seems that duck and goose feathers form the fourth most critical material shortage we're facing today and the WPB asks all hunters to save and sell every ounce of these feathers."

"They're needed urgently for flying suits and sleeping bags for our armed forces—all sizes are needed. The Feather Commission House, 122 Washington avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y., is in the market for any quantity—no matter how small."

Kiwanis Club Plans Benefit Tuesday Evening Fixed For Event

Two hundred people will have fun, and underprivileged children will reap the benefit as a result of the annual Kiwanis Club night club party, which will be held at the Masonic Temple next Tuesday evening.

Ernest Allison, general chairman, said that almost all of the available tickets for the party have been sold, but that a few are still available at $1.75 each, and may be obtained from members of the Kiwanis club.

Haze Bennett and a staff of entertainers will provide both the music and the entertainment for the evening, but there will be no dancing.

Here's Warning To Stock Holders Must Report All Foreign Holdings

If there are any Plymouth residents holding foreign bonds or stocks, these must be reported to the Federal Reserve bank, through either one of the two Plymouth banks before November 1 or they will be subject to a severe penalty.

This order includes all persons, corporations and other organizations holding property as of May 31, 1943 in any form in any foreign country, including Canada.

It is known that there are several in Plymouth who hold Ford Motor company stock of Canada, possibly stock in the Sun Life Insurance company of Canada and other companies. These reports must be made regardless of the value of the holdings.

Either The First National bank or the Plymouth United Savings bank can accept this report and fully advise holders as to proper procedure.

Hallow'en Fun For Children City To Help Pay The Costs

The City Commission at its meeting Monday night agreed to underwrite the cost of the city's Hallow'en parties for children up to $100.

The request for the financial assistance was made by Frank Walsh, chairman of the Civic Committee, which sponsors the parties, given every year for the children, in lieu of their more predatory occupations.

The parties this year will be held in the three schools and in the Masonic Temple, and various organizations, clubs and individuals will be asked to help defray the expenses of the fun fests.

Smaller children will have their parties in the Central and Starkweather grade schools. The older youngsters in the high school, and the high schoolers at the Temple.

City Commission Backs Manager On Pay Demand

All Workers Return To Work On Former Pay Schedule

The City Commission in executive session last Thursday night refused to grant a pay raise to the seven city employees who went on strike earlier in the week.

Mayor Carl Shear called the commission into executive session at which it was decided that the commission would not receive any petition from the city employees and that all of their dealings must be with the City Manager.

The employees without further delay returned to work on Friday morning, and the City Manager said he had heard nothing more from them.

The strike which started on Tuesday morning was apparently spontaneous and did not represent the action by any group.

They had petitioned for a general wage increase and when it was refused, declined to return to work. Their action followed the granting of merit raises to two other city employees.

Workers Needed For Red Cross Surgical Dressing Rooms

An urgent call is extended for volunteers to work at the Red Cross surgical dressing rooms at the Starkweather school. There is plenty of material to work with and more ladies are needed in order to meet Plymouth's Red Cross quota. The rooms are open each Tuesday and Thursday from 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Girl Bitten By Dog—Is It Yours? Owners Asked To Call The Parents

Your help is urgently needed! Last Thursday noon little Patsy Lu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lidgard of 314 Lombard avenue, was bitten on her hand by a dog as she was playing near the Starkweather avenue school.

It was a small dog, a brown and white, wearing a black collar. But the parents or the police have not been able to find the dog.

Here is an appeal to the owners of the dog or any one knowing its description.

Little Patsy Lu must take 14 very painful "shots" against hydrophobia unless the dog can be found so that doctors can make tests of the dog to see whether the shots are necessary.

Owners of the dog are urged to call the Lidgard home, phone 358-M. Or if neighbors know the owners of a dog answering the description, you may know that it will be appreciated and may save a little girl from a lot of suffering if you advise the parents as to the whereabouts of the dog.

Mrs. E. C. Vealey entertained at luncheon last Friday in her home on S. Harvey street, Mrs. Emma Partridge of Tecumseh, Mrs. R. H. Reck of LaGrange, Illinois, Mrs. I. N. Inis and mother, Mrs. Hunt. Bridge was played during the afternoon.

197 Give Blood To Red Cross

A generous response was made to the Red Cross Blood Bank, held Monday afternoon at the Masonic Temple, which netted 197 pints of blood plasma. Registrations numbered 282.

The Plymouth branch of the Red Cross extends its thanks to all those who made the visit of the blood bank such a success. Another visit of the bank is scheduled for January. It will be necessary for those who wish to give their blood to re-register before that time.

Mrs. Catherine Henderson She will direct Plymouth's War Chest drive. Only $7,000 has been fixed as the goal for this city and township. Mrs. Henderson declares that it means but a trifling contribution from each person—a trifling sum to help war victims.

Community Chorus Organized Tuesday

To prove that singing is one of the best forms of relaxation, a Community Chorus has been organized and will hold its choral sessions Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock in the high school. There, young and old, will blend their voices and momentarily forget the troubles and cares of the day.

Under the temporary leadership of Horace W. Thatcher, the chorus met Tuesday evening to form committees and outline plans for its activities. But to be a successful organization, the club must have more members and all who are interested are urged to come to the next meeting. Mrs. Frank Dicks has been chosen membership chairman and will supervise the solicitation of potential members.

Publicity will be in the hands of O. M. Valliquette, Mrs. Dean S. Saxton and Mrs. Harold Kåisel.

In connection with the Community Chorus, a dramatic club has also been formed and will meet each Tuesday evening at 8 in room 14 at the high school. The same committees will serve this organization.

Though still in the embryonic stages of organization, both clubs hope to be able to make public debuts in the near future.

Organizations which will receive funds from the war chest includes the United Service Organizations, which will get more than half of all funds collected; the United Seaman's Service, British War Relief Society, United China

Plans are being made to increase the supply of ammonium nitrate for use as an agricultural fertilizer, according to the War Production Board. The material has been so improved to prevent caking that orders received for September and October exceed the supply. Additional sodium nitrate became available for agricultural fertilizer last April when government capacity to produce it began to exceed the amount needed for military explosives.

IN MEMORIAM
Written in memory of my dear mother, Amy A. Millard, who passed to the Great Beyond, October 29th, 1916. I cannot go to your grave dear heart. To scatter flowers thereon. But in a sunny room a lovely plant I grow. With tender care I watch it grow. Always with loving thoughts of you.
In my heart your memory lingers, Sweetly, tender, fond and true, There's not a day dear mother, That I do not think of you. Sweet memories are a gift from God Which death cannot destroy. Lovingly, your daughter, Mamie C. Kingsley.
Plans are being made to increase the supply of ammonium nitrate for use as an agricultural fertilizer, according to the War Production Board. The material has been so improved to prevent caking that orders received for September and October exceed the supply. Additional sodium nitrate became available for agricultural fertilizer last April when government capacity to produce it began to exceed the amount needed for military explosives.

—help boost the armed might of America!

"Conservation of fuel, manpower, equipment and materials is a 'must' for the United States if we are to achieve the maximum war production every American wants."

"Every pound of coal, every gallon of oil, every cubic foot of gas that can be saved means that our national energy pool is strengthened just that much. Every manhour saved in the production of these basic fuels, in the production of electricity, in transportation and in communications is a manhour that can be used for something else. Every pound of tungsten that is saved in the production of electric lamps is a pound that can be used in the production of radar equipment."

"We have, therefore, called upon the coal, petroleum, electric, natural and manufactured gas, water, communications and transportation industries to join with us in a broad conservation campaign to accomplish these results. The campaign will be voluntary. Cooperation of these industries in asking the public to use their services only as absolutely necessary represents a real sacrifice by them. We ask the American public to appreciate that sacrifice and to give them and the war effort enthusiastic and unstinting cooperation as this campaign develops."

Plymouth Swamped 31-0 By Baldwin

The heavyweight Birmingham football team plowed through the Plymouth team as though it were water to win by a score of 31-0 at Plymouth, October 15.

In the first five minutes Birmingham had a touchdown, and before the first quarter was over they had another. Each of the following quarters netted them another.

In the second quarter Plymouth had a touchdown when a pass was thrown to Bennett; but because of an off side penalty the ball was called back to the line of scrimmage where it was lost on downs. The Plymouth team used a passing attack throughout the game but gained very little ground because the pigskin slinger, Muggs Hunt, suffered a broken shoulder in the first quarter.

Birmingham completed the game with a perfect passing record with a total of eight complete passes out of eight tries.

Plymouth out-punted Birmingham, and in this way got the ball on the nine-yard line once through a fumble. The ball went to the nine-yard line again later in the game after a series of penalties on Birmingham for holding, off sides, and slugging.

The starting lineup for Plymouth was at RE, Curmi; RT, Livernors; RG, Jewell; C, Rock; LG, and Capt. Wisley; LT, Moffitt; LE, Bennett; RH, Cummings; LH, Hunt; FB, Scheppele; QB, Harsha. Subs: Bachelder, Montgomery, MacGregor, Wilson, Wisley, Downing, Smith, Valrance, Stuart, Brink, Simonetti, Schaufelc. The starting lineup for Birmingham was at RE, Curmi; RT, Fisher; RG, Joyce; C, Little; LG, Brumgraber; LT, Blauman; LE, Dunn; RH, McConkie; LH, Spiegel; FB, Keller; QB, and Capt. KQelley.

Scoring: Keller 3 touchdowns, Birmingham; Spiegel 1 touchdown, Birmingham; McConkie 1 touchdown, Birmingham.

U. Of M. Offers List Scholarships

The new List Scholarship plan will make it possible for 629 high school graduates, one from each senior high school in Michigan, to attend the University of Michigan with semester fees paid. This may continue for the full four years, depending on the work of the student.

The program does not affect the Alumni Club Scholarships in any way, for it is a separate program. The full 629 scholarships will not be awarded this fall because the plan was so recent that it was not possible to find enough candidates. Those that were selected, however, will attend the University this fall. Jean Campbell from Plymouth enters the University on one of the scholarships.

Eligibility for the scholarships is determined by scholarship ranking in the upper third of the graduating class, successful performance on psychological and achievement tests covering the principal high school subjects, known interest in further education, character, good citizenship, health and financial need.

Key Pushers Observe

The typists are matching the speed-up for war production. Among the third semester students are several who are typing from forty to fifty words a minute, while the average is about thirty. The top students are Shirley Cramer and Jean O'Meara with 51 words a minute, Jean Warren with 48 a minute, Oceana Ballen and Louise Newman each with 46 a minute. Also from the second semester students stands Dora Gruebner with 33 words a minute. Twenty-five words for a second semester student is considered very good.

Miss Schlosstein, the teacher, said that to graduate from college as a teacher of commercial subjects one has to type 60 words a minute, so that Shirley Cramer and Jean O'Meara are almost speedy enough to qualify as experts.

Russian Hamburg Big Seller

A point stretcher and a tasty dish featured in our luncheon is Russian Hamburg. It is a dish made of ground round steak, peas, tomato juice, etc., which can be served on steamed rice or mashed potatoes. Waldorf salad, or apple salad as it is commonly called, is another big seller. A large bowl of fresh fruit is soon gone on the days that it is featured. Mrs. Vanlandingham substituted for Mrs. Sawyer one day last week.

Mrs. McVann is managing a cafeteria at the Starkweather school with the sixth grade girls helping to serve. They started with just a main dish, milk, and ice cream. They plan to serve about 100 pupils.

Odds and Ends

Aud. M. seems to be out to get the position of drum major. The other morning at band practice she threw her baton up and hit Jimmy Baker, the drum major. "I always did want to be drum major," she said.

Miss Hearn's Latin students will learn after a while not to try to do as little as possible. During her fourth year Latin class, Aud Morris tried to get out of translating her share of the lesson by telling Miss Hearn every time she came to a semicolon or a period. Results? She translated the whole lesson.

Miss Lovewell believes that civilization has taken strides in the last two weeks. She says all the girls are now wearing their sweaters buttoned down the front instead of the usual backward way.

All through the meeting for the class movie two senior boys sat listening intently to every word Mr. Koesler was saying. Afterwards they told him how much they had enjoyed his talk. You can imagine his surprise upon learning they had come only to receive help with their physics.

Last week in the Spanish class George Valrance insisted on keeping his feet in a chair. After several warnings Mrs. Bixler told him to write a composition on "Mis Pies", Spanish for my feet.

Why is Betty S. walking around the halls with a long face? Too bad Johnny moved so far away, Betty.

G. R.'s Send Girls To Conference

Margaret Ann Brown and Mary Brandt are the representatives from the Senior Girl Reserves to the regional conference at the Central Branch of the Y.M.C.A. in Detroit on October 23 and 24. This regional conference is to take the place of the statewide conference which was not held this year because of transportation difficulties. On Saturday there will be discussion groups, and speakers on the organization and work of the club. After a church service the conference will close with a ceremonial Sunday.

On November 9 there will be a training school at the Highland Park Branch for all Girl Reserve Officers.

Bring Linen To Junior Red Cross Calendar

Save rags! Soft, warm linens, backs of discarded shirts, the smallest scraps of any soft, white cotton or linen that can be used for bandages and swabs.

The Woman's Field Army of the American Society for Control of Cancer needs them desperately; their supply is almost depleted.

Bring all the linen scraps to school and turn them in to the Junior Red Cross, which is sponsoring this drive to help fight against cancer.

Ilya Skolnik Easy To Interview

Although Mr. Ilya Skolnik, conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, seems very unapproachable and awe inspiring on the podium, he was really a very genial, friendly man when interviewed by two student reporters. He was much surprised when they did not ask him the question most often asked, "Do you like music?" He said the answer was very evident since he would not remain in the orchestra for twenty-four years if he did not like it. In the orchestra of over ninety members there are only two women, Emily Mutter Adams, violinist, and Eugenia Krokus, harpist, who have been with the organization five and seven years respectively. Mr. Skolnik has worked with Miss Hamill, who is a teacher here. The string section of the orchestra plays with Gus Henschon's orchestra.

Senior Sketches

Eleanor Bojanzkyk, daughter of Joseph and Frances Bojanzkyk of 11316 Merriman road, is completing a commercial course. Her hobbies are ice skating, dancing, and collecting photographs. She has been active in the Home Economics, Girl Reserves, and Glee Clubs. She says that being called "Bo-Bo" is definitely her pet peeve. Eleanor is interested in the Nurses Cadet Corps and plans to join after graduation. Delphine Bogenschutz, daughter of Lillian Bogenschutz of 15780 Cadillac road, is completing a commercial-general course. She has been for four years a member of Leaders' Club and was in the Junior play. She enjoys collecting sheet music, writing letters, and is active in sports. Delphine says she is just a "home body" and intends to work near home or join some part of the war services. Her pet peeve is people who are not friendly. Madeline Allen, daughter of Georgina and Charles Allen who live at 175 Amelia street is taking a general course. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves for one year. Her hobby is trying to dress neatly. After graduation Madeline plans to continue working until after the war and then travel through the United States. The sound of a cracking knuckle is her pet peeve.

All outdoor sports are the hobbies of Ronald Brink, son of George G. Brink of 433 Evergreen avenue. He is pursuing a college course. He has been an active member of the football, baseball, and basketball teams all through high school. His pet peeve is girls who wear each other's clothes. He plans to join the Naval Air Corps after he graduates.

Class News

Bill Brown wrote for drama class a one act play which the class is preparing to present soon. Mrs. Bixler has taken over one of Miss Hearn's first year Latin classes because the latter was overloaded with six classes a day.

The 8B science class is studying air and the manner in which it affects our lives.

The 8A science class is studying electricity, electric currents, and how currents are applied in the refrigerator and other appliances. Miss Fiegel's American history classes have been making time charts on incidents leading up to the Revolutionary War and are reading "The Declaration of Independence."

The chemistry classes went into the laboratory for the first time this year, because the work books have just arrived.

The 7B math classes are learning how to make accurate graphs. Ted Thrasher had the highest average of all the math pupils—99%.

Mrs. Tefft's 10B English plans to organize as a club and learn parliamentary procedure this week. Miss Hamill's modern history classes have completed maps of Europe. They have also been giving reports on men who influenced public opinion of the French Revolution, and had a round table discussion concerned with the Indies.

Domna Day, Jerald Frisbie and Wanda Harder went to Dave Fulsom's for a lunch after the "Sponge Dance."

George Simons, Jean Livernois, and Red Mellburg went to Joan Gilles' home for a lunch after the dance.

Last Sunday Audrey Neale, Mary Livingstone, and Mitzie Jacobson went horseback riding at Hilltop and later attended the show.

Pat and Betty Jo Cravens visited the General Motors building and the nurses' home at the Ford hospital last Sunday.

Friday night Phyllis Lee attended the Great Lakes Theater in Detroit with Al Porritt.

Saturday night a hayride was given by Gerry Hix, Marge Wilson, Diana Brunner, and Corrine Schiffler. The kids rode to Northville, and had a lunch at Corrine's when they came back. Virginia Dorey was the weekend guest of Vernagene Kruger of Ypsilanti. They attended the football game and "Dime Dance" at Ypsilanti High School. Last Monday night Betty Solberg, Eddie Roznecki, Madeline Simpson and Angelo Perazza, U.S.N., went to the United Artist Theater and saw "For Whom the Bell Tolls." After the show they had dinner at the Chinese Tea Gardens.

Nina Jean Lawson had a pajama party at her house Friday and Saturday. Those present were Olive Arnold, Myrt Schraeder, Joyce Penny, Wilma Lounsbury, Ann Ward, and Delphine Bogenschutz.

A surprise birthday party was given for Shirley Luttermoser last Saturday night by Marge Livingstone, Bill Schoof, Barb Stover, Bob Grimm, Ruth Popovich, Bill Sexton, Joyce Tarnutzer, Bill Saxton, Aud Morris, Wayne Hohl, Irene Niedospal, David Johnson, Barb Martin, Carl Hale, Val Kolin, Bob Bovee and Jack Schoof. The kids also celebrated Barb Stover's and Bill Schoof's birthdays, and also the event of Carl Hale's leaving for the Marines.

Over three hundred attended the "Triangle Trot" held in the gym last Friday, October 15. The last half of the program was a sponge dance with the girls asking the boys. The Senior Girl Reserves made over $45. Bill Upton's orchestra furnished the music.

That "Bud" Mason has started everyone to say, "Oh is that sad!" That free lunches were served from the vegetable corsages of Downing Jewell, Bill Bartel and "Bud" Mason at the "sponge dance."

Here's What You Can Do to Conserve NATURAL GAS

U. S. GOVERNMENT MAKES SPECIFIC REQUESTS

Uncle Sam is urgently appealing to every American to save as much Gas as possible, beginning RIGHT NOW. The Government has launched a Seven-Industry Voluntary Conservation Program which embraces electricity, coal, petroleum, water, transportation and communications in addition to Gas.

With the other gas utilities throughout the United States, Consumers are joining whole-heartedly in this Conservation Program. Our gas resources have proved sufficient for all essential industrial, commercial and residential needs. But natural gas is a national asset, a major fuel in war production, and should never be used wastefully.

We urge every customer to co-operate fully in the Government's Conservation Program. Says J. A. Krug, director of the Office of War Utilities: "With everyone contributing, the effect will be tremendous in hastening the day of Victory."

War Production Board's Voluntary PROGRAM FOR NATURAL GAS CONSERVATION

Residential Year-Round Conservation

1. Cook whole meals in oven. Cook one-dish meals on top burners.
2. Do not light top burners until cooking utensils are in place.
3. Do not use running hot water for washing dishes or hands. Repair leaky faucets. Heat and use no more water than is necessary.
4. Never leave refrigerator door open. Cool cooked foods before placing in refrigerator.

Residential Heating Season Conservation

1. Prepare home for Winter season through insulation, weather stripping and storm windows.
2. Close off all unused rooms.
3. Eliminate garage heating.
4. Never use the cooking range for heating.
5. Reduce home temperature to 65 degrees.
6. Reduce temperature to 55 degrees at night and when homes are not occupied.
7. In cases where there is no thermostatic control, use heaters at such times as actually needed in the rooms heated.

Commercial and Industrial

1. Make efficient use of gas-fired equipment for cooking and water heating. Eliminate waste of hot water.
2. Company representatives will, upon request of commercial customers, make inspections of their gas-fired equipment to assist them with respect to proper and efficient operation.
3. Company representatives will, upon request of industrial customers, make surveys of their plants for the purpose of eliminating all waste in the use of gas.
4. Commercial and industrial customers reduce temperature to the standards recommended for residential customers.
5. The use of gas in make-shift heating appliances by workers in industrial plants should be discouraged by the managers of such plants.

At 5:45 a. m., the day begins for Seaman Second Class Ralph D. Lorenz, and he's kept very busy till nine p. m. He's at Purdue University in Lafayette, Indiana, where he's learning to become an electrician's mate. "We study math, electrical theory, electrical lab and tool lab. On Friday, we have a three hour exam which covers the week's work. "I will graduate soon and probably leave for sea duty. We have about 200 fellows in our company as there are four companies stationed at Purdue. The college is very nice with new buildings all over the campus. It is a swell place to go to school as there are many advantages here. "I get the Plymouth Mail every Saturday and am glad to read about the best town in Michigan. You sure went over the top with the bond drive. Plymouth is one town of which people can be proud. "I was very sorry to read that Archie King was killed. It must have been a big surprise to everyone. He had a lot of school mates and will be missed very much."

"So to Grandad and Sis, to Norman and Dad and Jerry and you dearest, too—I'll just say 'Goodnight' and my love to you all. May God grant His blessings to you."

COMPLETES TECHNICAL SCHOOLING AT GULFPORT FIELD, MISSISSIPPI

Pfc. Floyd W. Schroeder, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schroeder of Forest street, has graduated from Gulfport Field, Mississippi, big army air forces technical training command school for airplane mechanics specializing in maintenance of cargo and transport type airplanes. During his stay at Gulfport Field, Pfc. Schroeder received a highly technical course of instruction covering 112 days of mechanical instruction. At the conclusion of his formal schooling, he spent eight days in Gulfport Field's "Guadalcanal" Graduation Field Test Area, where he lived in a pup tent and put his knowledge to work under combat conditions. The area is nicknamed "Guadalcanal" because of its rugged setup. Pfc. Schroeder was an aircraft assembler in civilian life, employed at Willow Run.

PFC. STEVEN DELY STATIONED IN UTAH WITH ARMY AIR CORPS

"The army has been good to me and I have enjoyed every bit of it, but the great day will be when the war is over and all the boys are home again," writes Pfc. Steven J. Dely, who is stationed with the Air Corps at Kearns, Utah. He continued, "Since I have been in the army, I have met a few of the home town boys. It made me feel good to see and talk to fellows I knew." Steven is the son of Mrs. Anna Dely of Maple street. His brother, Louis, is a private first class in the Marine Corps at San Diego, California.

BOB WILSON TAKES DESERT TRAINING

For the past eight weeks, Bob Wilson has been out on the desert, somewhere in Texas, receiving desert warfare training. He mentions the extreme heat and wishes that he were back in the "sweltering" little town in the north. While Bob was stationed at Fort Eustis, Virginia, he met Ray Creithe, another Plymouth lad.

ANNA SHONER, MEMBER OF WAC, RECENTLY RECEIVED PROMOTION

Not only do our boys make the grade, but our girls in service do, too. Anna Shoner, daughter of Mrs. Irene Bolton, was recently promoted to private first class in the WAC, at Camp Carson, Colorado. She has been assigned to the Ordnance Department there. Pfc. Shoner has every right to be proud for she has two brothers who are fighting for our country. Pvt. Eugene is located at Camp Howze, Texas.

NEWS OF SUCCESSFUL BOND DRIVE PROVES ENCOURAGING TO BOYS

News that the United States went over the top in the Bond drive was heartening to our boys which is reflected by a letter received from Pvt. Arthur Lockwood. "It was good to hear over the radio this morning that we Americans had gone over the bond drive by two billion dollars. Our company is small at the present time, but we all scurried up enough to buy $500 worth," wrote Arthur. He is stationed with the infantry at Camp Phillips, Kansas.

BLUEJACKET RAY HIX SENDS GREETINGS TO HIS BROTHER AT SEA

The Mail is serving as an intermediate for Ray Hix, stationed at Great Lakes, Illinois, and his brother, Bob Weaver, who is at sea. Ray says, "Say hello to my brother, Bob Weaver, through The Mail. He will get the paper at sea." Ray, formerly of 831 Wing street, is completing his "boot" training at Great Lakes and says that he has enjoyed it. Since there he has met Bill Slater, Milton Humphries, and Bob McGarry, while John McClain is at another camp near them.

SGT. W. E. RAY GRADUATES FROM GUNNERY SCHOOL

Recent graduate of the Kingman Army Air Field flexible gunnery school at Kingman, Arizona, is Sgt. W. E. Ray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ray of Starkweather avenue. As a student gunner at the Kingman school, Sgt. Ray went through a school course in which he was taught the principles of ballistics, sighting, turret maintenance, range estimation, and aircraft machine guns. He was a two weeks of air firing before being presented with his gunnery wings. Sgt. Ray attended Plymouth High School.

"WE BUILD, DESTROY AND FIGHT," WRITES PVT. GENE GEARNS

Pvt. Gene Gearns is a member of "a swell outfit"—the combat engineers. Stationed at Camp Young, California, Gene writes that "We build, destroy, and fight. "It is quite hot down here and I wish you had some of the heat. We have moved around quite a bit lately, but one thing that always follows is the Plymouth Mail. I am always glad to get it, wherever we are, and see what is going on back in Plymouth."

FLORIDA CLIMATE IS DISAPPOINTING TO PFC. FRANKLIN COWARD

Pfc. Franklin Coward is learning to be an aerial gunner at Tyndall Field, Panama City, Florida, and he doesn't like the Florida weather any too well. Transferred from Sheppard Field, Texas, to the Florida Station, Pfc. Coward says, "I believe that I liked Sheppard Field a little better than I am going to like this one. There all we had to contend with was dust and poor food. Here the food is better, but the ground is all sand. "When we came down here from Sheppard Field, all of us thought that we were going to spend a winter in a nice warm Florida. No matter what the Chamber of Commerce says, it is still colder here than it was in Texas. Of course, last July and August when the temperature at Wichita Falls, Texas, read 130 degrees fahrenheit in the shade, none of us out at Sheppard Field had any thought except that of trying to keep cool. Now I'm in Florida and could use some of that heat."

Pfc. Coward will be stationed at Tyndall Field for several weeks and will then be transferred to another station to continue his schooling.

ARE THERE ANY OTHER PLYMOUTH BOYS AT CAMP MAXEY, TEXAS?

At Camp Maxey, Texas, is Pvt. Gerald Olson, a member of the cavalry there. He writes an interesting letter of the occurrences at the camp and wants to know if there are any other Plymouth boys there. "I am very well and I feel better after receiving the Plymouth Mail yesterday. "We are firing all the weapons we have now. We start firing at 6 a. m. and quit about 6 p. m. If we don't make expert we have to fire all over. So far I have done all right. We are going to fire all the weapons we have some night this week. They want to show us what it looks like to fire all weapons at night. Once you fire a machine gun and other weapons, you don't want to quit. "When we were in California, some of the men volunteered for ranger duty. Last week, we got letters from the government saying those fellows had gone on a raid in France and all of them were killed, saving the rest of the outfit from disaster. So our cavalry unit has already seen action in a round-about way. "I wish I knew that there were some fellows from Plymouth down here. It sure would be nice to talk to them about the good old times."

LT. ROBERT PARSONS RECENTLY TRANSFERRED

Lt. Robert N. Parsons has recently been transferred to the Roses Lake Army Air Base, Washington. Lt. Parsons, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Parsons of Penniman avenue, is now a navigator on a heavy bombardment plane. GLENN GULDNER IS AT FARRAGUT, IDAHO A/S Glenn Guldner, son of Mrs. Julia Guldner of Harvey street, is at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Farragut, Idaho. He says the scenery around the camp is beautiful, but that he'd still rather be in Plymouth. PVT. WILLIAM MESHEKEY IS AT KANSAS CAMP At Camp Phillips, Kansas, is Pvt. William L. Meshekey, who has been in the infantry for 15 months now. He was stationed in Tennessee for some time before being transferred to Kansas. He was employed at Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company before leaving for service. GRAHAM BAILEY BEGINS TRAINING IN IDAHO For the next several weeks, Graham Sgt. Bailey, husband of Mrs. Hortense Bailey of Fair street, will be busy learning military discipline, the fundamentals of seamanship, and undergoing intensive physical hardening. He has begun his recruit training at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Farragut, Idaho. Plymouth Mail Want Ads Bring Results.

Rev. Richards Leaves For Florida Home

Rev. and Mrs. William Richards of Northville left this week for their winter home near Scottsboro, Florida, where they will remain until next spring. In addition to cultivating his Florida orchards, he conducts a Baptist church each Sunday in Scottsboro, although he is a retired Methodist minister.

Times do change! The Conner hardware store has stood at the corner of Main street and Pennington avenue in Plymouth for nearly a century.

During the Indian wars, the Civil War, the Spanish War, and the First World War its doors were never closed except on Sunday and holidays.

No matter what the emergency, no matter what was happening, it has always been possible to secure all the help one needed to sell the hardware supplies of the community.

But things are different in these trying times. Hired help is difficult to secure, unless one can pay more than the ransom wages being paid in war factories.

Recently Plymouth's dry cleaning establishment, The Jewell cleaners, wanted to give their over-worked employees a vacation. In order to do so, it was necessary to close for a week. Terry's Bakery did likewise.

Max Moon hasn't had a breathing spell in so many months that he became not only weary but disgusted with the tribulations that go along with business these days. So Max just closed up the store and went on vacation.

A sign on the locked doors reads as follows: "Gone on vacation. Will be back October 23."

Not in the memory of any living man has the Conner hardware store ever been closed on regular business days, except in its olden times when it was padlocked during the noonday hour when Michael Conner, and later his son, William, went home for the noonday meal and snooze.

Northville Rotary Club Reviews Its Past Accomplishments

Northville Rotarians last week turned the pages back to the days when the neighboring Rotarians devoted much of their time and attention to community development.

Few of the present members of the club knew that it was Ed. Langfield, first Rotarian president in Northville, who stepped out and organized the popular Northville school band. Few remember that it was under the direction of former Rotarian Ray Richardson that the attractive "well house" was erected over the famous Northville spring.

Only two recalled that it was members of the Rotary club who donned their old working clothing and created that beautiful little park around the spring on Fishery road. Neither did they recall that it was Fred Cochrane, Milo Johnson, Ed. Lapham and Don Yerkes who induced the county road commission to build that double highway in Northville between Seven Mile road and the Northville Ford plant.

All of these things took place in Northville back in the days when the Rotary club devoted most of its effort to community projects.

Because it usually takes fuel to pump water, the U. S. Government asks water users to repair leaky faucets and other leaky plumbing fixtures. Saving of water may also save on the manpower required to make it available as well as the chemicals required to treat it.

Cranbrook Botanist Speaks At D. A. R. Meeting October 18

Mrs. Marjorie Bingham, head botanist at Cranbrook, and loaned to the State Department of Conservation, was guest speaker at the meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution Monday evening, October 18.

In her address, Mrs. Bingham emphasized the need for more recreational facilities in this part of the state, pointing out that the southeastern portion of Michigan, with a population of three and a half million, has less recreational space than any other place in the nation. With this fact in mind, Mrs. Bingham conveyed the thought that, with more recreational facilities in this area, there would be less crime and juvenile delinquency. Stating that funds were available for a project to convert land not suited for agricultural purposes into recreational grounds for people in this area, Mrs. Bingham urged those interested in the program to take action in the situation.

Accompanying the address were beautifully colored pictures of properties being considered for various activities such as hunting, fishing, hiking, nature study, boating, and swimming.

Mrs. Henry Baker was hostess for the evening. After the program, Mrs. Baker, assisted by Mrs. J. Merle Bennet, Mrs. Sidney Strong and Mrs. Harry Devo, served refreshments.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"You were absolutely correct in making the statement you did, George...not a drop of whiskey has been distilled in this country in over a year."

"That's what I told the boys down at the lodge, Judge, but they were so surprised I thought maybe I was wrong."

"No you weren't, George. The truth of the matter is that a year before Pearl Harbor, the beverage distilling industry voluntarily offered its facilities to the government. Many companies started to produce alcohol for war purposes almost immediately. And just as soon as the government's requirements increased, the distilling facilities of the entire industry were converted 100% to the production of war alcohol and nothing else. As a matter of fact, the beverage distilling industry is producing about half of the government's needs for this vital war material. And that's a 24 hour a day, 7 day a week job, George." "I'm glad I told you about my talk with Sam, Judge. You've given me a lot more facts on that subject."

Gas Dealers Seek City Law

Would Fix Hours For Opening, Closing

Thirteen Plymouth gasoline dealers petitioned the city commission Monday night for an ordinance which would regulate the hours of operation of filling stations.

It was understood at the city hall that only one Plymouth filling station operator failed to sign the petition.

The petition is an outgrowth of a federal court decision in Texas, which held that the Office of Price Administration had no authority to close a filling station which failed to abide by rules of the OPA which set up hours of operation.

The OPA rules had ordered filling stations to operate either 72 hours a week, or 24 hours a day, seven days a week. When the dealer chose to operate 72 hours a week, he was obligated to choose the exact time of operation.

But with OPA withdrawing from the enforcement of such rules, filling station dealers throughout the country—including both Detroit and Plymouth—are seeking city ordinances which would regulate their hours of operation to prevent some dealers from operating at different times and thus getting the jump on them insofar as business is concerned.

The city commission referred the petition to City Manager Clarence H. Elliott for a legal opinion as to whether or not the city commission has the right to regulate business in that manner.

While it is anticipated that Plymouth will do nothing at all until some action is taken by the city council in Detroit on a similar petition, it also is anticipated that the ordinance will not be adopted here.

From sources outside the city hall it was learned that the present city commission is not averse to government regulations as other units of government are, and that there would of necessity be a pressing need for regulation before any such ordinance was passed.

This need, it was felt, would be in the nature of a general public nuisance or activities which affected public health before any action was taken, and it is not believed that the regulations requested are anything more than an effort to control all filling station business for the benefit of the gasoline dealers themselves.

The petition from the dealers set forth that the ordinance is needed for the duration of the war because of the manpower shortage.

City Manager Clears Up Confusion Over Garbage Collection

City Manager Clarence Elliott said this week that there is apparently considerable confusion about the new garbage collection schedule.

The collections are made in Precinct one on Monday, in Precinct two on Tuesdays, in Precinct three on Thursdays and in Precinct four on Fridays. The garbage is collected in the morning, and the rubbish in the afternoon.

The city manager said that rubbish which can be burned will not be picked up, and that rubbish must be placed either at the curb, or where alleys are usable at the alley line, or it will not be picked up.

Twice as many bobbie pins and hairpins, "necessary feminine items", will be produced during 1944 as at present, under a recent WPB action.

AMERICA SALUTES The NAVY

When David Farragut, first admiral of the United States Navy, bellowed the much quoted words—"Damn the torpedoes, full speed ahead" he expressed a spirit that has become traditional with our navy—its men—its ships—and more recently, its planes. "Old Salamander" as Admiral Farragut was fondly nicknamed, was from "stem to stern" the fighting figure of a man such as has made the American Navy undaunted, unbeaten; one of the first hopes of the world in the present war, to wipe tyranny off the face of the earth! On this day, dedicated to our navy, all of us backing up our naval heroes, here at home—give a rousing cheer to encourage them in the battle they are fighting so gloriously. BUYING A USED WASHING MACHINE?

Our interest became aroused a few days ago as to the reason why practically all washing machine, refrigerator, electric and gas stove "for sale advertising" had almost completely disappeared from the FOR SALE columns of The Plymouth Mail.

We have found the apparent reason, and it will interest prospective buyers of badly needed household equipment.

This is the story of one of the last advertisements appearing in The Plymouth Mail which advertised a used washing machine for sale as related to The Mail by the seller.

A Plymouth mother and her married daughter whose husband has gone to the army, decided that by "doubling up" they could get along with one washing machine. The mother had heard much about the serious shortage of washing machines and she thought she could help out in the present shortage situation by offering her own machine for sale and using her daughter's machine.

So she talked the matter over with her daughter and her husband and they agreed to the arrangement. Then they discussed the price that they would sell the machine for.

Finally they arrived at the figure of $75, considerably less than half of what they had paid for the machine when it was purchased.

The advertisement was published in The Plymouth Mail. Among the many who read it was a wife of a Rosedale Gardens resident. She was the first to make an offer to buy the machine. Her husband is working in one war plant and she is working in another war plant. As a result of their dual jobs, their income runs into the thousands of dollars each year. She offered to pay the price for which the machine had been advertised. Others came to the Plymouth home and offered to pay more than the price for which the machine had been advertised, but the good, patriotic housewife said no, she was selling the machine for the price for which it had been advertised, and the washing machine went to the home of a highly paid "war-worker" who lives in Rosedale Gardens when he presented a CHECK in payment of the $75.

It was shortly after the transaction had been completed when the good, patriotic American Plymouth housewife who was willing to share some of her few possessions with others during these troublesome times, received a telephone call. It was from the buyer of the washing machine.

He asked the housewife who had sold him the washing machine for less than half of what it had originally cost her, if she knew that she had violated the "ceiling prices" on used washing machines that she should have charged him only $18 for the machine.

He demanded a return of $57 or "else" he would sue, and the OPA had advised him that he could collect three times as much as he had been charged for the washing machine if the $57 was not returned immediately.

He replied that he did not intend to return the washing machine, that he wanted it and intended to keep it, and that he wanted her to pay him back $57 out of the $75 he had paid her for the machine, or "else."

The good housewife became greatly worried, fearing that she had violated some one of the thousands of unknown laws that New Deal crack-pots have inflicted upon the country.

When her husband returned home at night she told him of the telephone call from the "war worker" and she asked him to find out if there was any such a "law" as the "war worker" had mentioned.

So he went to the office of the OPA.

Yes, there was such a "law."

Yes, if he didn't return the $57 immediately to the washing machine buyer, he could be prosecuted and could be forced to pay the man and wife they thought they had befriended, three times the sum they had sold the machine for.

So last week the good Plymouth man and wife made their final payment back to the couple whom they thought they were favoring by selling them their washing machine.

The unfortunate part of the whole transaction lies in the fact that the husband of the wife who sold the washing machine is not a war worker. He is a sort of "white-collar" worker, and after federal taxes have been taken out of his paycheck, it is but a mere fraction of the fabulous pay the "war worker" and his wife receive.

But this one little incident of the way one of the New Deal crack-pot rules affects the public, is not all.

A few weeks ago a Plymouth resident decided to sell his home and move to another state.

The buyer of the home made him an offer for the family's washing machine, electric stove and refrigerator.

"I'll think it over and let you know," said the owner.

In a day or so, a snooper from the office of the OPA called at the home of the owner of the washing machine, refrigerator and electric stove.

He wanted to see the three articles and to know if "the seller was abiding by the ceiling prices." The price mentioned originally was considerably lower than was the original purchase price of the washing machine, the electric stove and the refrigerator. "I'm shipping nothing! I'm shipping my washing machine and my refrigerator and my electric stove to the place where I intend to live," quickly retorted the owner, who really had intended to sell.

So another badly needed washing machine, electric stove and refrigerator went off the market in Plymouth because some one wanted to take advantage of a New Deal screwball "law."

Now you know the reason why there are no more washing machines, electric stoves and refrigerators being offered for sale in Plymouth or vicinity. The average citizen is more than willing to help out, but the average citizen does not like to be made the victim of a regulation he knows nothing about.

Is there any person, with ability to think, who can tell us how such a fool order as this can help us win the terrible war we are fighting?

The musicale given by Glen Ellison, famed Scotch baritone, last Friday evening at the high school proved very unusual and interesting. Mr. Ellison spent most of the evening illustrating that Thomas A. Edison had at last achieved his ideal to perfect a musical instrument which would actually recreate music so perfectly that the recreation would be indistinguishable from the original. The recital was arranged by the Beyer Pharmacy.

Corporal Henry Grimm of Newburg writes from France that the boys have been offered $90 a month to remain there two years after the war is ended.

Rev. and Mrs. Charles Strasen were given a surprise last Monday evening when 81 members of St. Peter's Lutheran Church, of which Rev. Strasen is the pastor, reminded them that it was the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. A bountiful supper was served by the ladies in the basement of the church after which Rev. Strasen related in a most interesting way the experiences encountered in 30 years of married life.

Questions About School Problem

Meetings have been held at Wilcox, Livonia Center, Newburg, Stark and Rosedale Gardens and petitions are being circulated in these districts. The next meeting will be held at the Pierson school at Seven Mile and Farmington roads, on October 25 at 8 p. m. These meetings are open to anyone who is interested and if you did not hear it at your own school by all means come to a meeting at some other school.

The following ten questions have been asked and answered and any other questions you may have we would appreciate hearing. There are questions in everyone's mind in regard to this matter and they should be brought out to the public as we are all interested in this project. If you are against consolidation we would appreciate hearing about it. Any point you may wish to bring out will be discussed at these meetings or if you want to write to Mr. Bakewell at Newburg or to Mr. Orr at Pierson, they would appreciate hearing from you.

November first is the meeting scheduled for Elm school at 8 p. m.

November eighth is the meeting at the Briggs school at 2 p. m.

Question I: Is it necessary to consolidate to secure a high school in the township?
Answer: It is not impossible for an individual district to organize a high school, but under the present laws of the state of Michigan and the rulings of the Municipal Finance Commission of the state, bond issues are limited to five years. This makes it prohibitive from a tax standpoint for an individual district to construct a building comparable to other high schools in the surrounding districts. Also, the Federal government will assist in financing the construction of a township high school, whereas they will not aid in an individual district.

Question II: Is it possible to consolidate for high school purposes, but maintain the various districts as they now are for elementary purposes?
Answer: There is no possibility of doing this under present laws.

Question III: Do we need a high school in the Township?
Answer: When the war closes, and some of those who have left or are leaving high school before graduation return from the armed services and defense plants to complete their high school courses, neighboring village high schools will be overcrowded and our children will be excluded.

Question IV: Could a high school be constructed during the war?
Answer: Probably not, but if plans are already to proceed immediately at the close of the war, Federal help will in all probability be available.

Question V: How much would it cost to operate a high school in the township?
Answer: Since the state would pay $81.50 for each high school pupil and $26.00 more for each seventh and eighth grader than it now pays and would also pay for all transportation, both elementary and high school, it is not probable that the actual operation of the high school would be much, if any, tax burden to the taxpayers of the township district.

Question VI: What would the tax rate of the new township district have to be if consolidated?
Answer: Under the fifteen mill amendment, the rate for operation could not exceed $8.40 under present conditions without a 2/3 vote of the electors of the township district. The debt service rate should not be more than $2.00.

Question VII: What other changes are brought about by consolidation in addition to provision of high school facilities?
Answer: All elementary buildings would be used as now except that they would be under the direction of one township board of education instead of seven as at present. Children could be transferred from crowded rooms to vacant rooms and transportation would be paid by the state.

Question VIII: How is the board of education of the township selected?
Answer: By a vote of the electors of the township district.

Question IX: What would happen to terms of the school board members of present districts?
Answer: They would automatically be relieved of further service if consolidation was voted.

Question X: What is the recommendation of the educational authorities in the state?
Answer: The Governor's Planning Commission strongly endorses larger school districts as small districts are uneconomical and difficult to administer. Considerable savings can be made in purchases, etc., in larger units.

I hope Americans will figure out for themselves additional payroll savings.

VICTORY'S SONS

He told his buddies he was living on borrowed time. And so he seemed to be, for Death brushed past him time and again.

He had a close call aboard the Flying Fortress on which Lieut. Colin Kelly rode to everlasting glory. The Jap Battleship Haruna came into the bombsights—three different times. Three times Levin opened the bomb racks. Three hits were scored. The last hit was one too many, and the great enemy battleship slid into its foaming grave.

But Japanese fighting planes dived out of the clouds and fired the Fortress. Levin was among the five members of the crew who parachuted to safety. For his fine work as Colin Kelly's bombardier he won the distinguished service cross.

Levin's Flying Fortress, shadowing a Jap convoy en route to Lae, New Guinea, was forced down at sea. It was here that his borrowed time ran out.
