Mrs. Melvina C. Huger

Large numbers of older residents of Plymouth were surprised and grieved last week to learn of the death of Mrs. Melvina C. Huger on November 24 at the home of her daughter, Dr. Nellie Beatrice Huger in Highland Park.

For many years a prominent and well known resident of this city, she left here a few brief years ago to make her home with Dr. Huger, one of Michigan's prominent musical leaders. She had been ill but a brief time before her death. The Huger home was for more than half a century located at 280 North Main street.

Mrs. Huger was born in Tuscola county 77 years ago. She came to Plymouth with her parents some 65 years ago and made this city her home continuously until a short time ago. Her husband was the pioneer bakery owner of Plymouth. His place of business was located on Main street in a building which stood about where the Detroit Edison office is now located. He died about 15 years ago.

Mrs. Huger was a great music lover and was most active in early musical affairs of the community. She was a charter member of the Methodist church and most active in its affairs right up to the time of her illness. It was her interests in music which took most of her attention. Three daughters and one son survive. They are Mrs. C. B. Farnham of Jackson, Mrs. Earl Fluellings of Plymouth, Dr. Nellie Beatrice Huger of Highland Park and George F. Huger of Plymouth. There are also two grandsons, Douglas Fluelling and Robert Huger, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Clair Avery.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon, November 27, from the Hamilton Funeral Home in Detroit, burial taking place in the family lot in Riverside cemetery in Plymouth. Services were conducted by Dr. Halmhuber, pastor of Trinity Methodist church in Detroit and Dr. Brumbaugh, president of the Detroit Council of Churches.

Music for the funeral was provided by an entire broadcasting chorus of the Church of the Air, Michigan's well known radio religious feature.

Given To Production

Forty-seven high school boys and girls worked seven thousand and forty-one hours for school credit during the month of October, according to the report of Harry Reeves, new director of vocational education in the schools, who succeeded Carvel Bentley when the latter entered the army.

The boys and girls are working at almost every type of job from sheet metal worker to baker, from grocery clerk to linotype operator and from farmer to butcher.

For the 7,041 hours of work, they earned a total of $3,993.70, or an average of about fifty cents an hour.

The smallest hourly wage paid to the students is thirty cents, and the highest is one dollar, but most of them are at the medium rate of from forty to sixty cents an hour.

Under the plan, the students are required to work a minimum number of hours to obtain credit. Their work for the employers as well as their work in school must meet a high standard, and written and oral reports are received from the employers each month.

Before the war, about half of the apprentice students continued their work in the same type of job when they completed their high school education. But since the war so many of the young men are going into the services, that it is impossible to determine just how many have or will continue their work when they complete their high school education.

a line to home

ABOUT the only time he can get to the telephone is a few short hours in the evening. That's when thousands of other boys in the camps want to use long distance, too.

Any time you are not on the lines, there's a better chance for a soldier's call to get through.

So unless it's urgent, we hope you won't be using long distance from 7 to 10 o'clock at night. Save those hours for the service men.

SEAMAN VIRGO AWAITS ORDERS THAT WILL TAKE HIM TO "JOURNEY'S END"

Seaman Second Class Samuel Wesley Virgo writes that he is not yet at "the end of his journey" but has been assigned to a temporary base before he goes into action. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Seth Virgo of South Harvey street, he stated that "things are pretty modern around here. We have movies every night. They just got a new ice cream maker in the galley so we get ice cream every couple of days. I realize the difference between army and navy life now. We lived with the army for a couple of weeks. It's sure a lot easier to eat off trays than those mess kits."

Virgo is a member of a motor torpedo boat squadron.

LT. TONKOVICH BEGINS B-17 FLYING COURSE

Lt. George Tonkovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Tonkovich of Plymouth, reported at Lackburne Army Air Base, Columbus, Ohio, this week to take a course of instruction in flying the B-17 Flying Fortress.

REMEMBER ME?

Hi there, Gang! Remember me? I'm the guy you'd sure hate to be in the lid from right next door. The bird that Old Man Death is looking for.

I used to work an eight hour day. The same as you do still. I say you should see things as I do. Out here where a guy just near gets thru. Unless some guy from the other side.

Puts a "puncture" in your hide. And then unless you're stiffly dead. You just take a "breather" out instead.

Sure, I know your job is rough—Six days a week and overtime is tough. And vacations are taboo, I hear. And you're paid for them—but once a year?

I've heard that gas is sold by the gallon—

That there's a limit to your coal. Mom writes that food and rents are high.

And—I can hear her gentle sigh—She states in her resigned and patient way.

That Pa's not getting much for hay.

Yeah! I know you folks are catching h—!

So witnessed by the tales your letters tell.

But I am glad 'tis not my regret. That I am here instead of back there yet.

We've just withstood a slugging by.

And I think the foe was hep to me.

For all around me in the mud. I could hear the lethal thud.

Of bursting shells in the jungle zone.

That left me, shivering, in my shoes.

Yet how glad am I full of joy. That I am here, not you, Old Boy!

For you are so tender, friend, and frail.

You couldn't stand this leaden hail.

Besides, you'd have no chance to squawk.

Where I am now 'tis too blank hot to talk.

ROBERT KISABETH IS TRANSFERRED TO FOREST GLEN HOSPITAL

One of OUR BOYS who will be home for Christmas is Sgt. Robert Kisabeth, who has been transferred to the Forest Glen Convalescent Hospital where he is recovering from wounds received in the North African campaign. He was decorated with the Purple Heart earlier this year.

Sgt. Kisabeth writes of the hospital, "It's a beautiful place. I'm out in the country near Silver Springs, Maryland. Originally it was the National Seminary for girls' finishing school, with three wings on the tower, radiators, and instead of wards, we have our own room. It's pretty O.K. I'm retaining some of the pounds I lost after the operation on my arm and am feeling fine."

"My turough starts the first week in December and will be 30 days so will be home Christmas and New Year's. I've been scheduled for the bone graft operation the 10th of January so I'll be back at Walter Reed Hospital about a week before they operate again."

Mrs. Kisabeth, an employe of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, resides on Ann Arbor Trail.

OUR BOYS WRITE TO THEIR LOVED ONES BACK HOME, ARE MANY—SOME OF THEM ARE EXPRESSED IN A LETTER WRITTEN TO THE MAIL BY LT. MARVIN J. CRIGER, NOW STATIONED IN THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

He wrote, "I guess you know that in the Army, an officer is expected to do a great many diversified things and one of those tasks in the field is the censorship of the letters being written by members of the unit—consequently, we have an inside view of the meaning of those little messages from home. I know that every one back there is busy, but I wonder if the public realized the power of their words if some of them couldn't find a few moments to drop a line to these 'kids from next door' who are out there doing the jobs that few of them could or would do. Our boys are doing a fine piece of work out here and it's time John Q. Citizen realizes it and give the kids the backing they need to carry on. I could tell you a lot of things, but not until you see your friends being carried in parts from their stations, or the chap who saved your life stretched on the ground with his body riddled with machine gun fire, or waited in the darkness at the edge of the airfield for "That Other Ship" that made up the rest of your flight—and won't be coming back—or listened on the radio to the grind and whine of static when you want to hear the boys calling from that other ship—the boys who went out into the clouds because duty required it—and the clouds turned to fog—the mist froze on the wings—the wind and currents buffeted it around for hours—then suddenly you hear the dots and dashes of the code as the radio operator sends a report giving the approximate position and follows with the call of distress—the call is repeated time and again—fainter and more faint—then silence—the awful, eternal silence—and they don't come back.

A.T.O. Presents Scholarships

The Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity offers $250 in scholarships to students graduating from the upper ten per cent of an accredited high school class. Winners are selected from Detroit and suburban schools, nominated for the award by their principals.

All candidates are given aptitude tests and those who make the highest scores on these are interviewed personally by the committee for the purpose of further scoring on the basis of personality, poise, background, and general make-up. The boys selected must be outstanding in scholarship and must have, in addition, taken part in the extra-curricular activities of their schools. In practically every case they have also played some part in the life of their communities.

After securing the scholarship winner may make his selection from 82 colleges and universities located in various parts of the country.

Tom Brock, class of '37" in Plymouth High School, won one of these scholarships. He then attended Albion College for his Bachelor's degree, and the University of Michigan for his Master's degree.

Senior Prom Tonight

Wally Stahl's orchestra is playing tonight for the Senior Prom in the high school auditorium from 9 until 1:30. Marking the theme of the prom, Toyland, are hobby horses, Jack in the Box, and huge blocks. All the people not attending school must present an invitation at the door.

The student host and hostesses for the evening are Shirley Luttmoser and David Johnson, Jane Ann Lyons and Dick Daniel, Annie Heller and Bill Bartel, Norman Salomonson and Yvonne Sawyer, Janet Strachan and Jack Schoof, Esther Mettetal and Bob Scheppele, Ruth Popovich and Dale Wisley, Virginia Wolsey and Bob Deyo, and Rita Daggett and Malcolm MacGregor.

Class News

The students of Miss Hamill's ancient history class are giving committee presentations of the phases of Greek life. Her modern history class is making graphs of the rise and fall of Napoleon. They also are making comparisons between Napoleon and Hitler as to their control of their states, governing, and personal characteristics.

Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" is the reading matter for Miss Wrisley's 9A English class. The 9B class is reading about explorers, and their work.

A display of typical menus for the last two years and of the equipment used in the lunchroom was in the exhibit case showing the increase in prices and the difference in foods served then and now. Some of the things served were bananas, dates, and all types of cakes and puddings. There was displayed also a sheet of helpful quantity calculations, such as, one bushel of raw potatoes yields two hundred portions mashed.

The lunchroom has many replacements. Some of them are new sherbert and custard cups, two enamel pans for mixing salads, six new mixing bowls, a new mop, new curtains for the windows facing the halls; and a new washtub for towels.

Some Poems By The 7A's

The following stanzas are the first attempts of Mrs. Gilder's 7A English groups:

My Walk
As I was walking down the street,
I saw a lady oh! so sweet,
Her hair was gray;
Without a fray;
And her eyes seemed to say:
Oh what a wonderful, wonderful day.

—Jennie Konszeski.

One October Day
As I was walking one October day,
All the way down to Maple street
Round me whirled a wind at play,
And lifted me right off my feet.

—Lois Packard.

Roses On My Shoulders
Roses on my shoulders,
Slippers on my feet,
My mother thinks I'm darling,
Don't you think that's sweet!

—Helen Fisher.

Boats
I love to watch the boats come in
It is a lot of fun
They blow their whistles loud and strong;
From early morn to setting sun
And then when I am fast asleep
The boats still ride the waters deep.

—Jean McPherson.

The Daisy
I'm a happy little thing,
Always coming with the Spring;
In the meadows green I'm found,
Peeping just above the ground
In the winter then I go
Way below the deep, white snow.

—Marie Ann Riley.

Bill Bennett Captains Team

Bill Bennett was elected captain of the basketball team at the beginning of the season. Bill has been on the first team since his freshman year and is the only remaining regular from last year's team when the team won the Area Tournament under Clare Ebersole, now playing for Michigan State Normal College.

In his first year of basketball Bill scored four points; in his sophomore year he scored twenty-four points; and last year he scored ninety-four points.

In all of his career Bill has played only one position, left forward, because he has a very high shooting average from that spot on the floor.

Bill was also elected co-captain of the football team with Dale Wisley. On the football team Bill played end and fullback, scoring one touchdown.

Who is the LIGHT-SAVING WARDEN in your house? It's an important job, these days—seeing that light bulbs and reflectors are kept dust-free (you get about 1/3 more light for the same money), turning off lights in unoccupied rooms, basement, attic, etc., and keeping a watchful eye on the household use of electric appliances.

Why is it important? Because COAL is the principal raw material in the production of electricity, and thousands of tons a day are burned in the four large Edison power plants. There is no shortage of electricity—but when you save electricity you save coal and manpower and transportation needed for war.

CONSERVE ELECTRICITY Even a 5% saving in the monthly use of electricity by Detroit Edison customers will save about 190 CARLOADS OF COAL PER MONTH 1,800 TRAIN-MILES 14,000 MANHOURS

VICTORY'S SONS

U. S. sub, with a long record for enemy sinkings, lay surfaced in the night-blackened waters of the South Pacific. Suddenly out of the darkness a Jap gunboat loomed. It rushed straight for the sub. Comdr. Gilmore, on deck with other members of the crew, evaded the onrushing gunboat, then rammed it, ripping a gaping hole in its hull.

As the Jap began to settle they opened fire. "Clear the bridge!" ordered Gilmore. Men poured into the conning tower. Just before it was Gilmore's turn he was struck with a hail of lead. Crew members rushed to his side and sought to carry him below. But as delay would cost lives, Gilmore ordered all hands below. In his final living moments he gave his last order, "Take her down"—an order which will live forever in U. S. naval history with John Paul Jones' "I have just begun to fight."

The crew obeyed. The sub crash-dived. The waves washed over Comdr. Gilmore. Days later the sub arrived safely in port.

BONDS OVER AMERICA

This cupola-capped tower on the state capitol at Lincoln looks out upon one of our important grain and livestock states. Its founders came from the corners of the world and built a great commonwealth.

Keep America Safe; Buy War Bonds

In Europe too, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Belgium, Holland, France, Norway and other countries were striving for better, more peaceful days and then Austria spawned Adolf Hitler.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

The event of the season and one that has long been eagerly looked forward to was the opening of the new Penniman-Allen Theatre last Friday evening. Early in the week, the seating capacity of the house had been sold out and when the curtain was up at 8:15 o'clock, the six hundred and six seats, which is the capacity of the house, were filled and many were standing. Previous to the opening of the entertainment, the Millard band rendered several selections in front of the theatre. Plymouth citizens were very pleased with the beauty and completeness of the new building. The evening's entertainment consisted of a skit enacted by several women and dancing by the pupils of the Ann Ward Foster School of Dancing.

The foundry plant of the Plymouth Motor Castings Co. has been purchased by the Michigan Press Company of Ypsilanti and the president of that company took possession of the property last Saturday. The company have also purchased the farm and Auburn subdivision adjoining the plant of Oliver Goldsmith who has become superintendent of property and transportation for the company. Operations at the plant will commence at once and plans will soon be perfected for the extension of the factory buildings.

An event that will mark the opening of the new year in Plymouth most auspiciously in a social way, will take place on New Year's night when Mrs. Kate E. Allen will give a fancy dress ball in the Penniman Allen auditorium. It is expected that a number of Plymouth soldier boys will be home by that time which will lend a most happy and pleasing feature to the party.

The Red Cross has issued a call for sweaters to be knitted for the boys who remain in France for the winter. Plymouth's quota was set for 500 to be completed before February.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church held their annual meeting at the church last Thursday evening with a good attendance. Reports of the secretary and treasurer were given. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Mrs. O. F. Beyer; vice president, Mrs. William Petz; secretary, Mrs. C. Strasen; treasurer, Mrs. William Gayde.

Bakers are not the only people who are rejoicing over the removal of the substitute ruling in bread making and baking. Most everyone who has during the past year had to undergo the experiments of the use of substitutes in baking will welcome the return of white flour to the list of food articles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Eckles have received word that their son, Floyd, who is in France, was gassed and is recovering in a hospital. A letter from Floyd stated that he had been quite seriously ill, but that he was able to sit up and was feeling much better.

Plymouth friends will be pleased to hear that Edward Drews, who is stationed at Camp Custer, has been promoted to sergeant.

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Will S. Terry of Plymouth and May Davis of Detroit which was solemnized in Detroit, Thursday, November 21. The interior of A. J. Lapham's store, which was damaged by fire two months ago, has been remodeled and Mr. Lapham expects to open up his place of business again Monday, December 2.

The Millard Band will give one of their popular concerts in the Penniman-Allen theatre Friday evening, December 6th. Arrangements have been made for several vocal solos during the evening that will help to round out a splendid evening's program of high class music.

Babson Says --

Honest Gold Stock Is The Best Buy

Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 3.—Currency stability will be most essential to a maintenance of business and revival of business activity in the postwar period. Capital naturally gravitates to the countries which give it the best return for its use. If the United States, Britain, Russia and China are to function as well as they have in the past, they will have to give the best return. This would mean further monetary inflation and a rise after World War II of consumer inflation followed by even more monetary inflation.

Countries in which gold will freely circulate as a medium of exchange will be the best off. Countries which attempt to get along with some form of managed currency will be in the worst shape. Hence, we should ultimately have in some form a currency which even if the circumstances were restricted would be exchangeable for gold. Thus, I predict that our present managed money system is on the way out.

More money has probably been lost through speculating in gold shares than in any other stocks. On a long-term basis, however, I now favor stocks of gold mining companies which were profitably producing before World War II. During the war, gold is subordinate in importance to nickel and copper and to the products of many other mines. In view of this, and the manpower shortage, nearly 60% of the mines in the United States, Canada and South Africa have shut down. The remaining are operating on a greatly reduced basis; in fact gold production in United States and Canada is less than at any time in 100 years.

After the War, when all efforts are turned to stimulating world trade, gold may prove the only medium through which international payments can be made. Thus, gold may rise in value in terms of our present currency. Furthermore, as restrictions are lifted with respect to manpower and materials, after the war there should be a return of earning power to the gold industry. Certainly it is no time to sell gold stocks. New purchases should be confined to producing companies with the best ratings whose over-all cost of production is reasonably low.

Aircraft of the Civil Air Patrol, guarding our coastal waters are required to report the sighting of whales as well as submarines so that surface vessels in the vicinity may be notified. In several cases under poor visibility, whales have been mistaken for U-boats and torpedoed.

Dr. Henry D. White of our Treasury Department and John Maynard Keynes, the British authority, have both proposed plans for the stabilization of international currencies. The White Plan favors an actual gold fund. The Keynes Plan favors a fund with a long period of time with requiring membership in the World Bank to put up any gold. This Keynes plan is very inflationary. At the moment the White proposal is being discussed. Unquestionably, the plan will be worked out by the twenty-five United Nations governments.

W. W. W. It was gold, not the British, Colonel Lawrence used in order to win the support of Arab chieftains. History repeated itself when our own General Mark Clark landed in Africa with a bag of gold. Gold will always talk when no other form of money is effective. That a natural demand for gold exists today is shown by the price of gold in the Bombay and Cairo markets where it is selling for almost double the United States price of $35. This strengthens my belief that international currencies, including our own, will be further reduced in value. This would mean further monetary inflation and a rise after World War II of consumer inflation followed by even more monetary inflation.
