She has been pursuing a general course, part college and part commercial. She was a member of the Rainbow Girls in Missouri. Carol's pet peeve is hail duty fourth hour. She plans to be a graduate nurse.

Collecting small pitchers is the hobby of Ruth Jeanne Hoystradt, daughter of Manly and Ruth Hoystradt of 42690 Waterford road. She has been pursuing a college preparatory course and plans to be a dietitian. She has been a member of Girl Scouts, International Relations Club, Home Ec. Club president one year, Girl Reserves, and their Interclub council; she was in the Junior play and is in the Junior-Senior play. She has been active on Senior Annual and Senior Prom committees. Her pet peeve is brush hair cuts.

Girls who bury themselves in make-up is the pet peeve of William Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Sexton of 1043 Penniman avenue. Bill plans to follow his hobby, which is art, and become a commercial artist after the war. He has been taking a general course and has been a member of the band, orchestra, Hi-Y, track, student council, in art activities, on the annual staff, in Junior-Senior play, on J-Hop committees, Prom committee (art chairman), a host at the freshman reception, and a cheer-leader.

To be a buyer or a social worker is the ambition of Audrey Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morris of 10217 Stark road. Aud. has been taking a college preparatory course and lists being leader of the band, a member of Senior Girl Reserves, the Glee Club, and a committee member of the Annual, the Senior Prom, J-Hop, and Junior play as her achievements. ## Class News

The American history classes are studying the "era of good feeling" and the "era of hard feeling" in our country. In connection with this they are making outlines and time charts.

The government classes are dividing into political parties with platforms and issues. A party convention is then held and the candidates chosen. These give campaign speeches and use other means to obtain votes. The elections are then held in the same way as those in the state and nation.

The 7A math classes are learning to read protractors. The 7B classes are learning how to find discount and net amount of a bill. Both groups are reviewing multiplication tables at home with their parents.

Miss Schlossstein's typing classes are striving toward speed and accuracy. Many students are gaining practical experience by doing extra work for credit, such as typing sketches, running the Hi-Y, and the mimeograph.

Miss Todd, who teaches geometry and advanced algebra, is especially pleased with the following students because of their exceptionally good work, both in daily preparation and in tests: Doris Cole, Joyce Priebe, Ruth Campbell, Carolyn Roland, Lois Hanson, Beverly Randall, Eleanor Hart, Mary Jane Christenson, Bob Chute, and Jim Baker of her geometry classes; George Waters, Rose Marie Oppenheim, and Esther Metcalf in the advanced algebra class.

Something new has been added to the library. The dark green books in the shelf near the large dictionary are bound and indexed volumes of the Reader's Digest. They range from January, 1942, to July-December, 1942. These have been a great help to students who have found recent material not published in books as yet.

"Johnny Doughboy" And "Delores"

This is a story about "Johnny Doughboy" and his girl friend, pretty "Delores." They spent their "Schooldays" together, feeling "Happy Go Lucky" all the time. Then the war came and as Johnny left he said to "Delores," "Sh' Sh' Baby." "I won't be 'Over There' very long. Every night she says a prayer for the Boys Over There and a special one for Johnny. This year "Delores" is dreaming of a "White Christmas." When Johnny Comes Marching Home. Her little sister, "Marie," could think of nothing except that "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town." The day before Christmas "Delores" received a letter that "Johnny Got a Zep" and he said "I'll Be Home for Christmas" to start a little "Home Sweet Home" "For Me and My Gal."

The "Chattanooga Cheo Cheo" arrived and "Johnny Doughboy" and "The Girl of His Dreams" went to a "Little Street Cafe" to have "Tea For Two." From there they went to the preacher's and proceeded to make their "Home Sweet Home" a realization.

Now "Delores" is "All Alone and Lonely" and Johnny is a "Long, Long Way from Home" once more.

Odds And Ends

Boys were really at a premium before the prom; in fact, one girl offered a dollar to any boy who would take her.

Although Mr. Kessler joined the Never Get Married Club, it seems to be a little late since he is already married. Incidentally, all the other members seem to be trying to follow his example.

The Girl Reserve Gift Shop will be December 19 in Bank and Theater's from 9:30 to 2:00. All girls are hand made and will make nice Christmas gifts.

Funny how Bill Sexton becomes so popular with the girls and has to fight them off every Friday noon. REASON: He buys the Plymouth Mail and the girls want to read the Pilgrim Prints. It seems as if Wilma L. and Ruth P. are out to get D. Daniels. You better watch out, Jane Ann; you've got competition.

What There Is To Do

If you are caught without a place to go during Christmas vacation, "Tell you what there is to do."

The place: "The Yuletide Inn" located at the Rosedale Gardens Civil Association Clubhouse, on Hubbard.

The time: A good time for everyone from 9:30 to 11:30.

The music: All the favorite orchestra leaders from James to Miller will be there to play the hit tunes.

What there is to do? Have fun at the LAM's "Yuletide Inn" Wednesday night, December 29. Come "stag" or "drag." Admission, 20c.

Miss Gordon Shows How To Cook Meat

Luck seemed to be on the side of the Home Ec. teachers since each won a prize at the demonstration at the high school Wednesday, December 8 by Miss Gordon, sponsored by the National Livestock and Meat Board with headquarters in Chicago. Miss Gordon demonstrates in six states and so most of her work has been at county nutrition classes, Red Cross meetings and schools. She works in co-operation with the national nutrition plan. After the demonstration all the foods cooked were given away and pyrex dishes were given by the Corning Glass Company. As the women entered, they were given numbers, drawn later by lot. The prizes were: A broiler meal won by Mrs. Hecox; 8 custard cups, Miss Emily Murphy; meat cups, Mrs. Doris Truesdell; small mixing bowl, Miss Lunding; medium mixing bowl, Miss Boettger; corn meal dumplings, Mrs. Sailer; Swiss liver, Mrs. Lester Gay; pyrex baking dish, Mrs. Arthur Coffin; pork roast with dressing, Mrs. Fern Moore; Victory stew, Mrs. Ketchum; three-piece set of fire ware, Marjorie Greer.

G.R.'s-Hi-Y's Carol Dec. 22

The Girl Reserves will entertain the Hi-Y Club at a pot luck dinner, December 22, at 6:30, after which they will join together in a caroling program on the Plymouth streets, announced Valerie Kolin, general chairman.

The girls on the committees are: Refreshments, Audrey Morris, chairman, with Shirley Luttemoser, June Van Meter, and Ruth Popovich; music, Irene Neidspal, chairman, with Valerie Kolin; program, Margaret Brown, chairman, with Jane Ann Lyons, and Eleanor McDonald.

Cold Wave Hits This Locality

Near Zero Weather Early In Week

Winter struck suddenly, and almost without warning Sunday night. Within a period of a few hours, the temperature dropped more than 30 degrees from a high on Sunday of about 40 degrees.

Some persons said their thermometers showed a minimum of four degrees above zero Monday morning. Others said ten degrees was the lowest recorded. The mercury went up to 20 degrees by Monday noon.

A light snowfall Sunday afternoon left the streets and highways a maze of ice, which resulted in a few minor accidents. But as in past winters, the icy roads made careful drivers out of all persons on the highways. City trucks were out early sanding the slick crossings.

The sudden cold weather found a number of families short of coal, and coal yards in the city said there was a constant jangling of bells as patrons sought to get coal in a hurry.

Coal yards said they are still able to take care of customers on the basis of one ton each, but that there is still a shortage of truck drivers.

City Manager Clarence Elliott said he had had only one request for a priority on coal delivery, and that one was turned down because it was for a special type of coal. Under the coal priorities system the priority is for delivery only, and the person accepting the priority must agree to take whatever coal is delivered by the dealer.

Local G.R.'s Saverd From City

Miss Huff, secretary of the Highland Park branch of the Y. W. C. A., discussed with the Girl Reserve Club, during her recent visit, the plan by which Plymouth Girl Reserves will become a more independent club. The club now belongs to the Highland Park branch, but this has too large a load now, and some clubs must be redistributed. It is also difficult for Plymouth members to get to Highland Park for council meetings. The Plymouth club will select a group of adults to act as a council which will sponsor their work and programs. The Plymouth club will deal directly with the national organization, will have the privilege of attending Detroit meetings as guests, will operate their budget on a larger scale, and will be responsible for their own programs and activities.

Cramer, Brandt, Speed Typists

The typing department is still forging ahead trying to meet all the records in the book. The most outstanding pupil is Mary Brandt, a first semester student, who has in recent speed tests, typed 49 words a minute; Helen Schoof and Elaine Kunkel also have high scores of 35 and 39 words. Birmingham was leading at the end of the first quarter by the score of 9-6. The Rock team slowly crept up on Birmingham to tie the score at the half 17-17. The first half was very fast with ball handling and shooting by both teams equal throughout. In the last of the third quarter the teams constantly exchanged basket for basket.

The last half was a hard fought battle with neither team giving an inch. At the end of the third quarter Plymouth was able to forge ahead and gain a one point lead, leaving the score 28-27. The fourth quarter was a continuation of the battle, with Birmingham able to score three more points than the Rocks were were able to muster, winning 37-35.

"How can I save — coal? — transportation? — manpower?"

Answer:

SAVE ELECTRICITY!

You can't see electricity, but if you could you'd discover that many things go into its manufacture . . . coal and transportation and manpower and the tremendous energy of giant turbines, plus various critical war materials.

Today the conservation of all these things is vitally important in winning the war. You save half-a-dozen at once when you save electricity. For the raw materials used in making electricity are essential war materials . . . needed to keep America's war production moving at top speed.

Remember this when you snap on a light switch. Use only the lights you actually NEED. Be careful in your use of electric appliances and equipment. There is no shortage of electric generating or distributing facilities in this area, but the Government asks everyone to save VOLUNTARILY, to conserve critical resources. Even though it is not rationed, saving electricity is the patriotic duty of every American citizen today. The Detroit Edison Company.

Floyd Eckles Likes Burro Meat

Tucson Rotarians Enjoy A Hoax

Plymouth residents who think they are the "berries" because of the fact that they have gorged themselves on buffalo meat, haven't a thing on Floyd Eckles, well known Plymouth fuel dealer, Rotarian and World War I veteran, who is now enjoying, with Mrs. Eckles, the delightful winter weather of southern Arizona. Floyd, as all of his friends know, is still suffering from the effects of being gassed during the first World War. According to reports from Arizona, indications are that the dry, warm weather of that country is proving of special benefit to him.

But back to the buffaloes, burros, and bronchos.

It wasn't buffalo meat that Floyd ate in Tucson the other day when he thought he was eating Arizona venison. And it wasn't deer meat.

The thing that Floyd chewed on for half an hour and called good was a steak from the ribs of a Rocky Mountain canary.

Now what's a Rocky Mountain canary?

"Rotary Club members ate burro meat yesterday and liked it. They thought it was venison and so played into the hands of two who perpetrated the hoax not only on the entire membership, but two veterinarians and the chef at the hotel where it was served.

"J. E. McKale, head of the men's physical education department at the University of Arizona, and Carlos Ronstadt of the Baobourvari Cattle Company, were instigators of the burro-for-lunch idea. They contended not only that persons cannot tell the difference between burro and venison meat tastes, but that veterinarians cannot tell the difference between the two carcasses.

"Sunday a burro was killed at Ronstadt's ranch in the Altar valley south of Tucson. It was hung and then brought to Tucson for dressing. To meet the requirements of the state law the carcass had to be inspected by qualified veterinarians so Dr. William J. Pistor, head of the veterinary medicine department at the university, and Dr. J. B. McQuown were called. They passed the carcass as deer and it was turned over to Charles O. Roberts, chef, Joe King of the Anvil ranch in the Altar valley and O. H. Barnhill, president of Rotary, are understood to have been appraised of the hoax.

"Roberts had the tough job. He had to tenderize the burro. Thinking it was venison, he ordered the meat stewed. It was tough. So it could be cut with a fork or a dull knife and in that condition it was served to more than a hundred members and 20 visitors from many states who attended the luncheon. Not until after the luncheon and an investigating committee appointed by Barnhill did members learn they had eaten burros—and liked it as Roberts prepared it."

Dead Man Lies Hours In Road

Wayne Resident Traffic Victim

For a second time within a period of two months, the body of a man killed in a highway accident in the Plymouth area, was allowed to lie in the middle of Plymouth road for long periods of time because of the inabilities of the Michigan coroner law.

James D. Sarver, 28 years old, of Wayne, was killed Saturday evening about 5:10 when his automobile collided with the trailer of a highway truck just east of the intersection of Farmington and Plymouth roads.

The body was thrown from his car into Plymouth road, and stayed there under the protection of the sheriff's road patrol until 8:30 when the coroner arrived.

Hundreds of automobiles passing the scene of the accident saw the body lying there, although it had been covered with a blanket by the sheriff's officers.

Israel Hoover, driver for the American Carloading Co., the driver of the truck, was held over the week end on a manslaughter charge as a result of the accident. The report of the sheriff's department said, however, that Sarver was driving westward on Plymouth road on the south side of the highway. The truck was going east on the same side of the road. Both the truck and the car pulled out into the middle of the road to avoid the accident, with the resultant crash.

Sarver, an employee of the Kelsey Hayes machine gun plant, was married and had two children.

But the mystery prevails as to why a body should be permitted to lie in the road for that length of time. Even discounting the nonsense that the coroner must be called in such cases, it should hardly take three hours for one of the two coroners to arrive from Detroit.

Turkey Growers

It now means "cleaned, frozen and inspected."

But turkey growers around here have no big freezing plants, so they cannot freeze their turkeys, they say. Most frozen turkeys on the market are western turkeys, where the chief feed during the growing season are the swarms of grasshoppers that infest that part of the country, say local turkey raisers.

This gives the seller who can freeze his turkeys a price of something more than 12 cents per pound more than the farmer around here can sell his home dressed turkeys for.

"We are willing to do our share and more than our share, but we believe we are entitled to the same kind of treatment that has been accorded the man who sells the feed and the man who has been given pay raises far in excess of the average income of the farmer. All we are asking for is a right to keep on growing things for people to eat and a right to get enough out of what we raise to sell to pay our costs for raising it and pay our taxes," he added.

"There is another thing these OPA job holders who fix up these things don't take into consideration," said Mrs. Hersh, who came down to the OPA office with her husband.

"From the time the turkeys are 12 weeks old when we pay them out on the range, it is necessary for me to sleep out near their roosting place every night from June until the turkeys are all sold in December.

"I've had all of these years during the summer, fall and early winter has been in an old model T Ford.

"Every turkey grower is required to sleep out to watch his turkeys or hire some one to do it, and you can't hire anybody to do it."

"We have to watch the turkeys at night to keep them from stampeding when they get frightened and to keep weasels, possum, skunks and thieves away. Just two or three weeks ago I shot a possum one night that was trying to get into the turkey yard.

"I am wondering how many of these newly dressed ladies who sit around in the OPA office and work a few hours each day for big pay would be willing to spend all day doing the heavy work that a farm housewife is compelled to do, and then when it is time to go to bed, go out in the field and sleep in an old automobile to watch turkeys. I am wondering if the lawyers who fixed up these laws know that every turkey grower is compelled to sleep out every night or have some one do it, no matter how bad the weather might be, no matter how cold the night might be. Right now I am going out to watch the turkeys and I am prohibited from selling them a fair profit, and it has been down nearly to zero every night. I have to do it, because my husband does not hear well and when the turkeys are distressed he does not hear them. You can go out to any of the farms owned by turkey growers and ask some member of the family sleeping out in the field and the turkeys roost."

"This fall I did fix up a little shed and in recent weeks have been using that instead of that old model T Ford I slept in so many years. I can't understand why they have taken such an unfeeling position against us," declared Mrs. Hersh.

Two Fire Calls Made Within A Week

The fire department was called to Schoolcraft and Haggerty highways Saturday afternoon to put out a grass fire.

Another call resulted from an over-heated degreasing machine at the Plymouth Stamping Works last Thursday. There was no fire damage except to the machine, but it required considerable time to find and eliminate the cause of the smoke.

Can You Picture MICHIGAN without its Industries?

All of us who live in Michigan—no matter what our jobs may be—would have a hard time even imagining this State of ours without its great industries in operation. In peacetime they wrote a big chapter in the history of America's industrial progress — now in wartime they are one of the most powerful "arsenals of Democracy"!

These great industries — the largest among them being the motor vehicle, steel, paper, chemical and baking industries—directly or indirectly affect us all. They give jobs to people we know, utilize the services of thousands of others, use the produce of our State, pay taxes—and provide the things we, our armed forces and our Allies need.

In the last peacetime count, 6311 individual manufacturing establishments were employing far more than half a million fellow citizens of Michigan to turn out goods valued at billions of dollars yearly. Today many of these plants are manufacturing products far removed from their usual merchandise—building well the tools of total war for use on fighting front and home front alike.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State take pride in the industrial achievements of our fellow citizens of Michigan—and take part in them too! Our job is a big one—transporting Michigan's manpower to factories, foundries and farms, keeping essential wartime travel on the move, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities our buses serve in Michigan.

It was moved by Comm. Corbett and supported by Comm. Whipple that permission be granted. Carried.

The following resolution was offered by Comm. Corbett and supported by Comm. Corbett:

Whereas, the City Treasurer collects County and School Taxes; Whereas, when these funds are placed in banks with City funds the accounts quite frequently are more than $5000.00;

Now, therefore be it resolved that the City Treasurer be authorized to open two new accounts, known as County Tax Fund and School Tax Fund, in each of the local banks.

Ayes: Mayor Shear, Comm. Corbett, Hondorp, and Whipple. Nays: None. Carried.

TIRE SHORTAGE

Predicted For 1944

The curtain of false optimism is down. In all its bare nakedness is revealed the fact that there will be a shortage of many millions of tires in 1944. Production cannot hope to keep up with the demand of the armed forces and essential civilian driving. Meanwhile thousands of tire casings are being ruined by neglect or carelessness—casings which cannot be replaced, once they are worn beyond repair.

FORGET OPTIMISM—LOOK AT FACTS!

Too many automobile owners have lived in the land of dreams as regards to new tires which may be available in 1944. Don't be deluded as to what you might expect. Be guided by the major thought that the tires you now have must last you through 1944. They must be carefully nursed during the emergency—receive more careful attention than ever before—by tire experts who will tell you the plain facts—and know how to make your tires last.

THESE THINGS YOU MUST DO—

Drive carefully. Drive under 35 miles per hour. Don't slap on your brakes and cause skidding. Don't bump over curbs. At the first sign of damage to your tire, bring it to your tire expert for a careful examination and have the repair made immediately. When it is time for a recap, have it done then rather than to continue driving until the all-important rubber has worn through the fabric.

WE'LL DO OUR PART—IF YOU DO YOUR SHARE

We are anxious to keep you driving. Millions of men and women depend on automobiles to get them to work. Farmers and industries depend on tires. If you do your share in watching the tires you own we'll do our best to preserve them for you.

News of Our Boys

In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

RECEIVES PROMOTION AT MARINE BASE IN PACIFIC

Lewis Robinson, with the Marine Air Corps, was recently promoted to the rank of private first class. He left the States in September and is now located on a small island in the Pacific. He wrote that the island is surrounded by white coral and has no trees, but it is a very nice place. It even has a soda fountain and everything for the boys' comfort.

RECEIVES THE MAIL AND ENJOYS READING ABOUT THE FOLKS BACK HOME AND ABOUT OUR BOYS IN SERVICE. HE WISHES A MERRY CHRISTMAS TO EVERYONE.

LLLOYD CLARK ENJOYS ITALIAN SCENERY

Over in Italy, Lloyd Clark drives a big two and a half ton truck for the army. He recently wrote to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark:

"The weather here now is very cool especially at five a. m. when we get up. The country is very mountainous and very pretty. I see a lot of it now as I did before. You can imagine how I enjoy driving and why. Remember how I enjoyed the mountains driving in the west in 1941. I have been in Italy for some time. The climate here is very little different than Sicily."

"My mail has been coming through very well. Received three Plymouth Mails, two dated July and one in August, but glad to get them even though they were old."

"Have a little confession to make—received eight Christmas packages and have opened all of them. Thanks, folks, everything is swell and very useful. The other fellows open theirs as fast as they come."

"I'm feeling fine and will write often."

PVT. CHARLES HARRISON STATIONED IN IRELAND

Pvt. Charles L. Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harrison of Hammill road, is now stationed in Northern Ireland. In a recent letter to his parents, Charles mentioned that it was snowing outside. He's a member of the infantry.

LT. J. B. GAFFIELD FEATURED IN CAMP PAPER

In the swamplands of Georgia, about fifty miles from Savannah, is stationed Lt. John B. Gaffield, former reporter for The Mail. He was recently featured in the "Personality Parade," a column in the "Jayhawk Observer" which is a paper published by his squadron. The column revealed this about him:

"With a desire to fly, Lt. Gaffield tried out for 'Cadet' and was accepted by the Air Corps in February, 1942. He breezed through Primary and Basic on the west coast and proudly received his wings from twin-engine school at Douglas, Arizona. Lt. Gaffield's first assignment as an officer was with the 75th Group at Wm. Northern Field, Tullahoma, Tennessee. With the Group only for a short time, Lt. Gaffield was transferred to the 127th Liaison Squadron as Assistant Intelligence Officer. He later became Operations Officer.

"Lt. Gaffield is an excellent pilot and a 'swell guy' which any one on the line will tell you."

RECEIVES NEW RATING; TRANSFERRED TO TEXAS

After completing his course at Wright Junior College in Chicago, Russell Ash was advanced to seaman first class and is now at the University of Houston, Houston, Texas. There, he's continuing his training for a radio technician. After three months, he'll be moved either to Corpus Christi, Texas or Treasure Island.

PLYMOUTH WACS HAVE BROTHERS IN SERVICE

People are always curious as to why women voluntarily give up the comforts of civilian life and join military organizations. WAC statistics at Camp Carson, Colorado, make one reason outstanding. Seventy-three per cent of the Camp Carson WACs have husbands, or brothers, or children in the armed forces. Pfc. Anna Shoner, formerly of 48485 Ann Arbor road, is one of those WACs with strong militaristic ties. Her two brothers, Eugene and Earnest, are in the Army.

HE WOULD LIKE TO BE KNEE-DEEP IN SNOW

A letter from Corporal Gerald Norgrove, in the South Pacific, says "Have you had much snow yet this fall? Believe me, nothing would please me better than to be knee-deep in good old Michigan snow—but we have learned to put up with a lot down here and we don't have time to even think much about it."

This is Jerry's third Christmas away from home—two of them were spent in the South Pacific and the third in the Mohave Desert of California.

WILL APPRECIATE CIVILIAN LIFE WHEN HE GETS BACK

Roast turkey, cranberry sauce, mince-meat pie—all those and many more good things to eat were on the Thanksgiving menu down at Camp Butler, North Carolina, where Pvt. H. C. Stevens is stationed. He is rejoicing over his recent transfer from the infantry to the military police and writes:

"A week ago, I was transferred from the infantry to the military police. I can honestly say that the M.P. is a mighty swell outfit. The food is good and living facilities are fine. The recreation is tips. I think that the Military Police have the finest bunch of fellows that I have met so far in the Army."

"Have had a lot of time to think things over since I've been in the Army and as I look back on it all now, I, nor most of the other fellows in service from Plymouth, did not fully appreciate and take the full benefits of good old civilian life. Believe me, when I get back, I'll know how to really appreciate it and all its freedoms."

KEITH JOLLIFFE FINISHES ONE PHASE OF TRAINING

Aviation Cadet Keith Jolliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evered Jolliffe, Beck road, has completed approximately one-third of his Pilot Training and will soon report to an Air Corps Basic Flying School for the intermediate phase of his flying training.

Before entering the Air Corps, Cadet Jolliffe attended Plymouth High School, Michigan State Normal College, Michigan State College and the 321st College Training Detachment, Western State Teachers College, Bowling Green, Kentucky. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. Cadet Jolliffe was accepted as an Aviation Cadet at Nashville, Tennessee, in July of this year. Upon completion of his Basic and Advanced Training, he will be given his wings and commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Corps.

MATHEW SPITZ WINS PARATROOPER WINGS

Pvt. Mathew Spitz, son of Peter Spitz of Arthur street, successfully made his fifth and qualifying jump last Friday night. This tactical night jump completed his Parachute Jump Training which lasted the standard four weeks and which included jumping from towers 250 feet high and learning completely the technique of safe parachute jumping and landing. He has earned the right to wear the coveted wings and Boots of the U. S. Army's most modern soldier, the Paratrooper.

FRUIT TREES BLOSSOM IN ITALY, WRITES PVT. NELSON

As the Christmas holidays draw near, Pvt. John Nelson, somewhere in Italy, thinks of the busy days at the Plymouth Mail when there were ads to set up, cards to be printed and many other jobs to be done in the rush season.

He wrote, "Some of the fruit trees around here are getting blossoms and the grass is much greener after all the rain we have had. We have had a lot of rain for the last month and it gets pretty muddy. The sea looks nice and some of the boys go in swimming. The Red Cross girls come around once in a while and they bring doughnuts and coffee for the fellows. "I sure will miss Christmas for it won't be like the ones we used to have back there. I hope you will all have a good Christmas and New Year. Say hello to everyone for me."

LT. HOWARD EBERSOLE IS TRANSFERRED

Lt. Howard Ebersole is in the land of ten gallon hats and cowboy boots—Texas. He was recently transferred from Jones Field, at Bonham, to Greenville, Texas.

"Even the civilian flight instructors here wear these boots—they say they fly better than ordinary shoes, but I couldn't tell a bit of difference, honest!" he wrote.

LINWOOD DETHLOFF IS BACK AT GREAT LAKES

We came to the conclusion that Navy life must agree with Seaman second class Linwood Dethloff when he walked into the Mail office last week while home on leave. He has just completed his "boot" training at Great Lakes and is on his way to becoming one fine sailor.

At Great Lakes since October 4 of this year, Linwood said he's seen Warren Todd and Colvin C. Cooley who are also stationed there.

Linwood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dethloff of Five Mile road. He returned to Great Lakes last Saturday.

CONTINUES TRAINING AT PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE

A forty-eight hour day would be very satisfactory to Pfc. Richard Neale who never seems to have enough time for all the things he has to do. Stationed at Wright Junior College for several months, he has been transferred to Grove City College, Grove City, Pennsylvania, where he is continuing his radio training. And he's plenty enthusiastic about it all.

"As a liberty town," he wrote,

"Grove City will never compare with Chicago, but no matter how bad the liberty is, I never refuse it."

"While stationed at Wright, in Chicago, there was another Plymouth fellow there with the Navy—Russell Ash, seaman first class. He was taking the same course as I am. A couple of other Plymouth fellows I met in Chicago and who are stationed there with the Navy are Doug, Lorenz, engineer's mate third class, and Art Robinson, seaman second class.

"Dick is with the Marine Corps and is 'very much satisfied with it and wouldn't trade it for anything.'"

The Christmas Seal idea, which has been financing tuberculosis work in the United States for the past thirty-seven years, originated in Denmark.

Sgt. Bronislaw Godlewski, Jr. of Chicago, Ill.

THE Wellington bomber was heading for Essen, Germany, with nineteen-year-old, Polish born, Sgt. Bronislaw Godlewski at the rear guns. Soon the sprawling factory targets of the Nazi industrial city appeared in the bombight. The bomb bay was opened and the demolition chunks went hurtling down.

Luck rode with that ship until they were on the return trip. Then waves of German night fighters zoomed up. Shells riddled the Wellington. Shot through both arms and his chest Godlewski kept his guns blazing and gave the pilot directions for evasive action until he fell unconscious. He had saved the big bomber!

For his gallant one-man defense on this mission and his cool-headedness in nine bombing missions before the Essen raid, Sgt. Godlewski, who had joined the Free Polish Army in 1941, was awarded the Polish medal of valor in London. It was necessary to amputate his left arm and his right hand.

HE WILL GET RESULTS

Hundreds of thousands of Michigan citizens applauded the decision of Judge Leland Carr last week to take over complete control of the state grand jury investigation called last summer to investigate rumors of graft and wrong doing in connection with state affairs.

They were delighted to know that he was quick to break the scheme of powerful political interests to put into key positions lawyers and others who have trailed along with machine politicians during the past dozen or so years.

Having known Judge Carr for more than a quarter of a century, we expected just such an outstanding decision on his part. He is by far one of Michigan's greatest judges and if he can keep the grand jury free of political fixers and others interested in terminating the inquiry as quickly as possible, he will, without the slightest doubt, get at the truth pertaining to all the disturbing rumors that have floated out of Lansing for more than a decade.

We do not know how far Judge Carr proposes to go in his investigation, but we have the utmost faith in him.

We have always felt that the Blue Water bridge investigation by the attorney general's office three or four years ago was a complete washout. At that time the writer tried to get the legislature to investigate all of the bond transactions of the state of Michigan, but the Governor who was then serving, saw to it that the inquiry was confined exclusively to the Blue Water bridge deal and that it was handled by the attorney general's office, which glossed the whole affair over as quickly as possible, with a whitewash for everybody.

It would seem that the data on file in the attorney general's office would provide some worthwhile leads.

Then, too, there has always been a question in the minds of the citizens of the state about the whiskey ring trials in Detroit. It is possible that the immense amount of data collected by the FBI might prove of value in providing "leads" as to the truth of Lansing rumors about the state's liquor business.

And we have often wondered why the attorney general did not make a searching investigation of all the charges and insinuations made in a series of articles carried in The Detroit Free Press pertaining to the operations of the state highway department during the past few years. These charges, too, should be cleared away.

There is a mass of data in various newspaper articles published in the last year or so pertaining to the liquor business in Michigan that the attorney general should have given his attention to. There have been rumors of a highly profitable traffic in the alleged sale of liquor licenses.

All of these are matters that should have resulted in a relentless inquiry upon the part of the attorney general's office. We hope now that Judge Carr, who has a clear hand, will be able to get to the bottom of these rumors and provide the people of the state with the actual truth. A thorough investigation of the attorney general's department, extending back to the Frank Murphy administration, might not be a bad thing for the state. Maybe with the present attorney general out of the picture as an investigator, the scope of the grand jury inquiry can be extended to include this state department, as well as the state liquor commission. If the names of some people have been smeared, they should be cleared. If some are guilty of wrong doing, they should be punished.

PREPARE FOR THE FUTURE

We commend most highly the plan of the members of Plymouth's Goodfellows organization to devote at least a part of the funds to be raised at Saturday's paper sales, to future uses. Under the direction of James Lature, selected as chairman for the 1943 drive, a check has been made as to the actual needs for the present holiday season. It is evident, from the information which the committee received, that there will not be as many families needing help as in past years.

But the Goodfellows have decided that now is the time to prepare for the lean days that are sure to come, so they are going to push Saturday's sales with more energy than ever before.

Like nearly everyone else, they see hungry days ahead, days when vast numbers of people will be glad to get even a loaf of bread.

So the Goodfellows are anxious to put aside an emergency fund for the future—a fund that can be used to buy milk, bread and possibly medical aid in the long period of depression that will follow the war.

If you gave generously last winter to the Goodfellows, make it doubly so this year. You will not only be helping the unfortunate at the present time, but you will have laid aside a few dollars for the days of hard times, when even the most fortunate of today may be the depression victims of tomorrow.

MORE POLITICS

Mrs. Roosevelt, ace politician of the New Deal outfit, has just made a tour around the city of Washington. She wrote in her commercial newspaper column that she was amazed at the conditions she saw in Washington.

Where have you been, Good Lady, during the long years of the Roosevelt dynasty in Washington? And what have you done during all of these years to clean up the slums of your city?

My! My! You'd better look out or Westbrook Pegler might have something to say about your admitted neglect of your own backyard.
