What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By Eaton R. Eaton
Mr. McPherson and Mr. McKay

We see by the papers where Mel McPherson has come to the rescue of Frank McKay over in Kent county and that through his manipulation, McKay will have almost a solid delegation from Kent county to the state convention. It's queer the way this fellow McPherson operates. He has loudly proclaimed in the past that he was a hundred per cent anti-McKay, but whenever there has been a showdown, he has been a hundred per cent with the money-grabbing McKay. In these troublesome times it is impossible to conceive of the Republican party consenting to reelect McKay as national committeeman, but it looks as though in order to beat him it is going to take one tremendous pull from everyone within the Republican party interested in decent, clean and OPENLY conducted party affairs. His defeat is absolutely necessary if the Republican party hopes to win back enough public confidence to win the next state and national elections.

The Dirty Japs Again

The interned Japs out in Colorado and other western states are asking that their rights as American citizens be restored to them and that they be liberated to do as loyal American citizens are doing.

We do not dispute the fact that a Jap born in these United States is an American citizen. That is one of the provisions of the constitution. But we do challenge the fact that ANY Jap is a LOYAL American citizen. The Japs were shipped to America by their own country for the one purpose of colonizing America. Japan has for more than half a century planned to make that portion of the United States west of the Rocky mountains a Japanese province.

EVERY Jap who has arrived in America since that time came here with the intention of helping his government to make a portion of these United States a part of Japan. They raised large families with the one intention of providing their home government with vast manpower on the American continent. The children were reared as JAPS and NOT Americans.

We do not agree with any plan which seeks to restore a Jap-born American to the rights of an American citizen. Every Jap should be returned to the island of Japan after the war, and then deprived of all future contacts with the outside world.

If you don't agree with this policy, think twice. Maybe you would think as we do if your hands were tied behind your back, your head rested on a chopping block and some grinning Jap was about to swing his chopping knife towards your neck.

Our Hats Off to Them

We are quite amazed at the exceptional number of young women in and around Plymouth who have husbands in the army or navy. The fact was brought forcibly to our attention the other day when one of the young mothers was enumerating the large number of her friends who are maintaining homes, filling the role of both mother and father to young children, devoting a portion of their time to war efforts and managing the affairs of the family generally carried on by the husbands and fathers now in uniform. We have nothing but praise for the splendid way these young wives are conducting themselves, for the fortitude they are showing and the courage they are manifesting in a world that has been completely changed for them. It is our hope and prayer that the future will richly reward them for the sacrifices they are now making.

Hoffman and Gerald L. K.

We see where Congressman Clare Hoffman has stepped off the sidewalk and down into the gutter to trot along with that notorious ex-Huey Longer, Gerald L. K. Smith. The two were recently booked for lectures on the same platform down in Buffalo, New York—but protests of patriotic citizens closed the doors of the hall to their use.

We are not much surprised at Hoffman's association with the money-grabbing Gerald L. K.

Years ago when serving Kalamazoo county as its sheriff, we had arrested a chicken thief. He had confessed his guilt and was about ready for sentence when he popped Clair Hoffman, then a practicing attorney in Allegan county, to proclaim the innocence of the fellow. We told Attorney Hoffman all the facts in the case and advised him that we were sure if he demanded a trial that there wasn't much question as to what the verdict of the jury would be, and the whole affair would be a needless expense to the taxpayers.

He contended that the fellow's confession and our evidence didn't amount to anything and so the case went before a circuit court jury—and in an exceedingly brief few minutes, the jury's verdict of guilty was returned.

There is something odd about this incident of many years ago—we never see Clare Hoffman's name in print but what it vividly recalls to us the type of defense he put up in his efforts to clear the name of a chicken thief.

Knowing well his past, we are not much surprised as to his willingness to run around the country with a fellow of Gerald L. K. Smith's type, who is amassing a fortune off the gullibility of the hoipolloi.

A Tragic Loss

News dispatches tell of the destruction of the plant of the Charlotte Republican-Tribune by fire a few days ago. A newspaper fire at any time is a most disastrous thing, but in times like these when equipment and materials are so hard to secure, it is nothing less than tragic. Not so many years ago we went through a similar disaster at Northville. We know what it means to lose a newspaper plant. The small amount of insurance one carries covers but a mere fraction of the loss a newspaper fire creates. We hope that Charlotte's influential journal in Michigan life will rise from the ashes greater and better than ever before.

No Subsidy About This

It has been the practice of the government over a period of years to place its advertising accounts only in large metropolitan papers. A bill is now on its way to enactment which makes it mandatory that government departments use the papers in smaller communities as well as in the large cities.

We didn't just like the bill as it was first drafted, but this new, revised measure is 100 per cent OK. It recognizes a fact that every advertising patron of the smaller cities and communities knows that the benefits from advertising in the home-town newspaper is much more effective than in the larger papers.

All that one has to do is study the recent war bond campaign in Plymouth. The Plymouth Mail and local business men sponsored probably as much, if not more, war bond advertising than was used in the city of Detroit, basing the statement upon proportion of population. As a result the Plymouth purchase of E bonds so far exceeded the average in proportion to population in Detroit that a comparison would make Detroit look like a piker.

Yes, congress should pass the bill and take a little of the government advertising burden away from the business men of the smaller cities and communities of the nation.

Public Protest Against Use Of City Library Property As Student Hangout Expected To Bring Forth New Plan

George S. Burr Named Chairman Of Planning Commission

George S. Burr At the last meeting of the city planning commission, George S. Burr, who was named to serve out the unexpired term of the late J. Merle Bennett as chairman of the commission, was unanimously elected to serve the next full term as chairman.

Mr. Burr has been an active member of the city planning board since its organization and his intimate knowledge of the many problems before the commission will serve him well in his new capacity as chairman. Sidney Strong was elected as vice chairman and Clarence Elliott was reelected as secretary.

Students Tell Why They Would Like Place Of Their Own

A storm of protest swept the city this week in the wake of the city's recent action in allowing the Rauch house, which was purchased for a library, to be used by high school students as a hangout.

Not in recent years has there been such an overall uprising against a program as there has been against this one.

An investigation this week reveals that some of the "kids" are still for the program, and they argue there is nowhere else that they can get a house or other building for such a "hangout."

There also is a political element which is reported to be "for" the plan, and there is an undercurrent of rumor and speculation that the whole plan is being used by one or two people as a political football with the kids in the middle.

The protest was strong, and one family has gone so far as to threaten an injunction suit against the city if the program is permitted to go through.

Parents of high school boys and girls are almost unanimous in their opposition to using a house as a student hangout. Questioning of leaders among the youngsters also is revealing. Five high school students were asked the question:

"Why do you want this place?" The answer invariably was: "It will give us something to do."

More questioning revealed the following facts, which were rather general:

The leaders of the movement, (Continued on Page 8)

Notice!

In the Don Horton advertisement appearing on page 12 it is desired to call attention to the fact that the "special for this week" should have been changed in the advertisement. The telephone number of the Don Horton store is 540, an error having been made in the correction of a line.

Iron Age potato planters are now on sale. The special bargain for this week's advertisement is: "A single-bit Woodman's axe, guaranteed quality, regular $1.90 value, now at $1.45." The Mail regrets the omission of these items from Mr. Horton's advertisement on page 12—but you know in these days of tribulations it is not an easy matter to keep one's house as orderly as desired.

All Men Under 26 To Be Called For Army Service

Walter Harms, chairman of the Plymouth Selective Service Board attended a meeting of the draft boards in the Detroit area Sunday in Detroit, at which it was pointed out that there must be an increase in the manpower for the armed services, to be obtained through the draft.

Maj. Arthur Holmes, of the state Selective Service organization said that industry probably will be hurt first, but he said that if industry is going to be hurt, it (Continued on Page 7)

Plymouth Lutherans To Celebrate 88th Anniversary At Sunday Services

SUNDAY, MARCH 5, is going to be one of the most eventful days in the history of Plymouth's Lutheran church. There is going to be a celebration on the 88th anniversary of the organization of this progressive, substantial church in Plymouth.

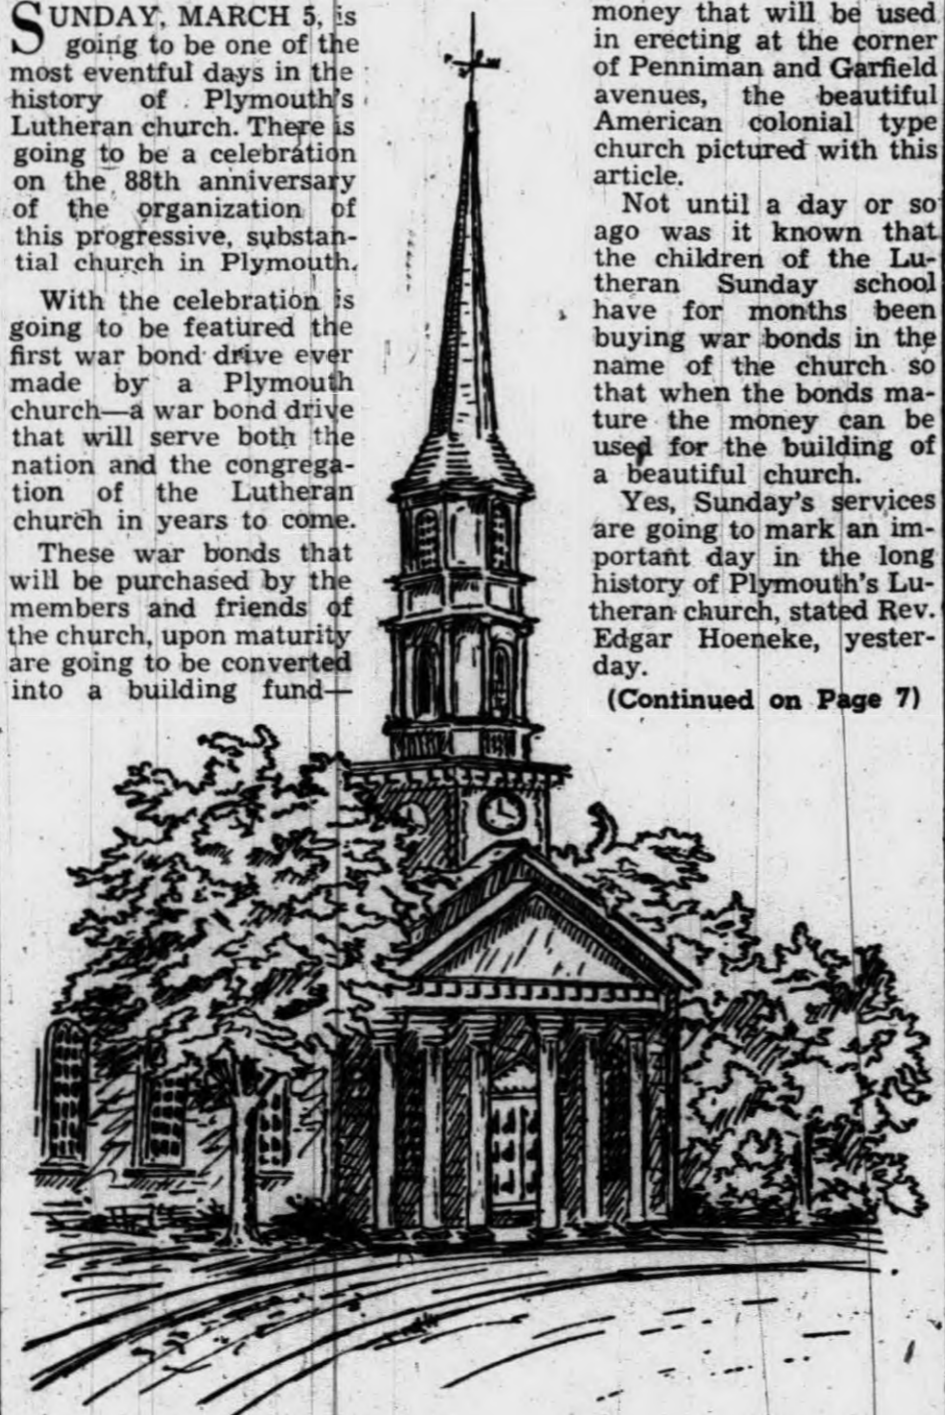

With the celebration is going to be featured the first war bond drive ever made by a Plymouth church—a war bond drive that will serve both the nation and the congregation of the Lutheran church in years to come.

These war bonds that will be purchased by the members and friends of the church, upon maturity are going to be converted into a building fund—money that will be used in erecting at the corner of Penniman and Garfield avenues, the beautiful American colonial type church pictured with this article.

Not until a day or so ago was it known that the children of the Lutheran Sunday school have for months been buying war bonds in the name of the church so that when the bonds mature the money can be used for the building of a beautiful church.

Yes, Sunday's services are going to mark an important day in the long history of Plymouth's Lutheran church, stated Rev. Edgar Hoeneke, yesterday. (Continued on Page 7)

Beautiful new church to be erected on Penniman avenue as the result of savings now being made through war bond purchases.

Red Cross Workers Start Drive To Exceed Quota of $8,900 Set For City

Chairman Asks Fullest Cooperation With Busy Workers

"We're not only going to make our Red Cross quota of $8,900 for Plymouth city and township, but we are going to put forth every effort to go many thousands over that amount," declared Chairman Evelyn Schrader of the Plymouth Red Cross committee yesterday as she announced the names of the workers taking part in the big drive now under way.

"I am highly pleased over the enthusiasm that has been displayed. We find that it is no longer necessary to 'sell' the Red Cross. Everybody knows of the vast humane work the organization is doing. We have only one request. Every one of our workers is busy. They have many other things to do, so please, when they call, make your contribution as quickly as possible. They have much walking to do and it is our desire to prevent as few callbacks as possible. You may know that your cooperation will be appreciated by the ladies who are giving their time to this work, besides donating from their own pocketbooks to the Red Cross," said Miss Schrader.

The full list of Red Cross workers for the city and township follows:

Two More Plymouth Boys Are Victims of Jap Bullets

JAMES L. SCHMITZ Son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Schmitz, killed in action in the South Pacific, presumably during marine invasion of one of the recently captured islands.

HAROLD LEACH Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach, reported missing in South Pacific engagement. He was a dive bomber in U. S. navy; once decorated.

James Schmitz Is Killed In Action—Harold Leach Is Missing In Action

Two members of the 1939 graduating class of the Plymouth high school have been lost in recent action in the South Pacific.

Corp. James L. Schmitz of the U. S. marines, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adelbert Schmitz of 40724 Gilbert, has been killed in action in the South Pacific, according to a message received by his parents from Lieut. Gen. A. A. Vander Griff of the U. S. marine corps.

Harold Frank Leach, aviation radioman first class of the United States navy, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Leach, 774 Starkweather, was reported missing in action somewhere in the South Pacific by Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs of the U. S. navy in a telegram received by his parents early this week.

The loss of these two brings to a total of 15 Plymouth boys lost in action so far in this war.

Both of these boys during their high school days were active in school affairs. Corporal Schmitz was a member of James Latture's successful debating team and of the school track team. He was the first member of St. Michael's parish to join up with the marines and is the first to die. He was also active in some of the youth activities of Father Contway's church.

It was soon after his graduation from high school that he induced his father to sign a permit for him to enlist with the marines. He entered the service in January, 1940, and was stationed at Pearl Harbor when the Japs made their sneak attack upon that naval base.

After this attack he was moved to the Pacific southwest and while there is no information available, it is presumed that he was killed in one of the recent island invasions that have been made by the marines against the Japs.

Corporal Schmitz was born January 2, 1921, in Trempealeau, Wisconsin, and came with his parents to Plymouth in 1923, where the family has resided continuously since. The father is employed at the Lincoln plant of the Ford Motor company.

Conner Hardware Store Building Leased By Norma Cassady Dress Shop

One of the most important retail business transactions to take place in Plymouth in many years was announced yesterday—the leasing of the Conner hardware store corner by the Norma Cassady dress shop.

It is expected that by the first of May, the famed northwest corner of Main street and Penniman avenue will be transformed into one of the most attractive dress shops in this part of Michigan. The lease provides that both the first and second floors of the big corner building will be used by the Norma Cassady store.

Max Moon of the Conner store states that he will retain the big room in the rear of the building now used for offices, a tin shop and storage, and that the space will be converted into a paint and vacuum cleaner store.

Entrance to the new paint store will be on Penniman avenue, Mr. Moon planning a big display window and a larger entrance where the present rear entrance door to the office is located on Penniman.

Mrs. Cassady, who opened a badly needed dress shop in Plymouth in 1933 when both banks were closed and right at the depth of the depression, has enjoyed a remarkably successful business growth in Plymouth. The dress shop, first located in a small place on Penniman avenue, grew so rapidly that in a few years much larger quarters were required and it was moved to the former Dickerson store. Even after removal to that place, it was necessary to enlarge the store space.

Plans for the new store will be announced later by Mrs. Cassady, but it can be stated at this time that the new Norma Cassady dress shop will be one of the finest in this section of the state.

The transaction will terminate the career of one of the oldest hardware establishments in Michigan. It was in 1857 when Michael Conner started a hardware store in the present location and from that time up to the present the corner has been used for a retail hardware store, conducted by some member of the Conner family.

Children Bitten By Dog Known To Be Afflicted With Rabies

One dog, known to have been afflicted with rabies, last Saturday bit a number of children living in the vicinity of Salem and Brookville roads, some eight miles west of Plymouth. Two other dogs, believed to be suffering from rabies, are believed running around in the same neighborhood.

Clarence Barrett, Kenneth Rich, Firman Rolf and other children are known to have been bitten and are now being treated. Austin Partridge of Newburg, who was in the neighborhood at the time and helped kill one of the dogs, was also bitten.

It is urged that anyone in that locality known to have been bitten by a dog seek immediate medical treatment, as it is believed a number of stray dogs running at large in Salem township are afflicted with rabies.

Plymouth Hospital Is Again Open

Plymouth physicians and residents will be glad to know that the Weiss sisters have been able to secure sufficient help to open the Plymouth hospital this week. The continued operation of the hospital will depend to a very great extent upon the ability of the managers to keep a sufficient force to operate it. The hospital was closed some weeks ago when the two owners were called to Indiana by the illness and death of their mother.

What a Plymouth Naval Officer Now Somewhere In War Torn South Pacific Thinks of American Red Cross

From some island, far away in the South Pacific, has come a letter from former Manager Ralph Lorenz of the Mayflower hotel, a naval lieutenant, j.g., telling of the amazing work that the Red Cross is doing for American fighting lads in all parts of the world.

Read it over, and then decide whether you want to keep those extra dollars in your pocket to spend for some selfish purpose, or turn them over to a government sponsored agency that will see to it that YOUR dollars will bring some relief to OUR BOYS who are going through Hell to save America from Jap beasts and Hitler's war machine.

Read it—this letter which came a few weeks ago from over on the other side of the world from one who is in a position to know what the Red Cross is doing for America—and then decide to double the contribution you planned to make for the Red Cross!

The letter from Lieutenant Lorenz, written just before Christmas, follows:

"The boys are going to have turkey for Christmas dinner, and ice cream, too. Lots of candy and assorted nuts. Should be a good day for them. One thing, we are now beginning to see what the Red Cross really does. We were given ditty bags, cigarettes, candy, magazines, mystery books, and lots of little incidentals to take along, and even first aid kits. This is a swell gesture and all men appreciate the generosity.

Some people no doubt wonder if it's worth while doing their bit at home for the Red Cross, but I want to tell you and wish I could tell them back home—all the women that are doing and giving their time free for Red Cross activities—if they could see the appreciation expressed in the boys' eyes when they received these things I know all of them would feel repaid for all the time they have donated to it. I hope all can continue to devote some of your time to it. It's wonderful and appreciated by all. Tomorrow I am going to pass cigarettes to all my men in the morning. They will be grateful, I know.

"You might convey a word of thanks to your Red Cross locally, as they might be interested. They were on the job as soon as we boarded and we have many, many things donated to us by them."

This Robin Story Is About Flock Of Robins

Here's another first robin story—but this one is about a whole flock of robins. The other morning Kenneth McMullen of Mill street saw six robins all in one flock near his home. Even though the wind blows cold, there isn't much question but what spring is just around the corner.

Garden Club Spring Luncheon

The Rosedale Gardens branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will join the Plymouth branch for the annual spring luncheon, to be held on Monday, March 13 at the St. John's parish house in Plymouth. Reservation may be made with Mrs. Ralph Lunlevy, Livonia 2604.

Members are privileged to bring a guest to this meeting. An interesting program is promised with Mrs. Ruth Moser Place of the Detroit News, as the principal speaker.

Local News

Joe Brisbois has been home the past 10 days from Notre Dame university.

Mrs. Gerald Tobey entertained at a family dinner Sunday honoring the birthdays of Mr. Tobey and his sister, Mrs. Grant Willis.

The next regular meeting of the Order of Eastern Star will be held Tuesday, March 7, at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Alfred Burgett and son Leroy have been spending a few days this week with the Laurence Burgetts and the William Michaels.

Douglas Lorenz, AEM3/C, is now stationed at the naval base in San Juan, Porto Rico. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Lorenz of Sheridan avenue.

Dr. F. F. Pray of Jackson was a guest last week-end of his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Peter E. Foster of Sheridan avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Eckert of Detroit and Mrs. Norman Marquis were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan E. Baldwin, the former's nephew and wife.

Capt. M. L. Shadley of Camp Roberts, California, was the guest of his brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stevens, on Church street for a brief visit this week.

Miss Janice Downing, Robert Vogtlin of Northville, Miss Dorothy Fisher and Robert Fisher attended the Wayne university J-hop at the Crystal ballroom of the Masonic temple in Detroit Saturday evening.

The Legion auxiliary plans a special meeting for the Girl State to be held Wednesday evening, March 8. The public is invited to attend. It will be held at the Legion hall in Newburg.

The sixth birthday of Rosemarie Gaab, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Gaab, was celebrated Saturday afternoon with a party in their home on Blunk avenue. The children enjoyed playing games, and dainty refreshments were served and each guest received a favor. Rosemarie was the recipient of several lovely gifts. Those present were Darlene Burghart, Loanne Jensen, Kay Porter, Lynn Martin, Larry and David Tillotson, Arlene, Roland and William Gaab, Jerry and Gene Hotchkiss, Larry Davis, David, Davetta and Joanne McBride, Ronald, Patsy and Sharlene Johnson, Molly Ann Cash and Russell and Sonny Brown.

The Misses Janice Downing and Dorothy Fisher were co-hostesses Wednesday evening in the former's home on South Main street at a miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Marvin Kleinschmidt (Lois Ridley), a recent bride. The ringing of alarm clocks told Mrs. Kleinschmidt where to find her gifts. The decorations were carried out in spring motif. A dessert luncheon was served later in the evening. The guests were Mrs. George Ridley, Mrs. Walter Kleinschmidt, Mrs. Robert Paxson, Mrs. William Ridley, Mrs. Charles Covel, Mrs. Betty Earhart, Mrs. William Downing, and the Misses Shirley Freeland, Marjorie Martin, Dorothy Blunk and Jean Crandell.

Blood Bank City's Most Successful One

More than 250 pints of blood were given by residents of Plymouth last week at the Red Cross blood bank. There has been more than 300 registrants to give blood, but it was necessary for the Red Cross to have the blood in the laboratories of Parke Davis & Co. in Detroit by 9:30 in the evening. Thus, some were turned away.

Mrs. H. R. Penhale, who was in charge of the blood bank, said it was the most successful venture of the type ever held in Plymouth. It is planned to bring the bank back here in May.

Dr. Mason Sells Farm On Territorial Road

Sale of the 85-acre farm located at the northwest corner of Territorial and Sheldon roads by Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Mason to Roderick A. Cassidy was announced yesterday by Dr. Mason.

The property is regarded as one of the most valuable farm sites in this locality. It is the purpose of Mr. and Mrs. Cassidy to convert the Mason residence into their permanent home.

At some future time, Mr. Cassidy stated, a portion of the farm might be converted into an attractive planned residential section.

Dr. and Mrs. Mason's plans for the future have not been fully made, but they expect to remain in Plymouth, where they have resided for the past 19 years.

Hubenschmidt May Be German Prisoner

Mrs. Millie Hubenschmidt received word last week from the United States army provost marshal that it was possible that her son, John W. Hubenschmidt, was a prisoner of war in Germany. A few weeks ago she had received word that John was missing in action over Germany, where he participated in one of the great raids on that country as a flight officer in a U. S. bomber.

The telegram she received giving her information about her son read as follows: "An intercepted unofficial shortwave broadcast from Germany mentioned the name of John William Hubenschmidt as a prisoner of war. No personal message was included. Tender further confirmation. This report does not establish his status to be a prisoner of war. Any further information received will be furnished."

No man ever did or ever will become most truly eloquent without being a constant reader of the Bible, and an admirer of the purity and sublimity of its language.—Fisher Ames.

Rocks Win In Fast Game

The Plymouth cagers beat the Northville Mustangs, 46-30, here Tuesday, February 29, in a very fast and well played game. The Rocks started out collecting 8 points in about three minutes and were never behind. In the first quarter Plymouth made 12 points to Northville's 5.

In the second quarter the Rocks got 13 to the Mustangs 9, and in the third 12 to the Mustangs 7. In the third quarter the game was about even, each team collecting 9 points. Bennett was high point man for Plymouth with 14 points. Riemas and Huebler followed with 12 and 8 points, respectively.

The high point man of the game was Slessor, with 15 points, scoring half of his team's tallies. Officials were Neville and Doyle.

The largest labor union in this country today is CIO's United Automobile, Aircraft and Agricultural Implement Workers of America, which has increased its membership from 453,000 to 1,078,000 in the past two years.

"Small business is more important to this nation today than ever before," declared Donald M. Nelson, chairman of WPB, and should be given top priority when surplus materials of war are released.

Rosedale Gardens Women's Club Conducting Membership Drive

Over 100 members attended the Woman's club valentine card party at the Rosedale Gardens community house recently. All kinds of card games were played and there was a lovely table prize for each table.

The party was in charge of Mrs. T. J. Lyndon, assisted by Mrs. R. De Pencier and Mrs. Q. McClellan, whose splendid work made the party one of the outstanding events of the year.

The club house was beautifully decorated throughout with red and white streamers, cupid and valentine hearts. Thanks going to Mrs. I. McWethy, Mrs. R. Summerlee and to the valentine dance committee for the use of their decorations.

When the card games were over tickets were drawn for door prizes, which were won by Mrs. E. Hall, Mrs. V. La Marre, Mrs. L. Jacobs, Mrs. W. Judson, Mrs. H. Burton, Mrs. C. Groth, Mrs. R. Goulder, Mrs. R. Kinnet, Mrs. I. Benson, Mrs. S. James, Mrs. W. Poppengers and Mrs. F. Winkler.

Ice cream and cake were served after the party by Mrs. W. Peristy, who had as her assistants Mrs. P. Lee, Mrs. V. La Marre, Mrs. W. Pellot, Mrs. F. Brayton, Mrs. H. Branion and Mrs. R. D. Craig. The club wishes to thank Mrs. H. Branion and the block chairman for contacting the members.

Mrs. Ernest Bentley, chairman, wishes to invite any women interested in joining the club to come out and enjoy its hospitality. The club is having a membership drive and has taken in more than 20 new members since the first of the year.

Rent Ceiling Taken Off Lake Cottages During Summer Months

Housing accommodations and hotel rooms rented only during the summer season in resort communities will be exempt from rent control from June 1, 1944, through September 30, 1944, the Office of Price Administration announced today. The amendment became effective Thursday, February 24.

In making the announcement, the OPA said that these accommodations, which are purely seasonal in character, do not form part of the normal housing supply in the areas under rent control. Vacationists, who rent them, do not use them as their homes, and, because the accommodations are rented only for the summer season, a high degree of flexibility must be observed in renting practices.

Similar exemptions were granted resort housing during the summer season of 1943. However, OPA pointed out, accommodations which were exempt during the summer of 1943 will not necessarily be exempt during the coming summer.

If these houses or hotel rooms were rented during any part of the period beginning on November 1, 1943, and ending on February 29, 1944, they will not be exempt during the summer of 1944.

Former Missionary To Iran To Speak Here

On Wednesday evening, March 8, Dr. Hartman Lichtwardt, staff surgeon at Ford hospital, Detroit, and former missionary to Iran, will speak in the mid-week service in the Presbyterian church at 7:30. Dr. Lichtwardt has had a long and interesting career as doctor, surgeon and missionary in the land which was once called Persia. He will bring a first-hand report of one of the countries figuring prominently in the news today. The meeting is open to all who care to attend, and you will be most welcome. The women's auxiliary of the church is sponsoring the program, with Mrs. Lucille Daniels, president, in charge.

Tells Of Dirty Jap Intrigue

Returned Soldier Berates Enemy

Out of the malaria and dysentery infected jungles of the Philippines—out of the hells of oriental islands—has come Harvey A. Smith, a soldier of the United States, to tell some of the tales which may be made public after the war.

Sergeant Smith, who spent 12 years with the 108th United States infantry, now lives with his brother in Robinson subdivision.

Some of the story he has told cannot be printed, because of censorship restrictions. Some of it may never be told. Part of it can be.

Harvey Smith knew the Japs for what they are—devils incarnate who ravaged everything in their path, who flouted the laws of the Philippines because they knew the United States wanted no "incident" with them.

He knew about, or at least heard about, the intricate spy system—the Jap fifth column—which operated, almost openly, in Manila before the start of the war.

He has been discharged from the army because of age, and is now serving as plant protection man for the Ford Motor company.

And the stories of atrocities which have just been made public by the government recall for him the very territory where it happened—territory which he covered thoroughly during his years in the Philippines. He returned with hundreds of pictures of his travels, pictures of the Bataan peninsula and other areas of Luzon island where the Japs staged their death march.

It is infested with malaria and other types of fever, which require constant medical treatment to escape the ravages. Dysentery is an ever-present menace because the water which comes down from the mountains is diseased by the animals. Even in peacetime, it is difficult to keep well. In wartime, and as prisoners of the Japs, without medical attention, it is impossible, as the stories have revealed.

But Smith points out that in the mountains of Luzon, there are natives which may or may not be friendly to the whites, or even the Filipinos themselves. They are easily swayed in their views. If the Japs promise them much, then they will follow the Japs. They are headhunters, whose greatest prize is the head on the tent they occupy.

Measles Epidemic In State Is Serious

Measles of especially serious type, now epidemic in Michigan, can have bad after effects, the state health department warns today in urging parents to obtain prompt medical attention for children who have been exposed to the disease.

The so-called red measles now sweeping the state—over 9,000 cases were reported in the first seven weeks of 1944—is the second leading cause of death of children under five years. Eighty-two persons died of measles in Michigan last year; 70 per cent were under five years.

Parents are advised to keep preschool children at home if there is a measles outbreak in the community. Children who are known to have been exposed to measles should be put to bed with the onset of upper respiratory symptoms, and if measles develops, should be kept there for several days after the rash disappears. Severity of the disease often can be modified by administration of certain biologic products at the hands of a physician, if given shortly after exposure.

Common complications following measles are pneumonia, middle ear and mastoid infections and kidney damage.

KINSLER-OWENS

At a double ring ceremony on Sunday, February 28, Rosemary Kinsler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Kinsler of Myrna road, Plymouth, became the bride of Mr. Milo J. Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Owens of Eight Mile road, Farmington. The Rev. John E. Conway of St. Michael's church officiated.

A purple dressmaker suit with fuschia accessories and a corsage of orchids. Donald Kinsler of Detroit, the bride's brother, attended the groom. After a reception at the bride's home, the couple left for Savanna, Illinois, where the groom is temporarily stationed. Both are graduates of Plymouth high school and well known among the younger people. When cooking foods that keep well, occasionally prepare enough for two meals, and plan to use the food a different way at the second serving. This saves time and fuel.

"We hope to raise $5,000 for our government in the sale of war bonds. Maybe you will recall that nearly three years ago we converted our entire new organ fund into war bonds. These bonds will grow in value, and then when the war is over we plan to erect a church and school that will live for another century and serve our members and the community as beneficially as has the present church," said the energetic pastor.

"When we propose to build a new church, school and parsonage at this time, we fully realize that we are planning and providing chiefly for our children.

"With that thought in mind our fathers built what we today enjoy. A good example is the case of one of our charter members, Peter Gayde. He was only 22 years old when he labored with his 11 fellow members to build the original church. His life was not a bed of roses—in one week this young man lost three children, shortly thereafter he lost his first wife, and several years later, he again lost two children in one week. Nevertheless, he did not relinquish his Christian faith. The records abound with services he rendered to his beloved church. In 1883, at the age of almost 50, he was elected as a member of the building committee of the present church. What he helped build, his children of three generations are still enjoying.

"The children of our Sunday school who, together with their teachers, perhaps realize most clearly our great need for much more pleasant and wholesome Sunday school rooms, are not idle. On the second Sunday of every month they contribute into their special building fund treasury the pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars which they have earned and saved during the month.

"They are now buying United States bonds for the building fund, which is on deposit in their own name, at the rate of almost a bond a month. They now have over nine bonds.

"This forthcoming day will be always unique in our history, for it marks the completion of 44 years in the 19th and 44 years in the 20th century of our congregation's existence.

"The first church served the congregation from 1856 to 1883, 27 years; the second one is still serving us in its major part since 1883, 61 years. The addition in 1924 did not make the basic structure any younger, it merely added to and embellished the old.

"We plan a new church that will stand for many generations to come and stand out as the accomplishment of a congregation that has vision and faith in the future."

John Lundy Dies in California Home

John Lundy, aged 79, a former resident of Plymouth and Northville, died at his home in Venice, California, 1138 Washington boulevard, Sunday, February 20. Mr. Lundy was a prominent builder and contractor in Plymouth for many years and was well known both in Plymouth and Northville. He was formerly a member of the Plymouth Masonic order. He is survived by his widow, Ida Crumble Lundy. The funeral was held from the Little Church of the Flower in Forest Lawn at Glendale, a number of former Plymouth friends now living in California attending the funeral, which was conducted by Mr. Shafter, a Presbyterian minister.

Vegetable Growers To Meet March 8

Fifteen Inspection Jobs Now Open At Kelsey-Hays Plant

Army draft requirements are beginning to hit war plants. This week a call came to The Plymouth Mail from the U. S. civil service commission to help fill 15 male inspection jobs at the Kelsey-Hays machine gun plant in this city—a civil service job that does not require an examination. Any one who has had factory work or inspection duties of any kind is eligible.

Applications can be made with Charles Bates, representing the war department civil service office, at the Plymouth post office, any time Saturday after 10 o'clock in the forenoon, or Monday after 10 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Bates will be pleased to discuss these positions with any one who cares to apply.

Two More

Harold Leach has had a spectacular record since joining up with the navy. He was on the great U. S. aircraft carrier when it was sunk nearly two years ago in one of the early actions of the navy in the Bismark sea.

After the sinking of this craft, he was given a leave of absence and spent several weeks with his parents in this city. It was not until after his return to the Pacific coast that it was revealed he had been awarded the highly coveted naval Air Medal for heroic services in behalf of his country.

On the day that the Hornet was sunk by the Japs he had left the ship early in the morning in his dive bomber to blow up some Jap battleships that had been spotted nearby. Upon his return to the Hornet, he saw that the big carrier was sinking and he saved his plane by flying it safely to another U. S. craft located in the vicinity. While the information was never revealed, it is believed that he won the Air Medal in some of his dive bomber exploits against the Jap fleet at the time the Hornet was sunk.

Just before he left for another trip into the South Pacific last summer he was married to Miss Esther Holloway, an Oakland, California, girl, who is now residing in that state.

Harold was born in Oskaloosa, Kansas. He came to Plymouth in 1924 when his father came here to accept a position with the Pere Marquette as car inspector, a position he still holds.

He had been flying a navy dive bomber for the past two years. His parents are hoping that possibly Harold and his companion in the bomber may have landed in safety somewhere, but chances of his rescue are regarded as small.

All Men

Maj. Holmes said that the only critical shortages of war materials are now in landing barges and some types of bombers.

He said that in the next three months, thousands of men will be drawn into the army from the following sources:

1—Men under 26 years of age, except those deferred as technical students or merchant sailors.

2—Men whose industrial deferments expire in April, May or June.

3—Men at present in 3A. Holmes said that from now on large families will not be the basis of deferment, with the exception of extreme hardship cases.

"The responsibility for prolonging or winning the war soon rests with Selective Service," said Holmes. "For that reason we will have to take pre- Pearl Harbor factors, although we know it is a bad policy to break up families where there are children."

As for industry, Holmes pointed out that the President recently said that the nation has plenty of food and munitions and that the need now is for manpower for the armed services.

As an example of the skilled workers who will no longer be deferred Holmes cited toolmakers. He said that there was no longer a shortage of toolmakers in the Detroit area.

Draft board heads were told that delivery men such as bakers, laundry drivers and milk men would no longer be deferred. Neither, he said, would grocers and butchers unless their stores were the only such stores in a given area.

"If necessary, we will close some stores," he said. "From now on people can walk for their milk and bread and laundry. We need the men in the services."

for the most part, spend their week by playing badminton at the high school one evening a week. There is usually an athletic contest of some sort once a week, and there is a dance sponsored by the school, almost every week. The students attend all of these, and last Friday night alone, there were more than 300 attending the school dance.

Some of them also participated in church recreation programs. The question then was asked: "With all this, why do you want more recreation? Don't you want to spend any time at home?"

The answer from one came swiftly: "No, we are tired of our homes." Possibly the youngster didn't mean the answer the way it sounded, but that was the exact wording given.

The protests were from various parents.

One said: "I have a hard enough time getting my youngsters to do any work now. It will be harder if this is started."

"The house is not suited to a hangout. It will require at least three couples to be in attendance to prevent pairing off in the less frequented rooms."

"It's in a residential area, next door to a parsonage. The blaring of a juke box at all hours will not be conducive to residential quiet."

A check among the students revealed that they expect to operate the house at least until midnight on at least some nights of the week. School dances are dismissed at 11 o'clock, and one of the high school youngsters pointed out that "there is no place in Plymouth to go after the dance."

One of the protesters replied: "They could go home."

Another parent pointed out: "I am not averse to a recreation program for the boys and girls, but I am against anything which does not entail a regular program. We have some of the best park area in the United States right at our back door, but the kids seldom use it."

Another said: "We are at war. There are hundreds of things which need to be done on the home front. I don't believe it is necessarily right that the youngsters should work in factories. But there certainly are a lot of things that need doing. The youngsters feel that collecting papers and fats and things of that sort are too trivial for them. But they're not. A jitter-bug juke box hangout won't help the war effort."

There has been no objection registered by the school system as such, although one member of the school board voiced his personal objection.

A check of the school students also revealed the following information as to why they want the hangout:

"There is so much money now—" and the youngster trailed off into meaningless words.

"They said that it will be used by all of the students, but I think it will be used by a very few," said another.

Plenty Of Feed For Pheasants This Winter

Pheasants enjoy eating at the free table provided by feeding stations and furnish much pleasure to their hosts, but they do not actually need the food, particularly in a winter with weather conditions like the present, the same division of the conservation department points out in answer to inquiries about winter bird feeding.

The pheasant is a hardy, adaptable bird and very seldom requires special feeding in southern Michigan. Occasionally during heavy sleet storms a few pheasants may die from lack of food, but even this is doubtful, game men say. In a winter like this one, pheasants can find plenty of weed seed, corn that has been left in the shock or dropped in the field, soy beans that have not been harvested and other crop residues to keep them well fed.

Wedding Of Rosemary Lueke And Everett Barnett Is Solemnized

On Saturday afternoon, February 26, in the Presbyterian church, Miss Rosemary Lueke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Lueke of this city, was united in marriage to Everett A. Barnett, AMM 2/c son of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Barnett of Roodhouse, Illinois.

The double ring ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Henry Welch in the presence of 20 relatives and friends.

Mr. Lueke was dressed in a tuxedo and wore a boutonniere of white carnations. Her gown was of white satin with long train, white satin gown with long train, sweetheart neckline and long sleeves with points over the hands. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a coronet of seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white roses tied with white satin ribbon. To complete her costume, she wore a double strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Stanley St. Charles of Garden City, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing an orchid color satin and marquisette dress, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Elmer Scoggins, AMM 1/c, performed the duties of best man.

Before and during the ceremony Mrs. Lois Kleinschmidt sang "Because" and "Oh, Promise Me."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lueke wore a two-piece coral color crepe dress with luggage-tan accessories and a corsage of white gardenias, while the groom's mother wore a blue dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at Emil Huck's Redford Inn. The long table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and decorated with red, white and blue ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnett left for a wedding trip to Atlanta, Georgia. They will be gone a week, and on their return will be at home at 1108 Beech street, Plymouth. Mr. Barnett is stationed at the Grosse Isle naval air base.

Mrs. Barnett chose a two-piece aqua color crepe ensemble with brown accessories to travel in.

News of Our Boys
In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

SOLDIER WOULD LIKE TO TAKE JOB OF STRIKING
FACTORY WORKERS

Soldier boys facing the cruel Jap fighters far out in the Pacific are developing an intense hatred for the war munition strikers back home, judging from their letters.

From somewhere far out in the Pacific, a letter from Lewis I. Kimmel was received a few days ago in which he declared that he would like to take the job of some striker, and have that striker sent out where he is right now.

His letter in part follows: "The soldiers have no use for the strikers. I think it is treason and in the worst way. If people would only wake up to the fact that strikes only prolong the war, that some poor boy who is fighting like Hell for them on the battlefields where the going is plenty hard, may lose his life because he didn't get something to fight with that he needed, I don't think they would strike for more money. Eight hours may be a long time to work and the pay may be small, but they never stop to think that maybe their son or a friend in the service fighting and never knowing where he will be next, is only getting $50 a month. Sometimes we work 24 hours a day, and there are lots of times when we go days and nights without any sleep. Any one of us would gladly trade places with the war plant workers and I can tell you that if we had their jobs after what we have been through, there would be no strikes.

"I hope we can finish this thing up so we can all be together next winter."

WANTS TO GET JOB OVER WITH AND GET HOME

Kenneth Brown, at present located somewhere in England, writes that there is only one thought in his mind, and that is to do the job "we've got to do, get it over as quick as we can and then get home."

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Jennie Brown, he says that is not only what he thinks but that every boy in the army has the same thought.

"The Plymouth Mail is just like a big letter from home. You cannot imagine how much we like to read the letters from the other boys from around Plymouth. Say hello to all of my friends for me," he adds.

MRS. JESSIE ROBERTS HAS FOUR SONS IN MILITARY SERVICE

Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Jessie Roberts, a former resident of this city now residing at 20019 Farmington road, Farmington, has four sons who are now wearing the uniforms of Uncle Sam's armed forces, all having entered services since the first of last September.

Robert joined up with the army in September and is now stationed at Camp Van Dorn, Mississippi. Thomas and James left in November to enter the navy. James is now stationed at Norfolk, Virginia, and Thomas is with the Seabees at Camp Perry, Virginia. The youngest son, Charles, has just joined the navy and left a few days ago for the Great Lakes training station.

The departure of her youngest son leaves Mrs. Roberts without a son at home, but proud of the fact that all of her boys are in the armed forces of the nation. Mr. Roberts died a number of years ago.

SERGEANT ED ZELASKO
MEETS DAVE INGALL

From Sergt. Ed Zelasko, who is fighting somewhere in southern Italy, came a letter this week stating that he had met Dave Ingall, who was wounded in the Tunisian campaign, somewhere in Italy, and that Dave had entirely recovered.

Sergeant Zelasko's letter follows, in part:

"I am still receiving The Mail regularly, and I really appreciate reading all about my friends back home and the wonderful job they are doing to help the war effort and bring victory for the Allies. I met David Ingall the other day—was sure glad to meet somebody from the home town.

"He was injured in the Tunisian campaign, but has fully recovered and is looking better than ever. The weather has been quite favorable the past few weeks, although the nights are bitterly cold. I am in the best of health, and I want to say hello to all my friends in and around Plymouth. Please notice the change in my address. I will close now, again thanking you for that weekly edition. I really appreciate your thoughtfulness."

IT'S NOW SERGEANT
ROBERT THAMS

Robert William Thams has recently been appointed a sergeant in the cadet corps of the Georgia Military Academy, College Park, Georgia. This is a signal honor attained by few first-year students who have not had previous military training. Cadet Thams is the son of Dr. and Mrs. S. N. Thams, 475 Jener avenue. His brother Paul was just commissioned a second lieutenant in the flying forces of the army.

CORPORAL DICK NEAL ON BRIEF VISIT HOME

Corp. Dick Neal, who enlisted with the U. S. marines a year ago, was a visitor at his home in Plymouth over the week-end. He is being transferred from Pennsylvania to the west coast. Dick has been promoted to corporal. He has been assigned to radio work.

On The Way Up
In Uncle Sam's
Fighting Forces

William R. McAllister

There are many ways a commission can be won in Uncle Sam's army or navy—but the chief way is the hard way, and that's the way William E. McAllister won his commission recently as a naval ensign. A graduate of the Plymouth high school with the class of 1940, he entered the Michigan State Normal and was majoring in history when the war broke out. He decided to enlist and left the normal at the completion of his second year's work. He was first assigned to Wayne university, then to Worcester college in Ohio, the University of Iowa in Iowa City, and was awarded his commission recently at Corpus Christi, Texas. The youthful naval officer is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. McAllister of 14784 Northville road. He is at present stationed in Jacksonville, Florida, for advanced instruction and expects later to spend a brief time in Chicago before being assigned to one of the navy's fleets.

John C. Christiansen

Another Plymouth high school graduate has been awarded a commission as second lieutenant in Uncle Sam's flying forces. C. Christiansen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Christiansen, 506 Maple street, was recently awarded his wings as a bombardier in Uncle Sam's flying forces. Lieutenant Christiansen, graduated from Plymouth high school with the class of 1942 and immediately enlisted for air service with his country. During his school days he was active in high school athletics. His father is an employe of Henry Ford's big bomber plant—and maybe his son will soon be dropping bombs from one of the big Liberators his father helps build.

Carl E. Parsons

Recently down at Ellington field, San Marcos, in Texas, Carl E. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Parsons of 1012 Penniman avenue, was awarded his wings and made a second lieutenant in Uncle Sam's fighting forces. The Parsons family moved to Plymouth a number of years ago and the young flying lieutenant has many friends in Plymouth who will be glad to know of his promotion. He has a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Cell, who also lives in this city. Lieutenant Parsons is now stationed at Langley field, Virginia.

CARVEL BENTLEY IN CLASSIFICATION WORK

From Carvel Bentley, former director of the vocational education work in the Plymouth schools, came a letter this week in which he states that he is now doing classification work for the army. His letter, in part, follows:

"It was only about three weeks ago that I was back in the good old home town for a few days, and it sure seemed good to be with my wife and friends again, even if it could only be for a few days.

"Now I find myself way out west, about a mile and a half from Salt Lake City, land of the Mormons, made famous by Brigham Young and his followers. I am located at an army air base nestled among the rough and rugged Wasatch mountains. This is truly beautiful country, the mountains, snow-capped, reaching toward the blue sky. In fact, we have a great deal of snow here at present. The huge power-driven snow plows work day and night keeping the runways at the air field clear.

"I am now assigned to this base as a classification specialist, which means that I am one of several men who interview and classify all men now being processed and assigned to the second air force. At present, the second air force is a replacement force for the overseas air forces. I have been doing this work for a few days now and like it very much, although I still have a lot to learn.

"I sincerely hope you will bring my address up to date in your files so that I may continue getting the 'home town' paper. It certainly is a morale builder. The best of everything to all the home town folks."

LIEUT. COL. MOORE
HOME ON VISIT

Lieut. Col. Richard H. Moore, who is stationed at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, is enjoying a brief visit at his home, 305 North Holbrook. Mrs. Moore and children, who have been down in North Carolina with him, have returned to Plymouth to remain permanently at their home here. The young artillery officer is a son of Col. and Mrs. Robert K. Moore of this city. The father is a retired army officer.

ROBERT DANIEL NOW IN NORTH CAROLINA

Aviation Cadet Robert L. Daniel, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Daniel of 11401 Melrose, Rosedale Gardens, has arrived at Seymour Johnson field, in North Carolina, where he will enter the aviation cadet pre-technical school of the army air forces technical training command. Following the completion of his work at Seymour field he will be sent to an advanced technical school.

KEITH JOLLIFFE NOW
AT SPENCE FIELD

Keith Jolliffe has been transferred to Spence field, in Georgia, and writes that the new field is a dandy. In part he says:

"I think it's about time I let you know where I am now and also thank you for The Mail, I've been receiving promptly every week.

"Spence field is my new station and a very nice one, too. It's a single engine advance school and we fly the North American AT-6, a darned nice airplane. The food is wonderful—I'm having to watch my diet or they'll make (Continued on Page 10)

RED CROSS WAR FUND
Do you know ALL that the RED CROSS does, for America's loved ones in every phase and branch of the war? For one thing—it provides life-giving blood plasma on the very spot where a man lies wounded. Field directors help to settle family problems. Red Cross directs its efforts to rehabilitating the wounded; getting food and mail to the prisoners of war. Through its offices are recruited Army and Navy nurses. It operates clubmobiles for men at isolated posts; supplies emergency foreign war relief; teaches first aid; trains nurses' aides—and performs many more services that make wartime suffering less horrible—more bearable. When you give to the Red Cross War Fund you make certain that Your RED CROSS is at his side!

Hundreds Hear Science Lecture
Wm. Duncan Kilpatrick Plymouth Speaker

Many hundreds heard the lecture on Christian Science given by William Duncan Kilpatrick, C.S.B., of Detroit, a member of the board of lecturership of the Christian Science church, given last Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the Plymouth high school.

Lecturer Kilpatrick said in part: "The refinements of time made manifest in the advancement of the human race from a plane of existence slightly above that of the animal to its present mental and spiritual level, is proof conclusive of the gradual and eternal redemptive influence of the invisible and impersonal Christ in the consciousness of men. Throughout the ages this ever-present spiritual force has guided and influenced thought even though mortals were unaware of the divine presence thus shaping their destinies."

At every crisis in the history of the world God has provided that which would not only save from the impending disaster but which would also elevate the race a little higher in moral perception and spiritual achievement. A crisis now confronts mankind: A state of almost universal chaos and desperation reaches out for that which will guide and comfort. The old supports no longer offer much hope. They have been tried and found wanting. Men find little in the old theories and superstitions, religious or otherwise, to which they can cling.

War is not the product or natural subsequent of Christianity. God and His Christ do not include the consciousness and recognition of war, strife, or conquest. War and all that goes with it is the result of man's abandonment of the spirit of the Christ and his return to the fleshpots of mammon. Something spiritually vital and virile must animate the consciousness of men, that they may make amends, not for the failure of Christianity, but rather for their own abandonment of its saving and guiding influence. Christianity has never failed men, but men have sadly failed in their devotion and allegiance to the Christ. Hence war and confusion on the earth.

Now is the time to seek that which, as in times past, God has provided to meet the need of His people and to lift them to that safe haven which is vouchsafed all who trust in Him. If that which men have looked to by way of spiritual support and succor has failed to save from the disasters of war and revolution, we may rest assured that God in His infinite beneficence is now present to provide men that which

For the first time in my 12 month army life, I'm getting all the milk I want—it's even given us on the flight line as a snack.

"I will take about seven more weeks for me to get my wings and commission—that is, if I get the commission. The government has been cracking down and consequently a lot of the boys are being made flight officers, but I'm hoping for the best.

"There is one thing definite, though, and that is I'll be home around the second week in April on furlough. It will be my first one in 14 months. Certainly will seem good to see good old Plymouth again. Thanks again for The Mail—we boys in the army can't express enough appreciation for all you've done for us."

BOTH OLSON BOYS SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Olson have recently had letters from both of their sons, Charles and Gerald, stating that they are somewhere in England, but that they have not yet been able to learn of the whereabouts of each other.

In Charles' letter he said he had the surprise of his life a few weeks ago when someone called "Eddie" to him and he turned to see his old friend, Forbes Smith, from Plymouth.

"He's the first one I have seen from home and was I glad when I found out that he is only a stone's throw from my living quarters."

PROMOTION COMES TO JOHN OSTERHOUDT

Last week's graduation ceremonies of the hospital corps school at the Great Lakes, Illinois, U. S. naval hospital saw Bluejacket John L. Osterhoudt, 30, husband of Mrs. J. L. Osterhoudt, 898 Arthur street, promoted to the rate of hospital apprentice second class.

Graduation terminates a six-week course of preliminary training at the hospital corps school. The course of study included the study of anatomy and physiology, hygiene and sanitation, materia medica and weights and measures, first aid and bandaging, nursing, transportation of casualties, and dietetics.

SERGEANT UNGER EXPECTS TO GO OVER SEAS SOON

From Serg. Robert Unger, stationed at Dodge City, Kansas, came a letter to "Our Boys" column this week in which he says he expects to go over seas soon.

His letter, in part, follows:

"My army life for the past two and a half years has not been very interesting. Therefore, do not think I could write anything that would prove of interest to people of Plymouth. I do expect to go over seas soon and then will feel that I am of more value to my country."

"I know that all the people of Plymouth are doing more than their share in the war effort, and it really does boost the morale of boys and girls in the service to know that.

"The only 'kick' I have is with these people who think they are not getting their share of war profits, and strike, thinking of no one but themselves. Wish it were possible for them to change places with our boys overseas, and they would soon realize that all should work together and get this war over as soon as possible. This is not only my feeling, but of all men giving all they have to offer for their country."

"Time is growing near for a most important part of army life, chow! So must close, hoping to be reading The Plymouth Mail again soon."

Winter Drought Has Lowered Great Lakes; Ground Water Levels

During the mid-December to mid-January period ground water levels showed for the first time the effect of the winter drought by dropping 39 of a foot, the greatest decline for this period in nine years, the conservation department's geological survey has reported.

In this period water levels dropped .25 of a foot more than any previous December-January decline and were .22 of a foot lower than the record January high stage of 1942.

January was the first month since the all-month record high of June, 1943, when ground water levels failed to set a record high stage for the month.

Great Lakes levels also showed apparent effects of the drought in January, according to United States lake survey figures. The decline in the level of Lake Superior was 42 of a foot, not as great a decline as last year but more of a drop than the average of .25 of a foot. Lakes Michigan and Huron dropped .28 of a foot as compared with a gain of .99 of a foot in 1943. Lakes St. Clair, Erie and Ontario also showed a greater decline in January than for the same period last year.

"Sure did, Chet...an article here telling about prohibition in India being written off by the Madras government as a dismal failure after a three-year trial. They found out that enforcement was ineffective and that there was a steady increase in bootlegging and other violations of the law which increased penalties failed to check.

"It all goes to prove what I've said time and time again, Chet...prohibition does not prohibit. It's been tried in this country 47 times in the last 33 years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Was found to be a failure and abandoned in Canada, Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia, too.

Ruth Elizabeth Hazlett, daughter of Percy and Beatrice Hazlett, lives at 16611 Meade street, Waterford. Ruth has taken a general course. She works full time at the Waterford Ford plant. Her pet peeve is getting up in the morning. Ruth is planning to become a cadet nurse at Flower hospital, Toledo.

Duane Johnson, the son of Howard and Hazel Johnson of 833 Sutherland, left Saturday, February 12, to enter the navy. Duane completed a general course last January. His hobby is all sports and while in school he had two years of track and three years of basketball. His pet peeve is women drivers.

Margaret Rusceak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rusceak of 9655 North Territorial road, is completing a college preparatory course. She has worked on the junior play and been a member of the Junior Red Cross. Margaret's hobbies include reading, sport, and listening to music; her pet peeves are too numerous to choose from. She is undecided about her plans after graduation.

According to Donna Underhill, the daughter of Ina Huger of 11790 Alois street, on Plymouth road, brush haircuts are horrible. Donna is taking a general course. She is an ardent member of the Camp Fire Girls. She enjoys playing the piano and reading. After school she hopes to work in a war plant. Who knows?

Rebecca Penn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Penn of 11375 Arcola, Garden City, is completing a general course. Her hobby is collecting poems, while people who don't answer letters immediately are her pet peeves. After the war Rebecca plans to become an air hostess.

To work in the music department of the Redford conservatory is the aim of Audrey Noble, daughter of Ruth and Clifford Noble of 29164 Terrace street. She has been a member of the Girl Reserves for two years. Waiting for buses is her pet peeve. She particularly enjoys writing letters and listening to classical music.

Camera Club Makes School Movie

Early in the first semester of '43-'44 members for the Senior Camera club were chosen on a basis of their own preference. The club, under Oeron Keeslar's supervision, had two accomplishments to achieve: first, to take snapshots and portrait pictures of the faculty, students, social affairs, athletes, and work in classes to be published in the senior year book; second, the filming of a school movie. The theme of the latter is still a secret among the members and Miss Fiegl who has taken over since Mr. Keeslar's departure, but they have already filmed scenes from the senior prom, the all-girls party, the junior-senior play, and the Christmas concert.

There have been many stills taken of the teachers and social affairs. Lights have been set up in the class rooms and pictures taken of seniors at work.

New Student Officers Installed

At the installation assembly presided over by Shirley Luttermoser, the newly elected mayor, the newcomers were introduced to the students. Only the newly elected for the second semester were on the stage.

Shirley Cramer was appointed chief justice, with her assistants as Merlin Datcher, Jim Baker, Ruth Haysradt and Lois Vetal. The chief of police is Bill Schoof, and his lieutenants are, first floor, Sanford Burr; second floor, Philip Elliott, and third floor, Stanley Burden.

Twelfth grade—Student council representatives, Bill Schoof, David Johnson and Bill Sexton.
Eleventh grade—Student council representatives, Kay Fisher, Carol Hubbell and Hugh Harsha.
Tenth grade—Secretary, Tom Robertson; student council representatives, Bob Chute and Marilyn Vershure.

Ninth grade—Vice president, Wanda Hunt; student council representatives, Nancy Gerst and Ellen Smith.

Flower Arranging As A Hobby

Mrs. Lickfeldt, a math teacher at Plymouth high school, has a hobby of flower arranging. One will find plants and flowers growing in any place where she spends a considerable amount of time. She says flowers and plants add color to a room. While in college she took several courses in flower arrangement and has made sketches of various means of exhibiting flowers. She said that no one can really appreciate flowers just by seeing and talking about them, but one must work with them. She likes to try things that are unusual in arrangement. Beautiful arrangements can be made with inexpensive equipment. In arranging flowers one should try to make them look as they did in nature. Never let the vase detract from the flowers. If these are colorful, they do not need a decorative vase. Flowers should always extend three quarters above the container.

Her mother (Mrs. Kincaid) has a hobby of growing iris and has between three and four hundred different varieties, which she is able to identify from a considerable distance. She has iris roots that cost $15 and has also experimented with varieties from her own hybridizing.

Although the points-for-fats plan did not go into effect until December 13, fats collections for December were 33 per cent over November, WPB reports.

Class News

A very interesting panel discussion under the leadership of Dora Gruebner, Kay Fisher, Juanita Petty, Betty Lou Arnold and Nora Weissenmoe was held in Miss Fiegl's third hour history class. The subject was national affairs—the soldier vote issue was included.

Mrs. Lickfeldt spoke Tuesday to the Hescos on after-school activities such as hobbies and sports.

Kitchen efficiency and breakfast preparation is the subject of the seventh and ninth grade foods classes under Mrs. Hecox's direction.

Mrs. Hecox' eighth grade foods class is studying the preparation of luncheons. As soon as they finish this, they will prepare a simple luncheon.

In Hi-Y the boys are discussing induction in the armed services. They are trying to determine the solution of four major problems: Should one go into a branch which will do him the most good now or after the war? Should one enter the service with a vocational plan or should he let the army or navy do what it wants? When one comes back after the war, should he continue where he left off or should he start all over? Is the war "washing out" vocational plans?

Miss Anderson's English classes devote each Friday to spelling practice for the Detroit News annual spelling bee, to be held in March.

The industrial arts class of seventh grade boys is doing a splendid job of refinishing some very old chairs. They have reglued the joints, sanded off the old finish, and restained the chairs. The boys have repaired a number of tumble-down shop stools, for which they are given credit as part of their household mechanics course.

Teacher Sketches

Collecting post cards from places she has been is Mrs. Moran's hobby. She has traveled in the east and west. She graduated from Redford high and majored in homemaking at Wayne university. Mrs. Moran teaches eighth grade arithmetic.

Mrs. Roberta Blunk was born in Plymouth and graduated from Plymouth high and is now teaching geography. She majored in English and French at Michigan State Normal college and then taught two years at Clarencville, near Redford. Many students know Mrs. Blunk as she substituted for two years before beginning to teach regularly. She has traveled all over the United States. Her hobby is reading good literature.

Quaint Quirks

Hello, Readers:
"The Gremlins" are here again and we heard a few things that may interest you. Did you know Jane Ann Lyons gets seasick when she drinks too much water?
David Folsom must have a big heart, at least both Myriene B. and Pat M. seem to be able to occupy it at the same time!
We couldn't miss the dare Merlin D. had with Norma R. during the assembly. Norma didn't take him up on it, either. Wonder why? While we're being inquisitive, why hasn't Shirley L. (lover of marshmallow and nut sandwiches) been eating ice cream since?
Will the Varsity club please furnish Joyce T. with a straw for her cokes at the game? She can't drink it from a bottle. . . . a method of getting around the straw was practiced at a couple of recent parties . . . a nipple was attached to the bottle! Speaking of cokes reminds me of the moron who took off his knee cap to see if there was any coke in the joint.

Odds And Ends

While experimenting in the lab, Edith Nolte really used the pipette like a straw and was dismayed to find that hydrochloric acid, especially in a rather concentrated form, is not the nicest thing to take. Any further attempts to take one's life have been discouraged by Miss Schultz, who after the latter incident decided it best to operate the pipette herself.

Wasn't the third hour typing class peaceful when a certain "junior boy" was absent! Yours truly can give the name of this junior, too!

Overheard from a disgusted seventh grade boy: A girl mayor! What's the world coming to!

What is the attraction, Jack H.? Why is it Miss Allen always has to tell you to turn around at your desk? A spring certainly might be the solution.

One of Miss Allen's English pupils thinks that to befuddle is to mix people up.
When asked if she has any extra bright students in her classes, Miss Waldorf replied, "All my students are bright and that's not news! Isn't it?"

The Inner Sanctum Mysteries must be affecting chemistry pupils' minds. Instead of moaning, "I wanna die, I wanna die," like Raymond, they decide to take their lives into their own hands. One boy started drinking some H2SO4. I forgot to mention that was a very dilute solution, lucky for Alfred May, or he might be like the little boy who thought he was drinking H2O when it was really H2SO4.

Lately, Juanita Petty has been serenading Miss Allen with poetry. From the tone of her writing, Juanita seems to be developing a complex of rebellion. Is spring on your mind, Juanita?

There was a considerable amount of danger last week at the basketball game, due to the effervescence of coca-cola.

Forty-five girls have entered in the ping-pong tournament. The first round was played off last week.

Mr. Smith asks his economics class, "Is teaching economics common labor?" Could be!

What's In A Name?

It is a BLESSING my Cousin decided to go south of the MASON-dixon line for a short visit in JACKSON, Tennessee. Having made this decision he took PENN in hand and proceeded to write MAJORS GEORGE and BLACKMORE of his arrival. After this he made a visit to the BARBER shop, packed his GLADSTONE, hopped into his AUSTIN and was off for LIVINGSTON HALL. A storm arose, however, before he reached JACKSON and he was obliged to draw a BROWN HOOD about his face to protect himself from the rain. He would have given every PENNY he had if he could only have stopped the WATERS that poured ORR his head. It was not long until the GRIMM situation was altered by his arrival at LIVINGSTON HALL, where he was greeted by a STOUT BUTLER who beckoned him to the fireplace to BAKE-WELL and await the MAJORS.

County Farm Board Must Now Approve Gas For Tractor Use

The Plymouth war price and rationing board announced this week that all farmer applications for non-highway gasoline must be filed and approved through the county farm board at Wayne.

From other sources it was learned that there may be some objection to that program because the county farm board is operated under the supervision of the agriculture adjustment administration.

D.A.R. Names Delegates To State Convention At Kalamazoo

Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the D. A. R. held its monthly meeting in the lounge of the Library building at Northville Monday evening.

Mrs. Carl Bryan gave a most interesting and comprehensive review of the book, "Warning to the West."

In the business meeting three delegates were chosen to attend the state conference in Kalamazoo March 28 and 29.

Mrs. Kenneth Kitchen was chosen delegate to the national conference in New York city, April 17, with Mrs. Sherwin Hill as alternate.

Mrs. Mastick reported $25,475 raised by members of the chapter in the recent bond drive.

Collect Paper Again On Thursday, March 30

Total retail sales for 1943 were $63,260,000, an increase of 10 per cent over 1942, according to the department of commerce.

Students Plan New Committee

"Hangout" Memberships To Be Sold

The youth committee which is planning a "hangout" somewhere in the city decided at a meeting this week that as soon as they organize, a new committee will supersede the present adult advisory committee. It will be an all-parent committee, made up of parents of high school students.

The decision was taken because the committee felt that the responsibility eventually would rest with the parents anyway, and that the current members of the board were representative of too many diverse interests.

The committee plans to write a constitution which will be placed in effect before the actual opening of the "hangout."

The youth committee has discussed the time the "hangout" will be open for use by the young people, but has reached no final decision. At present, it is planned to keep the hangout open from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 10:15 in the evening except on Friday and Saturday nights.

The committee also disclosed that it expects to sell 300 memberships in the organization. The memberships, it was explained, will be open to all high school students in the four years of high school. There also is a possibility that the membership will be open to all youths of the city who are in the high school age group.

Cost of the membership has not been decided.

S. Luttermoser New Mayor

Shirley Luttermoser, after being nominated for mayor by every grade at the class caucuses, was chosen for this office in the general school election last Friday, February 11. She will preside as chief executive over the student council organization.

Members from the various grades in the student council are: Irving Stuart for the seventh grade; Nancy Girst for the ninth grade; Marilyn Vershure and Tom Robertson for the tenth grade; Kay Fisher, Hugh Harsha and Carol Hubbel for the eleventh grade; and Bill Schoof, David Johnson and Bill Sexton for the twelfth grade. The eighth grade member is not known at this writing.

WPB has reduced the 1944 manufacture of paper towels for home use to 80 per cent of the 1942 base period output.

Robert Daniel Is Graduate From Ohio Meteorologist College

Pvt. Robert Daniel was among the group of meteorologists who received certificates of graduation from Kenyon college at Gambier, Ohio, on February 12. Bob was sent to Kenyon college immediately after his induction into the army and has been there for the past year. Kenyon is an Episcopal college, with a beautiful campus and many fine old buildings, some of which are almost a hundred years old.

Several hundred parents and friends were there to attend the graduation program, which was held in Rosse hall. Harold H. Burton, state senator from Ohio, gave the graduation address. President Chalmers of Kenyon, in addressing the boys, said they had, in 48 weeks, finished work which, ordinarily, would take two years to complete.

Bob was among a group of 29 who received their certificates of graduation in the early part of the program, and left immediately for their new assignment at Seymour Johnson field in North Carolina. This group was assigned to communications. They marched directly from Rosse hall to the Gambier station, at the end of the campus, where a special car was waiting to take them to Columbus.

They expected to spend Sunday in Washington and arrive at Seymour Johnson field in time to begin classes on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Daniels went to Ohio last Saturday for a brief visit with Bob before he left.

Dale Wisely Wins Ice Carnival Honors

Dale Wisely took men's high honors in the ice carnival at Newburg lake Sunday, February 13. The main events were the mixed male race and the 100-yard. Races were as follows:

Boys, 100-yard—Dale Wisely 1st, Bruce Stewart 2nd, Jack Olmsaver 3rd; time 1:54.5.

Girls, 100-yard—Margery Bassett 1st, Barbara Doty 2nd, Lois Bowden 3rd; time 20.9.

Boys, 220-yard—Dale Wisely 1st, B. Burnette 2nd, Jim Thornton 3rd; time 32.5.

Girls, 220-yard—Barbara Doty 1st, Donna Lasky 2nd, Wilma Becker 3rd; time 54.2.

Boys, 440-yard—Dale Wisely 1st, B. Burnette 2nd, George Valrance 3rd; time 1:15.

Girls, 440-yard—Dorothy Doty 1st, C. Fulton 2nd, Mary Baker 3rd.

Mixed mile—Dale Wisely 1st, Don Hessler 2nd, Lois Vetal 3rd; time 3:56.5.

The carnival was sponsored by the Leaders and Varsity clubs, under the leadership of Mr. Tomshack and Miss Olmsaver.

The carnival being sponsored by the student bodies was successful in bringing out about 200 spectators and about 40 entries. Although there was a hard wind which kept the spectators chilled, they seemed interested in every event. A handicap was tossed in when Coach Tomshack suggested racing against the wind, therefore keeping the skaters more evenly matched.

Dale Wisely, one of the supporters, was the most highly praised racer of the day, winning four out of four events in which he participated, the 100, the 220, the 440-yard, and the mixed mile. The chairman and timer of the carnival was George Valrance.

Plymouth Cagers Lose Fast Game

Forty to 32 was the final score in the game here Wednesday, February 23, which the River Rouge Panthers won. The fast-moving Panthers started out with a bang, taking the lead in the first quarter 10-7 and kept it throughout the game.

In the second quarter Sheridan of Rouge took honors, making 6 points. The Rouge cagers led 23-13 at the half and were ready to accept victory on a golden platter. The Rocks came out in the third quarter to make 7 points to the Panthers 7 and in the fourth quarter collected 12 to Rouge's 11.

The Rocks were paced by Bob Rienas, who gathered 15 points. Schultz and Huebler each got 5. The Panthers were paced by Renna, Edwards and Sheridan, each getting 8 points.

Table with 4 columns: Name, P.H., S.H., T. Rows include Plymouth (Bennett, Renna, Huebler, Nicol, Schultz, MacGregor, Schomberger) and Rouge (Renna, Masych, Woods, Edwards, Sheridan, Bollives, Slater, Jarcooly, Businka, Kostinkint).

Girl Reserve News

Thirteen Plymouth women have consented to form an adult council for the Girl Reserves. They are Mrs. Helen Stevens, Mrs. Maxine Willoughby, Mrs. Geraldine Walch, Mrs. Margaret Ross, Mrs. Dora Hondorp, Mrs. Mary Bentley, Mrs. Elsie Arscott, Mrs. Elizabeth Mather, Mrs. Forsythe, Mrs. Yvonne Elzerman, Mrs. Marion Morrow, Miss Gertrude Fiegel and Miss Edna Allen. The Plymouth Girl Reserves are no longer a member of the Detroit Y. W. C. A. because the city group cannot afford to send an adviser here since their income is from the city's community chest, which must be spent for Detroit. This council will advise the Girl Reserves and enable them to work in the community. The advisers were recognized in a formal ceremony Wednesday evening at the school.

The Girl Reserves are making plans for a community amateur show to be held during the fifth war bond drive in the month of May, with Ruth Popovich as general chairman.

Rock Reserves Whale Range Reserves

The Rock second teamers kept the glory of the school by beating the Panther reserves 38-25. The second teamers have made up for the lack of wins by the first team by winning five of their 13 games. They were at a disadvantage in height but made up for it with the good shooting of D'Haene and Brink, getting 11 and 10 points, respectively.

The teams were tied at the end of the first quarter, 7-7. The Rocks were leading, 13-11, at the half. The Plymouth cagers walked away with the rest of the game,

Leaders Needed For Girl Scouts

Rapid Growth In Plymouth Reported

As Girl Scouting in America approaches its 32nd birthday, March 12, the Girl Scouts of Plymouth send out an appeal to civic-minded women of this community to aid in this most important movement. Additional troop leaders are needed badly, at least four more women who can devote some of their time to this worthy cause are needed immediately.

Due to the almost phenomenal growth of the organization in Plymouth during the past year, the number of leaders has fallen behind the growth in membership. Just about a year ago when this paper made a similar appeal, there were only 35 Plymouth Girl Scouts.

Today there are 215 girls enrolled in the eight troops and two Brownie troops. Under the able guidance of Mrs. Wallace Osgood and the council, the Girl Scouts of Plymouth have become one of the outstanding civic groups of the city.

Plymouth Girl Scouts will celebrate their birthday week, their second in wartime service, the week of March 12. It is hoped that they will be able to hold a tag day event on the evening of March 10 and during the day of March 11; at which time the girls would be able to contact those people in the community who would like to help further Girl Scouting in Plymouth in a financial way.

Funds in addition to the membership dues of the girls are needed to help train additional leaders for this important work. It is hoped that sufficient money can be raised this birthday week to send at least one leader to a training school for at least a week so that this person can in turn pass on what she learns to the other voluntary group leaders.

Since the first Girl Scout troop in America was formed in Savannah, Georgia, in 1912 by Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low, the organization has grown consistently until today it has over 817,000 girl members with troops in 6,500 American communities. It has helped train millions of girls to be better citizens through the years.

Plymouth Girl Scouts have been especially active in their war activities, having done yeoman work in the collection of fat, tin cans and paper, as well as in their Junior Red Cross work.

Women who would like to enroll as leaders or do some other activity in connection with the Girl Scouts should call Mrs. Osgood, chairman of the local Girl Scout council, at Plymouth 745-W, or contact any member of the committee.

In addition to Mrs. Osgood, the Plymouth Girl Scout council is composed of Rev. Francis Tetu, Miss Neva Lovewell, Mrs. H. L. Poppenger, Mrs. Belle Murray, Mrs. E. D. Bolton, Miss Margarette Dunning, Mrs. J. C. Weed, F. G. Walsh, Mrs. C. C. Cushman and Mrs. H. E. Baker.

Business Soars, Income Drops

Phone Company Issues Statement

The Michigan Bell Telephone company today reported that its net income in 1943 fell nearly $800,000 below the 1939 pre-war level despite a wartime increase of 58 per cent in the dollar volume of its business which reached an all-time high.

In the company's annual report, President George M. Welch cited net operating income of $9,884,000 compared with $10,674,000 in 1939—the last year of pre-war activity.

Michigan Bell earnings represented a return of 4.1 per cent on the company's plant investment against 5.6 per cent in 1939. Pointing out that shortages of materials have resulted in over-loaded facilities and a heavy backlog of service demands, Welch emphasized that "as soon as materials and manpower are available, satisfactory margins of plant must be restored. This will require an increase in capital investment with relation to the volume of business which will add to the net revenue requirements to cover the fixed charges of the additional plant."

The company paid dividends of $5.74 per share of $100 par stock, 25 cents above the 1942 declaration. Operating taxes of $13,858,000 were $2,408,000 above those of 1942 and were the equivalent of $12.83 per telephone. Operating payrolls increased $5,322,000 to $27,965,000.

Despite the shortage of telephone materials for civilian purposes, the number of telephones in service increased nearly 75,000 over 1942, reaching a new high of more than 1,110,000. Local calls averaged 5,600,000 a day and long distance messages 123,000,000 daily, the latter an increase of 75 per cent over the pre-war volume. The report cited savings of $1,310,000 a year to long distance users through rate reductions and changes in toll practices brought about in 1943.

Approximately 2,800 employees were in military service during the year with three men in uniform for every five remaining on the job, highest ratio of any Bell system company. Wartime operations increased the percentage of women employees to 72 per cent of the total personnel compared with a pre-war representation of 56 per cent. More than 5,000 recruits were brought into the business during the year.

The report expressed appreciation to the public for its "understanding and patience" in helping the company "get the utmost from the telephone plant."

Looking beyond the war, President Welch viewed the future with confidence, but emphasized that "investment funds will have to be attracted to the telephone business" to pay for any substantial expansion program that may lie ahead.

"Winning the war," he said, "is the paramount objective today. In everything necessary to that object, only the best is acceptable. In civilian life, the public accepts something less than the best as a part of its contribution to the war."

"After the war is won, only the best again will satisfy. Telephone service must be as good or better than it was before the war and plans are under way to make it so."

Frank Passage Became Graduate Nurse 40 Years Ago

Frank C. Passage, well-known resident of Plymouth, has just celebrated an anniversary—his fortieth anniversary as a graduate nurse, licensed by the state of Michigan to serve in this highly specialized profession.

It was on February 17, 1904, when he graduated from the Grace hospital school of nursing in Detroit.

W. T. Barbour, for years one of Detroit's most prominent citizens, was then president of the hospital board of trustees and his signature was the first on Mr. Passage's state license.

Probably there is not another male graduate nurse in the state of Michigan who has worked consistently at his profession for so long a period as has Mr. Passage. He is at present employed on the nursing staff at the William H. Maybury sanatorium in Northville.

YOU have given more than money—you who have given the blood from your heart.

You have earned the right to sit back now... to let other people carry the load.

But wait a minute. Have you?

Could you rest content if lack of funds prevented one single pint of that blood from reaching its goal, from saving a life?

Could you sleep easy if but one American boy—your own son, perhaps—should lack some comfort the Red Cross might have given him?

Would your conscience be clear if some prisoner of war failed to receive his weekly Red Cross food carton... his real American cigarettes or tobacco?

You know the answer... Of course you do! There can be only one answer!

Yes, you have a right to be proud, you of the blood-donor army.

But just because you are that kind of person—you won't rest on your oars now.

This month the Red Cross must ask the people of America for funds to enable it to carry on its great work another year.

This year, the need is greater than ever before. This year we serve eleven million American fighting men all over the world—your own sons and friends and sweethearts. You will want to give more... to give freely to your own Red Cross... to your own sons in the service of their country.

Babson Says --

There Is Bound To Be Busy Times After War

Babson Park, Florida, March 3—Management is facing a trying transition period. Involved are cancellations of orders, the rebuilding of physical equipment, questions concerning labor and raw materials and, in many cases, excessive wartime inventories. Companies which have been engaged 100% in war work will have the greatest troubles. In most instances their difficulties will be reflected in coming earnings statements. Lower dividends from some of these companies may be in prospect. Companies with no reconversion problems should offer the best bet for the investor. Such companies have no renegotiation bills and if they have suffered from the war will "come back" quicker than companies which have been wholly engaged in war work. The dividend outlook for such companies is naturally more favorable. I should like to comment on a few situations.

It is obvious that airplane manufacturers have too much plant capacity for peacetime operations. There are bound to be consolidations. Many plants will be obliged to close but, even so, competition will be terrific. However, a fair civilian market may exist. In time, with the development of new and safer types of planes for civilian use, manufacturers may again do a volume business. Certainly, however, the immediate postwar outlook is not good.

I am more bullish on air transport. Here also some consolidations may be inevitable, but further expansion of existing lines will come. Many new helicopter routes will be established by all sorts of corporations which heretofore have had nothing to do with the aviation industry. Most of these, due to inexperience, will pass out of the picture. Hundreds of pending applications for such routes may never even be granted. In hauling passengers, freight, express and mail, however, the air transport companies will certainly give the railroads a jolt.

It is logical to consider the oldest and greatest transportation system, namely, the railroads, along with our newest—the airlines. My readers know how I feel about the railroads. I am not bullish on them for the long-pull. I further believe holders of many railroad securities should take advantage of current prices and get out of railroads. Traffic will decline sharply at the end of the war. The peak of railroad net earnings has passed.

However, in equipment, luxury and convenience of travel, the railroads, after the war, will take on a new lease of life. Crack trains, including streamliners which were so popular just prior to the war, may even be out-of-date in the postwar period. Equipment designers, artists and engineers have been busy re-designing passenger trains. Quite definitely the railroads will not take the competition of the airlines lying down. They will put up a good fight for business; but this fight will cost them a lot of money and benefit only the stockholders in rail equipment companies.

The outlook for household products is, perhaps, most interesting to investors. A large deferred demand is apparent. Electrical appliances, radios and vacuum cleaners, floor coverings, furniture, heating and plumbing equipment face a period of expanding sales. Postwar sales of all consumer goods may be well above the prewar volume and compare favorably with sales during the war period. I continue bullish upon chain stores and other modern retail outlets. Prices of many stocks in this merchandise group are still reasonable in relation to future earnings and in view of inevitable inflation.

The entire automobile industry continues practically 100% in war work. Cars and trucks are being used up fast although the production of these is now running larger than in 1943. Earnings should remain firm during 1944, but the industry faces great reconversion problems and high renegotiation bills. Return to peacetime operations will be relatively slow; also costly because of the ultimate need for new machinery and dies. Lower earnings are in prospect for some manufacturing units. The automobile accessories group, however, should come back rapidly.

Our entire manufacturing economy is most apt to be in a state of flux during the early part of the postwar era; but sales and distribution agencies will be reorganized rapidly. Orders will pile up quickly for transmission to manufacturers. Therefore, I am very bullish on distribution, advertising and general sales work. This, in turn, will help newspapers and magazines—particularly the newspapers. These last have been charged with the task of freely disseminating much Government information. They have been greatly handicapped by both newspaper and labor scarcities. Despite many obstacles they have done a thorough-going, workmanlike job. I believe the entire newspaper business is a good postwar bet and faces a period of further expansion.

Better Get That Fish Shanty Off The Ice

With the approach of milder weather, ice fishermen are reminded by the conservation department of the new law, in effect this year for the first time, that requires all owners to remove shanties from the lake within 30 days after the ice melts. By watching to see when the ice becomes soft, fishermen can remove their shanties before they sink, which is much easier than raising them from the lake bottom, conservation field men state. The law, which also provides that the owner's name and address be written on the shanty or shelter in legible letters, was passed by the legislature last year to remove the danger to summer bathing, boating and fishing caused by submerged shanties and shelters.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Blickenstaff and little daughter visited relatives at St. Johns Thursday and Friday. Mrs. Blickenstaff and daughter will visit her parents at Lake Odessa before returning.

Mark Ladd has sold his residence on East Ann Arbor street to John Rattenbury.

Born, a little daughter, to Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Gottschalk, Wednesday, February 26.

George Fisher of South Dakota visited his aunt, Mrs. I. W. Hummell, a few days this week.

Miss Nellie Huger left Sunday night for Terre Haute, Ind., where she has a position teaching salesmanship.

Born, a little son, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Moore, Tuesday, February 18. Mr. Moore is overseas with the A. E. F., and Mrs. Moore is staying at the home of Mrs. Phila Harrison on Harvey street.

Sgt. Harry Brown, who has been overseas with the 85th division for the past seven months, has been honorably discharged and returned home the latter part of last week. Plymouth friends are glad to welcome him home.

Miss Gertrude Deal is spending the week with her aunt, Mrs. Clifford Casterline, in Lapham's Corners.

Robins have been seen around here. The way the weather has changed, looks as if they would want to go south again.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jewell have moved in with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pierce, on Mill street.

Folks who complain about the churches being open only one day in the week might find food for thought in considering the program of the Methodist church Thursday of this week. At noon the annual banquet of the Plymouth Agricultural association was held in the church dining hall, served by the ladies of the church. This was followed by a social gathering and pot-luck supper for the boys and girls of the Junior League. From 7 to 8 o'clock occurred the weekly devotional hour, and at 8 o'clock the weekly community night program of moving pictures.

Much favorable comment is heard every Sunday for the five-minute addresses of the Methodist Minute Men. The laymen are showing splendid abilities in the pulpit and their fine enthusiasm is spreading to the entire congregation. Warren B. Lombard is chief of staff and has three able assistants in Robert B. Jolliffe, E. V. Jolliffe and G. W. Richwine. The number of Methodist Minute Men has increased to almost 100,000.

For four years, a number of British planes have been secretly equipped with a device that enables them to cut the cables of the enemy's barrage balloons. Each machine carries 16 of these cutters, which extend from the forward edge of the wings. The steel rope, upon being caught by the wing, slides along it right or left a few feet until it strikes one of the cutting devices, either side of which instantly severs the cable on contact.

When a woman goes to a tea and knows everybody there, she has a gloomy intuition that it isn't very exclusive.

VICTORY'S SONS

TWELVE Jap destroyers had hemmed in a lone American patrol torpedo boat, one dark night, off Guadalcanal. They began shelling the little PT craft. It looked like a time to surrender—or die. But that isn't the American way. Lt. (j.g.) Bartholomew J. Connolly of Washington, D. C., is a commander in the old tradition. Ordering his men to stand by to attack, he raced his little ship hard at the nearest destroyer. When within 500 yards of the enemy warship, he sent two torpedoes into it. Before he heard them explode, he was swinging away toward another destroyer. Again he launched his torpedoes. Amid a hail of shells, the PT boat sped through a gap left by the sinking ships, and escaped unscathed. Lt. Connolly was awarded the Navy Cross for "heroism and conspicuous courage."

An easy way to SAVE COAL—

... turn out every other light!

If you operate a business establishment using electric lights for outdoor display, here is a simple and practical way to conserve electricity. The plan is already being followed by some users of electric signs, theater marquees, show windows, etc.

The Government asks you to save electricity in every way possible, to conserve fuel, transportation, manpower and other critical resources. Even though electricity is not rationed and there is no shortage in this area, SAVE voluntarily wherever you can, as much as you can.
