Ambassador Halifax

It was the pleasure of the editor a few days ago to have been invited to a press conference with Lord Halifax of England. For more than half an hour he answered question after question about problems that now face the world. We desire only to comment about one thing. The government of England has sent to America a great commoner to represent that country in this republic. While one of the world's greatest statesmen, he appears and talks just like any ordinary citizen. There is nothing of the "upper crust" attitude, nothing in his expressions to indicate that he is any different than you or I. We do not wonder at the amazing success Lord Halifax is having in the conduct of his country's affairs in friendly America.

Our County Government

Detroit newspapers the other day exposed the fact that Joseph C. "Roosevelt," who has been frequently mentioned in Lansing grand jury dispatches, has, all of these years, been drawing a salary from the taxpayers of Wayne county. What for, only Roosevelt and the good Lord know. We are pleased, however, to find that our county board of auditors cracked him down good and hard, and then applied the boot. But the thing we can't figure out is why he has been able to get away with it as long as he has. Of course, you might know that "Notorious Joe" is one of the shining new dealers of Wayne county.

Forward and Upward!

From out of the depths to which it has at times sunk in Michigan, Republicanism of this great state took a long step forward and upward last week when a definite move was made to eliminate the type of political bossism injected into party affairs by Frank D. McKay of Grand Rapids. Unless the wishes of the party are defied when the state delegates meet in Chicago, Frank D. McKay will be out as far as this state is concerned.

When McKayism stuck its ugly head into party affairs in Michigan 16 long years ago, the writer was one of the few in the entire state to take issue with the brand of politics McKay was introducing into Michigan. At times it seemed a lone fight. At other times there has been much able help.

But it remained for State Treasurer D. Hale Brake, energetic County Chairman John Wagoner of Battle Creek, plus the surprising and emphatic stand of Governor Kelly, to deliver what appears to be the knockout blow. It required a right-about-face maneuver on the part of the governor to do what he did, and we have nothing but praise for his decision to join up with the anti-McKay forces in the state.

But the victory has not yet been entirely won. McKay will not be licked until every one of his henchmen have been eliminated from any position of trust with the Republican party. But as we see it, Michigan Republicanism is now heading on the straight road again to public confidence, trust and leadership.

Right Again!

"Though the mills of the gods grind slowly, yet they grind exceedingly small."

That is an old, old saying, if memory serves correctly, which fits by a federal grand jury of "Col." Ed A. Nowack, formerly of Lansing, now a resident of Havana, Cuba.

"Colonel" Nowack, it seems, according to information coming out of the federal court in Detroit, is or was the "brains" that had much to do with the theft of some hundreds of thousands of gas rationing stamps out of a rationing office in Lansing.

These stamps, alleges the government, were sold to people who would rather have black market gas to burn in their automobiles for joy rides than to save it for our fighting boys overseas. Government officials say "Colonel" Nowack will be extradited from Cuba and brought back here for trial. Detroit papers allege that "Colonel" Nowack made a fortune in Michigan politics.

Remember, kind reader, remember back a few years ago when the humble writer of this editorial was seeking re-election to the state legislature from this district? Remember an especially vicious issue of "Colonel" Nowack's political paper that was circulated at a cost of many hundreds of dollars through this entire district in opposition to the writer?

Well, this is the same "Colonel" Nowack who went to the trouble of trying to defeat the writer, but instead helped roll up a big majority for him in that election.

We had, through our paper, and in other ways, fought a crowd over in Lansing that we believed were not working for the best interests of the state or the Republican party. In the last election, "Colonel" Nowack was a loyal booster of the notorious Gerald L. K. Smith.

It was way back, on April 17, 1936, when in a somewhat jesting editorial, we made reference to the house that the "colonel" built down on a Florida island. So incensed was the "colonel" over mention of his elaborate Florida residence that he beat up another newspaper editor who had republished the editorial.

We can now understand WHY reference in Michigan to this beautiful place in Florida so upset "Colonel" Nowack. We didn't realize at the time that his Florida "investment" was quite such a ticklish issue.

All we can say is that if the state grand jury in Lansing and the federal grand jury in Detroit keep grinding away, the most of "ye editor's loving friends" will be doing a lot of squirming before some judges who can look holes right through them.

It begins to look as though a lot of over-fed chickens are coming home to roost.

What the Public Thinks

Long ago we got over being surprised at the public reaction to subjects discussed in this column. Sometimes they are favorable. Sometimes not so favorable.

But we were really surprised at the public interest in the editorial last week which dealt with socialized medicine and the need for necessary expansion of hospital facilities for the people of the state. There is no question but what the average citizen is more interested in the health problems than ever before.

Few seemed to favor the Washington plan for "socialized medicine," but seemingly almost everyone approved of our suggestion for bringing better hospital facilities to communities throughout the state.

A few did not approve the University branch hospital suggestion. They thought it would be too big an organizational problem for the University hospital staff to carry out. We agree that it would be, if the state was to be blanketed immediately with dozens and dozens of new branch hospitals of the University. The plan, of course, is one of development, and as it grows there is no question but what the problems developing from it could be worked out as they arose.

Far better hospital service for ALL the people is the pressing need of the state and nation, NOT socialized medicine. Let's tackle the most important problem, the one that will help the afflicted instead of the office holders and bureaucrats.

4-H Club Members Doing Much to Help Win War

Achievement Day
Programs Prove
Most Successful

The 4-H club achievement day exhibits and programs at the Wayne county training school on April 17, and at the Romulus high school on April 18, were very well attended. The exhibits were not as large as in prewar days, but were an excellent exhibition of children's work in clothing, many articles made of used materials, such as old suits and feed bags. Handcraft articles were made from scrap lumber and discarded articles, but some showed fine finishing and much labor on the part of the boys.

Our 4-H Victory clubs are war-time clubs. Victory club members reported a grand result on the home front. Many ideas were presented in the Victory club notebooks and scrapbooks.

Total results from the salvage activities showed the following collections from 465 4-H Victory club finishers up to date:

Waste fats—2,521 pounds.
Scrap metal—13,214 pounds, two jalopies.
Tin cans—40,424 cans.
Books for soldiers—1,814.
Burlap bags—751.
Scrap rubber—2,791 pounds.
Stitchings, nylon and silk—1,508.
Phonograph records—664.
Keys—518.
War stamps and bonds—$31,764.85.
Roads—457.
Waste paper—53,091 pounds.
Batteries—700.

These Victory club members also participated in citizenship activities, Junior Red Cross, first aid, health and safety and in other club activities, as well as several community activities and drives which were related to the war effort.

The following program was presented in the Wayne county training school:

Program chairman, Violet Barton, Hicksville school.

Enlists to Fight With Brothers

Mrs. Ruth Zeuner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Perkins, 260 Union street, has enlisted in the army air corps and leaves May 4 for basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. After her basic training, she will be stationed at Scott field, Ill.

Mrs. Zeuner's husband, Sgt. Norman Zeuner, is now serving overseas in the army air force.

She also has two brothers in service, Pfc. Kenneth L. Perkins, who is in the Southwest Pacific, and Aviation Cadet Warren Perkins, who is in training at Corpus Christi, Texas.

Safety Proclamation

In an effort to prevent a threatened state-wide increase in traffic accidents, the Traffic Safety association of Detroit and the Michigan state safety commission will sponsor an intensive campaign during May against the practice of driving automobiles with defective equipment. Major emphasis will be placed on the importance of maintaining brakes in good working condition.

As one phase of the campaign, state and local police will check all automobiles that show outward evidence of faulty equipment.

I am sure the citizens of Plymouth want to do all they can to reduce traffic accidents to a minimum. Moreover, we all know that the continued safe operation of motor vehicles is vital to the war effort. The best way we can cooperate in the campaign is by having our own automobiles thoroughly inspected to make sure they are in safe driving condition.

To further the aims of this campaign, I do hereby proclaim the month of May as "Car Conservation Month," and I ask the co-operation of all citizens in this worthwhile endeavor.

Stanley T. Corbett,
Mayor.

Mayor Outlines Worthwhile Plans for Year

Streets, Sewers and Water Lines to Get First Attention

Mayor Stanley Corbett said this week that it will be the policy of his administration to do everything possible to improve the physical properties of the city of Plymouth.

In effect, this is a continuation of the policy laid down by Mayor Carl Shear, who with Commissioner Hondorp are working in close co-operation with Mayor Corbett to make this administration one of the best in the history of the city.

When Mayor Corbett was asked what he intends to do to make his administration outstanding, he said:

"Water, streets and sewers are our main interests."

From that beginning the mayor went on:

"There are many things the city needs. We need more paving, but much of the paving problem will have to wait until such time as property adjoining the streets is unencumbered. We can only assess so much for improvements. The law won't let us assess more."

"We have a plan now which may work, however, to hurry these improvements. We have an idea that where property owners want improvements, and yet the assessments against their property are already so large that the improvements cannot be made, then it may be possible for the property owner to advance the cost of the improvement in cash. We are seeking legal opinion on that idea now."

"And we need more sewers. Do you know that most of the houses in the south end of the city are still using septic tanks for their sewage, that there is no sewage system in that area?"

"We are handicapped," said Mayor Corbett, "because of the shortage of materials and supplies and even labor. But within our physical capabilities, we intend to improve the city still more during the coming year."

"We want streets that won't rattle your eyebrows when you ride over them."

"We need a new water tank, and not just a replacement for the present tank, but another one. Why, if this tank which we have now should suddenly spring a leak, or anything else went wrong with it, the entire city would be without water until it could be replaced. There would be little if any pressure to fight a fire."

A tornado striking that tank, for instance, would leave the city without water until a new tank could be installed.

The city, property owners need have no fear about the cost of the water system. A new main is now being laid from the new well to the present water tank, and it will be paid for by the water revenues themselves. The city is making money on its water system.

Mayor Corbett is a progressive thinker who has the interest of the entire city at heart, and it is refreshing to know that the fine city administration inaugurated by Carl Shear will be continued.

Sgt. Archer Is Home on Second Visit in Three Years

Sgt. Lorne W. Archer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Archer of Roe street, and best known to his host of Plymouth friends as "Bud," arrived in Plymouth Sunday from Colorado and will enjoy a brief furlough at his home here before going on to Georgia, where he expects to be stationed for a brief time.

Sergeant Archer has been in the air forces three years and this is his second visit to his home in Plymouth during all of that time.

Kenneth J. Archer, a brother, who is second class petty officer of the U. S. coast guard, has recently arrived in Alameda, Calif., and has been assigned to a ship as radio operator.

Another brother, R. Ernest Archer, is stationed in Cleveland, Ohio, where he is serving as first class petty officer in the U. S. coast guards.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shirey of Morgan street announce the birth of a daughter, Gay Joan, born April 15, at Mt. Carmel hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 13 ounces.

Frank L. Hall Dies Suddenly

FRANK L. HALL

Plymouth residents were surprised last Saturday to learn of the sudden death of Frank L. Hall, tax attorney for the Michigan Bell Telephone company, in Keifer hospital in Detroit. Mr. Hall and his family were residents of this city for many years, and during that time made a large circle of friends. Desiring to be nearer his work, he sold his home on South Main street to Earl Fluelling and moved to Detroit about six years ago. Mr. Hall was only 57 years of age.

Starting as a page in the house of representatives at Washington at 19, Mr. Hall followed a public career for nearly a quarter of a century before going with the Michigan Bell in 1929. He served as secretary to the late Congressman Edward L. Hamilton of the Fourth Michigan district, was county clerk of his native county of Berrien, and was executive secretary to the late Governor Fred W. Green.

Born at Paw Paw, Mr. Hall was educated in the public schools (Continued on Page 7)

More Garden Space Needed, Says Jolliffe

Requests for Plots
Exceeds Number
Now Available

Robert Jolliffe, chairman of the victory garden program in Plymouth for this season, reported this week that he believes there will be 10 per cent more gardens in the city this year than last year. And last year, Plymouth had more gardens to percentage of population than any other city of its size in the state of Michigan.

Mr. Jolliffe reported at the same time that more lots are needed for gardens, especially those closer in to the center of the city. Those with space to contribute to the program, and those who want space, should get in touch with Mr. Jolliffe.

With the coming of spring it is more urgent than ever before that gardens be maintained this year. Here are just a few facts which every person should consider, especially those who have made no plans for a garden:

The present supply of food is almost wholly attributable to the large number of gardens last year. These gardens produced sufficient food for preservation, and for immediate table use that regular canneries were able to preserve sufficient food both for the armed forces and for the civilian population.

The war is not over. It will not be over before the end of this year, even in Europe, after which there is still a war to be won from Japan.

In Russia, every person, young or old, male or female, is contributing his share to winning the war.

The people on the home front cannot depend on their husbands, sons and fathers to win the war without help at home, and there is no job, which is more important than the growing of food.

Gardening is a pleasant occupation, a pleasant diversion from the normal chores of the day. It is not laborious, but is fun.

Now those are facts. They should be sufficiently conclusive to convince everyone of the necessity of growing a garden.

And for those persons not acquainted with gardening, pamphlets are available by writing to Michigan State college, which will provide all necessary information to help the amateur gardener.

School War Bond Drive Has Been Set For May 15 to June 2

So that the school children of Plymouth and other school districts in Michigan can participate in the great patriotic fifth war bond drive, it was announced yesterday by Superintendent George A. Smith that the school drive will start on May 15 and continue until June 2.

This will make it possible for the school children to do their part towards winning the war before the annual summer vacation starts.

Superintendent Smith and other school leaders from the vast metropolitan section was called to Detroit Wednesday afternoon for a meeting with State War Bond Chairman Frank Isbey to make plans for the school drive.

While the fifth war bond drive has been fixed for the period beginning June 12 and running to July 8, all bonds purchased during the public school drive will be credited to the fifth war loan campaign, which will take place in June and July.

Mr. Smith called a meeting of the school faculty immediately upon his return from the Detroit conference and plans were set in motion for the drive, which will start on Monday, May 15.

In the last war bond drive, the school children of Plymouth sold nearly $100,000 worth of war bonds.

Plymouth's schools were among the first, if not the first, in Michigan to take an active part in all war bond campaigns. The local schools have participated in every war bond drive the city has had, and the plans made at the meeting in Detroit Wednesday will enable the school children to take part in the fifth war loan drive.

This advanced campaign, however, will in no way interfere with the general drive to start on June 12.

Eight to Leave for the Navy

Eight young men will leave the Plymouth induction center on Tuesday, May 3, to enter training work at the Great Lakes naval training station at Great Lakes, Illinois.

Those who have been accepted and who will leave on that date are: Lloyd O. Coleman, 1025 Neeson, Northville; Thomas E. Marshall, Garden City; Jack R. Hillborn, 22403 Floral, Farmington; Neil E. Cochrane, 1295 Railroad street, Jackson; Eugene L. Sargent, 13968 Berwyn, Detroit; Eugene L. Cunny, 22230 Gill road, Farmington; John C. Butler, 814 South Laffette, Royal Oak; Ernest Schram, 19377 Poinciana, Detroit.

Plan Memorial for Harry Ayers

The remains of Harry Ayers, for many years one of the prominent residents of this part of Wayne county, who died February 18 at his winter home in Santa Monica, Calif., are being returned to Plymouth for interment.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, May 6, at 3 o'clock at the Schrader funeral home, the Rev. Verle Carson of the Newburg Methodist church officiating. Members of the Plymouth Rotary club will act as pallbearers.

Mrs. Ayers, who remained in California, is returning to Plymouth next Thursday.

Interment will take place in the Riverside mausoleum.

Milo Bliss Now Reported Killed in Action

According to a telegram received Tuesday by Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bliss of Northern avenue from the war department, it has been definitely established that their son, Milo, reported missing in action in Italy two weeks ago, was killed in action on April 2.

The first report from the war department stated that the youthful infantryman was missing, but that as soon as definite information was received, the parents would be advised.

The telegram received Tuesday stated that the department had been advised by the army command in Italy that the young Plymouth soldier was killed, presumably in the assaults that were made on Cassino at that time.

Lt. Robert O'Conner Is Killed In Action

LT. ROBERT O'CONNOR

He landed in Italy on March 21 and was killed in action on April 2. While no definite information has been received, it is believed that he went into active combat service over Austria almost immediately after arriving overseas.

Walter Harms, chairman of the Plymouth selective service board, said this week that all draft registrants under 26 now have been called up for their physical examinations, and that all future draft calls must be met with men over 26 and those boys who have just reached 18.

The processing of the men under 26 followed orders from state and national headquarters of selective service to take the younger men first.

At the same time, if new calls are to be made, the older men must fill in.

Mr. Harms said there have been a few requests from industry to defer men under 26, who are considered essential in their jobs. The last of the younger men will take their physical examinations on May 6, and presumably will fill the June draft call.

Farmers who request deferments are being scrutinized carefully by the draft boards to make certain they are producing all they can produce. If they are not, then they are put into the army.

Although the so-called "point system" of classifying farm production is being used.

Mother's Dream Proved True

Fighter Pilot Was Prominent in High School Activities

Mrs. Allen M. Giles, 324 Auburn, has been advised by the war department of the death of her son, Lieut. Robert O'Conner "in defense of his country over Australia."

The telegram was received last Sunday evening and said that Lieutenant O'Conner was killed on April 2, and although no other details were given, there was immediate speculation on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Giles that the telegram should have read killed over "Austria" instead of "Australia."

Wednesday a letter from the war department came stating that he was killed over Austria.

Lieutenant O'Conner, who reached his 20th birthday on January 27, was a navigator on a bomber, and was graduated at San Marcus field in Texas last November 13, as one of the three highest in his class.

Because of his outstanding achievements in the field of navigation, he was immediately offered an appointment to West Point, but declined it because all of his friends are now fighting the war, and he wanted to see action.

He was immediately sent to Italy, where he has been based since that time.

His mother has received letters from him regularly, and one was received on April 15 from his Italian base.

Since the Italian based bombers are attacking enemy targets in Austria and the Balkans, which require flights over Austria, his parents are convinced that it was over Austria that he met his death.

And strangely enough, at about the time he was killed, Mrs. Giles had a vivid dream about her son. She told Mr. Giles at the time about seeing a bomber in trouble, and the men piling out of the plane. And she reported that she never could see her son's parachute opening.

While at San Marcus field, O'Conner was voted the outstanding athlete in the camp. He was a runner and a baseball player and won the Tarzan trophy for his outstanding ability.

He graduated from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1941. During his school days in Plymouth, he was one of the outstanding athletes of Plymouth. He was not only one of the best football players, but he ranked high in baseball and basketball. Among his student associates he was exceptionally popular.

He is the 18th young man from Plymouth to give his life in the defense of his country.

Kelsey-Hayes War Worker Joins Up With Women's Air Force

Miss Florence Malik has enlisted in the women's army air force and leaves May 4 for basic training at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. After her basic training she will be stationed at Scott Field, Ill.

Miss Malik was an employee of the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company and has resided at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Perkins for the past five years.

A brother, Cpl. Carl Malik, has served in the South Pacific for 18 months, is now home on furlough, and will be stationed in South Carolina as an instructor.

Another brother, Theodore Malik, is home on leave after serving 18 months in the Atlantic on a sub chaser.

Mrs. Frank Hamill, who was operated upon Monday in Mt. Carmel hospital, is improving nicely.

Weddings

NICHOLS-PANKOW
On Wednesday evening, April 19, in the Methodist church in this city, Miss Phyllis Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Nichols of LaSalle road, was united in marriage to Donald Pankow, F2/c, USN, son of Mrs. Minnie Pankow and the late Henry Pankow of Ann street. The candlelight ceremony was read by Rev. T. Leonard Sanders.

The altar of the church was banked with palms and two large baskets of pink gladioli and roses were placed on either side. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, wearing a sheer ninon gown embroidered in an all-over design. Her fitted bodice had a sweetheart neckline and long, tight sleeves forming a point over the hand. The skirt was full and extended into a train. She carried a shower bouquet of pure white gardenias and sweet peas. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of white satin flowers.

Miss Josephine Armbruster was the maid of honor, wearing a light blue ninon dress with lace trim. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. Her headdress was of pink flowers and velvet ribbon.

The bridegroom was attended by his cousin, Herman Esch. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nichols wore a soldier blue dress and Mrs. Pankow wore navy blue. Their corsages were of salmon pink sweet peas.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parlors. The bridegroom has been in combat service in the South Pacific, and is wearing three stars on his service ribbon. He left Thursday for Seattle, Wash.

BERGH-NORRIS
The wedding of Miss Lenore Bergh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bergh of Marquette, and Clark Norris, son of Edwin Norris of Newburg, was solemnized Saturday evening, April 15, in the Newburg Methodist church. The Rev. Verle Carson read the marriage service.

The bride wore a light blue wool suit with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations, snapdragons and lilies of the valley. Laurel Norris, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant, wearing a gray wool suit with light blue accessories and corsage of pink snapdragons. Herbert Rorabacher of Plymouth attended the bridegroom.

A reception for 75 was held in the Newburg community hall following the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris are making their home on Starkweather avenue.

Spare stamp 37 in war ration book No. 4, and not sugar stamp 37 should be attached to application for 1944 canning sugar.

Minstrel Show Makes Big Hit
More than 450 persons attended the minstrel show at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, and came away from the entertainment loud in their praise of the efforts of the Rosedale Gardens men who produced it.
The show was presented by the Rotary club of Plymouth, and was produced and directed by the Rosedale Gardens chapter of the Society for the Encouragement and Preservation of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.
The show was created for the edification of Rosedale Gardens itself, and was presented in the club house there last Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights. The show was brought to Plymouth on Monday night and received as much applause as in the Gardens.
It was the general consensus of opinion that the men were excellent singers, that they had a multitude of new and old jokes, and some excellent actors.
Rotarians who attended the show here on Tuesday night, and also the minstrel show produced by the Detroit Rotary club Monday night said the local performance was far superior to the one in Detroit given during the Rotary district conference.
Holds Soil Together
If you can incorporate straw in the soil without any damage to cropping, it will be a tremendous benefit. It would be the means of restoring fiber material which helps hold the soil together and lessens the loss from soil blowing and washing. Soil fiber or humus content can only be maintained or increased by addition of nitrogen to the soil. There are some conditions under which some of the stubble must be burned, but you should make every attempt to plow under just as much of it as the rainfall and soil will decompose within a reasonable time.
Steel Statistics
Iron and steel statistics, indicators of the nation's economic welfare in peace or war, prosperity or depression, have been compiled and made public by the American Iron and Steel Institute and its predecessor associations since before the Civil war. One series—the annual production of rails—goes back 95 years to form an unbroken series beginning with 1849, when production of 24,318 tons of iron rails was reported. In 1943 close to 2,000,000 tons of rails were rolled.
Grease Ways
Greasing the ways to permit thousands of tons of steel to slide smoothly into the water requires about 45 tons of a special grease, compounded for that express purpose—once if the ship is a battleship. Once when a surplus of overripe bananas were a disposal problem in one port, they were used to grease the ways—and worked excellently, too.
Adjust Carburetor
One carburetor setting is not suitable for all the jobs the tractor does. When the tractor is doing heavy work such as plowing, the carburetor should be adjusted to give a slightly rich mixture. When the tractor is doing light work such as mowing and cultivating, the carburetor should be adjusted to give a slightly lean mixture.
Small Farms
Steep mountain slopes leave less than a fifth of Japan's main islands available for farming. Averaging less than three acres, farms are intensively cultivated by hand. The output of rice per acre has been increased to twice that of Java or the United States, but food imports have been rising to meet a growing population.
Corn Silage
Good corn silage has approximately one-third as much feeding value as good alfalfa hay. Corn silage has 28.3 per cent dry matter, 1.3 per cent protein, 18.7 per cent total digestible nutrients. Alfalfa hay has 90.4 per cent dry matter, 10.6 per cent protein, 50.3 per cent total digestible nutrients.
Fluff Nap
While corduroy is drying it should be brushed occasionally with a whiskbroom or clothesbrush, to fluff up the nap. When completely dry, press lightly on the wrong side, padding the ironing board with a terrycloth towel. Brush in one direction as a final step.
Self-Launching
Once in a while a ship appears to be self-launching, starting down the ways before the ceremonies are completed. Release of the ship is sometimes necessary before the ceremony is ended—it's not self-launching at all.
IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Pearl B. Smith, who went to her heavenly home eight years ago, April 30, 1936. Remembrance is a golden chain. Death tries to break, but all in vain. To have, to hold, and then to lose—is the greatest sorrow of one's heart. Sleep on, dear Pearl, and take thy rest. God called you home when He thought best. —Her loving mother, sister and brothers.

Cook FASTER
Two small cakes cook more quickly than one big one. Individual puddings made in small basins or even teacups take far less time to steam or boil than one large pudding.

Attends Conference of Business Women
Miss Rebecca Obsniuk attended the district meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club last Sunday, April 23, held at Dearborn Inn.
Following the president's meeting, a dinner was held in the grand ballroom, after which Ethel Wood of Great Britain gave a talk. Mrs. Wood pointed out that the war picture has changed the attitude from competition to co-operation. This is bringing about a unity which has never been witnessed before in the history of Great Britain. She said that one of the plans for after the war was to try to eliminate their slums in so far as possible. Great interest is being shown in the re-housing of the nation. The talk was ended with the statement that "the universe is built on spiritual foundations, and that there is a true spiritual awakening rather than material."
While waste paper collections have been increasing steadily, OWI said, they still are behind estimates.

Plymouth Gardens Scouts Conduct Court of Honor

A scouters cub meeting will be held at Stark school Monday, May 8. Harold Case is secretary.
CORRECTION
Due to a slight typographical error in the article last week pertaining to Charles Hardley, two words were omitted, which made it appear that he was an only son. The article intended to say that he was the only son in service. The J. Erwin Hadleys have another son, who is married and resides in Ann Arbor.

Eugene Orndorff Down in Kentucky
Homesick to see the hills and dales—the steeds and stills and barefoot urchins of good old Kentucky, his native land, Eugene Orndorff packed his night shirt into his overcoat pocket, tucked his razor into his vest and hied away the other day for a fortnight up in the slashings of southern Kentucky.
"I just can't understand what has gone wrong down there. My old neighbors voting Republican—well, I'm going down to see what's happening to 'em. If my old daddy was living, and such a thing happened as took place in the last election down there, I know he'd just crack his head against a tree. If I find any of my old neighbors and friends who have gone wrong, they're going to hear from me, you can bet. This Republican business is just too much for me to stand, and I'm going to do something before I come home," declared Gene as he hopped aboard a train for his old homeland.

We can learn to think by studying the methods of the great thinkers of the world. In his book, "Thinking in Business," Herbert Casson, the London efficiency expert, tells us something about the methods of great thinkers.

"When my brain is fresh, the ideas come," said Goethe. "Sometimes they come in the morning as soon as I am awake, and sometimes they come while I am walking in the wooded mountains near my home."

Per capita consumption of cigarettes in the U. S. last year was the highest level on record. Consumption of snuff increased over the preceding year and consumption of smoking tobacco, cigars and chewing tobacco decrease.

Old Curfew Ordinance of Village Never Repealed—Laws of Other Days

Volunteer Fire Department Was the "Exclusive Set"

Speaking of old ordinances still on the books of the city, which are apt to spring up and bop a person over the head when he least suspects it, there also is one ordinance in the city which has been used for years, which was never signed by either the president of the council, or the clerk; and the minutes at which the ordinance was passed, likewise were never signed.

So, continuing the history of Plymouth as recited in the city ordinances, it is discovered that the first water commission was created in October of 1892, and the first fire department was created in 1895. That ordinance was amended several times during the succeeding years to keep up with changing times.

But back in 1892, every man had his title. There were enginemen, and axemen, and ladder-men, and hose-men, and all the other titles which go to make up a fire department. As one reads the original ordinance, and the succeeding changes, one sees the good times the fire laddies had. Being a member of the fire company was admission to a social order. There were parties as well as fires.

As a matter of fact, the fire companies of that era were distinctly a part of the gay nineties, and the early part of the century.

Beginning then in 1890, there was the start of the industrial and mechanical age. The council awarded a franchise to the Detroit, Plymouth and Northville railway.

With the advent of the water system, the council ordained in 1899 the rules and regulations governing plumbers, and in 1900 another interurban franchise was granted to the Detroit, Plymouth and Ann Arbor railroad.

It was in 1901 that the council took cognizance of the fact that riding of tricycles on the sidewalks was forbidden, and there was an inclination to help out the kids, so the velocipede ordinance was changed to provide that bicycles could not be ridden on the sidewalks, and that ordinance is still in force, although there is not much inclination to enforce the ordinance except in the business district.

The council in 1901 took further notice of changing conditions, and set forth the rules and regulations governing the laying of concrete sidewalks in the city. Previously, there had been only plank sidewalks and these made of brick.

But Plymouth was getting modern.

In 1903, the use of alleys as public thoroughfares was prohibited, and they still are, but City Manager Elliott confesses he does not know why such an ordinance was ordained, and it is not being enforced now.

The morals of the community again came before the council in 1906, when pool tables, or dice tables, or card tables, or any other amusements which might be used in gambling were forbidden in the saloons.

And it was in that same year that Plymouth really became modern, for that was the year that outdoor advertising became a nuisance. The council ordained that bills might not be posted on utility poles, or trees, or anything like them.

Licenses for all types of peddlers, and other such individuals, came in 1906, and obviously it was a revenue raising measure.

In 1907, the council ordained that children must get off the streets by 9:30 at night unless accompanied by their parents in the months of September through March, and that ordinance is still on the books.

The council permitted the establishment of a telephone exchange in 1908 and in 1909 forbade the running at large of poultry in the village.

The village was getting quite modern by 1909 when the council ordered that all meat offered for sale to the public be inspected by the city marshal, and five years later, in 1914, the council created the office of health officer to take over that and similar duties, such as guarding the city's milk supply.

In July of 1913, shooting of firearms within the city was forbidden, and in the same year, a gas works was created, although there was no connection between the two ordinances.

In the years between 1900 and 1914, only four ordinances were passed by the council, and one of those provided for appointment of cemetery trustees. Apparently everybody was doing his job and getting ready for the first world war which was to follow.

Plymouth went dry in 1915, and there have never been any hard-liquor saloons here since that time.

Industrialism really hit the town in 1914 when an ordinance was passed declaring heavy black smoke to be a nuisance, and in 1917 the first motor car ordinance was passed.

The first village manager was appointed in 1918, and the fire ordinance, the longest of any on the books, was passed in 1930. That provides the rules and regulations which must be obeyed to prevent fires.

In November of 1920 the city council passed an ordinance defining disorderly persons, and prescribing punishments therefor. Hundreds of persons have been convicted under this ordinance since that time, but it was never signed by either the president of the council or the clerk, and likewise the minutes of the session at which it was passed were never signed.

A new traffic ordinance appeared in 1923, and the ordinance on milk, prescribing the rules and regulations for its sale, came on March 25, 1932. That was the ninety-first ordinance passed by the village—91 ordinances over a period of 65 years, a remarkable record of the least possible amount of government.

And the record since that time has been almost as good. There have been only 27 ordinances since 1932, for a total of 118 ordinances in 77 years of official corporate existence of the city.

Goethe had a formula for thinking. First he filled his mind with data—with the facts and ideas that he wished to think about. Then he had a rest, a walk in the garden, or a sleep, and when his brain was rested he began to think.

Six Couples Celebrate Their Silver Wedding Anniversary at Same Time

Wednesday evening was one of those unusual days in the history of local events—unusual because of the interesting fact that six couples, all members of the Ex-Service Men's club and Ladies' auxiliary, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversaries.

Besides the bounteous chicken dinner served to the celebrants and their friends, there was an interesting program and a mock wedding in which 12 happy people took part, instead of just two.

The couples were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Coverdill, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eckles. All are members of the Ex-Service Men's club and the ladies are members of the auxiliary. All of their weddings took place 25 years ago this spring.

Rev. T. Leonard Sanders of the Methodist church officiated at the mock wedding of 12 people, probably the only event of its kind ever to take place.

The program that followed was under the direction of John Jacobs. Mrs. George Savery of Highland played a number of accented selections and Mrs. Marvin Kleinschmidt sang a number of songs. Following the program there were presentations of numerous gifts of silver to the celebrating couples. The event took place in the Grange hall.

The Elm church Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock each Sunday morning and special services take place at 11:15 and 7:45 o'clock. The new pastor and members of the church invite all in the neighborhood to attend the services. The church is located one-half mile north of Plymouth road, just off Inkster.

Sergeant Williams Stationed at Miami Beach for Two Years

How would you like to live right on the ocean front in Miami Beach, Fla., in one of the swankiest hotels on the entire ocean front, for two entire years? Especially with Uncle Sam paying the bill?

Great, wouldn't you say? But to Sgt. Gilbert Williams of Plymouth, it's "getting tiresome."

Sergeant Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of 209 Fair street, says he likes Florida okeh, but for a steady "diet" he'd like a change now and then. He's at present home on a furlough.

The young man has developed into a perfect six-footer, looks like a modern giant, so the army put him in the military police, where he has advanced to the rank of a sergeant. Some time ago he accompanied Mrs. Roosevelt on a tour of the army hospitals in that place.

All Men

ducers have been abandoned as a definite means of deferment, the draft boards still use the system as a gauge for determining the productive ability of farmers.

Some father and son combinations are producing as high as 50 and 60 points. Others are producing less than the minimum of 32 points.

No longer is it possible for a man about to be drafted to say that he will buy sufficient livestock to make 16 points. He is judged on what he is producing at the time that the draft call is made.

In other words, the army and the navy need men, and although some of them are still needed on the home front, the call of the armed services must be considered first under present regulations.

No selective service board in the nation has done a better job than the Plymouth board. Its record proves that it has been honest; that it has meticulously followed the rules and regulations laid down by the state and national directors, and the almost complete absence of reversals of its judgment by the appeal boards attests its successful operation.

Frank L. Hall

of Benton Harbor, Temple Business college at Washington, D. C., and Georgetown university, where he received his law degree in 1911. When America entered World War I Mr. Hall obtained a leave from congressional duties and served as a lieutenant in the air service.

Returning to Michigan after Congressman Hamilton's retirement, he was elected clerk of Berrien county in 1920. After four years in that office, he practiced law in Benton Harbor in 1925 and 1926.

Governor Green appointed him as executive secretary in 1927 and he continued in that capacity until March, 1929, when he was named tax attorney for the Michigan Bell by the late Burch Foraker, former president of the company.

Communication

Never having written for publication, I was a little slow in answering Mr. Terry's letter of April 14th telling him I would like to join in his move for cleaner politics as the name of Terry has always meant to me pleasant associations. I agree with you, Mr. Terry, in one thing—I don't like what you call "stinking politics" directed at my friends and I go farther. I don't like them no matter at whom they are directed.

I do not agree with your stand about a forum. It seems to me the school is the ideal place to discuss our problems; maybe the very places Plymouth politics have been discussed have made it advisable to give them an airing. But that must not stand in the way of a clean town. I'll meet you any place you say, barber shop, hardware store, beer garden or at my home. You and your friends are welcome any time you set.

Apparently you knew tickets were sold with police protection. I shall also have to disagree with you as to the wisdom of that move! God grand me this! If those dear to me return from this war broken in body and spirit, they may find friends firm as well as kind to insist they obey the law.

Mr. Terry, much as we hate to believe it, there are people who would use those less fortunate to protect their own misdeeds. I am wondering if the person you were feeling so sorry for wasn't left here much longer than he should have been for his own personal good, for lying on a stairway part of the night with a broken arm couldn't have been comfortable even in our beautiful city, and I think you were wrong about the warrant. I believe his care was arranged by the ex-service men and the Red Cross.

About those "bridge" parties (or was it poker?), maybe you didn't hear the rumor that a certain man lost about $200 one Christmas eve. As far as I know he earned it himself and the people who criticized him maybe didn't realize what a lift a man gets from that kind of an evening; some people think a man isn't entitled to his own money at Christmas time! People are funny.

About her losing her temper. Do you mean the incident of about eight years ago when a car was sprinkled? This year the story had really grown up. The water had turned to stones.

Smear is another thing I don't like, either. I think it is one of the most contemptible weapons to direct at anyone; but I do believe if anyone wants a public office he should expect facts of his life and work to be discussed.

When you run for a public office your public has a right to know things that would affect your conduct of that office.

I believe some misunderstanding who was meant by the part of your letter about the ex-convict. I personally feel that any means to keep him from escaping was justified until the other two reached him.

I do believe we need desperately more of that Christianity you spoke about. When our boys are learning all that life holds dear because of hate, selfishness and greed we must clean it out of their own town.

As Senator Truman said in Detroit a few days ago, "The real issue today is whether we are going to sacrifice personal and group selfishness for the sake of the nation or whether we are going to sacrifice our nation for the sake of selfishness."

Pick up that hatchet and don't give up so easily! Where and when do we meet?

CHINESE SOLDIERS have a battle cry: "Gung-Ho!" Literally translated, means "Working together!" In Americanese, it means Teamwork.

And Teamwork is a word every American understands—in peacetime as in war. In this war, it means perfect understanding among our Government, our service men, our home front.

It means our confidence in our fighters' ability. It means their faith in us to provide the material to do the job.

It means buying War Bonds. And a very good buy they are, too.

Farmers: Help Prevent Inflation

by Asher Hobson Chairman, Dept. of Agricultural Economics University of Wisconsin

FARMERS remember the "Silk Shirt" era of the last war. That era was marked by 75 cent butterfat, 20 dollar hogs, and 100, 200 and in some states 300 dollars an acre for farm land.

There is an old saying to the effect that he who sleeps on the floor never falls out of bed. None of us want to sleep on the floor, but we should see to it that our beds are not so high as to cause serious injury in case of a fall.

Inflation is another term for unhealthily high prices. Inflation has a younger brother. He is a bad actor. His name is deflation. He has a habit of following his brother inflation. Deflation often means serious unemployment, lower property values, more tax delinquency, and mounting foreclosures.

Farmers can well afford to take steps now in an attempt to avoid that sort of a situation. But inflation is not easily handled after it arrives. One cannot build a cyclone cellar after the old clouds begin to roll. Then one has time only to grab the baby and run— with no place to go. Something like that is apt to happen when inflation strikes. The best way to handle inflation is to prevent its striking.

What can farmers do? They can help keep prices from getting out of hand by helping to hold prices down now. If prices are to be held in line, the pressure under prices must be removed.

The forces causing prices to go up may be summarized in the statement that there is more money available for spending than there are goods and services to be bought. This is another way of saying that the demand for goods and services exceeds the available supply.

Farmers are doing their utmost to increase the supply of agricultural products. In this way they are helping to prevent inflation. The other way in which they may help is to buy less. In general there are two ways of reducing consumer purchasing power: They are: Heavier taxes Voluntary savings

The greater the voluntary savings the less the need for more taxes. Let us do it the voluntary way by buying more WAR BONDS and holding those Bonds until maturity, plant capacity, and raw materials are available for increasing the supply of consumer goods.

Some of the students in Miss Lundin's home economics II are making accessories for their spring and summer wardrobes. Gwen Barber, Marjorie Wilkie and Lois Gilders are making dummies; Anna Lou Blessing, Avis Hamlin and Velda Rorabacher are remodeling old hats; Ruth Blackmore, Donna Langdon and Janet Strachan are making new hats; Lorraine Langdon is crocheting a purse and hat set, and Ruth Gottschalk is making lapel pins.

The girls in home making I are working on improvements for the living room of the home economics room, the fitting room, storeroom and bulletin boards and glass exhibit case at the front entrance.

Miss Hamill's modern history classes are making four unit notebooks on World War I. In connection with this, a debate was staged as to whether Germany was responsible for World War I. Mrs. Anderson, state supervisor of homemaking, visited the home-making department April 18. State requirements were checked and plans for improving the program of the department discussed.

Both day and night school Spanish classes went to Ann Arbor to see "El Sweno de Una Noche de Agosto" last Wednesday evening. This play, given entirely in Spanish, was presented at Lydia Mendelssohn theater in the Woman's League building.

Office Secretary Is Busy Woman

Like as not most students are quite unaware of the business and complications which each day swarm through Mr. Smith's office. And no wonder, for whenever one visits the office he usually finds things rather contented and is greeted by Mrs. Ranger's warm smile.

However, talking to Mrs. Ranger about her work, the reporter was astonished, to say the least. The first half-hour of the day seems to be the busiest one, due to literally hundreds of boys and girls popping in and out to ask questions and use the telephone. And again at 3:30 till 4:00 Mrs. Ranger gives up and does nothing but answer questions, lend the stapler to different people, answer the telephone, and give students permission to use it.

Monday and Wednesday afternoons are really the fastest paced days, however. On Monday Mrs. Ranger must take dictation from Mr. Smith and see that the mail is sorted and distributed. During the Wednesday afternoon period, the proceeds of the grade school war stamp sales (which are held in the morning) must be carefully checked and balanced. But one of her biggest headaches is seniors who ask such silly questions as "What day is Tuesday, April 18?" Another task is that of the payroll. Many teachers and office helpers have days of absence which need careful accounting.

The detail work is enough to cause one to shudder. All the board of education's business must be handled through Mr. Smith's office, and separate accounts kept up to date. All tuition students are dealt with by the office, and their accounts must be taken care of, and addresses kept accurately. Many times students move away or change houses in the vicinity and never think to notify the office.

Then, too, the daily cash account of the bookstore and bus-ticket sales must be recorded and balanced. Every bit of money for school activities such as dances and basketball games must pass through the office records and all the war bond drives in school are handled here also.

Every second Monday of the month, the board of education has a meeting at which complete records for the month must be shown, health and finance reports given, attendance records for both grade schools and high school presented, and the bills for lights, books, fuel, etc., approved and paid for.

To give an idea of the immense amount of work, perhaps the following list will help:

Working permits are issued through the office.

The registrations for the school elections and their records come here.

Examination papers and report cards are held for four or five years.

All books for grade and high schools ordered, and a record is kept of all these books except those that are sold in the bookstore.

Practically all the ditto work for the grade schools, high school, churches and other organizations is done at this office.

But Mrs. Ranger has five helpers. Dora Gruebner and Lois Vetal act as right hand assistants, Bob Majors delivers mail and heavy packages and does some typing, Elaine Sanko handles the sale of bus tickets at noon and is responsible for the money collected, and Phyllis Lee sees to the lunch room accounts.

A few little odds and ends are the care of class money and all lunch room business, and occasionally Mr. Dykhouse will tell Mrs. Ranger to ring the fire alarm bell. Otherwise there isn't much to do in the office except to answer a ringing telephone right in the middle of a long list of figures.

Close behind the twelfth grade are the freshmen with just one less on their honor roll. The tenth grade ranks third with a total of 28 honor students. The other classes following in order according to the number of honor students from each are the seventh grade, the eleventh grade, and the eighth grade. Of the total of 148 students in high school on the honor roll this marking period, 72 percent are girls.

Free X-Ray Given at School

Out of the 428 people who took the tuberculosis test, 38 tests showed positive. These people were given a free X-ray April 26, to determine the extent of the infection. The X-ray was given by Dr. Brachman with a portable machine in the nurse's office. Approximately 10 people an hour may be X-rayed with this machine.

Lams club is greatly enhancing the appearance of the nurse's office by painting the walls a pale green and making beige flowered draperies and matching bed-spread.

District Loses About $85 a Day

Did you know it costs 94 cents to send each student in Plymouth to high school for a day? Reports from Mr. Dykhouse reveal an average daily absence of 90 pupils throughout the school year. This constitutes almost 10 per cent of the total enrollment of 1,070 and means an average daily loss of $84.60 to the district. The approximate cost of a high school education per student in this vicinity is $752. Maybe everyone should think about this now that spring is here and warm, sunny days bring such a temptation to skip school.

Senior Annual Goes to Press

The Senior Annual was taken to Edwards Brothers, printers, in Ann Arbor Monday, April 24. It will be printed by electrolytizing.

Group pictures for the Annual were taken by the Ball studio in front of the high school. The Annual has an attractive aspect, due to the unique picture arrangements and unusual articles. Throughout the Annual, Rockie, the mascot mongrel puppy, is pictured.

The cover will be in the senior class colors, gray and green. Orders may be placed with Miss Fiegel for the Annual, which cost $1.

Gasoline Rationing Hits Funds of The State Highway Department

In an effort to correct what he said appears to be a general and rather widespread misunderstanding of the amount of money which the state highway department has for trunkline use, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler today gave a detailed explanation of how money raised from gasoline and motor vehicle levies is distributed. Some people seem to think the department gets all these funds, is "rolling in money" and has or should have a huge surplus on hand, but these impressions are very erroneous, he pointed out.

CHARLES M. ZIEGLER

Taking 1943 as an example, Commissioner Ziegler said that while $44,241,671 was collected in weight and gasoline taxes by the secretary of state, only $15,937,341 was received by the highway department. The other 28,304,230 was returned to the various counties and cities of the state. The weight tax amounted to $21,554,229 and the gas tax produced $22,687,441.

Commissioner Ziegler further explained that the weight tax is collected by the secretary of state's office and deposited with the state treasurer and the entire amount turned over in quarterly payments to the counties. The counties in turn share this money with their cities and villages. The only function the highway department has in this picture is to determine by the formula set up by law how much money goes to each county. Vouchers for these payments are prepared by the highway department and turned over to the auditor general's office, which in turn prepares warrants for the payments which then are mailed to the counties by the highway department. All of the weight tax money by law is distributed to the counties and cities and none of it is retained by the highway department.

The highway department receives all of the 3-cent gasoline levy, with the exception of $6,750,000 of this money which by law is returned annually to the road commissions of the various counties. The rest of the gas tax is used by the department to meet its cost of operation and is the department's sole source of income.

Out of its income of $15,937,000 the department was required to finance its $10,500,000 maintenance program, make its payments to the bond sinking fund from which highway bonds are retired, pay administrative and other fixed charges and meet the cost of postwar planning. After meeting its fixed charges and operational costs, the department at the end of the year had only $627,000 left out of its 1943 income, from which must be paid emergency items, such as the repair of three bridges which failed during the last six months due to heavy war traffic. No large amount of money could therefore be put aside for future construction.

Further decrease in gasoline allotments is expected to reduce revenue during 1944.

A crop of about 2,800,000 sacks of onions is expected this year, compared with 1,708,000 sacks in 1943.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."
"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we? The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

If you could see what's happening over there

BIG things are happening over there. And big things are moving faster here. War needs the wires more and more every day.

News of Our Boys In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

HOMER CLICKNER NOW CAMOUFLAGING PLANES FOR UNCLE SAM

Strange what unusual occupations some of OUR BOYS get into after joining up with Uncle Sam's fighting forces. Who would ever believe that Homer E. Clickner, better known to his many friends in Plymouth as "Doc," and who conducted a painting and decorating business in this city before entering the navy, would now be stationed way out on a Pacific ocean island camouflaging fighting planes for the navy?

Well, that is just what he is doing. And he likes his work very much, although according to letters that have been received from him, he is anxious to get the war over with and get back to good old Plymouth as soon as possible.

"Thanks for The Plymouth Mail. It is enjoyed ever so much and helps more than one can tell. Haven't met any Plymouth boys here in Hawaii," he writes.

But there is an interesting thing about the picture appearing with this article. The photograph was taken in Hawaii by R. H. Post, a well known photographer of that island, who was a resident of Plymouth about 50 years ago. Probably some of the oldtimers will recall the Post family.

"Doc" also states that those who prefer the tropical islands can have them, but he much prefers good old Plymouth.

HAS SPENT TWO YEARS "UP IN THE WILDS"— LIKELY NEAR NORTH POLE

From Harold R. Hills, well known Plymouth lad, last week came an interesting letter, presumably somewhere up in the Aleutian islands near the North Pole, in which he declares there is nothing to indicate such a thing as civilization.

In part, his letter follows: "I know I should have written to you before this, but it is just one of those things that are put off and put off. But I have just got to write you this letter, and say to the mothers and fathers of Plymouth who have lost their sons on the battlefields, I want to tell them how sorry I am to hear about it, as it hits me quite hard. As most of them were in school with me and I knew them well and it has certainly made me feel bad, too.

"I sure am proud of all the people and the work they are doing for us. It sure does mean a lot to us, and believe me, we sure can lick any of them as long as we have a city like Plymouth to back us up.

"My Plymouth Mail comes to me quite often even though it is a little late. It sure is something to get the paper and to know what is going on at home.

"I haven't been home in almost three years and haven't seen my folks in all this time, and I have no idea just when I shall ever get there either. It may be soon or it may not be until after this war is over, it all depends. I have put in almost two years up here and I sure would like to get a chance to get back in the States again to see what it is like.

"What women I have seen in these two years are a few nurses. No trees at all, no sidewalks, no paved streets or anything to do with civilization, so anybody that thinks that if they have it rough I will gladly change places with them. Oh, yes, and the strongest drink up here is G. I. coffee, and at times that is strong, too.

"I would like to tell you a lot more, but due to the strict censorship here I can't, so I shall have to wait till the time when I have more news.

"There are three other Plymouth boys here with me. They are Donald Peck, Earl Beckwith and Robert Jackson, and we see each other quite often, so with them and The Plymouth Mail and letters from home it sure does help keep one going.

"I'll close now with my best regards to all of Plymouth and just keep up the fine work. I know there isn't any use of saying that, because I know you will and I know that you folks back there are the best ones in the country.

"P. S.: Many, many thanks for sending the paper, for I sure do enjoy it.

"You keep them coming and we will keep them going."

ITS NOW LIEUTENANT H. JAMES MORAN

Mrs. H. James Moran, teacher in the Plymouth public schools and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton W. Claire of West Phoenix road, has just received a letter from her husband in which he states that he has been promoted to lieutenant. He is serving in Uncle Sam's navy somewhere in the Pacific.

HOMER E. CLICKNER This photo, taken in Hawaii, of a Plymouth navy man, was made by R. H. Post, resident of Plymouth more than 50 years ago.

WANTS TO SAY HELLO TO ALL HIS OLD FRIENDS IN PLYMOUTH

John McClain, who is in training at the United States submarine base at New London, Conn., writes The Plymouth Mail that he wants to say "hello to everybody back home and all of my friends everywhere throughout the world.

"The only way I can do it is through The Mail, and I cannot keep from telling you how much I appreciate receiving it every week. I expect to have a change of address in the near future and just as soon as I do I will let you know," he writes.

"I only have two more weeks here and then I expect to be sent somewhere else for duty.

"We are having some wonderfully nice spring weather here at present. I really have enjoyed it.

"During my stay here I have met up with a couple of other boys who are from near Plymouth. One is Fred Johnson of Plymouth and the other is Hugh Dye of Northville. Fred is attending new construction school here, and Hugh, I believe, is in basic submarine school.

"I certainly enjoy reading about all of my old pals and friends and how they are getting along. Cap. Glenn Miller and his AAFTC band visited our base a week ago and put on a very creditable show.

Be sure and say hello to everybody for me."

HOWARD MARRIOTT WINS NEW RATING

Bluejacket Howard Edwin Marriott, 29, husband of Mrs. Dorothy Lillian Marriott, 193 Union street, Plymouth, was recognized as eligible to qualify for the petty officer rate of electrician's mate third class during recent graduation ceremonies held at the naval training school (electric) on the University of Minnesota campus, Minneapolis, Minn.

Selected for the specialty school on the basis of his recruit training aptitude tests the bluejacket completed a thorough course in the use, function and maintenance of all electric tools used by the navy. A theoretical phase included electricity and the radio elements of electricity. The new graduate, now a fireman first class, is awaiting active duty orders to sea or to some shore station.

HOWARD R. EBERSOLE WINS COMMISSION

Among 33 boys from this part of Michigan graduated a few days ago at Frederick field in Oklahoma and awarded commissions as lieutenants in Uncle Sam's flying forces, is Howard R. Ebersole of Plymouth.

Lieutenant Ebersole will help to man the controls of Thunderbolts, Lightnings, Mustangs and other fighting planes. Fortress, Billy Mitchell, Marauder and Liberator pilots were graduated from the bomber pilot school in Texas at Waco, Ellington field at Houston, Brooks field at San Antonio, the army air fields at Lubbock and Pampa and from the two Oklahoma schools at Frederick and Altus at the same time.

The department of agriculture says eggs, beets and carrots head the list of plentiful foods over most of the country, followed by potatoes, citrus fruits, citrus marmalade, lard, frozen vegetables and baked beans, canned green and waxed beans and peanut butter.

Extra Gas for Victory Gardeners Will Be Allowed

Three hundred miles of driving gasolife will be awarded to victory gardeners where it is needed to transport the gardeners from their homes to gardens and return both for planting and harvesting.

The ration board also pointed out that every garden should be tended at least twice a week and that for that reason alone the garden should not be too far from the owner's home.

The success of the victory garden program last year has resulted in ration free green beans and peas; and the prospects are that other vegetables will be taken from the ration lists soon.

Many thinkers found walking a stimulus to thinking. "My thoughts go to sleep when they are seated, so they and I walk," said Montigne.

Chief Thumme Issues Warning

Alarmed at a threatened statewide increase in traffic accidents, Police Chief Charles J. Thumme today warned motorists that both state and local police are launching a vigorous campaign in May against motorists guilty of driving with faulty brakes or other defective equipment.

The Traffic Safety association of Detroit and the Michigan state safety commission are acting as co-sponsors of the campaign.

In urging drivers to have their cars placed in safe driving condition immediately, Chief Thumme pointed out that cars are beginning to wear out more rapidly now and should be regularly and frequently checked by a competent garage or service station repairman.

Chief Thumme said that a recent spot check conducted by state police revealed that approximately 88,000 Michigan passenger cars are in poor mechanical condition.

The standard brake test to be used by law enforcement officers will be a pedal travel test. Brakes that can be pushed to within one inch or less of the floor board without proper braking power being applied will be considered unsafe.

Officers will hand a pamphlet captioned, "You're Only a Foot From Trouble," to every motorist stopped for a traffic law violation. In addition, posters carrying the same warning theme and urging motorists to have their brakes checked will be displayed by garages, service stations and parts dealers throughout the state.

At the time the officer is testing the brakes, he also will check the steering mechanism, lights and other equipment on the car vital to safe driving.

No Violations by Eating Places

The Plymouth war price and rationing board price panel reported this week that restaurants in the Plymouth area are holding close to the price schedules which they filed, but that beer gardens have been overcharging in many instances because of the new taxes which are permitted.

The price panel of the board has been making surveys of the restaurants and beer gardens in the area to determine whether or not there have been price violations.

The reports said that few violations were found among the restaurants, and that they were of no importance.

But in the beer gardens, many increases of as much as 5 cents on a glass of beer were discovered. The new taxes on liquor permit an increase to the consumer of not more than 1 cent for an eight-ounce glass of beer.

Many of the beer gardens, it was found, also have failed to properly post notices of charges, and the increases permitted by the taxes.

Board of Review to Meet May 11 and 12

The regular hearings by the board of review on tax assessments for property owners will have the right to appear and ask for a review of the tax assessment placed on their property. There have been few objections at recent meetings of the board.

Seek Petitions for Pavings

City Manager Clarence Elliott reported this week that there is little effort on the part of the property owners of Plymouth to improve the streets with permanent surfacing, and that all efforts to get petitions before the city commission have failed.

Two petitions which already have been acted upon, and approved, may have to go by the boards also because of the law which prevents overassessment of property for improvements.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that many property owners have been scared out of petitioning for the improvements, because they are not fully cognizant of the comparatively small cost.

He said that the average cost to property owners for a storm sewer, which is the first requisite in street improvement, is about $1.25 a lineal foot for each side of the street.

If storm sewers are put in now, they could then be paid for and a short time later the curb and gutter could be added, at approximately the same cost per lineal foot.

After these two installations are made, which are an absolute preliminary to actual surfacing of the street, a black top material could be laid for about 75 cents per lineal foot.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that there seems to be some opposition to the use of black top material for paving streets, and that most property owners appear to favor concrete construction, which is considerably more expensive.

He said that the opposition to "black top" appears to stem from the use of oil which was placed on some streets some time ago. He said the oil covering was never intended as a permanent surfacing. The black top which is normally used for permanent surfacing is similar to that which is used on Ann Arbor trail east of Plymouth.

Repairs to streets with such surfaces are considerably less than for gravel streets.

At any rate, the city wants petitions for more surfacing of streets.

Army and Navy Day Services Planned at St. John's Church

Special Army and Navy day services will be conducted Sunday at St. John's Episcopal church by the rector, Rev. Francis Tetu. A special service has been created by the bishop of the diocese, which will be observed in all Episcopal churches in the area.

A special offering will be taken at the service for the use of the Episcopal chaplains in the armed services.

Twenty-three relatives of the attendants at St. John's church are now in the armed services.

Hobby Show Planned Thursday Eve, May 4 at Starkweather

The Starkweather school PTA is going to have a hobby show Thursday, May 4, from 1 to 9 p.m. in the school auditorium. Several interesting exhibits have been promised, but we are hoping other friends of the school will call Mrs. Hartwick, phone 790-J, or Mrs. Price, phone 119-W, and ask to have space reserved for their hobbies. The best of protection will be given your treasures at all times, advises the committee. The public is cordially invited to take part in these activities.

Frequent rains, snows, or cold weather during March have delayed farm work in nearly all states.

May 27 Last Day for Petitions

The time for filing petitions for the school district election is from May 12 until May 27, inclusive. Petitions must contain the signatures of at least 50 registered school district voters.

There are two members to be elected, both present members having stated that they will be candidates for re-election. One is for the term expiring June 30, 1947, and the other for the term expiring June 30, 1946.

The only voters who are registered at the time of voting in June, 1943, are those who have registered during the year since June, 1943. The reason for making special emphasis of the fact is that it would be defeating the purpose of nomination by petition to have an adequate number of possible voters but to find they had failed to register.

Any further information in regard to the coming election and election procedure will be gladly given by the superintendent of schools.

Babson Says - -

Parents Responsible for Delinquency

Babson Park, Mass., April 28.—We hear much regarding the delinquency of youth. Many parents are having difficulties in keeping their teen-age children at home and off the streets. This especially applies to communities near army camps, naval bases, air fields and munition plants. I'm told, however, that in most cases the parents of these children are to blame because they, themselves, do not stay home. They set their teen-age children a very poor example. Furthermore, for every young person found on the streets at night probably several grown-ups can be found carousing in night clubs. Therefore, I feel that the first step is for a community to clear up its "delinquent parent" situation.

During the past few weeks which I have spent in Florida, I've seen many soldiers. Babson Park is near the great Avon Park army air field, which contains the largest practice bombing field in the world. This has given me an opportunity to meet, not only men in training, but men who have returned from all parts of the world. They certainly are a marvelous group. It is almost beyond human understanding what these boys, 20-25 years of age, are accomplishing. They truly possess a character, intelligence and training far in excess of what boys of that age had when I was in college 40 years ago.

However, I wish to write on the business judgment—rather than on the fighting ability—of these young men. The tendency of us oldsters is to judge industry and investments through our own eyes and based on our own experience. If young people don't agree with us, we naturally assume that we are right and the young people are wrong. I have felt this way for many years; but I am gradually changing my ideas. Without doubt we are entering a new era. Such new eras come only once in about 200 years. It is difficult for us older people to adjust ourselves to these new conditions and to judge things correctly by the new standards.

I often attend conferences where these questions are discussed: "The future of railroads vs. aviation?" "Will utilities become municipally owned?" "Will the government go more into business in order to provide employment?" At these meetings we older people think we are to determine what is to happen to our investments. We make a great mistake in figuring on any such false assumption. The answers will be determined by the young people in our families and employment. Even the future of the new deal lies with these boys and girls.

Do not be shocked by this, but I believe that the opinion of most persons in the 20s as to the future of any industry or political policy is more valuable than the opinion of most persons over 50 years of age. The reason is that the future of the industry or policy depends upon what these young persons are going to buy, or do, or vote—not according to what we older ones buy, do or vote. I had rather have the opinion of an intelligent 25-year-old returning service man on the future of most American industries than that of a conservative investment counselor who is judging the future by the past.

Recently I was with a group of officers including graduates from Harvard business school, Wharton School of Finance, Northwestern university and Babson institute. We discussed what would happen, after the war, to our government bonds in case the debt reaches $300,000,000,000. These are the boys who will decide the question of whether or not the debt is to be refunded and, if so, how? It will not be decided by present treasury officials, nor by present officers of banks or insurance companies. I will repeat the suggestions of three of these boys:

SUGGESTION No. 1: "I believe that the government should have all nations should be reorganized as would be the debt of a railroad which has become too unwieldy. The holder of a $1,000 government bond could be given $250 in a new 2 1/2 per cent 30-year coupon bond; $300 in a registered income bond, the interest on which could be payable at various rates according to the receipts from a new sales tax levied for this purpose; and $250 in non-interest bearing script which could be used for the payment of certain taxes. This would immediately cut the fixed interest payment down 75 per cent and yet every bondholder should eventually get his principal back with interest depending upon the prosperity of the country."

SUGGESTION No. 2: "Let other countries readjust their debts in the above manner; but I shall never vote to have the United States do anything which could be called repudiation in the slightest degree. I believe a debt of $300,000,000,000 can be supported and should be supported so that every one will get his full interest; and some day his principal. All we need to do is to revalue the dollar by printing more currency and thus cause an increase in national income proportionate to the increase in our national debt. Instead of cutting down the war debt, let us inflate prices, wages, land values, etc. Then it will be just as easy to pay interest on $300,000,000,000 as it was to pay interest on 25 per cent of this amount a few years ago."

SUGGESTION No. 3: "I have a better idea than either of you other men. I should support them with a federal sale tax, the income from which could be used to call bonds by lot at a premium of 10 per cent. A small sales tax will easily give the government $3,400,000,000 a year which would repay the entire debt within 100 years. It is true that these bonds might at times sell at less than par; but—the fact that $3,000,000,000 would be called each year by lot at 110—should hold prices reduced, inflation avoided and everyone could receive per for his bonds plus as much interest as the big banks of New York are now paying depositors."

Do not quote me as making any of these recommendations. I merely give these illustrations to show how modern youth is thinking and to urge readers to give more attention to the "crazy" ideas of our young people. They are the ones that will determine what will happen to the national debt and to every stock and bond. I do not say that youths have better judgment than their parents; nor that they are less likely to change their minds. All I say is that our returning service men should be better able to forecast the future. Many people worry as to what extent the Russian shadow is to fall upon this country, especially during the next depression. They see Russia becoming such a world power that they fear she will Russinize Europe and England and that the effects of this will ultimately be felt in America. This certainly seems reasonable; but a 22-year-old flier, returned from delivering airplanes to Russia, said to me: "Don't worry about Russia. She will have her own post-war troubles. Sixteen Russian generals are already planning to get Stalin's berth."

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Gray of Mason were the guests of friends here over Sunday. Mr. Gray, who was formerly a publisher of The Mail is now register of deeds of Ingham county.

Walter Ebert, who has been overseas for several months, has been honorably discharged and returned home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Willett were host and hostess at a pleasant gathering at their home on Holbrook avenue last Saturday evening, the occasion being their wedding anniversary of 27 years of married life. About 30 guests were present, and a social evening was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Willett were the recipients of many gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

Lawrence Rattenbury celebrated his birthday Thursday afternoon in the second grade by treating the children to homemade candy.

Donald Bovee, entering the seventh grade, brought the total high school enrollment to 257.

W. W. Murray has purchased Harry Purdy's house on Starkweather avenue, recently occupied by William Cassidy, and has moved into the same.

Born, a little son, to Mr. and Mrs. V. Wesley, Thursday, April 24. Mrs. Wesley has been living with her aunt, Mrs. C. DePorter, the past winter while her husband has been at Camp Custer.

Mrs. Henry Hondorp pleasantly entertained several neighbors and friends at her home in north village Wednesday afternoon in honor of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Hondorp of Grand Rapids.

The marriage of Miss Marilla Farrand to Bertram L. Coverdill took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Farrand, on East Ann Arbor street, at high noon on Easter Sunday. Rev. Frank M. Field, pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride couple was accompanied by Misses Gladys Ryder and Helen Farrand, the latter being the bride's sister. After the ceremony a wedding dinner was served, and Monday evening the happy pair started on a wedding trip to Indianapolis, Ind. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Coverdill will make their home in Plymouth. The bride is well known as one of Plymouth's splendid young people, and is a graduate of Plymouth high school. The groom has lived the most of his life in Detroit, but has become well known in Plymouth during the past two years. He spent some time at Camp Custer the first year of the war, but was discharged to take work with a ship building company in Detroit, where he is still employed on government work.

Darwin worked out many of his world changing ideas while walking in his garden. While planning a novel, Dickens would walk the streets of London for hours after midnight.

VICTORY'S SONS

LATE IN October of 1942, an American test force, consisting of an aircraft carrier with an escort of destroyers, sailed out to attack Japanese positions on Santa Cruz islands. Near the islands they ran into heavy fire from Japanese cruisers and destroyers, as well as bombing and strafing from the air.

Responsibility for success of the mission was largely in the hands of Capt. Charles P. Cecil, commander of the destroyer squadron. He unhesitatingly raced his swift but unarmed little ships about, holding the heavier Japanese battleships away from the carrier, and doing what damage he could with his comparatively light guns. For an hour and a half he kept up the combat. Meanwhile planes from the carrier were shooting down the Japanese planes.

"For brilliant tactics and devotion to duty" Capt. Cecil has been awarded the Navy Cross. He already holds the Victory Medal and the American Defense Service Medal.
