Vol. 56, No. 41 Plymouth, Michigan, Friday, June 16, 1944 $2.00 Per Year in Advance

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By Elton R. Eaton

GERMANY'S WAR BLUFFS While American fighting lads are moving courageously towards Paris and Brest, newspaper correspondents with the fighting forces are finding that much of the talk in recent months pertaining to Germany's great anti-invasion wall has been mere bluffing.

DOING OUR JOB AT HOME The war department has announced that it will be at least four or five weeks before the list of OUR BOYS killed and wounded during the first days of the invasion can be announced.

ABOUT GOVERNOR THOMAS DEWEY There is one thing we know for sure—the war contract hoodlums who are getting rich out of war contracts, do not want Governor Thomas Dewey of New York nominated and elected president of these United States.

THE POWER OF THE ALLIES Probably one of the best of recent editorials on the war situation as it stands, appeared in the last issue of the United States News, written by its editor, David Lawrence.

But at last the democracies woke up. They had neglected their armament during those same six years. They were slow to get organized. Bickerings and feuds and economic clashes within their respective social structures delayed things further.

Today the German General Staff and the military class of Nazi Germany stand aghast and bewildered at the awful array of military weapons, military devices, and well-equipped manpower which confronts them.

For four years we have called upon workers, and management, men and women in all classes and in all brackets, to dedicate themselves to rearmament. Not counting the cost in dollars, we announced that we would become the "arsenal of democracy."

Russia has made opportune use of our aid. Britain has completely rearmed herself after the defeat at Dunkirk. And America has mobilized a 7,700,000-man army and built the biggest navy and the largest air force the world has ever conceived.

There can be no glory in war. There can be no jubilation over the exploits of the battalions that move in an atmosphere of death.

Well Known Plymouth Couple Will Celebrate Golden Wedding Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde

Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde, one of the best known couples in Plymouth and vicinity, will Sunday afternoon celebrate their golden wedding anniversary by holding open house at their residence, 117 North Holbrook avenue, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

June 21 Last Day To Register For Primary

This is more or less a regular story. It comes up before every election, because people in this country are so free that they don't stop to think that they are free because they have the right to vote.

Girls Take Part In Marygrove Activities

Three girls from this city, Carmel Stitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Stitt, and Bernice and Patricia Kinahan, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Kinahan, took an active part in Commencement Week activities at Marygrove College, Detroit during which 119 seniors were graduated.

Two Commissioners Change Votes, Adopt City's Budget

Worries of the taxpayers of Plymouth pertaining to city budget tie-up and tax penalties are over. At a special meeting of the city commission called Monday night by Mayor Stanley Corbett, the budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, was again presented, and passed by the unanimous vote of the commission.

But there can be within us all a spirit of solemn dedication, of earnest prayer, of revitalized determination as we make the final drive to liberate oppressed peoples. For in serving our fellow men, we are in truth serving ourselves.

Elect Two New Members To The School Board

Two new members were elected to the school board at the annual election held Monday evening. They are Donald Sutherland and Sterling Eaton.

A brief business discussion featured the annual meeting which was held while the votes were canvassed. The discussion centered mainly around the need for a new school, reviewing the teachers pay rates and the need for other school improvements.

Flags Stolen From Cemetery

Buried in Newburg cemetery are probably more soldiers of the Civil War than in any other cemetery of equal size in Michigan. Each year on Memorial day members of the American Legion have seen to it that a small American flag is placed over the grave of every American soldier buried in that and all of the other cemeteries around here.

Gerald Hondorp Badly Wounded

According to telegrams and letters received by Mrs. Gerald Hondorp, her husband, a private in the Italian invading army, was wounded on May 24 when American troops established the Anzio beachhead in Italy, and probably by this time has been evacuated to a hospital in the rear of the advancing American army.

War Savings Bond Series E

While American boys are invading Europe and chasing the enemy out of their strongholds, Plymouth war-bond workers are raising havoc with the bank accounts and fat pocketbooks of local residents—in fact Plymouth cash is being turned into war bonds at the rate of more than one hundred and fifty thousand dollars per week.

Girl Scout News Of Interest

The girl scout day camp will be held for two weeks beginning July 5th, from nine to five, in Riverside park.

Girl scout troop number six held a breakfast in Riverside park, Thursday morning at nine o'clock. They cooked their own meal under the guidance of group leaders Mrs. Henrietta Dobbs, and Mrs. Jeannett Zink. Eggs were cooked and served in orange peel cups. About thirty girls attended the meeting.

Girl scout troop number one enjoyed a hike and picnic in Riverside park, Tuesday.

A birthday party was held Wednesday, June 7th, by troop number 3, of the Presbyterian church, with mothers of the members as guests. Attendance stars were awarded those with a years membership and each girl lighted a candle from one held by the leader, Mrs. Donald Munro. A birthday cake with 21 candles represented the number of girls who had completed one year's work.

An original and clever program was presented by the girls, each patrol contributing a part. A number of cakes were donated by the mothers and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

For their final activity of the season, scout troop number three, entertained their fathers at a box social held Thursday evening. The girls prepared the lunches which were auctioned to the fathers with a seventy-five cent limit. Each patrol presented a part of the original program, with a skit, a play, a "quiz kids" show, and an amusing take off on the radio program. "It pays to be ignorant." Hostess badges will be awarded to those girls who qualified for them. Mrs. A. Arscott and Mrs. Munro wish to thank all who have contributed time and service to the troop.

A good man is the best friend, and therefore soonest to be chosen, longer to be retained; and, indeed, never to be parted with.—Jeremy Taylor.

Wins Scholarship To Michigan State College

Margery Merriam

Margery Jean Merriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Merriman of 417 Pacific has just received word that she has been awarded an all-expense scholarship at Michigan State college at East Lansing for the school year of 1944-45.

Margery was awarded a scholarship at Bowling Green State University in Ohio for the year of 1943-44 by her Sorority, Gamma Phi Beta, in recognition of her many campus activities while a student at the University of Michigan.

While at Bowling Green she acted as coordinator in establishing a new chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. In appreciation of her fine work in organizing and planning all Sorority activities during the past year, the National Grand Council has awarded her a similar scholarship at Michigan State college. She will again direct and assist in the organization of a new chapter to be formed at State. Margery will attend summer school at Bowling Green this summer to secure extra credits before graduation at Michigan State college next June. She was a graduate of Plymouth high school in the class of 1941.

emonies for the class night was Warren Mason, Warren first introduced Shirley Luttmoser, who gave the class history, portions of which were dramatized. Annabelle Heller was then introduced and gave the President's address.
Robert Marquis, on behalf of the Class of 1944, presented to the high school, three one hundred dollar war bonds, to be used for the auditorium stage. Mr. Smith in accepting the gift emphasized his pleasure in the fact that the class had been sufficiently patriotic, in not sabotaging the war effort by trying to buy something new, but in loaning their money to their country for the duration and asked the assembled parents and friends to see if there wasn't something that they had planned to purchase that could be delayed for the duration and the money placed in war bonds.

Another real feature of the class night was the colored movies of the classes participation in school activities. The making of the film was under the direction Harold Todd. Robert Bingley explained the pictures while they were being run. Donald Montgomery pleased the audience with his rendition of "Accordiana".

The Commencement night, Thursday evening, found a record crowd present to enjoy the Commencement address given by Dr. Edgar DeWitt Jones, and the graduation of Plymouth's largest class.

The motion picture censorship boards maintained today by six states not only pay for themselves but also make money. In 1943, the New York State board, in reviewing and licensing some 1,525 original films and 27,500 duplicate prints, produced a gross revenue of about $285,000 and a net profit of approximately $217,000.

Local News

Mrs. S. E. Cranson and Dorothy Lutie are spending a few days in Toronto, Canada.

Mrs. Mary Kimble and Mrs. Helen Stevens returned the first of the week from their winter home in Miami, Florida.

Mrs. Heon Ziegler left Wednesday for Houghton Lake where she will spend six weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jesse Ziegler of Farmington.

Elaine Johnson and Virginia Landau were co-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mildred Shingler. There were twenty guests present from Detroit, Canton Center and Livonia.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of Newburg met last Wednesday evening in the church hall. Mrs. Jess Bennett and Mrs. Adolph Bohl gave papers on India. The next meeting will be held July 5 in Riverside Park, near the wading pool.

Mrs. R. J. Sumption and Mrs. George Meyers and son of Detroit were the guests in the home Mr. and Mrs. Heon Ziegler on Corrine street last Friday. Sunday dinner guests in the Ziegler home were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grace of Farmington.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Walsh attended the graduation exercises at the University of Detroit last Monday evening when their nephew was one of the graduates. On Tuesday evening they also attended graduation exercises at Marygrove high school where their niece, Evelyn Walsh was a graduate.

The Wednesday evening contract club enjoyed dinner at Hillside and a theatre party following. Members of the club are Mesdames John Dalton, William C. Hartmann, H. D. Stratton, Ray Hills, Walter Hammond, Garnet Rush, Floyd Wilson, Paul Wiedman and Harold Finlan.

Mrs. Norman Marquis entertained at a garden supper and shower at her home on Sheldon road, Wednesday, in honor of Miss Hanna Strasen, a bride elect of the month. The gifts were presented to Miss Strasen from a wheelbarrow gaily decorated in blue and white. A treasure hunt was held during the evening, with prizes going to the lucky winners. Guests included, Mesdames Clara Drews, Margaret Gollinger, Ruth Webber, Helen Beals, Maureen Balden, Kate Henderson, Margaret Strenick, Helen Farwell, Noreen Wood, and the Misses Cordelia Strasen, and Hildur Carlson.

Corporal Joe Bradner, who has just been released from a military hospital where he has spent more than three months due to injuries received in an army plane crash, has arrived in Plymouth from Bluenthal Field, Wilmington, North Carolina, for a brief visit with his grandmother, Mrs. I. W. Hummel of West Arm Arbor Trail. Upon his release from the hospital he was granted a two week's furlough. Most of his time away from the field was spent at the home of his parents in Milan. Corporal Bradner is a former resident of this vicinity, his birthplace being the old Bradner homestead on Bradner road.

Recreational Leagues for Summer Planned

John Tomshack, who will have charge of the evening recreation program in Plymouth announced the formation of a number of leagues of all kinds for the summer program.

A midget softball league already has been organized for 6th and 7th grade youngsters. It is anticipated that they will play at four fields in the city, and will follow a definite schedule.

Another soft ball league will be organized for high school boys, and will play both at the high school field and at Riverside park. Hard ball leagues also are being organized, and games will be played at least one evening a week and on Sunday afternoon. Games will be played at both the high school and Riverside fields.

Plans also are underway for an industrial soft ball league if sufficient interest is shown, but no applications have been made thus far.

Tennis, archery, shuffleboard and horseshoes will be played every evening, and depending on the interest, final tournaments will be held during the summer months.

Mr. Tomshack said that equipment is very hard to find, and that the recreation program for the most part will have to get along with what is available.

War Bond Drive

The Plymouth Mail, Ted Box of Stinson Aircraft.

But do not for one minute think that this faithful army of workers made up of the U. S. Treasury Woman's war bond committee under the direction of Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, and the V-Volunteers working with Mrs. Kenneth Gust, are spending their days in "rest camp".

There is no rest for them, and while the big "invasion" drive was made by the Jaycees, these steady, hard-working women are carrying on just as is the infantry over in France.

These workers are doing the hard part of the task, ringing door bells, soliciting friends up and down the street, working mornings and evenings. There is no rest for them.

As a result of the combined activities of all of these groups, Plymouth has gone well over $150,000 in the first week of the campaign.

A determined effort is going to be made to make the full quota before the end of June.

The U. S. Treasury Women's War Bond committee, comprising the V-Volunteer women, for the Fifth war bond drive, has not been entirely completed, but Mrs. Sumner, general chairman, has announced the appointment of those who have already been selected to serve. The names of the others will be published next week. The list so far compiled follows:

Mesdames O. M. Valiquette, Dow Swope, Dushar Davis, Alfred L. Innis, Charles A. Barger, Oral B. Rathburn, Fred Johnson, Bessie Sutherland, Louis Truesdell, Harry J. Christiansen, Garnet Baker, John Henderson, Earl Russell, Vaughn Smith, Albert Pint, F. Earl Reh, James A. Keyes, Charles B. Messmore, Olive Riegan, Vera Hirtzel, Carl Martin, John G. Vanhoy, C. S. Jamison, Harold Finlan, George Todd, David Mather, Peter Munster, Frank Allison, Edyth Hadley, Carlton Lewis, Margery Hover, William Rambo, George Farwell, James Latture, Murray O'Neil, Russell Lounsbury, Lee Sackett, Ragnar Blomberg, John Bloxson, E. D. Bolton, Roy Lawson, Olin Martin, Sven Eklund, Roy S. Rogers, Perry A. Lacy, Chas. C. Cushman, Harry Terry, Ethel Holton, Garnet Rush, Grant Stimpson, C. C. Wiltse, Harold Curtis, Beatrice Schultz, Wm. Pettingill, Miller Ross, Wallace Laury, Frank Karke, Wm. Kreeger, James Norman, Matthew Kump, Linden Tebo, George Fischer, Derward Jewell, Fern Burgett.

Lieut. Marvin Criger Talks To Kiwanians

At the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday evening, James Houk was chairman and presented as his guest Lieut. Marvin Criger who gave a very interesting talk on his experiences and some of the problems confronting the fighting men in the Pacific war front. He stated that the Japanese flyers are very good fighters and appear to be well trained in all of their air tactics. Their planes are fast and in most cases out-manuever our planes. He further stated that in most cases the average person cannot conceive the great distances of the vast Pacific and what must take place before the enemy is forced to surrender.

Neighboring farmers are to be the guests of the club at next week's meeting.

The Strongest of Bonds—Your Dad and Your Country, Is the Slogan of Father's Day, June 18—Buy Bonds

WASHINGTON, D. C.—June 00—Father's Day which falls on June 18th, 1944, will be a different kind of celebration of this event than in days before the war. This year finds that one underlying motivation. The battle cry for the Father Bond Drive and for the observance connected with Father's Day this year is "The Strongest of Bonds—Your Pictured here is Ted R. Gamble, National Director of the Treasury's War Finance Division, and his son, Ted R., Jr. The youngster is pinning a Father's Day rosette in his dad's coat lapel. The rosettes are made up of War Stamps. Girl Scouts and others will sell the rosettes on Father's Day, June 18.

American fathers away from home and family and by hundreds of thousands in uniforms of the Armed Services of our country. Many fathers are overseas. So this year's Father's Day is America's "Salute to our Fighting Dads." The National Father's Day Committee, in conjunction with the United States Treasury, is conducting a gigantic Father Bond Drive. There is an earnest and all-abiding awareness to push on to victory in the observance of this year's Father's Day. And every move being planned for the event is keyed to Private Don Feck who has been stationed in the Aleutians the past two years and his wife of Ecorse were callers in Plymouth Monday. Private Feck was employed for five years in the Willoughby shoe store before he entered the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Turesdell, Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Heise, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan are to be the guests at a dinner and bridge, Saturday evening, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sims of Birmingham.

Employees of the George Collins and Son garage on South Main street were delightfully entertained at the Collins' cottage at Base Lake last Sunday. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burkett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Karker and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Oliver and family and the Misses Gwendolyn Tobey and Erma Bridge.

On June 4th, a gathering of the Felton family was held at the Herbert Felton home on South Harvey St. to mark the eightieth birthday of Mr. Felton, which occurred on June second. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Lyan Felton, of Rochester, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hopkins and Edith Felton of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of Birmingham; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sharp, Earl and Susan all of Ecorse, and sister-in-law Mrs. Lemon Maes of Port Huron. Mr. Felton has remarkable health for his age and almost every year spades his large garden by hand. He has many friends in the community.

Mrs. Helen B. Wallbridge will present her pupils in a piano recital Wednesday, June twenty-first, 8:15, at MacGregor library, Detroit. She will be accompanied by Allene Greene, Cellist, and the following young people from Plymouth, Rosedale Gardens, and Newburg will be a part of the program, Eric Eklund, Robert Otwell, Thomas, Kathleen, and Billy Blossom, Dorothy Curtis, Nancy Morrow, Elaine Gulden, Verna Rice, and Joan Travis of Plymouth; Lorraine Trepagnier, Graham Bennett, Mary Ellen Voss, John Campbell, Sharon Walter, Janet Beyer, James Whyatt, Elaine Nelson, Lois Blankenhagen, Allene Burns, Donald and Bruce MacGregor, Cresta Van Coevering, Marilyn Nelson, June Schwartz, Arlene Wegner, Ann Marshall, Bernice Lou Bock, Carolyn Sayre, of Rosedale Gardens; and Joan Carson, Thomas Melvin Jr., and Rosemary Guthrie of Newburg.

A person may be tried and convicted for the same offense by both a federal and a state court as the "double jeopardy" clause in the Constitution applies only to dual punishment by the federal government. Several years ago, one such case, which resulted in the double conviction of five bootleggers in the State of Washington, was taken to and upheld by the Supreme Court of the United States.

HELL DIVING'S HIS JOB... LENDING IS YOURS!

With guns blazing and a prayer in his stout heart, this American fighter is hell-bent on destruction of our enemies. HE is not thinking of how little or how much he's doing to help win the war. For him, the chips are down; but his fighting spirit is as high as the heavens from which his plane is diving.

In cramped foxholes and disease-infested jungles, on sun-scorched beachheads—under and over the seven seas—other Americans are matching his courage. And their name is legion. They KNOW that war is a bloody business; that their lives, as well as yours, are now at stake. You cannot—you must not—let them down.

Is it asking too much of you to back these men up by buying more, and still more, War Bonds? There can be but one answer. You'll find it in your own heart.

And remember, too, as you dig deeper than ever before into your pocketbook or cash surplus, that the Fifth War Loan MUST raise 16 billion dollars. It is the greatest financing drive the world has ever known... to back up the greatest invasion drive the world has ever known.

AND HERE ARE 5 MORE REASONS FOR BUYING EXTRA BONDS IN THE 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the peace by increasing purchasing power after the war.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

This poster "Fire Away" shows a scene aboard the U. S. Submarine "Dorado." The artist, the celebrated American painter Georges Schreiber, has caught the action during the very tense moment before the passing craft is identified as friend or foe.

The painting is authentic in every detail for the artist was actually aboard the Submarine at sea. He ate and slept with the crew. He worked with the men and stood watch with the officers. A short time after leaving the Submarine, it was lost with all hands.

Jap Trophies Now On Display

An interesting display of Jap war trophies collected by Bruce Mining, who is with the U. S. Marines somewhere in the New Britain islands of the southwest Pacific, is on display in one of the windows of the Purity market on Penniman avenue.

Mariner Mining sent the display to his sister, Miss Jean Mining, Cashier of the Purity market.

In the collection is a torn Jap flag captured in some engagement in which Mining took part. There is a Jap wrist compass, numerous small shells and other explosive contraptions and several pieces of Jap money.

Bruce was born in Plymouth and lived here until shortly before the war broke out, when he went to work in a Chevrolet plant in Flint.

He Wanted To Get In Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam, And He Did

Pfc. Fred Korte, Jr.

When a Plymouth high school student decides he wants to get into the military services, it seems that there isn't much of anything that can keep him from accomplishing his purpose.

While Fred Korte, Jr., was in his senior year, he determined that he wanted to enlist with one of Uncle Sam's fighting outfits. He took a medical examination and was rejected. Army doctors said a serious operation would have to be performed before he would be accepted.

Not to be daunted, he immediately went to the hospital and underwent the operation. When he was released by physicians, not only was he physically fit to enter the army, but he also had his high school diploma, graduating with the class of 1943.

He is now a full-fledged Marine gunner on a torpedo bomber plane, with a squadron at present located at Santa Barbara, California. He was graduated as a Marine gunner a few months ago at El Centro, California. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Korte, 46601 Warren road. Mrs. Louise Shotka is a sister.

Victory Gardeners Warned To Watch Out For Insect Pests

Chairman Robert Jolliffe of the Plymouth victory garden committee, warns Plymouth victory gardeners that this is the period of the growing season to watch out for certain insects that do considerable damage to growing crops.

Mexican Bean Beetles, if they have not already done so, will soon be invading the Victory Garden. Both the adult and larvae of the pest feed on the under surface of the leaves, causing the foliage to assume a characteristic light color.

The adult beetles are copper brown in color with six black spots on each wing, while the larvae are tiny, yellowish oval bugs about one-third of an inch long and rather spiny when full grown.

Bean plants should be dusted as soon as the pest appears. Rotenone is the best material available to control Mexican Bean Beetles. The dust should always be applied on the under side of the leaf and applications should continue until the pest has been completely eliminated.

Carol Campbell To Become Bride Of Wisconsin Soldier

Carol Campbell

The engagement of Carol Elizabeth Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Campbell, of this city to Cpl. Robert G. Beaumier of Kenosha, Wisconsin has been announced.

Miss Campbell will be graduated in June from the University School of Music, and will receive the degree of Bachelor of Music. During her years on the Ann Arbor campus she has been active in many musical events and has been affiliated with Sigma Alpha Iota, musical sorority.

Mr. Beaumier received the degrees of Bachelor and Master of Arts, graduating with honors from Kalamazoo College. He then attended the University Graduate school for three semesters. At present he is a classification specialist with the U. S. Army. Prior to entering the service, he was employed as administrative assistant in the Washington State Department of Public Health, Seattle, Washington.

Miss Campbell is a graduate of Plymouth high school.

Salvation Army Tag Day Success

Tag day for the benefit of the Salvation Army conducted last Saturday in Plymouth under the direction of Chairman Robert Willoughby, resulted in securing $422.66 for the Plymouth organization.

Because of considerable additional work the Salvation Army has been called upon to do in recent months, the funds raised last Saturday will prove of great aid, stated Mrs. Arnold. Both the chairman of the special fund drive and Salvation Army members wish to thank all of the donors.

This Is Time To Plant Certain Late Victory Garden Crops

It is not too late to plant certain crops in the Victory Garden, stated Chairman Robert Jolliffe this week, Victory gardeners can now plant late potatoes, midseason and late sweet corn, beans, Tomato plants may still be set out; also pepper plants, kohlrabi, broccoli. Watch out for insects. Place bands of plant food down both sides of rows.

Feed and spray roses. Forsythias and spires may now be pruned. Cut off faded tulip blooms but do not remove foliage until limp and yellow. Keep delphiniums firmly tied to supports.

Sow quick-growing annual seeds: Zinnias, marigolds, portulaca, etc. Continue to plant dahlias and gladioli. Spray fruit trees with lime sulphur, arsenate of lead and nicotine sulphate.

Official Proceedings of the Plymouth City Commission

A special meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Monday, June 12, 1944, at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting was called by the Mayor for the purpose of considering the budget.

PRESENT: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis, Shear and Whipple. ABSENT: None.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Commissioner Shear:

RESOLVED, that the Annual City Budget for the year 1944-45 (July 1, 1944 to June 30, 1945) as reviewed at this meeting and previous meetings of the City Commission in the total amount of $124,915.00 be approved and that the same be prorated over the various funds as follows:
General Fund $39,720.00
Highway Fund 19,635.00
Bond & Interest 6,275.00
Sewer Fund 3,010.00
Police Fund 18,380.00
Fire Fund 3,375.00
Street Lighting 7,520.00
Welfare 150.00
Garbage & Rubbish 10,175.00
Furniture 10,675.00
Contingent 5,000.00
Res. for Postwar Imp. 1,000.00
Total $124,915.00

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the nontax revenues as estimated by the Budget Committee in the amount of $32,113.50 be deducted from the above totals as follows:
General Fund $12,537.50
Highway Fund 11,000.00
Bond & Interest 540.00
Sewer Fund 2,300.00
Police Fund 1,200.00
Fire Fund 36.00
Welfare Fund 1,800.00
Garbage & Rubbish 650.00
Equipment 1,900.00
Contingent Fund 1,900.00
Reserve for Postwar Imp. Total $32,113.50

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the City Clerk verify the amount of $92,801.50 to the City Assessor for spreading on the Assessment Roll of the City of Plymouth for the year 1944.

RESOLVED FURTHER, that after spreading upon the Assessment Roll the amount as required to be raised by the general tax, the Assessor certify and deliver the same to the City Treasurer and the Mayor be authorized to attach his warrant thereto directing and requiring the City Treasurer to collect the same as provided by the City charter. BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the total budget of $7,375.00 for the Riverside Cemetery and the Budget for the Water Department $45,760.00 be approved and that the nontax revenues as estimated by the Budget Committee in the amount of $7,375.00 and $45,760.00 respectively, be deducted, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that salaries and wages of the City Employees shall be estimated and fixed and shall not exceed the total amount as shown in the budget.

Ayes: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis, Shear and Whipple. Nays: None.

It was moved by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Commissioner Shear that this meeting be called an adjourned regular meeting. Commissioner Whipple objected, stating that the motion was out of order because the Mayor had called a special meeting to consider the budget.

It was moved by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Commissioner Shear that the Commission as a body receive no pay for this special meeting.

Ayes: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis and Shear. Nays: Commissioner Whipple.

It was moved by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Commissioner Whipple that the meeting be adjourned. Time of adjournment 7:45 p. m.

S. C. CORBETT, Mayor.
C. H. ELLIOTT, DM.—Clerk.

These men belong to the civil affairs group, made up of hand-picked officers and enlisted men of the British and American armies, which will follow hot on the heels of allied invasion forces to restore free government in liberated areas and do the actual governing outright in Germany. At top left is Maj. John C. Diggs, public works officer; top right, Capt. Allan Westervelt, communication officer; lower left, Maj. Benjamin Scheinman, legal officer; lower right, Lieut. Stephen Ware, assistant legal officer. These men, all of whom are especially qualified by former occupations, are now training in Great Britain.

Fragmentation Bomb
The dreaded fragmentation bomb is, oddly enough, a spring that does not spring. Made of closely wound steel, it will fly into hundreds of pieces on explosion of its charge.

Green Leaves Have Most Iron
Green leaves of cabbage and lettuce contain from one and one-half to three times as much iron as the bleached, white leaves and about three times as much calcium.

Haul More With Less
With 22,000 fewer locomotives and half a million fewer freight cars, the railroads are transporting 55 per cent more freight than during the last war and at a lower cost.

Laundry Coal
120,000,000 tons of bituminous coal was "laundried" in 1942, washed of impurities to give customers a pure and cleaner coal, at a cost of over $10,000,000.

Freight Costs
For less than the government charges to deliver a one-ounce letter to the next village, the railroads move a ton of freight three miles.

Approximately $500,000 volunteers were active in Red Cross services, according to a report of the last fiscal year.

More than half of all Siamese cats are cross-eyed, a unique hereditary defect of this breed, which is the most popular short-haired purebred type in America today.

More people are alive in Europe today than existed in the entire world at any one time prior to 1650. Europe's 540 million people in 1939 were the descendants of about 100 million living in Europe in the middle of the 17th century. Since 1850 the population has doubled, since 1800 it has almost tripled, and in the last three centuries it has increased more than fivefold.

Inoculation of soybean seed has increased yields per acre as much as 25 to 30 per cent, results of experiments at several Midwest experiment stations show. Protein content of the beans increased about 10 per cent while total protein yield per acre increased from 40 to 45 per cent at a cost of about 10 cents per acre for inoculation.

If vegetables are properly frozen very little vitamin A seems to be lost, the B vitamins are lost in a varying degree, depending on the amount of blanching. The amount of vitamin C which survives freezing varies but loss can be reduced by cooking vegetables without thawing and serving the remaining juice with it.

Vegetables that have begun to thaw must be cooked at once and never be refrozen. Frozen vegetable cartons can be stored in the freezing unit of a mechanical refrigerator for several days, but you must be sure vegetables do not partially thaw. If this happens, the food should be cooked at once.

Cabbage seed has a peculiar trait known as alternating dormancy which makes germination rather uncertain. Because of this, sow four or five seeds to the inch, even under glass. Then thin the seedlings to stand an inch apart as soon as they can be handled. If there is room, transplant to stand four inches apart or thin to that spacing when second leaves form. Be sure to keep the seedlings cool; they do better at 55 than at 70 degrees.

A woman with hips too large for the upper part of her body should not wear a slim straight skirt unless it is cut with a group of deep pleats or soft inconspicuous fullness in center back and front. Such pleats and fullness keep the straight lines on the side but allow the wearer enough freedom in movement, give the illusion of grace and conceal the shape of the thigh. A six-gore cut-and sometimes even a four-gore—may be sufficient to add enough flare all around and fit gracefully.

Cooking Frozen Vegetables
The most important rule for cooking frozen vegetables is to "cook vegetables for the shortest time required to secure an acceptable product." This applies even more strongly to frozen than to fresh products because since the tissues have already been softened by blanching and freezing, it is easy to overcook them. Other important points are to use as little water as possible, have water boiling when the vegetable is added and start timing when the water comes back to a boil after adding the vegetable. Do not allow the vegetables to boil violently.

Compulsory Crops
Production of oil bearing seeds, largely of types used in the production of oils for paint, constitute a compulsory crop for farmers in Algeria, says the U. S. department of commerce. Each producer may select the kind of seed he desires to produce—castor beans, flaxseed, sunflower seed, cottonseed, or soybeans, provided that the area in which he is situated is suitable for the indicated crop.

Straw Mulch
About three inches of clean straw makes the best protection for strawberries. If there is not enough straw or hay or other mulch to cover the entire bed, cover the rows well, and leave the spaces between rows uncovered.

New Experience
Cooking with soya flour and soya grits is a new experience for American households. These products add to the protein, vitamin and mineral content of meals. They give bread, muffins and hot cakes a nutty taste.

Clean Up Plates
Servicemen are encouraged to eat all they want, but the sergeant standing watch at the garbage cans where the men scrape their trays after each meal is severe with those who haven't eaten all they took.

Mrs. R. P. Benton

Funeral services for Mrs. R. P. Benton, former well known resident of Plymouth who during recent years resided at 2807 Hill Drive, Eagle Rock, California, were held on June 12 at 12:30 o'clock in the Wee Kirk of the Heather church, Forest Lawn cemetery, Glendale, California. Mrs. Benton will be remembered here by many of the older residents as Etta Hillmer, sister of George F. Hillmer and Mrs. Ella Olds of this city. She was born in Plymouth, August 7, 1875. Her old friends here remember her as one who spent her life helping others and found her greatest happiness in the work of her church. Surviving are her husband, Richmond Benton, one daughter, Mrs.

John Anson, and two sons, all of California.

Expect Big Crop Of Fruit In Fall

With the exception of apples and strawberries, production of Michigan's fruit crops is expected to be above average. There is a good set of summer apples, but the condition of the later varieties is very spotty. There is a wide difference in the set of fruit among orchards in the same locality and among varieties in the same orchard, largely as a result of periods of poor pollination weather. Some orchards that were heavily set last year will have light crops this year. The peach crop was damaged to some extent by low temperatures in March and by losses of bloom due to brown rot but the present outlook is for a crop of 3,510,000 bushels, the second largest in the State's history. The condition of the crop in Berrien County, with about one-half of the State's total trees, is below the average for the State. There is a possibility of a shortage of spray material for brown rot control.

The indicated pear production of 1,210,000 bushels is 34 percent above the 10-year average. As in the case of peaches, the pear crop in Berrien County is below the State's average. The sour cherry crop is in excellent condition in the northern commercial area, somewhat less favorable in the central and poorest in the southern commercial area. The weather was favorable for pollination in the central and northern districts.

Brown rot has been reported in most of the commercial sections and has materially reduced the set of fruit in some orchards. Some early varieties from the southern part of the State should be ready for harvest by the last week in June. Processing of the important commercial crop should get under way soon after July 1. If the indicated production of 52,400 tons materializes, the 1944 crop will be the highest on record. The sweet cherry crop follows the same pattern as the sour, with the southwestern area having the poorest crop and the northern area the best. Berrien County reports a very short crop. Brown rot is serious in some orchards. Harvest should start around June 20th in the southwestern area. Production is estimated at 4,600 tons and, like sour cherries, is indicative of a record crop.

More than one billion surgical dressings were made by the Red Cross chapter volunteers in the past 12 months.

Apply Now For Winter Fuel Oil

The Plymouth War Price and Rationing board is now in the process of mailing out renewal applications for fuel oil for the next winter.

The board asks that these renewal applications be returned to the board as soon as possible in order that this work may be completed before fall.

Ray Bachelord, executive secretary of the local board, said that some volunteer help will be needed to handle these applications, and requested that any women, especially those with typing experience, call the ration board, No. 584, if they wish to offer their services.

4-H Clubs Are Most Active

The Wayne county and the 4-H club council, which is composed of local 4-H club leaders and representatives from the office, the Wayne County P.T.A. council and Wayne County executive board of the Home Economics extension department have voted to purchase a service flag honoring those 4-H club members who are now in some branch of the country's service.

If families will send the names of their sons or daughters who are now in some branch of the service and were 4-H club members we shall be very proud to prepare the flag and the list of those honored.

The Wayne county 4-H Livestock club met Thursday evening at the home of the Willoughby family on Macumber road west of Plymouth.

Mr. Louise Webb, assistant club leader, was present and trained the members in cattle judging. Holstein cattle from the Wisely herd were used for judging. The members enjoyed their experiences a lot and are planning for more judging next month at the Korte farm where their Jerseys will be used in the judging.

These cattle judging experiences are preparing the club members for cattle judging at the Northville fair and to make up a county team for the 4-H state club show at Lansing held early in September.

A day of clothing judging and demonstrations was enjoyed by fifty 4-H club girls and leaders from the following communities: Cady, Brainard, Romulus, Sandhill, Newburg, Hough, Fisher, East Tyley, Mosebar, Woodville, Fletcher, Walker and Truesdell. Miss Lois Corbett, assistant state club leader was in charge of the demonstrations and judging.

The meeting was held at the Wayne park recreation center in Wayne. Luncheon was served in the guest dining room.

Demonstrations made up the morning's program. Dorothy Bogetta and Alice Meyers from the Walker school gave a demonstration on the "Care of Shoes" as did Patricia Spence and Jean Hilditch of the Brainard group. Barbara Spence and Jean Curry of the Brainard group gave a demonstration on canning of rhubarb by the hot pack method.

Iola and Shirley Fritz of Romulus won top honors by demonstrating "How to Care for Wool Sweaters and Skirts". They are to represent Wayne county at the 4-H state club show and give their demonstration.

Twenty-nine girls took part in the judging. Judging is an entirely new experience for most of the girls and will do a great deal in helping them to do better clothing project next fall.

Ruth DesAutels and Barbara Bretz of the Fisher group and Frances Gordon of Walker won high scores but are too young to be chosen as delegates to the state 4-H club show.

Esther Mettetal of Plymouth and Sally Spence of Dearborn who were the next highest chosen as Wayne county delegates for judging at the 4-H state club show.

A day of canning and food preservation demonstrations and judging will be planned for August.

What news will Gen. Eisenhower get from us?

You know now what we've heard from him.

We've heard that Eisenhower and his Americans have hurled themselves like a thunderbolt against the bristling defenses of Hitler's Wehrmacht!

We've heard that they are smashing at our foe — sparing neither steel nor sweat nor blood in one final, furious assault that marks the supreme military effort of this War!

And what news do Eisenhower and his men expect from us?

Men and women of America — what the Invasion is to our fighting men, the 5th War Loan is to us at home!

For us, as well as for them, this is the crisis — the time for tremendous, overwhelming effort! Make no mistake! The 5th War Loan will undoubtedly be the biggest, most vitally important financial effort of this whole War!

If the 5th War Loan is to succeed, each one of us must do more than ever before — must buy double . . . yes, triple . . . the Bonds we bought last time.

Our men expect to hear that we are buying double — that we are matching their sacrifice as best we can — that the American nation, soldiers and civilians together, is making one gigantic effort to win this War!

That's the news our men expect to hear from us.

Will you personally see that they get it?

And here are 5 More reasons for buying Extra Bonds in the 5th!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Our FIRST DUTY is to OUR nation's war effort.

There must be nothing which takes precedent over our determination and efforts to win.

Our SECOND DUTY is on the homefront.

We must maintain a clean, progressive, economical government while our men and women in uniform are away fighting for us.

We must prepare for the day when these millions of fighting men and women in uniform return to re-enter civilian life

I am asking the Republican voters of the newly created 7th legislative district of Wayne county to again nominate and elect me to the state legislature, knowing that I can properly represent the views and interests of our district and state if again given this opportunity to serve you during these trying times.

I am confident that during my previous services in the state legislature that my work met with the approval of the voters of this district. I base this statement upon the numerous comments made to me by voters of the district, as well as expressions contained in letters sent me.

You know my record. You know my views. You know that I have never jumped from one side to the other in matters of politics, that I have always worked for and supported progressive, HONEST legislation and the ideals for which the Republican party was organized.

I am asking again the opportunity to serve you in the state legislature—and if successful—I am sure you will be as satisfied with my record as you were before.

Lieut. Wilbur Kincade Tells of Loss Of Radio On Island of New Guinea

Lieut. Wilbur Kincade, who has been stationed in New Guinea for nearly a year, once had a radio. In an effort to keep it dry, he stored it under a cot in his living quarters down on the island in the southwest Pacific where there is rain most of the year.

Recently in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Kincade of 40737 Plymouth road, he wrote that he no longer had a radio.

"The termites ate it up," he explained. But there is much a soldier cannot tell in his letter to relatives and friends back home. It was not until recently that Mrs. Kincade read that Hal O'Flanerty, a war correspondent of The Chicago Daily News, had spent much of his time in New Guinea with an artillery unit of which Lieut. Kincade is an officer.

A letter to the Chicago News, resulted in a copy of The News being sent to Mrs. Kincade, which revealed to the Kincades for the first time the details of some of the bitter engagements in which America's artillery force, as well as other fighting units experienced on New Guinea.

The article was written from New Guinea some months ago, but it still remains interesting news, in view of the successes being won by the American fighters in that part of the world. It follows:

On a New Guinea Front Line, Aug. 14. (Delayed)—American use of field artillery is amazing the Japanese today, just as 80 years ago it amazed Russian, British and French military observers who had come to the United States to learn how Grant's and Sherman's gunners had developed the art to unimagined efficiency in the Civil War.

The latest example of this old American genius for handling field guns came up at 10 a. m. today when a terrific artillery barrage broke loose on Tambu Bay. Nine-inch enemy guns had been shelling our beach at Buosis village. Jap snipers and machine gunners had infiltrated to points on Roosevelt Ridge, giving them direct observation. Our infantry had taken the highest point on the ridge, and begun working toward the point.

Deafening Barrage Opens Up. Something had to be done to clear the Japs from our side. It was—with a suddenness which ripped and tore all nerves as guns of every caliber, including Bofors, which up to this time had fired vertically at airplanes, began disintegrating the near side of Roosevelt Ridge.

No one but the high command knew that this devastation was in readiness. Everyone immediately thought the noise was Jap planes, millions of them.

Passing our open-faced native hut on the beach came a long line of natives bearing boxes of ammunition and rations. At the first appalling roar they took to the jungles, digging holes under the roots of mangrove trees. A hardened platoon of Australian infantry just wading the river at the south end of the beach, all accustomed to shellfire, dived into slit trenches and bombproofs.

Then, as the fury of the barrage rose to new heights, all realized it was made by our guns, not the Japs'. Men came running from far back on jungle paths. Engineers and supply men and tractor drivers no longer were looking upward for Jap planes but staring wide-eyed at a demonstration of firepower such as none had seen before and none had suspected was possible.

Like July 4th Celebration. From the south side of Tambu Bay came a line of tracer bullets, so thick they looked like a great 4th of July celebration. From directly back a few yards, the great Bofors, firing into the steep, jungled incline kept up a rhythmic throb, its shells bursting with a red blaze as they hit trees or passed through to break on the dirt.

To the east, the 105's throaty roars preceded great plunging blasts. In the distance 75s growled and sent their projectiles moaning through the air to registered targets. Fifty-caliber machine guns rattled and barked, their tracers flying and criss-crossing with the Bofors tracers. Thirty-caliber yappers, seeming to add a humorous tapping in the midst of thunder.

Safe in front of our own guns, we villagers had grandstand seats. Binoculars were unnecessary because the ridge was only 200 yards away and our eyes could pick out every burst and every tracer exploding.

Trees broke and crashed down the side of the ridge. A whole section of earth crumbled and slanted forward with trees slowly falling outward, then nosed downward and slid seaward, exposing a gaping brown wound in the ridgetide. Along the very top of the ridge huge cones of earth, trees, trunks and timbers from Jap dugouts flew upward, hesitated silhouetted against the bright blue sky, then sank back below the skyline.

Continue for Half Hour. On and on went the artillery shots, over towering peaks to the ridge as the explosions echoed and re-echoed. For more than half an hour, with only occasional lulls, the guns maintained their fire. Bofors men behind us, sweating and heaving, stopped now and then to twist off a hot barrel and replace it with a cool one.

Along the beach, men stood cheering, dancing and waving their arms as American mechanized might utterly destroyed one of Japan's greatest strongpoints between here and Salamaua.

Natives, reassured, came out of the jungle and stood with bulging eyes as this nightmare of noise rose and fell. Across the sparkling blue waters of the bay, red lines crossed and recrossed, making patterns against white clouds, reversing heights and clipping tree trunks. A Jap gun fired a few rounds from far over the hills, its shell lands in the water and spouting a vertical plume of spray. Artillery turned its fire on the gun position. It went silent.

Overhead American bombers and pursuit planes hovered and circled. They had strafed the far side of the ridge thoroughly earlier in the morning, swooping low to strafe Jap troops unseen in hideouts. Their bombs had dropped in swift lanes into the Jap positions, and now the pilots watched from above, another unique phase of this beachhead warfare. But no sounds of their droning motors penetrated the deafening barrage.

Aussie Joins the Orchestra

A few yards away in a palm grove a 50-caliber machine gun halted to a stutter with a faulty cartridge. Out from the gun pit crawled two figures, each with a rifle, flung themselves prone in the sand and began pumping bullets across the water at what appeared to be a Jap dugout. Nearby an Australian infantryman ran up.

"Is this a private American war or can I get in?" he asked.

A sweating gunner on a Bofors grinned: "Brother, it's yours, too," whereupon the Aussie dropped behind his gun, stretched his legs and aimed at a point at the top of the ridge and added a Bren's throaty howl to the beachhead music.

From points at the base of the ridge, but not out of line of fire, men popped out with tommyguns, and, unless my eyes deceived me, one gangling Yank stood boldly on the beach firing a .45 pistol. Suddenly dead quiet prevailed, lasted a brief moment, then was broken by the crack of falling trees on the hillside.

One angry machine-gunner let go a final burst. Then quiet again. Through glasses our infantry could be seen near "the Pimple," moving cautiously down the very crest of the ridge. All walked with their heads down, looking for bobby traps, now and then stopped, throwing a grenade into a dugout and leaping clear of its burst.

Behind them came two easily discernible figures. They were engineers bearing heavy loads of grenades in pouches both in front and back and carrying in their hands a 10-pound package of death known as a "black buster."

Japs Blown to Shreds.

Infantrymen and engineers huddled over a small mound momentarily, then all except one ran like mad. That one figure, black against the skyline, stood with his arm upraised a moment, then leaped backwards and rolled downward as the blast of the block buster shook the valley.

A ball of black smoke belched out. Later at headquarters I learned that six Japs had hidden in a tunnel 20 feet long. When the bomb cut loose they were blown out of the far mouth of the tunnel in shreds.

Slowly and cautiously, our infantrymen worked down the ridge, easily seen from below as they stooped and crawled, disconnecting traps, prying into pits and duzouts and firing tommyguns into them and now and then dropping grenades. All afternoon this careful search continued until finally word came that most of the ridge was ours.

It is estimated that 100 Japs were killed in the barrage and ensuing fighting. Japan has lost its observation post over Tambu Bay as well as a decisive contest for Salamaua. American artillerymen, under the ablest leadership in the world, with the finest equipment, have proved beyond question that they can save the lives of our boys and make this war against Japan far more feasible for our infantry. The Rising Sun now has set for the sons of Nippon over shell torn Buosis village and moonlit Tambu Bay.

Red Cross provided relief following 178 domestic disasters in 1943, assisting 119,295 victims. Disaster relief totaled $1,920,000.

HOWARD BEACH WINS FIRST PROMOTION

Howard G. Beach, son of Mrs. Tesse Beach of 597 Northville road, located somewhere in India, has just been promoted from Private First Class. He has been in the army since May 1, 1943 and located in the China-Burma-India theatre of war since December 18, 1943, serving with a unit of Base Section 2, India. This is the organization which has led military installations throughout the world in the handling of vitally needed materials of war. His wife is at present residing at 674 Auburn avenue.

Established nearly five years ago, the Dawn Society of San Francisco, America's first clearing house for human corneas, has been promised the transparent eyeball coating of 700 persons at death and has received requests for corneas from some 2,000 blind persons who hope that such a transplant will restore their sight. Yet so far, not a single cornea has been received by the Society.

Why Vernon J. Brown for Lieutenant Governor?

His qualifications are unquestioned. The Republicans of Michigan have a right to demand such a man in this important office. Responsible Republican leadership, as well as rank and file workers throughout the State, believe that Vernon J. Brown is the one man in the Party who, as Lieutenant Governor, can function as a cooperating member of the Republican team.

In recognition of the need for his services as Lieutenant Governor, Vernon J. Brown was willing to forget selfish considerations and accede to the wishes of Republicans throughout the State. He believes the Republican Administration is entitled to the services of a Lieutenant Governor who will work with the administration in the public interest.

Such an attitude certainly deserves the sincere consideration of every Republican on Primary day, July 11.

Rev. Sanders At Conference

The Rev. T. Leonard Sanders, pastor of the Methodist church, left Wednesday morning for Saginaw, where he will attend the annual Detroit conference of the church.

The Plymouth church has asked for his return to this city for another year, and the official board has been given to understand that the request will be honored by the bishop.

Mr. Sanders will not stay in Saginaw for the Sunday services and the annual appointments of the bishop, but will fill his own pulpit for father's day.

Postiff Attends M. A. C. Commencement

Walter Postiff, well known farmer of this vicinity, attended the 86th annual commencement of Michigan State College in East Lansing last week and was one of 12 graduates of the class of 1909 to attend a reunion of its members.

Mr. Postiff states that he was greatly impressed by the address of Dr. Howard L. Bevis, president of the Ohio State University of Columbus.

Repeal of law and administration by directives, stated President Bevis, is one of the greatest dangers this country faces.

Tomato Juice To Be Scarce In Winter Of 1944-45 Says Officials

Supplies of commercially canned tomato juice in 1944 will be only about one-half of what they were last year, according to Paul R. Krone, Chief of the Victory Garden Section of the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense.

Appealing to home gardeners to plant more tomatoes for home consumption and for canning, he urges immediate action, since the end of the tomato planting season is rapidly approaching. The appeal, however, has already been heeded in Plymouth. Local gardeners have planted more tomatoes than last year.

Tomatoes are one of the best sources of vitamin C, Krone said. In 1943, with citrus fruits, they contributed 29 per cent of the total vitamin value brought into the average American kitchen. They also are an economical source of vitamin C, since they are neither costly nor difficult to grow or can.

To insure the greatest vitamin C value, Krone recommends that tomatoes be allowed to ripen on the vine. Thus matured, they will have a larger vitamin C content than if picked green and allowed to ripen on a shelf or window sill. Summer-grown tomatoes have considerably higher amounts of vitamin C than those available on winter markets.

Crop Conditions Reported Good

Michigan's winter wheat crop continues in excellent condition. With an acreage 15 percent above the 10-year average and the best crop outlook in 12 years, the indicated production of 22,090,000 bushels in 35 percent above average and nearly double last year's production.

The condition of the rye crop is also above average. The estimated 1944 production of 1,120,000 bushels is 24 percent below the 10-year average.

Unfavorable weather at planting time prevented many farmers from planting as many acres of oats and barley as intended. The supply of these feed grains will be short on many Michigan farms for the coming year as a result of two short crop years in succession. With higher yields in prospect than a year ago, the State's production of oats and barley is expected to be much greater than in 1943, but somewhat below average.

The State's hay and pasture crops show the highest June 1 condition since 1922. This excellent supply of forage crops is invaluable to Michigan's dairy and livestock farms since the supply of feed grain is exhausted or very low on many farms.

Production per cow milked was identical the same as on June 1, 1943, but with an increase in the number of cows milked, the total output was about 5 percent greater than a year ago. The total milk production for the month of May is estimated at 539,000,000 pounds, slightly under the 544,300,000 pounds produced in May last year.

A total of 199 million eggs were produced on Michigan farms during the month of May as compared with 176 millions for the same month last year.

How To Get Sugar For Canning

There seems to be a lot of confusion about how special rations of canning sugar will be issued. As a matter of fact, the Plymouth War Price and Rationing Board said this week that there is so much confusion that patrons of the board make mistakes while they are talking to the ration clerks.

But inasmuch of the issuance of canning sugar will be done through the mails, here are the unadulterated facts:

First, on June 16, the regular sugar ration stamp No. 32 becomes valid. That is good for the regular five pounds of sugar that you get on every regular-sugar stamp.

Now, for canning sugar, the patron is entitled to twenty pounds for each No. 37 "spare". This is NOT the sugar stamp No. 37, but the spare stamp No. 37. That is important, and where the greatest confusion lies.

While the stamp is worth twenty pounds of sugar for canning purposes, only half of that amount will be issued prior to August first. Then, after August first, the patron may apply to the ration board for the remainder of the sugar ration. The ration board has a right to inquire to the use made of the original ten pounds of sugar before granting the second half.

It's not as complicated as it sounds, and it is important to conserve all sugar as possible.

IT'S PATRIOTIC THESE DAYS TO Conserve GAS

... So that War Plants who are Cooking with Gas will have All of this Vital Fuel they need!

Today Gas is on the front production line helping to make guns, tanks, planes and ammunition. Shells alone require a number of heat processing operations in their manufacture and they are "cooked" with the same fuel you use in your home for cooking.

GAS IS AN IMPORTANT WAR FUEL. DO NOT WASTE IT IN YOUR HOME! Remember, when you save gas you keep war plants humming for Victory.

Many of the improvements in design and efficiency of tomorrow's Gas home appliances will be the direct results of the research and development which have taken place during these trying times.

Modern Gas service after the war will make work easier, your home more cheerful, and life more enjoyable.

"We will win the European War in '44 if every man and woman will do his or her full duty."

—General Dwight D. Eisenhower at a Press Conference

THERE is no question about our men on the fighting fronts doing their full duty. And there can be no question about those of us here at home. In this moment of invasion, the effort is ALL OUT. That means backing our armies with everything we have. Ask yourself this question: If victory or defeat hinged on MY contribution, how many war bonds would I buy?

Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

STAFF SERGEANT EARL WILSON PAYS TRIBUTE TO HAROLD LEACH.

It is a fine tribute that Staff Sgt. Earl H. Wilson, located somewhere many thousands of miles away from Plymouth, writes in a letter to "Our Boys" page about Harold F. Leach, a Plymouth lad reported missing in action somewhere in the Pacific. Earl's letter is published in full, as follows: "Another opportunity in which to write my many thanks for your grand efforts of supplying me with the Plymouth Mail and to tell you how much we, out here, appreciate the grand job of morale building you are doing at home.

"I have a much greater reason for writing this time, something that strikes 'close to home.' It is sort of a tribute to a man we all know. A man who was not outstanding in what he did but rather in the way he did it. A man who made a name for himself in High School not only on the playing field but in the classroom. A whole hearted tribute to a man who played hard to win but played fair and who died just as he had lived, fighting for what he believed was right, giving everything and not asking anything in return. I know all this because he was my cousin Harold F. Leach, U. S. Navy."

"Words cannot express a loss that is so heartfelt. He was much closer to me than a cousin. He was more like a brother for we were raised practically together, played together, and came through school together. We played football on the same team, thus inspiring this little tribute in his honor:—

Dear Lord I ain't one much for prayin' But I hope you'll understand When I ask you to look up a feller Who's there in your "Promised Land." I know Lord that he's up there Probably within your reach. A man you need on your "All Star Team" His name? It is Harold Leach. He used to play on another team Back at old Plymouth High I know he's good, 'cause I played on his team. And there wasn't a better guy. Many's the time when we were behind The coach would give us a speech: "Go out there men, and fight to win." And "Give the ball to Leach." He's pulled us out from many a spot. And won for the "white and blue" And I'm sure Dear Lord, if you give him a chance. He'll do the same for you. And if you get behind with seconds to play And winning seems 'vay out of reach Please, Dear Lord, just give him a chance. And "Give the ball to Leach." Amen!

NEARING COMPLETION OF TRAINING PERIOD

Second Lieut. Charles E. Saylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Saylor of 819 North Mill street, is a member of the third class in the School for Medical Administrative Corps officers at Camp Barkley, Texas. The class is now nearing completion of its special work. In training, the officers are instructed particularly in regard to tactical problems of medical evacuation in combat and with duties in front-line battalion aid stations. The overall aim of the school is to completely familiarize the officers with all phases of work in the regimental medical detachment—which is the medical unit attached to all branches of the Army.

HERE'S A LETTER OF INSPIRATION FROM MARINER MARIAN SHINN.

Miss Marian Shinn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Shinn of Union street who recently joined up with the fighting Marines, has written a letter teeming with information and inspiration pertaining to the branch of the military services in which she enlisted sometime ago.

Mariner Marian was located at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, when the letter was written. Since then she has been transferred to Norman, Oklahoma. "It is an experience I wouldn't want to miss. I wish I could have done something like this some years ago," she wrote. "There's a sort of satisfaction in taking anything they throw at you, and being ready for more. There are times when you get sore and disgruntled. There are times when you wonder if you were crazy when you joined. There are times when every muscle in your body aches, and you feel you can't possibly take another step and an N. C. O. yells 'On the double! And you do it!'"

"But there are times when you wouldn't miss it for anything. You watch a senior platoon drilling and they're really good. They have as much grace and precision as any chorus line. When they have the band out for Saturday review and the girls, rank after rank, march by, you are so proud to be a part of it, you nearly burst. When you stand at attention to see the colors go up in the morning and again in the evening—you wouldn't miss it for a million dollars.

"The best decision I ever made in my life was when I decided to join up with the Marines."

SERG. WM. RUSSELL AWARDED AIR MEDAL FOR MERITORIOUS ACHIEVEMENT.

From the 15th Army air force headquarters located somewhere in Italy comes the news that Staff Sergeant William J. Russell, 21, of 8880 Hix road, Plymouth, a nose turret gunner on a Liberator bomber of the 15th air force, has been awarded the air medal according to 15th Army air force headquarters.

This honor was bestowed upon him "for meritorious achievement in aerial flight while participating in sustained operational activities against the enemy." Sergeant Russell is stationed in Italy with a 15th AAF Liberator bombardment group which has been bombing German held targets in Austria, Rumania, Hungary and northern Italy.

Prior to entering the armed forces, Sergeant Russell was employed by the Kelsey - Hayes wheel company of Plymouth. He has been serving with the air force since December 31, 1942.

STRIKERS HAVE "BLOOD ON THEIR HANDS" WRITES SOLDIER.

Taking advantage of a few days being spent at a rest camp somewhere in Italy, Sgt. Glenn Ford of a U. S. bombing squadron, says he is trying to catch up on some long delayed correspondence. In a letter to "Our Boys" page, he tells of reading dispatches about the numerous strikes that have been taking place in this country, and speaks his mind freely as to what ought to happen to those who delay war production.

"Every person who causes delay of any kind in any part of our war production or war program, has blood on his hands, because some boy will die as a result of these strikes. I know because I have seen it with my own eyes," says Sgt. Ford.

"I can't tell you where I am or what I have been doing, except to say that I have seen a lot of this part of the world from up in the clouds. I fly as a ball turret gunner. (Editor's note — this is one of the most dangerous spots in a bomber.) I have had some good views of enemy land and I have seen many bombs hit the earth just as you see them in the news reels. I assure you that our air force has been doing a swell job. But we do not want any of this hero stuff. All we want is get this job over and return to our homes and the land of peace. That's why we cannot understand this striking business. I suppose you have been reading in the papers what the 15th air force has been doing, so I will not tell you about it. Give my regards to all of my old friends back in Plymouth."

And since the return of Sgt. Ford to active duty after his days in rest camp, the 15th has chased the Nazis out of Rome.

KEEPS MACHINE GUNS HE ONCE HELPED MAKE NOW ON FIRING LINE

From the Eighth AAF fighter station somewhere in England comes an interesting news item pertaining to a Plymouth lad. It says: "Sergeant William J. Amrhein, from Plymouth, helped make the .50 caliber aircraft machine gun carried by P-51 Mustangs in his squadron, before entering the Army, and now he is an armorer in a fighter squadron somewhere in England," repairing and maintaining them.

Prior to entering the service Sergeant Amrhein was employed by the Kelsey - Hayes Wheel Company in Plymouth, for one year, as a machine operator, turning out parts for aircraft machine guns. Amrhein is now responsible for the condition of the armament on one particular plane in his Mustang fighter squadron.

"Sergeant Amrhein is also a full fledged aerial gunner, graduating the three months course at Fort Myers, Florida, Aerial Gunnery School. Amrhein was sent there to get a better understanding of the reaction of the guns while fired from the air, and this training has come in handy many times while repairing guns.

Inducted in the army in November of 1942 at Camp Custer, Michigan, Sergeant Amrhein received his basic training at Miami Beach, Florida. He attended armament school at Lansing, Michigan for three months, before attending aerial gunnery school. He embarked for England last July. "Twenty years old, Sergeant Amrhein is single and lives with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Isabelle Taylor at 353 Starkweather avenue. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Amrhein, reside at Wayne, Michigan. He is a graduate of South Lyon High School, at South Lyon, and plans to do farm work after the war."

NATIVES OF NEW GUINEA LIKE AMERICAN PIPES.

Corporal LeRoy Cripes in a letter from somewhere in New Guinea asks that The Plymouth Mail extend to all of his old Plymouth friends his best wishes. "Tell them I wish them the best of luck and tell them to keep up the good work," wrote Corporal Cripes.

"It's hard to tell you how much we enjoy The Plymouth Mail, especially when we are so far away from home. We are glad to read about the other boys, where they are and what they are doing. I am now located somewhere in New Guinea. It gets pretty hot here at times and we have lots of rain. I have hopes of seeing some other Plymouth boy over here, but so far have not had that good luck.

"We do see lots of natives! They like to smoke the pipes the boys have. They will trade almost anything for one. It is interesting over here, but it's not like good old Plymouth."

HAROLD N. CRISP JR. WORKS FOR COMMISSION

Aviation Cadet Harold N. Crisp, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Crisp of 9917 Cranston avenue in Rosedale Gardens has begun an 18 week training period at the Childress Army Air Field in the Texas Panhandle to earn his wings as a bombardier-navigator. Flying on day and night practice missions under the tutelage of expert instructors, Cadet Crisp will become immediately acquainted with America's most deadly military weapon, the bombsight. Upon graduation as a second lieutenant or flight officer, he will be ready to join one of the AAF's crack precision bombing teams in the battleships of the world.

CHARLES A. CUSTER AT GREAT LAKES

Charles A. Custer, the 18 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Custer of 1112 Hartsough, is now receiving his indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois. When this work has been finished, he will be given a brief leave to visit his mother and old friends in Plymouth before future assignment.

Mrs. Ada Murray Honor Name Of At Conference James Schmitz

Mrs. Ada Murray, Librarian of the Plymouth Branch of the Wayne County Library is attending a library workshop at Seenic Lodge, Muskegon, June 12 to 16.

Community contacts of the public library, effective exhibit techniques, storytelling, puppets, and children's work are being featured at this workshop, the second in the 1944 summer series sponsored jointly by the Michigan State Board of Libraries and the State Board of Control for Vocational Education. A recreation program includes group singing, folk games and group dances. Seventy-five librarians and trustees from southern and western Michigan have registered.

Lecturers and consultants for the Seenic Lodge workshop include Mrs. Loretta D. Fyan, Miss Helen M. Clark, Mrs. Lodisca P. Alway, Miss Constance Bement, Miss Dorothy Hansen, and Miss Ann Wheeler, from the Michigan State Library; Miss Helen L. Warner and Miss Marie Bohanna of Battle Creek; Mrs. Florence Dearing of Hartland; Miss Charlotte C. Squires of Wayne County Library, Lincoln Park; and Mrs. Mary Kenan of Muskegon County Library.

Representatives from organizations, newspapers, and libraries in the communities near each camp will join the group Thursday afternoon to discuss and demonstrate how the library can be made more attractive to its patrons. In this group will be: Mr. Paul Elliott, City Editor of the Muskegon Chronicle; Judge Stephan Cunk of the Muskegon County Probate Court; Mrs. James C. Parker, State President of the Congress of Parents and Teachers, Grand Rapids; Mr. James Ten Brink, Commissioner of the Muskegon County Schools; Miss Grace Hamilton, Publisher of the Cedar Springs Clipper; and Senator Don VanderWerp, Editor of the Fremont Times-Indicator.

Navy Makes A Baker Out Of An Expert Concrete Mixer

From expert cement mixer operator to a baker in Uncle Sam's navy, seems to be the course of events in the youthful life of Harold J. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobs of Virginia street.

Previous to joining up with the navy, Sailor Jacobs was a most valuable assistant of his father in the manufacturing of concrete burial vaults.

While the young man has been in the Pacific and south Pacific area for well over a year and has had various assignments in the navy, he has just written his parents that the navy plans to make a baker out of him.

And who knows but what Concrete Mixer Jacobs will return to Plymouth after the war the best pie mixer that trod the slippery decks of a tossing battleship?

A number of piano pupils from the class of Hanna Strasen will take part in a piano recital this Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock in the Penniman-Allen Theatre. Miss Strasen cordially invites anyone interested in piano music to attend. Children must be accompanied by an adult.

Three new board members were elected to the University of Michigan club, at their picnic held June eighth, in Riverside park. They were Miss Gertrude Fiegle, George Chute, and Rex Albrecht. Retiring members of the board are Paul Harsha, Mrs. John Perkins and Mrs. Thomas Bateman. Mrs. Bateman was elected secretary-treasurer of the ninth district.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reeves, and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Smith entertained at a picnic dinner, Saturday night, held in the Smith home on Sheridan street. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Dykhouse, Dr. and Mrs. Carl January, Mrs. Florence Webber, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brake.

Mrs. Max Moon and Mrs. William McAllister were co-hostesses at a shower given Tuesday night in the latter's home, in honor of Miss Hanna Strasen, a bride elect. The seventeen guests were members of the choir of the Presbyterian church, while Miss Strasen was organist and choir director. Pink rosebud favors and a cake decorated with bride and groom figurines, carried out the bridal motif. Miss Strasen was presented with a gift.

NOW FOR THE BIG PUSH!

IT'S "ZERO HOUR" ON THE HOME FRONT, TOO!

THIS IS IT! This is the big push you have been waiting for! This is the "zero hour"! Our fighting men are ready—ready to strike anywhere... anytime... anyhow... BAR NOTHING!

What about you? Are you ready to match this spirit with your War Bond purchases? Every bond you buy is so much more power behind the big push... the push that will send Hitler and Tojo into oblivion.

Get behind the invasion drive! Invest MORE than ever before! Double... triple... what you've done in any previous drive. The job is big—you've got to dig!

5th WAR LOAN

Back the Attack! - BUY MORE THAN BEFORE

WILSON DAIRY
 Howard Sharpley, Proprietor

This is an official U. S. Treasury advertisement—prepared under auspices of Treasury Department and War Advertising Council

I DIED TODAY...
 WHAT DID YOU DO?

IF what you did for the war effort today was an easy thing to do, it isn't enough. We cannot hope to give as much as the boy who gives his life... but we can do our utmost!

For instance, if you haven't yet found yourself scheming and figuring on a way to buy extra War Bonds, it's a good sign you aren't buying enough!

When your neighbor calls on you during the 5th War Loan to ask if you'll increase your purchases, say "Yes"... even if it takes a lot of scheming and figuring afterward to pay for them.

That's the way our men are doing their part... in the Pacific, in Italy, in England. Ordered to attack, they do not first consult themselves to determine whether it's safe or convenient or comfortable. They're thinking of you at home. To protect you, they attack first... and figure out how to do it as they go.

Uncle Sam needs your dollars to finance this war and he needs them now! Not just the dollars you can spare but every dollar you can earn that you don't absolutely need for food, shelter, clothing and the operation of the farm.

War Bonds savings mean more to the average farmer or rancher than to almost anyone else. For they form a financial reserve indispensable for the profitable and efficient operation of his business. War Bonds are safe, they pay a good return, they're easy to buy. When they mature, they mean new machinery and equipment, new conveniences for the house, money for the children's schooling, funds for retirement.

The next time you pick up your paper or listen to the radio news, have a conference with yourself. "Am I doing as much as I can to help win this war? Am I matching what I can do with what the boys are doing over there? Am I investing every possible dollar in War Bonds today to make my future and my family's future more secure?"

Most of us haven't yet begun to do our best. Uncle Sam needs it now! BUY MORE THAN BEFORE in the 5th War Loan!

5 REASONS FOR INCREASING YOUR WAR BOND PURCHASES

1. The tempo of this war is hitting its highest point. Government expenditures for war are at the peak. MORE MONEY IS NEEDED NOW!
2. In proportion to WHO HAS THE MOST MONEY, individuals are not buying their share of War Bonds. America must correct this situation.
3. War Bonds provide the farmer and rancher with the financial reserve he must have to survive the ordinary ups and downs of farming as a business.
4. Money will be needed urgently at a future date to replace and repair farm equipment, machinery, and buildings. War Bonds will provide it.
5. War Bonds are the safest investment in the world, return a good rate of interest, are easy and convenient to buy... from bank, post office, rural mail carrier or Production Credit Association.

Seeking Players For Summer Band

Time was, before the automobile, the movies, the night clubs and airplanes, that one of the big events of the week in Plymouth or any other small town, was the weekly band concert.

As a matter of fact, many a man points with pride to the time when he played in the silver cornet band, marched in parades on decoration day and Fourth of July, and had a good time at "band practice" every Monday night.

These same people view with alarm the fact that the old fashioned band concert had disappeared.

But now, there is a chance for them to return.

As a matter of fact, what with rationing and the war and a few other things, the weekly band concert bids fair to become a fixture in the community again.

At least Clarence Luchtman is hopeful.

He will have charge of the music end of the summer recreation program, which is being financed by the city.

He will use his high school band as a nucleus for a big band, but he definitely would like to have a few oldsters dig their instruments out of the attic and participate.

Trumpet lips may be a bit flabby, but they will harden up again. The old trombone may need a bit of grease and oil, and the E flat may not be as shiny as they used to be, but they will all help.

The first practice will be next Tuesday evening, and anyone, old or young, with any kind of an instrument is invited to the high school building to rehearse.

Several persons have been invited especially because their names and talents were known. Others are unknown, but they are invited and welcome just the same.

Bible School Opens June 19

The Rev. Henry J. Walsh, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and the Rev. C. Leonard Sanders, pastor of the First Methodist church, announced this week that the annual daily vacation Bible school will be held this year as in other years.

The school will be held at the Methodist church beginning June 19 and extending until June 30. A special achievement program will be held in the basement rooms of the Presbyterian church on the evening of June 30.

Mr. Walsh will be in charge of the school for the first week, and Mr. Sanders will take over for the second week.

There will be four departments in the school, divided according to age groups.

The beginners department will be under the supervision of Miss Florence Stader; the primary department will be headed by Mrs. Jennie Cramer; the juniors will be headed by Mrs. Don Packard, and the Junior High department leader has not been selected.

Worship, Bible study, handwork, play and movies will be included in the activities of the youngsters, who will attend the school from 9 o'clock in the morning until 11:30.

More than 175 youngsters attended the school last year, and more are expected this year.

In New York On Invasion Day

Attorney and Mrs. Perry Richwine have returned from New York city where Mr. Richwine went on legal business recently. During their stay in New York city, the American invasion of Europe took place.

"All of the big stores in the downtown section and many offices closed on that day. On the floors were posted small typewritten notices that the business places had closed for the day in reference to the memory of those who would lose their lives in the invasion. There was anything but a joyful spirit in that great city. Every one seemingly had a feeling as to the seriousness of the military move that had been made," stated Attorney Richwine upon his return to the city. They were in New York city for over a week.

Nine Cousins In Armed Forces

It is not often that one family contributes nine members to the armed forces of the nation, but surprising as it may seem, Mrs. John J. Scheel of Bradner road, has nine cousins in the armed services of the nation.

They are all residents of Ecorse. Recently the newspaper of that city published the following interesting article pertaining to these cousins of Mrs. Scheel:

A letter from Sergeant Pat Trondle, son of Mr. John Trondle, 3989 Eighth Street, this week, from somewhere in Italy tells of a happy visit he had had with his brother, Dannie. "It was the happiest day of my life," wrote Pat. Now Pat is wondering how long it will be before he will see the other members of his family in that war area.

There are at the present time nine members of the immediate Trondle family in the armed services. Some are still in this country while others are scattered throughout the world.

Besides Pat who has been overseas for over two years there is Daniel Trondle who landed in Italy about three months ago.

Tom Trondle is in the Seabees and left this country about seven weeks ago. So far his father has not heard from him and don't know whether he is in the Pacific or European theatres of war.

Lieutenant Ed Trondle has a temporary discharge and is at home. Ed, after spending fifteen years in the army reenlisted with the outbreak of the present war and was an instructor in the gangster outfit. Private Jack Trondle is in the aviation corps and Charles Trondle, 1/c P. O. has been stationed at the Grosse Ile Naval Base for over two years.

Joseph Trondle has been in the navy for two years and at present is on convoy duty.

There are two son-in-laws also in the service. Pvt. Alex Samu is in training in the tank corps and Bud Kidner left Monday for training at Great Lakes Naval Training station.

No wonder John Trondle is proud of his fighting family. There are still other brothers who might yet join the armed forces. As far as is known the Trondle family has the greatest number of fighting men in service of any Ecorse family.

They don't make service pins with nine stars on them so the father wears three pins, with three stars on each.

School Year Hit By Illness

The school year just closed was one of the worst for contagious diseases in the history of the school.

Mrs. Mary Strasen, school nurse, reported that from early last fall until the close of the school year, there was a constant procession of absenteeism due to the diseases.

Scarlet fever was the worst in history in the school, she said. Few of the cases were of the virulent type, and in many cases, it was parents, rather than children which suffered, but the children were under quarantine just the same.

There also was a number of cases of mumps, but this was not a meager year. Few such cases were reported.

There were a number of influenza cases during the Christmas season, but after those attacks levelled off there were fewer colds than usual.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., June 16—Readers of this column are already asking me what effect the Invasion will have on the prices of stocks, bonds, commodities, and real estate. Frankly, it is too early to tell what will happen. The Allies appear headed for Paris and this city may be captured by the time this gets into print. The early fall of Paris is essential to the Allied psychological phase. It may be the signal for the underground Continental army, estimated at 12,000,000, to begin action.

The Allies must also secure, almost immediately, a number of good ports. Undoubtedly these will be LeHavre and Cherbourg and Brest. These three ports have excellent facilities and were used by the Americans in World War I. Hence, our men are familiar with them. After certain beachheads are secured, it will be necessary to spend many weeks in getting supplies and men ashore before the real Berlin drive can be started. Of course, the Germans may be willing to easily give us Paris with the idea of saving their strength for resisting Allied occupation of the German Fatherland.

In my talks with experts since the Invasion started, there seems to be two lines of thought which are quite different. Some feel that early Allied successes will bring about a "peace scare". This would be especially bearish on railroads, heavy industry and other war stocks; yet some market analysts are taking the opposite position. They are inclined to be bullish on everything whether the Allies are initially successful or meet with heavy reverses.

It may be that the pattern of this great invasion will follow that set in the Italian Campaign. There it took months to land sufficient supplies and men, but once these were ashore progress has been most rapid. There will necessarily be many trial and error sorties in the invasion plan. The markets took the initial news in their stride and in an optimistic manner. Naturally, the actual invasion was discounted, but there was no way for the stock market to discount whether the initial move would be successful or not. Now, that we are over the first hurdle, the market must digest the first news, prepare itself for unforeseen contingencies and await the success or failure of the trial and error moves mentioned above. It will be some weeks before sufficient information is at hand to make any real forecasts.

Without any qualifications, I can safely impress upon my readers at this time that prices of stocks, bonds, commodities or real estate will depend upon whether there is an excess of sellers or an excess of buyers. Irrespective of theories, or irrespective of precedents, and irrespective of wars, panics, politics or administration controls, when there are more buyers for stocks, bonds, commodities and real estate than there are sellers, then prices will go up; conversely, when there are more sellers than buyers prices go down.

There is, of course, one other factor in this situation, namely, the position which results when buyers and sellers are about equal. In such a case, neither invasion nor any other factor would materially affect prices. Under this condition, however, the tendency would be for certain selected stocks to go forward. Bonds would remain about as they are. Commodities would decline and productive real estate would continue its upward move. The demand for residential real estate, I should also expect to continue in volume. Personally, for the time being, I am not inclined to see any great change one way or the other, although I continue extremely optimistic on the long-pull outlook for all except high-grade bonds.

... I'm worth more to my boss now that he's installed a SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

Because Schultz Electric Coolers cool they insure my boss, the full butter fat test I have worked so hard to produce. Schultz Coolers also halt bacteria growth and make my milk more salable.

The Schultz principle is that of floating ice and top cooling without the need of a circulating pump of any kind. The coils automatically manufacture the ice on the smooth inside surface of the cabinet walls. This allows the ice to release and float on top of the water where it is needed.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Class day exercises will take place at the high school auditorium, Wednesday evening, June 18, at eight o'clock. The following program will be given: March, Gladys Schrader; President's address, Donald Hanchett; Class History, Vena Willett; Solo, Elsie Hartung; Accompanist, Fern Woll-gast; Reading, Millie Palmer; Gift-atory, Howard Kirk; Essay, Nellie Blackmore; Class Song, Written by Elsie Hartung; Reading, Ferne Kensler; Prophecy, Blanch Hut-ton; Class Poem, Mildred Bennett; Music, Asa Wilson, Harry Mills, Harry Gebhardt; Reading, Ger-trude Hillmer; Class Will, Doro-thea Livrance; Class Jester, Henry Root; Costume Song, Elsie Har-tung, Ivah Huston, Edith Peck, Vena Willett, Ida Wolf, Lorena Terry, Ivah Eckles, Edna Mathers, Dorothea Livrance, Mable Root, Mary Peterhans.

Miss Sarah Gayde entertained several young ladies at her home on Mill street, last Tuesday evening, the occasion being a kitchen shower in honor of Miss Edna Fisher, who was the recipient of several useful gifts. Covers were laid for twelve.

Alfred Lyndon of Ann Arbor will take a picture of all Red Cross workers who have given their time and effort for the past two years to the great cause.

The village commission are con-sidering plans for converting the present bandstand in Kellogg Park into a combined bandstand and public convenience station. Little Chase Willett, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Willett, accident-ally slipped and fell from one of the apparatuses on the new play-ground, back of the school and fractured his arm just above the wrist.

Mrs. Mark Joy of Newburg has returned from Battle Creek, where she was a delegate to the W. C. T. U. convention. The delegates visited the Kellogg food factory and were shown through the dif-ferent departments.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam McKinney gave a reception Saturday evening, in honor of their son Bert, who has just returned from over-seas.

Bud Shafer of Saginaw has rented Ray Honsinger's house on the McKinney road.

Restrain that impulse to "adopt" the fawn or young racoon, or other young animal or bird of Michi-gan's wild lands that is apparently abandoned, the conservation de-partment pleads. The chances are that the mother is not far away.

VICTORY'S SONS

An abandoned German transport plane was burning on an American landing strip in Tunisia. It threatened to set fire to temporary buildings housing the Spitfires. Lt. Col. Graham W. West, a famous fighter commander, ordered all men but a few volunteers back to a safe distance, then he cautiously advanced with his little party, hoping to quench the flames with hand extinguishers. Just as they got close enough to begin work, a terrific explosion hurled them to the ground. A bomb in the wreckage had been detonated by the fierce heat. Col. West was carried away, seriously wounded. When he regained consciousness in the field hospital, he discovered that his legs had been amputated. Nothing daunted, he remarked to an attendant, "If that Englishman could do it without legs, so can I." He was referring to Squadron Leader Douglas Bader of the Royal Air Force. Col. West then asked to be taken to his tent on the field, but this had to be refused. He has since returned to active duty, getting about on artificial legs.
