

The Army Air Communications System now operates 585,000 miles of wire and radio circuits on the military airways of the United Nations. The beams keep airmen from getting lost over any ocean or continent and the communication circuits keep them in constant contact with ground stations so they can report location and receive instructions. Incidentally, these two-way conversations number about 48,000 every 24 hours.

Fresh vegetables should be cooked quickly and only until tender, according to the Michigan Department of Health. Vitamins and minerals wash out in cooking so it's wise to cook vegetables in as little water as possible and use the vitamin-rich in gravies, sauces and soups.

Usual Fishing Stories Told

Some had the usual fisherman's luck—others came back with some of the biggest "whoppers" you ever heard.

That's the report of the opening of the fishing season in this part of the state last Sunday.

If there was a row boat on any lake around Plymouth that was not in use last Sunday, it must have been at the bottom of the lake.

Seemingly every one who could get to a lake was out fishing. Plymouth sportsmen say they never saw so many boats in use.

Some bass catches were reported, but no big ones. Blue gills bit fairly well.

Detroit fishermen lined the banks of Phoenix lake, where a fish is as rare a sight as a storm in June. Some were gangling their lines in the water before sunrise, so anxious were they to try and catch some fish.

Most local fishermen who know where to go and have their favorite spots, came home with fair catches.

Deaths in Michigan were down slightly for the first three months of 1944. The Michigan Department of Health reports 14,830 deaths against 15,011 for the same period last year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES. "God" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 2.

The Golden Text (II Samuel 22:32-33) is: "Who is God, save the Lord? and who is a rock, save our God? God is my strength and power: and he maketh my way perfect."

Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 62: 7, 11): "In God is my salvation and my glory: the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God. God hath spoken once, twice have I heard this: that power belongeth unto God."

Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (288): "There is no power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Ann Arbor Trail at Elizabeth St. Lynn B. Stout, Pastor. Greetings these warm weary war days. Yes, it is time that the summer months are upon us, but we still believe that you will be better in spirit, soul and body to find your self in the house of the Lord on the Lord's day than the neglecting of it. ## Kiwanis Hears About Russia

Miller Ross acted as program chairman of the Tuesday evening meeting of the Kiwanis club, presenting as speaker of the evening Fred VanDyke of the Ford Motor company. Mr. VanDyke gave the Kiwanians some interesting data about Russia, where he served as one of the engineers sent to that country by Henry Ford.

He stated that the Russians have great respect for the Americans and like to do business with this country.

It was reported at the meeting by Roy Crites, chairman of the war bond committee, that the Kiwanis club is nearing the 100 percent mark in the purchase of additional war bonds in the present 5th war bond loan drive. He stated that he believed by the end of another week, there would be a full 100 percent purchase.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS
Brownie Troop No. 9 will continue their "Something for others" service program. As their Memorial Day tribute to the soldiers at Percy Jones hospital they packed three large boxes of homemade candy and cookies, gum, candy bars, cigarettes and playing cards and sent them on Saturday, May 27. Several of the girls have received personal letters from the soldiers and the troop received a lovely thank-you letter from the Red Cross director.

The fall program is being planned, and many new things are in store for this enthusiastic group. There will be several surprises for our little friends at the Northville Sanitarium.

Miss Sarah Gayde, the bride's maid of 25 years ago was present. Rev. Charles Strasen, the officiating clergyman was unable to attend. Among the guests were: Mrs. Campbell's father Henry J. Fisher and Mrs. Fisher; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Fisher of Utica; Mrs. Vina Wingard of Wayne and Mrs. Lena Rine of Detroit; J. Softball Backstops Are Being Erected

The city recreation department is erecting new softball backstops at the playgrounds on Forest and Farmer streets. This should be an inducement for boys and girls in those areas to want to play the game. John McLachlan and Paul Simmons of the Bell Telephone Co. have donated some old poles which will be cut to serve as the sides of sand boxes. The first sandbox will be placed at the Hamilton Street playground. John Sznasack and Chris Wittwer co-directors of the playgrounds have felt that there is a need for this type of activity at each playground. In some cases the children have already made attempts to create sand piles. With the city cooperating on this playground movement, it certainly looks as though the recreation department would have a profitable summer.

... I'm worth more to my boss now that he's installed a SCHULTZ Electric Milk Cooler

Because Schultz Electric Coolers quickly cool my milk—and keep it cool they insure my boss, the full butter fat test I have worked so hard to produce. Schultz Coolers also halt bacteria growth and make my milk more salable.

The Schultz principle is that of floating ice and top cooling without the need of a circulating pump of any kind. The coils automatically manufacture the ice on the smooth inside surface of the cabinet's walls. This allows the ice to release and float on top of the water where it is needed. Schultz coolers effectively reduce labor costs; keep the nights milk under 40°. Many users say, "I wouldn't sell my Schultz Cooler for $1,000.00 if I couldn't get another." Available in sizes to cool from 2 to 12 cans at one time. Buy the cooler to fit the job—not the milk house. Can be very easily installed in the average milk house. Easy payment plan can be arranged. See us today for further facts and prices.

Grow Rabbits? Then Read This

Plymouth's score upon score of rabbit growers will be interested in some advice which has just been issued by C. G. Card, poultry and rabbit expert of the Michigan State college.

When those backyard domestic rabbits reach three pounds live weight, they've already made their cheapest gains and ought to be dressed and eaten before they become costly pets, he says, after studying the success of suburban families and farmers in producing rabbits to ease the meat situation.

At three months of age, the cost of producing rabbit meat has become twice per pound the cost several weeks earlier. Young rabbits make the most economical growth, save feed and feed costs. Thousands of suburban families in Michigan and hundreds of farmers have been eating and marketing rabbit meat since price and scarcity of usual meat supplies became a problem.

A medium-size white breed makes the best meat animal, Professor Card reports. Unless the rabbit grower has experience or obtains training in the handling of pelts, the fur value of rabbits usually is not a factor in backyard rabbit production.

For feed, a mixture of 100 pounds should contain 33 pounds whole oats ground fine, 20 pounds wheat bran, 10 pounds each of ground corn meal, ground barley, and linseed oil meal, 15 pounds dried skim milk, one pound steamed bone meal, a half pound each of charcoal and cod liver oil, and a quarter pound salt. In wet mash, rabbits should get once a day an amount they will clean up in 15 to 30 minutes.

Fed a wet mash, the rabbits need no extra water. Fed dry, rabbits will need drinking water. They also should have alfalfa or good clover hay. Salt should be available at all times.

Residents of Salem will dedicate their new soldier honor roll Sunday afternoon. The ceremonies will be held at the town hall at 2 p. m., at which time a brief program will be conducted, featuring an address by Rev. Jay Halliday of Dearborn who was a former preacher at Salem.

There are 105 names on the scroll which is mounted on a large wooden frame. Residents of Plymouth and nearby areas are invited to attend the ceremony.

City Tax Bills Nearly Ready

City tax bills to the property owners of Plymouth will be mailed almost on time, stated City Manager Elliott this week, as the result of overtime work on the part of City Treasurer Charles Garlett and other city employees.

The city manager's office has been taking care of the work of the city treasurer's office so that Mr. Garlett and his force could work on the bills in an upstairs office where they would not be disturbed.

The extra work and delay is due to the squabble over an effort to reduce the $600 salary of the city attorney to $450.

Bible School Ends This Eve

One of the most successful vacation Bible schools for children ever conducted in this city will come to an end for the present summer this Friday evening in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Leonard T. Sanders, pastor of the Methodist church, will present the children with their certificates for the good work that they have done during the past four weeks.

The attendance has averaged around 150 or more for the entire session, the biggest that the school has ever had.

Not only will the children be presented their certificates this evening, but there has been planned a display of their work. Parents, and all others interested, are invited to attend. It will take place in the basement of the Presbyterian church.

Bow Your Heads

THIS is Invasion! Now in the hearts, brains and muscles of our American Youth lies the future of our country.

Bow your heads. Pray with millions of mothers the country over, as their hearts reach out over the seas, each one seeking out her boy, to protect him with the shield of her love.

Believe that in this world there is definite strength in decency and honor. Believe that in our devotion there is moral force. Believe that our will to victory will aid that victory.

Seek and ye shall find!

Let us seek added strength and fortitude for our men in our own sacrifice and devotion.

Let us focus every thought, every action, and every prayer on the boys fighting for us.

And, while each one bends to his task with ever-growing fervor and energy, let us adopt a common symbol as our faith in Victory.

Let that Symbol be War Bonds. Let us pour our money in a gigantic flood of goodwill toward our sons and brothers, as a spiritual shield for them.

This is the Invasion. The lives of our boys are at stake. Let them see that the Soul of America is with them.

Let it not be too late... not next month, next week, or tomorrow, but today... now.

LIDGARD'S

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I can't think of anything else you'll need for your Victory garden, Judge... you've got pretty nearly everything." "I think so, too, John. Ever get your asparagus patch going?" "I gave that up last year, Judge. Tried it six years in a row with no luck. Just haven't got the right soil, I guess?" "Well, I think you're wise, John... no use keeping on trying things you know won't work. Just like prohibition. State-wide prohibition has been tried in this country seventy-two times in the last ninety years. It has been adopted forty-seven times in the past thirty-three years and discarded everywhere except in three states. Same thing was tried in eight provinces in Canada and in Norway, Sweden, Finland and Russia but it was an admitted failure and universally abandoned. "The reason is prohibition does not prohibit. All you get is bootleg liquor instead of legal liquor, plus no end of crime and corruption."

How to Keep From Being Drowned

Here's some good advice for Plymouth residents who are planning on swimming or fishing trips over the Fourth—some good advice as to how to keep from drowning. Use no condition exceed the passenger capacity of the boat that is used. Do not use an unseaworthy boat. Do not go on the water when a storm is approaching or when the water is rough. Do not wear boots or other hampering clothing when in a boat. Do not purposely rock a boat or permit any horseplay by other boat occupants. If, unfortunately, a boat capsizes, stay with it. Secure a firm hand-hold and wait for help or drift ashore with the craft. If there are two persons in a boat that capsizes, they should hold hands across the bottom of the boat. Do not jump overboard to retrieve a lost oar without first dropping anchor; the boat may drift away faster than its occupants can swim. Never stand up in a boat to hoist anchor, change position or cast. Do not put a large motor on a small boat. Carry a life preserver or buoyant cushion in the boat.

Gets "Work Order" For Vacation

Rev. Leonard T. Sanders, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Plymouth, had an idea early this week that he was leaving Saturday for a brief vacation at his summer cabin at Harrisville on Lake Huron. Just as he had all of his vacation clothes packed in his grip along with a few books, there came a letter from the district superintendent requesting that he preach Sunday in three different communities up in the vacation land near his summer cottage. So Sunday morning he will hold services at the Hubbard Lake Methodist church, in the afternoon at Lincoln and in the evening at Ossineke. And the worst of it is, that the order prevails for all the time that Rev. Sanders is in the northlands, because the pastor who was assigned to these three churches has not been able to accept the appointment.

Editor Confesses About That Navy And Mom's Club Mistake

The linotype operator didn't do it. The printer didn't do it. And the proof-reader is as innocent as can be. Then who made the mistake? None other than your harried, worried and over-worked editor. HE'S GUILTY! He made the mistake! It was HE who wrote that the Mom's club had been doing something that the Navy Mother's club did. Confession being good for the soul—"Ye editor" confesses to it all. It was the fine, patriotic members of the Plymouth Navy Mother's club that made those 300 lap quilts for navy hospitals throughout the world last year. But what do we find—we find that many members of the busy group of American women who make up the Mom's club are also members of the Navy Mother's club. And right on top of that, we find, too, that many of the members of the Navy Mother's club are also members of the Mom's club. And we find, further, that members of both organizations are working night and day to do, all within their power to help the boys in the Army, Marines and the Navy, plus doing all they can to help win the war. Honestly—don't you think that under the circumstances the editor should be forgiven for this one slight error? At least one member of the Mom's club who is also a member of the Navy Mother's club thinks so—because well because that was a most delicious cherry pie! In one month this spring more than 29,700 emergency Red Cross home service messages were received from overseas requesting reports on home conditions, allowance allotments, information and furlough verifications.

Miss Fern Bower, who has been attending the University of Nebraska, was also a guest at the Hannah home recently. Miss Betty Snyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder of Nankin Mills who is in training in a military camp at Camp Roberts, California, surprised her parents by an unexpected visit last Tuesday. Miss Snyder has been in service for the past eight months, she will return to the Pacific coast after a brief visit at her home and with friends in this part of Wayne county. A picnic supper took place Sunday, June 18 in Riverside Park in honor of Alfred Gates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, who left for Fort Sheridan, Illinois, on June 21 to start his military training. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gates, and daughter, Peggy Ann; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gates of Detroit, Mrs. Albert Wayne, Mrs. John Sanocki of Ypsilanti, Miss Louise and Leona Sanocki of Ypsilanti, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Curtis of Wayne. Alfred received many useful gifts from those present.

Auxiliary is Selling Bonds

Are you a member of the American Legion? Do you belong to the Auxiliary? Or are you a friend of some of the members? Going to buy some war bonds? If so, and you would like to have the American Legion Auxiliary have credit for the sales, just see to it that you "see" Thelma Cushman, Ruby Terry, Edna Lawson or Ethel Holton within the next few days. They will be delighted to take your dollars and convert them into war bonds. Besides selling war bonds, members of the Legion Auxiliary have been busy in more ways than one recently. The Legion and the Auxiliary held a joint dinner on June 16, and the affair was reported a most pleasant one. Arvid Anderson displayed some of his motion pictures of the proposed Huron river drive. Guests also included Margaret Rusceak, a winner of the recent essay contest, and Robert Zielasko, a winner of the poppy poster contest. Lieut. Marvin Criger, who has been home on a leave from active service in the south Pacific, told of some of his aerial experiences. Ensign James Sexton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sexton, who was home on a brief leave, was a guest at the meeting. The Auxiliary announces that some of its hospital beds will be on display in the Blunk & Thatcher show windows during the next few days. While they are for use of the members, the community is also welcome to the use of them in case of necessity. The Auxiliary has also purchased two wheel chairs, one to be used in Plymouth and the other in Dearborn Veteran's hospital. Rehabilitation Committee chairman, Marie Ridley, was instructed to purchase new books to be donated to Camp Custer through the Veterans hospital at Grand Rapids. It is reported that 12 members have responded to the call for service in the clubmobile project. More members are needed. It is requested that the names be given to Mrs. Ruby Terry, 181 Union street before July 18.

Wild Life Cash Buys War Bonds

At the last meeting of the directors of the Western Wayne County Wild Life Association, it was voted to take $200 of its surplus funds and convert the amount into war bonds. Not only did the Wild Lifers buy $200 in bonds for the association, but its Gun Club took $100 of its meager surplus and purchased another war bond, stated Jack Taylor, treasurer of both organizations, yesterday. It had been the plan of the Wild Life Association to purchase a site for a new club house to be erected after the war. President Brick Champe and other officers of the association have been carefully saving all of the money possible for the proposed club venture, but meanwhile the cash on hand will go into war bonds.

Expecting Big Crop Of Peaches

Recent reports of the Michigan and Federal crop reporting services indicate Michigan this year will have one of its largest crops of fruits in history, particularly peaches and cherries. Past records show, states Charles Figg, Commissioner of Agriculture, abundant crops are usually associated with a quality product. The peach crop now in the making, appears to be the finest quality on record and people of our state and the central west states, if nothing unforeseen happens, should have available in about six weeks a swell supply of peaches to fill those waiting empty jars. Reports indicate that Michigan this year will be having 3 1/2 million bushels of peaches. This compared with 2,182,000 bushels of a 10 year average or 1,452,000 bushels a year ago. William Gogaley, state chemist, whose staff of chemists follow the fruit crops for disease analysis each year, states that the generous rain so far and the limited labor and some spray supplies on fruit farms is showing uptraces of brown rot. This disease each year with some fruits take a heavy toll. Reports throughout the state indicate that orchard owners are doing everything possible to prevent outbreaks of brown rot so as to be able to finish this quality crop of the important fruits of the state now in the making. Some of the early cherries in south western Michigan are now being harvested. Every one of the nation's 3,756 Red Cross chapters assists disabled ex-servicemen or their families in filing applications for veterans benefits and compensation.

MEETS MORE BOYS FROM PLYMOUTH DOWN IN CARRIBEAN AREA

Owen F. Gorton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest W. Gorton of Forest avenue, has just been shifted to a new air base somewhere in the Caribbean and was fortunate in meeting some old Plymouth friends before he left his old base.

His letter tells of the good time the Plymouth lads had together somewhere down south of the island of Cuba. It follows:

"I certainly don't want to miss an issue of The Mail, so I'm sending you my new change of address right away. So far I haven't missed a single issue and if I possibly can help it I don't want to, because if there's anything that makes a fella feel good it's knowing what's going on back in his home town.

"Just before leaving my last base, I met up with Duane Johnson who is doing duty in the Armed Guard there. Clarence Case, Duane, and myself had the opportunity to spend all day and evening of last Saturday together and certainly had a wonderful time. If Doug Lorenz hadn't been transferred further South with his squadron, there would have been four of us together right from the same city.

"Because of the censor, I can't reveal where I am, but it's still within the Caribbean area. About all there is of importance is this base and it's very rugged at that. The mess hall is very small, with all of the cooking being done on wood burning stoves.

"A little over two days ago I was transferred into this patrol squadron for permanent duty in a flight crew. I've always wanted this type of plane that I took my operational training in at Jacksonville, Florida, and now I've finally got into a squadron of them.

"Before we are able to do any business, our money has to be exchanged for Dutch currency and it's really a little confusing at first.

"Must be closing for the present and whatever you do please keep The Mail coming, for I certainly enjoy it and appreciate it very much.

HONOLULU IS SOME TOWN, IF YOU HAVE THE BIG MONEY

Corp Russell Lockwood, who has been transferred from the state of Washington to the Hawaiian islands, writes that the weather in the mid-Pacific islands right now is pretty warm.

"I haven't seen my wife and little son in over four months. They remained in America when I came to this part of the Pacific ocean," he stated in his letter.

"Honolulu is quite some town if you have the big money. Everything is high and there are so many service men here that it is hard to get around. I don't mind it over here too much, as we have a swimming pool, a gym and a theatre at our disposal. We also have some pretty good U. S. O. shows. But I do miss my wife and babe and can hardly wait until the day comes when we can get back to Plymouth to make our home there," wrote Corp. Lockwood.

He added a note that if anyone could possibly send him a No. 120 film for a B2 Cadet camera he certainly would appreciate it, and he would be glad to pay for it. He states there are no firms in Honolulu.

PLYMOUTH SOLDER FINDS LIFE IN ENGLAND IS LIKE A DREAM

Pfc. Eldon W. Martin, who recently arrived in England, in a letter to "Our Boys" page, declared that he finds that country "like a dream." "It is one of the most beautiful places I have ever seen. The people are all so friendly and helpful. In the beginning it was a little hard to understand some of their words, but I have become accustomed to that now, and understand all that they say.

"They call us 'Yanks' over here and are always inviting us in to tea. Although everything is rationed over here, people always seem to have a lot of home-baked goods to offer the soldiers. The breads and cakes are always of a brown color, but they do have a very good taste. English people get about two eggs a week, if they are lucky. But they get no gum.

"When we first arrived here, it was rather hard to get accustomed to the money, but we are no longer troubled about that. All one has got to do to learn good and fast is to get into one of the gambling games so popular among the Yanks. Be sure and say hello to everybody back home for me. And cherrio."

JOHN NELSON LIKES SPRING WEATHER OVER IN ENGLAND

John Nelson, one of The Plymouth Mail boys serving in Uncle Sam's forces over in England, in a letter to "Our Boys" page, declared that the spring weather over in England is pretty nice most of the time.

"They treat the American boys pretty good over here, but you can bet I would like to be back in The Mail office. We are all hoping we can end this thing pretty quick, so we can come home to good old America," wrote John.

LARRY GRIMES SERVING ON "HELL-RAISING" TORPEDO BOAT

From somewhere down in the southwest Pacific has come a letter to "Our Boys" column from Larry Grimes, a Plymouth sailor who is now serving on one those "hell-raising" torpedo boats that have been blowing the Jap navy out of the water.

"Not only am I in the best P. T. squadron in the Pacific, but I am in the squadron that is under the direction of Commander Robert Kelley, the fellow you have been reading so much about in the papers," said Larry in his letter.

"I have been out in this area for about a year now. Would like a change, because it is so hot here. Maybe the sun won't be so in Tokyo when we get there. What do you think? I am serving on a motor torpedo boat, best known as a P. T. They are not very large but they pack a punch. You don't know how much I appreciate you sending The Plymouth Mail to me. It's the only way we have of getting all the home news.

"Maybe some of the folks back home would like to read something we on the P. T. boats think is pretty good. It is entitled, "Song of The P. T. Boats."

Some authors sing of battleships and laud their thunderous roar. The tin-cans have their poets and the subs their troubadors; The cruisers have their histories enshrined in halls of time, So it seems to me, posterity should hear a P. T. rhyme.

"T is true they be, as you can see, of pewee beam and length, Their plywood sides keep out the tides but have no shell-proof strength; The bragging bards of the big-ship yards took no note of their birth; But their victories on the seven seas have proven their fighting worth.

You'll find them scattered 'round the earth on every warring site. They skip along the sunlit seas and prow the darkest night; They put the sun to bed at eve and greet it in the morn From berg encircled Iceland beach to the bleak shores of Cape Horn.

They convoy boats up from the south and shepherd ships 'round the Pole, Trooper and cargo carriers they bring safe to goal; They ask no odds from the battle gods, and they don't pick the seas they cruise, Atlantic, Pacific and Arctic deeps have felt the thrust of their screws.

They aren't made for long-range battle and they carry no armor belt, But blustering foes reeled at the blows these in-fighting fools have dealt; Their battle range is a short stone throw, and their favorite song is the swish And clank of a 'pressed-air tank that launches a Mark VIII fish.

In the heat-hammered hell of Guadalcanal they paved the way for the Marines, They opened a breach on Savo beach and broke up the enemy screens. From Tulagi's rocky shoreline to Gavutu's fortified isle, And around through Sealark Channel they blasted a foe to the mile.

Oh, they aren't as big as the battleships and they aren't as fast as the planes, But as the enemy checks off his losses the P. Ts. count up their gains; They only carry a ten man crew tight clamped in a plywood shell But they pack a punch that produces pure concentrated hell!

Someday, when fighting is over and all of the battles done, When the forces of right and freedom wipe out the Jap and Hun, Then the men who write the histories will break out their maps and their notes, And set down the saga of centuries—the tale of the P. T. Boats.

located at the Pampa Army airfield at Pampa, Texas, in a recent letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Olson of Brownell avenue, described vividly the flood conditions that prevailed around Wichita and Winfield, Kansas, where he has been stationed until recently.

"Many bridges were washed out and most of the towns along the Arkansas river were under water. The water raised over five feet in less than an hour. We rescued two men who had climbed trees to escape being washed down stream. There was quite a bit of damage done. The big meat packing company's building had water up to the second floor," wrote Howard.

After his arrival at Pampa field in Texas, his letter stated that he was burned about the face and shoulders when a water cap blew off a car he was working on. He stated that he had been made an inspector again.

"We get along fine here. A lot of dandy boys. The field is 14 miles from town. Nights are really cool here," he added.

★ ★ ★ FINDS OLD PLYMOUTH FRIEND TO BE ONE OF HIS INSTRUCTORS

Nick Aron, former Plymouth high school lad who has recently been sent to the Santa Ana, California, air base, was surprised to discover that one of his instructors was Sergeant J. C. Barnes, an old Plymouth friend and companion.

"It was a great surprise to both of us, but we were certainly glad to be together again. Be sure and get The Plymouth Mail coming to me here, as it most appreciated," wrote Nick.

★ ★ ★ NEW GUINEA IS NOT PLACE HE WOULD SELECT FOR FUTURE HOME

George E. Kohler, who arrived sometime ago in New Guinea, has written to Mr. and Mrs. R. Allenbaugh that New Guinea is one place he would not select for his future home. The young soldier has been in New Guinea for quite some time. His one desire now is to visit Australia. Much of his letter is devoted to information about that great and youthful continent.

"It's the oldest one in the world, but the youngest one to be settled by the white man," wrote George.

★ ★ ★ LIEUT HAROLD GRANGER NOW IS ASSISTANT OPERATIONS OFFICER

After many months of flying missions from England over enemy territory, winning for himself honors and promotions, Lieut. Harold Granger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Granger of Canton Center road, has been transferred and is now assistant operations officer for the air force over in England.

"I am working very long hours, but I am enjoying my new work," he wrote.

★ ★ ★ TWO PLYMOUTH BOYS MEET ON MOJAVE DESERT IN CALIFORNIA

A note to "Our Boys" column from Pfc. Jack Unger of the Marine corps, states that by chance he and Joe Daoust are now in the same Marine force camp out on the Mojave desert in California.

"We are both in the same squadron and will probably be together from now on, even when we ship over," wrote Jack.

"We would like to say hello to all our old friends back in Plymouth and our pals who are getting The Mail in all parts of the world. Thanks again for sending The Mail."

★ ★ ★ FORMER LIVONIA TOWNSHIP BOY IS PACIFIC BOMBER HERO

Lieut. Albert F. Wolfram, son of Mrs. Aimé E. Wolfram, formerly a resident in Livonia township on Middlebelt road who now lives in Pontiac, had won distinction in the vast war being fought in the Pacific against the Japs, according to news dispatches from that part of the world.

A battle late in May in which ten Mitchell bombers, one flown by Lieut. Wolfram sank four Jap warships, was his latest exploit. Some three months ago he took part in a flight in which three Jap ships were sunk.

After completing his school work in Livonia township, Lieut. Wolfram entered Berea College, Berea, Kentucky and was graduated there in 1940. Prior to enlistment in the Air Corps in June, 1941, he was assistant purchasing agent at the Y. M. C. A. headquarters in Detroit. Lieut. Wolfram has been overseas for about six and a half months before his exploit off the Dutch New Guinea coast.

The newspaper dispatch giving details of the last battle in which he was successful in helping to knock out a part of a Jap fleet, published in Associated Press newspapers, follows:

AN ADVANCED FIFTH AIR FORCE BASE, Off Dutch New Guinea, June 8.—(Delayed)—Ten Mitchell medium bombers on reconnaissance high over the western tip of Dutch New Guinea today sighted the trim outlines and dashing wakes of seven Japanese warships racing eastward toward Biak Island, where the Nipponese garrison is in trouble.

It was 1:15 p. m. Broken clouds obscured the formation, but the protective covering came too late. The leader of the Mitchells signalled an attack and down the formation plunged for a deadly skip-bombing run.

By 1:30 it was all over. In spite of a hail of defensive fire, the Mitchells had sunk four destroyers and left a fifth smoking and wallowing dead in the water, and had put a carrier and sixth destroyed to rout.

The performance drew from Maj.-Gen. Ennis Whitehead, commanding the Fifth Air Force Bomber Command, this commendation:

"Congratulations to you all. You men have this date performed one of the finest military feats of the war."

The attack was made in the face of 10 to one odds. Three of the Mitchells, including the formation's dashing leader, failed to return.

As the bombers twisted and weaved toward their target, the major leading the flight radioed: My wingman and I will hit the destroyer and cruiser on the left flank and divert their fire. Pick your targets."

A moment later he was heard again for the last time, saying: "So long, boys, I'm taking the big one."

Five-inch shells riddled his plane as he passed over the cruiser and he fell burning into the sea. His wingman also perished in the wall of flak which the warships were hurling at him. But the diversion succeeded and their sacrifice was not in vain.

Following on the tail of the lead planes were Lieut. Wesley A. Strawn, Clarington, Texas, in "Miss Cue," and Lieut. Frederick E. Rimmer, Knoxville, Tenn., piloting "Little Stinker."

Strawn's navigator, Lieut. Norval D. Jennings, New York City, shouted, "We, do you see anything you like?"

"Oh, I'm just shopping around," the Texan laughed and Miss Cue slammed a thousand-pounder square amidship on a destroyer.

Rimmer's tailgunner, Staff Sgt. Robert M. Tenkman, St. Bernard, Ohio, confirmed the kill. "Little Stinker," badly chewed by flak, returned to its base with the left engine hitting on only four cylinders.

"Eager Wolves," piloted by Lieut. Albert Wolfram, formerly of Livonia, and "Dragon" with Lieut. Glenn Pruitt, Tracy, Calif., at the controls, closed on the second destroyer. Pruitt skipped a 500-pounder on the bow and Wolfram scored a direct hit on the stern.

"They were throwing up a water barrage at us by firing five-inchers directly ahead of us," said Pruitt's navigator, Lieut. Kenneth J. Anderson, Trenton, Mich. "We saw the flash, then the splash, but flew right through it."

The Dragon's tailgunner, Carl F. Boehme, San Jose, Calif., raked the sinking destroyer's decks with his twin fifties.

Pruitt's radioman, Staff Sgt. Leonard Trompke, Fresno, Calif., said he heard the Japanese on the radio shouting in English, "turn right, what angles (altitude) are you?" It was a futile attempt to confuse the American fliers.

The third destroyer was sunk by the "Mad Missourian," flown by Lieut. Archie P. Trantham, Cape Girardeau, Mo., and "Sacramento Belle," with Lieut. Robert A. Beck, New Albany, Ind., piloting.

Lieut. Paul R. Scortino, New Orleans, saw two enemy ships smoking and settling another about to go under. To the right he saw a fourth destroyer billowing smoke. It had been attacked from masthead level by "Mitch the Witch," piloted by Ronald E. Machnikowsky, Evanston, Illinois.

A destroyer which was providing a close screen for the cruiser made a 90 degree turn, exposing the plane on the Witch's wing—"The Straggler"—to a stream of fire. "The Straggler" blew up in mid-air and winged over into the sea.

Lightnings flying top cover for the Mitchells lingered after the engagement and confirmed the sinkings. Pilots reported that only the cruiser and a damaged destroyer survived the savage 5-minute attack.

"Magnificently done," General MacArthur said to the heroic men who with only 10 Mitchell bombers hunted out, found, and attacked six destroyers and a cruiser, sinking four destroyers.

Seven of the 10 planes came home damaged and one carried a navigator whose leg was blown off. Three of the planes were lost.

Babson Says

Babson Park, Mass., June 30.—While I have built my business on the long-pull outlook, I ordinarily confine my newspaper predictions to periods of not more than a year in advance. However, in view of the very broad changes which are taking place in U. S. business and political economy, I now feel it advisable to look much further ahead.

Re-negotiation in most instances is not the wolf that most war producers thought it would be. Re-conversion to peacetime operations is, likewise, well in hand. While this may temporarily disrupt labor and interfere with profits, the change-over will be gradual and is already under way. It should not adversely affect business or the stock market. Hence for the first few years after the formal ending of World War II, good business in most lines should be in order.

Industrial activity and production during the postwar period should run about 50% above pre-war figures but will, of course, show a decrease from the peak of war production. This drop, however, is already being absorbed in many lines without fuss for the peak in war production was reached almost a year ago. National income, represented by wages, rents, interest, dividends, etc., will probably average around $112,000,000,000 per year. This will support a large volume of business. Living costs may rise 25% but if so those who now purchase well selected securities may perhaps get enough capital gains to offset increased living costs.

With a high level of national income, plus accumulated savings, I cannot see anything except a very large volume of retail sales. Such sales have expanded greatly during the war, but I believe in the postwar years that they may exceed in dollars their wartime peak. Plans for the renewal of automobile production are being carefully worked out. A year or two after the war, production may approach 6,000,000 cars a year for two or three years. In addition, all sorts of household appliances, home furnishings, automobile accessories and other hard goods, along with an abundance of soft goods, will be available. These all will be in great demand.

I fully expect, in the decade after the war, to see close to 5,000,000 new homes built. This will naturally be a great thing for both skilled and unskilled labor and should do much to keep up activity in the cement industries, which last will also benefit from our new road-building program. Homes are currently in great demand and prices—particularly in suburban communities—are expanding rapidly. It looks very much as though we would experience a real building boom. This is likewise true of productive real estate in general. I cannot now say that the entire country will participate in a land boom, but Florida, the Southwest and California now seem headed in that direction.

After the immediate and inevitable readjustments which the end of the war will bring, businessmen should not be too much concerned with worry over the following four years. Our real problem and task will be to determine how coming prosperity can be extended after 1950. In the early 1950's we will begin to see signs of distress. It will be much harder then for business to provide reasonably full employment within the limits of our free enterprise system. Furthermore, the postwar inflation which many are now worrying about may take place at that time.

We shall not always be able to depend upon Washington to maintain our property or to provide a solution to our economic problems. Beyond the postwar decade, the future depends upon the character and education of our young people and upon the intelligent and far-sighted guidance of our parents and grandparents. Yes, I am optimistic for the next five years, but during that period we should prepare for another year of declining real estate, bond, stock and commodity prices, accompanied by general unemployment after 1950.

Miss Carol Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Fletcher Campbell of West Ann Arbor Trail who last Saturday graduated from the University of Michigan Music school, has been awarded a contract to direct the music of the East Grand Rapids high school. Miss Campbell, who has made a splendid record in her school work at the University, plans to take a brief vacation during the next few weeks. She is a graduate of the Plymouth high school, where she was active in musical affairs.

About 2,600 "independent" miners in Pennsylvania still dig and sell more than 2,000,000 tons of anthracite coal a year from property owned by large colliers, despite the war that has been waged against them for almost a decade. Recently, they organized and even sent an appeal to Washington for help in stopping further action against them.

YOUR "HIGH COST OF LIVING" WOULD BE LOW if all prices were as low as ELECTRICITY!

"You take the high road and I'll take the low road" might well apply to the picture above. The rough and rocky mountain path shows living costs during two World Wars, including such items as food, clothing, rent, household furnishings, etc.

The price of electricity has gone down. Because of many rate reductions and greater use, its cost to you has dropped steadily. The trend is still downward. Electricity is cheap. Today in the face of rising living costs, electricity is one of the smallest items in your family budget. It costs half as much as in the last war.

The downhill road is the average price of household electricity.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

The Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church will give an ice social on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, at the corner of Liberty and Mill streets, next Tuesday evening, July 1st.

Supt. George A. Smith went to Ypsilanti, Wednesday, where he received his A. B. degree from the Michigan State Normal college.

Married at Ann Arbor, Wednesday, June 25, by Rev. N. C. Fetter, Jr., Charles W. Honeywell of Superior township, and Stella M. Pilgrim of Plymouth, in the presence of Mrs. R. Patterson and Mrs. Ida Bigles, sister of the bride, and Dr. B. H. Honeywell, brother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gayde pleasantly celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home on Mill street, last Friday evening. Dinner was served at six o'clock, covers being laid for thirty guests. The host and hostess were the recipients of many lovely gifts. Mr. and Mrs. John Streng of Detroit were the out of town friends present.

The annual juvenile June party at the Detroit Yacht Club, Saturday afternoon, conducted by Mrs. Underwood, was a lovely scene. Janet and Doris Whipple, Katherine and Julia Wilcox, Barbara and William Bake, Thelma and Rhea Peck and Margaret Goyer deserve the highest compliments for their part in the program.

The stage is all set for the big Fourth of July celebration in Plymouth. That it is going to be the biggest event of the kind ever pulled off here goes without saying. There is going to be something doing every minute. As an added attraction the committee has secured the Peace Exposition Shows, which will exhibit here from July 1st to 5th.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Fisher on Main street, last Tuesday evening, when their only daughter, Edna E., was united in marriage to Fletcher E. Campbell, youngest son of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Campbell of this place. The ceremony was performed at six o'clock by Rev. Charles Strasen, pastor of the Lutheran church, in the presence of about thirty-five relatives and friends, the ring service being used.

The bride was becomingly gowned in pink georgette with bead trimming, and carried sweet peas. She was attended by Miss Sarah Gayde, who wore an attractive gown of figured georgette, and carried sweet peas. Roy Fisher, brother of the bride, acted as best man. The bridal party entered the parlors, where the guests were assembled, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Helen Passage.

VICTORY'S SONS

Lt. Comm. Thomas W. McKnight was inspecting a row of Grumman Avenger torpedo bombers on a training field near Jacksonville, Fla., he noticed a "live" 500-pound bomb in one. The protecting cap had come off the detonator. Any contact, or even a jar, McKnight knew, could explode the bomb. It would wreck the nearby hangar and perhaps kill many of the ground personnel. McKnight acted swiftly. Entering the plane, he took off as carefully as he could, for the Grumman is extremely fast. When he had flown a safe distance from the field he prepared to jump, and to abandon the plane and its perilous load. Then the thought of losing that sorely needed machine troubled him. Determining to save the plane if he could, he headed out over the sea, and tried to release the bomb. But something was wrong. McKnight realized the bomb was stuck in the door. Then he did something almost foolhardy in his daring. Instead of jumping, he rocked the plane to loosen the bomb, knowing that at any moment it might blow up. After what seemed hours, it worked free, and plunged into the ocean.
