What I Think and Have a Right to Say By Elton R. Eaton

HANNEGAN'S TIRADE Robert E. Hannegan, President Roosevelt's national committee...

When he was admitted to the bar in St. Louis, Hannegan entered the profession of a ward-heeler and from that day to this has been mixed up in the alley politics of St. Louis.

So rotten did the registration frauds in St. Louis become that the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, one of the great newspapers of that city, demanded an investigation of these frauds.

Right in Boss Hannegan's two-family flat were registered twelve persons. Nine of these registrations were reported by canvassers as "not found" the three others being Hannegan, his wife and his brother.

Hannegan filed an affidavit later with the board in an effort to make it appear that the registrations were real.

Michigan was dumfounded a number of years ago when a New Deal election machine tried to steal a state election in this state. The efforts resulted in many high officials of the New Deal party in Michigan going to prison.

What happened down in Missouri in 1940 when the Republicans elected a governor of that southern state?

The New Dealers tried to steal that state election, too. The Republican State Chairman of Missouri charged that Boss Hannegan was "riding herd" on the St. Louis Democratic legislators to keep them in line for the program of depriving the Republican governor-elect of his position.

And this is the Hannegan who has the audacity to assail the record of Governor Thomas E. Dewey!

But the cesspool politicians and those who think that the electors of this nation can again be bought and sold like so many cattle are going to find a different answer in November than they have in previous elections.

We have predicted before—and we predict again that when Thomas E. Dewey becomes president, a lot of war-time grafters will be shelling back to the government much of their ill-gotten gains—and maybe some of them will even be making binder-twine behind prison walls.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN—SACRIFICE? We speak of sacrifice here in America.

Yet none has the right to unless he has lost an arm or a leg or a life—or a son.

Is rationing a sacrifice? Not until that day when you must leave the table hungry.

Is leaving your car in the garage a sacrifice? Not until a bomb drops on it and blows it and you and your children to Kingdom Come.

Is buying bonds a sacrifice? Not until a gilt-edged security can be called a "sacrifice".

LO, THE POOR SUCKER... When you consider the hard life that the average night club patron leads, it seems only fair that he be spared the 30 per cent cabaret tax, as the Senate has suggested.

Gus Gates, who resides at 14440 Sheidon road, and for years a prominent farmer and fruit grower in the northwest section of Wayne county, passed away Tuesday morning, July 4th after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held this Friday, July 7th from the Schrader funeral home at 2 p. m. Rev. Henry J. Welch will officiate.

BULLETIN:

(By Elton R. Eaton) One more bond—maybe a $25 one—maybe a $500 war bond—purchased by you today or tomorrow, will prove a tremendous help in putting Plymouth over the top in the great Fifth war loan drive!

near the crest in the present war bond campaign! Our quota is $576,000. Today and tomorrow, if we purchase $22,500 more in war bonds, Plymouth will have reached its goal!

Remember—kind reader of The Plymouth Mail—that there are over 600 Plymouth boys scattered throughout the world who are reading this paper more closely than you ever read anything in your life.

Within a few days, or a few weeks in some cases, these boys who have sacrificed all they possess, who have marched off to battle in lands they never dreamed of seeing, will be reading of what you did in the Fifth war loan drive to help back the attack they are making for us.

What do you say? Is Plymouth going to tell these 600 fighting youngsters that we marched up near the top, then quit cold? Are we going to tell these fine young men, the pride of our city and nation, that we think more of that $22,000 than we do of them?

Here is one person who is willing to wager the last penny he possesses that Plymouth will not fail!

How can a city that has gone over the top in EVERY war bond drive since the war started, fail at a critical time like this? The answer is this—PLYMOUTH WILL NOT FAIL. We will back OUR BOYS to the limit. You can tell Hitler and Hirohito that!

The hustling men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce did a masterful job last Thursday evening in staging the big auction bond sale.

The direct bond sales at the auction amounted to nearly $50,000—money that was turned over to Uncle Sam in one brief evening to spend for our fighting lads!

Harry Robinson, who did the auction crying, took $5,000 from one good Plymouth citizen for a case of beer! And would you believe it—the patriotic gentleman who bought it, doesn't even drink beer.

At any rate that's what hustling Chairman Wendell Lent says, and he knows Charles Bennett.

Just an ordinary baseball cost some one another $5,000 war bond.

At Innis dug up $200 for a three pound fryer that sizzled Sunday noon in the family's frying pan.

It would take page after page to tell all about the auction. May-

Since the article below was written early Thursday morning, Plymouth has gone over the top in its war bond drive! Sufficient purchases were made at the banks, postoffice and the Plymouth Federal & Loan Association office to place this city many thousands of dollars over its quota of $576,000.

It is believed that Plymouth is one of the first, if not the first city in Michigan, to make its quota. But do not stop buying bonds! As long as the boys keep fighting, we should keep buying bonds! Prove to the fighting forces that Plymouth will not slacken its efforts until VICTORY has been won!

near the crest in the present war bond campaign! Our quota is $576,000. Today and tomorrow, if we purchase $22,500 more in war bonds, Plymouth will have reached its goal!

Pere Marquette Will Spend $10,000 Improving Property At Depot

Pere Marquette Rail Road officials will spend $10,000.00 in Plymouth within the next few weeks improving the depot and its surroundings according to an announcement made early this week by C. L. McGraw, superintendent of the Detroit Division of the rail road.

Work will be started within the next few weeks and according to rail officials all contracts for the improvement will be let locally. Plans call for the complete rebuilding of the depot itself. A new cement foundation will be built so that the building can be lowered considerably and the roof will be cut off so that the height of the building can also be made lower.

In addition to changing the outward appearance of the building it will be streamlined throughout and made as modern as any station in the country on the interior.

Complete plans for beautifying the outside with landscaping and the construction of a cement platform on the track side are now being finished in the offices of T. Glen Phillips, nationally known landscape designer and consultant for Plymouth's planning commission.

According to Mr. Phillips the Plymouth station will be one of the most beautiful in America and the planting around the station will make it one of the beauty spots of the city.

In conjunction with the remodeling of the station, city officials are planning to improve the property just north of the tracks which they recently took title to from the state. It is expected that they will make provisions for parking on the lot and according to city manager Clarence Elliott trees and shrubbery will be planted there this fall.

Railroad officials were asked by the city commission last February to dedicate a certain amount of their property on the south to the city so that a street could be made through from Starkweather to Mill streets in place of the alley which is now there. It is understood that the railroad is planning to do this and city officials hope to pave the street at the same time the other improvements are made.

Early this year Pere Marquette officials met with Andrew Dunn of the city planning commission, city manager C. H. Elliott and T. Glen Phillips to discuss the possibility of doing the work at that time railroad officials stated that they had made Plymouth the number one city on their list for improvements. The government was asked for priorities shortly after that meeting and they were granted last week.

The work will mark the beginning of a mammoth program of rebuilding throughout the Detroit Division and Plymouth is indeed fortunate to receive the benefits of this work as the first project to be undertaken.

Railroad officials stated that they thought this city had been most cooperative and in appreciation of the patronage and cooperation of the people of Plymouth they were more than pleased to improve their property here.

That's an all-time high record for the city of Plymouth, all previous collections having been broken.

Mrs. Merriam is highly elated over the good work of every person who took part in the collection, and she requests that The Plymouth Mail express the gratitude of members of the fats salvage committee to every one who in any way helped make possible the exceptional record for the month of June.

"But we mustn't stop with that," states Mrs. Merriam. "We must make the July record even better than the June record."

Stark Bible School Comes To An End The second annual vacation Bible school at Stark with an attendance of about eighty children ended June 30. During the short program in the evening, Mr. John Nirdlinger presented the children with their certificates. Miss Garda Koch of the Detroit Junior Bible School was the Department Superintendent, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John Nirdlinger, the Sunday School Superintendents; Mrs. Lydia Lecureaux Hogan; Mrs. L. Kettle; Mrs. A. Kfieger; Mrs. Richard Hanchett, Rev. and Mrs. Earl Linderholm, and Mrs. Linderholm, Sr.

Plan For Tin Drive July 17 Tin can collection day has been fixed for Monday, July 17, announced Mrs. William Rambo, yesterday.

In preparation for this big event, a meeting of all salvage leaders was held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Russell Powell, general chairman, to make detailed plans for the next tin drive.

Mrs. Earl Russell, assistant block chairman, Mrs. William Rose, chairman of township district number 1, and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, township chairman of district number 3, were present to outline the township drive.

Mrs. Katherine Henderson and Mrs. Ann Sumner assisted in the preparation of some 750 township notices that will be sent to the various block chairmen for distribution to the homes of the township.

These busy war workers are anxious to make the next tin drive the most successful Plymouth has ever had—and they are urging that tin cans be properly prepared and saved for collection on Saturday, July 17.

City Clerk Clarence Elliott has reported that several absent voters' ballots have already been recalled and left with him for Tuesday's election, which indicates that there are some voters who do intend to register their approval of certain candidates.

Vote Tuesday, It's Primary Election Day

Tuesday is primary election day in Michigan. Probably voters in Plymouth and the rest of the state have never before witnessed a campaign of its type.

Somewhat candidates have done personal vote hunting. Others have used newspaper advertising and some direct mail in an effort to reach the voters.

As far as is known there have been no political meetings in Wayne county outside the city of Detroit. A few meetings have been held for some individual candidates, but these have been the exception.

Voters are being called upon to nominate candidates for governor, for which there is no contest in the Republican field. There are several candidates on the Democratic ticket for this office.

A contest prevails for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor, but this has not attracted the attention many thought it would some weeks ago.

Eight are seeking the Republican nomination for state senator from this district. Three or four of the candidates have visited this part of Wayne county, but for the most part, a majority of those seeking the office are unknowns in this Republican stronghold of Wayne county.

There are three candidates for the Republican nomination for the state legislature from this district. One seeks the Democratic nomination.

Three also seek the Republican nomination for congress from this district, but the outcome of this contest does not remain in doubt.

Numerous candidates for various county offices have visited Plymouth, but there has not been the usual rush of candidates around the county that has featured previous campaigns.

One Plymouth Republican who always is visited by nearly all the candidates, stated that he did not recall a time when so few candidates had called upon him as this year. Only the more energetic ones have put forth any campaign effort it appears.

Apparently some are depending on the chances that always go along with politics.

This being a free country, however, where we are fighting for the right to continue to run our own government and select our own officials, the vote Tuesday should be a heavy one irrespective of the fact that election contests are few.

City Clerk Clarence Elliott has reported that several absent voters' ballots have already been recalled and left with him for Tuesday's election, which indicates that there are some voters who do intend to register their approval of certain candidates.

Mrs. Walter Myer, and small son, Edward, left by airplane Tuesday for Durham, North Carolina where they will spend several weeks with Mr. Myer. A telegram to her mother, Mrs. Clyde Smith, Wednesday morning stated that they arrived safely and enjoyed the trip.

Here's How The High School Is Being Painted

Where there's a will there's a way—that's an old saying, so old that it is almost Biblical lore.

For the past year or so, there has been a great need for some painting work around the high school building.

Supt. George Smith has been trying to get some one to make a bid on the work—as all school work, where fairly large amounts are involved, is let by bids.

But no one would even bid to do the work. So the other night he surprised the board by suggesting that he thought he could find a way to have the high school building painted where painting was needed.

"If the board will buy the paint I'm sure I can get some of the teachers to work a part of their vacation time doing some painting around the building. I'm quite sure the work will be satisfactory, because once upon a time I knew something about how to handle the paint brush, and I will supervise the job," stated Plymouth's well known educator.

It didn't take the board long to decide that a solution for a very perplexing problem had been found.

That's why, when you go up to the high school you will find half a dozen teachers wearing overalls and dobbing paint around like old timers.

They really are doing a pretty good job and present prospects are that before fall all of the forty or more school rooms will be as nicely decorated as though the work had been done by some of the highly artistic painters from the galleries of New York.

Livonia School Election Monday

In accordance with state laws relating to school district elections, the newly organized Livonia school district must Monday, July 10 hold its first regular election.

The short term of Earl Bedell has expired. Petitions for his reelection have been filed. In view of the fact that no other person is seeking election to the new three year term, it is believed that Mr. Bedell, one of Michigan's prominent school leaders, will win without any opposition. The district feels that it is fortunate in having his services available to assist in the creation of its new consolidated system. The voting will take place from 10 to 5 o'clock in the Livonia school on Farmington road.

Harry Robinson Back From Races

What a gala week this has been for Harry Robinson—and some of his old friends from Detroit.

Last Friday, Mr. Robinson joined his associates in Detroit and took the boat for Cleveland—and the harness races!

"Yes sir—there's one place left near here where you can see some good harness races, the kind that are worth spending your time and money to see. Some day, we'll have harness racing again, and I hope it will be soon," said Mr. Robinson, who has probably started more harness races in his day than any other living man.

Build Runways At Triangle Airport

Work is nearly completed on two airplane runways that are being constructed on the Triangle airport, which is located just east of the city between Ann Arbor Trail and Ann Arbor road.

The airport, owned by former Chief of Police Vaughn Smith, is now the base of some 18 training planes, and is one of the busiest little airports in this part of the field.

It is the purpose of Mr. Smith to develop this airport into one of the first bases in this locality for helicopter service immediately after the war. He has already taken the matter up with a group that is planning to inaugurate a service of this type immediately after the close of the war. The present improvements at the airport are for airplane use until the new type of plane is developed for commercial purposes.

More Than 1500 Cars Go Off Roads In a Year

"More than 1500 automobiles in the Plymouth area have gone out of service within the last year," stated Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth office of the Secretary of State, yesterday.

What has become of the cars and where they have gone, Mr. Rambo stated he did not know.

"All I know is the fact that we fewer half-year licenses than we did a year ago. That means just one thing, that the automobiles are not now in service. We will have another check of conditions on the last day of August when all of the present half-year plates expire," said Mr. Rambo.

"For the life of me, I don't see how some of the cars we issue licenses plates for can even keep the license plates on them. How they keep some these old machines going, is more than I can figure out. But they do manage to tie them together with wire or something and away they go down the road."

Mr. Rambo's statement conforms to the general statistics that have been issued by national authorities as to the number of cars on the highway. It is anticipated by the end of another year, a very large percentage of the cars now in use will not be fit for operation.

Private and Mrs. Donald Norviel are the parents of a 7 1/2 pound son born July 2nd in Highland Park Osteopathic hospital. He has been named Donald Leroy, Jr.

be next week if the paper situation is a little different than it is this week. The Mail will be able to print the complete list of bond sales.

At any rate it was a great event all of the prizes being donated by business men and citizens of this locality.

Thursday night, the Penn theatre, donated by Harry Lush to purchasers of war bonds of $50 or more value, was filled with war bond buyers.

To crown the war bond effort, the queen contest which closes at 12 o'clock Saturday night, has already attracted more than 5,000 votes. That means the purchase, if divided into $25 war bond units of not less than $125,000 in war bonds.

Chalk that up to the credit of the energetic girls who are out to win some of those beautiful prizes offered to the winners by the business houses of Plymouth! But the "mopping up" process, that tough part of the job, has been carried on diligently and without rest by Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner and her various committees of women. The V- Volunteer units, no matter how hot the day, have carried their campaign right into the homes of Plymouth and vicinity — by tramping from door to door, office to office and store to store.

Two brief days—today and tomorrow—remain to put Plymouth over the top!

Maybe that war bond you purchased took every penny you could spare. But look around a little more. See if there isn't another $18.75 or maybe $37.50 you can find somewhere. Maybe, you can find your wife's hiding place for loose change around the house. Surely she will not protest if you take it, go down to one of the banks or the postoffice and buy another war bond. You'll feel better if you do it—and what a God-send it will be to our boys who are facing death every day, to know that the folks back home didn't fall them in the last two days of the fight to put the 5th war bond drive over the top!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH "Sacrament" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, July 9.

The Golden Text (Psalm 51:10) is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me." Among the Bible citations is this passage (John 4:23): "But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (140): "We worship spiritually, only as we cease to worship materially. Spiritual devotion is the soul of Christianity."

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST Sunday morning service, 10:30; Sunday school at 10:30. Pupils received up to the age of 20 years. Wednesday evening testimony service, 8:00.

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Ann Arbor Trail at Elizabeth St. Lynn B. Stout, Pastor. Greetings these warm weary war days. Yes, it is time that the summer months are upon us, but we still believe that you will be better in spirit, soul and body to find your rest in the house of the Lord on the Lord's day than the neglecting of it. Our Bible School is at 10:00 a. m. Preaching at 11:00 a. m. Young People at 6:30 and evening service at 7:30 p. m.

BEREA CHAPEL. Ann Arbor Trail and Mill St. Rev. Sanford E. Cook, Pastor. John Walaskay, Asst. Pastor. Sunday School, 10:00 a. m. Morning Worship 11:00 a. m. Junior Church, 11:00 a. m. Evening Evangelistic, 7:45 p. m. Wednesday, Midweek prayer service, 7:45 p. m. Beginning Sunday evening at 6:30 p. m., and each Sunday thereafter, a young peoples service will be a part of our regular service schedule. All young people are invited to be out to this opening meeting.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE—Hobbrook at Pearl; Robert A. North, Pastor. Bible School 10:00 A.M. Classes for all ages. Blake W. Fisher, Superintendent—Morning worship 11:00—Young People 6:45, Kenneth Swain in charge—

OUR LADY OF GOOD COUNSEL—Rev. William P. Mooney, pastor. Masses, 6:00, 8:00, 10:00 and 12:00.

ST. MICHAEL'S CATHOLIC—Rosedale Gardens; Father Conway, pastor. Masses at 5:45 a. m., 8 a. m., 10 a. m. and 12 noon.

CHURCH OF CHRIST—188 West Liberty street. Bible school, 10:15 a. m.; worship, 11 a. m.; preaching and song service, 7:30 p. m.

The happiness of life depends less upon what befalls us than upon the way in which we take it.

Carry Disease
Rats carry a number of human diseases and livestock diseases, and eat stored vegetables and foods as well as farm feeds and grains.

City Planning
City planning, according to Aristotle, the ancient Greek philosopher, "should protect the inhabitants and make them happy."

Silage Feed
Silage can be fed in quantities from 30 to 50 pounds per cow a day, according to size and condition of the cow.

High School Boys Go To Army

Several of Plymouth's recent graduates have enlisted in the armed services, and have left to take up specialized training in the branches they have selected. Bill Saxton left July 1st for Western Michigan College at Kalamazoo where he has enrolled in the V-12 A program. His brother Dean has joined the Navy as Pharmacist Mate 3rd Class and will be leaving next week.

Harold Todd and Dick Daniel left July 1st for Notre Dame where they have enrolled in the Navy V-12 program which will give them an excellent course in engineering.

Warren Mason, Bob Thams, and Bill Schoof left July 3rd, for St. Norbert's College, West DePere, Wisconsin, where they will take the A.S.R.P.—A-12 course of training. First of the local girls to enlist in the Nurses Cadet Corps is Rita Daggett who left Thursday for Ann Arbor where she will take the first four months of her training. From there she will go to Benton Harbor where she will complete her course.

Rufus Payne Is Visitor Here

His candidacy endorsed by a large number of business and professional men throughout the district, Rufus P. Payne, candidate for state senator from the Eighteenth State Senatorial District, points to his civic and business accomplishments as a resident of northwestern Detroit.

He has been a Detroit resident for 34 years and has been a voter in the Eighteenth District for 22 years and is a real pioneer in the northwestern section of Detroit.

Payne was the founder and publisher for 20 years of the Strathmoor Press, one of Detroit's outstanding neighborhood newspapers. He has been in newspaper work practically all his life. During his publication of the Press, he was active in promoting the welfare of the northwestern section, not alone as a publisher, but also as a member of different civic groups and business associations. He was one of the charter members of the Strathmoor Business Association and is a member of other civic and fraternal groups in Detroit.

"When I began publication of the Press, all the territory west of Meyers road was outside of the Greenfield Township and I have literally grown up with the newer city of Detroit, being a part of outer section of the city and know its problems."

Inmates Donate Blood For Army

Out at the Detroit House of Correction Wednesday afternoon more than 200 of the prisoners, anxious to do something to help win the war, donated gallons of their blood to the Red Cross for use on the battle fronts of the world.

"When we asked for volunteers, it was an inspiring sight to note the willingness of these men and women to make some sort of a sacrifice for our boys at the front," stated Warden A. Blake Gilles yesterday.

"There were over 150 women prisoners and more than 50 of the men inmates who gladly went to the hospital to donate blood. I am certainly proud of what they did," he added.

Not only have more than 200 inmates donated blood for wounded fighting soldier lads, but they have purchased nearly $15,000 in war bonds. They have not quite equalled the record they made in the Third war loan, but maybe before Saturday night at midnight the record purchase of $16,000 in the 3rd war loan drive will have been exceeded.

And when one knows that war bond purchases by inmates represent the sacrifice of any of the little extras their nickles and dimes might buy for them, the patriotism of these unfortunate stands out in bold relief to some of the loudly proclaimed patriotism of those drawing fabulous pay checks and who are enjoying life as usual.

Local News

The Proficiency class of the Order of Eastern Star will hold their next meeting Tuesday evening, July 11th, at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Julia Innis.

Mrs. William Dundas and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Martin entertained several friends Wednesday evening at a surprise party in honor of Mr. Dundas' birthday in their home on Penman avenue.

The regular meeting of the Mom's club will be held Monday afternoon, July 10. Moms are requested to come prepared to the lap robes. A picnic supper will be held Wednesday, July 12 at 6:30 p. m., at Riverside Park in honor of the winning side of the membership contest. The ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. W. H. Brown, 11715 Jarvis Avenue. Each one is requested to bring own dishes.

Then welcome each rebuff. That turns earth's smoothness rough.

RUTH HUSTON WHIPPLE

City Commissioner of Plymouth

Candidate for the Republican Nomination for State Representative District 7

EXPERIENCE

RUTH HUSTON WHIPPLE has had 11 years active work in public service—11 years as City Commissioner, 3 terms as Mayor, 6 years on the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, 3 years on the first Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission, 2 years working on Wayne County legislation at Lansing, besides many other offices.

PLATFORM

As a mother, former teacher, and taxpayer she is especially interested in CHILD WELFARE, in our SCHOOLS and their proper financing, in our returning VETERANS and the proper adjustment of all Service Men and Women, and in ADEQUATE POST-WAR PLANNING, a large part of which is on the state level.

RECOGNIZED ABILITY

Her unselfish, devoted, out-standing public service, free from personal gain, has been recognized by the press. Her work in the State Legislation on Wayne County bills has been praised by James Haswell, staff writer for the Detroit Free Press. Her achievements in Wayne County government have been lauded by John M. Carlisle, Ace reporter for the Detroit News.

NEW DISTRICT

VOTERS IN DISTRICT 7—You are compelled to elect a New Representative, because Dr. Edward F. Fisher of Dearborn, Michigan, who has been our able legislator for many years, has been made ineligible in this district by the new district lines.

IN MEMORIAM

In cherished memory of our dear son, Junior Bell, who passed away July 3, 1923. Deep in our hearts is a picture of a loved one laid to rest. In memory's frame we shall keep it. Because Junior was one of the best. Sadly missed by his father, mother and sister.

CARD OF THANKS

The recent bereavement which has visited our home has brought to us a greater appreciation of our friends and neighbors.

Mrs. Beatrice Leach
 Mr. and Mrs. Roy Alexander
 Frank Leach
 Mrs. Esther Leach.

Right Mood

To get into the right mood there is nothing better than a bath and a change of clothes. Even if your idea of recreation is playing a game of solitaire while listening to a favorite radio program, you will get more real rest and refreshment when your clothes have been doffed and fresh garments donned.

Deadly Diseases

Preliminary information indicates that only four diseases caused more deaths than accidents in 1943—heart disease, cancer, cerebral hemorrhage and nephritis. Only two diseases, heart disease and cancer, were more important among males alone.

REDDAMAN-DICKS

The marriage of Miss Betty Jane Reddeman, daughter of Mrs. Frances Reddeman and the late Ernest Reddeman, of Ann Arbor, formerly of Plymouth, to Luther Dicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dicks, of Saline, took place Saturday night at 8 o'clock in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran church in Ann Arbor.

Baskets of white gladioli and lilies banked the altar for the double-ring ceremony. Following the wedding a reception was held in the church parlors for members of the wedding party, friends and relatives.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Lester Reddeman, of Plymouth, wore a gown of ivory satin, a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. A row of satin buttons extended down the back of the fitted bodice. The yoke was appliqued with pearls, as was the small cap from which the long veil, edged in narrow lace, was fastened. The gown itself had a long train.

Her only bit of jewelry was a string of pearls which belonged to her mother. Her bouquet of stephanotis, swansonias and white roses was centered with an orchid, which she used for her going away corsage.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Phyllis Galtz of Ann Arbor, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Selma Rowe and Dorothy Farnode, of Ann Arbor, Shirley Jean Davey of Detroit and Pauine Gust, of Plymouth.

The attendants wore dresses similar to the bride's ensemble, with satin bodices and net skirts. Each wore a string of pearls which were gifts from the bride.

Mrs. Galtz wore a gown of yellow and carried talisman roses to match the flowers in her hair, while the bridesmaids wore green and carried yellow roses.

Marjorie Lee Reddeman, niece of the bride, and Delores Perry were flower girls and wore yellow floor length gowns with bouffant to match.

Obituaries

Mrs. Audrey Hook

Funeral services were held Sunday, July 2nd at the Schrader Funeral Home at 2 p. m. for Mrs. Audrey Hook, wife of Willard L. Hook, owner of the Plymouth Housekeeping shop and who resides at 550 South Main street. She passed away early Thursday afternoon, June 29th at the age of thirty-four years. Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters and two sons, Kathleen Ann, Dora Ilene, Leon, Jr., and Charles Dale Hook, by former marriages, Betty Kathleen Patz and Josephine Ann Patz, Mrs. Wilma Renola Miller, Seaman First class, Wilbur Charles Hook and Waldo Dale Hook, all of Plymouth, two grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. William Conwell and Mrs. Pete Joseph, both of Elwood, Indiana, a host of other relatives and friends. Rev. Henry J. Walsh officiated. Two hymns were rendered by Mrs. J. T. Chapman, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. J. O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Messrs. Floyd and Earl Hook, Malen Ellsworth, Hazen Todd, Clarence Littlejohn and Samuel Miller. Interment was in Riverside cemetery.

What we truly and earnestly aspire to be, that in some sense we are.—Anna Jameson.

Capture of Saipan Opens Japan

Fourth Quiet One In City

Tuesday was the Fourth of July—the "quietest" one that the old est of old timers hereabouts remember. The day was so "quiet" that the explosion of a firecracker would have sounded like a mine explosion. But there was no firecracker exploded in Plymouth.

In fact there was hardly a boy to be seen anywhere in the city. Everyone in the city who could get out of town, spent the day at some nearby lake. A few who went down to the Parkway system, returned home after hunting in vain for picnic tables. Detroiters had invaded the entire parkway. They not only invaded it, but they took possession of it.

So the few Plymouth folks that went down to visit the section of the parkway this city gave to the county, returned home to do their celebrating in their own backyards or those of their neighbors.

The Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant, which is ahead of its production schedule, closed down from Saturday until Wednesday morning.

Most of the Plymouth stores also closed Saturday night until Wednesday morning giving their employees the benefit of the first vacation period they had enjoyed in years.

Ford factories remained in operation, except the bomber plant, which was closed down in departments where schedules were met. Trains operating through Plymouth, were packed with holiday travelers.

Families who were enjoying visits from their sons and daughters in the armed forces, planned picnic dinners and other events in honor of the visitors. That was about all there was to the Fourth celebration in Plymouth.

Hilltop Opening Is Big Event

A hole in one and a visit by several army officers from the Highland Park Ordinance department of the Ford Motor Company were among the features of the Hilltop Golf Club opening last week end.

Max Todd, who has reopened the club, reported that the reception given Hillton on its opening was most satisfactory. Some 50 employees of the Ford administration offices at Dearborn held a tournament on Tuesday and the army ordinance officers played on Sunday.

A hole in one was made by Spencer Maurer of East Lansing on the 130 yard, fourth hole. Mr. Maurer was playing in a threesome and was using a number seven iron.

New President of Teachers' Assn. Tells of State's Educational Needs

Edgar F. Down Well Known to Residents Of Plymouth

Edgar F. Down, personal friend of Supt. George A. Smith of the Plymouth public schools and well known in this city as the result of his activities in connection with Rotary club work, has been elected president of the Michigan Education Association.

Mr. Down, who has served for many years as superintendent of the Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge schools, in assuming his new office, declares that the school child must not be forgotten in the post-war planning.

"Political planners seem to be well aware that school children don't vote," says Mr. Down. "Programs for postwar building, rehabilitation, and social changes are always for adults. A similar great concern should be expressed for the future welfare of school children. Especially is this true of postwar planning for school buildings."

"Many of the school houses now in use in this state were constructed fifty to seventy-five years ago. Since that time, there has been tremendous improvement in methods of lighting, sanitation, and ventilation. In some cases it has been impractical to make major changes in these old buildings, but more often it has been impossible to do so because of lack of finances. Even good teachers cannot overcome the handicaps of classrooms that are poorly lighted and insufficiently heated and ventilated."

"Certainly the health and physical welfare of the child should be important to the state and federal governments. Their plans for post-war public works should include real and substantial help for replacing or reconditioning our school buildings. Many communities are not able to provide proper school housing for children by local taxation alone. The fifteen-mill tax limitation, with its requirement for a two-thirds majority vote to come out from under the limitation, has virtually stopped most school building programs. There will have to be a broader tax base, with state and federal aid of some kind."

"The recent report of the Michigan Public Education Study Commission, prepared for Gov. Harry F. Kelly, estimates that a total of $89,448,000 will be needed (based upon prewar construction costs) to replace obsolete buildings and to replace, repair, and recondition and equip the school building of Michigan. The report recommends a "catch-up" period for five years following the war, at which the annual rate of school construction would average about twenty million dollars."

"Any further improvement," says Mr. Down, "in our method of financing public education is blocked by the present political and haphazard method of property assessment. There is no justice in a situation where two similar houses, one outside the city limits and one inside, are assessed at widely varying amounts although the actual cost of these houses is the same. The science of determining property values has reached the point where it is now advisable for legislation to be adopted which will place the assessing of property on a factual, scientific plan. When this is done, the taxpayer in one community can be sure that he is paying no more nor less than any other citizen insofar as his fair share of taxes is concerned. Such a method also might reveal wealth that has been avoiding its reasonable share of taxation, and would help to solve the problem of more revenues for governmental services.

"The new president of the state teachers' organization believes that education still starts with the fundamental skills. Children must learn to read, write, spell, and use the others tool subject successfully as a prerequisite for training for citizenship in a democracy. Supt. Down also believes that schools should place much emphasis upon the importance and dignity of work, and he is a believer in the "right kind of discipline." He sees possibilities that some form of military training in schools for a year for the senior boy might be desirable.

"Besides emphasizing the fundamental skills, President Down thinks that geography is coming in for new emphasis in the school curriculum, because of the war, improvements in transportation, and the development of worldwide markets.

"Another great hops of President Down for the postwar period is that more men can be enlisted in the teaching profession. "We never have had enough men in teaching, and we've lost many of our good men to industry because of higher salaries, while others are in military service. Some of our greatest educational leaders in early days were men who taught younger children, such as Froebel and Pestalozzi."

"Right now, however, there is need to make teaching more attractive as a profession not only to men, but to women—through better salaries, sound retirement funds and more participation in the life of the community. It also means that the public's attitude toward married teachers must change so that teaching can continue to be a profession for them, rather than a steppingstone to marriage."

President Down hopes that the public can be aroused to take a greater interest in what goes on in their schools, and to be concerned about the qualifications of teachers and the general efficiency of the school system. "It seems," he said, "that some parents think of schools only as a place to send their children to keep them out of the way."

"Supt. Down steps into the presidency of the M. E. A. from simultaneous service in two different offices of the Association—as vice-president and as chairman of the Legislation Commission. He has been a member of the Legislation Commission since 1935, and a director of the M. E. A. since 1940.

He is a former mayor of Highland Park, a past district governor of the 153rd district of Rotary International, a member of the original McGregor Library Commission, the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, the Highland Park City Charter Commission, and the board of directors of the Boys of the Oakland County Welfare Republic. He has been chairman Commission, and vice-president of the Oakland County Citizens League.

Before moving to Michigan in 1912 to become principal of the Frances E. Willard School in Highland Park, he was a teacher and administrator in schools of New York State and New Jersey. He has been superintendent of the Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge school system since 1925.

Mr. Down is a graduate of the University of Michigan and the Detroit College of Law, from which he received the degree of Juris Doctor in 1925.

Will Broadcast Interlochen Music

Broadcasts from the National Music Camp at Interlochen will be carried by Michigan State College radio station WKAR beginning Thursday, July 6, and continuing Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays through July and August.

Programs from the student camp are to be on the air evenings at 7 p. m., Eastern War Time. Featured conductors will be Joseph Maddy, Ferde Grofe, Percy Grainger and Guy Fraser Harrison. This is the second year the college has had a direct wire from the camp for broadcasting the music program.

These programs will have more than the usual interest in Plymouth this year in view of the fact that two Plymouthites are holding responsible positions at mouth school teacher is head chef the camp. James Latture, Plymouth Interlochen and Kenneth Matheson, former Plymouth high school coach, is in charge of the recreational program at the camp.

Use Chicken's Age As Cooking Guide

Old hens and spring chickens will crowd markets near places where they are raised during the next six months. The supply of chickens for sale will be heaviest in July, August and September.

Shortage of feed will cause many farmers to cull their flocks sharply to get rid of loafer hens and even some layers. Limited facilities will make difficulties in shipping many of these birds far, so local markets will get most of them. Scarcity of storage space for the heavy supply of chickens will mean that chickens must be canned or frozen for next winter's use—or eaten now to prevent waste.

For the homemaker who has a savory chicken supper in mind, home economists at Michigan State College suggest these rules for cooking poultry:

1. Know a young chicken from an old, and cook according to the right method for the age of the bird. Marks of youth in chickens are: flexible cartilage on rear end of breastbone, tender skin, soft meat, few hairs, and soft smooth feet. Broil, fry, or open-pan roast young, tender, well-fatted birds. Braise in a covered casserole or covered roaster lean young birds or hens past their prime for roasting. Cook very old birds long and slowly in water or steam. Then strip meat from the bone and use as a base chicken salad, chicken a la king, for dishes cold or hot, such as chicken loaf, croquettes or soufflé.
2. Cook birds of any age at moderate heat so the meat will be juicy, tender and evenly done to the bone with little shrinkage. This way of cooking is economical of fuel and fuel.
3. When poultry, either raw or cooked, must be stored a day or two, keep it cold. After it is cooked, if it is not to be eaten immediately, chill it quickly.

Painting is essential today. These days, "make it last" is as important as "make it beautiful." That's why, when you paint, it's a good idea to get the best paint you can buy. Du Pont House Paint, for instance. Du Pont House Paint forms a beautiful, durable film—and guards the surface against rot, rust, decay.

Starts white—stays white. Moreover, Du Pont House Paint contains the whitest pigment known. Titanium dioxide—whiter than snow. So your house will start whitest-of-white, and stay that way. That's because...

It's self-cleaning. All paints collect dirt on exposure. But, with Du Pont House Paint, "self-cleaning" starts after a few months of normal weather conditions. A fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash this away, carrying the dirt with it—leaving the newly exposed surface clean and white again! (Unusual climatic or dirt-collecting conditions in extremely sooty industrial communities may, of course, delay this process.) Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected. Despite this remarkable quality of Du Pont House Paint, it costs no more than other good paints.

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT in 5-gallon lots $3.35 Gal.

We will be glad to recommend a reliable painter. He knows how to do the job right, how much or how little paint to use. His skill means savings for you—and paint conservation for America.

News of Our Boys

In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

ARTHUR HUSTON PLAYS GOLF, BASEBALL AND SWIMS—AND FLIES

Life is not all a bed of thorns for boys in the armed services of the country. From Arthur Huston, who is stationed somewhere out in the Pacific, came a letter this week to "Our Boys" page in which he tells of the more pleasant things in the armed services.

In part, he writes:

"My intentions of writing you and thanking you for The Plymouth Mail has been neglected too long. Finding the paper in my mail box brings quite a delight, as I anticipate the reading within. I'll repeat what I read others say so often, that is: I don't miss reading anything from 'fore to aft'."

"You may be interested in my role in navy life. First of all I must inform you that my location is not to be revealed and therefore you may believe I am talking riddles. My duty is very enjoyable. The station is clean and pleasant. They have a grand swimming pool in which I like to swim around on the bottom mostly. Baseball games are quite frequent and I have viewed several big time players."

"Another unforgettable item of this life is the liberty. Golfing has been quite a sport with me and I am fortunate not only to have friends that play, but a fine course within easy reach. There we spend the greater part of our day off."

"As you know I am in aviation and do everything on airplanes from scrubbing them down to flying in them. I fly a lot and see a lot of beautiful sights."

"I'll close now and want you to know that I appreciate the paper very much. Time for chow and Sunday chow is the best."

HELPS TO KEEP SUPPLIES MOVING TO THE FRONT LINES

Serving "somewhere in England" Corporal Herbert Burley, son of Mrs. Grace Burley of 1324 Sheridan avenue, is helping Lt. General Carl A. Spaatz, commanding general of the Strategic Air forces in Europe, to keep vital parts and equipment for combat planes flowing to the battle fronts.

Procuring, storing, drawing and distributing these most urgently needed parts as well as maintaining accurate stock controls is a part of the task of Corporal Burley. Before entering the armed services he was employed at the Ford Motor plant.

IVAN CAMPBELL NOW DOWN IN THE "DEEP SOUTHLAND"

"I was sure glad to read in The Plymouth Mail about Fred Korte. He is one of the best pals I have and very few know him better than I do. I know how hard he worked to get into the service and I am sure he is entitled to all the praise he can get," wrote Ivan Campbell to "Our Boys" editor from Daniel Field, Augusta, Georgia the other day.

"I am now down in the deep southland. Maybe you think it is warm up there, but you had ought to be down here. I met Bob Sessions down here but he has shipped out also. Say hello to all my old friends and pals both in and out of the service," wrote Ivan.

GLEN JOHNSON IS AWARDED COMBAT INFANTRYMAN BADGE

From the headquarters of the American Division headquarters at Bougainville far out in the southwest Pacific came the following news release to "Our Boys" column this week pertaining to the good work of a Plymouth boy: Pfc. Glen S. Johnson, of Route 3, Plymouth, Michigan, has been awarded the Combat Infantryman Badge for his performance of duty while in action against the enemy at Bougainville.

"Johnson is member of the veteran American Division, commanded by Major General Robert B. McClure, of Palo Alto, California. Overseas seven months, Johnson took part in defeating the Japanese, who died by the thousands attempting to penetrate the American-held Empress Augusta Bay perimeter, during March. "Johnson entered the Army May 18, 1943. A graduate of Livonia Center in 1939, he was an auto mechanic in civilian life."

"EVEN ADVERTISEMENTS TAKE ME BACK TO GOOD OLD PLYMOUTH"

Corporal Phanes P. Patrick, writing from somewhere in the European theatre of war operations says "both the news items and the advertisements in The Plymouth Mail seem to take me right back to good old Plymouth when I read them. There is nothing that I miss in the paper and I spend many happy hours enjoying its contents", wrote Corporal Patrick.

"Thanks again and find enclosed my change of address. May the good people of Plymouth keep up the good work they are doing."

FINDS HIS WORK AT NAVAL AIR STATION MOST INTERESTING

Warren Todd, writing from the great U. S. Naval Air Station at Pensacola, Florida, states that he finds his work most interesting. His letter to "Our Boys" column follows in part:

"When the first of the week comes around I always look forward to receiving The Plymouth Mail. I remember when I was home as a civilian, I always read The Mail and especially the section—News of Our Boys. In this section there were many letters of thanks to you, but still I didn't realize what news meant from home, to service men and women."

"Letters from home mean very much, but for general news there isn't anything like your great paper. A person that has been away for quite some time can come home and be right up on the latest news in the Old Home-Town."

"Last December I was sent to school in Chicago for four months taking a course in special devices. After graduating from there with S A(D)3/c, I was sent to Pensacola where I am now stationed out to Whiting field. This field is one of the many they have in this area and is forty miles out from Pensacola."

"These special devices are aides in training gunners and pilots on the ground. They simulate combat flying conditions, saving lives and money."

"My work is all maintenance, keeping them in perfect condition. It is interesting work and I like it very much. There is nothing like being interested in what you are doing."

MORE HONORS FOR SGT. EARL OLIPHANT WON IN SOUTH PACIFIC

Lieutenant General Millard F. Harmon, commanding U. S. Army Forces in the South Pacific has announced the award of the Oak Leaf Cluster in lieu of an additional Air Medal on June 10, 1944, to Staff Sgt. Earl T. Oliphant, 6018 Canton Center road, for his work as armorer gunner from March 18 to 23, 1944. A bronze Oak Leaf Cluster is awarded for meritorious achievement while participating in sustained combat operational missions of a hazardous nature during which enemy opposition is met, or during which an area is traversed where enemy antiaircraft fire is effective or where enemy fighter patrols are habitually encountered. The missions for which the award was given were with the 13th AAF.

MORE HIGH HONORS FOR LIEUTENANT HAROLD GRANGER

From somewhere in England comes the news that Lieutenant Harold Granger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Granger of Canton Center road, has been given another highly prized honor—he has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, by the Army's flying command-over seas.

This former high school lad is now entitled to wear the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal with 2 Oak Leaf Clusters, and the European Theatre of Operations ribbons, plus a citation badge awarded his division by the President of the United States.

That's a lot of honor for one fighting lad to win—but there is no question but what Lieut. Granger has seen plenty of action over Germany in recent months. He was recently assigned to a squadron operations center somewhere in England.

RAY DANOL NOW OUT ON SMALL ISLAND NEAR HAWAII

A note from Ray Danol to The Mail states that he is now on an island in the Hawaiian group and is now waiting there for further assignments.

"Can't say too much, but the chow is good and I am yearning for the 48 (meaning the U. S.), as there is no other place like them. We are not getting liberty at present so I do not have the opportunity to try and locate any of the Plymouth boys I believe are around here. We'll have a big blow-out when this mess is over", wrote Ray to "Our Boys" page editor.

HARRY MARTIN IS STARTING TRAINING FOR FLYING SERVICE

Pvt. Harry D. Martin, son of Mrs. Neil Muir Martin, 525 Blunk avenue, is now stationed at South Plains Army Air Field at Lubbock, Texas.

Pvt. Martin is taking "on the line" training at SPAAF in starting the routine which will lead to wings as a pilot, bombardier or navigator in the Army Air Forces. He graduated in 1936 from the Battle Creek high school and also attended the University of Michigan.

TWO PLYMOUTH GIRLS ARE SENT TO SCOTT FIELD, ILLINOIS

Ruth A. Zeuner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Perkins of 260 Union street, who has been stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, has been sent to a WAC detachment at Scott Field, Florence Malik, a sister of Anthony Malik of 7434 Hix road, who was also in Georgia has been transferred to Scott Field.

HOMER G. WIXSON LOCATED DOWN IN TEXAS

Homer G. Hixson, who resides at 32718 Five Mile road, has been sent to the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center to receive preflight training in preparation for aerial instruction and duties as an air crew member. There are 309 in his class from Michigan.

Milk Weeds Now Valuable Crop

Boys and girls of Wayne county will have an opportunity this fall to make a real and direct contribution toward furnishing equipment that may save the lives of American service men and women on fighting fronts throughout the world. The floss of the common milkweed is urgently needed by the Armed Forces to make "Mae West" life jackets, and a campaign will be organized in Wayne county to harvest the pods of this heretofore useless plant, reports Fred C. Ernest, Chairman of the County War Board. Milkweed floss, which is buoyant and highly waterproof, has been found to be the most satisfactory replacement for kapok in life jackets. The principal source of kapok has been cut off since the Japanese occupied Java, and dwindling stockpiles in this country have made it necessary to find a substitute. Two bags of milkweed pods will make one life jacket, and two million bags of pods—1,500,000 pounds—of floss are needed to meet military requirements this year. Achieving this goal will require that every pod possible be harvested, and the War Food Administration has been required to organize intensive collection campaigns in 29 states where milkweed is prevalent.

Boys and girls who help in the pod collection will be furnished open-mesh bags for picking and drying the pods, and will be paid 20 cents for each bag of dried pods. The pods are ready for picking in the early fall, usually by mid-September of late August. By that time, the War Board Chairman, usually the organization or group sponsoring the collection drive in each community will be determined and information will be available on where to obtain the bags, how to dry the pods, and where to take the filled bags.

Resume Boat Service To Isle Royale For The Summer

The Georgian Bay Line Steamship South America is operating weekly trips to Isle Royale national park in Lake Superior, stopping at Houghton-Hancock and at Rock Harbor, Isle Royale, each Tuesday. Stop overs at both points can be arranged. Frequent trips to Isle Royale are also made on schedule and on charter by the Kauppi Boat Service of Copper Harbor. In many ways Isle Royale is the purest national park. A huge Blob of lava cast up by some long-extinct volcano, the island is covered with virgin timber in which roams America's largest moose herd. Native copper indications are everywhere and prehistoric workings along the shores are a puzzle to archeologists. Trees hundreds of years old are growing in some of the ancient pits.

Many semi-precious stones are picked up on the island's wild beaches. There is no hay fever on Isle Royale, and the lake trout trolling is about the best on the Great-Lakes chain.

There is but one road to lead us to God—humility; all other ways would only lead astray; even were they fenced in with all virtues.—Boileau.

Walk Right
You may walk enough already, but do you walk properly? Here are a few hints: Swing arms vigorously—point toes straight ahead—lengthen stride—get more push with your back leg while reaching forward with opposite arm—see how much you can speed your rhythm—run a short distance, stopping before you get breathless—hop and skip—walk a little farther and more vigorously each day—then count the benefits in pep, appetite, agility and stamina. It's fun to be fit.

Quick Freeze
When meat is frozen rapidly the meat juice sets before much of the water can separate from it. In meat frozen slowly the separation of the juice is greater. Quickly frozen meat, therefore, more nearly resembles fresh meat, after thawing, than does the slowly frozen product. Some investigators believe that there is less damage to the cell structure in quick-frozen meat than occurs where freezing is slow.

Recipe for Dry Suds
Here is the formula for making dry suds: Measure five cups of water into a saucepan and add a half cup of soap—either shaved bar soap, soap flakes, or soap scraps. Put this mixture over the fire and allow it to come to a boil. Remove and let the mixture cool. The result will be a soap jelly. Then, whip up the soap jelly with an egg beater until it becomes a stiff upstanding lather.

Gardener's Squeeze
Squeeze a handful of soil before starting to dig, garden specialists advise. The condition of the soil rather than the calendar or the weather tells when to start ground preparations. Experienced gardeners test soil with a squeeze. If the soil sticks together after pressing in the hand it is still too wet to work, but if it crumbles apart it is ready.

Game Food
Three or four rows of corn left standing in the corner of a field will provide food for quail, pheasants and other small game. Placing corn in meshed wire baskets about five feet off the ground will provide for both turkeys and squirrels—the squirrels will get in the baskets and scatter corn on the ground for turkeys.

An advertising executive and former newspaper editor, who long has been one of America's top spokesmen for the free enterprise system of government, will guide Kiwanis International's more than 2,200 clubs and 132,000 members throughout the United States and Canada during the coming year.

Ben Dean, of Grand Rapids, Mich., known by thousands of Kiwanians from coast-to-coast and particularly well known by many Plymouth Kiwanians, came up the ladder the hard way and previous to his election as president of the international service organization played an active role in the movement of business, industry and agriculture to preserve and protect their constitutional rights.

A Kiwanian for 16 years, Dean has not allowed the national picture to undermine his civic responsibility in Grand Rapids, where he is chairman of the Better Business Bureau, director of the Chamber of Commerce, a trustee of the Baptist church, a former chairman of the Red Cross chapter and one time president of the board of education.

Dean was elected president of Kiwanis International at its 1944 war-time convention in Chicago. His selection was hailed by leaders in all walks of life for the speaker a language calling for a stable world economy after the war.

Synthetic Good, Says Fluelling

"It's the bunk", declared Earl Fluelling yesterday when asked pertaining to the report that synthetic rubber was not standing up as well as reclaimed rubber.

Mr. Fluelling stated that the material being received now and used for recapping purposes was made entirely out of synthetic rubber.

"Our experience with the new rubber has been most satisfactory" said Mr. Fluelling. "We had one customer who said he had operated his car for more than 22,000 miles on recaps that we made for him out of synthetic rubber. Of course, for inner tubes, we do not know just what it will do. But for recaps, it has proven much more satisfactory than did the reclaimed rubber that we had to use when we first started recapping tires."

Mr. Fluelling stated he had no idea when the tire situation might be different from what it is at present.

"From all I can find out, the situation is going to get worse before it gets better. Tires are fast wearing out and it is difficult for a lot of people to get new tires for their cars. I anticipate, however, that when tires do come back on the market, that most of them will be made out of synthetic rubber, which ought to give as good service or better than other rubber. But how synthetic tires will stand up under high speed is more than I can tell at present."

2,400 Meals Daily Is Vacation Fun

Synthetic Good, Says Fluelling

A hobby—cooking—has become a summertime job for a Plymouth, Mich., school teacher, James Latture.

What a job! Cooking three meals a day for 800 students and faculty at the National Music Camp at the Interlochen Hotel.

Dressed in his white suit and chef's hat, perfect in the role of a cook, one would never dream that Mr. Latture's vocation was a teacher of American government and speech in the Plymouth High School, with a Master's degree from the University of Michigan in Speech.

As a child Mr. Latture was raised in Duluth, Minnesota, home of good food. High school days were spent at Midland, Michigan, where Percy LaBree initiated him into the art and joy of cooking. When the young Senior graduated in 1925 he found he had a hobby that fit could convert into dollars if necessary. Cooking helped him to earn his way through Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti. Then came Ann Arbor days and his Master's degree in 1937.

"Nothing has happened right so far at camp," Latture, good-naturedly said. "Take Tuesday night, for example. I cooked steaks. I started them on the oil stove, the oil ran out. Then I tried the gas burners, they went out. Finally the steak was finished in the oven of the cook stove." But, those who ate the delicious steaks never realized it.

Mr. Latture's wife and young 11 year old daughter are at Interlochen with him for the summer. "That is mainly the reason I am here," he said. "I wanted them to have a good vacation."

Alvin Collins and Erma Bridge Marry

Erma Bridge and Alvin Collins exchanged marriage vows at 8 o'clock, Friday evening, June 30, in the Methodist Church at Garden City. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erlend Bridge and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Collins, all of Plymouth.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of heavy white satin and net and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds and stephanotis. Her finger-tip veil was held in place by a cluster of lilies-of-the-valley on either side of her head.

Frances Williams was her sisters matron-of-honor; Marjorie Stokes and Marge McNemara attended her as bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of silk jersey, the matron-of-honor wearing pink and the bridesmaids blue. They carried white Shasta daisies. Charles Hewer was best man and the ushers were Herbert Kottke and James Williams.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Bridge wore navy blue sheer with a small navy blue and white hat and a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. Collins wore dusty rose eyelet lace with matching hat and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception for eighty guests was held in the church parlors.

The well-known couple will reside at Base Lake for the summer, where Mr. Collins has a cottage.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The men overseas don't mince any words about the way they want to find this country when they come marching home... do they, Judge?"

"They certainly don't, Herb... and they shouldn't. They're doing a masterful job fighting over there to protect our rights and they have good license to expect us to protect theirs back here at home. One thing they're mighty clear on is their stand on prohibition."

"Their position on that subject was stated very emphatically in a poll taken recently among American service men in England by the British Institute of Public Opinion. When hundreds of men were asked point blank how they would vote on prohibition, 85% of them stated, in unmistakable terms, that they would vote against it. There's no doubt about it, Herb... the men overseas don't want any action taken on that subject while they're away."

"And they're 100% right, Judge, because I know how I felt when I came home after the last war—only to learn that we had been over there fighting for so impractical a thing as Prohibition."

Robert C. Holland
Candidate for the Republican Nomination for the State Legislature

The serviceman who is endangering his life in all parts of the world in order to protect the liberties of America, must be provided for. He must be fully supplied with all that we can provide now, and he must be cared for when he returns. Those are obligations which we as citizens of America must fulfill.

The citizens of the newly created seventh legislative District are very largely employed in the construction of the tools of war. Practically, this makes them an essential part of ordnance of the fighting forces.

Their present employment will end with the return of the soldier. Thus, to some extent, at least, the problem of the returning serviceman and the citizen of this district is the same.

Both groups must be cared for. The State must shoulder its part in meeting this problem. The Legislature must be prepared with plans to solve this problem.

I have seen this problem coming and ask your support that I might do what I can to help in solving it.

The seventh District is a new district. It has been created recently. Thus, this will be the first time that we will send a man to Lansing as a district.

Garden City is one of the newer municipalities within this district. It has been my privilege to serve this community as its mayor for the past eight years.

During these years we have had to meet many of the problems of a fast growing area. I feel confident that I do understand the problems of this new district and will do all within my power to properly represent its needs.

Would End Tag Day Street Sales In Plymouth

Present prospects are that all tag day sales in Plymouth are at an end.

But that does not mean that the famed poppy sales of the American Legion and Ex-Service men, and the Goodfellows newsboy paper sales or the Salvation Army Christmas kettle collection are to be stopped.

At the first meeting of the newly created community welfare fund committee Monday evening in City Manager Clarence Elliott's office, a tentative decision was reached that tag sales from now on will be a thing of the past in Plymouth.

It is proposed by City Manager Elliott that all charitable funds for all purposes be included in one general community fund and that this community fund be raised in the fall in connection with the war chest drive.

Then the money for various organizations would be apportioned out by the committee, but under final approval of the city commission.

There has been some objection to so much solicitation upon the streets of the city, as well as frequent tag day sales. Recently, it was recalled, there were three tag day sales within a month.

Mr. Elliott requests that any organization which wishes to be included in the general community fund drive should make known its desires to the committee before July 10, when the committee hopes to take final action.

Scouts Offered Band Course

Boy Scout bandmen have been invited to attend a four week course of instruction offered under the sponsorship of Wayne University during the four week period of July 10 to August 4. The course will be personally conducted by Graham T. Overgard, Wayne's Director of Music at the University Band Hall, 790 West Warren at Third.

Rehearsals will be held daily on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays from 10 a. m. until 12 noon.

For several years the Scout council has been considering the possibility of organizing a uniformed Boy Scout Band, 100 to 200 strong, which would be available a few times a year at special Council-wide activities. This summer course of instruction will be of immense value in preparing the Scouts for their first Fall and Winter official appearance.

Those Scouts whose applications are received and accepted by the University will also enjoy the experience of playing at public recitals one evening a week on which occasion noted musicians from the Detroit and Boston Symphony orchestras will perform as soloists.

Any Boy Scout musician (except beginners, of course) at any grade, intermediate, or high school band or orchestra is eligible.

Scouts Start Paper Collection Today

Plymouth Scouts will take over the paper collection during the month of July. In an effort to get a more complete coverage of all local homes the scouts will probably work out a city canvass system which will be under the direction of paper collection chairman, Maurice Woodworth.

In case the new system is not as efficient as has been the one used during the past, the city will again take up the collecting the last Thursday in August. Those who have paper for collection may call either chairman Woodworth or Mrs. Esther Powell.

The pride of circumstances or power is the prince of this world that has no think in Christ. All power and treasures are spiritual, and proceed from goodness. Mary Baker Eddy

Rides Horse To His Home Here

The tired horseman, shirtless and tanned who rode northward on Bryon road last week Sunday attracting local residents was none other than Pfc. Dean Saxton Jr., who had ridden his shoeless horse from East Lansing that day and was even then in eight of possible rest—the Gies farm.

Mrs. Gies had seen the item in the paper last week concerning the mystery of his identity and told the story concerning him.

Pfc. Saxton, Jr., had been taking a veteran's course at Michigan State College and was bound for his home in Plymouth for a vacation. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Saxton, own three feed stores and are friends of the Gies family in Howell which was Dean's objective for the night, 35 miles away.

He had a horse, "Red," that he had kept in a stable east of the college town. "Red" was shoeless but a great favorite, and they set out together that Sunday morning at 7 o'clock. Picnickers at a road side table shared their lunch at noon, and the two started off again, through the towns until they reached Howell at 7 o'clock Sunday night. They were a picture of exhaustion in every detail as they passed residences on Bryon and they somehow resembled the well-known statue of "The Tired Horsemen."

Dean's legs hung at the sides, his arms hung, even his head was down. Such an interesting spectacle turning in at the Gies driveway took the farm dogs by storm and yet Dean was among friends at last. "Red" was taken to the Gallup farm for the night and Dean was fed and put to bed, an exhausted and tired young man.

The morning looked rosy. Both horse and man were refreshed and ready for the trip to Plymouth and they started for home by 9 o'clock with best wishes. The Gies family must have felt a little like good samaritans, as indeed they were.

3,000 Cherry Pickers Needed

The Grand Traverse County Agricultural Agent needs 3,000 cherry pickers from Wayne County at once according to James Rossman, emergency farm labor assistant in this area. Pickers will be given $2.00 a day and four in a five passenger car for a party of two in a coupe.

The plans call for pickers to carry their own housing equipment and each picker must turn in a certification showing that he has completed at least 80 hours of picking. A rate of 50 cents per lug stripped will also be paid all workers. If gas is necessary for transportation in the Grand Traverse area and from work OPA officials will also grant coupons for their needs in the county where they work.

Three cars from Plymouth have already gone north and it is expected that there will be many more before the next week is over. For complete information about going north, people interested are asked to contact the Wayne County Agricultural Agents office at 3914 Monroe avenue, Wayne.

Babson Says -

Babson Park, Mass., July 7.—Watches without springs, motors without gas, or locks without keys are of little use. This is the situation today with the Committee on Economic Development and most committees which are studying postwar employment plans. It also explains one trouble with our schools and colleges. The committees and colleges are neglecting the spiritual urge which the Prophet Isaiah wrote about in the first three verses of his Chapter 31.

What Churches Need

Springs without machines, gas without motors and keys without locks are, likewise, of little use. This is the situation today with most churches and preachers. They fail to emphasize the scientific basis for their teachings and also fail to apply spiritual power to practical everyday life. Any religion which does not express itself in right living and social relations is of little use.

The postwar planning committees and present-day educational and religious institutions need to recognize both the importance of spiritual power and just social relations. To continue to ignore such will certainly result in 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 unemployed in the U. S. after the short postwar boom is over.

Material Power Not Enough

Land, labor and capital are material; while integrity, initiative and inspiration are spiritual powers. They may either be inherited or acquired. This applies both to national planning and to the planning of our personal lives as individuals.

Even land, labor and capital can be used to destroy or to construct according to the integrity, initiative and inspiration of those who have the land, labor and capital. Hence, I call these three spiritual powers the "Three I's Of Success". I have in mind both individual and national success.

Spiritual vs Radio Waves

When discussing the above with industrialists and labor leaders, they agree with statements; but they come back to me as follows: "How can this spiritual power or God's Rays as you call it—be developed and harnessed? It is not enough for preachers, priests and rabbis to talk about it; let them show how to get it and use it." It is probably true that we have generalized too much and too long about spiritual power. The time has come to be practical.

C. F. Kettering, Vice-President in charge of Research of General Motors—once brought to my attention that electricity was talked about as far back as 2,500 years ago. It was in 600 B. C. that a Greek philosopher, Thales of Miletus, found that by rubbing amber he could develop a force to pick up straws. Even 300 years ago experiments were made by William Gilbert in England and Von Guericke in Germany which caused electricity to be talked about as the "coming power". Yet nothing practical was attempted until Franklin flew his kite in 1746 and Faraday built his toy motor in 1825. Then came Morse with his telegraph, Bell with the telephone, Edison with his lamp and Marconi with radio waves.

Encourage Spiritual Adventures

It truly seems that the harnessing of spiritual waves—the seeds of integrity, initiative and inspiration—is where electricity was 100 years ago. If so, the greatest need of the postwar era is to teach people where to find spiritual power and how to use it. (Mind you! This does not necessarily mean describing what it is. We do not even yet know what electricity is. We, however, do know how to generate it and use it.)

The Open Church Movement—in which I am greatly interested—is a step in this direction. Its purpose is to get people into churches alone by themselves not only on Sunday but at any time during the week when they feel the need for private meditation and prayer. The Christian Science Church, the New Thought Association, the Unity Groups, the Daily Meditation Centers at San Antonio and elsewhere and Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman are all talking about Spiritual Power and what it can do. The great need, however, is for carefully planned and executed laboratory data which will command greater respect than mere words.

June Graduates Attention

Those who have just graduated from high schools and colleges should especially heed the thoughts I have presented. You may have got marks of 100% in every subject and still be as useless as "sounding brass or a tinkling cymbal." You may find yourselves priceless fatches without springs, twelve-cylinder motors without gas or buglar-proof locks without keys.

In fact, I feel so strongly about this entire matter that I believe the greatest of all postwar needs is a spiritual awakening. It so, we all should make our primary task the discovering of methods of harnessing God's Rays which are how all about us but practically unused. Then the greatest changes ahead may not be in connection with aviation or plastics or chemistry but in connection with those intangible forces which develop integrity, initiative and inspiration.

Father, we thank Thee that Thy light and Thy love reach earth, open the prison to them that are bound, console the innocent, and throw wide the gates of heaven.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

S. H. Hills has taken his son, Raymond Hills, as a partner in the milk business, under the firm name of S. H. Hills & Son. Mr. Mills, Jr., has recently returned from overseas, where he saw twenty-six months' service with the 32nd division.

Ralph J. Lorenz has leased his hotel property on Main Street to H. R. Thornberry of Ohio.

The postoffice department at Washington has given out an order that all mail boxes must be placed on the right hand side of the route. Any boxes that are now in the wrong position must be changed if the patrons expect to be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Coello Hamilton, daughters, Ruth and Clarice, of this place, and Miss Jennie Jones of Council Bluffs, Iowa, left Wednesday morning on a six weeks' trip through the western states and Yellowstone Park.

Miss Caroline Shaw of New York City is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw on Union Street.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday noon, when the roof of the house occupied by Henry Hon-dorp was discovered to be on fire. A hole about ten feet square was burned in the roof before it was extinguished. It is supposed to have caught from the chimney.

L. L. Ball of Northville has purchased the photograph equipment of R. S. Wood and will open a photograph gallery in Plymouth in the rooms on the second floor of the new Hillman block on Main street, when the rooms are ready for occupancy. Mr. Ball will continue to operate his Northville gallery.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Beatrice Shafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Durham of this place, and Corporal Arnold F. Leach of Kansas City, Kansas, which took place in Detroit, Wednesday, June 11. They will make their home with his father in Kansas City. Mrs. Leach has been a resident of Plymouth nearly all her life, but for several months past has been employed in the Pere Marquette office in Detroit.

Twenty-three of Clara Grimm's friends and schoolmates of Newburg sprung a neat little surprise on her last Friday evening, the occasion being her fourteenth birthday. The evening was spent in music and games. Ice cream and cake were served. As the little bird from the cuckoo clock came out and announced twelve o'clock, they all departed, wishing Miss Clara many happy returns of the day.

The dry goods store of E. L. Riggs was burglarized at a late hour Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning and about fifteen hundred dollars worth of merchandise stolen. The robbery was discovered by Charles Riggs when he opened the store in the morning and found that goods in large quantities were missing. A show case that contained about 40 silk waists was completely emptied. Quantities of silk yard goods, georgette crepe, percales, sheeting, caps and underwear were taken. Lee Jewell, acting as one of the special night watches, says that once during the night he saw what seemed to him to be a flash of a light in the Martin dry goods store, but after watching the store for about twenty minutes saw nothing more. Chief of Police Springer had two detectives here from Detroit, Wednesday forenoon. The officers are working on a clue that may lead to developments.

VICTORY'S SONS

RIGHT in the thickest part of the flaming battle of Savo Island, the old cruiser San Francisco was slugging it out with Jap battleships. Shells, bombs and bullets whizzed and exploded about the decks, bringing wounds and death to fighting sailors.

Suddenly, a blazing avalanche crashed onto a machine gun platform. It was a Jap torpedo plane that had come down in flames. Some of the gun crew were killed outright. Others were seared by the blazing wreck. Reinhardt Keppler, boatswain's mate, was working nearby. Disregarding the furious bonfire he dashed up the steps, dragged a man out, put him on his shoulder and carried him to safety. Again and again, though scorched and near exhaustion, he struggled up the hot steps of the platform, then down, each time saving a shipmate from a miserable death.

But his own life had but a few hours to run. That night, as he was helping fight another fire, he suffered a severe wound. He continued to battle the flames, nevertheless, until he collapsed from loss of blood. His young widow was given the Congressional Medal of Honor in a posthumous award.
