Woodworth. The Scouts will have the cooperation of all the members of the women's block system, under the direction of Mrs. Vaughn Smith, recently appointed chairman of this group. Mrs. Smith, who has been serving as the assistant to Mrs. Powell in the work of the block units, plans to give the Scouts every assistance possible.

Every householder and business place in Plymouth will be called upon to cooperate. The responsibility, Mrs. Powell points out, is just as much that of the housewife and the business man as it is of the Scouts. Paper should be tied in convenient bundles. It is urged especially that people have their waste paper ready at the time specified for its collection.

Dear Editor: This letter is in regards to a letter printed in the September 22nd issue captioned "A Patriotic Complaint" submitted to you by "Just Citizens of Plymouth" (which apparently numbered two people).

How like little children we adults can act! There are those children who love and enjoy to do things ostentatiously, doing them for the sheer joy of being noticed, recognized, praised, lauded. Then, there is that other group who does things because an inner sense within him urges him to do them of a genuine deep sincere love of the thing. I fall in this second group and would be willing to bet that the theatre full of people who saw this same show and the "short" on our Marines were people of this same category.

Service Man's Wife Expresses Views On Flag Etiquette

Dear Editor: This letter is in regards to a letter printed in the September 22nd issue captioned "A Patriotic Complaint" submitted to you by "Just Citizens of Plymouth" (which apparently numbered two people).

How like little children we adults can act! There are those children who love and enjoy to do things ostentatiously, doing them for the sheer joy of being noticed, recognized, praised, lauded. Then, there is that other group who does things because an inner sense within him urges him to do them of a genuine deep sincere love of the thing. I fall in this second group and would be willing to bet that the theatre full of people who saw this same show and the "short" on our Marines were people of this same category.

Has it ever occurred to you, Mr. Editor, and to those two citizens of Plymouth (who stood up in the theatre when the flag was shown and the Anthem was played and noticing that "everybody was looking at us and talking about it") that the balance of the theatre was equally as patriotic while sitting there in their seats silently, reverently, listening to the national anthem, eyes filled with unshed tears looking at the humbleness and the thankfulness that they are Americans and inwardly, gloriously happy that "there SHE is" flying so proudly! A moment so filled with dramatic emotion, that by scrambling to their feet or loudly applauding to them would only have meant the breaking of this tender almost reverent spell!

Yes! I believe in standing proudly when our flag is shown and when our anthem is played, but in places such as a public concert or a parade or at an assembly at a hall where the entire public joins in the ceremony, yes, and even at a theatre where a special program is going on on the stage and the master of ceremonies asks the audience to rise and join in singing our country's song. But! I can't see why we should be criticized for not doing so at a theatre each time our American flag is flashed on the screen. Good heavens! we'd be rising and sitting, rising and sitting. To me, it's just the same as it would be to immediately drop whatever you were doing and stand at attention or applaud each time the anthem was played on our radios at home! How many can truthfully say that they do this? Yet, does it mean that we aren't patriotic or love our flag or song the less?

Oh no! I love our Country, our Flag and our song in just the manner I worship God, inwardly, silently reverently! Maybe these "two citizens" of Plymouth are ashamed of us people as they put it "for not showing their respect for their country because they didn't stand up at a movie where the flag was shown and the anthem was played". Well, it is their privilege as American citizens to feel as they wish and to express these feelings, but, for one, would to say "I am NOT ashamed of the people of Plymouth" and have never felt ashamed of them; for I have met and have talked to so many, many of them and have heard their reaction to the flag and the anthem of our country.

Their hearts are bursting with a pride, a joy, a happiness so full of emotion that nothing, let alone abruptly jumping to their feet at movies, could ever sufficiently express feelings so deep!

Only one who shares this same inner feeling can understand, understand those faces which reveal the quiet, the tenderness, the deep emotion as they see the flag flashed on the screen and listen to the strains of our national anthem, misted eyes looking at the flag, perhaps seeing beyond the movie screen showing the flag, unto a battlefield where a son, or a husband, or a dear friend is fighting and on this same battlefield. There too, they see a flag, just like the one on the screen. With this vision before them, thoughts are a silent prayer "thank you God, may she fly forever and her song ring joyously beside her as long as she waves!"

Sincerely yours,
Wife of a Serviceman in India.

Meeting Needs Of The Public

The Plymouth Rotary club listened with much interest to the presentation of a survey on civilian goods and personnel shortages by William E. Stirtion, former secretary of the Detroit Victory Council, which sponsored the survey at its meeting last Friday.

The survey was carried out through a technique similar to a public opinion poll. Children in the fourth grades of the public and parochial schools were asked to have their parents fill out the questionnaires prepared.

In this manner it was able to determine just what needed services were now most difficult to obtain and also what items of home equipment, etc., the people were most likely to buy when obtainable.

First on the list of services difficult to obtain was shoe repairing. Others, not in exact order, were laundry service, dental service, medical service, restaurant service, and repairs for washing machines, cars, radios, and electrical gadgets.

Washing machines, radios, electric and gas stoves headed the lists of equipment first to be purchased when offered for sale. Mr. Stirtion emphasized the fact that hundreds of parents volunteered information when they returned their lists that they were perfectly willing to go without many of the needed services and items of needed equipment if it would hasten the day of victory.

The Victory Council, composed of industrialists, labor leaders, educators and others, is making a real effort, according to the speaker, to help correct some of these conditions even before the close of the war.

Sugar Problem Is Serious One

The sugar situation in Plymouth is even worse than anticipated. A check of the grocers of the city reveals that few if any of the women of the city have turned in surplus sugar, which would be repaid by the grocer when more supplies are available.

The Kroger company reported that 400 pounds were turned in by the D & C stores but that no women had brought any in.

The supposition is that none of the women in Plymouth had surplus sugar which they could divide with their neighbors. The result was that little canning was done in the city in comparison with the availability of fruit.

This may be reflected in a fruit shortage through the spring and summer of next year.

The fine spirit of co-operation of grocery store owners and managers of chain stores in Plymouth in an effort to help Plymouth women get sugar for canning as revealed in an article published in last week's Plymouth Mail should have included the name of Earl Kenyon, manager of the north side Smith store. Mr. Kenyon advised that he would do all within his power to help. The downtown Smith store on Pen-

The remains laid in state at the Schradler Funeral Home Tuesday. The funeral largely attended was held from the Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Henry J. Walsh officiating. Officers from the 728th infantry battalion at River Rouge acted as pallbearers. Soldiers from the same outfit made up the firing squad and provided the bugler. Mrs. Maxwell Moon and Mrs. William McAllister, accompanied by Mrs. Maurice Woodworth sang two hymns. Burial took place in the Riverside cemetery.

The production of manila hemp rope—made from the fiber of the abaca plant—depended on imports from the Philippines before this war. It is now estimated that the Central American countries will have from 7,000 to 8,000 tons available next year.

Weddings

Solomon-Smith
The Memorial Church of St. Paul in Overbrook, Pennsylvania was the setting Tuesday, September 19th for the marriage of Miss Lucile Solomon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis H. Solomon, Jr., of Overbrook Hills, Pa., to Lawrence A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Smith, N. Main street, this city. The Rev. C. E. Snowden, rector of the church officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of pale ivory slipper satin, fashioned with a heart shaped neckline, long sleeves tapering to points over the wrists, and a fitted bodice, with a hooped skirt ending in a train. Her finger tip veil of English tulle was draped from a tiara of pearls and orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of white orchids, gardenias and bouvardia.

Miss Edythe Levin of Cynwyd was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Moore Thompson of Penn Valley, Miss Ada Carre of Wynnewood, Miss Polly McHenry of Merion, and Miss Nancy Allen of Philadelphia. Patricia Ann Solomon, sister of the bride was the flower girl.

The attendants wore taffeta dresses, with close fitting bodices, heart shaped necklines and very full skirts. The maid of honor and the flower girl chose dusty pink taffeta, while the bridesmaids wore aqua color. All carried old fashioned bouquets of pink roses and blue delphinium edged with lace and trimmed with ribbons to match their gowns.

Mrs. Solomon wore a coral dinner gown trimmed with jeweled buttons, a hat of pale blue ostrich feathers, and a corsage of orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose chiffon gown with which she wore a large black hat trimmed with pink roses, and accessories in black. Her corsage was of white orchids with purple lips.

Frank H. Lawson of Overbrook Hills served as best man. Ushers included Clyde Wilkinson of Highland Park, Walter Kansteiner of Boston, Jack O'Leary of Overbrook, and Thomas Arams of York, Pennsylvania.

Following the ceremony a reception and dinner for eighty-five guests was held at Llanerch Country club. The couple are spending their honeymoon at Lake Placid, New York, but after October 1st their home address will be 26 Chauncy street, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The bride attended Briarcliff Manor, at Edgewood Park, New York. The groom is a graduate of the University of Michigan and was associated with Chi Phi Social Fraternity, and Eta Kappa Nu, honorary electrical engineering fraternity.

Mr. Smith, who is now on the staff of the Massachusetts Technology Institute, recently returned from a special Navy mission in the South Pacific theatre of war.

F. F. I. Fighting in Paris

Bearing the cross of Lorraine, of General Le Clerc's second armored division, men of the F. F. I. move against the Nazi stronghold in the city, before Paris falls. In civilian clothes, they are armed with a large variety of weapons. Photo made by Gaston Madro, who served with the French underground in his native Paris during the occupation. His photos show underground history.

Mrs. R. M. Atchison and the late Dr. Atchison of Northville became the bride of Richard Ambler, son of Mrs. Sherrill W. Ambler of Plymouth and the late Mr. Ambler. Preceding the ceremony which was performed in the Methodist Episcopal church, in Northville, Miss Evelyn Ambler sang "Thine Alone" accompanied on the organ by Mrs. Gladys Conner.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Dr. R. M. Atchison, wore a gown of white satin with a daintily beaded sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves and long train. Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of ornamental orange blossoms and she carried a prayer book covered with white orchids.

The bridegroom's sister, Evelyn Ambler, acted as maid of honor and Mrs. Edward F. Angove and Miss Marie Angove of Northville were bridesmaids. Their gowns, identically made, with fitted velvet bodices and striped taffeta skirts, were of mulberry and deep woods green. They carried nosegays of roses and chrysanthemums.

Pvt. Orlo J. Robinson, a student at Wayne University Medical School, was best man. The guests were seated by John McLaughlin of Detroit and Lawrence Parmenter of Plymouth.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Atchison wore a gown of teal blue with gold accessories and a corsage of gold color chrysanthemums. Mrs. Ambler, the bridegroom's mother, was dressed in black crepe trimmed with sequins. She wore pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. A reception for 200 guests was held in the church house after the service. The Misses Janet Stewart and Lucille Lapham, of Northville assisted at the tea table.

The bride chose a suit of soft rose wool with brown accessories for going away.

After a brief honeymoon in northern Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Ambler will make their home in Northville.

Here And There

Wisconsin's bountiful game has enabled housewives to save thousands of red ration points. Last season's legal bag of 128,296 deer provided an estimated $11,674,936 pounds of edible venison. The next biggest game food items were 2,274,000 pounds of rabbit meat, and 1,801,600 pounds of pheasant. Supplementing these were bear, ducks, partridge and prairie chicken.

A unique American contest was The Great Cowboy Horse Race that was run in June, 1893, from Chadron, Nebraska, to Chicago for a prize of $1,500 and gifts such as a revolver and a saddle. Nine men started, each using two horses ridden alternately, but only four finished, the winner covering the 1,040 miles in 13 days and 16 hours.

Table Delicacy

As a table delicacy the carrot ranks high only with home gardeners who know the supreme tenderness and flavor of young carrots as large as a little finger, pulled from the garden and cooked within an hour. Until you have eaten these, you do not know carrots. These infant vegetables may be pulled up as a first thinning of the carrot row. Carrot seeds are small, and germinate slowly, in 12 to 18 days. Sow thinly, and mix a few radish seeds with the carrot, so the radishes may come up to mark the location of the row and assist in cultivating safely.

Synthetic Tubes

Since synthetic tubes are rather easily damaged in mounting and removing, sharp pointed bars or screw drivers should not be used. Even with blunt tire tools care should be taken to avoid puncturing a synthetic tube. When damaged, synthetic tubes are harder to repair and usually require vulcanizing by competent repairmen. The old style cold patches are not dependable and should be considered for a short emergency only.

Housecleaning Task

Arthur Cook, supervising engineer of the Capitol at Washington, D. C., has the responsibility of cleaning 430 rooms, 14 acres of floor, 787 windows, including 108 windows in the dome, 17,376 square feet of skylights, 550 doorways, and 12 main staircases. Even though it is a government job, the repainting and refurbishing of the Capitol presents the officials in charge with some problems in wartime help.

Fuel Purchases

Class I railroads in 1943 expended $527,296,000 for fuel compared with $426,335,000 in 1942. For bituminous coal only, their purchases totaled $375,398,000, a gain of $62,611,000 compared with the preceding year, while anthracite purchases totaled $3,715,000, a rise of $625,000 compared with 1942. Purchases of fuel oil in 1943 amounted to $136,905,000 compared with $99,767,000 in the preceding year.

Baunder Towels

Laundry towels in lukewarm water, since hot water tends to set stains. Rinse the towels thoroughly, shake or dry in a breeze if possible to raise loops and make them soft and fluffy. Pressing or running them through a mangle mats the pile, flattens loops and makes them stiff, hard and less absorbent.

Bred in Captivity

The vicuna, whose wool was used by the ancients for their finest weaving, has now been bred in captivity. Its wool can be woven 270 threads to the inch, compared with 140 threads per inch otherwise thought to be the world's finest. The problem of breeding the vicuna in Peru has been successfully solved.

Streamline Refrigerators

Good housekeepers are streamlining their refrigerators; using left-overs, cleaning up little dabs of food on separate dishes, and taking inventories of forgotten foods hiding in the back of the refrigerator. Many foods deteriorate in nutritional value with age. These should be bought in small quantities.

Protect Porcelain

If the base of your pressure cooker is so large that it extends beyond the heat unit of your prized range and you are afraid the heat will cause the porcelain enameled range top to crack, cut a protective ring of asbestos paper to fit around the unit.

Dried Eggs

Prewar production of dried eggs in the United States was about five million pounds a year. This was expanded to 45 million pounds in 1942, and in 1943 jumped to 262 million pounds.

Dry Towels

After using towels, hang them up to dry at once so they won't mildew or have a sour odor. Be sure to dry them thoroughly before putting them into clothes hamper or laundry bag.

Vegetable Treasures

From the standpoint of land and labor required versus food value received, the most valuable garden crops are tomatoes, string beans, carrots, cabbage and onions.

Sulphuric Acid

Chemically, sulphuric acid is H<sub>2</sub>SO<sub>4</sub>, which means that it is made up of two atoms of hydrogen, one of sulphur, and four of oxygen. It does not occur in nature.

Green-Eyed Monster

Credit for popularizing green as the color of jealousy is given to Shakespeare, who in "Othello," wrote "Beware of jealousy, it is the green-eyed monster."

Improve Cornflakes

Breweries in Panama are said to be improving cornflakes for the United States as a substitute for rice in brewing beer.

Hay Curing

New methods of curing hay more quickly by mashing the stems and by blowing air through the hay are being tried.

Like Derbies

In Panama, derby hats are the most popular medium of exchange for rubber among the Indians.

Recap When Smooth

Tires should be recapped when they have worn smooth but before the fabric shows.

One of British Secret Weapons

The crocodile flame-throwing tank, one of the secret weapons used by the British in the invasion of France. It is a Churchill type tank equipped with a flame thrower that projects a geyser of fire for 450 feet and can actually fire around corners. These tanks landed at Normandy 35 hours after the first troop landings on beaches.

Sea Scouts To Meet Tuesday Evening

Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Starkweather school, boys interested in sea scouting will meet to discuss plans for a drive for new members. All boys between the ages of 15 and 18 in this district are invited to attend.

Plymouth boys who are in the "ship" have made such a good record that the Plymouth sea scouts ship has been chosen the flagship of the Detroit district. Ferris Mayhew is the skipper and John McManis second mate of the Plymouth sea scouts.

Karl Starkweather Down In Lexington

Karl Starkweather, who has been one of the Ford employees who has stuck to his job consistently during all of these war years, is this week enjoying a brief and badly needed vacation. He went to Cincinnati for a few days, then to Lexington, Kentucky.

"Both newspapers in Lexington are strongly supporting Dewey for President," wrote Mr. Starkweather in a card to The Plymouth Mail.

The Rubicon

"Crossing the Rubicon" means to commit oneself irrevocably to a course of action. A small stream in Italy flowing into the Adriatic, it separated Cisalpine Gaul from Italy proper. It was an act of treason for a Roman to enter Italy with an army and when Julius Caesar crossed the river in 49 B. C., leading his army, it was the commencement of civil war. There has been controversy as to whether Caesar actually did cross this river on his march as indisputable identification is impossible.

Chinese Resources

The coal resources of China are more than sufficient for the country's needs in industrialization. The iron ore resources, although less abundant, are adequate to support a steel industry. The country is self-sufficient in manganese and bauxite. In tungsten and antimony China is the world's largest producer. Tin and mercury exist in exploitable amounts. China is very poor in lead and zinc and comparatively poor in copper and petroleum.

Rail Purchases

Purchases of steel rail by railroads including new and second-hand except scrap, amounted to $60,074,000 in 1943 compared with $55,647,000 in the preceding year; while for track fastenings, track bolts, spikes, and other such materials used in connection with the laying of rails, the railroads expended $43,804,000, a decline of $9,545,000 below the preceding year.

Prevent Heat Strokes

When a horse collapses on a hot day, heat stroke should be suspected. Relief can be given by the application of cold water and by the administration of salt solution under the supervision of a veterinarian. It is much better, however, to prevent heat strokes by frequent watering, providing plenty of salt and allowing frequent rest periods during extremely hot weather.

Under legislative mandate, an active program of acquiring lands to guarantee perpetual access for the public to Michigan lakes and streams was begun by the conservation department 3 years ago.

Club Told Of School Problem

Charles Brake, president of the Michigan Rural School Association, was the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Kewanee club this week.

The program was under the direction of Fred Thomas. Mr. Brake related the situation with respect to the rural schools of the state, in which some classrooms have too few pupils, and others have far too many. The plans are to consolidate the smaller districts, and even the smaller ones with the larger ones in order to equalize wherever possible the school attendance.

The territories which comprise our 48 states were once ruled by one or more of six foreign countries, all or part of the areas of 30 states having been under Great Britain, 25 under France, 19 under Spain, 8 under Mexico, 4 under the Netherlands and 2 under Sweden.

QUICK RELIEF FROM Symptoms of Distress Arising from STOMACH ULCERS DUE TO EXCESS ACID

Crop Conditions In Michigan

Many of Michigan's important crops have now been harvested and in this group some are breaking all time records while some are the lowest they have been in many years. These changes have largely been the result of weather conditions, states Charles Figy, Commissioner of Agriculture.

According to the Michigan Crop Reporting Service, carried on co-operatively between this state and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, reports show that cherries have struck a high mark by having produced 59,900 tons of sweet and sour cherries. Of this tonnage 55,100 tons were sour cherries and 4,800 were sweets. This shows an increase of 410% of sour cherries over last year and in sweet cherries 188%. It is also interesting to see that covering the production for the past 10 years, sweet cherries are 39% over the 10 year average and sour cherries 56% over.

Of other important fruits, peaches are also in this group showing a production of 142% over 1943 and 61% over the 10 year average. Pears although 140% over a year ago are just 1% over the 10 year average. Apples have made a considerable improvement, although the harvest is not completed the crop indicates a 30% increase over last year but 3% below the 10 year average. Again this year Michigan will have a fair crop of grapes but it is one of the fruits that is estimated will fall in both comparison, 5% less than a year ago and 8% below the 10 year average.

In the general farm crops, sugar beets whose harvest will soon be in full swing, shows an increase of 85% over a year ago but is 42% below the 10 year average. One of the crops producing a large volume of state's supplies, winter wheat is among the leaders with an increase in acreage and an increase in yield. The harvest shows that we are 115% above the 1943 and 49% above the 10 year average. It is interesting to compare this with the national picture which shows that the national production increased 40% over a year ago and 30% over the 10 year average. In terms of bushels, 1944 harvest shows 23,800,000 bushels of wheat compared to 11,064,000 for 1943 and 16,396,000 for the 10 year average. Corn which is still "king" crop shows an estimated 9% increase over a year ago and 9% above the 10 year average. The soy bean acreage is one of the crops which shows a decrease over a year ago amounting to 19% but has increased 89% over the 10 year average.

The Michigan field bean or navy bean, of which Michigan is first in the national production, started out with an increased acreage and is estimated will show a 20% decrease in production this year compared with 1943 and 7% below the 10 year average. In terms of bags it is estimated we will have 4,092,000, 100 lb. bags compared to 5,121,000 bags for 1943 and 4,418,000 for the 10 year average. According to reports most of the decrease was due to the extreme hot weather during August, this being especially true on the bean crop. Sugar beet acreage was decreased largely because of the wet spring planting season.

Potatoes are another crop that have been affected materially by the extreme heat. If no losses are incurred during harvest time we will be 30% below the production of 1943 and 37% below the 10 year average.

Comparing 20 of the leading farm crops and fruits of the state we should have a harvest season with a considerable increase over last year and a slight increase over the 10 year average.

It has been estimated that in 934 legally dry counties, containing 20 per cent of our entire population, at least $150,000,000 worth of bootleg liquor is now sold annually.

Some Advice For Wayne Farmers

(By E. I. Besemer)

Field bean yields were reduced by the drought more than for any other crop. The reduction is estimated to be 31 percent in prospective production.

It will pay those Wayne county farmers who have an acreage of field beans to pull and cure them in well made small stacks.

To make the stacks, drive a steel fence post or wooden stake firmly into the ground.

Make a base of clean straw 3 inches thick.

Make each stack 4 feet in diameter, 7 feet high.

Keep the sides straight. Build 2 feet or more above the top of the stack.

Beans containing more than 18 per cent moisture may spoil during warm weather.

With annual Fire Prevention Week near at hand, and the winter season just around the corner, there's no better time than now to check up on fire hazards around the farm and home. County Agricultural Agent E. I. Besemer states that defective chimneys and flues rank first among causes of farm fires, so an examination of those around your home may prevent a big property loss.

First, see that the chimney is clean and that no cracks have developed in or between the bricks. See that there is a tight connection between the smoke pipe and the chimney, and that the pipes are firmly anchored. If smoke pipes run within 18 inches of wood walls, partitions or ceilings, they should be protected by asbestos paper or metal casings. Smoke pipes should not pass through floors, closets, or concealed spaces and should not enter a chimney in an attic.

Electricity, if improperly used, is another fire hazard and danger to human life around the farm and home. Here are a few don'ts for electrical users:

Don't overload the wiring. Don't use more than one piece of portable equipment on one outlet.

Don't use metal sockets in farmstead wiring—use porcelain or other approved non-metallic ones.

Don't use pull chain switches unless they contain an insulating link or cord.

Don't overload your motors.

Don't let the braid or insulation on wires get frayed—make repairs or replace cords at the first sign of danger.

Don't hang extension cords over nails or other metal objects.

Don't tamper with permanent wiring unless you first cut off the current at the fuse box or master switch.

Help For Vets Seeking Farms

How to build a stockpile of farm opportunities for returning war veterans who wish to enter agriculture is being studied by Michigan county agricultural agents, as they prepare to give counsel to soldiers coming back from the battlefields.

Whether the veteran is in a position to rent, buy, manage a farm, or simply work as an employee, openings that await him will be on file in each county in the county agent's office. Specialized study of this problem was made at a recent meeting of all agents at Higgins Lake. There they were told that Michigan has about half a million men in service now. As these return, a large percentage will be seeking means of entering occupations relating to agriculture.

Plans for rendering advisory service for veterans wishing information on agriculture are being drawn up by agents in each county. Most agents will set up advisory committees to work with the selective service boards and the various veterans organizations.

One of the principal questions that the advisory groups will attempt to answer for the soldier is, "Does he have experience, brains and brawn for the job of farming?"

For those persons desiring to sell farms to returning veterans and industrial workers, the situation, briefly, as far as the advisory program is concerned is this: If the farm land is fit for farming, the program will support the sale. If the land is unfit for farming, the program will oppose its sale for agricultural purposes. One of the main objectives will be to prevent sale for farming use the 50 per cent of Michigan land unfit for agriculture.

An attempt will also be made to give a true picture of the farming industry to city people who will be coming from wartime industrial plants to buy farms. Many of these people, it was pointed out, look upon farming as an easy, profitable existence. They must be disillusioned and told the actual facts. Michigan county agents agreed at their meeting.

Father Learned Of Son's Honor Award Just Before His Death

It has just become known that the day before the death of Lawrence Johnson, former well known druggist of this city, who passed away at his home in Reed City, news was received that Lt. James Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson had been awarded the silver star for bravery in action in Italy.

The news came to the Johnsons through a newspaper dispatch which said:

"First Lieutenant James L. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Johnson of Reed City, was awarded the Silver Star for bravery in action in Italy. Lieut. Johnson was a former member of the 417th Infantry regiment stationed at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin. The news of his recent presentation of the Silver Star was revealed through Camp McCoy. The parents of Lieut. Johnson are the former owners of the Mayflower Drug store in Plymouth and now operate a Walgreen store in Reed City."

It was on the night following this news that the father suffered a stroke, which resulted in immediate death. His funeral and burial took place in this city a few days ago.

Church Aids In Clothing Drive

With the approach of winter the need for clothing for victims of the war becomes an urgently pressing problem. The Hon. Herbert H. Lehman, head of the United National Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has asked that Churches shall undertake to collect clothing in their respective communities. The Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction, of which Mr. Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., is chairman, also urges immediate action and participation by all Churches, Service Clubs, Boy and Girl Scout Troops and other community organizations. Members of the Episcopal Church have been urged by the Division of Christian Social Relations of the Church, to help meet a need so great and so urgent that neglect will mean actual loss of life. In Plymouth, St. John's Episcopal church, of which Rev. Francis H. Tetu, is rector, is handling the campaign. Clothing may be brought to the church and the church group will see that it gets to the shipping center. The campaign is to open September 24, and close October 4. You may phone 85-W for information if you desire. Former Governor Lehman said of this effort: "The task is large. The time available for preparation is short. We cannot fail those millions who need help now. The tenets of every faith prescribe prompt and generous action to meet such emergencies and avert needless suffering." The campaign objective is 15 million pounds of clothing, which will meet the urgent needs of war-stricken peoples in liberated countries. The clothing will be distributed free to needy men, women and children, through UNRRA. The need is for good serviceable used clothing. The following types are indicated: Infants' garments, all types, particularly knit goods; Men's and boys' garments—overcoats, topcoats, suits, jackets, shirts, work clothes, such as overalls, sweaters, underwear, robes, pajamas, Women's and girls' garments—coats, jackets, skirts, sweaters, dresses, underwear, aprons, jumpers, smocks, robes, nightwear; Bedding—Blankets, afghans, sheets, pillow cases, quilts, etc. Clothing need not be in perfect repair, but must be such as will be useful to the people who receive it. Cotton garments should be washed, but need not be ironed. Rags, evening clothes, shoes and rubber goods are not wanted in this collection. The collection of such garments is being shared by all religious faiths throughout the nation. The need is great. The response should be immediate and generous. Six years after the Mayflower brought the Pilgrims to America, the famous vessel was broken up in England and made into a barn still standing on the Russell Farm, 25 miles west of London.

Newcomers On High School Staff

Miss Dorothy Lovell is the seventh grade arithmetic teacher. She graduated from the high school in her home town, Dexter, Michigan, and then attended the Normal College at Ypsilanti where she obtained her A. B. in mathematics. She is now working on her M. A. at the University of Michigan. In Kingston, Michigan, she taught mathematics and English for two years and then taught mathematics at Northville. Her hobby is listening to music.

The new cook in Plymouth High is Mrs. Virgil Wellbaum, a former housewife who lives at 39774 Plymouth road. Mrs. Wellbaum reported that she has had no shortage of help in the cafeteria. A new addition to the social science department is Miss Helen Bates who teaches commercial arithmetic and vocations. After being graduated from a high school in Indiana, she attended the University of Utah, the Western College of Education in Kalamazoo, and the University of Michigan. She has received an A. B. at Kalamazoo in history and mathematics, and an M. A. at the University of Michigan, in political science. Miss Bates has taught in various Michigan schools. She is interested in early American glass as a hobby and also especially likes to travel.

Mr. Moiso teaches shop replacing Mr. Thompson. He attended high school in Fitchburg, Massachusetts and received his B. S. degree at the University of Michigan. He taught at Battle Creek before coming to Plymouth. His hobbies are sports and wood work. One of the school's new history teachers, Miss Lena Paris, previously taught English and history at Fenton High School. She attended Ferris Institute, established by Mr. Ferris, a former governor of Michigan, for the students who wish to carry many subjects. There they are allowed to take as many as they can fit into a day. Leaving there, she attended the University of Michigan for five years where she received her B. A. She has a year of music, and twelve hours towards a doctor's degree in the University. She receives her greatest enjoyment from music and also farms in the summer as a hobby.

Replacing Mr. Blunk and Miss Helen Todd in the mathematics department is Miss Harland Bristah. She attended Redford High School and Albion College where she specialized in mathematics and received her B. A. At Wayne University she has started working for her master's degree. Before coming to Plymouth, Miss Bristah taught in Roseville school. Her chief interests are reading, music and hat designing. Probably due to her mathematical training, Miss Bristah's pet peeve is illogical thinking.

There are two new junior high mathematics teachers in Plymouth High School. Mrs. Haykar teaches eighth grade arithmetic. Her childhood was spent in Concord, Michigan where she graduated from the local high school. She then attended Albion College for her A. B. For the last two summers she has attended the University of Michigan and Northwestern University, working on her M. A. in public speaking. She taught public speaking and literature in Bangor, Michigan for a year. Then she taught interna-

Plymouth Loses to Farmington 19-0

The first quarter was uneventful, the ball remaining inside Plymouth's 50-yard line. During the second quarter Farmington scored from Plymouth's 5-yard line. The try for the extra point was successful, and the score was 7-0. Farmington scored again in both the third and fourth quarters, but the third attempts for the extra points failed, and the final score was Farmington 19, Plymouth 0.

The starting lineups were:
Plymouth: R.E. Tyler, R.T. Erwin, R.G. Berner, G. Ascher Berner, C. Miller, L.G. Norton, L.T. Hamlin, L.E. DeVriendt, R.H. McLean, L.H. Knight, Q. Bacon, F. Doll

7th Grade Largest In School's History

Several factors have caused a decrease in the number of seniors this year compared to those last year. The school graduated 185 last June while 148 seniors enrolled this semester. This may be due to the restriction of districts who may send pupils to high school as well as to the number who are in armed forces or industry. It is quite evident that the school will be enrolling more pupils as the years pass because of the large number in the seventh and eighth grades this year, the seventh grade being the largest in the history of the school. These numbers are rapidly increasing as the local population grows so that the number lost through the attendance in new schools such as Livonia will be offset by local increases. Although this year's freshman class did not break records of previous years, it is far larger than any of the other grades with an enrollment of 250; the tenth grade follows with 218; the eleventh has 197; and the twelfth 148. The seventh and eighth grades are running close together, the seventh with 137 and the eighth 126.

Odds and Ends

Members of the class of '25 have been asking what has happened to the sun dial. Where is it? Do you know?

Note to Mr. Latture's government classes: When your full of baloney, don't open your mouth. In advanced algebra, Melvin Larson thought another question to stump the experts. In an expression like X<sup>3</sup> is the X there merely to hold up the 3.

Life is just an eternal struggle to keep one's earning capacity up to one's yearning capacity. It is what we learn after we think we know it all that counts. Arabella Nullstreet was seen with a cigarette in her mouth right in a classroom! Bold, you might say. Her head is on backward. Don't get anxious. She's a skeleton.

If you were passing by the high school at noon some day, you would see a strange sight. The students would pour out the front door, turn right, then suddenly zig zag to the left. They aren't practicing convoy tactics. They are getting used to the new walk.

Studies After-War Health Measures

Miss Mary Strasen of the Plymouth board of education was one of the 85 Michigan public health nurses accepted by the School of Public Health of the University of Michigan to attend an inservice course which started there Monday. The course deals with new medical developments and methods of meeting possible war-caused epidemics.

New Teachers For Livonia

The schools of Livonia township opened Monday morning, September 18, with a full staff of teachers. There are three teachers new to the staff this year. Miss Ruth Alleshouse, will teach in the Junior high school at the Newburg school. Miss Alleshouse has her degree from York college and has had eight years of experience. Mrs. Anne Hiss Moioisio will teach in the Junior high school at Livonia center. She has her Bachelor's degree and her Master's degree from the University of Michigan and has had several years of successful experience in the schools of Michigan. The latest addition to the staff is Mr. Gaylord Laughlin of Wayne, who will teach Science and assist with boy's physical education in the Livonia center school. Mr. Laughlin has a Bachelor degree from Central Michigan State Teacher's College and has taught and coached in a number of schools in the Lower Peninsula.

The school district is operating a fleet of three buses this year. The board of education is attempting to provide transportation to the pupils of his area living beyond a mile and a half from the school. However, bus routes have been organized so as to provide the maximum school transportation with the limited facilities available. After the war, when additional equipment becomes available, it may be possible to increase these facilities. The bus drivers are: Hans Hartmann, Merlin Adams, and Mrs. Elsie Daniels. The three schools in the northern end of the district—Pierson, Wilcox, and Livonia Center are opening at 8:30 A. M. and closing at 3:30 P. M. Those schools in the southern end of the township—Elm, Stark, Rosedale, and Newburg are opening at 9:00 A. M. and closing at 4:00 P. M. The difference in opening times gives the district the additional half hour to use its bus facilities, and thereby makes it possible to transport more pupils.

This is the first year of consolidation under the new organizational plans. The schools have been consolidated to increase the Educational opportunities of all the children of Livonia township. First of all, all pupils in the elementary grades, with the exception of beginners, will attend full day sessions. Each grade will have one teacher. The number of pupils per teacher will approach the state average of approximately 33 pupils. An enriched reading program will be offered with supplementary texts and reference books added in other fields. The Junior High School organization, provides specialized teaching in all subject fields. Full one hour periods in these schools supervised study constitute one of the features of this year's program in Junior high. Health and Physical Education, music, art, for boys and girls are a few of the offerings that will be available this year.

Livonia township is one of the first districts in this area to organize and consolidate. The movement is state-wide, and others have been encouraged to do this through the findings of the Michigan Public Education Commission. During the week of August 18, the Department of Public Instruction reported that four new districts had been organized as follows:
Antrim County—Mancelona Township Unit School district formed an election held on August 7, 1944.
Huron County—Pigeon Rural Agricultural district formed at an election held August 8, 1944.
Montcalm County—Vestaburg Rural Agricultural district for-

Rally Day Opens Fall Program

Rally Day, the formal opening of fall church activities will be observed next Sunday, September 24th at the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church, according to Rev. John B. Forsyth, minister.

The Church School will meet in four departments at 9:45 and 11 a. m. Mrs. Tony Mepians is again in charge of the Primary Department in the Church basement, for children of the first, second and third grades. Mrs. Leo J. Kubik is to be superintendent of the Junior Department, for children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. This group will meet in the church auditorium. Young people of the seventh and eighth grades and high school will have their Church School session in the Rosedale Community House at 9:45 a. m. During the morning worship service at 11 o'clock, Mrs. R. D. Craig will be in charge of the Nursery and Beginners department, for children of 2 to 5, in the Community House. At the morning worship, the choir will open its fall season under the direction of Mr. Lloyd F. Nelson.

Following the church service, members of the congregation who are to make the parish visitation during the afternoon will meet to receive instructions and materials. The visitation is under the direction of the Board of Deacons. The Christian Youth League will entertain all high school freshmen at 6 p. m. After a brief service in the chapel, Nancy Groth and Lattitia P... will lead a program of games, and refreshments will be served by Nancy Pettibone and Ila Culbertson.

Seek Change In Constitution

Considerable interest is being manifested at the Plymouth city hall over a constitutional amendment which will be voted on at the coming election. The amendment is Number 1 on the ballot and provides that a section of the constitution shall be omitted in the future. The original constitution provided that no municipality could provide water for use outside its city limits to a greater extent than 25 percent of the total amount of water used.

City Manager Clarence Elliott said that he believes that Plymouth is well within the old law, but that if new factories are built outside the city limits, and the factories wish to use Plymouth water, then it might well be that the amount needed would run over twenty-five percent of the total amount pumped. The city of Plymouth now has plenty of water to supply any needs which may be made on the city within the next few years, but if several new factories are built, as city officials fully expect then the law would prevent selling water to them.

The Burroughs factory uses some Plymouth water, but most of the water used there is from their own wells. However, any further extension of these factory units would mean increased use for the city. Wall Wire and Plymouth Drawn Steel Co. are among the heaviest users of water of those plants outside the city limits. In addition, the city provides water for about 100 homes outside the city limits.

Persians Live In Filth, Ignorance

"Tehran, the capital city of Persia, is a place of about a million people—without a sewer system" Dr. Harold I. Sparling of Northville, a brother of Mrs. Jewell Bell of this city, told a combined meeting of the Northville Rotary and Exchange clubs recently.

Dr. Sparling, now a captain in the United States Army, has been stationed for more than two years in Persia, serving American fighting men who kept the supply line open to southern Russia. Facts recently released show that if it had not been for the opening of a highway across the Persian deserts for the trucking of war material and food from the United States to the Russians, the war might have a different ending than what is about to happen.

Captain Sparling was with one of the first contingents that was sent into that part of the world and he has been stationed there continuously until given his present leave for a visit to his home in Northville.

"The people in Persia do not live. They just exist. The filth and squalor of the country is beyond belief. There are no schools, and the children do most of the work," he said.

Captain Sparling was in Tehran at the time President Roosevelt, Winston Churchill and Dictator Stalin visited Tehran.

The well known Northville doctor left Sunday for Miami, Florida where he expects to be given a new assignment within the next few days. Mrs. Sparling, who is also a successful physician, is carrying on their practice during his absence in the army.

Delay Building Of 'Turn Out'

A legal opinion on whether or not a proposed "turn out" in front of the library may be assessed to the property owners has held up action by the city commission.

The commission had been requested to provide the "turn out" as a convenience to patrons of the library, but it was also suggested that inasmuch as some widening of Main street be undertaken, that it might be possible to widen all of Main street from Fralick ave. to Church street.

Good advice is easier to give than to take.

PARENTS HEAR FROM FORBES SMITH AFTER MANY MONTHS.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith were relieved and pleased the other day when the mail man dropped off a letter at their home from their son, Forbes Smith, who has not been heard from for several months.

Forbes, who is in the air service, wrote: "Well, I am sorry you didn't hear from me but since D-Day I have written quite a few letters to you but the mail situation has been irregular here. I have only received one letter from home and no papers or anything else. But our major said the mail will finally catch up with me. I am fine and gaining weight. We have good meals here and am well taken care of. I am on a captured airfield in France and like it quite a bit here. It is a change from England you know. But I had a wonderful time in England and have seen some great sights all over the country and when I get home I will tell you all about them."

"Give my best regards to all the church people and all my friends and relatives and tell them I hope to see them soon. Don't worry about me Mom, as I am alright as far as I know now. Give Mr. Eaton my change of address, as I miss the Plymouth Mail. Hope you are all well and keep them flying til we get this mess over and the boys all get home again."

GETS HIS MAIL IN ONE BIG BATCH.

Milton Humphries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphries, 1004 Junction avenue, in a letter to his parents the other day, stated that he had just landed at a place out in the Pacific where his mail was waiting for him.

"There were 60 letters and five copies of The Plymouth Mail. You can understand that I was busy for a time" he said.

"I looked up Clayton Koch today and we had a swell talk. He really looks good. I think he's showing off again very soon. He's coming over to the hospital tomorrow. Bob Kenyon is here and I expect to see him very soon" wrote Milton.

In the "Yank," the army newspaper published for the Pacific area, there is an interesting article recently about the American beachhead established on the island of Guam during the recent invasion and recapture of the island by American forces.

Milton who is attached to a hospital unit, was with the medical force that had been sent ashore during the early part of the engagement. The "Yank" article tells vividly of the important work carried on by the medical unit—and of the loss it suffered. From the underscoring of some of the sentences in the article, it was apparent that the beach party doctor with his unit was killed.

EDWARD CURMI NOW AT GREAT LAKES.

His recruit training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general Naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate sea duty.

Marian P. Wilkie, 935 Simpson was graduated recently from the Naval Training School (Yeomen-W) on the Iowa State Teachers College Campus, Cedar Falls, Iowa. The graduate was selected for her specialty training on the basis of her recruit training aptitude tests and past civilian experience. The completed course of study included shorthand, typing, Naval correspondence, records and forms, and current events.

FIGHTING MARINE WRITES PRAYER BEFORE BATTLE OF SAIPAN.

A young Marine who wrote his own prayer to "carry him through the battle of Saipan" saw half of his company killed or wounded in the 25 day campaign, but remained unscathed himself. He believes the fact that he memorized the prayer and recited it before going into battle each time helped give him courage that brought him through safely.

The marine is Private First Class Charles A. Mankin, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kreeger, of 568 Carpenter street, Northville, who has many friends in Plymouth.

The prayer was written in the form of a poem, was composed while Mankin was aboard a troop transport on the way to the Marianas. It reads as follows:

STAY BY ME LORD
Stay by me, Lord, the day is long.
The burdens heavy to bear.
Stay by me, Lord, the night is dark
And heavy with battle the air.
Stay by me, Lord, if courage fails,
And fear should take its place.
With a natural fear of all un-veterans.
Heaven is still my goal.
So stay by me, Lord, if death should peer
And I should falter there.
Stay by me, Lord, show me the way
Into your lasting care.

The young Marine, who has made the writing of poetry a hobby during his Marine Corps career, also commemorated the death of eight buddies in a long poem written on captured Japanese rice paper shortly after the battle in which they were killed.

The poem also honors the courage of Private First Class Mankin's commanding officer Capt. William Weinstein of 3200 West Chicago Drive, Detroit, Michigan Marine Corps official Release—Combat Correspondent

LIEUT. GEORGE BYRD WINS AIR MEDAL.

2nd. Lieutenant George C. Byrd, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest O. Byrd, 14905 Farmington road, has flown his fiftieth combat mission over German occupied territory in Europe.

Lieut. Byrd, navigator in a 15th Air Force Liberator bomber, is a veteran of the air war. He is responsible for locating the enemy target, and giving the pilot a course to and from the target, evading areas where the flak is heavy, and fighters are known to be based. On many occasions under very adverse conditions. Lt. Byrd has navigated the Liberator out of the German installation, and back to the home base, when the slightest error would have meant loss of the ship and crew. His combat proficiency is reflected in the award of the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters he has been given. Former employee of the N. A. Woodworth Co., Lt. Byrd, entered the Air Forces in June 1942, and won his wings at the Hondo, Texas, Navigation School.

The 17-week technical course which he has just completed at Keesler constitutes the first half of a program of training that will prepare him for service with a combat air crew. He spent the "last" seven days of his training in the Flight Procedures branch of the Keesler technical school where he logged several hours in a B-24 Liberator in reviewing the duties of the aerial engineer. He was flown in the same planes in which Liberator co-pilots are being trained.

SOLDIER LAD PAYS TRIBUTE TO OLD FRIEND, JAMES SEXTON

A part of Pvt. Brose's letter follows: "I have not written for quite a while, but I want you to know that I appreciate your sending of the "Mail" so greatly. There is only one regret in opening the paper the day it comes. It seems as if all the boys we all knew so well and went to school with are the unfortunate headlines. One of the more recent is "Jim Sexton." We all knew him well and he was the life of any party and I will always remember him as one of the best fellows I ever knew. He will be long remembered by everyone. I was stationed not far from him in Florida and was going to see him, but I shipped before the opportunity arose. "I am writing this to thank you for sending The Mail and even though there is an absence of letters from myself, it does not mean that there is a lack of appreciation. Please say hello to everyone in good old Plymouth for me."

HOWARD HUNT ON WAY TO PACIFIC FRONT

In a brief note asking that his Plymouth Mail be held until he has again established a new address, Howard Hunt, better known to his Plymouth friends as "Mugs" says he is on his way over the bounding Pacific, "where I hope to get into active service."

He adds that he cannot say enough in thanks for The Plymouth Mail.

LIEUT. RANSOM IS TAKING ADVANCE COURSE

Turns Back Pages Of Plymouth To Other Days In "Depot" Talk

That interesting letter by Frank Burroughs in a recent issue of the Plymouth Mail, and concerning the more or less mythical prospect for a new railroad depot in Plymouth, invites comment. Mr. Burroughs says that the idea for a new depot for Plymouth is really old stuff. He remembers the talk of former years and in proof of his statement quotes from the 25-Years-Ago column in the August 18th issue of the Mail.

Now, this happens to be the first day of my first vacation in more than two years. I have been spending the entire day with Mrs. Mary K. Hillmer—my mother. We have been discussing among other things, Mr. Burroughs' letter. The letter brings to mother's mind she says, certain vivid memories. With your indulgence I will attempt to re-state a few of them here.

My mother belongs to a generation previous to that of Mr. Burroughs. She can go at least one better. Mother states without fear of successful contradiction that the idea of a new railroad depot for Plymouth was "old stuff" even 25 years ago. It was exactly 36 years before that, she says, or in 1883, that she first remembers hearing talk about the prospect for a new depot in Plymouth.

The railroads came to Plymouth in 1871. That's history. And the two depots were built about the same time. The only depot we know to-day was probably ready first. But first of all, perhaps should be explained the use of "my plural." What we know now as the Pere Marquette was then two entirely separate organizations. The north and south line was the Holly, Wayne & Monroe and the east and west line was the Detroit, Lansing, and Lake Michigan. Both roads were building through Plymouth in the same year. My grandfather, the late George A. Starkweather, was one of the original stockholders in the former. This line soon merged with several other small roads, however, and became a part of the Flint & Pere Marquette. The name of the other was altered to Detroit, Lansing & Northern. The F. & P. M. depot was located near the site of the old municipal lighting plant, now a part of the Daisy property, and the D. L. & N. depot, the object of our discussion, still serves at the old stand.

This one depot which we know to-day is understood to have been constructed by the late Henry Robinson. He was the same efficient artisan who constructed grandfather's home, and where my mother and some others of us still reside. Mr. Robinson, by the way, was the grandfather of the present Maud Bennett of Plymouth. In 1871, the opening year of the road, mother says that she distinctly remembers going with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Starkweather, and her foster grandmother who was Mrs. Mary Davis, for a train ride to Lansing. And they started from the same wooden railroad depot, as she recalls, that Plymouth citizens use to do this every day.

About Spanish-American war time the two railroads consolidated and simplified their name to Pere Marquette. The old north and south line depot then went into disuse and the building was sold and moved away.

Incidentally, at the time the railroads came to Plymouth, mother was still living on the same spot where she was born, and that is the same site where the Plymouth Mail building is now located. Her grandmother, Mrs. Davis, who owned the home which stood thereon, later sold it, as mother says, to the late Le-wis Cass Hough. Mr. Hough was respectively father and grandfather to the present father and son Edward C. Hough and Col. Cass S. Hough. It was here that Mr. E. C. Hough, as mother recalls, lived his boyhood. Mother says that when she lived there she could stand on the side porch of this house and watch the north and south trains go by. All of this, of course, was long before the first small beginnings of the Daisy Manufacturing Co. During mother's early girlhood, as she says, the site of the present Daisy plant was known as the circus grounds.

The subject of this letter is supposed to be relative to Plymouth's railroad depot. Perhaps I have become sidetracked. Anyway, speaking of circuses, mother says that during her early girlhood these came to town early and often. They were small one ring affairs but real circuses nevertheless. They had gilded red wagons, bands, elephants and everything necessary to excite the small town boy of that period. At first they traveled slowly. And quite naturally they stopped at every point where an audience could be assembled. Then later they began to travel the new way—by rail. For a time thereafter they still stopped at Plymouth and the other small towns along the route. Soon, however, sensing the increased advantage the railroads gave them, the circuses began to expand and to consolidate and it became no longer practical for them to make stands in the smaller communities.

But coming back to the old depot. No one anywhere ever believed that either the rolling stock nor the equipment and appurtenances of the railroad would continue in use until the present day. Nor have they. Everything has been changed—that is, everything except Plymouth's ancient depot. From the dirt up every thing else has been renewed and reconstructed an many times over. The original rolling stock would of course bear no resemblance to the types of the modern day, yet, through all these 73 years, Plymouth's little old ugly, shabby, albeit, rigid depot still stands—and serves.

And so, as mother conjectures, by the time her grandchildren are so old as she is today, our already ancient piece of railroad architecture may even then be serving its purpose, with still new talk about Plymouth's prospect for a new depot, and someone again saying that such talk is only "old stuff", and that some fact someone had said the same thing away back in the year 1844.

Fire thought to have been caused by a smoldering cigarette in the upholstery of their car destroyed the car as well as the garage at 9829 Arden avenue, at 2:00 a. m., September 22nd. The property is that of Thomas A. Lyndon who had leased it to Mr. and Mrs. John Downey.

Mrs. Lyndon has been staying with relatives in Lowell, Michigan and was not at home at the time. It was said that Mr. and Mrs. Downey were returning from Detroit when they noticed smoke coming from the rear of their car. They stopped and extinguished the fire in the cushions, with water obtained from a hardware store near Middlebelt road. Believing the fire to be out, they put the cushions into the car and drove home. When they reached the garage they again examined the cushions which seemed to be entirely free from fire, but because they smelled strongly of smoke, Mrs. Downey suggested the cushions should be left standing against the woodpile near the door to air.

During the night the fire which had apparently penetrated deep into the interior of the cushion, generated enough heat to burst into flame, and before the fire department could be called and respond to the alarm the garage and the car were beyond saving. A broken electric wire hampered the work of the fireman somewhat and nearly proved fatal to one of them.

In addition to the car and the garage a large number of tools and gardening equipment was lost and some of the fences and shrubbery were destroyed.

Mrs. Lyndon was contacted on Friday morning and told of the fire. Both the garage and the car were covered by insurance.

A large pile of fireplace wood which had been stacked in the garage added fuel to the flames and made it additionally hard to bring the fire under control.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Did you hear that Tom is going to be inducted into the Army next week, Judge?"

"Yes, Frank told me this morning down at the barber shop. Our town's got a lot of men in the service now, Jim. In fact, all towns have. I was just reading in the paper where there are more than 10,000,000 men away from their homes in the armed forces. And, from all reports, they're doing a grand job bringing victory closer every day."

"We folks at home have a mighty big obligation to those 10,000,000 fighting men. We've got to produce the food to keep them well fed. We've got to keep them supplied with the ammunition and equipment they need to finish their job. We've got to help the Government pay for all these supplies our men need by buying more and more War Bonds. We'll have another big chance to do that by helping to put the next War Loan drive over the top, Jim."

"And, in addition, we must be sure that, while they're away and can't express their opinions, we don't go voting on and deciding any things that will displease them when they come back."
