What I Think and Have a Right to Say
By Eaton R. Eaton

WHEN THEY COME HOME

A few days ago the writer "hitched-hiked" a ride home from Detroit with a returned soldier who saw two years of hard service in the south Pacific. He had been discharged because of the after-effects of wounds and malaria. Naturally our conversation turned to the war and the home-front.

"WHEN PEOPLE BEGIN TO SEE THE BOYS COMING HOME WITHOUT LEGS, ARMS AND EYES, MAYBE SOME OF THEM WILL BEGIN TO THINK A LITTLE DIFFERENTLY THAN THEY DO ABOUT THE SERIOUSNESS OF THIS WAR," HE SAID.

The young discharged soldier had spent more than a year in army hospitals in the south Pacific and in the States.

"THE HOSPITALS ARE FILLED TO OVERFLOWING WITH OUR WOUNDED," HE ADDED.

And there is a line up every day in the Plymouth post-office and banks of "war workers" and others cashing war bonds!

But what can you expect when we have in Washington such a flippant attitude as prevails among our highest officials as an example for the citizens of our country to follow?

THANK THE LORD FOR THIS.

A high official of a national hairdressing and cosmetologist organization says in a recent magazine article that the "vampire" type of a girl is on the way out, and that the returning soldiers want girls of charm, "not a shoddy imitation actress." She declares that "the post-war girl must have that just-washed look, not the pallor of a cocktail lounge fever." For which we say the war may benefit mankind in more ways than crushing the war-lords.

NOT FROM A REPUBLICAN.

"A tricky gang rules from Washington" said a well-known United States senator the other day in a newspaper article. No, it wasn't a Republican who said it. The author of the statement was none other than the Democratic senator from Texas, W. Lee O'Daniels. Being on the inside, he ought to know.

IT'S ABOUT BLACK PEPPER.

Black pepper is not regarded as an important household item, although it is commonly used by nearly every family. Its main use comes in the preparation of meats for retail purposes.

It has become scarce on the markets. Few stores can now provide you with it. Why?

The following article taken from a Washington, D. C., publication gives the reason.

Fear that tons upon tons of good meat will spoil within the next six months, because of the corner in black pepper, possesses packers and some members of Congress. Charges that market manipulators have grabbed up the available supply of black pepper have been made in the halls of Congress.

With the approach of hog killing time the pepper subject becomes exceedingly hot, not only on the American farms but in Washington, the home of the OPA and a thousand other "cradle to grave" regulatory bureaus.

Congressman August H. Andresen of Minnesota, a member who keeps his ears in the heart of the agricultural district, hurled some peppery charges at the marketeers who have cornered the product. On August 18 he paid his respects to those few concerns who have removed black pepper from the American table in a hope to get a premium for the product.

"Black pepper is a small item in an individual diet, but millions of pounds of meat will be spoiled in the next six months due to the inability of farmers and commercial processors to secure an adequate supply of black pepper for seasoning of sausage and other processed meats. More than 30,000,000 pounds of black pepper, or enough to take care of all requirements to the end of 1945, is in storage in this country but the owners refuse to sell at the ceiling price fixed by the OPA.

"The Commodity Trading Co., of New York, owner of nearly 20,000,000 pounds of this necessary spice, and a half a dozen other importers, have cornered the supply and refuse to sell any pepper for civilian use. Commercial meat processors use 40 per cent of all black pepper and the public 60 per cent.

"While it is admitted by Government officials that the cost of sausage and processed meats will not increase if the ceiling price of black pepper is raised several hundred per cent, the OPA refuses to act. Consequently, millions of pounds of meat will be spoiled in the coming months because of the lack of black pepper for proper seasoning.

"The importers who have cornered the supply of black pepper should be allowed a fair profit on their holdings, and if they are not then willing to sell, it appears to me that the matter warrants prompt attention of the Department of Justice. Many American citizens have been prosecuted for less. The public should not be made to suffer because of greed on the part of a few importers.

"The OPA ceiling price on black pepper is approximately 6 1/2 cents per pound. The price in England is around 22 cents. Commercial users of pepper are anxious to secure their supply in the British market, but are prohibited from making such purchases on account of an agreement between the Government of the United States and England. It looks to me like our Government is fostering monopolies and restoring foreign cartels.

"There is something rotten in the black pepper situation. Both the OPA and the Department of Justice should take prompt action to protect American consumers. I will urge the special House committee now investigating the distribution of food products to make a complete investigation so the responsibility will be fixed for the inability of the public to secure black pepper."

Capt. Robinson Well Known Here

Captain Donald E. Robinson, the subject of a special article in a recent issue of The Detroit News in which John M. Carlisle predicted a great future in the army for the energetic young army captain, is a former Plymouth boy who attended school here and has many relatives still living in Plymouth.

Captain Robinson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robinson of 14638 Southfield road. His mother is the former Faye Daggert of this city and is a sister of Mrs. Robert Shingleton and Mrs. Vivian Wingard. Her father was E. R. Daggert, a former well known Plymouth business man.

The captain's father is a brother of Ernest Robinson of this locality, who is at present a Ford employee. He is also a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tillotson of Blunk street and the grandson of Mrs. Anna Robinson Gates of Farmer street.

The family also lived for a time in Northville and Captain Robinson is well known to many of his old schoolmates of that place, who are elated over the military successes which have brought him many honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Rice of Wayne were callers on Plymouth friends Sunday.

City Refuses To Oppose Home Rule

Three efforts to get the city commission of Plymouth to go on record against the Wayne county home rule amendment met with their third defeat Monday night when the commission voted to place the resolution on the table.

City Commissioner Carl Shear, who is Plymouth's member of the Wayne county board of supervisors, made the motion to table the resolution.

Supervisor Shear yesterday stated that he believed the question was one for the voters to decide and not for the city commission to tell voters what to do.

The action of the city commission in Plymouth follows closely the action taken by the League of Michigan Municipalities at its annual session in Jackson endorsing home rule.

Maurice Clark Is Now A Paratrooper

Maurice R. Clark, who lives at 13201 Newburg road, is now a full-fledged paratrooper. He recently graduated from the Parachute Training school down in Georgia. At present Maurice is enjoying a 15 day furlough at his home here.

First Plymouth Boy To Be Heard From Within German Boundry Lines

Donald L. Lewis
First Plymouth Boy to be Heard from in Germany.

Private Donald L. Lewis, 34208 Orangelawn avenue, son of Mrs. Claude Lewis, is the first Plymouth lad, as far as known, to write a letter back home from inside the German boundry line.

Where he is, is not stated, but he is with General Patton's hard-hitting army and has crossed the boundry lines of France and Belgium and is now in Germany.

"I can't tell you just where I am in Germany, but its plenty noisy where I am" he wrote to his mother.

"You can imagine how busy I have been. It has been raining most of the time and it getting much colder. My blankets are wet. No chance to get them dried out and I sleep in wet blankets at night. Have received three packages from home during the past few days," he said.

He left England on June 6, the day the European invasion started.

In The Detroit News, his mother saw a group picture of a number of American fighting lads taken in Cherbourg just after the capture of that city, showing the boys listening to war news over a small radio. Mrs. Lewis was sure that one in the group was Donald. To confirm her belief, she mailed him the picture, and he has just returned it, stating that she was right, the picture was of him, and he named his companions.

The picture used with this article was taken of Donald when he was located in Iceland.

Now that within itself isn't news which startles the imagination, but behind the purchase of that garbage truck there is quite a story involving nudal methods and ways of running things.

Here it is:

Last July after the city commission of the city had belatedly legally possible for the city manager to advertise for bids for the approved its budget, it became purchase of said truck, for included in the budget was an item of $1,500 designated for the said garbage truck.

But it wasn't quite that easy. There was no particular point in seeking bids on a garbage truck unless one could be purchased and one could not be purchased without authorization from the Office of Defense Transportation, another of the many nudal government bureaus.

City Manager Clarence Elliott then wrote to the ODT requesting forms of application for said permission to buy said truck.

In due time, the forms arrived, and were filled out. To save as much time as possible, for the city was desperately in need of a new garbage truck, Mr. Elliott took the forms to the Detroit office of the Office of Defense Transportation. That was early in August.

In Detroit, Mr. Elliott conferred with a Mr. Wellington, who informed him that the purchasing application forms had been sent out, and here was a new set. Please fill them out.

Well, that occasioned a little more delay, but the new forms finally were sent in.

Then the ODT wanted to know from just what dealer the city proposed to buy the truck. Mr. Elliott informed the ODT that he could not specify that information because it would depend entirely on what firm submitted the low-homes.

Few Italians Can Read or Write

Few of the people in Italy can either read or write. Out of 40 adult men hired by one air force to do some work around a field, only two could sign their names. There are no indications of public schools anywhere and the civilians are so dirty that they "smell."

These are but a few of the observations of Sergeant Frank Konazski, son of Mrs. Jennie Konazski, of 679 Adams street, recently sent home to recover from combat fatigue.

American lads coming back from the European front are providing home folks with a world of information about conditions of people who have been forced to live under dictators.

It is the ignorance and the selfishness of the people of Italy that impressed this youthful air fighter who has been doing shuttle bombing between Italy and Russia.

"A Russian woman does the work of two American men. Two of them loaded a 250 pound bomb on our plane as easily as we do it by machines. They do nearly everything by hand over there—and the women do all of the hard work. If you don't think they work, you had ought to go over there and see. The Russians trust absolutely no one. Everything is regulated, and if any one oversteps a regulation of any kind, it's just too bad" declared the young Plymouth soldier.

Frequently, he stated, it was necessary to spend several days at a time somewhere in Russia before the bombers started back to Italy. They spent months in bombing oil fields.

Mildred Bracy, of New York City, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. William Bracy. On Sunday a family dinner was held in the Bracy home with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kenly and daughter, Marilyn, of Detroit, also present.

of youth by lending a helping hand.

First, if we are parents of teenage youngsters, we may let our children become members of the Music Box. And, as we give them our permission, we may be thankful that the city of Plymouth has provided a decent, wholesome place for its young people.

Second, whether we have teenage children of our own or not, we can lend a helping hand by giving financial aid to the children. It does cost money to heat a house and to pay for competent adult supervision. We love them! Let's help them!

Dwight Paddock Back To South America

Dwight Paddock, who recently enjoyed a 23 day leave of absence at his home here, has returned to a station somewhere in the South American area, according to letters received from him in the past few days. He is now a seaman, first class. Dwight likes his work in the navy.

City Unravels

est bid, and he couldn't advertise for bids until he had authorization from ODT.

On that explanation, the Detroit office of the Office of Defense Transportation approved the priority for the purchase of the truck, and sent the forms to Washington for final approval.

That was on September 6, and final approval for the purchase of the truck was mailed from Washington on September 26.

The city then received its bids, and finally purchased a Ford truck, and that said Ford truck is now reposing serenely in the city's garage, still unusable because there is no body on it.

The City officials made arrangements with Gar Wood industries in Detroit to build the body, a five yards capacity job, but before Gar Wood can build it, the company must obtain a priority from the War Production Board, another government bureau, which thus far has not been obtained.

After that priority is obtained, the body then can be built, and attached to the truck, after which the city can begin using it for the collection of garbage and rubbish. But when that will be nobody knows or can even guess.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science Churches throughout the world on Sunday, October 8. The Golden Text (Ps. 30:2,3) is: "O Lord My God, I cried unto thee, and thou hast healed me. O Lord, thou hast brought up my soul from the grave; thou hast kept me alive, that I should not go down to the pit." Among the Bible citations: "Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord; though your sins be scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (473): "Jesus is the name of the man who, more than all other men, has presented Christ, the true idea of God, healing the sick and the sinning and destroying the power of death."

CALVARY BAPTIST CHURCH. Ann Arbor Trail at Elizabeth. Will have the Rev. Linderholm of Garden City occupying the pulpit both morning and evening. Rev. Linderholm is not a candidate for the pastorate. Morning service at 11:00; Sunday school at 10 o'clock; evening service at 7:30.

Sunday is a day set aside for the worship of the living God. If we ignore it we are cheating ourselves. The Psalmist said, "My heart and my flesh cryeth out for the living God." That should find a response in every heart in these United States during these troubled times, and our churches should be filled with worshippers. If you have not another church home, we will gladly welcome you at the Calvary. "Seek and ye shall find, knock and it shall be opened unto you."

Dahlia Plants Over Eight Feet High

Maybe California can boast of its tall tomato plants, but when it comes to tall growing dahlia plants, Fred Rogers of 246 West Ann Arbor can beat the biggest that California ever raised. Mr. Rogers has several dahlia plants that exceed eight and a half feet in height.

"I didn't do anything special to make them grow that way, except to keep the weeds out and hoe them once in a while. Its just the way things grow in Michigan, that's all," says Mr. Rogers.

The Japanese celebrate the attack on Pearl Harbor on the 8th of each month, ending the ceremony with the shout "Down with America!"

Expect the worst and save yourself from disappointment.

Cal Whipple Now With Goodale Store
Cal Whipple, who recently returned to Plymouth with Mrs. Whipple after having spent the summer in Petoskey, is now employed in the Loren Goodale grocery. Mr. Whipple states that they thoroughly enjoyed the warm months at their summer home near the shores of Lake Michigan. Mr. Goodale feels fortunate in securing Mr. Whipple's aid in his store, as he has had so much work, it has been a problem for his present force to handle it as rapidly as he desires.
daily lives of millions of consumers, producers and farmers.
Announcing local observance of the anniversary, J. A. O'Donnell, vice-president in charge in this area, pointed out that the institution founded by Hartford is a veteran of four wars and has been committed to an important role in the present conflict.
"His strict observance of the price control and rationing program, teaming with federal agencies in helping to move surpluses of various commodities, its leadership in the drives to salvage waste fats, metals, containers and paper, and its vigilance against waste and spoilage in the distribution of perishables, the A & P has kept a pledge it made to the American public at the start of the war," O'Donnell said.
The company's pledge over the signature of John A. Hartford, president of the company and a son of the founder, affirmed its intention to continue efforts to reduce the spread between prices paid the grower and prices charged the consumer; to continue its aid to farmers in the orderly marketing of their products at fair prices, and to maintain high wages and good working conditions for its employees.
Pledged further to hold inventories to the lowest point consistent with good service to customers, because hoarding, whether by wholesalers, retailers or consumers, would cause higher prices, the company also published its intention "to continue selling food at the lowest margin of profit in the history of the retail grocery business."
Guided by its policy of cutting operating costs and passing the savings on to the consumer, the first A & P store enjoyed immediate success. Young Hartford took a revolutionary step in purchasing a cargo of tea direct from China and, by elimination of all needless in-between handlings and costs, retailed it for a third of the prevailing prices. He subsequently applied the same mass distribution principles to an expanding variety of foods, and public acceptance made it possible to open branches and start America's first chain store company.
"Probably our greatest single contribution to a healthful American diet," said O'Donnell, "was the part we played in making fresh fruits and vegetables available the year round. The A & P in many instances, was the first to bring southern produce to northern markets during the winter months. The benefits of year-round consumption of these foods have been felt by both farmers and consumers."

Doubled consumption of citrus fruits in the past twenty years through speedy delivery of these products to all markets, development of poultry as a daily commodity instead of the traditional "holiday dinner," inland distribution of fresh seafood, and mass production and sale of dairy foods, were cited by O'Donnell as outstanding examples of how A & P mass merchandising has affected American eating habits.
As one portent of the future.
O'Donnell paid tribute to the more than 25,000 former A & P employees, now serving in the armed forces of the United States and Canada, for what he termed their share in the growth of the nation's leading food distributing system."

Famed Singer To Open Series

Donald Dickson, sensational young baritone of opera, concert, and radio renown, will open the Detroit Town Hall season at the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, October 11th at 11 o'clock.

The first attraction in a series of 20 Wednesday mornings, the handsome singer will give a varied program of five song groups, ranging from the classics to the well loved American ballads and gypsy tunes. He will be accompanied by Lawrence Stevens at the piano. The accompanist will have a solo spot on the program playing selections from Schubert, Tcherenpaine, and Dohnanyi.

A prodigy of Rodzinski, Dickson made his musical debut with the Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, later singing with the Metropolitan and Chicago Operas. He divides his time now between concert tours, and regular appearances on national chain radio hook-ups.

Gapen, son of Mrs. Lillian Postlewait of Royal Oak. The Rev. T. Leonard Sanders officiated.

The bride wore a street length dress of sapphire blue velvet with black accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias and lilies. She wore a gold locket set with a blue sapphire, a gift from the bridegroom.

The bride's cousin, Miss Clara Reno of Commerce, Michigan, as maid of honor, wore a brown suit and a corsage of yellow rose buds.

Mrs. Maynard, the bride's mother, wore a black suit with black and red accessories and a red rose bud corsage. Mrs. Postlewait wore a forest green suit with brown and a pink corsage.

Robert Gapen, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man.

A reception was held at the bride's home for about 125 guests. The bride's table held a five tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom. On each side of the cake were white vases filled with pink roses. Mrs. John Lennox and Miss Thelma Reno assisted in serving.

The house was decorated with white baby mums, salmon gladioli and purple asters.

The bride is a graduate of the Plymouth high school in 1943.

The couple will make their home at Walled Lake.

Gets Commission And Bride, Too

A commission as an Ensign in the navy air forces and a bride are among the prize possessions taken recently by Warren Perkins, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Perkins, 260 South Union street.

After an intensive naval training period at Pensacola, Florida, the former Plymouth high school student was awarded his wings and a commission as Ensign in the navy. Following the successful completion of his course, he was granted a leave of absence and returned home to wed Louise Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Patrick, who reside on Inkster road near Schoolcraft.

The young couple were married in Detroit on September 26. While the bride did not attend school in Plymouth, she has many friends here among the young people.

It is her plan later to join her husband if he should be sent to some Navy Base somewhere in the United States.

Women Hear Of Party Platforms

The regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Woman's club was held at the Episcopal parish house on Monday evening, 35 members and their guests were present.

A set of scales balanced respectively by an elephant and a donkey, was used as centerpiece on the dinner table. Small elephants and donkeys were also used as other table decorations.

During the evening music was furnished by Mrs. Linnea Wilson, accompanied by her sister, Mabel Vickstrom. Mrs. Hazel Diack read a humorous poem, entitled "Woman's Place in Politics."

E. W. Waugh, professor of Political Science at Ypsilanti State Normal, gave an instructive address on "Political Platforms." Professor Waugh stressed the importance of everyone casting their ballot in the coming election.

Mrs. Diack and Mrs. Belle Young were in charge of the program.

Voters League To Meet With Mrs. Bateman

The Plymouth League of Women Voters will open their activities with a dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. Thomas P. Bateman, 1347 W. Ann Arbor Trail, at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, October 13.

The speaker for the afternoon will be Mrs. Olive Haskins, of Flint, Mich., President of the Michigan League of Women Voters.

The subject of her talk will be: "The Purpose, Origin and Future of the League."

Mrs. Horace Thatcher will be in charge of the refreshments and members are invited to bring a guest.

Fat Collection Takes Big Jump

Over a full ton of fats for use in ammunition making was collected in Plymouth during the month of September, according to the report just made by Mrs. R. D. Merriam, chairman of this important salvage committee. The exact total was 2,450 pounds.

Fatal Accidents

Falls were the leading type of fatal accident in 1943, resulting in 27,400 deaths—9 per cent more than in 1942. Motor vehicle accidents were second in importance, accounting for 23,400 deaths—17 per cent below 1942. Deaths from burns, 10,350, ranked third, with a 15 per cent increase from 1942. Drownings caused 7,150 deaths, approximately the same as in 1942.

Bronchoscope

The bronchoscope, used by the medical profession to remove foreign particles from the lungs, is proving extremely valuable in the manufacture of airplane engines. It is used to check the interior of oil and cooling lines where it searches out invisible flaws in the drilled metal and clears the way to super engine performance in the air.

Whitest White

If you have sifted Atlantic beach sand through your fingers you may have noticed particles of jet black mixed among the white grains. They were probably titanium ore. Out of this black substance the chemist makes the whitest white used as pigment for exterior house paint.

Baffling Origin

Origin of the Mayan Indians of Mexico is still further baffling to students in that they are the only Indians practicing baptism, confession, and atonement; that while they had a pantheon of gods, they believed in one supreme being for whom they made no image.

DODGE DRUG COMPANY

Admiral Ernest J. King—"The dollars of every patriotic American must contribute to build invasion ships to transport our men and materials in increasing numbers to the many active fronts. In 1944, more than ever before, the money we invest in War Bonds is of supreme importance."

General George C. Marshall—"The American people must give not only their full personal effort but the full use of their dollars invested in War Bonds to back these attacks. There is no alternative. Total victory is in sight, but it can only be won by concentrating every resource of America to the task."

The first 3 years have been the easiest!

It's easy to give everything you've got when you're scared to death and fighting for your life. It's hardest to bear down when things look "in the bag."

As the war looks today, for instance.

Over-confidence may not lose us this war. But if it makes us ease up, it can prolong it.

Even if only one extra day is added to the war—just one—thousands of American boys may die for it. Perhaps, God forbid, a friend of yours, or son, or brother, or sweetheart, or husband.

So don't slow down now. Don't coast. Buy Bonds with that extra cash—all the Bonds you can.

After all, buying Bonds is not only a patriotic but a very wise thing to do. The dollars you put in Bonds now will come back to you—bringing more dollars with them. Dollars that can mean happiness, security, comfort—just when you'll want those things most.

Buy War Bonds for your Country. Buy them for yourself. They're the world's safest investment.

War Bonds - to have and to hold

Stanley Burden New Mayor

The school election was held last Thursday resulting in the choice of "Stan" Burden for mayor by a majority of only a few votes. "Stan", a senior, lives near Plymouth, in Robinson Subdivision. His hobby is collecting ticket stubs. The officers for the twelfth grade are president, Ralph Bachelor; vice-president, George Valrance; secretary, Joan Gillis; treasurer, Carol Hubbell; student council, Bernard Birt, Merlin Datcher and Kay Fisher. Ralph, who has been very active in school affairs, is on the football team, and was co-chairman of the J-hop last year. He lives on Main Street next to the City Hall.

The officers for the eleventh grade were president, Jacqueline Dalton; vice-president, Danny Wiseley; secretary, Natalie Reitzel; treasurer, Eleanor Hart; student council, Marilyn Vershure, Don Vetal, and Don Korte.

Luchtman Chooses Double Quartet

Mr. Luchtman of the music department announces the new double quartet members as Bernice Miklosky, Ruth Campbell, Ann Watkins, Mabel Vickstrom, Darlene Lunning, Jacquelyn Ethwell, Mary Ann Silk, and Betty Arigan.

The junior chorus, consisting of 128 seventh and eighth graders, is larger than last year's group.

There are about 60 band members but Mr. Luchtman wants more clarinets, flutes, saxophones, and trombones.

Since Miss Hamill has left the orchestra, now meeting on Monday, will miss her training and the string ensemble has been eliminated.

Three Cheers for the Election Board

The election board and its chairman were appointed last spring by Mayor Shirley Luttermoser as advised in the school constitution. It consists of the following:

General Chairman is Jim Baker Thornton, and his assistants: 12th grade, George Valrance and Anna Marie Cooper.

11th grade, Jean Murray and Marilyn Vershure.

10th grade, Nancy Gerst and Jacquelyn Dalton.

9th grade, Peggy Hart and Stanley Burden.

8th grade, Don Vetal and Kay Fisher.

7th grade, Merlin Datcher and Lois Mills.

Since the opening of school this board worked diligently to organize plans for the school election. The members turned out 100 per cent for the luncheon meeting held in the advisers, Miss Walldorf's, room at which they discussed their plans and problems.

Its first project was the management of the class caucuses on Friday, September 22, at which time nominations were submitted for the mayor and class officers. This staff tabulated the results of the 1100 ballots cast in these caucuses.

In addition to this the board, assisted by classmates, took charge of the registrations held in the class adviser's room Tuesday and Wednesday, September 26, and 27. The eleventh grade had the largest percentage of its members register of all the classes.

On Thursday, September 28, the elections were held on the stage. The board carried out regular legal procedure with the swearing in of the board by Mr. Dykhouse, presentation of registration slips, recording of names in poll book, regular voting booths, and numbered ballots.

Miss Walldorf, the board's faculty adviser, stated: "I was pleased with the attitude and efficiency with which the students of the election board tackled their job. The chairman, Jim Thornton, proved to be one of the most conscientious and efficient chairmen I have ever had the pleasure of working with in student activities."

Class News

The growth of the chemistry class seems to bewilder quite a few people. No one can really determine why nearly one hundred pupils are taking chemistry this semester. It may be due to the growing interest in this field. Another class has been added, making three groups. All classes began work in the laboratory on Thursday.

Debate Club

There will be no Debate Club this year because of the difficulty in getting debate members. The upper classmen who usually would take part in it are occupied with outside employment, and other activities for the war effort.

Natalie Reitzel Heads Lams Club

Lam's Service Club is living up to its name. This summer the officers were elected at a meeting at the home of Peggy Hart in Rosedale Gardens. They are Natalie Reitzel, president; Carol Hubbell, vice-president; Mary Jane Christenson, secretary; Jacqueline Dalton, treasurer. Lams has charge of the nurse's office and the Lost and Found which they run on a voluntary basis switching volunteers each month. They also sold tickets for the football games since the student council had not been elected. They are planning two social events in the near future, their formal initiation in Wayne on October 12, and a hayride at some later date.

Trenton Wins Over Plymouth

The outstanding feature of Plymouth's game with Trenton last Friday was Bob Hall's spectacular eighty-yard run from a kick-off, which resulted in one of Plymouth's two touchdowns, but the Rocks were not quite good enough, and were nosed out by a score of 31-12.

In the first quarter Trenton scored twice, and succeeded in getting one good conversion. During the second quarter Trenton scored twice again, and failed at both conversions. It was after Trenton kicked off that Hall made his breath-taking run. Plymouth failed to make the extra point.

Plymouth kicked off at the start of the second half. Trenton scored, and again failed to convert. Plymouth scored in the first quarter in a sustained drive. The try for the extra point failed, and the final score was Trenton 31, Plymouth 12.

The starting lineups were:
Noyes D Lyons
Bauman M Lyons
Flannigan Mazatics
Downing Farrar
Aubrey Wilkins
Moffet Bomerkenki
Micol Frebe
Rock Glidden
Schroeder Shrule
Harsha Stockhouse

Making Student Music Tests

Clarence Luchtman, director of music in the public schools, announced this week that he has been giving musical aptitude tests to the school students from the fifth through the ninth grades.

The tests reveal the probabilities of the student becoming a good instrumentalist.

Where the tests show the student has a good chance of succeeding, parents are notified. After that it is possible for the student to rent his chosen instrument for three months to find out exactly whether the child has the aptitude. If it is shown, then the instrument may be purchased.

Football Shorts

A varsity scrimmage was held at Belleville on Tuesday, September 26, when Plymouth was defeated, 12 to 7.

Also on that Tuesday the second team won a scrimmage with the freshmen, 18 to 6.

Out of forty candidates for the football squad, twenty are seniors, six are freshmen, and the remaining sixteen are juniors. Six lettermen have returned, all but one of whom are seniors.

Ancient History

Miss Paris ancient history classes are making maps of the Fertile Crescent. Doris Blunk gave an interesting report on Hammurabi's code of laws. Another good report was given on the pyramids. The modern history class has just finished maps of Europe in the 18th century.

The Camera Club

The Camera Club of about nine held their first meeting last Wednesday under the supervision of Miss Schultz, who teaches chemistry, physics, and pre-flight. They began to learn how to use the projector to show pictures to the school and will continue the work at their regular meetings held every Wednesday. They will also take most of the pictures for the senior annual.

mind, Mr. Elliott intends to maintain it as much as possible.

Mr. Elliott pointed out that no finances ever have or will be needed in the immediate future for the conduct of the organization.

Girl Reserves

Under the supervision of new advisers, Miss Wrisley and Miss Bristah, the Girl Reserves held their opening meeting Thursday, September 28. After they had spent a short time getting acquainted with their new leaders, they selected committees and held the usual business meeting with the new officers; President, Elaine Kunkel; vice-president, Anna Marie Cooper; secretary, Carol Hubbell; treasurer, Betty Lou Arnold. Elaine Kunkel then gave a description of her summer at the Girl Reserve, Camp Tyrone in Fenton, Michigan.

News of Our Boys
*In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
 Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.*

ROBERT DAILEY TELLS ABOUT GERMAN
 PROPAGANDA METHODS

In a letter from somewhere in Italy, written by Robert Dailey, former Plymouth boy now with the fighting forces of Uncle Sam overseas he makes reference to German broadcasting propaganda methods.

His letter in part follows: "At long last, I have my chance to go to Rome and I expect to make the most of it for the short time that I have. Surely should come back with some fine photos as well. I'll have more to write on that deal later. As for things of interest these days, well other than war news that you read in the papers, there really isn't much besides the stuff that is already stale."

"Last Saturday night another chap and I crashed a local dance just as a matter of routine, when much to our pleasant surprise we found out that a gang of civvie gals over from the states were guests."

Speaking of propaganda the Germans are doing a lot of broadcasting these days in English for our benefit—awfully nice of them. Really though, it gives you a good idea of just what a rat will stoop to when he's cornered. He made some statement about the Italians in Italy were living amongst starvation and ruins and that the only way in which they were about to survive was through the generosity of the Americans. Their hatred for the British is hardly describable.

"The latest word from my brother is that he's on his way home and expects to return to some advanced merchant marine school. Still have heard no word as to what has actually happened to Wes, but as I wrote previously the "missing in action" business, especially with the air forces, doesn't necessarily mean deceased. Quite the contrary I'd say he stands at least a fifty to one chance of having been taken a PW."

"Well I'll close and return in a very few days with the news of this Dago capital."

SGT. HERB BURLEY WINS PRAISE FOR HIS "FINE WORK."

Sgt. Herb C. Burley, son of Mrs. Grace Burley of 1324 Sheridan avenue, has just been commended by his superior officers for the "fine work" he has done in connection with the supply division of an air service command depot in England. The citation given by Col. John G. Moore, said the work of Sgt. Burley was "worthy of the highest commendation."

JAMES R. ZUCKERMAN WINS COMMISSION AS SECOND LIEUTENANT.

James R. Zuckerman, Plymouth high school graduate and son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Zuckerman of 9253 Ball street, has recently been awarded a commission as second lieutenant in the Signal Corps officer school at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey. Three others from Michigan were in the graduating class with him.

ROBERT RUELISUELI AT GREAT LAKES

Robert W. Ruedisueli of 11015 Auburndale avenue, Rosedale Gardens, has been assigned to naval service and is now at the U. S. Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Illinois. He will be given a leave for a few days after this part of his training is completed.

HE'S AN AIRCRAFT ELECTRICAL SPECIALIST.

Pfc. William Elliott, who is a brother of Jack Elliott of 876 Church street, has completed his training and has been graduated as an aircraft electrical specialist from the Chanute Field, down in Illinois. He's in the Army air forces.

 WITH ART LOCKWOOD.

In a brief note from Pfc. Arthur Lockwood, who is now fighting right up in the front lines somewhere in France, he says that "it is swell to read what goes on back home."

His note follows:
 Dear Editor:
 "Just a few lines to let you know that my address has been changed to New York."

"I'm now somewhere in France action against our enemy. I sure hope and pray that this war will soon be over, for it really isn't any fun."

"The enemy has a tricky bunch but we will show them that they are fooling with the wrong bunch."

"I've received two of The Mails lately and I have enjoyed them very much."

"It is swell reading of what goes on back in the good old state of Michigan."

"Do hope you will give my best regards to my many friends of Plymouth. Please take care of yourself."

"MOVING OUT TO HELP CRUSH THE DIRTY JAPS."

From somewhere out in the Pacific came an interesting letter from Ernest W. Berridge, a Plymouth man serving on a LSM.

Ernest writes as follows: "I confess that this is the first letter written to Our Boys column, but I do wish to say hello to all my friends in Plymouth. I am enjoying the best of health. I am a radio operator aboard an LSM, one of the navy's amphibious craft. I find my work very interesting and challenging."

"I was indeed grieved to read of the death of Major John J. Dalton. I wish in this way to send my deepest sympathy to the Dalton family."

"I have noted carefully the patriotic spirit of Plymouth. You folks have been so generous and sincere in all of your bond drives. I feel that you are behind us, and that we are fighting for a real objective. I salute you good people of Plymouth. I hope the day is not too distant when I may return to my wife in Plymouth."

"I want to thank the editor for sending me the Plymouth Mail every week. It is surely appreciated and read very carefully."

Penal institutions exclusively for women are maintained today by only 21 states, the other 27 still confining their female felons and misdemeanants in jails and prisons whose employees and inmates are chiefly men.

WALTER JENDRYKA'S
 OUTFIT WINS
 SPECIAL COMMENDATION

Walter Jendryka, one of the Plymouth Mail boys who spent two years up in the Aleutian islands and is now stationed at Geiger Field, up in the state of Washington, writes to "Our Boys" page that his outfit has been awarded special honors for their work up in the Arctic regions.

His letter in part follows: "Well, guess it's about time I dropped you a few lines. I have intended to write much sooner but have been pretty busy here since I got back from furlough."

I also had extra duty to do and was restricted to company area for coming in late from furlough.

"By the way, I had quite a busy week last week on the rifle range. And the weather was strictly hot, and as a matter of fact, it's extra hot today, but the weather man claims to be much cooler tomorrow. I hope he is right, for we have pretty tough schedule tomorrow which means we have lots of walking to do."

"You'll find a clipping enclosed which I cut out from the Geiger Field paper which pertains to our battalion for the splendid work we have accomplished on the islands, at least that's what they told us. The commanding general from this air base gave us a speech and told us how glad he was to have us with him. He also read General Buckner's letter to us over the loud speaker."

"A few days ago we had taken a F. O. D. examination which means fit for overseas duty and of course I was fit. Oh yes, we also were told that we are going over again between four or six months. One officer told us that it may be China but I don't believe he knows anymore than the rest of us."

"Well, this week-end I'm getting a pass to Spokane. They have a race track there and I think I may go and see the horse race and make a bet or two."

Michigan Flies Go On Vacation

Karl H. Starkweather went on a well-earned vacation a week or so ago. He decided that he'd like to go "south" as far as Cincinnati, at least.

So did some Michigan houseflies—according to a letter written to The Mail from Cincinnati. The letter follows:

"Somewhere I read that the entire career of a common housefly is expanded within 1000 feet from the point where it was formed. That's a darned lie. Before I tell you how I know it's a lie, however, let me tell you about my little trip down here to old Cincy. You see, my job granted me a two weeks vacation. I decided that I would like to spend half of it at home, and the other half away from home. I wanted to see some point where I had not been before.

"Now I would have liked to have come down here in the day time, actually, but I came in the night time. The reason for that was because I did not get myself ready in time to go in the day time. As a matter of fact, my wife thought that I would never get ready to go anywhere at any time. By the time the Detroit bound train was whistling for the 8:38 Plymouth stop last Tuesday night, however, I was almost ready to start. My bag was still being packed. Yes, I made the train—just made it. I had forgotten nothing but my clothes brush and needed pair of shoe laces.

"Not having had time to round up my family for the final good-bye, I did so by telephone from the Union depot in Detroit. I left the Union depot over the B & O at 11:45 the same night for Cincinnati. I was lucky enough to get a comfortable seat, and in an air conditioned coach. My only regret was that I would be unable to see the crops and the railroad stations on the way down. Everything has its compensations, however, and so I planned on having a night of uninterrupted, enjoyable reading. No, I wasn't thinking a thing about sleep. I could sleep next week. If I should eventually doze off, then O. K.—if not, then also O. K. I wasn't worrying.

"The coach I was in appeared to have ir it only long distance travelers—that is, passengers bound mostly for Cincinnati points or beyond. So after four or less the lights were dimmed. I was in the soup—I mean the dark. I wanted to read, but the privilege was denied me.

"I did my best to peer out the windows and to penetrate the darkness. The train traveled fast but would sometimes slow up. The train men called no stations on the way down and I never knew where I was at. I would frequently see dark outlines silhouetted against the deeper backgrounds. In the midst of awful war there was now only peace and quiet. I was disturbed only by hungry flies.

"Now these flies could really bite. They boarded the train in Detroit and were deadheading it to points south for the winter. They stayed with me all the way down. That's why I know that it's a darned lie when someone says that the common housefly lives out its life within 1000 feet where it was born."

Little Meat For Civilian Use

While Canadians across the river have a plentiful supply of the best meat there is, people in Plymouth are suffering from a shortage of meat points.

A check reveals that red point rationing at the present time is the severest since the start of the war.

Every ration book holder is now getting only seven and a half points a week for all red-point purchases.

But butter is now twenty points, which means that a household with only two books can't even buy a pound of butter a week, let alone meat.

It was pointed out that there are many items which do not require red points, but those supplies are unavailable at any price. For instance utility grades of beef are unrationed, but who has any? All of the meat in Plymouth is the best, or second grade. That is labelled AA or A. It is the only kind the dealers can get.

Some of the lesser cuts of the better beef is also unrationed, but again, it is seldom available, and certainly there is not enough to go around.

All the better cuts of pork also are being rationed, and even though the points are low, there still are not enough to go around. Veal is seldom seen on any counters.

There are some who believe that the excessive point-value of butter is due to a desire on the part of the administration to spank the farmer, who for the most part is anti-administration in his politics. By placing the point ration of butter high, the average household is forced to the purchase of margarine, which is only two points a pound.

Since Franklin Pierce, a Democrat, was inaugurated in 1843, the Democrats and the Republicans have been the only political parties to succeed in getting candidates elected to the Presidency. Pierce's predecessor, Millard Fillmore, was a Whig.

Election Near, Control Is Off

(By E. I. Besemer.)
The War Food Administration has announced that all rationing and distribution control of farm machinery and equipment, except corn pickers, has been discontinued.

It has been announced from the State Emergency Farm Labor Office in East Lansing that the program has been 92 per cent effective in securing help for the farmers of the State.

There are a number of orders for help to harvest apples, corn, some truck crops, and for year round men at the Wayne County Agents office.

To date there has been a total of 747 workers furnished to 123 work orders placed with the Wayne County Agricultural Agents office.

With a below average potato crop anticipated for Michigan, and federal loans available on stored potatoes, County Agricultural Agent E. I. Besemer believes growers should be familiar with improved methods of storage.

Here are some of the most important factors involved, as outlined by H. C. Moore, extension farm crop specialist of Michigan State College:

Care should be used in putting the tubers in storage. They should be handled as carefully and as little as possible to avoid bruising.

Plenty of ventilation should be provided in the storage room, with ventilators left open to cool the potatoes. For the first 10 days the temperature of the storage room can be maintained in the neighborhood of 60 degrees. After the curing period is over, the temperature shouldn't exceed 48 degrees and should be kept above 38 degrees F.

The storage cellar should be well insulated so that the potatoes can be kept at the proper temperature without use of artificial heat. Darkness in the room is desirable to prevent the tubers from turning green and causing a bitter flavor.

Many potatoes spoil in home storage each year because they are placed in basements that are warmed by furnaces.

Plenty of moisture in the air helps to prevent the potatoes from shriveling. Quite often it is necessary to throw water on the floor to keep the storage room damp.

Michigan's anticipated yield will be slightly less than 15 million bushels compared to a 10-year average of nearly 24 million, according to official estimates. With this in view, economics specialists of Michigan State College, expect fair prices. The only support to these prices, however, will be the loan program on farm and warehouse stored potatoes, available from now until December 15.

Loans will be made on potatoes meeting requirements of specified U.S. grades and stored in approved warehouses, satisfactorily constructed, free from pests, freezing and other hazards.

Former student council member, Bill Stout, of 344 Ann St., was elected a president of the ninth grade class. His hobby is making model airplanes. The rest of the ninth grade officers are: vice-president, Barbara Weed; secretary, Barbara Lagouschutz; treasurer, Robert Hancock; Student council, Barbara Daniels and Jay Daggett.

Terence Hitt was again elected president of the eighth grade. Terry, whose hobby is airplanes, lives at 1335 Sheridan avenue. The other officers of the tenth grade are vice-president, Douglas Blunk; secretary, Nancy Gurst; treasurer, Nancy Groth; student council, Patricia Martin and Marilyn Tibb.

Patricia Zink of 1059 Penniman was elected president of the seventh grade. Chemistry is her hobby and she spends much time on it. This is the first time she has held office. She is supported by vice-president, Nancy Marrow; secretary, Cass Hough; treasurer, Keith Ebersole; student council, Patsy Green.

Dick Bloomhuff of 294 W. Ann Arbor Trail, a resident of Plymouth for eight years, was elected as the new president for the eighth grade. He spends his leisure time making model airplanes. The other new officers are vice-president, Helen Fisher; secretary, Bobby Johnson; treasurer, Ray Vershure; student council, Ted Thrasher.

Grover Cleveland is the only President ever elected after being defeated for reelection. A Democrat, he was elected 1884, but defeated by Benjamin Harrison, a Republican, in 1888. Four years later, Cleveland again ran against Harrison and won.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"It sounds almost like a miracle, Judge... how did we ever do it?"
"American industry did it, Sally. When the Japs conquered the chief natural rubber producing centers of the world they thought they had dealt a death blow to our war effort. But, in less than two years, we are producing enough synthetic rubber in this country to supply all our military and essential civilian requirements."
"Our rubber experts knew how to make it but the most practical process at the time required huge amounts of industrial alcohol... far beyond the already over-taxed capacity of our industrial alcohol plants. So, overnight, our country's beverage distillers stopped making whiskey and produced hundreds of millions of gallons of the vitally needed alcohol."
"As a matter of fact, Sally, a high government official said recently "...synthetic rubber is from 6 to 9 months ahead of where it could have been if alcohol had not been available for butadiene production."
"We were really fortunate, weren't we Judge, to have a beverage distilling industry in existence... able to help perform this great wartime miracle!"

University Club Plans Programs

Claude J. Dykhouse, president of the University of Michigan club in Plymouth announced this week the schedule of events for the coming winter, and at the same time pointed out that the club is open to everyone who is interested in higher education, whether they have any connection with the university or not.

Lieut. Harry Fischer, is vice president of the club, and Mrs. George S. Burr is secretary and treasurer. The executive board is composed of the officers and George M. Chute, Gertrude K. Fiegel, Edna M. Allen, Dr. Harold Todd, Rex Albright and Michael Huber.

A send-off party for new and former students at the University of Michigan will be held in the High School dining room on October 19th, at which Lieut. Fischer will be the principal speaker. Music will be provided by the girl's double quartet under the direction of Clarence Luchtman, and there will be a movie depicting the war training at the university.

The annual all-college party will be held in February, but details have not been completed.

The club had more than 150 members last year, and anyone wishing to join the organization this year may contact Miss Allen at 305 Arthur street, or phone 687-W.

Would Keep Up Organization

City manager Clarence Elliott, who was the head of the civilian defense organization in Plymouth announced this week that he hopes and plans to keep the organization intact.

Mr. Elliott said no plans have been formulated to keep the organization working through practice sessions, but that he sees no reason to disband simply because the emergency has passed.

"These organizations were composed of men and women with the community interest in heart," he said. "They worked to attain their rank, and it seems foolish to me to disband the organization and possibly lose all of the training they have had."

"If we had a major disaster of any kind in the Plymouth area, the air raid wardens with their first aid training would be invaluable. If there was a major fire, you would find the already trained emergency firemen would be of great value in helping the regular fire department."

"We have already used the auxiliary police on several occasions and we probably will use them again."

"We have received no instructions of any kind for the disposition of the government equipment still held by some of the air raid wardens, and so they will keep it pending further instructions."

The Detroit air raid wardens have been formally disbanded, but for the most part Detroit is well equipped to handle almost any emergency because of the size of the city, but that would not apply in Plymouth.

Fires, train wrecks, explosions, and even earthquakes would find a need for the organization already set up, and with that in

There's a... GREAT DAY COMING

Nothing can surpass the joy and relief from the yoke of war that final victory will bring. But when the time comes to enjoy living again there will be many new home comforts to look forward to. Gone will be the worry of ration stamps and the thought that GAS is a war fuel to be used only when absolutely necessary. No longer will the great gas ovens in our war plants be turned full "on" to cook implements of war and those in our kitchens turned "off" to conserve this labor-saving fuel. Instead of tougher armor plate and shells it will be more tender steaks, roasts, pies and cakes. Yes, there's a great day coming when GAS, that clean, fast, wonder-FUEL will not only cook our meals, heat our homes, cool and preserve our foods and provide plenty of hot water; but it will also provide us with year 'round air conditioning.

Heating and cooling with gas through one simple air conditioning unit will be one of the most welcome postwar gifts of modern science. Buy more War Bonds today and enjoy better, happier living tomorrow.

No one knows when this war will end, but until it does, it is everyone's patriotic duty to conserve all vital material of war. GAS is a most vital material of war, it must continue to be used wisely.

HEARING cries out at sea, Capt. John Long, a Marine flyer, stripped, put on a life jacket and plunged into the dark, wild waters. A furious surf was pounding on the shore of the little south Pacific island. Fellow officers played their flashlights on Captain Long until he was out of sight. After many minutes of battling, Captain Long sighted the man who had been calling, an army corporal. The captain tied his own life jacket around the corporal and began to tow him towards shore. Then a huge wave swamped them and tore off the jacket. Captain Long had to dive to bring up the soldier. He then fastened the jacket more securely and started shoreward again. Once more a wave separated the two weary men, and sucked them out to sea. Meanwhile the two Marine officers on shore had become anxious. Securing a rubber boat, they paddled furiously, shouting and flashing their lights. Eventually they came upon the corporal, almost unconscious. A little farther on they heard Captain Long, shouting that cramps were knitting his muscles and that he was almost gone. His fellow officers soon reached him and brought him ashore.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park Mass., October 6. I may be making a mistake in my statistics. Of course, at best it is only an estimate. The figures however, which I have collected indicate that five or ten years hence the majority of U. S. families will be receiving a pension check from the Federal Government. Furthermore, within twenty years the majority of the voters of this country may be receiving pensions. In this compilation I, of course, include those receiving something from the Civil War, the Spanish War and World War I as well as those who will have been in World War II. The general feeling is that the labor unions will control our Democracy. Businessmen and investors are especially fearful of the power of labor. This does not worry me for two reasons—first, because the history of the labor movement in England shows that after labor gets everything organized it has nothing to fight for without cutting its own throat. Therefore, labor then no longer becomes a front-page news item, while the labor leaders find they can make more money at some other line of work. The second reason why I am not worried about the power of labor is because, in the last analysis, labor is a commodity whether we like to admit it or not. My friend Sidney Hillman will not agree with me on this point; but he is wrong. Labor today is powerful because labor is scarce; but later, when the supply of labor exceeds the demand, labor's power will be nil. The membership of the unions will then again drop off; while the income of the labor leaders will then tumble as did the profits of Wall Street brokers in 1929. Labor's influence is now at its peak for this cycle. Its honeymoon is about over. Present indications are that the World War II veterans will not be very friendly to labor after their return. They, who have been risking their lives in foreign lands at a small pittance and living under the hardest imaginable conditions, naturally will not feel friendly to those who have been remaining at home with all the home comforts and the highest wages in history. If labor has sense enough to keep out of politics and quit asking for any favors after the boys return, very well. If, however, labor continues a postwar struggle for higher wages, more power and other benefits, there is bound to be trouble. The above should mean that the returning veterans may be a conservative influence. The veterans' bloc may unite with the conservative bloc and keep the ship of state off the rocks. If so, the money which businessmen and investors, through taxes, will pay for pensions may be good insurance. Hence, although taxes will continue high in the postwar era due to the tremendous pension bill, army and navy appropriations, etc., yet these may be good investments. In this world, it is really not a question of what we spend, but what we have left. Business, commodity prices and the stock market will have a Communist scare some day. From my knowledge of Russia and England, it would not be surprising if real friction should develop. Neither country is in this war for its health. Both want a portion of the swag and perhaps the same portion. Then the United States may be called upon to take sides. This future situation might easily become the culmination of the present bull movement. Businessmen and investors will then get panicky and run for cover, but I believe there will be nothing for us to fear. Although Russia may then have the army to take what she wishes in land, she will want loans also. Great Britain and America will continue to hold the purse strings. Our returning servicemen will not only be a bulwark against unfair labor demands, but they will also stand for free enterprise, not Communism. They should be a stabilizing influence on legitimate business and investments, favoring the good features of co-operation; but suppressing all unfair practices.

LIGHTNING sends its "Calling Card" - to warn us of trouble! This "calling card" warns us in advance of approaching storms.

LIGHTNING storms are often of a local character and difficult to forecast by usual methods. Yet they can cause a great deal of trouble for The Detroit Edison Company and its customers. For this reason, we need special devices to warn us of storms in advance. Such a device is this "calling card" for lightning. Have you noticed how your radio sputters with static before an approaching storm? The "calling card" is that same static—put down on paper in black and white. The static "inks in" its own record on the chart, at the rate of 1 1/4 inches per hour... telling us the storm's approximate speed and direction. When trouble strikes, when lightning burns down our lines or falling trees and branches drag down wires, our men are ready immediately to start the work of restoring electric service. THE U. S. WEATHER BUREAU provides us daily with reports on local weather conditions. But this is only one of several storm-warning safeguards employed. TELETYPE SERVICE direct from a weather forecasting service in California gives us special reports, supplementing those of the U. S. Weather Bureau. THE TROUBLE DISPATCHER, when warned of a storm's approach, notifies Detroit Edison linemen—at home or elsewhere—as quickly as possible. FAST ACTION. Our men respond without delay when such a call is received. Edison service must be maintained, whatever the weather. To maintain the high standards of service our customers enjoy, we are constantly developing new ideas and improvements... resulting in better electric service at lower rates. THE DETROIT EDISON CO. Serving more than half the people of Michigan
