I've Flown over a Million Miles on Sinclair Oil

"I am Captain L. D. 'Hap' Anderson, chief pilot for Chicago and Southern Air Lines and have flown those big transport planes of ours more than a million miles, and every plane on every mile has been lubricated with Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. We use this oil exclusively.

"So naturally, I recommend Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil for cars too. Its record in planes proves to me that it's the oil to make cars last longer."

Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil lubricates better and lasts longer because it's refined from oldest, costliest crude, then de-waxed and de-jellied. Ask your nearby Sinclair Dealer for this aviation-tested motor oil.

the past year. The Golden Text from II Corinthians (2:14), will be very appropriate for the occasion and reads: "Thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the saviour of his knowledge by us in every place." The Bible citations include: "Rejoice in the Lord alway: and again I say, Rejoice. Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God." (Phil. 4:4,6). Among the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Eddy Baker, will be the following: "Are we really grateful for the good already received? Then we shall avail ourselves of the blessings we have, and thus be fitted to receive more. Gratitude is much more than a verbal expression of thanks. Action expresses more gratitude than speech" (p.3).

Recognition Awards Made

A total of 80 adults participated in the District 7 Cubbers Handicraft Course which was held on October 3, 10, 17 and 25 at the Stark school.

Of this number, half received Recognition Awards from the Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America. These were distributed by G. Earl Silvers, District Executive of the Area Council for Districts Six and Seven.

This result is self-evidence of the interest and co-operation which can be obtained in Cubbing when the appeal and approach to the problem is properly presented to the adult Cubber-at-large.

A general connective theme carried the theories of the speakers and demonstrators directly into the classroom, where the team of theory and practice was harnessed to the student body in such manner as to provide them with a balanced program of worthwhile nature.

The participants in this training course were able to carry away with them results which were both of their own hands and a general fund of useful knowledge to be applied to their Cubbing work in the near future.

This method of instruction should do well towards building up a background of extraordinary handicraft during the coming winter months with the forthcoming spring Hobby-Lobby show our guide and active stimulant.

It is the desire of the leaders of this District to make ours an outstanding district in the Cubbing picture, and we know, you and I, that there is no other group of Cubbers who are more talented or ambitious. The incentive is alive and vibrant from Cub to Cubber; the leadership is willing and able, all that is now

Archers Back From Northlands

Five members of the Rosedale Gardens Archery Club have returned from an exciting and successful deer hunt in upper Michigan near East Tawas.

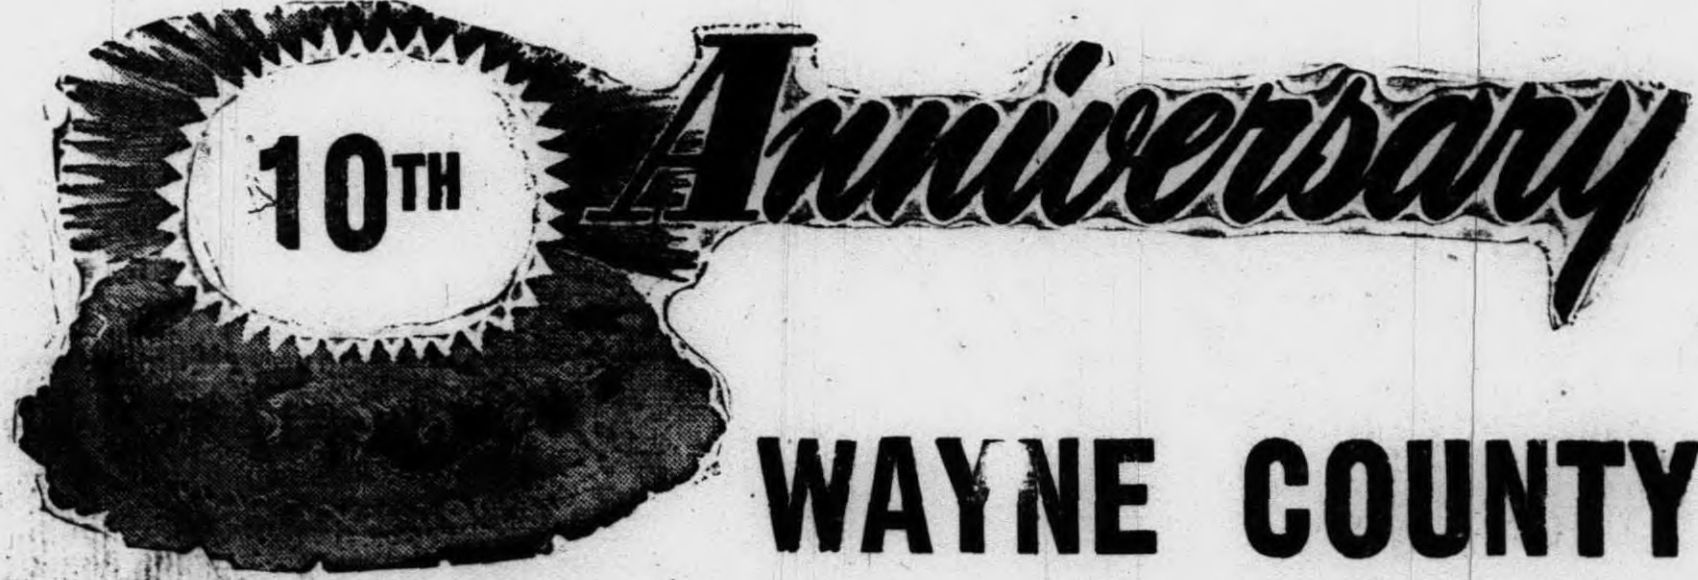

Those included in the party were Richard Duncan, Lester Bookcut, George Hamilton, Martin Pitts and Clifford Bennington.

On the second day of the hunt Clifford Bennington had a nice shot at a buck from about 35 yards and his arrow found its mark. The deer ran in the direction of a swamp and, as it was growing dark, could not be immediately located. However, in the morning it was found by Lester Bookcut. By a strange co-incidence the head of the broken arrow was picked up by Martin Pitts at a point about one half mile from where the deer fell.

Everyone agreed that hunting with the bow and arrow is one of the most thrilling of sports, and one which places the hunter on a par with the hunted. The trip would have been considered a complete success even if Bennington had not been so unerring in his aim. During the hunt for deer one red fox was sighted at about 75 yards. He quickly ran back into the woods. Several of the boys followed what was apparently a moose track for a couple of miles around a swamp hoping to get a look at Mr. Moose although it is illegal to shoot him.

The Club hopes that more of its members can join in the hunt next year. Membership is by no means restricted to residents of Rosedale Gardens. Those interested in this fast growing primeval sport should contact one of the club members.

desired is the active and alert participation of the adults who have as yet not viewed the light of Cubbing in its most satisfactory aspects; active participation.

Let these guys start it!

There's a day coming when the enemy will be licked, beaten, whipped to a fare-thee-well—every last vestige of fight knocked out of him.

And there's a day coming when every mother's son of us will want to stand up and yell, to cheer ourselves hoarse over the greatest victory in history

But let's not start the cheering yet.

In fact, let's not start it at all—over here. Let's leave it to the fellows who are doing the job—the only fellows who will know when it's done—to be in the celebrating.

Our leaders have told us over and over again that the smashing of the Axis will be a slow job, a dangerous job, a bloody job.

And they've told us what our own common sense confirms: that if we at home start throwing our hats in the air and easing up before the job's completely done, it will be slower, more dangerous, bloodier.

Right now, it's still up to us to buy War Bonds—and to keep on buying War Bonds.

Let's do that. Let's keep bearing down till we get the news of final victory from the only place such news can come: the battle-line.

If we do that, we'll have the right to join the cheering when the time comes.

Sign of a good housekeeper!

SURE, there's a cobweb on that door. In a moment it will be gone with a flick of the duster. But right now, it's a sign of good housekeeping, for it shows that an unused bedroom has been closed off to save heat.

There's going to be some shortage of coal delivered to homes this winter. This isn't because less coal is being produced. More coal is being mined this year than last. Mine owners and miners alike are doing a splendid job. And there are ample rail facilities for transporting coal.

But certain grades and sizes of coal are needed for war production. And, in addition, your local coal dealer is suffering from a shortage of manpower, trucks and tires. So be patient with him and make the coal you get go as far as possible.

Be sure your heating system is clean and in good shape. Fire carefully. Pull your shades and draw the drapes at night. Close off unused bedrooms. For other suggestions see your coal dealer.

One of the biggest jobs of the C&O Lines is hauling coal from the mines along its routes, so we're in a position to understand the problem and to know how essential coal is these days.

Force Hunters To Clean Camps

Housekeeping abilities of Michigan deer hunters who establish camps on state lands this month will be a principal concern of conservation officers.

The department is going to insist that hunters shall clean up after themselves when they break camp. Such insistence will be backed by state law that provides fines ranging to $100 and jail sentences up to three months, or both, for willful disregard of camp regulations.

Officers will check every deer camp on state lands this month, securing names and addresses of camp "captains" and furnishing copies of rules and regulations for occupancy of state lands. A second check will be made by officers after camp sites are abandoned and arrests may follow when such sites are found to be littered with refuse.

Floyd Miller Succeeds Eaton

At the 27th annual meeting of the University Press Club of Michigan held at Ann Arbor last Thursday and Friday, Floyd J. Miller of the Royal Oak Tribune was elected president to succeed Elton R. Eaton of Plymouth, who served as president during the past year.

Conrad Church of the Pontiac Press was elected first vice president and Richard Cook of the Hastings Banner was elected second vice president.

John H. Brumm, director of the Department of Journalism, remains as secretary of the organization.

The Whistling Swan is a regular and not uncommon Michigan migrant, both fall and spring. When passing over in October and early in November they seem to be in a hurry, seldom stopping for more than a few days.

Duck Season Ends December 8

During the migratory waterfowl season which extends through December 8, many Michigan hunters will kill ducks which have been leg-banded by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. These ducks have been banded for the purpose of gathering information regarding migration, ages, and mortality rates, and every hunter finding a band on a duck he has shot should cooperate with the service in furnishing this information.

The band should be sent to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, U. S. Department of Interior, Chicago 54, Illinois, stating the location and date the bird was killed. When the band is returned, the hunter is sent a card telling when and where the duck was banded. The Fish and Wildlife Service has reported that returns are received for one out of every four ducks that are banded by its agents.

Record Number

recent season stands at 94.

The most distressing fact in the unhappy record to date is the sharp increase in deaths and injuries from guns among under-age hunters. Eleven of the 16 dead in recent weeks were under 18. Forty-one of the wounded are in the same age group. Thirty-six wounded are over 18, and ages of 17 are not given.

Risk of death or injury to, or by, under-age deer hunters is, in a sense, compounded by Michigan law which permits issuing of licenses to persons 14 years of age or over who have not previously been denied the privilege because of involvement in gun accidents. Also, such minors may hunt deer without the supposed steadying influence of older persons. In the case of minors licensed to hunt during small game seasons, the law says that those under 17 must be accompanied by responsible persons.

The anticipated record turnout of deer hunters this month, expected to exceed the 227,000 who were licensed in 1941, will tax all available facilities in northern counties. The state highway department is providing 40-minute ferry service on a round-the-clock basis across the Straits.

of very ancient origin. Such occasions were common among the Israelites and are mentioned throughout the Scriptures.

The first thanksgiving service held in North America was that conducted on the coast of Newfoundland, May 27, 1578, when the Rev. Mr. Wolfall, chaplain of the Frobisher expedition, expressed the gratitude of the "adventurers" for a safe voyage.

The earliest thanksgiving observance within the present borders of the United States was that held by the Pilgrim colonists at Sagadahoc, on the coast of Maine, in August, 1607. Such an observance was a natural one for the early colonies of New England where they were established by men and women to whom a general thanksgiving was an old religious custom. They had brought the tradition with them to the New World.

The real origin, however, of Thanksgiving as a day set apart specially for prayer and rejoicing is conceded to the Plymouth colony and Governor William Bradford. "In gratitude for the plentiful harvest of 1621, following upon a period of great depression," he proclaimed a day of thanksgiving to be observed on the first of October of that year. Although much has been made of the Pilgrims' first observance, it is not generally known that in the following year there was no observance.

In 1630 the Bostonians observed their first thanksgiving, the occasion being the arrival of a ship carrying provisions sorely needed by the colonists. In the following year they again observed a day of thanksgiving, this time for the safe arrival of Governor Winthrop's wife and child. But it was not until 1689 the Massachusetts General Court attended her efforts that by 1858 the Governors of 25 States and of two Territories were issuing annual Thanksgiving Day proclamations.

Just after the Battle of Gettysburg, in July, 1863, she wrote to President Lincoln on the subject, inclosing a copy of Washington's first proclamation. Lincoln complied with her request that a national Thanksgiving be observed annually on an established day of each year by issuing on October 3, 1863, his proclamation naming the last Thursday in November, 1863, as a national Thanksgiving Day. I quote a few excerpts from this memorable document:

"The year that is drawing toward its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added, which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever-watchful providence of Almighty God.

"No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

"It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people."

The national Thanksgiving Day of 1863 followed by one week the dedication of the Gettysburg Cemetery where Lincoln delivered his masterpiece. It might be said that the Gettysburg Address was written in the atmosphere of that Thanksgiving

"Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that a joint committee of both Houses be directed to wait upon the President of the United States to request that he would recommend to the people of the United States, a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts, the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a Constitution of Government for their safety and happiness."

This resolution was passed and Reps. Beedintol, Sherman, and Peter Silvester of New York were appointed by the House to wait upon the President. The Senate, on the following day, added its approval and appointed Senators William S. Johnson of Connecticut and Ralph Izard of South Carolina to be the Senate members of the joint committee.

Washington responded to this resolution by issuing our first national proclamation for the observance of a Thanksgiving Day. I quote the first three paragraphs of his message:

"Whereas it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and aid; and

"Whereas both Houses of Congress, by their joint committee, requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public thanksgiving and prayer—

"Now, therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these States to the service of that great and glorious Being who is the beneficent author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we then may all unite unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies and the favorable interpositions of His providence in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union and plenty which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and easy manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors which He has been pleased to bestow upon us."

Washington's immediate successors, including Madison, advised by his example and issued Thanksgiving Day proclamations. Succeeding Presidents, however, until Lincoln, took a different attitude. Andrew Jackson refused on the ground that he "could not do otherwise without transcending the limits prescribed by the Constitution for the President." President Taylor thought it most proper "to leave the subject to the hands of the Governors of the several States."

The name of Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, the first periodical published in America for women, came into the history of Thanksgiving about 1844. She instituted a campaign for national observance of Thanksgiving Day and such success attended her efforts that by 1858 the Governors of 25 States and of two Territories were issuing annual Thanksgiving Day proclamations.

Just after the Battle of Gettysburg, in July, 1863, she wrote to President Lincoln on the subject, inclosing a copy of Washington's first proclamation. Lincoln complied with her request that a national Thanksgiving be observed annually on an established day of each year by issuing on October 3, 1863, his proclamation naming the last Thursday in November, 1863, as a national Thanksgiving Day. I quote a few excerpts from this memorable document:

"The year that is drawing toward its close has been filled with the blessings of fruitful fields and healthful skies. To these bounties, which are so constantly enjoyed that we are prone to forget the source from which they come, others have been added, which are of so extraordinary a nature that they cannot fail to penetrate and soften the heart which is habitually insensible to the ever-watchful providence of Almighty God.

"No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the Most High God, who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless remembered mercy.

"It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people."

The national Thanksgiving Day of 1863 followed by one week the dedication of the Gettysburg Cemetery where Lincoln delivered his masterpiece. It might be said that the Gettysburg Address was written in the atmosphere of that Thanksgiving season, as Lincoln's proclamation had already been penned when the few remarks for the Gettysburg dedication were prepared. It is interesting to note a similarity of thought in his proclamation and his Gettysburg Address; in the former, he began his fifth paragraph with the words, "It has seemed to me fit and proper"; in the latter, with reference to the dedication of the battlefield, he declared, "It is altogether fitting and proper that we do this."

Each succeeding President has followed the precedent set by Lincoln and Thanksgiving Day is now generally accepted as "the only religious festival celebrated in the United States by authority of the civil government."

Most of the presidential proclamations of Thanksgiving from 1863 to 1924 were written by Alvey Augustus Adee, an Assistant Secretary of State during that lengthy period. He was a master of English style and took great pains with his compositions. The approval of the President, of course, was necessary in each case. President Hoover, however, wrote his own Thanksgiving messages. It is altogether fitting and proper that we, on this Thanksgiving Day, retrace our attention to Rep. Boudinot's resolution of 1789 and give renewed consideration to his finely chosen words, "a day of public thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts, the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them (the people of the United States) an opportunity peaceably to establish a Constitution of Government for their safety and happiness."

Washington thought well of these words, for we find him, in the first national Thanksgiving Day proclamation, saying that the people of the New Republic should "unite unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted."

It is apparent that the founders of our Republic knew the value of what they had wrought.

HERE'S SOMETHING FOR PLYMOUTH TO REALLY THINK ABOUT.

There has been a lot of discussion pertaining to what names should be on the monument in the park in Plymouth. The committee in charge has held the list to boys who reside in Plymouth or Plymouth township. Many have felt that the names of boys who live in the Plymouth "area" should be on the monument, especially when these boys attended school in Plymouth and call Plymouth their home.

What do the boys themselves think about it?

A letter to "Our Boys" page from Lieut. Gary V. Tubergen, a Plymouth high school graduate who lives outside the city limits of Plymouth and Plymouth township, but who has been risking his life in bombing missions over Germany to help save Plymouth homes, pretty well expresses the thought of "Our Boys" who are suffering and dying for our country.

His letter follows:

"I haven't received your paper for the past few weeks so I don't know what the fellows have been writing. I may be repeating what they have said before but here goes. I have heard about the plaque that the people of Plymouth intend putting in the park. I have also heard that there are some objections to putting the names of Livonia boys on said plaque. I think perhaps I can speak for a lot of Livonia boys as well as for myself. We aren't fighting this war for public recognition but for freedom, and it makes little or no difference to us if our names appear on the plaque or not.

"I do however think it awfully small of people to argue about such a small thing as a few names on a piece of brass. I can tell you a few things that are worthy of just a little thought. I think you know that I am flying Liberators over in the U.K. and that I have completed a number of missions so what I tell you is what I have seen and not just rumors.

"I have been over Germany in a formation of Liberators. In my bomb bays were tons of explosives. Then you get the signal and bomb bay doors open and you're on your bomb run. The sky ahead of you is black with bursting flak. Then you see a big red flash in front of you and a B-24 with its full crew starts its long spin toward earth in one big ball of flame while one of its wings falls in another direction.

"Then it comes again, this time even nearer to you, a direct hit in the bomb bays, and tons of bombs explode, throwing small particles of men and machine through the air and back to the ground from where they came.

"Then comes bombs away and every man feels better because he knows that he will have a better chance of getting out if we get a hit.

"Now we are headed home, perhaps or should I say that we are likely to run into more flak before we reach our base, but we know that if we do go down we have dropped our bombs on the target for the boys that couldn't quite make it.

"We get back to our base and after a lot of paper work we eat and return to our nissen huts to sleep before the next day's operations.

"But it's hard to sleep when they come in and take your buddy's clothes away. Then you have time to wonder if he got out of that flaming mass of metal or not. Finally sleep comes, but not for long because you hear that old familiar phrase 'wake up Lieutenant, briefing in one hour' and you're on your way over Germany again.

"How you people at home can argue about plaques and wages and other things that have no value in comparison with life itself is beyond me."

ROBERT WHITEHEAD STATIONED AT AIR BASE IN ENGLAND.

Behind the smooth performance of swift Lightnings, Mustangs, and Thunderbolt fighter aircraft, which are reconitioned at this strategic air depot between their sweeps over Germany, personnel like Private Robert J. Whitehead, 28, of Plymouth and Detroit, attend to essential ground duties. Private Whitehead is assigned at a base in England as an aircraft supply clerk, assuring the efficient delivery of needed aircraft parts to busy flight-line mechanics.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitehead, Griswold Road, South Lyon, Private Whitehead joined the forces in April, 1942, after serving in defense work at a Plymouth war factory. He received basic training at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, and was later stationed at Bradley Field, Colorado, prior to leaving for overseas duty in December, 1943.

ROSEDALE GARDENS BOY AWARDED BRONZE STAR MEDAL.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Greene, 9837 Blackburn, Rosedale Gardens have been advised that their son, Corporal John R. Greene of the field artillery with the United States army in service in France, has been awarded the bronze star medal for heroic service in connection with military operations against an enemy of the United States during the early part of September.

PLYMOUTH FIGHTER HELPS DESTROY BIG GERMAN TANK.

Private Clayton P. Wilson of Plymouth recently participated in a fire mission which resulted in the destruction of a German Mark IV tank by Lieutenant General Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army forces in Italy.

An artillery observer reported a hostile tank stopped on the base point several minutes after Clayton's section in the 1st Armored Division had completed registering the point. The howitzer section went into action and scored three direct hits which destroyed the Nazi vehicle.

Clayton, who has seen action in the Italian campaign from the Cassino front to the Gothic Line, lives on Holbrook Ave., in Plymouth.

SHERMAN MANN IS AWARDED WINGS AND COMMISSION.

Aviation cadet Sherman I. Mann, husband of Mrs. Hilda (Buehler) Mann of 41150 Ford Road, Plymouth, a recent graduate of the Army Air Forces bombardier school at Kirtland Field, New Mexico, has been commissioned a second lieutenant and awarded the silver "wings" of the aerial bombardier.

Lieut. Mann is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mann of 26505 Plum street, Inkster. He attended Dearborn High School and played baseball in the Inter-County league. Before entering military service he was employed as a truck operator.

Prior to his successful completion of 18 weeks of flight and combat training in high level precision bombing and navigation at Kirtland Field, Lieut. Mann was stationed at the Santa Ana (Calif.) Army Air Base.

Now ready for active duty, his destination is not disclosed.

Nothing but Christianity can eventually secure the world's peace.—Lord Bryce.

TELLS OF PROGRESS BEING MADE IN EUROPE BY ALLIES.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Innis have recently received two interesting letters from their son, Dick, who has seen nearly two years of service on the European continent. Dick, who is one of those observing individuals, writes in part:

"Received your card and also the letters you both wrote and was certainly very glad to hear from you but I am sorry that it is impossible for me to write any more often than I do, but maybe you can understand and when I tell you that we are going to the front quite often and for that reason I honestly don't have any too much time to write letters or much of anything else. Do you see what I mean? The only reason that I am writing this letter is that my ship is down for an inspection and I snuck off for the afternoon to write a few letters.

"I am in very good health and as you can see from the heading on this letter I am no longer in England. This airport is the same one Lindbergh landed at, although I do not think he would know it at present. It is all blown to h... and I don't mean maybe. There is not a hangar or runway that was not hit several times, but the French and American engineers are building it up again and soon it may be as good as ever.

"The weather is much better than that in England. Most of the time it is quite nice but occasionally we have a little rain. It is cool but not real cold in the morning, warming up nicely in the late a.m. and p.m.

"I suppose you will be having snow before too long. How I wish I could be there to see it. By the looks of things even if the war is over by Christmas I won't be coming home as the entire air forces over here are scheduled to go to the Pacific immediately after this mess is over in Europe. I have more or less resigned myself to the fact that it will be a year or two before I ever get back to the states.

"Cigarettes are very hard to get over here in France. Back in England you could buy them from the fellows that did not smoke but here the French will pay any where from 500 to 1000 Francs (10 to 20 bucks) for a carton so the guys that don't smoke sell theirs for more than I can afford to pay. So if at anytime you get a chance to pick up a few packs send them along. Any of the popular brands will do and in a pinch even the cheaper ones.

"I have seen plenty of the robot bombs and been through several raids. The damage they cause is tremendous and casualties are very high when they land in a populated section. But now that Calais has fallen England does not suffer from them any more. I will tell you more about them when I come home.

"When I think how wonderful it is to be an American I just seem to swell up inside. Someday I will once again have the privilege of living in the States and that one reason, alone, makes all this worth fighting for."

In another letter he wrote in part as follows:

"This is one of the few times I have time to write letters and only now because the Lieut. knows the way without the aid of a map. We are coming back from one of the fields near the front where we picked up some wounded men and are now flying them to an evacuation hospital. It is very nice weather today and you can see for miles. At the present we are at 4600 ft. and the ground below looks like a high checker board with the exception of the land off to my right where you can see the scars of the last war that 20 years has failed to erase. ### News of Our Boys

The trenches are grown over with grass and weeds just as the shell holes and fortifications but they are plainly visible.

"On this particular run we pass over the Verdun and Chateau Thierry mounds which are very beautiful from the air. It is very hard to describe the feeling you get when you are so near and yet so far from the war. Here we have men in the ship that ten days ago were fighting and killing and yet we are as safe as if we were back in the states. Somehow it doesn't seem right for me not to be in actual combat but then I suppose someone has to do this kind of work.

"Right now we are over an airport that a few weeks ago was German held. Now all it is is a mass of wreckage and destruction but it is ours and we are using it to give the Bosch hell.

"Now about Paris, I have the opportunity to go to the 'Gay City' quite often and if you will think back to the tales they told after the last war that you laughed at and said it was impossible just remember I'm telling you that they were true so help me. The people are 100 per cent for the Americans and do everything possible they can for us. I have seen the Eifel tower but as yet have not had the chance to see the 'Au de Trumpf' but when I do I will write and tell you all about it. It sure is fun trying to talk with the French. We have a small manual with the most common phrases and with that our hands and a lot of luck we understand each other.

"Since I left the states I have been in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Belgium, and over Luxembourg. As yet I haven't been to Germany. I haven't had any mail for over a month now and I don't suppose you are hearing from me very often. It is hard to write letters here so if you do not hear for quite some time don't worry. I will be somewhere with no chance to write. Bye for now and write soon. I will write as often as I can."

Wild Lifers Plan For Club House

Within the next two or three weeks, possibly before, members of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association will have a report pertaining to the prospects for the erection of a club house as soon as the war is over.

A committee has for sometime been searching for a suitable location for a club house. Some of the members of the committee have advised President Brick Chamoe that they believe they have located a place that will be most suitable for such a structure.

The association does not propose to build anything elaborate, but a structure that can be heated now and then and used for their regular meetings as well as the wild life dinners that are featured during the year, has been suggested.

There are now over 400 members of the association, almost twice as many as they ever expected to have, and the officers and directors feel that a club house is in line with the exceptional growth of the organization.

There is need for realization of the existing fact of the universal brotherhood of man. — Dr. T. Z. Koo.

Must Have Bill To Bring Trees Home

Deer hunters who transport Christmas trees from the north woods to their homes downstate are advised by the conservation department to obtain bills of sale from owners or lessees of property on which the trees are cut. State police will establish temporary posts on main highways in the northern part of the state as an enforcement measure.

Cutting of Christmas trees on state lands is a violation of law unless authorization is secured.

Penalties are provided when bills of sale are not carried by persons transporting Christmas trees or evergreen boughs.

Tells Benefits Of Grand Juries

(By Gene Alleman)
The one-man grand jury system, as authorized by the Michigan legislature in 1916, constitutes a powerful and effective weapon for prevention of corruption in government. If the grand jury is not hampered by restrictions as to adequate funds, sufficient time and utmost secrecy, it will achieve results where other methods fail.

Senator Homer Ferguson, who spoke these words in a personal interview, ought to know. As Detroit's racket buster who obtained the indictment and conviction of approximately 150 persons a few years ago, including such top public officials as a mayor, police superintendent, prosecuting attorney and sheriff—the law enforcement machinery itself—he has had considerable first-hand experience in the operation of a one-man grand jury. Join us at the breakfast table.

as Senator Ferguson discusses the subject.

"It took three years' time to get all the evidence necessary to bring the grafters to trial in Wayne county," said the senator. The interview took place at the Detroit Golf club, off Palmer road. It was Saturday morning about 9 o'clock, when we sat down for eggs and coffee.

"The public must be patient," he continued. "A successful investigation takes time. In the first place, you must have adequate funds at your disposal, and you must be trusted to use the money properly pending final accounting when the task is finished. My disbursements in Detroit were counter-signed by Chester P. O'Hara, chief attorney."

"Second, you must get the best talent available. I hired fifteen young attorneys, each man anxious to make a name for himself, for $1 a year. O'Hara did a brilliant job. All members of my staff worked without stint and they deserve highest praise. I tried to get Purvis as my chief investigator, and offered him $20,000 a year to come to Detroit. I went to New York to consult with Thomas Dewey, then a successful prosecutor of graft cases.

"You can't reveal who you are hiring as investigators, for all testimony must be received in utmost secrecy. Your personal convictions don't mean a thing until you get the actual proof itself. And that takes time.

"You must have new quarters. For if witnesses are seen, others will know how close you may be to a solution. I have taken testimony in taxi cabs, private homes, hotel rooms and almost any place except my own offices.

"The one-man grand jury is just that. For example, there was the Herman Gardens housing case. We worked five or six months without even cracking the case. Suddenly a casual remark by one suspect led to the first definite evidence of wrongdoing. The pay-off man, the connecting link in the conspiracy, received immunity after I had taken him to Chicago to obtain the evidence. Three city councilmen were indicted and convicted. But it took half a year to solve this case—don't forget that."

Senator Ferguson spoke with firmness. He fairly snapped the words out, giving them added emphasis. Mops of his white hair tumbled over his forehead in attractive disarray. The effect, a bit picturesque, reminded us of the late Wendell L. Willkie.

"Now this matter of granting immunity to a key witness is important. Immunity is essential to success of the one-man grand jury. The law says that a man does not have to testify against himself. It is his constitutional right to refuse to answer any questions that may tend to incriminate himself.

"In bribery cases all parties are equally involved as to guilt. Because of the individual's constitutional protection, the state is helpless to get testimony in such cases. This situation is remedied when the judge issues a written order commanding the witness to answer questions and granting him legal immunity from prosecution. Then if the witness refuses to answer questions, he can be held guilty of contempt of court.

"Now you can't give immunity to everybody. The witness must be an important link in the crime. Usually he is one of the biggest rogues. In granting immunity the judge must decide whether to grant it to a public official or a private citizen. I always felt that the official was the worst criminal of the two, for he had violated his sacred oath of office. I would rather grant immunity to a private citizen.

"This weapon of immunity is the only way to solve conspiracies which involve many persons. It is society's best protection against potential corruption in government. For the question before public officials is always this: Which one of us may get immunity? Not knowing who may squeal, each official is likely to remain honest.

"It is my personal conviction that were it not for the device of immunity for key witnesses, we would have continual corruption in government.

"Immunity polices your government. It allows conscience to assert itself, and justice is a mighty force for good. I have seen men get down on their knees and pray that they may be permitted to tell the truth. The light of conscience burns most brightly in hours of darkness. The best testimony comes at night."

Senator Ferguson recalled how he had to wait until 12:01 a.m. one Monday to receive testimony, as the law prohibits the taking of evidence on Sunday. He merely engaged the witness in conversation until the clock indicated at midnight the arrival of Monday.

"Again I want to emphasize it is important for the grand jury to have enough funds to do the job. If you don't do the job well, you had better not try it at all." As an illustration of the value of the one-man grand jury to good government, Senator Ferguson cited the Michigan State Police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. "These agencies not only solve crimes, they prevent crimes," he pointed out. "Thus they are well worth their annual cost."

"The one-man grand jury is a 24-hour-a-day crusade in which life itself may be at stake. My own life was threatened repeatedly. But crooks are cowards at heart, and I knew it." As for the one-man grand jury investigation at Lansing, Senator Ferguson indicated he had been following its progress through the press. "These remarks of mine were prompted by my own personal experience as a one-man grand jury. I feel definitely that the system itself is sound. It is cheap insurance for good government."

Blair Moody To Be Town Hall Speaker

Blair Moody, noted foreign correspondent and Washington columnist for the Detroit News, will speak at Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, November 22, at 11 o'clock. The title of his lecture will be the same as his brilliant column, "Lowdown in Washington." Moody is more than an analyst on news from the capitol. He returned a short time ago from the European war theatre to cover the presidential election. He was sent overseas shortly after the Democratic and Republican conventions in Chicago, and was at the front lines during the invasion of France.

In the spring of 1944, the writer was sent to Italy to cover the war fronts. He occupied a grandstand seat at the battle of Casino, wrote a story about the American supply line to Russia and an eye witness report of the preparation for the invasion of France.

Regarding postwar problems, the Detroit News columnist has very definite views. Some of these are inculcated in his book, "Boom or Bust." His lecture at Town Hall will combine a "close-up" of the national situation with up-to-the-minute news of the war.

Advance reservations may be obtained at Grinnell's Music House, Ra. 1124.

Change of Interest rate.

On December 1st, 1944 Section 2 of the Saving By-laws will be changed to read as follows: "Section 2. Interest at the rate of one (1%) per cent per annum will be paid on all sums left in the savings department of the bank six (6) months or more, computed from the first day of the month next after the time of deposit.

No interest shall be allowed on any account for any one-half year period, as herein specified, unless such interest for such one-half year period would amount to fifty cents or more.

In the event this account is closed within two months from the date of its opening, a charge of Fifty cents (.50) will be made to cover cost."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."
"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum...practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have...rubber. The enemy had that."
"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need...you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"
"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."
"We certainly learned something today, didn't we Mary?"

Wayne Wins In Football League

The Wayne football team took first place and league championship this year, winning all of her five games. Dearborn has taken second place, while Plymouth and Ypsilanti are tied for third place, both teams winning one game. Ecorse and Birmingham are tied for last place.

Plymouth won only one game this year, 6-0 — that being a night contest at Birmingham.

"Next year's material looks very good for the football squad," said coach Tomshack. Plymouth's captain this year was Hugh Harsha. The best all round player was Don Rock, a halfback.

There's Fun Being Lead in Play

The scenes in which she can eat are the ones Jackie Dalton, one of the leads in the Junior play, likes best according to her own statement. "I had never been in a play before and I believe in trying everything once," she explained as her reason for trying out. Jackie says she finds hardest to remember the lines in which the subject of conversation is changed.

Tradition is the reason Jerry Treadwell gives for his desire to be in the Junior play. His two sisters and one brother have been leads in plays before him, Jerry says he likes the kissing scenes best. He finds stage movements hardest to remember.

These leads are in the Junior play "Junior Miss," December 14 and 15.

Class News

In Miss Niles 9th grade English class Anita Duke, Doris Puckett, Barbara Fallon, Owen Hedden, Henry Knight, Geraldine Moffett, Martha Wilson, and Barbara Lorenz wrote the best themes on an original subject. For the unit on exploration exceptionally good maps were drawn by Rosallis Case, Joanne Miller, Geraldine Thatcher, Bentley Crane, Mary Davis, Thelma Mahoney, and Rosetta Vanderhaaf.

Wilma Bruny, Wanda Wyatt, Ed Schaible, and Madeline Gears wrote the best monthly tests in 11A American history to Miss Niles.

In punctuation tests given by Miss Niles to the English 10 class Mary Fegan, Maxine Martin, and Mary O'Neill excelled.

Rosamund Busby of the type-writing class has been doing exceptional work. She completed the required work for this marking period several days before due. On the first class speed test Rosamund typed 32 gross words per minute.

Miss Wrisley's 10A English students are holding a debate on the subject "Resolved that 'the hunting of wild game should cease.'" On the affirmative are Pat Burton, Anna Spitz, and Arlene Jeffries. Taking the negative are Don Coon, Robert Koppen, and Jack Bucknell. The chairman is Dan Hines, and the judges are Marion Kirkpatrick, and Bob Kimbrough, and Bill Ellsworth.

These plate lunches after being analyzed for food value, color, variety, and cost may be used in the lunchroom. Some of the dishes are being made in the food laboratory and tested for these properties. Rosanna Mieden and Phyllis La Vergne who are working on teas as their third year project recently gave one for the homemaking department which was attended by one hundred fifty students. Some of the other projects the girls are engaged in are preparing boxes for servicemen, dressing dolls for the Goodfellows, and making baby layettes. Delores Glenn is working out a nutrition program in the lower grades, and other girls are planning exhibits for the homemaking class, stressing various phases.

Although the seniors will receive copies paid for from class money, lower classmen must place their orders before February 15.

Conference Meet Won By Plymouth

The Plymouth cross-country team won the conference championship at the meet last Wednesday at Ypsilanti. First place was won by Kelley of Redford Union, while Alfred May took second for Plymouth. Kelly's time was 11:30, and May's was 11:34. This was Al's fastest time, in fact, all the Plymouth boys ran their best time. Besides taking second, Plymouth took eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, and fourteenth. Six schools in order of the place at the meet were Plymouth, Redford Union, Wayne, Ypsi, Trenton, and Belleville. There were thirty runners.

At the state meet the preceding Saturday, Plymouth took third place. Flint won this meet with fifty-one points, Birmingham was second with eighty-three, and Plymouth third with one hundred. May took third place, Kearsly of Flint taking first. Jean Thompson was fourteenth, Carryl Cushman nineteenth, Merlin Datcher took thirtieth, and Ed Strong thirty-fourth. This completes the season for Plymouth's cross-country team, which is the first one Plymouth has had in five years.

Gremlin Gossip

News flash: Although there were no deaths, several casualties have been reported from the flood in the advanced algebra classroom! Heinz Hoenecke's and Don Hayes' feet were submerged for 45 minutes. (This was especially hard on Heinz who had a hole in his shoe.) Speculations as to the cause of the invasion of "Old Man River" have laid the blame on Don Hubler, who sat next to the overflowing radiator. Melvin went to the rescue by bringing in the mop but not nail which he got in another errand.

That excuse the hall monitors have been giving when they come in about not hearing the bell is getting sort of stale. How about a new one?

Miss Wrisley is the champion acrobat of the Spinners' Club. None of the stunts would admit they were lame next day.

Here all the time we gremkins have been thinking that Bacon was born a baby but James Noyes tells us he was born a rich man.

Why is it that the people you dare to ask for permits when you're on hall duty always are working in the nurse's office or have some other perfect excuse? Congratulations, Miss Walldorf! Nice work, Cass. Not every boy gets 20 dates for one date, but then of course, you must be fair!

There must be not a balance of power, but a community of power; not organized rivalries, but an organized common peace. —Woodrow Wilson.

Despite a rainy night 165 girls in costumes varying from sarongs to Victorian period gowns, attended the All Girls' Party sponsored by the Girl Reserves. The junior girls won first place with a skit, "Midnight in a Graveyard" depicting the tombstones of various Plymouth teachers with their epitaphs. Second place went to the senior skit, a teachers meeting as students see it. In third place came "Sweet Dreams" a series of flashbacks into the youth of a middle-aged couple, presented by the Freshmen. The teachers contributed a poetic masterpiece on gum chewing, accompanied by appropriate popping, snapping, and chewing. ### Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., Nov. 17.—On our coming Thanksgiving Day we have much for which to be thankful. I should like to comment specifically upon ten reasons:

1. First and foremost, we can celebrate this year for the same reason that occasioned the first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Colony in 1623, namely, A FINE HARVEST. Crop yields this year surpass all previous records. There is plenty of wheat, corn and other farm products for us to feed ourselves and the needy everywhere.
2. Without HEALTH AND STRENGTH none of us can work or think efficiently. Combined with the right spiritual outlook, health is the greatest of all blessings. The past year has seen an improvement in both on the part of the American people.
3. Although the Thanksgiving season finds us in the midst of our greatest war, we should be thankful for the progress which has been made toward a successful peace. We are justified in believing the European War will be over in a few months and the hope that total peace may come before another Thanksgiving Day.
4. Whether Republicans or Democrats, we should be thankful that we live in a country where a free ELECTION can be held. Here is tangible evidence of the continued existence of our country as a true democracy.
5. We should be thankful for the MORAL AND PHYSICAL COURAGE that our men and women have shown both at home and at the front. Our fighting forces first believe that they are engaged in a great moral crusade; and, second, they have the courage to back up their beliefs.
6. Our people should be thankful for FULL EMPLOYMENT AND FAIR WAGES. No one need be without a job today. As a result, old debts are being settled and, to the joy of the retailer, large sales are being rung up on cash registers.
7. We who believe in free enterprise should be thankful that values have kept up so well. Our rulers at Washington are showing more justice and less prejudice. They are beginning to realize that people should be encouraged to save as well as to spend.
8. We should be thankful FOR OUR NEWSPAPERS and the evidence their pages contain of our continued right of free speech; of the privilege that every American has to write his editor and, if worthy, get his letter published. More than the peoples of any other nation, we are being kept informed as to what is going on.
9. Our BUSINESS LEADERS are responsible for many of our blessings. They represent a part of our national life that has become almost commonplace. Too often their work is taken for granted. We should all be more grateful to them as well as to their wage workers.
10. Last, but by no means least, we should be thankful FOR OUR CHURCHES. There is today, in accord with our more serious thinking, a deepening of interest in spiritual affairs. Church attendance is increasing and there is a greater desire for a larger participation in church work and personal meditation. It is heartening to many of us "old timers" to see people again reaching for the more important things of life. Yes, we have much to be thankful for this year!

Timely items of interest and value... helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING... The rolling mills in the plant of one of our large customers ground to a halt recently when a 2,000-kilowatt motor generator set broke down.

You save coal, transportation and manpower when you save electricity

OUR PART... The Detroit Edison Company has converted 26 oil-burning units in Company buildings to solid fuel, thereby saving 118,000 gallons of fuel oil for war uses.

SUGAR-SAVER... Our Home Service Department highly recommends this:

- Victory Spice Cake
- 1/2 cup shortening
  - 1/4 tsp. salt
  - 1 tsp. cinnamon
  - 1/4 tsp. cloves
  - 1/2 tsp. allspice
  - 1/2 tsp. nutmeg
  - 1/4 cup dark corn syrup
  - 2 eggs, unbeaten
  - 1 tsp. baking powder
  - 1/2 tsp. soda
  - 2 cups sifted flour
  - 1/2 cup thick sour milk
  - 1/2 cup sugar

Blend shortening, salt and spices. Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add corn syrup gradually, mixing well. Add eggs singly, beating well after each addition. Sift baking powder and soda with flour three times. Add flour alternately with sour milk, mixing until smooth. Bake in a 14x9x2-inch pan (greased) in a moderate oven (350°F.) for 35 to 45 minutes.

YOUR PART... Battles are never won cheaply. Victories are purchased at the cost of blood—the blood of our fighting men. Current triumphs mean an unprecedented demand for blood plasma. Are you helping to make up this drain on the plasma supply? If you have not made a blood donation during the last ten weeks, call your local Red Cross today.
