Have a Right to Say

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

We are glad to note that State Superintendent of Public Instruction Eugene Elliott, and some other prominent educators, have become interested in free text books for ALL of the school children of Michigan.

Back in 1937 the writer introduced a bill in the state legislature providing for free text books for all school children in Michigan. About half of the school districts now provide them. At that time the state department of education didn't seem to be greatly interested in the matter, and it was impossible to get the bill out of the legislative committee.

The school book trust flooded the members of the legislature with copies of a booklet entitled, "Free Text Books! Do We Want Them?"

It was one of those anonymous, cowardly things, with no address printed on it, no information as to where it came from, nothing to indicate what the influences were back of it. It was a vicious attack upon a service that the schools of this progressive state owe its school children.

We said during the recent primary election campaign, as well as during the final campaign, that if successful in the effort to be elected to the legislature, we would again introduce a bill providing for free text books for ALL the school children of Michigan, not just a part of them. That is our purpose, and we are glad to note for the first time that some of the prominent educational leaders up in Lansing now favor the proposal.

A PROFESSOR HAS AN IDEA.

"Prof." Ford, one of the numerous assistant governors attached to Governor Kelly's staff, has just blossomed forth with an idea. He thinks Michigan should elect its governors for one four year term, doing away with the right of the voters to shelve a governor at the end of two years, if the governor has proven a flop on the job.

The "idea" shows that the Professor has been doing something for the money the taxpayers have been paying him to serve as an "assistant governor."

But here's one taxpayer and voter who desires to reserve the right to help eliminate a governor at the end of a two year term if the governor has not been able to do a fair job at "governing."

While it is true that the governors of the past couple of decades started campaigns for re-election just the minute they took the oath of office, Michigan hasn't seriously suffered as a result of its present system. It could do better, but the four year term is not the answer.

The solution lies with the proper exercising of the voters' rights in the PRIMARY elections!

We have always contended that voters should take a far greater interest in primary elections than they do. In fact, we look upon primaries as more important than the final elections. If we nominate the right candidates on the tickets of both major parties, we need never fear about the welfare of the state. And this can be accomplished by a greater voting interest in primary elections.

EXPLAIN IT, IF YOU CAN.

Just before election Candidate Roosevelt told the voters of this country that our men were being provided with all of the guns, ammunition and war materials they needed — an abundance of everything.

Now General Eisenhower declares that munitions are so short on the European front that they are being rationed—that we need to double our production of guns and ammunition and trucks immediately.

We heard an army officer say just three days after the election that we had been rationing munitions on the battle fronts for weeks—and that rationing had been going on for weeks—BEFORE election.

Wonder if there was any reason WHY this important and TRAGIC news was not made known to the American voters BEFORE the election? You can provide your own answer to the question.

A prominent Washington radio news commentator asserted Sunday that a national scandal is in the offing as the result of the ammunition situation.

Unfortunately as the situation is, the only thing we can do about it is BUY more war bonds so that the administration can never say that the people of the country did not provide the funds necessary to provide OUR BOYS with everything they need at the battlefronts.

THE BETTER WAY.

A lot of folks, those who profess to be of the alleged high-brow class, are doing much talking these days about "making the world over" and bringing up to "our high standard of living" the natives of Fiji, the Arabs of Africa and the head-hunters of Borneo.

Might we suggest to these reformers that it would be better for the world if we didn't try to make everybody look, act and live as we do. We have too many shortcomings to set ourselves up as the ideal race to ape.

Wouldn't it be far better to help the natives of Fiji to try and grow a better grade of soft, silky grass for their grass skirts, to make whiter the night shirts that the Arabs wear during daylight and to educate the headhunters of Borneo to a greater liking for pork chops than he now has for a tough, grizzly piece of white man chunk roast?

In other words, wouldn't it be far better to try and improve THEIR way of life, rather than endeavor to impose upon them our questionable higher standards of living?

JUVENILE CIGARETTE SMOKERS.

"The cigarette shortage would be materially relieved if the high school lads could be induced to take up chewing tobacco instead of smoking. Let's see, isn't there a law which makes it a crime for anyone to sell cigarettes to persons under 21 years of age?"

Some out-state editor asks that question. Youngsters in some way do get cigarettes. Not only do they get them, but they smoke them. If these youngsters who shouldn't be smoking, would sign the pledge not to smoke until the war is over, OUR BOYS at the front would doubtless have all the cigarettes they needed.

ONE OF THE REASONS.

Most people we know are perfectly willing to accept rationing of all kinds, including gas rationing, if they know that it is being honestly administered. Note the IF!

Returning hunters from the Upper Peninsula say the only thing one needed to get across the Straits from the Upper Peninsula without molestation of any kind from OPA agents stationed there to check hunters, was a Detroit police department or Wayne county sheriff's badge.

If any one in a car flashed one of these badges they immediately got an all-clear signal, and dashed on their way home without being questioned or given a ticket, while other less fortunate individuals were molested in every conceivable way. That's just one of the many reasons why most people mistrust and detest OPA administration methods.

Legion Plans Christmas Gifts For Wounded Men

Members of the Myron H. Beals post and its Auxiliary members of Plymouth plan to do their part in seeing to it that every man and woman confined in a service hospital in the United States will receive a gift box at Christmas time.

A release from authoritative service hospital officers makes it imperative that certain articles not be included in the boxes and that other articles are needed and welcomed. Undesirable gifts are candy, food, liquor, articles of civilian apparel, magazines, crossword or jigsaw puzzles, scrapbooks and any used or second-hand items.

Suggested gifts based on a poll of hospital patients include handkerchiefs, olive drab socks, ties, and scarfs; toothbrushes, tooth paste or powder, razors and razor blades, hair tonic, jack-knives, cigarettes, pen and pencil set, checker and cribbage boards, poker chips, stationery, cigarette lighters and cases, soldier's buckles and belts, shaving kits, pipes, zipper bags, shoe shining kits, hair brushes, and hiffoles. It is very important that each package must have a list of contents on the outside. If the package does not have the contents listed on the outside, it must be opened and a list attached before presentation. Your personal card may be enclosed if desired.

Post Commander John M. McCollough and Auxiliary president, Gladys Shores, urge that you immediately purchase a gift box be made and turned over to The American Legion as your contribution to a great Christmas party for over 500,000 Yanks Who Gave. All of the gift boxes must be received by the Legion by December 10th in order that delivery be made to the various hospitals for presentation.

How You Can Give Christmas Aid

The Goodfellows Association is making plans for their usual Christmas cheer in Plymouth. If any one would like to donate a child's dress from the age of 3 to 12 years, call the chairman of the dress committee Mrs. Harry Brown, phone 701; Mrs. Harold Stevens, phone 292-W; Mrs. Harry Lumby, phone 320; or Mrs. George Howell, phone 1129-R. Your donation will be deeply appreciated.

Saturday Is Waste Paper Collection Day In Precincts 2 and 3

Boy Scouts will make paper collections tomorrow, Saturday, December 2, in precincts 2 and 3. Be sure and have your paper ready for the Scouts.

And DON'T ask them to clean out your basement for you!

These boys are giving up their time to do something towards the war effort—not to clean up basements for individuals.

Have your paper bundles neatly tied and in a convenient place for them. That's an easy thing for you to do, and it will help the boys who are donating their time to help end this war.

Bank Christmas Club Savings Being Converted Into War Bonds

The two Plymouth banks, First National and Plymouth United Savings, paid out more than $69,000 in Christmas Club funds this year.

Much of the money this year is expected to go to help swell the Sixth War Loan total. The remainder, of course, will be used for the usual purpose of making a merrier Christmas. In that connection, all Plymouth stores are loaded with goods for Christmas, all having enjoyed good luck in getting supplies.

Of course there are shortages in those items which use materials necessary to the war effort in their manufacture. But there are plenty of the usual items to assure a good Christmas for everyone.

First National Has Exhibit Of War Products

Arrayed in the lobby of the First National bank is an exhibit of many of the war materials being produced in Plymouth factories and paid for by the money that is loaned by you to the government through your war bond purchases.

When the 6th war loan drive started, President Floyd Kehrl of the bank thought it would be a good idea to give Plymouth bond buyers a chance to see just what their bond dollars are doing in this little city.

From the Kelsey-Hayes plant came one of the deadly machine guns that are used on aircraft, by the infantry in the navy, by the marines—everywhere one of these death dealing guns can be of service to the fighting men of this country.

Parts of war machines, army motor cars, planes and guns are displayed.

The Dunn Steel products company, the Wall Wire company, Universal Power Sprayer Co., Twin Tool & Gage company, Lingen Machine Products company, R. A. Machinery company, Harter & Son and the Tanks Parts company placed some of their products in the display.

Training School Goes Over Top

Seven Gallants in the 6th war loan drive out at the Wayne County Training school, have made their quota and properly reported their success to Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, general chairman of the 6th war loan campaign for Plymouth.

It was less than a week ago when the war bond order books were given to the Training school workers. They immediately went to work and Monday night a total of $6,625.00 in war bonds had been sold.

The following Gallants conducted the successful drive: Mrs. G. Ebersole, Mrs. M. Ainsworth, Mrs. L. Albrecht, Mrs. I. Perry, Rosa-Lind Mentzer and Lovernie Sly.

But they have not yet completed their work. Although they have completed their quota, they are out to see how many more thousands of dollars worth of war bonds can be sold.

Bob Sparkman Is Recovering

Wounded when a German mortar shell hit a shed where he was on outpost guard duty on the American front lines between Nancy and Metz in France, Private Robert G. Sparkman, 33, of 630 Forest Ave., Plymouth, is now recovering in a United States Army general hospital in England.

"Pvt. Sparkman received shrapnel wounds in his right arm and leg. They are healing nicely, and he will eventually be going back to duty," said his ward surgeon, Captain A. L. Girardin of Fort Myers, Florida.

Pvt. Sparkman's unit had been holding defensive positions on the Nancy-Metz front for several days and was under almost constant artillery and mortar fire.

"The shed I and two of my buddies were in had a direct hit by a mortar shell," Pvt. Sparkman said. "The burst killed both my buddies, but I was lucky."

Picked up soon after being hit, Pvt. Sparkman was rushed to the battalion aid station by medical soldiers. After receiving medical aid he was taken to an evacuation hospital for further treatment and later to England by plane.

Before entering the Army March 24, 1944, Pvt. Sparkman was employed as a government inspector in the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant at Plymouth. His wife, Viola, lives at the Forest Avenue address. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Soarkman, reside at Route 1, McMinnville, Tennessee.

Music Students Win Chance To Hear Concerts

Music students at the high school will have an added incentive the remainder of the year to become proficient in their studies.

Clarence Luchtman, music director, announces that as a result of the appearance of the girls' octet in Detroit at the Michigan Education Association convention, Plymouth High School has been allotted 14 tickets every second week to the Saturday morning children's concerts of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

Luchtman says the tickets will be distributed to students on the basis of proficiency in their music studies as well as all-around leadership and diligence in their work.

"The first group went last week, along with Luchtman, and all were thrilled and pleased with the performance, which was

Nazi Propoganda!

It has been reported to Plymouth war bond headquarters that there is a story being circulated in Plymouth to the effect that Plymouth boys in the service have written letters home advising their relatives and friends not to buy war bonds. The story adds that the boys say the longer they will have to stay in service.

That is dirty Nazi propoganda!

Any one who repeats it is helping both the Nazis and the Japs!

If you do NOT buy war bonds, you are certainly helping to keep our boys over there where they can be slaughtered by the millions by the Nazis and Japs!

Buy war bonds—and kill these damnable Nazi propoganda stories.

He's Keeping His Fingers Crossed

City Manager Clarence Elliott is crossing his fingers pretty strenuously these days.

It's been almost a month since Plymouth has had a fire—the last one, a leaf fire, was Oct. 25—and he's hoping it keeps up. The last fire to do any damage was a slight roof fire on Oct. 23.

Manager Elliott issued an urgent appeal to all residents of Plymouth to redouble their precautions against fires now that the cold weather is setting in.

"Now is the most dangerous time," he said. "This is the period when we have the most trouble with chimney fires and those caused by overheated furnaces. Just a little precautionary effort on the part of home-owners can prevent most of these."

Dates For Junior Play Are Fixed

Activity is buzzing at the high school these days where everybody is rehearsing and preparing for the junior play which will be presented in the auditorium Dec. 14 and 15.

The play will be "Junior Miss," the show in which Shirley Temple starred at the Cass Theater in Detroit last year.

Sorry But!

We regret to advise our hundreds of Christmas card patrons that our supply for the present year is entirely exhausted. We suggested in advertisements several weeks before Thanksgiving that selections be made early, because of the fact that less than a third of the number of cards manufactured for 1944 were made this year. Unless the war is over early next spring, and the paper supply problem is improved, we doubt if there will be more than a mere handful, if any, Christmas cards made for the 1945 holiday season.

Women Gallants Work To Win War Bond Goal

Plymouth women who have undertaken the tremendous responsibility of carrying the Sixth war loan drive through to a successful conclusion, have wasted no time in the early days of the drive.

Early reports indicate that a most receptive spirit is being met everywhere they go.

While no definite figures are yet available, it is believed that by the end of the present week, more than a quarter of the total will have been reached.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, general chairman, is most hopeful that the total can be reached long before the campaign is ended.

But the women workers are not the only ones who are busy. Supt. George A. Smith reports that the school children have entered into the drive wholeheartedly.

Collect Comic Books Tuesday

Brownie Troop 9, which has been doing a lot of good for various unfortunates, will collect comic books for the children in Maybury Sanitarium of Northville on Tuesday afternoon between 4 and 5 p. m.

Last spring the girls, who correspond to Cub Scouts and range in age from 7 to 9, collected more than 1,500 comic books which were distributed to the sanitarium children's ward.

The 33 girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Lidgard, also have distributed candy, cookies, cigarettes, etc., to inmates of Perry Jones Memorial Hospital in Battle Creek last Memorial Day.

They also made scrap books and distributed Christmas gifts to the sanitarium children last year.

The comic books this year again will be distributed to the sanitarium for Christmas and they also plan on sending some to the Veterans' Hospital in Dearborn. Mrs. Lidgard said.

The troop meets every Tuesday afternoon in Starkweather School.

Fights Nazis, Suffers Wounds

November 2 Private James L. Luker wrote his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Luker, 981 North Mill street, that he had been in many days of combat in Germany.

Like most mothers, she had a fear of what might happen to her son.

Yesterday the war department advised her that he had been wounded while fighting somewhere in Germany on November 12.

He had been with a cannon outfit, but news dispatches a few days ago said that cannon fighters had been transferred to another outfit, because they couldn't move their guns.

James was one of the boys who had been transferred. He was wounded soon after. Previous to going into the army he was employed for a number of years at the Mettetal greenhouses and the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant.

125 Will Sing In Yule Concert

Suffers Wounds From Jap Shell

Edward Wesley, a Plymouth member of the fighting "Wildcat" infantry unit that has been driving the Japs out of some of the Philippine islands, has been seriously wounded, according to information just sent his wife, who resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen at 173 North Harvey street. Shell fragments cut wounds in his shoulder and head.

His wife, the former Mildred Allen, a Plymouth high school girl, is now employed at the Kelsey-Hayes machine gun plant, where he also worked before going into the service.

He is at present located in a field hospital and will be evacuated shortly, said the information sent to his wife.

Hunter Gets Big Canadian Moose

When Perry Lacey of 1469 Sheridan avenue goes hunting, he goes hunting.

He returned from Canada the other day with a big moose that weighed 1200 pounds after it was dressed.

How did he get that big moose? What a question to ask a hunter! He shot him right in the gizzard, of course, the moose fell over dead, it was loaded onto a freight car and he brought it back to Plymouth, then placed it in a refrigerated locker down on Sixteenth street in Detroit. And that's all there is to it.

Plymouth Boys Cross Ocean Together Didn't Know It Until They Landed

Two Plymouth boys who have completed their "missions" over Germany and live to tell about it, returned to America on the same boat, but not until they met on a street in a New Jersey city after they had landed, did they know that they had left England at the same time and crossed the ocean together on the same boat.

These two aviator, James Nairn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Nairn of 1308 Sheridan street, and Franklin Coward, a teller of the First National bank before he entered the air service, were surprised and delighted when they happened to meet by mere chance after they had landed in America.

"Jimmie" Nairn, as he is best known to his host of youthful friend in Plymouth, has been one of those "high fliers" in Uncle Sam's fighting forces.

When he took one of those "joy rides" over the European continent, it was generally far above the clouds, where, the mercury in summer time sometimes stands below zero, and where they breath from an oxygen tank, due to the highly rarified air, some five or six miles above the earth.

When the war is over and when one can write what he knows without fear of revealing any military secrets, there will be an interesting story in The Plymouth Mail about Jimmie's 13th mission—that unlucky 13.

As readers of The Mail know, all editors in this country are operating upon a volunteer censorship basis, and up to date The

War Bond Show Is Planned

Once again Harry Lush, owner of the Penn theatre, has offered to Plymouth and vicinity a free motion picture show as an incentive in a war bond drive campaign.

Mr. Lush yesterday donated the entire seating capacity of the Penn, the motion picture "Frenchman's Creek" and the use of his entire staff for Tuesday evening, December 12, to buyers of war bonds amounting to $50 or more.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, general chairman of the war bond committee, announced that tickets for this show will be issued with each war bond purchased at the postoffice or either of the two banks.

For the school children, who are selling war bonds and stamps, Mr. Lush has donated the use of the Penn on Saturday afternoon, December 16. Any school child under the 4th grade selling more than $10 worth of war stamps or any school bond seller selling a war bond of any amount will be given a ticket for the December 16 show.

The name of this picture for this event will be announced later.

It is expected that the theatre campaign will result in the sale of around a hundred thousand dollars worth of war stamps.

Pvt. Olson was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1942 and prior to his entry into the army April 1943 at Fort Custer, he was employed at the Wall Wire Products Co.

Long Life For All Ford Cars

A new bearing developed during the war by the Ford Motor company will enable owners of post-war Ford, Mercury, and Lincoln cars to secure longer life from their engines.

Described as a "tri-alloy" bearing, it replaces cadmium, a metal in widespread use as bearing material before the war. The new material consists of approximately 35 to 40 per cent lead, 4 1/2 to 5 per cent silver, 5 per cent iron, and the balance copper.

Tests indicate that "tri-alloy" bearings last three times longer than regular bearings—even under the most trying conditions. When used on heavy duty trucks operated between the Willow Run bomber plant and the South-west, they showed a marked resistance to wear. In fact, some bearings and crankshaft journals disclosed no measurable wear after more than 50,000 miles.

"Tri-alloy" bearings were developed because of the weakness of ordinary bearings under the high stresses imposed by military operations. Cadmium and other metals, it was found, fatigued under these severe conditions for, unlike automobiles, which operate most of the time at comparatively low loads, military vehicles function at peak performance for many successive hours.

At the request of Army Ordnance, Ford began experiments in November, 1943, to find a bearing material that could withstand high loads for long periods.

Test "coupons" of various silver-lead combinations were tried, and scientists studied their microstructures.

Already known was the fact that single-face, copper-lead bearings were easy to make. But to make double-face or "floating" bearings such as connecting rod bearings was more difficult. Segregation of lead was a problem when coating both sides at once. This created weak points.

Ford technicians observed that segregation did not occur when silver was present. Sample bearings were made and experiments were begun in the laboratory and in actual road tests. The new bearings demonstrated superiority over existing types.

However, once the bearing was proven, an economical method for its volume production had to be found.

Existing methods for casting copper-lead bearings were too costly. However, the company had perfected a novel technique for casting copper-lead bearings: ten years earlier—only to abandon the project following the introduction of the cadmium-coated bearing. Now, a decade later, the technique has been coupled with the new alloy, and the result is a superior bearing.

Today, the new bearings are being produced in quantity at the Rouge plant in Dearborn. More than 500,000 are already in service in armored cars, universal carriers, tanks, jeeps, cargo trucks and official cars.

Ford has applied for patents covering the "tri-alloy" bearing, while the revolutionary method and machinery used in their production already are patented.

Edison Plans Vast Expansion After The War

Because of its faith in the post-war growth and prosperity of Detroit Edison company has set its sights to spend $125,000,000 during the ten years after the war to keep pace with demands for electricity in the area, James W. Parker, president and general manager, has just announced.

Parker disclosed that a new 75,000-kilowatt, 100,000-horsepower turbo-generator is on order, now held for many months by the urgent need of critical materials for war industries. "This will be one of the first items of post-war construction we shall do the moment the demands of the war permit," Parker said.

"Pent-up demand for automobiles and the power needs of the many new war industries which will continue in Detroit after the war; growth in the use of present and new electrical appliances; better home and industrial lighting; growth in population in our territory; and higher frequency induction heating for industries are factors which make us feel optimistic on a basis of factual studies."

"We feel that after the war there will follow one of the greatest eras in expansion of uses for electric power we have ever seen. The electric industry is still young and granted a minimum of restrictions and interference, is in a position to make an important contribution to the over-all prosperity of the country in the years immediately following."

Mr. Parker estimated that by 1950 average residential customer appliance use should increase to 1.25 kilowatt hours from a present usage of 702 kilowatt hours. This increase will result from a "reater use of such things as: electric water heaters, frozen food devices, electric cooking equipment, home cooling and heating devices, television, incinerators, dishwashers, fireplace equipment, clothes dryers, home dust collectors, de-humidifiers, sun and sterilizing lamps, drying of paints and lacquers; resistance welding; cleaning of air and electro-static deposit of fine particles in painting operations."

"We started planning for the final V 'av some two years ago," Parker said, "and for this purpose the company's operations were studied in six groups: Employment, Sales, New Materials and Methods, Client Planning, Finance and Public Works planning."

"Foremost planning has been centered around the re-employment of the men and women of our organization when they return from the Armed Services. We will have jobs for them and a genuine welcome. Some 1,500 men and women from our company are in the Armed Forces and 68 have already returned. "When war began, the Detroit Edison had 8,425 employees. At present we have 7,073 employees (some temporary) of whom 6,882 are expected to remain, and we estimate that 1,234 may return to the company from the Armed Services and from civilian war activities. Our postwar requirements are estimated at 8,436 which would make it necessary to hire 400 additional employees.

"We estimate that the 7,600 square miles of territory now served by Detroit Edison—with a present population of 3,073,000—will have a population of 3,300,000 by 1955."

St. John's Bazaar December 6

Arrangements have been completed by the ladies of St. John's Episcopal church for a Christmas bazaar and silver tea to be held in the parish house on Wednesday, December 6 from 2 to 9 o'clock in the evening.

The ladies are very busy making many articles such as towels, aprons, mittens, stuffed dolls, etc. for the sale. There will be a baked goods table under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wiloughby and the Altar Guild of the church will serve tea, with Mrs. James Robinson as chairman.

A new feature has been inaugurated by the ladies whereby they will sell individual chicken pies to be taken out. Orders must be given in advance by calling either Mrs. Wiloughby or Mrs. Kenneth Hulsing.

If energy and a willingness to work count, this Christmas bazaar being given by the ladies of St. John's ought to be an outstanding success.

Many girls who are not beautiful seem convinced that they are. Some of them become quite bitter and arrogant when not granted the homage reserved for real beauty. Others forgive the men and settle down into making the best of it.

City Is Pleased Over Street Improvements

Plymouth's most progressive and beneficial street paving program in years has been completed and now Mayor Stanley Corbett and his associates in the present city administration are giving consideration to next year's street improvement program.

More hard surface paving was laid during the past summer than in any one year since 1928, according to facts and figures revealed a few days ago by City Manager Clarence Elliott.

Maple street, a long neglected thoroughfare, was given a black-top paving that is regarded as a decided improvement over anything of the kind laid in the city. There was over 600 feet of the street paved, to a width of 30 feet.

Harvey and Wings streets were given a 30 foot concrete paving for a distance of over 1300 feet. In one section this paving is 36 feet wide. For the first time, residents in the southeastern section of the city now enjoy a hard surfaced thoroughfare south of Ann Arbor Trail.

Over 600 feet of Roosevelt avenue was also taken "out of the mud" by a black top paving. Blunk avenue was given a 60 foot extension of its paving with a blacktop.

In addition to all of this paving on heavily traversed residential streets, Main street was widened for a considerable distance in the city hall area. It is hoped that this improvement can be extended as far south next year as Frickel avenue.

Suggestions for this street widening have been made during past years. This work that has just been completed in front of the city hall and public library is the first time that any consideration has been given to the badly needed Main street widening project.

In addition to all of this street paving work, there has been over 800 feet of sidewalk constructed and a total of 3183 feet of concrete curb and gutter constructed.

Mayor Corbett feels highly gratified over the success of his street paving program, especially in view of the fact that there has been such a serious shortage of help during the year.

He hopes to conduct a much more extensive street improvement program next year than was carried on this year.

The deplorable condition of unpaved streets in Plymouth have been the source of much complaint, especially during the late winter and spring months.

Paper Makes Quick Trip to India and Back to Plymouth

A copy of The Plymouth Mail, sent by air mail to Corporal Robert Martin, in India by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Martin, left Plymouth on October 10 and was returned to Plymouth on November 27, making the round trip to India in only 48 days.

The paper was not delivered to their son, as the parents have been advised that he is on the way home to America after being absent nearly three years in India.

When he will arrive in this country, his parents do not know, but they are expecting him home at any time within the next few days.

This will be his first furlough since he entered the service.

His parents have been sending him The Plymouth Mail by first class mail in recent months in order to expedite its delivery to him.

Brief Notes Of State Interest

(By Gene Alleman)
Re-election of Governor Kelly to a second term has led to a movement among Republican leaders to favor a four-year term for state elective officials by constitutional amendment. Robert S. Ford, director of the state department of business administration, released a prepared statement that he planned to ask the legislature to adopt a joint resolution whereby an amendment would be offered to the voters.

A four-year term for state elective officials is opposed by some 50 members of the board of control of the Michigan Federation of Young Republicans, according to Gordon Walker of Detroit, chairman. He was quoted as follows: "If the officials do a good enough job, the voters would re-elect them to second terms just as they did Governor Kelly."

A recess of one month is proposed for the 1945 legislative session to permit completion of budget bills.

Governor Kelly is said to favor continuation of an annual legislative session during the next biennium (1945 and 1946).

On the ground that the state constitution of Michigan prohibited lotteries, Circuit Judge Guy A. Miller ruled in Detroit that the 1933 horse racing act legalizing betting was invalid. The judge said the "sensible construction of the word (lottery) intended to see to it that the legislature should never permit gambling enterprises in this state whose outcome depended on the operation of chance."

The Michigan State Grange recently asked the State of Michigan "to get out of the liquor business." Under present control, the state holds a monopoly on the distribution of liquor. The net income of profit for the last fiscal year was $24,068,000 of which close to $19,000,000 came from the sale of liquor. Liquor sales increased about 10 per cent from last year's volume.

In the meanwhile, all has not been peaceful at offices of the state liquor control commission. A controversy has existed over division of authority between members of the commission and the business manager, Brig. Gen. Louis A. Kunsig. This culminated recently in the resignation of the secretary, J. F. Richardson, and appointment of a successor, George E. Bullen. Richardson resigned Nov. 8; Bullen began work Nov. 16, and the news was casually disclosed by Commissioner Felix H. H. Flynn on Nov. 22.

The civil service commission has its troubles. Members are not in complete agreement over the constitutional power of the commission in the field of salaries of state employees. Alex J. Groesbeck, former governor, is said to believe that the commission has the authority to require legislative appropriations to cover fixed salaries. Groesbeck's resignation has not been accepted by Governor Kelly. Labor leaders have proposed a $1,800 minimum salary and a 40 hour week with time and one-half for overtime.

Post-war construction projects of Michigan local governments total $303,000,000. This information was revealed recently when local governments filed applications with the state planning commission for a part of $5,000,000 set aside by the legislature for state aid in meeting drafting costs. Don W. Weeks is the director.

A survey by Fire Marshal Arnold C. Renner recently disclosed that few courthouses in Michigan possess fireproof storage facilities to protect important documents such as property descriptions.

Because the snowfall last winter was so heavy, only 33 counties will share in the 1944 highway snow removal fund, compared to 74 counties a year ago.

As the annual $200,000 distribution is based on the previous winter's snowfall, the net result will be to increase the amounts to participating counties. Thus, Chippewa county will receive $14,304 compared to $5,242 last year.

The state conservation commission has agreed to buy the General Motors corporation's holding of timber in the most rugged portion of the Porcupine mountain area. The purchase amount is $476,000.

A sales tax income of approximately $100,000,000 is in sight for 1944, according to Louis M. Nims, commissioner of the state revenue department. Tax payments are arriving at the rate of $97,500,000 a year with the Christmas buying season yet ahead. The U. S. department of commerce has forecast a decline in consumer income for 1945. Nims puts his 1945 forecast at $92,000,000.

The state stream control commission has ordered the city of Saginaw to complete a sewage collection and treatment system and to stop dumping raw sewage into the Saginaw river. The commission served its first notice in September, 1938.

Because of war-time conditions, tuberculosis deaths in Michigan are on the increase, so reminds the Michigan Tuberculosis association which opened its Christmas Seal campaign this week.

Anticipating the eventual enrollment of 50,000 veterans in Michigan colleges and universities, the state board of education has approved applications of 25 educational institutions to train war veterans under the Federal GI bill of rights law.

Between 1905 and Pearl Harbor, American composers outdid themselves in idealizing Japan as a quaint and romantic land, in scores of popular songs, about 50 of which became well-known, including Yokohama, Ti-O-San, Cherry Blossoms, Laughing Little Almond Eyes, and Japanese Sandman.

No state approaches Michigan in duplicating the names of lakes. For instance, 440 of these bodies of water are known by only five names. 58 being called Twin Lake, 59 Round Lake, 65 Bass Lake, 87 Long Lake and 173 Mud Lake.

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.

Women Gallants

(Continued from Page 1) edly and that when the campaign is ended, he believes that the boys and girls of Plymouth will have exceeded the amount sold in any other drive.

The Plymouth women war bond workers were highly elated over a statement issued a few days ago by Mrs. Marshall, wife of General George Marshall, Chief of Staff of the U. S. Army.

"The Sixth War Loan Drive is another opportunity for the civilian patriot to fight by the side of the armed forces," said the wife of the famed American general.

Mrs. Marshall pointed out that the goal of $14,000,000,000 for the drive is a mammoth undertaking. "But," she went on, "the need too is mammoth, and the undertaking is not as great as that faced by the men who do the actual fighting. The task ahead of us is to finish the war. Certainly that is a more inspiring and hopeful job than in the early days of the conflict when the odds were all with our enemies—when we had to begin to produce, to mobilize—to fight.

"On land and sea our men have surmounted unbelievable obstacles since those early days. The workers and the housewives who have backed their attack with War Bonds have been privileged to share at least the monetary cost of their successes.

"None of our successes has been easy and final victory will take more men, more material and more money, than we have yet put into the fight."

Mrs. Marshall praised the work women have done in the financing end of the war effort. "From every corner of the nation, women of all ages have literally grasped at the opportunity for service which the War Finance program offers them. Women who have never known the meaning of the word 'trifling' have stunted themselves to meet the needs of their government. Moreover, hundreds of thousands of women have given their time and energy to the sale and promotion of bonds. All of them feel well repaid by the knowledge that the war work they have thus chosen has played a vital part in every campaign in every theatre of operations.

"To finish the European conflict and to wage all-out war against Japan will require increased effort from both military and civilian forces. Let no one think that this war is almost over, for the hardest and costliest struggle is still to come."

Quoting a recent speech of her husband's, Mrs. Marshall stressed the fact that the individual soldier will place just as much importance upon his life in the final week or hour of the war as during its earlier advances and that death in the last engagement is as bitter as death met in the first break-through.

"It is our sacred duty," she said, "to keep on supplying the shells, the guns, the planes, and the moral support of a thousand kinds by which alone American lives can be saved. The cost of victory is still to be paid in full. An extra war bond during the Sixth War Loan is the least each of us can do to help meet that payment."

Music Students

The next group will go a week from tomorrow and trips will be made every second Saturday thereafter during the current season.

The students who made the trip to the Masonic Temple in Detroit last week really went all out for the trip, too, Mr. Luchtmann said.

Most of them, and Mr. Luchtmann too, rode in with war workers, necessitating their getting up as early as 6 a. m. on a day on which they ordinarily can "sleep in." Others rode in on the bus. Those who went last week were: Bernice Miklosky, Ruth Campbell, Ann Watkins, Mabel Vickstrom, Jacqueline Bothwell, Betty Arrigan, Darlene Lunning and Mary Ann Cylk of the girls' octet (Mary Roland, accompanist, couldn't make the trip); William Beiter, Lois Bryan, Shirley Hersh and Sidney Davison from the band groups; Frank Hadley of the orchestra and Nancy Morrow of the junior high school music classes.

Did You Write That Lost Letter to Lex Skoglund in Leyte?

Some one from Plymouth wrote Lex Skoglund, son of Mr. and Mrs. Skoglund who live in Livonia township just off the Five Mile road, a letter recently. Rex is spending most of his time in a fox hole on Leyte island, right up under the noses of the Japs.

An Associated Press dispatch, sent by one of their correspondents with the U. S. 24th Division on the Leyte front published in a number of newspapers throughout the country, said: "Whoever mailed a letter to Pvt. Lex Skoglund, of Plymouth, Mich., recently, please write and mail it again."

The letter was delivered at an advanced position on a battle line. He hadn't any more than taken it from the mail dispatcher when a Japanese mortar opened up. A monsoon storm was blowing and his foxhole was full of water but when a mortar fires you don't think about water. When he got out of the fox hole the letter was beyond reading."

Several of the clippings of this article were sent to Postmaster Harry Irwin, so that he might see that one was published in The Plymouth Mail and the writer of the letter informed as to what happened to it. One clipping came from as far away as Springfield, Mass.

Weddings

Dixon-Kellenberger

Carrying the white satin-bound Bible her Grandmother Van De Car gave her when she was a very small girl, and marked at her grandmother's favorite passage, the 91st Psalm, Miss Edris Ann Kellenberger and James M. Dixon were married in Pomona, California, Monday afternoon by Dr. Floyd Beckwith of the Baptist church, who also read the marriage service for the bride's parents in Pomona 21 years ago.

Only the immediate families of the couple attended the service. Dr. Beckwith has been an intimate friend of the bride's family for many years.

The bride's grandmother was one of the committee many years ago who made arrangements for the official welcome and the wedding supper for Dr. Beckwith and his bride when they first arrived in Plymouth 43 years ago. When the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Dixon requested him to officiate at their wedding, he asked them to stand in exactly the same spot in his study in which the bride's mother and father had stood for their services.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross M. Dixon, formerly of Northville, now of Gienoa, Cal. In addition to the parents of the couple, the groom's sister Helen and his brother Lou attended the services.

While most surgical operations require less than an hour to perform, brain operations usually take from four to eight hours, and sometimes last as long as 16 hours.

Plymouth High Quintet Looks Well Beating Redford, 52-28, In Opener

Plymouth entertains Dearborn next Friday night in its second game and Tomshack is hopeful of chalking up his second victory.

He was quite pleased with the performance Tuesday of his two lettermen, Robert Rienas, who was high point man with 18 points, and Captain Harold Schultz, who got eight. Second high point man was Ronald Micol, the 6 foot 2 center who shows much promise, with 12.

High for the Redford quintet were Earl Kelly and Captain Bill Hobbs, with eight and seven points respectively.

The varsity, which lost nine boys to the services has 10 members, including six seniors, three juniors and one sophomore. Most of them are fairly new to varsity competition with the exception of Schultz and Rienas.

Tomshack is a little worried by the fact he'll lose Schultz by graduation in February, but expects to develop somebody to replace him by the end of the semester. He also will lose Micol in February.

The other members on whom Tomshack is depending are Seniors Bob Hall, Hugh Harsha and Don Rock and Juniors Bob Brink, Duane Olds and Don Hayes.

The latter is a 6 foot 2 center who transferred here this year from Waterville, O., where he played in a fast Central Buckeye outfit.

Tomshack says the team will miss the services of its high scorer from last year, Bill Bennett, who has gone to Florida. He also had been counting heavily on the boys who went into service.

A graduate of Ypsilanti High School and the University of California at Los Angeles, Tomshack is in his first full season as athletic director and head coach at the high school.

He had retired from the coaching field eight years ago and was devoting his efforts to teaching when he was pressed back into service as coach. He has been at the school three years.

He won't have to do too well to beat last year's record when the team won only two of 14 games and he is highly hopeful of exceeding it by a good margin.

Plymouth High School's basketball team made Coach John Tomshack's new system look good Tuesday night by opening its season with an impressive 52 to 28 victory over Redford Union.

Tomshack, who instituted a freshman team when he took over upon Tony Matulis' entry into the Navy in midseason last year, is quietly confident that his team will have a highly successful season.

"The only way to develop a team which can compete in the fast type of play in vogue these days is to start the kids out as freshmen and teach them the fundamentals," Tomshack asserted.

And if the play of George Schomberger at forward is any criterion, the system will pay off. Schomberger looked well Tuesday night in the game in the Plymouth High gym. He is a sophomore and played last season with the freshmen team which had a full schedule.

By having them start as freshmen, Tomshack said, "they learn to click together and have a whole year of competition behind them when they become eligible for the varsity. That saves a coach a lot of time he otherwise would have to waste on fundamentals."

Elliott Watches Kalamazoo Suit

The recent taxpayer's suit filed by a Kalamazoo attorney seeking to restrain that city's commission from using public funds to pay dues to the Michigan Municipal League is viewed with trepidation by City Manager Clarence Elliott.

"I certainly hope the courts will squash such an action," Elliott said. "The League has been a great benefit to all cities of the state, including Plymouth."

"Its value far outweighs the small outlay in dues. Our dues last year were only $92.50. Kalamazoo's dues are probably only about $400."

"Through its regular bulletins, the League furnishes the cities a lot of advice which is of great help in making many decisions. It is a big saving in money, too, since through its service we learn how other cities met problems which we face."

"Otherwise it would cost us a lot more money to send a representative to other cities to observe their methods. Either that, or through errors in going ahead without the benefit of their experience, much more money would be expended each year than the $92.50 dues."

He asserted that a third of all laws passed by the legislature affect the cities either directly or indirectly. The League, he said, helps in formulating these laws by presenting information relative to the cities' problems.

It acts as a sort of 'lobby' for the public's welfare.

He also said the League was responsible for gaining for cities a good share of the gasoline and and weight tax revenues. This, he asserted, has been of inestimable value to Plymouth in street improvements, among other things.

and speed exist between the outdoor model plane powered by a miniature gas engine, and the indoor plane powered by a rubber loop and flown in an armory. The weight of a ten-pound outdoor model is equivalent to that of 1,625 indoor models; and the maximum speed of the outdoor plane is 112 mph or 32 times as fast as that of the indoor, which is only 3.5 mph, or slower than the normal walk of a human being.

A Statement

Ordinarily The Plymouth Mail pays no attention to statements that are circulated about the paper or its editor and publisher. But during the past few days assertions have been made by a local resident which we believe call for a somewhat detailed statement, especially in view of the fact that the statements were made in a spirit of intense criticism and intent to create a false impression.

It was stated by this resident as a fact that "The Plymouth Mail has charged a plenty for papers being sent to boys in the services."

Four years ago when our boys first began to enter the armed forces in numbers, The Plymouth Mail decided to send each one of the Plymouth boys his hometown paper without charge as long as he was in the armed forces.

We thought at the time that there might be 75 or possibly a hundred boys going into the army and navy from here. Never did we dream that the number would go beyond the 500 mark, say nothing about exceeding a total of 700.

Very frankly the task of preparing and mailing these papers became a big job over night—far greater than we had ever expected. But having started it and knowing how much OUR BOYS appreciated it, we determined to keep it up, no matter what the sacrifice involved might be.

We made no exception to the rule—any Plymouth boy who had lived in this city for a period of years and attended its public schools, we regarded as a Plymouth boy. This included the young men from Livonia township, Canton, a part of Nankin and a portion of Northville township as well as the city and township of Plymouth.

Neither did we make an exception to the military rank of OUR BOYS. We thought that if one of our young men advanced to the rank of a captainship, a major or even a colonel, with its advanced pay, it made no difference. He was in the armed forces and was entitled to his home town paper for what he was doing.

AT NO TIME has The Plymouth Mail ever accepted one cent in payment or in contribution for these subscriptions to our home town boys in the armed forces.

It is true that we have very frequently been offered payment by parents and friends for these papers. The Rotary club at one time suggested that it would be glad to help carry the burden, but the patriotic offer was not accepted.

Local business men have also asserted that they would be glad to help pay the expense of mailing these 700 copies to OUR BOYS in service. But NOT ONCE HAS A PENNY EVER BEEN ACCEPTED FROM ANY SOURCE for this purpose.

Neither have we ever advertised or in any way endeavored to capitalize on this service to OUR BOYS. We have, however, always felt pleased to think that there was a little something we could do to bring a bit of gladness into the hearts of our young men summoned away from their homes—many of them away from their mothers and fathers for the first time in their lives.

Some two years ago when the induction service was depleting the staff of The Plymouth Mail and we were finding it difficult to get help, the Navy Mothers for a time aided in wrapping the papers that went to the boys.

Mrs. Walter Harms, Charlotte Walker, Elsie Melow and Miss Melow's sister, Mrs. Evans for, a period of several months gave many, many of their evenings to addressing wrappers.

We were most grateful for the very great assistance these ladies gave us so willingly during the months when our help situation was so critical. It was through their willingness to sacrifice evening hours that kept The Plymouth Mail going regularly to OUR BOYS throughout the world.

But the number of papers going to Plymouth men and women in the service has grown so large and the changes of addresses have been so frequent in recent months that The Plymouth Mail has found it necessary to hire an extra employee to take care of this work.

It is our intention to continue mailing copies of The Mail to our boys and girls in uniform just as long as the war continues and without charge to anybody.

We regret to think that there is any person in the world who would make such a statement pertaining to an effort to provide a little home-town service to OUR PLYMOUTH BOYS who are fighting and dying for America. We are sure that the statement must have been made without due thought being given to what was said. We hold no ill-will toward any one, and this statement is being made only for the purpose of giving to the readers of The Mail the facts as they are.

—ELTON R. EATON.

THE JOB IN THE PACIFIC IS STILL TERRIFIC!

THERE ARE STILL MILLIONS OF TOUGH, BRUTAL JAPS TO LICK. EVERY JAP WE KILL MAKES MY CHANCES OF GETTING HOME BETTER, AND IT COSTS PLENTY TO KILL A JAP

IF YOU think Japan is a pushover—you're fooling yourself, mister. Millions of fanatical Japanese are prepared to die for their country. Every American soldier, marine and sailor in the Pacific knows that he has a tough fight on his hands. You can't tell them their war is over! Even as you read these words, American men are dying in the fight against Japan.

Look into your heart and ask yourself honestly: "Have I stopped fighting? Have I stopped buying War Bonds because I think the war is about over?" You're not a quitter; your answer is "No!"

It costs billions of dollars a month to fight Japan. The fight in the Pacific calls for a highly specialized type of equipment. B-29 bombers that cost $600,000 in War Bonds; M-4 tanks with bulldozer blades that cost $67,417; "alligators" that cost $30,000; millions of gallons of gas. We need more and costlier equipment than any war has ever called for. And that's the reason for the 6th War Loan Drive. Just as long as a single Japanese aims a gun at our men—we must continue to buy War Bonds.

Once again you are asked to buy at least one extra $100 War Bond. Buy more if you possibly can. Not only is it for the final Victory—it's for your future. Sign up for extra War Bonds on the Payroll Plan. Welcome the Victory Volunteer when he or she calls at your home. Remember—the job in the Pacific is still terrific. We're out to get Japan in the 6th War Loan Drive!

YOUR COUNTRY IS STILL AT WAR—ARE YOU?

Prepare Now For Care For Birds

Now is the time for Plymouth bird lovers to invite the birds one wants as winter guests.

The conservation department points out that the birds which remain in Michigan during winter months do not, as a rule, need the help of humans. They can fend for themselves except when sleet storms seal off their food supplies. Feeding stations do attract birds, however, and chickadees, nuthatches, downy and hairy woodpeckers, tufted titmice, cardinals, and juncos, in turn, entertain their hosts.

Feeding shelves should have protection from snow, sleet, and rain. They may be constructed on ledges, posts, or trees within easy view of windows. Even in wartime, it is possible to obtain mixed seeds, cracked corn, wheat, millet, and sunflower seeds that birds relish.

A word of warning: Don't invite guests and neglect them later. Birds are forming winter feeding habits now. Food should be placed on feeding shelves throughout the winter, if birds accept one's early season invitation.

Wacs Are Badly Needed For Army

There is an urgent need for more women in the Women's Army Corps. Any woman between the ages of twenty and forty-nine having two years high school, a citizen of the United States, and no dependents under fourteen is eligible to join the W.A.C.

Many fine opportunities exist for women in the W.A.C. Technical positions of all types are open at base hospitals, both in the U. S. and overseas. Jobs such as lip-reading technician, hearing aid technician, psychiatric assistant, orthopedic technician's aide and many others, are available. Qualifications are high school graduation, and either six months training in a school of nursing or a certificate of graduation from a Red Cross Nurse's Aide Corps course. Applicants without these qualifications, but possessing the necessary aptitude, may be given appropriate training in an Army technical school.

A good opportunity for job training and advancement exist. Women will be serving in the Army, and also preparing themselves for an important postwar career. Over 22,000 W.A.C.s are urgently needed in the W.A.C. medical department.

Any woman in the Plymouth area desiring a personal interview or additional information may write Lt. Jennings at 15860 Grand River, Detroit 27, Michigan, or phone Ve. 7-1844.

Girl Scout Show Makes Big Hit

A very entertaining evening was enjoyed by all who attended the PTA Tuesday evening, November 28, at the Central grade school auditorium. The Girl Scouts of Troop Six gave a minstrel show which was written and directed by Mrs. Dean Saxton.

The girls, under the leadership of Mrs. Edward Dobbs and Mrs. David Zink, earned their minstrel badges through the presentation of this show.

We wish to remind you that the December PTA will be on Thursday afternoon, December 14th with a children's Christmas program.

Jerry Edwards Plays at Prom Tonight

In a cool setting of snow scenes and Christmas trees Plymouth high school students and their guests will dance at the Senior Prom, the Snow Ball, tonight from 9 to 1 to the music of Jerry Edwards and his orchestra who will be seated behind a snow fort. The seniors have spent considerable time and talent in creating an atmosphere of winter beauty for themselves and their friends.

Patrons and patronesses, chosen from the parents of the class officers and the committee chairmen, are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bachelor, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Livernois, and Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Valrance. The seniors have also invited Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Dykhouse, and the school board members, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Strong, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brisbois, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sutherland, and Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Eaton.

D. A. R. Members Laud Red Cross

The meeting of the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter of the D.A.R. with Mrs. Brant Warner recently was devoted to the vast amount of work being done by the Red Cross.

In the devotions conducted by Mrs. Blanche Daniels, she read an original poem to The Red Cross by the Chaplain, Mrs. E. J. Cutler. Mrs. Tenn and Mrs. Olsen of Detroit presented moving pictures of Red Cross activities and a complete picture of the evolution, the process, and the work accomplished with blood plasma.

Mrs. Olsen also gave an interesting and instructive lecture on the work and the need of supplying blood plasma and the work of the Red Cross in general.

The quota in Detroit alone is 500 pints each week. The fact that out of 100 wounded soldiers, 97 will be restored by the use of plasma, shows the urgent need.

Mrs. Kenneth Kitchen, state president of the C.A.R. reported that the organization is buying bonds to purchase a battleship. It had previously bought a bomber which is now in service. Members were asked to contribute needed articles for Ellis Island. Mrs. Root as chairman of the National Defense committee told of an article in the National Defense news entitled "Constitution and World Organization." Written by Edwin S. Corwin, president of Princeton University, whose home in early years was on the Canton Center Road.

Mrs. Cutler's original tribute in verse "To the Red Cross" follows: Angels of mercy—dressed in white, wearing the red cross—bringing light into eyes that are dimmed with pain, and to drooping lips bringing laughter again,

To far off places, and right next door, in times of peace and in times of war, going with bandages—clothing—a smile, covering many a weary mile.

Behold them in Iceland's frost and snow, with cheer for the lonely boys they go, nursing, caring for wounded and ill, to desert and jungle they bring good will.

Women in work rooms folding gauze, making dressings with scarce a pause; women sewing on garments wee, clothing for some little babes to be.

Knitting warm things for our boys to wear, wrapping gifts for them over there. And when a storm or a flood breaks here, bringing the homeless ones good cheer.

May the work of the Red Cross never cease, may it show us the way to lasting peace. When men shall fight and kill no more, and have understanding instead of war.

Drive For Freedom Began in Boston

The Boston Tea Party as a protest to government without the representation that is the right of every people took place one hundred and seventy one years ago on December 16. All these things are significant in our history toward gaining and preserving our freedoms. Why not make this period another date memorable in our history by buying more bonds than ever before. Here is approximately how your bond dollar is spent: nineteen cents goes for aircraft; twelve cents for ordnance and signal equipment; ten cents for army and navy vessels; four cents for merchant ships; eleven cents for miscellaneous; fourteen cents for war construction; twenty-five cents pays travel, export commodities, subsistence, etc.; five cents goes for non-war uses. So you see without your loan of this money the war could not be won. Maybe you are thinking your money goes not grow on trees; well war bonds don't grow on trees.

National billion dollars is the national goal set for the sixth war loan drive which started November 20 and will end December 16. Five billion of this is to be raised from individuals; two and a half billion to be raised in E bonds. The individual goal is at least one extra hundred dollar bond. The quota Plymouth is expected to meet is almost one-half million. The period of the war bond drive includes a number of important dates that will never be forgotten in American history; for instance only three years ago on December 7 the Japs staged a treacherous attack on Pearl Harbor; only three days later on December 11 war was declared on the United States by Germany and Italy. It was only one hundred and fifty years ago on December 15 that the Bill of Rights was added to the constitution and the right of a man to liberty was made a permanent part of our system of government.

Only Two Lettermen On Basketball Team

Only two lettermen, Rienas and Schultz, are among the ten boys chosen for the winter basketball team, which, at this writing is practicing for its first game on November 28 with Redford. Six of the boys are seniors, Hariso, Hall, Micol, Rock, Rienas, and Schultz; three are juniors, Oida, Hayes and Brinks; Schomberger is a sophomore. The team has a very tough schedule, but Mr. Tomshack says it should win at least half of its games.

The second team is made up of five sophomores and two juniors, the sophomores being the nucleus of last year's freshman squad. Bentley and Groh are juniors, while Hitt, McIntosh, Diederick, Langkabel, and Strautz are sophomores.

Senior Sketches

Wilma Bruny, whose hobbies are collecting snapshots and reading good mystery stories, is the daughter of Arthur and Mary Bruny, 11421 Marion Avenue near Beach Road. Wilma is taking a commercial course but is undecided as to her future plans. Her accomplishments include chairmanship of the invitation committee for the J-Hop, membership on the decoration committee for the Prom, invitation committee for the Prom, and the biography committee for the Annual. Her pet peeve is British cuts.

Russell Downing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Downing of 9311 South Main, has been a member of the football team and Varsity club for two years. He was president of his tenth grade. He is taking a general course. Girls are his pet peeve.

Rosemary Davis, who plans to be a secretary but wishes to travel extensively later, is the daughter of Samuel and Faye Davis of 34080 Changelawn Road. Her hobby is attending moving pictures and her pet peeve is people who are conceited or fickle. Rosemary is taking a commercial course.

Francis Eskra whose pet peeve is nosy people, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eskra, 48734 Ann Arbor Road. She is taking a commercial course but is not certain as to her future. Her hobby is collecting pennants.

Jerald Frisbie, eighteen year old son of Homer and Marie Frisbie, 1482 Sheridan, plans to enter the Army in January and meanwhile is taking a commercial course. Since Jerald works after school, he has not taken part in any extra-curricular activities. Jerald says, jokingly that buying and selling used cars is his hobby.

The "Why" Of The Lunchroom Rules

There are reasons for the rules in the lunchroom. Many kids complain about having to stand in the hot food line when they want to get only ice cream but this rule was made so that there would be less danger of spilling while going through the long ice-cream line and so the hot food will not cool while waiting in the ice-cream line. Taking the dirty dishes back seems to be too much for a few people, but if they would realize that help is as short in the lunchroom as in other places, they would mind returning them. Lastly, no food can be taken out of the lunchroom because it is too easy to forget to put one's cone in a waste-basket, and just drop it on the floor.

Class News

Mr. Hedrick's biology classes are learning about the green chlorophyll the plant uses to manufacture food. This material utilizes the energy of the sun, converts water into sugars and starches which are the material we need for energy and for building blood, bone, muscles, skin and the other parts of the body. If it were not for chlorophyll and its never ending work, all the animals on earth including man would literally starve to death.

With the help of "Things a Boy can Do with Electricity," a book from the school library, Edward Klinski and Robert North, of the junior shop group, are building an electro-magnetic crane in miniature. Bruce Besse is copying a crude radium used in a fox hole in the Pacific. It is constructed of a razor blade, a safety pin, and a pencil lead. The coil is turned on a mailing tube. Several of the boys are making strap keys and telegraph receiving and sending sets.

Robert Towner is making a stool with peened or hand hammered legs. Donald Waldecker and Dale McMullen are making wrought iron legs for hand-pushed end tables. Caryl Cushman made a cartoon on the purchase of Alaska for Miss Niles' American history. Others in the class gave oral reports on famous men from the Civil War time to the Spanish American War period.

In Miss Niles' English 10 group Margery Fegan, Gertie Fulton, and John Meyers entertained with reports on different foreign countries and most of their classmates decided that they thought that they would like to visit Alaska. The class also retold stories they had read for their unit on speech.

Suzanne Maddox, for English 9, wrote a clever original conversation and illustrated it also.

An 8th Grade Creed

(By One of Them)
 You should be glad and thankful that you are here to be in the eighth grade, give your best in all your subjects, not be satisfied with just getting by. By doing this you are preparing yourself for your advanced work and forming a habit of this in the eighth prepares for college as well as life. The wise person does not get mixed up in arguments which they will regret later. Respect and honor your superiors so that those younger than you may profit by your acts. Also respect and honor your classmates; never criticize your friends or enemies, for by doing so, you make more enemies. Be kind and helpful to all who ask advice and help, for you too may need help at some time. You should despise nothing in the world except falsehood and meanness; and fear nothing except cowardice. Remember always an eighth grader has a place in the world, so always live up to it the very best you can.—By Rose Ann Ewert.

The reciprocal regard existing between the people of Russia and their government was shown in 1936 during the forming of their new constitution. Its first draft was published in 10,000 newspapers and 60,000,000 pamphlets for study by the people. Then discussion of its 146 articles at 527,000 public meetings, attended by 38,500,000 citizens, resulted in 150,000 suggestions and amendments, all of which were considered and a number of them were adopted by the Supreme Soviet.

Juniors Think Plays Are Fun!

Some interesting opinions are resulting from the production of the Junior play "Junior Miss." Freeman Hover's reason for being in the play is to conquer his fear of large groups of people and to talk more slowly. Margaret Jackson gives the fact that participating in the play will be a new experience for her. Hines Hoenecke thinks plays are just plain work, but his class spirit prompted him to take part. Freeman likes best the scene in which he carries on a violent argument with Merle Parsons. Margaret likes the Christmas and the kissing scenes but Hines likes the last scene because it is the last. Tickets for the play, to be presented December 14-15, will be sold by juniors in the halls, also by a canvass of Plymouth and Rosedale Gardens. Tickets for adults will be 40 cents; for children 25 cents.

Hi-Y Delegates Go To State Meeting

James Wiltze, Freeman Hover, Bob Schwartz, William Seeger and Dick Olin went to Owosso Friday, November 24. They went by way of Detroit and Flint to reach Owosso, where four or five hundred boys will attend the two banquets at the state Hi-Y meeting. There were prominent speakers from out of the state. Delegates will give report at the first Hi-Y in December. There are thirty-five active members in the White Chapter of the Hi-Y in Plymouth High School.

Girl Reserves Hold Thanksgiving Tea

The Girl Reserves entertained their counselors, advisers, the teachers, and Mr. Smith and Mr. Dykhouse at a tea Tuesday, November 21 at four o'clock in the home economics room. Joan Gillis and Barbara Folsom provided piano music. Soloists were Mabel Vickstrom, who sang "My Hero" and "Always," and Barbara Folsom, who sang "Smile Gets in Your Eyes." Miss Bristah, one of the advisers, served the tea at a table decorated in a Thanksgiving theme.
 Barbara Shear, the general chairman, was assisted by Geraldine Shear and Phyllis Christensen as refreshments chairman, Mabel Vickstrom as entertainment chairman, Marie Duthoo and Virginia Waldecker as decorations chairman, and Patricia Isbell as invitations chairman.

Gremlin Gossip

Who was Mr. Latture's victim that weakened his ruler so much? Haven't Miss Bristah's students been absent lately?
 In case you've been wondering, Mary Rolan was the pianist for the double quartet at the assembly. She also accompanied for part of the octet program in Detroit at the Teachers Institute, which is unusual for she is only in the ninth grade.

Who was the boy on the stage in the assembly, whose face became so colorful when someone said Mary Jane.
 Two senior boys have a wonderful mopping technique. Too bad Mrs. Strong and Mrs. Shely don't know about it.

Those humorous posters concerning whistling, making up, running, etc., in the halls that the White Chapter of the Hi-Y in Plymouth High School really hit the nail on the head.

More Phones For Rural Sections

The telephone industry today stands united on a postwar program to advance the expansion and improvement of rural telephone service throughout the United States.

A joint committee has been formed of representatives of Bell system and independent companies to carry forward the postwar programs which the various companies have been working on individually, it is announced. In this state, the committee represents the Michigan Bell Telephone company and 169 independent companies.

Co-chairmen of the committee are John P. Boylan, of Rochester, N. Y., president of the United States Independent Telephone Association; and Keith S. McHugh, of New York, vice-president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company.

"Rural telephone service is more highly developed in this country, under the American system of private enterprise, than in any other in the world," a joint statement by Boylan and McHugh said. "However, it is by no means as highly developed as we in the industry want to see it, and the industry intends to do everything in its power to provide more service, and better service, at a cost which the farmer can afford."

"Over one-half million miles of telephone pole lines serving rural areas already have been built so that more than two-thirds of all rural families in the United States can be served from existing lines. Since 1935, more than 500,000 additional families in rural areas have become telephone subscribers—an increase of 35 per cent. One of the major objectives is to continue this upward trend by making the service over existing lines increasingly valuable and attractive."

"A second major objective is to extend service at reasonable cost to families not now reached by existing lines."

Telephone research in the last several years has successfully developed new construction materials and methods which substantially lower the cost of building wire lines to areas not previously reached. In addition, work was started by the industry in 1938 to develop a practical system of transmitting telephone conversations over electric power lines. A similar system can be used over telephone lines to increase their capacity. This so-called rural carrier system transmits a very high frequency current over the wires. From 1940 on, experiments with this system over rural power lines were carried forward in a cooperative effort of Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Rural Electrification Administration. Before this work was interrupted by the war, it was clear that a suitable system of this kind could be produced.

"One practical effect of these developments is to make it physically possible to furnish telephone service wherever there are rural power lines and telephone lines. The telephone companies plan, in cooperation with REA cooperatives and with power companies serving rural territories, to determine the full extent to which rural carrier service can be applied economically and effectively."

"The telephone companies also plan to study the possible application of microwave systems to rural telephone service and to make use of this and any other new methods which will be helpful in serving the farmer."

Dr. Crane To Speak On Child Training

Dr. George W. Crane, dynamic psychologist who electrified a Detroit Hall audience at the Fisher theatre last season, returns by popular demand Wednesday morning, December 6, at 11 a. m. to talk on "Horse Sense in Child Training."

A brilliant speaker, backed by years of experience as a practicing psychologist and physician, Dr. Crane is especially well qualified to discuss the problems of youthful behavior. He is the father of five children, and the author of many text books on child psychology now in use in over 3000 Universities. His two syndicated columns, "Case Records of a Psychologist," and "Test: Your Horse Sense," appear in scores of leading newspapers.

Dr. Crane took all his college work at Yale and Northwestern Universities. For five years he was Research Psychologist under the auspices of the National Research Council of America, and the Carnegie Institution of Washington, D. C., being located both at George Washington University and Smith College. As one of America's highest priced public speakers, the eminent psychiatrist is in constant demand to address dental, medical, educational as well as sales and advertising conventions.

His lecture on the sensible way to handle young people promises to be both challenging and helpful. Advance reservations may be obtained at Grinnell's Music House.

No Black Markets In England

"There is no black marketing in England. The people of that country are strictly observing the regulations required by the government in the sale of food, clothing and all other necessary articles," asserted Colonel Cass S. Hough the other day.

Colonel Hough, who has been sent to this country on a special mission by the American air forces in England, has the same high praise for the English people and the tremendous sacrifices they are making for the war effort as he expressed nearly two years ago when home on a similar visit.

He was a speaker last Friday noon before members of the Rotary club, of which he served as president just a few years before he enlisted for services in the air forces.

He described in some detail the tremendous task accomplished by the Allied nations when they made the invasion of Europe on June 6. Colonel Hough will be in this country for probably two more weeks before returning to England. He is at present out of the city.

The visit of the club's former president last Friday was one of those unplanned but fortunate occasions—the event being the annual Thanksgiving day observance of the club. Col. Hough has missed only two of these affairs, notwithstanding the fact that he has been in the air forces for some four years.

Watch Out For Impostors

In response to complaints that unauthorized persons have represented themselves as employees of the Social Security Board in asking for information from citizens, Robert G. Mish, manager of the Dearborn office of the board, today pointed out that all Social Security Board employees carry official identification cards and will be glad to show them upon request.

Mr. Mish also asked that any instance of misrepresentation be reported to his office at 14246 Michigan Ave., Dearborn. As a result of one of the most recent complaints, he said, a Federal Grand Jury in New York indicted a woman investigator for a bus company on a charge of impersonating a Social Security Board representative. This woman, he stated, was reported to have posed as a Social Security Board employee while seeking information concerning medical treatment and other expenses incurred by the person upon whom she called. She pleaded guilty.

"Sometimes Social Security Board employees find it necessary to make official calls upon people in their homes, but these calls relate only to social security business," Mr. Mish said. "Our transactions with individuals are confidential and we want to help prevent imposters from obtaining any personal information by using the Social Security Board's name. Consequently, any Social Security Board representative will be glad to show credentials whenever asked to do so. We also will welcome reports of instances where a person claims to be a Board representative and refuses to show an identification card."

Floyd Wilson On Road To Recovery
Friends of Floyd Wilson will be pleased to know that he is making an excellent recovery from a recent serious operation he underwent in Sessions hospital at Northville.
Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, who reside at 396 Arthur street, had gone to Harrison for the deer hunting season with friends, expecting to enjoy the first vacation they have had in some time.
Mr. Wilson became ill while hunting on Friday, Saturday he decided to remain another day thinking he would improve. Sunday his condition became so serious that they decided to return home.
He was rushed to Sessions hospital last week Monday, where he was operated upon for appendicitis. Physicians found that the appendix had been ruptured probably for two or three days. His condition remained critical until late last week when he showed signs of improvement and his doctors now state that he will recover, although it will be several weeks before he will be able to resume his heating and plumbing business.
Does anybody know of a courteous way of bringing to an abrupt conclusion an overextended conversation with a bore?

News of Our Boys
 In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
 Defending Our Homeland and
 Our Liberties.

BOYS WHO INVADED BELGIUM PROVIDE THEIR OWN COMFORTS.
 Private Daniel F. Sleanne, who has seen plenty of the world since he joined the fighting forces and who is now in Germany, tells of American ingenuity in providing "home" comforts, no matter where OUR BOYS are fighting. Not only that, but he says he is amazed the way that The Plymouth Mail has followed him wherever he has gone.
 His letter in part follows:
 "I've just finished reading my Plymouth Mail and I really appreciated it. I thought I ought to let you know how much I do appreciate it.
 "This little 'piece of home' has followed me all over the States, through the jungles of Panama, to England, France, and Belgium. Now I'm in Germany, and here is my Plymouth Mail.
 "I'd like to say 'hello to my friends and tell Jack Workup that I never could find him when I was in Panama. I got a letter from Mrs. Shore that said Jack was home on furlough. I'd like very much to have Thomas Green's address if you could find it for me. He said he'd be in the Army, so I'd like to hear from him.
 "We have it pretty nice here. We live in basements, and with the old American ingenuity we've got electric lights, radio, phonograph, heat, and conveniences you'd never dream of. We are really pretty well off."
ROBERT NELSON HAS BEEN ASSIGNED TO SERVE ON LANDING SHIP.
 Robert G. Nelson, of Plymouth, has been chosen by the Navy to serve aboard an LSM (Landing Ship, Medium), the Speed Carrier of Attack that has been especially developed for Pacific duty.
 "Now stationed at the Amphibious Training Base in Little Creek, Virginia, Nelson is going through the rigorous training program to prepare for duty as Gunner's Mate on the swift new invasion vessel.
 The amphibious ship on which the Plymouth Navyman will serve has been designed with a shallow draft that enables it to negotiate the coral reefs of the Pacific Islands. It crosses the ocean with its cargo of tanks and machines and discharges them directly on to enemy-held shores over its landing-ramp bow.
 Nelson was engaged in farming before he joined the Navy in July of this year.
 He is a graduate of the Plymouth high school, and the son of Harold G. Nelson, who lives at 10940 Ann Arbor Road.
SAYS HOME TOWN PAPER IS "LARGE LINK" WITH GOOD OLD PLYMOUTH.
 In a brief note to OUR BOYS page, Paul Zimmerman, who is at present stationed at the Great Lakes Naval Training center, says he is taking up basic engineering.
 He writes in part as follows:
 "I have been receiving The Plymouth Mail all the time I have been away, which has only been about three months but it seems longer than that at times.
 Well, thanks a lot for sending The Mail for the present, past and future. It is a very large link with good old Plymouth.
 "I am in Service School now taking up Basic Engineering and it will be eight weeks before we finish the course so I wish to notify you of our change of address, thanking you again."
LIEUT. LEE DANIELSON DOWN IN NORTH CAROLINA.
 Marine Second Lieutenant Lee Earl Danielson, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Danielson, 15801 Haggerty Highway, is now stationed at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina, a Marine Corps base.
 Lieutenant Danielson is a graduate of Ohio Military Institute and attended Antioch College prior to enlisting in the Marine Corps.

"FUNNY TO SEE ORANGES GROWING IN THE WINTER TIME."
 S. Sgt. David S. Sweeney in a letter to OUR BOYS page from Santa Ana, California, where he is located at the Army Air Base at that place, tells of California weather and fruit.
 "In part, he says:
 "Well, just a few lines to let you know that I have been moved a little farther from home. It seems a pretty good move though at that to be down here for the winter.
 "Haven't been assigned to duty as yet, but expect that will happen next week. It sure seems funny to walk down the street and see oranges on the trees by many of the houses. The orange groves are a great sight. We had quite a bit of rain for the first four or five days after our arrival, but the last couple days have been swell. Hope it keeps up for quite a while.
 "Of course I brought my wife along and as yet the best place we could find has been only a room to live in. Hope soon to be able to find something where she will be able to do a little cooking. Restaurant food is none too good at the best."

GLAD WHEN HE CAN GET BACK TO GOOD OLD PLYMOUTH.

In a brief note to OUR BOYS page telling of a change of address, Lawrence Blackmer, says he will be glad of the day when he can get back to good old Plymouth. That's what every Plymouth boy writes at some time—and how the folks back home will be glad to have them all back.
 In part he says:
 "I wish to take this opportunity to thank you for sending me The Plymouth Mail. I have been getting it regularly and certainly appreciate the contact I'm able to keep with good old Plymouth.
 "You will note I have a slightly different address now. After I graduated from the advanced Sound Maintenance course here two weeks ago, I was selected to stay here on the instructor's staff as a submarine sound operator instructor. My work is to teach submariners how to operate sound gear.
 "It is interesting work and I like it here a lot but will be glad when this war is over and I can get back to good old Plymouth."
MRS. ROSS CAMERON'S SON GIVEN TRANSFER.
 Major Percy W. Agrellius, Jr., son of Mrs. Ross B. Cameron of this city, has been assigned to Buckingham Army Air Field it was announced by Col. Mills S. Savage, commanding officer at Fort Myers, Florida recently.
 Major Agrellius was a fireman for the New York City Fire Department before entering the Army three years ago. He also attended Rensselaer Poly Inst. in Troy, New York.

HAROLD BROWN WRITES OF VISIT TO WOUNDED BROTHER IN ENGLAND.
 Mrs. Jennie Brown of 814 Fairground, has just received a letter from her oldest son, Harold, who is with American fighting forces in England, telling of a visit he had just made to his younger brother, Kenneth, who was badly wounded during the early days of the invasion of the European continent.
 The letter is so filled with information that will be of interest to every one in Plymouth, it will be published in full. Both Mrs. Brown's sons graduated from the Plymouth high school. Harold, the oldest, graduated in 1932. For a number of years he was manager of a grocery store on Starkweather avenue before entering the army.
 Kenneth, the youngest, who has been wounded twice, the last time seriously, graduated from high school with the class of 1941. He was employed for a short time after graduating and before he donned the uniform of America's fighting men at the Ford Wilcox plant.
 Harold's letter to his mother pertaining to his visit to Kenneth now in a hospital somewhere in England, follows in full:
 "Tonight I calmed down enough so I can write you everything that has happened in the last few days. I've also got four or five of your letters to answer.
 "I had a very successful trip going to see Kenneth. I made good train connections and everything checked just swell. The nearer I got to where I was going, the more nervous I became. On the way up I rode with a young Englishman and he was darn good company. He wasn't as stuffy as most Londoners; as a matter of fact he wasn't a Londoner. The country was very pretty and he's about eight miles outside the pretty little English village. It was cold but the snapdragons and asters, etc., were still blooming. I got a ride out to where he was and went to the Registration Office. I told them who I wanted to see. The non-com in charge thumbed clear through the files without finding him. I was watching him like a hawk and was I relieved when I finally saw him pull a card.
 "He told me where he was and I started out again. It didn't take long for me to find the place, and my heart was really pounding when I turned the knob of the door to his ward. The nurse was right near the door and when I asked for Sgt. Brown she didn't have a chance to answer me before I saw his head pop up clear at the other end of the ward. I fairly flew up there and all we could do for a full minute was clasp hands and look at one another. Two men just stood looking at one another and our eyes weren't just misty—there were just big tears there.
 "We finally got to talking—both of us as once of course. We finally settled down to just plain talk. I'll say again "What a Guy!" He hasn't changed a bit. Those brown eyes still sparkle and smile at the same time. He talks easy and stands as straight as a poker. He has to shave oftener than once every two weeks now. He likes to talk about home and Mom, you and Dickie. I would be talking about something and I'd say "What next?" and he'd say, "Tell me more about Dickie. I can hardly wait until I see him." He has really grown up to be a man's man and he's so loyal to his old outfit. He says he would like nothing better than to be able to go home with his division. Every officer from the Colonel right down to the last replacement (Continued on Next Page) shore-tail that he fought with, to him were tops. They must have been great men to instill that kind of loyalty into a kid who has taken so much. They fairly covered the outfit in glory from the time they hit the beaches until he was stopped well inside of Germany. That isn't his word for it either.

"On the way back I rode with a captain of an armored division who, as it turned out, had been with Ken's outfit until he (the captain) was hit a few miles from where Ken was hit the first time. Boy, the stories that kid can tell nearly makes your blood run cold. There's a h... of a lot of it that he won't tell everybody. He says his V-day celebration will be inside of the first church he can get to. Some of those rip-roaring V-day celebrators better put that in their pipes and smoke it awhile. He is not one bit bitter and he's as sharp as a tack.

"So far he's entitled to wear the following: E.T.O. ribbon with two major battle stars, good conduct ribbon (a story goes with that) the Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster, combat infantrymen badge and expert in the following arms: 37MM. M1 rifle and B.A.R. I told him he has enough and now he should get well and go home. I think he has a good chance of doing this. His wounds were bad, but barring complications he will completely recover and be back doing the things he loves to do very much. His spirit hasn't been hurt a bit. That's more than half the battle right there. They have wonderful care and there are two world famous surgeons there. I have a told you everything about his case I can. I've been there, have talked with him and watched him very critically, and I've seen the results of some of their work there. I am really relieved and I hope you are too.

"Just an example of how he has been hanging, I'll have to tell you another example of the ground he's covered. His shoulder is still black and blue from firing and he actually has calouses on the bottom of his feet nearly a quarter of an inch thick. He lost his pen and pencil, plus all his pictures when he got hit. I had my pictures with me so I told him to pick out some he would like for his own. He picked out three or four of the medium good ones but I picked out some of the real good ones and gave them to him. If I had handed him a thousand bucks I don't think he would have been more pleased than he was with those pictures.

"We would get to talking about you folks back home and the first thing you know our voices were husky we were nearly whispering. I have never had an experience that left such a deep impression. It makes my part in this seem so very small. We can be justly proud of our Ken just as thousands of others with boys over there. I would certainly be proud to bring him in here and introduce him to the men in my outfit."

He is a former student of the Detroit Institute of Tech., Detroit, Mich.

Each Naval Aviator is an expert flyer, navigator, aerologist, gunner, and radio operator.

Naval Aviators fly carrier-based or land-based planes in combat zones, or at Naval Air Stations at home and abroad.

Types of planes in Naval Aviation include fighters, dive bombers, scout and observation, multi-engine bombers, patrol planes, and air transports.

Whether in the Marine Corps or in the Navy, Naval Aviators wear the famous "Wings of Gold."

 GUNNERY SCHOOL.
 Sgt. Harold P. FalLOT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter FalLOT of route number 1, Plymouth, was graduated last week from the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunnery school, Laredo Army Air Field, Laredo, Texas, a member of the AAF Training Command. He is now qualified to take his place as a member of a bomber combat crew.

Along with his diploma, he received a pair of Aerial Gunner's silver wings at brief graduation exercises held here.

He was prepared for his place in America's stepped-up air offensive by a comprehensive six weeks course in every phase of aerial gunnery warfare. Besides learning to fire every type weapon from camera guns to the deadly caliber .50 Brownings, he studied turret manipulation, aircraft identification, stripping and reassembly of machine guns while blindfolded. He climaxed the course by air firing on towed targets.

Instructions For Juvenile Trappers

A word of caution to amateur trappers in this part of Wayne County to stay away from muskrat houses is voiced by the conservation department.

With their big brothers in uniform, the department expects that many boys will try to trap muskrats during coming weeks. The department has suggested also that farmers run trap lines to take muskrats that otherwise may die because the dry season has lowered water in marshes.

Traps may not be placed within six feet of a muskrat house, hole, home, or den, nor may they be placed on the animals' feeding places after ice forms unless the feeding spots are above ice level.

Muskrats may be trapped until December 15 in the northern half of the lower peninsula; from December 1 to 31 inclusive in the southern counties. Trappers took 995,443 skins last season. Muskrat skins taken in southern Michigan counties are rated among the best of the nation's catch.

DOUG AND EVELYN RICHARDS
Everybody Welcome!

Will you be lucky enough to have a glass roof over your head?

You hear a lot and read a lot about how the post-war world is going to be a kind of wonderland . . .

A wonderland of tear-drop automobiles, helicopters, clothing made from coal, and houses from glass. It's all quite possible. It's all quite probable.

But let's not forget that these things won't come free of charge. Let's not forget that America as a country . . . Americans as individuals . . . will need money, and plenty of it, to make these dreams of a peacetime world come true.

We'll need money to "cushion" the change-over from wartime production to peacetime production. We'll need it to create markets for post-war goods . . . keep factory wheels turning . . . prevent depression.

And you—you, personally—will need it for your own security in days of changing conditions, shifting employment.

Today, you have that money.

Are you letting it slip through your fingers? Or are you using it to help your Country win the war . . . and help yourself enjoy the fruits of Peace?

Every War Bond you buy and hold does both these things. Every $3 you invest now to back the Attack will bring you back $4 at a time when you may want and need those dollars much more than you do today.

So, keep on buying Bonds with every dollar you can scrape up. Hang on to them against all temptation.

There's no better way to back up your nighting men.

There's no better way to be sure of having the good things, the good life, in the world of tomorrow.

VICTORY'S SONS

Rear Admiral Henry K. Hewitt

LONG months of planning must precede every successful military movement. The men who make the blueprints do not have a chance at the spectacular combat actions in person, but their high ability is recognized by a grateful people. One of these members of the high command is Vice Admiral Henry K. Hewitt, a naval officer with a long and honorable career behind him. For his part in the direction of the landing operations in Sicily in July of 1943, he was awarded a Gold Star in lieu of a second Distinguished Service Medal. His citation reads:

"For exceptionally meritorious service to the Government of the United States in a duty of great responsibility. Operating jointly with the forces of the United States Army, the forces under Vice Admiral Hewitt's command executed a successful landing on hostile shores. The meticulous planning and sound tactical knowledge which were essential factors in the accomplishment of a particularly strategic mission reflect great credit upon Vice Admiral Hewitt and the United States Naval Service."

Babson Says -

Babson Park Mass., Dec. 1 — Men who had good jobs before they entered the service should take these jobs back, even if they do not want to stay in them forever. Men who did not have jobs before should go to school and become an expert in something. The best investment anyone can make is in a practical education whether it is a business, or a mechanical or a professional education. I especially recommend training which will make men experts in distribution. This includes storekeeping, outside selling, advertising, market research, etc.

(1) 500,000 small stores have been closed by men who have entered the service. During this time there has been no increase in the number of chain stores. Hence, the postwar competition will be less.

(2) The population of the United States is increasing at about 800,000 per year. This means that there will be several million more retail customers in the postwar years than there were before the war.

(3) It will be easy enough after the war to manufacture goods, but in order to keep the factories going the goods must be sold. The entire postwar employment situation depends upon the efficiency of postwar retailing.

(4) There is much to learn in connection with distribution. While the efficiency of manufacturing has greatly increased and the cost per unit has decreased, the cost of retailing has gone up. This difficulty can, and must, be solved.

(5) The present system of distribution holds the key to "free enterprise" as this depends largely upon full employment and a low cost of living. Those who are interested in continuing free enterprise and in avoiding communism should give more thought to efficient merchandizing.

(6) People will have more money to spend in the postwar period. There will be a surplus in the hands of consumers of about $100,000,000,000 in addition to their current earnings.

(7) More than 4,500,000 marriages have taken place since Pearl Harbor and this figure will probably be over 6,000,000 when the boys return. This means that there must be a great demand for housing. Every new home gives a boost to over thirty industries, including furniture and home appliances of all kinds.

(8) Things have been wearing out very rapidly during the war. Homes must be rebuilt, repaired and modernized. Equipment of all kinds, for homes, offices and factories has been wearing out. There will be an abnormal need for all kinds of replacements which can be bought at some retail store.

(9) There have been about 12,500,000 children born in the United States since Pearl Harbor. Of this number over 2,000,000 are in excess of the normal birth rate. The poorest retail purchasers are the aged, who are dying off; but the best are the children and their parents.

(10) Consumer goods are not only wearing out, but styles are changing. New things which will come on the market after the war will be of designs which will make the old things look obsolete. This applies not only to houses, furniture, wearing apparel, but even to foods and beverages.

(11) Billions of dollars will be required merely to bring factories, offices, homes and individuals "up-to-date". The farms of the country will especially need attention. The land has been overworked; fertilization has been neglected; farm implements are out-of-date. Moreover, the farmers will have more money and less debts after the war than they have ever had before. All of the farm purchases must come through retailers.

(12) Even the retail stores themselves will be large purchasers. Most of them must be re-furnished, relighted and repainted. Air conditioning must be installed in many; refrigeration and other new equipment will be needed. A large store is not necessary. It may have only a ten-foot frontage, but it should have modern furnishings with an excellent show window.

Returning service men should also consider warehousing, transportation, financing, advertising, printing and various other departments of distribution. The cooperatives, or group buying, or voluntary chains or manufacturers' branches present opportunities. I suppose there always will be an opportunity for the old style wholesalers, but that division does not appeal to me.

The greatest opportunity lies with the chain stores, especially the variety chains. Next in importance come the supermarkets; and third, the department stores. House-to-house selling will always be profitable for those with "guts." Consumer credit will come back; cooperatives will continue to increase in importance; but the chain stores have nothing to fear from cooperatives for many years to come. There will be changes in service, as well as in products and packaging. This especially applies to the perishable goods such as meats, fish, fruits and vegetables due to the increased installations of deep-freezers.

Results.

25 Years Ago
News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Born, November 13, a daughter, Jewel Rita, to Mr. and Mrs. Karl S. Hillmer of Detroit.

W. C. Brown has greatly improved the appearance of his house on South Main street, by having a bungalow roof put on and the outside stuccoed. He has also made interior improvements.

Mrs. D. F. Murray went to Northville, last Friday afternoon, where in response to an invitation from the Northville Woman's club, she gave a report of the annual meeting of the State Federation, held in Kalamazoo, October 14, 15 and 16.

What might have been a serious accident occurred Monday evening on Plymouth road, when Burt Brown of Plymouth, driving a truck, and Mr. Ayers, driving a big touring car, collided. The machine and truck were both badly damaged. Fortunately no one was hurt.

The L. A. held a very pleasant meeting at the hall, last Friday, with forty-five in attendance. Reports from the fair were read. Mrs. Stevens reported there were five nice comfortables for sale. Anyone wishing to see them, can do so by going to Mrs. Clark Mackinder's at Newburg. An interesting Thanksgiving program was conducted by the president, Mrs. Clemens. It was decided to purchase a curtain for the stage, and also a storm door for the front of the hall which is much needed.

The ladies of the church gave a dinner last Friday, to the men who met to do the repair work at the church. The dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Rooke.

Miss Irene Quackenbush and Miss Czarina Penney of Free Church were in Detroit, Monday to hear the great pianist, Rachmaninoff.

Mrs. Charles Root of Frain's Lake, will hold a social at her home this evening for the benefit of Miss Bertha Hammond's school.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ely, daughter, Mildred and son, James, of Northville, well known here, have sold their home and other property in Northville, and left last Wednesday for Riverside, California, where they expect to remain permanently. Mr. and Mrs. Ely have purchased a sixty-acre ranch near Riverside.

Some three million cattle must be slaughtered to get 230,000,000 pounds of food fat, according to War Food Administration. American housewives by saving a pound of used fat a month in their kitchen can turn back this amount to the economy in a year. Used fat feeds industry as beef feeds humans.

DETROIT EDISON LINES

Timely items of interest and value... helpful suggestions about cooking, lighting and appliances.

ON THE NOSE... "As accurate as a fine watch" has long been a standard phrase to describe utmost accuracy. Yet an electric clock compares favorably with the finest watch. It is never more than a few seconds off—and even this small variation corrects itself, so that there is no accumulated error over a period of time. The huge turbo-generators in Edison power houses turn in exact unison with one another, and synchronous electric clocks follow the generators. One cent a week operates an electric clock.

99.997% IS PRETTY GOOD... One of our employees thoughtlessly took his vacation last summer in a town not served by the Edison Company. His faith in electric clocks remained serene until he had the sad experience of walking into church one Sunday about a half-hour late. He discovered that his clock had lost a half-hour while the power was shut off—and it was off twice more in two weeks. Naturally, these interruptions reminded him that Detroit Edison's record of "power on" is 99.997 per cent in cities—and only slightly less in the country, at the end of long rural lines. Detroit Edison customers are so accustomed to good service that they look upon it as a matter of course. People notice the electricity supply only when it is bad! We accept the fact philosophically.

FROM MICHIGAN ORCHARDS... With our orchards pouring forth their autumn treasure, here is a timely recipe from our Home Service Department:

Honey Apple Crisp

4 cups sliced apples ¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup sugar ¼ tsp. salt
1 tbsp. lemon juice ¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup all-purpose enriched flour ¼ cup walnuts (if desired)
½ cup honey

Spread sliced apples in a shallow baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and lemon juice, and pour honey over all. In a bowl, mix flour, brown sugar and salt, and work in the butter as for biscuits, making a crumbly mixture. Spread these crumbs evenly over the apples and bake in a moderate oven (375°F.) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until apples are tender and the crust is crisply browned. Serve warm, with coffee cream.

Don't waste electricity during the coal shortage

KEEPING COOL... Lubrication of moving parts is the function of oil, most of us would say—thinking of automobiles and other machinery which operates more smoothly because of oil. But oil performs other equally important functions. Oil cools and insulates, and The Detroit Edison Company uses many thousands of gallons for those purposes. Oil provides the necessary insulation in switches and circuit breakers, for example, and the transformer on top of the pole near your home is filled with oil, although the transformer has not a single moving part.
