

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By Edwin R. Eaton

REAPING THE WHIRLWIND.

"They have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind."

That's what the Bible says. That's what is happening in Lansing these days. So Senator Carl DeLano and Senator Chet Howell have been indicted! For GRAFT!

And Representative Ed Walsh and others! There are hints—well founded—that there will be others indicted by the Carr grand jury.

One by one they are gathering them in—and what a harvest it is going to be when the job is finished!

And what an insult to the good name of Michigan has been brought about by grafters!

I am not revengeful, but it is an interesting circumstance when one realizes that up to the present time EVERY one of the indicted political "leaders" has been a bitter political enemy of the writer.

"They have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind."

Let the good work of the Carr grand jury go on. A great service to the people of Michigan is being rendered!

A HARD SIGHT TO WITNESS.

Have you spent a few minutes in recent weeks in a large city depot where troops home on furlough are bidding wives, children and babes goodbye as they return to service?

The grief of these young wives and mothers, grief they try so hard to suppress, will tear the heartstrings of the most calloused.

The writer knows of one individual who witnessed some of these pathetic separations a few days ago, who returned home determined to invest every penny he had in war bonds, hoping that his minor sacrifice might hasten the day when these young fathers and husbands might return to their families.

AT LAST!

Glad to note in a news dispatch from Washington that there is one Republican leader who has had the courage to speak up and say what has been the matter with the last two Republican national campaigns.

Said Congressman Charles Halleck of Indiana:

"For 12 years the people who have been opposed to the New Deal haven't had a chance to vote against the New Deal. All they get is a 'me too' candidate who winks at them as he passes."

No truer words were ever spoken. The Dewey campaign began to collapse right after his Los Angeles speech in which he said he favored much of the quack legislation passed by the New Deal, just as the Willie campaign flopped four years ago after he said in a down-east speech that he, too, favored a lot of the putrid mess put over on the country by the money-grabbing, political fakes that have infested the city of Washington for twelve long years.

WHAT THEY SAID.

"THE FREE press of America is a living symbol of democracy, and as such, it is the forefront of democracy's battle for survival. It is helping to win that battle and will help to win the peace and a better and freer world in the future. The press of America has upheld the hand of the soldier at the front and the worker on the production line. By providing the people with honest news, it has enlightened the minds of the people and strengthened their will. It has loyally shared in the sacrifices imposed by the need to ration essential materials. It has gladly and voluntarily abided by a code of censorship. The American press has met the test of our greatest national crisis with courage, loyalty and integrity." (President Franklin D. Roosevelt's Newspaper Week statement, Sept. 30, 1944.)

"America owes a debt of gratitude to newspapers for their loyal and patriotic support of this vital war financing program. Their help has made possible a total of over $135,000,000 in Bond sales to non-bank investors since May, 1941. The Treasury Department and the nation are truly grateful for the contribution and sustained effort that newspapers are giving our vital War Bond campaigns." (T. R. Gamble, chief of the Treasury's War Finance Division, on the same date.)

"Without the aid of the newspapers and associated public information media, the remarkable record of war transportation in the U. S. would not be possible." (Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of ODT, Sept. 19, 1944.)

"Six months ago when the shortage of waste paper imperiled vital war production I appealed to the American press to launch the U. S. Victory Waste Paper Campaign. The newspapers have given generously of their leadership and valuable space with the result that waste paper receipts have been increased by nearly 100,000 tons a month. This is fresh evidence of the power of a free and patriotic press." (Donald Nelson, Chairman of WPB, July 15, 1944.)

"To his newspaper the patriotic citizen looks for information as to how he may best serve war's present need and what its hard exigencies may require of him in sacrifices and self-denial. In news and editorial columns alike it points the way and lights the path." (Paul V. McNutt, Chairman of the WMC Sept. 25, 1943.)

THE END OF THE TRAIL IS IN SIGHT.

It appears that the end of the trail for Frank D. McKay is in sight. The big-shot, self-styled leader of the Republican party in Michigan for years, has been indicted again.

Judge Carr and Special Prosecutor Sigler up in Lansing have found that there is just cause to believe that McKay and some of his cohorts are guilty of having bribed or attempted to bribe members of the state legislature.

Mr. McKay seems to know that there will be no fooling about his indictment this time. In some unexplainable way, he made a farce of the department of justice indictments against him a few years ago. But Mr. McKay will find Judge Carr and Prosecutor Sigler something different to deal with than he experienced in Detroit.

For more than 25 years we have fought McKay's manipulations within the Republican party. We spotted him years ago for just what he is. But a man with millions to spend can accomplish much in politics and the little fellow hasn't much of a chance against the forces of one holding the position McKay did, can command.

Time and again we were deprived of a right to vote in Republican conventions to which we had been elected, all because we wouldn't bow to McKay's dictatorship.

Some six or seven years ago when we had a bill before the legislature which would have trimmed his power in Michigan politics, some of his stooges in the state senate killed the bill. Two of these fellows have since been indicted and convicted of graft in connection with other legislation.

One does not like to rejoice over the tribulations that come to any person, but in McKay's troubles we have not the slightest sympathy for him. He has earned all the trouble that has been coming his way in recent years.

Frequently during the past year we have expressed high praise for the work that Judge Carr and Prosecutor Sigler are doing in connection with the Lansing grand jury. They are earning for themselves the everlasting gratitude of the people of Michigan. We hope they will be able to keep up their good work until every grafter and briber who has operated in Lansing during recent years is properly punished.

Predict War Bond Success

Will Plymouth go "over the top" in the 6th war loan drive? There's no better authority than Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, general chairman of the 6th war loan campaign in Plymouth.

"I hope to see our women Gallants who have been ringing the door bells, calling on business men, visiting the factories, tramping the streets in their efforts to sell war bonds are most encouraging," stated Mrs. Sumner yesterday.

"I am sure we will go over the top—and we will make it in a big way. There was some little delay in the beginning because many wanted to wait and have their bonds dated on December 7, the anniversary of Pearl Harbor. But now there is no more waiting, and the rush is on."

"The school children are doing a fine job, too. It seems that every one wants to help to make the drive a grand success. We are going to keep up Plymouth's great record in past drives—and I am confident that we will exceed our quota by many thousands," declared Chairman Sumner.

Mayor Plans Sewer Service For South Side

Highly pleased with the results of his street improvement program during the past year, Mayor Stanley Corbett is right now giving considerable time to a study of both street and sewer improvement projects for the summer of 1945.

During the past summer, his paving program resulted in the greatest amount of street improvement work done since 1938. Now he hopes to make 1945 even a better year.

"I would not only like to see many more streets improved and paved, but there is distinct need for a major sanitary sewer project in the south side of the city," said Mayor Corbett yesterday.

"During the past ten years, the south side has grown rapidly and many fine new homes have been built in that part of Plymouth. But our city hasn't laid a foot of sewer line to serve these home owners. I hope we can carry out a sewer improvement program that will bring to every home in Plymouth a municipal service to which residents of the city are entitled," he added.

Not only does Mayor Corbett have both street paving and sewer construction projects in mind, but he hopes, too, to do considerable sidewalk work.

Can You Take Inside Pictures?

Do you want to do something that will bring a bit of joy and gladness into the hearts of Plymouth boys serving in all parts of the world?

And it can be done so easily, if you are in a position to offer their assistance.

The idea comes out of a letter from Lieut. Ralph Lorenz to his wife in this city.

Last year she sent him a picture of herself and two children sitting near a Christmas tree in their home.

"Nothing I received gave me more real delight than that picture. Can't tell you how many times I have looked at it during the past months," he wrote to Mrs. Lorenz recently.

Wouldn't it be a grand thing if ALL of the Plymouth boys could receive a picture of their families aken on Christmas day!

Of course every one hasn't the necessary photographic equipment, the flashlights and kodaks.

That's where you can help, if you have this equipment. You can offer your services to the families who do not possess proper photographic equipment to help their pictures so their sons in service can see their families as they look now. Remember a lot of boys have been away from home two and three years—any many changes take place in the length of time.

Here's a chance for the amateur photographers of Plymouth to give the boys in uniform a real service. Do not delay. Advise The Plymouth Mail, and this paper will be glad to publish next week information as to what you can do, in helping to get these pictures.

Stores To Stay Open To 9 P. M.

All of Plymouth's stores are well stocked for the Christmas holidays and in order to accommodate the expected rush, arrangements have been made by the following to stay open evenings from 5 to 9 p. m. on next Friday, Dec. 15 to Dec. 23.

Christmas Mail Coming Slow Says Irwin

Christmas mail is not coming into the postoffice as fast as it should, Postmaster Harry Irwin says.

"We would like to urge Plymouth residents to get their Christmas parcels in as early as possible in order to help us and themselves," Irwin said. "The only way to be sure the parcels will be delivered by Christmas is to get them mailed before the deadlines for the various zones."

"Since the deadlines have all passed it behooves those who still have parcels to mail to get them in at once and hope they'll be delivered by Christmas." The problem has two main causes.

"First, the Postal Service has lost 50,000 employees to the army and 300,000 railroad workers have gone to war. This has caused critical manpower situations in most of the country's 43,000 postoffices.

"Second, with increased prosperity, the amount of mailing has greatly increased. These two factors have combined to greatly overtax the postal facilities."

Mrs. Beatrice Schultz, assistant postmaster, pointed to her own experience to illustrate the urgency of early mailing. When she was out on the West Coast, even before the war, there was a terrific pileup of mail around Christmas, some addressees not getting their mail until as late as New Year's day.

In order to facilitate its service, the local postoffice already has begun to augment its staff with extra help and expects to have doubled the number of employees, as it did last year, when the peak is reached.

The postoffice also is staying open until 6 p. m. on Saturdays until Christmas to make mailing of parcels more convenient. This doesn't include the money order windows, which will close at noon Saturdays, as usual.

Irwin also warned those mailing parcels with address stickers to be sure and write the address on the parcel as well. There have been numerous instances this year where the stickers have come off.

This results from changes in temperature and from some stickers with faulty glue. There have been many long delays and parcels are piling up in the dead letter office because of inability to determine the identity of sender or addressee.

Alumni Club of This City Given High Praise

The University of Michigan Alumni Club of Plymouth, which is headed by High School Principal Claude Dykhouse, received special commendation recently from T. Hawley Tapping, general secretary of the University's Alumni Association.

Tapping, in an interview published in the U. of M. Daily, called the Plymouth group "perhaps one of the most unique in my knowledge and probably one of the most unique in all alumni associations."

The group has a membership of 183, which is 80 per cent of all potential members, and the rest of the group is made up of people who are vitally interested in the organization as a part of the community," Tapping said.

He called the club one of the most coveted in the city; "many want to join for the good times to be had... others for association with the kinds of people who are members."

The organization, as Tapping said, is vitally interested in the young people of the community.

"October 15 the club had a send-off party for all students going to Michigan."

He also referred to the annual college night banquet for every college graduate in town and cited the year when 59 colleges were represented including one man who had attended four European universities.

Tapping also commented on the discussion groups organized this year at which civic problems and topics of interest to those attending are covered. Attendance at the four meetings so far this year averaged 30.

Another example of its activity is the scheduled trip of 77 members to Ann Arbor to hear the University Musical Society's presentation of "The Messiah" at 3 p. m. Sunday, December 17.

Lieut. Kerr Is Given Discharge

Dr. Richard Kerr, son of Mrs. Bertha Kerr of Northville, and a nephew of Mrs. William Stetez of Sheridan avenue of this city, has been given an honorable discharge from the navy and has returned to his home in Northville where he has resumed his dental practice.

During most of Lieut. Kerr's time in the navy he served on one of the big aircraft carriers. In one of the Pacific engagements he was wounded and hospitalized for many months. Now he has been given a permanent discharge.

Kiwanis Drive In High Gear

Members of the Kiwanis club are again moving in "high gear" in the 6th war loan campaign. According to Roy Crites, chairman of the club's war bond committee, it is expected that sales by members of the club will far exceed the $50,000 mark.

It will be recalled that the Kiwanis club was the organization w-back in the 1st war loan drive to become the first "100 percent" club of Plymouth. During that drive every member of the club purchased a war bond, the only organization in this city that could make such a boast.

At Tuesday night's meeting, Chairman Crites declared that he was sure that Kiwanis club sales would hit all time high in the present drive.

"Never saw such a receptive spirit on the part of everybody," stated Chairman Crites. "It seems that people are not only willing to buy bonds, but are anxious to do so. It makes one feel good to hear people talk the way they do. You can bet Kiwanis will do its share," said Mr. Crites.

Young Drivers Urged by Chief To Use Caution

Now is the time of the year when extra precautions should be observed by all automobile drivers to avert accidents, says Police Chief Lee R. Sackett, speaking for the department.

"Especially want to urge those high school students who drive their cars to school to drive slowly and carefully because this is the most dangerous time of year," Sackett said.

"With cold weather coming on, the winds are also blowing, making visibility poor, and there's more making driving much more hazardous."

The streets also will be slippery much of the time. Those two factors alone would be enough to urge caution on everyone, but there is still another reason.

"The children on foot also are handicapped in this weather by poor visibility and also poor 'hearability' by the fact that they will be wearing their coat collars turned up and will be more bundled up in general."

Chief Sackett also stated that boys and girls riding bicycles at night should have reflectors or lights on the rear or else should wear something white for their own protection.

"Let's make our 'oal this year a safer and merrier Christmas," he concluded.

Kiwanis Hosts To Cub Scouts

The first evidence of the holiday appearance of old St. Nicholas was heralded in Plymouth by the assistance of the local Cub Scouts of Pack 620 at their meeting last Friday evening.

Approximately 200 Cubs and Cubbers were the guests of the sponsoring group, the Kiwanis Club of this city, under the direction of Ken Corey and Mr. Loomis and most ably aided by Eugene Gentry, who entertained the group by a masterful exhibition of magic and sleight of hand tricks.

From the sponsor's standpoint the meeting was high-lighted by the fine assortment of Cub-made gifts that were displayed and donated to the Kiwanis for distribution to any such persons or institutions as might be in need of such toys as these Cubs produced as a gesture of good-will and Christmas spirit.

"High-lighted in the eyes of the Cubbers were the magic show and the refreshments which followed, for, after all, what is a more direct approach to the hearts of youth than spoken appreciation on the part of their adult partners and the addition of ice cream in a most unexpected manner and place?"

Ex-Nazi Captive's Account Raises Hopes Of War Prisoners' Parents

The parents of three Plymouth area boys who are prisoners of Germany had their minds greatly relieved last Friday night when they heard from the lips of a former prisoner the treatment being accorded to those captured by the Nazis.

The parents were driven into Detroit by Mrs. Lawrence E. Lyons, of 164 North Main, chairman of the Plymouth Home Service of the American Red Cross. They were taken in the Red Cross station wagon which was a gift from the citizens of Plymouth.

They heard Lt. Rognar Barhaug, a Fortress pilot who spent eight months in a Nazi prison camp, describe his experiences at a meeting in the Rackham Memorial Building sponsored by the Red Cross Home Service.

"You should have seen the faces of everybody there light up as they heard Lt. Barhaug's story," Mrs. Lyons said. "It was like a great weight being lifted from their shoulders."

"He told how prisoners are al-

Send Blood As Christmas Gift To Soldiers

Do you want to make a Christmas present to a wounded soldier lad? Or to a boy in the navy who has been "strafed" by a Jap plane? A present for one of the hundreds of Plymouth boys who are fighting and dying so that you might live in peace and happiness?

Do you? O. K.!

Here's your opportunity to send some wounded lad a precious Christmas present that does not cost you one red cent, but may save his life.

The Red Cross blood bank unit will visit Plymouth on Thursday afternoon, December 21.

If you are not registered yet, you should do so immediately—and send some of your blood to the boys who will be torn by bullets, bayonets, and shrapnel on Christmas day.

Plymouth during the past two years has been a good contributor to the blood bank—good, but not outstanding.

Here's an opportunity to make it outstanding—to make it a record breaker for a city of its size! The blood bank unit will be located at the Masonic temple from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 7:15 in the evening. The date is Thursday, December 21.

You can register with the clerk at the city hall, at Beyers drug store on Liberty street, or by phoning Mrs. Penhale at 252-W.

Masons Elect Officers On Historic Date

Last Friday evening, December 1, members of the Plymouth Rock Lodge, No. 47, met on an historic date. It was the 80th time that members of this lodge had met in annual session to elect officers.

On December 1, 1864 when the lodge held its first annual session, the country was at war, just as it is at the present time.

General Sherman was slashing through Georgia on his march to the sea. General Grant held the forces of General Lee in a deadly grip in the east and Sheridan had cleared the Southern army out of the Shenandoah valley. Victory was in sight for the Union forces, just as the nation faces victory over its foreign enemies today.

But what a price the Union paid for that victory during the last year of the war!

No, there was no one present at the meeting last Friday night who recalled the stirring days that prevailed in Plymouth when the lodge was first organized.

Not one was present to tell of the deeds and glories that Plymouth has achieved.

Michigan Apple Crop Is Best

Michigan doesn't need any market outside of the state boundary line for Michigan grown apples because Michigan consumes all of its own apples, asserted Robert Willoughby, Tuesday, just after his return from the annual convention of the Michigan Apple Growers Association at Grand Rapids.

"Of course, we must realize that if a large supply is shipped in from other states it makes a difference with Michigan's crop sales. But Michigan apples are the favorites with 'Michigan people,'" stated Mr. Willoughby.

To take up his few idle moments when he isn't busy selling shoes, "Bob" likes to dabble a bit in the apple business. In fact he is one of the prominent wholesale apple buyers of the state.

War Bond Show Tuesday Evening

Tuesday evening, December 12, at 8 o'clock, at the Penn theatre will take place the 6th war loan motion picture show made possible by Harry Lush, owner and manager of the Penn.

To every one presenting a ticket showing the purchase of a war bond during the present campaign, admission will be free to one of the best motion pictures of the year, "Frenchman's Creek."

Admission will be by war bond tickets only. These can be secured at the postoffice, either of the two banks or the Plymouth Federal Building & Loan association offices.

On Saturday afternoon, December 16, will take place the matinee for school children who have sold a war bond or $10 worth of war stamps. The name of this picture will be announced in next week's issue of The Plymouth Mail.

Present indications are that the entire seating capacity of the theatre for both evenings will have been taken by war bond purchasers.

Mrs. Geo. Kenyon Dies in Hospital At Ann Arbor

Mrs. George N. Kenyon, aged 22, the former Dorothy Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roe, died early Monday morning in St. Joseph hospital in Ann Arbor only a few hours after her husband arrived at the hospital from Camp Claiborne, Louisiana, where he has been stationed during recent months. He had been summoned home when his wife's condition had become critical last Saturday.

Her death resulted from complications which followed the birth of a son, Michael Graham, who was born on September 22.

One of the best known of the younger people of this city, she had won for herself during her brief life a host of friends who were shocked and grieved to learn of her untimely death.

During the years that she attended the Plymouth public schools she had taken an active part in all student affairs and was frequently honored by her associates. She maintained the same interest in the young people's activities of the Presbyterian church as she did in school circles, and here, too, she was regarded as one of the outstanding leaders in the younger groups.

Truck Operators, Mail Those Cards!

The Plymouth ration board has mailed out cards for the renewal of gasoline quotas for the first quarter of 1945 for truck operators and urges that these be returned as soon as possible to facilitate their handling.

In order to be sure of getting their cards by January 15, operators should get the cards in at once. The local board must process the applications and then they have to be sent in to the mail-in center in Detroit, from where the coupons are mailed.

Early return of the applications will help to avoid a possible last minute rush and the resulting pileup and bottleneck at the mailing center, said Board Chairman William Wood.

Kenneth Felt Back In States

It was cheering news that came to Roy Felt, 580 Fairground avenue, now a patient in Herman Keifer hospital in Detroit, the other day when his son, Kenneth, who has been out in the Pacific fighting Japs, telephoned from San Francisco that he had arrived in "these good old United States" and would be home in about two weeks.

Kenneth, a former Plymouth high school boy who was assigned to a chemical warfare unit, has been returned home for a rest period because of nerve shock. He has been in the armed forces for nearly three years and was sent to the western side of the Pacific soon after he had completed his training period.

His father has been a patient in Herman Keifer hospital for some time.

E. B. Becker Buys Sessions' Station

Earl B. Becker, of 1055 Beech street, for a number of years with the Wayne County Forestry Division before the war, has taken over the James Sessions Service station, 406 North Main street, at Amelia.

Mr. Sessions was forced to take his wife to Arizona for her health and sold the station to Becker, who has been with the Ford Motor Co. since the war.

Becker plans to add tires and otherwise to increase the station's stock.

Public Is Urged To Learn About Price Ceilings

Price ceilings are here for some time to come and the public would be wise to familiarize itself with the rules and regulations.

This is the verdict of William Wood, chairman of the local War Price and Rationing Board of the Office of Price Administration.

"It's to the people's benefit to acquaint themselves with the rules of price control," Wood said. "There are some merchants who will try to take advantage of people by charging prices above the ceilings."

"There are many ways the ceilings can be circumvented if the public is not on guard. They can't be overcharged, but they are on guard and know the simple rules. The only way the unscrupulous merchant can succeed in circumventing the price controls is by laxity on the part of the consumer."

"Of course, and I can't be too emphatic on this point, the vast majority of merchants are conscientiously trying to conform to OPA regulations."

In connection with price controls, Wood asked that anybody interested in volunteering to aid the board in checking on prices call him at 22, or the clerk of the board at 584 or inquire at the board on a person on the second floor of the city hall.

"All boards are asking volunteers to assist in calling on merchants to check prices in order to better protect the public," Wood said. "This board, like the others, needs help."

One of the price regulations that the public should know is that all ceiling prices are required to be posted in plain view.

Injured Sailor Given Discharge

Richard Reamer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reamer of 1380 Junco avenue, who spent nearly four months in a Navy hospital in San Diego as the result of injuries received in a munitions explosion, has been given an honorable discharge from the armed forces and is now at his home in this city.

He was in service but a short time before the accident happened which disabled him from further naval duties.

Although hospitalized for several months, he has not entirely recovered from his injuries and doctors advised him that it would probably be a considerable length of time before his knee will be entirely healed.

"Dick" as he is best known among his many friends in the city, was employed in the Wolf store when he started to wear the uniform of the amphibious services.

Court of Honor Held by Scouts

Last night, December 7, the Boy Scouts of District 7 held a court of honor at the Plymouth high school. The full list of the awards cannot be given until next week, but some high lights can be told now.

Clarence Luchtman, as usual for these events, furnished music for the opening of the court. Clifton, scoutmaster of the court, the troop at Starkweather, showed colored pictures of the camp held in the parkway last summer.

The climax of the evening was the presentation of four Eagle badges. This is always an impressive ceremony. The boys who have earned this highest rank in Scouting are Donald and Bruce McGregor, Fred Weimer and Harold Page. They are all members of Rosedale Gardens 1. The first two are sons of their Scoutmaster, who now has three Eagles in his family.

Junior Play December 14-15

The sparkling comedy "Junior Miss" will be presented by the Junior class in the High School gymnasium on December 14 and 15 at 8 o'clock. Here and There

If there is a nasty job around the place that nobody can do or wants to do, it is handed to the man last hired, like Lightning in Amos 'n' Andy.

To increase coal production the Erie Government has permitted maximum bonus payments to all underground workers and provided an output bonus.

UNOFFICIAL PROCEEDINGS OF THE CITY COMMISSION

The regular meeting of the City Commission was held in the Commission Chambers of the City Hall on Monday, December 4, 1944, at 7:30 p.m.

Present: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis, Shear and Whipple.

Absent: None.

The minutes of the regular meeting of November 20, 1944, were approved as read.

It was moved by Commissioner Shear and supported by Commissioner Hondorp that the bills in the amount of $9760.27 as audited by the Auditing Committee be approved.

Ayes: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis, Shear and Whipple. Nays: None. Carried.

The Clerk read the following reports: Municipal Court, Fire, Building Inspectors, Health and City Treasurer's.

It was moved by Commissioner Hondorp and supported by Commissioner Whipple that the reports be accepted and placed on file. Carried.

A communication was received from Mr. W. I. Thompson of The Elgin Corporation concerning a street sweeper.

The City Manager recommended that the bids for a street sweeper be rejected and that no further consideration be given the matter until after the war.

It was moved by Commissioner Whipple and supported by Commissioner Lewis that the recommendations of the City Manager concerning the rejection of bids be accepted. Carried.

The City Manager recommended that Three Thousand Dollars, which had been appropriated for the street sweeper, be transferred to Postwar Improvement Funds and that the City Commission authorize the purchase of Three Thousand Dollars in Series G Bonds.

It was moved by Commissioner Shear and supported by Commissioner Whipple that, in accordance with the recommendations of the City Manager, the Commission invest Three Thousand Dollars in Series "G" Bonds, which amount was in the budget for a street sweeper, earmarking the same for Postwar Projects.

Ayes: Mayor Corbett, Commissioners Hondorp, Lewis, Shear and Whipple. Nays: None. Carried.

A communication was received from the Michigan Municipal League concerning hearings held before the Public Service Commission at which time the City Manager made an appearance for the City of Plymouth.

The Manager reported that the temporary reduction of 75 percent in gas rates applied to the City of Plymouth as well as to the other portions of the state.

Mr. Lawrence Piercey, Business Representative of Local No. 278, A.F.S.C. and M.E., was present to discuss State Pension Plan.

He felt that a State plan was not particularly desirable and that the plan had no death benefits and disability clauses and hence, a plan for the City of Plymouth might be more desirable. He objected to all Cities taking advantage of a State plan as some could afford better plans and that the minimum amount for service, upon retirement, was too low.

The City Manager reported that the drafting of the Pension Bill had not been completed and, while Mr. Piercey might be right in some of his contentions, there were many arguments in favor of such a plan.

It was moved by Commissioner Shear and supported by Commissioner Whipple that the matter be postponed until the City Manager can present copies of the report of the Pension Plan to the City Commission. There was no support to the motion.

The City Manager presented specifications for Water Mains Valves and Hydrants prepared by Pate and Hinn, Consulting Engineers.

It was moved by Commissioner Shear and supported by Commissioner Hondorp that the specifications as prepared by Pate and Hinn and recommended by our City Engineer be approved. Carried.

Commissioner Whipple voted "No" and wished to be recorded as stating that she was voting "No" because she hadn't had an opportunity to read the specifications and, inasmuch as she had not read them, she would not know what she was voting on.

It was moved by Commissioner Shear and supported by Commissioner Hondorp that the meeting be adjourned. Time of adjournment 8:30 p.m. Carried.

The above minutes will not become official until approved by the City Commission.

Fat Collection On Upgrade

Notwithstanding the fact that there was not much bacon or pork on the market during November, the fat collection for that month for munition making amounted to 1,278 pounds, stated Mrs. Robert Merriam, general chairman of the committee in charge of the collection in Plymouth of this important material for the making of high explosives.

"Of course we are not up to the high average we have had in past months, but it was an increase over October and in view of conditions, I think the results were fairly good," stated Mrs. Merriam. "We hope to do much better during December."

The conservation department again is rated as Michigan's largest land holder with announcement that it held jurisdiction over 4,556,739 acres of state-owned land and 157,865 platted lots, also owned by the state, at the close of the biennium. Sales of state lands at public auctions during the period netted $582,218, totaling 212,193 acres. Sales of 15,222 platted lots brought $291,556.

No person is more interested in the war news than this 80 year old resident. She follows the advances of the American armies carefully and wants to live long enough to see our enemies properly punished and peace restored to the world. She has four grandsons in the arm.

Two More Reasons Why You Should Buy War Bonds — And Buy Plenty!

From two Plymouth boys, one who has been stationed in England for a long period and who has seen many wounded boys, including boys from Plymouth; and the other boy who has been fighting in the far Pacific and who knows what a terrible price we are paying for victory, comes letters that should inspire every person in this city to buy twice the amount of war bonds they had expected to purchase.

Read these letters, you know the boys, and then do your little part in helping to make America safe for these lads, their relatives, their wives and their children.

Harold Brown, whose wife and little son reside at 814 Fairground avenue, has been stationed in England for well over a year. He's been located where the bombs and the robots have fallen a plenty. He has visited wounded Plymouth lads in English hospitals. Read his letter and then try and figure out a reason why you should not invest all of your extra dollars in war bonds. It follows:

"Although I haven't received my copy of The Plymouth Mail for several weeks I know that some of these days I'll have a half dozen or so waiting for me at the mail table. I've been in London quite a long while—too long, anyway. Of course I realize that a lot of G.I.'s would trade places with me and after a few visits I've made to hospitals, I can agree that I'd be in lots of places where I'd really have a reason to kick.

"Still there's no place on earth like Main street, Plymouth, and our families. I met Earl Lyke over here and we sort of did the town in a mild way. I couldn't have picked a better day to have someone from home with me, because that was the day I heard my brother Kenneth had been wounded in Germany.

"Since then I have located him in a hospital here in England and spent a couple of days with him. We hadn't seen each other for nearly two years and it's pretty hard to describe our meeting.

"Although he was hit bad, he's making a very good recovery.

"I also located Laurence Pierce at the same hospital and he had sort of had a one-town day—somewhere in England.

"It was great for me and those boys had been away from home longer than I, and through much more.

"It is my hope that the folks back home realize how much they owe those kids and the millions more like them. They've had it the hard way and taken it with a grin.

"If they get well enough they go back and take it again—still grinning.

"I've been through the buzz-bomb attacks, etc. But I still feel like a by-stander when I walk through those streets.

"We'll all be mighty thankful when it is all over and we can get back to the best country in the world. For me it is Main street, Plymouth, U.S.A. or I should say way down at the end of Fairground Avenue where my wife and son are waiting.

"I started out to write a note of thanks to you for sending me The Plymouth Mail and as usual it turned into a letter. Thanks a lot anyway, until I can tell you in person how swell it is to hear everything that is going on at home."

The following letter is from Marvin Criger, whose mother resides at 643 Dodge street. Marvin, a lieutenant in the flying forces over in the far western Pacific, has seen plenty of tough action. Read what he says in a recent letter. It follows:

"Perhaps by this time you have received my letter of the 15th, rather long but not much said. I'll try to remedy that condition in this attempt.

"This morning I went out for a little trip by auto to the other end of this island. I saw many things which made me do much thinking and things which I wish the American people generally could see, better still, seeing would have to look at. I can't tell you the name of this island or the names of the towns or the nationalities of the natives. It's just somewhere in the Marianas Islands.

"We started out rather early in the mud, which is usual here. As we entered the town we saw desolation beyond conception of the civilian mind. Every building was damaged. Rubble was everywhere and in the midst of it all women and children were 'carrying on.' Water buffaloes prowled amidst the ruins; domesticated cattle and oxen pulled primitive carts.

"In the middle of a running stream sat a huge female native, laboring over laundry which she was pounding against the rocks. All around was destruction as far as the eye could see. We drove onward.

"Rounding a bend our eyes beheld a part of the price of war. Yes, crosses row on row, the stars and stripes flying as a silent sentinel over the boys who paid the price. Here the grim reminder that victory to be ours means many such plots in many sections of the world.

"I've seen now the trail over several thousand miles of the Pacific. Beside our campsite at Funafuti; that lone cross at the end of the runway at Tarawa an appropriate resting place for the now forgotten boy who fought and died for that air strip; the plots on those little green islands on each of the atolls in the Marshall chain; here on each of the Islands I've visited in the Marianas chain.

"Would that all America had to see those crosses, row on row, had to know for a moment the problems those boys faced and dealt with. Only then would the people force an end to conditions that made this possible.

"We drove on, in mud and rain, mile after mile, then here on our right was evidence of defeat. Defeat of the enemy; defeat of nature, trees cut grotesquely by shell and shrapnel, dying, dead; pieces of defeated enemy equipment scattered to the water's edge. On our left another grove of untouched trees, green, olive and under them, yes, more little white crosses, crosses of the victors. The boys who took that beach, that all important beach, the key to the entire undertaking. There they lie, the victors.

"That America could see and be proud, as I am proud to see the National Emblem flutter in the now strong, now gentle, breeze over this land! Those boys had hopes and dreams, now forever stilled, ambitions never to be realized.

"How can we be selfish when they have given so much, we so little? How can Americans shirk their duties there at home? How can they desecrate the ideals these boys died for? Are there no consciences left in American citizens? Is money the only god the moment more important than the lives of hundreds of thousands now fighting or even yet unborn?

"Public opinion will postpone the consideration of compulsory military training until some time next year. (News item.) God! What must happen for Americans to become part of the world reality? My short journey of today should have to be followed by those who form that public opinion. They are too satisfied to read that other news item. 'Our casualties have been light so far.' Yes, indeed.

"I can see those boys under the white crosses reading those lines. 'Well,' they might reply, 'Well that depends on who you are.' And their parents adding, 'Not so light for some.'

"Guess you get my idea on the importance and necessity for military training. Carry it on. Help us to prevent another harvest of white crosses twenty years from now. Newspapers, clubs, public opinion, make it real, intelligent, interesting."

August Miller Dies Suddenly

Older residents of Plymouth will regret to learn of the sudden death of August L. Miller, a former resident of this city, at his home in Rochester, Michigan, last Saturday.

He had not been ill, and fell dead while at work in a shoe repair shop where he was employed.

Mr. Miller was born in Plymouth township November 4, 1886 and moved with his family to Rochester about 17 or 18 years ago. There are many surviving relatives in and around Plymouth.

The family had just moved into a new home. A wife and daughter, besides many other relatives, survive. The funeral took place Tuesday, burial being in Rochester.

Salvation Army To Help Mothers

Anyone wanting to do Christmas shopping can leave their young children in the nursery for the day and can enjoy themselves while doing so. We are preparing to give the children a Christmas dinner and tree, and Santa Claus will visit the nursery. Some of the mothers have husbands in the army and are trying to make ends meet. If you have any toys or gifts you would like to donate to the nursery we will be pleased to accept them. Or if you would like to donate money we can put it to good use.

Election Mixup Straightened Out

City Manager Clarence Elliott and Election Precinct No. 4 went in to Detroit Monday when the precinct was called before the Wayne County Board of Canvassers to clear up a mixup.

The mixup occurred, Elliott said, when the workers put the tally books into the ballot box instead of the return envelopes through a misunderstanding of the complicated instructions.

The board complimented the precinct on its neat and efficient work after the mixup was straightened out, Elliott said.

Saturday Recreation Program Starts

Plymouth High Athletic Director John Tomshack announces the start tomorrow morning of the regular Saturday morning recreation program for Plymouth students.

Those in the seventh grade will take over the gym from 8 to 9 a.m. The eighth grade will occupy the floor from 9 to 10 and the older boys who are not out for basketball will take over from 10 to 11.

The recreation program for older boys on Tuesday nights will continue at the same time, 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Gas Users Gain, Uncle Sam Loses

Mailing of Consumers Power Company service bills carrying the 75 per cent reduction ordered by the Michigan Public Service Commission is now under way and will continue through December, Division Manager David L. Brown said today.

"The Commission's order specified that the reduction should be made on all bills rendered to electric, gas and steam-heating customers during December, 1944," Mr. Brown said. "Some customers therefore will receive the benefit of the reduction on bills mailed during the first few days of the month, while others will find the reduction on bills rendered late in the month.

Usually, Mr. Brown pointed out, the bill rendered in December and carrying the 75 per cent reduction will cover service during a period of billing partly in November. The billing period varies among groups of customers, a portion of bills falling due each working day of the month.

The Commission's order provides for a total reduction of from $3,750,000 to $4,000,000 on all Consumers bills throughout the state for December. Of this amount, 85 per cent would normally have gone to the Federal Government in Washington as "excess profits taxes." The other 14 per cent represents a reduction in the company's cash receipts.

Mr. Brown pointed out that the term "excess profits tax" is a misnomer, as applied to Consumers. It is a tax levied on excessive profits but on the company's taxable income in excess of the average for the base years 1936-39.

"Actually, this 'excess profits tax' is a war tax, designed to drain off income resulting from war business," Mr. Brown said. "The company's net income, after taxes, actually is lower now than it was before the war."

Mr. Brown explained that the Commission's order for a 75 per cent reduction of December, 1944 bills. Less than a day after the Commission's order was issued, the company announced its intention to comply.

London, Canada Is Snowbound

William C. Smith has just returned from London, Canada where he was called a few days ago to attend the funeral of William T. Mortimer, a brother-in-law, for many years a resident of this important Canadian city.

"During the time I was there, London was experiencing one of the worst snowstorms the city had had in years. No street cars were in operation and automobile traffic was at a standstill. In places the snow had drifted over five feet deep across the roads," stated Mr. Smith.

"And when I got back to Plymouth, there wasn't a speck of snow on the ground."

Plan To Send A Boy To Camp

The Western Wayne County Conservation Association made plans at its Monday meeting to send a boy between the ages of 14 and 17 to the Higgins Lake Conservation Camp in January. Ernie Henry, secretary, announced.

The purpose is to have the boy learn the proper use of firearms. In that way the organization hopes to further safety in hunting and cut down on fatalities. All expenses of the boy selected will be paid by the association.

The association also decided to hold a game dinner Wednesday, Jan. 17, in the Jewell & Blach hall.

The members heard Perry Lacey tell the interesting tale of how he caught his 1,200-pound moose in Canada.

Keep 'em rolling! We mean dollars! Buy U. S. Savings Bonds and Stamps.

Soloists Selected For Big Christmas Concert, Dec. 21

Plans for the school's Christmas concert Thursday, December 21, took another leap forward this week with the selection of vocal soloists by Clarence A. Luchman, musical director.

Those chosen after auditions, Luchman said, were Ruth Campbell, Bernice Miklosky and Mary "Yuk, of the Girls' Octet, and Ardis Curtis.

Mrs. Curtis also will pair with Robert Todd and the mixed chorus in a soprano-flute duet of "Oh Holy Night."

The program, which will have more than 125 participants, including the band and chorus, will be divided into four acts, Luchman said.

Between the Acts I and II, the French Club Carolers will sing carols in French. The soloists will sing between the other acts.

The Christmas music of all types will be featured during the big and varied program, which is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Watch Out For Check Thieves

Check thieves and check forgers will do their Christmas shopping with stolen and forged checks if merchants and housewives aren't particularly careful, according to Frank J. Wilson, chief of the U. S. Secret Service, Treasury Department.

"The government mails out nearly one million checks every day," says Chief Wilson, "and about eight million to each month to dependents of men in the armed forces. Check thieves steal as many as they can from roll and porch mail boxes. Then they forge the endorsements and victimize retailers who are so anxious to make sales that they fail to consider the lessness."

The Secret Service offers some simple precautions to help fight the forgery racket. If you receive checks by mail, be at home or have a member of your family at home to receive the checks when they are due. Then they can't be stolen from your mail box.

If you are a retailer or cashier, don't cash checks for strangers without proper identification. Know your endorsers! Before cashing any check, ask yourself this question: "IF THIS CHECK IS RETURNED AS A FORGERY, CAN I LOCATE THE FORGER AND RECOVER MY LOSS?"

"Christmas is not a holiday for the check forger," Chief Wilson said. "He's on the job every minute, always looking for merchants he can fool. The only way to fight him is to beat him to the punch. 'KNOW YOUR ENDORSERS REQUIRE IDENTIFICATION.'"

Moving From This City To Elgin

Mr. and Mrs. James Stull, 318 Ball street, have moved from Plymouth to Elgin, Illinois, where Mr. Stull will enter the Elgin Watch Makers College.

A discharged service man of the present war because of a physical condition contracted during the time he was in uniform, Mr. Stull is being given the opportunity to learn a new trade he will be able to perform.

He was for 11 years employed at the William H. Mavbury Sanatorium west of Northville before he entered the armed forces. Their many friends in Plymouth will regret their removal from the city.

Mrs. Geo. Kenyon

(Continued From Page One) high school she served as president of the Girl Reserves and was secretary also of the Student Council. She was voted by the student body of the high school during her senior year as the most useful citizen. She took a very active part in the affairs of the Presbyterian Young People's club.

She was born in Sault Ste. Marie on January 22, 1922. It was about three months after her birth when her father sold his business in the Soo and moved his family to Plymouth where he had purchased a lumber business, which he still conducts.

Following her graduation from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1939, she entered the Michigan State Normal at Ypsilanti and at that institution won for herself the same high esteem among the students she was held in during her school days in Plymouth. She graduated from the special education department with the class of 1943 and was immediately engaged as an instructor in the Holland public schools, where she taught for a year.

During the time she was a student at the State Normal in Ypsilanti she was elected president of the College Y.W.C.A. and was an active member of the Special Education Club. Faculty members of the Normal say that she was one of the most outstanding students who ever attended that school.

Her marriage to George Kenyon followed a school day romance. They were married in Seattle, Washington, September 22, 1942, where he was stationed with the army at that time. The young husband has been in the armed forces since 1941—and like all of the young soldier husbands and wives, they had lived for the day when the war might end and they could establish a home.

The babe has been cared for by the grandparents since the illness of the mother. It is at present at the home of the father's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl D. Kenyon of 45410 West Ann Arbor Trail.

The largely attended funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Schrader Funeral home, the Rev. Henry J. Welch, pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating. The remains were placed in Riverside mausoleum.

Surviving are the husband and little son, Michael, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Roe of 45800 West Ann Arbor trail where she has made her home, a sister, Mrs. Marvin Sackett, and a host of other relatives and friends.

Active pallbearers were Jack Taylor, Harry Lee, Gerald Howard, James Gallimore Jr., Howard Holmes and Wayne Harriman.

Nicholas Cicirelli, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinson, of Northville, parents of Staff Sgt. Frederick J. Robinson.

Mrs. Lyons, who has been in the Red Cross Home Service four years, since its earliest days, had a word of encouragement for parents and relatives whose loved ones may be reported missing.

"Often it's a year or more before word is received that missing servicemen are prisoners. There is no set time by which the enemy must report prisoner lists. Three months is very fast time to learn their whereabouts.

percentage of those reported missing are turning up as prisoners. Also, parents should remember this. The minute the War Department learns their sons' whereabouts, day or night, they will dispatch the information to the next of kin by wire.

"The best thing to do is wait. Don't wire or write the War Department or the Red Cross. Such procedure is only apt to slow the information first and is open all the time. You'll get the information at the first possible moment."

The Red Cross Home Service is the connecting link between the boys overseas and their families, home and is always ready to serve, Mrs. Lyons explained.

If a boy overseas has worries or troubles of any kind concerning the folks back home, he always can turn to the Red Cross Field Director, who in turn will contact the Red Cross Home Service.

(Continued From Page One) Wood also announced that a new OPA procedure under which gasoline retailers may be "bailed out" for inventory debits resulting from counterfeit and other irregular coupons went into effect Monday.

This bail-out is part of a general overhauling and tightening of the debit procedure itself and the new provisions are expected to make the debiting program more equitable and more effective.

It is designed to give relief to gasoline dealers who are trying to operate in an honest and efficient manner.

At the same time, the bail-out amendment will strike hard against the service station that is being operated as a black market outlet.

The bail-out provision recognizes the "margin of error" within which even a normally careful service station operator may receive bad coupons from customers in exchange for gasoline.

The margin is set at one per cent of each month's volume of sales. Dealers may make such claims through the District Office by filing an application.

City Defers Purchase Of Sweeper, Uses $3,000 To Buy War Bonds

The city of Plymouth is going to swell the Sixth War Loan total by $3,000.

City Manager Clarence Elliott was instructed Monday night by the city commission to purchase Series G Bonds in that amount after the sum was transferred to the city's Postwar Improvement Fund.

Elliott recommended the transfer after the commission rejected both bids for a street sweeper, also on Elliott's recommendation.

Mayor Corbett declared that war bonds are more important than street sweepers right now, and anyway the men employed in keeping the streets clean are now doing an excellent job, so a street sweeper can wait.

The sweeper bids were rejected because neither of the bids met specifications. One was much too large for the city's needs, Elliott said, and the other was too small.

So the matter was deferred until after the war.

The commission also approved specifications of Pate and Hirm, consulting engineers, for the waterworks improvement extensions, upon the recommendation of City Engineer S. L. Besse.

The plans for the extension had been approved at the meeting two weeks earlier.

Seal Drive To Close Today

School Superintendent George A. Smith confidently expects the school's Christmas Seal drive to go over the more than $500 worth sold last year.

"The school is especially interested in this drive," Smith said, "because we have had several specific cases where students from Plymouth were cured through this fund."

The week-long campaign ends today and the superintendent is urging all students to make a special effort to push the total way over the top.

Dearborn Plays Here Tonight

Coach John Tomshack plans to use the same starting lineup tonight against Dearborn in the Plymouth High gym that made such an auspicious start last week by beating Redford Union, 52 to 28.

He says the Plymouth quintet will face one of its toughest assignments of the season in the game with Dearborn's polished Class A five.

Plymouth goes into the game, however, minus the services of Bob Hall, who may be lost to the team for a month as a result of aggravating an old football injury in his leg in practice Monday night.

The starting lineup tonight will be Bob Reinas and George Schemberger, at forwards; Ronald Micol, at center, and Capt. Harold Schultz and Hugh Harsha, at guards.

"If we get past Friday night's game o.k.," said Tomshack, the other day, "we'll really have reason to feel confident."

Waste Basket Fire Snaps City's Month-Long Streak

Fire Chief Fred Wagenschutz and his crew were routed out Tuesday morning at 2:30 for a waste basket fire in the home of Clifton Raum, at 448 Sunset avenue, thus breaking a stretch of more than a month with no fires in Plymouth.

The last fire run in the city was Oct. 25 to a rubbish fire. No damage resulted in Tuesday's fire except to the contents of the waste basket so the record still is pretty good.

The Pantheon in Paris holds the unique record of having been secularized three times in less than a century. In 1791, one year after its completion as the church of Sainte Genevieve, it was converted into a memorial temple and remained as such until 1806. During the next 24 years, the building was used as a church and, between 1830 and 1851, was used again as a temple. Then, rededicated, it served as a church until 1885, when it was secularized for the third time and has since remained a temple of fame for the illustrious dead of France.

Peacetime Ruhr was a region of amazing statistics. Its Rhine port, Duisburg, ranked as the greatest river port of Europe, with an annual tonnage comparable to Europe's largest seaports. Its coal mines produced three-fourths of Germany's total output and contained one-half the reserves of continental Europe. Coke made from 5 per cent of its known deposits could smelt all the ore in France's rich Lorraine fields. In 1938 the tiny Ruhr nearly equalled the rest of Europe, excluding England and Russia.

Predicts Increased Investment By American Farmers During Sixth War Bond Campaign

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A prediction that American farmers will invest more money in bonds during the Sixth War Loan than in any previous drive was made today by the War Finance Division of the U. S. Treasury.

Farmers bought $1,250,000,000 worth of War Bonds during 1943, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In 1944 it is believed they can and should purchase a total of $2,000,000,000, Ted R. Gamble, national director of the War Finance Division, said.

Income at Peak

The Sixth War Loan, starting November 20, comes at an ideal time for agriculture, he pointed out.

This is not only the time when farm income is at a seasonal peak, but 1944 marks three years of record breaking farm income, he said.

Based on information obtained from the BEA, the Agricultural Section of the War Finance Division estimates the 1944 cash farm income at $20,000,000,000, compared with $20,000,000,000 in 1943.

Although net farm income, due to higher operating costs, may not be greater than in 1943, most farmers now have reduced their debts and consequently will have more money to put into War Bonds, the division reports.

In the twelve months ending January 1, 1944, farmers reduced real estate mortgages alone by $850,000,000.

Ted R. Gamble

Bank Deposits Gain

After paying all operating costs and necessary family expenses, farmers will have left this year for investment and debt reduction over $5,000,000,000, the Agricultural Section also estimates.

Because of the fact that new machinery is not obtainable, farm deposits are piling up in rural banks. Demand deposits held by farmers in these banks are estimated at $4,500,000,000 and time deposits at $2,000,000,000. Since the new method of redeeming Series E Savings Bonds makes them as liquid as a dollar bill, it is no longer necessary for the farmer to maintain a large bank account to meet possible emergencies, Mr. Gamble stated. Therefore, he believes, farmers will convert part of these deposits into War Bonds.

War Bond purchasers will provide a farm financial reserve to protect against damage by drought, flood and livestock disease, will assure cash to replace and repair buildings and machinery as well as to build back soil fertility depleted by wartime food production, and will provide funds for education, vacations, and old age security.

The high farm income this year is the result of the huge increase in farm production to meet wartime food needs rather than a rise in prices, which have been held down by the OPA it was explained.

Weddings

Scheppele-Mettetal.

Esther Margaret Mettetal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Mettetal, of Lilley road, was united in marriage, Monday evening, to Robert Harry Scheppele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Scheppele, at a service performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Henry J. Walch in the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth. The altar was decorated with white chrysanthemums, palms and lighted tapers.

The bride wore a gown of white satin made with basque waist having a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves trimmed with lace falling over the hands, and full skirt with train. Her veil of tulle had a cluster of orange blossoms on either side. She carried white chrysanthemums and gardenias.

Jane Ann Lyons was maid-of-honor, wearing a gown of blue with bodice of satin and skirt of net over taffeta. She carried pink chrysanthemums.

Betty Scheppele, sister of the bridegroom, wore yellow satin and net over taffeta with flowers of yellow and bronze.

The best man was William Bakewell and the usher was Jerome Mettetal with his brothers, Marvin and Lewis, as junior ushers.

Both Mrs. Mettetal and Mrs. Scheppele wore aqua crepe with orchid corsage.

A reception with 75 guests present from Detroit, Dearborn, Northville, Wayne and Plymouth was held in the church parlors with members of the Chancel Choir serving.

The young couple are both graduates of Plymouth high in the class of '43. They are residing at 840 Lilley road.

How Postmaster Saved His Help

A possible crisis in the handling of the Christmas mail rush was averted by fast and decisive action on the part of Postmaster Harry Irwin.

With George Wilson, assistant dispatcher, due for induction into the armed services Dec. 8, Irwin went to Pontiac and did the "impossible" by persuading Wilson's draft board to defer him until after the Christmas rush.

"I never have believed in asking deferments for anyone," Irwin said, "but this was one case where it was in the public's interest that the man should be deferred. I tried to think of the bottleneck that would have developed had he been taken before Christmas. Bill McCullough, the dispatcher, never could have handled the job alone. No one man could handle that Christmas volume of mail alone.

"It is impossible to train a man for that job in such a short space of time. After the Christmas rush we'll be able to fit someone for the job more at our leisure," he added.

It was necessary to go to Pontiac to seek the deferment since that is where Wilson registered.

Irwin praised the Pontiac draft board chairman for his fine cooperation in the matter.

Auxiliary Will Meet in Homes

The Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion's Beal Post, No. 72, will hold its meetings in the homes of the various members during the winter. Mrs. Ethel Holton, publicity chairman, announced.

The next meeting, Friday, Jan. 19, will be held in the home of Mrs. Ruby Terry, at 183 Union street.

Mrs. Holton also urges that members get their reservations in as soon as possible for the annual Christmas dinner, for members and their families only, to be held at 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 16, in the Legion Hall, Newbury road near Ann Arbor Trail.

Farmer Rescues Deer Hunters

For those who saw that auto parked on Main street late Sunday night and wondered how it came to have about two feet of snow on top when Plymouth had had no snow, here is the explanation.

Theodore Rheiner and Arthur Adamson had just returned from deer hunting near Cummings where they had been snowed in 4 days. The result was the spectacle on Main street.

They finally had to get a team to get the snow cleaned away so they could even get out of their cabin. They also needed the team to pull them out and get them started. Some snow!

(P. S.—No word on how many deer they shot.)

Human beings need fats and oils for food. Industry needs fats and oils to produce the goods the armed forces and civilians need. When women in their kitchens save fat and turn it in for industrial use they are putting a needed raw material on the market as definitely as the farmer and the cattle raiser who provides our food fats.

Woman Explorer To Show Latest Film At Detroit Town Hall

Osa Johnson, foremost woman explorer, will show her latest film, "Tulagi and the Solomons," at the Detroit Town Hall in the Fisher Theatre, Wednesday morning, Dec. 13, at 11 o'clock.

The picture to be presented in person by the charming widow of the world famous Martin Johnson was taken with the idea of giving an all-over view of the highly publicized Pacific theatre of war, where so many American boys have lost their lives.

"When the boys in the Marines, Navy, and Air Corps come home, they will have tales to tell about the strange people and things they encountered in the Solomons besides Japs," Mrs. Johnson said in explaining some of the unusual "shots" in her picture.

With her late husband and since, Osa Johnson has traveled to the far corners of the earth in the search for adventure. She is noted not only for her superior story telling ability, but for the matchless quality of the motion pictures which she has taken of scenery and wild life, both animal and human.

A frequent visitor on "Information Please" and other chain programs, the explorer is the author of a number of adventure books. Advance reservations for the cinema-lecture may be obtained at Grinnell's, Ra. 1124.

Harold Paulger, Plymouth bowler, rolled a perfect 300—something thousands of other bowlers have tried to do, but have never accomplished.

He not only did a "little" bowling, but he turned the bowling alleys upside down and inside out, when he chalked up the first perfect game ever played on the alleys in Plymouth's neighborhood.

DOUG AND EVELYN RICHARDS

Everybody Welcome!

"How's your invasion going?"

HIS seems to be doing all right.

On June 6th, this young fellow tackled the biggest, toughest, most audacious military venture of all time—and he's pulling it off.

But how's our invasion going?

We've got one on our hands—just as much as any soldier. Don't think for a minute that every one of us here hasn't a personal share in the job of breaking into Hitler's Europe and battering down the Wehrmacht.

There's not much glory goes with our part of the job. Not much pain or danger, either. Our part is to pay—to pay with cash instead of blood.

Our part is to buy War Bonds.

But if you have the idea that our part isn't important—that the little bit that you personally can do—that the Bonds you buy don't really matter very much—get it out of your head.

The supreme military effort of the war must be matched by a supreme financial effort here. That means every man and woman in this country has got to put more money into Bonds—oftener—than ever before in this whole conflict!

Make no mistake—we've got to get that money up, now!

If you want to know how the Invasion's going

—don't expect to get the whole story from your paper. Look at your own Bond buying—for a big part of the answer!

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra War Bonds!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

GETS CHERRY PIE
 LINE TRENCHES.

Private Gerald L. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Olson, 11646 Brownell street, who is now somewhere over along the German front, in a letter the other day declared that he has mighty good "eats" along the battlefront.

"Think of having cherry pie, doughnuts and cake right up here in the front lines. I never thought we would have anything like that. I'm glad I am not an Englishman. About all they get is hot tea three times a day," wrote Gerald.

He stated that new overcoats, overshoes and heavy clothing had been issued the men at the front, and that "the weather over here is much worse than it is in Michigan."

HELPED TO LAND

Lieut. Robert J. Orr, who helped to land paratroopers and gliders over in Holland during the invasion of that country, writes to OUR BOYS page that he is now back in England attending school.

PLYMOUTH BOYS MEET OVER IN FRANCE.

In a brief note from Keith Avey, who is now stationed somewhere over in France, advising The Mail of a change of address, he stated that he had the pleasure of meeting Bob Lorenz "the other night, and we certainly had a good time talking about Plymouth and the fellows back home both of us knew. Be sure to say hello to Ken Groth and his family and all the other fellows in town," wrote Keith.

WOULD LIKE THE
 BOYS IN SERVICE.

Sgt. Earl N. Merriman, who is right now stationed down in Hobbs, New Mexico, writes that he would like to have the addresses of Plymouth soldier boys printed. We'd like very much to comply with the request, but that is one of the things that is out under the voluntary censorship rules newspapers have imposed upon themselves. A letter to "OUR BOYS" department for the address of any certain lad will, however, be provided.

Sgt. Merriman's letter follows: "I'm in the 'land of enchantment' now, and they can have it. I'll take good old Plymouth any time."

 B-24 LIBERATOR CREW.

A Michigan Combat Team might be applicable to the crew of a B-24 Liberator that has just completed their course of training at Gowen Field, Idaho, and are now ready for active service overseas. Four of a crew of 10, call the Wolverine State their home including one of the men a former resident of Plymouth. He is 2nd Lt. H. R. Ebersole, pilot, son of Mrs. Gladys I. Ebersole of 326 Maple avenue. The other Michigan men are 2nd Lt. Donald S. Griffith, bombardier, Cpl. Harry F. Lynch, gunner, both from Detroit, and Cpl. John M. Gabris, engineer, from Muskegon.

DOESN'T LIKE KIND OF WEATHER THEY HAVE IN OKLAHOMA.

In a brief note from Robert Gottschalk (who is now in training down at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, he says he hasn't yet become a booster for Oklahoma weather. His letter in part follows:

"I wish to take this time to thank you for sending me The Plymouth Mail. It is sure swell to have a means of getting the news from home. It is also swell of you to print letters from the boys in service."

"Here at Fort Sill, there are quite a few fellows from Plymouth and near by and when we meet we start discussing the news Plymouth Mail."

"We have only four weeks of training left now and two of the three are spent in the field. After the two weeks are over we will have graduated and will be coming home for a few days, which will be mighty welcome after being in this Oklahoma weather. I was under the impression that it was warm in the south, but I'll take Michigan's weather any day. Well, I guess this is all for now so thanks again for The Mail."

RALPH R. KERR

 CAMOUFLAGE TRAINING.

A news item sent to The Plymouth Mail from the public relations department at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, advises that Ralph R. Kerr, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kerr of 3122 Schoolcraft road, has completed a course in camouflage work at the engineering school. Previous to going into the army Ralph was employed at the Nash-Kelvinator plant.

SEPTEMBER 26 IS AN IMPORTANT DATE IN LIFE
 OF SGT. DELMAR COCKRUM

September 26th is a date that will be foremost in the mind of Technical Sergeant Delmar Cockrum, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cockrum, 9381 Canton Center Road, Plymouth. The sergeant is now on duty in the reassignment pool at the San Antonio Aviation Cadet Center, a unit of the Army Air Forces Training Command.

On September 26, 1942, T/Sgt. Cockrum sailed for England, where he spent two years as an armorer at work repairing B-24 machine guns at Bedford and Norwich. On September 26, 1944, two years to the day he landed back in the United States.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM SOMEWHERE FAR OUT IN THE PACIFIC.

From M. C. Liichow rmm2c, serving somewhere far out in the Pacific, came a Christmas greeting card to OUR BOYS page the other day. It is a greeting to all the people back home. It follows:

Christmas won't be the same this year
 With a palm for a Christmas tree,
 And home and you so far from here
 Over thousands of miles of sea.

I'll leave forever Hawaii's sand
 Never again to roam,
 If the Hundred and Twelfth to-night could land
 On a beachhead a mile from home.

But since we still have a job to do
 I'll send my greetings from here.
 I wish with all my heart for you
 Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Tech. Sgt. Shirley S. Smith of 292 Main St., Plymouth, has been assigned as an instructor, at Alexandria Army Air Field, a Flying Fortress combat crew training center in Louisiana.

SGTs. GIVE BOYS ON KITCHEN
 POLICE DUTY REAL TREAT.

It is not customary for sergeants of the first three grades, staff, technical and master, to do kitchen police duty in the Army, but on Thanksgiving Day a precedent was established at the Pyote Army Air Field down in Texas. S/Sgt. Robert L. Sockow of Plymouth, among many other sergeants of the upper grades volunteered their services for that day in order to give the privates and other lower grades something else to be thankful for.

Sgt. Sockow volunteered his services in response to an idea started by an anonymous technical sergeant and further promoted by the Rattler, the field newspaper. He took his stand alongside the other somewhat privileged-by-reason-of-rank sergeants and served food, scrubbed the pots and pans, washed dishes and otherwise fulfilled the duties of the time-honored K.P. The sergeant resided at 678 N. Harvey street.

Victory Garden Plans For 1945

Winter has just started, but Mayor Stanley Corbett doesn't think it too early to begin to think about next summer's victory gardens.

Already, the Mayor has been advised by the state Civilian defense organization that right now is the ideal time to get things all set for next summer, and Plymouth's busy mayor thinks so, too.

He has been advised that at the National Victory garden conference held in Washington that the country should have 20,000,000 victory gardens next year. During the past summer there were about a million and a half less than this number.

It was recommended that the home food preservation program be continued and that still greater emphasis be placed upon proper nutrition to raise health standards throughout the country.

Other recommendations included a proposal that there be additional effort to promote the growing of ornamentals in Victory gardens, that the planting of fruits be encouraged, and that the home grounds and community beautification program be considered as of equal importance with the food production program.

It was also urged that an extensive study be made of garden therapy and its possible application in the treatment of wounded war veterans.

It is believed that the Victory Garden organizations should give more attention to the development of a gardening program in the schools. Gardening can well serve as the basis for the study of natural science.

Plymouth Students At Western State

Three students from Plymouth are enrolled at Western Michigan College for the fall semester which opened November 1. They are: Bruce McAllister; Nancy Thornton, Pre-Medical; and William Saxton who is a member of the V-12 Navy unit. The total enrollment for the semester is approximately 2,000.

Only Two Per Cent Have Bad Hearing

Only 2 per cent of Plymouth High's 1066 students are serious defective hearing cases, Mrs. Strasen, school nurse, announced when questioned about the recent hearing tests throughout the school. Since, contrary to public opinion, deficiency in hearing increases rather than decreases, these thirty-two students will be examined by a doctor for a diagnosis and prognosis, the latter to determine what will happen to the condition if nothing is done immediately. With this information at hand the school faculty and the nurse and doctor will give to the student all possible aid consisting of lip reading training, careful consideration for the students' difficulties in the classroom, and earphones if necessary.

There are a great many causes of defective hearing, among which are colds, bad teeth, measles, scarlet fever and other contagious diseases. Frequent contact with loud noises will also impair hearing. A child with defective hearing is definitely handicapped in school, since he cannot comprehend what his teachers or his classmates say. He cannot express himself fully because he lacks the vocabulary. He cannot recite fully, since perhaps he has not heard the question. He is inattentive and unhappy because he is "out of things." It is the duty of any parent to help his child in any way he can. The faculty took the hearing test too, and it is reported that in all cases hearing was normal or above.

It is hoped that through this work all hearing cases will be improved and no child will suffer from a deficiency.

New Varsity Club Members Initiated

There were probably many puzzled expressions on the faces of Plymouth High School students Wednesday. The reason—the "probation period" for new varsity club members from the cross-country and football teams. Several strict rules must be obeyed for one day, in order to get into the Varsity club. The rules are: 1. All the boys must wear overalls, work shirts, and bow ties. The overalls must be rolled to within three inches below the knees. 2. They must wear a hat of any type at all times except when in a classroom. This hat must be tipped to any senior member of the club if he says, "Pop, squirt!" 3. They must stand at attention in the presence of any senior members, except in classrooms. 4. Candidates must at all times wear in a conspicuous place a sign stating: "Varsity club or bust!"

Names of those who "pass" their "probation" will be announced next week.

Miss Olmstead stated that any girl who is interested in bowling should contact either her or Shirley Schockow, as a bowling team will be organized when enough girls have signed.
Jean Schuler's team is in the lead in the volley ball tournament. The teams of Maxine Martin and Catherine Moss played those of Beverly Brown and Beth Sutherland in the tournament on Tuesday, December 5. Basketball is being started in the regular classes and also on recreation night.

Senior Sketches

Riding and training her two horses is the outstanding hobby of Betty Jean Duff, daughter of Mary and James Duff, Seminole Boulevard, New Detroit. Piano playing, record collecting, and bowling are the others. Since Betty plans to enter Michigan State College, she is taking a college preparatory course. She has been in the Junior-Senior Play, Girl Reserves on Senior Prom committee, in Drama club, Camera club, and on a JHOP committee. Betty's pet peeve, a rather unusual one, is teachers who gossip and voice their political and religious views to students.
Jeanne Neva Burnette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Newman S. Burnette, Schoolcraft Road, is a member of the Girl Reserves. Her hobbies are roller skating and collecting pictures. Snobbish people are her pet peeve.
Bonnie May Galamore, whose hobby is reading and lots of it, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frayer Galamore, of Orangelawn. Bonnie is taking a commercial course but intends to join the Cadet Nurses' Corps after graduation. Her pet peeves are conceited people and those who wear an excess of jewelry and cosmetics.
Collecting cactus plants and riding are the hobbies of Joyce Frederick, daughter of Alton and Dorothy Frederick of West Ann Arbor Trail. Joyce is taking a general course and wishes to become a secretary. Her pet peeve is show-offs.
She doesn't like to write long letters, but she does collect pennies. She's Norine Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Everett of Canton Center Road. Norine is taking a general course, but plans to travel in the United States when she has graduated.
Raymond Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh A. Gardner, of Adams Street, is taking machine shop to help him in his training for tool and die making which he plans to take in technical school if the war has ended; otherwise he plans to join the Navy. Oil painting, sketching, radio, and orchestra are his hobbies. He has taken two years of band. His pet peeve is girls who smoke.

Deer Kill Is Not Big One

From reports that have come to Dr. Brick Champe, president of the Western Wayne County Conservation club, the deer hunting season in Michigan this year resulted in the smallest "kill" in many years.

"The weather had much to do with it. Then, too, I know that there was not as many hunters up north as in past years. While it seemed that large numbers had gone, from such information as has come to me, no where near as many hunters from this part of Wayne county went deer hunting as in past years," stated the Conservation club president yesterday.

Check-ups also made by the state conservation department in representative areas throughout the state seem to indicate that both hunting pressure and deer kill were under last year.

A special 10-day gun season in Allegan county, when antlers deer only may be taken, opened December 1. Those persons allowed to hunt deer during the special season are Allegan county farmers and 300 hunters whose names were drawn when all applications had been received. Only those hunters among the 300 who failed to get bucks during the regular gun season can hunt in Allegan county during the special season.

The month-long bow and arrow season which ended in Allegan county, November 30 produced fewer deer than a year ago. The count was 12 on November 27, eight less than 1943's total, with three days to go. Largest deer taken with bow and arrow was a buck that weighed 174 pounds when dressed that was secured by Fred Bear of Detroit, one of Michigan's best known archers.

Dr. Champe also stated that he believed that the kill of bear this year would be found to be the largest ever.

Going To Hire Any Extra Help?

If any Plymouth business man are planning to hire extra help during the present holiday season, there's one thing that had better be done.

Get the social security number of that extra employee. That's what Robert G. Mish, manager of the Dearborn office in charge of this district for the social security board, says.

"A considerable number of these workers," he said, "will be working for the first time at a job covered by old-age and survivors insurance. Everyone who is about to take such a job should get a social security card promptly and show it to his—or her—employer when he starts working. The employer should copy the worker's name and account number exactly as they appear on the card for he must have this information when he makes out his tax return for social security, some time in January of the last quarter of 1944.

Workers of all areas are covered by the Social Security Act," Mr. Mish pointed out. "That means a boy of 16 who works part time must have an account-number card, or a man or woman over 65 who may have retired and has not been working for years. Every employer—of one person or more—is required to deduct the one-percent social security tax from the wages of each person in his employ, whether the work is full-time or part-time. Workers who have lost their social security cards should obtain duplicates before taking holiday jobs. Those who have changed their names—particularly women workers—may obtain duplicate cards bearing their present names."

Social security cards are issued at the Dearborn office of the Social Security Board located at 14246 Michigan avenue, 5 blocks west of Schaefer, but the application forms can be secured at the Plymouth post office.

Junior High To Have Special Dances

Tonight something new is happening. Under the guidance of Miss Lovewell the sixth, seventh, eighth, and ninth grades will have their own dances in the grade school gym, with a Junior high band made up of John Pint, Elton McAllister, J. Hanna, Jay Daggett, Jerry Allen, Sidney Davison, John Guetler, Ted Campbell. These dances will continue through the basketball season, occurring only Friday nights when there is a basketball game here. Their purpose, Mr. Dykhouse explained, is to provide amusement for those Junior high students who come to basketball games for lack of anything better to do. Since the gym has recently been very crowded, it is hoped that these dances will relieve some of the jams. Junior high students may dance from 7:30 until 10:00 p.m. for 12 cents.

Three-fourths Of Juniors Buy Rings

To date there have been one hundred and fifty-three ten-carat gold-backed class rings sold to eleventh grade students by the Weyhing Bros. of Detroit for early March delivery. The small rings cost $11.32, medium-sized $12.05; and the large sized $14.82. These prices include 20 per cent luxury tax and 39 per cent sales tax. Seventy-seven per cent of the class bought rings, which would indicate that money is plentiful in the war busy area.

Over 111 Couples At Senior Prom

Over one hundred eleven couples attended the Senior Prom Friday, December 1 when the chilly snowmen lining the walls of the gym saw enough splendor with their charcoal eyes to last a lifetime. The snow scenery, frothy skirts, and Jerry Edward's music all added to the festive atmosphere. Even the intermission music, ranging from classical to boogie woogie, rendered by Elaine Sanko and Jack Huebler, ended with "White Christmas."

Red Cross Drive Fills 25 Kits

Twenty-five wounded soldiers will be a little happier this Christmas when they get either a toilet or writing kit filled by Plymouth students, accompanied by a greeting card. Six writing kits, each containing a writing pad, pencil and eraser, blotter, dictionary, playing cards, address book, envelopes, and a pocket book edition, and nineteen toilet kits, each containing tooth brush, dentifrice, cany bar, shaving cream, razor, mirror, comb, emery boards or nail file and soap in box were sent out from Plymouth High School.

Construction has been started on the fourth section of Moscow's subway.

Style Trends In Home Building

For families planning to build after the war, a new, inspiring book, "Style Trends," sheds light on many perplexing questions. It will interest particularly those who have been confused by conflicting ideas they have read or heard concerning postwar homes.

"Style Trends" is available to prospective home builders of this community at the Plymouth Lumber & Coal Co. According to David Mather, of the company, the book is offered in the belief that home planners have a vital stake in getting authoritative facts on the kind of homes they are likely to build and own after the war.

In this book they will discover answers to such all-important questions as these: What are the facts about postwar architectural styles? Will there be radical changes from the traditional and loved designs of the past? What about new materials and new construction methods offered as cures to all building problems?

"Style Trends" answers these questions, and many more. In beautiful color illustrations, it offers a preview of "homes of tomorrow." They are homes that families will instinctively see as the answers to their questions. In architectural design, they include the best and most popular of the historical styles, adapted and modified to meet present and future desires and needs.

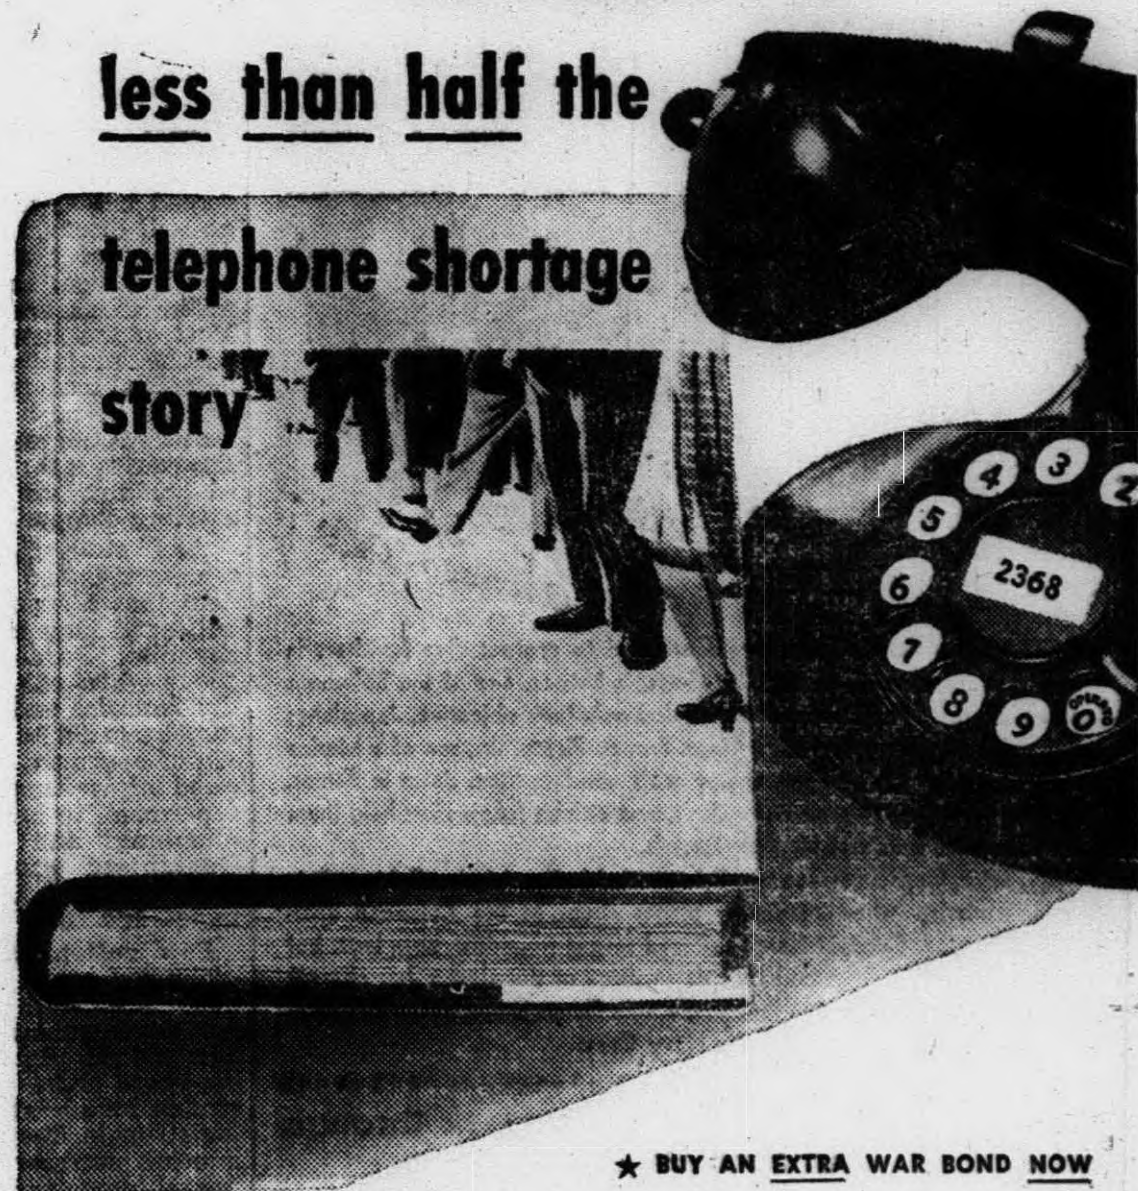

Floor plans, for example, are scientifically laid out to save steps and time, and to provide adequate storage space. Yet every home shown is different and subject to such further variations in treatment and features as individual family tastes and needs may indicate. Furthermore, the homes shown in "Style Trends" incorporate at such new methods and materials as have proved worthy of being built into permanent homes.

ment and features as individual family tastes and needs may indicate. Furthermore, the homes shown in "Style Trends" incorporate at such new methods and materials as have proved worthy of being built into permanent homes.

Every home is the product of experienced designers. Each demonstrates that it is possible to have homes that are modern in every sense of the word, without sacrifice of sound materials, tested building methods or beloved architectural styles.

Those who are planning new homes after the war may secure copies of "Style Trends" by calling at the offices of Plymouth Lumber & Coal company, or phoning or writing this company.

Instruments are less than half the telephone shortage story

★ BUY AN EXTRA WAR BOND NOW

MORE than 90,000 people in Michigan are waiting for telephones today. While we are constantly installing service as present users give it up, still the "waiting list" grows.

We'd like to fill all orders immediately. But we couldn't fill half of them even if we had all the instruments we need. For the shortage of cable and switchboard facilities is much more acute than the shortage of telephones.

When materials, men and manufacturing facilities are available again we propose to launch a vast expansion program that may cost up to $120,000,000, if the necessary investment funds can be secured. That program calls for building new central offices, enlarging present offices, and installing new cables and central office equipment.

All of that will take time. Even after the war, it may be more than a year before all orders are filled. However, you can be sure your telephone will be installed in its proper order, just as quickly as possible.

GREYHOUND

VICTORY'S SONS

Capt. Francis E. Pierce of Coronado, Calif.

Eleven Marine fighter planes were ordered to protect dive bombers in an attack on shipping in the New Georgia harbor, one of the Solomon group. As the flying Leathernecks circled over their objective, Jap planes charged up to drive them off. Capt. Francis Pierce, Jr., son of a Marine officer, engaged two of the enemy craft, sending them down in flames. He then turned on the remaining Japs, and with his fellow fliers held them at bay while the dive bombers hit their targets.

A few days later, Captain Pierce was flying with 14 other Marine fighter pilots on a bombing mission, when 24 enemy planes struck at the American dive-bombers. In the melee, Captain Pierce suffered severe wounds in both legs, but he clung doggedly to the fray, and shot down three of the eleven Jap aircraft destroyed in the encounter. In nine flights, Captain Pierce is credited with downing six Zeros. He has been awarded the Navy Cross.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., Dec. 8.—Some weeks ago I warned investors not to get too starry-eyed with visions of fabulous new gadgets in the postwar period. Unless human nature suddenly reverses itself, the peacetime world will swarm with promoters of war-born inventions. Beware of a merchandise mirage! It is true that vast changes impend. If a Rip Van Winkle awakes himself thirty years hence, he will blink with amazement at the innovations spread before his eyes. However, he will discover at once that the majority of the really desirable novelties bear the trademarks familiar to us and to our parents. Most of the successful inventions will be perfected by time-tested industrial leaders rather than superseded by new concerns. The investor's route to success from new discoveries is through broadly based holdings in well-established existing companies.

As I study the prophecies of some artists and authors, it is evident that a strong warning must be issued now to buyers of merchandise. Purchase your needed goods when offered by trustworthy factories and stores. Let us not forget our old friends. Avail yourself of seasoned, staple articles instead of waiting around for the superman to bring you plastic plumbing and glass crowbars. Guaranteed goods do not leap from the hat. They cost sweat, tears—and time!

Few customers appreciate the prolonged effort which conscientious fabricators must devote to the development of any wholly new article. Between the drawing-board and the production line stretch long years of heartbreaking struggle. Testing in actual use imposes necessary delay. Finally, the all-important details of service must be perfected. All this and more is needed to assure lasting customer satisfaction.

Patriotic women and men will have an opportunity to render a signal service to national prosperity. They can use their influence and their purchasing power to encourage manufacturers to resume, at the earliest permissible moment, their output of proven products. Let these articles be up-to-date of course—and of too grade—but instead of weird dreams, give us basically normal items. These can then be bought under a warranty, instead of a warning. Leave "turism" to the future. Goods already developed can be produced promptly. Quality is a must. Speed is the essence. So let's remember old friends.

Only rapid reconversion from war work to peace work will ease the employment problem caused by returning service men and released war workers. A jobless crisis may explode in our faces if industry dallies with "electronic adventures" instead of rushing out standard items of electrical equipment. The automobile industry merits our support in its promise to get busy on regulation models before dabbling in rear-engined, tear-drop, picture cars. Reputable distributors in all lines will not jeopardize your welfare with half-baked experimental designs—merchandise booby-traps.

Besides providing immediate jobs for veterans and ex-war workers, only a fast reconversion will help to swell the volume of goods and thus lessen inflationary perils. The silent menace of a decayed money still lurks and looms. Delayed buying can disrupt a nation's economy, life and property as can robot planes and flying bombs. Price ceilings and ration stamps are only palliatives. The basic cure for inflation is to expand immediately production power to match buying power.

People are all steamed up over jet propulsion, radar, and other excitements. Do we want service men returning with the notion that ordinary cars, present-day refrigerators and humdrum vacuum cleaners are out-of-date? Will young salesmen aspire to sell only technicolored television sets, "wireless" kitchens, and rocket trips to the moon? Surely we all need to knock out of our heads the joke-goods of the comic strips and radio comedies—and keep first things first. A basic principle of progress is to use the foundations already constructed.

The most subtle of all demonstrations of derision staged by the people of Paris during the Nazi occupation was the frequent publication of a photograph of Pierre Laval on the front page of a certain newspaper—at the head of the fifth column.

25 Years Ago

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

At a meeting held on Friday evening, a village hall, about thirty veterans of the great war, organized the Scott D. Cortrite Post of the American Legion. The following officers have been elected: Commander, Herbert Warner; senior vice commander, Ray Smith; adjutant, Kenneth Harrison; post historian, Alton Richwine; post chaplain, Harold Jolliffe; post sergeant, Albert Groth.

One of the finest store fronts in Plymouth is that of Huston and Co. on Penniman avenue. It is modern in every particular, and the large display windows will give a splendid opportunity for the display of merchandise. The entire front of the Huston store has been remodeled, and it makes a splendid improvement to the appearance of the street.

The troop of state constabulary have their portable building in the old cemetery grounds at the rear of the Presbyterian church nearly ready for occupancy. We understand there is some talk of making Plymouth a permanent headquarters for a troop of the state police, and if it is decided to do this, a permanent and more substantial building would be erected somewhere in the village.

Miss Lina Durfee, township clerk, has just received a letter from the county clerk, stating that through the failure of the Board of Supervisors to make any provision for the payment of money as bounties for noxious animals, there are no funds available for this purpose, and she will not be able to issue any certificates for the same. This will be a great disappointment to the boys, who expected to earn a little extra money from this source.

The jet-propelled plane flies so smoothly that a vibrator is required on the instrument panel to keep the dial needles free of stickiness.

You save coal, transportation and manpower when you save electricity

TURN OFF THAT LIGHT!... Detroit Edison street lighting is usually furnished to communities at a fixed annual rate. If you occasionally notice street lights burning in the daytime, this is done so that patrol men can check for burned-out lamps. On dark winter mornings, we keep street lights on somewhat longer than usual, as an added protection for children going to school. There is no charge for the extra electricity used in either of these cases.
