Large Audience Hears Lecture

A capacity audience Tuesday evening greeted Ann E. Herzog, C.S.B. of Columbus, Ohio, at the Plymouth high school auditorium when she delivered an address upon the subject "Christian Science: Exchanging Human Concepts for Divine." The lecturer explained that, in human experience, Christian Science exchanges mortal ignorance for spiritual understanding, sin for righteousness, disease for health, lack and limitation for sufficiency, and failure, frustration, discouragement, and apathetic routine for successful activity and a rich and fruitful experience. The lecturer explained that a marvelous understanding of God was possessed by the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy. Her position as interpreting the spiritual message of the Bible and as reaffirming and amplifying the teachings of Jesus, qualifies her as undisputed leader of the Christian Science movement and as revelator of the truth about God and man to the world. Christian Science exchanges a belief in a personal God for a true understanding of God as Spirit, Mind, Life, and Love, the speaker said. The difference between man and God is always clear, she continued. God is the original, man always the reflection. "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states clearly (p. 70): "Man is never God, but spiritual man, made in God's likeness, reflects God."

The speaker pointed out that today we all have a great work to do. Never was right thinking more needed, she said. We must realize that even in human warfare the mental attitude of the spiritually awake differs greatly from that of others. The spiritually-minded see that all conflict is between error and truth. In conclusion Mrs. Herzog said that your work lies in exchanging the unworthy for the lovely, the transitory for the eternal, the limited for the infinite, until love's reality, the spiritual concept, is all there is for you.

Seniors Present Mystery Play

Mirth as well as murder is the theme of "The Last Warning," the play to be given by the senior class. It enjoyed a long run in New York and some of the comments of the papers were "The most entertaining of its kind"—New York Sun, "Decidedly novel keeps spectators on edge"—New York Herald. It started as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post and was called "House of Fear." It was adapted for the stage by the successful playwright Thomas F. Fallon. Some of the actors and actresses who played the leads were William Courtleigh, Ann Mason, and Marion Ford.

Here and There

Sixty-five girls attended the skating party at Newburg Lake Wednesday, January 10, 1945. Refreshments of hot cocoa, potato chips, were served and there was square dancing afterward.

The Girl Reserves' latest project, making scrapbooks for wounded veterans at Percy Jones hospital, has netted twenty-one books full of jokes, cartoons, pin-ups, and other pictures.

A new class will begin with the new semester, radio under the direction of Mr. Moiso, industrial arts teacher and assistant coach. Mr. Dykhouse hopes that this course will prepare boys for training in radar. Classes in filing, calculating on machines, economics, trigonometry, solid geometry, and advanced algebra will also start.

Did you know that you should call Mr. Dykhouse and tell him if you expect to be absent more than a week? Otherwise you are counted as left. Not as many people, as usual, have been ill this winter among the school pupils, a condition, Mrs. Strasen attributes to the lovely sunny fall, during which everyone stored up vitamin D.

Senior Sketches

Donald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ritenour, 168 Hamilton, is taking a general course. Taking and developing pictures is his hobby and people who are stuck up are his pet doves. Ice cream is his favorite dessert. He plans to be a pharmacist for his life work.

An ardent fan of Dennis Morgan and a lover of cherry pie a la mode is Elizabeth Carmella McCarthy, daughter of Marie Antoinette and Edward McCarthy, North Dix road. Elizabeth is taking a college preparatory course and has among her accomplishments membership in Heco, the art committee for the annual, a senior play committee, and the invitation committee for the Prom. "Boys with swelled heads are my pet peeve," says Elizabeth.

James Flannigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flannigan of Cranston, Rosedale Gardens, plans to enter the Navy when he graduates next June. He is taking a general course. Last year he played on the football squad.

Frank, son of John and Helen Veresh, North Mill street, is taking a general course. Photography is his hobby. His pet peeves are little girls who act big. Home-made apple pie is his favorite dessert. He plans to be a news photographer after finishing school.

"Girls that wear too much lipstick and have it all over their faces" are the pet peeve of Avis Hamlin, daughter of Flander and Anna Bell Hamlin, Hubbard road. She is taking a general course and plans to become a beauty operator. Her hobby is roller skating.

Gremlin Gossip

Abe Martin sez: "There's nothing so aggravatin' as a fresh boy, too old to whip and too young to kick." "What I can't figure out," says a 12th grade boy, "is if you knit a sock in a triangle, how does it get round?"

News flashes from a general information test Miss Allen gave grade eleven: Four Roses is a song—Eaton is the Plymouth Mail publisher—Columbus came over with the Pilgrims—Balkans are islands in the Pacific—radar is the training given in the Navy—Joel Kupperman is a German general—Anthony Eden is Secretary of American Navy.

Two Teachers Leave Plymouth

Mrs. Carey, who has been here for nearly six years, is leaving for Salt Lake City on January 26. She will finish the year doing secretarial work for her husband, who is an engineer and will accompany him on his trips, which cover the Rocky Mountain area. Next fall she plans to teach in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Mrs. Maxine Murray, who teaches social science and has been here nearly eight years, is also leaving Plymouth to live in Ann Arbor.

Rouge Second Team Takes 38-20 Victory

The Plymouth Second team was defeated by the River Rouge quintet here last Friday by a score of 38-20. The game started slowly, and no points were scored until the second quarter which ended in a 6-6 tie. By the end of the third quarter, River Rouge had a 2-point lead and with a lightning attack they scored 25 points in the last quarter. Thomas, River Rouge forward, shot 18 points, while Hitt, Plymouth's acting captain, led the Rocks with 6 points. The lineups:

Exams Begin January 24!

It's coming closer! No, not the draft, the exam day. Don't forget to study hard this week end, so that you'll write a good exam. Wednesday, Jan. 24 is the day. In regular class periods you will complete the first half of your exam. On Thursday you will finish the exam. Friday you can recover, since there is no school. Please do not visit the school on Friday. Good luck!

Travel is difficult, expensive, and uncomfortable.

Teachers Committee Discusses Salaries

The school committee consisting of Miss Lyon, Miss Campbell, Miss Fiegel, Mr. Latture from Starkweather, Central, and Plymouth high schools respectively, met on January 8 with the Board of Education to discuss a proposed salary schedule. Teachers were asked to give criticisms and suggestions to this committee before the meeting.

Junior Dues All In for Year

Something happened this week that probably has not happened in the history of Plymouth high; the Junior class, every member of it, has paid his dues for both semesters. Miss Lickly, an adviser, and Eleanor Tart, the Junior treasurer, collected these. This means that whoever takes the place of Mrs. Carey, chairman of advisers, will find one job completed for the whole year.

"Cupid's Holiday" Hesco Dance

Cupids and hearts will be the theme of the Hesco Dance "Cupid's Holiday," February 9. General chairman is Jean Klopfenstein; chairman of the other committees are Gertrude Muir, publicity; Mary Lou Klinkse, decorations; Mary Helen Swanson, tickets; Elsie Mae Keeping, refreshments; Margaret Swanson, music; Betty Lou Arnold, clean up.

Marie Duthoo Heads G. R. Toboggan Party

Marie Duthoo is the general chairman for the Girl Reserves' toboggan party to be held January 25 at Cass Benton Park. In charge of the refreshments to be served at the school afterwards is Velma Kains, assisted by Mary Agnes Evans, Doris Oldenburg, Pat Ibell, and Betty Schumacher.

Class News

The typewriting I class have completed their required semester work and are now retyping work for previous marking periods that was of inferior quality. They are finding that they can recognize their individual strong and weak points in this work. Several have passed the required 25 words a minute on their 5-minute speed tests which is the aim of all.

Miss Anderson's English classes are handing in their last notebooks for the semester, which are made up of all original work—stories, poems, and illustrations. Arlene Wagenschultz, Thelma Mahoney, Dolores Dottman, James Rollin, and Harvey Rotarius made the best maps illustrating Treasure Island in English 9.

Marguerite Opper gave a very good oral book report on Eve Curie's "Madame Curie" for Miss Niles' English class.

The 8B history class is following the movements of the 79th congress in the Junior Review, a paper they receive monthly. This month the paper follows a bill from the time it is introduced until it is passed by congress.

One of the boldest espionage jobs of modern times was accomplished in Poland by the Nazis just before they invaded that country. On the simple pretext of making a movie of Poland's achievements, for propaganda use, a German picture company was permitted to take more than 1,000,000 feet of film which covered not only the maneuvers of Polish artillery and air squadrons, but also interiors of fortifications and war plans.

Not only do I buy and hold all the War Bonds I can and put my extra dollars in the bank for emergencies—but I make certain that I pay no more than ceiling prices for anything I buy.

I plan my saving and plan my spending so I will be able to get the things I want at the right time and the right price after the war. I'm not helping to drive down the buying power of U. S. money. My dollars are not competing with other people's dollars for scarce goods. I am spend-THRIFTY!

Allison Offers Hints on Starting Cold Automobiles
 Here are a few hints on how to start your car if you're having trouble these cold mornings. If you follow them you may save the beleaguered servicemen some work. They are offered by J. Allison of Allison Motors, 331 North Main street.
 "A lot of our calls these days are caused by frozen gas lines," Allison said. "A kettle of hot water poured over the lines will thaw them."
 However, he warned, great care must be observed not to get any of the water on the block as there is great danger of cracking it. The sediment bulb near the carburetor and fuel pump also should be avoided.
 Often cars will start, go a mile or so and then stop as if running out of gas. This is almost certain to be a sign of a frozen gas line, Allison said.
 The best preventive measure, he said, is to put a pint of alcohol in the gas tank for each 10 gallons of gas. Pulling out the choke after turning off the ignition when putting the car up for the night also helps.
 Another tip, which will make your motor start faster and thus save wear on the battery is to pump the foot accelerator three or four times before stepping on the starter or turning on the ignition.
 This forces raw gas into the cylinders when the motor is too cold to vaporize it properly.
 Allison also advised frequent and religious cleaning of the sediment bulb while using alcohol in the gas to prevent freezing of gas lines. Otherwise, he said, alcohol is liable to collect there and impair the motor's efficiency.
 When the starter won't turn the motor, the best remedy is a push. Put the car in high gear, turn on the ignition and have somebody seated behind the wheel before you start pushing.
 If the brakes are frozen, a good jolt or backing up will usually free them. Hot water is not advisable for the brakes as they'll only freeze up worse next time.
 The best preventive for frozen brakes, Allison said, is to not set the brakes when parking. Instead put the car in reverse or low gear.
 Frozen gas lines are caused, Allison said, by the unusually large amount of moisture which collects in the gas tanks these days because most of the time they are half empty and "sweat" because of the changes in temperature.
 If possible—if you have the coupons—keeping the tank full also will lessen the danger of frozen gas lines, he added.
 If these hints don't do the trick—buy a horse.

WAC Calls For More Recruits
 The Army will continue to recruit for the Women's Army Corps in 1945. Beginning January 1, the WAC recruiting program will emphasize the enlistment of qualified women urgently needed for duty in Army hospitals and of those possessing specialized skills in several vital categories necessary to maintain the WAC at the level required for over-all army efficiency.
 Because of increasingly high casualty lists and the return of thousands of sick and wounded soldiers to the United States every month, together with a critical shortage of Army nurses, there is an urgent continuing need for several thousand medical and surgical technicians in Army hospitals. This need is acute and must be filled. Women enlisted in the WAC for this duty will receive specialized training designed to fit them as enlisted technicians and are assured duty in Army hospital wards aiding in the care of sick, injured, and wounded soldiers.
 For additional information about the WAC you may write Lt. C. L. Jennings at 15860 Grand River Avenue, Detroit 27, Michigan, or phone VE-7-1844.

Auto Owners Buy License Plates
 It pays to smile when customers call to do business with you. At any rate that's what Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth office of the Secretary of State, is beginning to believe.
 His office has sold more automobile license plates up to the present time this year than it has during the past three years during the same period.
 "Think of it—here January is only half gone and we have sold more than 200 passenger car licenses. Generally people wait until the very last minute before getting their licenses, but if they keep coming in the way they are now, we'll have some 5,000 or 6,000 licenses sold before March first," said Mr. Rambo yesterday.
 This total does not include trailer and commercial licenses that have been issued.
 There isn't much question but what it's the broad smile of good-natured Frank Rambo that has resulted in the rush of folks to get their automobile licenses so early in the season.
 No—there are no half year license plates on sale at present. These will not be on sale until a month or so later.

Sidewalks Are Responsibility of Property Owners
 City Manager Clarence H. Elliott has issued a reminder and warning that under the city charter and ordinances, property owners are responsible for the condition of their sidewalks.
 The reminder came as a result of numerous complaints that have been received that sidewalks have not properly been kept clean. The trouble has been even more pronounced, due to the extra heavy siege of snow the city has had. Snow has been on the ground steadily since Dec. 11.
 "It's easy to slip and fall these days with all the ice and snow so it behooves property owners to avoid unnecessary lawsuits by keeping their walks clean," Elliott said. "If they are unable to remove the ice they should spread ashes, sand or salt to render the surfaces less slippery."
 At present no penalty is provided in the ordinances, Elliott said, but if the sidewalks are not cleaned, the city has the authority to clean them and bill the owner for the service.
 However, he pointed out, with the help of the city as it is today, the city couldn't clean the walks even if it wanted to. Right now all the men the city can find are kept busy keeping the streets clean.
 "We're working now on an ordinance which would provide a penalty for not cleaning sidewalks and failing to keep them in repair," Elliott added.
 "When that becomes effective, provided the commission passes it, of course, the property owners who fail to clean their walks will have to come in and face the court."
 It's also the property owner's responsibility to keep the sidewalks in repair, Elliott said. Any injury resulting from the sidewalk not being in repair is his responsibility.

Plastic Limb Fund Is Sponsored by the Eastern Star
 The Plymouth Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a card party Saturday, Jan. 27, at 8 p.m. for the benefit of a fund sponsored by the Grand Chapter of Michigan for plastic restorations.
 This is a Michigan project and will enable a Detroit sculptor, Beaver Edwards, who has won international fame through his work in plastic restoration of human parts, to manufacture these appliances for the benefit of returned Soldiers and Sailors.
 These natural restorations will save many boys from wearing artificial appliances which are heavy and unsightly.
 Civilians will respect them for their handicap, but to them, such burdens of physical disabilities are also mental barriers that will make their future seem utterly useless and hopeless.
 New natural replacements of fingers, hands, or arms, will prove a great source of comfort as well as usefulness to these boys who have made their sacrifice that we may share in a victory for a better way of life.
 The cooperation and support of the general public is needed to make this effort worthwhile.

St. John's Plans Improvements
 At their annual meeting, the members of St. John's Episcopal church voted unanimously to alter the basement of the church property to provide for a new dining hall and kitchen. A building committee composed of the Vestry and presidents of the women's groups were appointed. This committee will promote the installation of the new dining hall and kitchen and further expansion to the physical facilities of St. John's church which will be contemplated as soon as the present project is completed. Enthusiasm was shown over the contemplated projects. Pledges of financial aid were received from individuals and organizations.

St. John's Plans Improvements
 At the parish meeting, annual reports from St. John's League, St. John's Guild, Altar Guild, Women's Auxiliary, and Church School were read. The treasurer of the church presented his annual report. All of them showed significant achievement and progress. The parish organizations have grown in number to six. The latest one formed is a Choir guild, the president of which is Mrs. Lee Soule.
 Three members were elected to the Vestry. They were Paul Ware, Charles Messmore, and Garnett Baker. These men will serve for three years.
 The former Bishop of Minnesota, the Rev. Frank McElwain, will visit St. Joan's church on Sunday evening, Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

WHY Michigan Bell Will Go to Court

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company plans to appeal to the Ingham Circuit Court for relief from an order of the Michigan Public Service Commission directing the company to refund $3,500,000 to its customers. A permanent injunction will be sought to restrain the Commission from putting the order into effect.

We have no liking for litigation. It is a time-consuming process that is as distasteful to the company as it must be to the public.

An order that jeopardizes our ability to provide good service by whittling away at our already inadequate earnings, however, cannot go unchallenged. The public interest impels us to seek the protection of the courts.

The order is based upon the theory that excess profits taxes should be returned to customers rather than to the Federal Treasury as intended by the tax law. One out of every five tax dollars collected by the Treasury today comes from excess profits taxes. In this case, the Government would take a loss of $3,000,000.

Although the Federal Treasury would bear the brunt of the loss involved in such a rebate, one-seventh of the amount would come from the company. The order for 1944, unless restrained, could be repeated for 1945 and other years. Such a whittling process takes on the aspect of a permanent rate reduction to the jeopardy of the service rendered the public.

If we are to take our place in the expanding national economy anticipated after the war, and once again provide service on a basis of "when and where wanted", the Michigan Bell must undertake a postwar construction program requiring the expenditure of $120,000,000 in 5 years. That program will provide jobs not only for its 3,000 men and women returning from the armed forces, but for many others as well.

The telephone industry has no royal road to money to finance its postwar program. It must compete with other industries in the open market for capital. To attract the investor's dollar, our earnings must be comparable with the average for other industries—not at a rate one-third lower, as is the case today.

The Michigan Bell has no desire to profit at the expense of war. It hasn't. The company's wartime earnings today are a quarter lower than in the pre-war period, 1936-39.

The price of telephone service is one of the few things that has not undergone a sharp wartime rise. On the contrary, rate reductions since 1939 are resulting in current savings of nearly $4,350,000 a year to our customers.

There is one thing our customers want, and that is good service. The telephone bill for the best of service is so small a part of the customer's budget that he does not want anything less than the best even though he might get it at a lower cost.

For these reasons, we believe we're under the strongest obligation to seek our day in court. We believe our cause to be a just one in the interest of those served by the company, those who own it, and those who depend upon it for their living.

Potato Grading Is Hot Subject
This potato grading business is getting to be serious business. Sometime ago Ford Lyndon of the Plymouth Perfection Sprinkler company, stated that he believed it would be of vast benefit to Michigan potato growers as well as users if Michigan potatoes were given a higher grade than they are at the present time. Now comes forth a statement from Commissioner of Agriculture Charles Fiev in which he says the efforts of the State Department of Agriculture to put a stop to some of the under grading and misbranding of Michigan potatoes has met with favorable reaction. A few Michigan potato growers think the state potato grading law should be repealed. These few growers seem to contend that correct grading, honest branding, and compulsory inspection according to Federal grades is costing the farmer too much money and hinders sales. This argument seems to be refuted by other progressive growers and distributors who realize that in order to retain a market for Michigan potatoes, the quality and grade must be maintained. One prominent Michigan potato shipper and distributor, in commenting Commissioner Fiev on the Department of Agriculture program to improve the markets for Michigan agricultural products, commented as follows: "We have been in the business of shipping Michigan potatoes for quite a number of years having quite a number of buyers scattered all through the lower peninsula and as the writer does all the selling, think we know something about the attitude of the trade all over the country—where Michigan potatoes normally move, and as a result of this experience we have for years been in the hopes something could be done to make the Michigan farmer appreciate the fact that the only way in which he can get a better price for his Michigan potatoes is to see that none but the best move to market. But it is very difficult to get them to be personally responsible in fact altogether too many seem to want to crowd on to the buyers inferior quality, so it is for this reason we command that you do not relax the grading nor permit the regular inspectors to be intimidated in any way. "Nevertheless to get the price one has to furnish what the trade demands. . . . Altogether too many cars go to market dirty and altogether too close to the grade as far as defects are concerned. . . . the general experience has been that we have to keep looking for new customers a big share of the time as too few of the trade come back for more. "We are aware that an advertising campaign is proposed for Michigan potatoes and we are glad to see this activity, but unless better potatoes go to market, it is our opinion that advertising then is useless and a waste of money, so anything you can do to correct the attitude of the grower in this respect will be appreciated by us in particular. "Miles Nelson, director of the Bureau of Markets and Enforcement states, of the 20,000,000 or more bushels of potatoes raised annually, many thousand carloads are shipped to various states and different consuming centers of this state each year and much of this annual crop rates very well in quality compared to other good states. He states, however, that some growers and handlers have been slow in modernizing grading and packing, therefore, some of the products gets to the consumer not in the best grade, but the interest that is being created by the potato leaders of the state should result in great improvement."

Carl Denton Gets Watch Back
The following article from last week's edition of The Northville Record will be of interest to many readers of The Plymouth Mail: Police officer Jos. Denton and Mrs. Denton were besieged with phone calls at their home on Randolph street early Wednesday afternoon. Friends from Plymouth, Novi, Clawson and Northville were all anxious to inform them that the Detroit Times carried a story concerning their elder son, Carl a captain with the anti-aircraft artillery now in action in Belgium. According to the Times story, Carl was taken prisoner by the Germans but was later freed. The article reads: "WITH AMERICAN FORCES ON THE BELGIAN FRONT, Jan. 3 (INS)—Officers and men of Combat Command H recalled the defense of St. Vith today as their first clash with the enemy—a fight which nearly had a 'Custer's last stand' ending, with men waiting with homemade grenades and sharpened bayonets for the enemy's final charge. "For 36 hours all that stood between the German drive and St. Vith was Combat Command H, and everybody cooks, clerks, interrogators, administrative personnel, anti-aircraft crews and engineers—pitched in as combat troops. "SS Panzer units determined to take St. Vith captured an American armored infantry battalion command post, and locked 80 per cent of the commanding officers in a cellar. "In the meantime Capt. C. G. Denton of Northville, Mich., had taken some self-propelled artillery to the rescue of an American patrol pinned down by strong German forces and when he returned to the command post he was tossed into the cellar with the others. A German officer took his wrist watch. "A medic got back to American lines with word of the capture and a rescue mission was sent up. A tank company rolled up to the front door of the command post and blasted away. When the firing was over, the house was gone but the cellar was still there and all the American officers came out. The first thing Denton did was walk over to the German with his wrist watch and jerk it away from him. "Carl was born in England 32 years ago, coming to the U.S.A. with his parents in 1920. His education was gained in both English and American schools, and he graduated from Plymouth High in 1930, living at Farm Crest farms with his parents. Carl was employed at the Farm Crest bakeries in Detroit until he enlisted, just before Pearl Harbor. He trained at Ft. Sheridan, Ill., in Texas and California. He was last in the village on leave in May of this year. Landing in England, the captain was able to secure a short leave to visit his grandmother at her English estate. From that country, he went to France, Luxembourg and Belgium. Carl was married in October to Olive Clark of Snowden avenue, Detroit, and they have a small daughter, Suzanne. Both wife and daughter happened to be visiting in the Denton home here when the news was received of Capt. Denton's imprisonment and subsequent rescue. Mr. and Mrs. Denton Sr., have another service son, Raymond, a sergeant, stationed at Major General hospital in Galesburg, Ill.; also a daughter, Pearl, of the home.

In Spain, Christmas presents for children are left in their shoes on the eve of January 6th by the Three Kings of Cologne—Gaspar, Melchior and Balthasar. After the children have gone to sleep on this night, their parents rub charcoal on each child's cheek. The children rush to a mirror upon awaking to look for the mark as evidence that their gifts have arrived, the black mark supposedly being left by the departing kiss of Balthasar, the Negro.

Ken Corey Does Sewing on Pastor's Pants
The Rev. T. Leonard Sanders, of the Methodist church, "was all sewed up" recently and almost forgot his position as spiritual advisor to a goodly portion of this city's residents. Rev. Sanders had sent his suit to the Perfection Laundry & Dry Cleaning establishment for some repairs and when it wasn't ready as soon as he wanted it, he went down and raised "opps" with Ken Corey, proprietor of the establishment. So Rev. Sanders finally got his suit and when he was dressing hurriedly to go to hear Austin Grant speak here, he put on first one leg of his trousers, as is customary, and then, standing on one foot, started to pull on the other leg but imagine his surprise when he ended up on the floor instead. It appears Corey had decided to have some fun with the popular pastor and had sewed one of the pant legs up, loosely, of course. Needless to say, Rev. Sanders remembered his position as spiritual leader of his flock and kept his composure—we trust.

OPA Tells Why Tight Rationing
The following questions and answers explaining tighter wartime food rationing were issued today by the Office of Price Administration: Q. What foods are affected by changes in the rationing program? A. Five canned vegetables, most kinds of meat, butter and sugar are affected. Q. What canned vegetables are added to the ration list? A. Canned peas, corn, green and wax beans, asparagus and spinach now require blue ration stamps. This change went into effect at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, December 26. Q. Are canned fruits affected by the changes? A. On January 1, blue point values for most canned fruits will be reduced. Present point values on canned fruits remain in effect until that time. Q. How is butter affected? A. The point value of butter was raised to 24 points a pound at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, December 26. Q. What is happening to the meat rationing program? A. Beginning December 31, about 85 per cent of the civilian meat supply will require red points as compared with about 37 per cent at present. Q. What change is there in sugar rationing? A. All outstanding sugar stamps and home canning stamps and coupons except sugar stamp 34, were canceled at 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, December 26. Q. Were any other ration stamps canceled? A. Yes, at the same time, all blue and red ration stamps that became good before December 1944 are no longer good. Q. Why were these older unused stamps canceled? A. Civilian supplies of sugar, butter and commercially canned fruits and vegetables are at the lowest point since the war began. Meat supplies are declining. Supplies for 1945 are not large enough to permit spending of old unused stamps, which apparently were not needed at the time they were intended for use. Cancellation of old stamps at the start of the new program is a means of seeing that each consumer gets the fair share out of 1945 supplies he is entitled to. Q. What red stamps are no longer good? A. These red stamps from war book 4 A3 through Z8 and A5 through P5. Destroy them. They are not valid. It is illegal for retailers to accept them. Q. What blue stamps should I destroy? A. Blue stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through W5 in war book 4. Q. What sugar stamps are no longer valid? A. Sugar stamps 30, 31, 32 and 33 and home canning sugar stamp 44 in war book 4 are not good. All outstanding home canning sugar coupons issued by local war price and rationing boards are not valid. Destroy all of them. Q. Since more processed foods are now rationed than in December, why do I still have only 50 ration points for January, the same number as in December? A. Although five canned vegetable items are added to the ration list, blue point values for most canned fruits and tomato catsup and chili sauce will be reduced on January 1. Q. If 85 per cent of the civilian meat supply is to be rationed on December 31 as against about 35 per cent now, and butter values are increased by 4 point per pound, why don't I get more than 50 red points for January? Five red stamps worth 50 points are made good in January as against three available by giving consumers more points. If more than 50 points were given, all point values would have to be increased above present schedules. Although a greater percentage of meat is being rationed, point values for presently rationed beef steaks and roasts will be reduced two or three points per pound.

News of Our Boys

In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

STAFF SERGEANT FORBES SMITH WRITES FROM EUROPEAN CONTINENT

Mr. and Mrs. William Smith have received from their son, Staff Sergeant Forbes Smith, an interesting letter written from somewhere on the European continent. Apparently he doesn't expect to get home soon.

His letter follows:
Well here goes for another letter to you. Talk about furloughs, that is out of the question until after we lick Germany anyhow, and then I may have to go in the army of occupation but I will be working in my own line. You all want to pray for the ending of the war and the boys can all get home, and believe me that will be a red letter day for Plymouth, and some celebration. Had a nice Thanksgiving with turkey and all the trimmings and expect to have a big Christmas celebration. So you see we are well looked after.

"Haven't had much mail lately as it gets mixed up. You know the boys on the front lines get served first and we don't begrudge them the favor but will likely get it in a heap. I have been all over the world and will have plenty to tell you when I see you. I would sure like to be home for Christmas with you all and go skating on Newburg Lake. It is nice for all the folks to be enjoying themselves at home and that is the way to keep up the morale and Plymouth is certainly doing her part for the war and am glad the boys are working so hard. Regret to hear of all the casualties and they certainly have been hit hard but this is war and we have to face it. My deepest sympathies go to all the families that have suffered losses.

"Am glad to hear Keith Jolliffe is getting along so well. He was a good friend of mine. I had a nice Christmas package from Madeline and oh boy, did the gang go for it. The candy, cake and meat sure tasted good but I have not received any other packages yet so I guess will get them later. I have only been to Paris twice since arriving in France so have not much to tell you and couldn't if I wanted to.

"Paris is a pretty place and the people are nice to you but everything is high. I am working hard and studying all the time and am getting good experience in engineering to fit one for a good job after the war is over, and the boys think it won't be long now. What do you folks think about it over there.

"I like France very much but it is hard to understand them. I get along all right though. We have nothing to do at night but go to the picture show and we see some fine pictures and enjoy them. They help a lot.

"It is a fine gesture of The Plymouth Mail sending the paper to the boys and thank Mr. Eaton for me. Give my best regards to Mr. Sanders and all the folks in the church and thank them for their generosity in remembering me and also for their prayers. It is wonderful to think the folks back home keep you in memory and you don't know how much it means to us. God bless you all. I guess I will ring off. Best wishes to all my friends for a very merry Christmas and Happy New Year and that goes for you too."

Ford Co. Rushing Combat Trucks

Additional orders for approximately 30,000 combat and transport vehicles have been received by the Ford Motor Company from the government, it was announced today.

The orders cover production of universal carriers, light armored cars and jeeps, and are expected to provide employment throughout 1945 for Ford workers in several manufacturing branches. Production under former schedules would have ended in the spring and summer of 1945.

When Ford completes the jeep contract nearly 300,000 units will have been manufactured.

The new universal carrier order will bring the Ford Somerville (Mass.) branch's total production to more than 17,000 units. So far carriers have been assembled at the rate of 400 a month. The Somerville branch is the only plant in the United States assembling universal carriers which are being sent the British under lend-lease.

The armored vehicle order was broken down into two parts: light armored cars and utility command cars, modifications of the armored car. These are being assembled at the Ford Twin City branch at St. Paul, Minn., and the Chicago branch.

The armored car order now amounts to more than 13,000 units and will carry to December 1945. Under the old schedule approximately 200 units a month were to be assembled to July 1945, and the utility command cars were to be produced at about 70 units a month to July 1945.

What Readers Say About Babson

What do readers of The Plymouth Mail think of Roger Babson's recent article pertaining to the public school situation in this country?

The following communications will give you some idea of the sentiments of residents in this part of Wayne county: Editor Plymouth Mail: Referring to the heading "Read on page one of your paper of January 5, I wish to say I do agree with Babson's letter in this week's edition, very much. The part of it under the heading, "Watch High School Discipline," where he writes, "Elect trained educators who know something about the world's most delicate and intricate machine, the human brain, more brain developing courses of study which forces young people to THINK," is food for thought.

Such educators on school committees, as Babson describes, who have knowledge of and realize the necessity for the substance covered in article number sixty of his Financial and Business Outlook for 1945, would be, in my humble opinion, if I may so state, a long step toward the establishing of a National Economy, so necessary to assist human beings to live in the so-much desired state, the peace they were supposed to live in and to assist them to accomplish the end for which they were created.

I assume Elton R. Eaton is responsible for the column, "What I Think and Have a Right to Say." I would like to congratulate the writer who has the information these articles carry to the reader, and gives them, with such apparent honesty of intention. Such courage on the part of an editor these days, especially, ought to be, and I trust is, appreciated. Respectfully, J. H. Voigt.

Dear Editor: In last week's Mail, I notice you request your readers to comment on your article "Babson Says." I believe that constructive criticism of our public school system is beneficial. Few of us take the time to find out what our schools are teaching or why. Most school boards are more interested in how low a wage they can secure a teacher's services for than the qualifications of the teacher to teach the subject they are hired to teach.

I believe that every school teacher of a specialized subject should have some actual experience with the subject before they try to teach students how to apply their learning to their everyday problems after they finish their course in school.

The average student is not taught the why of anything. It is my opinion that students do not get enough arithmetic and too much algebra and geometry. This is especially true of students who are taking commercial courses and are not going to have any need for college required subjects. I believe that our local school is much superior to the average school in college preparatory courses. I notice that my children are securing more practical school work than was taught here twenty years ago.

There is no question but that we need to be more careful of the type of person who is elected to a school board. Most of the people who are really qualified to serve, however, refuse to take this type of responsibility upon them. This type of person is usually the first to kick at the work which the elected members do.

I doubt if Babson is justified in blaming the school for mental and physical disabilities. You have to look to the home and the community for the answer to these problems. I don't know what this community has ever done to help the youth from the time they get out of school until they establish homes for themselves. I remember well how I felt after I finished my local schooling. There was no place to go except places where the local fathers said you shouldn't go. I cannot see where this condition has improved in 15 years. The boys who have left our school in the past 15 years are the ones who have made up the bulk of this community's contribution to the armed forces. It may be that the lack of recreational facilities for out-of-school citizens in this community and others has been one of the principal reasons for the high percentage of physical and mental rejects.

Our community has been careless in the past about the health of its citizens. Up to quite recently we let persons with social disease and with T.B. work in our local restaurants, and we still do not have them checked often enough. Our city fathers—and mothers—still spend too much time on deciding who is going to be in charge of what. I believe their efforts could be better spent seeing that we have proper supervision and control of the sanitary condition of the premises and the physical condition of the employees in our local grocery stores and other places which handle the vegetables, groceries and meats that make up the food our people eat.

I have gone by two of the store windows in Plymouth and have seen cats sleeping on fruits and vegetables that are sold to the public. I was in a restaurant in Plymouth which had a dish washer who had a skin rash so bad that it was apparent to me over ten feet from him. I have also noticed family pets in kitchens of restaurants serving food in this community, contrary to State regulations governing these matters. It may be that this type of filth has more to do with the physical disabilities of our boys than the schools can be blamed for, as Mr. Babson has suggested.

Maybe it is time we quit blaming the other fellow and start in to clean up the conditions in our own community. After all, the nation is made up of communities like ours, and the nation cannot be better than the communities of which it is composed. Very truly yours, Perry W. Richwine.

Dear Editor: Your issue of Jan. 5—Babson's letter—request for comments. What Mr. Babson says about school boards and "Watch High School Discipline" is good as far as it goes, but I seem to see a fly in the ointment higher up. I refer to the law makers, who in response to theorists and sob-sisters abolished corporal punishment in the schools.

The following is not an indictment of Plymouth schools but is common of the average school in Ann Arbor, Detroit, or most any high school, in this part of Michigan, at least.

In the nineties, when I attended school, if a pupil was talking out loud, throwing paperwads, or tention of half the class or school room, the teacher would walk back the aisle very slowly looking up at the ceiling, and when he came opposite the culprit would grab him by the collar, whirl him around a couple of times and set him down not too lightly and walk back without a word. That stabilized that gentleman's surplus of vitality for weeks to come. The object lesson was highly beneficial for the rest.

"Oh!" you say "we don't do that way now—you can't rule through fear." When we can dispense with police, and jails, and the army can establish discipline by saying "please" probably teachers can rule by saying please also. Now days what happens? The teacher begs with please, please, if you don't want to get anything out of the lesson don't disturb the balance of the class by playing up smart. She tries to reason with him. "You might wish to go on to college and would be very sorry you did not improve your high school opportunities." He comes back with "My father gets more money than you do and he never went to college." If the matter is pressed further he comes back with "You dare not touch me or my parents will have you arrested. The law says I must attend school so you can't keep me out either."

Fortunately that kind of pupil is but a small percent and the kind that have to be knocked down and dragged out at home or who tell their parents to "go take a jump in the lake."

Not so long ago a bunch of prospective teachers from the U. of M. were sent down town to the city schools for practice teaching and training. In one school an old teacher was explaining a difficult problem on the board. She spent nearly half an hour explaining it. One of the young teachers marvelled at the lack of attention. Only half of the class seemed at all interested. She replied "I know it. I am hired to instruct them and if they don't wish to pay attention, it is their own hard luck."

A few years ago I was talking to a teacher from the Training School. I asked her how they managed out there with the problem children without corporal punishment? The answer was—"We only HALF manage. Things are getting pretty bad when you ask a 14 year old girl to do something and she waits to look over to a negro girl before replying." Another teacher from there said: "When I first came there I tried very hard to rule by kindness etc., but things went from bad to worse until one of the officers came to me and said, "You will have to make an improvement in your work or we will be compelled to let you go." I went back to the old method of teaching—corporal punishment when necessary, and soon got control of my room and things are running much smoother."

Many a poor teacher works until midnight preparing the lessons to be handed the pupils on a silver platter and at times, cries herself to sleep because "please" and burning the midnight oil will not get discipline and proper instruction.

Here is what may happen: He is sent to the principal—suspended from class for two days. Comes back and breaks his desk. Another trip to the principal and another suspension. Third time sent results in a permanent suspension from class. Now if the first time the boy had been sent to the principal, he had received a good talking to and shown a good strap, with the information that if he was sent back again the strap would have to be used for the benefit of all concerned—Mr. and Mrs. Theorist—wouldn't that be better than expulsion?

To send too many pupils to the principal acts as a boomerang. He is liable to say to the teacher— "Maybe if you would make your lessons more interesting you would get better attention." You see the teacher struggles along looking forward to the time she can turn the whole bunch over to the next grade. Thus fully 25 per cent get through school with meager knowledge, undisciplined and candidates for the ever growing ranks of delinquents.

The laws on corporal punishment should be amended so that discipline and efficient education could be re-established in our schools. I believe three months military training each summer for four years would greatly help. F. W. Hamill, An Ex-teacher.

VICTORY'S SONS

THEY HAD just cleared the English Channel on their way to Berlin when engine trouble developed. The crew of the Flying Fortress, "Poisonality Kid," knew well that unless they turned back at once their chances of ever seeing England again were pretty slim.

But Lt. Joseph Jurnecka, the pilot, wanted to go on, and so did every other member of the crew.

With sputtering motors, they reached Berlin, dropped their great bombs, and swung about for home. On and on Lieutenant Jurnecka coaxed the laboring plane, but as they neared the North Sea two engines failed. The radio operator hastily sent the position. A few minutes later, they crashed into the water. The ten crewmen crowded into the rubber dinghy and pulled away from the "Poisonality Kid," which sank within an hour.

A British naval patrol plane dropped a life raft, and communicated with the shore, but it was 24 hours later that a Royal Navy cutter picked them up, weak from exposure on the cold, tossing sea.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 19—There has been a slump in many lines of business since January first. Retailers naturally expect a letup in sales after Christmas; but their sales usually pick up again before this.

Steel Industry Steps Up

On the other hand, some basic industries are again speeding up. The steel industry has been increased to 5,000,000 tons per month; while the demand for plates, bars, etc., for heavy tanks is very great. Crude oil output is continuing to show an increase over the same period last year; it is producing the incredible amount of about 5,000,000 barrels per day! Paper products, which are in such great demand for packing ammunition for shipment, are being increased above previous requirements. Lumber products also are ahead of a year ago. Farmers received 10 per cent more money for their crops in 1944 than in 1943 and 5 per cent more for livestock and livestock products.

Various reasons are given for this slackening in general business. Some families have decided to buy no more cheap war goods; others are mixed up by the various changes in ration points; while many are thinking only of their boys abroad and have no heart to buy much; while everyone is getting tired. Certainly a cloud of some kind has shut the sunshine off Main street since the bad news came from France. However, it will be found that this cloud has a silver lining.

Farmers Are Looking Ahead

Recently several important addresses have been made to farm organizations. Farmers are being told by their friends that they must expect a severe slump in agricultural prices after the war. This fact is now "sinking in" and many farmers are rather solemn. Railroad labor, which has been riding high and handsome, is likewise realizing that railroad traffic will fall off terribly after the war. Most of the railroad employees, taken on during the past two years, will be then out of work.

Most postwar "new inventions" will be labor-saving in effect. They will result in fewer people being employed. Since the November election, even the government has had the courage to tell women workers that they will be laid off first. Bankers and investors who have been counting on a big foreign postwar demand are realizing that this is possible only by their loaning money to European governments.

Congressmen Becoming Conservative
When Congressmen were home for Christmas, they explained that most of our Allies are, more or less, communistic. These Congressmen asked their constituents if the U. S. should loan these "Allies money to start socialistic and nationally-owned industries? What has happened in Belgium, Greece and elsewhere is making many ask for what we are fighting.

People are beginning to wonder whether the talk by Churchill and Roosevelt demanding "unconditional surrender" is either Christian or wise? We are coming to realize that world peace will exist only as every nation surrenders unconditionally to God, rather than to the British Empire or to Mr. Stalin or even to us Americans.

Postwar National Income

Talk about a postwar national income of $160 billions continues. Such talk is crazy. With the inevitable postwar depression in agriculture, railroads, shipping, aviation, and all kinds of war work, there will be much unemployment. This can temporarily be relieved by more government borrowing and inflation, but would mean continued high taxes. Some day taxpayers will rebel. The only permanent cure for unemployment is for most cities to throw out their present school boards and train children to work and think instead of to play and complain.

1945 business will not be up to 1944, probably off a little more than 10 per cent. The stock market may suffer a "communistic scare" sometime during 1945, but many selected stocks should ultimately sell at higher figures than now prevailing. Commodity prices will strengthen until Germany collapses. There will be many labor strikes as the "take-home" pay declines; but hourly rates will hold up. Building prospects are especially bright. I am bullish on suburban real estate and small subsistent farms, not big farms. We have much for which to be thankful, but from now on we should think soberly. If our losses in Europe will make us do so, they will be a blessing in disguise.

A meeting of the Woman's Literary Club was held last Thursday afternoon. At the conclusion of the business meeting members and guests, numbering about two hundred, enjoyed a one-act play, "The Neighbors," written by Zona Gale. The cast included Mrs. F. A. Dibble as Grandma; Mrs. R. E. Cooper, a hard working housewife; Mrs. John Quartel, Jr., as Inez; Mrs. Harry S. Shattuck as a neighbor; Mrs. William T. Pettigill, a neighbor; Mrs. George A. William Ford of Dearborn, was in Plymouth, Wednesday, and closed a deal with Clyde Bentley for the vacant lots fronting on West Ann Arbor street and South Main street, known as the Fuller property. Mr. Ford will erect a handsome-business block upon the site, work on the same to start as soon as possible in the spring.

The new building will have a frontage of 5 feet on West Ann Arbor street, and a depth of 150 feet on South Main street. It will be constructed of brick, and the front portion will be two stories high. Mr. Ford intends to use part of the new building for offices, classroom and storage for the Fordson tractor and the various farm implements used with the Ford tractor. The building will also contain a storage garage with a capacity for one hundred cars. Besides this building there will be another separate building 40x60 feet at the rear, which will be used as a repair shop for tractors. The site of the new building is one of the best in the village, and when it is completed it will be a fine improvement for Plymouth's business section.

TRUTH ABOUT "TAXLESS TOWNS." Some people mistakenly believe that all a town needs to do to be rid of taxes is to put in a municipal lighting plant and pay the cost of government out of plant profits. Actually, a private company—operating at a small profit—can usually furnish cheaper electricity than the city can make for itself! The private company serves a wide area and has the advantage of volume mass-production of power. It pays large taxes to the city—exceeding the "contributions" made to the city by a municipally owned plant. The fairy tale of "taxless towns" in many cases is inspired by people who have engine equipment and services to sell—and want to make a profit.
