

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

Egon R. Eaton

SUPT. GEORGE A. SMITH.
It was with regret that we read the other day of the resignation of George A. Smith as superintendent of the Plymouth public schools, after more than a quarter of a century of distinguished educational services to the community. Supt. Smith has long been regarded as one of the best educational men in the state.

Under his tireless efforts, the Plymouth schools have attained an outstanding place in Michigan. He states that his health is not of the best and it is for that reason that he has decided to retire. One cannot work as diligently and as long hours as he did without suffering the consequences—and how unfortunate that is. He has given his every thought to the welfare of the school boys and girls of this community. And because of his intense attention to his work, he must now seek the benefits of a less active career.

IF I WERE MAYOR JEFFRIES.

Detroit is one of the nation's greatest cities. It has become great for many reasons, but chiefly because it counted among its citizens men of vision, men who were willing to invest their hard earned dollars in business ventures in and around the city of Detroit. Detroit's public officials, past or present, can take no credit for Detroit's greatness. That belongs with the Henry Fords, the Stairs, the Scripps, the Chryslers, the Dodges and others.

But notwithstanding Detroit's commanding position among the famed cities of the nation and world it has been in a financial mess since the days of Mayor Frank Murphy. Apparently, it has gone from bad to worse—and now Mayor Edward Jeffries is asking for financial aid from the state to help take Detroit out of the red.

If I were seeking assistance from the state government, I don't believe I would keep a lobbyist in Lansing who consorts chiefly with a group of Detroit politicians who are everlastingly doing something to create out-state ill will towards Detroit.

If I were Mayor Edward Jeffries and had the responsibility of running the affairs of such a great and progressive and rich city as Detroit, I would hate to admit that it was broke and needed assistance from its neighbors to get out of the mire.

But having made the admission, I would do everything within my power to create good will among those I expected to be the city's benefactors. I would begin my campaign of good will some years in advance. I would give kindly attention to some of the out-state problems that out-staters think are important problems. I would do the limit to help all of Michigan and I would do all within my power to see to it that the representatives from the city of Detroit did not set themselves up as a party clique, devoting their time and efforts to their own welfare and their own political security.

Surely Mayor Jeffries knew more than a year ago that he was going to ask for aid from the state. Why hasn't some effort been put forth to produce comparative information?

Veno Sacre, the Detroit city hall lobbyist, has plenty of time to do something worthwhile. Why not have him get data like this, instead of spending his time playing peanut politics?

Why has not the Mayor had his Lansing lobbyist produce facts to show to the legislature how many hundreds of thousands of dollars cities and villages spend each month in lighting and policing state trunk highways within the cities and villages?

A few years ago the writer introduced a bill in the state legislature requiring the state to pay the cities for the lighting expense of these highways. Detroit or no other city did a thing to help its enactment and it was killed because the Van Wagoner highway department didn't want it.

Why not some figures showing the heavy extra costs of paving repairs on trunk routes within city limits, which are not paid for by the state highway department; and why not some figures showing how much of the state revenue is derived from cities, villages and heavily populated townships?

Why not tell the state whether the money is desired for pressure groups or for legitimate purposes—and tell specifically what the legitimate purposes are.

Why not say to the state, Mr. Mayor, that if it can find a way to give more than $300,000 per year out of the state's general fund to northern Michigan counties to support their governments under a swamp land tax, certainly there ought to be a way to help financially distressed cities?

Why not some figures showing the extra costs imposed upon cities in order to provide transportation terminals and facilities for bus, rail and air travelers?

There is so much informative and convincing data that could be secured that we are at a loss to understand why it has not been done. To our way of thinking data of this kind would help you greatly—and it would help, too, to keep Veno Sacre, your lobbyist, out of the legislative galleries.

As we see the situation, Michigan has a more kindly feeling towards the city of Detroit than does the city's own officialdom. Many times this fact has been demonstrated. We do not think it is yet too late for Detroit's official family to reflect a little kindly sentiment towards the so-called out-state. At any rate it is well worth trying and might produce a world of good.

New Fox Hunt Set for Sunday

After their none too successful efforts last week, members of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association and others interested will go out again Sunday morning in quest of fox.

They'll meet tomorrow night in the Plymouth Hardware, 376 So. Main street, at 8 o'clock, to lay plans for the hunt.

All persons interested in eliminating this menace to the pheasant population, as well as to barnyard fowl, are urged to attend the meeting and plan on joining the hunt.

Bad weather hindered the hunters' efforts last week, according to Dr. B. E. Champe, president of the association. Only nine fox were "kicked up" and only two shots were fired as all managed to hole up safely. About 35 participated.

Only one dog was available, also making the task more difficult. Dr. Champe asked that anybody with a dog also attend tomorrow's meeting. For those interested, he said the best shot is No. 2 or BB shot.

Dr. Champe also urged that all farmers cooperate with the hunters in their efforts to erase this menace to their poultry. The hunters take great care, he said, to do no damage to property.

Air Officer Now Dropping Bombs on Germany, Names His Big Bomber In Honor of The Plymouth Mail

Somewhere over Germany there is flying one of Uncle Sam's crack Liberators—one of those big B-24 bombers. Its crew has dubbed the big bomber "The Plymouth Mail." A brief note from Lieut. Howard R. Ebersole, a Plymouth youthful air officer of a bomb squadron, says: "Will you mind, Mr. Eaton, if we name our ship The Plymouth Mail? That would be a swell handle for one of these big babies. Thanks a million for the paper. I'm getting it over here O.K.," he wrote the other day.

Here's hoping that one of the bombs dropped from "The Plymouth Mail" by Lieut. Ebersole and his crew, cracks Adolph Hitler's dome into a thousand bits.

It was the bomber that Lieut. Ebersole has named "The Plymouth Mail" that made big air news on its first mission over the Reich a few days ago. The account of this exploit sent to The Mail by the army's air force news service, was published in The Mail last week.

Approve Two Appointments

Two of the three reappointments made by Mayor Stanley Corbett to the city planning commission, were approved at the last meeting. The appointment by the Mayor of Mrs. Kate Henderson for another term was approved, as was the appointment of Horace Thatcher, but over the objection of Commissioner Whipple, the re-appointment of Elton R. Eaton was not confirmed because of the refusal of Commissioners Whipple and Lewis to support the motion of approval. Due to the death of Henry Hondorp, there are now but four members of the city commission. This condition will prevail until after the city election in April.

Merritts Get Another Card

There was another message from the other side of the world—another ray of hope—that came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt of Lilley road a few days ago.

It was a card from a Japanese prison camp, signed by their son Joe, a Bataan hero, in which he said he was well and asked his parents not to worry about him.

"The best of it is that he signed the card himself" said his father yesterday.

"We could tell Joe's writing if it was a mile away. He signed it, there is no question about that," Mr. Merritt added.

The prison card, apparently written by some Jap army guard who knew how to use a typewriter, follows:

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Merritt, 8959 Lilley Road, Plymouth, Michigan, U.S.A. Imperial Japanese Army, Philippine Military Camp, No. 11

Dear Folks—Box, letter received. Thanks. Send pictures. Hello to Mom, Dad, Margy, sisters, Yettev, Aunt Maud, Kirk and all friends. Be sure I am okay. No worry, Mom. Dad go easy. Save money. Margy Learn Bright. Love, Joe D. Merritt.

The box to which Joe refers in his card, was mailed by the Merritt family a year ago last August. It was four years ago this time when the Marines in which Joe was serving his country, were making their last, desperate stand on Corregidor.

Saddle Ridge Club Is Opened

Members of the newly formed Saddle Ridge club on Joy road Seven Miles west of Plymouth celebrated an opening last Sunday. The spirit of the old west was prevalent throughout the day in a setting of rustic western cattle corrals, a rambling ranch hotel and horse barns nestled on a wooded slope giving all the appearances of the west itself.

Under the guiding hand of Harry Mack the club was developed and formed for the purpose of bringing the traditions and fun of the west to this section of the country. Members plan to hold "rodeos" two or three times throughout the summer for their amusement and of course "rodeos" provide the main interest for the majority of the club members while at Saddle Ridge.

In addition to the hotel, dining room, lounge and barns an airport is being constructed for the use of members who are interested in flying. Complete recreation facilities are available for members and their families if they desire to spend a day or a week at the club.

Atmosphere for the opening event was provided by many of the members who attended in complete cowboy attire and western music was furnished throughout the day by the Saddle Ridge Buckaroos.

The Child Study club met at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Kennedy on Harvey street last week Tuesday. Mrs. John Mende was program chairman.

Postoffice Closes Next Thursday

The postoffice will be closed all day next Thursday, Washington's birthday, Postmaster Harry Irwin has announced.

There will be no business transacted or no deliveries made, city or rural. Only special delivery mail will be distributed.

Peels Potatoes To Be On Ship With Mate

With permission from Henry Kaiser himself, Barbara Walter, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Olsvater, of Plymouth, was able to take the christening cruise of the new ship on which her husband will be chief engineer.

Mrs. Walter made application to Kaiser for permission to take the cruise on the Columbia River. In order to have permission to go on the trip she had to have some official duty on board.

After considering the several duties on a ship it was finally decided that the kitchen was the most appropriate place for an engineer's wife. So Mrs. Walter boarded the ship at 3 a.m. to take up her duties.

Much to her surprise she found that her day's work consisted of peeling potatoes for the crew. She said afterwards that the trip was well worth the effort and she would gladly do it again. She had peeled more potatoes in one day than she'd ever done in her life.

Miss Betty Wixson, sophomore at Michigan State Normal college, has recently been elected to the Stoic society. Membership to the Stoics is based on scholarship and character. Miss Wixson is majoring in French. She is a graduate of Plymouth high school.

He's Helping To Keep 'Em Fighting

Kenneth J. Archer.

Somewhere out in the southwest Pacific, Kenneth J. Archer, a Plymouth lad, is helping to keep Uncle Sam's big battleships, carriers and destroyers "fit to fight". Kenneth is serving with the Coast Guardsmen on a Coast Guard-manned army repair ship. On call at all times, the ship that Kenneth is on helps salvage and repair battle damaged ships and equipment. He is serving as radioman second class. The Archers reside at 335 Roe street.

Plymouth Boy On Battered Liberator That Limpes Back To Base With Dead and Injured Members of Its Crew

An Eighth Air Force Liberator Station, England—Although 20 millimeter cannon-fire from attacking German fighters had killed the pilot, stunned and injured other crew members, and destroyed flight instruments, 1st Lieutenant Vincent Mazza, Naperville, Illinois, Liberator co-pilot, flew his damaged B-24 back safely to its Eighth air force station.

A few minutes before bombs away over a target at Misburg, Germany, puffy contrails were observed in the distance, and the bomber formation was alerted for enemy fighters which came on in groups of about five, firing 20 millimeter explosive shells. One shell hit the pilot killing him outright, penetrating his flak suit and leaving him slumped over the controls. Lt. Mazza fought to keep the bomber from swerving to one side into other planes in the formation.

A second wave of German fighters lobbed another shell into the nose of Mazza's B-24, and exploding shrapnel wounded 1st Lt. John C. Christensen, Plymouth, Mich., navigator manning the nose guns, and put his turret out of commission. Pieces of steel from the same shell struck the bombardier, 1st Lt. Lgo J. Lewis, Clayton, Missouri, knocking him away from the "bombsight" but though he was stunned, his flak suit saved him from being wounded.

A gaping hole in the nose of the B-24 admitted a 200 mile an hour gale which swept back through the plane. All flight instruments were rendered useless.

As soon as fighter attacks had ceased, Technical Sergeant Herbert A. Krieg, Atlantic City, New Jersey, engineer, crawled from his top-turret to the flight deck where he found the bombardier still dazed, and without his helmet or oxygen mask. He first determined that the pilot was dead and not in need of assistance, then gave his own oxygen mask to the bombardier, and called Staff Sgt. Eddie W. Goodwin, Lubbock, Texas, right waist gunner, who brought blankets forward for the stunned officer whose ears and face were already frosted from the intense cold. The radio operator, Tech Sgt. Carl E. Bailey, Ashland, Ohio, then shared his own mask with Lt. Lewis until another mask could be found taking turns with him in breathing the oxygen. Once Lt. Lewis had been attended to, Sgt. Krieg turned to the cockpit and pulled the dead pilot clear of the controls, strapping him securely in his seat with a crash belt, for 20 minutes or more Lt. Mazza had kept the plane in formation even though the body was slumped against him and over the wheel, and the rudder controls were jammed by the pilot's feet.

Lt. Christensen in the meantime had left his damaged nose-turret and gone back to the waist where Staff Sergeant Kenneth J. Brass, left-waist gunner, tended his wounded leg.

1st Lt. Frank W. Federici, another navigator, remained in the nose, in spite of the cold blast that swept in through the shattered Plexiglass. It was he who salvaged the bombs when the plane was damaged.

Husband Killed In Pacific Action Wife Advised

War is a terrible thing. It changes not only the life and sometimes the very existence of a nation—but it creates a new and bewildering future for thousands and thousands of people, especially young mothers.

No one now knows this better than Mrs. Thomas L. Armstrong of 1157 Penniman avenue, Dennis, two and a half years old, and a little daughter, Diane Lynn barely 18 months old. She has been notified by the navy that her husband was killed in action somewhere in the Pacific area in one of the recent naval engagements with the Japanese. No details were given, except that he had met instant death and presumably had been buried at sea.

Mrs. Armstrong was formerly Shirley Sorenson, a Plymouth high school graduate. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sorenson, well known residents of this city. Her husband was a resident of Detroit and never lived in Plymouth until after his marriage.

During his brief leaves from the navy he met many of the young people of Plymouth. The young couple was married in November, 1941, and he was in August 1942 when he enlisted for services in the navy.

He had been in the Pacific since last August. Previous to leaving for that area he had spent a leave of 30 days in Plymouth with his wife and children, coming to Plymouth from the Brazil area of the south Atlantic.

Tentative plans already have been made for next year's service. The new planning committee, chosen by this year's group, will be headed by Mrs. Daniels of the Presbyterian church and Mrs. Liscomb of the Newburg Methodist.

The invitation was extended by Mrs. Liscomb to hold the service in the Newburg church in 1946. However, the committee felt that because of the transportation situation, the service should be held in a local church.

An agreement was quickly reached, setting the place for next year's service in the Presbyterian church, with Mrs. Daniels and Mrs. Liscomb in charge of arrangements.

Prompt Attention In Polio Case

The one case of infantile paralysis which occurred in Plymouth last fall has received prompt attention and assistance from the Wayne County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, A. L. Lantz, Plymouth March of Dimes chairman, announces.

Assistance was on the way to the child five days after Lantz was notified of the case Feb. 3.

A letter from Abner E. Larned, Wayne chairman, said the Foundation "will be happy to assume the costs" of the necessary three physiotherapy treatments a week, at a cost of four dollars a treatment.

Rumors were rife around the city that the Foundation was falling down on the job and may have hurt the March of Dimes drive, Lantz said. However, everybody was told about the case except Lantz, who first heard of it Feb. 3.

As it is, Lantz said, the child is showing marked improvement in regaining the use of his arm which was stricken by the disease.

Final tabulation of the drive in Plymouth probably will send the total well past the $1,600 mark, Lantz said. This will exceed last year's total, when $1,084.97 was collected, by more than 50 per cent.

Xmas Picture Display Due

The window display of the Christmas pictures of family groups made for servicemen by volunteer photographers is being arranged.

The display will be in the window of the Blunk & Thatcher store early in March. Arrangements are under the sponsorship of the Service Wives. The window space is being donated.

The pictures came about as a result of a campaign by Mrs. Mabel Lorenz following a suggestion from her husband, Lt. Ralph G. Lorenz, after he had received a similar picture at Christmas, 1943.

Servicemen's families having such pictures are urged to leave them at the store before Feb. 25. The pictures should be left in envelopes with the name and address. If the negative is available, enclose it too. All will be returned.

County Primary Vote Monday

Voters of Plymouth will go to the polls Monday along with those from the rest of Wayne County to register their choices of nominees for various offices in the county primary.

Since no officials closely related to Plymouth are concerned, a light vote is forecast.

However, voters are urged to get out and exercise one of their most cherished privileges. "Eternal vigilance"—at the polls too—"is the price of Liberty."

World Unites Today in a Day of Prayer

Throughout the world, church women of many denominations today will join in the "World Day of Prayer."

They all will join in spiritual fellowship as they follow the same theme and order of service found in the world program.

In Plymouth, the active cooperation of the church women of twelve churches makes possible a two hour service in St. John's Episcopal church.

The program should appeal to every spiritually minded person in this vicinity.

Members of the Newburg Methodist church and the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian church are planning to attend.

The other participating churches are the First Baptist, Berea Christian Chapel, Calvary Baptist, Church of God, Latter Day Saints, First Methodist, Nazarene, Presbyterian, Salvation Army and St. John's Episcopal.

The service will begin promptly at 2 o'clock.

Tentative plans already have been made for next year's service. The new planning committee, chosen by this year's group, will be headed by Mrs. Daniels of the Presbyterian church and Mrs. Liscomb of the Newburg Methodist.

Pvt. J. R. Swegles Is Flown To Chicago in Cast

Pvt. J. Ronald Swegles, 22 of 42195 Ford road, who was seriously wounded last Oct. 5 in Italy, has been flown to Gardner General Hospital, in Chicago, in a cast that reaches from his chin to his feet his mother, Mrs. J. M. Swegles, reports.

Mrs. Swegles, who went to Chicago with Ronald's wife, Viola, last week to visit him, reports that the cast had been opened and was due to be removed this week. He has worn the cast since being wounded.

Swegles, who has a son, Ronald, one year old, got a bullet through his knee and, according to his mother, reports he was lucky to save his leg, which was pretty badly shattered. He was given 160 shots of penicillin, she says.

At the time he sent his Purple Heart to his wife around Christmas, Swegles said: "It is very pretty but my leg without a hole in it would look better to me."

He played three years on the Plymouth High football team. He worked at the Eloise dairy farm before being drafted Feb. 9, 1944.

The Swegles also have another son, Seaman First Class Max, 27, and three grandsons in service. Max's twin brother, Rex, is a civilian electrician employed by the Marines in California. Max's last station was at New Orleans.

Two of the grandsons, Second Lt. Dean Schiller, of Detroit and formerly of Plymouth, and Pvt. Leith Swegles, Jr., of Ypsilanti, are overseas. The third, Pvt. Duane Sherman of Detroit and also formerly of Plymouth, is soon due to go overseas, Mrs. Swegles reports.

Organize Livonia Rotary Tonight

Organization of a new Rotary Club in Livonia will be completed tonight after a meeting of the Plymouth Rotary Club in the Newburg Methodist Church hall, Newburg road and Ann Arbor Trail, William Wood announced.

The time and place of the Plymouth meeting was changed to aid in the organization of the new club, Wood said. Dinner will be served at 6:30 and Dean W. W. Whitehouse, of Wayne University, will be the speaker. All Rotarians are urged to be present to welcome the new club.

Wood, who was appointed special representative of Rotary International to organize the new club, said formal application for membership will be made following the meeting tonight. Time and place of the new group's meetings also will be set tonight.

"This is the first time we have had the pleasure of contributing this effort to Rotary International and we all have an individual responsibility," said Wood, who also is the Plymouth club's secretary, in urging attendance at the meeting.

Saved Wounded Comrade, Wins Citation

For heroism in action, somewhere in France Sgt. Gordon F. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robinson of Forest street, and the husband of the former Betty Maas, has been awarded the bronze star medal by the Commanding General of his outfit.

News of this distinguished service has just been received in Plymouth direct from the U. S. army command overseas.

It was early in the winter, according to the army notification when the company in which Sgt. Robinson is serving was attacking a French village held by the Nazis.

"During the attack a comrade of Robinson's fell seriously wounded by enemy small arms fire" said the report. "Although the area in which his injured comrade was lying was subjected to intense enemy fire, Robinson and another comrade fearlessly advanced forward to the aid of the wounded soldier."

"Disregarding the bullets which raked his path, Robinson continued on and successfully reached his comrade and succeeded in moving him to the safety of a sheltered doorway. Sgt. Robinson's display of outstanding courage in the face of severe enemy fire was an inspiration to all" read the citation.

Sgt. Robinson graduated from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1940. Mr. Robinson, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maas of Plymouth road, in Redford township, was graduated from the Plymouth high school with the class of 1941. The wedding was the culmination of a school day romance.

He entered the army in 1942 and went directly to France sometime during the fall. He is believed to be now somewhere in Germany with the 7th army.

Assistance was on the way to the child five days after Lantz was notified of the case Feb. 3.

A letter from Abner E. Larned, Wayne chairman, said the Foundation "will be happy to assume the costs" of the necessary three physiotherapy treatments a week, at a cost of four dollars a treatment.

Auto License Sales Lagging

Automobile license sales are lagging alarmingly, says Frank Rambo, manager of the Plymouth Secretary of State's office.

Less than a sixth of the normal total of full year plates have been sold so far to Plymouth area auto owners.

If prospective purchasers want to avoid long waits in line, Rambo urges that they come in and get their plates as soon as possible.

"Help is next to impossible to get," Rambo said. "And if a last minute rush materializes, we just won't be able to handle them."

Half-year plates also are now on sale.

L. B. Rice Back as AAA Manager

L. B. Rice has returned to his home community of several years as manager of the local Automobile Club of Michigan office.

Rice served as manager of the Plymouth office for a number of years before being transferred to Ypsilanti to manage that office after its manager had been inducted.

His return to Plymouth was occasioned by the Ypsilanti manager's discharge from service and return to his old position.

Harold E. Frisbie, who served as Plymouth manager during Rice's tenure in Ypsilanti, has been named manager of the Auto Club's Garden City office.

The Mother's club of Bartlett school on Canton Center road entertained the children of the school Wednesday afternoon with a play entitled "Mother Goose" which was very much appreciated by the youngsters. Following the play a valentine party was enjoyed.

DO YOU KNOW!

There is one sure way to know whether or not you have enough Life Insurance to do the job you would like it to do. It is this - Jot down a figure that represents the minimum monthly income your family would require if you should die suddenly. Then compare that figure your family would receive from your present Life Insurance.

Your Ordinary Life policies show different ways called "Options" for obtaining monthly income from the proceeds of policies you now own.

You may be somewhat shocked to find that your Life Insurance umbrella is not nearly as big as you thought it was.

Gas Violators Penalized by Plymouth Board

Several Plymouth area auto owners have had their gasoline rations suspended for varying periods by the gasoline panel of the local ration board, Chairman William Wood says.

"The gasoline panel is actively engaged at the present time checking the gasoline which is being rationed to certain other individuals," Wood said.

"It appears there are discrepancies in mileage stated in renewal and supplemental applications," he explained. "Already several violations have been uncovered."

Wood warned that severe penalties will be imposed on anyone who is evading the ration rules.

It has been found in several instances that drivers drove many more miles than they possibly could have driven on the gas allotted them by the board. This is construed as prima facie evidence of irregularities of some sort.

Wood also took occasion to laud the untiring efforts of the fuel oil panel as well as the gasoline members and to appoint nine new members to the price panel.

"Those men will be going through hell for the next 60 days," he said. "Their troubles won't let up until the weather does. With the severe winter we have been having and the oil shortage, which is more acute than ever, they have been having a tough time of it."

"Not only do they have the pressure of their friends and neighbors who want—and in most cases badly need—the oil, but they also have the pressure on the other side of the Detroit, Cleveland and Washington OPA offices."

"There are shortages. That is why we're being rationed." "Bill Cansfield, Bob Waldecker and H. T. Valrance can't be given too much credit for what they're doing," Wood concluded.

Cansfield, of Northville, is the panel chairman. Waldecker is from Canton Township and Valrance from Livonia Township.

Wood also expressed appreciation to the newly appointed price panel members who have consented to give of their time, energies and any expenses involved without any remuneration.

They must sign an oath of office, he said, and a statement that they understand they are not entitled to any remuneration for their services, either for time spent or expenses incurred.

Wood also pointed to the requirement that in his appointments he name representative citizens of all groups. Labor, business and the public all are included among the nine new panel members. They are:

Frederick H. Erb, LeRoy C. Jewell, Alfred R. West, Samuel W. Spicer, James Latture, George F. Raviler, Robert Lidgard, Mrs. Louise Granger and Robert J. Jolliffe.

Winter Hard On State Wildlife

Wildlife in Michigan's north country is experiencing the most rigorous winter within the memory of a veteran conservation department employee, Roy Semeyn, Escanaba River district game manager.

Snow depths vary considerably over the upper peninsula, being the lightest on the south side and deepest along the Lake Superior shore. There is about two feet of snow over the central part of the range with depths up to four feet in the Casino district in Alger county.

Deer are in swamps over much of the upper peninsula.

Rising temperatures and less snow over most of the lower peninsula deer range are easing conditions for wildlife. The foot-deep snow is light and fluffy and does not hamper the movement of deer appreciably.

Department game men say it is too early to predict how wildlife will come through the winter, that too much depends on conditions during the remainder of the season.

Record Sale Of Duck Stamps

Michigan's 83,554 sportsmen who bought federal duck stamps last season earned third place rating among the states. Like in the rest of the state, the sale of such stamps in Plymouth broke all records, although there was little duck hunting.

In all, nearly 1,170,000 stamps were sold. Minnesota is in first place, with sales of 95,446 stamps; California second, with 92,725; Texas and Illinois are fourth and fifth.

Issued first in August, 1934, the stamps cost a dollar each and must be purchased by persons over age 16 who hunt migratory water-fowl. Ninety per cent of the money realized from sales of stamps is used for purchase and maintenance of waterfowl refuges throughout the country, the remaining 10 per cent for administrative costs.

Freight Derails in Plymouth Yard

A split switch caused derailment of three cars of a through west-bound freight train of the Pere Marquette Railroad in the Plymouth East yards, about a mile east of the city.

The three cars, about in the middle of the train, were twisted helter-skelter but little damage or inconvenience was caused.

Passenger trains No. 3 and 103 for Lansing and Bay City respectively, were delayed a few minutes by having to back over onto the eastbound track to get by but otherwise service was not impaired.

To overcome all-wrong, it must become unreal to us; and it is good to know that wrong has no divine authority; therefore man is its master.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Plymouth Girl Tells of Red Cross Work

"What good is the Red Cross if you ask some months ago when you were requested to give a few of your dollars to this organization?"

"Why! It helps to nurse the men who have been wounded in war. It brings them aid in the hospitals and it sees to it that they get blood plasma so they do not bleed to death on the fields of battle!"

But it does much more than so extensive that it is almost beyond belief.

Read a part of a letter which follows written by Ruth Hadley, a Plymouth girl, who is with a Red Cross unit in New Guinea, and see what she says about the Red Cross and its great work for boys fighting for America and home in distant parts of the world:

"Now that I am the head of a Red Cross clubmobile unit it keeps me quite busy for there is so much planning to do. We hope to contact every man on the base and it is a big job. Naturally there are some who think Red Cross never does anything for them. So our job is to prove that Red Cross does get around to everyone. Today, for instance, we went to several new outfits. We drive in to their area, park our gayly painted cars and I try to find the commanding officer and invite him to come out and have a cold drink and a donut. He has one of his men call all the others to 'come and get it' which they do promptly. Then we urge them to take seconds and thirds and we talk to all of them.

"We pose for snapshots with different boys and generally just have fun. If the men are working we don't stay long but if they are off duty we stand around awhile and bat the breeze. Naturally we quite often find people from near home and its a case of 'did you know?'"

"Sunday we attended a ball game, served donuts and lemonade and had chow with a small but very isolated group of men. After supper, served picnic style, we put on a show and I sang a few songs. The boys don't even have movies so you can imagine how the show went over. It was brought out by a special service officer and was very good.

"We arrived home soon after dark for it was a long and very rough ride but we clubmobile girls wouldn't trade places with anyone in the world. Now that I am head of this unit I plan and do lots of other things too. For instance, our newest car is a bright blue job with a white painted fence, painted windows, curtains and shrubbery. Inside it is bright blue with touches of red and white. It looks just like a home kitchen and the boys love it. The girls did all the painting inside and some outside work, windows, etc. This week they are painting the office and store room.

"Sunday we're going to another ball game and tomorrow we'll put on a small show and have chow with another group of men, neighbors of ours. We'll also stay for the movie as a group.

A potluck supper was held in the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening preceding the first of the Lenten services.

Nichol to Talk to U. of M. Club March 3rd

Officers of the University of Michigan Club of Plymouth have announced that David Nichol, son of Mrs. Walter Nichol of this city and The Chicago News correspondent in Moscow for over two years will be the speaker at their meeting on March 3.

Mr. Nichol returned from Moscow in October and since that time has been in the office of The News in Chicago. Previous to going to Moscow he was assigned to the Berlin office of The Chicago News and was in Germany for nearly two years, but left the land of the Nazis just before this country became involved in war with Germany.

He had considerable difficulty in getting out of Germany, but after much delay he was finally permitted to go to Lisbon and from there he made his way back to America without difficulty. After spending several months in Chicago and Washington, he was sent to London for a time and then to Moscow, making the trip from England to Moscow by flying almost to Central Africa and then back north to the Soviet capital.

The U. of M. club has announced that the meeting will take place in the Masonic Temple, in order to accommodate all of the members of the organization. Tickets, at $1.75 may be obtained by paid up members of the club only through next Tuesday from Mrs. Thelma Dykhouse of 272 Ann street.

Non-members may obtain tickets after Tuesday. The sales of tickets will close a week from tomorrow, Saturday, Feb. 24. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m.

Mr. Nichol's talk will be on "Russia, as I see it." Lt. Harry C. Fischer will be toastmaster and George M. Chute will call the roll of colleges. Music will be furnished by the High School Girls' Double Quartet, under the direction of Clarence Luchman.

The Rev. Ernest Piper, Rector of St. Matthias, will give the message at the service on March 18. On March 22, the Rev. Edgar Lucas, Protestant Chaplain at the Juvenile Court in Detroit will preach. He is also executive secretary of the Big Brother movement. There will be a Good Friday service at 7:30 p.m.

Remodeled Depot Is Worth Seeing

Those who ride the Pere Marquette regularly probably will know all about this. But those Plymouth residents who don't get down to the depot often, might want to pay Emerson S. Woods, the station agent, a visit to his sumptuous new quarters. They'll get quite a treat and should experience a thrill of pride. For as a result of the recent face-lifting job which the depot underwent, Plymouth now has one of the finest small city depots in the state.

It's worth going down there, just to look at, even if you don't have anyplace to go on the train. And Woods surely will be glad to see you.

The new asphalt tiled floors, paneled walls, new furniture, remodeled exterior, inside restrooms, and forced air heating are features which any station anywhere could be proud of.

The Fort Street Union Depot where the PM trains end their trips, doesn't begin to compare with Plymouth's station for beauty, convenience and comfort.

All work on the station itself is completed, Woods says. There merely remains a little cement work and leveling off in the yard when the weather permits.

Mrs. Caroline Limback, wife of Corporal Limback who was reported in last week's Mail to have flown over 200 missions over Germany, is at present residing with her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Clark at 42425 Hamuil. Corporal Limback's parents are now living in Akron, Ohio. They formerly resided in Plymouth. The news item from overseas telling of Corporal Limback's successful missions erroneously stated that his parents were at present living on Hamuil avenue. Only his wife resides there with the Clark family.

WISHED FOR BREAD AND MILK WHILE IN FOX HOLE—HE GOT IT
Sometimes it pays to wish and wish hard. That's what Pfc. Berle Fisher of Plymouth did a few weeks ago while sitting in a fox hole somewhere along the battle lines over in Luxembourg — he wanted some bread and milk. That night he had it.
His letter tells the interesting story. It follows:
"I guess it is about time I was writing to you. I should have written before but things have happened so fast and furious since my arrival overseas that I just wasn't able to do so.
"I have surely missed getting the Mail every week; but maybe someday it will catch up with me. I hope. Anyway here's a change of address.
"After reading other weekly papers from all parts of the U.S.A. none can compare with the good old Plymouth Mail.
"My buddy and I are quartered in a house with a middle aged couple and they treat us just like a mother and dad. I can't understand a word they say but my buddy speaks their language very well so we get along fine.
"Just a few days ago while lying in a fox hole I was craving some bread and milk. In fact the thought of it was just about driving me batty and then last night the lady we are staying with made some for me. If that wasn't a God send, I don't know what was.
"Back home when I was a civilian and I wanted to raid the ice box, instead of making myself a chicken or ham sandwich, I always had bread and milk. It really hits the spot with me. Now if I could just get a good mailed milk, I would be satisfied for a while at least. Say hello to all of my friends back home for me."

WILLIAM GULDNER BACK ON COAST AFTER NAVY BOMBINGS.
Marine Private First Class William Clarence Guldner, 20, son of Mrs. Julia M. Guldner of 558 N. Harvey street, has returned to the Marine Corps Depot at Miramar, California, from the Pacific where he was serving with a motor transport unit in a Fourth Marine air wing squadron.
He was stationed at Guadalcanal and the Russell Islands, New Hebrides and Guam.
Private First Class Guldner was subjected to several bombings and shellings while based at Guadalcanal and the Russell Islands, but was never injured.
He was graduated from Plymouth high school in 1941. Prior to enlisting in November, 1942, he was an employee of the Ford Motor company, River Rouge, Mich. He was promoted to his present rank in June, 1943.

FORMER PLYMOUTH BOY WINS HONORS.
A Ninth Air Force Fighter-Bomber Base, France—For outstanding courage and tactical skill when, though low on fuel and ammunition he broke up an attack of enemy aircraft in friendly ground forces, the Distinguished Flying Cross has been awarded First Lieutenant William R. Phebus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Phebus, 1738 Second street, Wyandotte.
"Lieutenant Phebus fearlessly pressed home his attacks in the face of great odds," the citation said, "affording vital protection to his flight leader and destroying one enemy aircraft which was attacking him after his ammunition had been expended. His brilliant combat proficiency on this occasion reflects the highest credit upon himself and the army air forces."
Phebus is a P-47 Thunderbolt pilot with the 19th Tactical Air Command "Riders" group and has flown more than 60 missions against the enemy. During that time he has destroyed an unlimited amount of enemy material while flying in support of friendly ground forces.

CADET KENYON OLDS GRADUATES FROM TUCSON AIR FIELD.
Plymouth residents will be glad to know that another young man from this city has successfully completed the basic flying training course, and was graduated recently from the Marana Army Air Field, Tucson, Arizona.
He will be sent to an advanced flying school to complete the last phase of his cadet training, after which he will be awarded his silver wings as a pilot in the army air corps.
Cadet Kenyon G. Olds, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon A. Olds, 138 East Ann Arbor, attended Plymouth high school. Before entering the service Cadet Olds was employed by the Ford Willow Run bomber plant, Ypsilanti.

ANDY McCAULEY COMPLETES COURSE.
Andrew C. McCauley's son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. McCauley, 26530 Plymouth Road, was graduated recently from the Naval Air Technical training center located at Norman, Oklahoma. While at the Norman school he studied the aviation specialty field for which his recruit training aptitude tests showed he was best suited, and is now eligible to earn a petty officer rate.
The newly graduated man is now awaiting further duty orders either to sea or to a naval base.

ELSMER KREEGER WINS PROMOTION TO FIRST LIEUTENANT.
The promotion of Elsmar W. Kreeger of Plymouth from the rank of second lieutenant to first lieutenant was announced recently by Lt. Col. Robert W. Burns of Eau Claire, Wis., commanding officer of the 351st Bombardment Group somewhere in England.
Lt. Kreeger, 23 years old, a B-17 Flying Fortress bombardier, is a veteran of more than 25 combat missions over Europe. He has taken part in bombing attacks on Berlin, Ludwigshaven, Merseburg, Soest, Kassel, Rheine, Frankfurt, Nurnburg, Cologne, Stargard, Pozitz, Hamburg, Bohlen and other vital enemy installations.
For "meritorious achievement" on these attacks, he has been decorated with the Air Medal and three oak leaf clusters.
A graduate of Plymouth high school in 1939, Lt. Kreeger was a student at Michigan State Normal college before entering the army January 5, 1943. His wife, Mrs. Juanita M. Kreeger, lives at 1380 Sheridan ave., Plymouth. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Kreeger, 11645 Brownell street.

ANXIOUS TO GET HOME AND SEE SOME SNOW AND ICE.
While homefolks have been doing a lot of kicking about the snow and ice here, the hometown boys who are now wearing the uniforms of Uncle Sam's army, would like very much to be here and enjoy it.
A letter from E. C. Rohde, who is at a naval air station out at Tillamook, Oregon, where Pacific breezes blow most of the time, says:
"I thought I would sit down and write you a few lines to see how the old town of Plymouth is coming along this weather that they say you are having back there in Michigan. They say it has been kind of cold and plenty of snow. All we have up here in Oregon is rain and more rain but I can say that we had about a week of weather that was just like summer, but now it is back to its old routine again of more rain. But I will be coming home soon to see some of my friends in Plymouth and I can hardly wait till my leave starts now so I can get back home for a while to see some snow and get some ice skating in. I can't get used to this weather out here but by the way it looks I will have to.
"I want to thank you for sending The Plymouth Mail to me every week. It seems good to read about your buddies that you used to run around with before this war started. I sure hope this thing is over soon so we can get back and do the things that we used to do.
"It seems like I get my leave right after all my friends get their leave and they have to go back before I get there. My cousin Shirley Trinka had just had to report back to California and my friend Norman Livernois was home over New Years. But some day I hope that this thing will be over with and we will all be back home again."

FRANCIS BURDA WINS HIGH RATINGS IN NAVAL TRAINING.
Francis J. Burda, 26, Fireman First Class, USNR, of Plymouth has made outstandingly high grades in diesel engine repair school, his instructors at the Amphibious training base, Coronado, Calif., have announced.
Bluejacket Burda also is receiving instruction in communications and boat handling as part of his training in amphibious warfare.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Burda, of 14917 Dolphin street, Detroit, Fireman Burda entered the navy last June. He received basic engineering training at Great Lakes, Illinois, and attended the navy's diesel school at Richmond, Virginia.
Prior to entering the navy, bluejacket Burda was employed as a machine operator at a River Rouge, Mich., manufacturing company. He is applying experience gained there to his duties in the amphibious forces.
His wife, Mrs. Edith D. Burda, and their sons, Larry, 5, and Lee, 2, live at 9014 Northern avenue, Plymouth.

DONALD JARVIS NOW WITH THE ENGINEERS. OUT IN THE PACIFIC
From an island somewhere out in the Pacific comes an interesting letter from Pfc. Donald Jarvis. He says:
"I'm not much for formal writing and not much of a writer but I'll give it a try anyhow.
"I received three Plymouth Mails today at mail call, the first I've gotten since I enlisted and it was really good to read what is happening around home.
"Read quite a bit about the Western front, at least I think that is what they call it but not very much about this side of it.
"I can't say which island I'm (Continued on Page Ten)

on, but it is a pretty good place and we have all the coconuts we want and then some. I can't say how rugged it is because I haven't seen anything yet. I was a little late for Pelou. I will say it is plenty hot here—and I don't mean fighting.
"The censor will probably get quite a kick out of this letter.

"I haven't seen anyone from Plymouth here yet but I believe Jim Hirzel is on the island somewhere. He entered the Marine Corps in December 1943, and last May he was on Pelou. I'll find him yet, I hope.
"Well, I've written more than I intended and I guess that's about all there is to say so I'll say so long for awhile.
"If you have the address of any marines down this way I'd like to have them and maybe I can find some of them."

CORPORAL ALAN BENNETT WRITES FROM VICTORVILLE, CALIF.

The following interesting letter recently came to "Our Boys" page from Corporal Alan Bennett, now stationed at Victorville, California.
"This letter has a two-fold purpose. First I want to thank you all again for The Mail. It comes on every Tuesdays mail call just as regular as clock work. It sure seems good to hear all about the "Bie" little town of Plymouth.
"The second reason for this letter is that I am so mad and disgusted at a few things I'm going to let out some steam.
"The government and the army have done and are doing one hell of a job in running this war. This isn't apparent to those who don't actually work on army fields or are not in the army. Our greatest gribe is the civilians who work on every army base. In two of the fields I have been on Civilian Personal paid girls over thirty dollars a week to drive army trucks around the field. That in itself I could over look but when they put a soldier in just to ride around with her to show her the way or to act as a taxi for some GI that's too much and I start to see red. Why pay some civilian one hundred and twenty a month when nearly any soldier can take a driving test and do the same job and save the government at least fifty dollars a month. No I should not say government; I should say save you and I and every soldier and civilian taxes that not only we will be paying but our children's children will be paying. Take this case and add 20 more to it for this field and then find out the number of fields in the country that do the same thing. Go ahead and make a rough estimate of how much money the government could save if they would.

"Now if that was all I wouldn't be bothering you with this letter or at least this part of it. It is just a part of the way yours and my money is being spent. Every field that I have been at hire civilians to do a variety of jobs. Such as clerks, ordinance, supply, and other jobs to numerous to mention. All these jobs, which by the way pay very high, could be filled by four F's or limited service men. This would save Uncle Sam untold amounts of money.
"One more thing I want to mention before closing and that is the case of thousands of soldiers like myself. I'm perfectly fit for overseas duty. I have been in the two years and I have yet to see any army or navy duty for nearly four outside the United States. All present I have a job that will last as long as the field is set up for radar training. What I want to know is why couldn't some 4F be inducted and trained to take my job. Or maybe a man returned from overseas on the rotation plan be given it, and I sent over. There are many thousands and perhaps a million or two with cases the same as mine. Why can't some adjustment be made here is such a manpower shortage? ? ?
"I'll ring off now that I've blown off all my steam and let you do the thinking about the above."

DWIGHT PADDOCK TELLS OF WORK HE IS NOW DOING.

In a letter to his father, Dwight Paddock tells of the work he is now doing in the navy down at Green Cove Springs in Florida. His letter follows:
"I've been busy and I mean busy and just haven't had time to write to you. I still have a lot to do to get things in shape as it has been such a long time since I have unpacked my baggage. I suppose you have heard about the job I have been assigned to here. I've been working night and day since I got here trying to learn something about my new job. There's a big responsibility about the job so I wish I had a different one but the officer in charge of the base don't think the same as I do. I told him I had never done office work, but he seems to think I'll be o.k. on the job when I get on to it. Part of the work is answering the phones, and know answers to anything any one wants to know.
"I have to keep a logbook up to date, on anything that takes place during the day. Like boys checking in and out of the base or boys that are on report, boys on watches, see that they are on the job where and when they are supposed to be. I have to keep records on the planes in flight, when they take off, when they return. If a plane crashes I have to record it all in the books, when and where it happened, the type of plane, who the pilot is, if he was killed or injured, the cause of the crash, what the damage to the plane is and report this and report that.
"On top of this work, I have a car to drive, the job calls for the use of the car on the base and if some officer wants to go somewhere I have to take him. Sometimes I'll have to take the Captain around where he wants to go. Maybe to a military funeral or a trip to town or to some other base near by. Yesterday (Sunday) took 5 officers to church, drove the officer of the day around on the base yesterday.
"Each day there is a different officer that has this job. He don't always know what the proper thing is to do when something comes up. That's where I come in. I work in the office all the time and I'm supposed to know what to do and be able to tell him. Now do you see what I mean when I say I don't like the job? There is a lot to it and it gets on my nerves. Of course I'm just starting and it seems like a big job for me.
"This base is 27 miles from Jacksonville, southeast. Green Cove town is very small and an old town of about 2,000 two miles from here. The barracks here are nice. One guy here was born in Plymouth. I met two boys here from Trinidad. One here I went to Boot Camp with."

LETTER TELLS OF CHRISTMAS SOMEWHERE ON THE OTHER SIDE.

Pfc. Stephen J. Dely, son of Mrs. Anna Dely Maple street, recently wrote an interesting letter of the Christmas celebration he enjoyed with the army somewhere on the other side. His letter follows:
"We had a very nice Christmas. The place was all decorated and it really looked swell. There was a Christmas tree on the stage of the open air theater. Our mess hall was decorated from wall to wall. Out in front of the outside of the barracks was decorated and in front of the squadron sign, was another tree. Flood lights were turned on at night and it was a pretty sight.
"Christmas Eve we had a party in camp and I'm sure everyone had a good time. I did! A few sailors celebrated with us. Some of the guys carried their party right through Christmas Day. They are pretty sick now, you know, the old hangover.

"Our Christmas dinner was very good. I thought we had a lot for Thanksgiving. That beat it. If I wrote out all we had it would take a full page. In short, we had turkey with all the trimmings.
"In the afternoon the Polish people were brought to camp. First they were shown movies, then they were given gifts. It was quite touching, watching them receive their gifts. Especially the younger ones, they were so happy. After that they had their dinner in our mess hall. I'm sure they enjoyed the day. It was probably their first good meal in a long time.
"In the evening a gang of us played touch football. I'm quite stiff and sore now. It was the most strenuous work I had done in a long time, but it was fun.
"Last week we saw the USO show, "Happy Holiday." You probably read about it in the "Depot Echo." There were six girls and four men. It was a very good show, music, comedy, and impersonations. The movies haven't been anything to howl about. I saw "Impatient Years" and "Sensations of 1945." What sensations! A dancing horse, a bear riding a motorcycle, and a guy doing flips on a tight rope over the Grand Canyon.
"Something else about Christmas Day. They broadcast Christmas programs almost all day. The best of them was "Command Performance." It lasted three and a half hours. Practically every star in Hollywood was on it with Bob Hope, as master of ceremonies.

"I also received the Plymouth Mail December 8. Remember the article about sending inside pictures of the home to boys overseas? A couple days before I got the paper I was thinking about that. I'm sorry I didn't ask you about it sooner. Did you take any?
"Grayson Jones' mother sent me a card. She enclosed Grayson's address so now I can write to him. I've had his address before but lost it.
"Al and Stretch are okay. Al didn't have a very nice Christmas. He was in bed with high fever but "Mother Steve" took good care of him and he's up and around again.
"There's nothing much else to write except the weather has gotten a little warmer again. I hope it stays this way.
"How was Christmas at home? I'll bet I really missed something, in fact I know I did. I missed everyone more than ever. I missed the tree in the front room, and the good home-cooked dinner, and everything else that makes up Christmas at home.
"Bye for now. I hope everything is all right and everyone is in the best of health and I hope everyone had a Merry Christmas."

Design V-8 Modified Ranch House

Your New Home...

We present these plans hoping they will prove interesting and helpful to you in making plans for your future home. Please ask our assistance at any time. Complete working drawings are available for each house we illustrate.

SELDOM IS FOUND a more practical plan for a livable house than this Modified Ranch House designed for discriminating families who appreciate the maximum of comfort.

First of all, the living room connecting the bedroom suite with the kitchen-dining room group thoroughly segregates these two units so noise and clatter is minimized and cooking odors are also eliminated from the bedrooms.

The studio living room has great glass windows on two sides, flooding the room with sunlight and affording fine views. Note the coat closet quite near the front entrance door, just where it should be. The L-shaped porch extending around the bedroom end and across the front is a true Ranch House type.

An unusual feature is the linen closet with two access doors, one opening upon the small bedroom hall and the other directly into the bathroom so that needed linens may be secured from either location. Thus, bedroom linen may be stored on the hall side while linen is placed on the bathroom side.

The kitchen is large, well planned for daily service with stairs directly to the basement, which extends under only a portion of the house.

The exterior is a delightful combination of the old Ranch House style with a modern feeling; the walls covered with wide shingles and vertical boards.

Drama Club Gives 15 Plays in 20 Weeks

Fifteen performances in twenty weeks must set some kind of record or other. That is the record of Plymouth high's Senior Drama club. They have furnished entertainment for all types of clubs and programs from the Woman's Professional club to the City's Halloween party.

They produced six plays in those 20 weeks, three of which were written by the club members. At the present time the club is working on the production of "Double Trouble" written by Jack Huebler, one of the members. When asked about their plans for the coming semester they replied that they planned to double production, and probably performances would double themselves.

Free Throws

Why do all the boys in physics always play pranks on Bruce Murray?

All the students of English 12 had better learn to pronounce "poor" correctly. They say "pore".

If Gerry West cuts her hair any shorter you can just start calling her "Baldie".

It seems that the best fairy story tellers in third hour Public speaking are Jack Huebler who told "Dobey Mouse," Joyce Priebe told "Ugly Duckling," and Marie Duthoo who told the tale of "Peter Rabbit."

George V. certainly was thrilled when he was told his date was "solid".

My, some people's memories surely are blank. Connie Moncreiff could not remember her line in drama; her one and only line was "oh".

Two senior physics students do not know when they have a hole in their test-tube.

Ice tea's origin was the "Boston Tea Party." So Mr. Latture claimed recently as he explained to his government class that at the "Tea Party" one of the colonists fell overboard and swallowed some of the harbor water that was saturated with tea. Thus we have ice tea.

Spring is here! The calendar says no but ask Bob and A. Cooper.

Here and There

The Senior Drama club presented "Tit for Tat" for the Service Men's club on Feb. 13 and the play "Double Trouble" for the Ladies Auxiliary at the Methodist church, Feb. 14.

Pauline Wilson and Phyllis Makepeace were guests of Kay Fisher Saturday night.

New Band Members

Of the seventh graders who passed the Music Intelligence and Talent test with an above average score, fifteen pupils have procured instruments and are now studying. Seven others have signified their intention of becoming members of the band. Those who have acquired clarinets are Jane Pierce, Edward Klinski, Lois Ebersole, Tom Hirzel, Jane Stremick, James Law, Constance Pascoe. Those who have saxophones are Carol Liagard, Fity Zink, Barbara McIntosh, Laura Gustin, and Barbara Groth. Two baritone horns have been secured by Bud Meyers and Sheldon Fulton. Ray Greenlee has obtained a trombone. Those who have expressed their desire to become members are Joan Gillis, Walter Hammond III, Cass Hough, Glenadeen Stapel, Janet Swain, Richard Fenton, and Jerry Fallot. Mr. Luchtman thinks this is very good for one class.

To date, the Michigan conservation commission has approved purchase of 16,638 acres of recreational lands in southeastern counties.

Forty-Nine Pass Talent Test

A Music Intelligence and Talent test has been given to all children in the seventh grade, 49 of whom passed with an above average score. All these seventh graders are being given the chance to join the band. Special arrangements have been made to secure instruments under a three-month rental plan whereby each child can have the instrument of his choice, and the one best suited for him, for a three month's trial. Children interested should fill out a blank from Mr. Luchtman by February 9. For further information call Mr. Luchtman during the day at 2, or any evening at 1286-W.

Class News

If you see all the seats empty in Mrs. Bixler's first hour Spanish class don't be surprised. Just look around at the boards and you'll find the class bravely struggling on with the subjunctive mood. They have taken to the board so they can't hold the class responsible for the paper shortage.

Miss Lundin's Homemaking III classes are discussing department, school, and community projects. Each girl is required to complete a project in order to finish her course and must hand in a written plan before she starts. Members looked at material in Taylor and Blyton's to see what types of goods are available.

Classes meeting in room 21 take turns cleaning and arranging the living room.

In World Geography there is a definite increase in number of pupils due, according to Mr. Stad-miller, to new interest through the war in foreign countries. His class enjoys doing maps, and some of the students bring letters from friends or relatives in other countries which help a great deal in bringing out characteristics of these countries.

The World Geography class is studying the evolution of transportation and communication. They are now drawing maps of the United States and putting in the regions where various crops are grown. They also are making drawings of the stone age, evolution of weapons, and evolution of transportation.

Body Not Found in Senior Play

Those who attend the Senior play "The Last Warning" on March 8 and 9 will see something new under the sun. The plot is based upon a suspicious death where the body of a man is never found. One of the most unusual characters is a chorus girl, Evelyn Henderson, played by Connie Moncreiff and Beverly Broman. ### Service Men Talk to Classes

Albert "Red" Miller, former resident of Plymouth now Chief Machinist Mate in the United States navy, paid a very unexpected visit to Miss Feigel last week. "Red," as he is known to all his Plymouth friends, has been in two major battles, and seen and been on many islands such as Guam and the Aleutians. "Red" for the last two years has been a diver on one of Uncle Sam's submarines. He consented to talk to Miss Feigel's history class but instead just answered questions the students asked.

Another student formerly of Plymouth high school, Gerald "Jake" Shoemaker gave a very interesting and informative talk to the Hi-Y February 2.

Ten Soldiers Get Diplomas in June

Mr. Dykhouse has announced approximately ten students who left high school to join the services will graduate in June with credits earned in service. Ivan Campbell, former football hero, has completed his course at the Armed Forces Institute. William L. Wood, an all A and B student, has also finished his high school work there. Robert Weaver who concluded his work at the American School, in Chicago, has been injured and received an honorable discharge. About seven other fellows now in service, will also receive their diplomas as high school graduates next June.

Senior Sketches

Joining the nurses cadet corps is the ambition of Mary Helen Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Swanson of North Mill street. She is taking a college preparatory course. Her hobbies are reading everything she can find and collecting souvenirs. She has been in the French club, Hesco club, and on committees for the Senior dance, J-Hop Senior Annual. She also likes sports. Mary Helen's pet peeve is girls who always talk about boys.

Robert, son of Winnifred and Edward W. Rienas, Fair Ground avenue, is taking a college preparatory course. He has played four years of basketball and two years of baseball. Sports are his hobby. "Girls who lol over fellas" are his pet peeves. Bitterscotch cream pie alamide is his favorite dessert. He plans to join the navy.

Marcella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy, Harvey street, is taking a commercial course. She was on the J-Hop committee and secretory of her ninth grade class. Collecting movie magazines is her hobby. Her pet peeves are "people who try to be something they aren't" and anklets with high heels. Vanilla ice cream is her favorite dessert. June Allyson is her favorite movie star. She plans to go six months to a business college in Ann Arbor and then get a job as private secretary.

Rosemary Ann Miller is the daughter of Frank and Lucille Miller of Sheldon road. Collecting souvenirs is her hobby. Her nickname, which also is her pet peeve, is "Rosie." Listed as her accomplishments are Girl Reserves, Hesco, Pilgrim Prints, Library club, Junior Red Cross, member of the J-Hop publicity committee, decorations committee for the Prom, chairman of the Senior Annual biography committee, and one of the cast for the freshman one-act play. Rosemary is pursuing a college preparatory course and after college plans to enter Mercy College of Nursing.

An all "A" student. That's George Waters, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Waters of Auburndale, Rosedale Gardens. George is on a college prep course and has just been chosen a Junior Rotarian. Among other things he has worked on the Senior Prom committee; been in the Senior play; a member of the Hi-Y and of the Senior Drama club. When asked his hobby he replied, "Gee, I don't have one." Nevertheless judging by the way he speels off Spanish he could be holding out on us. His pet peeve is "baggy sweaters." George plans to enter the navy after graduating this June.

Pfc. Rocky Smith in Hospital Again

Pfc. Rocky Smith, of 363 North Main street, who was wounded last August in France and wears the Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman's badge, has been hospitalized again his wife, Ellen, has learned.

Smith suffered the serious affliction of trench foot, which results from freezing the feet and is aided and abetted by the dampness. He was hospitalized Jan. 14 and since has been flown to a hospital in England.

Mrs. Smith had a letter from him last week saying he is getting along fine and is well on the road to recovery. The War Department telegram said that Smith had been "injured in Belgium," leading Mrs. Smith to believe it occurred during the breakthrough.

Smith was drafted in September, 1943, and has been overseas since last June. He has a son, Dennis, 2.

In 1938 the forward-looking leaders of Bad Axe asked Detroit Edison engineers to provide the community with better street lighting. And they got it: modern directional luminaires . . . twice as much light . . . more than threefold improvement in visibility . . . all at a remarkably small extra cost per year because of the higher efficiency of larger lamps!

And the engineers solved the problem of that alley behind the main street. They placed 6000-lumen overhead lamps, where the alley intersects the side streets, thus (a) lighting the alley and (b) the parking areas off the main street; (c) building up light intensity approaching the main street; (d) helping to promote business activity on the side streets.

The residents of Bad Axe are enthusiastic about their street lighting, which protects children and pedestrians . . . does the motorist a good turn . . . helps merchants . . . and gives additional sparkle to the town.

How is the street lighting in YOUR community? Our engineers will be glad to discuss a postwar plan now.

VICTORY'S SONS

OR 48 HOURS Sgt. Charles E. "Commando" Kelly fired every weapon known to infantrymen of the Germans besieging his storehouse. It was a three story building in Avila, near Salerno, Italy. Sergeant Kelly found himself alone but surrounded by stacks of munitions.

As soon as Kelly exhausted the supply of cartridges for one type of gun, he turned to another. In one blistering hour he fired 3,000 rounds of machine gun bullets. He used Tommy guns, rifle grenades, bazookas and even an anti-aircraft gun. Still the Germans came on. Finally there was nothing left but 60 mm. mortar shells, and Kelly had no mortar.

Nothing daunted, he pulled the safety pin and hurled the three-pound shell 50 yards. It exploded like a hand grenade, killing and wounding. Twenty times Kelly tossed the shells, halting the enemy until American reserves arrived and relieved him.

For holding an important position and killing 40 Germans single-handed, "Commando" Kelly was decorated, with the Congressional Medal of Honor—the first enlisted man in Italy to receive this highest award.

Serg. Charles E. Kelly, of Pittsburgh, Pa.

"AN EGG EVERY DAY AND NO MOULTING LAYOFF IS OUR SLOGAN SO FARMER BROWN CAN BUY MORE WAR BONDS"

Babson Park, Mass., Feb. 16. — At first thought it would seem impossible to buy General Electric or any other stock on a given day for perhaps 20 per cent less than its quotation in our daily newspaper. Yet there are times when this can be done if bought in conjunction with other good listed stocks at the same time. To do this you must buy the stock of an Investment Trust. But first let me explain the difference between the two groups of Investment Trusts.

Open-End Trusts

These trusts are often limited to owning certain groups of Securities. Some of them buy only bonds; others buy only listed stocks which pay dividends; and others confine themselves to definite industries such as the railroads, or the utilities, or the insurance. The total quantity of securities which they hold may increase or decrease, according to the amount of money the Trust obtains from or refunds to its shareholders; but the relationship between the securities held for investment and the shares outstanding usually is stable. In other words the managers of the Trusts do not exercise much discretion unless the Trust Agreement specifically gives them such.

When salesmen call upon you to sell you some shares in an Investment Trust, it usually is an Open-End Trust. If you invest $10,000 the Trust uses this $10,000 in buying a diversified list of stocks according to its charter. When you sell your shares, you sell back to the Trust. The Trust theoretically sells the proper portion of its diversified list of holdings, and you get approximately the current value. In purchase or sale, or in both cases, you, the customer, pay a "loading charge" of from 5 per cent to 7 per cent to take care of the salesman's commissions, etc., and the expenses of routine business and management are deducted before distributing dividends. These Open-End Trusts are usually honestly run, and some provide excellent diversification except as to management; but if you are willing to buy and take care of your own securities, coming yourself to a list selected by a careful investment advisor, you should save money by not bothering with an Open-End Trust.

Closed-End Trusts

These are Trusts with a definite capitalization which does not change when shares of the Trust are bought or sold by investors. When you buy the shares of a Closed-End Trust, you do not buy them of the Trust but through a Stock Exchange from someone who wants to sell. Similarly, you sell the shares of a Closed-End Trust not back to the Trust, but through a Stock Exchange where your broker finds some one to buy them. This means you might lose money when selling at a greater discount from each share's asset value than when you bought; but conversely, you are likely to get some bargains when buying such shares.

For instance, your broker could give the names of two or three Investment Trusts—where the market value of the holdings is over 20 per cent above the price which you would need to pay for the stock of the Investment Trust. This means that by buying such Trust stock you indirectly buy at a big discount the stocks which it holds. Why more people do not avail themselves of these bargains is beyond me.

S.E.C. Commended

I can understand why it "gets the goat" of successful mature businessmen and experienced lawyers to have to go to Philadelphia and "sit on a hard bench" awaiting to get the approval of some young chap who perhaps never owned a bond or share of stock. It also is probable that the Commission is far too slow and perhaps too fussy about crossing T's and dotting I's. On the other hand, the Securities & Exchange Commission is every year saving investors hundreds of million of dollars.

The Commission gives special attention to Investment Trusts. No more raw deals can be pulled off as were done during the "good old days." Unscrupulous persons, in the position of Investment Trust Managers, can no longer sell to themselves the good securities and sell to the Trust questionable ones which they own. That day is over. The Commission also watches carefully to protect investors when Trusts are finally liquidated. The fact alone should make the stocks of Investment Trusts some day in real demand. This applies both to the "Open-end" and "Closed-end" groups. Both have their advantages and disadvantages,—like everything else in this world.

Commission Asks Tax Revision

The city commission, at its last regular meeting, instructed City Manager Clarence H. Elliott to write a letter to State Senator Clarence Reid and State Representative Elton R. Eaton urging return of half a cent of the sales tax revenue to cities and villages.

The commission disagreed with the Governor's Tax Study Advisory committee, which advocated reducing the tax by half a cent and permitting the municipalities to levy a half cent sales tax of their own.

Many cities, Plymouth included would be unable to levy such a tax, or would find it too involved and complicated to be practicable, the commission said.

The commission agreed with the tax committee that the highway
