

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

Evan R. Eaton

WHY BE SURPRISED?

Surprised, were you, when some 25 or 30 members of the legislature signed a bill asking for $5 per day expense money while the legislature is in session.

You shouldn't be. Promoted and circulated by Detroit New Dealers, the bill is just one of those things which have come along at every session of the legislature since Roosevelt went to town on his campaign of fake promises back in 1932.

The writer was asked to sign the bill the other day. We refused.

The one who requested my signature was a new member of the house, elected in last fall's mass voting from the city of Detroit.

Those who are strongly backing the measure are chiefly the legislators from the city of Detroit, where they elect legislators by the hit-and-miss system of ballot marking.

We are not always enthusiastic about the way any so-called rural legislators vote—but on the whole they are a pretty good safeguard for the state of Michigan. The proposed pay boost will not pass, because "rural" Michigan is against the plan of the Detroit legislators.

Frequently we have told these New Dealers that every man who becomes a candidate for a place in the legislature knows before he is nominated and elected just what the state pays for this service. He does not have to run for a legislative position unless he wants to.

Most candidates generally run for a place in the legislature because of its wide opportunities for public service, and not because of the pay involved.

If a person does not seek a legislative post for the opportunities it offers to be of service to his neighbors and fellow citizens, then he should not run for it.

The intent of the voters of Michigan has many times been expressed on this legislative-pay question.

And there is no use in Detroit New Dealers or any one else in trying to convince the people of Michigan that they are wrong on this subject.

The LEGISLATURE must FIRST CONVINCe the people of Michigan that they are worthy of their hire. When that is done, to my way of thinking, there will not be much question as to the pay business.

PAYING THE PENALTY.

If the legislature within the next two or three weeks should approve a proposed constitutional amendment I have introduced, you will have an opportunity at the next state election to decide whether seats in the Michigan state legislature can be filled by men or women convicted as grafters.

During the few extra minutes I have had in Lansing this winter, I have spent much time in Michigan's world famous law library, reading the constitutions of other states. I was seeking information as to how other states in our Union treat men who have betrayed a public trust and sold their votes for dirty dollars.

As I read over these basic laws of the states, I found where EVERY one of them that I checked had a lifetime disqualification for a public official convicted of graft from ever again holding public office.

So I prepared and introduced a proposed constitutional amendment for the state of Michigan.

Last week the committee to which it was referred, conducted a hearing upon the proposal—and voted unanimously to report it to the floor of the house.

I am wondering, the same as you, if there will be those in either the house or senate who will oppose it. We'll know soon.

A QUICK DEATH.

It didn't take the legislature long to dispose of that bill which would have permitted oil promoters to drill for oil in the bottom of the lakes and rivers of Michigan or along the shores of the Great Lakes. Some three weeks ago when this measure first came on the calendar, few people either in the legislature or in Michigan knew that such a thing was even under consideration in this state.

Michigan has spent millions of dollars relocating roads and establishing parks and doing other things to make attractive its vast fresh water shore lines.

As a result of this effort, the tourist trade has become one of the greatest financial assets the state has ever had.

What would happen to it, if the beautiful sandy shores of the Great Lakes were covered with a slimy oil refuse from an oil field drilled along the shores of the lakes?

You know and I know.

But it isn't going to happen. The other day when the bill was reached on the calendar, it was quickly referred back to committee, where it will be buried, as it should be.

HERE'S A REAL ONE.

You've heard a lot about pressure groups, haven't you? But did you ever hear about the drain commissioners' pressure group?

No, probably not. And you will be surprised to know that it is one of the most energetic and one of the most powerful in Michigan.

Try and end one of the drain rackets if you can! You'll have these fellows swarming on Lansing in droves.

Here's one public nuisance that should be abolished as quickly as possible, but it is going to take a lot of time and steam to do it.

HELPING THE TEACHERS.

A Republican legislature last week liberalized retirement benefits for 40,000 Michigan teachers, at a probable annual State cost of $2,500,000 to $3,000,000. It was a worthy decision, too long delayed.

THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

Vol. 57, No. 29

Plymouth, Michigan, Friday, March 23, 1945

$2.00 Per Year in Advance

Will Speak At "Wild Life" Fish Dinner

P. J. Hoffmaster, Director of Michigan's famed conservation department who will speak at dinner of Plymouth Conservation club on April 4.

Plymouth Lad Lives Through Hell on Iwo Jima

Raymond Rogers, a Plymouth lad, son of Mrs. Andrew Powers, 43065 Joy road, went through "hell" on Iwo Jima, and has written his mother that he is still alive to tell about it.

In probably as dramatic a letter as ever came out of a fox-hole on a Pacific ocean island, Raymond told of the horrors he went through.

Over 20,000 American boys were killed or were wounded in the three weeks' long fight to take this little dot in the Pacific which means so much in America's fight against Japan.

Raymond, a former Plymouth high school student who has a host of friends in this city, wrote to his mother as follows:

"I wrote you a few lines the other day telling you I was wounded on Iwo Jima. You'll probably receive that letter with this one. Did the Navy department notify you yet that I was injured? I'm not very bad so don't worry."

"Words can never describe the hell that existed on that island. Each evening we silently prayed in our shell holes that we would all be together the next evening. Every evening in those shell holes there were fewer of us. My two dearest friends died in my arms."

"I prayed that Ilene and Jimmie would not have to go through life saying their brother had been killed in action. I now realize my prayers were answered. I shall live again. God, I am thankful."

"Will you do a little favor for me? Have Mr. Jessup over for dinner some time and tell him I wrote to you and said that pistol he gave me really did a great job. My rifle got so full of dirt it wouldn't fire and when we engaged the Japs in close fighting his pistol saw me through and alive."

"I'll write you again as soon as I rejoin my regiment. Write soon and tell everybody I'm okay and that I'm anxious to hear from them. There should be quite a bit of mail waiting for me."

"Please, don't worry about me and forget about Iwo Jima. I'm alive, resting up good and eating enough to feed three people. Thank God your son still lives."

The 45 caliber pistol to which he refers in his letter was given him by Morton Jessup, record clerk of the Detroit House of Correction. It was carried through World War I by Mr. Jessup, who is delighted to know that the trophy he has kept for over a quarter of a century has saved the life of a Plymouth boy in this world war.

Elect Baker C. of C. Head

The somewhat unusual procedure of electing new members of the board of directors to the principal offices was enacted at the last meeting of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce's board.

G. W. Baker, of Plymouth Tube; Garnett Rush, of Wall Wire; and Jack Palmer, of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co., were welcomed as new members of the board and immediately elected to head the organization.

Baker was named president, Rush, vice president and Palmer, secretary-treasurer.

The meeting was presided over by Herman Bakhaus, retiring president. Harry Davis was nominated as president first but declined the honor due to press of business.

The president will announce the new committees at the next meeting, a week from next Thursday.

Wild Lifers Ready for Annual Fish Banquet

There will be exactly 300 in attendance at the annual fish dinner of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association Wednesday evening, April 4, when Director P. J. Hoffmaster of Michigan's Conservation department comes to Plymouth to address the Association members.

The seating capacity of the Masonic Temple will take care of that many without unnecessary crowding. There will be no more or no less.

President Brick Champe stated yesterday that not one ticket more than 300 would be sold. It will be recalled that six years ago when the club held its annual fish dinner in the Mayflower hotel, a slip resulted in some 400 being jammed into the hotel dining room for the dinner with another 300 or 400 who couldn't even get into the hotel. That will not happen this year.

The committee in charge of the arrangements is composed of William Morgan, B. E. Champe, Jack Taylor, Harry Rackham, Ernest Henry, and Charles Messmore.

They say that there will be plenty of fish for everybody—and fried in just the way a fisherman likes to have his fish fried. The banquet will begin at 7 o'clock.

Director Hoffmaster will discuss many of the problems now facing the department.

Following the banquet the annual election of officers will take place.

Two More Give Lives In Action

Pfc. George D'Haene, James Sheppard Die in the Philippines

Pfc. George D'Haene

Two more Plymouth boys have made the supreme sacrifice for their country, relatives have learned during the last week.

The two, both of whom were killed in action in the Philippines, were Pfc. George D'Haene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D'Haene, of 112 North Harvey street, and James Sheppard, cousin of Brock Austin, of 8932 Fremont street, Livonia Township.

D'Haene, a graduate of Plymouth High School in 1942, was killed in Manila on Feb. 26, his parents were informed in a telegram from the War Department Sunday.

Sheppard, a three-sport star who was graduated from Plymouth High in 1943, was killed on Luzon on Feb. 7, the War Department telegram stated. Sheppard's parents and sister, Frances, have moved to Clarksville, Tenn.

D'Haene, who was 21, had been in service since March 6, 1943, and had been overseas 18 months. He was with the 43rd Construction Engineers.

Besides his parents, D'Haene is survived by one brother, Jack, 17, who entered the Coast Guard March 1, and a sister, Marcella, 12. Jack, an apprentice seaman, is stationed at the Manhattan Beach Coast Guard station.

Before entering the service, George had worked at the Ford Rouge plant. He had majored in industrial course at Plymouth High School.

Letters to his parents indicated he had been in New Guinea and Australia as well as several other South Pacific areas before taking part in the Philippines campaign.

His unit also had received a presidential unit citation and a meritorious plaque for its work building airstrips under fire.

Sheppard had lived in Plymouth about six years prior to entering the service. He was a pitcher on the baseball team three years, played halfback on the football team three years and was a basketball guard two years.

He formerly lived with his parents and sister at the Fremont street address.

Local Theatres Tops The List

Top figure in the March of Dimes in Plymouth came from Harry Lush of the Penn theatre and the Penniman-Allen. The contribution to this worthy cause was $815, the highest raised by any place in this area. It was nearly half of the entire amount that was raised in Plymouth.

Chairman A. L. Lantz was elated over the success of the drive, the amount being the largest ever collected in Plymouth. Last week's report of the drive, through a typographical error, resulted in the collection made by Mr. Lush in the two theatres being far less than what the correct figure of $815 represents.

Three More Boys Leave For Service

Three Plymouth boys are included in the 16 who will be inducted from the Plymouth Selective Service board Monday into the nation's armed forces.

They are Robert Bingley, of 11731 Merriman; Lawrence Burnette, of 41571 Schoolcraft, and Mark H. Everett, of 11836 Haggerly. The remainder are from Detroit, Flint and out of the state.

Heart Attack Claims Fred D. Schrader - Funeral Services Set for 3:00 Today

Sudden Death Shocks Entire Community

Funeral services will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the funeral home he founded in 1909 for Fred D. Schrader who died unexpectedly Tuesday evening.

Mr. Schrader, a lifelong resident of Plymouth and one of its best known business men, died in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, shortly after officiating at the funeral of George Hale.

He had suffered a heart attack at the Riverside Cemetery just after the close of the funeral, the second of the day, from his establishment.

Although he never held public office, Mr. Schrader was active in all civic affairs, giving untiringly of his time and efforts on behalf of his native city.

Many landmarks stand by which he will be remembered for many years to come. Besides the present beautiful funeral home which was built in 1916, he was one of the active leaders and founders of the Mayflower Hotel, of which he was president.

Mr. Schrader, who was 69 years old, had been in not too robust health since his son, Lt. Edwin, entered the Navy.

He started in the furniture business back in 1907. Later in 1909, he added the funeral business, at which time he established one of Michigan's first funeral homes, later abandoning the furniture business to devote his full time to funeral directing.

Active in Masonic and Shrine affairs as well as the Rotary and Hi-12, Mr. Schrader also was a leader in the campaign to build the Masonic Temple, another monument to his efforts.

He also was a past president of the Michigan State Embalmers' Association and had been most interested in the work of the Salvation Army in this city. He had served many years on the boards of the Building & Loan Association, The Northville Fair Association, The Plymouth United Savings Bank and the Plymouth Improvement Association.

Mr. Schrader was born Aug. 21, 1875, on the Schrader farm in Canton Township. In 1903 he married Sarah Maude Patterson, daughter of Daniel Patterson, in Plymouth.

His hobby was farming on his 300 acres, on west Territorial road, where he kept several head of buffalo as an attraction for several years. He also owned much property in the city.

The services will be conducted by the Rev. T. Leonard Sanders, of First Methodist church, and the Rev. Henry J. Walch, of First Presbyterian church. Burial will be in the family plot in Riverside Cemetery.

Besides his wife and son he is survived by two daughters, Evelyn Schrader and Mrs. Gladys Prescott; two grandchildren, Edwin Schrader, Jr. and Sally Prescott; a brother, and two sisters.

Evelyn Schrader, who has been assisting her father for the last two years, will carry on the business, with the same capable staff until the return of her brother, Edwin who is now serving in the Pacific.

Out of respect to the Schrader family, all business places will be closed from 3 to 4 p.m., states G. W. Baker, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Plan Benefit For Wounded Boys

The Rosedale Gardens Woman's club will give a benefit card party on Saturday evening, April 21 at 8 o'clock in the Rosedale Gardens club house. The proceeds of the party will go toward the purchase of a plastic hand for a soldier.

The party will be sponsored by the Rosedale Woman's club, with Mrs. Ernest F. Bentley as chairman. Anyone wishing to assist in this worthy project may call Livonia 2017. It is hoped that there will be an excellent attendance because of the worthy purpose of the benefit. Every penny raised will be expended to help some wounded veteran of this world war.

Health Officer Orders Dog Ban

Health Officer Luther Peck decreed that from today on all dogs in the City of Plymouth must be kept on a leash or confined to the property of their owners.

In the last few days two children have been bitten by dogs running at large and because of the great number of complaints received by the health department the order was deemed necessary.

One of the chief complaints made by the people to Dr. Peck has been of dogs tipping over garbage cans throughout the city.

According to the decree issued by Dr. Peck, appearing elsewhere in this issue of the Mail, there are no exceptions to be made and vaccinated or licensed dogs are included in the order.

Will Recruit WACs In City

Sgt. Jane Clark, of the WAC, and Sgt. William Wood, of the Army, will be in the Plymouth Hardware Co. store all day today for the purpose of explaining the WAC program to any women interested in enlisting.

They'll be prepared to take any enlistments. Plymouth is campaigning to recruit a platoon of 15 WACs by March 31. All eligible women, between the ages of 20 and 50, are urged to stop in and learn about the WACs.

Garden Campaign Starts

Under the direction of the Plymouth Farm and Garden club, this city and vicinity will conduct another victory garden campaign this year—probably much more extensive than ever before, according to an announcement just made by Mrs. L. R. Von Stein, president of the organization.

The drive to induce every one to have a big garden this year will be intensified because of the fact that the need for food during the coming fall and winter will be greater than ever before.

Announcements from Washington have indicated how serious the food shortage will be—and those in a position to know, hint that it will be even more serious than news reports from the nation's capital indicate.

The Garden club of this city is seeking vacant lots that people may be willing to offer for this year's garden campaign as well as names and addresses of those who desire to plant a garden but do not have a garden plot.

Mrs. Von Stein states that the city has been divided as in past years in four divisions, each one of the city precincts comprising a garden division.

Precinct chairmen will be: Precinct 1—Mrs. Clarence Moore, phone 522.R. Precinct 2—Mrs. Otto Beyer, phone 633. Precinct 3—Mrs. C. E. Elliott, phone 1147-W. Precinct 4—Mrs. Thomas Moss, phone 193-J.

If you have a lot you are willing to offer to this year's victory garden drive, just phone the chairman of the precinct in which you live.

If you desire to have a garden plot, phone the chairman of your precinct.

It is urged that you grow the kind of vegetables which you can use during the growing season and can for fall, winter and spring use the surplus crops from your garden.

The situation is so serious that it is urged you take immediate action now in planning your victory garden.

Do your part in helping to keep the nation from facing the most serious food crisis it has ever had.

Red Cross Passes Quota In Drive

The Plymouth Red Cross campaign has passed its quota of $8,960 and now is aiming at its last year's record of $11,000.

A late lag in contributions has alarmed the local committee, however, and they are worried that Plymouth might not pass its last year's total unless contributions speed up between now and the end of the month, when the campaign closes.

Those still wishing to contribute may call Pauline Peck at 175.

The Township campaign proved a success, Mrs. Esther Powell, chairman, reports, exceeding last year's total by $12. A total of $1,274 was collected.

Contributions were received from 322 of the approximately 750 homes in the Township, Mrs. Powell said. About 50 per cent of the homes contribute at their places of work, she added.

Those conducting the house-to-house canvass were: District 1—Mrs. William Rose, chairman; Mrs. Iva Pint, Mrs. Ray Jodge, Mrs. M. Wellbaum, Mrs. Willard Lickfield, Mrs. Angie Junk, Mrs. Warren Bassett, Mrs. William Rose, Mrs. Grace Jarvis, Mrs. Vera Hirtzel.

District 2—Mrs. Vernell Hitt, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Hitt, Mrs. Velma Jewell, Mrs. Sydney Patton, Mrs. Linden Teboe, Mrs. Mildred Burgett, Mrs. William Kreeger, Mrs. D. McMan, Mrs. Ruth Krump, Mrs. James Norman, Mrs. Evelyn Fischer, Mrs. Wallace Lauer.

District 3—Mrs. Robert Wiloughby, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Gates, Mrs. Carl Caplin, Mrs. Kenneth Corey, Mrs. Heon Ziegler, Mrs. J. Scott Wilson, Mrs. Carl Martin, Mrs. Therese Jamieson.

District 4—Mrs. Miller Ross, chairman; Mrs. Lorena Hubbs, Mrs. Fred Schaufele, Mrs. Julius Saner, Mrs. H. Withey, Mrs. Clinton Gotschalk, Russell Walker, Mrs. Olive Amrhein, Mrs. Albert Plummer, Mrs. Russell Powell, Mrs. Gladys Stacey, Mrs. Margaret Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Dougan of Herald street announce the engagement of their daughter, Martha, to L. A. C. Gerald Murphy of the Royal Canadian Airforce. Mr. Murphy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Murphy of Sarnia, Canada.

Workers "Shoot Craps" Men In Army Get Shot

(By Gene Alleman)

This article is not anti-labor. Nor is it pro-management.

Instead it seeks, as objectively as possible, to be straight pro-American, presenting facts as we get them, about today's war urgency program in Michigan.

In the first place, here's the Michigan situation of war manpower and production. Michigan's manpower contribution to the military forces is now approximately 550,000. Michigan draft boards have been instructed to induct young farmers; even war workers in the age group through 29 are being reclassified for military duty. Fewer workers will be left to fill the essential jobs on the home front.

Production requirements have been stepped up sharply. Michigan is high on the list of critical contracts, some of which have been increased as much as 700 per cent. More war material vs. fewer workers!

For example, take the tank production picture. Tanks have made a strong comeback. Whereas production early in 1944 had been pared to 1,200 per month, requirements today are nearly 2,000 a month. Designs have been changed also with a trend toward greater firepower and mobility including wider treads.

The Chrysler and Fisher tank arsenals are now nearly tooled for a heavy tank of new design, deliveries of which have already started.

Another item is rockets. The production schedule for January called for a 92 per cent increase over December!

Munitions production in December was 1 per cent over the November total, but still 2 per cent behind quotas as scheduled. The December production record, achieved at the time of the costly German break-through into Belgium, is scarcely cause for cheering.

Another "must" is heavy-heavy trucks with the foundry industry a temporary bottleneck.

"All right," you say "Our war plants aren't making tanks or rockets or trucks. What can I do about it?"

There's where the average reader may be mistaken. The big war plants depend on hundreds of sub-contractors for vitally needed parts. And hundreds of these sub-contractors are located in small cities and towns throughout Michigan. Don't be so positive that the "other war plant" is in Detroit, Flint, Pontiac or Jackson—just to mention a few of the leading industrial centers. A critical bottleneck may develop right in your own home town.

With fewer persons left on the Michigan home front available to work and with greater war contracts than ever on hand to be met, solution of the problem is not going to be easy.

It is possible for production per worker to be increased? On the basis of official information obtained from leading army, navy, and war production board officials in Detroit, the emphatic answer is "Yes!"

The regional director of the war production board, Carsten Tiedeman, thinks there is no manpower shortage in Detroit. There is a decline in worker efficiency due to growing absenteeism and failure to stick to war jobs. Production efficiency in the average war plant is below pre-war levels. Morale is bad.

Workers are told by some union leaders not to increase production. "Don't speed up" is the word. An auto company executive was going through his factory a few days ago when he came across two workers down on their knees shooting craps; a dozen more stood about watching. Did he fire them? Of course not. Why cause a strike!

Instances of this kind are available literally by the thousands, and the top army, navy and war production board officials know about them.

Well, what can be done about it? One suggestion is that President Roosevelt summon the presidents of local unions to the White House and make a personal appeal to them to waive production restrictions and let the workers turn out the goods.

Another suggestion is for management to provide a wage incentive whereby so-called "increased profits" resulting from increased production would be shared with the workers. One automobile company has found that extra-pay-for-extra-work has achieved greater production in one plant than in other plants where incentives were lacking. Instead of the worker making $1.19 an hour, the average worker made $1.71 an hour in December.

It is a fact that organized labor could increase production in war plants by removing arbitrarily forced restrictions.

It is a fact that a chief handicapper is the worker's class distrust of management and the suspicion that management is trying to "put something over" for its own selfish benefit—more dividends for stockholders and bonuses for executives.

The above situation is tragic. It is deplorable.

American boys are sacrificing their lives. Read your newspaper headlines for their names. Your son may be one of them.

Hence this direct appeal to the American worker: PRODUCE MORE GOODS!

And this to management: TEAM UP! Quit the feud. Uncle Sam needs your help for victory in 1945.

John Birchall, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Birchall of Blunk avenue who is now in Italy, has been promoted from second lieutenant to lieutenant.

Charlotte Jolliffe's Husband Is Back From Pacific War

The overwhelming superiority in numbers and equipment of the American forces and the ability of apparently mortally hit ships to return to action stand out most vividly in the memory of Lt. (j.g.) James S. Winterhalter.

Lt. Winterhalter, 28, is the husband of the former Charlotte Jolliffe. He stopped off in his adopted home last week for a few days enroute to a new assignment after 13 months in the Pacific.

Highlight of his visit home was his first view of his five-months-old son, Robert James. His only previous acquaintance with his robust offspring had been via photographs. Apparently the joy at meeting was mutual.

Winterhalter, a native of Baytown, Texas, has five battle stars to show for his 13 months in active combat.

They include two for the two Jap torpedoes credited to his ship and one for Moretai, the second battle of the Philippine sea and the invasion of Luzon.

He said he marveled at the rapidity with which the escort carriers got back into service after being hit apparently crippling blows. He cited one instance which he said he saw repeated on several occasions:

During the Philippines campaign he saw an escort carrier of his group get hit twice by dive bombers as well as by a torpedo from a sub.

"The whole ship was enveloped in flames," he said. "I'd have sworn she was finished. Nevertheless when we needed help, she sent word back she'd be ready for normal operation in half an hour. And she was."

Winterhalter was gunnery officer aboard a destroyer escort (DE). His ship got one sub after it had sunk a DE off Moretai. The other one was sunk off Leyte during the invasion of that isle.

The sinking of the sub off Moretai came while his group was supporting the ground forces on the island. One day, just after the whole formation had turned, the sub dispatched a torpedo at a carrier, but missed, hitting the DE instead and sinking it.

Winterhalter's DE picked up the survivors and then about three hours later a plane spotted the sub on the surface. It crash-dived but the DE's anti-sub weapons finished it. He explained there are many new weapons for dealing with subs that still are secret.

He told of the time a couple of destroyers in his group got a Jap "tin-can" (destroyer) off Manila just prior to the invasion of Lingayen Gulf.

"They bathed the whole ship in the light of star shells and then finished it off with their big guns," he said. "It was just like the 4th of July back home."

He told also of seeing the Escort Carrier Omney Bay sunk in the second battle of the Philippine sea. He also related a little-known fact—that the Japs were chasing his group in that battle.

However, for some unknown reason, they gave up the chase—probably to go to the aid of others of their fleet. Winterhalter's group was only a small part of the huge naval armada that took part in those battles.

He said about the only opposition they experienced during the Luzon invasion was from enemy aircraft, which, while few, were very potent.

He said American forces so far outnumbered the enemy in all campaigns in which he participated there never was any doubt as to their outcome.

"If we thought the enemy had 100,000 men in a position we were trying to take, we'd send in 200,000," he asserted.

Winterhalter is stationed temporarily at the hospital in Great Lakes to recuperate. He doesn't know what his next assignment will be.

He met his wife, a former Powers model, while he was attending midshipman school at Columbia University. He enlisted in V-7 program, Jan. 8, 1942. He visited at the home of his father-in-law, Bob Jolliffe, at 354 North Main, where his wife is living.

Ralph West is confined in University hospital, Ann Arbor, where he is undergoing treatment for a serious infection.

Salem Bureau Elects Officers

At a joint meeting of Salem Township Farm Bureau groups, held March 14 in Salem Town Hall township officers were elected for the coming year. They are Coda Savery, chairman; Frank Geiger, vice chairman; and Mrs. Grant Currie, secretary.

The election of officers for the township marks a new program of organization adopted by the township. Thus far the Farm Bureau has operated only through state, county and community groups. The farmers of this section, believing that organization on a township basis would aid materially in carrying on the work of the Farm Bureau, are trying the experiment of township organization.

The meeting was well attended by a large and enthusiastic group of Farm Bureau members. Speakers of the evening were Clyde Brining, Farm Bureau organizer for Washtenaw county; H. S. Oster, county agent; and Homer Martin.

Entertainment was furnished by Mrs. Lucy Albro of Whitmore Lake, who gave several original humorous readings; Donald Zwiernikowski, who played two violin solos, "Schon Rosmarin" by Kreisler and "Csardas" by Monti; and by a quartette composed of Farm Bureau members: Mrs. George Henning, Mrs. Coda Savery, Mrs.

H. L. Opdycke, and Mrs. Cloyde Hardesty. Mrs. Troy Roddenberry served as accompanist for both musical numbers and for community singing, which was led by Mrs. George Henning.

Later in the evening refreshments were served by Peter Fallo and a committee, followed by square dancing.

Health Ordinance Is Shaping Up

Plymouth's proposed new health ordinance, which would deal mainly with the handling of foods is rapidly taking form.

A rough draft of the ordinance has been drawn by City Attorney Claude Buzzard, Health Director Luther Peck and City Manager Clarence H. Elliott.

A meeting to get the views of food handlers on the new ordinance, which is somewhat drastic, to quote Elliott, will be held in the near future.

Mayor Stanley T. Corbett has appointed Stewart Dodge, druggist; Dave Galen, butcher; Loren Goodale, grocer; and Glenn Smith, restaurateur, as a committee to meet with the ordinance drafters. After they have had their say the general public will be given an opportunity to voice its opinions before the new ordinance finally is enacted.

He has now been sent to the navy medical school in Bethesda, Maryland.

DO YOU KNOW? There is one sure way to know whether or not you have enough Life Insurance to do the job you would like to do. It is this—Jot down a figure that represents the minimum monthly income your family would require if you should die suddenly. Then compare that figure with your present Life Insurance. Your Ordinary Life policies show different ways called "Options" for obtaining monthly income from the proceeds of policies you now own. You may be somewhat shocked to find that your Life Insurance umbrella is not nearly as big as you thought it was. Talk it over with Bakewell, he represents the lowest net cost Eastern Company in America.

Girl Scouts Will Get Show Profit

The entire net proceeds of the Kiwanis Club's minstrel show, April 11 and 12, in the Plymouth High School auditorium, will be donated to the Girl Scouts as a fund for building and maintaining a cabin for their use.

The Girl Scouts will conduct a house-to-house campaign next week to sell tickets for the show. Bob Jolliffe, ticket committee chairman, says.

Russell Roe has assumed leadership of the show and reports that all indications point to one of the best shows Plymouth ever has seen.

The chorus will be conducted by Clarence A. Luchtman, High School music director. Earl Harrison will take care of the theme and the end men.

Harrison promises the show will be different from any other minstrel show as it will have a plot and contain the usual humor, all combined.

The camping committee of the Girl Scouts has been considering several permanent camping sites for the past year. It would like to contact anybody who may have an acre or two within two miles of Plymouth and adjoining the parkway.

Red Cross Saved Another Life

Wounded by a Jap bomb hit on a navy carrier, a navy officer is given a transfusion on the deck of the warship by fellow officers, somewhere in the Pacific. On-the-spot transfusions, such as this one, have saved the lives of countless servicemen in this war. The collection of this blood is only one of the many ways in which the Red Cross is serving.

Juggling Lessons Would Help

The Rev. T. Leonard Sanders, of First Methodist church, should take some lessons in juggling.

At the recent Lenten Fellowship supper in the church, Rev. Sanders had a very embarrassing moment when a huge birthday cake he was holding aloft suddenly fell out of his hands and all over the front part of his anatomy.

As is the custom, all who have birthdays on the day of the supper bring birthday cakes. He was holding the cake brought by the Luther Passages high in the air while the whole group serenaded them with "Happy Birthday to You."

Luther's birthday was that day and his wife's the following day. The Passages will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary next month.

A $9,000,000 DIVIDEND In March, 1935, thousands of Americans invested $27,000,000 in "Baby Bonds." These Bonds were to mature in ten years. In March, 1945, this very month, those Bonds have matured. These thousands of Americans will receive the full maturity value of those Bonds—$36,000,000. People of foresight, these thousands of Americans. People who recognized a bargain—one which paid $4 for every $3 they invested. But, above all, people with great common sense, who understood that holding their Bonds till the date of maturity would bring them the greatest return on their investment. These "Baby Bonds" of ten years ago are the same as today's War Bonds. People are buying War Bonds. Yes—people are buying them today because it is a patriotic duty. But they are also buying them today with an eye to the future. That future will be best guaranteed by not only buying War Bonds, but by holding them. Your country's interest is best served by buying and holding them, and so is your own interest. Holding War Bonds you bought yesterday, makes it easier to wage war today. Holding War Bonds till maturity makes your future a lot more certain tomorrow. Sincerely, Henry Morgenthau Jr. SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY THE PLYMOUTH MAIL This is an official U. S. Weddings

Leemon-Grammel.
The Methodist church in this city was the scene of a wedding on Thursday evening, March 15, when Elizabeth Charlotte Grammel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Grammel, West Ann Arbor road was united in marriage to Harold Leemon, Fireman 1/2 USCG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Leemon of Atlanta, Georgia. The Rev. T. Leonard Sanders performed the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock in a candlelight service before the altar which was decorated with palms, white gladioli and snapdragons.
Preceding the ceremony nuptial music was played by Mrs. O'Connor, and Miss Justina Eich sang "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love".
The bride entered the church on the arm of her father wearing a gown of ivory satin made with a fitted bodice, high neckline, long ultra sleeves and a long train. She wore a tiara of orange blossoms and seed pearls with a finger-veil and carried a white Bible mounted with white orchids tied with wide white ribbon.

Composing concert music in the United States is so unprofitable that even the most successful composers have to earn their livelihood in another occupation. A major orchestra pays only from $25 to $50 for the right to perform a symphonic work, while most choral societies, small orchestras and chamber-music groups seldom pay anything. One famous symphony, although performed many times by leading orchestras earned only $175, or $220 less than the composer's expenses.

Dog Owners, Notice!

As Health Officer, I decree that from this date, dogs must be kept on a leash and not allowed to run loose outside of property confines.

During the past 2 weeks—two children have been bitten by dogs running at large. If dog owners have no fence around their property—their dog must be kept tied or so confined that persons passing on the sidewalk will be safe from dog bites.

Loose dogs have in the past been decidedly responsible for the tipping over of garbage cans and littering their neighbors lawn with refuse matter to attract rats.

This is distinctly a nuisance, and I am taking the opportunity of notifying all dog owners—through the medium of the Plymouth Mail—of the above decree.

The above decree carries no exception to a licensed dog or a vaccinated dog. These are as potentially dangerous as stray dogs.

Signed
LUTHER PECK, M.D.

Wounded Twice, Sgt. Brown Is Home On Leave

Sgt. Kenneth Brown, 22, is back home in Plymouth on convalescent furlough carrying on his watch chain a bullet that pierced his lung and in his legs some shrapnel. He says he never stopped long enough to receive any of the famed kisses with which GI's were reported to be showered.

The desolation wrought by war was terrible," he said. "I certainly was glad some of the towns I saw torn up weren't Plymouth. There wasn't a thing left standing in some."

The Belgian and French civilians always were ready to cooperate, he said. But the Germans were just stubborn and sullen. All were poverty stricken and had misery written all over them.

He said he saw plenty of acts that might be called heroism, but which were commonplace over there. Such as GI's going out under fire to bring back wounded buddies—and many times getting hit themselves in the act.

"You do things without thinking of the danger over there," he said. "Things that at other times you would be scared stiff to do. You just don't get time to be scared, things happen so fast."

"It's afterwards when things quiet down that you really get scared. Although I will say this: I was scared all the time—I still am. But I have no complaints at all. I'm just glad to be back home and hope I can stay in the good old U.S.A."

Brown was graduated from Plymouth High School in 1941. He played in the school band. Before being drafted he worked at the Ford Wilcox plant.

His brother, Pfc. Harold, 33, with whose wife he is staying while on furlough, has been in France for nine months.

Lansing Man to Head Rural Phone Program

Theodore H. Dawson.

The Michigan Bell Telephone company has further emphasized the role that rural service will have in its postwar plans by announcing the appointment of Theodore H. Dawson, district commercial superintendent at Lansing, to head its farm line development and improvement program.

George M. Welch, president, in announcing Dawson's appointment, said the company expects that its rural program, which has been curtailed by the war, will be resumed full scale "just as soon as we have the materials and the manpower to do the job."

Dawson, who carries the title of general development supervisor, brings to his new post a background of long experience in the telephone business.

He is observing his 30th service anniversary with the Michigan Bell this month and has served the company as district commercial superintendent at Lansing 19 years.

An installment plan for financing farm line construction was set up by the company in 1940 in cooperation with the Rural Communications Committee, comprised of leaders of representative agricultural organizations in the state.

Prior to that time, rural residents in isolated areas paid for their telephone line construction in full in advance. Today, they are permitted to make monthly payments over a 5-year period.

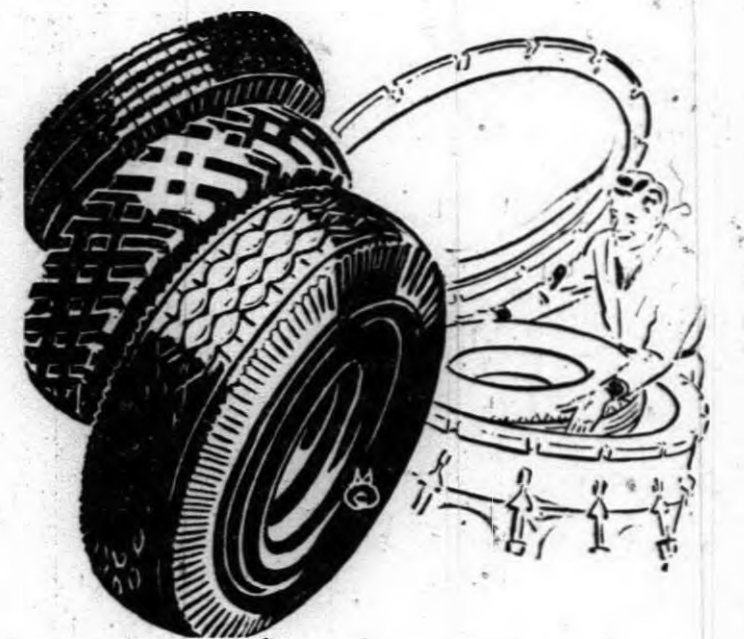

No construction charge is made if the number of applicants averages one per three-tenths mile of rural-line extension.

The charge is only 45 cents a month per one-tenth mile in excess of that initial allowance and is prorated among those served by the extension.

At the regular convention on March 8 of the Knights of Pythias the local lodge was host to the lodges of the 116th district, Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti, Chelsea, Manchester and Milan. At 6:30 about 100 in number enjoyed a fine pot-luck dinner, after which Richard Bartholomew of Northville entertained with feats of magic, this was followed by an hour of well selected motion pictures. The evening was concluded with a business meeting.

CHECK YOUR TIRE WEEK

Take A Look at Your Tires—Are They Smooth? That Is Ruinous to the Casing and Dangerous—Have Your Tires Inspected During This Week.

Beginning Monday March 26

"Our soldiers on the German frontier know that the road to Berlin must be traveled on rubber tires. Each soldier is doing his individual part in the greatest tire conservation campaign in history. Army trucks and jeeps in Europe are not turning over their wheels an unnecessary mile. In the back areas and along the fighting fronts, soldiers are recapping tires by the thousands, salvaging precious mileage, making the trucks run longer, hauling more tons of vital ammunition, material and supplies. If we at home are half as realistic as our fighting men, if we work half as hard to save the tires we do have, we will go a long way toward solving this most vexing problem. I urge all workers in war plants to watch their tire pressures, to repair and recap before it's too late."

BREHON SOMERVELL,
Lieutenant General, Commanding.

Every Tire Must Give Every Possible Mile!

The greatest stockpile of rubber is still on the wheels of American motorists. It has been left in your care with the hope that your responsibilities will be fully realized and that you will protect the tires on your car. Only moderate care is necessary—such fundamentals as driving within moderate speed limits—keeping tire properly inflated—having tires repaired at the first sign of a bruise or break—and MOST IMPORTANT—to have your tires recapped when they are worn smooth. Your tire serviceman, who has kept you rolling, will do his share in careful inspection and sound advice based on intimate knowledge of tire ailments and what to do to correct them and give new tire mileage.

According to rationing regulations of the Office of Price Administration the fact that you do not take adequate care of your tires may be considered abuse. Under such conditions, you may be refused new tires even though you may be eligible. Tire care and conservation is YOUR individual responsibility. The need for extra tire care is urgent at this time and "CHECK-YOUR-TIRE WEEK" has the full indorsement of the Office of Price Administration and other Government agencies which are interested in conserving our home supply so that the needs of the armed forces can fully be met. Get every possible mile out of your tire by regular inspection and heeding the advice of the firms listed below who know real tire conservation.

A STATEMENT OF FACTS

From the Office of Price Administration

HAVE YOUR TIRES INSPECTED

★ The war moved faster than anticipated, consuming more tires than were thought possible. Spare tires have even been removed from combat vehicles.

★ Only 769 new tires are available in March for the 29,670 cars registered in Wayne. Your chances of getting one of these is remote even if you are an essential driver. There is only one solution, recap or repair your present tires, and do it before it's too late.

REPAIR -- RECAP IN TIME!

You must take special care of the tires now on your wheels, and here's why.

Michigan Bell Sends Bonini To Lansing

W. K. Pryor.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has announced the appointment of Ray J. Bonini as district commercial superintendent of the Lansing District and that of Wayne K. Pryor, of Detroit, to succeed Bonini as district commercial superintendent of the Ann Arbor District which embraces the company's local exchange.

Bonini at Lansing succeeds Theodore H. Dawson, who is heading up the Michigan Bell's farm line, extension and improvement program.

A graduate of Notre Dame University, Bonini has been with Michigan Bell nearly 18 years, including the last five years as district commercial superintendent in the Ann Arbor District.

Pryor attended Olivet college. All of his telephone experience has been in Detroit where he started in 1926. He has been supervising manager of the company's Downtown Detroit District. Bonini was well known in Plymouth and had spent much time here helping to organize the Junior Chamber of Commerce when that organization was formed.

Veteran Bell Employee Retires

The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. loses a veteran employee and Plymouth a resident with the retirement of Robert P. Keeney, splicer for the company in its Ann Arbor district.

Keeney, whose home has been at 248 Union street, Plymouth, leaves the company under its rule providing for automatic retirement on pension at 65. The Keeney family will move to Alvin, Texas, where he has a 50-acre farm.

Keeney retires after 22 years of service with the Bell System and 42 years as a splicer with various telephone, telegraph and power companies. He has been with the Michigan Bell since 1927.

Born in Larned, Kan., Keeney began his telephone experience as a splicer's helper in 1903 with what is now the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

After service with various telephone companies, Keeney went into power utility work in 1914. His experience took him to every section of the country.

Keeney is a member of the Telephone Pioneers of America and the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

Embarrassing—To Say The Least

If it happened to anybody else, it wouldn't be news.

But when Jack Taylor, cashier of the First National Bank, is threatened with sale of his summer cottage because of non-payment of taxes—well, it's unusual to say the least.

It all happened recently on a Saturday when Jack got a call from a neighbor of his cottage on Base Lake, informing him that his property was to be sold for taxes the following Monday.

As one can imagine, there was quite a scurry in the Taylor household. The whole place literally was torn inside out looking for the check stubs and tax receipts.

No trace either of the canceled check for the 1942 taxes, or the tax bill was found.

Needless to say, Taylor hurried to get the money in. He still thinks he must have paid it. "Surely I wouldn't have forgotten such an important matter," he avers.

9 A. M. Opening For City Polls At April 2 Election

When Plymouth voters go to the polls a week from Monday to register their choices on City, County and State questions, they will find the voting hours have been changed to conform with the new official State time.

The polls will open at 8 a. m. Plymouth time, instead of 7 a. m. as heretofore and will close at 9 p. m. The official opening and closing time remains 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. but that's figured on Central War Time, the new official State time.

The Plymouth City Commission voted Monday night at its regular meeting to go along with Detroit and the rest of Wayne County and retain Eastern War Time.

However, since the elections include State questions, it is required that they conform to official State time, which means the polls will open at 7 a. m. (CWT) and close at 8 p. m. (CWT). That is equivalent to 8 a. m. and 9 p. m. (EWT).

State questions on the ballot will include the election of two Supreme Court justices, two regents of the University of Michigan, a State highway commissioner and four other state officers.

Also on the ballot will be two amendments to the State constitution, one to increase tax millage for certain purposes and the other to authorize the State to control, improve or assist in the improvement and control of rivers, streams and water levels for certain purposes.

Voters also will elect a County auditor and a circuit court judge for the term ending Dec. 31, 1947.

The City questions include the election of three commissioners for two-year terms, one for one year to fill the unexpired term of the late Henry Hondorp, a municipal judge and constable.

Voters also will decide whether to raise the judge's pay limit to $3,000 and whether to set his salary for the next term at $2,000.

Since Judge J. Rusling Cutler and Constable LeeRoy H. Reimann were the only ones to file for their respective offices, they apparently are as good as re-elected.

Their names are the only ones which will appear on the ballot for their positions.

Candidates for the three full-term commission seats are Robert Lidgard, Harry L. Hunter, William C. Hartman, and Incumbents Carl G. Shear, Carlton R. Lewis and Mayor Stanley T. Corbett.

Jack E. Taylor and Robert O. Chappell will contest for the unexpired portion of the late Mr. Hondorp's term.

News of Our Boys

In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

LIEUT. GEORGE BYRD WINS DISTINCTIVE CITATION BADGE.

1st Lt. George C. Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest O. Byrd, 14906 Farmington Road, is a navigator in Italy with a 15th Air Force Liberator group which has been awarded the Distinguished Unit Citation, a combat honor which permits Lt. Byrd to wear the distinctive blue and gold citation badge.

Lt. Byrd entered the Air Force in 1942 and won his navigator's wings at the Honda, Texas, navigation school. He was soon assigned to heavy bombardment and after several months of intensive combat training came to Italy. Lt. Byrd has now flown 50 combat missions and wears the air medal with three Oak Leaf clusters.

The group received the citation for its successful attack on the Floridsdorf oil refinery and rail yards in Vienna, Austria, last June, when Col. Walter E. Arnold, Jr., El Paso, Tex., was commanding the group.

On the way to the target, the bombers were attacked by rocket-firing fighters, which continued their running battle even after heavy AA fire was bracketing the bombers. Despite flak and fighters, the group dropped its bombs in what has been called the best incendiary bomb pattern ever achieved in the Fifteenth Air Force.

Severe damage was inflicted on the enemy installations and oil production was substantially reduced for months.

The fighters continued their attacks for more than an hour but were unable to down a single bomber. The Liberator gunners destroyed eight enemy aircraft, probably destroyed three more and severely damaged one. The group, now commanded by Col. John B. Cornett, Waco, Tex., began combat operations with the Fifteenth Air Force last spring and has completed more than 130 missions.

HE'S IN BELGIUM BUT "THE PLYMOUTH MAIL" COMES THROUGH.

Just a few lines from Belgium to let you know that I have a new mailing address. I have been getting The Plymouth Mail regularly, even though in Belgium. You can't realize how much we over here enjoy reading about our friends back home" wrote S. Sgt. Harold Davis, who is with a photo technical unit overseas.

It is interesting to note that The Plymouth Mail is now being sent to nearly 800 boys from Plymouth and vicinity who are now in the armed forces.

Little did any one ever dream that there would be so many young men from this locality in the army, navy and Marines and the Coast Guards.

HER HUSBAND IS OVERSEAS, SO WIFE JOINS THE WACS.

It is no use trying to stop the patriotic young women from doing the things they believe will help to win this war and bring their loved ones back home as quickly as possible. Recently Robert Towshack was sent overseas. A few days ago, his wife, Annabelle C. Towshack, the former Annabelle Lovelace, daughter of Mrs. Adelaide Lovelace of 21718 Parker road, Plymouth, decided to join the Wacs. She will do her preliminary training at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia. Mrs. Towshack was a former Plymouth high school girl. After the war started she was employed at the Kelsey-Haves plant.

THE THINGS THAT MEN IN THE FIGHTING FORCES DO NOT LIKE.

Civilians back home come in for some pretty close watching by our men in the armed forces. And they should, too. Every one realizes that the boys in the armed forces have sacrificed everything they have, they are giving years of their lives to the country, even though they should not be killed or wounded. So they have a perfect right to watch people back home.

In a letter to Our Boys page from Robert Smith, better known to his many Plymouth friends as just "Bob," who is with the United States navy somewhere in the Pacific, he says:

"The other day my buddy received his issue of the Time magazine and while reading through this Time magazine he came upon this article, which I am sending you, knowing I came from Michigan he thought I'd be interested in it, which I was very much so, and I in turn thought you might be interested in this same little article.

"The Time magazine is very popular among the servicemen overseas and it's noted for its honesty and fine analysis of important happenings throughout the world.

"Please publish this article in your paper, Mr. Eaton, because it is something no one should miss. In this case no one, especially all the men in service from Michigan.

"I'm not going to attempt to comment on this article because in my opinion it's too disgusting to even bother with. It did take the wind out of my sails when I read it because I never thought anything like that could happen in a small state like Michigan.

"I'm always three to four months behind on The Mail out here, but that makes it all the more appreciated when it does reach me. Thank you very much for sending it to me because it's a grand paper."

The article referred to follows: Wartime Living, the Lonely Ones.

Strong young men were scarce anywhere in Owosso, Mich., and painfully so at the W. R. Roach Canning Co. plant. Buxom Kitty Marie Case, 20, and thin, swarthy 18-year-old Shirley Jean Druce, who worked there, fretted about it almost as much as did the management. Then a labor gang of German prisoners from the nearby Owosso prison camp arrived under MP guard. The manpower shortage was met—but there were ugly complications.

Last week, in the Bay City (Mich.) Federal Court, the Misses Case and Druce were convicted of conspiracy to defraud the government by aiding two German war prisoners, Gottfried Hobel and Erik Classen, to escape (maximum penalty—two years in prison).

Points in their testimony: Nazi prisoners and women can't meet in frequent, small-nour drinking parties.

Army guards frequently attended the parties, arranged dates, and carried notes from the women to their prisoners.

Necking parties in the prisoners' stockade had become standard social performance. It was not long of the Fatherland that had prompted Nazi Hobel and Classen to vanish into the warm evening last July. MPs testified that when they caught them next morning they were bedded down with the two canning-factory girls in a heap of woodland straw.

Owosso Sheriff Ray Galley later reported that there was nothing much unusual about that—about 15 town girls were "always sneaking out to the camp and nearby fields to meet the Germans."

Said District Judge Frank Picard after the trial: "The whole thing is rotten. . . The Army and the State Liquor Control commission are going to hear more about this."

Sighed Miss Druce: "The Germans are a lot better gentlemen than some of the boys around Owosso."

CORPORAL LOUIS MECK LIVES THROUGH MANY BOMBINGS.

Marine Corps Air Depot, Miramar, Calif. — Marine Corporal Louis R. Meck, 22, son of Mrs. Mary Meck of 765 Pine St., has returned here from the Pacific where he was a heavy equipment operator with a torpedo bomber squadron of the Fourth Marine Air Wing, based in the Solomons, and Caroline islands. He was subjected to several bombing and shelling attacks while based in the Solomon Islands, but was not injured.

TELLS OF DAMAGE DONE BY BOMBINGS TO LAND OF THE NAZIS.

Sgt. Gordon Moe, a Plymouth lad who has been in the armed forces for more than four years, recently wrote an interesting letter to Stewart Dodge of the Dodge Floral shop in which he tells of the vast aerial activities carried on by American forces over the European continent.

His letter follows in part: "Well boy, I have been in the army for almost 4 years now and getting to be an old hand at this game as the government has had me all over h. . . and back again . . . covered almost 40 states from coast to coast before getting on boat and heading for Europe. I have covered the country of England from head to foot and up into Scotland and next month, I am taking a leave from this camp for a few days and heading into Free Ireland and getting a good look at that country. I figure I might just as well see all the country I can being I am away from home and it is one way to see it, Stewart.

"England gave me a bad time for the first few months as their ideas and ways of doing things are much different than the American. I nearly killed myself three or four times when driving down the streets because I wanted to keep on the right hand side of the road, but over here, you keep on the left hand side or catch it right in the seat of the pants. The money really gave me a bad time for it's really hard to catch onto, but now I count it maybe better than American money for I have not seen any American money since I pulled out for England. The towns are 3d, but very clean and just like you read in books or see on the pictures. Small streets, and the stores right out on the streets, and all the buildings are years and years old and all of them must have history behind them.

"I have been in London time and time again on my passes, and that's a city to see. At one time, it was without a doubt, a beautiful city, but people back home just can't realize how terrible it has been hit unless they can look with their own eyes. The blitz of '40 and '41 really tore out certain parts and to the present day you can walk for blocks and blocks and see nothing but leveled buildings. The rockets are still landing, new and then, but they have let up plenty since a month or so ago. The things that gave us a bad time was the "Buzz bombs", and I have watched them go over plenty of times and then all of a sudden they break loose when the ack ack guns start after them. More than once I have found myself almost on the floor while in London when one of those damned things landed over a mile away as they have such a terrible concussion. The people over in England have really taken it and we must shake their hand as they don't say a word and keep on working as if they had no worries at all. Grand bunch of people.

I have something I am sure you will like to see when I get home so let's make a date over it right now (and if they have any good American beer left at that time, we can have it over a beer (ice cold) . . . But, I have been taking pictures all over the country and now I have a big scrap book well worth its weight in gold to me. Right now I have almost 500 pictures and some of them are perfect . . . but I figure it will be nice to have in the future.

No doubt, you are wondering what my job is. Well, I carry the rank of First Sergeant and have a squadron of my own. It's rough at times as it carries plenty of men as I have under me, but I have a grand bunch of boys and they give me very little trouble.
I have a bomber squadron, and my boys have done a beautiful job of bombing h. . . out of Germany and if the weather lets up pretty soon, Jerry will catch it again from my boys as they are getting anxious to hit him again . . . It's tough at times, and some of my boys don't come home after a raid deep into Germany, but this is war and I have gotten used to the fact that I'll lose boys and you just have to grin and say the next bunch that goes over will pay back for the boys that didn't get back O.K. Rough, but it's for a good purpose and now for the first time it looks like the end of Germany can be in the near future. When it's all over in this part of the world, I hope I can take my full squadron right down by Japan and let us get at them for I want to get a good crack at them in the end, also.

Well I have gone on for almost enough and now I must get at my work as there is plenty of it left to get out today. If you want to see some rain, come on over and see me in England and then you will have all the rain you can stand in just one week. It's terrible weather."

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Adding another War Bond to your collection, eh, Judge?"
"Yes, Josh, I've always looked upon buying Bonds as one of the best ways older folks like me here at home can help our fighting men overseas. For the past couple of years I've put every extra cent I had into them . . . not only during the War Bond drives . . . but on a regular basis. Of course, when there's a drive on I always try to buy an extra one or two."

"We've done the same in our family, too, Judge. We figure the more we buy . . . the better we equip our men . . . the quicker they'll finish their big job and come marching home again."
"That's the spirit, Josh. And let's be sure of one more thing. Let's be sure that they come back to the same kind of place they left. While they are away and can't express their opinions, let's not make any decisions on things that are going to concern them in years to come."

Your Cheerful Cooperation Makes the "Brown-out" a Success
2500 Tons of Coal Saved Each Winter Month
In southeastern Michigan alone—in the area served by Detroit Edison—the "brown-out" will save 2500 tons of coal each winter month by reducing the use of electricity. The coal saved may mean the difference between cold and comfort for thousands of families. You are making this possible.

- Three "Brown-out" Suggestions
Businessmen sacrifice a powerful selling tool when they turn off their window and outside lighting. But they do so willingly for the "brown-out." Cooperate with your merchant in these three easy ways.
1. Don't assume that dark windows and unlighted signs mean that your merchant's store is closed.
2. Seek out your merchant even though his darkened store front is harder to locate.
3. Don't alter your shopping habits because of the "brown-out."
Your merchants are doing their share. You can help them and yourself by cooperating.

Know the Difference
BLACK-OUT: Black-out means complete elimination of outdoor lighting, and masking of indoor lighting from outside view. The purpose is to avoid guiding enemy bombers by a show of lights.
DIM-OUT: Dim-out means dimming and shielding all outdoor lighting. Coastal cities not dimmed-out produce a "sky-glow" that betrays the silhouettes of ships to enemy submarines.
BROWN-OUT: Brown-out means elimination of essential lighting in production areas. It is a saving measure in times of coal shortage.
WHITE-OUT: White-out means rendering an army practically invisible in winter combat by painting vehicles and large equipment white, and dressing troops in white.

- 1. Don't assume that dark windows and unlighted signs mean that your merchant's store is closed.

Annual Committee Shoots Seniors

Yes, all the members of the various clubs have been shot by the picture committee of the Senior Annual.

The classroom doors of Plymouth high opened constantly Wednesday, a student poked his head in the room, shouted a name and several of the students rose and marched out. They were then taken to the front entrance where Bernard Birt and Ralph Bachelor shot them for the Annual. This went on in every classroom all day.

If confusion makes success, the pictures of our various clubs shot last Wednesday ought to be wonderful.

Winners of Local Forensic Contests

Plymouth high school is in the suoran league in athletics and forensic activities, a league which includes Wayne, Redford, Union, Ypsilanti, Ironon, Bellevue, and Plymouth. The finals for the various forensic activities resulted in these: dramatic readings, first place, Wanda Hunt, second place, Elizabeth Neal; declamation contest, first place Beverly Hauk, second place Frank Santo; extemporaneous contest, first place Wanda Merritt, second place Joan Gilles; oratory contest, first place Frank Versen. The league contest will be held at Ypsilanti April 12.

Coming — A Spanish Operetta

The combined first and second year Spanish classes are preparing a Spanish operetta. The dialogue and songs will all be in Spanish but the music will be our own American music.

The operetta was written by George Waters.

Tryouts for the parts were held Monday, March 18. Casting will begin Wednesday, March 20.

Imagine It—

As our reporter was strolling up and down the halls between classes, a number of questions popped into her head.

Imagine David and Myrlene breaking up; George Waters getting off the honor roll; Jean Livernois a brunette; Clarence Hoffman not speaking to females; the Senior boys without a brush cut; Eleanor without Bill; Jerry West without a joke; Mr. Latture without a story; Jackie Dutton not being class president; Audrey Neale not laughing; Lorraine Nichol without her Bob's; Joan Gilles without a song; all the students getting good grades. Well we can't imagine these things. You try.

Here and There

Spring is certainly here, the sun is shining, the teachers frowning, the students marks going down. Yes, spring is here.

At last it has been finished—the Senior class song. The words were put to the music of William Mun's "School March." The seniors will drive everyone crazy while trying to learn it with each one on a different key.

Well fellas, hurry and get your date of the J-Hop, or should I say hurry girls and get yourself a fellow? Either way, you know what I'm driving at.

Virginia Waldecker spent Sunday night with Phyllis Christensen.

Free Throws

Freeman Hoover is quite a Spanish expert for his first year. He spoke nearly 10 minutes on one subject—his girl.

We're glad you waited until after the Senior play to get that brush cut, George Valrance.

"Does Your Spearment Lose Its Flavor on the Bedpost Overnight?" Due to atmospheric conditions in California, the answer to this song is "yes," so writes a brother of a P.H.S. student.

High shoes and cotton hose — items in a teacher's wardrobe of 25 years ago elicited chuckles from the teachers when posted in their room at school.

Totals of 25 years ago, when sugar was 30 cents a pound and coal was almost out of sight in price and there were no government ceilings, were $358.25.

A curious reporter listed similar items using our present day prices to see if the total would be higher or lower. To her amazement she found it to be less. It totaled $344.20.

Senior Sketches

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Langdon, 9664 Cardwell, Garden City. Donna is taking a general course and plans to be a stenographer. Her accomplishments have been senior play committee and Glee club. Collecting drawings and writing servicemen are her hobbies. When asked her favorite dessert she replied "I'll take banana cream pie any day." Her pet peeve is "droopy people."

Lorraine is taking a general course and also wants to be a stenographer. She says "My one and only hobby is drawing." Her pet peeve is people who are always telling you what to do. Lorraine enjoys eating strawberry shortcake on a warm summer day.

"My pet peeve is Mr. Latture's story about the fly," says Don Shely, son of Irene and George D. Shely, 11369 Arcola, Garden City. He has been very active in sports, having been on the baseball team four years and the football squad two. He is treasurer of the varsity club, was chairman of construction for the Prom, and also worked on the J-Hop. He is taking a college preparatory course and plans to go to Albion College next fall.

WARNING

To All Who Are Dependent On Furnace Heat for Next Winter.

Last year it seemed that everybody waited until the cold weather struck before giving their furnaces the attention they required. Our phone kept ringing with frantic last-minute calls for repairs and service; naturally, we were swamped with work, and many homes had to suffer the cold inconvenience of waiting their turn. If you wish to avoid this hardship, now is the time to have your heating system inspected. To delay simply means that you will have to take your chances on the scarcity of materials and manpower. It may be that your furnace needs only slight attention, something that we could take care of now in a matter of minutes—but which would require weeks to get at during the rush period. We want to give you the best possible service, no matter how big or small the job, and your cooperation in calling us now will be to your benefit. Don't let next winter catch you with your grates down!

Tells How To Fly Kites

Spring is the traditional season for kite flying, when the youngsters—chiefly boys—thrill to the tugging of kite strings in the blustery March winds. Some of the hazards of kite flying are obvious, particularly to adults, but they may not be to children—especially those of kite-flying age.

A "safe kite flying program" is now being undertaken in the schools. It centers around an attractive four-color poster which pictures the boy as a "kite pilot," and stresses the safe flying practices a good pilot follows.

For example, a good kite pilot always picks an open space for take-offs. He flies clear of trees, wires, etc. He avoids "crash landings" on roofs. And because metals are good conductors of electricity, and a kite with a metal frame or metallicore might come in contact with an electric line, the boy is urged to build his kite frame only of wood, and to use only cotton twine for kite string.

He is also cautioned against climbing poles to disengage a kite caught in the wires, or climbing a tree if it is caught in the branches. Falls as well as shock may result. The safety program is designed to appeal to youngsters on the basis of "an ounce of prevention" and has proved very successful in past years.

Hesco Gives $20 to Percy Jones

From the proceeds of the Hesco "Cupid's Holiday" dance, $20 was sent to Percy Jones Hospital to be used for plastic restoration for returning veterans. This consists of sculpturing for people who have lost a finger, hand, arm, to enable the veteran to rejoin society without feeling self-conscious.

Datcher Chosen to Represent Class

Merlin Datcher was elected by the senior students who have an "A" or "B" average for their 3 1/2 years in high school to speak at the commencement exercises as the scholastic representative for the class of '45. A committee of five, consisting of Lois Hanson, Joyce Priebe, George Waters, Rosemund Busby, and Clarence Hoffman with George Waters as chairman, was selected to make plans for the class night program.

Hesco Activities

Hesco Home Economics club of P.H.S. served for the special Eastern Star dinner, March 20, in the Masonic Temple. White, heart shaped crepe paper aprons with the Eastern Star insignia were worn. The girls served in order to gain experience not only in serving but to gain poise with adult groups.

The girls enjoyed preparing and serving the Hesco tea which gave them much worthwhile experience. A not luck dinner followed the tea. Later the girls attended the show.

Class News

as commercial flavoring; others smell like banana oil, wintergreen, and various kinds of fruits. Camera club met last Monday to reorganize to start activities other than senior annual pictures. Miss Killham's 11A English class made maps illustrating sections of the United States and located scenes of stories they have read on these. The best were made by Bob Zielasko, Betty Fulton, and Camilla Skeely. Mrs. Kordon's world history class has been making cartoons, posters, and drawings to illustrate events in the Industrial Revolution and in the life of Napoleon.

Mr. Reeves and ten members of the Hi-Y club went to Fisher branch of the YMCA last Tuesday where they enjoyed swimming and movies.

Last Saturday evening Audrey Neale and James Kirk, U. of M. student, Bev Files and Dick Brody, a Cranbrook student, went to the wrestling matches in Detroit, then to the Michigan theater, and later to Huck's for a lunch.

This week the basketball team began practice for the coming season. The first game will be with Ypsilanti, April 27, at Plymouth park.

More Gas For Use on Farms

The nation's food growers will get extra gasoline for non-highway use during the second quarter of 1945, says P.A.W. Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes has announced the allocation of 1,276,000 barrels of automotive gasoline a day for U. S. civilian consumption in the second quarter of 1945, comprising the months of April, May and June. Compared with the quantity of gasoline made available to civilians in the corresponding quarter of 1944, the new allocation is 19,639 barrels a day greater, the additional fuel being assigned to the War Food Administration for farm use. Commenting on this, Deputy Administrator Davies said: "The quantity of gasoline required for non-highway farm use always rises sharply in the second quarter to provide fuel for spring plowing, cultivating and planting, and we have provided for that increase as usual. This year we were asked for an unusually large quantity, with the explanation that it was hoped to enlarge the productive farm acreage of our country by about 10,000 acres. There has been an increase in the number of tractors added to the nation's farm equipment, and we are informed that plans have been worked out to run all tractors 20 percent more hours per day."

Local Boards to Dish Out Sugar

The Office of Price Administration says there will be enough sugar to preserve as much fruit as was actually "put up" in our homes last year. The same amount of sugar (700,000 tons) has been set aside this year for home canning as was set aside last year. Last year, however, 300,000 tons more sugar than the total amount allocated for home canning was bought by housewives. A large part of this sugar was bought with stamp 40 the home canning stamp, and much of it was used for ordinary household purposes. This year's total sugar supply is smaller than it was in 1944. If any over-issuance of canning sugar were allowed, it would have to come out of the amount allowed for other home use. In 1945 no stamps will be validated for canning sugar. Housewives will be given sugar coupons for home canning by their local boards. Each housewife's home canning sugar allotment will be based on the amount of canning she did last year and the amount she plans to do this year. She will be allowed up to a maximum of 20 pounds per person, or 160 pounds to a single family, even though the family may contain more than eight persons.

Was Victim of Nazi Snipers

Donald G. Leichweis, former Plymouth Mail employe wounded during the winter in some of the early advances into Germany, now a patient in Gardner General hospital in Chicago, was a visitor in Plymouth last Saturday and Sunday.

He was given a three day leave from the hospital and came direct to Plymouth to see his many old friends.

Don was shot by Nazi snipers three times through his right leg. The wound has not yet been entirely healed, but physicians permitted him to make a brief visit to Plymouth last week-end. "I haven't much respect for the fellows we are fighting against over there. They are dirty fighters and will do anything," said Don. "I was serving as a stretcher bearer. When you are doing this kind of work in the army, you go unarmed and are supposed not to be shot at by the enemy while on the field. "My companion and I had picked up a lad who had been terribly shot through the stomach. We had started to carry him to the rear when Nazi snipers got me through my right leg and the soldier who was with me, was badly shot at the same time. The boy who was on the stretcher went to the ground with us. Then another soldier came up to help us, and the snipers got him, too. "American boys follow the rules of war, but the Nazis don't have any regard for anything. They are just as bad as what they

The plan is excellent,—a fine living room with the fireplace at one end, a commodious bay at the opposite end; the dining room ample-sized, opening directly to a full-sized kitchen which has direct access to the basement stairs.

Again we find the kitchen in close proximity to the front door,—a standard of good house-planning which saves many steps. A coat closet is located where most needed.

On the second floor are three excellent bedrooms and a splendid bath, with good closet arrangements.

VICTORY'S SONS

Lt. Col. William Dyess

ALREADY a national hero for his services in the Philippines and for leading the extraordinary escape from a Jap prison camp, Lt. Col. William Dyess was destined to give his life in a final and somewhat ironic act of heroism.

After recuperating from the hardships of his captivity and his trek through the jungles, Colonel Dyess was attached to a training field in Burbank, Cal. He was flying back to his base from another field in a P-38 fighter when engine trouble developed.

Over the center of town the engines stopped and Colonel Dyess searched for a place to land, for he knew he could not reach the field. He saw a broad highway, the only possibility, for a P-38 requires a long run.

Colonel Dyess swooped toward the highway trying to find a clear section of road. Several pedestrians were crossing at a point where he would be sure to hit them if he set the plane down. It was too late to try for altitude. Colonel Dyess decided in an instant to sacrifice his own life rather than endanger anyone. Turning quickly aside, he crash-landed the swift plane in a small lot. In a moment the P-38 was a mass of wreckage. Colonel Dyess was killed instantly.

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., March 23. A real estate boom appears in the making, in fact, it has been going on for some time in certain sections.

Way to Make Money Perhaps the simplest and surest way to make money in real estate is to select a growing, well-located city with diversified industries and surrounded by good soil.

Watch Your Step Although real estate prices in many sections have risen considerably, there is now no sign—except in war-inflated areas—of a turn downward.

On the other hand, one should buy much more carefully now. For instance, a few years ago almost any property, relatively well located, could be purchased for speculation with reasonable certainty that the transaction would return a profit.

Local Conditions Important Certain areas will experience sharp drops in values when war contracts expire and transition unemployment occurs.

Construction activity in other localities will increase sharply after the ending of the European phase of the war. The WPB has made preparations for a speedy resumption of new building, once men and materials are available.

City vs Suburban Land Residential houses property—urban, suburban and rural—has staged the most spectacular price advance during the war.

Consider Labor Conditions Factory rehabilitation will be extensive but relatively few new factory units will be needed.

Factory rehabilitation will be extensive but relatively few new factory units will be needed. The general outlook for retail property is favorable because of the expected upswing in consumer goods.

The mild weather of the previous few days caused the ice to break up, and the new dam was not strong enough to withstand the immense pressure that was brought against it by the oncoming ice and water.
