Wins Promotion Maybe This Is to Captaincy A New Record

Home from the Central Pacific area of war, Marvin Criger, who since his last visit home has won promotion to the rank of captain in the air forces, is hoping to be sent back to the Pacific for continued service.

He has been returned to the United States for re-assignment after more than two years of active service in the various island invasions of the Pacific.

"But I do not want to stay in the States as long as the war is on. While I am in uniform I want to be back out in the Pacific where I have seen service since completing my training course" he stated yesterday.

Not only has he won promotions but he has been awarded citations for his accomplishments in the air forces.

"No one knows, but I am not expecting an early end to the fighting against the Japs. They are all that you read about, only worse. There's no Jap in the Pacific that can be trusted, we have found that out," said Captain Criger.

It will be another week before he returns to the Pacific coast for re-assignment to service, and he's hoping that it is right up on the Jap island front.

Jaycee Auxiliary Plans Civic Club Room In Library

The newly organized Jaycee Auxiliary is hard at work preparing the big second-floor room in the new library building as a meeting place for civic groups. "We knew there was a need for meeting place for civic groups," said Cutler, the secretary, in announcing the project, "so we hit on the library as the place. They had announced that the upstairs rooms would eventually be furnished as meeting rooms, so we decided to start the ball rolling now.

The library - and Adam Strohm, acting county librarian-welcomed the help. Strohm has promised to have the roof fixed where it leaks and the Jaycee Auxiliary is going to do the rest-with the help of other civic organizations it hopes. The room, which is about 14 feet by 38, needs a new floor covering, which will cost about $150, Mrs. Cutler said. The group also is seeking furniture to use in it. The group will meet in the Hill-top Golf Club next Thursday at 8:30 p.m. to further discuss plans for the new room, which it hopes to have ready by fall. Thirty-four of Michigan's state parks are equipped to furnish electricity to tent and trailer campers. A minor charge is made for the service.

Scouts Schedule Two Collections of Waste Paper

The wastepaper collection by the Boy Scouts of Troop 2 in Precinct 1, postponed last Saturday because of the rain, will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m.

Troop 1 also has announced a collection for next Tuesday, in Precinct 1, which is bounded by Main street the Toledo division of the Pere Marquette South Mill street and the city limits.

The Precinct 1 collection will be after school on Tuesday. All residents in the two precincts are urged to have every scrap of paper they can scrape up bundled and on the curb by the appointed times for their precincts.

The Scouts are working hard to aid the war effort and to earn medals and trophies in the Boy Scout-General Eisenhower campaign which runs to the end of April.

To earn a medal inscribed with a likeness of the Allied Supreme Commander, a Scout must collect 1,000 pounds of wastepaper during March and April.

Each troop averaging 1,000 pounds per member will receive a used paper shell container from the European front inscribed with a personal message from Eisenhower.

Troop 1 will hold a special meeting next Monday evening in the First Methodist Church. The boys' parents have been invited. The new registration cards will be ready for distribution and the 1945-46 charter will be on hand.

Each of the patrols will put on a Scouting stunt. Service pins for membership will be awarded as well as pins for especially good attendance records.

The boys will begin training soon for overnight camping with patrol cooking as a feature. Some of these features and the troop's financial budget will be explained to the parents.

The members of Troop 2 went on a hike to Shears Cut last Tuesday. Scoutmaster Fred Hadley believes that his unit is on the ball again.

There was a 75 per cent Troop attendance which seems to vouch for the Scout interest in the Unit.

Scouting games were in order after a Scout supper and much fun was enjoyed by all concerned.

The Wolf and Flying Eagle patrols of Troop 2 will hold their patrol meetings at the home of Harold Schryer, 620 Penniman avenue each Thursday at 7:30 p.m. until further notice.

Ronald Corey of the Flying Eagle patrol of Troop 2 is doing a very commendable job of Scouting. He also manages to find time to do a very effective job as Den Chief in Den Four of our local Cub Pack No. 620.

Troop 2 candidates Towner and Jones are now working on their Tenderfoot requirements.

Troop 2 is working now on a parent night program which will be held in the near future. Each of the patrols has been assigned special phases of Scout work to demonstrate.

All of the Troops' parents will be invited to this demonstration and all other interested adults are welcome to support our local troops efforts. Time, date and place will be announced.

Current black market quotations in Belgium for clothing are: One suit, $275; shoes, $35; shirt, $22; and so on. Of course, the unfortunate people of this war-ravaged country cannot afford to buy clothing at such outrageous prices. Until their native industries can produce civilian goods, they need all your used and spare clothing. Support the United National Clothing Collection, April 1-30.

Ypsi Wins Meet; May Wins Mile

Ypsilanti, with a score of 42 1/2 points, took the one and only indoor track meet at Ann Arbor last Thursday. Belleville was second with 33 1/2; Wayne, third, with 32; Redford Union, fourth, 23; and Plymouth, fifth with 18.

Overcoming a considerable lead Jean Thompson ran a 2:11 half-mile to win the medley relay in a thrilling finish.

Al May won the mile easily at 3:01 and may better his time. Don MacGregor, running with a sore foot, took second in the 440. Chuck Strachan was fifth in the mile and Plymouth placed fourth in the half-mile relay. With only one entry Plymouth didn't place in either hurdle race.

Hill of Ypsi, and Wayne's Schmidt gave a beautiful exhibition of high jumping, reaching 5 ft. 7 in.

The most outstanding athlete was Hill, who won first place in high jump, low hurdles, and high hurdles.

The principal types of fatal accidents to children (5-14 years) are as follows, reports the National Safety Council; motor vehicle, 31 per cent; drowning, 24 per cent; burns, 12 per cent; firearms, 9 per cent; falls, 8 per cent.

Submit Larger Budget For City

Plymouth's 1945-46 budget, calling for an increase in expenditures of $3,066 over the 1944-45 budget, was submitted to the city commission Tuesday night by City Manager Clarence H. Elliott and Mayor Stanley T. Corbett.

The budget, which is figured to come within the anticipated income for the year according to Elliott, totals $127,987.75. Of this $94,443.25 is expected to be realized from property taxes. The rest is anticipated from non-property taxes.

The increase is accounted for, Elliott said, by the proposed appropriation of $2,500 for veterans' administration and $1,200 for the library.

Included is a sum of $1,000 to be earmarked for postwar planning, etc.

Copies of the proposed budget, which will come up for public hearing May 14, are available to anybody desiring one, in the City Manager's office.

Collect Ton Of Waste Fat Here

Four pounds in excess of a ton of waste kitchen fats or 2,004 pounds, were contributed by Plymouth housewives during the month of March to the fat drive, reports Mrs. R. D. Merriam, chairman.

This is 58 pounds more than last month, says Mrs. Merriam, and is especially noteworthy due to the shortage of meat. She says the collections have been increasing monthly.

Shoes in Greece sell for a young fortune. People like those in the above picture haven't that kind of money. They must depend upon the kindness of Americans for shoes and clothing. You can help them by giving castoff, but usable, clothes from your own closets during the United National Clothing Collection, April 1 to 30. A collection station will be near your home.

Clothing Drive April 21 Sets 30 Tons As Goal

Final plans for Plymouth's United National Clothing Collection, Saturday, April 21, were announced at a meeting of all committee chairmen.

A fleet of trucks donated by local merchants and manufacturers will canvas the entire town and township on that day to pick up the clothes.

The quota for Plymouth (including Plymouth township) has been set at 30 tons.

C. H. Elliott, general chairman of the drive, urges all housewives to start collecting and saving their used clothing, bedding, and shoes.

He emphasized the fact that all types of clothing—men's, women's, boys', girls' and infants'—are vitally needed in the war-devastated countries in Europe.

Shoes of all sizes also are needed badly, and should be securely tied together in pairs before they are picked up. Also all types of bedding can be used except mattresses.

Elliott also announced that any one who is house cleaning and would like to be rid of the clothing before the collection date can bring it to the City Hall where it will be stored for them.

Three Plymouth Boys Defied German Demands

Every one in Plymouth recalls that disastrous drive the Germans made about Christmas time against the Americans in Belgium and the encirclement of a big force of American paratroopers by the Nazi forces.

And every one recalls that the American commander when the Germans demanded that he surrender his men, said "Nuts to you."

It has just been revealed that with these forces who defied the Germans for days, were three Plymouth boys.

They were:
 Corporal Joseph Gates, Jr., 174 Hardenburg.
 Pvt. William O. Bartel, 32991 Plymouth road.
 Pvt. Elmer E. Myers, 11601 Newburg road.

All of these Plymouth boys are with the 101st Airborne Division of the Western front.

The headquarters communications division of this outfit somewhere in Europe, has just released the following information including the names of the three Plymouth boys, for publication:

"Within two days after the 101st Airborne Division pulled into Bastogne shortly after the start of the Battle of the Bulge, it was completely sealed from outside help. When the Germans demanded surrender, acting division commander, Brig. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe answered: "Nuts!"

"The defense was to attack continuously. At one point, the ammunition ration was 11 rounds to a gun. No planes were able to break through low ceiling to bring support and supplies. There were too many wounded for the medics to handle."

"But seven days after the encirclement, the battle of the Bastogne pocket ended. A corridor had been established with our own troops. The 101st Airborne had completed another chapter in its historic march through the battles of World War II.

"In addition to participating in the battle of Bastogne, the 508th parachute infantry regiment played a major role in the success of the Normandy and Holland campaigns. It took part in the fall of Carentan and later liberated Eindhoven, in Holland. It twice took the measure of the elite German 6th Parachute Regiment in attaining victories in France and Holland."

No Rush Here For Liquor Licenses

Although there is a steady stream of requests for stamping of Ration Book No. 4 with the new numbering system for liquor ration, the rush that was anticipated has not materialized in Plymouth's SDD store in the Mayflower Hotel, says Manager Arthur A. Frost.

The new regulation went into effect on April 1 and requires that anyone wanting liquor have his ration book stamped with numbers from 1 to 36.

Then when a purchase is made, clerks will cancel the number designated for that month. Those wishing to have their ration books validated must present identification and proof of residence in the State at least six months, Frost said.

There isn't nearly the rush these days for liquor, he pointed out since the store has liquor on the shelves all the time as compared with the scarcity of some months back.

Every kind of children's, women's, men's clothing can save lives aboard. WHAT CAN YOU SPARE THAT THEY CAN WEAR?

A New York correspondent in Holland reports that black market operations in clothing have virtually ceased in Holland. The reason given is that little, if any, clothing can be bought at any price.

An American war correspondent lays the blame for the raggedness of the Philippine people on the Jap occupation troops, who stole civilian clothing and sold it at black-market prices. You can help to relieve distress in the Philippines by contributing your used, serviceable clothing to the United National Clothing Collection, April 1-30.

its boys. "Flash those teeth along with the I.D. Card" is the Camp Allen password for liberty. We're still wondering if Security has captured the missing molar man?

Chief Sies, of V.B. Eng., didn't realize just what his humble abode held in store until he spent a day at home. He found fair damsels prancing to the community clothes line in bare scanties, the local drunkard losing his quota of brew, and temper and many other interesting activities taking place. All in all, it was quite a lively day. Although a Jimmy Fiddler premier can not always be guaranteed, contact Chief Sies for ringside seats . . . for free!

"My work consists chiefly in checking, packing and equipping rubberized liferafts for aircraft. I also deal in oxygen equipment. The work is very interesting, particularly liferafts and equipment. At this Unit we conduct various methods applicable to air sea rescue and survival at sea work. Lectures and experiments have endeavored to make known to pilots and crewmen how important it is to them to know as much as possible about the equipment available. It is the aim to make the stay at sea of the men forced down as comfortable as possible and to strive to make his early rescue possible. Air sea rescue and survival work is comparatively new and still has many openings for improvement," he wrote.

WHAT AMERICAN FIGHTING BOYS THINK OF THE STRIKERS.

From somewhere over in Egypt there came a letter the other day to OUR BOYS page from Corporal Phil Williams, who has seen over 30 months of battle service overseas. With his letter he enclosed an editorial from the soldier, paper, "Stars and Stripes."

Corporal Williams wrote: "Just a few lines to thank you for all the papers you have sent me since I have been in the army, in the States and over here. I am sure you must realize how much your paper means to me boys who have been away from Plymouth so long."

"I have been overseas for more than 35 months, but I still feel that I am a part of our great little city through the news I receive in 'The Plymouth Mail.' I want you to know that I appreciate every copy I receive."

"I know, too, through 'The Mail' that Plymouth has been giving her all for the war effort, but these recent strikes in Detroit have really got the boys pretty angry."

Enclosed is an editorial from our own Middle-East edition of 'The Stars and Stripes. Best regards to every one in Plymouth from a grateful reader of 'The Plymouth Mail.'

The editorial follows:
Death—F.O.B., Detroit
Of the 1174th day of America at war, historians will write chapters on Two Jima, the Cologne Plain . . . and Detroit, U.S.A.
Of Two Jima they will write of bloody beaches and airstrips on which one Marine said "You could find any part of the human body."
Of the Cologne Plain, it was the same story of blood . . . staining the snows, plus the scent of unburied bodies.
But of Detroit it was another story. It wasn't written in American blood, but in the foul black bile of Judas. For there, thousands of war-plant employees left their lathes, their machines, their benches, in a strike caused by the dismissal of eight workers for alleged loafing.
Even so, it was also a story of Death. There was Death in the paralyzed assembly lines, the silent power houses, in the arrested supplies of war material—Death for luckless men on a Pacific isle or before a pillbox in Germany on some future day when the weapons they needed were "slightly delayed."
It is inconceivable that these Americans, many of whom must have sons and brothers in uniform, perhaps many already in distant graves, could be so morally bankrupt, so lacking in nationed honor and so conscienceless that they would leave their jobs at this time, whatever the cause.

Has the Home Front put so-called labor loyalty above the flesh and blood of its fighting sons?
How can they countenance any action, however the slightest, that will accelerate a casualty list that has already reached the staggering total of 801,162.
Is it any less serious an offense for a man to leave his war job than a soldier to desert his post? Are there different degrees of allegiance and duty to Country—one for the soldier who bears arms and still another for the "soldier" on the production line?
The news from Detroit will nauseate every American in uniform whether he be in Egypt, Germany or the Pacific. To him will come the realization that all of the rats in this world do not necessarily wear the uniform of the Wehrmacht or the badge of Bushido.

Navy Mothers' Work Is Cited

One of the most active and unheralded organizations working for the war effort in Plymouth is the Navy Mothers' club.
The group, which numbers about 75 active members, has received nationwide recognition in 'The Navy Family Magazine,' official publication of the Navy Mothers' Clubs of America and the Navy Wives' Clubs of America.

Navy Mothers' Work Is Cited

The mention came in a letter published in the magazine expressing the thanks of the men in a west coast hospital for gifts received through the Mothers' club. Especially mentioned were cigars.
"We owe this bit of good will to the Mothers' club of Plymouth, Mich., and Mrs. Mae West, its welfare chairman, who sent us five cartons of Camels and Luckies," said the letter in part.
Another letter published in the magazine, from a patient in the Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, Va., gives a vivid expression of the appreciation of these men for the work of the Mothers' clubs, such as the one in Plymouth.
It says, in part:
"Today I received a most welcome and much looked forward to visit from the Navy Mothers of Portsmouth . . .
"As I lie here I often wonder if you mothers really know how much happiness and good you are doing for us. Sure, we have the finest doctors and nurses here but time hangs heavy, especially when one is in pain and so far from home . . .
"When the Navy Mothers walk in the fellows' faces light up and all pain and trouble is forgotten. They are always so pleasant and cheerful it is like a tonic to us.
"Believe me when I say that outside of a letter from home nothing is looked forward to with as much pleasure as these visits."
"We have a radio in each ward, donated and maintained by the"

Navy Mothers' Work Is Cited

"Of course it is impossible for the Navy Mothers of Portsmouth No 555 to do this without some assistance from the inland clubs.
"Thanks to . . . your club this help has been coming in good.
"I'm sure that I speak for the rest of the boys as well as myself when I say we all thank you from the bottom of our hearts."
Also cited were instances where the Navy Mothers had come to the rescue of families of Navy men living near the hospital. In one case they provided a complete layette for a young Navy mother who was unable financially to purchase the necessary equipment.
Another letter quotes the following exchange of conversation between a Navy Mother and a hospital patient after he had been given a package of gum:
"But I am a soldier," he said.
"Bless you, boy, what difference does that make?" asked the Mother. "This is a gift from the Navy Mothers all over the United States, who are thinking of you."
"Soldiers, Seabees, Marines, officers and gobs, they are all the same to me," said the Mother afterwards. "A fine bunch of boys who have done their jobs the best way they knew how and now they are in our hospital . . . It is up to us to give them the cheer."

Mrs. Erlang bridge is the president of the local Navy Mother's club which has been very active in furnishing gift boxes for the boys in the hospitals. They've made quilts, done knitting and sent some cash gifts.
"The nation's productive capacity was reduced in 1944 by the loss of 41,500 workers, National Safety Council figures show that 18,000 were killed in work accidents, and 23,500 in off-the-job accidents.

HOW WE DID IN '44

MICHIGAN BELL REPORTS MORE BUSINESS—LESS PROFIT

With Michigan's mines and farms, factories and shipyards, delivering more and more war goods, the use of our services in 1944 was greater than ever. All essential telephone needs were met. We served more people than ever; and generally we served them well.

However, despite our best efforts, an increasing number of applicants waited for telephones to be installed. And some long distance calls were delayed. On the financial side, earnings continued to be lower than before the war. Our primary aim was, and is, to do everything possible to hasten Victory.

(COMPARISONS BELOW ARE FOR 1939, EUROPE'S FIRST WAR YEAR, AND 1944, OUR THIRD WAR YEAR)

WE THE PEOPLE OF MICHIGAN BELL

At the end of 1944 we had more than 7 men in uniform for every 10 still on company jobs. In 1941, there were 278 Michigan Bell men in uniform, in 1942-1,757, in 1943-2,595 and in 1944-2,715. And 97 women were in the Services at the end of 1944.

WE HAD QUITE A YEAR

—AND WE TOOK IN A LOT OF MONEY

—BUT OUR COSTS WENT UP FASTER THAN INCOME

—SO WE HAD LESS LEFT FOR THE OWNERS

OUT OF NET INCOME CAME

—SO WE PAID LOWER DIVIDENDS TO STOCKHOLDERS

WE GAVE PRETTY GOOD SERVICE

Except that we could not install telephones for all who applied, we gave reasonably good service. Almost nine out of ten long distance connections were completed while customers remained on the line. Most telephones were trouble-free all year and 95% of all cases of trouble were fixed the day reported.

—AND WE SCRAPED THE BARREL TO SERVE AS MANY AS POSSIBLE

In the 5 years since war broke out in Europe, we added as many telephones as in the previous 18 years. This used up virtually all our spare facilities. Because of war shortages, we could not begin to get all the things we needed. Old switchboards, instruments and wire were pressed back into use to provide service for as many as possible.

—BUT WE DIDN'T HAVE ENOUGH TO GO AROUND

Despite our best efforts, 7 out of every 100 long distance calls were delayed in 1944 by shortage of lines. And at the end of the year, nearly 98,000 applications for service were held for facilities. All essential orders were filled promptly. The other orders we could fill were installed under a government priority plan, as present users gave up service. It takes more than telephones to remedy the situation. We need buildings, wire, cable switchboards, and time to install them.

—SO WE'RE GOING TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT IT

The only relief from our present situation is a general enlargement of our telephone system. Assuming good business conditions will prevail for several years following the reconversion period, we foresee a construction program costing as much as $120,000,000 in the first five years after the war.
Such a program would enable us to clear up our backlog of orders . . . to keep pace with increasing needs . . . to resume conversion of manually operated offices to dial operation . . . to resume the extension of rural service . . . and to assure the people of Michigan the benefits of the latest technical developments in communication. This program will mean jobs for our returning veterans and for many others as well.

—AND WE'LL NEED MONEY FROM INVESTORS

In obtaining the large amounts of money needed for expansion, we rely on the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to sell its securities to investors countrywide. Attractiveness of A. T. & T. securities depends on Bell System earnings, so in the public interest Michigan Bell must do its part to maintain satisfactory System earnings. Currently the System's earning rate is one-third lower than the average of other industries; and Michigan Bell's is still less—about half that of other industries.
The furnishing of good telephone service depends on earnings sufficient to pay a fair return on the money invested in the business. Any whitening of already inadequate earnings would further weaken our ability to meet expected postwar needs of Michigan.

Teacher Publishes a Book of Poetry

Miss Gwendolyn Niles, one of the teachers of English, has written a lovely collection of poems just recently published by the Banner Press, which specializes in the publication of poetry.

In her poetry she uses age-old themes of questioning and hopes, giving new expressions rather than an attempted answer.

Class News

Miss Waldorf's second hour English class has started a newspaper called "Junior Journal" with Mary Jane Christenson as editor and Virginia Waldecker as managing editor.

Third hour public speaking class has been giving speeches to convince. Veronica Kucic gave a speech to convince the people that singing commercials were a headache. We all agree, Veronica!

The first year French class made posters for the Seventh war loan, Red Cross drive, and the use of V-mail. All printing was done in French.

Did you see the Home Economics show case? The credit goes to Marie Penn and Wilma Becker of Homemaking III for arranging garments made by their class members.

Mrs. Pauline Morgan, homemaker and former home-making teacher gave a very interesting talk to the home-making III class in which she emphasized altering ready made cloths and making over clothes.

Tips for Your Victory Garden

This new garden calendar is a special service designed by your Victory Garden committee to remind you of the things to be done to your victory garden each week.

Be sure that all corn stalks are burned or plowed under to destroy the corn borers which live over winter in them.

Before plowing or spading, apply Victor Garden fertilizer at the rate of 3 pounds per 100 square feet of the garden area. The phosphorus in the fertilizer needs to be worked down to where the roots can get at it.

Don't get overly enthusiastic and space or plow clay soils when they are too wet. If you do, you will have hard clods to fight all summer.

Transplant and space in other flats those plants grown from seed sown indoors in March. Most of these seedlings should be spaced 2 to 3 inches apart each way in the transplant flats. Use a soil consisting of 1/3 soil and 1/3 sand and 1/3 peat for this purpose.

Watch out for damping off in the seed flats or seed bed. If it appears transplant the seedlings as soon as possible or pull out discarded plants and dust the soil around the spot with zinc oxide or Semesan.

Don't apply lime to your garden soil unless you are sure the soil is acid. The only way to be really sure is to test it and the simplest way to test it is with Soiltest available from your County Agent.

Seeks Big Boxes for Clothing Drive

John Blyton, of Taylor & Blyton, chairman of the storage, packing and shipping committee for the local campaign of the United National Clothing Collection, has issued a special appeal for boxes.

He asks all store owners or anybody else having cardboard cartons big enough to hold 100 pounds of used clothing to contact him as soon as possible.

Since Plymouth hopes to collect at least 25 tons of used clothing for relief of war victims in its collection April 21, a good many such boxes will be needed.

America's tallest bird is the sandhill crane. When standing erect, the male is about as tall as the average man.

One-fourth of all pedestrians killed in urban accidents in 1943 were crossing at unsignaled intersections — but one-third were killed crossing between intersections, reports the National Safety Council.

Outdoor Writer Will Lecture Here

Ben East

The giant brown bears of Alaska, largest flesh-eating animals in the world and the rare Alaskan sea otter will highlight the wildlife sequences of the motion picture lecture "Pathway for Invasion" by Ben East, Grand Rapids outdoor writer, to be presented here Monday and Tuesday, April 23 and 24 under the sponsorship of the Holy Name Society of Our Lady of Good Council church.

East spent three months in the summer of 1941 in the remote sections of Alaska, cruising aboard patrol ships of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. He covered 3,000 miles of the Alaskan coast, including the Aleutian island chain that is now a theater of war in the north Pacific.

The outdoor writer and lecturer returned home with 11,000 feet of 16 mm motion picture film, all in natural color. The story he tells of Alaskan wildlife includes descriptions of the seabird colonies on the bleak volcanic islands of the Aleutian chain, the largest colonies of their kind in North America. Sea lions, caribou and other animals are shown.

The sea otter pictures, which include a closeup taken at 35 feet are among the rarest wildlife films ever shown to American audiences. This animal rates as the costliest fur bearer in the world, single pelts having brought as much as $2,500. Once practically plentiful along the Pacific coast from California north to the Aleutian islands of Alaska, it was slaughtered by the countless thousands for its pelt by Russians, Americans, British and the fur hunters of other nations.

In 1941 it was one of the rarest animals in the world, carefully protected under federal game laws. The motion picture, East made in the other colonies on the lonely and unpeopled Aleutian islands are the first natural color films ever taken of the animals. Today, despite the hazards of war, the American otter herd is slowly increasing.

A series of closeup-shots of the huge brown bears climaxes the film. These bears reach a record weight of close to 1,800 pounds and a record pelt length of more than 13 feet.

In one afternoon on the bleak mountain slopes of the Alaska peninsula, East and his party had the good fortune to photograph 12 brownies, including two family groups of a mother with young cubs. Some of the shots were taken at less than 100 feet, with riflemen backing the camera in the event the bear decided to charge. Despite a couple of close calls, however, the party did not find it necessary to fire a shot.

The bear pictures afford a thrilling and entertaining finish for the film and the story that accompanies it.

Use Early Hours for Mailing Is Postmaster's Plea

Postmaster Harry Irwin has issued an appeal to Plymouth residents and business concerns to try and do their mailing earlier and help relieve late afternoon and evening congestion.

He had a special word for those with large amounts of mail. If they can get part of it in to the postoffice in the morning it will help greatly and also will improve delivery service since it will make earlier trains.

The same plea was aimed at users of the postal money order and savings services. Those who can be urged to act in early.

There are many who, because of working hours, etc., are unable to get in before the evening hours. However, those who can do so will make it much easier on themselves, the postoffice employees and the people who can't mail early.

Don't let the mail accumulate until evening. Get it in in the morning or early afternoon. Outgoing mail leaves for Detroit at 4 a.m. and 3 p.m.

The postoffice opens at 8 a.m. and closes at 6 p.m. The money order windows are open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Plymouth Grad Gets Bronze Star

Word has been received by friends in Plymouth of the award of the Bronze Star to Pvt. Shirley R. Dunham, a graduate of Plymouth High School in 1941.

Pvt. Dunham, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dunham, moved with his parents to Belleville a couple of years ago. He is with the First United States Infantry Division in Europe.

Although burdened with cumbersome signal equipment and exposed to heavy enemy fire, Pvt. Dunham unselfishly risked his life to rescue a wounded comrade from the rough surf, the citation said.

His courage and loyalty were in keeping with the finest traditions of the service, it concluded.

Although nearly 19 years of age, Princess Elizabeth of Great Britain has never been allowed to have a date, shop alone, ride in a bus or taxi, or attend a party given by a friend.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"That's news to me, Judge. From the way some people talk you would think it was at least 50%."

"No, Clem, there's the statement right here in the paper... from authorities who have made an exhaustive study of the subject. Only about 5% of the people who drink occasionally abuse the privilege... 95% drink sensibly."

"No wonder you say it wouldn't be fair to take the privilege away from the other 95%, Judge. I agree with you."

"I can't see it any other way, Clem. No more than I could see taking automobiles away from everybody because a few drive recklessly and have accidents. Or preventing the making or sale of cake or doughnuts because some folks eat too much and get indigestion."

"In the case of spirit beverages, the answer is one of education and better control."

"As a matter of fact, the responsible members of that industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want folks to abuse the use of their product any more than we do"

When Your Boy Comes Home

Have a Farm He'll Be Proud of!

THAT SON OF YOURS in service is probably doing some heavy thinking when he gets a chance — thinking about what he's going to do when the war is over. You can help him make a wise decision by planning an electrification program for your farm, and telling him about it.

He knows there is security on the land; he knows that there can be pleasure and profit, too. But he won't be content to do things the old way with its back-breaking toil and precious few hours for rest and relaxation.

There are many ways electricity can help shorten work days and reduce the amount of human energy expended on many farm jobs. Electricity can pump your water. It can milk your cows; run feed grinders, hay hoists, hay driers, barn gutter cleaners, silo fillers—all at a cost so low you can't afford to do without it. And when production of farm equipment is back to normal, there will be many new electrical devices to make farm work easier.

Why not make a list of the jobs you would like electricity to do on your farm, and then talk to your Detroit Edison Farm Service Advisor about them?

Tune in Michigan State College's Farm Electric Program 1:30 p.m., EW7, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday — WKAR — 870 kc.

Plymouth Gunner Wins High Praise For Service In 18 Day Battle

Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif.—"The headlines look better" Oscar M. Matts, gunner's mate third class, USNR, 1325 Sheridan Ave., said his commanding officer, Lieut. George R. Mayhill, USNR, 304 West Front street, Delphi, Ind., scan the headlines of the first mainland newspaper they had seen in 13 months. They were members of an Armed Guard crew which fought off repeated enemy aerial attacks off Leyte.

Back from 13 months duty in the Pacific a Navy armed guard gun crew has revealed the saga of their sea-battered Liberty ship which fought off repeated attacks by Japanese planes during 18 days of almost constant battle in un-blessed waters off Leyte.

The vessel was credited with shooting down two enemy planes and assisting in the destruction of several more.

"One Jap came in so close we could have almost reached out and touched him. We shot off his tail assembly," one Navy gunner nonchalantly asserted.

A self-spoken, former economics professor at Purdue university, Lieutenant George R. Mayhill, USNR, 304 West Front street, Delphi, Ind., was commanding officer of the crew. He revealed that in the 18 days his ship was in Leyte war zone it underwent 96 alerts 36 of which developed into actual raids and two of which lasted all night.

It was announced by Armed Guard Center (Pacific) here that Oscar M. Matts, gunner's mate third class, USNR, 1325 Sheridan avenue, Plymouth, was a member of the heroic gun crew.

The Michigan youth, a veteran of the North African invasion, said the Leyte battle "was the toughest I have seen... you don't fight men, you fight beasts down there."

Matts won the highest praise from his commanding officer. Because of his gunnery experience he assisted newer men on the crew and once during the 18 days spent three days in his gun tub without sleeping.

Lieut. Mayhill revealed that the ship's trial by battle began on the fourth day after start of the Leyte invasion when the vessel entered San Pedro Bay in convoy.

A swarm of Jap planes swooped down on the merchant vessels. Shore batteries brought down three. Bombs exploded on all sides of Mayhill's ship as its guns roared into action.

One ambitious Jap pilot came streaking toward the craft from off the port beam. He was hit by a torrent of steel from the No. 2 and No. 6 guns and crashed in flames across the bay.

A few days after this initial attack the Liberty again scored.

A Jap plane dove toward the ship from off its stern. The No. 8 gun opened fire, driving it off to one side where the No. 6 and 4 gun crews could get it in their sights. At least a dozen hits were scored and the raider crashed. Since other ships were being strafed Lieutenant Mayhill credited his men with an "assist" on this plane.

Another Jap pilot stretched his luck too far with the eagle-eyed gunners of the Liberty who had really warmed to their job. A few well-placed bursts and he high-tailed it away over a mountain, a stream of smoke pouring from the plane.

So far, most of the scoring had been done by gunners attached to the even-numbered anti-aircraft weapons. The boys on the odd-numbered guns were eyeing the heavens for some "clay pigeons" of their own. They didn't have to wait long.

In from the port side roared another victim. Guns 1, 3 and 5 let him have it all at once.

"This plane, filled with bullets, fell burning into the water a short distance away," Lieut. Mayhill's report states.

Despite the fact that the ship was under repeated attack during the 18 days the Japs scored only one hit. That was a machinegun bullet found in the deck cargo.

The ship also participated in the rescue of survivors off a nearby vessel that was hit by a Jap bomb, Lieut. Mayhill said.

Due for long leaves at home, the men of the heroic gun crew reported in at the Armed Guard Center (Pacific) here a few hours after their ship tied up in San Francisco bay. Each of the men received a letter of commendation from the captain of the ship.
