Achievement Day will be held at the Methodist church, Wayne, May 6 at nine o'clock.

Tomorrow, Saturday, April 28, is the "big" day for Plymouth trout fishermen. It's the day the 1945 trout fishing season opens.

There are a number of trout fishermen in this locality who have been saving their gas coupons for weeks for this important week-end.

More than one wife has had to walk to town to do the shopping because "Hubby" wanted to save a little gas in order to get to his favorite trout stream.

But opening of the trout fishing season tomorrow on Michigan's 134 designated trout lakes will find anglers limited to a catch of 10 trout or 10 pounds and one trout. Previous regulation permitted 15 trout or 10 pounds and one trout, a limit which is still effective on streams.

The conservation commission last September acted to reduce the allowed take on all designated trout lakes for a three-year period when it was shown that the larger limit was seriously reducing trout populations in many of the lakes. Most trout fishing in these lakes is afforded by the department's trout planting operations.

cent behind him in the struggle for peace.

"It is a known fact that our civilians are quitting war jobs by the thousands and do you know why? Well, I do! It's because the newcasters have started a V-day hysteria by candy coating the facts. V-day—is that what we here in the Pacific must face. Men leaving war jobs to insure 'post war' safety, when no ones life out here is considered safe.

"Haven't our patriots been told the facts behind Tarawa, Saipan, Guam, and Bloody Iwo Jima? It's a lousy feeling you get when you think of people celebrating a V-day leaving the Pacific war as a secondary object. If the people back there consider the war over when Europe is secured, they are playing into the hands of our worst enemy, 'Japan.' If we allow this war out here to drag on indefinitely we are giving our adversaries a wide opening for a 'left hook' to our thinking ability and thus paving the way for a knockout punch by 'negotiated peace.' Thus we should stop this before it gets started by passing the bill just as it implies either 'Work or Fight' Thanks for everything including your kind indulgence."

VISIT TO OLD HOME TOWN ALL TOO BRIEF FOR EDWARD RHODE.

In a letter from Edward Rhode to "Our Boys" page, he tells of his recent brief visit home—and says it was all too short. He is stationed at a naval air station up at Tillamook in Oregon. He writes as follows:

"Well, I thought I would drop you a few lines again to thank you for the Plymouth Mail that you send me.

"I was back in the good old town of Plymouth a few weeks ago and it sure seemed good to get back there for a while. I went in the Mail office to see you but I guess that you were out on business. It seemed like I just got home to see my friends and had to turn around and come back here. I could see that they were not very many of my old friends left in town but there are plenty of girls around there yet. I never saw so many in all my life. The way it looked, all the girls moved to Plymouth. They all seemed to be pretty nice girls though, especially one, but I will not mention her name.

"We are having some pretty nice weather out here now. The sun has been shining every day for darned near two weeks and that is something for this part of the country as it is usually raining.

"Well, by the way it looks over there in Germany they are not to last very much longer.

"I will close thanking you again for the Plymouth Mail."

PLYMOUTH SOLDIER MEMBER OF OUTFIT THAT WINS UNIT PLAQUE.

The Meritorious Service Unit Plaque was recently awarded to a member of the 609th Ordnance Base Armament Maintenance Battalion stationed in England. This city is interested in this high distinction because one of its residents is a member of the outfit. The award was made this battalion for superior performance of duty during the preparatory phase of the invasion of Western Europe and the build-up following D-day.

Working a round the clock, seven-day a week schedule, the battalion personnel operating one of the largest maintenance and supply depots in the United Kingdom met every deadline required of them during the invasion weeks.

Sergeant Thomas A. Mitchell, 23, 49425 Glycine road, Plymouth, is in the warehouse section of a base depot company attached to this battalion.

"Credit for the award goes to every man in the outfit," explained Lieutenant Colonel Gilbert D. Partridge, Cleveland, Ohio, commander of the battalion. "They worked hard, they earned it and they deserve it." With the award the members of the unit are entitled to wear a two-inch gold wreath, the Meritorious service unit insignia on their right sleeve. Sergeant Mitchell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Mitchell of the Plymouth address and has been in the army for 30 months before his induction he was employed by the A. R. West company.

CONDUCT OF SOME PEOPLE BACK HOME RIGHTLY ENRAGES FIGHTERS

Ernest E. Folsom, a member of the United States navy who apparently has had plenty of tough service with thousands of other boys, in a letter to "Our Boys" page frankly states his views.

And how right his views are! We like to get these kind of letters, because they seem to express our own views much more forcibly than we can do it ourselves.

The incident to which he refers in his letter, we believe was the escape of some German prisoners from an army camp over near Owaso last summer in which two American girls helped the men get away. The men were captured and returned to prison and the girls were convicted and are now serving time.

Sailor Folsom's letter follows in full.

"I will again drop a few lines to you and let you know I am truly grateful for your consideration of the home town boys."

"But there is another reason also, as by your column you seem to be a man not afraid to say what you think.

"I have been wondering if some of the people back in the states (not Plymouth) know that there are some of their sons and husbands and other relatives dying over here and in the Pacific while the men who perhaps killed them are being ushered around 'places like New York buying peanuts to feed the monkeys, helped to escape by promises' to marry a couple of girls. (Michigan girls)

"Girls like that should be treated like they were in France. But the reason they are not is because the people at home don't know or haven't seen as much as the people in France when the Germans were 'extinct' in that country.

"If it were only possible for those people to see a man walk up on a beach, stop and look up surprised and then fold up, or step out of a LCVP on top of a mine which kills the whole crew of the boat, or go over the side of a sinking ship and the life jacket fails to work or the screws of another ship cuts him up. See men standing doing the craziest things while their ship is sinking and from under them like standing in a passageway eating an egg sandwich while men are trying to get off the ship.

"These are hard cruel things to write about but I think you agree there are people who think this is like a game, in the newsreel they see an American get killed but another Yank kills two Jerries so they are satisfied. Anyway it's not their son or husband who was killed.

"The newsreels give about one fourth of the true story only what they are told to show so the people feel sorry for the P.O.W. because I guess, in the papers and newsreels they are the only ones dying in this war and the Americans are truly sympathetic people and the enemy relies upon that a lot.

"When I get home I will drop by and introduce myself as I have never met you personally. I like the column in your paper. 'What I think and have a right to say.' and also the one about 'Our Boys.'"

"I would like to have the addresses if possible of some of the boys that are in England.

"Will close now as it is time to turn to land that is a big word on a repair ship."

LEARN HOW TO SKI UP IN COLD NEWFOUNDLAND.

Robert A. Egge, who has been stationed up in Newfoundland just this side of the Arctic Circle, recently sent to "Our Boys" page a copy of the camp paper called "Propaganda."

It is an interesting camp paper well illustrated with pictures that appeal to both soldiers and civilians.

"I mean to write when I sent the copy of our Propaganda but as usual I put it off. Incidentally, the booklet used to be called Propaganda, that was when this was supposed to be a secret base.

"Before the war this base was known as the Gander Lake airport and was built for use in Trans-Atlantic flying. There are both Canadian and U. S. troops up here and as it is the oldest A.T.C. base it is the best. It is just like a small town. We have a library, theatre, bowling alleys, Red Cross service club and the privates have a club as well as the N.C.O. and officers clubs. If you want to see where some of the meat goes just stop in at the N.C.O. club any night in the week. There are about 500 sandwiches made up there every night. They are all free and you make them as big as you want them.

"I got in a little skiing this year. We didn't have too much snow, but enough to make the ski trails and ski runs good for a few weeks. The Special Service has had a half dozen trails cut through the woods and one slope on the edge of Gander Lake cleared. This main run is about a mile long and is known as Sun Valley. The hardest job in skiing is trying to walk that mile up hill on skis. One doesn't take skis off for the snow is much too deep to try to walk through.

AWARDED HIS FIFTH BRONZE BATTLE STAR.

Corporal Roswell T. Fralick, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. LeFever, 299 Blunk, of this city, with a U. S. Troop Carrier base somewhere in the European theatre of war, has been awarded his fifth Bronze battle star representing the fifth major campaign of the war in which his outfit has participated.

Cpl. Fralick is an armorer in Colonel Frank Krebs' well known (Continued on Page 4)

44th Troop Carrier group, awarded the presidential unit citation for its work in the initial invasion of Normandy, the paratroop and glider operation in southern France, the airborne invasion of Holland and the aerial resupply of the U. S. troops surrounded at Bastogne.

His group, part of Major General Paul L. Williams' U. S. troop carrier forces, has also flown thousands of tons of vitally needed gasoline, ammunition and food to the battle lines. Landing on forward airstrips to deliver the supplies, casualties from the front are evacuated to base hospitals on the return trip.

Cpl. Fralick attended Plymouth high school and was graduated from the Henry Ford trade school in 1941. Before entering the army air forces in November 1942, he was employed as an apprentice tool and die maker for Henry Ford at Dearborn.

CORPORAL GEORGE MAKI AWARDED AIR MEDAL.

Cpl. George R. Maki, aerial radio operator, of 390 Pacific street, Plymouth, has been awarded an air medal, it was announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Tunner, commanding general of the India-China Division, air transport command.

The award was made upon completion of 150 hours of operational flight in transport aircraft over the dangerous and difficult India-China air routes, where enemy interception and attack was probable and expected.

The air trail over the Hump, famed route through the towering peaks of the Himalaya Mountains, is recognized by airmen as the world's toughest. Today the Hump route is the main lifeline of vital military supplies for the Allied forces fighting the Japanese in China.

The citation accompanying the award adds: "Flying at night as well as by day, at high altitudes over impassable, mountainous terrain through areas characterized by extremely treacherous weather conditions necessitating long periods of operation on instruments... requiring courageous and superior performance of his duties to overcome, he accomplished his mission with distinction."

The award was made for the period of service July 26, 1944 to October 23, 1944.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, remember that place up in the mountains where we went trout fishing last year?"

"I sure do, George. We had a great time up there, didn't we?"

"I'll never forget it. But this will interest you, Judge. I heard just yesterday that the revenue men raided a big still right near there. Guess that's where all that high-priced moonshine we heard about has been coming from."

"Wouldn't be a bit surprised. I saw in the paper the other day where the Government has raided thousands of such stills during the past year."

"Sounds sort of reminiscent, doesn't it, Judge?"

"Exactly and it's not hard to figure out. As soon as the distillers stopped making whiskey and devoted their entire facilities to the production of industrial alcohol for the Government... the racketeers muscled in again."

"I hate to think of how that might have spread, Judge, if the Government hadn't found it possible, without interfering with our war effort in any way, to permit a short resumption of legal whiskey production recently."

Girl Scouts Need More Leaders

Plymouth Girl Scouts are growing so fast these days that the Girl Scout Council has difficulty in keeping up with the needs of the girls. As fast as they fill one vacancy, another or possibly a whole flock of other needs bob up for their immediate attention.

home. Mrs. Osgood's number is 745-W. A day camp for Plymouth Girl Scouts will be held again this year in Riverside park under the direction of Miss Helen Moore who had charge of the camp last year.

Babson Park, Mass., April 27— On a recent vacation in Florida, I had time to study America's greatest industries with special thought as to their safety for postwar investments.

(1) The industry, best able to meet inflation, should be RETAIL TRADE. Those concerns having a book value approximately equal to the selling price of their stocks are to be preferred.

(2) The OIL GROUP should come next in order. With these should be included certain metal shares although I do not like the coppers. Probably the greatest gamble, for good or ill, are the gold stocks.

(3) The CHEMICAL INDUSTRY should emerge from the war a leading postwar industry when the pharmaceutical group is included. Many new miracles are still in the laboratory stage.

(4) The ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT INDUSTRY, including electronics and plastics, offers attractive fields, especially for returning servicemen.

(5) AVIATION should be included with the "Big Five," although its future is somewhat uncertain. I like best the transport companies; but their stocks do not seem high compared with those of the airplane manufacturers.

(6) The PAPER AND CONTAINER INDUSTRY should have better days ahead. This especially applies to some of the companies which have diversified in cans, plastics, glass and fibres, as well as paper.

(7) The RUBBER COMPANIES should make more money after the war. Current quotations, however, suggest that this group is only fairly priced, rather than attractively priced at the moment.

(8) The TEXTILE INDUSTRY should remain a sound investment for some years after the war. It also has a good ratio as to book values. No spectacular rise, however, can be expected in textile securities.

(9) I am not an authority on the TOBACCO INDUSTRY. My friends, however, insist that the tobacco stocks—other than cigar stocks—are reasonably priced and should be included in a diversified portfolio.

(10) Certainly the BUILDING AND FURNITURE INDUSTRY should be mentioned at this point as having a good postwar future. This includes the cement, paint and certain steel companies.

(11) This group includes the HEAVY STEELS which are in the "feast or famine" category; I am not now forecasting their postwar outlook.

(12) As a rule I like the FOOD STOCKS,—baking, canning, dairy products, meat packing, quick freezing, beverages, shortening, etc. They, however, are now too mixed up with Government regulations. However, I rate the DAIRY PRODUCTS first, and the CANNED FRUITS last.

(13) The postwar outlook for the AUTOMOBILE AND TRUCK INDUSTRY looks good to me now. I class it in this uncertain group because my associates believe prices of some automobile stocks are too high.

(14) BANKING AND INSURANCE stocks should be held to a limited amount by all investors who want gradual growth rather than yield.

(15) EQUIPMENT, for other than war purposes, should be in demand after the war. This applies to AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY and perhaps to RAILROAD EQUIPMENT. The immediate postwar future of OFFICE EQUIPMENT depends upon what the Allied Governments do with their surpluses.

(16) The MACHINE TOOL INDUSTRY has had and passed its honeymoon.

(17) Certain PUBLIC UTILITY STOCKS, being, or to be, liquidated, have profit possibilities; but the bloom is off of the rest of the group.

(18) Profits of the COAL INDUSTRY should severely decline after the war. This especially applies to the anthracite companies.

(19) It seems as if the receipts of the MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY would fall off after the war if television becomes universal.

(20) The worst of all industries is likely to be the RAILROAD INDUSTRY, including perhaps hotels, etc. Beware of the rails!

Mrs. Harold Leemon, formerly Betty Grammel, was the honored guest at a miscellaneous shower Thursday evening, April 12 given by Mrs. Ronald Hesse and Miss Arlene Hesse at their home on Warren Road. Thirty ladies enjoyed games during the evening after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Leemon received many nice gifts from her friends.

Drunks Sentenced To Clean City Hall

A slight wave of drunkenness during the past week has resulted in some needed cleaning being done in City Hall.

The third was given a straight jail sentence of two days and the fourth fined $10 by Judge J. Rustling Cutler. The two who had to do cleaning got two days and while intoxicated were released on seven days respectively.

Twenty-two German textbooks have been sent from the western front to President John A. Hannah of Michigan State College by Lt. Sheldon Moyer, 1943 graduate, who recently was wounded in action. The books probably had been used in schools of Metz; French fortress wrested from the Germans by our Third Army. They will be added to the college library textbook collection.
