

A STRANGE SORT OF PRAYER

WELL, GOD, here we are.

You up there. Me down here, with a burning sun, a mess of insects, too much ocean, and other buddies just as lonely as me.

Oh, God, how nice it must be back home, with Germany licked, and the folks humming, and some of the boys all finished with the fighting.

But I guess that wasn't meant for me, was it? And tomorrow and tomorrow I'll still be dodging bullets, still feeling lost in the middle of the night.

Well, no hard feelings.

I'll go wherever You say, and do whatever You want me to. For You know what's best for me.

But say, if You can only get the people back home to remember me; maybe they'll still bear down. Maybe they'll still send us their blood, still stay on the job, still keep making the stuff we need.

You see, God, I'd like to get home, too.

Lieut. Parsons Arrives Home To Wed English Girl

Lt. Carl E. Parsons, holder of 27, of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, has returned home from England to embark on his greatest adventure. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Parsons, of 1012 Penniman avenue, admits he's a little "weak in the knees" about his next assignment but he's showing his usual fortitude and says he'll take it like a man.

He's going to get married Saturday night to the charming young girl, Cheryl Knight, whom he Shanghai'd in England and who came over here ahead of him to await his arrival and clamp on the old ball and chain.

It will be one of the very few weddings of its type in the United States—if there have been any others at all. In most other cases of Anglo-American marriages resulting from this war—if not all others—the couples have been wed in England.

Here, a flier arrives home aboard a troopship and finds his fiancée, who had flown across the ocean, awaiting him and practically all wedding plans made—what chance has the poor man got? (He ain't putting up much of a struggle, though.)

The wedding will take place at 8 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. T. Leonard Sanders tying the knot.

Parsons' brother-in-law, David Cell, will be the best man; Mrs. Dorothy Cell, his sister, will be the matron of honor, and Sharon Cell, his three-year-old niece, will be the flower girl.

The problem of getting his fiancée to this country was relatively simple, Parsons said. Both merely had to swear to affidavits that they would be married here and then fill out unspite forms.

They originally planned the wedding for the first Saturday after his return—she wasn't taking any chances on his changing his mind in favor of some of the beautiful Plymouth girls—which would have been last Saturday. But he said he needed to rest up for the event.

The lieutenant said they probably would spend a delayed honeymoon in Miami Beach, Fla., where he is to report to the redistribution center after his leave is up June 22.

Parsons, who flew weather observation for his division for five months after completing his allotted missions, reported that assignment was much more hazardous than flying the actual bombing missions.

"I had more close calls flying weather than in all my 30 missions," he said. "That's really rough. You go ahead of the scheduled mission by about three hours to report on weather conditions, of which you know practically nothing in advance."

The B-24 Liberator navigator who took part in some of the biggest and most successful raids on the late Reich reported that his greatest thrill came while flying in supplies to the paratroopers marooned in Holland, in that dis-

Thanks

The Plymouth Mail is indebted to Young & Rubicam, Inc., one of America's most prominent advertising agencies, located at 285 Madison avenue, New York city, for the use of the impressive soldiers' plea printed on this page. Take another look at the picture, read the lines again, and if you haven't invested to your limit in war bonds, try and tell that homesick soldier on the other side of the ocean WHY you haven't done so.

Are You Helping To Bring Our Boys Back Home?

Take another glance at the picture on this page of an American soldier at prayer somewhere out on a Pacific ocean island.

Read again the lines under the picture.

Then decide in your own mind whether you have loaned all of the dollars you can spare to the United States government—dollars that will help to provide the homesick soldier with the munitions of war—dollars that will help him win his victory—dollars that will help to make the prayer of the soldier lad come true.

From this little city of Plymouth and surrounding community there are well over 1,000 boys and young men in the uniforms of the army, navy and marines.

All of them are terribly anxious to return home. But there will be no such an opportunity until the Jap war has been won.

That takes dollars, as well as the lives of many of OUR BOYS

Remember this—the more you invest with Uncle Sam, the more it helps in bringing this war to an end.

Mrs. Walter Kellogg Sumner, chairman of the Gallant organization of women conducting the intensive drive for the 7th war loan, has announced the complete list of the workers who will help to raise this city's quota.

Girl Scouts Plan First Area Camp In United States

The first area camp in the United States for Girl Scouts will open June 24 at Cedar Lake under the auspices of the scout organizations of 10 cities in this area, it was announced by Mrs. Alta Rice.

Mrs. Rice, who is the Plymouth member of the committee directing the activity, quoted Kay Beckman, of Ypsilanti, Girl Scout field adviser, as the authority for the statement that this is the first camp of its type in the nation.

Besides Plymouth, cooperating in the camp are Ann Arbor, Belleville, Denton, Milan, Northville, Romulus, Wayne, Ypsilanti and Lincoln school.

Gladys Guyton, of Newport News, Va., former professional Girl Scout worker and present director of the Newport News, U.S.O. will head the camp staff of 13.

These include eight from the University of Michigan, two from Ypsilanti and three from Wayne University.

Activities will include swimming, hiking, sports, games, cook outs and campfires at the close of the day.

The camp is approximately 25 miles from Plymouth in the Waterloo area, some three miles from Chelsea, Mrs. Rice said. Registration blanks can be obtained from Mrs. Rice, at 747 West Ann Arbor Trail, or any Girl Scout leader. The season closes Sept. 2.

Smitty to Close After 30 Years

"Smitty's Restaurant," one of Plymouth's oldest business places, will be closed after tomorrow (Saturday) for an indefinite period, it was announced today by Glenn Smith, owner of the place.

There are several reasons for the action. The critical food situation, the help problem, and a plan to make some improvements as well as redecorate the place, as well as a desire to take a much needed rest after continuous operation of a busy lunch room for more than a quarter of a century have all entered into his decision.

Smitty entered the restaurant business on June 1, 1915. It was the fact that he started his business on June 1 that prompted him to select that date for the closing of his place.

"I've kept it open for the past 30 years because it was my desire to round out a complete 30 years of business without an interruption of any kind. Many business places closed up during the past four or five years in order to take vacation periods. That I have not done. But the time has arrived for me to do something of this nature. I want to keep going," said Smitty yesterday.

And that's a pretty good record for any man!

Asked as to the probable date of reopening he stated that he was not certain, but he said that he thought if some of the worries and confusion were lessened, it might not be many weeks.

"It is with regret that we feel compelled to close but I feel it necessary to do so because of my health. When I get to feeling better I will be glad to again take up where I left off," he said. "Thanks to everybody until I'm back."

Three File For School Board

Only three candidates have filed as candidates for the school board election, which takes place on Monday, June 11.

The three are, Dr. Harold J. Brisbois, Howard W. Stark, president members of the board, and Wallace Laury, a Detroit school teacher.

City's Old Street Signs To Be Repainted and New Ones Erected

Its happened! Something is going to be done about the street signs in Plymouth. For a score of years or more, it has been an impossibility for strangers to find their way about town, if by chance they had to depend upon street signs.

The story goes that even a mail carrier got lost a few weeks ago while trying to deliver a special delivery letter to one of the unmarked thoroughfares in the city.

But that is all going to change. Mayor Carl Shear has requested City Manager Elliott to have all the old street corner signs repainted as soon as possible and new signs erected where there are none at the present time.

The city manager hopes to have the work finished before summer.

State Now Owns 5,000,000 Acres

Approximately five million acres of land—the land nobody wanted—in 47 counties of northern Michigan is now under the jurisdiction of the state conservation department.

The story of these acres—how they passed into private ownership after Michigan attained statehood, the lumbering era, the abortive attempts to farm them after the timber was cut, and their reversion to state ownership because of tax delinquency—has again been told.

Harold Titus of Traverse City, long-time member and new chairman of the conservation commission, is author of an illustrated bulletin, "The Land Nobody Wanted," that traces development of Michigan land use policies and emphasizes accomplishments of county land use planning committees in helping to evolve best uses of the lands.

Printed for free distribution, the booklet has been prepared by the conservation section of the Michigan State College agricultural experiment station in cooperation with the college's extension service and the conservation department.

USES Gets 300 Job Applications In First Week

The exodus of women from industry back to their traditional duties as homemakers apparently has begun.

This picture was drawn from an announcement by Clarence Jetter, manager of the new United States Employment Service office in Plymouth, that a great proportion of the surprising total of 300 applicants in the office's first week were women.

He said he had jobs for all men applying at present, but that the picture wasn't quite so rosy for the women. This indicates that some will have to go back to housekeeping for a vacation.

Jetter emphasized that the applicants are seeking jobs rather than compensation, although they of course are entitled to any benefits of jobless insurance for which they are eligible.

He said the applicants included both old-time residents and transients. The big percentage of them will not face prolonged periods of unemployment.

There still are many openings, he stated, but the jobs available for women are much fewer.

The USES office is ready and anxious to get job orders from plants in the Plymouth, Northville, Livonia, Canton, Northing and Redford township area it covers. Employers can call Plymouth 1320.

"I believe that in this area unemployment will be much less of a problem than in any other section of Wayne county," said Jetter.

"That's partly due to the fact that plants hereabouts have had fewer war contracts than most and will have a lot of work in the reconversion era producing needed civilian goods."

Girl Scout Rally Saturday, June 9

A rally sponsored by leaders of Girl Scouts will be held in Riverside Park on Saturday, June 9 at 10 o'clock. The meeting place will be at the comfort station.

All girl scouts are invited. Each will bring their own picnic lunch. Special program for Brownies. Games will be under supervision of Mrs. J. R. Witter in charge, assisted by Mrs. James Latture, Mrs. William Arcsott, and Mrs. Henry Holmes.

At the meeting of leaders of Girl Scouts, officers for the year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. Louis Jacobs; vice president, Mrs. Glen Fraleigh; secretary, Mrs. James Latture.

A lovely foursome of Scottish lassies gave a demonstration of Scottish dances.

The guest artists, besides Pipe Major McInnes, were Carol McKay, Sadie Stuart, Dorothy James and Louise Duncan.

Plymouth's good Cubbing friends, Jack Williamson, Kenneth Swarthout and Russell Bryce, also appeared in the kilts of Scottish clansmen.

The Golden text (Isaiah 59:19) is: "When the enemy shall come in like a flood, the Spirit of the Lord shall lift up a standard against him." Among the Bible citations is this passage (Psalms 62:1, 11): "Truly my soul waiteth upon God: from him cometh my salvation. God hath spoken once; twice have I heard this; that power belongeth unto God." Correlative passages to be read from the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, include the following (103): "The truths of immortal Mind sustain man, and they annihilate the fables of mortal mind, whose flimsy and gaudy pretensions, like silly moths, singe their own wings and fall into dust."

Weddings

The Newburg Methodist church was the scene of the wedding on Saturday, May 19 of Miss Dorothy Bohl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bohl, of Plymouth road, and Sergeant Calvin W. Ulberg, son of Dr. and Mrs. George Ulberg, of Seattle, Washington. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Verle Carlson before an altar decorated with light tapers, large vases of gladiolus, peonies and pomosa ferns. The bride, given away by her brother, Lawrence Bohl, wore a gown of ivory satin with embroidered chiffon trimming, a fitted bodice and full skirt with long train. Her finger tip veil of illusion was bound in satin and held in place by a crown of the same material. A single strand of pearls was her only jewelry. Her bouquet was of white roses and sweet peas.

Miss Evelyn Bohl, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing orchid chiffon. Other attendants of the bride were Mrs. M. Chichester of Detroit and Miss Kay Holloway of Ypsilanti, who were gowned in pale green satin and pink satin and marquisette. All carried colonial bouquets of roses and sweet peas.

Diane Franjac, niece of the bride, was the flower girl wearing a gown of pale yellow chiffon and carrying a basket of yellow and pink rose petals.

The bridegroom was attended by Sgt. Corey of the Romulus Air base as best man and two other members of the air corps were ushers.

Both the bride and the bridegroom's mother were gowned in aqua crepe and wore deep red rose corsage. "Because" and "The Voice that Breathed O'er Eden" were sung by Edwin Campbell of Plymouth preceding the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" before the benediction. Mrs. Michael O'Conner was the organist.

A reception followed in the church hall with 150 relatives and friends attending. Sergeant and Mrs. Ulberg took a short trip to northern Michigan when she wore a navy blue suit with pink and navy blue accessories. They will reside in Wayne.

Bloomhuff-Gee. Miss Tessie Gee of Albuquerque, New Mexico, became the bride of Lieut. John E. Bloomhuff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Bloomhuff of Ann Arbor trail, at a ceremony performed by the Rev. Mark Sanborn in the First Baptist church in Plymouth on the evening of May 19.

The bride was attired in a rose beige suit with blue accessories and wore a corsage of lilies of the valley. Mrs. Warren Bloomhuff, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom, was maid-of-honor. She wore a street length dress in light blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Robert Bloomhuff attended his brother. A reception followed in the church with forty guests present. Lieut. and Mrs. Bloomhuff are now in Hobbs, New Mexico. He is expecting his discharge from the service in the near future when he and his bride will return to live in Plymouth.

What to do for BOWEL STOPPAGE in LIVESTOCK

When a cow loses her appetite and refuses to eat, or a pig very spindly, chances are that she is suffering from constipation, usually caused by partial paralysis of the bowels. To help relieve this condition, give:

Dr. DAVID ROBERTS LAXOTONE

Do not drench cattle for bowel stoppage! Give LAXOTONE dry, on the tongue. Easier, safer and more reliable than a physic or the old-fashioned drench, which is always dangerous. Don't be without a can of LAXOTONE handy at all times.

There is a Dr. David Roberts prescription for every curable animal ailment. We carry a complete line of these prepared prescriptions. Stop in and stock up the next time you are in town.

Hosts of Friends Witness James H. Sexton Take Office

James H. Sexton

James H. Sexton, who was recently appointed as Wayne County Probate Judge by Governor Harry F. Kelly, took the oath of office Friday, May 25 before an overflow crowd of admirers who completely filled the main probate court room and overflowed into the hall.

Mr. Sexton, who is the father of eight children, has been an employe of the Wayne County probate court for the past 22 years, beginning as a file clerk and having advanced from that position to the position of chief deputy register.

He is the only member of the Wayne county probate bench who resides out-county, and oddly enough the first official order signed by him was the appointment of an administrator of an estate in Western Wayne county.

Mr. Sexton's appointment as probate judge should be an incentive to other county employes since it comes as a reward for his years of diligent effort and courtesy to the public and faithful discharge of whatever duties were assigned him.

In Memoriam. In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother Emma Place who departed this life one year ago June 3rd. One year ago in tears, dear mother. One year ago today, we stood beside your dying bed and saw you pass away. Days of sadness still come over us. Secret tears do often flow. Memory keeps you forever near us. Though you died one year ago, at the beautiful gate you stand and wait, dear one, from pain set free. We shall clasp your hands and see you smile when the hinges are turned for us. Her Children.

Tomshack Named Recreation Boss of Port Huron

John Tomshack, head coach and athletic director at Plymouth High School the last two years, has resigned, effective June 15, to go to Port Huron as director of that city's recreation department. Tomshack, who taught here for three years, is a graduate of Michigan State Teachers' College at Ypsilanti, where he played football, basketball and baseball. Before coming to Plymouth he had been in recreation work for the city of Battle Creek and had taught and coached in Ann Arbor and Parma.

The salary for his new position will be $5,500, an increase over his salary as a Plymouth school teacher. He will have complete charge of all of Port Huron's recreational activities.

Tomshack enjoyed considerable success after he took over as head coach in Plymouth. He set up a sort of "farm" system and began developing youngsters for his teams in Junior High. It was beginning to pay dividends.

will be spread more evenly over the state. Bay City state park welcomed 888,000 visitors last season. Grand Haven state park attendance was 745,000, and Dodge Four state park near Pontiac clocked 401,000. Attendance at Sterling state park near Monroe was 135,000.

Reconditioning or park buildings and equipment, removal of dead trees, and road and jetty repair went forward steadily last winter and parks will present an exceptionally good appearance on opening day. Wartime labor scarcity has reduced park staffs in summer seasons in recent years with the result that more maintenance and repair work can be carried on in winter months, according to the conservation department's parks and recreation division.

Feminine life guards again will be employed in some parks during the 1945 season.

Nazi military men who have committed atrocities, and whose names, therefore, probably appear on the Allied lists of war criminals, are now being "killed in action" by their government on a wholesale scale. After their alleged death has been officially recorded and their next of kin notified that they are dead, they are given new identification papers bearing a fictitious names and then transferred to another unit.

Redford Wins In Seventh With the score tied at three all, Redford Union batters scored two runs in the last inning to win 5 to 4 May 25.

Neither side hit in the first inning. In the second, Shely led off with a double, Rutenbar led to the infield, Shely going to second. Bently struck out, Rock singled scoring Shely, and Schwartz struck out. Two hits, one run. The first man up for Redford, Rimer, singled and stole second. Tullis struck out, Rimer going to third, Jealick tried a bunt that rolled foul and Rimer was nailed off of third, Jealick then doubled and Fox struck out. Two hits, no runs.

In the third, Plymouth went down one-two-three. For Redford, Patrick made first on an error; Slessor singled, Patrick going to second, Merrick was thrown out at first; Ball struck out; Stenson singled driving in Patrick and Slessor, and stole second; Rimer singled scoring Stenson, and Tullis struck out. Three hits, three runs. Redford leading at start of the fourth, three to one.

For Plymouth, Bartel flied out; Shely doubled again; Rutenbar doubled and Rock struck out. Two hits, two runs. Redford went down in order, leaving the score tied at three up.

There was no score until the seventh when Keehl, batting for

State Parks Are Opened

Memorial day found 50 of Michigan's state parks ready to handle an estimated 6 million visitors during the 1945 season. The estimate is based on attendance figures for recent years. Record attendance was in 1941 when approximately 9,000,000 persons visited the parks, dropped sharply in 1942, hit a low of slightly less than four million in 1943, and climbed last season to around five million.

Suggestions from Washington that A-card holders are to get increased gasoline rations shortly held promise that 1945 attendance figures should be well above those of last year.

Big downstate parks near population centers will continue to attract largest numbers of visitors until gasoline restrictions are removed, when attendance will be spread more evenly over the state. Bay City state park welcomed 888,000 visitors last season. Grand Haven state park attendance was 745,000, and Dodge Four state park near Pontiac clocked 401,000. Attendance at Sterling state park near Monroe was 135,000.

Reconditioning or park buildings and equipment, removal of dead trees, and road and jetty repair went forward steadily last winter and parks will present an exceptionally good appearance on opening day. Wartime labor scarcity has reduced park staffs in summer seasons in recent years with the result that more maintenance and repair work can be carried on in winter months, according to the conservation department's parks and recreation division.

Feminine life guards again will be employed in some parks during the 1945 season.

Nazi military men who have committed atrocities, and whose names, therefore, probably appear on the Allied lists of war criminals, are now being "killed in action" by their government on a wholesale scale. After their alleged death has been officially recorded and their next of kin notified that they are dead, they are given new identification papers bearing a fictitious names and then transferred to another unit.

Redford Wins In Seventh With the score tied at three all, Redford Union batters scored two runs in the last inning to win 5 to 4 May 25.

Neither side hit in the first inning. In the second, Shely led off with a double, Rutenbar led to the infield, Shely going to second. Bently struck out, Rock singled scoring Shely, and Schwartz struck out. Two hits, one run. The first man up for Redford, Rimer, singled and stole second. Tullis struck out, Rimer going to third, Jealick tried a bunt that rolled foul and Rimer was nailed off of third, Jealick then doubled and Fox struck out. Two hits, no runs.

Mrs. Watson Keeps Busy With 4-H Club Meetings

Mrs. Ada Watson, 4-H Club agent for Wayne County, attended the 4-H conference last week at Higgins Lake and reported a very enlightening program.

Mrs. Watson; Sally Spence, of Dearborn; Jean Vant, of Waltz, and Gordon Vetal and Charles Salow of Plymouth, will attend the Older Youth Conference, at Waidenwoods, Hartland, today (Friday) through Sunday as delegates from Wayne County 4-H clubs.

In the golf match May 25, Ypsilanti scored 12 1/2 points to Plymouth's 5 1/2. However, if the game had been decided on the medal score—the total number of strokes per team—Plymouth would have won by several strokes. Bob Schwarz was the only boy to win his match.

astrous attempt. "We flew in at treetop level and you could see all those Hollanders out in their gay clothes spreading out huge makeshift American flags on the ground and waving to us," he said.

"It sure did something to you, coming in such close contact with those poor people and seeing how enthusiastic they felt about our efforts in their behalf."

"Ordinarily we fly at 20,000 feet or more and you can't see much at that height except rivers and roads and other big landmarks."

He reported his roughest mission was on a raid over Margeburg on a clear day when the flak was very intense and accurate.

"The target was in the middle of the town," he said, and by the time we had completed our run and started back, one engine had been knocked out completely and two others were billowing black smoke.

"There were, 500 miles from our base, with our hydraulic system also knocked out and some of our radio equipment out of commission. We lost altitude and had to leave our formation and return alone."

"However, we called in our fighter escort and they conveyed us back to the coast of Holland from where we continued alone. It was safe from there on in. Surprising as it may seem, none of our crew was wounded on that raid."

On another raid, on the oil refineries at Politz, the opposition was "terrific." They were opposed by very heavy flak and hundreds of fighters, one of which their turret gunner shot down.

"I counted about 70 flak holes in our ship when we returned, but nothing vital was hit," he recalled. "Our fighters gave us excellent support and kept the Jerries off us until we had completed our run. But they sure ganged up on us afterwards."

"You could see the flames shoot hundreds of feet into the air in great sheets when our bombs hit the huge oil storage tanks. After that great billows of coal black smoke made it impossible to see the target area at all."

"At Margeburg we had good results too, although observation wasn't too good because they had a smoke screen over the city. About all you can see of the damage from that altitude are the huge bomb craters, anyway."

He told of missing the target one day in France and hitting a building that wasn't supposed to be hit. "That was sort of rough. We never had any remorse over killing Germans but the possibility of hitting innocent people always worried us."

The wearer of four battle stars and the presidential unit citation with oak leaf cluster has 107 points toward a discharge but he isn't sure he wants it. "I just can't make up my mind—none of us can."

He expects reassignment in the United States after his leave, probably as an instructor. He was drafted March 28, 1941, while working as a machinist in the Ford Rouge plant a few months after coming to Plymouth from his native Highland Park.

After a couple of years with the medics, he applied for transfer to the Air Forces and was commissioned Jan. 15, 1944. He went overseas April 21, 1944 and flew support for the Normandy invasion.

A member of a lead crew (which heads the formations), the remainder of his four battle stars the battle of Northern France and the battle of Germany.

Roscoe Burch Is Grand Master of Masonic Lodge

Members of the Plymouth Rock Masonic lodge and their friends who attended the mortgage burning ceremonies of the Plymouth Masonic Temple about a year ago, will be interested in knowing that Roscoe J. Burch of Benton Harbor, who made the chief address, has just been elected Grand Master of the lodge in Michigan.

The chronicles of Michigan Freemasonry show beyond question that Mr. Burch, 95th Grand Master of Masons in Michigan, is neither the youngest nor the oldest Mason to be elected to the highest office within the gift of the State's 127,000 Speculative Masons, but they will record that he was the first life member to ever hold the office. Most Worshipful Brother Burch was elected and installed as Michigan's First Mason during the 101st Annual Communication which was held in the Scottish Rite Cathedral at Detroit, Tuesday, May 22. He is the second Past Master of Peninsular Lodge No. 10 of Dowagiac to occupy Michigan's top ranking Masonic office. Charles E. Sweet, also a Past Master of Peninsular Lodge, served as Grand Master in 1907-8.

Printer's devil at the age of 14, to expert craftsman in the art of printing and eventually to Grand Master of Masons could be used as the opening phrase of a monograph concerning the life's work of Grand Master Burch. A native Wolverine, he was born at South Haven, January 4, 1878 and when only eight years old, his family moved to Dowagiac. He entered the struggle for maintenance of life at the age of 14 when he elected to learn the art of printing and he has never, at any time, deviated from this set course.

Upon completing his printing apprenticeship which included a full knowledge of the processes involved in the production of small town newspapers he, for a time, owned and operated the "Gallen Record," "Buchanan Record" and the "Bridgman Enterprise." As a country editor he acted as his own copy boy, reporter, editorial writer, compositor, proof reader and pressman. Thus it can be said that he thoroughly grounded himself in every phase of newspaper production.

In 1933 he bought an established printing business at Benton Harbor which he owns and operates under the name of Burch Printers, experts in the art of fine printing, and those who have a knowledge of his handiwork know that this is no idle boast for the firm has, during its twelve years under his direction, created some truly fine specimens of typography.

Since both grandfather and father had been members of the Masonic Fraternity, the lessons taught by the Craft had long been in daily use in the Burch household and it would have been strange if the impressions created in the mind of the young man had been anything but favorable to the institution. His greatest desire had always been, through early boyhood and manhood, to be a Mason. This great desire was realized in January, 1904, when he was raised to the Sublime Degree of a Master Mason in Peninsular Lodge No. 10 of Dowagiac. He served as Worshipful Master in 1919 and then as Secretary for seven years thereafter. Upon his removal to Benton Harbor, he gained plural membership in Lake Shore Lodge No. 298 and served that Lodge as Worshipful Master in 1938. In 1944 both Lodges granted life membership to him.

His career started in Grand Lodge May 29, 1940 when during the closing sessions of the 96th Annual Communication, which was held in the Bay City Scottish Rite Cathedral, he was elected as Grand Marshal. Since that day he has progressed annually toward the purple and gold of our Fraternity, serving as Senior Grand Warden during the year 1944-45 and then, due to Deputy Grand Master Paul O. Strawhecker being on active duty with the United States Army, he was elected to the office of Most Worshipful Grand Master.

Long active in Canicular Masonry, he was exalted in Keystone Chapter No. 36, R.A.M. of Dowagiac in 1907; served as Excellent High Priest in 1922 and later for several years as Secretary. He is also a plural member of Calvin Britain Chapter No. 72, R.A.M., of St. Joseph and was appointed in the Order of High Priesthood in 1922. In Grand Chapter he has served on several committees, the most recent of which was that pertaining to ritual study.

Continuing his activities in the York Rite, he was active in Niles Council No. 19, and later transferred his membership to St. Joseph Council No. 44 and served as Thrice Illustrious Master in 1939. He was knighted in Niles Commandery No. 12, K.T., later became a member of Malta Commandery No. 44 and served as Eminent Commander in 1944-45. For many years he acted as Prelate both at Niles and Benton Harbor.

He received the various grades of Scottish Rite Masonry from the fourth to the thirty-second in the coordinate Bodies meeting in the Valley of Grand Rapids, and has for many years been one of the most active members of DeWitt Clinton Consistory, living in Benton Harbor. He is also a member of Saladin Temple; St. Vincent Conclave, Red Cross of Constantine and the Michigan Priory of the York Cross of Honor.

Active in Eastern Star circles, he served as Worthy Patron of his local Chapter in 1938. He is also a member of the Benton Harbor Shrine of the White Shrine of Jerusalem.

For years the Grand Master and his family have been active members of the Methodist church. He is also a member of such civic organizations as the Rotary Club.

The Grand Master states that Masonry has always been his most important hobby. However, he is also a keen fisherman but states this latter recreation has, during the past ten years, had to take a back seat. Although sixty-seven years of age, Grand Master Burch is one of Michigan's most dynamic Masons and his energy, vim and vigor are the envy of most younger men. Schooled in the University of experience and accomplishment, he brings to the Fraternity in Michigan a knowledge of Masonic administration which can only be rebound to the credit of Masonry as a whole. His business acumen acquired over a long period of years; his gift and extraordinary faculty to do and say the right thing; his sincerity and capacity for work; his friendly interest in the problems of others and his tolerance for the errors committed by his fellow men, are bound to bring to the Grand Lodge of Michigan during the year 1945-46, a truly enlightened administration.

Old Style Laundry Is Marked for a Postwar "Blitzing"

Marked for a quick and shattering blitz in homes to be built after the war is the old-fashioned basement laundry with its laundry tubs and ceiling lacework of entangling clotheslines.

Instead, the laundry will be a respected member of the family in the postwar home, entitled to upstairs space just like the more favored utility-children of the family.

As builders see the emancipated laundry, according to Practical Builder Magazine, it will be a part of the modern kitchen. Or, if preferred, it will be a section of the hard-working "studio" room which will be built into new homes.

Laundry manufacturers estimate that not more than eight to ten lineal feet of wall space will be required for the major fixtures.

And because the water in the washing machine can be handled as part of the regular plumbing and there will be no more hanging of clothes to dry, the whole laundry operation will involve less fuss, bother or mess than does cooking or any other kitchen function.

The important feature of the new planned laundry is that it eliminates the necessity of setting aside one day in the week to do the family washing.

Instead, the laundry can be done at odd moments through the week, or can actually be under way while Mom is cooking, sewing, packing the children's school lunches or studying her latest book on contract bridge.

It works like this, Practical Builder magazine says:

"Every day sees an accumulation of soiled clothing—bed linens, tablecloths, napkins, shirts, bath and dish towels, etc. The housewife picks these up and puts them into her automatic cycle washer.

As she gets a complete load in the washer (about nine pounds dry weight) she simply pushes a button and the washer does the rest, washing, rinsing and damp-drying the clothes. When the cycle is finished, the machine shuts itself off.

"Then she removes them in bulk and drops them just as they are into the dryer.

This is a machine that does not have any racks but takes the damp bundle and, by tumbling it, dries the clothes in just a few minutes. They can be left in the dryer until she is ready to iron them.

"The idoner will be either a rotary machine or a so-called flat-bed ironer resembling somewhat the pants-pressing machine at the corner tailor's but streamlined and much easier to operate.

As she has time, she takes the clothes out of the dryer and irons them. At no time is the room in which the planned laundry is located cluttered up with a lot of unsightly mess."

Such a plan of doing the family washing is not a Utopian dream, Practical Builder says, but is ready now for postwar production.

Postwar Popularity Seen for One-Story Homes

Plans for postwar homes indicate that the one-story house has gained in popularity.

Advantages of this type of structure are dictated to a great extent by the climate of the locale in which it is built.

What might be practical in Florida or California would not necessarily be practical in New England or the Middle West.

However, the trend is definitely toward the low rambling type of home, says Practical Builder Magazine.

The great standard of literature, as to purity and exactness of style is the Bible.—Blair.

PITCH IN! on the mighty 7th... it's two big War Loans in one!

You have seen pictures of American soldiers falling wearily into fox-holes, too tired to even dodge the shells raining all around them. Did it make you fighting mad?

You have seen pictures of American bombers hit by enemy fire, plummeting downward into enemy territory. Did it make you fighting mad?

Then pitch in... turn your folding money into fighting money... buy twice as many bonds as you bought last time!

The mighty 7th War Loan must do the job that two war loans did last year. It's the biggest, most urgent war loan of all. Back it up with every dollar you can lay your hands on.

News of Our Boys

In Uncle Sam's Fighting Forces
Defending Our Homeland and Our Liberties.

GETS BIG BUNCH OF PLYMOUTH MAILS EVERY TIME HE HITS PORT.

The first note in many a month has been received from Melvin L. Wickstrom who is serving with Uncle Sam's navy somewhere in the southwest Pacific. He writes in part as follows:

"Just a few lines to say hello to everybody in Plymouth from somewhere out here in the southwest Pacific, and to be remembered to all of my friends.

"Thanks for the Plymouth Mail, which I have been receiving almost every time we hit a port where there is mail for us. I just received another shipment of them. There were 18 different issues this time. I put them in order and start reading the old dates first. I am now down to the middle of April.

"Just a little about the weather. It's rather hot here with a lot of rain. That's all I can say on the subject.

"I am feeling tip-top and hope to stay that way until I get back. I have a nice suntan that you can only get way down here south of the Equator. Best of wishes to everybody and a happy summer to all.

CORPORAL WALTER SMITH WINS BRONZE STAR FOR HIS WAR EFFORT.

Mrs. Mary E. Smith, Northville road, has just received from her son, Walter A. Smith, a corporal with the army air forces in the European war theatre, a copy of the official notice given him when he was awarded the bronze star.

The citation reads: "For exceptional meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding services in the European Theater of operations. Corporal Smith's ingenious ability in devising and manufacturing many labor saving and time saving devices has contributed greatly to the war effort. His aggressiveness, technical skill and ingenuity reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States.

"Signed,
"Francis H. Griswold,
"Brig. General, U.S.A."
"Chief of Staff."

He was a former student of the Plymouth high school and a graduate of the Ford Trade school. His wife, Mrs. Azell Smith, resides on Main street, in this city and is employed at the Kelsey-Hayes plant.

WALTER JENDRYKA NOW FIGHTS JAPS OVER OTHER SIDE OF PACIFIC.

First news from Walter Jendryka, one of The Plymouth Mail boys sent with the early invasion troops in the Aleutian islands when the Japs had taken control of that part of the world, in many months came last week to Mr. and Mrs. Orr Passage of Maple street where Walter lived for many years before going into service.

He is now somewhere in the far Pacific fighting the "yellow squirts" as he calls the Japs.

"But it is no easy job. They drop bombs on us all night long so we can't sleep and then they begin fighting as soon as the sun comes up. So you see we are plenty busy.

"Here's hoping I will be able to finish this brief letter to you before I have to get busy again. It's been quite a while since I started it, and it is not finished yet. We are only hoping that we can end this mess soon and get back to the good old United States" he wrote.

It will be recalled that Walter enjoyed a 30 day furlough in Plymouth after the armed forces of the United States had driven the Japs out of the Aleutians.

He then returned to a training camp out in the state of Washington where his outfit was prepared for services against the Japs.

It is the treating of the commonplace with the feeling of the sublime that gives to art its true power.—J. F. Millet.

NICHOLAS COSTA IS CHIEF MACHINIST'S MATE OF FAMED NAVY OILER.

Nicholas Costa, chief machinist's mate, USNR, 29, whose wife, Mrs. Ingrid Marie Costa lives at 413 Maple avenue, is a member of the crew of a sturdy oiler which brought vitally-needed fuel into Iwo Jima and Okinawa and chalked up its 100,000th mile of two-ocean operation in 16 months.

In addition to Iwo and Okinawa, she has transported fuel and lubricating oil, aviation gasoline, ammunition and even belly tanks for Navy fighter planes into the waters of Leyte Gulf, Surigao Straits and the China Sea. Before coming to the Pacific, she supplied ships in the Normandy invasion.

The high mileage achieved by this floating service station included such additional jobs as carrying provisions and supplies for ship's stores, transporting men bound for new duty stations in combat areas and casualties en route to advanced base hospitals.

HERBERT CAMPBELL NOW IN PACIFIC COAST HOSPITAL.

Pfc. Herbert L. Campbell, of 8830 Oakview road, Plymouth, has returned to this country after ten months in the Asiatic Pacific Theater of Operations and is now a patient in the Army's Deshon General Hospital at Butler, Pennsylvania.

Infantryman Campbell participated in the Leyte campaign. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Campbell and before his entry into the Army was employed at Willow Run.

SENDS MONEY HE TOOK OFF A JAP HE HAD KILLED.

Remember that good natured, chunky, always smiling lad who delivered special delivery letters and telegrams around Plymouth up to a few months ago?

His name was Harry Krumm—and to talk with Harry, you'd never think he'd even pull a cat's tail for fear he might hurt it.

Harry went into the armed forces shortly before the holidays—and already he is somewhere over on the other side of the Pacific fighting Japs—and killing them.

In his first letter to "Our Boys" page a few days ago, he sent some Jap money he had taken off a Jap he had killed.

His letter in part follows: "I hope this letter finds you well and happy. I am somewhere in the Philippines and have been into combat with the Japs and I killed some of them. I am sending you some of the money that I took off of a Jap I killed. It is the money that they used when they were in the Philippines. Would you send me the Plymouth Mail?"

"Have there been any more boys from Plymouth that have gone into the army or navy that I would know?"

"Is there anything going on in Plymouth that is new? What shows are on in Plymouth? Are there any good ones? Well, it is time for mail call so don't forget to tell my friends to write to me."

WHY BE FAT?

Get slimmer without exercise. You may lose pounds and have a more slender, graceful figure. No exercising. No laxatives. No drugs. With this AYDS plan you don't cut out any meals, starches, potatoes, meats or butter, you simply cut them down. It's easier when you enjoy delicious (vitamin fortified) AYDS before meals. Absolutely harmless.

In clinical tests conducted by medical doctors, more than 100 persons lost 10 to 15 lbs. average in a few weeks with AYDS Vitamin Candy Reducing Plan. Try a 30-day supply of AYDS, only $2.25. Money back on the very first box if you don't get results. Phone

No Shortage of Proteins. Let Milk Serve What You Need

Mothers, no doubt, worry more over the lack of beef in their children's diet because of the protein value they're missing rather than the taste. But your worries are unnecessary. For milk contains as much protein as steak in addition to other vital body building materials. And what's more children love it — in fact every one loves our creamy rich, delicious tasting milk — especially during the warm weather days. Be sure to serve it daily.

Plymouth Makes Hit at Redford Union

"Plymouth Sensational" says The Daily Warhoop, school paper, at Redford Union High, after the League Play Festival on May 16. Says the paper: "Plymouth created rather a sensation with the play 'New Girl in Town.' George Waters portrayed Mr. Campbell very well."
This play, given by the drama club, was their long-practiced multi-act play. One-act play "New Girl in Town" The actors feel much rewarded with the praise given them by the Redford Union Thespian Troupe.

Plymouth Golfers Win First of Series

In order to beat University High last Thursday, both Bob Minnock and Howard Houghton had only one putt on the last hole. They made it. The other two squad members, Bob Schwarz and Jim Noyes, were low for Plymouth shooting in the high 80's.
The game was played on the University of Michigan course which is one of the best in the state. All four golfers like it which is encouraging since the State meet will be played off there June 2.

Farmington Nine Wins 2-1

In one of the most disappointing games of the season, Farmington beat Plymouth 2 to 1 on Thursday last. Terry Hitt pitched the whole game, allowing only five hits; however Plymouth's batting wasn't good enough to win.
Plymouth made their only run in the second inning on three hits; they hit again in the fifth, sixth and seventh.
Farmington got a hit in the first, one in the third, another in the fourth, and two in the sixth.

Class News

In Miss Olsen's typing department the Seniors are busy passing speed tests. Phyllis Lee has attained the highest rate of 32. The lowest rate to attain in order to pass is 40.
Geraldine Lynn and May Ellen Sexton have reached the rate of 40 in their first year typing.
The art class is making posters for the Bon Voyage Dance sponsored by the Music Box.
Jack Huebler and Rosamund Busby have written poems in French to amuse the class.
The girls in Home Making III have completed all sewing projects. They are now having discussion of family relations. They will devote the rest of the semester to their construction books and community projects.

Mrs. Soule's 8A classes made the salads for the Leaders' club picnic. Part of the same group served at the Girl Reserve luncheon and Daughter banquet. For class work they are now making butter cakes or loaf cakes.
The Home Economics I girls are working on their term papers and sample books. Some of the papers already finished are on rayon, personal grooming, facts about grooming, sewing machines, modern designers, commercial patterns and color schemes.
The drama class entertained for the Bon Voyage dance sponsored by the Music Box on Saturday, May 26. They gave several selections of popular tunes in Spanish and Spanish folk dances. The entertainers were Nancy Proctor, Ardis Curtiss, Joan Town, Stan Burden, Margaret Walborn, Wally Gardner, JoAnne Reswick, Clarence Hoffman, George Waters, Connie Moncreiff, Audrey Neale, Mitzie Jacobson, and Lorraine Nichol.

Girls Check Points by June 8

Over 100 girls went to playday, May 23 at Riverside Park and had dinner after which they played baseball, tennis and shuffleboard.

All gym classes are being given a physical fitness blank for their doctors to fill out during summer vacation.

All girls must check their points by June 8. Any points after this date will not be counted.

The annual Leaders' club picnic at Whitmore Lake, June 14, will end all the club's activities.

Rocks Sink Wayne in 4-2 Victory

The Rocks handed an over-confident Wayne nine their first defeat in six games May 22. Wayne led 2-1 until the last inning when with bases loaded, Delbert Rutenbar singled, scoring Bentley and Dobbs. Schwartz made first on an error to score Hayes making the score four to two in favor of Plymouth. Shely then clinched the game by striking out all 3 Wayne batters.

The battery for Plymouth was Shely, pitcher, allowing four hits, two runs, walking one, and striking out nine; Bartel, Thatcher, For Wayne, Mason, the pitcher, allowed six hits and four runs, struck out ten, and walked three. Green catching.

Delbert Rutenbar made three of the Rock's six hits. It was the first game Plymouth has been able to play in two weeks because of rain.

Free Throws

Will Bill K, please stop giving the wolf call when B. R. passes; she gets awfully flustered. One girl thought Bob Brink was so cute in his varsity costume that she wished he would wear it all the time.

Elaine Kunkel was so cold at the May breakfast that her curls were standing up straight. The breakfast was lots of fun though, especially riding to school from the ark. Ann Hopkins' car had three layers of Girl Reserves in the back.

I wonder why the two Miller girls who got up at 5:30 that Friday morning decided not to attend. They said the stars were still out and they were going to ride bikes to the park. (To tell you the truth, they probably just overslept).

Everyone seemed to be very hungry—Bea Hartmann was said to have eaten 8 cinnamon rolls and Lilitia Pierce drank 10 glasses of hot chocolate.

Wonder why all the kids in English 12 are looking so happy. Maybe because their exams are over for that class.

So said an observant small sister. "Most girls go with girls but some girls go with boys." She catches on quick, doesn't she?

Seniors Give Farewell Assembly

The Senior class presented their farewell assembly before the upper classmen, May 29, in the high school auditorium. The assembly was opened by Clarence Hoffman as master of ceremonies who turned the program over to Jean Livernois to read the class will. Then came the class movie. The senior president, Ralph Bachelidor, gave a short speech and presented Jackie Dalton, junior president, with the gavel. Bernard Birt, Merlin Datcher, and Rosamund Busby then read the class prophecy and class facts. The assembly ended with the Senior song led by Joan Gilles.

Students Run City

Twenty-four eager students of Plymouth High directed the activities of the municipal government Thursday, May 24. They conducted a commission meeting, patrolled the roads, investigated stores, assessed buildings, operated switchboard, and wrote up reports.

The policemen, Jim Wittsie and Wally Gardner, under Chief Vince Simonetti and Captain John Hopkins, had the most fun. They drove the police cars on patrol, chased a truck for speeding, investigated the damage to the Standard Oil station, inspected the pool room and several beer gardens, picked up a stray dog, eradicated seven wasp nests, and were shown through the round house. A car backed into the police car driven by Officer Wittsie but no damage was done.

At the commission meeting, Hugh Harsha, acting as city clerk, called the roll, which included Mayor Valrance and commissioners Hopkins, Burden, Kucie, and Linn, read the minutes of the meeting of May 24, and read the bills for approval. Mayor Valrance then conducted the meeting in a discussion of the business on hand.

It was decided that: (a) something should be done about the rubbish in the rear of Heide's Greenhouse, (b) calcium chloride should be sprayed on Farmer and Sheldon streets to lay the dust, (c) the holes in Holbrook from Spring to Plymouth should be filled, (d) the proposed zoning ordinance on Starkweather should be passed, (e) the dogpound at Cavell should be repaired. The proposed improvements to the Music Box were discussed but it was decided to drop the matter for the present.

Health Officer Sanko disclosed that only 32 out of 136 grocery clerks had health certificates.

Dick Moffitt, city mechanic, was so busy that he had time to completely sand, rub, and paint his car.

Ralph Bachelidor, fire chief, was terribly disappointed because there were no fires—not even a bonfire.

Juniors Hold Circus in Gym

The juniors will entertain the seniors tonight, June 1, in the high school gym from 8 to 11 o'clock. P. T. McDowell will be the ring master for the most original on-airing circus since P. T. Barnum's three ring circus. There will be presented two of the most unusual vertebrates in captivity. The circus will have a one night stand with refreshments for all.
The chairman for the program is Jim Thornton; decorations, Emmy Lou Hough; refreshments, Marilyn Vershure.

Lams Club Initiates Eight Girls

The Lam's club initiated Margaret Jackson, Wanda Hunt, Bea Hartman, Ann Hopkins, Carolyn Sayre, Marion Price, Lois Norngren, and Marion Kirkpatrick at Riverside Park Thursday, May 27 at 7:00 p.m.

Each girl was under the supervision of an older member and was obliged to do anything she was told. Each had to wear one side of her hair in pigtails and an anklet on one foot with dress shoes, while on the other she wore silk hose and a low heeled shoe. Nancy Gerst was the general chairman of the shindig.

Four Boys Pass Army Test

John Bruce Murray, Raymond Runkel, James Thornton and George Valrance passed the ASTRP qualifying test. Subject to enlistment in the Eric and to certain requirements of age, citizenship, graduation from high school and parental consent, the boys are eligible for assignment to a college training unit.

Here and There

The Girls String Trio, consisting of Ruth Campbell, Bernice Miklosky and Mary Helen sang for the Newburg graduation, May 29.

John Carney represented the PHS band at a Redford Union Music Festival with participants from Farmington, Plymouth, Northville, and Redford.

The high school band began and ended a program at the Pilgrim Products on May 21 when the band received the Army-Navy E. The band and drum majorettes also marched in the Plymouth Memorial Day parade.

Saturday evening, Pat Kehoe, Donald Gattshalk, Joan Miller, and Harold Evans went to Edgewater Park for dancing and amusements.

In celebration of her birthday Friday evening, Betty Richwine gave a theater party for Joan Miller, Beverly Brown, Betty Dely, Katherine Blagsson, Marion Weberlein, and Ruth Bryan. After the show the girls went to Betty's house for games and refreshments.

Marilyn Tebo, Edna Newton, Nancy Broman and Miss Wrisley had refreshments at Joanne Walsh's home after the Barber Shop Bazaar.

Vivian Anderson and "Muggs" Hunt, U.S.N. went to the Mercury theater, May 22. Afterwards they had dinner at Hucks. This same couple went to Eastwood Gardens, May 24, to see Tomny Dorsey.

The Varsity club had an enjoyable evening at the Plymouth country club Monday, May 21. The couples played golf, dined and ended the evening with refreshments. Those present were: Emmy Hough, Ed Strong, Jean Norgren, Don Rock, Jean Murray, Hugh Harsha, Nat Reitzel, George Valrance, Jackie Dalton, Ralph Bachelidor, Mary Christensen, Caryl Cushman, Ruth Campbell, Don Hayes, Peggy Hart, Merlin Datcher, Wanda Hunt, Dan Wisley, Edna Newton, Bob Brink, Eleanor Hart, Jean Thompson, Marilyn Vershure, Dick Groth, Al May, Don Shely, Ray Johnson, Bill Horie, Bob Schwartz and Ray Kurtz. The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Thomshack, Mr. and Mrs. Ingram, Mr. and Mrs. Hedrick and Mr. Moiso.

Assembly Honors Year's Winners

The honor assembly announcing letter winners in sports, music, and Leaders club, and American Legion awards for essays and posters, and the best girl and boy citizens was held Friday, May 25. The cheer leaders Jerry West, Mary Lou Rowe, Phyllis Christenson, Marjorie Basset, Wanda Hunt, Beverly Bovee, Jeep Hart and Lorraine Nichol won letters. Six girls, Shirely Schockow, Jackie Dalton, Marilyn Vershure, Marjorie Elliott, Ellen McAninch, Marjorie Basset and Jeanne Schuler, received their 1000 point letters in the honor assembly. All these girls are juniors except Jeanne Schuler who is a half year student. Jeanne also received her 400 point letter.

There was the announcement of the best boy and girl citizens who are George Valrance and Elaine Kunkel; the winner of the DAR essay contest and the best around American history student, Alan Kidston. Mr. Latture named as winners in dramatic reading Elizabeth Neal and Wanda Hunt, in oratory, Clarence Hoffman extemporaneous speaking, Joan Gilles, in declamation, Mary Lawson and Beverly Hauk. Mrs. Bixler has made special mention of four students of dramatics: Connie Moncrieff, George Waters, Stanley Burden and Bob Minock. Each has been in at least ten plays, has given 30 or more performances, has written at least one original play, has directed one or more plays, has been in the junior or senior plays, has been a member of the Dramatics club for two or more years, and has participated in the 6B League play contest.

Requirements for music letters: must demonstrate ability to play chromatic scale, sustain tones, play rhythm patterns, and memory scale; also have good school citizenship.

Those who received letters are William Beitner, Robert Bartel, Don Brinks, Don Korte, Mary Lou Rowe, Betsy Ross, Charles Stewart, Don Vetal, Doris Waldecker, Allen Williams, Ruth Campbell, Bernice Miklosky.

Miss Lovell announced the winners of the American Legion essay contest as first prize of five dollars, Rosemary Miller; second, $3, Veronica Kucie; and third $2, Allan Kidston.

Golf: Requirements, must play in at least two meets and have good attendance in practice; Lee Langkable, Bob Schwartz, Bob Minock, Ed Thorne, Howard Houghton.

Track: Requirements, should average a point a meet if in one event; if more, 1 1/4. Al May, Skip Horie, Danny Wisely, Irving Seyer, Don MacGregor, Ray Johnson, Hugh Harsha, Merlin Datcher, Jean Thompson, Ken and Floyd Pankow.

Baseball: Must play 17 innings or more; Don Hayes, Delbert Rutenbar, Jim Naves, Don Shely, Duane Rutenbar, Don Rock, Bob Bartel, Frank Keehl, William Schwartz, and Dale Bentley. Basketball: Must earn a number of points and play a number of quarters; Robert Brink, Don Hayes, Hugh Harsha, Ronald Micol, Robert Reinas, Don Rock, Harold Schultz, George Schomberger, and Jim Witse, manager.

Football letters were announced last semester.

Your Hit Parade

The boys and girls of Plymouth High School may be singing the following songs very soon and some are singing them now. "I'm Just Wild About Harry"—Libbie Neal. "Like Someone In Love"—June Bassett. "I Fall in Love Too Easily"—Bob Reh. "I Didn't Know About"—Pat Martin. "I Should Care"—Bob Reinas. "I Begged Her"—Rex Parriss. "Don't Fence Me In"—Mickie Schuster.

Horie Fourth in State Half-Mile

The two boys, Al May and Skip Horie, who won their individual races at the regional meet in Ypsilanti, Saturday, May 19 went to the state meet last Saturday, May 26 at East Lansing. This meet takes in all high schools except those in metropolitan Detroit.

Al May, running his second best mile of the year, could place only seventh with a time of 4 min., 4 1/2 seconds; the winner's time was 4 min., 38 seconds. This rather poor time of Al's was largely due to his running too fast in the first half mile which he was clocked in 2 min. 14 sec. and led all of the milers for the first 3 laps. This, incidentally, makes Al the seventh best Class B miler in the state.

Skip Horie, running his best time, was able to place only 4th in his heat with a time of 2 min. 7 7/10 sec. He was beaten out of third by a stride and a half. This winner's time was 2 min. 4 4/10 sec. Skip was also in the lead and led all the runners for the first 1 1/4 laps but just didn't have enough left to finish ahead. Skip's fault was the same as Al's, running the first half of this race, the quarter mile, in 58 seconds. But by taking fourth he was able to bring home to Plymouth 1 point. Because there were two races in the half-mile, Skip, taking fourth in his heat, is considered by the coach the sixth best half-miler of Class B in the State.

The two runners had some morale builders when coach Moisio, Jean Thompson, George Valrance, Bruce Murray, and Ray Johnson accompanied them to East Lansing.

In the state meet 5 records were broken, 3 in Class B, and 2 in Class D. The records broken in Class B were the 100 yd. dash, the 220 yd. dash, and the broad jump. The records in Class D that were broken were the 100 yd. dash and the 220 yd. dash. In both Class B and D, the boy who broke the 100 yd. dash record also broke the 220 record. The fellow who did it in Class D was from the Michigan State School for the Deaf.

French Club Gives "Superstition Shag"

"Superstition Shag" sponsored by the French club Wednesday, June 13 will take the place of a school picnic. There will be special entertainment but the French club is not revealing any information. The general chairman is Lorraine French. The chairman for decorations is Gertrude Mulry; refreshments, Mary Helen Swanson; publicity, Marie Duthoo; tickets, Virginia Waldecker; floor, Bruce Deyo; entertainment, Phyllis La Vergne; and chaperones, Jeanne Schuler.

Senior Sketches

Anna Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ray of 1125 Starkweather avenue, is taking a general course here and then hopes to attend Michigan State College. Anna's pet peeve is high school couples who are supposed to be "going steady." She has been active on the ticket committee of Senior Play and on a Class Night committee. Ann has no particular hobby but likes baseball better than other sports.

Connie Neely, daughter of Gladis and Alonzo Neely of 33989 Orangelawn avenue, lists as her hobby collecting letters. Her pet peeve is stuck up girls. Because of her outside work, Connie took part in few school activities, but in the ninth grade she was captain of a school basketball team. After graduation she plans to take a trip to Texas.

The automobile industry, concentrated in peace years in Detroit, Dearborn, Pontiac, Flint and Lansing, has contributed more than twenty billion dollars worth of military supplies to the armed forces.

New Chairman for Red Cross

Herbert B. Trix, President of the American Injector Company and the W. M. Chace Company, was unanimously elected Chairman of the Detroit Chapter, American Red Cross at a meeting of the Board of Directors held Monday, May 21. Mr. Trix succeeds Mr. William J. Norton, executive Vice President and Secretary of the Children's Fund of Michigan, and "Dean of Social Workers in the United States," who suggested Mr. Trix for the post. Mr. Norton will continue as a member of the Executive Committee and Board of Directors of the Detroit Chapter.

As campaign leader in 1944 and 1945, when he led Detroit successfully over the top, Mr. Trix is especially qualified to direct the affairs of this great Detroit Chapter, one of the largest in the country, with its one million senior members and four hundred thousand junior members.

In accepting his election, Mr. Trix said: "I appreciate the opportunity for service that participation in this important war activity affords me. Mr. Norton and his associates, and the thousands of volunteers have built the Detroit Chapter into one of the largest and most efficient Red Cross organizations in the United States. They have directed it wisely throughout the war. It shall be our duty to continue this activity and meet every need of our service men and women aboard and at home, and we must be prepared to continue the services of the Red Cross long after the actual fighting is over."

Mr. Trix was born in Detroit on June 9, 1891. He is the son of the late John and Harriet Trix. He was educated in the Detroit schools and was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1912 with the degree of Mechanical Engineer. During the last war, Mr. Trix served as a Major in Ordnance in the AEF. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the Detroit Chapter and the Executive Committee. From 1936 to 1939, Mr. Trix was Mayor of the City of Grosse Pointe, and he has also served on the Council.

Auto Repairing To Be Regulated

What will they think of next? The latest thing to emerge from Washington bureaucrats are a lot of new forms that every auto repairman in Plymouth and the rest of the country must fill out and give to a customer, whether the customer wants it or not.

The following news item has been received by Plymouth Mail from one of the government agencies. It is effective June 14, so people who make a living repairing automobiles, had better read it and be ready to go to jail if the "law gets after them."

The announcement follows: Specific limits have been set on the hours of labor that automobile repair establishments may charge for in computing prices for 56 common passenger car repair jobs, the Office of Price Administration announced. This action, effective June 14, 1945, is taken to check a practice in some repair shops of charging customers for more hours of labor than were actually required to do the particular job. The repair jobs covered range all the way from a minor brake adjustment to the complicated job of installing the crank shaft and bearings. All shops are required to supply sales slips or receipts to customers for any of the 56 listed operations, regardless of whether or not requested by the customer. The slip or receipt must describe briefly the service, cite its number in the new regulation, the shop's hourly rate, the number of hours charged for, the prices charged for parts and materials, and the total charge. Automobile repair services es not among the 56 listed continue to be priced as formerly under the services regulation.

Plenty of Food to Be Available During June says Uncle Sam

Uncle Sam has requested The Plymouth Mail and all the other newspapers to tell the folks about the "many" kinds of food that will be available during the next few months.

This government notice says: "Carrots, cabbage, potatoes, tomatoes and onions are expected to be in plentiful supply throughout the greater part of the United States during June, the War Food Administration says. Also readily available will be dry-mix soups, dry edible peas, wheat flour and bread, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, oatmeal, and soya flour, grits and flakes, apple butter, citrus marmalade, jellies and grape, plum and fig jams continue in good supply. Due to military demands or transportation problems, some temporary local shortages may occur even in these plentiful foods. It is expected that an abundance of Georgia and Carolina peaches will be found in most eastern and mid-western markets after mid-June, and that substantial supplies of locally produced fresh vegetables will be available in all of the leading markets."

Latest aircraft instrument is an automatic navigator that constantly shows the latitude and longitude of a plane in flight. A new and remarkable chemical, lawns and fairways of dandelions, while harmless to grass, rids plantain and other weeds.

Going Back to Missouri to Live

"I've decided to go back to my old Missouri, where I was raised as a boy, to live the rest of my life" stated Claude Attebury when he came to The Plymouth Mail office the other day to have the address of his paper changed.

Mr. and Mrs. Attebury, who for more than 25 years have lived in Plymouth, are moving to La Plata, Missouri, near where they spent the early part of their lives, where they expect to live in the future.

He has been employed in various Ford plants around Plymouth for almost a quarter of a century. Their home during recent years has been in Robinson subdivision.

Irwin and Mack Discuss Old Days

Postmaster Harry Irwin reports one of his most enjoyable experiences occurred when he went in to Detroit for the Jefferson Day dinner—$25 minimum per plate.

Harry was relaxing for a few moments in the lobby of the Book Cadillac when Mr. Baseball—Connie Mack, himself—sat down next to him.

Harry, himself a former professional ball player and brother of the late Charlie Irwin, one of baseball's all time great third basemen, it was a justifiable thrill.

He reports they talked over baseball, past and present, for nearly two hours.

"Most of the time we agreed but sometimes we disagreed," Harry said. "Mr. Mack (everyone, even his own ball players, calls him Mr. Mack) is a very interesting man to talk to. He looks to be in excellent health and says he never felt better."

Charley Irwin, Harry's brother, starred with the Chicago Cubs, Cincinnati Reds, and Brooklyn Dodgers back around the turn of the century. He knew Mack well. Charley was killed in an auto accident in Chicago, in 1926.

His playing of the hot corner was compared by many with that of Jimmy Collins. He probably was the better hitter, but most oldtimers agree that Collins had no peer as a fielder.

Cost of a B-29 (superfortress) is today approximately $600,000. The first Superfortress cost $3,392,396 to produce. Incidentally, manhours per plane have been reduced from 157,000 to 57,000.

7 COMMON SENSE REASONS

... why you as an American farmer should put every dollar you possibly can into War Bonds in the mighty 7th War Loan ...

- 1 Farmers know that the demand for food is greater this year than ever before. And farmers are doing a magnificent job of producing it. The same urgent need applies to all war goods. For today the cost of the war is greater than ever.
- 2 Tons and tons of supplies must still flow to our millions of men in Europe. As you read this, still more tons must be shipped over the huge distances of the Pacific to our troops poised there already to begin the harvest. If we are not to let slip the opportunity to hit the Japs, hard—now we are at last in position to strike—we must supply these men with more of everything—new, harder hitting weapons ... more powerful tanks ... swift new giant planes—and more of them than ever before!
- 3 We must make sure that the tragic thousands of our wounded receive the best, most thorough care. That means money without stint—for bandages, for medicines, for thousands and thousands of completely equipped first-aid stations, dozens of hospital ships, hundreds of hospitals.
- 4 Last year up to this time there had been two war loans. This year, to raise about the same amount of money, the 7th War Loan must do two jobs in one. And so your country is asking you to back up those American boys slugging it out in the front lines—by digging down deep and buying twice as many War Bonds as you did last time.
- 5 And when you put your money—every cent you can—into those bigger bonds in the big 7th War Loan, you'll be doing more than loaning cash for a vital, immediate war need— you'll be helping to fight the inflation that could wreck our nation's whole future. For loose money, in wartime when goods are scarce, tends to "bid up" the prices of things, the same as at an auction. Your War Bond will be safe and money, too, increasing in value until the time when you get back $4 for every $3 you invested.

5 The War Bonds you buy will mature in ten years to send your boy or girl through college ... or to provide for your own security, for travel, or retirement.

6 Every $75 you put into a War Bond today will return you $100 at maturity; every $375 will yield you $500. And if you need to get your money back for an emergency—you can do so any time you wish 60 days after the bonds are issued. War Bonds are really the same as a cash reserve for emergencies, except that they increase steadily in value, and because each one is registered, you won't lose your money through fire, theft, or loss of the bonds.

7 In the years after the war, when better-than-ever farm equipment will be available, your War Bonds will be a backlog for you to renew your machinery ... to build that new barn ... to improve your land.

But meantime—your idle dollars can be fighting dollars ... put every one of them into the fight in the big Seventh War Loan!

Trade your folding money for fighting money!

Put every idle dollar on the line!

Start the 7th War Loan Drive by Buying War Bonds for Mother to Be Presented to Her On Mother's Day.

Kiwanis Club Safety Article

By Roy Fisher. (Kiwanis Safety Campaign Series)

"We all sooner or later in life take out insurance in one form or other and most of us believe in insurance. A surprisingly few do not. The need for insurance was first realized many score years ago. A group of men pooled their resources to take care of each others losses. The need was first felt in the shipping business and covered loss of ship and cargo. Later companies were formed and the field was broadened to cover every hazard in life.

"The rates of present day insurance is based upon maintenance and loss ratio. The more numerous the losses the more the rates are affected. As an example when the 35 miles an hour limit was placed on auto driving to save tires and gasoline the automobile insurance rates dropped. The companies anticipated less accidents and a lower ratio of losses which did follow. The past year however the enforcement of the 35 miles an hour limit has not been observed and the auto insurance companies have experienced an adverse loss ratio. As a consequence an increase in rates on this type of insurance has already taken place with many companies and others will follow.

"When we consider that carelessness is responsible for thousands of lives each year it should be impressed upon each of us that safety education should be continued in an even broader form than our children are now given. We adults no matter how careful and considerate we might be; on the highway and in our work and play cannot stop accidents but proper carefulness can save many a person who is healthy and alive today from a casualty tomorrow. It is to your benefit to observe safety for it saves lives and pays dividends in lower insurance rates."

Food Prospects Are Not Good

If any one in Plymouth or vicinity has an idea that the food shortage situation is going to improve immediately or in the months that lie ahead, they had better change their minds at once.

No, there is little grumbling about the food shortage. But many cannot understand how it is that in the land of plenty, there is such a shortage of food when in Canada and other countries except where armed forces have made invasions, there seems to be a far more plentiful supply of food than in this country.

It appears that the war has finally driven home to Americans that they are no longer the world's best eaters and to save others from starving they must go on a simple, unsavory diet.

Meat stores all over the nation are empty. The steak-lover is eating fish. Where butter is available the housewife can't afford the ration points.

It isn't going to get any better for many months. There'll be enough to eat but the diet will be simple.

That is the unvarnished picture for 1945, at least while this nation and its Allies are still fighting Japan and helping to avert starvation in war-ravaged Europe.

Some other countries, in fact, will eat better than America, a new and paradoxical situation.

A news association surveyed the situation through local officials in this country, the Federal Agriculture Department and sources abroad, and found:

1—Only a few sections—in the far West—have anything like normal meat supplies. Poultry is disappearing. The strain on the egg supply is being felt. Many places don't even have bologna or luncheon meats. Stores are closing.

2—Germany faces possible famine next winter; the French and Belgians are solving their problem pretty well; the Balkans are in dire straits; Holland, Norway, Finland and Italy must have help if they are to eat.

Spain, Egypt, Denmark, Sweden and Canada are eating well and in many commodities don't even have to ration.

Other countries with ample food supplies include several in South America. England is worse off than the United States.

In this country, says the Agriculture department, the outlook for the next six months is:

There will be enough essential foods to maintain good diet but that diet will have to be plain. Reduced supplies of meats, fats, and sugar will lower the energy value of that diet from five to 10 per cent.

Americans ate excessively in 1944—150 pounds of meat per capita. The supply this year has been at a 115-pound rate but that may go up to 126 in the fall.

We are eating so many eggs as substitute that a serious shortage of that protein may develop. The calories available daily will be 3,200 compared to 3,500 last year.

Only very active men and boys need 3,000 or more. In many parts of Europe it is being held to 1,200 to 1,800.

Sugar, which has been plentiful, may be approaching a crisis.

Plymouth Girl State Graduate

Five hundred and 44 men and women will be eligible to participate in Michigan State College's fourth wartime commencement exercises at 3 p.m. Saturday, June 9 in the college auditorium, president John A. Hannah announced today. They represent 53 Michigan counties and 16 other states.

Included in this group are 117 who received their degrees in the fall and winter quarters, 291 who plan to complete the requirements for graduation this term, 92 who expect to finish their degree work by the end of the summer quarter, September 1, and 44 candidates for advanced degrees. Although summer quarter candidates will not receive degrees on June 9, they may take part in commencement activities because at no other time in the year does Michigan State College hold graduation exercises.

Students from Wayne county include: Margery Jean Merriam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Merriam, 417 Pacific.

Two prominent educators will be the speakers for graduation exercises. Dr. Franklyn E. Snyder, president of Northwestern university, will deliver the commencement address, and the Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, president of the University of Notre Dame, will be the speaker for the baccalaureate service at 3 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, June 3, in the college auditorium.

Other commencement activities at Michigan State include Dr. Hannah's reception for the graduating class, May 31; senior play, May 31; commencement dance, June 2; College Sing, women's glee club, June 3; Lantern Night, June 5; and senior picnic, June 6. Because of the war, all class reunions have been eliminated except that of the Class of 1895 and the Patriarchs, which will be held on June 9.

In 1918 only 100,000 tons of rubber were consumed for war programs. The highest pre-war consumption was in 1941 when 711,000 tons were consumed, but that was said to be a runaway year, far beyond normal consumption. Last year we were able to put 711,000 tons in production, notwithstanding the loss of the Eastern plantations. This year calls for 937,000 tons and 1946 calls for 1,100,000 tons. Of the total consumption 85 per cent is synthetic rubber. There is no shortage of synthetic production capacity, but of manpower and of rayon, cotton cord, bead wire and carbon black for tire production.

Food Prospects Are Not Good

If any one in Plymouth or vicinity has an idea that the food shortage situation is going to improve immediately or in the months that lie ahead, they had better change their minds at once.

No, there is little grumbling about the food shortage. But many cannot understand how it is that in the land of plenty, there is such a shortage of food when in Canada and other countries except where armed forces have made invasions, there seems to be a far more plentiful supply of food than in this country.

It appears that the war has finally driven home to Americans that they are no longer the world's best eaters and to save others from starving they must go on a simple, unsavory diet.

Meat stores all over the nation are empty. The steak-lover is eating fish. Where butter is available the housewife can't afford the ration points.

It isn't going to get any better for many months. There'll be enough to eat but the diet will be simple.

That is the unvarnished picture for 1945, at least while this nation and its Allies are still fighting Japan and helping to avert starvation in war-ravaged Europe.

Some other countries, in fact, will eat better than America, a new and paradoxical situation.

A news association surveyed the situation through local officials in this country, the Federal Agriculture Department and sources abroad, and found:

1—Only a few sections—in the far West—have anything like normal meat supplies. Poultry is disappearing. The strain on the egg supply is being felt. Many places don't even have bologna or luncheon meats. Stores are closing.

2—Germany faces possible famine next winter; the French and Belgians are solving their problem pretty well; the Balkans are in dire straits; Holland, Norway, Finland and Italy must have help if they are to eat.

Spain, Egypt, Denmark, Sweden and Canada are eating well and in many commodities don't even have to ration.

Other countries with ample food supplies include several in South America. England is worse off than the United States.

In this country, says the Agriculture department, the outlook for the next six months is:

There will be enough essential foods to maintain good diet but that diet will have to be plain. Reduced supplies of meats, fats, and sugar will lower the energy value of that diet from five to 10 per cent.

Americans ate excessively in 1944—150 pounds of meat per capita. The supply this year has been at a 115-pound rate but that may go up to 126 in the fall.

We are eating so many eggs as substitute that a serious shortage of that protein may develop. The calories available daily will be 3,200 compared to 3,500 last year.

Only very active men and boys need 3,000 or more. In many parts of Europe it is being held to 1,200 to 1,800.

Sugar, which has been plentiful, may be approaching a crisis.

Immediate need for 100 workers at Bohn Aluminum Co. plant No. 24, in Adrian, in order to make possible an almost 100 per cent increase in output per month has resulted in one of the most intense recruiting drives ever staged in Michigan. WMC, AAF, 6th service command and the Corps of Engineers are participating in this drive to dig up the critically needed manpower overnight. Principal reason for the drive, WPB said is the suddenly increased demands the war department has made upon all aluminum extrusion plants for 8-29 (Superfortress parts and pontoon bridges).

Ways to Protect Your Garden

(By E. I. Besemer)
Sanitary measures are the cheapest control for one-brooded corn borer. Plow under all stubble or stalks at once. Plowing under whole stalks usually requires wide bottom plows. The attachment of wires, chains, or commercially available weed-hooks to the plow will help to keep stalks under.

This calendar is especially planned by your Civilian Defense Victory Garden committee to remind you of the things to be done in your garden this week. It's time to thin many of those crops sown in April. Thinning should be done when the soil is moist and while the plants are still young so that they can be pulled out without disturbing the ones that are left. Onions from seed and radishes can be left in the ground until those that are thinned out are large enough to eat. Carrots should be left to develop until the roots are the size of the little finger, and alternate plants are then pulled and eaten.

It may be necessary to take some precaution against onion maggot. A 2 percent oil emulsion or bichloride of mercury solution will check them. The bichloride of mercury can also be used on radishes and cabbage. The solution is made by dissolving 1/2 ounce of bichloride of mercury (corrosive sublimate) in 1/2 pint of hot water, then diluting this quantity to 5 gallons. For radishes and onions apply along the row at the rate of 1 gallon to each 35 feet of row. It should be applied soon after the radishes are up and when onions are about 1 inch high. Make a second application about 10 to 12 days later. For early cabbage or cauliflower apply soon after setting out, pouring 1/2 cup of the solution at the base of each plant.

A second planting of spinach can be made this week. Later plantings will usually bolt to seed and result in a poor crop. Sweet corn, green and wax beans and New Zealand spinach can be sown in your garden this week. From 15 to 20 feet of row of beans for each member of your family should be enough for this first planting and about 30 to 40 feet of sweet corn for each family member should produce plenty for fresh use and always plant several short rows of corn rather than one long row. Corn is wind pollinated and a good set of seed will occur only if there are several rows. Although we may still have some killing frosts, you'll be pretty safe in setting out tomatoes, peppers, eggplants and celery plants this week. If a killing frost threatens cover them with tents or cans and baskets.

Cultivate frequently during this month and pull the weeds between the plants. Cultivating should be done as soon after each rain as the soil can be worked without it sticking to your tools. Weeds should be pulled while they are still small and when the soil is moist so that the plants are not disturbed. If you have a bed of asparagus, the cut should be in full swing during this week. Cut it every day to get the highest quality.

It's time to plant late potatoes. The rows should be not less than 2 feet nor more than 3 feet apart and the hills 10 to 15 inches apart the rows.

The week of May 20 through May 27 has been designated by the State Nutrition Committee as "Plan to Can Your Own" week, according to Miss Emma DuBord, Wayne county Home Demonstration agent. Designed to encourage the home canning of more fruits and vegetables during the most crucial food year of the war, the attention of homemakers will be called during the week of improved methods and ways to prevent spoilage. "Most families will face a vitamin famine if they depend on their ration books this year," says Miss Roberta Hershey, extension nutritionist of Michigan State College. "Fifty quarts of home canned vegetables per person is the very minimum in any family, and 60 quarts is recommended for an adequate diet." Advance information shows that 61 percent of the 1945 commercial fruit pack and 48 percent of the commercial vegetable pack is tagged for military use. The cut Michigan may even greater with a meager fruit crop in prospect. Miss Hershey emphasizes that more careful canning is needed to avoid spoilage. Waste from spoilage is particularly heavy with corn and tomatoes. Canning experts stress that the pressure cooker is essential for corn. With tomatoes, a hot pack and a longer time in the boiling water will head off most of the spoilage. A short simmering pre-cook and a 10-minute period in the water bath is recommended—longer if the tomatoes have green cores. Leaflets are available on home canning in the offices of county agricultural or home demonstration agents.

Boys and Girls Get Tractor Wise

(By E. I. Besemer)
A group of young Wayne County farmers have been meeting regularly for the past eight or ten weeks in a tractor maintenance class. This class was organized by the County 4-H Club Agent, Mrs. Ada Watson, and cooperated in by Mr. Pierce, local representative of the Standard Oil company, in Wayne. These young farmers are keeping their tractors in better condition this spring as a result of their study.

The members of the tractor maintenance class joins the County Agent, E. I. Besemer, in offering the following suggestions to Wayne county farmers for a spring check up of their tractors:

1. Check for proper level of water in the radiator and remove accumulations of dirt and debris on the radiator.
2. Check fan belt and tighten as recommended.
3. Check spark-plugs to see that all wires from the ignition system are properly attached.
4. Check oil in the crank case for proper level and condition. Change oil filter if necessary.
5. Check fuel in gasoline tank and make certain that valves are open from fuel tank to carburetor.
6. Check oil level in transmission housing as well as the differential housing.
7. Check the pressure in the tractor tires.
8. Grease all pressure fittings thoroughly, applying with a high capacity grease gun.
9. Clean air cleaner, and re-oil once each day during operation.
10. Check transmission and differentials to see that each contains enough clean oil of the right weight.

In stressing the importance of keeping the tractor in good condition, E. C. Sauve, research specialist in the department of agricultural engineering at Michigan State College, reports that dealers everywhere are swamped with orders for repair jobs. This means that due to the lateness of the season many of these tractors will not be repaired in time for spring work. One of the best precautions against tractor breakdowns, he cautions, is faithfulness in servicing with constant reference to the tractor instruction manual.

Bird Hunting Prospects Poor

Plymouth bird hunters will be disappointed to know that upland game bird prospects for the 1945 season are not encouraging, according to conservation department game men.

Ruffed grouse started nesting as early as April 1, a month sooner than usual, according to reports, and recent low temperatures and continued rains may have destroyed some broods.

Prairie chickens, sharp-tailed grouse, and ruffed grouse have been declining in numbers since 1941, according to game kill reports, and may have reached the bottom of the cycle last year. The expected upturn this year, however, may have been checked by inclement weather.

Ruffed grouse shooting was better in the lower peninsula last season than in 1943, the take totaling 186,154 birds as against 178,825 the preceding year, but declined sharply above the Straits where hunters took 74,322 birds in 1944 as against 111,292 in 1943.

Sharp-tailed grouse apparently have established themselves successfully on Drummond Island as the result of plantings in 1941. The birds have taken over all of the suitable habitat on the island. There were two releases of ruffed grouse on the island last year, before and after the breeding season, and game men report that the drumming of two cocks has been heard this spring.

Efforts to secure 200 pairs of sharp-tailed grouse from the Province of Alberta this spring have failed, the Alberta Game Association reporting there were too few birds to allow successful trapping. Reports from Pennsylvania also indicate that upland game birds are at the bottom of the cycle elsewhere.

WARNING

To All Who Are Dependent On Furnace Heat for Next Winter.

Last year it seemed that everybody waited until the cold weather struck before giving their furnaces the attention they required. Our phone kept ringing with frantic last-minute calls for repairs and service; naturally, we were swamped with work, and many homes had to suffer the cold inconvenience of waiting their turn. If you wish to avoid this hardship, now is the time to have your heating system inspected. To delay simply means that you will have to take your chances on the scarcity of materials and manpower. It may be that your furnace needs only slight attention, something that we could take care of now in a matter of minutes—but which would require weeks to get at during the rush period. We want to give you the best possible service, no matter how big or small the job, and your cooperation in calling us now will be to your benefit. Don't let next winter catch you with your grates down!

Babson Says - -

Babson Park, Mass., June 1.—
1. Don't let any possible reconversion slump frighten you. In certain industries there must, of necessity, be some unemployment while switching over from war to peace work; but in most cases this slump will be only temporary. With it there will be a decline in the earnings of some companies but, after a readjustment for excess profits taxes, this should not be troublesome.

2. Don't buy the new low-coupon rate long-term bonds which are now being issued. Money rates will continue low for only a short time. The pendulum always has swung and is going to continue to swing. Many bonds now selling on a 3 1/2 percent basis will some time again be selling on a 6 percent basis. Much lower prices for fixed interest securities are inevitable.

3. Don't hold second-grade railroad securities any longer; but now take your profits. This applies to most railroad stocks and certainly to railroad income bonds which are now selling at fantastic prices. Railroad net earnings are headed for a severe postwar slump which will probably last many years.

4. Don't sell the general stock market. The Dow-Jones Industrial Averages will surely sell for more some time during the next twelve months than they do at the present time. This probably also applies to many utility stocks. I am especially bullish on the chain store stocks. I also like some of the convertible preferreds which should combine reasonable safety with speculative possibilities.

5. Don't wait too long before buying the land upon which you hope to some day build a home. I don't like big commercial farm properties and am rather scared about city property; but well-located suburban land—both for homes and small farms—should be much higher as soon as building restrictions are removed.

6. Don't forget that inflation is with us and is bound to be more with us during the years ahead. The 25 billions of cash in the pants' pockets, cash drawers and "socks" of the American people, an increase of 300 percent over prewar figures, will surely cause a postwar stampede for new houses, new furniture and new gadgets of all kinds. When you consider that the supply of good stocks and bonds is even less than it was during prewar days, we are bound to see higher stock prices due to this inflationary situation.

7. Don't get hipped on anything or anybody. Remember every industry, industry, job, home, investment, yes, and religion, has its advantages and disadvantages. Be tolerant and listen to the other fellow. Mix play and work, thrift and spending, friends and enemies, all in proper proportion. The same need for diversification in connection with investments is necessary for one's good character, health, income and happiness.

8. Don't be stingy on money spent for the education of yourself and your children. If, in the years to come, the shadow of Russia ever falls on the United States, those who are experts in any one subject will have nothing to fear. Hence, the importance of having your children educated and trained to hold some necessary position under all economic conditions.

9. Don't neglect the churches after the war is over. We talk about "fox-hole religion" among the servicemen, but there are many more fox-holes here in the United States than there are abroad. The churches will especially be entitled to your attendance and support after this global warfare has come to an end. See that you then repay the churches for what they are now doing for you and your families.

10. Don't forget you are going to die some time. Not only take care in making your will, but keep it up to date through the proper use of codicils. Too many people sacrifice their lives by hard work and thrift to accumulate some money; but give almost no thought to how the money is to be used after they go. This means give more thought to the use of forming trusts for your heirs and others. Your local banker will give you good suggestions, free of charge, concerning such trusts.

Preparing for the coming season the War Manpower Commission is launching a "Food for Victory" campaign to recruit 15,000 additional seasonal workers in Michigan canning plants. The armed services require millions of cans of food next year.

Sixty Day Wait For Ration Book

Applications for the replacement of lost ration books number three and four are becoming more numerous, daily. The situation is serious and the Plymouth ration board finds it necessary to make a change in the waiting period for the replacement of these books. The regulations provide a waiting period of fifteen to ninety days to issue new books to replace the books which are lost, strayed or stolen.

The local board has always tried to be fair about this situation and usually accepted the applications for replacement in good faith and issued a new book after a waiting period of fifteen days. Because of the numerous applications being made and the work load at this time, announcement is hereby made that hereafter a waiting period of sixty days will go into effect at once. The local board cautions everyone to be more cautious with their ration books in the future and this change in replacement time will be strictly adhered to.

Artillery Makes New War Record

James Johnson, son of Supt. of Schools Harry Johnson of Livonia, and Mrs. Johnson, is a member of an artillery outfit fighting over in the Philippines, that has seen longer continuous combat service than any other artillery outfit serving in the Philippines, according to an article appearing in an overseas army newspaper.

The article sent by the young artilleryman to his parents, states that this unit has been in active service for 107 days, a record for any artillery outfit serving in that part of the world.

The youth is only 19 years of age and has been overseas for more than 15 months. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson reside at 9827 Ingram, in Rosedale Gardens.

To meet the needs of keeping motor vehicles rolling, 25,000 men in the European theater are engaged in engine repairs and reconditioning. In one month the European theater operation repaired 83,135 small arms, 711 artillery weapons, 5,208 instruments, 23,586 tires, and 17,036 tubes, as well as 34,688 vehicles. The need for replacement parts has become of paramount importance.
