'House-Warming' For Feed Store

Workmen have completed the new building at 1175 Starkweather avenue for the Kasco Feed store that has been erected by Carl Groschke to house his fast growing business.

The structure, 30x50, is of fire-proof construction, built almost entirely of concrete and cement blocks. There is no basement but the structure has been so planned that future additions can easily be attached to it.

"It will take care of my needs for the present time, although I hope to have a new warehouse under construction before many months. That will be at the back end of the property along the Pere Marquette tracks" said Mr. Groschke yesterday.

He plans to stage a free dance on Victory Jubilee night, next Wednesday evening, October 3.

"A sort of housewarming, you know" he said.

The next day after the dance is over, he will begin moving his store from South Main street to its new location and will be open at 1175 Starkweather on Monday, October 8 for business in that location.

Nelson Attends Conference

Another highlight was the discussion led by Julian Smith, who was recently appointed head of the health and physical education program in the state. He told of the need for a better health and physical education program stated Supt. Nelson.

In the Saturday morning session Captain C. J. Scarada, of the State Police discussed schools' responsibility in training safe drivers.

Friday afternoon the superintendents enjoyed a recreational period at which time Mr. Nelson went "deep sea fishing" and caught one eight inch perch.

How's This for A Vacation Trip?

By bus, by plane, by train he recently traveled from Plymouth to Elko, Nevada, way up there in the Rocky Mountains where nothing much is produced outside of ore, cattle and hay.

And what did he do when he landed in this land of high altitude, cold mountain breezes and bright sunshine?

He got a job on a ranch pitching hay!

For two weeks he labored in the hay fields—then called it a day and said his vacation was over and back to Plymouth he came to settle boundary line disputes between property owners and run survey lines for highways, byways and subdivisions.

"That was a great vacation I had, the kind I have been wanting to take for the past six years but just couldn't get around to do it until this month" said Engineer Hamill yesterday.

Trim Your Trees Along Sidewalks

Property owners in Plymouth are requested by City Manager Clarence Elliott to trim their trees that border public sidewalks. His request was prompted by a report made Monday morning in which a local woman said her umbrella was caught by swaying branches and her glasses nearly broken as she walked along one of the city's streets. It seems the branches at that particular spot are low most of the time but were pressed nearer the sidewalk by the rain. Investigation showed it would be impossible to pass under them with a raised umbrella. Mr. Elliott believes a careful pruning of the offending branches would eliminate a lot of friction among local residents. Rain is inconvenient enough without running the risk of having one's un-rella torn from their grasp while struggling along the streets trying to remain dry in a driving rainstorm. A tree need not be indiscriminately trimmed to alleviate the prevailing condition, according to Mr. Elliott. He advocates just trimming off the lowest branches, especially those hanging over sidewalks which normally brush the heads of passing pedestrians. It is just a courtesy due pedestrians and remember courtesy makes safety. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Jones entertained at a family dinner party Wednesday evening in their home on Penniman avenue the occasion honoring the birthday anniversary of his father, John Jones, and their nephew, Pfc. Grayson Jones, Jr., who recently returned home from Germany. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Jones and daughter, Mrs. William Fowler, Mrs. Frank Papile and daughter, Miss Joan Papile.

Advice on Farm Partnerships

The department of farm management at Michigan State college is intensifying its study of farm partnership problems that will arise with the return of thousands of veterans to farms in Michigan. Based on a study of many years, the farm management specialists recommend that special attention be given to several important points when working out partnerships, particularly those of father and son. The department stresses that most of the boys who return to the home farm from battlefields won't be content to work as hired men or unpaid family laborers. Rather, they'll wish to be taken into the business on a sound partnership basis. Before deciding to form a partnership, it is wise to decide whether the partners and other family members can get along together, whether the business is large enough to support two persons or families, and whether adequate living quarters are available. If the partnership includes two families, the business should be large enough to keep two men busy throughout the year, with a total gross income in normal times of from $4000 to $7000. At present operating costs, the gross income should be from $6000 to $11000. The first step may be to increase the size of the business to the point that it will support two families comfortably. This can be done by renting or buying additional land, buying more feed and livestock, changing to more intensive classes of livestock, increasing the production of livestock per head, more intensive crop farming, developing special markets, and other ways. If the farm is equipped with two houses, the situation is ideal. Otherwise a house must be secured on a second farm that has been rented or purchased, or some other arrangement made for living quarters for the second family. Many partnerships fail because living quarters are not so arranged that the personal lives of the families are sufficiently independent of one another. The farm management specialists emphasize above all else that it isn't so important who owns what or who does most of the work, as long as each partner is paid for what he contributes and the balance of the income is split satisfactorily. For further information on partnerships, see the nearest county agricultural agent for the Michigan State college bulletin, "Father and Son Farm Partnerships."

Here Is Right Way to Use DDT

In answer to hundreds of inquiries about ways to use the new insecticide, DDT, which was officially released to civilians Aug. 31, Ray Hutson, Michigan State college entomology head, has drawn up these recommendations on the basis of experiments being conducted at the college. He points out first that common sense should be employed in using the chemical. Some danger exists if the insecticide is used carelessly or handled continually. Users should avoid getting the oil solutions on their hands, or at least should wash the hands immediately after using. Care should be exercised not to breathe the mist from DDT. The oil solution when sprayed should not be allowed to settle on any food, and should not be used on animals. A large number of different compounds and solutions, varying considerably in strength, are being placed on the market. Each has its own peculiar use. For ordinary household use—valuable for any insect around the house—a 5 per cent solution in kerosene is recommended. This is suitable for painting screens or spraying the inside walls of the house. It will not stain any more than other fly sprays on the market. The solution is effective for several months, the exact time depending on thoroughness of application. Flies, ants, mosquitoes, cockroaches, or almost any other house insect pest die after crawling on a sprayed surface. However DDT does not act immediately, with from 2 to 24 hours often elapsing before the insect falls dead. For spraying barns, pigpens and for use around food handling establishments a 25 per cent emulsified oil DDT solution should be purchased and mixed at the rate of 1 gallon to 5 gallons or 1 gallon to 10 gallons of water. The weaker solution is satisfactory if protection is not needed for a long period. Also for barn spraying, or around food establishments, using power sprayers, 20 pounds of 25 per cent DDT in wettable powder form, or 24 pounds of 20 per cent wettable powder, in 100 gallons of water, plus 1 1/4 lbs. of soy flour, glue or blood albumin, gives excellent results. Where the chances are great that the spray may get into food, as may be the case around food handling establishments, wettable powders are safest. These vary from 20 to 50 per cent DDT concentration. The 20 per cent may be used 4 lbs. to 5 gallons of water; the 50 per cent 2 lbs. to 5 gallons of water. Other strengths may be used for special purposes. Directions of the manufacturer should be followed. Wettable powder is also used for crop spray. 3 lbs. of 25 per cent, or 4 lbs. of 20 per cent to 100 gallons of water with 6 ounces soy flour, glue or blood albumin, added. Avoid use of excess lime in any DDT spray. Dusts are sold at various strengths, and are good for crop and livestock use. Five per cent is a good general-purpose strength, killing any potato bug, cabbage worms, or similar insects and is equal to rotenone for control of corn borer. A 10 per cent dust is needed for rose-chaffer. An orchard-type of whitewash sprayer, such as the knapsack, is ideal for applying oil solutions, as it throws a droplet rather than a mist spray. However, the knapsack sprayers require frequent shaking when using the wettable powders. Although present knowledge is not adequate to make extensive recommendations for use on animals, it is definitely inadvisable to use the oil solutions for this purpose. Wettable powder can be used. Dust also is satisfactory, but does not stay on for any length of time. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cutler returned last Friday from a trip to Williamsburg, Va., where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kendrew. Enroute they visited relatives in Cincinnati, stopped to see the Natural Bridge near Lexington, Va., and on the return trip north came through the District of Columbia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York and across southern Ontario, calling on several friends and relatives in and around London. Since 1930 in Germany, more than 700 books have been published on propaganda and its value in modern warfare.

Please Return That Fire Pump!

If you have in your possession anything that "belongs" to the Plymouth Civilian Defense Organization, City Manager Clarence Elliott would like to have you return it to the city hall at once.

If it is not possible for you to send it down to him, just notify him, and he will take steps to see to it that it is returned.

There's not a lot of material spread around the city. There is some, however, and he would be glad to have it returned.

Among the articles in the possession of some of the ex-civilian defense workers are a few small pump-tanks, which were to have been used in connection in possible air raid fires, some shovels, rakes, helmets, gas masks, flash lights and arm bands.

Some of this material is to be sold by the city. And some of it is to be returned to Lansing.

OCD activities and programs are now in the process of being discontinued or transferred to other community sponsors desiring to carry them on, and the date when the county and municipal Defense Councils will themselves formally cease to exist as legal entities is expected to be set in the near future.

The Office of Civilian Defense property has been established within the U. S. Department of Commerce in Washington to assist the Office of Surplus Property in the disposal of federal OCD equipment. Leonard said: "Communities and other agencies interested in purchasing the equipment may obtain a catalogue of prices from the Office of Civilian Defense property. Inasmuch as the state Office of Civilian Defense is accountable for the equipment in Michigan, it is our desire that its disposition will be accomplished within the shortest possible time so as not to delay plans for an early dissolution of our own organization."

The federal OCD property is being offered for sale under priority to the following: State and local governments, tax-supported institutions, eleemosynary institutions, non-profit organizations, institutions held to be exempt from taxation under the Internal Revenue Code, volunteer fire companies, and other organizations and institutions as are given consider-

Brined Pickles Take No Sugar

This year, with no sugar for pickling, Mrs. Vivian P. MacFawn, extension specialist in nutrition at Michigan State College, suggests going back to old time pickles, the brined ones, the crisp salt and vinegar cucumbers and the mixed vegetables.

To insure good results in pickle making, use fresh fruit and vegetables of good quality and uniform size; the right and carefully measured ingredients, and have a cool, dry, dark and airtight storage place.

Steals Two Tires Gets $25 Fine

Orville Rolly Koenigsburg, of Ypsilanti, has been fined and placed on a year's probation after confessing to the theft of a pair of automobile tires and tubes and the attempted theft of two other tires.

According to Police Chief Lee R. Sackett, Koenigsburg was apprehended about 4 a. m. on Aug. 31 by Patrolman Gerald Prince while in the act of removing tires from the car of Russell Dettling. It was necessary for Patrolman Prince to chase Koenigsburg about a mile and fire a shot at his car before he could place him under arrest. It was good police work on the officer's part and showed him to be alert.

At that time Koenigsburg had two tires and tubes in his possession. He was put in jail here and the following morning Frank Tillotson, of 548 S. Harvey, advised Chief Sackett that two tires had been stolen from Mrs. Tillotson's car during the night. He identified the two tires found in Koenigsburg's possession as those belonging to his wife's car. Koenigsburg then confessed.

Because Koenigsburg had no previous criminal record and because of his domestic situation he was placed on probation.

Sugar Surplus Benefit Given

The ration board here this week is busily engaged in re-processing home canning sugar applications. William Wood, board chairman, explains that an additional grant of sugar has been authorized.

"The OPA, says Mr. Wood, has informed the Plymouth ration board that due to a surplus of 1945 home canning sugar in this area it now is possible to allow additional sugar to such applicants."

Mr. Wood warns that applicants must fully understand the new order to avoid confusion or criticism of the board.

Here is the way the system is being operated at present under the direction of Raymond Bachelder, chief clerk of the board. Applications are re-processed according to the alphabet. Those that were made between June 2 and Sept. 11 and already have been issued an allotment of five pounds of sugar per persons are being given a second issuance of five pounds per person. BUT, in no instance is any application being allotted more than 15 pounds on this second issuance regardless of the number of persons in the family if there are more than three.

This explanation should be studied so the applicant fully understands the program and in no way gets the impression that they are entitled to more sugar because they have large families.

Also, families of less than three members can not expect to obtain more than the second issuance of five pounds per person. Thus if a family of two already has received the original issuance of five pounds per person, or ten pounds of sugar, they can not expect any more than that from the second issuance.

For applicants who have not yet received any home canning sugar or whose applications were made after Sept. 11, the board has been instructed to allot them sugar in the amount of 10 pounds per person but not more than 30 pounds to a family regardless of the number of persons in the family over three.

Thus, the families who have never received the original issuance of sugar from the local board will be given equal treatment with those who have previously received sugar.

Mr. Bachelder says the board is re-processing the applications as fast as is humanly possible. He also wants it known that this is positively the last issuance of home canning sugar for 1945.

When you get right down to the root of the meaning of the word "succeed" you find that it simply means to follow through.—F. W. Nichol.

What is Peace?

PEACE is more than the absence of war. Peace is a friendly handclasp, small talk on a front porch, friends in for dinner.

Peace is a birthday party, a Christmas tree, an Easter service in a white church. Peace is telling someone where the Smiths live, laughing at a joke, asking a neighbor what you can do when there's sickness in his house.

Peace is people helping instead of hurting one another, trusting instead of suspecting, tolerating instead of hating.

Peace is forgetfulness of creed and color. It's meeting on equal terms. It's honoring a man for what he is instead of defaming him for what he isn't.

This is peace. And until we have all this, we won't have real peace — the feeling in our hearts that all is right once more.

Right now, we can make a good start towards this goal. For, right now, in our local community campaign, we have the chance to help our neighbor. To help him regardless of who he is or how he worships. To act together in mutual trust and confidence.

And this is democracy in its finest expression. This is part of all we are fighting for. This is what you help to bring about when you contribute to the local community chest. Make your contribution today—and make it as big as your heart!

ADVANTAGES OF THE ELECTRIC RANGE

Clean, controlled heat expresses quickly the advantages of an electric range. The surface burners have several heat units from "simmer" to "high" that provide just the right heat for whatever dish is being cooked. The heat comes directly to the bottom of the utensil and as clean as sunlight. In the oven, a control regulates the heat to an exact temperature and maintains it. An electric timer can be provided to turn off the current at a pre-set time, thus letting the housewife forget all about the oven. The broiler grills meats to a perfect turn, and the deep well cooker is ideal for long, slow cooking, such as soups, cereals or stews.

Electric kitchen equipment is not generally available for sale now. Some is being manufactured and distributed. It will be to your advantage to have your name on your electrical dealer's list, so that you will be able to get it at the earliest possible time.

Seek $12,000 In Community Fund Drive

Plymouth's annual Community Fund Drive, held in conjunction with the National War Chest campaign, will open Monday. This year's goal is $12,000.

Judge James Sexton, general chairman of the drive, has notified the Mail that all workers will be identified by a large red feather. Men will wear them in their hat bands and women will have them pinned on their coats.

Officers of the Community Fund Drive basics Judge Sexton are Russell Walker, assistant chairman; Maude Bennett, secretary; Clara Alexander, treasurer; and Margaret Hough, publicist.

The committee has planned the drive very carefully to eliminate duplicate calls in some sections of the city or no calls in other areas.

This year the block system has been adopted for the house-to-house canvass in the city and Plymouth township. In the city various groups have been assigned certain workers. There should be no excuse on the part of contributors that their money is waiting but no worker has called for it.

Collections for the drive have been planned in detail so no house or business place or individual will be passed over.

Donations in the public schools will be collected under the supervision of Superintendent Helmer Nelson and Neva Lovewell. They will adopt their own system.

City Manager Clarence Elliott will conduct a canvass of the City employees. Contributions from Plymouth's women's organizations and clubs will be accepted by Maude Bennett.

Frank Walsh is assigned to collect donations from the fraternal and service groups. Industrial collections will be in charge of E. H. Scully, James Gallimore and James E. Keyes.

James Hauk and Clifford Tat will canvass the merchants. John Palmer has been assigned the public utilities. Plymouth's professional men will be called on by Earl Demel. Paul Wiedman will take the contributions of all auto dealers, garages and service stations.

Local insurance agents and realtors have been assigned to J. Rusling Cutler. Russell Roe will canvass the coal, lumber and supply dealers.

Boy Scouts will make their donations to Sidney Strong while Ruth Osgood will collect the Girl Scouts' contributions.

Donations from the City's churches will be made through the respective ministers.

Mrs. Carlton Lewis is chairman of the block system. She will supervise the efforts of 25 district chairmen who in turn will be aided by more than 130 block chairmen.

The district chairmen are Mrs. James Vanloo, Mrs. Vaughan Smith, Mrs. Wilbur Hill, Mrs. Carl Starkweather, Mrs. Glade Barber, Mrs. John Blaxson, Mrs. Harold Jolliffe, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. Austin Whipple, Mrs. Seth Virgo, Mrs. W. J. Lent, Mrs. Lincoln Lantz.

Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. C. C. Wilse, Mrs. Paul Wiedman, Mrs. Edward Campbell, Mrs. Clarence Jetter, Mrs. M. G. O'Neil, Mrs. A. Brocklehurst, Mrs. Kermit Smith, Mrs. George Chute, Mrs. William Rose, Mrs. Miller Ross, Wallace Laury and Earl Mastick.

Others aiding the drive include the Youth Recreation Center boys who distributed posters; the Youth Recreation Center girls who sorted and distributed campaign material; and the Boy Scouts who made a pre-campaign house-to-house distribution of pamphlets.

Strawberry Plants Should Be Set Out In the Fall

(By R. E. Loree, Michigan State College - Research Specialist in Horticulture.)

Some of the bush fruits such as the currant, gooseberry and raspberry may be successfully planted in the fall, but the planting of strawberries at this time of the year in Michigan cannot be generally recommended. The best time to set strawberry plants is in early spring. Plants which are set in late summer or fall do not become well established before freezing weather occurs. Furthermore, those plants which do become established will produce very little, if any, fruit the next year, since there is not sufficient time to develop strong fruiting crowns and few productive runners will have formed.

The only advantage of fall planting is that the plants make considerable growth early in the spring, which encourages the early formation of runners. This advantage, however, is offset by the fact that the plants often heave out of the soil, and the result is a poor stand of plants in the spring.

The practice of fall planting should be restricted to the small home garden where potted plants, or extra vigorous runner plants with soil attached, may be moved from one part of the garden to another. Pot grown plants are expensive and it is difficult to obtain nursery grown plants for fall setting. Fall set plants should be well mulched to prevent heaving, and the mulch must be removed in the spring to permit cultivation.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet Thursday, Oct. 4, with a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. George Preiskorn at Brighton.

Banquet for New U. of M. Students

About 20 Plymouth people who are to attend the University of Michigan this year have been invited by the local Michigan club to attend the Annual Send-off Supper which will be held on Oct. 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the Plymouth high school lunch room.

Announcements have also been sent to about 200 members of the local club urging them to attend the Send-off Supper. All Alumni, former students, and friends of the University are invited to do attend. Those interested who do not receive announcements may call Lt. Harry Fischer, president, or Gertrude Fiegl, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

George Chute will act as toastmaster. The program will consist of Michigan songs and a campus movie, Michigan on the March, which will be shown by Hawley Tapping.

To Make Plans For Night School

Arrangements will be perfected for the night school at a meeting to be held Monday evening, Oct. 1 in the library, 2nd floor at the high school. Those interested, regardless of age, should come, in order to determine whether teachers may be secured. No class will be held without at least 10 to 15 in attendance. There will be a tuition charge for some classes. For further information call the principal at 610.

Business Group Issues Warning

The Plymouth Chamber of Commerce wishes to warn all business establishments and residents against unauthorized solicitations and house to house selling. The Chamber of Commerce is prepared to investigate and authorize any person or company desiring to canvass Plymouth and the cooperation of all local citizens is requested so that unscrupulous and illegal practices may be eliminated.

Consequently, many southward flying flocks may not come near Michigan's great expanses of water.

Sportsmen complained also last season that ducks rafted too far from shore to afford shooting.

Wildfowling in southeastern Michigan get a break this season—the famed Pointe Mouillee marshes 23 miles south of Detroit on Lake Erie are opened to public hunting for the first time in 70-odd years.

Purchased by the department this year, the marshes are added to other famous duck-shooting areas similarly administered for the public benefit—Munuscong in the upper peninsula, miles of frontage on Saginaw Bay, and the St. Clair Flats.

Dealers express slight hope that the ammunition shortage will be eased appreciably during the current season which ends December 8.

Last count of Michigan wildfowling totaled 83,554, those who purchased the $1 federal duck stamp. This stamp and a Michigan small game license must be secured by all duck hunters.

Tells of Landing At Jap Navy Base

Private First Class Robert Kirkpatrick, of the Marine Corps, who is now at Yokosuka Naval Base, Japan, has written his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kirkpatrick, a very detailed and uncensored letter about Japan.

He writes that his platoon came ashore at the Japanese naval base on Aug. 30 and took over one of the barracks. All are using hammocks for sleeping due to the lack of beds. Some of the Marines are using benches. Robert says that is what he was using.

"There are many sunken ships in the water nearby and many small boats lying beached," Robert writes.

He tells of finding a Jap in an air raid shelter and of his refusing to come out. Securing an interpreter the Yanks had little trouble with him and sent him on his way.

News of Our Boys In Armed Forces

LINWOOD DETHLOFF PROUD OF THE BATTLESHIP HE IS SERVING ON
Linwood Dethloff, 41011 Five Mile road, is proud of the record of the fighting battleship, Mississippi, on which he has served during the war. He has sent to "Our Boys" page a brief record of the historic action of the Mississippi during the present war. It follows: "On the fateful day of Dec. 7, 1941 found the U.S.S. Mississippi operating in the North Atlantic with her sister ships of Battleship Division Three, the New Mexico and Idaho. "From the icy waters of the North Atlantic to the swelling Solomon, foggy Aleutians to the typhoon filled waters of the China Sea, the U.S.S. Mississippi has been fighting the war, supporting practically every major amphibious landing in the Pacific firing more than twelve million pounds of steel at the enemy, probably more than any other ship in all history. "The U.S.S. Mississippi has participated in the operations at Kiska, Kwajalein, Makin, Watji and Kaveing. After the Kaveing operation the Mississippi was ordered to proceed to the States for repairs and each member of the crew received 25 days leave. "After needed repairs were made the Mississippi headed back to the South Pacific. The next operation for the Missy was the island of Peleliu. From there she participated in the invasion of the Philippines which you all know were Leyte and Luzon. In Surigao Strait, although not mentioned in previous articles, the Mighty Missy was actually the Flagship of the battleship line. As the Flagship of Rear Admiral Weyler, the Mississippi large caliber guns played havoc with the enemy forces and reduced it to nil. In the operation of Luzon the Mighty Missy received her first scar of the war when a Japanese suicide plane crashed into the port side of the boardwalk knocking out three anti-aircraft guns, causing light casualties. All damage was under control and the Missy did not leave the firing line. Later she returned to Pearl Harbor for repairs. After a 30 day yard period the Missy returned to the forward area where she participated in the Okinawa campaign. There she played a major part in destroying the Japanese forces and was credited with knocking out Shuri Castle so our troops could advance farther toward their objective. "On Aug. 24, 1945, the Mississippi received word that she would be a part of the supporting task group with her sister ships, the New Mexico and the Idaho, to participate in the occupation of Japan. On Aug. 27, 1945 the Mighty Missy steamed into Sagami Wan as Commodore M. C. Kelly had done 92 years ago on the first ship named after the state of Mississippi. The second Mississippi displaced 13,000 tons was commissioned in 1907, she played an early role in the beginning of Aviation, but was in 1913 decommissioned and prior to World War I was sold to Greece. The present Mississippi displaces 40,000 tons, was commissioned on Dec. 18, 1917 she saw little action in the first World War and contented herself in the interim period of peace with normal duties in both Atlantic and Pacific waters. "The U.S.S. Mississippi is under the command of Captain J. F. Crowe Jr., U.S.N. of Washington, D. C. Captain Crowe is the 25th commanding officer of the Mississippi. Our Executive Officer is Commander F. M. Carter, U.S.N."

REX BAXTER WHO SAW PLENTY OF SERVICE, IS ON WAY HOME.
A veteran of six operations during 40 months in the SWPA with the 32d (Red Arrow) Division, T/5 Rex L. Baxter, of Plymouth, is returning home with 99 demobilization points. Sailing for Australia with the division in April, 1942, he saw his first action at Buna, when the 32d was rushed to New Guinea to stem the Japanese drive on Port Moresby. He fought in the subsequent action further up the coast at Saidor and Aitape; on Morotai Island in the Netherlands East Indies; and on Leyte and Luzon in the Philippines. In northern Luzon the Red Arrow men fought for six and a half months in the rugged Caraballo Mountains, and ended the war on their 654th day of combat. Baxter started home two days after Japan made her first offer to surrender. His mother, Mrs. Wanda Baxter, who lives on So. Harvey street is associated with The Plymouth Mail.

QUINTIN BOLANDER WENT FROM ATLANTIC TO TOKYO BAY.
Quintin E. Bolander, 19, fireman, first class, USNR, 797 Evergreen St., Plymouth, is serving on a communications ship in the spearhead of forces that pushed into Tokyo Bay to receive the surrender of Japan. The ship is one of the few here which fought through the war from the first invasion to the last. The ANCON took part in the invasion of North Africa, Sicily, Salerno, and Normandy and in many in the Pacific including Okinawa.

ESCAPES INJURY WHEN JAP SUICIDE SQUADS HIT SHIP HE IS ON.
Plymouth friends of Lynford Fritz, a Plymouth high school graduate with the class of 1934, and a son of Mrs. Vera Fritz, a former resident of this city now residing in San Francisco, will be interested in knowing that he was one of the boys who escaped injury when a Jap suicide squad of aviators attack the battleship on which he was serving at the time. There were 22 killed and many injured when the raid took place, but Lynford was fortunate in escaping injury.

Ave., Plymouth, serving on a destroyer, took part in the surrender of the Japanese garrison on Marcus. Japanese envoys, formal but visibly shaken, brought a gift of melons to Commodore V. F. Grant USN, Commander of the advance occupation unit, during preliminary negotiations.

WE ARE PLEASED THAT WE PLEASED "OUR BOYS" DURING THE GREAT WAR.
If The Plymouth Mail did something that pleased and helped "Our Boys" during the war which recently ended in victory for these glorious United States, we naturally are highly pleased. We are pleased, too, to get letters like the following from one of "Our Boys" who so clearly expresses the sentiments of all of the young men who went from Plymouth to fight and suffer for our country. The letter is from Edward Curmi, who has been serving with a motor torpedo boat squadron in the southwest Pacific. "Dear Editor: "I am a little late in writing you this letter to express to you my own appreciation as well as that of all the other boys for the work you and your staff did during the war to provide us in the service with copies of The Plymouth Mail. I know many of the other boys have written you and told you of the enjoyment they had from receiving copies of The Plymouth Mail way over here on the other side of the earth. "Your paper sure is a booster and you don't know how it helps a fellow away from home. A person gets set in the daily routine of life out here, every day is the same and soon one begins to wonder if there is such a thing as the small town back home. You begin to forget the many people you know so well. Yes, its true you get letters from home, letters we are always glad to get. But still there is always that question about what is going on in the old home town. "The Plymouth Mail brings one right back home to the good old town. It gives one a new start. You feel as if you had just met a buddy direct from Plymouth with all the home town news. So once again memories of that good old town and a recollection of all the old friends is renewed every time one gets The Plymouth Mail. "Both you and the entire force have made it possible for all of us in the service to get this news during these long years of the war and all of you are to be congratulated for what you have done. Thanks, but that is a small word to express the happiness and enjoyment you have given us. "May your paper continue its good work and may it bring to those at home the same enjoyment it has to us who have been so far away. Thanks again for your services."

WILLIAM WIDMAIER HAS SOMETHING TO SAY ABOUT POINT SYSTEM.
William R. Widmaier, one of the many Plymouth boys who did not wait to be inducted into the armed forces, but joined up with the navy just as soon as war was declared, writes to "Our Boys" page from the other side of the Pacific, where he is now with Uncle Sam's navy, expressing his views about the point system. His letter will be of interest not only to all of the boys in the service, but to their parents and friends as well. It follows: "Dear Editor: "I have not written to you for many months. This morning I was reading a newspaper article written to the editor of the Daily Pacifican put out in Manila, Luzon, Philippine Islands. I will quote the article: "Editor: "What I and many others want to know is. What consideration does the overseas veteran get? As far as I can see he gets none whatsoever. All we ever hear about discharges is letting out the older men and the married men first. In a way that's OK. But the overseas veteran doesn't get anything except an extra point per month. We just have to sweat it out. "We've been in the service for over 30 months and have spent 27 months of it overseas. And 24 months was spent in the ETO. As you can guess we were sent down here direct. Worst of all, we have never had a furlough home since we have been in the Army. That is what hurts. We've had 44 days of combat in the ETO. That isn't much we know, but we didn't phone the President about our raw deal like some rookies did. "Yes, we're single and only have 75 points. But from the looks of things the single man hasn't got a chance of ever getting out. But I think it is only right that I and many others like myself, should get the chance to see our loved ones for the first time since we have been in the Army. "T/5 Garland and six others, APO 75. "The above article does not affect me because I am in the Navy but it does attract my attention on one or two other things I would like to express my opinion. (Continued on Page 3)

News of Our Boys

on. "I am not married. I joined the United States Navy when I was most needed, Dec. 12, 1941. I volunteered for four years service in the Regular Navy. Expiration of enlistment is Nov. 6, 1945. This date the point system doesn't include me, but affects so many other fellows in this same manner. The following is an example on the Navy revised point system:

"A man who joined the Navy four years ago at the age of 17 would have to serve four years in the Navy. At least 40 of the 48 months would have to be overseas duty to become eligible for a discharge.

"A man who joined the Navy to beat the draft at the age of 19 and married after or before entering the service has to serve 31 months in the service, six months shore duty and 27 months overseas and is then eligible for discharge.

"November 6, 1945 I will fall under the point system for my discharge in accordance with AINAV 155-41. I will be 21 years old, I will have four years in the Navy and have a total of 28 months overseas. I will have 41 1/2 points. In order for me to acquire the required number of points I will have to continue serving overseas until February 1946.

"Am I being punished for not jumping into one of the war time marriages? Is the government giving favoritism to the man who jumps into marriage and punishing those who wait for a peace time marriage?"

"The young fellow who volunteered his service at the age of 17 has to serve 17 months longer in the service than the fellow who just missed the draft at the age of 19 who jumped into marriage just before the surrender of Japan. Did the government take these things into consideration when they planned out the point system?"

"Five months longer in the service leaves the young fellow with less chances of getting a job after being discharged. Yes, the government says 'The serviceman will have the first chance at jobs', well there will be hundreds of thousands of servicemen discharged before five months and they will be filling in the jobs of any preference."

"To those who may read this article please take no offense, it is only what I have a right to think and to say. I have had four days in my home state since I joined the Navy so I can wait a few more months to rejoin my loved ones."

"It's up to you Mr. Eaton, if you wish to publish this article. If you wish to go into the figures you will find the facts quite true in my letter. There are hundreds and hundreds of fellows who joined the Navy in the country's time of need."

Names Members of Committees

An organization meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Plymouth was held at the Episcopal Parish House on Monday evening at 6:30. Dinner was served to 17 members at a table decorated with marigolds and giant zinnias.

Miss Helen Graves, program coordination chairman, discussed plans for the club year with the various committees. Arrangements are being made for an observance of National Business Women's Week, Oct. 7-13.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Alice Blyton, incoming president. Mrs. Wilda Bentley of Rosedale Gardens was elected to membership in the club.

The president designated committees for 1945-46 as follows: program coordination, Helen Graves, Gertrude Fiegel, Doris Johnson; membership, Ann Schryer, Gertrude Danol; finance, Ruth Alleshouse, Sarah Gayde, Belle Young, Ingeborg Lundin, Wilda Bentley; health, Ada Murray, Helen Klassa; international relations, Mildred Carlson; legislation, Hazel Diack; public affairs, Hanna Fleming; zarina, Penny; publicity, Jennie Mills, Hyacinth Wilske.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 8.

No longer a war secret is a British invention, the thunderstorm locator, which proved indispensable to victory in Europe. Three of these instruments, installed at strategic points in England registered simultaneously every near and far flash of lightning; and by plotting their records, it was possible to determine the location, direction and rate of travel of all thunderstorms within 1500 miles of the British Isles and to predict when and where they would affect the Allied forces.

"Flying" Youths Seek Support in Aviation Program

Contrary to popular belief the Civil Air Patrol, a war-inspired organization of volunteer, heroic and unsung civilian aviators, will not go the way of most war-wrought agencies and groups.

Instead of being discarded or disbanded the CAP as it is more popularly known will interest itself with the administration of flight training to thousands of eager air-minded young people. In short their war activities which by necessity were limited will continue at increased tempo that knows no limits.

One of the largest and busiest CAP squadrons in Michigan was and remains the Ypsilanti Squadron, commanded by Capt. George E. Wood. As it was during the dark days of war, the Plymouth Flight will also continue to be an integral part of the Ypsi Squadron.

This flight, organized by Capt. Wood and several Plymouth men at the request of Plymouth's forward looking youth, will grow and grow if but given a little encouragement by home folks.

Capt. Wood fears that unless Plymouthites in general know about these postwar plans of the Ypsi Squadron and the Plymouth Flight they may withdraw their generous support which so far has kept the flight activated.

Lt. Lorenzo Wells, who has and continues to devote an unbelievable amount of time to the Plymouth Flight, will assist Capt. Wood in the execution of such plans.

Together they hope to provide flight training for every Plymouth youth desiring it.

"We want your boys and girls to fly," exclaimed Capt. Wood.

Yes, said Lt. Wells, and thank God you people of Plymouth have them here to do for."

While wanting them to fly, neither Capt. Wood or Lt. Wells want them "up there" in junk. They aim to give them the best and safest equipment currently available. That is an Aeronca Trainer Model 1946, according to Capt. Wood.

Not only do Capt. Woods and Lt. Wells want this but so do the youths of Plymouth Flight. They are counting on their parents and friends and the merchants of Plymouth to support them and provide the funds necessary for purchasing such a ship.

Youths of the Plymouth Flight realize that parents and their local merchants are almost daily tagged for contributions of some kind. They believe their cause to be worthy and hope to secure the community's support.

They argue that aviation is the transportation of the future and flight training from the CAP together with the continuation of the Plymouth Flight is merely sound building for the world of tomorrow.

One bright-eyed youth whose fondest hopes are to become an airlines pilot had a point when he remarked, "When the contributors for that Aeronca trainer see their grandchildren flitting around in the wide blue yonder they can recall this drive and proudly say 'we did it.'"

The flight has secured the pledge of the Gridley Flying Service at the Ann Arbor Airport that they will allow a discount of $50 on such a ship. In addition the flight promises to neatly letter the names of all contributors on the side of the plane.

In short the proposition is this Plymouth. You buy it (the ship) and the CAP will teach your kids to fly it.

Members of the Plymouth Flight who are asking their parents, friends and local merchants to purchase the plane are as follows:

Lila Bartz, Wilma Becker, Kathleen Blaxson, Colleen Bothwell, Beverly Brown, Bonnie Carr, Ila Culbertson, Betty Davidson, Mary Jane Davis, Virginia Dorey, Barbara Fallon, Gertrude Fulton, Dorothy Goff, Bertha Hamilton, Pat Kinnane, Grace Nyeste, Nancy Pettibone, Katherine Plantz, Doris Ryder, Margaret Swansoo, Joane Town, Rosetta Vanderhoof, June Venus, Joanne Walsh, Ann Watkins, Marian Weberlein, Barbara Weed, Shirley Littlefield, Lenora Westfall and Eudora Rutherford.

Bombardier Mann Tells of Raids

In a detailed letter from Saipan, written Sept. 6 by Lt. Sherman Mann, formerly of 41150 Ford road, to his brother-in-law, Edward Mennick, a stirring account of a flight to Formosa is described.

Lt. Mann, a bombardier attached to the 20th Army Air Force, Wing 73, writes of a flight in which his plane was carrying tons of food supplies and medicine to a prison in Formosa where many hundreds of Yanks were held by the Japs. Their objective was to drop the supplies by parachute to the starved but released prisoners.

In the process of dropping the supplies the chutes became entangled in the bomb bay doors and Lt. Mann was forced to crawl into the opened bay with an axe and free them. "We were only 250 feet above the ground, his letter states, and if I had fallen out my chute would never have opened in time to save me."

During the mission his plane developed engine trouble and on the return trip was forced down at Okinawa. He writes that he had no sleep for three days and nothing to eat but coffee and doughnuts.

After getting repairs at Okinawa the crew resumed their trip back to Saipan. When 400 miles from Iwo Jima the plane again had engine trouble and the crew prepared to bail out. They kept going however and finally reached Iwo Jima all right but their ship was finished.

 "Where Your Money's Well Spent"

Scout News of This Vicinity
 (By Harold H. Schryer)

It has been said that the activities of youth reflect the attitudes of their communities toward their needs.

In this light we are to feel that our young people are beginning to note an increased interest in their individual problems, for the activities of today are indeed much more worthy of comment than those of our immediate yesterdays.

Scouting, too, is on the upswing here. There have been many efforts put forward to increase the amount and the scope of Scouting skills and to activate this program over a wider sphere of practice. These efforts are now becoming recognizable in the field.

The past summer has seen a marked increase in the interest of our community's young men and boys in this great international youth program which offers much to those persons who need such activities as it offers in addition to the commonplace duties and recreations afforded to them through the regular recreational channels provided by community programs.

In order for any worthy project to have the widest and most fertile field of opportunity there must be a well balanced staff of interested leaders to head up its efforts and to activate, as well as plan its programs and policies in order to co-ordinate program with community and national policy.

Hence, at this time, an appeal is being made to all adults in this community to come forward ready for participation in Scouting leadership positions. A training class will start soon!

Now is a good time to come out and meet those men who are giving much of their time and efforts to the local Scouting program and to whom your presence will be a most pleasant indication of support.

The requirements? Scout leaders must be American citizens, 21 years of age, and should possess a sincere desire to give of their own knowledge and experience to the Scouting field. The technicalities will be brought out by practice and service as well as in the regular training classes conducted by Scouting experts who have the required "know how."

If you are interested and have not been contacted by a local Scouters' please contact our Community Commissioner Mr. Newton V. Gould, 44707 W. Ann Arbor road, phone 827-W1.

The Stark school was the scene of the district commissioners' meeting on Friday last. All of the pertinent items of District Scouting were discussed and it is noteworthy of mention that the outlook for the future is very bright and interesting.

It was announced at this meeting that the Detroit Area Council is to again conduct one of its many Commissioners' Conferences to be held at Walden Woods, Hartland, Mich.

At this meeting there will be a general discussion of the coming year's policies and programs with a view of adding to the present Scouting interests.

The main theme of this encampment which will take place over the week end of Sept. 29-30 will pertain to the new patrol method which is being worked out under practical conditions in the field.

The plans for the Plymouth Community Camp-out to be held on Scout Hill in Plymouth's Riverside park are progressing nicely. Most of the Scouts are interested and are expected to be active participants.

High prize of this affair, which is based upon the Troop holding high points in the competition in Scouting skills is a trip to the Hockey game at the Olympia.

Your reporter is advised that the Plymouth Rotary club has under-written the expenses of this trip which will be afforded to the participating members of said winning troop.

Many thanks are tendered to The Rotarians for their fine cooperation in this effort to boost the values of Scouting efforts in our community.

Saturday, Sept. 29, is the date of our next paper drive. Although the war has been declared won in the field, there yet remains much to be done here at home.

Paper salvage is still an important part of our home service and we are only too glad to keep on with this part of our public service.

Please have your contribution properly disposed of to expedite the efforts of our Scouts who are ready and anxious to serve you in this duty.

The Scouts and Scouters of Plymouth salute you!
