THE PLYMOUTH MAIL

Vol. 58, No. 22 Plymouth, Michigan, Friday, February 1, 1946 $2.00 Per Year in Advance

THIS STRIKE BUSINESS.

It is terribly unfortunate that in these days when we were expecting to give every returning soldier a good job, when we were lauding them to the skies and making plans to have them take their part in the greatest industrial boom the country had ever known; that a series of strikes by those who had made big "dough" during the war, should suddenly wreck the whole reconversion program.

Everybody who remained at home during the war in the peace and security the fighting lads provided them, made good money, big money, if they had war jobs or war contracts. The way that 20 and 50 dollar bills floated around Plymouth and all other war plant centers during the war is something never to be forgotten.

Plymouth business men had a problem on their hands in order to keep a sufficient amount of small change on hand to change the big bills.

No one expected or even hoped that after the war there would be any such big money made as during the war. People were urged to buy war bonds in order to save some of their big money for the "lean" days after the war ended.

But apparently many people have an idea that we can live without producing—and that's just where we are going to get fooled.

We have never been pessimistic about the future. We have always believed that we would work out of any situation somehow and come out of the mess much better off.

The present situation, however, is so serious that faith in our ability to get out of our troubles with a whole skin is being somewhat shaken.

If we do not produce the things we want and need, there surely is going to be inflation—and inflation will destroy the value of everything we have, even our war bonds.

We invested in war bonds expecting and believing that they would be paid off at the full value of the dollar we bought them with.

But if the present mess is not cleared up pretty soon, our war bond dollar will be worth about two cents when we come to cash our war bonds.

Any person who has spent the most of his life working for some one else, wants to see every worker get good pay, but when that worker gets good pay, every honest person wants to see an honest day's work given in return. That's where the shoe pinches in the present strike business. It appears that the self-styled leaders want the big money, but refuse to say they will see to it that an honest day's work is given in return.

It is hard to believe, but so many things seem to lead one to believe that there apparently is a determined effort to bring about inflation, with its ruinous effect on every one, except those living off the welfare. And what will happen to them if we get inflation, no one knows.

It's about time for the army of average American citizens to rise up and put an end to this mess.

LIMITING THE CUT OF CHRISTMAS TREES.

A week or so ago Director Charles Figy of the department of agriculture, issued a statement in which he said that there was a terrific over-cut of Christmas trees for the state last fall. He states that, it was nearly double that of 1944, and that at least over 100,000 shipped into the Detroit market were burned up because they could not be sold.

But Detroit is not the only place where there was an over-supply of Christmas trees. There was an over-supply in nearly every town in Michigan, so probably there were several hundreds of thousands of pine trees averaging from six to ten feet in height destroyed last winter.

This is too severe a drain upon the growing forests of northern Michigan to let continue at the rate indicated by Mr. Figy. We would like to see Mr. Figy's department make some worthwhile recommendation as to just what to do about this problem. What about it, Mr. Figy?

DEPORT ALL OF THEM.

Every time we hear any one admit he's a Communist, our immediate thought is—why under the sun doesn't he go and live in the country where they have Communism.

If they do not like our system of government, then get out—and get out quickly. We like it and we want to continue to live under it.

The average Communist is generally a natural born, lazy, indolent, deceiving trouble maker.

Ernie Adamson, counsel for the House committee on un-American activities which has been quietly investigating GI demonstrations against the demobilization slow-down, said a few days ago that evidence indicates Communists "agitated some of the soldiers."

"We have evidence to show that Communist agitators actually went into the Army for the sole purpose of causing trouble," he declared. He said in this regard that the committee is particularly interested in the Frankfurt, Germany, demonstration.

He disclosed that the committee is working with Army intelligence and plans to hold public hearings at which War department representatives and some of the protesting GIs will have a chance to be heard.

He said that preliminary results of the inquiry convince him that some of the mass demonstrations were the result of a "well-laid Communist plot to stir up the soldiers."

From this Washington report, you can get some official idea as to just how the Communists operate. Get them out of the country, now and forever.

WHY THE HURRY?

It's rather difficult to figure out what all the hurry is up in Lansing about getting the state's spending spree under way—and it looks, too, very much as though those who are planning it are not so sure of just what to do or recommend.

The Governor said last fall he was going to confine the session to a consideration of just two questions, the disposal of the $51,000,000 sum set aside for the benefit of the veterans of our latest war, and an advancement of the election dates so that soldiers who might be overseas would have time to vote in both the primary and fall election.

Now it seems that these are mere side issues and that the necessity for a special session of the legislature in January isn't necessary. A special session in February will do just as well.

We have asked the question before, and we ask it again, what's the hurry, especially when the legislature will be convened in a regular session next January?

Minstrel Show Opens With Bang

Tonight is the last night in which you will have the opportunity to see nine of Plymouth's most beautiful girls on the stage, listen to the British accent of Jim Gallimore, hear Evelyn Lindsay sing, "Won't you come home Jim Bailey?", watch and listen to six of the finest endmen and hear the Rosedale Gardenaires as well as the Ford Novelty Band in the Kiwanis, "Minstrel Memories."

The "study in black and white" opened before a packed and very enthusiastic house, Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth High School Gymnasium. Earl Harrison has done a remarkable job of whipping the local talent into a professional status in the three weeks he has had to work with members of the cast.

Don't forget tonight's the last night to see a truly worthwhile and entertaining show as well as support a worthy cause, "The Girl Scout Cabin and Camp Site Fund." Tickets are still available and will be sold at the door.

Plymouth Gets New Road Device

United States Highway No. 12, more commonly known as Ann Arbor Road, is being used for a safety experiment which bids fair to revolutionize driving the world over.

This week a device known as the Road-A-Scope was installed at the top of the hill on US-12 just west of where Ann Arbor Trail joins the highway three miles west of this city.

It is the first installation of the new safe driving aid to be made anywhere in the United States.

If successful, there is little doubt that the device will be adopted by every state as "standard equipment" for all main traffic arteries.

As explained by the state highway safety engineers, the Road-A-Scope is a simple arrangement of mirrored panels which stands 12 feet high. It is so placed at the side of a highway on top of hills so drivers approaching it, from either direction can see over the hill and determine if anything is approaching from the opposite side.

If it works as its inventors say it should collisions resulting from hillside overtakings will be eliminated in the future. For night traffic the device is treated so no glare results from the headlights of oncoming cars.

Briefly, here is how the device operates. Suppose a motorist is driving to Ann Arbor from Plymouth. He goes out Ann Arbor Trail and connects with US-12. As he nears the crest of the hill on which the Road-A-Scope is now installed he can easily see whether any traffic is approaching from the opposite direction before he reaches the hilltop.

If no traffic is approaching and he should want to pass a car going in the same direction he could do so safely. The same situation would prevail for anything going in the opposite direction.

Safety engineers predict a great future for the device and say that proper installation and use by the motoring public could cut down the yearly traffic toll and make the nation's highways safer than they have been before.

Ask Land For Foundation Site

The Plymouth District Veterans Memorial Foundation has taken its first step towards the construction of a Civic Building by making an official request to the City Commission and School Board for the property between Theodore, Adams, Farmer and Blanch streets as the prospective site of the Foundation building at a meeting Thursday.

The meeting took place to determine the feasibility of the requested location. The arguments brought forth by the Foundation members were: the proposed location would allow ample parking space near the building, would be accessible and centrally located and could be used by the school children during school hours and in cases of extreme emergency could be used after school hours.

However, during the evenings and three or four days a week the building would be primarily for civic use.

Tentative plans have been drawn up by Thomas Moss and the first unit calls for a basement will all the fixtures in for a swimming pool and an auditorium seating 1,500 people, which would cost approximately $150,000.00. The second unit calls for the tiling and completion of the swimming pool and will cost in the neighborhood of $75,000.00. A public survey conducted several weeks ago showed that an auditorium was the first choice and that a swimming pool was next in line.

As of this date, no effort has been made to raise funds by means of a public subscription, but the treasurer's report shows $30,000.00 already in the fund which includes one gift of $10,000.00. Plans have been laid for a public meeting with various organizations to determine their reaction as to the proposed site. An announcement will be made at a later date in regard to the time and place of these public meetings.

Selle Body Shop to Change Location

Jack Selle will move his body shop from its present location at 744 Wing Street, to a new, completely fire proof garage on Ann Arbor road west of Main street about May 1st.

The footings for the new building are now in and construction is underway for a one story brick front building which is to have a boiler room adjacent to the main structure to eliminate fire hazards. The new building features a specially designed paint room with explosive proof fixtures and the latest fire fighting equipment will be installed. The layout calls for an office, increased floor space on which to park cars waiting repairs than Mr. Selle has at the present location.

As part of the equipment to be installed, Mr. Selle has purchased a hydraulic frame straightener for the straightening of bent frames which will enable him to give more complete automotive service as well as a wheel alignment machine to determine and correct misaligned wheels.

The "Selle Body Shop" is being constructed at a cost of $20,000, and the "Grand Opening plans will be announced at a later date.

Brothers to Open Grocery Store

William and Jack McAllister, brothers and ex-servicemen, have been very busy these past few weeks putting in shelves and making the final preparations for the opening of their grocery store at 14720 Northville Road on February 15th.

The 32x50 cinder block, brick front building located next to the McAllister Cities Service Gas station will enclose a soda fountain, grocery store, meat market, and as an added service for their customers will feature a "drive in" beer and wine station. The McAllister store will be open from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 p.m. and will offer delivery service during the same hours.

Mary Lou Hartwick entertained three girl friends at a weekend party in honor of her birthday.

Army Declares Donald Taylor Officially Dead

Another Plymouth youth who left his fireside and family early in 1943 to aid in the fight against oppression and possible invasion of his homeland, is not coming back.

He, as did thousands of others, paid the supreme sacrifice that his ideals might go forward uninterrupted to provide a life of liberty and happiness for those he loved.

First Lieutenant Donald R. Taylor, a bombardier navigator in the Army Air Forces, was reported missing in action on January 20, 1945. Last Friday a letter from the Air Forces to his family confirmed their worst fears.

It stated that all possible efforts to locate him or his body had failed and the government and the family now must presume that death came to him Jan. 20, 1945, in a plane crash at night near Suichwan, China.

Two members of his crew reported that on the ill-fated flight their Liberator was attacked by a night fighter and set afire. They were able to bail out and return to duty. The last time they saw the plane it was a roaring inferno and crashed into a mountain.

The government was able to ascertain that a Chinese searching party encountered the completely burned wreckage of the plane twelve hours after it was reported to have crashed.

Identification of bodies was impossible. Their recovery was not effected because the Japanese occupied the territory within a few hours after the Chinese searching group found the charred wreckage of the Liberator.

First Lieutenant Donald R. Taylor was the husband of Eleanor Glover Taylor, R.N., of the New Grace hospital staff at Detroit, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie H. Taylor, of 14230 Ridge road.

He graduated from Plymouth High school in 1939 and was employed at the local Burroughs Adding Machine plant at the time of his enlistment.

His training was received at Childress, Tex., and he was commissioned second lieutenant the day before Christmas in 1943. After training at Muroc, Calif., he went overseas in January, 1944, and was stationed in India.

His advancement to first lieutenant came in December, 1944. He had been awarded the Air Medal and was among those who flew "The Hump" with supplies for Chenauit's Flying Tigers. He went on detached service to China early in January, 1945.

Rotary Party Is Well Attended

It only took a Kentucky Colonel two minutes to have some 200 Rotarians, their wives and guests roaring with laughter Tuesday night at a Rotary ladies night party. He not only started his talk by standing the audience on its head but he continued to do so for over an hour with humorous stories and anecdotes.

Brought to the meeting by Charles Bennett for the purpose of furnishing a laugh or two, Colonel Jack Major of Paducah, Kentucky, more than provided his share of the bargain.

Recreation Panel Appointments Are Announced

Plymouth's new Recreation Commission began to take shape this week with the appointment of its personnel by Mayor Carl G. Shear, Mrs. Sidney Strong, president of the Board of Education; the City Commission and school board.

The joint appointments are Charles Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne County public schools, one year; Mrs. Arthur Jenkins, two years; and Thomas Bateman, three years. All were unanimously approved by the City Commission and Board of Education.

Representing the City Commission on the newly created panel will be Jack Taylor, Sterling Eaton, will represent the school board.

Other members are City Manager Clarence Elliott and Superintendent of Schools Helmer A. Nelson.

The new group expect to organize themselves at the first meeting which is set for next week.

Clothing Drive Nets 3,500 Pounds

City Manager Clarence Elliott has asked The Mail to express his sincere thanks to everyone who in any way supported the Victory Clothing Collection in Plymouth.

The drive closed last Saturday with a house-to-house pickup that netted about 3,500 pounds of used clothing, foot wear and blankets. It was not a big collection but the contributions were of better quality than those received in the previous collection last spring.

Mr. Elliott expressed satisfaction with the collection and as chairman wishes to publicly thank all his assistants and the donors to the drive. He said that current conditions made it impossible to expect a volume of donations.

Despite repeated warnings about having donations in by Saturday, January 26, Mr. Elliott regretfully announced that a few tardy donations had been made. The local contributions were packed and shipped the same day—last Saturday and therefore donations received later could not be accepted.

New Dodge Dealers, Building

Robert E. Joley, two weeks out of the Army Air Corps, Thomas Notebaert, recently released by the Army after many months of service with the 104th Infantry Division and John Hancock of the Crescent Tool and Die are knee-deep in blue prints of their Dodge garage which is in the process of construction at Forrest and Wing streets.

The Forrest Motor Sales is to be a 60x100 foot cement block structure with brick facing and will face on Forrest Street. The show room according to the prints is to be "L" shaped and enclosed with plate glass windows. The service department will be in the rear of the building and is to have the latest equipment available.

Mr. Joley was, prior to the war, associated with the Gorno Ford Sales in Trenton and Mr. Notebaert with the United States Rubber Company. In conjunction with Dodge dealership, the Forrest Motor Sales has secured a U. S. Rubber agency to sell tires.

The new Dodge dealers have agreed with Earl Mastick's proposal that they show preference to his old Dodge customers who are now on the waiting list for new cars and they intend to carry on with the same fine service that has been typical of the Mastick Motor Sales.

Stark P.T.A. Has "Dads Night"

The Annual "Dads Night" of the Stark P.T.A. was held at the Stark school Tuesday, January 22 at 8:00 p.m. with ten Dads present. The program was a panel discussion on "Should we have military training?" L. Jack Gage, program chairman introduced the following panel members: Moderator Verle J. Carson, pastor of the Newburg Methodist church, H. Johnson, Livonia Township Superintendent of Schools, W. E. Kelly of Plymouth, George Hem-bree of Livonia, Mrs. Clyde Carey of Livonia and Mrs. Edith Chapman of Redford. Following the discussion, refreshments were served by the Dads.

To Start Insuring Parcels Sent Soldiers Overseas

Starting February 1, according to the local postoffice, all APO packages — parcels for overseas armed force personnel—may be either insured or registered. This will be welcome news to many people.

Postmaster Harry E. Irwin said, however, that it was still necessary to have requests for all parcels over eight ounces. The limit is still 11 pounds. Parcels up to eight ounces, he said, could be sent to APO addresses without a request provided they were sent first class.

Mastick Sales To Handle Packards

Earl S. Mastick announced this week that the partnership of Mastick and Horton will handle Packard cars at the tractor, garden implement and automobile garage on Ann Arbor Road just east of Main street.

Formerly, Mr. Mastick had been a Dodge-Plymouth dealer for 20 years and the manager of the Packard Mayflower Motor Sales for ten years. With the huge growth of their farm machinery display and sales plus an out of city expansion program, they find it impossible and the space too limited to carry both lines of cars. However, the new Forrest Motor Sales, owned by Robert E. Joley and Thomas Notebaert, have an understanding with Mr. Mastick to give preference to his old customers who are in the market for a new car.

At the present time the Packard dealers have one demonstrator and one car on display. For the present, there are three lines of Packards, the "Clipper 6", the "Clipper 8" and the "Clipper deluxe 8" with two body styles: four and two door sedans. Prices are expected momentarily and at a later date production is to start on several more body styles. The Packard Motor Car Company has promised the local dealers delivery of 50 new cars by September 1st.

Both are ex-servicemen and were pilots in the Army Air Force having put in about flying time total of 2,500 hours as combined as test pilots, combat pilots and in the engineering and instruction fields. The plans call for a coffee shop, complete operation and maintenance service plus flight and charter service. A special feature is to be a taxi service to parts of the United States which are inaccessible by commercial air lines.

Fox Hunters To Conduct Survey

Members of the local Fox Hunting Club at the request of Brick Champe are going to conduct winter pheasant surveys while fox hunting in order to furnish the State Conservation Department with useful census information.

Department game men are enlisting the aid of such groups who are urged to form field parties that will report the number of pheasant seen, sex ratio, predator signs, food supply and to furnish comparisons of present conditions with those of previous winters. These parties are also urged to make recommendations concerning artificial feeding.

The fox hunters cover about five or six square miles several times a week on their hunts and they intend to make a check on the requested data. At the present time the club has six or seven members with very good dogs: Estel Roland, Fred Reed, Jim Gothard, Emery Hicks, Joe Elliott and Lew Ford. The chairman, Lew Ford, invites anyone interested in fox hunting or in compiling pheasant information to meet at Reed's Restaurant at 8:00 a.m. every Sunday. The club has several regulations that must be met and all hunters are asked to abide by them: shot guns and only shot guns are to be carried, no 22's shall be brought along, all fox that are killed shall be turned over to the club.

Of special interest to those feeding pheasant during bad snow storms and freezing weather is the announcement, made by Brick Champe this week, that the Western Wayne County Conservation Club will be glad to furnish pheasant feed on request.

The Conservation Department will furnish instruction sheets and report blanks for individuals or groups interested in carrying out such surveys. Contact the state department or your local game wardens for further information.

Slight Scarlet Fever Epidemic

Doctor Luther Peck, City Health Officer, warns all parents that there is a slight scarlet fever epidemic going around the city and that they should keep very close watch for fevers, sore throats and vomiting. "If there is any doubt in your minds," he says, "get in touch with your local physician and have him make a thorough check of the child or children as the case may be."

City Water Supply Due to Improve In Color and Taste

City Manager Clarence Elliott reports that for the past week the Plymouth water supply has been undergoing treatment to remove the iron and improve the taste. He expects that it will require at least a month before any major improvement is generally noted.

The water is being treated with Calgon and Chlorine and is administered by an intricate machine at the pumping station known as a dual proportioner.

Calgon, a chemical compound, is used to cause suspension of the iron and rust particles in the water. Chlorine is administered to kill the bacteria which causes the unsavory taste formerly prevalent in the water.

City Manager Elliott said he had noticed results of the water-treatment already by watching the drinking fountains at City Hall. The lack of rust stain in the fountains, he said, indicated the treatment was proving effective.

He asked that the city in general allow at least a month for the treatment to bring the maximum improvement to the water supply. The taste already has improved considerably and will continue, he said. The absence of iron particles in the supply also will be noticeable to householders within a short time.

Mettetal Airport In New Hands

Coinciding with the announcement that February 1st is the definite date on which Robert Mettetal and William Ryan are to become the operators of the Mettetal Airport came the statement that they are laying plans to construct a "dividual "T" hangars of steel for their patrons. Also they have petitioned the State to have better marking facilities at the field.

Contrary to a previous announcement, the field is to be regraded rather than resurfaced. Small planes land more safely on bare ground than on smooth surfaces. Visitors are invited to come out to the field, all questions in regard to flights, instruction, or sales will be answered.

Thomas of Detroit and John Makar of Dearborn. Mr. Thomas is salon director of the Scarab Club International Salon which is being held at the present time in Detroit.

ROCKS DEFEAT WAYNE IN OVERTIME PERIOD

In a game that went into two overtime periods and provided many thrills for the excited fans, the Plymouth Rocks came out victors to win over Wayne the score of 35-33 and to break a three-game losing streak.

The first half went fast with each team making basket for basket, and wound up with the Rocks on top, 13-12. The last half proved a frenzy of quick passing, shooting, and footwork, and ended with a 29-29 tie. In a three-minute overtime period the referee came to the officials table only to find that the score was still tied, this time 33-33. The second overtime period was to end with the first basket made.

At the jump, Wayne got the ball and carried it up the floor to score, only to find the score recalled because of traveling violation and the Rocks then took the ball out and brought it up the floor, where DeWayne Becker pivoted and shot. The ball passed inches from the ceiling hit the ceiling, hit the backboard, and swished into the basket making the final score 35-33 in favor of Plymouth. Strautz had placed the leads by netting 13, and Becker tallied 12.

Tonight, the Plymouth Rocks will play at Belleville.

STUDENT GOV'T NOTES

A meeting of student government representatives from ten schools in this district was called at Redford Union Wednesday, January 16 initiating a program designed to improve student government activities in the various schools.

Plymouth was represented at the meeting by Mayor Alan Kidston and Miss Irene Waldorf, student government adviser, the whole group of representatives present remaining for a dinner prepared and served by the home economics group at Redford Union.

The primary purpose of this meeting was to form a program for a subsequent meeting which is to be held in Ypsi February 12. It was decided that for the February meeting Dr. Kelly of Wayne, a pioneer in student participation programs, be asked to speak in the morning followed in the afternoon by group discussions at which time each school will enter into discussions on the problems most frequently encountered by student governments. It is hoped that the representatives present will be greatly benefited and thus be better able to carry out the programs in their own schools.

FAREWELL

To all readers of the Pilgrim Prints:

We have tried to bring to you all of the latest news every week this past semester and bring it to you on time. Also besides the news we know how much you enjoy good features such as "Life-boy" and "The Latest." Many have complained that there is too much news and not enough of the latter. Well, if there were no news it would not nor could not be officially called a newspaper.

We can only say that we have done our best and have tried to satisfy all of you to the best of our abilities, though we know there is room for improvement.

To the coming journalism class we say, good luck and we hope you have a "nose for news."

RESERVES DEFEAT WAYNE

On January 25th the Plymouth Reserves triumphed over the Wayne Reserves, 32-20. The Rocks started out fast, but the Zebras fought back and had a slender lead of 3 points at the half. In the third and last quarters the Rocks slowly pulled away leaving the Zebras behind 12 points.

Dave McIntosh lead the locals with 10 points while Touley netted 6 for Wayne.

The game started in a quandry, each team lining up toward the wrong basket. This, however, was soon straightened out by the officials and the game proceeded normally.

The local reserves are improving by leaps and bounds and should show more improvement when they tangle with Belleville tonight.

An almost continuous succession of dunes borders the Lake Michigan shore from the Indiana line northward beyond Petoskey, the most extensive dunes in the lake region.

LIFEBOY

Because of the Michigan weather, Lifeboy was unable to stand it for fear of his health, and so he is in transit to Miami Beach where he will take residence for the winter and will write his column for the "Pilgrim Prints" there. Because he is in transit this week he wasn't able to write his column, but it will appear next week as usual.

And now we read of a very liberal city preacher who advertises his sermons at 15c each. Sooner or later things will bring what they are worth!

and

New Lower Rates

TO ALL EDISON ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS

The Detroit Edison Company announces, with the approval of the Michigan Public Service Commission, a refund of more than $16,000,000. This refund is to be distributed to all of its electric service customers on the basis of approximately 9% of their net bills for electric services during 1944 and 1945.

And in January 1946, new electric rate reductions became effective.

customers. Refund checks will be mailed starting in February.

All refunds will be figured according to electric service bills. All types of customers—residence, farm, commercial, industrial and municipal will receive their proportionate share.

TYPICAL RESIDENTIAL EXAMPLES

Average Two Months' Bill	Approximate Amount of Refund For Two-Year Period
$ 2.00	$ 2.18
5.00	5.46
7.50	8.19
10.00	10.92
20.00	21.84

LOWER RATES

The Company also announces new and lower electric service rates, made possible by lower Federal taxes and by an expected increase in the use of electricity.

These lower rate schedules, bringing savings to many farm, residence, commercial and industrial users, began to take effect in January of this year. Future advertisements will tell about them.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS as to how REFUNDS will be made

- Q. Is it necessary to apply to The Detroit Edison Company for this refund?
A. No. A complete record of all customers' bills is in our files.
- Q. Who is entitled to a refund?
A. All customers including residential, farm, water heating, commercial, industrial, and municipal, who have received electric service from The Detroit Edison Company for any period between Jan. 1, 1944 and Dec. 31, 1945.
- Q. What should I do to insure my receiving my refund check?
A. If you do not have our electric service in your own name now, or should move before June, 1946, be sure the Company has your correct forwarding address. Please leave this address at any customer office or mail your new address to The Detroit Edison Company, 2000 Second Avenue, Detroit 26, Michigan. Otherwise, there is nothing you need to do about it.
- Q. How much refund will I get?
A. The exact percentage cannot be determined until the Trustee appointed by the Court has approved the details of the plan. As a general guide, your refund will be about equal to your average bill for two months' electric service, provided you have had service for the entire two-year period.
- Q. How is The Detroit Edison Company able to make this refund?
A. This money comes from a fund set aside by the Edison Company and impounded by the Court. About six-sevenths of it was collected to pay Federal Wartime Taxes. About one-seventh was taken from the Company's earnings during 1944 and 1945.
- Q. When will I receive this refund?
A. Sometime after February, 1946 and before June, 1946. It requires individual processing of 12 million electric bills to issue more than 1,150,000 refund checks. So the first refund checks cannot be issued before Feb. 1, 1946. They will then be mailed out at the rate of 11,000 a day.
- Q. If I have received service at more than one address during this period, will I receive one check covering all addresses?
A. No. A separate check will be issued for each address at which you received service. These checks will be mailed at different times.
- Q. To what address will a refund check be mailed?
A. All refund checks will be mailed to the address at which electric service was supplied, unless you have given the Company your forwarding address.
- Q. Can my refund be credited to my current electric bill?
A. No. All refund money is being paid by the Trustee. To apply the refund against your current bill would require a larger staff and additional bookkeeping which would increase the cost of making the refund.
- Q. Can I call The Detroit Edison Company and find out the amount of refund I will receive?
A. Sorry, no. Because of the millions of records involved, it will be impossible to discuss individual accounts until after your refund check has been mailed.
- Q. What should I do if I do not receive my refund check by June 1946?
A. At that time call The Detroit Edison Company, and ask for the "Refund Department." This Department will investigate your case and get the refund to you.

Plymouth Scouting News

(By Harold H. Schryer)

The Cub Scouts of Pack 620 are to meet at a pot-luck dinner for Cubs and parents on Friday, Feb. 1.

Because of the nature of this meeting it is to be held at the Methodist church instead of the grade school gymnasium as is the usual case.

All parents and friends of Cubbing are most sincerely urged to attend this function as it will be stressed toward the National Recognition of Scouting's 36th Anniversary which begins on Feb. 8.

The usual awards will be made for the Cubbing advancements and a Wee-wee graduation ceremony will take place.

Troop P-2 held a troop hike on Saturday last and several advancement tests were passed in the field.

Map making, fire building, and cooking were the major items of Scouting skills stressed at this time.

Despite the cold there were quite a few hardy scouts who participated and all reported a good time.

Scoutmaster Schryer, Committeeman J. Blossom and Cub parent Ronald Oumet were listed among the active Scouters on that day.

The usual mental picture of Scouting discloses only boys who are members of the Scout Troop, and whose ages run from the required 12-year entrance level to the older youths of 16 and 17 who are utilized in troop leadership categories.

All too few persons realize that there are three distinct phases of Scouting which encompass all ages from nine years old and up to the very brink of manhood, where the youth is led into the fold of the adult Scouter and may then continue as long as he likes to participate in the adventures of youth in all its many phases.

Beginning at the time of registrations which take place in our community on March 31, there is to be an entirely new method of Scouting registration which will cover these three fields to the best advantage of them all. As most of us know, the Cub Scout who becomes 12 years old automatically becomes Scout material and can no longer participate in the Cubbing program. He must join a regular Scout troop at this time if he desires to continue in the Scouting family.

Beginning as soon as possible we hope to have another complete Scouting program ready for those members who arrived at the age of 15; the Senior Scouting outfit.

This field brings about a broader range of possibilities for the older Scout who is now ready for bigger and better activities which may tend to help him develop his own personal character along the lines he chooses to follow.

While the Senior Scouting program is no new departure from the usual in this community, it is now about to be treated in a new light; as a separate unit apart from the regular troop.

In the past it has been the common practice to register the older members of a troop as Senior Scouts in the troop and to activate them in partially or wholly separate activities which added new phases to the usual programs.

This practice is now to be discontinued and the Senior unit is to be apart from the rest of the set-up as is the Cubbing program at this time.

The present sponsors are to be asked to extend their sponsorships to include these new units and Scouts attaining their 15th year are to be graduated into them as the Cubs are now transferred into Scouting.

To date only the most tentative efforts have been made in this respect to bring about this alteration of policy as pertinent to our local Scouting but much more is to be heard in the near future.

This new procedure is bound to make our over-all program one of more potent possibilities and carry a much greater weight with the local youths who are desirous of bigger and broader fields to conquer.

Let us not forget our responsibilities to our local youths of Scouting age. The time approach is for the drive for sustaining scouting memberships. If you are approached remember your son and your neighbors' as well. BUY IN!

Girl Scout News

Eighteen members of Girl Scout Troop RG-1 of Rosedale Gardens and their escorts enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon of Winter sports at Cass Benton park on Saturday, last.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Burns, troop leader, and most ably supported by their committee and transportation crew, the events were run off as scheduled, and were climaxed with hot refreshments in the park.

Mr. Rice of Rosedale earned the thanks of the folks by his efforts in serving as an instructor in the finer arts of the sports.

The Troop and its committee wish to extend their sincerest thanks to all of the many fine Scouters whose support made this series of activities possible and thus helped to bring pleasure and happiness to all.

One of the major "discoveries" of the day was made by one of the troop members who most suddenly found out that skis are not amphibious. Needless to say the young lady will try to keep "on course" in the future and not permit of further exploration into the realm of Neptune in the midst of a Michigan January. Such a fiasco as this, she agrees, is most apt to be most deplorable to the personal feelings of the adventurer in alien fields.

During the 16th century in Europe, the public demand for realism in both religious and secular drama became so great that those staging plays sometimes employed as many as eight technicians to create special, automatic devices and mechanical devices for a single production. As late as 1647, a Passion Play presented at Valenciennes, France, still used a number of life-sized angels which flew about over the stage, flapping their wings and blowing their trumpets.

Endorse School Consolidation Plan

(By George A. Smith)

I was happy to see, by the "Mail" that, on Saturday, Feb. 2nd Plymouth school district 1 and the other three school districts in Plymouth township will vote upon the project of consolidation into a Township Unit school district.

This consideration is not new, previous school boards have considered such a plan. It was, however, impossible until the State Legislature in 1945 amended the Township Unit Act to apply to such townships as Plymouth.

The main advantage to School District No. 1 Frl. (Plymouth public school), will be state aid for transportation of those pupils in the school district whose location makes transportation necessary.

Plymouth's district has pupils living as much as three and a half miles from school. Our state taxes now pays for transportation in other townships in the state and I see no reason why Plymouth should not share in the transportation aid. No additional property tax should be required because the state aid pays the cost of transportation up to $40 per pupil carried.

To the three primary districts it will mean school advantages for their boys and girls in grades and high school which are only possible in larger schools. New school additions will probably have to be constructed but the problem of school congestion applies equally to all four school districts.

The consolidation of Plymouth Township schools into a single school district, I feel, is an opportunity to provide better school privileges for the boys and girls within Plymouth township, without materially increasing the property tax cost. Therefore, it would seem the duty for all qualified voters to vote next Saturday, Feb. 2, 1946.

E. S. Evans, Jr., president of the Evans Products Co., Detroit, told the Plymouth Mail today that the company had begun moving its production facilities to the new Plymouth plant the first of this year.

A small amount of equipment and a small staff of engineers are now at the Plymouth plant. Completion of the move has been delayed by the steel strike which has closed the Detroit plant's production facilities.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

To Our Depositors:

Please be informed that this bank has elected to pay the Michigan Intangible Tax for the year 1945 upon your funds on deposit with this bank as of December 31, 1945.

A tax-hungry 1945 State Legislature amended the Michigan Intangible Tax law by imposing a tax of 40c per thousand on all bank deposits. The act provides three options under which payment may be handled by the bank, two of which involve the submission of a list of all depositors by name, address and amount of money on deposit, and the bank is then permitted to charge the tax paid to the account of the customer. The clerical work involved is obviously tremendous. The third method, made very easy for equally obvious reasons provides that the Bank may pay the tax on all deposits as of 31 December, submit no list, make no charge to the customer. Under this method the bank absorbs the tax as just another tax. To submit a list of depositors would break a confidential relationship between the bank and the depositor that has always been and must remain inviolate. This the bank would not do and we have thus elected to pay the tax for you fully realizing that we are under no obligation to do so, that the tax is inherently bad, that many depositors are entirely unaware of the facts in the case, and that it amounts to another HIDDEN TAX about which the public is not fully informed.

You are entitled to take credit on your return for the tax paid in your behalf under the heading "Tax paid at source."

It is our opinion that it is the duty of every citizen to seek the repeal of this vicious tax legislation that, if permitted to remain, will, in all probability, become increasingly worse.

Final Figures Put City Over War Bond Quota

Much to the satisfaction and pride of all concerned the final figures for Plymouth's Victory Loan Drive show the community oversubscribed its quota by $20,000.

Statistics compiled by Mrs. Walter Sumner, chairman of the local gallants, show that individual bond salesmen disposed of a total of $82,625 worth of victory bonds here. The city's quota was $60,000.

Mrs. Sumner explained that her figures do not include the sales made by the two banks nor the various local organizations that were not connected with the local bond committee and operated as separate bond issuing agencies apart from the community group.

Sales were difficult to make this time, Mrs. Sumner reported, and although her gallants worked with a zest equaling that of the previous drives the results were much different. Precincts that during the war had total sales of $40,000 in previous drives turned up with $4,000 this time, according to Mrs. Sumner.

She thinks her gallants worked against great odds and were very fortunate to manage an oversubscription of the City's quota. Mrs. Sumner said it was the sales of the $25 and $50 bonds that did the trick this time.

"Plymouth never failed during the dark days of war, Mrs. Sumner declared, and it was inconceivable that the community would fail now. Although the committee feared at times that the quota would not be met."

The total bond sales by precincts follows: one—$17,325; two—$4,625; three—$4,800; and four—$4,650. Total—$32,150.

All Eyes Will Be On Mr. Groundhog & Sun Tomorrow

Groundhog Day is Saturday, tomorrow, and is being anxiously awaited by that portion of Plymouthers who believe in "signs" when it's the weather that is concerned.

Amateur meteorologists here are waiting for the day before boring their friends with boasts of how good they can predict the weather, or apologies and excuses for having guessed wrong.

For the most part few persons are concerned whether the Groundhog "sees his shadow or not." Those who watch this day and believe in it are about divided on the outcome.

Predictions of six more weeks of winter are accompanied by all sorts of reasons purporting to prove their infallibility. Likewise the opposite side stands ready to furnish equal proof that spring is just around the corner.

Legend has it that all who partake of groundhog (sausage) on Groundhog Day, Feb. 2, will be blessed with good fortune the rest of the year.

The less hardy contend that they'll eat of the delicacy and hope that the good fortune comes quickly and in the form of a sunless day. The hale and hearty clan, however, say another six weeks of winter will do us no harm (Speak for yourself, John Alden, and let others do the same).

Anyway, the Royal Order of Plymouth Groundhog Observers already have taken options on all available woodchuck holes in this part of Wayne County. They are determined to get positive proof that Mr. Groundhog either does or doesn't see his shadow.

Whatever the outcome it would not be advisable to take down storm sash or cancel those orders for additional coal. In the past, all members of the ROPGO to the contrary, Mother Nature has seldom followed her porcine pal's predictions.

charge in order to be eligible for the re-enlistment furlough of 90 days. In addition, men enlisting or re-enlisting for three years will be given their choice of serving in any of the theatres of operation and may also select their branch of the service.

All male citizens between 17 and 35 years of age who are physically and otherwise qualified may enlist in the Regular Army. It is the first time in the history of the Army that enlistments have been made available to seventeen-year-olds.

According to Captain Sibley, all men who enlist become immediately eligible for all provisions under the G. I. Bill of Rights which includes such benefits as family allotments and free postage.

Three-year enlistments made prior to October 6, 1946, entitles the individual to a full college course or a business or trade school education. This includes tuition at the rate of $500 per year in the school of their choice, plus a $65 per month for living expenses and $90 if he is married.

In New York, J. H. Neale hired a tug, chuffed down the harbor, roared greetings through a megaphone to his homecoming G.I. son.

One of China's most colorful personalities was Silas A. Har-doon, a Bagdad Jew who went to Shanghai in 1872 and began his career as a night watchman. Subsequently, he married a Chinese housemaid, adopted 12 Chinese children, became a real estate dealer and left a fortune of $150,000,000 when he died in 1931 at the age of 84. Among his eccentricities was a pavilion on his vast Shanghai estate containing many life-size wax figures of his wife and himself which were dressed in a variety of costumes. Designated as a memorial, the building and its contents were destroyed by a fire in 1943.

What I Hear And See Under The Palm Trees Down in Florida

So that "Winnie" Churchill or any member of his family would not be injured by falling coconuts from trees in the yard of the Miami Beach home where the family is taking a vacation, workmen before the arrival removed all but the smallest of the coconuts from the trees.

Because of the inability of Florida vegetable growers to secure sufficient help to harvest their winter vegetable crops, an effort is being made to induce the federal government to permit the importation of several thousands of negroes from Bahama. Already several hundred have been brought to Florida, but the number is far from sufficient. They say that many colored people who once lived here have gone north and do not plan to return.

Cass Hough who served with the well known Plymouth air official during the world war, is now manager of the Rooney-Plaza hotel in Miami Beach. It's one of the largest and most popular hotels in the south. Before joining up with the armed forces, Mr. Lang was manager of the New Yorker, but when he returned and was offered the management of the beautiful Rooney-Plaza he was not long in making up his mind what to do. Mr. Lang has often visited in Plymouth and has a number of friends who will be interested in his new association.

Not so long ago in reading a New York columnist' article we saw where Richard Frankenstein, late candidate for mayor of Detroit, was rubbing elbows in one of the swankiest of swank New York night clubs. The other day we noted in a Miami paper where he has been staying at one of the most exclusive of Miami Beach hotels, where the rate for just a day would more than pay the expenses of the average tourist down here for an entire week or more. Seemingly there must be big dough in Mr. Frankenstein's occupation.

No one can serve as governor of Florida for more than one term. Right now candidates are filing for various offices in the fast-growing southern commonwealth. The legislature long ago did away with the petition nuisance. A person who desires to become a candidate for any office can do so by filing his intentions and paying the state or county a fee. If he desires to run for governor or United States senator, or congress, a candidate must pay the secretary of state a fee of $300. If he desires to run for the state legislature his fee is only $10.80. People interested in politics in Florida say that the filing fee is far more satisfactory than the petition system. Those who advocate the retention of the petition system in Michigan say that it keeps many from becoming candidates because of the difficulty in securing petition signers. It is true that it does work that way. It is also true that only those "in the ring" and who can get their petitions circulated by the branch managers of the secretary of state's office, have much of a chance in getting their names on the state ticket, unless, of course they hire professional circulators, which is done to a considerable extent in Detroit.

We doubt if the present secretary of state will permit his force to be used as it has been in past years, but the present secretary of state will not be secretary of state forever. Here's a situation the Michigan legislature might well consider. The fee plan was one time tried out in Wayne county and it worked out well, but there was some kink in the law that was passed which resulted in the plan being abandoned.

A few weeks ago we wrote something about Michigan trunk line highways as well as most of its secondary roads being far superior to those of any other state in the Union. Just a word should be said about the splendid road that Georgia has completed in recent years from its northern boundary to the southeast corner of the state. The highway is known as "The Blue and Gray Highway" and to the everlasting credit of the state of Georgia, it can be said to be one of the finest roads in the country. It is wide, smooth, has no sharp curves and there are wide, sodded shoulders on both sides of the paved way. But unfortunately all of the main thoroughfares in Georgia or the south are not as good as the "Blue and Gray Highway."

Radford Mobley, Washington correspondent of the Miami Herald told 500 Rotarians at a meeting in Miami recently that no one will be surprised if the congress to be elected this fall will be a Republican congress. That's something coming from a southern bred newspaper man. But for Mr. Mobley it can be said he writes a fair, impartial and accurate column on Washington affairs. His statement is doubtless based upon facts and conditions as he sees them every day in Washington.

O. C. Diehl, a member of the Midland, Michigan, Rotary club, long associated with the Dow Chemical company, is spending the winter in Florida. He asserts that Michigan's famed chemical plant is just emerging into its greatest usefulness to the people of this country. "The future holds much more for us than what we have experienced in the past. On top of our new developments and products, the results of successful experimentation, we have the advantage of an everlasting supply of raw materials. You see we use ocean water in making many of our products," he said.

At a recent Rotary meeting in Miami, there were 169 visitors, 29 being from New York state, 26 from Pennsylvania, 14 from Michigan and the other visitors from nearly all the other states in the nation.

Up north during the early part of February nearly every town and city will in some way observe the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Down here in Florida the other day they closed the banks on the birthday of Robert E. Lee, commander of the Confederate army. Newspapers devoted much space to lauding this great southern soldier. Wonder if it would not be a good idea for northern states to give a bit more attention to the brilliant Lee and what he did to help restore peace among the states after his defeat? We should all remember that it was state loyalty which caused him to join up with the southern cause. As a matter of fact, are not we of the north preaching pretty strong state loyalty at the present time?

From the way Miami is growing at the present time, nothing can keep it from becoming the second New York. There's a building boom going on here that makes one think a new city is in the making. New homes, new hotels, new business blocks — where they are getting all of their materials no one knows. Just this week a hotel which will cost, when completed, more than a million dollars, was started. Michigan's own Walter Briggs is interested in this big venture, which includes the building of an entire new community just north of Miami Beach.

As an indication of community cooperation, it was announced at last week's meeting of the Rotary club that the secretary had had printed some special tags that could be tied to the handle of a member's automobile while he was in attendance at a meeting of the club, and he would not be charged with a traffic violation for over-parking. Down here they have these curb meters, drop in a nickle and you can leave your car there for an hour, but your car must be out of the parking space in an hour or you get a traffic violation ticket. But Rotarians, who use this courtesy are expected to drop a nickle in the meter when they leave the meeting to get their car. It does show a community cooperative spirit that works for the better interests of any town or city.

The Miami Chamber of Commerce held a meeting the other day to discuss the building problem. Members protested strongly against the construction of so many saloons, night clubs and luxury homes at the present time when there are few homes for the veterans. The organization is going to make an effort to get the builders of luxury homes and night clubs to hold off for a year or two. "This practice is sabotaging the soldiers' building plans" said one member. The organization is going to see what it can do about it.

Additional Water Supply For Emergency Sought

City Manager Clarence Elliott this week was ordered by the City Commission to investigate the possibility of securing an additional supply of water for the city to be used on the "stand by" or emergency basis.

The commission also approved a partial plan for the construction of an alley between Forest and Main Streets upon recommendation of the Plan Commission.

During the next two or three days members of the Michigan Outdoor Writers' Association will be meeting up at Blaney Park in the Upper Peninsula. They're going up to the land where it is really winter, where they have snow that is snow and ice that is ice.

Kendrick Kimball of The Detroit News is president of the organization and he has advised members that there will be a worthwhile program.

Surely there is much in Michigan for discussion by writers who are interested in the great outdoors of our glorious state. We have reached the day when conservation is the outstanding issue of Michigan—not really an issue, but its greatest problem.

Office holders shy around discussion of stream pollution. As the state sits twirling its fingers, stream pollution is becoming so bad that fish taken from Saginaw bay are being rejected from eastern fish markets. They taste so "gassy."

The Outdoor Writers at one of their recent meetings were not afraid to discuss this subject, and discuss it in the ways it should be discussed. Maybe this group of 75 or 100 writers who write about and live in Michigan's outdoors will be able to say so much about the pollution of the pure stream waters of Michigan by selfish and greedy industries and offending municipalities that some day something will really be done to cleanse the streams of this state.

Plymouth fishermen will be interested in knowing that further testing of the effect of longer fishing seasons on southern Michigan lakes is ordered on heavily-fished Whitmore lake in Washtenaw and Livingston counties.

For the next five years, Whitmore lake will be open to fishing the year around except as closed seasons protect various species. Lakes north of M-46 were opened January 1 to year around fishing also, with the same limitations.

Whitmore lake is the third body of water in southern Michigan to be opened for fishing under special regulations approved by the last legislature. Bear lake in Hillsdale county and Birch lake in Cass county are the others. The conservation department will continue a winter creel census on Whitmore lake for several years to measure the effect of the longer season.

The legislature approved establishment of special seasons, size and creel limits, and methods of taking fish on not more than 20 lakes and not more than one lake in any county, for such experimental purposes.

No one has ever figured out just how much money sportsmen in and around Plymouth pay into the state's conservation department for hunting and fishing licenses. The amount will run into several thousands of dollars, there is no question about that, even though Michigan has about as low a fishing and hunting license fee as can be found anywhere in the country.

There is not much question but what deer hunters of Plymouth paid the state more than a thousand dollars last fall for the right to hunt deer.

These hunters will be interested in knowing that Michigan is really enjoying a postwar boom in sales of hunting and fishing licenses.

Already above the $2 million mark, receipts from license sales in 1945 are expected to reach $2,134,000, biggest total since 1941, last prewar year when a record $2,189,000 was collected.

Conservation department estimates are based on license fee collections totaling $2,043,163 as of December 31, an increase of 8.1 per cent over the total of $1,890,574 collected in the 1944 calendar year.

Sales of resident fishing licenses were up 8 per cent last year and sales of nonresident fishing licenses jumped 22.8 per cent, total receipts being $801,933 as compared with $717,949 in 1944.

Resident and nonresident small game license sales were down 4.5 and 16 per cent respectively with total sales of $528,016 as compared with $557,010 in 1944, but sales of resident and nonresident deer licenses were up 12.4 and 25.8 per cent respectively, with total sales of $624,514 last year as compared with $545,385 in 1944.

Collection figures as of December 31 will be increased as license dealers forward delayed returns. The department closes its books next June 30, end of the present fiscal year.

An astounding increase reported is the 69.7 per cent gain in sales of resident bow and arrow licenses last year. A 32.9 per cent increase in sales of nonresident archers' licenses is reported also.

Biggest gains were the 204.2 per cent increase in sales of beaver trapping licenses and the 451.8 per cent increase in sales of seals which are attached to beaver pelts, figures which reflect the record beaver take in the spring of 1945.

City Anticipates Court Battle Over Proposed Alley

Weeks of bitter controversy between the City Commission and 13 Property owners over the City's proposal to build an alley to serve business houses in the area bounded by Forest, Wing, Harvey and Ann Arbor Trail has come to a head.

The commission this week voted to begin condemnation proceedings to obtain the private property necessary for the alley. Because of the bitter opposition already manifested by the owners of the property that will be affected, the City expects the action will culminate in court.

Accordingly the commission has retained Harry Deyo, a former city attorney here, as counsel. Mr. Deyo just recently received his discharge from the army. He was a Lieutenant Colonel.

City Manager Clarence Elliott said the commission felt the alley was necessary and the opposed property owners were hindering progress.

He said the commission was of the opinion that streets can not be used for loading and unloading zones by local stores. The proposed alley would serve all of Forest and Ann Arbor Trail and about a third of Harvey Street.

One of the most influential legal codes in history was The Laws of the Indies which was prepared for the guidance of the Spaniards who were sent to colonize the New World in the early 16th century. One section contained the standard plan on which numerous cities in Latin America and many in the western United States were laid out. Today, in the majority of these municipalities, the original narrow streets, square blocks and central plaza still survive in basic form.

ELECTRICITY TO COST YOU LESS

TO OUR CUSTOMERS:

With the new $3,000,000 rate reduction which is now effective, Detroit Edison customers start out 1946 with electricity at still lower prices. While almost everything else is going up, Edison prices are coming down. Your electric rates here compare very favorably with those of other large cities and this new $3,000,000 rate reduction is among the largest made by this or any other electric company in recent years.

So—electric rates are low and we believe customers feel service quality is especially high. Our customers who come to this area from other communities realize there can be no fair comparison of rates without considering the quantity and quality of extra service included in the regular charges. Detroit Edison is recognized in the utility field as giving service that is unequalled elsewhere. It is one of only six companies in cities of 50,000 or more people which replaces customer lamp bulbs without added charge.

Detroit Edison provides fuse replacements, exchanges appliance cords and repairs some appliances free—free in the sense that it is included as a part of our electric service without extra charge. Fair comparisons cannot be made without recognizing that this area pays the highest wages in the United States; that the company must buy its coal—almost three million tons of it a year—at a price considerably more than that paid in many other large cities, some of which are much closer to the mines.

Our customers have had plenty of electricity in war time and we are adding another 100,000 horsepower for peace-time growth. There is an ample and cheap power supply through this whole part of Michigan which we serve.

We are glad these lower prices can be put into effect now because U. S. Department of Labor statistics show that, compared to 1935-1939 prices, the cost of living in the Detroit area has increased 31%.

Detroit Edison electricity is down 7 per cent.

This reduction is made possible by decreased Federal taxes, our increased efficiencies and the expected greater use of electricity.

Can Erect Local War Memorial On Installment Plan

(By Rev. Henry J. Walsh)
The question immediately before the committee on the Memorial, and before all the interested groups in the Plymouth area, is this: Is it the part of wisdom to wait until all funds are in, necessary for the erection of the Memorial as a whole, or to build whatever unit of the whole Memorial is possible, as soon as sufficient funds are available?

Mr. Thomas Moss, who is giving the committee, has plans for the Memorial which would make it possible to erect the Memorial in separate wings or buildings, each one of which, while part of the whole, can easily be treated, in construction and use, as a separate unit.

To wait until funds are in to erect the complete structure, in its entirety, is one plan, and the alternative to it is the construction, as soon as possible of whatever part of the Memorial can be immediately financed. In case the latter procedure is agreed upon, what part of the Memorial shall be built first? Shall it be the swimming pool, or the auditorium, or the gymnasium? Which unit shall have the priority?

The advantage of beginning work as soon as funds are available on one unit of the Memorial has this value, that something concrete and tangible will attract more attention and response than just an idea, which is only on paper.

There are some disadvantages to the plan also. But the committee is considering all the alternatives, and is asking that all the organizations shall discuss them also. And when the meeting of the organization representatives is called, the committee would like to hear the reaction of the various groups represented. The representatives of the groups are asked to sound out the opinion and judgment of the group, and not to give merely their own personal reaction.

Therefore, each president or chairman is asked, during the next two weeks, to find out what his organization thinks about this aspect of the Memorial, so that when counsel is taken, a really accurate reflection of public opinion may be had.

Second Winner Cites Gym Need

The following essay written by Doris M. Ryder of 36725 E. Ann Arbor Trail won second prize in the Federal Savings and Loan contest.

"I live in the country not far important part of their school life."

Plymouth is a home town to be really proud of. The things one remembers about a town are the lovely trees, the parks, attractive stores, churches and the schools.

Plymouth has all these things and many more. The most attractive thing about Plymouth is the park in the center of town. Plymouth is growing so fast that it soon will be a large city and perhaps a part of Detroit. When things grow they need plenty of room. Years ago there was plenty of room in Plymouth for the boys and girls to play and have fun. The High School was large enough and had room to spare. The Auditorium in the high school was really a very large room, and at the time the school was built it seemed wise and proper to use the same room for both gymnasium and auditorium. Everyone is interested in sports even more than they were a few years ago. The enrollment of the school is so much greater than ten years ago that the room now is too small to accommodate the crowds that come to the school affairs that are put on.

A room that is a combination gymnasium and auditorium is never really very satisfactory for either. When the room is used for a school program, chairs have to be so close together that one spends a very uncomfortable evening. Another thing that is very bad in a combination room like this is the fact the chairs are all on one level. The people in the back and sides have a very hard time to see and hear the program. Our lovely little town of Plymouth with its attractive and spacious churches, its large airy stores and nice wide streets and two modern theatres needs above all else a large, bright, attractive auditorium, where parents will love to go and listen to the programs put on by their children and not go simply because of duty to their children and school—an auditorium that in later years boys and girls can remember as a most important part of their school life.

Owing to prudery and ignorance, no male physician was allowed to attend a woman in childbirth anywhere in Europe during the first 16 centuries of the Christian era. Only midwives, with no knowledge of medicine or hygiene, assisted and the mortality among mothers and infants was incredibly high.

"We're frank to admit... telephone service could be a lot better ...and it will be"

THERE have been surprisingly few complaints about telephone service during and since the war. However, we know that during certain hours of the day, long distance lines are overcrowded and calls are delayed. Sometimes there are so many local calls that there is no dial tone immediately when people pick up the receiver, or operators are unable to answer promptly.

Because of war-caused shortages, 115,000 Michigan families who have applied for service haven't yet been able to get it. Generally, we still can't supply extension telephones without delay. Many customers who wanted individual-line service have had to take party lines.

Individuals and businesses, putting up with these inconveniences, have been most understanding.

Now Michigan Bell is at work on a 5-year $120,000,000 expansion and improvement program to assure you the kind of service you want in the future.

Money to finance that program must come from thrifty people willing to invest their savings in Bell System securities. This means that telephone earnings must be sufficient to attract investment dollars. But if prospects for future telephone earnings are unattractive compared with those of other companies, investors will place their savings elsewhere.

Too long a continuation of a rate of earnings substantially below that of other industries would weaken our ability to raise the money required to meet expected telephone needs. So the future quality of your telephone service depends on telephone rates sufficient to produce earnings attractive to investors.

The telephone bill is so small an item in their regular expenditures that Michigan Bell customers want really good service even though it might cost a trifle more than they would need to pay for inferior service.

Babson Says - -

Babson Discusses Self-Control
Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 1.—A friend of President Truman has asked me to boost his National Health program. No one appreciates more than I the importance of good health, having once been "given up for dead" in connection with a long sickness of tuberculosis. This is the reason why my woods. I still do much work out-of-doors. Naturally, I favor help-offices now are "out in the line" those who are ill to get needed time and money for sufficient rest, the best of all remedies.

On the other hand, I have learned that financial aid is of little value in keeping well and getting well unless it is accompanied by self-control. All doctors will agree with this statement. Yes, self-control is necessary in keeping one's health, in keeping one's job, and keeping one's happiness. President Truman should insist that schools and colleges do more to teach and develop self-control.

Keeping Well
Most people know what to do to keep well. They know that they should eat different food and eat it more slowly and regularly; they know that they should go to bed earlier and sleep in good fresh air; and they know that they should keep their feet dry and do other things that our mothers tried to teach us. It is not knowledge or money that most sick people lack, but rather self-control.

We all need self-control to avoid being careless, lazy and indifferent about the important things of life. We need self-control to develop good habits and to avoid bad or careless habits. Our habits are the most important factor in enjoying good health and good jobs.

Getting Promoted
Too many of my readers are content to drift along at their present jobs and depend upon labor leaders, friends, or others for advancement. When I was young, most of us wanted opportunities, and laughed at those few people who wanted security. Today, however, most people seem to want security; they lack the self-control necessary for getting better opportunities, more promotions and higher wages.

A foreman must have self-control to keep fit physically and mentally so as to concentrate on his work; self-control to make friends; and self-control to never lose his temper. If he expects to someday go into business for himself, he must also have self-control to save money, with the help of a good wife. The determining factor of whether a man will someday be an employer, or must always work for someone else, is this man's ability to save money. The man who constantly saves money, can ultimately become an employer; but the one who does not save money, must always work for someone else.

Investing Money
Speaking of money reminds me of the need of self-control in successful investing. It is not difficult to pick out good stocks. A few weeks ago I gave a list of 25 stocks, all of which have paid dividends for over 25 years, and some for 50 years! The important need is to know when to buy, rather than to know what to buy. Most persons buy only when their neighbors are buying which usually is too late.

The time to buy is during a panic when prices are low, but this requires self-control. A person with sufficient self-control could have invested $2,000 forty years ago and, without borrowing a penny, could have made it worth over $1,500,000 today. — buying and selling only nine times during these 40 years. But such a person needed to have self-control enough to sell when others were buying, and to buy when others were selling.

Success in Business
Returning servicemen, who hope to go into business for themselves especially need patience and self-control. No new business can be expected to pay from the first, whether it is a little factory, a small store, or a barber shop. Starting a new business is like planting a tree. It cannot be neglected and needs care and watering for a long time before it bears fruit.

Men starting a business should have the self-control to say "no" and stick to it when they should say "no"; and the self-control to say "yes" and stick to it when they should say "yes." Sometimes I think that self-control is a spiritual quality which we cannot buy; but which we can get only on our knees through humble prayer.

Rotarians Hear Steven J. Jay

News items of a quarter of a century ago taken from the files of The Plymouth Mail.

Will Meeker and wife have moved from John Bunyee's house on East Ann Arbor street to Pearl street in north village.

The Pleasure Club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Welcome Rosenberg on Maple avenue, last Wednesday evening. Progressive pedro was the entertainment, after which refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Beyer, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gayde and Miss Amelia Gayde went to Detroit Tuesday evening, where they attended a joint recital given in the Arcadia by Miss Anna Cast, soprano and Toscha Seidel violinist, under the management of the Central Concert Company.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson of Saginaw, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Stever, Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schaufele of South Main street are receiving congratulations on the birth of a little daughter, Lois Katherine, born Friday, January 21st.

The Ypsilanti Board of Commerce are agitating the commission form of government for the city. At a meeting and banquet, held at the Hawkins House in that city, Tuesday evening, Mayor Bennett of Jackson, and President W. J. Burrows and Manager Sidney D. Strong of Plymouth, were the speakers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pickle of Northville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Kaiser.

The Jolly Farmer club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gray, last Friday evening. All had a jolly time.

Dr. Luther Peck returned Monday from Monson, Mass., where he was called last week on account of the serious illness of his father.

R. L. Hills was given a pleasant surprise party at his home on Blunk avenue, last week, Thursday evening, by twenty of his friends. Progressive pedro furnished the amusement of the evening. First honors were awarded to Miss May Hallahan and R. L. Hills while Mrs. B. E. Giles and William Kaiser gracefully accepted the congratulations. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hills. It was a delightful evening for all present.

The recital given by Barbara Bake, assisted by Miss Lucile Lincoln of Detroit, in the Penniman Allen theatre, last Wednesday evening, was attended by an interested and appreciative company of friends about four hundred in number. Having committed her five solo selections, Miss Barbara, who is only twelve years of age, played the several selections with the dignity and ease of a much older person, reflecting credit upon herself and upon her teacher, Miss Czarina Penney. The opening and closing numbers on the program were piano duets played by Miss Barbara and Miss Penney, Miss Lincoln sang several selections during the evening and was repeatedly encored. She is not a stranger to Plymouth, and as usual charmed her hearers with her pleasing voice.

In Dallas, Ore., Mrs. Sadie Reddekop reported that the Christmas rush had cleaned out the stock of her odorless skunk farm.

"Rotary stresses quality and not quantity" stated Steven J. Jay, Secretary of the Detroit Rotary Club, in a most inspiring address to Plymouth Rotarians on Friday, January 25. He pointed out also that there are thousands of individuals who are Rotarians in spirit who never have had the opportunity of joining a Rotary Club.

In developing the theme "Rotary on Parade" Mr. Jay informed the Club that despite the ravages of war, Rotary was still functioning effectively in European and Asiatic countries. New clubs are springing up and old clubs are being reorganized.

A brief summary of the activities of the Detroit Rotary Club including work with crippled children, establishment of a youth center, distribution of Christmas packages, and the functioning of a student loan fund were presented. Mr. Jay was careful to point out that other Clubs were carrying on the same types of activities as effectively as Detroit, but the latter had the advantage of a larger membership.

"Rotary brings me in contact with men of high calibre," said Mr. Jay, who as Vice-President of the R. H. Fyfe Co., largest shoe store in America, and President of the Detroit Retail Merchants Association, has a background of experience from which to judge the calibre of men whom he meets.

Plymouth Rotarians were given additional reasons for being proud of Rotary and were inspired to make even greater efforts to exemplify the motto and spirit of that great organization.
