TOO MUCH POLITICS.

As we see it the present labor unrest in our good country, is due to just one thing—too much politics.

Every fair minded person fully realizes and favors increased compensation to employes at a time when prices are going skyward, especially prices of food and clothing.

Every one knows that with price increases there MUST be wage increases. With wage increases there must be PRICE increases. It is one way or the other, whatever you choose.

It is our firm belief that this whole situation could have been solved months ago if it had not been for the fact that politics and demands and prices have all been mixed up in Washington politics.

Added to this unfortunate situation was the fact that very early in the discussions, name-calling started, ill-will was added to ill-will that had grown out of an arrogant spirit that has crept into labor relations during recent years.

There now appears on the horizon a ray of hope for industrial peace, but it is not as bright as we would like to see it.

Wouldn't it be a wonderful thing for America if all of us would throw aside the ill-will, replace it with kindly cooperation, with a live and let-live spirit, with a mutual understanding of the problems of all of our people and a determination to make the American way of life as perfect and as happy as all of us would like to have it? It is something for us to hope for and work for, even though it does seem in the distant future—but not too distant if we cut out the miserable politics that now infest the industrial life of this country.

THE MCKAY TRIAL.

It appears that the McKay trial over in Jackson is a long way from being finished, but it has already brought to light many interesting facts about state business. Probably there will be more testimony as interesting as that so far given. We said in the beginning it probably would produce startling facts—and it has already done so—facts that the good people of Michigan should know. Facts that they SHOULD have known a long, long time ago.

HIGHWAY SAFETY.

The frightful increase in traffic accidents not only in Michigan but throughout the country, is just cause for alarm. While careless driving is responsible for a very large proportion of these accidents, there is just reason to believe that our highway safety engineering has not kept pace with traffic progress. Maybe more of our trunk line highways should be built for divided lines of traffic, like the Schoolcraft road. Maybe speed should be reduced again. It's high time to give this matter real study.

REMEMBER!

War is more terrible than all the words of men can say; more terrible than a man's mind can comprehend. It is the corpse of a friend; one moment ago a living human being with thoughts, hopes, and a future—just exactly like yourself—now nothing. It is the eyes of men after battle, like muddy water, lightless. It is cities—labor of generations lost—now dusty piles of broken stones and splintered wood—dead. It is the total pain of a hundred million parted loved ones—some for days. It is the impossibility of planning a future; uncertainty that mocks every hoping dream. Remember! Remember and multiply these things by the largest number you know. Then repeat them over and over again until they are alive and burning in your mind. And when it is in your mind so strongly that you can never forget; then seek how you can best keep peace. Work at this hard with every tool of thought and love you have. Do not rest until you can say to every man who ever died for man's happiness: "You did not die in vain."
—Cpl. Walter J. Slatoff.

THERE MUST BE SOME OTHER WAY.

We have always believed that there must be some other way than a strike to bring about proper consideration of a wage dispute. A strike brings suffering not only to the workers but to the innocent by-standers. Those struck against only experience an exasperating situation and a temporary loss of business.

The best argument we have read in a long while against the modern strike method of forcing consideration of labor disputes, was in a Detroit News article a few days ago. It will be worth your while to read it again, even though you read it when it was first printed. It follows:

There were a good many things, including a bare cupboard, that 19-year-old Bruce Ratcliffe, General Motors Corp. worker unemployed since the strike, says prompted him to commit the seven burglaries he has confessed to at the Palmer Park police.

Ratcliffe, a discharged veteran of three years' service in the Navy, is married and the father of an 8-month-old daughter. The family lives in an immaculate three-room home at 20438 Oakland avenue.

Ratcliffe said that after his discharge from the Navy he was employed at the Chevrolet Gear and Axle plant, working there seven months as a non-union employee before being thrown out of work by the strike.

"I was so desperate," he said. "My wife and I started to house-keeping and bought furniture on the installment plan. I saved up a little money because the strike was coming, but it went so fast and the furniture company threatened to take the furniture. My wife leaves our home so much and I knew she would be broken hearted."

"She had mentioned so often before the strike that she'd like to have curtains in the living room. She even mentioned it since the strike and I love to make her happy."

"Our food gave out. And the money. So I said nothing to her but went out and broke into grocery stores and took food—chickens and eggs, and money. I even handed her $1.39 to get those curtains and I told her I borrowed the money."

"We had pawned our radio, my wife's ring, my watch. I was just crazy with worry and I'd had to pay an $80 doctor bill. Well, I'm glad I got caught."

Ratcliffe, who is held at Palmer Park Station, was arrested Wednesday night in the office of Dr. Arthur Goldberg, 340 Eight Mile road east. The crew of one of the station's scout cars noticed the front door broken. Patrolmen John Morrissey and Steve Martek entered and found Ratcliffe with a hammer in his hand and a screw driver, pliers and a flashlight in his pockets. He readily admitted breaking in and confessed to six other burglaries in the neighborhood, they said.

The Ratcliffes have been receiving $20 in welfare aid every two weeks.

"I haven't anything in the house to eat," Mrs. Ratcliffe said. "But I don't want to eat. All we have are three cans of milk for the baby and a little cereal."

3 Candidates File For Commission

When the deadline for filing nominating petitions for the City Commission was past, last Friday, only three candidates had filed for the two vacancies.

They included the pair of incumbents, Mrs. Ruth Whipple and Jack Taylor, and a newcomer, Dunbar Davis, former Plymouth attorney soon to be discharged from the armed forces.

The election is scheduled for April 1, according to City Manager Clarence Elliott.

Mrs. Harold Stevens of Church street will entertain her Thursday contract bridge club on Tuesday, February 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher entertained the following relatives last Sunday in honor of her sister's birthday, Mrs. Otto Reamer, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Reamer, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Jewell, Mrs. Ben Blunk and daughter Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Derward Jewell and daughters, Connie Lou and Brenda Lea, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barlowe, Jr., and son John Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Reamer, Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Holloway, and Gerald G. Rorabacher.

Memorial Site Request Granted By City and School

In a meeting held on Thursday evening, January 31st, the progress of the Plymouth District Veterans Memorial was greatly advanced in a most definite fashion. The committee met with the members of the city commission and the school board to discuss the important matter of location of the Memorial. The work of the committee has been necessarily careful and slow, in order that no decision should be made without thorough and complete understanding of the facts involved in the decision. The work has not been easy, for so many factors had to be considered in any final decision before a definite policy could be adopted. Such a final decision has been made by the committee, and the plans of the Memorial have been put into more definite form as a result.

The outcome of the meeting on January 31st was three-fold: first, a site was agreed upon, and secured. This site is the property owned by the city, back of the high school, bounded on the south by the high school athletic field, and running as far north as Farmer Street, and bounded on the west by Adams street, and on the east by the Pere Marquette railroad tracks. The particular reasons for the choice of this site were two, one, the centrality of location for all the town of Plymouth, and two, the availability of land that could be used by the Memorial without great expense for purchase. The cost of the proposed buildings will be enough in itself to absorb the gifts which will be made toward the project, without the payment of funds for a site. It was the unanimous opinion of the committee that this site was by far the most desirable one that they could secure.

As a consequence, the meeting of the city commission and the school board was held with the committee. The result of the discussion was a unanimous approval by all members of both groups present to allow the use of the requested land for the purpose of a Memorial site. The complete unanimity of opinion was a heartening factor in the committee's (Continued on Page 8)

Salvation Army Shifts Personnel

Changes in the administrative personnel of the Salvation Army Post here were announced this week by Lieutenant Colonel James Murphy, divisional commander.

Effective at once the activities of the Salvation Army in Plymouth will be in charge of Adjutant Cynthia Taylor, formerly of Chicago, and Captain Lillian Roberts, of Jackson.

They are replacing Captain Mary Congdon and Lieutenant Made Webster, veteran Salvation Army heads here, who have been transferred to another post which Lieutenant Colonel Murphy did not disclose.

Adjutant Taylor, a veteran of 15 years service with the organization, has served in Kansas City, Wichita, and St. Louis. The last four years she spent in LaPorte, Ind. She is a native of Indianapolis.

Captain Roberts is a Detroit. She trained in Chicago and went from there to her first assignment at Petoskey. The last three years she spent in Jackson.

Plymouth Fire Chief Resigns

Fred Wagenschutz, fire chief here for the last 17 years, Monday night tendered his resignation to the City Commission. It was accepted unconditionally but with sincere regret.

City Manager Clarence Elliott immediately named August Meyers, veteran assistant chief, to the post of temporary acting chief with full approval of the commission.

The appointment of Mr. Meyers was not made permanent because the commission hopes eventually to reorganize its fire department and secure a full time chief whose sole duties will be the study of fire prevention and control.

Mr. Wagenschutz, has reached the retirement age for firemen, according to City Manager Elliott.

In addition his near death from carbon monoxide last month has not left him in too good health. He expressed the thought that he would quit while he was "all in one piece, alive and squirming."

Wileden Home Is Scene of Minor Blaze Monday

Plymouth firemen were summoned to the home of Alfred Wileden, 644 Pine street, Monday morning. Upon arrival they found a newspaper container ablaze in the furnace room. Prompt action on their part limited the damage to $10.

Firemen theorized that the container was too close to the furnace and in some manner ignited and threatened to spread to the basement ceiling.

Lt. Laurel Owens Declared Dead By War Department

The War Department has declared another Plymouth soldier officially dead. That was the essence of a letter received this week by Mr. and Mrs. Ray Owens, of RFD 3, Plymouth.

It stated that their son, Second Lieutenant Laurel J. Owens, of the Army Air Forces, was reported to be missing in action as of July 10, 1943. Since that time, the letter said, the War Department had hoped of finding information which would assure them of his survival.

As in so many cases they found nothing in the intervening years to indicate he was living. In view of those facts, the letter continued, the department could do nothing else but declare him to be dead as of Jan. 11, 1946.

This of course is not a probable date of death but purely a presumptive one used only for the basis of settlement of accounts and payment of casualty benefits.

According to the letter, Second Lieutenant Owens lost his life when his bomber suffered a direct hit from one of two attacking Jap fighter planes. It was on a mission over Babo, New Guinea.

Witnesses stated that his plane was seen to suffer direct hit and explode in mid-air just after completing a bombing run.

Although four paratroopers were reported to have been seen, no trace of Lieutenant Owens or any of his crew members has been found.

In closing the letter states, "The necessity of this message is regretted, but we trust that the ending of a long period of uncertainty may give at least some small measure of consolation."

"An appraisal of the sacrifice made by your son in the service of his country compels in us feelings of humility and respect. May Providence grant a measure of relief from the anguish and anxiety you have experienced during these many months."

Lieutenant Owens, a navigator, enlisted in the Army Air Forces the day after Pearl Harbor was attacked. At that time he was a junior at Michigan State College. He graduated from Plymouth High school in 1937.

He was commissioned from Selman Field, Monroe, La., in January, 1943. The following May he married Miss Betty Jean Williams, of El Paso, Tex., in a ceremony at Denver, Colo.

Girl Scout Leaders Attend Detroit Training School

Eight Girl Scout leaders are attending the four day leadership school which opened in Detroit this past Monday and which is a part of a national program under the direction of professional scout doing a better job of leadership teachers to aid troop leaders in their respective areas and troops. The training is being given at the Detroit Y.W.C.A.

The leaders from Plymouth attending the school are Mrs. Leo Arnold, Mrs. William Arscott, Mrs. Edward Dobbs, Mrs. Arthur Donnelly, Mrs. Mathew Krump, Mrs. Lee Swale, Mrs. Edwin Wingard and Mrs. Joseph Witwer.

The course which is for leaders of scouts in all age levels includes program planning, discovering and stimulating interests, use of resources and consultants, ways of working with troop committees, troop government, financing and participation in program activities. This school is for all leaders in the Great Lakes Region.

The local council is paying the registration fees and all expenses of the leaders attending and is pleased that so many Plymouth leaders could take the time to take the course. It bids well for greater scouting in Plymouth that this city has so many public spirited women interested in girl (Continued on Page 8)

Safety Campaign Starts At School

William Isaacson

William Isaacson, of Detroit, special first aid, water safety and accident prevention field representative of the American Red Cross tonight, Friday, will complete his training course for local school teacher volunteers.

Every night this week a large class of Plymouth school teachers have been learning how to become instructors of Junior Red Cross student groups. It is the first such course to be offered in Michigan, according to Helmer A. Nelson, superintendent of public schools here.

Mr. Isaacson, former staff member of the Red Cross national aquatic school at Lyman Lodge, Minn., will issue certificates to those who have been taking his course. These will qualify them to teach home, farm and junior accident prevention classes among local students.

The course for the students will cover several weeks, and should prove extremely popular and educational for most students. The need for such instruction as an extra-curricular subject in Michigan high schools is great.

This is especially so when one is advised that since Pearl Harbor 150,000 persons have been killed on and off their jobs.

Traffic accidents have accounted for 69,000 additional civilian deaths and 112,000 fatalities have occurred in the home.

The combined total is a third more than the entire number of military personnel killed in World War II. Thus the acute need of education for the prevention of accidents in the home, on the job and while at work is demonstrated.

"The continuous battle of the American Red Cross with the home and farm accidents is more important this year than ever before," Mr. Nelson declared. "Accidents are a daily threat to the nation's man power."

"Most of us," he continued, "think of accidents in terms of workers and machines, yet one-third of those fatalities occurred right in the home."

Plymouth schools are proud to co-operate with the National Red Cross in its never-ending effort to stem the tide of rising home and farm accidents with educational programs.

Minstrel Show Nets Club $1,600

More than $1,600 was cleared on the bang-up minstrel show presented here last week under auspices of the Plymouth Kiwanis club.

The money will be used for the construction of a log cabin camp for Girl Scouts. As yet the site for such a camp has not been selected. Suggestions for the same would be welcomed by the club.

Donation of a site on some nearby lake also would find the club in a most receptive mood it is understood.

Anyway the minstrel show was a huge success both nights. The jam packed house that greeted the show on opening night was more than duplicated the following evening. Standing room was even sold out.

In appreciation of the efforts of those in the show, the club had the entire cast as dinner guests at Hotel Mayflower Tuesday night. Bob Merriam, chairman of the enterprise for the club, introduced each member and also visiting Kiwanians.

All in all the project was a success. The club wants to thank each and every one who in any way aided in making the effort successful.

Publisher Returns From Florida For Legislative Session

State Representative Elton R. Eaton, publisher of The Plymouth Mail, returned to Plymouth Saturday from Miami, Florida, to attend the special session of the State Legislature now in session in Lansing. At the close of the session he will return to Florida to join Mrs. Eaton for the balance of the winter.

School Electors Accept Proposal To Consolidate

Plymouth's qualified school electors last Saturday ratified the Board of Education's proposal for consolidation by a vote of 280 to 13.

Thus did the overwhelming majority assure the community eventual construction of a modern consolidated township school. It will combine the Plymouth public schools and the Kenyon, Cooper and Allen rural districts.

The proposed structure will serve the area's educational needs from kindergarten to the twelfth grade for several years if not forever.

Electors from the city voted at the Central school. Of the 213 ballots cast there were 204 for consolidation and nine against it. At the Allen school where all electors of the rural districts voted the result was 76 for, four against, and one spoiled ballot.

The next step necessary in the process of consolidation is the election of a new school board for the township unit.

This election is scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 16. Polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Central school in the city and at the Allen rural school.

All rules in effect for the previous election will also govern this balloting according to Charles Brake, deputy superintendent of Wayne County schools.

The mail, on excellent authority, understands that there will be no candidates for the new school board from either of the three rural districts.

The directors of those districts feel they would like to have the present Plymouth school board serve as the township board until the problems attendant to the consolidation are ironed out.

Varied Weather Gives City a Pain; Only 6 Weeks Left

This week the community has experienced the extremes in weather conditions within a few hours. Needless to mention, no one admired any of it. For lack of anything tangible to blame it on most of us probably made an innocent little rodent—the groundhog—the whipping boy.

Weather forecasters in Detroit claim he is the most labeled rodent in the country. They say he definitely is not to blame for the mixture of elements Plymouth has seen since he clambered from his hole and saw his shadow last Saturday.

At any rate no one liked the weather we had Tuesday. It was rotten, stinking London dew to say the least. English brides of our American brothers who arrived on the scene here that day wryly remarked that they certainly weren't homesick. Too much like London.

People were angry with each other Tuesday. Drivers couldn't speed. They couldn't see. They could scarcely stay in the road until the temperatures began rising and thawed the film of ice that covered everything from early morn till noon.

Those persons who had no reason to venture on the high ways were mad at themselves. It was hard to breathe, the house overheated, windows steamed up, vegetables boiled dry and—oh what the heck, it was just a "dirty" day.

Homemakers shouted at their children and the "old man" about tracking up "my clean floors." Travel, either by bus, train, car or on foot was hazardous. Air travel was nil.

As night drew on the fog increased and then suddenly it began to lift. By midnight the streets were again teeming with cars.

The air was warm with a threat of rain. At 1 a.m. Wednesday the temperature jumped to an even 50. It was hard to sleep. Winter covers proved too warm. They threw them off. Then you (Continued on Page 8)

Campaign To Obtain Funds For Boy Scouts Opens Monday in Plymouth

Plymouth's annual sustained membership drive for the Boy Scouts of America opens Monday. Robert Wesley, sales and advertising manager of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, will serve as chairman.

The local quota this year is 300 memberships. Each costs a minimum of five dollars. James Houk, local merchant, and finance chairman of Boy Scout District No. 7, anticipates that the drive will go over the top.

For the uninformed it must be stated that sustained members of scouting are those persons who are interested enough in a young fellow's future to aid in the support of an organization for his welfare.

They are the ones whose contributions each year make it possible to maintain a staff in support of the scouting movement.

Each sustained membership in this area helps insure the future for 17 scout troops and five cub scout packs now in existence. In addition the contributions will help lay the foundations for three advanced scout troops to be organized this summer.

District No. 7 Boy Scouts of America, according to Mr. Houk, comprises the cities of Plymouth and Northville, the surrounding rural areas and Livonia Township. Assisting Mr. Wesley, in carrying

Thos. Bateman Heads Commission

The city recreation commission held its first official meeting at the city hall last Wednesday evening. Thomas P. Bateman was named chairman of the commission and other officers elected were, Chas. Brake vice-chairman, Jean Jenkins secretary and Jack Taylor treasurer. The other members of the committee are Helmer A. Nelson, C. E. Elliott and Sterling Eaton.

A discussion was held relative to the overall needs of the city from the standpoint of mental and physical recreational needs and the committee will conduct a survey to determine just what extent it can provide outlets for all age groups.

Under the direction of Mr. Bateman the group will attempt to draft a budget and study the necessity of securing equipment for a full rounded program of recreation throughout the city.

The ordinance which brought the committee into existence gives it complete control over all funds to be expended locally by the city or school for other than regular functional recreation activities.

Woman's Club Marks Guest Day

Guest day was observed last Friday by the Plymouth Woman's club with a special program at the Central Grade School Auditorium. More than 160 members and their guests were present. They were a most enthusiastic audience.

The program opened with a one-act comedy skit directed by Mrs. Wallace Laury. It portrayed the average family's discussion of television and the disappointment they experienced at witnessing a televised broadcast.

Various day and night programs were portrayed and drew hearty laughs from the audience. The commercials were probably the funniest. At the close of the television program the family decided they preferred the regular radio broadcast.

The cast all took their parts very well and the excellent direction of Mrs. Laury was evident in each scene throughout the skit.

Perhaps the most beautiful part of the program, for both the eyes and ears, was the musicale—"Mexican Fiesta," presented by a group of club members under the direction of Mrs. Mary Bentley.

That part of the program was complete with costumes and many items of Mexican ware that were beautiful props. The music also was most entertaining.

A few of the members and guests who have actually witnessed a genuine Mexican fiesta said the musicale was a faithful reproduction of the real thing and complete to the most minute detail. It made a distinct hit with the audience.

Passing Plymouth for new and renewed sustained memberships in scouting are Mayor Carl G. Shear, Russell Daane, vice president of the Plymouth United Savings Bank; Elmer Austin, operator of the local taxi line; Roy Leemon, Detroit industrialist and local resident; and Mrs. Kate Henderson.

They will begin their work on Monday. Mr. Leemon has agreed to solicit all industrial plants here. As yet the Livonia and Northville chairmen have not been named.

Mr. Houk urges that every one interested in furthering the Boy Scout movement in this area, renew their sustaining membership or enroll if now without one.

Scout units are, as far as possible, self-contained, and where they are central executive bodies, these are compact and operated at a minimum cost, which, however modest, is also unavoidable.

In this area that cost is met in substantial part by those who are sustaining members and annually contribute five dollars or more apiece.

The boom in scouting, here and everywhere, has inevitably increased the cost of such activities which must be financed. That's why, during their thirty-sixth anniversary week—Feb. 11 to 16—the Boy Scouts of America will put to the public of Plymouth the need of doubling the number and contributions of sustaining members here.

There are few calls on the social minded as deserving of a friendly reception. The wisdom of supporting such enterprises is self-explanatory.

Citizens in doubt might look into Scout activities or talk to any boy scouts. These youngsters have a way of arguing cases close to their hearts much more convincingly than do their elders.

Detroit Rabbi Speaks at Joint Rotary Meeting

Dr. B. Benedict Glazer, rabbi of Temple Beth El, Detroit's largest Reform congregation of Hebrews and the fifth largest in the United States, Monday noon addressed a joint meeting of the Plymouth and Livonia Rotarians at the Pen Mar.

Rabbi Glazer, a nationally known lecturer and prominent in the activities of the Detroit Round Table of Jews and Christians, was introduced to his audience by Dr. Richardson Rice, of the Methodist Children's Village and program chairman of the Livonia club.

The speaker's topic was "How to Live Together." He deplored the current lack of tolerance among races and religions and said the present era of peace was tragic.

"We are living in chaotic times," Rabbi Glazer declared, "and it will take all the virtues of good American character to solve the problem."

He said there were hopes that the trend of the times would spend itself harmlessly but cited the Christian Front and America First movements as dire threats to the Republican way of life.

"There must be no defeatism in America," he said, "we have seen how the decadent population of Europe gave up and put their destinies in the hands of a few. That must never happen here."

The rabbi's vocabulary and his fluent use of each term kept his listeners interested to the close of his splendid address.

More than 70 rotarians of the two communities had the privilege of hearing him. They went away well satisfied and declaring there should be more men like Rabbi Glazer in the world.

3 Re-named To Plan Commission

S. D. Strong, Paul Wiedman and Ezra Rounour all have been re-named to the City Plan Commission for terms of three years. Their re-appointments were unanimously confirmed Monday night by the City Commission.

City Manager Clarence Elliott also announced that the Plymouth Board of Review would meet at the City Hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Feb. 15 for the purpose of checking and adjusting special assessments levied for city improvements made last year.

Popular Young Couple Wed at Lutheran Church

Palms, white lilies and lighted tapers adorned the altar of the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, Saturday evening, Feb. 2, for the wedding of Annabel Heller, daughter of Mrs. Leila A. Heller, and William O. Bartel III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bartel Jr. The couple spoke their vows in a double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock with the Rev. Edgar Hoenecke officiating.

"Whither Thou Goest I Will Go" was sung by Wesley Sheere and "O Perfect Love" was rendered by the choir.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Clarence E. Heller, wore a white satin gown made with sweetheart neckline, long close fitting sleeves ending in points over the hands with full skirt having a short train. Her finger-tip veil fell from a heart-shaped headdress trimmed in orange blossoms and she carried a white leather testament mounted with white orchids.

Norman Robinson was the maid of honor, Lois Vetal the bridesmaid and Beverly Bartel the junior bridesmaid. All wore floor length gowns of red crushed velvet having cap sleeves and long red gloves. Their Juliet caps were sequin trimmed and they carried white muffs with gardenias. Little Janet Frick of Mt. Robert Bartel, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man and the ushers were James Heller and Gordon Vetal.

Mrs. Heller, mother of the bride, wore an evening gown of light blue lace and crepe and Mrs. Bartel wore gold crepe. Each wore a white orchid corsage.

A reception was held in the Newburg hall immediately following the service with guests numbering 150.

Mr. and Mrs. Bartel left later that evening on a week's honeymoon in Chicago. For traveling the bride chose a brown and white checked suit, with brown accessories and orchid corsage.

The most amazing example of co-operation in the animal world is the fishing expedition of the pelican. Upon finding a well-stocked bay or lake, a flock of these birds form a large half circle in the water facing the shore and then, moving a few feet apart "fish" the harrowing area as thoroughly as men with a seine.

Because vibrations of an earthquake travel through water with much the same intensity as through the earth, they may be felt as distinctly aboard a ship at sea as in a building on land.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Wm. H. Minehart, who passed away 25 years ago Feb. 9, 1921.
A leaf in the book of memories, is gently turned today.
Our thoughts are of you dear mother,
You are never far away.
Sadly missed by her children.

Orchard Pruning
May Be Started
Orchardists with time to spare may wish to start pruning now, says T. A. Merrill, Michigan State college extension horticultural specialist. He suggests that apples, plums, pears and cherries may be pruned now, but advises delaying the pruning of peaches and grapes until after March 1.
All cuts should be made close to the main stem so that the wounds will heal more rapidly. Use a regular horticultural dressing material if a wound exceeds 2 inches in diameter. Do not use house or barn paint as a substitute because the cambium layer will be injured by the oil and healing will be prevented.
Fruit growers with apple trees to prune are invited to request a copy of Circular Bulletin 179, "The Thin Wood Method of Pruning Bearing Apple Trees", from either their county extension office or the Department of Public Relations, Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, East Lansing.
Mr. Merrill suggests that orchard owners might profitably visit their poison bait stations to make certain that a supply of bait is available for mice and other rodents. The cut branches left from pruning operations help to reduce mouse injury to trees.
In Eddington, Maine, the menfolk returned empty-handed from a day's hunting to find that Mrs. Willard K. Hillier, 70, had bagged a bear in her backyard.

In Monessen, Pa., Sergeant Eddie Hughes' foxholy fantasy became a fact; a banana split consisting of two quarts of ice cream, one quart of fruit salad, ten bananas and proportionate applications of marshmallow, whipped cream, chocolate, pineapple and cherries.
It would be wonderful (or would it?) if nobody ever had to work. But this world isn't the place to try to make such a plan practical—or possible.

Michigan to Have Healthier Fruit

Under the new program begun this fall in compliance with the Destructive Insect and Plant Disease Act No. 72, Public Acts of 1945, Charles Figy, Director of the State Department of Agriculture, reports that neglected and abandoned fruit trees and fruit trees infested with insects and contagious plant diseases are being removed at the rate of 5,000 per week. Approximately 4500 acres of neglected grape vineyards have also been removed since the Grape Berry Moth program was instituted in 1940.

In a recent survey made by the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture, C. A. Boyer, chief of the bureau, estimated that out of a total of some 15 million fruit trees, there are approximately four million that are neglected or abandoned, in addition to some two thousand or more acres of vineyards. Reliable statistics indicate that there is a yearly loss of about 20 per cent in fruit due to insects and diseases. The value of the tree fruit and vineyards amounts to over $37,000,000 each year.

Fruit growing has become such a specialized industry in Michigan that the small private or home orchard is fast disappearing. The expense of necessary equipment and spray for the proper care of the trees makes it almost prohibitive to maintain other than a commercial-sized orchard. Therefore, it behooves the growers to keep their orchards and vineyards as nearly free from insects and plant diseases as is possible in order to insure themselves a crop of clean, healthy quality fruit.

It is the intention of the Bureau of Plant Industry to continue to make inspections of all fruit trees and vineyards throughout the state, serving notice on property owners who fail to remove neglected and diseased plants.

Butterfat Promotes Vitamins

The kind of fat consumed in the diet may exert an important influence upon growth, states the National Dairy Council. This is due to the way in which different fats affect the vitamin producing bacteria in the digestive tract. This far-reaching conclusion is drawn from experimental work in rat feeding published recently by Dr. E. B. Hart of the University of Wisconsin.

Different types of carbohydrates were fed to ten different groups of rats. Each of the groups were divided, one set receiving corn oil as the fat constituent of their diet and the other receiving butterfat. Some of the rats in each group received a normal vitamin B supply, some a high vitamin B supplement and others a high vitamin B supplement plus liver.

In nearly all cases, those animals receiving butterfat and normal vitamin B allowances showed wide advantages. Where extra vitamins were fed the difference in favor of butterfat fed rats were not so marked. The conclusion drawn by Dr. Hart is that butterfat in combination with most carbohydrate foods encourages the growth in the digestive tracts of those bacteria which promote the development of the B vitamins.

FRONT VIEW OF 1946 HUDSON SUPER-SIX

New 1946 Hudson automobiles, now being shown are winning instant approval due to the post-war advances in exterior and interior styling, mechanical efficiency and ease of operation, according to Clyde E. Smith.

Declaring that the new models fully meet the demand for better cars for better driving, Mr. Smith said that deliveries will be made as rapidly as possible and those placing the first orders will get the first cars. He added that present Hudson owners are well represented in those viewing the first cars built since the end of the war.

Mr. Smith has been advised by the factory that Hudson is in a unique position for production by reason of early reconversion, early orders for materials and an integrated plant that enables an unusually high percentage of the completed auto's components. He continued:

"The new models are being offered in two distinctly different style lines—the Super series and the Commodore series, each available with six or eight cylinder engines. However, immediate production schedules call for four-door sedans powered by six-cylinder engines followed by broughams and club coupes. Three-passenger coupes and convertibles will be added to the Hudson line as rapidly as urgent demands for first production models will permit. Convertibles and eight-cylinder powered cars in both the Super and Commodore series will be produced as rapidly as possible."

Scouting News

(By Harold H. Schryer)

Cubmaster Henry Hees of Pack 620 reports that the Scouters Annual Fellowship rally held at the Music Hall in Detroit on Saturday evening last proved to be a very highly successful venture from all aspects of Scouting.

Over 1600 persons attended this Rally which saw many men presented with honors well-won during the year. These Scouters' recognitions are coveted by all members of Scouting as they are symbolic of the true recognition of public values attached to the work and efforts expended by these volunteer leaders of boys who seek to add somewhat to the welfare of their Scouts who look to them for guidance along the Scouting Trail which leads to better citizenship and riper manhood.

Approximately sixty Scouters were awarded either the Scoutmaster's Key or Scouters' Award which are bestowed upon these leaders for advancement in Scouting knowledge.

Eight Silver Beaver Awards were made to men for outstanding service to boyhood; this is the full quota of these awards which may be made at one time under the National Council's authority.

Program personnel in charge of this Rally was as follows: Scout Commissioner A. Douglas Jamieson, presiding; Group Singing, William Spencer; Scoutmaster's Key and Scouters' Awards presented by George J. Huebener, Jr.; Silver Beaver Awards, Dr. C. B. Lundy; Skit, "Scouts of the World—Building Together," Carl Moody.

James Lee Ellenwood, well known author and speaker gave a very interesting discourse on the Scouting angles of our modern life and his vehicle of expression was such as to hold his audience well within the influence of his topic throughout its very vital role in the over-all program.

Mr. Ellenwood's talk left very definite impressions in everyone's minds as to the real worth of their efforts in behalf of their Scouts and opened the doors to future problems which will be solved the easier for having been properly introduced to the mental picture of the Scouting family.

The new President of the Detroit Area Council, Prentiss M. Brown, was introduced to the assemblage by Commissioner Jamieson at this time. Mr. Brown is succeeding Frank Cody who has held that post for some time.

It is with pride that the members of District Seven note that one of the Scouters to receive their Awards for Scouting effort was none other than our good friend and fellow Scouter Walter, Dixon of Livonia.

Walter has been an earnest and sincere Scouter for a long time and we are all glad to know that he has been recognized for all his splendid works. Congratulations!

Over 200 Cubs and Cubbers attended the pot-luck dinner of Pack 620 at the Methodist church on Friday last.

It made a friendly affair of worthy note in Cubbing and we were really glad to see all of our fine folks on hand.

It was too bad, indeed, that the Cubbing movie scheduled to be shown at this time had to be omitted because of an error in timing. It is felt that the meeting brought many good results just the same. The very presence of such a goodly number of our people at this affair shows that the boys are not alone in their efforts to achieve a better way of life through the fullest co-operation of their parents. Thanks to all!

Sunday, February 10, is the date of the Sunday services to be held in several local churches for the Cubs and Scouts of Plymouth. If your son is a Scout be sure to know where he is to attend and have him there in the interests of his Troop and his community. Now is a good time to ask him all about it!

Your reporter has received official notice of the following appointments to local Scouting positions:

Harold Shirey, Plymouth, and James D. Warren, Wayne County Training Schools appointed to Neighborhood Commissionerships. James Houk, Plymouth, District 7 Finance Chairman succeeding Carl Shear, resigned. Wallace Osgood, Plymouth, District 7 Camping Chairman.

We, of Plymouth, extend our congratulations and best wishes.

Gives Health Tips In Food Planning

For a change in the routine method of serving that Michigan standby—potatoes—Roberta Hershey, extension foods and nutrition specialist at Michigan State college, suggests this way:

Just scrub the potatoes, not bothering to peel them, and shred on a medium shredder. Then pop them into a broad frying pan in which fat has been heated. Cook the potatoes about 10 minutes until crisp on one side and then turn carefully with a pancake turner and brown on the other side. Serve piping hot on a platter like an omelet. For added flavor, after they are fried sprinkle with chopped parsley, chives, or onion.

Potatoes served this way are high in vitamins.

And here's still another suggestion from Miss Hershey for healthful eating.

Serve sea food once a week and use iodized salt all the time. This will assure every member of the family the proper supply of iodine, which provides physical and mental pep and spark. Michigan diets are likely to be lacking in iodine because it is not supplied naturally in the drinking water as is the case in seacoast states.

Of the five human senses, taste varies the most in different individuals, a fact easily demonstrated by having a number of persons taste a piece of paper treated with phenylthio-carbimide. To some it will be tasteless, to others it will be sweet, bitter, sour or salty.

Margery Hadley Writes of Army Discharge Protest

Margery Hadley, ARC daughter of Mrs. Edythe Hadley of Dodge street, writes from Manila that her trip to Japan was postponed a week because of illness. She has been confined to a hospital there but expected to leave for Japan by the 12th.

Miss Hadley wrote an interesting account of the demonstrations by the servicemen in protest of the slow down in discharging eligible men.

"Sunday was a history-making day in Manila for several thousand men demonstrated how democracy works even in the army, when they held mass meetings to draft resolutions to be sent congressmen protesting the slowing up of troop movement home. Monday over 20,000 met at one meeting and agreed on resolutions to be wired to Congress and the President. It was all very orderly and such meetings were held all over the world. When will the people at home realize that these men are thinking, reasoning human beings and all civilians at heart, longing to be civilians in fact? If anyone thinks they can be pushed around, you should read the papers over here or attend one of their mass meetings—it would open your eyes.

Congress knows now and it had better act promptly—morale hit a new low over here as fathers who had hoped to be home in a month look upon a few months delay. We have a huge problem now and it isn't going to be easy for any of us while the men are in this state. They would have accepted delays if the "powers" had not made definite promises which they now say "so sorry, no can do." They can't promise these men that they will go home and then say, "we can't let you go."

Yes, the temper of the men is a very serious problem and you people at home have to do something active about it. Everyone is writing his congressman and adding his protest to the multitude already sent in. So please pass this letter on to the rest of the family. I'll not be able to write this to all of them.

But remember, all of you, that the man who fought this war and won the peace will not be pushed around by a lot of brass hats sitting at their desks in Washington playing chess with lives thousands of miles away. Life means as much to the man who has faced death in New Guinea jungles, the beaches of Leyte, the street fighting of Manila, the coral shores of Kwajalein and Saipan and Guam as it does to any of you at home.

They won't be pushed around and our world won't have much peace if they are pushed much farther. We read of all the wonderful luxuries civilians enjoy and we eat our canned rations and sleep on army cots under mosquito bars. These men compare their movies to your movie palaces,—their latrine with your indoor facilities,—these dark and diseased women to the girl next door or down the street,—tents with dirt floors are compared to rooms at home. These men think of all this and now the demonstrations are still orderly. Only pray that they remain so. Compare their complaints with those of the strikers at home and see who has the most right on his side.

Well, I guess that is about all for now—it's an important week in all our lives. Let's hope the right path is taken. These men are hungry for home and won't be denied. Do your part to see the right thing is done—they deserve the kind of life all of you take so casually.

Rice Attends Auto Club Conference

L. B. Rice, Automobile Club of Michigan's Plymouth manager, was in Detroit last Saturday for participation in a conference which made plans to key the club's statewide membership with increased road service and travel facilities.

In formulating these postwar policies, club officials are calling upon Rice to supply requirements of Plymouth members and to discuss problems peculiar to the Plymouth area. At the outset of war, Rice was called to a similar conference to gird the club for wartime services.

Under the program adopted at that time, the Auto Club organized its Wartime Motoring Bureau, and through this agency distributed thousands of expert advice bulletins, on care and operations of the car, located scarce parts and tires where priority orders were granted, and provided numerous assistance and short cuts in rationing.

Meanwhile its road service facilities answered as many as 4,500 calls per day, its safety and traffic program carried into 9,000 Michigan schools, and its travel bureau shifted from pleasure travel to servicing men and women in uniform and supplying maps for military convoys and troop movements.

Now in its twenty-ninth year, the club has the largest membership of motorists in the world, 241,000. Prior to the war, membership stood at 176,000, but the crying need for maintenance and increasing motor difficulties brought thousands of new members.

apply the principle of the phonetic alphabet frequently when telephoning stories to their city desks, particularly when giving proper names. You may have resorted to the same tactics when talking over the telephone. Suppose you are telling someone on the other end of the line how to spell your name, Stevens. You might say S as in sap, T as in take, E as in Eden, V as in Volga, E as in Eden, N as in name, S as in sap.

The Army Air Forces use this same method in radiotelephone procedure, except that now you have a standard phonetic alphabet which is understood universally, rather than one of your own invention.

Code words such as Luxow will be spoken as "Love Uncle X-ray Oboe William." Difficult words such as "catenary" will be spoken and spelled. Example: "Catenary—I spell—Charlie Able Tare Easy Nan Able Roger Yoke—Catenary."

MEMORIAL SITE REQUEST GRANTED BY CITY AND SCHOOL

(Continued from Page One) belief in the rightness of its choice; and the fine spirit of cooperation and common agreement of the school board and city commission augurs well for speedy and efficient action in the prosecution of plans for the Memorial.

The second result of the meeting was the decision to go ahead with the erection of the first unit of the Memorial, which will be an auditorium sufficient in size to take care of the needs of the community, and in the basement of the auditorium the construction of a swimming pool. It has been determined that these two features of the Memorial are the top priorities in the mind of the public. In consequence, a brochure is in the process of being printed, with all the facts relating to this building, and subsequent units to be added as fast as the funds come in. This brochure will be mailed to all organizations in the Plymouth area, so that the facts may be made plain in regard to the proposed structure.

The third decision was that as soon as the brochures could be discussed by the various groups in the community, a meeting of their representatives will be called, and the whole plan discussed by the responsible representatives of the organizations. A larger committee, perhaps some two hundred in number, will then be formed to carry on the work which the steering committee now existing has begun. Changes will be made, and details worked out by the larger committee, and there will be ample opportunity for free expression and participation of the people of the community through their organizational representatives on the larger committee. These steps will be taken as soon as possible, so that actual work may begin on the Memorial without any further delay.

Pontiac War Veterans Sell Apples On Streets to Get Cash to Buy Food

State Legislature Takes Steps To Relieve Situation and Provide Permanent Fund for Benefit of Returned Servicemen

(By Elton R. Eaton)

Remember all of that radio and newspaper propaganda out of Washington during the last political campaign that the present Washington administration was going to see to it that not one returned war veteran would find it necessary to sell apples on the streets in order to get something to eat?

Remember how these New Dealers in Washington talked almost incessantly about apple selling by the veterans and what a shame it was?

Well the veterans of World War II have been forced by the present Washington administration to sell apples in order to buy food for hungry stomachs.

Monday night members of the Ways and Means Committee of the Michigan legislature called a meeting so that the complaints of a number of discharged veterans of the present world war might be heard.

These veterans claimed to represent various groups of returned soldiers around the state.

A clean-cut, bright looking young man by the name of Robert Tabor, 18 Waldo Avenue, Pontiac, was in the group.

He asked to be heard, and permission was immediately granted by Chairman John Espie.

"You may not believe it, but we have been selling apples on the streets in Pontiac in order to raise a relief fund for some of our buddies who are actually hungry," he said.

"We raised $192 for our fund in this way.

"We can't get jobs and we can't get relief of any kind from Washington of a sufficient amount to take care of our unemployed veterans.

"There isn't a job of any kind to be had in Pontiac. I worked just one day after I got back from the war when the strikes were called.

"Many of the other returned veterans have not worked at all since they returned. There is no work of any kind by which hundreds of the veterans can make a living," he said.

He was advised that the Michigan legislature was endeavoring to speed legislation in order to provide aid to the veterans that ought to come from the New Deal congress in Washington.

"But what will we do meanwhile?" he asked.

The answer is — only the good Lord and the strike leaders know.

If all the bills now pending before the legislature are enacted, the building needs of the state will have been filled for years to come. But even after they are passed and the funds are made available, it will be probably five or six years before they can be completed, due to labor and supply shortage.

If the bill that came out of the election committee is passed and signed by the Governor, the primary election will take place on June 25 this year. The Governor thinks this early date is necessary in order to permit the soldiers in the service to vote. His opinion is not shared by many members of the legislature who feel that most of the boys will be home before September. But the election committee however, recommended the passage of the bill and it will therefore probably become a law.

There's no subject of so much interest and discussion around the legislature as the strike situation. All feel pretty bitter about it and wonder why the men could not have been permitted to work by the union while the differences were being discussed.

Governor Kelly did not open the way for the discussion of any labor legislation so there will be no work for the labor committees of the house and senate.

Our children worried the first night the family cat stayed away from her young until we assured them she was only breaking the kittens of their two-o'clock feeding.

The five-cent bus fare a Texas girl paid for a discharged veteran who was broke, will pay dividends. He is now paying her bus fare to Niagara Falls, where they will honeymoon.

(Continued from Page One) were chilly. No sleep for the wicked. Okay then so we're all wicked. What the heck. About the time most of us were getting up Wednesday the temperature began tumbling again. Hark, what's that. Ah, yes, it was sleet tapping at our windows. The air was clear but clouds were low and heavy and it was sleet-ing. More ice and hazardous driving.

Two hours later no sleet. Wind turning cold but ground still soft. Water standing in every depression. Wind increases in velocity. Getting colder. Skies clear. And then a biting snowstorm begins and the mercury is around freezing again. The sun shines bright and people think the snow will stop. Oops, the sun goes under again and the snow continues. Oh well just think there is only six weeks more of this damp bad weather left.

President Truman will have $3,000 left after paying taxes and expenses out of his $75,000 salary. Will he strike for a 30 per cent increase?

Boy Scout Week February 8th to 14th

Prepared To Face The Future
The Boy Scout Motto is "Be Prepared"

and in this year of transition, it has deeper, fuller meaning than ever in its history, for in 1946 the Scouts of the world are preparing to face the future — of building a new world — one in which construction, and not destruction, is the goal — a future that knows only peaceful living — where every man is a brother to every other man, regardless of his race, creed or color. It is the youth of today that will be the world leaders of tomorrow. So, on this 36th Anniversary of the Boy Scouts, we pay tribute to this great organization for the work it has done in the past — for the work it will do in the future as the Scouts of the World build together for peace and happiness.

AN OPEN LETTER TO MY FRIENDS:

Dear Friends: It has been four years since any appliances have been manufactured. That means we are four years behind on production. It won't take that long to catch up, but if we get the factories running again whose needs are acute can all be accommodated.

THERE ARE NO WAREHOUSES FULL OF APPLIANCES.

There is no appliance frozen or is it necessary to get a priority to purchase one. To my knowledge, there is not one manufacturer that has even near reached the production he had in 1941.

Here's what to do if you are one of those who seriously needs an appliance:

- (1) Select a well-known brand with a reputation of dependability.
- (2) Select a dealer near you who will give you honest advice, and who understands how to service your appliance.
- (3) Give him a small deposit and get the number of your order from him.

With these three steps followed, you have exercised your best judgment. Sincerely yours, Richard L. Kimbrough

Benefit Party Counts On Support Of Community

Since 1900, some 20,000,000 Americans have joined approximately 1,000 religious cults. A large number of these have been rackets, but they often flourished because they promised health, prosperity and security to the frustrated individual. While most of these religions have been profitable to their promoters, many have also become wealthy through substantial gifts of money from fanatical followers.

MR. STOWER TALKS AT JOURNALISM ASSEMBLY

"What it takes to make a Metropolitan newspaper" was the topic Mr. James Stower, representative of the Detroit Times, discussed at the assembly given last Friday, February 1st, sponsored by the Journalism class. Margaret Jackson, secretary of last semester's Journalism class, introduced Mr. Stower. Mr. Stower pointed out that the object of the Metropolitan paper was to serve the reader the latest news as soon as possible, and stated that the Detroit Times has 1,100 employees and 7,000 carrier boys who are essential.
The paper furnishes the reader with education, news, pictures, entertainment and editorials. Mr. Stower explained that it took approximately seven to eight minutes to receive pictures from distant places and print them.
Books about the printing of the Metropolitan newspaper were given out to the students in the home rooms Monday, February 1st.

A communication was received from the city attorney relative to Lot No. 321 of Assessor's Plymouth Plat No. 12. Mr. Nandino F. Perlongo also presented the commission with the following communication.

January 21, 1946
The City Commission
Plymouth, Michigan
Dear Madam and Sirs:

In behalf of my client, Mrs. Carrie Brown Hillmer, I hereby petition your Commission to execute a quit claim deed in her favor covering premises which now form a part of Lot No. 321 of Assessor's Plymouth Plat No. 12. The record title to this portion of Lot 321 is now in the City of Plymouth, by virtue of a conveyance to the President and Trustees of the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, by Jacob Westfall on May 13, 1889. My client's brother, W. L. Brown, resided on this property from 1880 until his death in 1914, and paid taxes thereon. My client, as sole residuary legatee of the estate of her brother, has paid taxes thereon since the death of her brother. Recently, including assessments, as contract obligations from my client.

I have discussed this matter with your City Attorney, and he agrees with me that inasmuch as adverse possession could be established by filing a bill to quiet title, the City could, by conveying the property, save the parties involved considerable expense, at the expense of the City.

I therefore respectfully petition your Commission to convey the portion of the property described in the quit claim deed dated December 20, 1945, and of record in Liber 358 of Deeds, Page 447, from Jacob Westfall and Mary Westfall, his wife, to the President and Trustees of the Village of Plymouth, Michigan, by Carrie Brown Hillmer.

Nandino F. Perlongo
Nandino F. Perlongo
Attorney for Carrie Brown Hillmer.

The following resolution was adopted by Commissioner Taylor and supported by Commissioner Corbett:

That the request of Carrie Brown Hillmer, contained in the petition filed by Attorney Perlongo in her behalf, for a Quit Claim Deed for the City for the portion of Lot 321, Assessor's Plat No. 12 which is conveyed to the President and Trustees of the Village of Plymouth by Jacob Westfall and Mary Westfall, his wife, by deed which bears date of December 20, 1889, and is of record in Liber 358 of Deeds, Page 447, be granted, and that the Mayor be authorized, empowered and directed to execute a Quit Claim Deed of said premises to Carrie Brown Hillmer.

Ayes: Mayor Shear, Commissioners Corbett, Lidgard, Taylor and Whipple.

Nays: None. Carried.

Mayor Shear appointed Mr. Charles Brake for a one year term.

What I Hear And See Under The Palm Trees Down in Florida

Last week Wednesday was a great down down at Hialeah park, Miami, probably the world's most famous winter racing center. It was the day that former Prime Minister Winston Churchill attended the races. And for the sake of the record it should also be reported that our own Dave Galin, of the Plymouth Purity market, was in attendance at this famed race meet.

So it was a sort of Churchill-Galin day at the races. Your correspondent couldn't be present because he was packing his grip to hurry over to Lansing to help solve all the pressing problems of state that the Governor thinks should be settled now and not at the regular session next winter.

Newspaper reports said the Churchill-Galin day at the races was one of the biggest events in the history of the track.

At any rate, it was fortunate that our Dave could be present at the meet on the same day that the famed Mr. Churchill was there. We haven't learned how much hob-nobbing Dave did do with Mr. Churchill, but we'll find out when Dave comes home.

Mrs. Joy was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Mrs. R. W. Joy, Mrs. Fred Geng, Mrs. L. A. Douglas and Mrs. Doris Holway were prize winners in games played during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schroder of Six Mile road drove to Owosso Sunday, accompanied by Mrs. Alice Girdwood of Owosso who returned to her home after a two-weeks visit with her daughter, Mrs. Schroder. Mrs. Eva Schlecter of Rochester, N. Y. was also a visitor in the Schroder home and returned to Owosso with her sister, Mrs. Girdwood.

Out of work and want a job? Lunch counters, restaurants and other eating places are paying as high as $50 per week for dish washers, and even at this high wage cannot get all the help they need. There is plenty of work in Miami, but records show that there are over 10,000 people drawing unemployment compensation in Miami and vicinity. There's something out of kilter somewhere.

Stood around the lobby of the Miami Colonial hotel the other night where the big leaders of one of the labor groups are meeting. Three subjects seem to be the chief source of discussion, horse racing, the future value of a dollar bill and land owning. Some "delegate" apparently from New York city said he "blew" a fifty dollar bill on one race, lost it but made it up on another race. Another "leader" apparently from Kansas City, said he was going to salt his cash away in some land down in the Ozark mountains. He declared that folks down there hadn't woke up yet as to what's going on in the country and that real estate values were the same as they were before the war, and he'd decided that this was a good time and a good place for him to invest. That, he said, was what he was going to do when he got home. When the future value of the dollar was being discussed by a group standing around the lobby, they figured that when things got settled down again, the present dollar would be worth about 50 cents. Labor relations matters are discussed back of closed doors and the newspapers are told only what the leaders want to tell them.

You never can tell what is going to happen down in Miami. The other morning a bus driver stopped out in one of the suburbs to pick up some passengers. A number of colored people got on the bus. They refused to take the back seats in the bus when ordered to do so by the driver.

What did the bus driver do? He closed the bus door, started up his engine and drove directly to the police station where he preferred charges against the six negro passengers, who had insisted on sitting anywhere they pleased in the bus. The six were arrested, charged with threatening the driver and held for trial. Five of the colored passengers were women. And that is what happened in Miami one day last week.

Everybody in Plymouth thinks of Ted Rheiner only as an electrician. But the gadding reporter of this department has found out that he is something more than that.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rheiner drove down to Florida late last October to spend the winter and early spring. Both were tired of shoveling snow and skidding around in their car on the ice. It was still pretty hot in Florida when they landed at Dania, a nice little city just south of Fort Lauderdale and only three miles from Hollywood. After looking around a bit they decided that they would make that place their winter headquarters, in view of the fact that it is a very convenient location and only a mile or so from the ocean front.

The rolling Atlantic has an attraction for every one, no matter where they are from. Soon Mr. and Mrs. Rheiner and their two beautiful cow dogs were spending most of their spare hours down on the beach.

Ted whiled away his time picking up many of the beautiful shells that can be found along the coast just after high tide.

What to do with them after he got them was another question. It was then that the artistic ability of the Plymouth electrician displayed itself. He began segregating his shells according to size and color and then placed them in attractive designs on pieces of plywood, attaching them to the boards by glue. Ted has really worked out some very attractive shell designs. He says he has found it to be a most interesting hobby.

When are the Rheiners returning to Plymouth? When it's so warm that there isn't a chance of a snowflake falling to the ground before it melts.

Fishing hasn't been any too good down here in recent weeks. The "wind" has been in the wrong direction, say the experts. Some sail fish are being caught, but they are good only for trophies—and who wants a sail fish for a trophy?

Beautiful strawberries have been on the market here for nearly a month. They sell for 40 cents a box.

A while back we made some comment in this column pertaining to the training in Miami of some 1000 or more Chinese boys for the Chinese navy. We said at the time we couldn't understand why this country was going to the trouble to train the Chinese for naval service when we all know that China didn't have a navy of any kind.

But we were mistaken. A few days ago we read a Washington dispatch which stated that Uncle Sam and John Bull had decided to give China quite a number of naval craft. It appears that the gift must have already been delivered, because the boys in training at Miami have left and some of the naval craft we used to see around here are no longer about.

In 1944 there were 122 fires in the United States which resulted in a loss of from $250,000.00 to $11,000,000.00 each. These could have been avoided by the use of more care, better "housekeeping" and more attention to Fire Prevention suggestions.

The telephone tide has turned in PLYMOUTH

This is a report we are glad to be able to make to you:

In this exchange, we are now installing telephones faster than we are receiving new orders.

The number of families waiting for telephones has begun to shrink

This good news is evidence of the progress being made in Michigan Bell's 5-year $120,000,000 expansion and improvement program. As more and more equipment and trained manpower become available, we intend to step up the pace of that program still further.

Before spring we expect to clear up virtually all orders which require only telephone instruments to provide service. This applies to a large percentage of the waiting applicants in this exchange area. To serve everyone, however, more outside wire and cable must be manufactured and installed. And that's a big job that will take quite a while longer.

If you're waiting for a telephone, you can be sure that we will install it in its proper turn just as soon as we can. The waiting list is still long. But instead of growing longer, it should be getting shorter from now on.

"Michigan and the Old Northwest"

La Salle 1643-1687
 Michigan resumes its role in Mississippi saga with Robert Cavalier de La Salle.

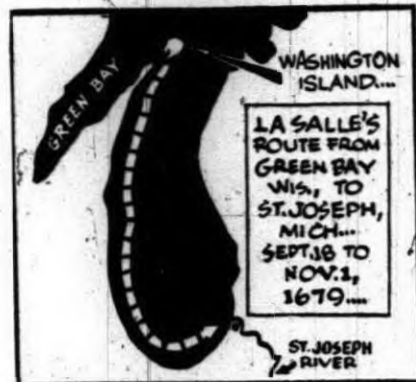

The "Griffon" (45 tons) sailed Lake Erie, Buffalo to Detroit, Aug. 7-11, 1679.

The ship saluted St. Ignace on Aug. 27, departing for Green Bay on Sept. 2.

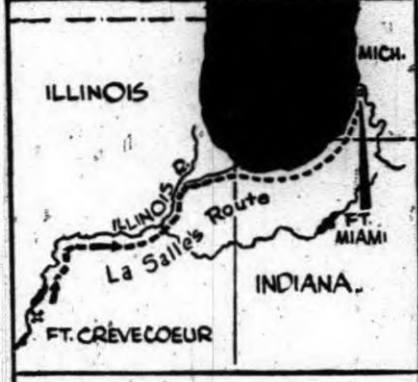

From Green Bay it left for Niagara on Sept. 18, only to disappear completely.

Enduring extreme privation, La Salle and 14 men already were headed south.

On the St. Joseph's west bank a fort was built and its area is known.

Opposite present Peoria, he built Crevecoeur, regained Ft. Miami Mar. 24.

Rafting over the St. Joseph, he headed for Ft. Frontenac (Kingston, Ont.).

on River country and sections of Ogemaw county have reported as much as a foot of snow, and deer are not yet in danger. Michigan has experienced no heavy starvation loss since the winter of 1942-43.

Sometime this summer we are going back up to the Tahquamenon falls country to see what is being done up there by the state highway department and the conservation department to make these beautiful falls available to the public.

Back in the days when Grover Dillman was state highway commissioner, we had considerable correspondence with him pertaining to the type of road development that should be made to these falls. It was about this time when the voters decided to elect Murray Van Wagoner state highway commissioner. The correspondence was continued with Mr. Van Wagoner's department, but nothing ever came of it.

Now we notice that the state conservation department has set aside $50,000 for "recreational development" in the Tahquamenon falls area. We're going up to see what the development consists of, and then we'll tell you about it sometime late next summer.

Latest purchases of lands for recreational purposes in southeastern Michigan give the public a little more than a third of the 100,000 acres whose acquisition and development is projected.

Purchases to date total 33,431 acres, the conservation commission approving options on 335 acres in the Proud Lake, Island Lake, Ortonville and Pinckney areas at its recent meeting.

The commission has approved expenditures of $2,685,477 in purchases of southeastern Michigan recreational lands, financed by a $3,000,000 appropriation voted by the 1944 legislature.

An additional $245,000 was earmarked by the commission for development of recreational areas around Detroit, out of a remaining $405,900 of a special million-dollar appropriation for park development.

The writer of "Michigan my Michigan" column has long advocated the creation of many small artificial lakes in this state, lakes like those that Herman Bakhaus, Russell Powell and others have created around Plymouth, in addition to larger lakes that could be created by the erection of small dams and the backing up of water in many creeks.

Around Plymouth there are places where dozens of fairly good sized lakes could be created in this way. But Michigan's conservation department has never deemed it quite advisable to start an active campaign towards the creation of lakes of this type throughout the state.

The Ohio Conservation Commission, however, has announced that the State's lake building program will take first place on the agenda of the new year's activities, according to the Sportsman's Service Bureau. Three recreational lakes, financed by general revenue, are scheduled to be built this year, and seven headwater lakes for which fishing license funds are earmarked will be completed as soon as manpower and materials problems will permit. These lakes will add 5,000 additional acres to the State's present total of 86,000 acres of inland waters.

Two other Ohio projects high on the list are improvement of headwater streams and provision of more cottontail rabbits for hunters. Several possibilities for the latter are under consideration, including importation of rabbits from Missouri for stocking and trapping native Ohio stock where plentiful in suburban areas within the State and transplanting them to areas open to public hunting.

At least 600 kinds of crustaceans and insects, including mites and flies, are raised and domesticated as workers by ants.

Owing to its fame, the Basilica of St. Peter is generally regarded as the only church in the Vatican. Actually, the little city contains a score of separate chapels and several other churches, including the Cappella Paolina, Santa Anna's and the Church of St. Stephen the Martyr. In fact, the Holy See does not consider St. Peter's to be a part of the Vatican except on the days when the pope goes there to attend some solemn ceremony.

Babson Says - -

Babson Discusses Home Mortgages

Babson Park, Fla., Feb. 8. — Mortgage money is cheaper today than ever before in the history of the United States. Even the Co-operative Banks, which have charged six per cent ever since their organization years ago, are now loaning money at four per cent. Moreover, the terms are very much easier than ever before. During the years preceding the last depression home mortgages were written for from three to five years as a maximum. Now the borrower can be accommodated by mortgages written for 20 years, or perhaps even longer.

Cost of Building
Although it is much easier to borrow money today than during prewar days, the cost of home building now averages about 50 per cent higher. However, the carrying charges at four per cent on a house costing $7500 are no greater, in total, than were the carrying charges at six per cent on a house costing $5,000 in pre-war days. Hence, this is a good time to plan a new home. Surely the land should be purchased at once.

The very fact that money rates are very low and building costs are high makes mortgages less attractive to the lender. In fact, I see little inducement for private individuals to loan money on mortgages at this time unless they do it to help the sale of property which they desire to unload. As a sold business proposition, I should hate to tie my money up for 20 years at three and one-half or four per cent interest. This is why I am bearish on most high grade, long-term bond issues.

"Packaged" Mortgages
Borrowers have another advantage today in many communities. I have just noticed an advertisement by the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of New Haven, Connecticut, offering to "loan money for building and equipping a home with all mechanical conveniences for comfortable living." This includes insulation, cooking range, refrigerator, washing machine, garbage disposal, ventilating fan as well as complete heating and lighting equipment and the latest plumbing fixtures. I understand that some banks are even including air conditioning.

Up to the present time, when these electrical appliances were available, it has been possible to buy them on installments, running over about eighteen months. This, however, has been a heavy burden on young people. Now, under "packaged" mortgages, all these brand new appliances can be included with the original cost of the house, and paid for over a period of twenty years. Furthermore, this program is much more convenient to the borrower because he is dealing with and making payments to only one concern, namely the bank, instead of to several local dealers. I estimate the cost of such equipment would add only about sixty cents a month for every one hundred dollars worth bought on the above basis.

To keep the house up-to-date, these "packaged" mortgages allow for replacement of appliances and provide payments therefor by the addition of a few cents to the above-mentioned monthly figure. It should also be remembered that under such a program the cost of the appliances is considerably reduced as the agent's commissions are either eliminated or cut down to a nominal figure. Whether or not your bank will pay for your electrical appliances, it will take your mortgage on a monthly payment basis which will include payment of taxes, insurance premiums, legal title fees, and other expenses. All of this amounts up to no more than you are now paying for rent. Moreover, under this new system you will some day own your home outright without an more payments.

Bullish On Electrical Companies
When I saw the government cancelling its big war contracts with the General Electric, the Westinghouse, and other similar companies after Japan collapsed, I became fearful. Although these companies would save considerable through the elimination of the excess-profits taxes, yet I doubted if new peace business would offset the loss of war business. The more, however, I study these "packaged" mortgages the more hopeful I become for the electrical appliance stocks. Certainly, if this new form of loaning money to home builders becomes general, it should be a boon to the electrical equipment industry. Home owners will buy much more equipment and much better equipment. Furthermore, this trend will make housework lighter, conserve and protect foods, and perhaps even reduce the cost of living. One other thought: This expansion should greatly increase the demand for "fix-it" shops which is a suggestion to returning G.I.s.

For many years, the accidental discharge of firearms in or about the home has killed weekly an average of 50 Americans, ten of whom are children under 15 years of age.
