

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

Edon R. Edon

WHAT'S THE REASON?
There's one thing you can say about The Detroit News respectively of how much you may differ with some of its editorial policies.

The News has an outstanding reputation for accuracy in the presentation of the important events of the day.
The News recently quoted Judge Coash of Lansing who is fussing along with the Lansing grand jury investigation that was getting results under Kim Sigler, pertaining to the cost of the quiz under the Sigler administration.
It quoted Judge Coash as saying: "I have checked the expense vouchers and have not found any fraud or anything illegal."
If that's the case, then WHY was Sigler fired and WHY is a former prosecuting attorney of Macomb county, notorious for its numerous gambling joints, now a state senator, permitted to display copies of grand jury records OPENLY to the public in his effort to smear the investigations into alleged legislative bribery, graft and crookedness? We'd like to have some one answer that question.

A GOOD EXAMPLE.
Year in and year out The Plymouth Mail has urged the good citizens of this city to exercise one of their duties of citizenship and vote at EVERY election. We believe voting is a public responsibility as important or more important than any of our other rights as citizens.
But frequently we wonder what is the use. In the recent Plymouth city election, a mere one thousand of its nearly four thousand voters went to the polls. That's only one out of about every four registered voters.

A mere minority of the voters of the city controlled the election, say nothing about a majority having gone to the polls.
That's not good citizenship and it's not a good thing for the city of Plymouth or any other city. How much better it would look and how much better every one would feel if it could be said that Plymouth had voted nearly one hundred percent.
But as a matter of fact less than a sixth of the registered voters of the city controlled the election. We need no better example as to the necessity of every citizen voting than the last municipal election conducted in this city.

Bills Burned in Wolf Fire Sent To Washington To Be Counted

The other morning after the fire in the big Wolf grocery and meat market on Penniman avenue, Manager Stanford Stubblefield walked into the Plymouth United Savings bank with a roll of bills that had gone through the store fire and turned them over to Cashier Russell Daane.
The bills in the roll were burned to a crisp, burned so badly that you couldn't tell whether they were ones, fives or tens.
No one who saw the bills figured that any one would ever be able to count them and find out what the amount was of each bill, no one except Banker Daane.
"I'll pack them in cotton, mail them to the treasury department in Washington, and by the use of special machines and lights they have, the treasury department will be able to tell exactly the amount of money there is in this roll of burned bills. It is nothing less than amazing how the department can do these things, but it can," stated Mr. Daane.
"After the count has been made, there will be returned to the bank new bills for the burned ones that were shipped to Washington," he added.
No one who saw the roll of burned bills could tell the amount of a single one of them, but Mr. Daane says the department will return to the Wolf store the exact amount of money that there was in the bills that went through the fire. That's just one of Uncle Sam's many services to the people of this great country.

Col. Cass Hough Is BPWC Speaker

International relations night was observed Tuesday by the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club at the dinner meeting held at the Episcopal Parish House. Guest speaker was Col. Cass Hough of the Daisy Manufacturing Company.
Col. Hough spoke of his experiences while stationed in England with the Army Air Forces. He paid great tribute to the civilian population of England and told how everyone not serving in the armed forces had to work.
The only exceptions, Col. Hough said, were those women with families to care for. The workers had no choice of place, type or conditions of work, he said. There was no black market of labor either.
Col. Hough vividly described the war work of women, especially those in the volunteer fire service groups and first aid stations. All, he said, were well organized before the first Nazi blitz in 1940.
He also praised the English system of rationing. In contrast to the allowances our own rationing program set up the English were on starvation rations.
Col. Hough said each adult was limited to a half pound of meat and one-eighth of a pound of sugar a week.
Col. Hough also pointed out that there was no wasted effort in English factories during the war. He also remarked about the neatness of the English towns and the staunch character of the people.
Now that the war is over, Col.
Hough said, it could be revealed that the Nazi bombings in nine weeks killed 700,000 civilians and reduced 1,130,000 homes to rubble. Col. Hough concluded on a note of respect and admiration for such great fortitude.
Special music for the occasion was provided by two Plymouth high school seniors, Barbara Fol-son sang a solo in Spanish while Phyllis LaVergne sang one in French. Mrs. Floyd Fleming was their accompanist.
Beside the musicians and Col.
Hough, Mrs. Hough also was a dinner guest of the club. Miss

Badminton Club To Sponsor Exhibition

Monday, April 15 the Plymouth Badminton Club is sponsoring a badminton exhibition at the Plymouth High School gymnasium at 8:00 p.m.
Mrs. Charles Cushman, secretary of the club, announced this week that "Reese Cramer, co-author of 'How to Play Badminton', H. Drury, present State Singles champion, Ted Brooks, former State doubles champion and Ray Ickes are coming out from Detroit and will put on the exhibition for the public as well as members of the club.
Following the exhibition, Mr.
Cramer will be available to answer all questions and to explain some of the finer points of the game. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Fox Hunters Now Crow Hunters

After chasing foxes all winter, some dozen or more members of the "Fox club" of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association under the direction of Estel Rowland, president of the "Foxers," are now out making life miserable for the miserable crows.
During the late winter these fox hunters bagged 17 foxes in this locality, some of them so close to Plymouth that one might so close to Plymouth that one might rightly think they had been holing up right here in the city.
"Bill" Rambo, one of the most persistent fox hunters, declares that before the crow hunting period is over, the members of this club hope to have several hundred crowless crows to their credit.
The "Crow Club" is made up of the following: Estel Rowland, Breck Champe, Joe Elliott, "By" Champion, William Morgan, Emery Hix, Emmett Kincaide, Lou Ford, James Gotterd, William Rambo, Fred Rhead, Matt Everett and Howard Hearn.
Hildur Carlson was program chairman and Mrs. Arthur Mills had charge of the tables and decorations. At the brief business session after the program Mrs.
John Blyton was re-elected president of the club.

Forest Motor Garage to Open Saturday

Forest Motor Sales, Inc., located at Wing and Forest Streets, to be operated as a partnership by two honorably discharged Detroit veterans and a Lincoln Park manufacturer, will open its show room to the general public Saturday, tomorrow.
The new firm will be the local outlet for Dodge and Plymouth automobiles and Dodge Commercial and Job-Rated Trucks. It also will be the Plymouth area distributor for U. S. Tires and kindred products.
At present their garage is not completed, but their show room, boasting the largest plate glass windows in Plymouth, will be ready and containing either a Dodge or Plymouth car or both by Saturday. The community is invited to drop in and get acquainted both with the new cars and the firm's partners.

Sketches of the partners and the firm's general manager follow:
John Hancock, since 1936 the president and owner of the Crescent Tool and Die Company, at Lincoln Park, is the first of the three partners. Mr. Hancock also is a partner in a wholesale sporting goods and athletic equipment firm at Lincoln Park. He began his present manufacturing company with two employees in a small two-car garage.
Thomas G. Notebaert and Robert E. Joly, the veterans, make up the other two-thirds of the new partnership here. Both are now residing in Detroit but want to move to Plymouth when accommodations are available.

Fix Hearing On City Budget for Monday, May 13

City Manager Clarence H. Eliott and Mayor Carl G. Shear this week submitted the proposed city budget for 1946-47 to the City Commission for approval.
A public hearing on the budget will be conducted by the commission at its chambers at city hall on Monday, May 13, at 7:30 p.m.
This budget, according to City Manager Elliott and Mayor Shear, is like every one prepared in recent years. It is so planned that the City will incur no additional indebtedness.

The present tax rate of $15 per thousand will not be increased, although the new budget calls for increases in salaries and wages of municipal employees to meet the additional cost of living, and three additional expenditures.
The new budget is for $150,901.
Revenue other than taxes is estimated at $52,325.50. That reduces the proposed tax burden for the coming year to $98,575.50. Due to the new business property and new homes the estimated valuation will run between six and seven million dollars. Thus no increase in the tax rate is deemed necessary.

Union Services For Good Friday

The annual Union Good Friday Tre-Ore services of the combined Protestant churches of Plymouth will be held this year in the Presbyterian church on April 19, from 12 noon to 3:00 in the afternoon.
The three hour service will be divided into three periods, each an hour long, so that those attending may stay for an hour, or all three, as they so desire. Most of the Protestant churches in the city will be represented by their ministers in the leadership of the service. In addition, the Methodist church of Newburg and the Presbyterian church of Rosedale Gardens, will join in this service.
All who wish to worship are welcome.

John Blyton Back From England

John Blyton of the Taylor & Blyton store, has returned from England where he went some weeks ago to visit his old home.
The trip both ways was made by plane. On the return he had the good fortune to be a passenger on one of the new big "Skymas-ters." He left Prestwick, Scotland last Friday evening at 6:30 o'clock and stopped in South Ireland for supper. Because of headwinds, the course was changed so that a stop could be made in Iceland for refueling. When the craft landed in New Foundland there was three feet of snow and a blizzard raging. At 1 o'clock last Saturday he landed in Chicago—delighted to be back in these good old United States.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Henderson and family of Stark road will make their permanent home in Detroit at the end of this month.
Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, daughter Maxine, son Eldon, and Joyce Penney attended the flower show at Convention Hall Sunday.

Water from Old Plymouth Spring Farm to be Used Again Say Officials

More palatable drinking water for the residents of Plymouth is promised by the middle of next week by City Manager Clarence H. Elliott.
Plymouth's newly constructed booster station at Five Mile and Northville Roads probably will be put in operation late Monday or early Tuesday, Mr.
Elliott said.

This station will make it possible for the community to return to its former supply of cold and clear spring water.
The source is huge natural springs on the 40-acre Plymouth Water Farm on Beck road. It has been more than two years since the city has tapped that supply.
Mr. Elliott said that supply was adequate but when the large pumps in the city were put into operation more than 50 families along Five Mile and Lakeland roads were left without a proper water supply.

It was necessary for Plymouth to construct the booster station at Five Mile and Northville roads to provide all patrons with an adequate supply from the water farm, Mr. Elliott pointed out.
Mayor Carl Shear stated yesterday that it had always been his belief that there was a plentiful water supply at the "Plymouth water farm" on Beck road.

The city has 40 acres of wooded land where the deep springs are located purchased nearly 50 years ago for a water supply. The city was supplied from this source up until some three years ago when the city commission let contracts for a well within the city limits.
While a plentiful water supply was found within the city every effort made by the city to improve the taste of this water, has failed.
"We are simply going to keep that well on Starkweather for a standby, that is all" said Mayor Shear.

"Some 15 or 18 years ago when I was on the old village council we had a survey made of the water possibilities of the Plymouth water farm. We were advised then, and the report is still on file in the city hall, stating that the water farm could provide a sufficient water supply for a city of 25,000 people. It is my idea that we have fooled along with the new well long enough.
"With our new booster pump which we started working on some three or four weeks ago, we can have the good water from our former source flowing through all the mains within another week or so. We will also flush the fire hydrants in order to get the present water out of the mains as quickly as possible" added Mayor Shear.

Although adequate, the present supply of water is not tasty and has caused considerable adverse comment among the users. It has been treated with chlorine and a chemical to remove iron rust particles but the community claims the taste has not improved.
The spring water straight from Mother Nature will be naturally purified and will be a welcome change from the supply the city has been using the last two years.
Mr. Elliott is more jubilant than anyone over the switch back to the former supply of spring water. It will remove much criticism from about his head and make everyone a lot happier. It appears that some thoughtless persons have held him directly responsible for the unsavory drinking water.

When the city switches back to the old supply from its water farm the present supply will be come but a memory. Mr. Elliott also said the present water supply would be used only as a "stand-by" supply in the future.

Colonel Gorton Wins High Military Honors

Colonel Walter T. Gorton, born in Plymouth and a high school graduate with the class of 1911, a brother of Forrest Gorton, in the postal service in Plymouth, has recently been awarded the Legion of Merit Medal for "exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services as Chief, Technical Division, Office of the Chief Ordnance Officer, European theatre of operations."
"Colonel Gorton was charged with the responsibility of establishing an organization to obtain technical intelligence on enemy ordnance material and German scientific developments.
"Demonstrating exceptional leadership and skill in analyzing the personalities and qualifications of his personnel, he set up an organization which successfully brought about the accomplishment of this mission in a highly superior manner. Colonel Gorton has rendered a material contribution to the allied cause and his utter devotion to duty has served to reflect great credit upon himself and the armed forces of the United States." Colonel Gorton received his B.S. and Mechanical Engineering degrees from Michigan Agricultural College in 1916 and 1942 respectively.
Older residents will recall that the Gorton farm was located on Powell road, just off Ann Arbor Trail.
As a student in the Plymouth school, Col. Gorton was regarded as a studious, hard-working youngster. He has long been associated with the armed forces and the high honors that have come to him were not a surprise to those who have followed his military career.

Mrs. Peter Meaden of Wyandotte spent a few days with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Finlan of Arthur street.

Plymouth Men Take Part in Time Debate on Radio

It's a safe bet that most radios in and around Plymouth last Sunday noon were tuned to WJR for the usual Sunday forum program, "In Our Opinion." Taking part in the discussion at that time were two prominent Plymouth farmers, Sid Eastin and M. W. Wisley. They were members of a nine-man panel locked in debate over Detroit's proposal to set its clocks ahead for the summer months.

Mr. Eastin and Mrs. Wiseley were the only farmers
taking part in the discussion.
The others all were Detroiters. Mr. Eastin was in favor of daylight savings time while Mr. Wisley opposed it.
The Detroiters also were divided on the subject.

George Cushing, WJR news editor, was program moderator, assisted by E. I. Besemer, of Wayne, Wayne County Agricultural Agent.

Mr. Eastin contended that daylight savings time during the summer was helpful to farmers.
He cited the extra hours of daylight at the end of the day when fields were dry and suitable to be worked. He also contended that farm hands were more refreshed in the morning if they began their tasks before the sun was up and over them.

Mr. Wisley pointed out as did the city opponents of "fast" time that it made the day too long. Children lost lots of rest because of it remaining light until 10 p.m. he maintained. Also he cited the fact that cows could not be put on "fast" time.
Mr. Wisley and other opponents of "goldfingers" time also suggested that if the city people wanted extra hours of daylight let them get up an hour earlier instead of fooling themselves by setting the clock ahead.

George Collins Dies After A Long Illness

George Albert Collins who was born in Ypsilanti, September 29, 1884, the son of Mr. and Mrs.
William Collins, passed away April 5 at 9:30 p.m. in St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor, after being in poor health for several months.
At the age of seven years he moved with his parents to a farm at Stony Creek, Michigan, where he spent the years of his boy-hood and young manhood. At the age of 19 he united with the Ancient Order of Gleamers and was an active member the rest of his life.

In 1908 he was united in marriage to Miss Mildred E. Moors and they continued on the farm with his parents for ten years.
Mr. Collins was mechanically minded and opened and operated a garage of his own in Stony Creek until 1922 when he moved with his family to Plymouth. For the next nine years he was employed by both the Plymouth Motor Sales and Dodge Sales and Service. Mr. and Mrs. Collins resided at 523 Rock Street.

In 1931 he formed a partnership with his son, Alvin, and together they have operated the business known as George Collins & Son Garage. He was always a good workman and few men were able to keep up with his pace. It was the fixed habit of his life to give every man a "square deal" and by his conscientious dealing and cordial and friendly attitude toward his fellow workmen and neighbors, he made and kept a host of friends.
Mr. Collins was a good and valued citizen. He was highly regarded as a neighbor, and was an ideal husband and father.
There remains to cherish the memory of his well-spent life his wife, his son and partner, the little granddaughter, Maxine, a sister, Mrs. May Davis of Saline, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held Monday, April 8 at the Schrader Funeral Home at 2 p.m. with Rev.
Mark F. Sanborn officiating. Two hymns were rendered on the organ by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner. The active pallbearers were Messrs.
Spencer Davis, William Campbell, Lloyd Carsons, Erland Bridge, Martin Strasen and Ross Gates.
Interment was in Riverside cemtery.
Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Smith announce the birth of a six and three-quarter pound daughter, Susan Jane, born April 6 at the Plymouth hospital.

Send Names of Boys in Armed Forces to Chairman John Jacobs

John Jacobs, chairman of the monument honor roll committee, is anxious to have the mothers of boys who have gone into the armed forces since December 1, 1945, send to him the names of these boys.
He would like to get them as soon as possible so that they might be added to the honor roll on the monument in Kellogg park before Memorial day.
Mr. Jacobs says he can accept names of boys only from Plymouth and Plymouth township. Send them to him at once.

Yeggs Captured Here Last Year Sent to Prison

An excursion into crime that ended with their capture in the Bovee and Wagenschutz Plumbing Shop by two Plymouth policemen last October 30, brought prison terms to a pair of Detroit thugs.
The excursionists, Casimir Mazurak, 28, and Francis Kelly, 39, who sought the contents of the Bovee and Wagenschutz safe, this week were sentenced to terms of 10 to 15 years each in the Southern Michigan prison at Jackson.
Sentence was passed in Wayne County Circuit Court at Detroit.

According to Chief of Police Lee R. Sackett, Mazurak and Kelly were caught red-handed in the Plymouth plumbing shop by his alert night officers, Gerald Prince and Roger Vanderveen. They had not had time to crack the safe.

Officer Prince was the first to notice something wrong at the Bovee and Wagenschutz shop, according to Chief Sackett. Before the capture of the thugs was completed most of the Plymouth police officers had been summoned to the scene. Officers Prince and Vanderveen were credited with the arrest and complimented by Chief Sackett for their alertness.
The fate of Mazurak and Kelly should be a warning to others so inclined that Plymouth is no place to practice the art of crime.

Northville Woman Luncheon Guest

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church will have Mrs. C. E. Woodruff of Northville as guest speaker for their spring luncheon at the church on Wednesday, April 17 at 12:30.
She will speak on "The Things that Belong to Peace." Mrs. Woodruff has served as president of the United States branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. At present she is its legislative chairman, a member of its International Board, as well as chairman of the local Northville Chapter.

The Women's International League, founded by Jane Addams in 1915, lists among its members the outstanding leaders of women throughout every nation of the world. Because of its international scope, its constructive program, it is considered the leading peace movement among women today.
Through her activity in its program, Mrs. Woodruff is well informed on the problems of peace.
She brings us an up-to-the-minute, positive approach to this question of what we can do to help preserve the peace which has been so dearly won. Every woman in the community is invited to attend.

The program chairman for the day is Mrs. Henry Jensen and devotions will be led by Mrs. H.
H. Bond. The luncheon committee consists of Mesdames Harry Gerst, Julia Zander, Charles Thorne, Al Smith, and William Farley.

Charles Brake Heads Rotary

Members of the board of directors of the Rotary club at its last meeting elected Charles Brake, president for the ensuing year and made Paul Wiedman vice president.
Edward Gardiner was elected treasurer. No secretary has yet been named to succeed William Wood, who has resigned after

2 Plymouth Area Children Fatally Injured in Traffic

A four-year-old boy and two-year-old girl were injured fatally in traffic accidents in the Plymouth area this week.
William Harrison, 4, died early Monday at Wayne County General Hospital of injuries received when he slipped under the wheels of a panel truck in which he had been given a brief
"joy ride."
Carolyn Ann Aencheacker, 2, died Tuesday night at Sessions Hospital, Northville, 4 hours after being struck by a heavily loaded truck near the Stevens Foundry on East Cady road in Northville.

The Harrison child, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, of 965 Lotz road, Plymouth township, was injured Friday afternoon in front of 40430 Lotzford road.
According to officers of the Wayne County Road Patrol, he had been given a brief ride along with a neighbor lad by Mrs. Betty Barnett, 26, of 40604 Lotzford road, who had transported several children home from school for their lunch hour and then back to school again.
The road patrol said Mrs. Barnett told them she stopped in front of 40430 Lotzford road upon returning from the school.

There, she told the officers, the Harrison boy and his playmate alighted from the truck. They were going to play that afternoon at the playmate's home, officers said.
Mrs. Barnett reached over and shut the truck door tight, she said, as the boys in getting out did not shut it securely. She then drove on down the road 700 yards to her own home. Upon reaching there she heard screaming and yelling in the direction she had come from, she told the officers.
She drove back there immediately after taking her own daughter into the house. When she arrived back at the scene, she said, neighbors told her "Billy" had fallen under her truck as she drove away. She said the injured boy already had been placed in a car and started on his way to the hospital.

Road patrol officers said Mrs.
Barnett had been exonerated of any blame for the boy's fatal injuries after making a formal statement Monday to Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien. Mrs. Barnett was overcome with grief, officers reported.
The Aencheacker girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Aencheacker, of 46001 West Eight Mile road, Northville, was struck at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday as she darted from between parked cars, according to Patrolman Francis Broda of the Northville police.
She was hit by a truck carrying cinder blocks and driven by Ralph A. Robinson, 16, of 5703 Beck road, Belleville, who told police he could not avoid the accident.
Witnesses corroborated the driver's story and police released him as blameless.

The body of the child, taken to Catherine's funeral home, was shipped Wednesday night to Margetta, Georgia, for funeral services and burial. Surviving besides her parents is a brother.

ber of Commerce inaugurated at month-long membership drive Wednesday with a breakfast at

Powell Tells of Florida Boom

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Powell have returned from Florida where they spent a brief month's vacation, amazed at the real estate development in that popular vacation state.

The Powells have been Florida visitors for many years but this was their first trip to the south since the war broke out and they were surprised at the vast amount of development that has taken place since their last visit.

"But what has taken place is nothing compared to the development now going on" said Mr. Powell yesterday.

"Where they are getting the building material from I just don't know. Lots doubled in price during the time I was there. There isn't much question but what something may happen some day. Maybe this boom can go along as strong as it is, but I just can't see it. But Florida is Florida and it does the unusual thing so frequently that maybe this boom is something that will work out O. K.," said Mr. Powell.

The Powells are among the many Michigan folks who believe a few weeks of Florida sunshine in the winter time is good for most folks.

Mary Shephard Becomes Bride of Louis

In a double ring ceremony at the Parkside Gospel Tabernacle in Detroit Saturday, April 6, Mary Elizabeth Shephard became the bride of Louis Norman Pearsall. The mid-afternoon ceremony was performed by Pastor John Walasky of the Berea Christian Assembly of Plymouth, assisted by Rev. Helen Floreck of the Parkside Gospel Tabernacle.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with a finger tip veil. She carried a white Bible with an orchid and white streamers attached.

The maid of honor, Mrs. Ray Zimmer, sister of the bride, wore a gown of aqua blue with a short veil. Gerald Weiland of Chicago a former classmate, attended the groom.

Two solos, "Because" and "Sweet Will of God" were rendered by Rev. Joseph Floreck accompanied at the piano by Doris Puckett.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal couple knelt at the altar and re-dedicated their lives to the ministry which they plan to enter on completion of their Bible school training.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a black gown trimmed with blue sequins. Mrs. Greenlaw, mother of the groom, was attired in a light green suit with black accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of red rose buds.

Following the wedding a reception was held for 80 guests at the Newburg Methodist Hall. Out-of-town guests were from Ann Arbor, Whitmore Lake, Pontiac, Grindstone City and Chicago.

The couple left for a short honeymoon trip.

City's New Fire Chief Starts New Job Just as Big Fire Breaks Out

Plymouth's new fire chief, a 24 year old World War II veteran, a personable Irish lad and third generation in a family of fire fighters, last week started his new duties in Plymouth in a "baptism" of fire. He was just about to assume his new duties when the Wolf store fire was discovered by a girl leaving the Penniman-Allen show house.

"That's one for the books" commented someone as they saw the new chief dig into his new duties like the veteran fire fighter that he is.

Chief McAllister, an honorably discharged veteran and for the last ten months a Dearborn city fireman, was selected from an original field of nine applicants. He began work the day of the Wolf store fire.

He was chosen on the basis of a written examination given at Ann Arbor and an oral examination and interview the applicants were given by a three-man board following their written test.

Members of the board that made the final selection included City Manager Clarence H. Elliott, Chief Edward Reckler, of the Grosse Pointe Park fire department; and John Huss, of Ann Arbor, of the Michigan Municipal League.

Chief McAllister, who is married and the father of a nine-month-old son, is the son of Fred McAllister, chief of the Eastwood fire department at Kalamazoo since 1928. His grandfather, a former Kalamazoo city fireman, has been on a pension from that city for the last 48 years. He was pensioned after being seriously injured while on duty.

Plymouth's new full time fire chief has a background that fits him well for the task he has chosen. He said, "I was practically born on a fire truck and have never known any other kind of job but that of a fireman."

He has studied fire prevention and fire fighting under his grandfather and father and some of the country's best instructors whom his father constantly brings to train his department at Kalamazoo. The elder McAllister, his father, is regarded by many as the state's best fire chief.

Chief McAllister said he planned to conduct an extensive inspection of all Plymouth business places to eliminate all fire hazards possible. The inspections also will give him a knowledge of the Plymouth establishments that would be valuable in case of fire.

He is of the opinion that Plymouth has very good equipment

Canada Night At Cherry Hill

The Cherry Hill Reading group and the Wayne County Library have planned a program on Canada for the night of Wednesday, April 17. This is to take place in the Cherry Hill Methodist church at 7:30 p.m.

There will be a book display on Canada, and some books on farm and home from the Wayne County library. The men and women of Cherry Hill and neighboring communities are invited to be the guests of the Book club and library. There is no charge.

and a willing and able corps of volunteer firemen. Chief McAllister plans to train the Plymouth firemen in everything he knows and "what I don't know about I will bring in instructors to tell us all about."

The new chief will be on call 24 hours daily. Right now he has no place to live but is looking for a room near the City Hall. Later he hopes to secure a home for his family and would like one close to the hall.

Last Story Hour On Saturday

The Plymouth branch library staff wishes to announce that the final story hour for the spring will be held Saturday, April 13, at 11:00 a.m.

The attendance has been most gratifying and the librarians wish to thank the parents for their splendid cooperation in bringing the children to the library and calling for them.

The library will continue to get new and interesting books for the children during the summer and will look for a good attendance when the story hour resumes in the fall.

Carol Ann Sieloff
 Carol Ann Sieloff, infant daughter of Louis F. and Doris C. Sieloff passed away Sunday evening, April 7. Mr. and Mrs. Sieloff reside at 40355 Gilbert street, Robinson Subdivision. Besides her parents she is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Bakewell of Plymouth. Carol Ann was brought to the Schrader Funeral Home. A short service was held Tuesday, April 9 at Livonia cemetery at 10 a.m. with Rev. Edgar Hoenecke officiating.

Kathleen Anne Czeryba.
 Funeral services will be held Friday, April 12 from the Schrader Funeral Home for Kathleen Anne Czeryba who passed away Tuesday evening, April 9 at the age of three years. Kathleen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Czeryba, who reside at 796 North Harvey St., and sister of Carolyn Sue and Dennis John. Also surviving are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Czeryba of Detroit, several aunts and uncles. Rev. Henry J. Welch will officiate. Two hymns will be rendered on the organ by Mrs. M. J. O'Conner. Interment will be in Riverside Cemetery.

Mae Hudson.
 Miss Mae Hudson was born in Plymouth Township, Townline road, July 6, 1890, and departed this life March 24, 1946, at the age of 55 years, 8 months and 18 days. She was the daughter of Walter and Sarah Hudson.
 For the past number of years she lived in Lansing, and was an employee of Mr. and Mrs. Olds. When in Plymouth she made her home with Mrs. Grace England, 941 Mill street. One sister preceded her in death several years ago from California. She leaves to mourn her passing, one sister, Mrs. Lillian White, one niece, Mrs. Grace England, and one nephew, Alfred White, all of Plymouth; 2 great nieces, 4 great nephews, several cousins. Besides these a host of friends who have been blessed by her vision and sacrifice.

Miss Hudson was interested in all and especially her loved ones and this is the reason for her financing a Home Mission Tent Meeting during June, July and August, 1932. From this tent pitched on Starkweather street, the congregation moved into a store building in the 700 block Starkweather and was organized into a Church of the Nazarene in 1933 at which time Miss Hudson became a Charter Member. Later the congregation moved to 180 Union street and after about three years moved again to 280 S. Main street. In 1938 this building in which we now worship was completed and the congregation moved in.

All these years Miss Hudson was intensely interested in all the activities of her church, giving of her finances and prayers to see her church move forward. She was vitally interested in Foreign Missions, paying and praying that all might hear the gospel.
 We shall miss her very much but the fruits of her labors shall continue to multiply throughout Eternity.
 She was laid to rest March 27 at Riverside Cemetery, beside her mother. Two hymns were rendered by Rev. and Mrs. North. Rev. North was formerly pastor of the church.
 Pallbearers were: Messrs. John Wasalaski, Kenneth Swain, Percy Clark, Paul Hockenberry, Louis Westfall and Blake Fisher.

Mrs. George D. Roberts.
 Carrie Cynthia Sheffield was born in Bath, Michigan, on May 26, 1870, a daughter of Abel and Angie Sheffield. When she was one year old, her parents moved to the Base Line road, west of Northville, and all the remaining years of her life were spent in and near Salem. On August 12, 1891, she was united in marriage to George D. Roberts of Salem, and three children were born of this happy marriage. Ivah, who survives her mother, and twin sons, Ronald Dale and Donald Gale, both of whom died in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts became members of the Salem Baptist church in 1914. Because of Mrs. Roberts' earlier affiliation with the Lapham Methodist church, and her long, faithful and efficient service in the Baptist group, she was a very valuable member of the Salem Federated church made up of those two from her earthly body on the congregations. She passed away April 4, 1946 at her home in Salem where she had been ill for several months. The entire community has been saddened by her passing. Beside her husband and daughter she is survived by a sister, Mrs. Myrtle Murray and three nieces, Mrs. Glen Lyke, Mrs. Arthur Blunk and Mrs. Frank Henderson all of Plymouth; two grand-nieces and three grand-nephews and their families. Service was held in the Salem Federated church Sunday, April 7 at 2 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. C. M. Pennell officiating. Interment was in Salem-Walker cemetery.

Mrs. Roberts was a granddaughter of Elder Nathan Noyes, who organized the Northville Baptist church in 1833, and later was pastor of the Baptist churches in Plymouth and Farmington. While in Northville he ministered to the Presbyterian congregation, also, saying in his autobiography: "There was a small Presbyterian church in the place, who had no under shepherd to go before them; they met with us on the Lord's day."

And then there was the politician who asked: "Have you heard my last speech?" and the constituent who answered: "I hope so."

These boys are seventh and 8th graders, under the shop supervision of Beatrice Highfield. The class is divided into four units—household mechanics, elementary electricity, woodworking and metal-working. The units rotate so that each boy will have a chance at each unit. The work is done enthusiastically with no comment and is done beautifully and skillfully. Several 8th grade boys who are Boy Scouts use their projects toward winning their merit badges in scout woodshop. Articles are used as gifts or contributions for contests.

GRADUATES WRITE FOR CURRENT MAGAZINES

It is not often that Plymouth high school can produce two writers in the same year, both of whom will have stories published this year. Back in 1936 Russell Kirk and John Session graduated from Plymouth High School. All through high school they stuck together as real pals and after graduating from Plymouth high, Russell Kirk attended Michigan State College and graduated from there; then after attending Duke University for his Master's degree, and doing his stretch in the army, he became a history teacher at the college. Russ has an article coming out in the Atlantic Quarterly this year. When John Session graduated from Plymouth in 1936, he attended the University of Michigan and there became an English teacher. John already had an article called "St. Patrick's day Like Christmas Now," in the March issue of the Atlantic Monthly and will have another coming out this year. Both boys are still teaching and Plymouth high school and all of its students are proud of them.

DEVELOP GOOD HABITS IN USE OF MONEY

Condensed from the article by the same name by Esther E. Prevey in the Journal of Home Economics Magazine.
 Dr. Prevey now directs the department of family life education set up last year in Kansas City, Missouri public schools. She points out that parents should try to help their children develop wise money habits and has made a study of families in the socio-economic level. This can be accomplished by saving, giving, budgeting, borrowing, and lending and earning.
 In every family 50 boys and girls 15½ to 17½ years of age had incomes of their own. In each case the boys and girls were trained differently. In most cases the childhood money experiences reflected to the adult planning and spending. Boys in most cases had better educational methods than the girls and more of them had their own money and were earning experiences in the community. The parents said that the boys needed the most training in the use of money.
 The amount of money the parents give to children should be provided according to a well-defined and understood plan. This amount should be sufficient to cover practically all of the child's usual expenses, including clothes. The money should also be adequate to cover items of expense that it is expected to cover.

WHAT THE JANITORS ARE DOING IN P.H.S.

Broken windows, sagging desks, piles of leaves—year in and year out, Mr. Stewart and the rest of the janitorial department are constantly repairing the ravages of nature and those of some of our too active students. As a special assignment for this week's paper, your reporter was asked to interview Mr. Stewart and find out what face lifting operations besides cleaning, cleaning, . . . and cleaning are planned for old PHS before the teachers once more give up and go home for the summer.
 For those who hadn't noticed, the lawns have been cleaned, seeded and fertilized (Please Keep Off); the shrubs also have received their share of revitalizer. The baseball field behind the school has been developed, the tennis and shuffleboard courts are to be lined, and the horseshoe pits are to be fixed. And speaking of baseball, Mr. Stewart says that one of their biggest headaches right now is finding glass for the windows those super baseball players of ours always break around this time of the year. The track team has also had a little help since the track and the area in which the team works out has been completely graded by the city grader. And finally, so the boys in the machine shop will have a better chance to apply themselves, it was learned that an addition is to be made to the machine shop this summer.

DATES FOR THE HOP.

LYCEUM SPEAKER ENTERTAINS STUDENTS

Mr. Vincent G. Burns, lyceum speaker, entertained the junior-senior high school, Wednesday, April 2, at 1:30 and 2:30 by dramatizations of several of his own poems, "Sure It's Fun" and "The Blind Man," which are taken from Mr. Burns' anthology "Red Harvest." He also recited Oliver Wendell Holmes' "Freedom" from which he quoted "He is the free-man whom the truth makes free and all the rest are slaves," and poems of Lowell, Riley and Kipling.
 At each of the assemblies Mr. Burns conducted a contest. The poems he used for this contest were, "Prayer of the Open Air," "A Pair of Shoes," and "The Glory of Life." Nancy Rogers won "A" which was Aspiration; Ella Jean Ahearn won "B" which was Brotherhood; and Frank Santo won "C" which was Courage. In the junior high school assembly Mr. Burns gave the UNO contest. The poems he used in this contest were "A Pair of Shoes," "A Red-wood Tree," and "Prophecy of Peace." Arlene Tennant won "U" which was unselfishness; Bob Puckett won "N" which stood for nobility; and Nancy Misticik won "O" which was for optimism. The prizes awarded the winners were folders with a picture of Mr. Burns on the front, his autograph, and a poem "To Everyman" written by Mr. Burns.

MIXED UP FRIDAY

Students came to school Friday, April 5, slightly bewildered since there schedule was just in reverse. The schedule was as follows: 6th hour classes, first hour; 5th hour classes, second hour; 4th hour classes, third hour; 3rd hour classes, from 12:30-1:15; 2nd hour classes, 1:15-2:00; 1st hour classes for the grades of nine through 12 2:00-2:40; assembly from 2:40-3:30; and 7th and 8th grades' assembly from 2:00-2:40; and their first hour class was from 2:40-3:30.
 At 10:30 there was a fire drill which helped to interrupt the classes. From a very good source (the office) it was learned that it took the students 3 minutes to evacuate the building. This time is not a very good time yet it is better than the last time.

NEWS FROM THE OFFICE

Mr. Hedrick who has been ill from an appendectomy performed in City hospital, returned Monday and once more is in the groove. The students were glad to see him back.
 Miss Olmsted has been absent for the last week because of illness.

NOTICE

Orders are being taken by Miss Lovewell for reservations for the Hillside restaurant, which will be opened for the convenience of the students after the J-Hop. The menu will be: french fries, steak sandwiches, cold slaw, ice cream, and beverage.

ONE MAN'S OPINION

By Russell Hasselback
 Students. Did you ever think of what the halls look like to casual visitors? If any papers are lying around it gives the visitors a bad impression and they will always keep that impression unless the students begin to keep the halls clean; then when visitors visit the school again they will get a better impression of Plymouth high school. If you are walking down the hall and see a piece of paper lying on the floor and a group of students are standing around, do not be afraid of injuring your pride by stooping down to pick it up. Some teachers might even see you picking it up and respect you all the more. Let us not be so lazy as in the past and pick up those few loose papers on the floor so our school can look respectable for future visitors.

STUDENTS AID IN EASTER SEAL SALE

From April 8 to 17 the students of Plymouth public schools were given an opportunity to contribute to the 13th annual Easter Seal sale of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children and Disabled Adults, Inc. The purpose is to raise funds to aid crippled children and physically handicapped adults who have no other means of support.
 All of the students were asked to donate freely to this worthy cause not from money they have received from their parents but from some they have saved by depriving themselves of candy, sundaes, etc.
 One teacher suggested that the students donate according to their age, that is, one penny for each year. In some schools the classes competed against each other and proved to be very successful.
 As we go to press the final results of the sale are not available. The Plymouth Mail Want Ads bring results.

Lyle Davis Now In Jacksonville

Lyle Davis, well known Plymouth lad who sometime ago joined up with Uncle Sam's navy, writes an interesting letter from Jacksonville, Florida, where he is at present stationed. His letter will be of interest to many of his Plymouth friends. In part it follows:

"How's the world treating everybody up there in Plymouth? They call this sunny Florida but when the sun shines, you can go outside with a pail and catch it. Really though the weather isn't too bad.

"I thought maybe I had better write to you and let you know that I have changed by address a little bit and that I'm still reading the Plymouth Mail. One week ago last Friday I graduated from Aviation Elec. Mates school after putting in six months of fairly hard work.

"Starting Monday, April 1st, I'll be teaching in 'AEM' school down here. I'll be teaching third week students which covers basic fundamentals of A.C. and D.C. generators used on aircraft. The classes last for seven hours a day and four days of the week. On Monday of each week I'll have a new class to instruct. Every four months they give us something new to teach. The reason for that, is so we don't get tired of teaching the same thing. It will be worked on a rotation basis so that everybody will be able to teach anyone else's class in case they should be sick or on leave.

"You probably know by now that my mother and father are now living in California. They are living in Oakland, just across the bay from San Francisco. They like their new home out there very much. But mother tells me that she really misses all her old friends in Plymouth. My father bought a fishing boat and is going to go in to the commercial salmon fishing business which is said to be a very good enterprise on the west coast. His boat is a large 40 foot one with a 15 foot beam and it will sleep four. For about one to two weeks at sea without coming ashore for provisions.

"Some time in June I hope to get my annual leave and intend to spend it in Plymouth, so until then I'll say hello and wish everybody a happy Easter. I hope you will have lots of sun shine for Easter."

NEWBURG NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sitarz, formerly of Plymouth road are now living at their new address on Canton Center road.

The Women's Society of Christian Service met Wednesday, April 3 at the home of Mrs. M. Dancy on Ann Arbor Trail. Rev. Charles Fields of Angola, Africa gave an interesting talk about Africa, and displayed some unusual mementoes of his missionary work there.

The Fidelis class of Newburg church held their April meeting in the hall Thursday evening after the Lenten service.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Liscum of Ann Arbor Trail entertained Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sitarz at dinner Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Gutherie returned recently from a ten day's visit with Sam Gutherie of Greensboro, Georgia.

Mrs. L. Hute of Detroit who has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. William Loesch of Wayne road has returned to her home.

Girl Scouts Need More Instructors

More than 50 girl scouts and leaders are enjoying swimming in the Wayne County Training School pool on Wednesday evenings from 5 to 7 o'clock according to Mrs. John Henderson, Girl Scout commissioner.

More qualified instructors are needed immediately however if these girls are to be able to continue enjoying this pastime.

Earl Mastick has been giving instructions recently but he will not be able to continue devoting the time away from his business much longer. Mrs. Leila Skinner and Mrs. Horace Cook, both of whom are qualified, will take over instructor duties soon.

The people needed to assist in the pool must qualify with either Red Cross instructor or Junior or Senior life saving certificates in good standing. Mrs. John Henderson, telephone 477 would like to hear from people with these qualifications who would like to assist. As soon as sufficient qualified assistants can be assigned the class can be increased.

Girls to enjoy these Wednesday evening swimming parties must be at least 12 years old and be at least four feet tall. They must also have a medical examination and their parents permission.

Trip to Miami For Joe Merritt

Cpl. Joe D. Merritt, who is now home at 3959 Lilley road, is an Army Air Force member who was a Jap prisoner of war. He has completed his hospitalization and has indicated that he wishes to accept the Air Force Personnel Distribution Command's invitation to spend two weeks of his 104-day furlough as a guest of the Air Forces at Miami Beach, Fla. He will arrive there on May 1.

In addition to receiving government paid transportation—either by commercial air, rail or private car—a former air force Jap prisoner of war may invite two of his immediate family to "vacation" with him on the same basis—as guests of the air force. Throughout their stay at Miami Beach, an appreciative Uncle Sam "picks up the checks" for all room and meal costs.

A special service department is ready to offer the soldier and his family an elaborate free program of entertainment. Golf, deepsea fishing, bathing, horseback riding, movies, swimming, sightseeing tours, or just sunbathing on the beach are some of the attractions offered.

If a man decides to accept this opportunity, and practically all have to date, he states on a questionnaire whether he would like to go to Miami Beach by air, rail or in his own automobile and the AAF personnel distribution command routes him, arranges his transportation, gets reservations in the best hotels and pays the bill for the two weeks vacation.

The above unique program of affording our liberated prisoners of war a period of relaxation in pleasant surroundings is elective by the individuals concerned. They may accept or reject the offer as they choose.

Patchen School PTA Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Patchen PTA was held at the school Friday evening, April 5 at 8:00 and was well attended.

A report of the school board was read by Robert Pregitzer, stating that plans for a three room school were definitely under way and favorable conditions the building should be ready for occupancy by next fall.

It was also decided that our PTA would sponsor a local girl scout troop which will be under supervision of Mr. Parrish and Mrs. Louis Hines. This group will meet at the Patchen school every Thursday evening from 6 to 8:20 p.m.

It was unanimously agreed by all members present that weiner roast on the school grounds would be in order for the June meeting. Final arrangement to be made at our next meeting.

The program chairman, Robert Pregitzer, had a very interesting program on the Michigan State Police (a film) later a discussion by members and Trooper Angell of the Detroit post. Some very interesting questions were asked and answered at this discussion in regards to traffic violation, etc.

Trooper Angell stated that additional men are wanted to fill their quota. Any young man 21 years of age or older and single contact any State Post.

Following the program refreshments were served by our hospitality chairman, Mrs. Karl Weithman in the Kindergarten school room.

Postwar paper curtains just out (about $1 a pair) are made of a new shower-resistant parchmentized paper, come in solid colors—green, blue, mauve — trimmed with white ruffles, polka-dotted in matching colors.

MICHIGAN MY MICHIGAN
 by ELTON R. EATON

You don't like suckers? Some folks do—others don't. They're getting quite a lot of them right now out of Rouge river and lakes.

Colorful leaflets describing new and tastier ways of preparing suckers and carp obtained in the current spring runs still are available from both Michigan State College's experiment station and the state conservation department.

The dipnetting season on these fish in Michigan runs from March 1 to May 15 and the spearing season from April 1 to May 15 in the southern peninsula, throughout May in the northern peninsula. With the aid of the recipes tested at the college, more people are being encouraged to try these 'good fishes which have long been underrated in the market though appreciated locally.

Conservation department fisheries men say the supplies of suckers are now at peak in quality and abundance. Conservation officers will advise which local waters are open to dipnetting and spearing in the spring.

Many myths and inaccuracies exist in Michigan history, F. Clever Bald, war historian of the University of Michigan, declares. One inaccuracy concerns the first printing press in Michigan which arrived in the state in 1785, not in 1809 as numerous historians maintain.

"The late Douglas C. McMurtre in 1931 published information showing the first press was brought to Detroit in 1785 by the firm of Macomb, Edgar and Macomb," Bald asserts. "But there is no evidence of any printing being done in Michigan until 1796 when one John McCall printed a pamphlet entitled 'An Act Passed at the First Session of the Fourth Congress of the United States of America at Philadelphia'."

Popular belief, according to the University historian, is that Father Gabriel Richard brought the first press into Detroit in 1809. "It is true that Father Richard did bring a press into Detroit in 1809 and that books were printed with it at that time, but historians have proved that his press was not the first," he points out.

"The identity of John McCall and what became of the press he used is one of the mysteries of Michigan history," Bald asserts. "McCall may have been a soldier temporarily stationed at Detroit, or he may have been the John McCall who settled at Long Point, Ontario, in 1796."

Some historians think McCall's press was ruined when Detroit was destroyed by fire in 1805, but Bald says he has found a record that James May, then a prominent Detroit merchant, shipped a press complete with type to Niagara, Ontario, in 1800. He believes this was the press used in Detroit by McCall.

Sleeper state park and Island Lake recreation area are going to have group camping facilities this summer in spite of building material shortages, as the conservation department's parks division has decided to build them out of the vacant barracks it already owns at the Waterloo recreation area, near Jackson.

Dismantling of a dozen of the Waterloo buildings will begin within a week, the parks division announced. The old barracks successively housed CCC crews, a military police training detachment and prisoners of war. They are built of five-foot sections that are readily taken down, transported and reassembled.

At Sleeper state park, near the tip of Michigan's "thumb," the barracks sections will be used in constructing a mess hall and kitchen for 120 campers, a toilet and wash-house, a recreation building and ten platforms.

At Island Lake recreation area, on the south side of the Huron river four miles east of Brighton, the group camp to be built consists of a mess hall and kitchen, toilet and wash-house, a recreation building and 15 sleeping-abins to accommodate eight campers each.

Principal group camp users are children and youth organizations from Michigan's larger cities.

A University of Michigan anthropologist is conducting an investigation of some 20 skeletons and other specimens taken from an Indian burial mound located at Fort Wayne in Detroit.

Dr. Emerson F. Greenman, curator of the Great Lakes Division of the Museum of Anthropology at the University, said the mound could have been constructed 2,000 years ago.

Clay vessels, beads made of shell, and flints, knives and spears are among specimens taken from the mound which was about four and one-half feet high and 60 feet in diameter.

It is thought, Dr. Greenman said, that the mound, which once was a dwelling site and then became a burial mound, was constructed by ancestors of the present Algonquin-speaking Indians in Michigan known as the Chippewas, Potawatomies and Ottawas.

The Detroit Aboriginal Research club did actual excavation of the mound and sent findings to Dr. Greenman. First excavation took place in 1875 when Henry Greenman of Detroit dug 2 trenches into the mound, but missed many specimens, Dr. Greenman said.

The short and relatively mild winter so favored Michigan's deer herd that only a few scattered starvation victims have been found so far this spring, and those only in the old "trouble spots" near Grayling, Mio, Alpena and Atlanta, the conservation department's game division reports.

The herd generally came through the winter in good condition. Near Roscommon they were not confined to the yards until February, and throughout the state they moved into summer range early.

J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the game division, and I. H. Bartlett, the division's specialist in deer investigation, report similar conditions in northern Wisconsin. Inspecting a $65,000 experiment in feeding hay and grain in some Wisconsin yards last week, they found no losses either in the yards where feeding was in progress, nor in deer yards where no feeding had been done.

Wisconsin state parks had 1,042,759 visitors last year compared to 734,381 the year before and state park usage may set a new record this year, the conservation department of our neighboring state declares.

Month by month state park attendance last year was greater than the year before with the exception of June when there was a drop.

There was also a visitor increase to the three more popular state forests, Council Grounds, Kettle Moraine and Point Beach, a total of 95,638 last year compared to 71,907 the year before.

The state's most popular park, Devil Lake, had 314,405 visitors last year and this year may be back to its peacetime level of a half million visitors.

It's a neat trick

but we can't do it

ADVENTUROUS little boys risk their hides on hazards like this every day. But most grown-ups shy away from risks—especially if they have a responsibility to other folks. Here at Michigan Bell, we have a vital 24-hour-a-day responsibility to millions of Michigan people. We have to keep our feet solidly on the ground.

This rule applies to every phase of our business, including the company's earnings. Good telephone service depends on adequate earnings, and we must avoid any risks that might jeopardize them.

Here is why. Thousands of thrifty people have their savings invested in Bell System securities. Their money makes good telephone service possible. In fact, Michigan Bell's 5-year $150,000,000 expansion program will be financed by these and other investors. And that program will provide more and better telephone service for you.

So you see, our earnings are important all around. And telephone rates—such a small part of your monthly budget—must be maintained at a level which will keep our earnings adequate. Otherwise, investors would put their money into some other business, and the future quality and extent of your telephone service would suffer.

We believe our customers want good telephone service, even if it costs a trifle more than inferior service.

Technical improvements in the past brought rates for good service down and have kept them down in the face of rising costs. As rapidly as future improvements will permit, we expect and want our rates to come down still further. For, Michigan Bell wants rates no higher—and no lower—than necessary to insure good telephone service.

Livonia Township Celebrates Its 101 Birthday Anniversary

"Livonia" Derived from Russian Province

Livonia Township, one hundred and one years old, was created by Law of March 17, 1835, and the first Township meeting was held on the first Monday of April at the "Tamarack School House" on John Joslin's farm, near the center of the town.

The name of the Township is doubtless derived from a province in Russia, which is strange, due to the fact that it owes much to New York state as well as England for its ancestors. Many Germans settled here, however they did not play an important part in the politics or the running of the community until later years.

It had formed part of the town of Bucklin and also Nankin and consists of town 1 south of range 9, east. The first township meeting was held on April 6, 1835. Adolphus Brigham was chosen moderator and Silas Joslin clerk. The officers in that and the subsequent year are as follows: Supervisors, Adolphus Brigham; Clerk, Silas Brigham; Assessors, Erasmus S. Everett, Clement C. Leach, Joseph B. Springer; Collector, Reuben Stark; Highway Commissioners, George Everett, Reuben Glas, Lucian Noble; Poor Directors, Judah Lewis, Martin Frasier; Constables, Gilbert Martin, Reuben Stark, Edward P. Vickory; Common School Commissioners, Joseph Kingsley, Daniel Barlow, Joshua Simmons; Common School Inspectors, James Gunning, Charles Noble, Thomas Harper, Harvey Dufee, Joseph B. Springer; Pound Masters, Willard Masters, Willard Lambert, John Everett, Joseph Kingsley and William B. Lawrence.

At a meeting of the Township board of School Inspectors held Monday, April 10, 1837 the Township was divided into school districts and organized by choosing Warren Tuttle chairman. The Township was divided into 6 districts and five fractional districts composing Plymouth, Farmington and Nankin. In those days the Board was confronted with similar problems of hiring teachers and filling vacancies and at a special meeting September 24, 1833 the School Inspectors held their meeting and appointed Harvey Duffee to the existing vacancy. The annual report shows the following:

There was no money received from the Board of Inspectors for the operation or maintenance of the schools, no money for library, however funds were raised in the districts to pay the teachers and for books. This sum totaled $391.95. Kirkum's grammar, The New Testament, Daboll's arithmetic, Olney's and Smith's geography as well as an English reader and grammar were the principle books used in the various schools. In 1838 schooling started picking up and over $500.00 were solicited to operate and repair the schools. It was not until 1844 that certificates were issued to teachers to teach school and the first were issued to Rebecca E. Widner, James L. Alexander, Hiram A. Baker, Ethan Roberts and Thomas Ray Dean. During the latter years the trend was to issue more and more certificates. Livonia Township held its first election and the following was taken from the Township records, "Copy of the first election held in Livonia, 'We the undersigned, inspectors of an election held at the school house near the center of the township of Livonia on the sixth day of April eighteen hundred and thirty five for the purpose of electing township and county officers do certify that the following number of votes were polled for County officers viz. for Register of Deeds.

Thomas Harper Inspectors of election Livonia Wayne Co. April 6, 1835." In 1888, the school report for the year ending September 3 shows that there were in the township five frame and two brick school houses costing $4,650, and that eleven teachers were employed; 457 students enrolled with an average attendance of 323.

One of the main products of the township was cheese and there were three factories, the largest of which was the Powers factory started in 1876 producing from 300,000 to 400,000 pounds annually. The Livonia factory had a capacity of about 150,000 pounds annually and the Gilt Edge factory about 100,000 pounds.

Frederick L. West, proprietor and manager of the Livonia cheese factory, was born in Oswego Co., N. Y., Aug. 15, 1830. When 17 years of age he began the life of a sailor. In May 1864, he entered the U. S. Navy, being assigned to the gunboat Kansas and continued in service until the close of the war.

He married Georgie Ann Herdman of Westburgh, N. Y. December 28, 1832; they had one child. Mrs. West died in 1865 and Mr. West came to Michigan in 1871 and had charge of the cheese factory for seven years. Most of the produce was sold to Detroit parties.

A place known as Livonia City and located on the northeast quarter of Section 1, was platted, but actually no village existed, although a post office known as the Plank Road post office was located near by.

The town hall was erected in 1872 at a cost of $635 and was located at the southeast corner of Section 16. The population of the township in 1850 was 1,375; in 1860, 1,665; in 1870, 1,679; in 1880, 1,638. The valuation in 1840 was $184,885 and today is about $8,000,000 with a population of 100,000 people.

Nankin, formerly Newburg was located on the river Rouge near Detroit, Lansing and Northern Railroads. Stark's post office was located on the railroad about one mile south of Livonia Center and was named after Levi B. Stark who situated here in 1858, however the station at that point was called Livonia.

Many of the old time residents still have offspring living in Livonia, sons, daughters and grandchildren. Listed in the history of "The Metropolis of Detroit," by Silas Farmer, are the following personal sketches:

Angeline Chilson, of Livonia, was Jesse Zeigler's great-grandmother. She was born in Monroe County, New York, July 10, 1814 and married Austin Chilson, October 10, 1832. The Chilson's had nine children. In 1883 they moved to Michigan and located on a farm consisting of 106 acres of land. Mr. Chilson died January 10, 1877.

Several families of Graces came to Michigan and Livonia, James Grace came from Maine, Mrs. Mary Grace widow of Albert Grace migrated from Canada and Ulysses A. Grace was born in Farmington and at the present time makes his home there. Ulysses is Joe Grace's brother who is a Justice of the Peace here in Livonia. Ulysses was born July 9, 1865, and moved to Livonia in 1885 and married Lydia Turner of Redford, November 26, 1888. Her parents were natives of England. "The Metropolis of Detroit," states that Mr. Grace was a staunch Republican.

John Gunning, son of Charles J. Gunning, died at the ripe old age of 94 several months ago. His father Charles J. was born at Southfield, Michigan, June 10, 1827 and his parents came to Michigan in 1822. Charles married Clarissa Wordeh of Livonia in 1849. They had five children. Mr. Gunning was considered a fine musician and was often called upon to furnish music at entertainments.

John Harlan, who was the Township Clerk for 15 years up until 1939, is the Grandson of Samuel R. Harlan of Livonia who came here from Maryland where he was born, August 17, 1839. His parents came to Michigan in 1853. Samuel married Sarah E. Weist, of Canton, Michigan. They had two children Mary A., and William J. Their farm consisted of 45 acres.

Blake C. Northrup, a farmer of Livonia leaves two relatives in this area, a son Ross and a grandson Blake, both of whom are undertakers at Redford. Ross has been located there for 30 years. Blake C. was born in Farmington, August 6, 1846, and his parents came to Michigan in 1834. He married Helen Johnston in 1870. She was born at Penfield, New York, in 1843 and died in 1878. He married a second time to Carrie E. Ingersoll, on October 22, 1879. She was born in Farmington. In politics Mr. Northrup was a Democrat.

Data and statistics used in this history of Livonia were taken from the official Township minute book and the "History of Detroit and Michigan," by Silas Farmer. The former was loaned by Harry Wolfe, Township Clerk and the history by Jesse Zeigler, Township Supervisor. Many thanks are given these two men for their cooperation in loaning these books to the editor of the Livonian, which greatly facilitated compiling this information.

It is also requested that if anyone has pictures of any of the old buildings, schools or first settlers that they would be willing to loan to have "cuts" made for newspaper pictures, they contact the editor. These pictures will be returned in good shape, having a "cut" made does not damage them in any way.

Fly 'Em Safely!

Kite flying time is here again. A real sport for boys and girls everywhere! Yet there are certain dangers you must guard against if kite flying is to be all the fun you want it to be.

The greatest danger to a kite flyer is an electric wire. Fly your kite in the open—away from any wire. If your kite swoops over and touches an electric wire, the electricity in that wire can cause severe burns or even death.

Do not use a metal kite frame. Use only wood. If a metal kite frame touches electric wires, a short circuit can result which can make the wires fall and cause great damage to you and to other people as well.

Do not use wire or tinsel twine for a kite string. The metal or tinsel can carry the dangerous electricity down to your hand.

Wet string can carry electricity too, so never fly a kite on a rainy day.

Do not climb a pole or a tree to get your kite down. You may be injured by electric wires or by a fall.

Serious injury can result from careless kite flying. By observing these rules, kite flying can be a safe and sane sport:

- Fly kites in open fields, away from electric wires.
- Use only wood for kite frames—no metal.
- Use no wire or tinsel twine for a kite string.
- Do not fly kites in rainy weather.
- Do not climb poles or trees to bring down tangled kites.

Babson Says - -

Babson Discusses Railroads

Babson Park, Mass., April 12.—War came to the rescue of the railroads. The decline in traffic and earnings which had persisted since the 30's ceased. Volume of traffic and net income reached new peaks. However, the real worth of rail securities must be judged, not on past, but on future performances. Several things must be considered when making a decision on railroad earning power.—volume of traffic, operating expenses, taxes, bond interest and rate charges.

Traffic Outlook

Volume of freight traffic varies in proportion to business activity. Before the war, their competitors (trucks, automobiles, pipe lines, shipping and airplanes) had cut into the railroads' revenues. However, the war helped the railroads and hurt the other carriers. The railroads, moreover, need no time to adjust themselves to peacetime operations. A pent-up demand for goods, with the greatest cash reserves in many years, should insure business activity and a large volume of freight. Passenger traffic should also be good, in spite of auto and air competition.

The Federal Reserve Board's Index of Industrial Production shows an increase from 110 in 1929 to 171 in 1941. In line with these increases railway freight traffic jumped to a new prewar peak in 1941 with an increase of 25 billion ton-miles carried over those of 1929. It certainly seems that the railroads could count upon at least their prewar gross traffic which gave them $500,000,000 net in 1941.

The Department of Commerce estimates a "Gross National Product" of $150,000,000,000 for 1947. This could produce an increase in railroad gross earnings over 1941 of 5 per cent for 1947. This is especially interesting when we note that the 1944 figure for our Gross National Product was $195,000,000,000. Thus we can get a 5 per cent increase in railroad earnings even with a decline of $45,000,000,000 in total national income. Predictions, therefore, point to a greater volume of railway traffic during the next few years than in the peak peacetime year of 1941.

Higher Costs Inevitable

We must, however, remember that there has been a 20 per cent which will absorb $300,000,000 in 1947. A price rise in items essential to the railroads, such as lumber, steel and coal, will add to the increased costs due to wages.

The greater operating efficiency attained during the war carried over into peacetime economy should help overcome the wage increases granted between 1941 and 1946, amounting to 20 per cent. We must ask ourselves, however, how much more wages will be increased during the next year or two.

Fixed Charges Lower

We find that the $500,000,000 net income of 1941 with the wage and price increases which will have occurred since that date will be highly inadequate to meet 1947 operating expenses. If railroad net income is to be maintained, business activity must remain well above the 1941 level and an increase in rates will be needed in addition. Whether the public is in a mood to accept such is any reader's guess.

The railroads are in a much stronger position now than in prewar years, since they have used $2,500,000,000 of their war earnings to decrease their debt. Consequently, their fixed charges have perhaps declined $200,000,000 a year. They have also increased their net working capital from a 1941 level of $600,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 in 1946.

Conclusion

It is evident that railroad net earning will hinge on both higher rates and an expanded volume of traffic. If the next several years favor both these factors, railroad net income should remain fairly good. However, is it smart to bet on the possibility of both higher rates and a high volume of traffic when railroad securities are now selling so comparatively high?

Beals Post Plans Dinner April 20

Officers and members of Myron H. Beals Post, No. 32, American Legion, are reminded that the next regular meeting of the post will be a co-operative dinner meeting on Saturday night, April 20.

The membership is urged to make a special effort to attend. Of late the meetings of the post have attracted less than ten per cent of the members, according to the adjutant.

Right now the "boys" are back from the fighting fronts of the world but comrades of the post are not on hand to give them the proper welcome. The adjutant laments such apparent disinterest and is hoping that the members will unite to eliminate this fault.

In addition to the dinner meeting next Saturday night, April 20, the post also is planning an initiation meeting for all of the World War II boys on May 7. Harold Owen and Charles Cushman will have charge of that meeting.

War Trophy Gets Salem Vet in Jam

Plymouth police recently arrested Clay Stephens, of near Salem, for having possession of an unregistered war trophy—a .765 calibre revolver of British design.

He was taken before Judge J. R. Rusing Cutler where he admitted the charge. The fine for violations of this nature is $100 with court costs not to exceed $50 or 90 days in jail, or both.

Mr. Stephens, a discharged veteran of three years service in the army, also was shot in the left shoulder through his careless use of the war trophy, Chief Lee R. Sackett reported. He was treated at the Plymouth hospital.

According to Chief Sackett, Mr. Stephens was walking on South Mill street accompanied by a Plymouth girl with whom he was arguing. The girl told police that he had been drinking and as they neared the entrance to Riverside Park, Mr. Stephens pulled out the gun and began waving it around in a threatening manner, police said.

Somehow the gun was discharged. The bullet lodged in his left shoulder. He then threw the gun away. In the meantime, the girl went to a nearby home and called police. Later police recovered the gun and turned it over to Judge Cutler.
