A SCHEME THAT'S HIDING IN A DARK ALLEY.

Kim Sigler, Republican candidate for Governor who spoke before more than 100 Rotarians and their guests at the Mayflower last Friday noon, made a brief reference to one of the dangers that lies ahead in Michigan.

He declared that there is now a scheme being organized to force through the legislature at its next session a bill that would repeal the present grand jury law.

Every one knows that every grafter, every thief, every bribe giver and every bribe taker would be one hundred percent for the repeal of Michigan's effective grand jury law that has been used so successfully in hunting down the crooks.

And everybody ought to be right up on their toes to see to it that the grafters do not put over their scheme at the coming session of the legislature.

Mr. Sigler did a swell job in presenting to the overflow Rotary meeting the real issues that confront the people of Michigan.

The best part of it all is that he has demonstrated the fact that he has the courage and the ability to face the crooked enemies of good government.

SOME ONE OUGHT TO TELL 'EM.

The other day there came to the editor's desk the annual report of the Wayne County Road Commission. The report is a good one and comprehensive, containing much information every resident of Wayne county should possess.

But whoever it is that has charge of the report publication and year after year persists in using enamel paper on which to print the road map of Wayne county, ought to be told something by some one.

A road map, even of Wayne county, is used frequently during the year and it should be printed on paper that will stand constant use for many months. A heavy enamel sheet will crack and tear after being opened a half dozen times or so. And it costs much more than the right kind of paper on which maps should be printed.

Let's try it next year and see what the results might be.

WOULD LICENSE ALL CATS.

One of the readers of The Plymouth Mail the other morning witnessed a cat kill a song bird. She immediately called the editor and wanted something done about cats in Plymouth that kill hundreds of song birds every year.

"Why doesn't the city license cats, just like dogs are licensed? If the city cannot license cats, why can't some one else do it?" she asked.

Yes, why can't cats be licensed? she declared.

Every one knows that the average cat kept in a city or village preys on song birds from early spring until late fall. In some neighborhoods in Plymouth there are no song birds at all, the cats are so numerous.

The lady declared that she knew many homes in Plymouth where bird houses have been erected in the yards but cats owned in these households immediately destroy all the young birds as soon as they leave their nests.

The idea of licensing cats, as this reader suggests, is something to think about—especially in some of these cities where the officials claim to be so hard up. Such a plan might save the birds and help, too, to save the taxpayers, thinks the lady lover of birds.

INCOME TAXES FOR CITIES.

Mayor Jeffries of Detroit wants more tax money for Detroit. Some of the other cities think they need more money. In fact nearly every public official thinks his office should have more tax money to spend.

Over in Toledo the other day the taxpayers voted to impose upon themselves an income tax for the benefit of the city. The citizens of Philadelphia did so sometime ago.

In discussing this question, David Lawrence in a recent issue of The United States News said:

Local income taxes emerge as a possible solution to the problem of shrinking revenues in many U.S. municipalities. Pay-roll income tax systems already have been established in two cities, and the trend of the future might well be toward triple taxation of incomes by federal, State and local governments.

Philadelphia has had an income tax since 1940. Toledo, Ohio, now is instituting a similar system. Municipal finance planners thus are provided a basis for studying results of income taxation in both large and middle-sized cities.

Thirty States have income tax laws. Some municipal levies may be added to those of the States, the collecting to be done by State machinery. Others, like those of Philadelphia and Toledo, are expected to be independent measures. Neither Pennsylvania nor Ohio has a State income tax.

Philadelphia and Toledo collect a 1 per cent levy on the gross earned income of individuals and on the net profits of unincorporated business and professions. The tax on wages and salaries is withheld by the employer.

Trend toward this kind of tax planning is explained by these factors:

Revenue yields run high. Philadelphia's tax produces $20,000,000 a year. Toledo's is expected to produce $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. Also, since the tax is on earnings and some types of business and professional profits, it quickly reflects an upturn in the business cycle. This is an advantage over the general property tax.

Commuters are hit as heavily as residents. The pay-roll deduction is flat. It applies to everybody paid in the city, no matter where he lives. The city thus is protected against revenue losses caused by the trend to suburban living. This is a growing problem under general property taxation, now the source of 90 per cent of the average city's tax revenue.

Money made elsewhere by residents is subject to the tax. This means that a resident pays the tax no matter where he works. A resident's profits from an unincorporated business are taxed whether the business is located in the city or elsewhere.

Ability to pay is the underlying principle, although some experts insist that no income tax without exemptions and without graduation of rates can claim to conform with this principle.

Disadvantages also are apparent. State opposition is likely where a State income tax already is in effect. In most instances, cities must get consent from State legislatures before imposing such a tax, and many State tax authorities resist superimposing of income taxation at municipal levels. However, there is growing support for increasing State income taxes and cutting cities in on this type of revenue.

Bookkeeping by business firms becomes more complicated as pay-roll-deduction items increase. However, this type of

Eastern Corporation Purchases Plymouth Road Farm for Vast Industrial Development

Purchase has just been made by an eastern corporation of 154 acres of land lying just east of the Middlebelt road and between the Pere Marquette tracks and Plymouth road as a site for what is reported to be one of the largest factories to be built in this locality in years.

The land was owned by Dr. Frank Wilson, a member of the University of Michigan hospital medical staff, and a son of one of the prominent Wilson families that settled and developed the section of Livonia township around Middlebelt and Plymouth road. Mrs. Howard Sharpley is a cousin of Dr. Wilson. Former Sheriff Ira Wilson was also a cousin.

The transaction was conducted by a Detroit law firm that does not desire to have its name mentioned in connection with the transaction at this time.

Neither is the name of the purchaser known, but it is stated definitely that the purchase is the first step in a $7,000,000 industrial development that will eventually result in the employment of hundreds of workers. All that can be learned is that the corporation has its headquarters in New York and is not yet ready to make known its Michigan plans.

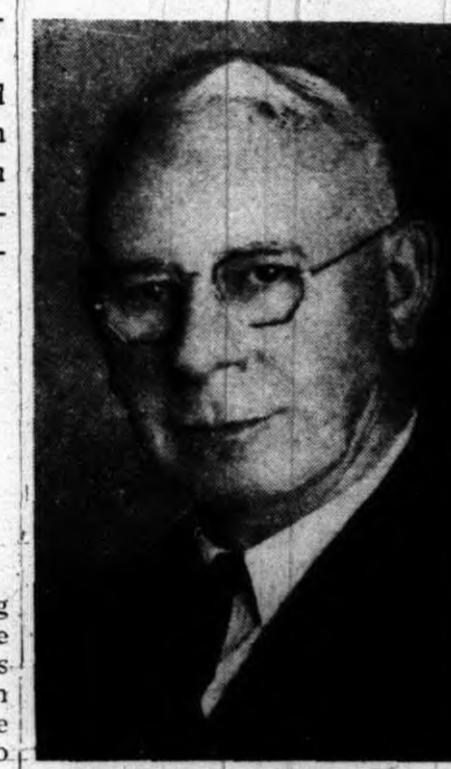

Land tests are being made, both for foundation and heavy machine installations, but it is not believed that there will be any building activities for a year or so, due to material shortages and building restrictions.

The Wilson farm involved in the transfer also opens on Middlebelt road as well as on Plymouth road. The old Wilson homestead faces Middle-

Honors For Retiring Postal Workers

William D. McCullough.

Employees of the Plymouth postoffice, their wives and husbands, joined last Friday night to honor William D. McCullough and his wife at a grand dinner party held in the Grange Hall on Union street.

The occasion was Mr. McCullough's retirement as a postal clerk which became effective March 31. Mr. McCullough first entered the service of the United States government in 1913 as an inspector for the Department of Commerce, Bureau of Fisheries.

He was appointed a clerk in the Plymouth postoffice on November 1, 1917. He served this office for 29 years.

As a token of his faithfulness and the esteem in which he was held by his co-workers, Mr. McCullough was presented with a Hamilton "Railroad Special" watch. On the back of the case was engraved the dates of his service record and the phrase (Continued on Page 2, 2nd Sec.)

Summer Play Plans Underway Says Director

At a meeting of the City Recreation Commission it was revealed Monday evening that a fully rounded recreational program for young and old is being planned for the summer. First project on the program is the development of three summer play areas for children. At the request of the new director, Virgil Knowles, the Starkweather school grounds, the Central school grounds and the five city lots located on the corner of Forest and Sutherland are the only ones that will be operated this summer.

Mr. Knowles believes that more activities can be offered to all age groups on the three grounds which should be better equipped, than by attempting to operate seven or eight different locations.

With two of the areas already providing permanent play equipment and with the addition of even more facilities for crafts, games and other activities it is hoped that a much more complete program can be offered.

Special programs such as movies, group singing, story hours and skilled instruction are also being planned to fill the demands of all groups within the city.

The program director is anxious to have expressions of local groups on their future desires. Band concerts are being planned and tennis and badminton tournaments will be among the first adult projects.

It is hoped that people may be desirous of adult dramatic or choral work and the commission asks local residents to make their desires known to the recreation director so that work along those lines may be started.

Local playgrounds will open on Monday, June 17th under the direction of two trained playground attendants and will operate between the hours of 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. for children. Evening contests will be developed between adults featuring horse-shoe pitching, soft ball, etc.

Big Crowd Hears Discussion of State Problems

Plymouth Rotarians and their guests who packed the dining room of the Mayflower hotel to its capacity last Friday noon heard Kim Sigler, candidate for the Republican nomination of Governor give plenty of reasons why the voters of this state should be on the alert in the forthcoming primary election.

It was the first time in years that a Plymouth group of citizens heard from one in a position to know what has been going on in Lansing, the full truth of many of the things that have been hinted.

"I am not revealing to you any of the facts that come from the grand jury room. The information I am presenting to you comes from state records and from sources that are beyond question" he said.

He declared that the real issue before the people of Michigan in this campaign was honesty in government, honesty in the conduct of every public office.

He charged that the veto message which killed the bank-reform act after it had squeezed past the lawmakers was not written by Gov. Van Wagener, but by an "interested bystander who was the generalissimo of the whole fight."

"When other candidates talk to you about aid for cities and public schools and help for veterans, you should know that the chances of these things are dim unless grafters are driven out of government, and diversions to their special interests are stopped," Sigler said.

Sigler said that his disclosures were not of a secret grand jury information.

"Despite improper revelations by the Senate committee, its efforts to wreck the jury's effort and its besmirching of witnesses and myself, my trust as an officer of the court will be respected in every way," he said.

A senator, he said, first sought $20,000 for a vote against the bank bill. He was told by Charles T. Hemans that he rated only in the $1,000 class, later settled upon $7,000 with another negotiator, and finally was actually paid just $3,500, Sigler said.

"When you're going after such a nasty, dirty gang, trying to uncover crooks, it isn't any parlor (Continued on 2nd section, page 2)

Board Discusses Use of Parking Meters Here

To relieve the parking problem in Plymouth, shall this city install parking meters—that's the big question now being considered by the city planning commission.

At its last meeting, the matter was thoroughly discussed, but no definite action was taken.

Chief complaints about the parking problem come from people who drive into Plymouth and desire to do some shopping. When they desire to look for parking spaces, especially in the afternoon, they find there is no place for their cars, the parking lot as well as all the parking spaces along the street being filled.

It is believed that if car parking could be restricted during the day time to one or two hours in a space, that would enable many more shoppers to find parking spaces while doing their shopping.

It has been found that many cities provide a 15 minute parking for a one cent deposit, and either a one or two hour parking for five cents.

New Mail Route Added In City; Others Extended

Extension of Plymouth's four city mail routes and the addition of a fifth route was this week announced by Postmaster Harry E. Irwin.

The new city route was established in an effort to provide more efficient mail delivery. Portions of the four old routes and some of the new areas to be served make up the additional route. Max McDonald began carrying the route Wednesday as an auxiliary carrier.

Postmaster Irwin said the four old routes all were much too long and with the extensions granted by the Postoffice Department, the only answer was to create a fifth route. All routes will be covered twice daily.

The Plymouth postoffice began negotiations for the route extensions last October. They could not be obtained previously due to the war. Postmaster Irwin explained. After completely surveying the needs for such extensions, postal officials approved the request.

Route extensions will serve patrons who formerly were served by rural carriers or rented private lock boxes at the postoffice.

Areas included in the extensions are Arthur Street between Farmer and Junction streets; Adams street to Junction street; Penniman from Evergreen street to Sheldon road and Evergreen, Sunset and Auburn streets running off Penniman; Beech, Palmer, Carrol, Hartsough, Ross and the remainder of South Harvey streets and a few other isolated patrons.

Some of the streets named in the route extensions. Postmaster Irwin said, already have service by city carriers but not for their full length. Those named which have been served in part previously, now will be served in their entirety, he said.

The extensions were made necessary because of Plymouth's rapid growth during the war. (Continued on 2nd Sec. Page 6)

Names Chairman of Home Gardens

Mayor Robert Lidgard announced this week that he has appointed Mrs. Austin Stecker of 265 Arthur street, as chairman of home food gardens in Plymouth this year. Her telephone number is 643.

Mayor Lidgard said Mrs. Stecker would later announce her appointments of district chairmen. Persons desiring space for gardens or having space to offer should contact Mrs. Stecker. Advice for amateur gardeners will also be made available.

A concerted effort on the part of all Plymouthites to raise more or at least as much food of their own as they did during the war will ease the shortage of particular items.

Elect Officers At Central PTA

On Tuesday evening, April 23, the last regular meeting of the year was held and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Mrs. Howard Bowden, president; Mrs. Jack Taylor, first vice president; Mrs. Loren Goodale, second vice president; Mr. Kenneth Hulsing, third vice president; Mrs. John Paul Morrow, secretary; Miss Mabel Smith, treasurer.

Dr. Ruth Barnes from the literary department of the Michigan State Normal College was present and gave a very unique talk on "The Comics." Dr. Barnes not only entertained her audience, but proved that the ideas in these fascinating tales are very much like the exaggerated stories found in many of our old library books which portray characters comparable to the Superman.

The Junior choir under the direction of Miss Dorothy Ager rendered several numbers, which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Clara Alexander Resigns Bank Position After 25 Yrs. Service

Mrs. Clara Alexander.

After 25 years of faithful and devoted service to The Plymouth United Savings bank, Mrs. Clara L. Alexander has resigned her position as assistant cashier.

"I have come to the conclusion that I have worked long enough and I am complying with the wishes of my husband, who has long desired that I give up my outside work" stated Mrs. Alexander Tuesday, the last day of her employment with the bank she had so faithfully served.

It was when her husband retired as cashier of the bank to become a full time official of the American Legion organization of Michigan that Mrs. Alexander was advanced to his position in the bank.

To show their appreciation of Mrs. Alexander's long and efficient service, she was the guest of honor Monday evening at a dinner given by the directors of the bank at the Dearborn Inn. Wives of all bank officials and all employees were guests at the event.

Charles H. Bennett, president of the Plymouth United, presided and presented to Mrs. Alexander a beautiful chest of sterling silver. At a previous party in her honor her associates in the bank also gave a most attractive gift to her.

Mrs. Alexander plans to spend a good portion of her time accompanying her husband on some of the trips he finds necessary to make about the state in behalf of the Legion.

Helen Darbee, who has been employed in the bank for a number of years, has been promoted to the position long and so well filled by Mrs. Alexander.

Training Course For Cub Leaders

Mrs. Lyons Has Resigned Red Cross Position

After four and one-half years service as chairman of the Home Service department of the Plymouth Red Cross, Mrs. Lawrence Lyons this week announced her resignation.

She will be succeeded by Mrs. Mowry Arnold, of 963 Roosevelt, telephone 1035. All persons having business kindred to that department of the Red Cross here are asked to call Mrs. Arnold.

Mrs. Lyons' resignation will be keenly felt. Throughout the dark, dismal days of war she discharged the duties of her office most capably. The Home Service department of the Red Cross in Plymouth as in cities throughout the nation, is one of the most important branches of that great merciful organization.

Not once during those hectic, cheerless days did a word of complaint about the conduct of that department in Plymouth come from any Mrs. Lyons was called upon to serve.

She did a magnificent job during a most trying period and her resignation will bring her a rest she richly deserves. The Home Service department in Plymouth has one of the best war records of any in the state.

In appreciation of the splendid and painstaking work of Mrs. Lyons during the long troubled war period, high officials of the American Red Cross have issued a special citation to her, which reads as follows: "In recognition of meritorious personal service performed in behalf of the nation, her armed forces, and suffering humanity in the Second World War."

Night or day Mrs. Lyons was available to all who sought her counsel or assistance. Those who desired information were always certain of getting it. Should Mrs. Lyons be unable at the moment, to relay such information she made a special effort to secure (Continued on 2nd section, page 2)

City Acts To Protect Users of Gas Burners

For the purpose of protecting the residents of this city in the purchase of gas burners, it is stated that the city commission will at its next meeting give consideration to an ordinance to control the installation of gas burners in this city.

This action is deemed necessary in view of the remarkable change over that is being made from other forms of heating units to gas burners.

A similar ordinance has been adopted by most of the cities in this area and provides for strict enforcement of all the rules and regulations required by the National Fire Underwriters Association, together with such special rules as apply to the use of gas.

Approved Gas Burners, properly installed are as safe as any other modern method of house heating and residents are cautioned to see that the Gas Burner, whether a conversion burner or a complete unit, has that approval stamped right on them. If in doubt, a call to the local office of the Consumers Power Company, will give you the information. The Company is very anxious to help all who are in doubt and do not want to see anyone purchase equipment that will not meet the proper requirements.

Ferndale, Royal Oak, Birmingham, Pontiac, Pleasant Ridge, Berkley, Huntington Woods, Oak Park and Hazel Park, have all passed this ordinance and shortly others, such as Wayne, Mt. Clemens, Roseville, East Detroit and Centerline, will pass this same ordinance.

Rolf Smith, local manager of the company, said today, the company is anxious to cooperate with the city officials, in passing the ordinance, to help all of its customers, with information on any of their gas problems.

Mooney officiating. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown with a long train, modified sweetheart neckline, and a finger tip veil. She carried an arm bouquet of white roses.

Lucille Reed, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, was gowned in pale blue and a tanga. Pink roses made up her arm bouquet.

Edward Robakiewicz attended the groom, and Alvin Crismon, Clare Reed, and Tony Bielawa seated the guests.

Phyllis LaVerne sang "Ava Maria" with Mrs. M. J. O'Conner at the organ.

Mrs. Reed chose a gold dress for the wedding, and Mrs. Argian was attired in a pale yellow dress. Both wore white corsages. A reception following the ceremony was held in the home of Mrs. Alwood Elliott of Ann Arbor Trail, sister of the bride. Out of town guests were from Grand Rapids and Detroit.

Garage Threatened By Blazing Trash Pile

Plymouth's volunteer firemen were summoned Wednesday afternoon to the home of Ray Henry, 1125 Starkweather, where a huge trash heap was burning and threatening the Henry garage along with several others. Mrs. Henry and firemen both reported they believed the trash was fired by youngsters playing with matches. The trash had burned long enough to ignite a board fence and if unnoticed would have spread to the garage, firemen said.

A neighbor of the Henry's noticed the blaze and turned in an alarm. Firemen had the fire out before any appreciable damage had been done, Mrs. Henry said.

Softball League To Begin Games Monday, May 13

At a meeting Tuesday night in the Plymouth Recreation Office at City Hall plans were made for the 1946 Industrial Softball League to begin play on Monday, May 13.

League officers also were elected. They are Harold Williams, president, and manager of the Beglinger Oldsmobile Team; and Donald Cline, representing the VFW Team, secretary and treasurer.

Virgil C. Knowles, Plymouth Recreation Director, said ten teams sponsored by local firms have registered. The teams and their representatives or managers are Standard Products, John Cordon; Wall Wire, Hugh Romano; Atchison Gulf, Bill Herder; VFW, Donald Cline; Merchants, Gerald Krum; Cavaleade, Arthur Johnson; Beglinger Oldsmobile, Harold Williams; House of Correction, George Gibbs; Daisy Air Rifle, James Williams; and Burroughs Company whose team representative has not yet been named.

Mr. Knowles said at least ten additional teams could be accommodated in the league if they were organized. In fact he would welcome additional teams as it would then be possible to create more interest in the league as he would divide it into two divisions.

Individuals or firms wishing to sponsor a team have until May 13 to file their intention and their team roster along with the registration and forfeit fees with Mr. Knowles at the Plymouth Recreation office.

Play between the ten teams now registered will follow a round-robin schedule covering four nights each week from May 13 to July 10. Friday nights of each week have been purposely left open to provide for "catch-up" games and those postponed by inclement weather.

Unless another division is organized in the league all games will be of the twilight variety and played on a diamond at the rear of Central High School. Mr. Knowles said.

The school has promised Mr. Knowles that it will renovate the site of the softball diamond and have it in tip-top condition by the time play is scheduled to begin.

"With co-operation like that," Mr. Knowles said, "how can Plymouth's recreation program go wrong?"

A lack of qualified umpires for the league games seems to be about the only thing troubling Mr. Knowles at the present time. He said that more umpires were needed and persons with experience along that line, willing to devote some of their time to the league, are invited to contact him.

Like a good recreation director that he is, Mr. Knowles has ironed out all difficulties with rules that might be expected to arise when play is begun.

At the meeting Tuesday night it was definitely decided to use the revised softball rules without variations. These new rules limit teams to nine men instead of ten, shorten the distance between pitcher's box and home plate, shorten the distance between bases and widen the front edge of home plate. Mr. Knowles explained.

The league also adopted rules regulating the transfer of players from team to team. Everything anticipated by the league has been provided for, Mr. Knowles believes, and with Mr. Williams he is looking forward to a very successful season.

"But remember," Mr. Knowles cautioned, "it still is not too late, if you have a team, want to sponsor a team or desire to play. Just contact me at the recreation office before May 13."

Return of Farm Course Sought by Rural Group

The April meeting of the Plymouth Group of the Wayne County Farm Bureau met Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watt Swiegels on Ford Rd.

The group went on record as favoring the re-establishment of an Agricultural course in the curriculum of the Plymouth High School. A petition to be signed and presented the Plymouth Board of Education for that purpose is being formulated.

belt just south of the little town known since pioneer days as Elm. There is 40 acres in this section, the remainder of the land involved in the transfer connecting with the back end of this 40 and extending from Plymouth road to the Pere Marquette tracks.

The site has the same excellent transportation facilities as most industrial sites in this vicinity.

The Pere Marquette has a double track line along the north frontage of the property, with over 18 miles of side-track facilities in Plymouth, just four miles to the west of the site. There is in this city railroad yard facilities for the handling of more than 1,425 freight cars.

The Plymouth road is one of Michigan's main thoroughfares, having four traffic lanes from the city of Detroit to Plymouth. The Middlebelt road gives both north and south paved highway connections.

The National Airport, one of the finest airports of the smaller size in this part of the state, lies diagonally across the Plymouth road from the new factory site. This gives the new company access to the best of rail, highway and air travel facilities, right at its front door, so to speak.

Just when official announcement will be made of the name and plans of the company that made the purchase is not known, but it is believed that it will be soon.

Beds of rock salt, 30 to 442 feet in thickness, underlie nearly all of the lower peninsula of Michigan, except the southwest corner.

RAINBOW GIRLS RECEIVE THEIR CHARTER

The Plymouth Assembly of Rainbow for Girls was instituted last June with 47 girls as charter members. The Assembly has been carrying on under Letters Temporary until Monday evening, April 22 when they received their charter at a very impressive ceremony.

Preceding the presentation of the charter the Eastern Star

Chapter 115 were hostesses to Rainbow Girls and their parents at a very delicious dinner.

After dinner everyone adjourned to the Assembly room where with Mrs. E. Alberta Colburn supreme inspector of Michigan of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, as presiding officer, Mrs. Florence Hart, acting chaplain, Mrs. Muriel Hattisig, acting Recorder, Geraldine Goodale, Grand Orator, as Marshal, Paulina Potter, Grand Associate Adviser, as assisting marshal, the charter was presented to Plymouth Assembly.

Thirty-three of the 47 charter members were present and by coincidence the Plymouth Assembly received the number 33 as its official number.

Ann Hopkins, one of the charter members, is the present Worthy Adviser of Plymouth Assembly.

Monday evening was really a red letter day for the Plymouth Assembly and the ceremony one that will be long remembered by all who were present.

Commercial fishermen operating out of Michigan ports on the Great Lakes will take fish worth $4,000,000 this year.

Plymouth Police Department Plans Brake Safety Test Campaign May 15 to June 1

Auto Drivers Asked To Cooperate to Save Lives and Cars

Plymouth police in co-operation with Michigan State Police will launch a brake-test campaign here May 15 to run through June 1.

Using state owned equipment the Plymouth police, under the direction of Chief Lee R. Sackett, will endeavor to test the brakes of every automobile in the city.

Chief Sackett points out that while the local motorists are not required by law to submit their cars to such a test, it will make for greater safety on Plymouth's streets if there is a general voluntary response to the campaign.

Anytime during the campaign, May 15 to June 1, Plymouth police officers will test the brakes of all cars brought to them. Chief Sackett will later announce just where the tests are to be conducted.

There is no cost for the test. Motorists with cars that have several thousand miles on them should avail themselves of the opportunity for such a test. It might mean the difference between killing a child or being able to stop safely and keep death off Plymouth's streets.

Results of the tests will be infallible because of the equipment to be used. It is state equipment which rules out any errors and gives a true picture of the condition of any car's brakes.

Chief Sackett is emphasizing the fact that many local autos are of the vintage which makes the condition of their brakes questionable. The war has forced many cars to operate beyond the limit for which they were originally built.

In general the safety record on Plymouth streets is an enviable one, but Chief Sackett intends to maintain it and the bracketest the same at the earliest possible time.

Her handling of that branch of the Red Cross was outstanding from every phase of the duties she was asked to perform.

Mrs. Lyons deserves a sincere vote of appreciation from the community and all those she so unselfishly served.

At the same time the community should extend the collective hand of welcome and cooperation to her successor, Mrs. Arnold, who will spare no effort to carry on the duties of that office in a manner comparable to that of Mrs. Lyons.

game, and you've got to meet the gang with its own methods," he said in explanation of Hemans and the charge of Senate investigators that he was paid excessively.

"When they assail me, they forget that the man who replaced me is getting the same salary, and also that the thorough questioning of 1,500 witnesses and obtaining evidence which led to 41 convictions and 11 pleas of guilty doesn't leave much time for frivolity."

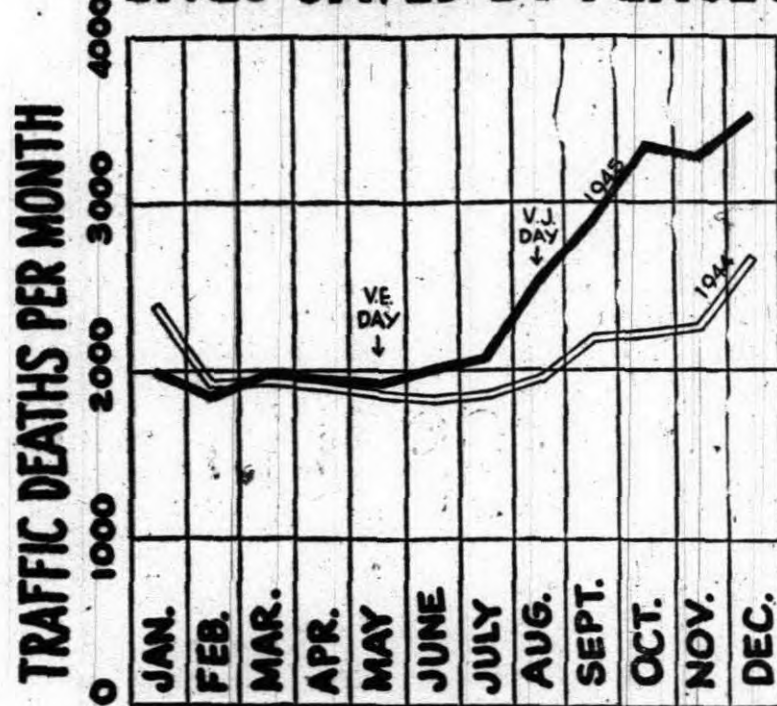

"I'm trying to bring home to you that there's no use in discussing a financial program unless you know your government is not going to be paid off."

The State senator, Sigler said, was finally given $3,000 for his vote after haggling with Charles F. Hemans, confessed "payoff man" for various legislators.

"Some people say they won't believe Hemans," Sigler said. "But the senator's friend, who arranged the deal, has confessed—and so has the senator."

The banking bill passed the Senate and went to the House despite opposition from "Hemans' boys," Sigler continued. "There the $100 Hemans boys really got in some work," Sigler campaign is one of the factors by which he hopes to do just that.

Plymouth motorists should compliment Chief Sackett on his foresight in planning such a test in the city. Motorists who have their cars tested will know whether or not they are driving a "safe" car. That in itself should be a great comfort to local drivers.

told his audience. "But they lost the bill went to the Governor."

"A lot of people say they wouldn't believe Hemans' story about members of the House. But we got confessions from several of them. Those confessions are in Lansing, waiting."

"All of those involved should be indicted," Sigler said. "None of you can realize the terrific pressure that can be brought to bear to prevent the uncovering of graft in government," Sigler said.

In discussing his ouster, he added: "Perhaps I should be glad to get out of a job where someone calls you on the phone at night and says, 'Listen, cowboy, a side-swipe from a truck some dark night can take care of you.'"

So impressed were those present by what he said, that another invitation was extended to him to return to this vicinity and give another address before the campaign ends.

A group of Livonia township citizens invited him to speak in that vicinity sometime late in May, so that the people in that part of Wayne county might know Mr. Sigler and hear him discuss the real problems confronting the state of Michigan.

The Michigan legislature first took drastic steps to control methods of deer hunting in 1881; previous to this date the only restriction imposed was the regulating of the length of the hunting season.

Harry Robinson Closes Penniman Store—Going Back to Main Street

Harry Robinson, pioneer business man of Plymouth closed up shop on Penniman avenue Tuesday, but will re-open for business on North Main street about July 1.

Every one knows that anything Harry Robinson does is news—and just this ordinary event in the life of any business man, in the case of Harry Robinson is more than ordinary news.

It's all because Mr. Robinson is tied up so closely with everything about Plymouth. He's been in business here for much more than half a century, you know, and even that is news.

His move from the Penniman-Allyn building to a new location at 271 North Main street is the second time he has moved off Penniman avenue.

Back in the horse and buggy days, Mr. Robinson ran a livery stable on the very spot where the Penniman-Allyn theatre building now stands.

The "pesky" automobile forced Harry to put his livery stable horses out to pasture some 30 or more years ago.

Now his second-hand furniture shop is going up on Main street—and Main street is just as much a part of Harry Robinson's past as the old livery barn site.

Old timers will remember back in the old horse and buggy days that Mr. Robinson operated a bus line between the depot and the Plymouth hotel, which stood on South Main street near Ann Arbor Trail.

He met every passenger train that came into town. He even had the contract to take the mail for Newburg residents out to Newburg, twice each week.

North Main street wasn't paved back in those days, and in the summer time when Harry drove his old hack along the street a cloud of dust that looked like a dust storm was always kicked up by his horses as he spee'ded them back and forth to the trains.

"Early in the spring, we had to put a team on the old 'Democrat' because of the mud along Main street. Sometimes the horses would sink into the mud up to their knees, but we always made the trains on time" said Mr. Robinson the other day.

But the old bus line he operated along Main street for nearly 50 years is not his only tie to Main street.

It was right in front of the house he has purchased at 271 North Main for his second hand store that he used to start the horses entered in the winter snow "matinees," back in the days when nearly every one in town thought his horse was the fastest stepper in these parts.

Just as soon as snow fell in the early winter, these "race horse" owners fixed up Main street this side of the Pere Marquette tracks into a snow speedway.

The starting point was right in front of the place Harry has purchased for his store. The finish line was just south of Penniman avenue.

Mr. Robinson had a different horse for the matinee every winter. One of the old timers said he had one stepper named "Eliza" and another named "Dolly Varden," but Czar Penny usually took them "for a ride."

So you see going back to North Main street to Harry Robinson is just like going back home.

It will be July 1 before he can get his store open. Meanwhile he is storing his surplus stock.

Cub Scout Hobby Show Proves Great Success

The District Cub Scout Hobby Show was well attended Saturday evening with over 600 Cubs, parents and friends participating. Five Packs, namely Stark S-1; Clarenceville C L-1; Elm E-1; Pack 282 and Pack 620 of Plymouth showed exhibits many of which were outstanding.

Among the guests of the evening was Robert Reusch, Director of Cubbing for the Detroit Area Council who gave a very timely talk on the importance of obtaining more leaders in the district.

Following the display of the exhibits each pack presented skits which were well received by the audience. The Skits in order were: S-1 Radio skit on house cleaning hints for housewives; Clarenceville Circus Parade; Pack 282 Circus Freaks and Pack 620 Plymouth dedicated an honor roll to the Webebo graduates. Twenty of these boys were present to receive this honor.

Roy Leemon, district chairman, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Hees a token of sincere appreciation for the Cub leaders of Pack 620.

The speaker asserted that if it had not been for the enthusiastic and diligent work on the part of both Mr. and Mrs. Hees, the Cub Scout activities in Plymouth would not have been the outstanding success they have proven to be. Not only the speaker, but every one present, were high in their praise of the good work done by these two Cub Scout workers.

The Hobby Show closed as one of the most successful in the history of the district.

Soon It's Tulip Time in Holland Dates Fixed for May 15 to the 18th

"Tulip City" Beauty

Authentic Dutch costumes will be on parade in Holland May 15 through May 18, when that picturesque Michigan town will stage Tulip Time for the first time since Pearl Harbor. This young woman is garbed in the costume of Zuid Beueland, Province of Zeeland.

For the first time since Pearl Harbor the picturesque and utterly entrancing town of Holland will stage its Tulip Time this year, the dates, May 15 through May 18. Not only will Holland have its brilliant pageantry of flowers, but it will be celebrating the 99th anniversary of the arrival in Michigan of saintly Albertus Christian Van Raalte and his Netherlanders.

This year Willard C. Wichers, managing director of the festival, settled down the other day and outlined what the hundreds of thousands of visitors may expect when they travel to Holland this year. He said:

"The show this year will be put on in a slightly different manner, in that it will open on a Wednesday and close with Saturday night, but the dates—May 15 through May 18—are late enough in the Spring that the tulips will be at their best, not only the long expanses of the blooms in the downtown areas and in the fields with their acres of the brilliant blossoms.

"The festival will officially begin at 2:30 p.m. on Wednesday with the traditional scrubbing of the streets, a tradition going back to old days in the Netherlands when the towns literally scrubbed the streets in preparation for the arrival of distinguished visitors. In the festival ceremony Dutch men and women in authentic Dutch costumes, many of them brought from the Netherlands, actually scrub the streets with great brooms and brushes. Immediately following the scrubbing of the streets the town crier, in authentic costume and carrying an authentic crier's bell from the Netherlands, parades the main street proclaiming the festival.

"On Wednesday evening there will be Dutch dancing and musical programs, tours of the tulip farms and hours spent in exploring the magnificent Netherlands Museum, in which are literally thousands of intriguing exhibits telling the story of the pioneers and portraying life and customs in the Netherlands and in the Dutch possessions overseas.

"Thursday will be Children's Day with costume parades, a parade of flower floats and a wide exposition of many things traditionally Dutch, including dog-drawn milk carts, the costumed flower girls and the costumed water carriers with ancient yokes across their shoulders. In the evening, in Riverview Park, there will be more of music, with present plans calling for high school and college bands from all over Michigan, the same bands which will appear in the Band Review and parades on Saturday.

Plan Memorial For August Card

Memorial services will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Methodist church at Northville for S. Sgt. August Card, son of Mrs. Daisy Card of East Cady street, Northville, who was reported missing in action in New Guinea in May, 1944.

The war department has just advised his mother that her son has now been officially listed as killed in action.

"Gus," as he was best known to his host of friends in both Northville and Plymouth, served as turret gunner with a bomber outfit.

A graduate of the Northville high school he was 26 years of age when killed. Five brothers served during the war, all survived. All of the boys have many friends in Plymouth.

What I Think and Have a Right to Say

By ELTON R. EATON

resistance softens when it becomes a choice between a pay-roll tax and a sales tax.

Administration difficulties increase as the size of the governmental unit decreases. The States wrestle with domicile questions which do not occur in the administration of the federal income tax law. These questions are even more difficult in municipalities within a State.

Local conditions make this form of taxation impracticable for some cities. For example, it would not be suitable for a city whose industries are located largely in the suburbs.

In any event, the search for new sources of municipal revenue is to be intensified. Cities are not keeping pace with the country's over-all growth in population. Therefore, revenue from the property tax does not keep up with the cost of running city governments.

Search for revenue. This has led to a wide variety of local revenue measures in recent years. Several of these tax plans, other than income levies, now are getting attention by municipal finance officers.

Sales taxes have been adopted by many cities. Some are general consumption levies, others selective. Favorite items for such taxes are amusement admissions, public-utility services, liquor, gasoline and tobacco.

Municipal ownership of utilities gets support from some experts. Generally, the public utilities now owned and operated by municipalities are not major revenue producers. Profits from enterprises of this kind rank sixth among the sources of revenue of U. S. cities. However, Jacksonville, Fla., gets more than half its revenue from utility contributions.

Special service charges are an expanding source of municipal money. Examples are garbage collection, sewer rental and parking meter charges.

Others include motor-vehicle licenses, city parking areas, chain-store taxes, gross-receipts taxes, grants-in-aid from the States, and tenants' and occupiers' taxes.

SIGLER AND ZIGLER TALK IT OVER.

Kim Sigler and Jesse Zigler met at the Mayflower hotel last Friday afternoon after the Rotary club meeting for a brief conference. Some one standing by wanted to know if any one could tell why Kim spelled his name with an S and Jesse with a Z.

"The other difference" said the Rotarian, "lies in the fact that one chooses to use a Z made backwards to make the letter S and the other uses the letter S to make a Z by writing the S backwards."

No one knows whether Kim and Jesse were discussing this fine point or were trying to figure out which branch of the Sigler or Zigler family changed the letter Z to S or the letter S to Z. At any rate both of the Siglers or Zigers are interested in honest and efficient government.

COKE CROWD CAPERS

(By Kathleen Bloxson) Sunday evening the Presbyterian Young People met at the home of Edson Whipple. There Rev. Welch talked on the "Meaning of Conference" and gave out the applications for Waldenwoods. Mrs. Whipple served them ice cream and cake, after which they played games.

The Methodist Young People met Sunday evening and Rev. Sanders spoke to them about "The Meaning of Holy Week." There was such a lively discussion that Rev. Sanders only got as far as Maundy Thursday in his explanation. He will continue next week.

"The Trail Dust Riders", under the guidance of Miss Ruth Erikson, held their business meeting Saturday. There they outlined a program for the next three weeks. Included in the program for next week is a trail-following ride. Divided into two groups, one will ride ahead of the other, leaving a trail to be followed. The second group will then take over and make a trail for the first group. Next on the program is a snapshot ride, when everyone will take their camera. The purpose is to get as many interesting pictures of the scenery and the horses and riders as possible. The third Saturday will be spent picnicking. They hold their business meetings the last Saturday in each month.

Friday night after the J-Hop, about 45 couples went from the dance to Ella Ahearn's, where they ate and had fun until the wee hours of the morning.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wieland and family (Carol Hammond) have sold their home in Wayne and are moving to Brimley in the Upper Peninsula where they have bought tourist cabins on Whitefish Bay. Mrs. Wieland and the boys will be guests of her mother, Mrs. C. H. Hammond, for a week or two before going north to live.

Bull Moose shed their antlers just after the autumn rutting season. The new set becomes full-grown about four months later.

Admiral Mitscher Announces Maneuvers

Admiral Mare A. Mitscher, USN, Commander of the new Eighth Fleet, announces extensive maneuvers in the Western Atlantic and Caribbean areas, April 19, to May 27, at a news conference at the Navy Department in Washington, D. C. A total of 29 ships, including the USS Missouri and the new super carriers, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Midway, will take part in the maneuvers, described as the most extensive to be held in the Atlantic since 1939. As stories of local men taking part in these maneuvers are received from the Fleet by the Fleet Home Town News Center in Chicago, they will be edited and distributed to home town newspapers.

"Wheelbarrow Knights" Lay Concrete Floor

Twenty-two "Knights of the Wheelbarrow" who hold memberships in the Western Wayne County Conservation Association, made it possible for the organization to complete the laying of the concrete floor in the new club house last Sunday.

Answering to the call of President "Buck" Chaney, these energetic Knights of hard labor did a real day's work in getting the new floor laid in the basement of the clubhouse.

These workers before night had completed a floor that covered a space of 32x65 feet. "Couldn't believe we laid so much cement," said Secretary Earnest Henry. "After the floor had been finished, one can get a pretty good idea as to the size of the new clubhouse."

The regular monthly meeting will be held Monday evening in the Jewel & Bluff Hall. President Champe says that at this meeting plans will be discussed for the annual meeting, which will be held sometime in May in the new club house. The meeting in the new club house will for a while take place in the basement as it will be some weeks before the second floor can be finished.

The grounds around the building are at present most attractive. While the grading next to the building has not been finished, there are many flowering trees in blossom in the surrounding woods.

It is expected that the meeting Monday evening in the Jewel hall will be largely attended, as both entertainment and refreshments are planned.

Streets which contained homes only at one end are now fully built up. Other thoroughfares with no homes at all previous to the war now are dotted with dwellings and all entitled to carrier service. Postmaster Irwin pointed out.

Postmaster Irwin also announced that Earl Foster, Jr., regular carrier on city route 2 will be back on the job by June 1. Mr. Foster, for the last two years a sergeant in the Army, was honorably discharged and returned to his home Sunday. He spent more than a year overseas.

Some Indiana streams have original Indian names, like the Salamonie; others have English names interpreting the Indian name, like Eel river; still others were named by the white man for the Indian, as the many Indian creeks.

Here to Conduct Revival Services

Rev. Calvin C. Beukema, evangelist and youth leader of Grand Rapids, will conduct a youth campaign at the Calvary Baptist church of Plymouth, located at Ann Arbor Trail at Elizabeth with meetings each evening at 7:30 beginning May 6 and continuing through May 12.

"Uncle Cal," as he is affectionately known to thousands of youngsters and grown-up, brings with him his "Picture Adventures," gospel magic, oil paintings, and melodies, with a new surprise program daily stream-lined to the interests of youth.

A born story teller, Mr. Beukema often draws hundreds of young folks, highlighting his program with unique contests and prizes. He represents the Youth Gospel Crusade, Inc., a faith missionary project with headquarters in Wheaton, Illinois, which reaches youngsters of all ages in many parts of the country. The public is cordially invited to each of these meetings.

Truth comes from a deep sincerity that must always characterize heroic hearts; it is the better side of man's nature developing itself.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Anthony S. Matulis, a member of the Plymouth public school faculty who recently was given his discharge after serving as a lieutenant in the navy during the war, has been elected secretary of the Plymouth Rotary club, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of William Wood.

YOUTH HOSTELING
 A hostel is a single overnight shelter, a school, or some other converted building. Capacity ranges from ten men and ten girls to several times that number. Every hostel has house parents in charge. Friendliness and cooperation are the key notes. Hosteling is really more like camping out than going to a summer resort. You are on your own, rustle your own supplies, cook your own meals, and tidy the bunk rooms. You use your AYH handbook in planning your hosteling adventure. You may stop enroute for a midday snack but the hostels, provide stoves, good water and cooking facilities. Farm produce and groceries usually are purchasable nearby. To hostel you will need a hostel pass, an AYH sheet sleeping sack, your own knife, fork and spoon, tin cup and plate, and an AYH handbook that lists all hostels. Any number can go hosteling for a day or summer. Hosteling is not limited to summer time—nor to hiking or biking. In the winter hosteling offers you a perfect opportunity to ski and skate, now shoe and to boggan in winter sports areas. Then you may stay in a hostel for a week or so provided you are enjoying the active outdoor life of a real youth hosteler. A full schedule of four-day to two-week hiking, biking, canoeing, and horseback riding is available. Typical trips around southeastern Michigan will be one-week bike trips.

"Terry" with Pvt. Andrew Izzo

"Terry of Hollywood" or who is much better known as "Asta" the famous wire hair fox terrier in the movies, was a visitor for several weeks at the Andrew Izzo home in Livonia, while his master was on the East Coast on business.

Mr. Amie Laundroche, 8663 Inkster Rd. and Mr. Earl Mack of Five Mile Rd. celebrated their birthday on Easter Sunday at the home of Mr. Mack. Thirty-three guests were invited to the party. Gifts were presented to the two honored gentlemen, and a lunch with the traditional cake followed. The evening was spent playing Bunko.

The picture was taken when Pvt. Andrew Izzo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Izzo, was home on furlough from Chanute Field where he is a weather observer in the U. S. Air Corps.

Terry is a typical pooch in that he is allergic to cats and spends a great deal of time looking and digging for mice and rats and like most men must be bribed before he will perform. Mrs. Izzo states, "Terry understands almost everything that you say to him and when I let him out in the morning it was necessary to tell him not to leave the yard. He has been here several times before and only once has he run away."

Terry, who is now seven years old, is the sire of several equally famous sons who have also played in a great many pictures. In four generations of his pedigree, there are twelve champions which truly makes him an aristocrat. He went through some of his repertoire of tricks for the writer in very speedy fashion bribed by dog cookies. In between tricks he spent most of the time looking under chairs and in the closet for mice which he was told were there that morning.

Bride To Be Honored At Shower

Mrs. Leo Laveque, 20125 Rensselaer and Miss Lorraine Hoffmeyer were hostesses at a bridal shower honoring Bonnie Turpin on Tuesday, April 15th.

Miss Turpin, who recently lost her father, is to be married to William Veder, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Veder of St. Francis Saturday, April 19th.

Misfortune struck the young couple when the house containing their furniture caught fire and burned April 17 and was almost an entire loss. This is the second home within two weeks in the vicinity to have been a total loss by fire. The first one occurred on Long Avenue several weeks ago and was caused by an oil explosion. Cause of the Veder home burning is not known as the house was not being lived in at the time.

Two Local Sportsmen
To go Bear Hunting

The spring bear hunting season in Ontario opened on May 1—and that's the signal for Matt Powell and Bert McKinney to start for the wilds of northern Ontario.

The two are leaving Plymouth this week to spend a week or so up northeast of Sault Ste. Marie, Canada.

Reports from that section of the country, states "Matt" indicate that the bear hunting ought to be exceptionally good this spring.

Gravel is an important Indiana resource. In some places pits cover farm-sized acreages, and complete moraine hills are being removed by modern machinery.

Walled Lake Freezes Rocks 4-2

The Plymouth Rocks lost their opening baseball game of the season Friday to Walled Lake 4 to 2. The game was played in the low 40's with a strong wind helping to chill the players, but considering the weather factor they did very well. The game was a non-league tilt for the Rocks.

Dale Bentley started on the mound for the Rocks and J. Coe for the Vikings. Walled Lake scored in the first inning when Philip singled and advanced around on a sacrifice, stolen base, and an error by Hayes.

The Rocks had a great chance to score in the third inning with the bases loaded, but Martin Kregger struck out. They finally scored in the fifth when Bentley and Laverne Ritenbar walked, Dobbs sacrificed, Duane Rutenbar then singled, home Bentley, but Duane's brother was cut down at the plate by a fine throw. Burt, the Viking's shortstop, then threw Hayes' grounder over first, permitting Rutenbar to score the Rocks' second tally. In this inning, Coati took over the pitching chores for the Vikings.

The Vikings scored three times in the sixth when Blake, led off with a double, J. Coe was hit, R. Coe bunted, and when Bentley's throw to third was late, the bases were jammed. Here the Vikings walked, then Coati drove home, bunted the squeeze play with Blake scoring and Groff being safe on Bentley's error. On the error, J. Coe also scored, Donner the last run with a long fly. This was the end of the scoring for the day.

Coati was the winning pitcher and Dale Bentley, who went all the way for the Rocks, the loser. Bentley pitched a good game, but lacked good support. The Rocks couldn't come through with men on bases, which led to their downfall.

Tuesday the 30th, the Rocks play at Ypsilanti, and on Friday, May 3, the locals play Trenton at the Riverside Park diamond. Support your team, come to the game.

Staff Receives Exchange Papers

Contrary to the opinion of some students in Plymouth High School, the staff has long been preparing for their own paper. The class has been collecting other school papers for quite a while and could not see any reason why Plymouth shouldn't have a school paper. In the journalism room there are papers from some of the schools in the vicinity. The exchange papers are: "The Echo" from Walled Lake, "The Outpost" from Redford High, "The Tower Tribune" from Fordson High, "The Cooley Cardinal" from Cooley High, Detroit, "The Pershing Chronicle" from Pershing High, Detroit, "The Rouge Recorder" from River Rouge High, "The Orange and Black" from Belleville, "The Wy-News" from Wyandotte High, and "The Wayne H-Lite" from Wayne High School.

Junior High Students Organize Stamp Club

The youthful philatelists of room 35 have started a stamp club which meets the first Monday and the third Thursday of every month with Mr. Donald Rank as advisor, Bob Anthony, president; Maryann Armhiem, vice president; Ann Beckel, secretary; Sally Merriman, treasurer; Otto Ruor, corresponding secretary; and Ed Kilneski, program chairman.

During the meetings the group exchanges and sells their stamps. They arrange programs regarding stamps and their values and also present reports on types of stamps. The meetings last until the 28 ambitious members' noise is too much for their advisor's nerves and the meetings are closed.

Stop Whizzing, Mr. Tourist, See Monroe!

Welcome to the beautiful state of Michigan, Mr. 1946 Tourist! But when you whizz up M 24 or M 25, take a little time to look around our neighboring city of Monroe.

This progressive city was founded in 1780, and stands out among Michigan cities as the state's only port on Lake Erie; for its manufacture of paper board and as the state's nursery center.

The area from Monroe to Detroit was the birthplace of the Bessemer process for making steel. Economists see Monroe as the future Ruhr industrial district of the United States. It is also the birthplace of General Custer of Indian War fame.

From a frontier village Monroe has grown to a city of 21,000. In addition to its public school system, rated excellent, it harbors the midwest's largest school for girls, St. Mary's College and Academy, more than a hundred years old.

One mile northeast on M-56 is the new 400-acre state park which has a mile and a half of lake frontage. Miles of improved roads and lagoons, picnic grounds, baseball diamonds, new bath houses, large trailer camp, a section for campers, are features. To fish in Lake Erie no license is needed. With the state license one may fish in the lagoons.

Wisconsin Not Afraid to Do Something!

There are many residents in Michigan as well as deer hunters who believe that the state's conservation department should take steps during hard winters to feed many of the deer herds in the northlands.

Not in the last two or three winters have there been reports of serious loss of deer due to starvation, but there have been years when hundreds of them died as a result of the deep snow resulting in the inability of the deer to find feed.

Wisconsin now has in excess of 27,000 acres of land specifically acquired for the purpose of furnishing deer with food and shelter during severe winter conditions that drive them into close concentrations on such areas.

The neighboring conservation department announces that this acreage has been purchased at a cost of $87,140.74, and average of $3.21 per acre, under a law passed by the legislature in 1943. The law provides that 50 cents of each dollar derived from the sale of deer tags be used for the purchase of deer yards and to provide winter feed for deer. The special fund is divided equally between the two functions.

The Wisconsin conservation department comments: "It is obvious that one of the keys to the entire deer problem lies in maintaining the maximum browse in the winter concentration areas. Public control will prevent further destruction of browse values through clean cutting and will be the foundation for intelligent yard management. Unless a proper balance between the deer herd and the browse available in the deer yards is maintained, the population will eventually fall far below that desired by all parties interested in deer either from the standpoint of hunting or recreation in general."

Beautiful Kalamazoo, Now An Open Sewer.

There was a time when fishing in the Kalamazoo river was equal to the best in the land. Small mouth bass, pickrel, rock bass and sunfish were most plentiful, especially black bass.

Now if you assert you can catch a fish in the Kalamazoo, they say you are crazy, that you must be an escaped inmate from the big place up on the western rim of hills that helps to form the valley of the Kalamazoo.

What happened to the good fishing that once prevailed in the Kalamazoo?

The story is a short one—very short. They built a lot of papers in Kalamazoo, in Plainwell and in Otsego. The state winked and blinked and permitted the papermill companies to dump their refuse in the pure waters of the Kalamazoo. Then over in Battle Creek, up stream from Kalamazoo, the city did its bit to help along the pollution of one of Michigan's most beautiful rivers.

The result? The Kalamazoo river between Battle Creek and Saugatuck, where it empties into Lake Michigan, is now nothing more than an open sewer. It smells bad, it looks bad and any fish that can live in the pollution is itself polluted.

This brief story of the Kalamazoo is the story of pollution throughout the state. High officialdom winks and blinks—and at the same time spends hundreds or thousands of dollars to get people from other states to come and see our dirty, filthy, germ-infested, fish killing open sewers that we once called rivers.

More Debunking of Michigan Historic Lore.

Here's more Michigan history that has been debunked by the "debunker" of historic lore over at the University of Michigan.

British troops did not destroy public property before evacuating Detroit in 1796, according to F. Clever Bald, war historian of the University. He says the story is an example of the numerous myths which distort Michigan history.

Bald indicates the incorrect version of the British evacuation in accordance with the terms of Jay's Treaty first was published in 1839 and was repeated, with variations, by at least 10 writers in subsequent years.

"The myth has done a great deal of harm in keeping alive American animosity towards Great Britain," Bald says. "The correct account of the incident was published in 1915, but three histories of Detroit published after that date repeat the fictitious story."

One historian wrote that Detroit was vacated by the British after the wells had been filled with stones, windows broken, and the gates of the fort locked.

General Wayne, commander of American troops taking over the fort, reported it had been surrendered in "the most polite, friendly and accommodating manner." The General was so pleased with the British attitude that he ordered a ship's captain going to Mackinac to transport British troops on the return trip, Bald says.

Another indication of friendly relations existing between the British and Americans was the lend-lease by the British of 20,000 pounds of pork for the American troops, Bald indicated. It was stipulated that the Americans would repay the loan in fresh beef after the weather became cold enough for slaughtering.

"This early practice of lend-lease, put into operation informally by an agreement between British and American Army officers without the necessity of an act of Congress, shows that courtesy and cooperation marked the dealings of the British and Americans, instead of a spiteful attitude," he said.

Big (?) News from Conservation Department.

From the ear tag of an eight-year old doe killed by a train near Hawks, up near Rogers City, conservation department game men are reading added confirmation of the success of stocking the Moltke swamp, and evidence that their deer transplanting distances are ample.

The doe with ear tag No. 2994 was one of 60 live-trapped from a browsed-out starvation area in Fletcher swamp, Alpena county, in March, 1939. Then a 60-pound fawn herself, she could have in the next seasons (1940-1945) produced 11 fawns for the herd which has furnished good hunting for local sportsmen.

Livetrapping and transporting of these deer was experimental. Deer seem unable to find such good food areas as Moltke swamp for themselves, if the new areas are more than 10 or 15 miles from "home." Similarly, some sort of "homing instinct" takes deer back each winter to the place where they spent their first yarding season, regardless of its food lack, unless they are moved to "strange territory" at least 25 miles away.

Doe No. 2994 was transplanted 35 miles from the trapping point, and died just eight miles from the point of release.

Dandelion Greens For Spring Tonic
 If any one in Plymouth is feeling sluggish, and your mind refuses to remain focused on the tasks at hand you need a spring tonic. And we don't mean the groverbal sulphur and molasses. After several months of canned food, ersatz meat and butter and starchy dishes the human body cries out for something different. That particular thing about this time of year should be fresh water cress or dandelion greens.
 Greens are filled with that certain something that nature intended us all to have at this time to cleanse our bodies of winter poisons and put us in shape for the days ahead.
 Dandelions have a bitter taste, and the more bitter the better. Eat them wilted or cooked with a piece of salt pork or ham butt (salt pork is more readily available). The main thing is eat them, not once or twice, but as many times as possible before their season is over.
 Water cress will be available all summer. It can be found in most flowing streams. The wild variety is much more tasty than that offered by stores. It has a crispness that is good to the taste and is high in food value. That can be eaten wilted or raw with lemon juice or vinegar. It is a salad ingredient also.

BARBSON

Barbson Discusses "Fact-finding"
Philadelphia, May 3. — There are many subjects of which I know nothing; but a few concerning which experience has taught me much. One of these is "fact-finding." My entire life has been given to this.

Beware of the Bunk
Hence, I am much interested in the various "fact-finding" committees which are being appointed by the government in connection with labor disputes. Well, let me say that most of them are the bunk. The idea is crazy that three men, unacquainted with an industry, can in four weeks or even four months—get enough facts about that industry to say whether wages should be increased 5 cents or 20 cents.

To add to this bunkum, our good President goes into a trance and by palmistry or tea-leaf reading, pulls 18½ cents out of the blue sky and calls that "fact-finding." It has long been an old joke that there are three kinds of lies, namely—"simple lies, damned lies and statistics." Well, that joke should now be amended to include a fourth kind of lies—the worst of all—namely, "fact-finding."

Wage Increases Cause Inflation
However, as a result of this bunkum we are now having wages artificially fixed by one fact-finding board, prices fixed by another fact-finding board, hours fixed by another fact-finding board, profits fixed by another fact-finding board, and so on. All these things are supposed to prevent inflation. Yet, Congress is now passing a minimum wage bill which is the greatest inflation-producing law ever conceived.

All these things are done without any regard for the nation's welfare; but only to help Congressmen get re-elected. They know in their hearts that all these "fact-finding" boards and the wages-prices-profits legislation will lead to utter confusion so that the entire structure will fall as the Tower of Babel did 3,000 years ago. Yet, during these 3,000 years the same "fact-finding" schemes have been tried by many great nations such as Babylonia, Persia, Egypt, Greece, Rome, Spain and finally France. All were found unworkable and given up.

Two Basic Laws
Now let me put readers right on two fundamental economic truths, which are as sound and unchangeable as the multiplication table. The first is that wages, prices, profits, etc., will adjust themselves if let alone; but will cause unemployment if monkeyed with. They all are linked together like the wheels of a watch.

The second is that the only solution of everyone's problem is a proper mixture of work, education and religion. These are two facts which history has proved to be true but politicians hate to admit.

We All Must Work Harder
When we apply these two facts to the present situation, the answer is this: The country can stand the new wage increases okay if prices are allowed to find their natural level under a truly free competitive system with the same laws applying to employers and wage workers. I, however, make this one proviso: AS WE RETURN TO WORK, WHETHER FROM STRIKES, WE ALL — EMPLOYERS AND WAGE WORKERS — MUST DO SO WITH A DETERMINATION TO PRODUCE MORE AND BETTER PRODUCTS. UPON THIS, ALL FACT-FINDING DEPENDS.

Of course, we cannot keep hiking wages and prices indefinitely without the balloon bursting. As the collapse of the 1910's was caused by the railroads getting too powerful; as the collapse of the 1930's was caused by the utilities getting too powerful; so the next collapse of the 1950's will be caused by labor unions getting too powerful. Today, the labor barons are making the same mistake as did the railroad and utility barons years ago. But business should be so good for a few years that we can stand a general wage raise if we all will cheerfully put our shoulders to the wheel and produce to our very utmost. This should be accompanied by even higher stock prices.

Spiritual Awakening
Whenever I refer in this column to the need of a "spiritual awakening," I have a flood of letters asking me to explain what I mean. Readers seem to think I am interested in some special theology or creed. Let me say again that there is no formula or definition of what is needed for a spiritual awakening. In fact, it varies from time-to-time. Today, however, it means a desire by us all to produce as much as possible for the good of all God's creatures.
