IT IS HARD TO BELIEVE—BUT!

Out of the graft scandals in Hamtramck has come a report that clothing collected in that city by school children to be sent to suffering kinsmen in Poland, was sold and the money kept by higher-ups.

Hard to believe? Not when you recall that Hamtramck has always been kind to grafters in public office. It sent to congress an ex-convict. Crime and official misconduct have never been a handicap to one seeking public office. Seemingly, sometimes, it has been a help to one's candidacy.

If there is any city in America that should be thoroughly ashamed of itself, it is Hamtramck.

But one can rightly ask, is there anything that can shame a city that has tolerated conditions such as have existed in Hamtramck for a score of years or more?

THE BUILDING OF JACKSON PRISON.

Every now and then one reads or hears of some criticism pertaining to the large size of Jackson prison and of its erection in its present location. One of the most persistent critics of the erection of the new Michigan State prison at Jackson, formerly called Jackson prison, has been the retiring lieutenant governor.

In radio talks and in his recent unsuccessful campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor, he sought to create the critical impression that the big Jackson prison was about the only building erected by the state during the Groesbeck administration.

He failed to mention the other one hundred and ten buildings erected at various educational institutions and hospitals during the administration of Governor Groesbeck.

He also failed to tell the people of the state the new state prison located near Jackson came into existence as the result of the cumulative action of several state administrations, beginning back in the days of former Governor Osborn, who made the first land purchase for the state where the present prison is located.

So that the people of Michigan might know the facts once and for all time pertaining to the development of the old Jackson prison into the Michigan State prison, now regarded as the largest penal institution in the country, here are the legislative facts concerning the planning and building of the new prison at Jackson:

Jackson Prison was first built in 1839. As the years passed additional cell blocks and factory buildings were constructed until by 1915 almost every available square foot of space on the old prison grounds was covered either with cell blocks, work shops or factory buildings. There was on the grounds a binder twine factory, a stone shop, a chair factory, repair shops, a cannery and other buildings housing small industries, in addition to the buildings required for the heating and lighting of the cell blocks, kitchens, dining room, hospital and other appurtenant buildings.

Most of these buildings were very old, and most of them were in a woeful state of disrepair, with lack of sanitation, and many were vermin infested. For years preceding 1915, the newspapers of the State periodically ran articles concerning physical conditions in Jackson Prison, particularly the old East Wing. With the exception of one newer dormitory building, the only sanitation facilities were the old time buckets, and particularly in winter months the air during the night and in the early morning was terrible.

Nathan F. Simpson was appointed warden by Governor Osborn. He had wide experience in large scale farming in Western Michigan and started a farm system on a considerable range at Jackson both to provide food for the inmates and also to provide work for them. By 1915, in addition to the 20 acres occupied by the prison buildings, there had been acquired 752 acres of land, some of it a short distance to the north of Jackson. In 1915 there was appropriated the sum of $77,220 for the purchase of additional farm land and there was likewise appropriated $76,578 for the construction of a new dormitory inside the old prison walls. In 1917 the Legislature appropriated the additional sum of $59,200 for the purchase of additional farm land and the sum of $59,200 for the removal of the brick and tile plant from inside the prison walls to outside in the vicinity of the clay pit near the Village of Onandaga. In 1919, the Legislature appropriated the sum of $50,000 for repairs and replacements, the sum of $83,725 for an enlargement of the stone shop and equipment, and $77,000 for the enlarging of the Onandaga brick plant.

It had long been recognized not only by the various prison boards of Jackson Prison but by the public generally that some change in the situation at Jackson Prison had to be made. With the advent of the prohibition era additional men were sentenced to the Jackson Prison by the hundreds and before long the prison population had almost doubled. In addition to men permanently assigned to the brick and tile plant and to the various farms, there was such a congestion within the walls that inmates were sleeping in corridors and scattered all over the yard. This was, of course, a dangerous and unhealthy situation.

Even before my advent on the Jackson Prison Board under Governor Ferris, it had been recognized by Warden Simpson the late Levi Barbour, O. H. Wernecke of Grand Rapids and Edward Frensdorf of Hudson, as well as by the public generally, that the building of a new prison was imperative.

Later, Chas. A. Blaney of Kalamazoo and Mark Merriman of Jackson, head of the Hayes Wheel Co., became members of the Jackson Board and acquiesced in this view.

Shortly thereafter when the boards of control of all prisons were amalgamated into one State Prison Commission there were added Alton T. Roberts of Marquette and William H. Porter of Lansing. These men likewise recognized the problem and added their approval and encouragement to the establishment of a new prison.

The land was already available, owned by the State, through former purchases and the very logical thing seemed to be instead of spending large sums of money which would have been necessary on the old antiquated prison structure inside the city of Jackson, to remove the prison a few miles outside. Various members of the Board had had large experience as manufacturers and it was pointed out the large advantage there would be in designing more modern factory buildings, as well as more modern cell blocks and other necessary prison structures.

This decision had arrived at and approved by the public before Alex Groesbeck became Governor. It did fall to Governor Groesbeck and to the then warden, Harry Hulbert, who had been for many years superintendent of construction for the Schmied-Sissman Company of Detroit, to undertake the construction of the first units of the new prison. Visits were made to various other state institutions having been more recently built, including the new Illinois penitentiary, Massachusetts and Minnesota. The money was appropriated for the new prison structures gladly by the Legislature, supported by very wide-spread public demand, and universal newspaper approval. The inmates themselves were employed in large numbers in the construction work and viewed in the light of present day construction the cost was but a fraction of what it would have been if there had been delay. It has long been thought by most informed people that the new institution at Jackson was not only necessary but stands as a distinct credit in the penal systems of the Country.

No Governor, no warden and no members of prison Boards or commissions are responsible for the increasing numbers of men who are sentenced to serve time in penal institutions. It is their duty to receive these men and hold them in accordance with sentences of Courts in a modern, humane way. Certainly, Governor Groesbeck, who helped carry into effect what had already been decided upon and was universally recognized as necessary and desirable, is not open to criticism, but on the contrary is entitled to the thanks of the people of the state of Michigan.

Plymouth Play Programs Now Offer Swimming

The Plymouth Recreation Commission has completed arrangements for swimming twice weekly as part of the city's playground programs.

Plymouth children may now participate in supervised swim trips each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for the rest of the summer.

Buses will transport the swimmers to the Walled Lake Recreation Pier, leaving Central and Starkweather playgrounds at 12:30 p.m. and returning at 3:30 p.m. At Walled Lake each swimmer may take a shower upon leaving the water and change clothes in the bath house to insure a dry ride back to Plymouth.

Swimmers will be charged twenty cents each per trip and must furnish their own towels and written consent of their parents for them to go on the trips. Those are the only requirements.

To insure the maximum safety in the water there will be five leaders assigned to each group of swimmers. Swimmers also will use the "buddy" system of swim and play in the water.

Another safeguard is the rule that each swimmer, when taking the trip for the first time, pass a test showing they can swim at least 50 yards without aid. Instruction will also be available for beginners.

The Recreation Commission also has made arrangements for those of wading pool age to be transported to the wading pool each Wednesday afternoon for the rest of the summer.

Parental consent is necessary for each and every child to take part in these wading pool trips. The bus will leave the playgrounds at 1:30 p.m. and return at 3:30 p.m. Girl leaders will supervise each trip.

The children should be supplied with their own towel so they will be assured of a dry ride back to Plymouth.

Dog Days Cause Plymouth Police To Start Growling

Plymouth police are going into the dog catching business on a wholesale basis if pet owners in the community don't buy licenses for their pooches.

Chief Lee Sackett estimates there are 300 unlicensed dogs in Plymouth. He says their owners are adding insult to injury in letting them run loose too.

They ignore the law requiring them to buy a license for their dog, Chief Sackett said, and then let them run loose during the quarantine months.

Plymouth's dog ordinance requires all dogs to be confined to the owner's premises during the months of June, July, August and September. It provides penalties for those found running at large during that period.

All dogs picked up must be held 48 hours before being disposed of and their owners notified in plenty of time for them to reclaim the dog. But, if the dog has no license how do the police know whose dog it is?

Chief Sackett said his men were getting tired of picking up unlicensed dogs and then having to make a house-to-house canvass to find its owner. From now on all unlicensed dogs picked up will be disposed of, he said.

Thus the edict amounts to little else than a death sentence for unlicensed dogs in Plymouth who are allowed to continue running at large. Owners can solve this by obtaining licenses now. For females the license with a fifty-cent penalty is now $2.50 and for all males and unsexed dogs it is $1.50.

From the number of dogs that Chief Sackett believes to be without licenses and the complaints he says the department is getting about dogs running at large it appears that Plymouth policemen will have little time for anything else except catching dogs within the next few weeks.

Mrs. Leroy Jewell, Mrs. Otto Reamer and Mrs. Merle Rorabacher were hostesses to a pot luck picnic shower held at the home of the latter on their spacious lawn honoring their two nieces, Miss Jean Blunk of this city and Miss Thelma Becker of Pittsford, Mich., both of whom will be brides in August. About 56 relatives were present for the occasion. The honored guests received many lovely gifts.

Former Resident Dies in Florida

Word was received in Plymouth last weekend of the death of Clay A. Hoyt, 74, who resided in Plymouth nearly 50 years. Mr. Hoyt passed away at his home in St. Petersburg, Florida where he has been for the last several years and interment was from the Rhodes Chapel in that city on Tuesday.

For many years Mr. Hoyt was associated with his father here in the monument business and after leaving Plymouth he was cashier of banks both in Lansing and Chesaning. A full obituary about Mr. Hoyt will be carried in next week's issue of the Plymouth Mail.

Arrest of 5 Boys Clears Up Series Of Burglaries

Four burglaries in and around Plymouth have been solved with the recent arrest of five juveniles by Plymouth police and Wayne County sheriff's officers.

Plymouth police last week took a group of three youths into custody for the burglary of Beglinger's service station. Two are over 17 years of age and both have received terms in the Detroit House of Correction. The other one was given a probationary term.

Police Chief Lee Sackett said the youths obtained several cartons of flashlight batteries, flashlights and many other items from Beglinger's. All of the loot was recovered.

The other three burglaries were solved with the aid of the Wayne County Road Patrol. All were the work of two Plymouth juveniles who escaped detection for several months. However, they pulled one job too many and ended up like all criminals do.

Last March 30 they burglarized Don Horton's store getting $80 and the Sinclair service station at Wing and Main streets where they obtained $68, according to Plymouth police. The pair were suspected at the time but lack of evidence kept them from being picked up, Chief Sackett said.

It was the burglary of the Texaco service station last week at South Main and US-12 that was their undoing. They obtained $80 in that job. The road patrol was right on their trail within a few hours and worked very cooperatively with Plymouth police to bring the guilty pair to justice.

After both law enforcement agencies were certain that all evidence pointed to them they were picked up and accused of the crime. They admitted it and then one of them confessed the pair of jobs they pulled last March.

It was another demonstration of good police work on the part of Plymouth officers and the sheriff's road patrol. Chief Sackett said the patrol's assistance was invaluable and available at all times.

Dr. E. G. Huber Dies At Harvard

Word was received in Plymouth Wednesday by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Peck of the death of Dr. Edward Godfrey Huber, acting dean of Harvard University. Dr. Huber a one time resident of Plymouth has held the unusual position of acting dean of Harvard for 9 years and while at the University according to the Harvard Public Health and Alumni Bulletin in Dr. Huber shouldered the burden of instruction within his field of public health practice.

The bulletin further states he initiated instruction and research in the new branches of public health; systematized the requirements for degrees granted by the school; created the Harvard Public Health Alumni Bulletin and many things which have done much to give Harvard University its fine reputation.

Dr. and Mrs. Huber came to Plymouth and purchased the house that stood directly north of The Plymouth Mail in 1905. He practiced here for two years during which time Mrs. Huber taught in the Plymouth High School. During the latter part of 1906 he became interested in public health work and left this city to find work in that field. He had many friends in Plymouth of whom several were still corresponding with him previous to the time of his death.

Funeral services are being held today at the Harvard Memorial Church.

VFW Post Sends Plymouth Youths To Summer Camp

Mayflower Post, No. 6695, Veterans of Foreign Wars, of Plymouth, was only constituted last spring but has lost no time in starting its program of social and civic service in the community.

Already the post has made it possible for four Plymouth youngsters to attend the VFW Buddy Poppy Camp, at Keego Harbor, and plans to send three more next month.

Elmer Harrison and Roger Bogenschutz were the first to be sent to the camp. They were there from July 14 to 20. From July 21 to 27, James and Walter Angvine attended. All reported a grand time and "all we could eat."

August is girl's month at the camp and the post here will send Joan Helmer and Ruth Bogenschutz for the Aug. 11-17 period and Joan Marie Dudley from Aug. 18-24.

These youngsters are sent to the camp without any cost to their families. All expenses are paid by the post. They were recommended by the visiting teacher of the Plymouth public schools, the post said.

Mrs. Bogenschutz was most appreciative of the privilege accorded her children. "I think it is a very wonderful thing that the VFW post is doing, she said."

Mr. Dudley remarked that he felt his daughter was very fortunate in being chosen to attend the camp. It is an experience she would never have unless it was for the VFW post in Plymouth, he declared.

Elmer Harrison told the post that he "really had a swell time. Why they even taught me how to swim."

Roger Bogenschutz said, "It was wonderful." He told about learning to swim and how to make woven leather belts. Above all he said "we had all we wanted to eat and it was good too."

Hilltop Golf Meet Creating Much Interest in Area

Amateur golfers in and around Plymouth appear to be taking great interest in the forthcoming Hilltop City Tournament to be held at the Hilltop Golf Club next month.

Max Todd, the local pro, reports that since the tourney was first announced in The Mail last Friday there has been a definite increase in the number of golfers getting in their practice rounds.

Plymouth merchants, most of whom are golfers themselves, have responded generously with a barrage of prizes and trophies that will exceed $400 in value.

Entry blanks for the tournament may be secured at the Hilltop Golf Club or The Mail for $1.50 each. No entries will be accepted after 9 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 6.

The qualifying rounds on Saturday, Aug. 10, will be 18 holes and are to be played in threesomes. Starting times of the players will be announced in The Mail on Aug. 9.

Sixty-four golfers out of the field of qualifiers will be divided into four flights of 16 each. Namely, championship, first, second and third.

Match play elimination series is scheduled for Sunday, Aug. 11; Saturday, Aug. 17; Sunday, Aug. 18; and Saturday, Aug. 24.

There also will be a victory banquet following the play on Saturday, Aug. 24. At that time the various trophies and prizes will be awarded.

Todd says it should be understood that duffers share an equal opportunity with the better golfers. He predicts that the championship flight will be made up of golfers in the 70 to 76 bracket. The other flights will be made up accordingly.

Regardless of your average, Todd urges that you enter as soon as possible.

Circle one of the Presbyterian church will have a pot-luck luncheon at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday at the lovely summer home of Mrs. John W. Blickenstaff, at Base Lake. Anyone wishing transportation will please call Mrs. Eugene Benson, 605.

Charles Westover, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Westover, celebrated his sixth birthday on Monday with several of his little playmates. They played games and afterwards had refreshments, ice cream and cake.

Plymouthites Can Assist Police By Cutting Weeds

Chief of Police Lee R. Sackett has written The Mail suggesting that all business places and householders in Plymouth could greatly assist the police department by the simple procedure of cutting weeds.

Chief Sackett points out that high weeds, wild shrubbery and scrub seedlings growing between buildings and in vacant lots can cause accidents and also provide hiding places at night for prowlers.

It has been observed, Chief Sackett writes, that in various sections of Plymouth, hedges have been allowed to grow as high as four feet shutting off the view of drivers approaching an intersection.

In a couple of places, the chief said, there were scrub seedlings grown to a height of eight feet. These shut off the view of windows from patrolling officers who are checking buildings.

There is also the matter of officers maintaining their uniforms. Vacant lots through which officers must pass during the night are becoming overgrown with weeds. This causes the uniforms to get wet unnecessarily and does not always allow them to be in a presentable condition.

But, Chief Sackett is primarily interested in the safety of Plymouthites and not his men's uniforms. He also has the interests of the taxpayers at heart and especially those operating business places here.

He points out that business establishments can do much to add to their security and aid Plymouth policemen in preventing there being burglarized by eliminating high weeds around their property.

High weeds any place in the city, Chief Sackett contends, are definite hazards to the safety of women and children who might be on the streets at night. They provide too good a hiding place for men whose intentions are anything but honorable.

Cut your weeds, Chief Sackett suggests, and reduce the criminal's chance of escaping detection or even contemplating a crime.

Hay fever sufferers probably will echo the chief's suggestions but for personal reasons only. Plymouth could be a haven of relief from the dread summer complaint if an all-out weed cutting campaign were started and carried through to a successful completion. But, they should be cut NOW and not after they have come into blossom and spread their irritating pollen over the countryside.

Merchant Takes Plane Solo Flight

Richard Kimbrough, Plymouth's veteran electric appliance dealer, is well on his way to becoming an airplane pilot.

This week he made his initial solo flight from Mettetal Airport in a Piper cub belonging to the Plymouth Aero Company from whom he is taking flight instruction. Bill Ryan, manager of the field and Kimbrough's instructor, said he sent Dick up to solo after only eight hours of instruction.

Ryan said there are so many Plymouthites taking flying training that his instruction schedule begins at 8 a.m. and ends at 8:30 p.m. daily.

Alfred J. Schuster is another of Ryan's students. He is taking flight training to secure a flight instructor's rating. Mr. Schuster's sparkling spouse, a former army nurse, is taking advantage of the GI Bill of Rights to secure instruction for a private pilot's license.

More Band Concerts Planned for Plymouth

A large crowd was present at the last Plymouth Civic Band Concert, which wound up the Jaycee coaster Derby Day. Presentation of awards were made at that concert.

The concerts have been so well attended that plans are now made for a concert every other Wednesday. The next concert at Kellogg Park will be on July 31. Concerts in August will fall on the 7th and on the 28th.

Although the concerts are being well attended there is room for more listeners to enjoy the good music in the cool breezes of Kellogg Park. Concert time is scheduled for 7 o'clock, so all will have time to have dinner, listen to a concert and catch a picture show to wind up the half holiday which most of the stores give every Wednesday.

Albert G. Bieszk Dies After Short Illness

Word was received in the city Tuesday of the death of Albert Bieszk, 59, who passed away in Cheboygan last Monday night. Mr. Bieszk with his brother Anthony operated the Bieszk Brothers garage on Plymouth road for 22 years before leaving here last year to take up residence in Cheboygan.

He was a member of the Larned Post number 1 in Detroit of the American Legion. Funeral services conducted by the Legion were held Thursday in Cheboygan and burial was made at Pinehill Cemetery in that city.

The Bieszks had been residents of this locality for 40 years.

Plymouth Faculty Still Incomplete; 5 Yet to Be Hired

When Plymouth public schools closed last June, Superintendent Helmer A. Nelson was faced with the problem of replacing 11 teachers before the 1946-47 term opened in September. To date he still has five vacancies in the teaching staff to fill and qualified faculty members are very scarce.

"It's no easy job, Superintendent Nelson said, but it is my duty to locate teachers if at all possible and that's what I hope to do before school opens."

Superintendent Nelson explained that Plymouth schools have high standards for their faculty and unless the applicant is properly qualified he is not interested in signing them to a contract.

One of the best junior high school teachers, Basil Rath, is lost to Plymouth as he has accepted the job of principal at Log Cabin High school in Clawson which is a deserved advancement for him.

Mr. Rath has been replaced by Edwyna Anderson, of Alba, a graduate of Central State Teachers' College, Mt. Pleasant, who has previously taught in Plymouth schools.

Another former Plymouth teacher, Frances Overton, of Ypsilanti, will return this year as the art instructor, to replace Evelyn Gorton.

Marjorie Norman, of Granville, Ohio, a graduate of Michigan State Normal, will replace Marion Fisher as second grade teacher at Central school.

The new home economics instructor is Barbara Nisbet, of Fremont, a graduate of Michigan State College. She replaces Helen Thams. Carolyn Bodwin, of East Lansing, a graduate of Michigan State College, replaces Jeanette Estep as the vocal music instructor.

Alice Fischbach, of Dearborn, a graduate of the University of Michigan, will have charge of the school library. She is replacing Florence Oberg.

Yet to be hired is a band instructor, social science teacher, a junior high school teacher, a first and second grade teacher at Central school.

Those teachers for whom no replacements have been secured are Dorcas Keig, Delwyn Elliot, Clarence Luchman, Vivian Michelson and Edith Clute.

School To Have New Oil Burners

Contracts were let this week for new boilers in the high school by the board of education. The replacement of the 30 year old boilers will cost the district about $19,000.00 but the board hopes the saving to be effected by the use of oil in fuel costs and labor reduction will justify the expenditure in addition to insuring safe heating in the winter months ahead.

The contracts call for three 100 horse power Orr-Sembower oil burners and installation will be made before school opens in September. Residents living in the neighborhood of the school plant will appreciate the change in heating systems since many of them have complained in the past about the smoke nuisance caused by the old boilers. With oil all smoke will be eliminated in the future.

The board lost no time in making a study of the heating plant after inspectors for the insurance company refused to renew the insurance policies this year because of the boilers worn condition. Repairs could have been made but at a cost of $2,000.00 they felt with the age of the boilers the expense could not have been justified and insurance company officials also felt that even with the repairs the insurance would be a poor risk.

Dedication of War Dog Memorial Is Sunday Aug. 4

At 3 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 4, a huge monument to the dogs that fought, suffered and died for the United States in World War II will be dedicated at the Happy Hunting Ground Memorial Park for Pets, a mile north and one and one-half miles east of South Lyon on the Elkow Farm.

Clifton E. Johnson, of Detroit, manager of the Michigan Humane Society, will be the principal speaker.

Mayor James Calhoun, of South Lyon, through Mayor Robert Lidgard, has extended an invitation to the people of Plymouth to join the populace of his community for the impressive ceremonies. He points out that only one other such memorial has been erected in the United States. It stands in New York and is dedicated to the dogs of World War I.

Mayor Calhoun also calls attention to the fact that the Happy Hunting Grounds Park, consisting of 27 acres, is reputed to be America's largest pet cemetery. It was established less than ten years ago by Cornell Elkow, who lives on the farm, and his brother, Dr. R. S. Elkow, prominent Detroit veterinarian. There are 1,300 graves of pets located there.

The memorial is a large bronze statue of a typical war dog standing over a fallen army rifle. The whole thing rests on a massive granite base. A bronze plaque set in the base is lettered thus: "Dedicated to the memory of the War Dog. Erected by veterinarians, humane organizations and the dog-loving public to perpetuate kindness to man's most faithful friend for his heroic services in World War I and II."

The monument's construction and placing cost $3,600. Several thousand animal lovers are expected at the park for the ceremonies.

Softball Playoffs Begin Wednesday

Playoffs in the Plymouth Industrial Twilight Softball League to determine the city's championship team will open at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, July 31, on the Track diamond at the rear of Central school.

As there were three teams tied for first place when the league's season closed it was necessary to hold a drawing to determine a first place team for the purpose of matching teams for the playoffs. Cavalcade won the drawing.

Therefore Cavalcade will meet the fourth-place Merchants in the playoffs opener next Wednesday night. On the following night Oldsmobile City Service will meet DeHoCo at the latter's grounds in the second series in the playoffs.

Games between Cavalcade and Merchants teams will be played in Plymouth at the Track diamond on Wednesday, July 31; Friday, Aug. 2; Tuesday, Aug. 6; and Thursday, Aug. 8 or until one team wins three games out of five. It may not be necessary for the fifth game.

At DeHoCo grounds the DeHoCo and Oldsmobile squads will play Thursday, Aug. 1; Monday, Aug. 5; Wednesday, Aug. 7; and Friday, Aug. 9, until one team wins three out of five.

When the winners of the two playoff series are determined the championship finals will be scheduled. All games will be on the Track diamond. They will be held on consecutive nights.

The winner will be the team taking four out of seven games in the championship finals. It may not be necessary to have a sixth or seventh game but they will be played on consecutive nights until a winner is determined.

Extra bleachers will be put up for the championship finals and the playoff semi-finals at the Track diamond. Watch The Mail for information about the opening of the championship finals.

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Phillips, of Robinson subdivision, announce the engagement of their daughter Grace to Clayton McNamara, son of Mr. and Mrs. McNamara of Howell, Michigan. The marriage is to take place at the Ypsilanti Church of God on September 29.

Mrs. George Knapp, Mrs. Steven Jewell, Mrs. John Moyer, and Mrs. Fred Cline spent last week Wednesday night with Mildred Collins at her cottage at Base Lake. On Thursday evening they attended the Rebekah picnic at the Roach cottage on Portage Lake.

Appliance Store Sells
New Water Conditioner

Exclusive rights to sell Permutit Water Conditioning units in Plymouth has recently been given the Appliance Store of Plymouth, Vaughan R. Smith, manager, announced this week. He said that although only a few of the post-war models have been available up to the present time, they are now coming through and orders can be delivered immediately. A model is on display at the hardware.

Among Permutit's many features, Mr. Smith pointed out that it more than softens water in its conditioning action... that it also removes unpleasant taste and odor. Moreover, he declared, this unit is attached to the plumbing so that "conditioned" water flows from either hot or cold water taps in the house.

The Permutit is designed in a number of different models so that it can be used in small apartments and up to the large size for hotels or manufacturing concerns. Those already installed in Plymouth have been met with enthusiasm. Additional information can be learned from an advertisement on another page of this week's Mail.

Attend Merchants' Show In Chicago Last Week

Richard L. Kimbrough, owner, and Charles Cushman, salesman, of Kimbrough Electric, located on West Ann Arbor trail, were in Chicago last week to attend a merchants' convention and attempt to learn something of the furniture and appliance outlook for the coming year.

"Things don't look so good," Mr. Kimbrough declared, "especially in the furniture line." He said the furniture outlook was very poor, but that electrical appliance will continue to come through slowly. However, from the general talk down in Chicago, he judges there possibly will be plenty of radios by fall.

While there, the two Plymouth businessmen attended the merchandise show of the National Association of Music Merchants and visited the Furniture and Merchandise Mart.

A Michigan service station went on 24-hour operation as a service to anglers at the opening of the fishing season in that state and reported a sales increase of 7,000 gallons of gasoline in a month.

A petroleum authority predicts a 20 per cent saving in gasoline consumption per car within the next few years as engines are designed to take advantage of improved fuels.

When firemen arrived to extinguish a blaze in her home, a Baltimore woman asked them not to dirty her hardwood floors and insisted that they wipe their feet on a doormat.

as long as possible to continue marking under O.P.A. regulations—no profiteering or speculating on present stocks.

Actual cost increases will be added to our prices only on new stock.

We are convinced the consuming public should go shirtless, pajamaless or shortless rather than pay premium prices for merchandise that may not give satisfaction.

It might be encouraging for you to know we have received pledges from our better-known "name" manufacturers that they, too, are "holding the line" to keep prices at or below former O.P.A. ceilings.

We still guarantee complete satisfaction on all purchases made here.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lloyd, daughter Marilyn and son Gary spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dobbs and family at Half Moon Lake.

Word received from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reeves who are touring through the west says that one of the most interesting sights they have seen has been Reno, Nevada, where the tourist trade this year has reached an all time peak. While in Reno they visited Harold's Club, one of the city's most popular night spots. Mr. Reeves also noted in his letter that he now could understand why there are no silver dollars in the east, explaining that most of them were stacked on the gambling tables in and around Reno.

'Michigan and the Old Northwest'

BORN 1720, at Wagonville, Mich. DIED 1800, at Green Bay, Wis.
CHARLES LANGLADE
Michigan's most noted half-breed was Charles Langlade, his mother an Ottawa.

At an early day, his father, Augustin, opened a trading post at Green Bay.

LANGLADE'S PISTOLS
WISCONSIN HISTORICAL MUSEUM, MADISON.
Charles, regarded as "father of Wisconsin", fought in 99 battles and skirmishes.

They included Pickawillany, Braddock's defeat, Quebec, 1780 St. Louis raid.

For another week or ten days, Michigan citizens and tourists and out-state visitors will finish picking thousands and thousands of quarts of huckleberries from state owned lands in northern Michigan.

The crop, according to reports, this year is better than it has been in two or three years. While frosts did some damage in some localities, the crop on an average throughout the state is above average.

Huckleberry pickers can roam the state owned lands at will, picking berries wherever they find the picking to be good. They pay no one for this privilege.

As a result of this year's good crop, vast numbers of Michigan homes will be stocked with canned huckleberries.

No one in Lansing has ever made an effort to estimate the value of this state owned crop that is of such benefit to Michigan residents. But it runs into the hundreds of thousands of dollars, there is no question about that.

Present retail prices vary from 60 cents a quart to 80 cents. Plymouth stores have been charging 80 and 90 cents per pint for home-grown New Jersey huckleberries—and the flavor of these imported berries is nowhere near as good as the wild crop grown in Michigan.

Scattered throughout the entire north of Michigan one can find reporters and vacationists out on the "plains" picking berries. There are, also, many commercial pickers—that is people who pick huckleberries to sell to stores or directly to consumers.

In three or four weeks the huckleberry crop of the north will be followed by the wild blackberry crop, which also promises to be a big one.

There has been a lot of talk among members of the Western Wayne County Conservation club, farmers around Plymouth and elsewhere throughout the state of extensive damage being done by foxes, crows and other predatory animals and birds.

To these people the report made recently at the annual meeting of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, will be of more than ordinary interest.

The report says:
"The Predator Control Committee has functioned for the past year and while it has not made any earth shaking decisions it has delved into the matter rather carefully and has asked a lot of questions, and as a result we have arrived at least at a few rather obvious conclusions. They are as follows:

- 1.—That the unrestricted hunting of bears in certain counties be watched very closely to see that it is not over done.
- 2.—That while the fox does considerable damage, he is not as much to blame for the scarcity of game as most people think.
- 3.—That crows, possum, house cats, mink, etc., do more damage than is generally realized.
- 4.—That a statewide bounty on foxes would be costly and ineffective.
- 5.—That if bounties on foxes are necessary it should be carried on by individual counties, though this does lead to some abuses and racketeering.
- 6.—That moneys for fox bounties should not come out of game funds.
- 7.—That the hunting of foxes for sport should be encouraged.
- 8.—That man is one of the worst predators we have.
- 9.—That while we know a lot about the matter of predator control and are learning more every day, we do not feel that we have information as yet to give specific methods and remedies to relieve the situation to any great extent.

"We have only a few specific recommendations to make as follows:

"As the committee looked into this matter of predators they found that many people felt that stray cats and dogs were doing more damage than foxes, etc. Therefore we recommend that an educational drive be put on to call the matter to the attention of the owners of such stray animals, though this must be done in a diplomatic way as said owners are, in most cases, the same farmers with whom we are trying so hard to maintain cordial relations.

"We recommend that all local law enforcement officers and justices be urged to cooperate with the Conservation Department toward the apprehension and punishment of those chronic and vicious poachers of which each locality has a few.

"As predator conditions change from month to month and year to year we recommend that M.U.C.C. maintain a committee on predator control to keep a watchful eye on the situation. The chairmanship and committee members should be changed from year to year, thus covering all sections of the state and the various fields of thought on the matter."

Not until most of the hay and grain is cut will conservation department game men be able to make definite numerical estimates of the 1946 pheasant crop, but current reports contain little encouragement for the hunter hoping for birds in pre-war abundance.

An average of nine chicks is reported for 78 broods observed by conservation officers in June, but none of the officers is optimistic in his comments. Several of them saw many hens without broods.

Of the several hundred volunteer reports in pheasant territory whose help Joe Linduska, conservation department pheasant specialist, has enlisted this season, rural mail carriers have been most cooperative. Driving 50 to 100 miles daily over the same route, they are in an excellent position to make comparisons. Their daily counts and comments make it clear that this season's production is not to be compared with the big bird crops of the early '40s. Like the officers and game men, however, they grant that heavy roadside weed cover and standing crops may conceal some pheasants, and are keeping their fingers crossed until hay and grain is harvested.

Transfer of a federal bureau concerned with mink farming from the Department of Interior to the Department of Agriculture on the first of the month has nothing whatever to do with the licensing of mink farms in Michigan, the conservation department's game division warns prospective mink ranchers.

All mink farms established in Michigan must pass an inspection and get a license (fee $10) and furnish annual reports to the department of conservation. Farm licenses are permanent, however, and require no renewal while the farm continues in operation.

Returning veterans are believed responsible for some of the recent expansion in Michigan's domestic mink business. Of the state's 400 mink farms, 100 were licensed in the first six months of this year, 73 were started in 1945 and 46 were started in 1944.

Many of Michigan's mink "ranches" are backyard pens started with a single animal carrying young, but the big operators maintain farms of more than 1,000 animals.

The male field sparrow sometimes can be a coward and, like many another timid husband, let his wife take the missions requiring a little boldness.

So concludes Conservation Officer Verne Dockham, whose special interest is ornithology, after witnessing some field sparrows' domestic drama here in Osceola county.

Curious about why the male was carrying food not directly to the nest but to a tree limb where the female snatched it and took it to the nestlings on the ground, Dockham found a porcupine had casually stopped to rest a few inches from the nest. So while Papa sparrow did his duty in providing food, he left it to Mama sparrow to brave the porcupine's presence and deliver it to the young.

Grand Haven state park's tent camp capacity has been cut in half by a temporary agreement between state park and city officials to minimize fire hazards in the park, bulging this season with more vacationers than ever were accommodated before at Grand Haven.

Where the tent camper previously was allowed to choose his own campsite within the oval drive where shade and lakeside exposure were most pleasing, he now is assigned a 50-foot lot on which to pitch his tent. At peak periods as many as 168 tents were pitched in the park, with overcrowding at most favored spots. It is expected that no more than 80 to 90 50-ft lots can be staked out in the same area.

No tent campers have been forced to move, but as their 15-day permits expire, no new permits are being issued until the number of tents is reduced to suit the new park plan. Trailers are not affected by the agreement, and are continuing in their present spacing at the park's full capacity of -135.

New Army Setup To Aid Recruiting

Master Sergeant George J. Danneff, non-commissioned officer in charge of the Army Recruiting Station located at the Ann Arbor Armory, announced this week that Army veterans who were specialists in any of 400 Army jobs and were honorably discharged from active service or released under honorable conditions on or after May 12, 1945, may still continue to re-enlist as non-commissioned officers under War Department regulations.

Their grades of course will depend on their length of service, experience and skill. One important change since July 1, in this new ruling is that a man must enlist for a three-year period to obtain these benefits.

In keeping with this highly skilled peace-time Army, Congress has boosted the wages of all service personnel. This raise became effective last July 1 and entitles the private to a 50 per cent increase with corresponding increase through all ranks.

Privates now receive $75 per month and Master Sergeants $165. This is "take home" pay in addition to clothing, food, lodging, medical and dental care and liberal retirement privileges.

Under this new setup master sergeants will be able to retire after 30 years of service and receive $185.63 a month for the rest of their lives. Information concerning your particular case can be obtained every Tuesday at the Plymouth City Hall.

Plymouth and South Lyon Kiwanians Hold Picnic

Members of the Kiwanis clubs of Plymouth and South Lyon and their wives met jointly last Monday night for a picnic at Riverside Park. The men chose sides and played softball while the women engaged in less exerting forms of recreation.

Everyone reported a fine time and lots to eat. Some of the Plymouth boys ate until they had had to be reminded that food was to preserve life and not take it. This joint picnic was held in place of the regular Tuesday night dinner meeting of the local club.

Voters Going to "Throw Rascals Out" of Office

By Gene Alleman

In the 1946 version of that old political melodrama, "Throw out the Rascals!" Michigan voters will have a choice of two climactic endings on Nov. 5.

First, election of Kim Sigler, graft-busting crusader, who is the Republican nominee for Governor.

Second, election of Murray D. "Pat" Van Wagoner, former Governor who made his reputation on highways and who is now the Democratic nominee for Governor.

Each nominee is pledged to purify Lansing. That in itself is a co-incidence which makes the forthcoming campaign of novel interest.

At the Democratic state convention in Lansing, Van Wagoner pilloried the graft and corruption. Here is a quotation:

"This period in our history (three and one-half years) has been marked by one scandal after another, by malfeasance and misfeasance in high public office and by graft and corruption in high administration offices and in the halls of the state legislature."

And while Pontiac "Pat" was tossing brickbats through Republican windows, he warned voters that "the opposition will certainly drag many a red herring across the trail . . . The same methods of vilification and defamation will be used this time for the very simple reason that attention must be detracted from the manner in which the government of our state has been conducted the past three and one-half years."

The Republican "vilification", of course, would consist of counter-charges of graft and corruption, et al. The late Lieut. Governor Frank Murphy, for example. Politics is such a clean sport, you know.

When it comes to throwing out the rascals, Sigler is no amateur. His primary campaign was predicated on a pledge to do just that—clean up Lansing which he depicted as a sorry cesspool of iniquity. In fact, the state convention of the Republicans proceeded to adopt the Sigler purge by discarding such staunch Kelly followers as Secretary of State Herman H. Dignan, Auditor General John Morrison, and Attorney General John Dethmers. Only D. Hale Brake, state treasurer who bucked the Michigan National bank interests in the legislature, was spared the Sigler axe.

Now it must be conceded, for the sake of the record, that none of the repudiated state officials—Dignan, Morrison and Dethmers—merits the dubious distinction of being a rascal.

But having opposed crusading Kim by virtue of having pledged their support previously to Lieut. Governor Vernon J. Brown, they thereby became candidates for the Sigler ash can. It's just about as simple as that.

The Van Wagoner slate-makers gave the Upper Peninsula two places on the ticket. Thurman B. Doyle of Menominee was their choice for attorney general, and Marvin L. Coon of Escanaba for auditor general.

Sigler's advisors, mostly members of the state bar, favored lawyers. Only one of the six aspirants—governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, auditor general, secretary of state and state treasurer—is not an attorney. The single non-attorney is Fred M. Alger Jr., age 39, grandson of General Russell A. Alger of Civil War fame, who later served as governor, United States senator, and secretary of war under President McKinley. All six nominees reside in the lower Peninsula: Battle Creek, Dearborn, Port Huron, Grosse Pointe, Stanton, and Jackson.

Indicating a strategy to woo Wayne county votes, Democrats selected John L. Bannigan, Detroit attorney, for secretary of state, and John J. Kozarek, Wayne county treasurer since 1943, for state treasurer.

Sideshows at the November election will be several proposed constitutional amendments and the veterans' bonus.

One amendment would divert one-third of the state sales tax to local governments. Fifty per cent of this share would go to school districts on the school census basis; the remaining 50 per cent to townships, villages and cities on a per capita basis. Initiatory petitions assured a vote in November on this proposal.

Another amendment, placed on the ballot by the state legislature, would permit the state to spend money on internal improvements of airports.

The veteran bonus issue was the subject of a special session of the state legislature at Lansing last week. The bonds alone would cost approximately $270 millions; interest of bonds would add more millions to the final bill. The legislature created a $50 million dollar trust fund for Michigan war veterans whereby interest revenue will be available in perpetuity to veteran organizations.

All in all, the November ballots are deserving of the voters' careful attention.

The sales tax proposal involves between $30 and $40 millions of state revenue each year; the veterans' bonus would require issuance of state bonds and the obligation of a substantial indebtedness.

The political cry to "throw out the rascals" recalls a move made in the legislature recently to lengthen the terms of state elected officials from two to four years.

Van Wagoner served two years, only to lose out to Kelly. Kelly upset tradition by winning reelection for a second term. Four-year terms is usually favored by the incumbent who aspires for re-elections. The idea will pop up again. Leave it to some rascal!

Michigan miscellany: Lake front land along Lake Huron, Au Grea to Harrisville, is now selling from $18 to $25 per foot. In eight years 200 cottages have been built . . . Former Governor Chase S. Osborn and his daughter, Stellanova, were due to arrive at Duck Island, St. Mary's River, last Friday, July 12, from their winter home at Poulan, Georgia, better known as "Possum Poke in Possum Lane."

Isle Royale national park, only island national park in the U. S., will be formally dedicated Tuesday, August 27. This island is five hours' off Copper Harbor by Captain Charles Kauppi's 55-foot diesel-boat. George F. Bagley, Park superintendent, reports that the Belle Isle Camp on the north side has been re-opened for summer tourists. Only the Rock Harbor Lodge was open last summer.

Because of the well-published scare of food and accommodations shortages, Michigan tourist travel early in July was 22 per cent below 1941 levels, according to E. S. Matheson, Automobile Club of Michigan . . . The canal locks are now open to public inspection at Sault Ste. Marie . . . Pere Marquette railroad's new maize and blue diesel streamliners will make three round-trips daily between Grand Rapids and Detroit beginning late in July.

sent rating and by attendance at drills regularly and participation in cruises he may gain advancement with the increase in pay also.

All members of the reserve will receive pay for each drill or cruise they take part in and at the same rate they would get were they in the regular Navy. There are 18 different ratings under which men may join.

The government has based two patrol crafts and two YMS' at the Naval Armory in Detroit for use by the reserve. At the present time, Mr. Worth said, there are not sufficient personnel to operate any of the craft for a training cruise.

"We aim, said Mr. Worth, to make the reserve an interesting and enjoyable organization for all eligibles and at the same time give them an opportunity to advance in rating and pay without the need of re-enlisting in the regular Navy."

Mr. Worth urges all honorable naval discharges to contact him at his Plymouth home or telephone him at 874W4.

Those who feel able to drill at least one night a week and participate in an annual two-weeks cruise can belong to the organized reserve. The volunteer reserve is for those who are interested but cannot attend drills or participate in cruises.

Sorrow has its reward. It never leaves us where it found us. The furnace separates the gold from the dross that the precious metal may be graven with the image of God.—Mary Baker Eddy

Naval Reserve Scorned By Enlisted Men

Reactivation of Naval Reserve in Detroit is lagging because enlisted personnel who are eligible are not interested.

That's the dope straight from Warren Worth, former Plymouth city commissioner and honorably discharged naval lieutenant of World War II.

He said that reactivation plans called for a complement of 16 divisions composed of ten officers and 200 enlisted men each. So far there are lots of officers, Warren said, but hardly any enlisted men who are interested in participating.

Reactivation meetings are currently being held each Monday at 8 p.m. at the Naval Armory in Detroit.

Mr. Worth said the most common complaint among Plymouth discharges eligible to enlist is the distance they must drive to drill or attend meetings.

That is why Mr. Worth hopes to make it possible for the organization of a Dearborn unit of the Naval Reserve. Dearborn would cut the driving distance for members of the reserve who reside in Western Wayne County.

Mr. Worth points out that the reserve is organized on a strictly voluntary basis. Any time any officer or enlisted man wishes to drop out he may do so.

Any navy man holding an honorable discharge is eligible for membership in the Naval Reserve. He may go in at his pre-

156,000 Telephones Installed in Michigan in 6 Months ..

But 100,000 families are still waiting

Severe shortages of lead, copper and other materials which go into telephone equipment have upset our time-table for clearing up waiting lists. Even so, during the first half of this year, Michigan Bell
Installed new telephones at the fastest rate in its history—an average of 26,000 per month.
But also received new orders at the fastest rate in history—an average of 27,000 applications per month.
Added 340,000 miles of wire and installed enough additional central office switching equipment to serve 50,000 new customers.
Cleared waiting lists in 27 Michigan Bell exchanges.
As the second half of 1946 gets under way, there are still 100,000 families waiting for telephones. Of these, 49,000 have placed their orders since the first of the year.
We still have to expand our facilities in 200 exchanges to give service to everyone who has ordered a telephone.
We now hope that most of the orders for service received before January 1, 1946, can be filled by the end of the year. In some areas, of course, we expect to complete many orders received this year, but it may be late 1947 before we can return to a "ready-to-serve" basis everywhere.
Meanwhile, we are loading our present equipment far beyond its normal capacity, to shorten the wait for as many folks as possible. This may affect the quality of service for the time being. But normal service will return as we install the needed lines and equipment.
Waiting applicants can be certain that we are just as anxious as they are to see their orders filled at the earliest possible date.

★ Long Distance lines and switchboards serving Michigan resort areas are extra busy this summer. On calls to and from those areas, you'll get better service by avoiding the rush hours—10 A.M. to noon and 7 to 9 P.M. Keeping calls brief will help too.

The House That Jack Built

This is the house that Jack built.
This is the wife that keeps house in the house that Jack built.
This is the washer that does the wash that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.
This is the iron that irons the wash the washer washed, that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.
This is the wire that carries the power that heats the iron, and turns the washer that does the wash, that helps the wife keep house in the house that Jack built.

THIS is the story of better living—of electric living—in Jack's house. The tale could go on endlessly. For electricity is a servant of many talents, of which washing and ironing are but two.
The electric power that helps Jack's wife is always ready, dependable, available in any quantity at any time. And Jack doesn't need much jack to pay the bill.
This is the company that strings the wires and makes the power that gives the Jacks—and countless families like them—all the comforts and convenience of electric living.

Control Dogs and You Control Rabies

Controlling rabies is merely controlling the dogs. But Dr. B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pathology at Michigan State college, says controlling dogs is not so simple. Sentimental consideration for dogs and other factors interfere with well-intended quarantine restrictions, dog ordinances, and regulations. While most species of animals, including man, may become infected, the spread of hydrophobia is usually through the dog. It is not necessarily a seasonal disease, but it is more prevalent during warm weather because then the dogs travel most, Dr. Killham contends.

A dog, bitten by a rabid animal, may not develop rabies for weeks even months after introduction of the virus, Dr. Killham explains. By that time the dog may be many miles from the location where infected. He then starts a rampage of his own. Dr. Killham says actual reports show dogs travel as far as 60 miles while engaged in biting animals and persons.

Dr. Killham tells of a vaccine that has now been developed which will protect most dogs for a period of about a year after one treatment. Control of rabies, however, will never be effective until the movement of dogs is restricted; stray dogs eliminated; dog laws, ordinances and regulations obeyed and due regard given to dog quarantines.

"If the disease kills a child, that is a tragedy which we must charge to our own unwillingness to comply with sane, even though irksome, restrictions," Dr. Killham insists.

The founders of Portland, Oregon, a man named Pettygrove from Maine, and a Mr. Lovejoy from Massachusetts, had quite an argument about what they'd name their town. Finally they flipped a coin. Lovejoy, holding out for Boston, lost the toss to the booster of Portland, Maine.

July 4 in China Described By Plymouth Marine

Private First Class William E. Brown of the Marine Corps, a former Plymouth youth, is now stationed at Tientsin, China. He thought the people of Plymouth might be interested in how the Marines in China spent the Fourth of July.

With that in mind he wrote a detailed account of a celebration staged in Tientsin for the U. S. Marines. The Mail reprints it below.

"They had began when everyone who could get up had arrived in town, the Fourth of July, for a mammoth celebration. The parade swung down Victoria Road and through the heart of the city. The 1st Marine Aircraft Wing band and the band of the 11th Marine Corps furnished the music.

Troops took their places along with tracks and artillery of all kinds. It was quite a sight to see. The procession rolled past the reviewing stand where the commandants and other high ranking officers were. Chinese civilians and American Marines shared in the excitement. It was China's first Fourth of July observance in eight years.

At noon there was a turkey dinner. Five hundred of us were fed in an hour and a half. After dinner the Chinese staged a fireworks exhibition. It was swell.

Our special service unit played modern records between the selections by the two bands. Fireworks were going off all around us continually. The Chinese sure know how to stage fireworks exhibitions.

There was a series of games for the men with ten and twenty dollar cash prizes. The tug of war between the 11th Marines and Air Wing went to the former with $100 as the prize.

Then the ball game started. There was lots of money bet on the outcome but the threat of rain called off the game. The men retired to the High Life Club, a real U. S. club where the Marine Air Wing swing band holds forth.

With Chinese girls for partners we danced for hours and hours. The band played all the old favorites and the whole atmosphere was like that I used to enjoy at the Plymouth High school dances. It really made me homesick. Yet it is a swell feeling to have memories of the things I used to know and like so well.

Late in the evening we ate again at the club and then transferred to the roof garden. The rain had gone and the stars shone brightly. It was a glorious way to end a very happy day. I wish all my Plymouth friends might

His letter was very welcome at The Mail office and very thoughtful. We hope he will write again. Have had as nice a Fourth of July as I did."

Private First Class Brown writes that at present he is on temporary attached duty from Peiping going to clerical school. When his schooling is completed (six weeks of it) he will return to the Marine Service Squadron 24 of the First Marine Air Wing and work in the office at Peiping.

The shrinkage of savings and purchasing power due to enforced idleness will retard retail sales for several months, declared Gerald Hulett, vice-president of Electromaster, Inc., Detroit, after a ten-day trip through the Midwest. Retail sales continue high, but greater availability of merchandise accounts for a large part of the increase volume.

BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES YOUNG PEOPLE

Gloucester, Mass., July 26. — This city, like most communities, is having trouble with juvenile delinquency. It shows here especially in the breaking open of summer cottages and unoccupied buildings. In Wellesley, Mass., where I spend most of the year, it has been evident in the ruthless destruction of school property for which there is absolutely no excuse.

PARENTS ARE BLAMED
The police and school departments put the blame upon parents. They state that too many parents are either at work — or else out on parties, etc. — while the children are running fast and loose throughout the town. Perhaps this criticism is justified, but it should be remembered that the parents are paying the salaries of the policemen and school teachers. Of course, the parents should help more, but the police and the teachers have no right to dump it all back into the parents' laps.

In some homes both parents are obliged to work in order to pay the high living expenses and taxes that we have today. When I was a boy, the parents and school teachers cooperated. In fact, when I got a licking in school and my parents heard about it, I got another at home! But for some reason corporal punishment has entirely gone out of style in most school systems of today. The first step in eliminating juvenile delinquency is to restore corporal punishment in both the schools and the homes.

CODDLING YOUNG PEOPLE
Professional psychologists most of whom have no children of their own) say that children should be entertained more and at the public expense. In some cities, the police department is even getting up parties for the boys on Halloween so that they won't smash windows and destroy property. This philosophy seems very crazy to me. I speak both as a large employer of young people and as an educator with 300 students now on the Babson Institute Campus.

I believe in supervised playgrounds; also in the work of the YMCA, YMHA, CYO and similar organizations. More people should contribute to such activities; but appealing young people to prevent them from destroying property will accomplish no more than did the appealing of Germany to prevent her from destroying Europe.

WHAT IS THE REMEDY?
One remedy for juvenile delinquency is to repeal certain state laws as to employing minors. Boys who are strong enough to destroy buildings are strong enough to work in a store or on a farm. The original purposes of these labor laws may have been sound; but they have been carried too far. Corporal punishment may do something for these boys when the schools are in session; but only hard work can relieve them of their excess energy in the vacation period.

I have a granddaughter of college age whom I, personally desired to employ as a secretary this summer. To my great surprise, I was threatened with the law for not first getting permission from the town authorities to have her help me! Because of the various officials upon whom she was obliged to call, it took her two or three days to get the proper blanks filled out in order that she could work for me for a couple of weeks!

NEW POINT OF VIEW NEEDED
President Truman is not the only person who is cockeyed on labor problems. There are just as bad examples among the legislators of every state and especially among the school committees of most communities. Labor legislation is necessary and I am for it; but it should apply equally to employers and young people. Furthermore, habits of work should be taught in our public schools along with French, Latin, Music, and the so-called Social Studies. But first of all, churches, YMCAs, YMHAs, CYOs and other groups interested in reducing juvenile delinquency should get the laws changed so as to encourage the vacation employment of young people.

The State of Texas has 254 counties, fifty-nine of which are larger than Rhode Island. Congressman Wright Patman of Texas gives this illustration of the vastness of Texas: An official of a company in Chicago wired one of his agents in El Paso to go to Texas for a business transaction. The agent wired back, "Send someone from Chicago. It's closer."

William Penn landed on the west shore of the Delaware River where Chester, Pennsylvania, now stands. That was in 1682, and the point at which he stepped ashore is marked by a small stone enclosed by a low iron picket fence. Today, that marker is four hundred yards from the water.

Twelve pheasants were placed in the game refuge just west and south of the village last Saturday. There are 105 acres in the refuge, and it is under state control. While in the past it is known some "poaching" has been done on the preserve, it is strictly against the law to kill any kind of game there. Hunters are especially warned to keep off the grounds, as prosecution will surely follow.

COMMUNICATION TO: Village Commissioners: We still have the rocks and boulders with us. Recently one of these rocks was thrown by an automobile and hit Mr. H. Laible, who was standing upon his lawn. He was very lame for some time. Another case: One was thrown through the large front window of Mrs. George Peterhan's; this will cost her over $15. to replace. They are thrown onto the lawns by the dozen every day. The village ought at least to pay for the window. One-half day's work by a man with a rake and two hours with a team would rid the street of this menace. Another thing; please drive over the M. crossing on Farmer street. Just a notice to the railroad company and that could be made safe for travel, no expense to the village at all. It might be a good thing for the commissioners to go around the village once in a while and look at these things. If you are waiting for the County Road Commissioners to act, you will have some wait. They are using the village for a dumping ground. How about the village limit signs? Still there at this writing. — E. N. Passage
