Attorney General John Dethmers who was defeated for renomination at the recent state convention, shows the right spirit for one who doesn't always win in a political battle. He has sent a letter to Republican friends throughout the state urging them to support Kim Sigler for Governor and the whole Republican ticket.

WAY DOWN SOUTH.
Recent election returns seem to indicate that southern voters haven't changed their minds very much about the colored question. Senator Bilbo had more votes in Mississippi for renomination as senator than all of his opponents put together. That, in Mississippi, is equivalent to election.

CONGRATULATIONS, JUDGE STARR.
Michigan residents have reason to be well satisfied with the action of the United States senate when its judicial committee approved the appointment of Justice Raymond Starr as United States District Judge for western Michigan.

THE VOICE OF THE VOTERS.
Big "shots," little "shots" and peewees were gleaned in the long delayed indictments that were recently voted by the state grand jury up in Lansing. These were the indictments that had been anticipated just before alleged grafters were able to bring about the discharge late last winter of Kim Sigler as special state prosecutor.

SOMETHING MORE TO THINK ABOUT.
John Espie, veteran member of the house of representatives and chairman of the house ways and means committee, the other day in a talk before a conference of highway officials, asserted that he could see but one way to solve the construction and maintenance problems of the highways of Michigan and that would be by establishing a five cent, instead of a four cent gasoline tax for Michigan.

THAT NEW AUTOMOBILE.
Still trying to buy that new automobile you thought you were going to be able to purchase just as soon as you got out of the armed forces?
Haven't got it yet—and the prospects are not too good, did you say?

HONOR U. S. DEAD IN EUROPE. . . . White crosses and stars in every country where American soldiers fought against Hitler's army, bear testimony to the sacrifice of U. S. lives. News has been received in Plymouth of the death of Mrs. Stephen A. Sears, a daughter of Charles and Mary Valentine, pioneer residents of Plymouth. Older residents will recall that the Valentine home stood on Main street where Dr. Patterson built the home many years ago that is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sharpley.

Mrs. Sears was a former teacher in the Plymouth high school, retaining this position until she was married to Austin Wheeler of Toledo. One daughter was born to them. She is Mrs. George Berkeley, at present a resident of Grand Rapids.

After the death of Mr. Wheeler, she married Stephen A. Sears.

president of the National Biscuit company, who preceded her in death several years ago. He left one daughter, three grandchildren and several great grandchildren and several nephews and nieces residing in Lexington, Mass.

The ashes of Mrs. Sears will be brought to Plymouth sometime this fall by her daughter and placed near the burial place of her mother and father in Riverside cemetery. Mrs. Valentine, the mother of Mrs. Sears, was a daughter of the Fralick family, pioneers of Plymouth. Fralick avenue was named after this family.

Mrs. Jennie Foreman

Jennie W. Bryant Foreman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Bryant, who died last Saturday, was born August 18, 1870 at St. Johns, Mich.

Before her marriage, Jennie Bryant lived in this vicinity and attended school with some of the residents of Salem.

On November 14, 1886, she married Alfred Foreman of Salem. All of their married life, Mr. and Mrs. Foreman lived near Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Foreman celebrated their golden wedding and had Mrs. Foreman lived until November 14, they would have celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

For the past four or five years, she had been in failing health; nevertheless she was always busy doing her own housework. Last Tuesday before she was taken with a stroke she was out hoeing her garden. She was immediately taken to Session's Hospital where she never regained consciousness. She passed away Saturday, July 27th, at 1:30 a.m. In the past she and her family attended the Congregational Church and Sunday school in Salem. She bore faithful testimony to her family and friends by her lovely Christian character.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, two sons, Earl and Edmund, a grandson, Teddy Foreman, five sisters, Mrs. Millie Clark of Charlotte, Mrs. May Jones of Milford, Mrs. Hazel See of Highland, Mrs. Betty Highfield of Holly, Mrs. Cilia Martin of St. Johns, and a brother, Elsworth Bryant. One sister and a brother preceded her in death.

Funeral services were held in the Congregational church of Salem Monday at 2 o'clock, July 29th. Rev. Lucia Stroh, pastor of the church, officiated. Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Hamilton Seafoss sang "I AM Thine O Lord" and "The Red Rugged Cross." Interment was at Riverside, Plymouth.

Harry A. Blessing

Funeral services will be held Saturday, August 3rd at 4 p.m. from the Schrader Funeral Home for Harry A. Blessing who passed away early Thursday morning, August 1st after a long illness. Mr. Blessing resided at 120 Union Street, and is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary S. Blessing, three daughters and two sons, Mrs. Catherine F. Avers of Pontiac, Mrs. Eleanor M. Gothard, Mrs. Anna Lou Blessing, Harry A. Blessing, Jr. and Donald E. Blessing, all of Plymouth, two grandchildren and a host of friends. Rev. A. K. MacRoe will officiate. Interment will be made in Riverside Cemetery.

Miss Ruby Griswold of Wavne has been spending a few days with her family. Sunday, the Griswold family had a picnic dinner at Murrays Lake.

Douglas Robinson of Ann Arbor was a Sunday evening visitor at the Burton Rich home.

Take My Word For It!
By FRANK COLBY

WORDS TO WATCH

Q.—Why do so many people put a "z" sound in the words "absorb" and "resources"?

A.—Why, indeed? The mispronunciations "absorb" and "resources" may result from false association with words like "observe, result." Whatever the reason, American dictionaries do not sanction the "z" sound, and speakers who are mindful of their accents will wisely avoid the "z" for readers in goodly numbers have written to tell me that they dislike "absorb" and "resources" heartily.

Be sure to use the sanctioned pronunciations: ab-SAWRB and ree-SORE-sez; or, second choice: REE-sore-sez.

In the word "modern," the "r" is often transposed as if the word were spelled "modron," thus: "MOD-run." Conversely, such words as children, hundred, apron are corrupted the other way around, as: "CHILL-derm, HUN-derd, AY-perm."

The pesky "r's" should be kept strictly in their proper places. Be sure to say: MOD-ern, CHILL-dren, HUN-dred, AY-prun.

From G. T., East Hickory, Pa.: I was afraid of it. Now it has happened. Contrary to sane reasoning, some old-time savant arbitrarily ruled that the compound word "epitome" should be pronounced "ee-PIT-oh-me" instead of the natural "EP-i-tome." And pronounce Penelope as "pee-NELL-oh-pee"? I will not!

A.—As I have often observed, English is like that. And as to your own pronunciations, say 'em as you wish, sir, and be proud of your American right of free speech.

No place name is of greater importance in the American scheme of things than Honolulu. Despite the fact that we have listened to countless broadcasts from the chief city and capital of the territory of Hawaii (hah-WY-ee), most of us still cling to the out-of-date pronunciation "HAH-nuh-LOO'luh."

The English spelling of Hawaiian is strictly phonetic.

Honolulu is pronounced: HOE-noe-LOO'loo.

Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

The duty of a man is plain and simple, and consists but of two points: his duty to God, which every man must feel; and his duty to his neighbor, to do as he would be done by.—Thomas Paine

There is no mean work, save that which is sordidly selfish; no irreligious work, save that which is morally wrong; in every sphere of life the post of honor is the post of duty.—E. H. Chapin

Child Health Day Points Progress Within Nation

Small fries have their individual troubles while building health at New York City boys' club.

Pageants, clean-up drives, baby and dental clinics, radio programs and athletic events will mark May 1 as National Child Health Day. This day was first set aside as National Child Health Day in 1924, under the auspices of the American Health association, as a revival of the traditional festival day. It has become less a one-day festivity than a stimulus and adjunct to the permanent work of communities in promotion of the welfare of children. The interpretation of health has been enlarged to convey a sense of wholeness, the child being considered in his complete unity—physical, mental and spiritual.

Sixth Service Absorbed By Fifth Army

General Walton H. Walker, who recently was appointed Commanding General of the Fifth Army Area announces that the Sixth Service Command which originally was composed of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois will be absorbed by the Fifth Army. Following in line with this new reorganization of the Army, Colonel Walter C. Cole, Commanding Officer of the Michigan Recruiting District has reorganized the Michigan district into a new set-up composed of 18 Main Stations. These stations are located at 21 Cadillac Square, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Ferndale, Monroe, Pontiac, Port Huron, Battle Creek, Jackson, Kalamazoo, St. Joseph, Grand Rapids, Cheboygan, Muskegon, Traverse City, Lansing, Bay City, Flint and Saginaw.

In the War Department's new policy of streamlining the overall administration of installations within the United States, Colonel Cole has announced that this set-up has eliminated one channel of command in the general echelon of commands. Colonel Cole has appointed Lt. Col. Nicholas W. Dragneff as Director of the new Operations & Training Division. Lt. Col. Charles Howe, Commanding Officer of the Grand Rapids Recruiting Area has been transferred to the Headquarters in Detroit and will be the Executive Officer in charge of the Field Service of this Division. Caution—Soft Shoulders!

No, it's not a roadside warning to motorists: It's a fashion prediction for teens. We've been previewing your spring and summer dresses and we think it's time to tell you that fashion is going to give you the cold shoulder this year. You can start looking for these style trends in your favorite teen department any day now.

Off-Shoulder—Nothing could be dreamier than a printed cotton or rayon dress with widely cut neckline that can be worn off-shoulder style. We call it the "Angel-face" neckline, and not because it makes your wings stick out, either.

One-Shoulder—Don't look now, but your one shoulder's showing. The most swoonsational dress of the season bares one shoulder and covers the other with a short sleeve. It's siren stuff.

Gotta Be This or That—It's all done with a drawing on those new spring-into-summer blouses. Pull in the drawing for a modest round neckline; let it out for off-shoulder allure. Depends on what you have in mind.

FOUR'S A CROWD
If you're looking for trouble, Here's how you can score some: Invite your Best Friend To make up a Foursome Your boy is a Dream Boat, Her Drip is a loss—So, what's the result? Double Date? DOUBLE CROSS!

Daffinitions
Let's Ad Lib—Let's Dance. Hubba With Freckles—YOUR New Name for Van. Human Gimme Pig—A demarcating, mercenary girl. Coming in on a Beam—Every thing's under control. Frim Fram Sauce—Your new name for any goopy syrup at the Corner Casbah. Eek, a Freak!—An exclamation denoting that a Drip is approaching. Snub Dub—A snobbish sub-club. Feature Man—Same as O.A.O. E.S.G.—Extra Special Guy. Ray Cording's Orchestra—That's whom you say the music is by when you give a Platter Party.

This fashionably designed rain outfit complete with umbrella, and cape-cap, with wrap-around neck protection, is made of a new synthetic rubber.

TUESDAY IS FINAL DAY TO ENTER CITY GOLF TOURNAMENT

9 p.m. next Tuesday, Aug. 6. Some Plymouth amateurs do not believe they stand any chance of finishing in the money but intend participating for the sheer sport it will offer.

The qualifying rounds on Saturday, Aug. 10, will be 18 holes and will be played in threesomes. Starting times of the players will be announced in The Mail on Aug. 9. Sixty-four golfers out of the field of qualifiers will be divided into four flights of 16 each. Match play elimination series will scheduled for Sunday, August 11; Saturday, Aug. 17; Sunday, Aug. 18; and Saturday, Aug. 24. There also will be a victory banquet following the play on Saturday, Aug. 24 at which time the various awards will be made. Mayor Robert Lidgard will present the trophies and prizes to the various winners at the close of the dinner.

Prizes and trophies are now on display in the window of the Davis & Lent store on Penniman. Regardless of your average, Todd urges that you enter the tournament as soon as possible. Remember the last day for entries is Tuesday, Aug. 6, and not later than 9 p.m.

Free Press Gets His Picture

Plymouthites were happily surprised last Tuesday when they saw a picture of Harry R. Lush, theater operator here, in the Detroit Free Press. Lush was pictured standing beside a seaplane which visited the boat livery dock of Charles Kenyon, 75, at Sage Lake, Ogemaw County, where Mr. Lush frequently goes fishing. The livery, operated there the last 53 years by Mr. Kenyon, never before had been visited by a seaplane. The plane, piloted by Richard Boettcher, of Detroit, flew Kenyon's son and Mr. Lush to the lake just to say hello to the elder Kenyon. A photographer was on hand to record the event.

Michigan suffered the largest loss of motor vehicle registrations, both in number and percentage, of any states during 1945. There were 1,453,573 private and commercial vehicles in the state during 1945, a drop of 23,334 or 1.6 per cent under 1944.

RAILROAD FUTURE GREAT SPEAKER TELLS ROTARIANS

(Continued from Page One) our Government and our Industry. It therefore will be clear to you, that in our thinking together today, on the subject "The Future of the Railroads," we are in effect considering what may be expected of this great industry in a post-war era...

"This industry has a spirit; to me an unconquerable spirit. That spirit is composed of the combined loyalties of those who are Railroad people. And it is because of this abstract, but highly important factor that the Railroad industry looks to the future with confidence and optimism."

allow these other forms of transportation to choose the cream of the crop, take it for their own, and leave to the rails what is undesirable looked at from their angle. We will do nothing of the kind. If traffic is to be lost, to a competing agency, that agency must first prove it can transport it as cheap or cheaper, and as satisfactory or better, because we intend to hold our business, by serving you and all of our patrons with efficient, dependable and modern transportation.

"Leadership of Railroad Labor is ordinarily statesmanlike and is conducted on a high and honorable plane. One has to be informed of the story behind the story to understand the action of Messrs. Whitney and Johnson. You will probably hear more from the former as time goes on. Politics is indeed an interesting subject. And Labor Unions are not free from political influences and competitive angles one with another. But behind all of this publicity are the men who run the trains, and engines, switch the cars, operate the yards and stations and offices, dispatch the trains, and keep the track, bridges and equipment in good condition. These are good honest, upright people. They like their railroad. It makes them mad when they believe that we are doing a poor job of managing it."

"So to me the future looks bright for the Railroads because they are anxious, and willing to meet the challenging times that lie before us. Challenging, difficult, thought-provoking, interesting and who would have it otherwise."

"Railroads have a Spirit of vitality, a Will, that is being correctly interpreted in an increasing degree by all railroad people. They are pulling together that a good performance for patrons may result in holding and attracting business. We know that job security is dependent upon a thriving industry, and we intend to provide more than more jobs, and buy more and more supplies, equipment and materials and thereby perpetuate for America a Railroad Industry second to none, and alive to the present and future development of our great Country."

Superintendents of schools from Michigan communities over 10,000 population recently gave unanimous approval to the principle of teaching students to drive while in high school.

204 Jobless Get Aid Last Week

Two hundred four residents of Plymouth and vicinity were period unemployment benefits last week by the Plymouth office of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission, according to Mrs. Grace H. Miller, chief claims examiner.

This figure includes 132 jobless veterans paid readjustment allowances and 72 industrial claimants. Thirty one of the latter group were women.

According to Mrs. Miller there were 39 initial claims for the week, an increase of five over the previous week. Of this number 18 were veterans and eight were women.

Blames Parents For Failures

Parents and teachers are more to blame for failures of high school students than are the pupils themselves, a University of Michigan educator believes.

George E. Carrothers, director of the University's Bureau of Cooperation with Educational Institutions, says that among major reasons for high school failures are the heavy load carried by teachers, parental unconcern for the education of their children and community misunderstanding of real education.

"Increasing the number of teaching and other duties merely spreads the teacher a bit thinner and makes the teaching less satisfactory to both staff and pupils," Carrothers comments. "When we turn to the schools for help on every conceivable type of community enterprise, it is no wonder that the teaching is not up to standard."

Nearly 100 per cent of the poor performance of children is the fault of adults, Carrothers charges. Parental indifference is demonstrated by the failure of parents to visit the schools and become acquainted with teachers, by their failure to supervise the study of their children, and by their unwillingness to stay at home evenings with their children to develop a satisfactory home life.

The community at large likewise shares in the blame for school failures, the University educator believes. Communities oftentimes do not realize or understand what education really is. They mistake diplomas or grades for education, and therefore insist that children receive passing grades or be graduated from high school whether or not they have learned anything.

Of course, there are other reasons for pupils failure, Carrothers admits. Among these are lack of interest on the part of the pupils, lack of understanding of pupils by the teacher, inability of youth to do the work expected, "spoon feeding" in home and school, and rigidity of school curriculum and requirements for both teachers and pupils.

Hi-12 Club Picnic Was Outstanding Success

Everyone agreed the picnic of Plymouth's Hi-12 Club last Saturday at the home of Warden Blake Gillies, Detroit House of Correction, was a huge success.

The entertainment was acclaimed by all as outstanding. The ventriloquist, Earl Gotberg, was said to be Bergen's equal and then some. Magic acts by Waldo Hosteter were excellent.

Walter Rensel was chairman of the entertainment committee, assisted by Howard Sharpley, William Machan, George Raviller, Charles Huebler and Clarence Schuler. It was through the efforts of Mr. Huebler that the ventriloquist was obtained. Mr. Schuler was responsible for obtaining the magician.

City People Make Up Half of Buyers In Farm Sale Boom

The number of transfers of farms in Michigan in the last three years has been about double the normal turnover according to Karl T. Wright, farm management specialist at Michigan State college. A survey, being conducted by this department with the U. S. Department of agriculture, also reveals that about half of the buyers of Michigan farm land are city persons.

Wright believes this is a higher percentage than in other states. He believes that many persons, living in our industrial cities, were raised on farms and have a "yen" to own a farm.

"There are two types of buyers of this group. One is the factory worker who went through the last depression in the city. He thinks a small place in the country would provide him greater security in the event of another depression. The other city buyer is one of the wealthier class who wants a farm as a hobby. His income during the war years has been high, and even if he loses money operating the farm, the reduction in his income tax will almost equal the loss," Wright explains.

The other half of the buyers, Wright says, are either farm owners or tenants purchasing farm land. Most of these are owners who are buying additional land to have a larger and more efficient farming unit. The smallest group is that of tenants becoming established as owners.

Michigan land prices remain above the U. S. average and the March 1946 figures were 13 points above the 1920 peak, Wright pointed out. Before the price break in 1920, Michigan land prices stood lower than the United States average, Wright's figures reveal.

Egg Production Can Be Kept High

The hot season of the year is when laying hens normally slump in production. J. M. Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State college, says once they quit laying, hens are valuable only as meat. Then they should either be marketed or prepared for home consumption.

The poultry specialist says, however, this slump can be minimized by proper summer management practices. He suggests a few such practices to be followed by the poultryman who wants to keep production at a high level.

Hot weather causes poor appetites in hens too. Reduce the amount of scratch feed given and force them to eat more laying mash. Eight pounds of scratch grain per 100 hens daily is adequate for July and August feeding, Moore declares. Feeding of wet mash at noon will increase feed intake. Use milk or water to make the laying mash crumbly wet, and give the hens only what they will clean up in about 15 minutes time is Moore's suggestion.

Lice and mites do much to cut summer egg production. Lice live on the birds. Mites stay in cracks and crevices near the roosts and nests. The treatment must be different for each parasite.

For lice, Moore advises you to apply a very thin strip of Black-leaf '40' on each perch in the afternoon and be sure all birds use the perches that night. To kill the second generation, repeat the treatment in 12 days.

For mites, paint the nests, perches and perch supports with equal parts of crank-case oil and kerosene, Moore suggests. Another sure treatment is to use a material such as carbolineum or C-A-Wood Preserver in the same manner. These last two materials should not be allowed to come in contact with the human skin, Moore warns.

"Lice and mites are two of the worst egg-thieves the poultryman can allow in his laying house," the poultry specialist charges.

Reports Reveal Farm and Home Not Safe Places

Contrary to popular opinion, farming is not the safest occupation, and neither is home the safest place. Fred W. Roth, extension safety specialist at Michigan State college, reveals that more than 16,000 farm people were killed in 1945 and 1,500,000 were injured. Agriculture employs about one-sixth of all the workers, but has one-fourth of the occupational accidents, which gives it a death rate one and one-half times higher than the all-industry rate.

More farm people lose their lives by accidents in the home than any other place on the farm. Last year accidents in and around the farm home took a toll of 6,500 lives. Falls and burns were the chief causes of accidental home deaths every year. Stairs without handrails, broken steps, slippery rugs and floors, and improvised ladders are the most common conditions causing people to fall to their death. Burns from gasoline and kerosene explosions, and those resulting from failure

State Apple Growers Like Quality Varieties

The four outstanding representatives of high quality apple varieties available to consumers today are the four leading apple varieties grown in Michigan. A recent survey made by the American Pomological society reveals that Jonathan, McIntosh, Northern Spy and Delicious are Michigan's leading varieties. Cooperating with the pomological society in the survey were the American Nurserymen's association, Michigan fruit growers and the department of horticulture at Michigan State college.

Dr. H. Tukey, head of the department of horticulture at MSC says "intentions to plant" of growers showed these four varieties leading. The varieties voted growers, Dr. Tukey said, were of the lower quality varieties of Ben Davis, Duchess and Wolf River.

Michigan growers, Dr. Tukey revealed, are out to make 1946 a good crop year with fruit of good quality, size, color and finish. This they hope to offer the consumer in comparison to the 1945 crop, which due to unfavorable conditions, was one in which the growers were not proud of their product.

In addition to their own passenger cars, farmers use 34 per cent of the motor trucks now in service in the United States.

If you have any items of interest about your family or friends please call Plymouth 6.

Fertilize Rhu barb And Asparagus Now

Feeding rhu barb and asparagus plants now means a heavier crop next year, says Jack Rose, Michigan State college extension specialist in home gardening. Both of these perennial crops are busy making and storing plant food in their roots. This stored reserve will be used next spring to produce the early crop for harvest. Fertilizers applied after the harvest season provide materials to help the plant make a better growth and store more food.

For the home garden, straight nitrogen fertilizer such as ammonium nitrate or ammonium sulfate may be used. A mixed fertilizer such as the 10-6-4 lawn fertilizer will do. Apply fertilizers as a side dressing along the row, using 5 or 6 pounds of nitrogen fertilizer per 100 feet of row or 10 to 12 pounds of 10-6-4 material.

Of course, asparagus and rhu barb should have an application of fertilizer again next spring.

Success of Michigan's Rural Progress Caravan last winter, brought a request to the Michigan State college extension service from the U. S. Department of Agriculture for the loan of George Amundson to tell other states about the Michigan labor-saving device show.

Amundson, agricultural engineering Michigan State college and director of the show, is now in the southeast section of the United States explaining the program to extension officials of those states. He will spend two weeks out of each month for the next four months contacting other states for the Federal Emergency Farm Labor Program.

How Your Television "Commercial" Will Look

To enhance an impressive list of pioneering "firsts," Chevrolet now engages in another pioneering venture as the first motor car manufacturer to sponsor a regular commercial television show. Admittedly an exploratory venture to evaluate the possibilities of television as an advertising medium, these broadcasts were the first employing live talent to be sponsored by any automobile producer. Four weekly shows were staged by Chevrolet and broadcast through the facilities of the American Broadcasting Company's television network. The shows were televised at the Dumont Studios in New York for the three stations currently teamed in the ABC television network. Shown above is a scene from the second of the series, a half-hour program titled "Roads to Romance."

Not Single Rent Eviction Case Started here During Period that Rent Control was Officially Dead

Although congress has restored rent control, Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that there was not one single eviction proceeding started in this city during the period that rent control was off.

Municipal Judge Rustling Cutler stated yesterday that the only eviction cases he had handled were those that had been authorized by OPA, but these were all previous to the time that congress permitted the rent control law to expire.

A survey of local conditions also reveals the interesting fact that there were only three or four isolated cases of rent increases here that were regarded as out-of-line.

In two of these cases the rent increases were made for the sole purpose of forcing the tenants to move, due to trouble the property owners had had with them, state the property owners.

Now that congress has re-enacted a new OPA law investigators and inspectors out of the Detroit office have started making personal calls on representative merchants to explain provisions of the new law and to enlist their aid in placing them in operation.

In addition, a comprehensive survey of the used car market, which officials said showed the most marked price boosts here, was instituted in an effort to roll back prices to the June ceilings.

Manager L.L. Farrell of Detroit, who is in charge of this district said that merchants and retailers would have ample time to become familiar with the new law but promised strict enforcement for violations after that.

Farrell explained that under provisions of the bill all commodities except two notable groups automatically returned to the ceiling prices of June 30. This included a rollback in rents to the old levels.

The first group includes petroleum and petroleum products, poultry and eggs and their derivatives and tobacco, on which ceilings have been removed unless the de-control board created by the act affirmatively moves to restore them.

The second group, termed most essential by Farrell, includes livestock, dairy products and foods made from them, cottonseed, soybeans and grains for livestock or poultry feed.

No ceilings will be put on these items until at least Aug. 21 and on that date only if the de-control board so orders, Farrell said.

The prices of all other commodities such as new cars, apparel, appliances, radios and canned and processed foods revert to the June 30 ceiling except where the agency in Washington grants price boosts under the profit formula inserted in the bill.

"Retailers are bound to observe ceiling," Farrell explained. "And on goods purchased at high figures just prior to revival of the OPA, they may be forced to suffer losses. There is no other recourse."

He added that the general price level in Detroit, except for used cars, followed the national upward trend of about a 30 per cent increase.

Farrell flatly predicted a meat shortage for this area later in the year.

More than 7,000 phone calls each day flooded the OPA offices, 600 Griswold, the first two days after the bill was revived.

Isolation Best Polio Prevention

Remaining away from crowds when infantile paralysis is prevalent probably is the best way to guard against contracting the disease, according to Dr. Gordon C. Brown of the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

"Such voluntary isolation does not mean a person should shut himself off from civilization," the assistant professor of epidemiology indicates, "but does mean staying out of crowded public places, such as swimming pools, restaurants and theaters."

"The method of transmission of the disease has not been established at the present time but it is thought by scientists that the overall method of isolation is the best way to guard contracting it," Dr. Brown explains.

Although conclusive proof is lacking, researchers think the respiratory route and the gastrointestinal route present the most likely methods of transmission of the disease which usually strikes children from five to 15 years of age during July, August and September, but may attack at any time of the year. They also see the possibility that some insects, including flies, may be involved in transmission in some circumstances.

Parents should be on the alert for symptoms of the early stages of the disease in their children. Such symptoms can be headache, fever, nausea and vomiting, diarrhea or stiff neck, but these also may indicate presence of some other disease instead, Dr. Brown states.

Since the virus of poliomyelitis can be isolated from the gastrointestinal tract of patients and has even been found in sewage contaminated water, this method of transmission is suspected, he says. The virus also has been isolated at infrequent intervals in the respiratory tract of patients and on flies.

Epidemics of the disease, which may attack adults as well as children, occurred in Detroit in 1939 and 1944 and 1945. The rest of the state, excluding Detroit, suffered an epidemic in 1940, but there was little poliomyelitis in Michigan between 1940 and 1944, Dr. Brown indicates.

Northville Race Meet One of Nation's Best

If anyone still harbors the notion that harness racing belongs in the realm of the county fair, the facts and figures at Northville Downs this spring will quickly dispell the idea. The 23-day meet last spring showed a grand total of $1,138,081.00 as compared with $1,283,014.00 For the first twelve days this year. For a closer comparison, the first eleven days in 1945 aggregated $420,442 with an average daily handle of $38,222. This year twelve days gives an average daily handle of well over $106,000. Northville is topping such notable race tracks as Bay Meadows and Old Orchard. There can be no doubt that the popularity of harness racing under the lights is steadily on the upgrade. Saturday night set a new all time high when $141,713 was wagered on the nine races with the attendance set at 10,670.

It is the kind of racing seen at Northville Downs that is putting harness racing in the limelight. Every night is packed with close finishes, the photo having to decide in many events. Every night track records are broken or equalled, and on last Saturday night Glenyce set a new world's record for trotting a nine-sixteenth of a mile. She clipped 2 1/4 seconds off the previous record of 1:10 and the new record stands at 1:07 3/4. On Monday night Louis Huber, Jr., her driver and the son of her owner, was presented with $100.00 by the Northville Downs Association in appreciation of her great performance.

Clay Hasch, who has been driving for 32 years and has some 2,200 races to his credit, brought Josedale Lynn in on top, and a $2.00 win ticket on her paid $99.20. Blue Again, that winner of the $50,000. Pacing Derby at Santa Anita, came out again on Wednesday night and beat such horses as Little Jack, holder of the world's record of 3:15 for 1 1/2 mile, Volo H (2:02 1/2), and Son G (2:03 1/2). In one evening's program Mrs. Forrest Burrigott 63 year old grandmother and the mother of seven children, chalked up two victories, one with her daughter's Kinny Wynn, and the other with Puzette.

Saturday night saw another great race when Little Jack took the 9/16 dash of the Free for All Pace and tied the track record of 1:08, just a half second off the world's record. Charming Scot did not complete in this race, and Blue Again finished fourth. The mile and a sixteenth division of this race was all that was anticipated when Charming Scot came back again to defend her championship taken on the previous Saturday. Blue Again offered him a real challenge and was only nosed at the wire. The time equalled the track record of 2:13 set by Charming Scot July 20th.

Miss Ruby proved Saturday night that she is still an excellent mare. She served notice that she is again ready after her break down in Chicago when she stepped out and won the 12 Class Pace like a true champion. She may even prove to be a real threat to Charming Scot and Blue Again and next Saturday night she will have a chance to show what she can do with some real competition. In addition to these Little Jack, Prince Yakima, Goldy Scot, and Volo H will be among the great performers on the track. Among the free-for-all trotters will be Glenyce, Louellen, and Earl's Moody Guy. The featured race of the evening will be a 1 1/2 mile free for all pace. From all indications another record breaking program will be run off at Northville Downs on next Saturday night.

1941 Derby Champ Says His Coaster Still The Fastest

James McAllister, of the Northville road McAllisters, this week issued a challenge to any of the drivers in this year's coaster derby.

"I'll race them anytime on any hill they choose, he said, and turn in a faster time than any of them did in the official derby last Wednesday."

You see, Jim won the 1941 coaster derby in Plymouth with a better time than the winner recorded this year. He has maintained his racer, that took him a year to construct, and is still confident it will go faster than any of this year's crop.

Jim was slightly burned up when he read in The Mail that this year's winner had the fastest time ever recorded in a Plymouth coaster classic.

"Heck, chortled Jim, I won the 1941 classic with a time of 31.6 seconds for the thousand-yard course. Hammond's time of 37.2 was mighty good but not faster than mine the way I figure it."

Jaycee officials agreed that they had been mistaken in heralding this year's winner as turning out in the fastest time. Jim went out to the course last Saturday and without the use of a starting ramp he covered the distance in his five-year-old racer in 34 seconds flat.

Jim wants it understood that he isn't mad at anybody. He also is not making slighting statements about any of the racers built for this year's classic nor the winner of the derby.

He just didn't want his racer to be forgotten during the five years the war put an end to coaster derbies in this country. His racer to him is like a ship to a sailor.

Jim believes his coaster is just as good as it was in 1941 when it carried him to the coaster championship of Plymouth. That's why he has issued the challenge for a special match with this year's winner or any of the contestants who drove in the coaster classic last Wednesday.

"I may be sticking my neck out, Jim declared, but I don't believe so. I hope some one of those swell kids with coasters take me up on the challenge and settle it publicly."

Legion 9 Defeats VFW Team 7 to 4

Sundays results in the Michigan Inter-County Class A Baseball League left Garden City and Zephyr still tied for second place and Passage-Gayde still with a chance for the league playoffs.

Ham Kubinsky and Tom De Bozy hit home runs to keep the playoff hopes of Passage-Gayde alive while the Plymouth entry was trouncing Orchard Lake, 7-4.

Plymouth's other entry in the league—Cloverdale Dairy—lost a mound duel to Wayne, 6-5.

Garden City dimmed Pluckey's hopes for a playoff berth by humbling them 13-8 while Zephyr was busy scoring nine runs in the last three frames to nose out South Lyon, 10-7.

The league will close its regularly scheduled season this week-end. Cloverdale Dairy will play Pluckey at Cass Benton Park at 3 p.m. while Passage-Gayde meets Garden City at Riverside Park at the same hour.

Tips On Soap Saving

It's needless to tell the housewife that soap saving is a real necessity these days. But Miss Laura P. Davis, extension specialist in home management, gives the homemaker a few tips on how to make the soap go farther and how to make the clothes cleaner.

Too much soap in the washing machine not only is wasteful but does not do as good a job as the right amount. It is wasteful to use soap as a water softener. There are many softeners on the market to day and they are less expensive than soap.

Water softener, however, should be thoroughly dissolved before the soap is added. It will, however, reduce the amount of soap required, if you give it a chance to do its job before you add the soap. Five to three to five minutes. Always measure the quantities to be used, after determining by experimentation the right amount necessary for the water you use. A two-inch suds on the washwater is the most desirable. Find out how much soap it takes for that suds—then measure the amount in the future.

A thorough rinsing of the clothes will lengthen the life of the fabric, Miss Davis contends. Not only do you have that "tattle-tale gray" look in your white clothes if not properly rinsed, but you will weaken the textile fibres. Hot soft water is ideal for rinsing. Soft water dissolves the soap without leaving a scum or sediment. The first rinse should be about the same temperature as the suds and of softened water, but later rinses may be lukewarm. For a good job, two or three rinses in clear water are needed until the water shows no trace of soapiness.

The path of duty lies in what is near, and men seek for it in what is remote.—The work of duty lies in what is easy, and men seek for it in what is difficult.—Mencius

High Producing Milk Cows Save Feed and Pay Higher Profits

Five high-producing cows can easily produce more profit over and above feed costs than 25 low-producing cows, according to A. C. Baltzer, extension dairy specialist at Michigan State college.

For this reason, the problem of the dairyman is about the same as it has always been—that is, getting milk production returns to exceed feed and labor costs.

The dairy specialist points out that as production per cow per year increases, feed costs per hundred pounds of milk produced go down. Owing to exceedingly high costs of feed and labor at this time, quality milk cows are paying off higher percentages of returns than in low feed and labor cost periods.

Dairyman can best cut down the feed cost by the following methods:

Use more and better roughage; Weed out unit, low-producing and inferior cows, and Condition dry cows and heifers due for fall freshening.

High labor cost, Baltzer said, is another problem the dairyman is facing today in making a profit. Less labor is required, he points out, to handle a few good high-producing animals than a large number of poor milk producers.

Labor Unrest Causing Business To Spread Activities to Small Towns

By Gene Allman

Mary Jane Hayden

Living symbol of the power of an idea is Mary Jane Hayden, 18-year-old daughter of Perry and Elizabeth Hayden of Tecumseh.

The Haydens founded the "Biblical Wheat" demonstration of tithing whereby farmers have agreed to donate one-tenth of the annual yield of grains, starting with one bushel of grain donated by Henry Ford, to the church of their choice. The sixth and final planting of dynamic kernels has produced approximately 50,000 bushels of wheat, valued currently at about $100,000.

Sown this year by 267 Michigan farmers, the tithed wheat will benefit 30 religious denominations and about 175 individual churches. Much of the wheat will be donated to famine relief.

Mary Jane has dedicated her life to the cause of Christ. She will be a Golden Rule in the hearts of people in far-off lands.

Labor unrest in the city, not the revolutionary threat of the atomic bomb, is prompting industry to decentralize production in favor of small towns.

While on a brief swing of West Michigan last week, we ran into several causes of this post-war trend.

At Belding, for example, the town's business section is dominated by an imposing mill structure, many stories high, with a big clock in a tower. It was built about 1900 by the Belding Brothers Silk company and operated steadily until 1931 when it became a victim of the depression and remained idle for nearly nine years.

The Belding mill plant is the new home of a division of the Murray Corporation of America which employs 550 persons to make springs for Oldsmobiles. Another new industry is the Extruded Metal Corp., employing 300 persons to make airplane parts. Gibson has a stove factory also at Belding.

Belding is now back on the map. Things are booming.

North of Belding is another enterprising small city, Greenville, with plants making Gibson refrigerators and Federal Mogul trucks. Don Smith, newspaper publisher, reported that Greenville has a labor shortage; that local industries hope to double payrolls in the next five years.

Cedar Springs, the rea flannel home, was selected recently for a branch of the Keeler Brass company of Grand Rapids. Its big industry is the Interstate Creamery which employs 80 persons, pays them $3,500 a week, and puts $30,000 into the bank accounts of dairy farmers every six days.

Through the courtesy of Cy Johnson, plant superintendent, we witnessed the assembly line production of sweetened condensed milk, of which 250,000 cans are being turned out daily for shipment overseas. Interstate recently opened up branches at Edmore and Reed City.

Sparta, also in Kent county, brags of a "million dollar peach belt", but it has several prosperous industries including a branch of the Muskegon Piston Ring company and a plant of the Carnation Milk company, only one of its kind in Michigan. Nearby at Kent City is the Larsen canning plant.

Growers near Sparta are in clover this summer. Cherries are bringing $300 a ton, or around 21 cents a quart. Pickers earn $1 an hour, compared with 1.50 a day pre-war. One Sparta grower, a graduate of Michigan State College, netted $2,000 an acre from strawberries on a three-and-one-half-acre tract.

Up in Nowaygo county at Grant is an up-and-coming agricultural center. Nine new buildings are under construction in the business district, thanks to high prices for onions, celery and carrots.

Grant is proud of its fine community building, the gift of heirs of a leading West Michigan lumberman, the late D. W. Squier, who left property in 38 states.

The town of Nowaygo on the Muskegon river is the home of a new industry, the Robey Tackle company, making fishing tackle and tennis shoes. It was started by L. L. Robey, former salesman for Shakespeare at Kalamazoo. Nowaygo also has newly organized Post Frozen Products company and the Nowaygo Milk Products company, both financed by Grand Rapids and Fremont people.

At White Cloud, county-seat of Nowaygo county, is a lumber company which is "going to town" with prefabricated houses. Three rooms and bath for $1,300, so we were told.

Scottville is the home of the world's largest canning plant for string beans. It is operated by the Stokely company of Indianapolis. When we were there, the company was advertising for 2,000 women to work five or six weeks.

Traveling northward along the sandy west coast with its succession of lakes, most of them connected to Lake Michigan, we visited Manistee, Frankfort, Beulah and Charlevoix. Hotels and cottages are jammed; it looks like a bumper year for the tourist industry there.

Better wire ahead for reservations if you plan to stay any length of time. We found plenty of cabin facilities for overnight needs.

Conceived by the American Legion and legalized as a holiday by the state legislature with an official proclamation by Governor Harry, "Victory Day" will be celebrated in Michigan Wednesday, August 14. A number of Michigan towns will hold rousing receptions for World War II veterans. State employees now have ten legal holidays with pay: "Victory Day" will be No. 11.

An eye-witness true story: Recently we were week-end guests of Richard "Dick" Fletcher of Bay City at his Roscommon summer place. On a day's canoe trip down the South Branch, AuSable, we went by four fishermen, each of whom was eager to get the daily limit of 15 trout. At the Smith bridge the four men caught up with us. Much to our surprise they returned 42 live trout to the stream—the day's creel. How many sportsmen would do the same?

Michigan Bell Plans Auto Phone Service

"It will not be very long before your telephone bell will be jingling right in your automobile and you will be able to talk to your home or your office or any one who calls you" Neil Youngs of the Michigan Bell Telephone company told members of the Rotary club at one of its recent meetings.

If your wife forgets to tell you when you leave home in the morning that she wants you to bring home a loaf of bread (if you can get it) she can call you by phone while you are speeding down town in your automobile and tell you just what she wants you to do.

The Michigan Bell made demonstration to the public in Plymouth of its new Mobile Radiotelephone service recently.

A Ford car, fully equipped with this amazing new development stood in front of the hotel and when Rotarians left the meeting they saw just how the whole thing works. The phone is attached to the dashboard and it is as easily operated as is the phone in your home. Ray Crockford of the phone company also aided in the demonstration.

Mr. Youngs told the Rotarians that it would probably be fall before the system will be developed to such an extent that it can be offered to the public.

Mobile service will operate as separate radiotelephone systems for each metropolitan area served. A metropolitan system will be arranged to serve not only cars, trucks, buses, railway trains and harbor and river craft, but also other mobile units operating within the area.

Preliminary surveys in a large number of cities indicate that mobile service will be particularly useful to business concerns or individuals operating vehicles or other mobile units within metropolitan areas where it is important that headquarters keep in touch with their various drivers or vice versa.

Such concerns, through mobile radiotelephone service, can render faster and more complete service to their customers. Back-hauls and dead mileage can be reduced to a minimum with consequent increased operating efficiency at lowered costs.

The operator of a mobile unit can originate calls merely by picking up his telephone and pushing the "talk" button. This signals the vehicular operator and she "comes in on the line." He gives her the telephone number he wants and the call goes through.

In large metropolitan centers a number of receiving stations will be employed, located throughout the area so that the relatively low-powered mobile radio sets will be within range at all times. The receiver nearest to the mobile unit will pick up the voice signals and send them on their way by telephone wire. It is planned also to have sufficient transmitters to give full coverage.

For years the Bell companies have furnished two-way radiotelephone service for coastal and harbor boats, as well as for shipping on the Great Lakes and inland waterways and on the high seas. A two-way vehicular service has for some time been provided in New York and Boston for emergency use by certain public utility companies.

The interesting program was arranged by Manager John Palmer of the Plymouth office of phone company.

Grade crossing accidents take the lives of approximately 50 men, women and children every week in the year. Take it easy when approaching railroad tracks, and stop, look and listen.

We do not know who is responsible for the condition of the main road leading to one of the most interesting tourist sights in Michigan, but the highway from Oscoda to the Lumberman's Monument on a high bank of the Au Sable river some 15 miles west of Oscoda is probably the poorest piece of gravel highway in the entire state of Michigan.

It may be a county road and it may be a state road, it doesn't make any difference. It is probably the rottenest "improved" road in this or any other state.

We know because we travel them. Even though the highway is in such deplorable condition, it is traveled daily by hundreds of visiting cars from Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and other states, to find that it is full of chuck holes, and where there are no chuck holes, the remaining sections of the road are of the "washboard" type.

Remember back in the old days before progressive road officials didn't know anything about dust-laying materials, when vast clouds of dust filled the air when an automobile was driven by? Well, if you want to get a thrill out of driving through some dust clouds, just hit the highway for Michigan's famed Lumberman's Monument.

There isn't much question but the fact that the state highway department used a picture of the Monument for the cover page of its 1945 and 1946 highway map, circulated throughout the nation, is to a considerable extent, responsible for much of the heavy traffic to the Lumberman's Monument this year.

Highway Commissioner Charles Zeigler has won much commendation for the use of this interesting view on the cover page of the state's highway map. In fact very many people have declared the post-war issue of Michigan's 1945 road map is probably the most attractive one ever issued by the state highway department.

But if you want to see the Monument and if you drive north in Michigan on U. S. 23, you'll have to traverse one of the worst pieces of gravel roads in this or any other state. It's about time that some one did something about it. If it's a county road, it should be made a state road. If it's a state road then Mr. Zeigler should see to it that the responsible officials in his department get busy and put the road in proper condition, oil it or black-top it, or pave it.

Many of Michigan's state institutions maintain herds of milk producing cattle to supply the needs of the inmates and patients. The experiment was given its first real test by John Hoffman, who served as steward of the Kalamazoo State hospital for many years. He maintained quite a number of milch cows. But it remained for Dr. Robert Haskell of the Wayne County Training school to go in for maintaining large institutional herds of high-bred cattle. He started the system when he was superintendent of the State Hospital for the criminal insane at Ionia. A number of years later when he came to Wayne county he immediately started the development of a herd of Holstein cattle, with the result that some of the Training school cows have won national records as milk producers.

Information recently given to the newspapers by the state department of agriculture on milk production of state owned herds will be interesting to readers of this column.

Fifteen institutional herds totaling 1,112 cows milking, produced 1,397,810.2 pounds of milk in May, according to a report recently submitted to Charles Figy, Director of the Department of Agriculture, or an average production per cow of 1257 pounds.

There were 92 calves born during the month of May, 49 of which were heifers and 43 bull calves. During this same period 12 bulls were sold for breeding purposes. The institutions are fortunate in having some very outstanding young bulls which they are raising for future herd sires. One of the most outstanding is the son of Marquette Inka DeKol at the Marquette State Prison farm. This bull calf was born November 27, 1945, and was sired by Carnation Imperial Veeman, a son of Carnation Governor Imperial, and has an excellent pedigree as both his dam and granddam held world records.

A construction program is being carried on at some of the institution farms. Newberry State Hospital has a modern, fire-proof dairy barn under construction and a new milk room. The State Home and Training School at Coldwater is completing a four-pen bull barn, while Caro State Hospital is constructing a two-pen bull barn and re-roofing their dairy barn. They are also building a new milk house at Caro which will be large enough to house pasteuriz-ing equipment. The Michigan State Sanatorium farm at Howell also is to build a new modern milk house, while the Kalamazoo State Hospital is converting their old cannery into a milk room which will include pasteurizing equipment.

If the next session of the state legislature follows any of the suggestions adopted recently at the state conference of the Michigan Conservation clubs held at Kalkaska, there will be a license necessary to fish in the Great Lakes.

The recommendations of the special committee, approved by the conference, follows:

- (1) Extend the general rod license to cover the Great Lakes.
- (2) Winter ice fishing law on blue gills. Remove the 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. time limit, eliminate the use of lights. Blue gills only below route 46-M.
- (3) Permit five ice lines for pike, only minnows to be used for bait, four inches or over in length below route 46-M.
- (4) Stock more black bass in our lakes and rivers that are adapted to bass. Trout streams—Mr. Westerman informs us it will cost $500.00 to $3000.00 per mile to improve our trout streams.
- (5) Special $2.00 trout stamp, similar to duck stamp; all funds from same to be added to present available funds for stream improvement, and insist that the Conservation Department start the stream improvement work as soon as funds are available.
- (6) Change the trout limit from 15 per day to 10 per day, not more than 10 in possession at any time.
- (7) Establish more trout ponds in Southern Michigan.

In Preparing Food
During Shortages

Imagination oftimes works out better than the cook book, thinks Mrs. Vivian P. MacFawn, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at Michigan State college.

When bread, sugar, flour, butter, meat and even many meat substitutes, are off the cooking list, substitute large quantities of imagination, mix well with milk, eggs, vegetables, fruit and oatmeal and have wholesome, hearty and attractive meals. It is not that simple, but it works, she contends.

When the main dishes are sticklers, omelets with vegetables will fill in. If the family gets tired of fish twice a week, cover it with some special and different sauces. Grind the lunch meat and use in meat loaves or in patties. Oatmeal makes a good stretchier, and eggs a good binder.

To save that limited bread supply, skip the toast for breakfast and make oatmeal do the job. Use the bread for lunch only and then substitute plenty of the abundant potato crop for the bread at supper. If potatoes are distasteful without butter, try white sauce gravies filled with hard-cooked eggs, peas, carrots or perhaps some cheese.

To save the sugar, eat dried fruit dishes like prune whip instead of cake, pie and sweet rolls. Molasses or syrup will substitute for sugar in many recipes for cookies.

Mrs. MacFawn suggests that, in general, eat twice as much milk, eggs and vegetables in place of meat; use potatoes and oatmeal in place of bread and other cereal products; try fruit in place of sugar products and exercise imagination instead of a recipe book.

$122,000,000⁰⁰ FOR THE "GENERAL WELFARE"

Through the ten years ending with 1945, The Detroit Edison Company paid taxes totaling more than $122,000,000. Those taxes were collected from us, under the authority of the Constitution, to "provide for the common defence and promote the general welfare."

More than $55,000,000 of that amount was paid to LOCAL units of government. That means it went to the cities, counties, villages and townships right here at home, in the territory which The Detroit Edison Company serves.

The tiniest village has Edison taxes in its treasury. The little red schoolhouse got its share of the $55,000,000. Edison tax payments were a major contribution to the funds necessary to meet the ever-growing governmental obligations of the City of Detroit.

In 1945, Detroit Edison's local taxes passed $6,000,000, for a new high, higher than our Federal taxes for the first time since 1940.

There is no intent either to boast or to complain about this record of tax payments. The Detroit Edison Company prizes its position as a private citizen, and with that position goes the obligation to be a tax payer rather than a tax consumer.

Let it also be made crystal-clear that you, the buyers of Edison power and light, paid that $122,000,000.

It was a part of your electric bill, but it was not a charge for electricity. It WAS a part of your cost of government.

Thrilling moment in the 20-year-old film DON JUAN, featuring John Barrymore. This was the first full-length sound movie.

The modern movie is 20 years old on August 6

Twenty years ago the movies added sound to sight. DON JUAN was the film. A year later came THE JAZZ SINGER, the first feature to use lip synchronization.

Both were produced and presented by Warner Brothers. The equipment which made them possible was developed and made by Bell Telephone Laboratories and Western Electric Company. These two Bell System units have continued to apply their skills to improve sound reproduction.

tion. They have contributed greatly to the excellent sound in today's movies.

Bell scientists were able to solve the talking picture problem because of their continuous study of every means to improve communication. The "talkies" came directly out of telephone research.

The modern movie has grown so that it speaks in peace and war around the world. It has become one of the great agencies affecting the heart and mind of man.

BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES CROPS

Gloucester, Mass., August 2.—I have just been appraising the 1946 domestic crop outlook, and I am amazed at America's continued good fortune. Although by the law of averages a crop failure is now due, prospects for the country, as a whole, are brighter than on any corresponding date in the past seven years, except in 1942. Barring unfavorable weather, aggregate production may even exceed the 1942 banner year.

We have heard a lot about food and feed grain shortages in recent months. Now a dramatic change is under way; the wheat crop again will top a billion bushels, for the fourth time in the nation's history. This points to an early end of the flour shortage. A near-record rice crop should reach the market possibly by mid-August, but civilian supplies will depend largely upon the size of the government "take."

The nation's corn crop this fall may bulge with a record crop of more than 3.3 billion bushels. Weather will be the determining factor. The oats crop also should be well up toward the 1945 maximum. Despite a below-average barley crop, total feed grain supplies should prove ample for fall and winter requirements, which needs should be smaller than a year earlier. It is quite possible that supplies of corn this fall may exceed demand, at least for a time, with resultant price weakness.

A GOOD FRUIT YEAR

The outlook for fruits—an essential in every diet—is generally favorable barring freezes. Here are a few highlights. The apple crop should more than double the low 1945 output, but may be well under the ten-year average. Peaches will set a new high record. Production of pears and grapes should be appreciably above normal. Large crops of citrus are indicated for the 1946-1947 season.

Prospects for canned fruits also are favorable, but higher prices will prevail due to the bidding of freezers. The apricot pack may hit record levels, though quality is none too good. A big cherry output also is in the offing. Bartlett pears may be none too plentiful. Citrus juices should prove easily ample for needs in coming months. I expect a strong early consumer demand for the 1946 pack of canned fruits. Hence, requirements may be immediately satisfied.

THE VEGETABLE SITUATION

The supply of commercial truck crops for harvest during the current season is well above a year ago, with a prospective record tonnage indicated. Some items, such as lima beans, cabbage, sweet corn and green peas, are likely to fall short of a year ago and the average. There will be no shortage of "spuds," since the indicated total U. S. crop is the second largest on record. The government, in fact, is now buying potatoes to support prices.

Trade supplies of canned vegetables also should be larger than last year, since the government virtually is out of the picture as a big buyer. The aggregate pack, however, may fall somewhat short of a year ago. Consumers will be glad to know that a much greater supply of canned tomatoes is in prospect than in 1945. I believe that every family should maintain a reasonable hoard of canned vegetables for use in emergencies. It is good insurance against crop failures or other unforeseen developments.

MUCH TO BE THANKFUL FOR

Nature's beneficence to this country in recent years, and now again this year, should give everyone pause. Yes, this outpouring from the "horn of plenty" should serve a larger purpose than the mere satisfaction of our own needs. We are now able to feed the hungry and depressed peoples of many unfortunate lands. Our generosity of the past few months is now being rewarded. Bread cast upon the waters often returns many fold. We have much to be thankful for!

MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS:

The contractors have the concrete work on Plymouth's new reservoir practically completed, and it is dandy job. The motor, which will drive the pumps at the well, has been received and the pumps are expected any day now. The well house is completed, and there remains but a little piping to be connected up. It is expected that the water works improvements will be completed by September 1st.

NOTE IN THE MAIL:

It is an ill wind that doesn't dry out the family washing on Monday morning.

The Corbett Electric Co. has secured the contract for the wiring of the new school building at New Hudson.

Women's Clothing Makers Trying to Standardize Sizes

Something is being done about clothing for short and tall women. According to information received by extension specialists in clothing at Michigan State college, average sizes of ready-made garments are also being sized to height. That is, garments . . . including slips, dresses, coats, and suits . . . are being made in proportionate length which will fit the short, average, or tall, even though all their wear size 14.

Manufacturers who made garments for women in the armed services became aware of the variations in length. To cut down costly adjustments after garments were made, fabric was cut into correct proportions.

This brought about a standardization of sizes. Manufacturers are endeavoring to make sizes uniform. The junior miss, as its name implies, is for the teen-agers or sizes run 9, 11, 13, and 15. Misses' sizes are 10, 12, 14, 16, 18, and 20 and are designed for the lucky person who is well-proportioned, broad-shouldered, small-waisted, and slim-hipped. Sizes 36 and up are the women's sizes intended for the more mature figure of average or taller height.

Women of stocky build can be fitted in half sizes. Manufacturers are also reported to be standardizing sizes of from 7 to 14 for young girls with special consideration to stature, height, weight, and girth measurements. In other words, clothing manufacturers are endeavoring to make clothing lines that will fit more of their potential customers with little or no alteration.
