THE DAILY WORKER.

While down in Detroit the other day we spent five cents to buy a copy of the Daily Worker, a New York Communist paper, to see just what it had to say about Henry Wallace, Stalin's stooge within high American government circles. It lauded him editorially. It praised him in its news columns and it published a cartoon portraying him as one of the country's most popular officials. So when you praise Wallace, remember you are praising a draft dodger of the first World war and a fellow-traveler of Communism.

HE'S ASKING FOR HIS REMOVAL.

Judge Paul Cash of Alma recently stepped out of his realm to make some assertions in the present gubernatorial campaign that might lead directly to removal proceedings during the next session of the legislature.

Not only does his braying reflect upon the entire judiciary of the state but he OPENLY and DEFIANTLY violated the intent of the non-partisan election laws of Michigan which makes him and all other judges strictly non-political officials.

It is the spirit and intent of the non-partisan law pertaining to the nomination and election of circuit judges that they shall keep their noses out of partisan politics. And when a judge takes his oath he is supposed to know just what he is doing. The judges asked for this law and the people of Michigan gave it to them. Now let them obey it. If they do not, they should be treated just like any law breaker.

The blatant Alma judge is the only high judicial official in Michigan, as far as I know, who apparently looks upon his NON-PARTISAN position of trust as a joke. May the good Lord help the people of the 29th judicial circuit if his attitude towards all laws is reflected in his open defiance of the non-partisan judgeship law.

In his political brawling the other day he followed the same line of jargon that is being used by the grafters, thieves and bribers who have shamed the good name of Michigan. He held up to contempt and ridicule the former grand jury special prosecutor who has convicted and sent to jail a gang of high state officials who sold their souls and their state down the river.

Amazing as it may seem, his tirade came right on the heels of the confession of Former Senator Carl DeLano of Kalamazoo who admitted that he had sold his vote for $7,000 on a bill pending in the legislature a few years ago.

What would this blustering judge do now if some of these notorious graft cases should get into his court for trial? Hasn't he put himself in such an embarrassing position that the people of Michigan wouldn't get the semblance of a fair trial in his court? Hasn't he already belittled and held up to contempt the state's efforts to clean out the rotten mess and punish the offenders who have brought shame and disgrace to this Commonwealth?

Maybe Mr. Wise Guy Cash didn't realize upon what dangerous grounds he was traveling the other day when he gave verbal comfort to the grafters in their effort to control the forthcoming state election.

He should take a few minutes to read the state constitution—especially that section which says that for "reasonable cause" the legislature can direct the Governor to remove a circuit judge from office.

The state Bar Association should give this serious matter some attention, without waiting for possible legislative consideration. They'd better do something about it or else ask the people to take that non-partisan section out of the state constitution.

THEY'RE BEGINNING TO WAKE UP.

Some of the good citizens of Michigan who have been inclined to go along with the Jeffries-Welsh plan to take away a part of the state's income and give it to the cities, are beginning to wake up as to the dangers of the plan.

It seems that the mayors of Michigan's two big cities knew they couldn't get the people to vote favorably on this plan without help from others seeking more state aid. So they tied in the public schools as a part of their program. Everybody is in favor of the public schools and many will doubtless vote for the scheme believing that they are going to aid the public schools.

But will they be doing that? If you take away nearly a half of the state's income, what state hospitals, normals and other institutions are you going to close? Or if you prefer not to close them, how much additional sales tax do you think the state should collect out of your pocket?

You pay a three cent tax now on everything you eat, wear and buy. Do you want to pay four or five cents? Or would you prefer to have the state legislature take away from the cities and school districts the real estate tax for state purposes? Some have argued that this might be an advisable thing to do.

During the past few days, I've heard more comment about the scheme than I've heard all summer. People are beginning to think about it and ask searching questions—and when they do that you know they are beginning to think that maybe the scheme isn't so hot for everybody after all. Vote NO on Proposal No. 2 on November 5.

THE ATOMIC WOLF.

From a trade publication known as "Invention" and published by the National Patent Council, was taken the following editorial, which will be of more than ordinary interest to every American citizen:

The use of "the grand scare" as a means of persuading the people of a nation to submit, without protest, to dilutions of their freedom and to growing extortions, is not a new technique. It has been employed repeatedly throughout history and, for each group of leaders who have used it, it has seemed to work like magic—but only for a time.

Like the boy who cried "wolf" too often, those leaders find themselves at last without an audience—and very lonesome indeed. One wonders how much longer the cry of "wolf" can be used in justification for one new law after another, that that law, admittedly dangerous, must be enacted—and endured temporarily—to meet a grave emergency. We are told not to fear the law because it will be repealed immediately after the emergency has passed. The trick thereafter is to get rid either of the emergency or of the bad law—which often is designed by its sponsors to perpetuate and intensify the very emergency it was supposed to cure.

The latest example of the invocation of fright to justify destructive legislation we have seen in the methods employed in Congress to justify our recently enacted Atomic Energy Law. Besides placing, in the hands of a Presidentially appointed five-man Commission, drastic control of every source of atomic energy and of every means usable in its development and application, the law forbids taking out our constitutional type of patents on any idea usable in the employment of atomic power for any industrial purpose. Inventors must report their inventions to the Commission within sixty

Ford Consolidates Three Local Plants

Will Observe Newspaper Week
Plymouth, Newburg and Nankin Mills Plants To Be Moved To Waterford

A. A. Applegate

Sometime during next year the Plymouth, Nankin Mills and Newburg plants of the Ford Motor company will be consolidated under one roof at the Waterford Gage plant, according to a news report published by the Ford company.

This means that there will be employed at the Waterford plant by the end of another year or so nearly 500 men, if the expansion program of the company continues as it has in recent months.

It also means the discontinuance by the company of the Plymouth plant, which has been operated for nearly two score years, the Nankin Mills plant, which has been operated by the Ford company for nearly that length of time and the beautiful new Newburg plant which was built some five or six years ago.

These plants are all partly operated by water power provided by the Rouge river. Their discontinuance ends one of the great humanitarian experiments of Henry Ford, who probably gave more thought to the welfare of his employees than any other industrialist in the country.

They are now for sale, but it is understood that they will be kept in operation until the big addition is completed at the Waterford plant, which is located about two miles north of Plymouth on the Northville road.

The addition is being built on the southwest corner of the Waterford plant and it is understood will be as large, if not larger than the present plant.

The Plymouth, Nankin Mills and Newburg plants have been visited by hundreds of thousands of people. Before the war they were inspected by groups that came to America from numerous foreign countries who came to see and know more of Mr. Ford's experiment. "With one foot in industry and the other on the land."

Plymouth Pastor Travels By Plane

The Rev. Edgar Hoenecke, Plymouth's Lutheran pastor, spent a busy weekend in his own pastorate and one at Minneapolis, Minn. Air travel was the medium.

After preaching at the regular Sunday morning services in his own church here, Mr. Hoenecke boarded a plane and two hours later was in Minneapolis, Sunday night he lectured there and showed pictures of the Indian Missions he is in charge of for his denomination. He presented a second illustrated lecture at another Minneapolis church on Monday night.

That puts him in the class with Edgar A. Guest, Gen. Eisenhower and other notables who must use airplanes to keep engagements hundreds of miles apart within a few hours.

Selle Body Shop Will Open in New Location In New Building Saturday

The new Selle Body Shop is having its formal opening this weekend in its new $30,000 building located at 936 Ann Arbor road, just west of South Main street. The building, one of Michigan's most modern body bumping and automobile paint shops, offers its patrons the utmost in safety for storage and the newest in equipment to care for "banged-up" automobiles.

The business is owned by Jack Selle who purchased the same from his father a year ago last April. Mr. Selle Sr. started the business in 1931 and since its inception it has brought a most satisfactory service to car owners in this community.

With 5,600 feet of floor space in which to accommodate cars for service, some 16 automobiles may be handled at one time with ease. The paint shop is equipped with explosion proof lights for safety purposes and the whole building was constructed in as nearly a fire proof manner as possible.

In addition to its service room and paint shop the building has a pine paneled office, a heating room with an oil forced hot water boiler and burner system and a department, housing a Bear Fram Straightener and Wheel Alignment machine, the first of its kind in the city.

Legion Post Desires To Organize Auxiliary

Passage-Gayde Post, No. 391, American Legion, is planning a ladies' auxiliary, according to William Lergmaid, post commander.

An organization meeting for all eligibles to the auxiliary has been set for 8 p.m. next Tuesday, Oct. 10, at the Servicemen's Center in Plymouth.

Mrs. Lergmaid urges all wives, mothers and sisters of Passage-Gayde post members to attend the meeting and help organize an active auxiliary.

Conservation Official To Speak To Wild Lifers Monday Evening

Donald W. Douglas, chief of the technical section of the game division of the Michigan Conservation department, will be the interesting speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Western Wayne County Conservation club on Joy road.

He will discuss the prospects for the duck, pheasant, small game and deer hunting seasons. Maybe he'll tell you just where to go to get that limit of pheasants on opening day.

As one of the interesting features of the discussion, he will welcome any questions the club members may desire to have answered, says Gar Evans, chairman of the program committee.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock and in view of the interesting speaker who has been secured the business meeting will be cut short states President Brick Champe in order to give him all the time that may be required for the proper discussion of such a timely subject as has been scheduled.

Fire Department Plans Demonstration

For identification of firemen in above picture. See pages 4 & 5 of section 3.

Fire Prevention Week Will Be Observed Here

National Fire Prevention Week opens Sunday and Plymouth along with hundreds of other Michigan cities will properly mark the occasion with suitable events featuring its volunteer fire department.

Mayor Robert Lidgard, in cooperation with other Michigan mayors, has proclaimed the week and given permission to the firemen to present any type of observance program they choose. Mayor Lidgard also urges the participation of Plymouthites in general in the festivities.

Fire Chief Robert McAllister and his men will emboss fire prevention slogans and suggestions on the city streets and sidewalks in both residential and business districts.

Chief McAllister will visit the schools and distribute personal fire inspection cards to all students. They will be asked to take them home for their parents to fill out. If faithful compliance is given this project all homes in Plymouth sending children to school will get a cursory inspection by their owners.

To properly fill out the cards, such an inspection will be necessary, Chief McAllister said. By following the cards a homeowner (Continued on page 8)

Conservation Club Names Its Committees

President Brick Champe of the Western Wayne County Conservation Association has announced his committee appointments for the forthcoming winter series of meetings.

President Champe and other officers of the organization have in mind one of the most energetic and interesting series of meetings the club has ever had. Every phase of conservation will be discussed.

The officers of the club are elated to know that their meetings can be held in their club house on Joy road, near Wayne. While the structure is far from being completed in the way that members hope to have it finally, it is now enclosed, heated and painted both inside and out and is as near completed as it can be until after certain desired materials can be secured.

President Champe states that he is sure that within the next few weeks a water supply will be available.

Members of the committees are:

Finance Committee: Jack Taylor, chairman; Ernie Henry, Elton Eaton.

Entertainment Committee: Gar Evans, chairman; William Morgan, Roy Gilder, Don Lightfoot, Rod and Gun Committee: George Hess, chairman; Russ Powell, William Rambo, Chas. Messmore, Estel Rowland, Milt Fisher (Wayne).

Program Committee: Estel Rowland, chairman; Lew Ford, James Gothard, Emory Hicks.

Clippings from English Newspapers Tell of Plymouth, Mich. Good Deeds

F. E. Gee, a resident of Plymouth, England, has sent to the Plymouth Mail newspaper clippings which tell of the receipt of nearly a ton of clothing sent to the distressed people of that city through the efforts of John Blyton of this city.

It will be recalled that upon Mr. Blyton's return from a visit to England some months ago, he induced the Rotary club to institute a city-wide drive for old clothing and shoes to be sent to Plymouth, England residents who lost everything they possessed as a result of the German bombings.

The clippings, taken from the London, England, Herald, show one picture of The Lord Mayor of Plymouth inspecting a bundle of the clothing sent from this city.

The cut-line says: "From Plymouth, Michigan—Part of the used clothing gift which has been received for distribution by Plymouth Rotary club and the 'Inner Wheel' (wives of Rotarians) to badly 'blitzed' city households. The Lord Mayor (Mr. Isaac Foot) inspecting a bundle at Palace-street this morning with Mr. T. S. Marshall, president of the Plymouth Rotary Club."

The other clipping taken from The Plymouth England Herald, reads:

Conservation Golf Teams To Play Special Match

What promises to be a very spirited golf match is set for Sunday. It is expected to draw a gallery of at least 500 persons.

The match, a 36 hole event, will be between two eight-man teams representing the Plymouth Country Club and Hilltop Golf Club. The pros of each club will head the respective squads.

Opening the match will be an 18-hole clash Sunday morning at Hilltop. The second 18 holes will be played on the country club course in the afternoon.

Winners of the unusual match will be guests of the losers for dinner Sunday night at the country club.

Daisy Employees To Have New Recreation Spot

Daisy Manufacturing Company employees and their families are going to have the finest recreation site in the state of Michigan.

The company is constructing such a field right now in spite of lack of the factory. Most of the work and seeding will be completed by early snow flies. At any rate the field will be ready for use early next summer.

When it is completed the company will turn it over to the Independent Daisy Employees Association for operation.

Present plans call for baseball and softball diamonds with spectator stands, concrete tennis courts, concrete shuffle boards, handball courts, quiet ping-pong boxes and a bowling green.

In addition there will be ample space for rustic picnic tables and outdoor grills for picnic groups.

The company indicates that the baseball and softball diamonds will be so placed that in the future they can be equipped with lights for night games.

The diamonds will be the first facilities completed.

Construction of such an area by the Daisy Company is a fittingly forward step and shows they fully recognize the need for entertainment as an aid toward maintaining the health and morale of personnel. It shows that the company is most interested in their employees' well-being than how much work they can get out of them.

Warning! Canton And Plymouth Township Voters

Residents of Plymouth and Canton townships:

This is for you especially! Get busy and register if you want to vote in future elections. All townships are now required to set up a permanent registration. These are the only two townships in this part of Wayne County that have not done so.

The date is a MUST NOW. The last day is October 16.

Plymouth township voters can call at the home of Norman Miller, 12303 Ridge road at any time. His home is just about a half mile south of Territorial road, on the west side of Ridge road. Register NOW.

Canton township voters can register at any time with township clerk Artrey Smith, who is located at 41822 Michigan avenue. This address is located on the east of Lilley road, right next to Stein's greenhouse on Michigan avenue.

Residents of Northville and Livonia townships and the city of Plymouth are not required to register as the permanent registration system was established in these places some years ago. The new law applies only to villages and townships where this system was not incorporated when the law was first passed.

Plymouth and Canton township voters should register TODAY. October 16 is the last day.

Finfrock Family Auto Is Stolen

While enjoying the show last Monday night at the Penn Theater the William Finfrock family, of 1180 Williams, had their car stolen. It was parked at the corner of Penman and Main and was locked.

The family entered the theater shortly before 7 p.m. and came out after 9:00 p.m. to find the car gone. It is a 1937 green Chevrolet. Royce Seaman, Plymouth police and the Wayne County Sheriff's Department are cooperating in an effort to trace the car.

James Gallimore Now Instructor In Public Schools of Wayne

James Gallimore who for more than a quarter of a century was a superintendent employed by the Ford Motor Company and who served in that capacity at the Plymouth Ford plant from the time it was erected until a few months ago, is now instructor of the machine shop course in the Wayne public schools.

Not until this year did the Wayne schools inaugurate this kind of school training. The district purchased the hospital building which had been used during the war at the Willow Run plant and moved it to Wayne during the summer, and it now houses the machine shop school.

When looking around for an instructor, the board was advised of Mr. Gallimore's availability and he was engaged for the new work. He is especially fitted for the position not only because of his long experience with the Ford company but before he came to America he was a student in a similar school in England.

Parking Meter Hearing Held

Last Monday night only 31 Plymouthites attended the public hearing on parking meters before the city commission. All were given an opportunity to express themselves on the proposition to install the meters in areas recently designated by the City Plan Commission.

Of the 20 attending, only eleven availed themselves of the opportunity. City Manager Harold R. Check reported. Seven were in favor of adopting the parking meters unconditionally and following the plan commission's recommendations for their installation. Another speaker was not in favor of the meters unless they would be installed in ALL Plymouth business sections. One charged that if more rigid enforcement of the present parking ordinance could be effected there would be no need of parking meters.

The tenth speaker was emphatically against the meters for several reasons all of which were more personal than practical, the commission said. The final speaker admitted he was undecided. After hearing the speakers and receiving the opinions of others the commission adjourned. Any action for or against adoption of the meters will be deferred indefinitely.

Night School Class Schedule

At the organization meeting held in the High School Monday, September 30, the following night school classes were set up:

Sewing—Tuesday and Thursday
 History and English—Tuesday and Wednesday
 Machine shop—Monday
 Drawing and shop mathematics, Wednesday
 Commercial subjects—Monday and Wednesday

There was an insufficient number to set up a class in Art, Mathematics, Spanish, or any other subject. If there are persons desiring to take other courses, every effort will be made to set up classes. For information call 613.

Out of Eternity the new day is born: Into Eternity at night will return.—Thomas Carlyle.

In Manila, Capt. John Foote issued Lieut. Gilbert Legg a driver's license, got Lieut. Bert Barefoot to witness it.

Early Chicks
 Chicks should be started early because early chicks grow faster and have a lower mortality. Furthermore, the early cockerels can be sold while the prices are higher and the pullets will come into production early in the fall when high egg prices prevail. Chicks for flock replacement should be obtained from flocks which have been tested and found to be free of polorum. The brooder house should be cleaned thoroughly and the brooder put into operation a day or two before the chicks arrive.

Home Tool Kit
 Every family should plan to make household equipment last as long as possible. Daily care and needed repair of equipment will determine the length of its usefulness. The following tools will be helpful in making simple repairs at home: screw drivers, monkey wrench, knife, putty knife, nails, tacks, pliers, hammer, ruler, brush, solder, ice pick, flat file, round file, whet stone, and oil can. Keep your home tool kit handy and ready for use.

Clean Stoves Cook Better
 A valuable weapon in the hands of every woman doing war duty on the home front is the kitchen stove. If the family is to be well nourished for the duration, this important piece of household equipment must be kept ship shape. Any kind of stove will work better if it is clean and in good working condition. This is no time for neglect that may necessitate repairs and the use of vital defense materials.

Flu and Grippe
 From a medical viewpoint, the terms flu and grippe are synonymous, says Dr. Rufus S. Reeves, Philadelphia director of public health, but the general public generally considers influenza as including along with the usual aching and elevated temperature, symptoms of running nose and sometimes a little sore throat and slight cough.

Cooking Frozen Foods
 Frozen meats, poultry and vegetables can be cooked satisfactorily with or without previous thawing. All reports indicate that frozen foods require somewhat less time to cook than similar fresh products, except possibly foods cooked without previous thawing. Roasts, particularly, would require time to thaw as well as to cook.

Steel Shipments
 During 1943, the total tonnage of steel products shipped from the mills exceeded 67,278,000 net tons, substantially above the previous record of 64,814,000 tons of shipments in 1942. In 1940, the first of the four record-breaking years, 48,585,000 tons of steel products were shipped.

Imported Dates
 The United States has long imported most of its dates from Iraq, which supplied 40 million of the 45 million pounds imported in recent peacetime years. Iran and China were other sources. Less than 750,000 pounds were reexported, mostly to Canada.

Milk Solids
 Nonfat dry milk solids or defatted milk solids is the product resulting from the removal of fat and water from milk, and contains the lactose, milk proteins, and milk minerals in the same relative proportions as in the fresh milk from which made.

Graceful Dresses
 The woman with a large bust should not wear dresses which fit the upper part of the figure smoothly. She should choose instead those with a small amount of fullness to have the fabric fall in graceful lines. She also should avoid fitting the armhole too closely. Restrained curved lines may be created by soft draping or an easy fullness.

Better Grazing
 Fertilized pastures not only give increased amounts of grazing but also produce more nutritious grass. Findings show that the grass from the fertilized pastures contained about one-third more protein and about one-half more phosphorus, thus greatly improving the quality of the grazing.

Lost Time
 Workers' injuries since December 1, 1941, are responsible for the loss of four times as many man hours of production as lost by strikes. Damage and destruction of equipment in workers' accidents far exceeds the value of American cargoes that have been sunk.

Removes Blood Stains
 Blood stains on washable material may be removed by soaking them, until the coloring is dissolved, in cold water to which household ammonia has been added in the proportion of one tablespoonful to a gallon of water. Then wash the article in lukewarm suds.

Warm Up
 Muscles give their best performance when gradually and thoroughly warmed up. Muscle tendons are not likely to be pulled or torn when warmed up. Champion athletes in all sports first take sufficient time to warm up.

Spread Rot
 Crates, baskets, bags, planters, diggers, and storage bins that have been smeared with ooze from a ring-rot-diseased potato may spread the disease to healthy potatoes even four months after the original contact.

Major Disasters
 Major disasters in 1943 included three railroad wrecks with a combined death toll of more than 200, two coal mine explosions killing a total of 100 and a hotel fire with 51 fatalities.

Long Known
 Mica ores in the form of schists have long been known. Our forefathers used good old base burners in which mica windows were fabricated.

ANN ARBOR district farm, sandy loam, nearly level, easily worked, raises good corn and alfalfa, house has 6 rooms and bath on first floor, fireplace, furnace, electricity, modern kitchen, hardwood floors, chicken coop, milkhouse, dairy barn, 16 stanchions, above buildings good condition, 2 other barns need some repairs, fences mostly good, spring water through pasture, access to 2 lakes, possession this fall, about 200 acres. $21,000.00. Write or phone for appointment Oril Ferguson, 928 Forrest, Ann Arbor, Phone 2-2839. 4-4tp

BEAUTIFUL country home, with 3 1/2 acres on main highway. If you like a lovely center-hallway colonial home containing 7 rooms and modern to the minute, including city water, together with an excellent 9-year-old apple orchard, a chicken hatchery with capacity of 1,000 chickens, all hot water heated and air conditioned, we have it. It is one of the nicest communities of Wayne county, where both public and parochial schools are within walking distance, where taxes are low and bus transportation is at your door. The price, which includes carpeting, drapes, electric refrigerator and stove, tractor and all equipment is $25,000, and in our opinion is an outstanding bargain. Harry S. Wolfe, 231 Plymouth Rd. In Memoriam
In loving memory of our father John H. Mott who passed away six years ago October 3. Six years have passed since that sad day when one we loved was called away. God took him home, it was his will, but in our hearts he lingers still. Sadly missed by his children.
Steve Wall

Hide Under Slips
Insect pests may hide under slip covers. So, at least once a month take off covers to see that all's well and brush and clean.

Dust Seeds
To prevent damping off or rotting of seeds, dust them with fungicidal dust. The amount of dust that can be picked up on a knife-tip is enough to cover a small packet of seed. Large seeds like corn or peas can be shaken with dust in a jar or can. Use only enough dust to coat the surface of the seeds.

Owns Timberland
The largest single owner of American forest land is the federal government. Of 462,000,000 acres of commercial forest land, 341,000,000 are owned by millions of private citizens, or groups of private citizens, and about 121,000,000 acres by federal, state, or local governments.

Adds Flavor
In addition to its high rank as a superior fat, butter adds much to the taste and palatability of other foods. By such stimulation of the use of bread, vegetables and other foods, butter contributes greatly to the national food economy.

Greatest Population
According to the 1940 census, the most heavily populated cities in the United States are New York city, 7,454,965; Chicago, Ill., 3,386,698; Philadelphia, 1,931,334; Detroit, Mich., 1,623,452; Los Angeles, Calif., 1,504,277.

Window Dressing
As far as possible all windows in a house should have a similar appearance from the outside; straight window hangings attract less attention than do tiebacks. If the draperies hang straight, sheer curtains used with them also should hang straight.

Zipper frequently jam on purses. The right way to open a zipper is to press down on the tab gently with the forefinger, then pull back. Don't yank if the fastener stalls. Just back up gently, clear the way and proceed as before.

Rabbit Raising
Prior to World War I, rabbit raising was of little significance in this country. During war times the meat of the rabbit came into favor, and since then the amount consumed has steadily increased.

Wingless Bird
A bird which has no wings whatever is the apteryx of New Zealand. His native name is kiwi-kiwi. He has a long bill, big legs and grayish hair-like feathers over his wingless, tailless body.

Delicious Flavoring
The sirup left from pickled fruits, such as peaches or pears, makes a delicious flavoring for roast meats. Try pouring such juices, diluted with an equal amount of water, over a roast veal or beef.

Thrives Underground
A lemon tree 1,300 feet underground in a western mine is thriving under sun lamp treatments. By studying its growth rings, future foresters will know when the current was turned off for non-payment.

Scorch Pan
When you scorch a pan, try sprinkling dry baking soda over the scorch, letting it stand for a while. You will be surprised at how much more easily it can be removed.

Substitute for Fats
Nuts can be substituted for part of the fat in a recipe, since pecans are over 70 per cent fat and walnuts, hickory, filberts and butternuts over 60 per cent fat.

Covers Eastern Half of Country In Tiny Cruiser

Skipper Tells of 7,000-Mile Trip; First to Make It Entirely by Water.

CHICAGO. — The Orb, 30-foot cruiser, is back in her home port after a 7,000-mile cruise encircling the eastern half of the United States.

Skipper Oscar Larsen, former Chicago restaurateur, and a crew of three set course down the Chicago canal last October 2. One day recently he brought the Orb back to a smooth landing at the Southern Shores Yacht club, Jackson park. Cheering friends hailed him as the first man ever to make the trip entirely by water.

Pass Through Lakes.
Mrs. Larsen and nine-year-old Barbara joined the Orb at Tarpon Springs, Fla. The family then sailed up the East coast and through the lakes to Chicago.

"It was really easy," the big, sandy-haired Norwegian said while his family nodded agreement. "I don't know why people haven't tried it before."

There was one near-gale, however, that nearly dashed the Orb to bits.

It was while she crossed a 325-mile stretch of open sea in the Gulf of Mexico. With Larsen on that leg was the late George W. Schaeffer, prominent Chicago yachtsman.

Touched 20 States.
The two men battled the storm 22 hours. The sea nearly took in the cabin superstructure. Coastguardsmen gave them up for lost.

"Were they surprised to see us stand into Tarpon Springs safe and sound," Larsen ejaculated. "And, boy, were we glad to see them!"

The Orb, during the cruise, touched 20 states, the District of Columbia and two Canadian provinces. She consumed 2,629 gallons of gasoline, 101 gallons of oil.

She negotiated 135 locks and two marine railways and 367 bridges lifted to let her pass.

Lost Plane Pilot Walks
Out of Wilds to Safety
LAURENTIAN LODGE, FLACK LAKE, ONT.—Gaunt and bearded, Flight Lt. W. MacKenzie walked out of the bush wilderness unharmed but hungry after being lost since his jet plane crashed a month before.

Although doctors said he was "nearly exhausted," MacKenzie said: "Oh boy, am I in need of a bath. What day is it?"

He had lost 47 of his normal 185 pounds. Heavy rains ruined his cigarette lighter and his chances to set further camp fires three days before he reached civilization.

MacKenzie broke into the open near this bushland resort and was spotted by a Bay City, Mich., tourist named Matts, who rowed him across Helen Bar lake to Laurentian lodge, where medical attention was available.

MacKenzie crashed into Helen Bar lake, 60 miles northeast of Blind river, a lumbering town 96 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. His oxygen was exhausted and his fuel ran out.

The plane sank almost immediately after the pilot climbed unharmed from the wreckage. The Royal Canadian air force hunted long and widely for him.

Suffer Less
Fat people are said to be less apt to suffer from headaches arising from visual defects than are thin persons.

Paperboard Rings
Paperboard rings to guard aerial bombs during transportation are saving 200,000,000 pounds of steel yearly.

Made for Rival, 'Pandora's Box' Blows Up Wife

Husband Made It for 'Other Man'; He Warned Her, But Curiosity Won.

PORTLAND, ORE.—James W. Bowden, a steamfitter, acknowledged to police that he killed his wife with a "Pandora's box" filled with dynamite, but insisted that he had not meant to kill her but to blow up a rival for her affections.

Mrs. Bowden was blown to bits in the basement of her home when she opened a fiber suitcase which her husband had forbidden her to touch. Like Pandora of the classic fable who disobeyed the gods and opened the box containing all the world's evils, Mrs. Bowden was unable to restrain her curiosity.

Away on Fishing Trip.
Bowden, 47, was away on a fishing trip at the time. When he returned police arrested him and Detective Captain Eugene Ferguson announced, he acknowledged having constructed the infernal machine.

"She was running around with another man," Bowden was quoted. "I decided to get him."

He refused to name the man. He said that he bought six sticks of dynamite and detonators from a contractor and set to work in his basement. He wired the detonators to the lid of the suitcase.

"It would go off when the lid was lifted, but it was padlocked with a combination lock," he stated. "I was afraid of it and it just sat there."

Bowden said he put in the suitcase a diary containing a chronicle of Mrs. Bowden's alleged affair with the other man.

Warned His Family.
His daughters, Shirley, 19, and Doris, 17, told police that their father had repeatedly forbidden their mother to so much as touch the suitcase. They were included in the prohibition. But when Bowden was away and her daughters were too, Mrs. Bowden evidently succumbed to curiosity.

Bowden told police that while he was working in the Aleutians as a civilian during the war he had sent his wife $5,000, which she had "squandered."

"My wife filed suit for divorce," he said. "There was no motive after that. I didn't know what to do with the suitcase."

Mrs. Bowden's divorce complaint charged cruelty.

The district attorney's office announced that Bowden would be charged with first degree murder.

Bandit Picks Wrong Man: Thief Loses Wrist Watch

CHICAGO. — A would-be robber picked the wrong taxicab driver to hold up.

Daniel Norton, driver, picked up a passenger who asked to be driven to a 4th and Artesian avenue. There the "fare" drew a pistol, pointed it at Norton, and asked for his money.

Norton struck out at the gunman. The surprised bandit jumped out of the cab and fled.

Norton told police his assailant was about 40 and 6 feet tall. He gave police a wrist watch he grabbed as the bandit fled. Police are trying to trace its serial number.

Door of Closet Slams, Woman Captive 4 Days

EVERETT, MASS.—A brother's visit to 83-year-old Mary Flaherty ended her four-day imprisonment in a clothes closet.

The woman said she went into the closet for clothes and wind blew the door locked.

Michael Flaherty told police that when he knocked on his sister's door he heard cries from her third floor apartment.

Police and firemen released her. Taken to Whidden hospital, Miss Flaherty was pronounced in fair condition.

Tip of 'Sick Man' Leads To Victim of Robbery

SAN FRANCISCO. — An anonymous male voice told a downtown hotel clerk by telephone:

"Better take a look in Room 501. I think you'll find a sick man."

The clerk found Norman Markham, 44, Honolulu tavern owner here on a vacation, lying on the floor, bound with neckties.

Police said Markham told them he had been robbed of $1,200 and bound by a man who pulled a gun when he answered a knock at his door.

Physicians Remove Shell Fragment From Heart

Two doctors in the army medical corps report the successful removal of a shell fragment from the heart of a 23-year-old American soldier.

In an article in the Archives of Surgery magazine, Lt. Col. William B. Schaefer and Capt. Victor P. Satinsky say the soldier was wounded June 24, 1944, near Cherbourg, France.

When a mortar fragment "stung him through his back," X-ray films failed to reveal the shell fragment because of the collection of blood in the chest cavity.

The foreign body was located, however, by fluoroscopic examination which revealed that the object moved with the beat of the heart. Surgical exploration showed the fragment had cut through the lung and penetrated the heart. A small incision was made in the left chamber of the heart and the fragment was grasped and removed by clamps. The patient was given oxygen, sulfadiazine and penicillin.

The authors state that "six weeks following operation, the patient was permitted out of bed and graduated exercises were begun. Special exercises were instituted early to assist in the re-expansion of the lung (which was collapsed), to prevent deformity and to aid in the development of the thoracic (chest) cage. These exercises were carried out regularly four times daily. . . . Four months after operation, the patient was in excellent condition."

Arrest Boys For Burglary

Two Plymouth youths who admitted breaking and entering the Parkview Recreation Bowling Alleys on East Ann Arbor Trail early last Thursday morning are in jail at Detroit awaiting trial.

Both pleaded guilty last Saturday upon arraignment before Municipal Judge J. R. Cutler and were bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court to await trial. They were sent to jail in lieu of bond.

They told Plymouth police that they obtained $18 in cash, candy bars, cigarettes and bowling equipment in the break-in. The pair gained entry by climbing a conduit to the roof and removing the skylight and then lowering themselves on a rope.

Michael Schuster, proprietor of the alleys, discovered the burglary upon opening his establishment Thursday afternoon.

Chief Lee R. Sackett said one boy stole his aunt's car from her home on Newburg road to commit the job. He was able to take it by replacing the ignition with one to which he had a key, Chief Sackett said.

The same night he also stole a spotlight from a car parked on Plymouth streets and cut the wires from two foglights on another parked car in the community. Chief Sackett said the youth told him.

After using his aunt's car for the escape which included trips to Wayne and Garden City, he returned it.

He was in possession of an Army discharge which was made out to a Melvindale youth. He explained it was "given to me by a fellow I used to work for."

He told Chief Sackett he had registered for military duty last May but had never been called.

Rebekah News

At the close of the last meeting of the Rebekahs, a birthday party was held honoring the members who had birthdays in July, August and September. It also celebrated the 94th anniversary of the organization. Mrs. Margaret McKenna was installed as confederate night will be held at Milan to honor the president of Rebekah assembly.

The next visitation will be held Wednesday, October 9 at Scotia Rebekah lodge. Rebekah assembly will be held in Detroit October 14 thru 16 at the Masonic Temple. Mrs. Hazel Roach and Mrs. Irene Broegman will represent the local organization.

Mrs. Hope Shelton and Mrs. Irene Broegman were selected to serve as honorary Right Supporters to the Vice Grand.

New Air Torpedo With Rocket Engine Announced

SHARON, PA. — Rocket power, which scientists harnessed to propel planes and projectiles through the air, has been adapted for use under the sea, Westinghouse Electric corporation announced with approval of the army air forces.

A new aerial torpedo—called the hydro-bomb—uses the thrust of burning, expanding gases to propel itself through water instead of air and can stand the shock of being dropped 600 feet or more from a plane going 300 miles an hour, F. L. Snyder, a company engineering manager, said.

The engine of the hydro-bomb, he explained, is a large pipe packed with solid fuel which, when burning, creates expanding gases that are expelled through a nozzle. When the torpedo hits the water, the impact throws a switch that ignites the rocket motor's solid fuel. Electrical controls with a gyroscope keep the bomb on its path and special controls regulate its underwater depth.

Such co-operation is desired, the chief said, to help all concerned. It will aid the safety of each individual property owner, his neighbors and will be a method by which Plymouth can reduce its community fire loss even more.

Chief McAllister said, "Every one concerned will benefit from inspecting their own property for fire hazards. It may prevent a fire in YOUR home or save your neighbor's house by reducing hazards in YOUR home. The City will benefit too."

In addition to these projects next week, Plymouth will be treated to a spectacular demonstration by Chief McAllister and his volunteer firemen at 6 p.m. next Thursday. All Plymouthites should plan to attend.

At precisely 6 o'clock the department will make a "dud" run from their quarters to the Taylor and Blyton Department Store on Penniman. The firemen will operate their hose lines from the roof of McConnell's Barber Shop in the demonstration.

Spectators will see the men drop off moving trucks and quickly hook up hoses to hydrants so a water supply is available the moment it is needed.

They will see how ladders are raised, hose lines stretched and carried to the roofs of buildings. As the firemen perform these operations and pour water on the store which will be assumed to be on fire, Chief McAllister will give a running account of the operations for the public's edification. He hopes to have a loudspeaker system available so nobody misses any of his narrations.

In addition the firemen will demonstrate the use of smoke masks. They also will show how to rescue a person overcome by smoke and how to use the oxygen resuscitator to revive them. These operations also will be fully explained.

After this demonstration the department personnel will retire to Main street in front of Kellogg Park to display their trucks and other equipment and answer the questions of all interested parties. This will give ample opportunity to all desiring to inspect the trucks and kindred equipment.

Fire Prevention Week also is a good time to advise the public of Plymouth that they have been enjoying added protection for several weeks.

From 9 a.m. until 7 a.m. nightly there is a fireman on duty at the City Hall. His quarters are directly above the fire department and are equipped with elaborate alarm devices.

Should the alarm be telephoned or given to the police in person the siren is set off and a similar buzzer in the fireman's quarters. He needs but to leap from bed and take two steps to a ladder which takes him directly below to the trucks. He learns the scene of the blaze and has the equipment ready to go when the men arrive. This saves precious minutes.

Should the police be out the fireman's quarters are connected directly with the switchboard to take all fire calls on a special phone also equipped with a special gong. Upon getting an alarm in that manner the fireman on duty can set the siren off from his bedside and proceed as in the above mentioned instance.

On Sunday and holidays there are two men on duty at the fire department to provide quicker and more efficient response to alarms. This arrangement is not generally known in Plymouth, Chief McAllister believes.

With Michigan's fire loss for the past year the greatest that has been in several seasons, it becomes evident that more and more thought must be given to the prevention of fire as well as fire control.

Chief McAllister and his faithful volunteers are willing to risk their lives but YOU could reduce those risks by using care and your head. Where FIRE is concerned an ounce of prevention is worth 500 pounds of cure. You can help. Will you??

Protein Diet

A diet rich in protein may compensate partially for a deficiency in the B vitamin, pantothenic acid, it is indicated in rat experiments at the University of California. The researchers fed one set of rats on a pantothenic acid deficient diet which contained 64 per cent casein, and another set on the deficient diet containing only 24 per cent casein. The rats on the high protein diet grew much larger and lived longer than those on a low protein diet. One explanation is that in the very high protein diet there is necessarily a decreased level of carbohydrate, and it is believed that pantothenic acid may be used up in the process of the body's utilization of carbohydrates. Other possible explanations are that factors in the casein, such as traces of pantothenic acid, amino acid, phosphorus, or unknown constituents, may promote the compensation.

Peruvian Paint

Paintings in color have been found on prehistoric buildings in Peru, and in modern times paint manufacture is making rapid strides in the ancient land of the Incas. A recent report says that there will soon be 14 paint factories in Peru and that Peruvian factories are now producing almost three-fifths of the paint consumed in Peru. The types produced in Peru are oil, water, emulsion and marine paints, common enamels, nitrocellulose lacquers and spirit varnishes. Figures from five paint factories give the following production percentages: Oil paints, 50 per cent; water paints, 25 per cent; emulsion paints, 8 per cent; marine paints, 2 per cent; enamels and lacquers, 10 per cent, and varnishes 5 per cent.

Left-over sugar is mainly responsible for many of the brilliant shades of autumn foliage, according to the department of agriculture. Many suppose that frost is responsible for the color changes, but colors change before cold weather as the trees prepare for winter.

All during the spring and summer, the leaves have served as factories, where the foods necessary for the tree's growth have been manufactured. This food-making takes place in numberless tiny cells of the leaf and is carried on by small green bodies which give the leaf its color. These chlorophyll bodies make the food for the tree by combining carbon taken from the air with hydrogen, oxygen and various minerals supplied in the water which the roots gather.

In the fall when the cool weather causes a slowing down of the vital processes, the work of the leaves comes to an end. The machinery of the leaf factory is dismantled; the chlorophyll is broken up into the various substances of which it is composed, and whatever food there is on hand is sent to the body of the tree to be stored for use in the spring. All that remains in the cell cavities of the leaf is a watery substance in which a few oil globules and crystals, and a small number of yellow, strongly refractive bodies, can be seen. These give the leaves the yellow coloring so familiar in the autumnal foliage.

It often happens that there is more sugar in the leaf than can readily be transferred back to the tree. When this is the case, the chemical combination with other substances produces many color shades.

Michigan Cities Adopt Standard Traffic Laws

A unique traffic law enforcement plan designed to save both drivers and police from a labyrinth of confusing regulations was activated recently in five Michigan cities. The new plan involving use of a standardized traffic violation ticket in Saginaw, Bay City, Jackson, Battle Creek and Kalamazoo is aimed at reduction of accidents by making violations and penalties for reckless driving uniform over a multi-city area.

Use of the plan in more Michigan cities is anticipated following the experimental period during which some changes in details may be expected. Out-of-town drivers will profit by knowing from experience at home what regulations and enforcement procedure to expect in other cities. The plan was devised by the Michigan police chief's association in co-operation with the state safety commission and other agencies.

Implementing the plan is a new traffic violation ticket listing six principal violations which have been found to account for more than 80 per cent of traffic accidents. These include speeding, improper passing and disobeying stop sign or light. Each violation has a hazard rating allowing numerical tabulation of the seriousness of any infraction.

Nutrient X

Research on Nutrient X—still a puzzle to food chemists and nutrition workers—is leading to a better understanding of eating habits and how the body makes use of foods. Nutrient X is a food factor that scientists have not yet been able to isolate in pure form. It seems to have the properties of a vitamin and apparently plays an important part in the palatability of food. "Palatability" of food, as regarded by science, depends not only on the "taste" of the food offered but also on the need of the body for the food and the use the body will be able to make of the food if it is eaten. This is how the white rats used in the Nutrient X studies have reacted: Lacking sufficient Nutrient X stored in their bodies, these rats would not eat enough of a diet deficient in X to keep them growing well. Supplied with Nutrient X, the rats ate more of the same diet and grew better. It was not necessary to add the Nutrient X to the diet. It could be fed separately or injected into the rats. If they were supplied with Nutrient X the diet proved more palatable.

Corn Borer

Reports of the development of a corn said to suffer no damage from the European corn borer are unduly optimistic, say agronomists of the department of agriculture. For many years the department has been attempting to develop a corn resistant to this insect, and as a result many different strains have been tested, and some have been found to suffer less injury under borer attack than others. In general, say the agronomists, strong-stalked strains are less likely to lodge under heavy borer infestations than weak-stalked strains. Since most good hybrids are more resistant to lodging than open-pollinated varieties, the hybrids, as a class, they say, have suffered less damage than open-pollinated corn. Some day, say the corn breeders, hybrids immune to the corn borer may be developed, but for the present farmers should grow strong-stalked hybrids and follow the recommended farming practices if they wish to keep borer damage to a practical minimum.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Schools

Plymouth Kiwanians were informed about local school problems at their meeting last Tuesday evening. Superintendent Helmar Nelson was guest of the club upon the invitation of the club civic service committee, consisting of Byron Becker, chairman, Norman Atchinson and Henry Hudson.

Mr. Nelson told Kiwanians that all school problems today revolved back to one major stumbling block and that in Plymouth as in all other cities that problem was finance. The speaker outlined the needs for more buildings and pointed out the fact that the last census revealed 400 children in Plymouth of pre-school age that would soon be descending on the already overtaxed grade buildings. He further pointed out the fact that if all of the people who are planning on building new homes in this area were able to do so another 400 or 500 children would also be ready for school here.

The school has no finance available for new buildings or expansion nor are there funds available to adjust salaries of school employees in this age of fast rising prices. Mr. Nelson said. He summed up his talk by bringing out the fact that no matter where the school might turn today to face any of its major problems it was pretty well supplied in view of the fact that funds for any of the needs were not available.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fisher announce the arrival of a daughter born September 16 at the Plymouth Hospital weighing 7 and 1/2 pounds.

A hoss sleeps in a straw laid stall,
The chickens perch on props;
But a gol-durned cow's so ornery,
She don't care where she flops.

Daughter: "What does close quarters mean, Ma?"
Mama: "It's a definition of me trying to get twenty-five cents from your father."

Penicillin Proves Effective Treatment for Anthrax
 Penicillin has come to the aid of workers whose occupations bring them in contact with animal hides or other animal products. This antibiotic drug has been found effective in the treatment of a burrowing infectious disease of the skin known as anthrax, according to an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The anthrax bacillus is transmitted to man through contact with diseased animals or infected animal products. Anthrax is characterized by a gangrenous carbuncle-like lesion surrounded by swelling and an abnormal accumulation of water in the tissues. The disease is always serious.

Reporting on 25 cases, the authors say that in several patients the infection occurred at sites of previous wounds. One of these lesions appeared at the site of a cigaret burn on the face, two developed at sites of abrasions on the fingers and one occurred in a hang-nail. Among the remaining 20 patients several believed that they had had ordinary pimples at the sites where anthrax lesions later appeared.

Treatment was begun as soon as diagnosis was made, the article states. All patients were treated with penicillin in total dosages from approximately one million units to over four million units. The authors find it significant that in 22 of these cases the anthrax bacilli disappeared from the lesions in 24 hours or less.

Unpleasant Speaking Voice Can Be Corrected
 To some persons, voice is a great asset — to other it is a definite handicap. But in most cases, an unpleasant speaking voice is the result of bad habits, such as speaking from the throat in a high, thin voice, rather than from the diaphragm. Effort spent in breathing control and in keeping the voice pitched low, will often bring all the improvement which is needed.

Another common mistake, especially for teen-agers, is the tendency to slur words together and to be lazy about enunciating properly. Speaking slowly, and being conscious of enunciating distinctly, is probably the only practice necessary for correction of this bad habit.

Many persons have a tendency to speak with a nasal quality which is very unpleasant to the ears. Just as in changing the pitch of the speaking tone, the best way to improve a nasal voice is to practice breathing from the diaphragm in order to bring the more normal voice out rich and full.

Ant Hill Torch Burns Youngster to Death
 PITTSBURGH.—John W. Roberts, five, of Avalon, died and a playmate, Billy Scott, five, was seriously burned when their clothing caught fire as they were watching Billy's father, William Scott, burn out ant hills in his yard with a blow torch.
 Scott was badly burned tearing off the boys' clothing.

Wife Killed in Crowded Store
 Shoppers Felled by Crazy Husband's Shots.

MEMPHIS, TENN. — Crazy by jealousy, a man went gunning for his wife in the shopper-jammed bargain basement of Memphis' largest department store.

Before it was over, she had been killed, he had been felled by a police bullet and four women shoppers had been wounded.

Robert Horner, 49, estranged from his wife, Gertrude, 31, followed her into the eight-story Lowenstein store.

There, amidst hundreds of women crowding around counters, he assembled an automatic shotgun and fired four times, killing his wife.

Women shrieked. Some dived behind counters. Others raced for exits. The lunch counter was emptied in a flash.

When police arrived, Horner still stood over his wife. Shoppers still were hiding or trying to get out.

Patrolman C. R. Love called to Horner to surrender. His answer was another shotgun blast.

Love, untouched, fired once from behind a pillar, but then held his fire, so as not to endanger the women.

Suddenly Horner's false teeth dropped out. When he bent over to pick them up, Love fired, felling Horner.

The fracas, which occurred during the noon rush hour, drew a crowd in the streets estimated at 10,000 persons.

The company offered the bargain basement clerks the afternoon off to rest their nerves, but none accepted.

Cracker Box Gave Modern Packaging Start
 Modern packaging of consumer goods in folding paper cartons, which has had a profound influence both on American business and homemaking, is really only a little older than the airplane. Although folding paper boxes were known as early as the Civil war, it was not until the 1890s that they came into use on a nationwide scale.

Today thousands of products of widely diversified industries ranging from food to hardware are packaged in paper cartons. Annual production of folding paper boxes totals approximately two million tons. Demand, running well ahead of supply, is more than 50 per cent greater than before the war.

A soda cracker indirectly provided the impetus for this modern development in packaging. In 1896 the manufacturers of a new type cracker realized their product would not remain fresh if marketed in the old-time cracker barrel, exposed to air, moisture, dirt and breakage. A folding paper box was devised, having a printed decorative overwrap bearing the product trade name. The new carton sealed the crackers in, kept them fresh and sanitary. It was easy to carry, to open, and to store in the pantry. Besides, it speeded shopping. Clerks did not have to weigh and package each purchase. Modern merchandising of non-durable consumer goods in paper cartons carrying prominent brand and manufacture identification is generally conceded to date from this event, which was advertised nationally.

Farm Real Estate Taxes Take Big Jump in 1946

Average farm real estate taxes per acre for the nation as a whole in 1945 were more than 10 per cent higher than in 1944. This is the largest year-to-year change in more than a decade. Taxes per $100 of real estate value declined slightly in 1945, principally because of rising land values. Changes in taxes per acre for the individual states were characterized by a wide range of increases. In only two states did taxes per acre decrease from 1944, the decline being small in each.

The pressures that led to increased taxes in 1945 are similar to those which brought sharp increases during and immediately after World War I. But there are certain significant differences between the two periods. These differences relate particularly to the position of property taxes in the state and local revenue systems and to the allocation among the levels of government of fiscal responsibility for various functions.

In contrast to the situation during the World War I period, many states have been relying heavily upon motor fuel, income and retail sales taxes. Rising price levels tend to increase the revenues from taxes such as those on incomes and retail sales and to that extent to reduce the pressure for increases in property taxes.

Eritrea Primitive
 Most of the people of Eritrea in East Africa lead simple, primitive lives, fishing along the coast, tending livestock and raising subsistence crops in the cooler, moister highlands. Arabs and Hamites, the latter similar to the residents of Ethiopia, make up the bulk of the population, together with some Negro elements. Religious affiliation is divided chiefly between the Coptic Christian and the Mohammedan faiths. Coastal temperatures often reach 120 degrees and residents say that only interesting work makes life tolerable. Under either Italian or British rule, everyone who could sought relief from the blistering ports of Massaua and Assab in the colony's inland capital at Asmara.

Re-Educated Prisoners
 Approximately three-fourths of the 378,000 German prisoners of war brought to this country during the war were at least partially re-educated during their internment and returned to Europe "with an appreciation of the value of democracy and a friendly attitude toward America." This conclusion was based on a recently completed opinion poll of 22,153 German prisoners from camps in all parts of the country during their processing for repatriation. The percentages of favorable answers were remarkably consistent for all groups polled, indicating there would probably have been little deviation had the questionnaire been given to all 378,000 originally interned in the United States.

Farm Language
 Farm language often seems strange to city folk who have come out to the country. Careful explanation may be needed. You chop wood with an axe, but you chop cotton with a hoe. Pliers are used to bend wire, but you bend a herd of cattle from horseback. Stripping a cow is different than stripping tobacco or bluegrass seed. Setting a hen is different than setting the shovels on a cultivator. Dressing that hen really means to "undress" it. There is the boy from Dixie who turned down an invitation to go out with his gang because, as he said, "Tonight I'm going to carry my girl to the movies." That would sound strange to boys in some other parts of the country.

PAPER, NOT RICE . . . Hearing that an estimated 1,557,000 pounds of rice are wasted annually by well-wishers at American weddings, Fred Boggio and his pretty bride, the former Bridget Marand, requested that none of the precious grain be thrown at their ceremony. The couple is being showered with confetti as they emerge from Our Lady of Mount Carmel church in New York City.

Guatemalan Grass Oil Industry Is 'War Baby'

One of the "war baby" industries of Latin America is the production in Guatemala of the grass oils — citronella and lemongrass. The products are used in soap and perfume, for scenting insecticides and for other technical purposes.

The grass oil growers pioneered in the decade before the war and found tough going. With the decade of trade depression in the '30s making for small profits and discouragement, with competition reduced by war, prices were good, acreage was expanded, and the grass specialists have returned profits to improving both the growing and the distilling branches. They hope to be able to continue as producers of these oils.

Citronella and lemongrass are related plants and the practices of production and the products are similar. In a warm climate and with good moisture—either from rain or from irrigation—these perennial grasses sprout promptly after harvest and are ready for cutting every 90 days, making the growing and distilling year round operations. After about three years (12 cuttings) a field deteriorates and needs a rest or the planting of a soil building crop. Growers keep down weed competition because weeds in the harvested grass would injure the quality of the distilled oil. The crop is cut by hand, allowed to wilt for a day, and is then hauled to the steam distilling plant for extraction of the oil.

SAVED SON'S LIFE . . . Ivor Dunsford, Nottingham, England, scientist, shows with his son, Peter, after the boy's life had been saved by a new plasma therapy made by his daughter. Dunsford hopes other lives will be saved by plasma which he originated.

Soft Drinks
The fact that there are more than 1,250,000 places in the United States where a soft drink can be bought indicates the universal appeal of this commodity. In 1943 approximately 18,000,000 bottled drinks were sold. Of these, about 15 per cent went to the armed forces and another 15 per cent to industrial plants. Hospitals and similar institutions were important consumers but most of the remaining 70 per cent were distributed through retail outlets, about half being consumed on the premises.

Belgium's Economy
In peacetime, the extensive rail, road and waterway systems were important to Belgium's economy. They were used in the nation's own foreign commerce and also in its large transit trade between the outside world and the areas of inland Europe, chiefly in Germany, France, the Netherlands and Switzerland. An indication of the port's capacity is seen in the record for 1937, a good year, in which more than 13,500 vessels totaling 25,500,000 tons, entered the harbor.

To Iron Bias-Cuts
If that lovely new hip-slimming, bias-cut slip hangs unevenly after its first trip to the suds, don't blame it on the laundering or the store. The chances are that the fault lies with the ironing. Next time try ironing diagonally across the slip so that your iron moves along the straight or grain of the goods—you will get much better results.

Plastic Heels
A new molding process covers women's shoe heels with a one-twelfth coating of plastic. The new heel will not scratch or scuff, nor will the coating wear off, split or peel. No seam shows. It can be made in all colors, dull or glossy, simulated leathers, multi-colors, etc. Heels are attached to shoes in the usual manner.

Add Cheese to Crust
Three tablespoons of grated cheese sprinkled over the top crust 10 minutes before the pie is removed from the oven will give it a luscious brown color and added flavor.

Restore Nap
Restore the fluffy nap of velvet and similar fabrics by steaming (hold in front of teakettle spout) and brushing with soft brush when nearly dry.

Improves Meat
Caponizing renders a bird more quiet and peaceful and causes the flesh to retain the fine flavor and texture of broiler meat.

Here's $64 Question—Don't Read Last Line!
Twenty-five persons of average education were asked the following question but only three gave the correct answer.

"I am the oldest major, most universally used scientific device for overcoming shortcomings in the human body."

"More than 600 years ago I was born in Florence, Italy; since then I continuously have aided hundreds of millions of persons to better living."

"My work in succoring humanity started centuries before science discovered such basic facts as the circulation of the blood, anesthesia for painless surgery, or the cellular structure of the human body."

"Neither drug nor pill, I am a tonic that brightens the lives of countless men, women and children."

"I take on many forms and shapes, yet those whom I aid are hardly cognizant of my presence."

"WHAT AM I?"

The answer, of course, is spectacles.

In Mansfield, Ohio, John V. Farrell complained to police that a neighbor's dog always attacked his good leg, never his artificial one.

Army to Raise Food
Guatemala plans to have its army raise at least 50 per cent of the food it consumes, according to a report received from the Middle America information bureau. The reasons given for this are twofold. First, by growing its own food, this army will help conserve the world food supply by permitting the food to be ordinarily purchased to be consumed within the country or to be shipped abroad. Second, the soldiers of this Middle American republic will learn modern farming methods in preparation for their return to civilian life. Guatemala, like the other ten republics of Middle America, is predominantly agricultural and it hopes to assure its prosperity by teaching scientific farming to its future landowners. Main crops are coffee, bananas, sugar, essential oils and cacao. In addition, there are the vast rubber, chicle and mahogany forests.

Peshigo Fire
The Peshigo fire—so called for the town in Wisconsin near where it started—broke out October 3, 1871, a few days before the Chicago fire. Though less known than the latter conflagration the tragedy of Peshigo took a greater toll of lives and the fire roared with hurricane speed over 1,200,000 acres of forests. It burned up towns, villages, saw-mills and farms. Peshigo, a busy logging town of 2,000 people, was reduced to ashes. Some of the town's people, mostly women and children, were rescued by ships on Lake Michigan and other people crowded into a river that ran through Peshigo and escaped by ducking under water when the flames leaped out from the river banks. But 600 men, women and children died horrible deaths when the town turned into a furnace. It all happened in just one hour's time. In all, 1,500 persons in the region lost their lives.

Providence Mapping 'Desire Lines' for Traffic

A detailed "origin and destination" traffic analysis of Providence, R. I., is forming the basis of the city master plan for thoroughfares by determining "desire lines" — those lines along which traffic would flow if facilities were available. The American Society of Planning Officials reports that the thoroughfare plan is designed to serve as the framework for a 20-year redevelopment program in which the traffic network forms both the circulatory system and the skeleton on which the "Providence of the Future" will be built. The Providence city plan commission considers traffic of primary importance to the overall master plan not only in terms of present traffic angles to be unsharped but also because the proposed expressway system will serve as the framework within which neighborhoods and districts can be developed into a congruent community pattern.

Recent origin and destination surveys to discover traffic "desire lines" have disclosed that mounting traffic congestion in Providence — typical of so many cities in the postwar period — is caused almost altogether by local rather than through traffic. Only 2 1/2 per cent of the 418,000 or more vehicles moving daily within metropolitan Providence are bound from one point outside the city to another outside point.

VEST-POCKET HERCULES . . . Anthony Muir, 3, son of a former Melbourne, Australia, wrestling champion, weighs in at 49 pounds in his training program for the 1946 heavyweight title. No sweets are permitted in his program of training. Anthony is given a daily training schedule with muscle building equipment designed for him.

Helicopter Beats Plane, Auto, Train in Short Trip
HARTFORD, CONN. — A helicopter proved faster for short range flight recently than an airplane and far outdistanced two other modes of transportation — the automobile and the train.

In a test arranged by the United Aircraft corporation over an approximate 50-mile course the helicopter flew from Bridgeport to the corporation's headquarters here in 31 minutes. The actual distance was 51 miles for the helicopter.

The plane trip, with automobile pickups at both ends of the journey, covered 54.6 miles in 48 minutes; the automobile did 57 miles in 95 minutes despite a brush with a Bridgeport traffic policeman, who said the driver was speeding, while those who made the jaunt by train (taxi to and from the stations) took 122 minutes.

Fire-Proofing Furnishings Reduces Fire Hazards

Fire-proofing curtains, drapes and some other types of household fabrics as well as certain kinds of clothing will go far in reducing fire hazards in many rural homes, especially those where open flame lamps and heating stoves are used. One of the best fire-proofing solutions for household fabrics and clothing consists of seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid dissolved in two quarts of hot water. Both borax and boric acid may be obtained at any drug store.

Materials may be treated with this solution by simply dipping them or spraying with a common garden sprayer. While treated fabrics will char when exposed to a flame, they will not flare up. Fire-proofing fabrics with this solution has no effect on their appearance and they are made more resistant to the injurious action of sulphur gases given off by burning coal and illuminating gas. Fabrics so treated must be treated again after being laundered since the chemicals will be removed during the washing process.

Hen Lays Egg Within An Egg

Believe it or not, but we've got to believe it because Mrs. Charles Terris, 23125 Schoolcraft road, told The Plymouth Mail about it. One of her Light Brahmas last Tuesday laid a great big egg that had another perfect egg within it.

The egg was nine full inches around if the long way, and eight and one half inches around the center.

When Mrs. Terris broke the egg to use the next day, she found another perfectly formed egg within another shell inside the big egg. The egg that was within the egg had not a hard shell, but a yolk and white. The big egg that encircled the smaller one also had a perfectly formed hard shell, but there was no yolk in it, the egg on the inside taking the place of the yolk.

You can believe it or not, but its one of those unusually interesting stories that comes from one of our good subscribers that we believe.

In Harrison, Me., J. Melville Jordan lost a barn when lightning struck, built a new one, lost it when lightning struck again.

Nothing is achieved before it be thoroughly attempted. —Sir Philip Sidney.

Man Hangs by Arm 90 Minutes to Escape Trains

CLEVELAND, OHIO—A 66-year-old "knight of the road" who clung to a railroad tie with one arm for 90 minutes while two freight trains roared above him was rescued from a perch 100 feet above ground under a Nickel Plate trestle across the Cuyahoga river.

The rescued man was William W. Taylor of Chicago who had started across the bridge and saw a train overtaking him as he was midway between two safety platforms. He lowered himself over the end of a projecting tie and held on with his right arm, with the tips of his toes barely touching an I-beam part of the bridge structure.

A fire department ladder finally was raised and he was rescued.

Pfc. Martin G. Mepyan's Letter Tells Need of New Church On Okinawa

A letter from Pfc. Martin G. Mepyan of Rosedale Gardens now with the Army Air Forces stationed at Okinawa gave added emphasis this week to the World-Wide Restoration Fund which Presbyterian churches in this area will raise in October.

The letter, dated July 1 and addressed to Rev. Woodrow W. Wooley minister for the Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church, told of Martin's meeting Bud Mason and Bill Schaaf, both Plymouth High School boys. "It was good to talk with them. We always have lots of fun talking about the 'good old days'", he wrote.

"You mentioned in your last letter that the church was starting a Restoration Fund," continued Martin. I think that is a fine idea.

"Before the war, this island had over 100 Christians, with a church of their own. During the terrific bombings, the church was destroyed. Of course, this island has been in such turmoil that Christian missionaries no doubt were restricted from moving back.

"In the future, however, this island probably will have Christian missionaries. True they did have a Christian cemetery on the island. It is located near Naha. I imagine near the church which was completely ruined. Incidentally, this was a Methodist church. "I am sure mission work here would be a great step toward the making of a better world. Probably your Fund would be allotted, or at least a part of it, to some of these islands in the Southwest Pacific area. Most of the civilians are working either for the Army or Navy. Since they are learning our ways of living, I believe that missionary work here now would convert a great many of the people."

The Rosedale Presbyterian Church will initiate its appeal for the Restoration Fund on Sunday, Oct. 6. The service at 11 a.m. will celebrate the World-Wide Communion, and gifts to the fund will be made an act of worship. The goal for this church is $4,800 in three years. Workers will make their calls Sunday afternoon, in the hope of meeting the goal all in one day.

The Plymouth Presbyterian church, with a goal of $5728, has met its quota by adding the sum to the regular budget. It hopes to exceed the quota, however, with the aid of additional gifts from members. The Northville Presbyterian Church launched its drive for a $7,182 goal last Monday evening with a dinner for workers, attended by representatives from the churches mentioned, and also the Garden City Presbyterian church.

The Presbyterian Restoration Fund is aimed at raising $27,000,000. It will be administered through the World Council of Churches to avoid overlapping. Other denominations will have their Restoration funds, to bring to total figure to $112,000,000.

Farm Editor Penetrates SOVIET IRON CURTAIN

A Series by
JOHN STROHM
Formerly of Prairie Farmer

To refute charges frequently made that American correspondents are not permitted to travel freely in Soviet Russia, John Strohm, now president of the American Agricultural Editors' Association, was given every opportunity to report on conditions in cities, villages and farms. He came back with a series of illustrated articles that are almost unique in Russia-American press experience because he went where he wished and wrote what he saw without being officially guided.

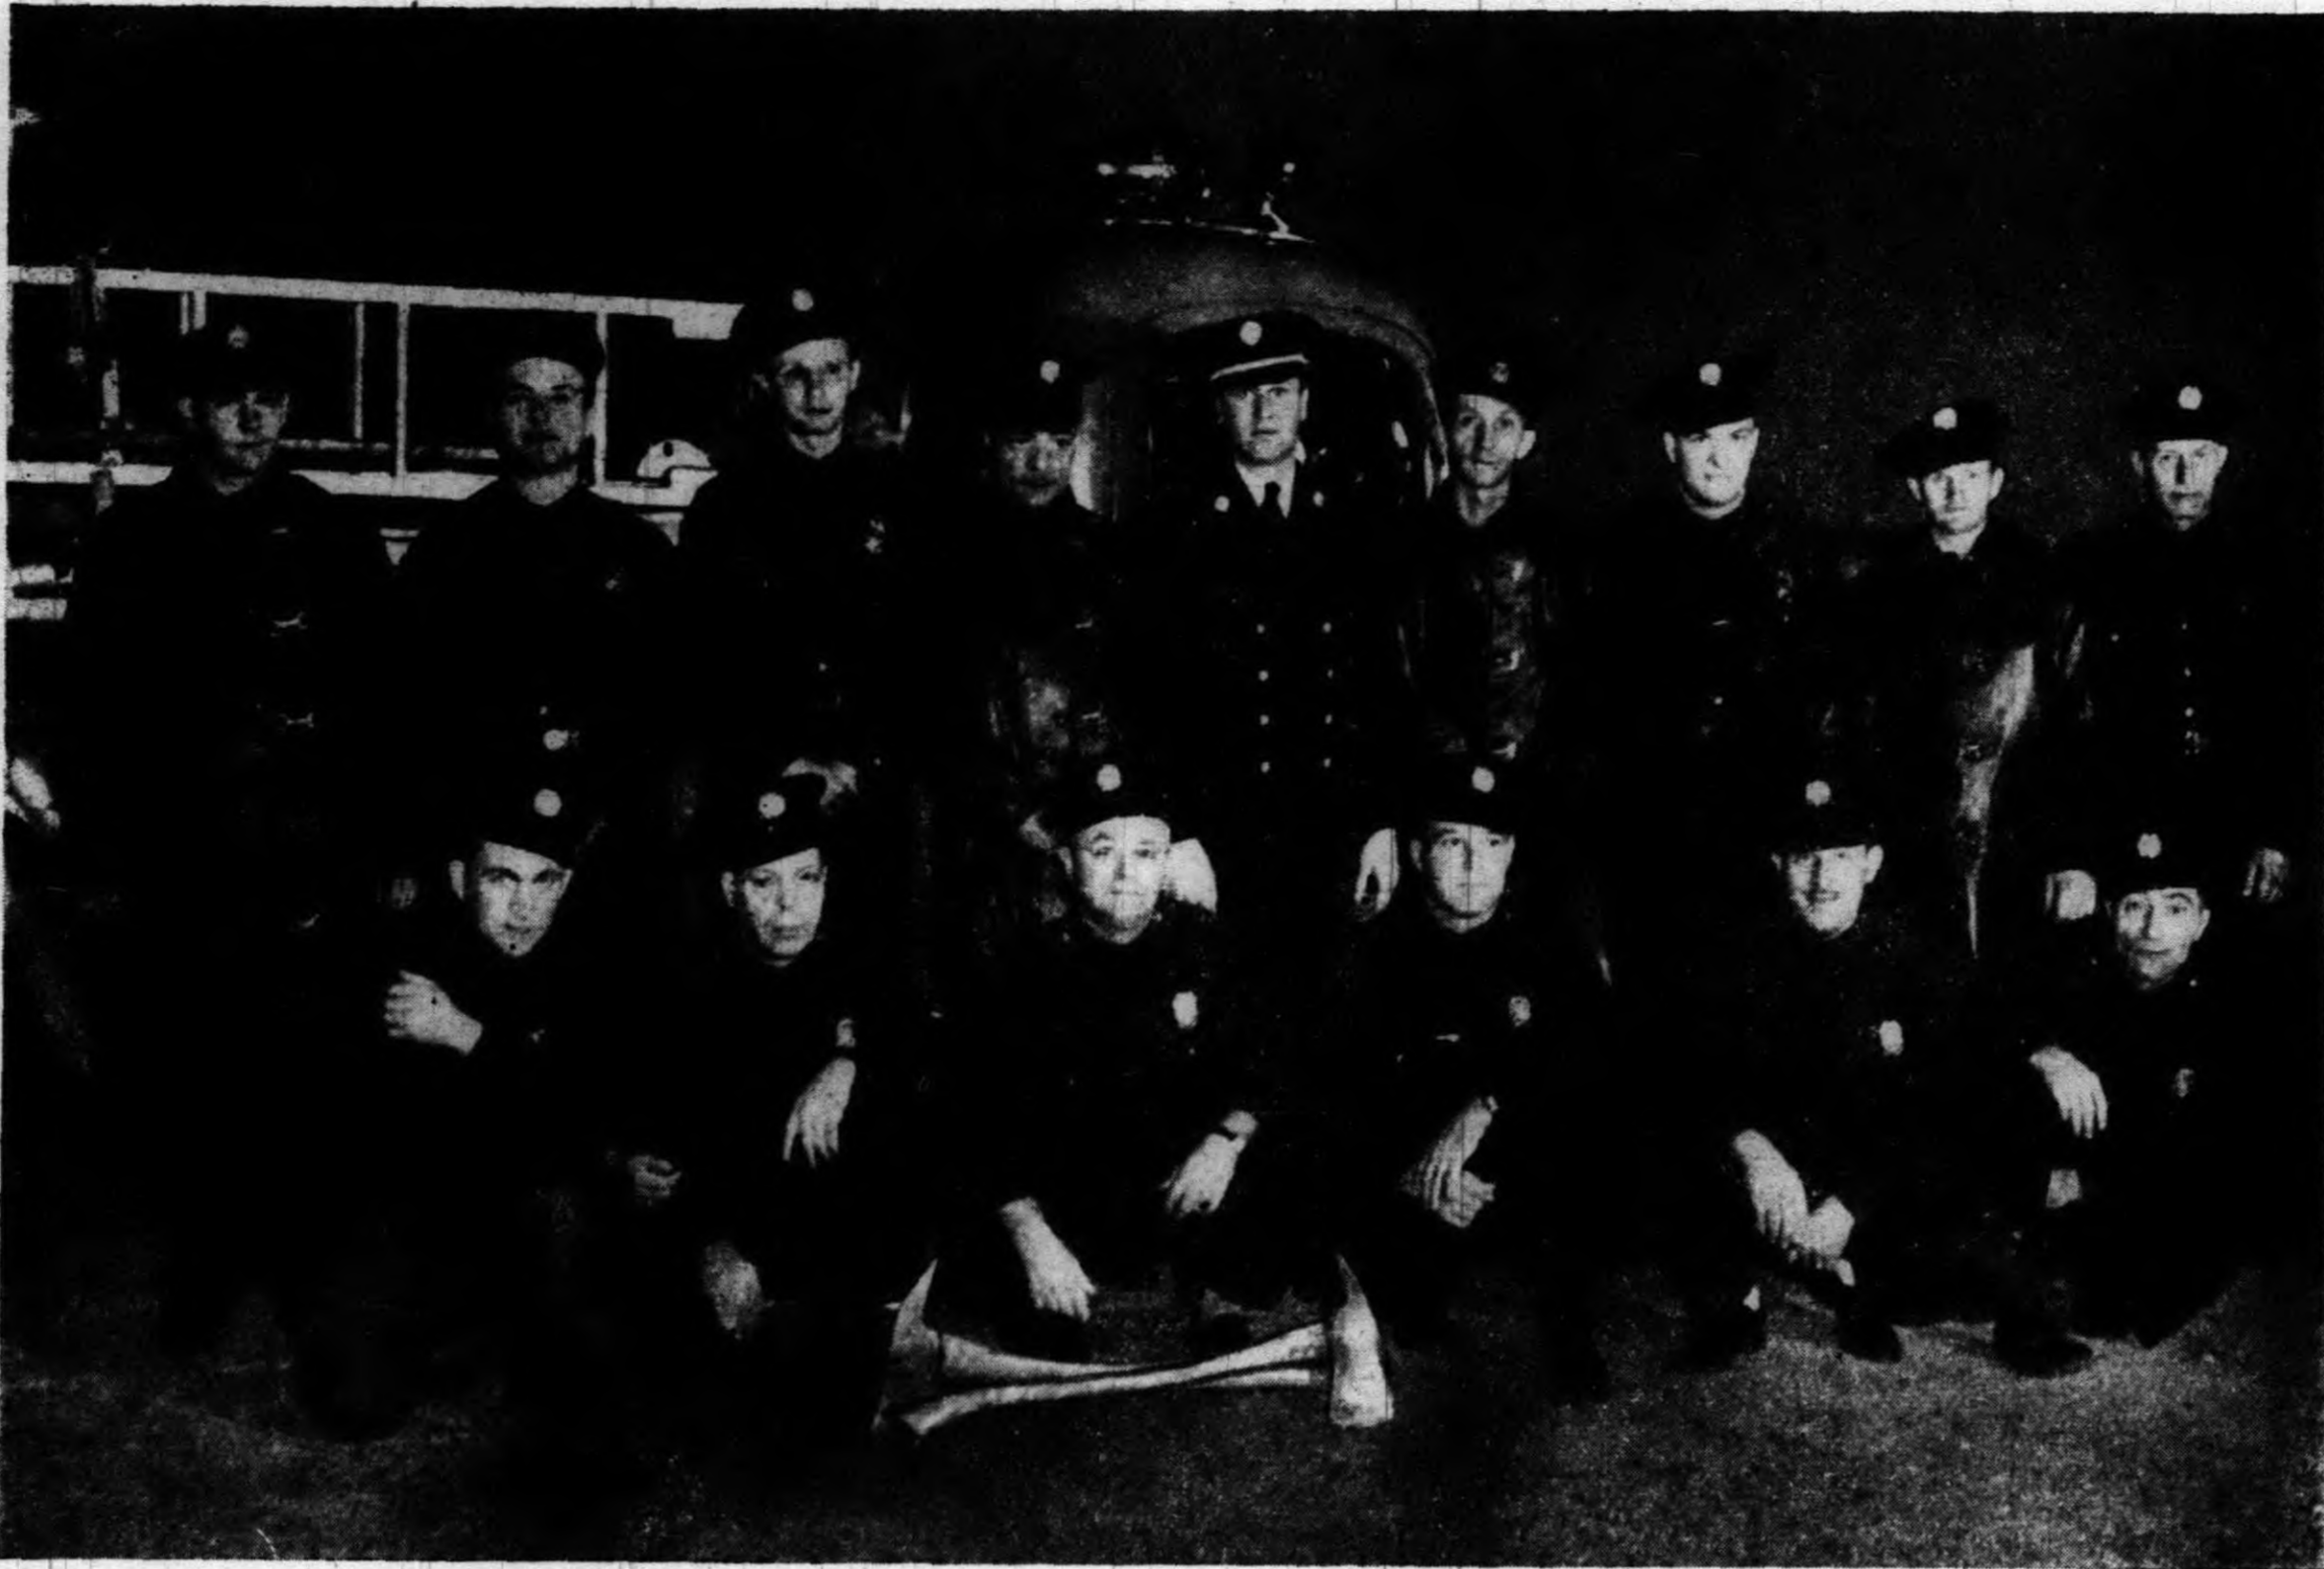

Not only that but he took four cameras along. Other radio and news correspondents were amazed and envious. Now The News brings you views and news of what lies behind the Soviet Iron Curtain!
