Need Volunteers For Sewing Room

Volunteers are desperately needed for the local Red Cross sewing project. Mrs. Frank J. Burrows, chairman of production, reports that due to lack of enough volunteer workers the local unit has been unable to produce its quota of finished articles and meet the demands of the National Red Cross Headquarters. The need for clothing for relief purposes is urgent and anyone who can spare some time each week and volunteer services to help out with this worthwhile project is urged to do so. The Red Cross rooms which are located in the basement of the Post Office building are open Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week from 1 to 4. This is a chance for Plymouth women to come through once more and rally their services for a benevolent cause.

during the week. The delegation, led by Commander Robert Burley of the VFW and Commander E. N. Brown of the "Cootie Tent", were at the sanitarium for several hours, chatting with the various veterans, who are TB patients. The gifts included shoes, slippers, stationary, apples, cakes and candies. The M.O.C. members expressed their gratitude to the following donors of the items: Robert Willoughby, Fisher Shoe Store, Sam and Son, Treadwell Shoe Repair, and Mrs. Robert Willoughby, whose delicious cake made a hit with the patients. This visit will be followed by more to Maybury and other hospitals in the vicinity and carries out the aims of the Cootie division of the V.F.W. NEW HEADSET FOR TELEPHONE OPERATORS is modeled by Miss June Oettle of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. Streamlined and weighing only nine ounces, half that of the old type headset with separate transmitter, the new set is a one-piece unit with improved transmission qualities. One of the advantages of the new device is that an operator can't inadvertently talk "away" from it. Because the entire set is carried by her head, the transmitter follows the operator's lips like a shadow. Western Electric only recently began producing the set so its widespread use among Michigan Bell operators must await quantity output.

Local Talent To Play In Concert

The Ionic Temple Concert Orchestra, which will appear at Plymouth High School on Saturday, March 1, at 8:15 p.m., under the auspices of the Starkweather P.T.A. will have as guest performers several local people. David Matthews and Kowolik have accepted invitations to appear with the Detroit musicians for the evening's engagement, and others are expected to accept later.

Also on the program is a local quartet composed of W.D. Brown, Erwin Campbell, A. Glassford and John Morrow. Youngest in the program is Marjorie Thomas, a pupil at Starkweather school.

The association announces that tickets are still available from Mrs. Bell at Starkweather School or from Mrs. Kowolik, the ticket chairman.

Conference Set For Monday Night

Donald Kline of the National Recreation Association will meet at the Hotel Mayflower at 8:30 Monday evening with the Veterans Memorial Foundation Committee. Invited to attend the session are members of the City Recreation Board and the Board of Education. Problems confronting these groups in the recreational field will be discussed and tabulated to be considered in the report of the Recreation Association to the Memorial Foundation Committee.

Mr. Kline's service fee is being paid by the City Commission, the Recreation Board and the Board of Education. His traveling and living expenses and any added expenses are being paid by members of the Memorial Foundation Committee, thus dissolving the need to use any funds of the Foundation until actual building is started.

"Pistol Packin' Mama" Frustrates Hoodlum Visit

Emma Arnold of East Ann Arbor Trail near Newlark, shot and wounded two of four In-lister youths who allegedly attempted to break into her home early Monday. The 36 year old lady, who neighbors say is peace-loving and friendly, fired several shots from her .33 caliber pistol at the intruders. One bullet grazed the temple of one lad and another shot wounded a second of the foursome in the arm.

Mrs. Arnold has lived alone in the house for 31 years and she is ready to protect herself from any would-be prowlers. Although born back in the first part of the Civil war, Mrs. Arnold is agile and alert. A good neighbor and friend to many people around Plymouth, the elderly lady just won't tolerate any hoodlums around her home.

The youths, aged 13 to 20, are being held pending a decision on whether or not they shall be charged with breaking and entering.

If you have any items of interest about your family or friends please call Plymouth 6.

CLEANSING

In the old fighting days between England and Scotland the English soldiers were hunting the fugitive Robert Bruce, and they hit upon a clever scheme to find him. They put on his track his own blood hounds, and Bruce soon heard their deep baying. Then his solitary attendant heard the sound, and said: "We are lost! The English have tracked the hounds, and they are on our trail." "No," answered Bruce, "it is all right. They will not catch us yet. There is a stream yonder. We will plunge into it and the dogs will lose our scent." So when the hounds came to the water they lost the trail, and the attempt to discover Bruce failed. And so it is with our sins. They steadily pursue us. There is only one way we can escape. We must plunge into the cleansing stream of the blood of Christ. His Son, cleanse us from all sin!

New Septic Tank Regulations in Wayne County Now in Effect

A public health regulation to provide for a permit system and the supervision of the construction and installation of sewage disposal facilities by the Board of Health and to provide for sewer connections to premises where adequate municipal sewers are available under authority given to the Board of Health in Act 306 of the P. A. 1927 as amended by Act 192 of P. A. 1941, (1929 CL 6543-6554; MSA 14161-14170).

PERMITS

No person, firm, association or corporation, in the area of Wayne county in which the Wayne county board of Health has jurisdiction, shall construct, install or cause to be installed any septic tank, leaching bed, cesspool or other sewerage disposal device for the disposal of water carried sewerage, without first obtaining a permit from the Wayne county board of Health. These permits can be obtained from the township.

Septic Tank Design

Septic tanks or other sewerage disposal devices shall be of a design and capacity approved by the Wayne county board of Health.

Disposal of Liquid Waste

The disposal of liquid waste from public, semi-public or private premises and from septic tanks and other sewerage treatment devices shall be in a manner approved by the county board of Health.

Public Sewer Connections-time for Compliance

Except where there is no public sewer available, all new buildings shall be connected to such public sewerage system at the time of construction, and existing buildings shall be connected within one year of the adoption of this regulation. This regulation became effective last month.

Penalty

Any person, firm, association or corporation who violates any of the provisions of these regulations shall be prosecuted according to the statutes in such case made and provided and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction, thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding $100, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding 30 days, or by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court.

Severability Clause

Should any provisions or sections of these regulations be held invalid for any reason, such holding shall not be construed as affecting the validity of any of the remaining portions of these regulations, it being the intent that the remaining portions of these regulations shall stand notwithstanding the invalidity of such provision or section.

The regulations of this department are hereby declared to be immediately necessary for the preservation of the health of the public and are, hereby, given immediate effect upon publication according to law, unless otherwise specified in any regulation.

The above regulation was approved by the Wayne county board of Health May 22, 1946 and the township board at their meet-

Gum Ingredient

Although chewing gum is an international commodity, its chief ingredient is chicle, which comes only from the Middle-American countries of Mexico, Honduras and parts of Guatemala. Chicle is resin taken from the chicle tree.

Turn Ferns

Since ferns grow toward the sun, they should be turned daily to prevent lopsided growth. To promote growth, place a teaspoon of castor oil or two tablespoons of olive oil about the roots every three months.

Banana Plantations

The world's largest banana plantations are on the Atlantic coast of Middle America where the hot weather and high degree of rainfall make the conditions ideal for banana cultivation. In huge clearings cut from the tropical jungle 250 feet above sea level, these great farms extend only a few miles inland from the Caribbean.

Nutrition Needs

A moderately active man can get 10 per cent of his protein from one cup of milk; or 20 per cent of the needed iron from a half-cup of cooked beans; and a hundred per cent of his vitamin A from two-thirds of a cup of carrots or winter squash.

Manila Hemp

Manila hemp is not a hemp at all, but a fibre called abaca. Since this fibre grew plentifully in the Philippines and was exported chiefly from Manila, its common name originated there, but it is also grown in Middle America.

Honey Flavors

Just as there are many species of plants that produce nectar so there are many kinds of honey. The nectar obtained by the bees from each species of plant may carry with it an individual color, flavor and aroma.

Air Freight

There are few limitations to the commodities which can be flown by air express today, since the cargo compartments of air liners now carry up to 3,000 pounds and without passengers up to three tons.

Peaceful Nation

Called "the world's most peaceful country," Costa Rica has more school teachers than soldiers! Coffee, tropical fruits and various hardwoods are exported and cattle are raised extensively.

Dark Hogs

It is thought dark-skinned breeds of hogs are more susceptible to rickets than light-skinned breeds. Reason is that the dark skins absorb less ultraviolet light rays from sunshine.

Pantry Treatment

One Hollywood actress goes to the pantry for her beauty treatments. A facial of peanut oil softens her skin; orange juice whitens it; and cream is used as a lubricating night cream.

Frying Fish

The secret of frying fish crisp and brown without egg or bread crumbs, is to dry the fish well, sprinkle both sides with plenty of flour and then plunge the fish into boiling fat.

Varnish Brushes

Varnish brushes should be kept in a mixture of turpentine and varnish (not turpentine alone) when not in use. Clear turpentine makes the bristles rough and coarse.

Crude Light

Grease soaked rags were used for light in early American homes where time and materials were not available for candlemaking.

Dust Cloth

A dustless dust cloth can be made by soaking a piece of flannel or thick flannel in a mixture of two parts paraffin oil and one part turpentine. Wring out and hang outdoors to dry.

Bond Breaks

Not generally known is the fact that plastics are the bonding agent for most brakes. Plastics hold other materials together and give final physical characteristics for long life.

Community Refrigeration

There were 5,282 frozen food locker plants in the United States last July, according to a count made by the state extension services. Iowa led with 580.

Largest Snakes

The largest snakes in the world are said to be the reticulated pythons of the Philippine Islands, measuring up to 30 feet in length and 15 inches in diameter.

Long Dam

The Dnieper dam in Russia destroyed by Russian patriots during the German advance early in the war, was more than 5,000 feet long.

Right Clothes

Most mothers find that clothes which are right for their children furnish satisfaction to themselves.

Clamp Rubbers

Use a spring clothespin to clamp the children's rubbers together into pairs.

Killed by Falls

Seventy persons are killed each day by falls.

Cleaning Burners

A fine wire is a better tool for cleaning the gas burners on the range than is a toothpick, which may break and clog the burner.

Cutting Cabbage

Cut cabbage as soon as heads grow firm but before they start to burst. Cut off above the loose wrapper leaves.

Absorb Odors

Because eggs absorb odors and flavors easily, store them away from onions and other strong-smelling foods.

Harvesting Spinach

Cut the tap root of spinach and take the whole plant when leaves are about 7 inches long.

Citrus Storage

All citrus fruits keep best where they will be moist and cool.

HOROSCOPE

If you were born between Feb. 20 and March 19, your prudence will be remarkable; you will be slow to confide in anyone or to make real friends while always cheerful in your disposition towards fellow beings. Witty and somewhat sarcastic in your remarks, but never biting or unpleasant. Slow to anger and will quiet down slowly, but will keep no rancor in your heart. Quick, vigilant, industrious.

This constellation gives those born under it gifts of eloquence in speech and writing and causes them to love a generous diet, especially when sitting with friends around a well-laden board. It will make them sociable to a marked degree. Their opinions will be ardent, but rather eclectic than one-sided.

In the Legislature

By Elton R. Eaton

Taxes. More taxes. That's about all you hear up around Lansing these days. And the funny thing about it is the fact that not a single member of the legislature, as far as I know, wants to vote a dollar of new taxes.

The inability of the legislature to secure another popular vote on the sales tax diversion is going to lead directly to new taxes, no matter how much the state does to cut state expenses. The amendment took away from the state its main source of revenue with which to operate the state government.

There are some around Lansing who say that the voters knew what they were doing last fall and that they knew a yes vote meant that they favored more taxes. We have always doubted this claim—and still do.

But taxes it is, and taxes it is going to be. Right now there is a growing interest in an income tax law for Michigan. Under the Michigan constitution there can be no exemptions for any special group or class. All must be taxed alike. So if Michigan adopts an income tax law and you make $3,000 per year and your wife makes $3,000 per year both of you will pay an income tax. The state does have a right to fix a minimum, which will probably be around $1,090. If you make less than that amount you can figure you will not be included in an income tax bracket if an income tax law is passed for the state.

There is one thing sure, however, you must prepare to pay a pretty good state income tax, which of course is deductible from your federal income tax.

That doesn't make a state income tax look quite so bad. If you pay it to the state, you do not have to pay it to the federal government. Its deductible.

There's talk around the capitol of making the income tax high enough to take care of the soldier bonus payments and provide the state with a sufficient additional amount to make up that which is being taken away by the sales tax diversion.

To many, it seems nothing less than an outrage to impose upon the people new tax laws when there is enough money flowing into the state treasury to take care of all of the needs of the schools, cities and state. If it could be properly distributed.

But when the people vote for this or that, it is mandatory that the legislature carry it out, if it is possible to do so. Both rich and poor will benefit by the new tax distribution—that's why so many think it nothing more than a farce.

Here is an example of how it works. Suppose you have a neighbor who is poor and needs public support. Suppose this neighbor has a lot of rich neighbors who do not need a penny of public money upon which to live. Wouldn't you think it foolish to give to the rich neighbors the same amount of money you give to the poor man simply because you wanted to help the poor man? Well that is exactly what the sales tax diversion measure compels the state to do. Rich units of government, some with millions in cash and government bonds in the bank, will get just as much as the poor units of government. Those who have closely studied the proposal regard it as one of the most wasteful tax measures ever voted in any state.

If next year you are compelled to pay a state income tax, you will know exactly why you've got to do it. You've got to pay the state more money because the state, by your vote, is compelled to give millions of dollars to both rich and poor units of government, irrespective of their needs.

While talking about taxes, here's another one for you to think about. At the spring election you will vote upon a scheme known as the Fair Employment Practice Act. This creates a state commission and you may not have heard of that person because of their color, creed or race.

While no definite determination can be made as to what the cost will be to the state, it has been estimated that it will be somewhere around a million dollars the first year, and the sky being the limit thereafter, providing you vote "Yes" upon this act.

It will require a new state tax to support this extensive program if you vote for it at the April election. About the only kind of a tax left to impose in Michigan is a poll tax. It has been estimated that this tax might range anywhere from a dollar to five dollars in addition to all the other taxes you pay. Better begin to think about this one before election time rolls around. You may have another tax to pay.

Because of the tax muddle, there is a possibility that the legislature will be compelled to take a recess until the courts can figure out the amendment which was voted upon last fall. Lawyers, high officials, educators and others have been unable to find out just how to apply the terms of the amendment to the mandatory return of taxes to local units of government. The case is being taken by Gov. Sigler to the supreme court so that body can write into the act by its opinion a formula that some one can understand.

There is not much that can be done by the legislature until the financial situation has been cleared up and the proposal made a week or so ago by Representative Loupee of Dowagiac may find by the end of another week more support than it did last week. Its all a sorry mess over which no one has any control.

With only 13 votes against it, the house of representatives last week passed the anti-lobby bill. The measure seeks to smoke out and keep in the open every one who comes to Lansing to try and pass questionable legislation or kill something they don't want. The introduction of the measure came as a result of the startling revelations made by the Carr-Sigler grand jury, which has already resulted in some 52 former members of the legislature and lobbyists being sent to prison. There are always some who vote conscientiously against measures of this kind, and then there are others—yes other. You can finish this sentence.

JayCees Plan Two Meetings For Each Month

Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce is inaugurating a policy of bi-monthly meetings instead of the monthly sessions as has been the practice in the past. The first and third Wednesdays have been chosen by the membership as their meeting days for each month from this time on.

The first meeting will be for the purpose of conducting a general business discussion and the second date of each month will be designated for guests and scheduled programs.

Program chairman James Ross is formulating plans for an interesting Jay-Cee year.

In view of the fact that so many young Plymouth business men are desirous of enjoying these programs and entering into the work, and the added fact that it is impossible for the membership committee to contact all prospective members, any one interested is invited to attend the next regular meeting. Qualifications for membership are local business affiliation and age limit of 21 to 35. Fire Chief Robert McAllister is chairman of the membership committee and will accept applications.

The Plymouth Mail Want Ads bring results.

Plan Fashion Show In March

The Junior Chamber of Commerce Auxiliary will present a fashion show at the high school auditorium on Saturday, March 22 at 2 p.m. Local women's apparel shops will participate in putting on the elaborate staging planned.

This pre-Easter showing of spring styles will be of interest to style-conscious Plymouth residents, and will give them a chance to view in advance the newest apparel as it will be shown in the coming season.

Further plans for the conducting of the coming fashion show were made and committees appointed at an Auxiliary meeting held at the home of Mrs. R. J. Cutler on Main street on Tuesday evening.

Fathers Attend PTA Meeting

The Starkweather Parent Teachers Association at its regular monthly meeting, last week brought out a full quota of fathers. A prize was offered for the school room which was represented by the most fathers at the meeting, and they certainly did turn out. About 100 people attended the meeting and enjoyed the entertainment that followed. Motion pictures of scenic Michigan were shown and also one of particular interest to the fathers was about fishing. Cheers were elicited from the dads for this latter picture, which was in color and sound.

Delegates At State Convention

Plymouth Junior Chamber of Commerce was represented at the state convention at Lansing on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 15 and 16 by Charles Wolfe, Marvin Terry and John Gaffield. At the Saturday evening meeting a talk was given by the medical officer in charge of the state laboratories. His topic was "Blood". He told of the many uses of blood and blood plasma and other component parts of blood. Special emphasis was given to the vast knowledge acquired of the subject during the war by our armed forces. Mention was made of the rapid strides made in the study of the use of plasma by the medical corps during the war. The application of the knowledge gained in the army and navy to civilian uses was also discussed. The delegation was interested in the information concerning the work of the Red Cross in conjunction with the state to build an adequate blood bank. At the present time the plasma in the blood banks is being used at a rate in excess of donations. The present supply will diminish rapidly if this situation is not overcome, said the state medical officer. The second meeting Saturday evening was a forum for discussion of plans for state representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to send delegates to the National convention to be held at Long Beach, California in the spring. The Plymouth chapter of the Jay-Cees intends to send one or more members to this convention. At the Sunday morning meeting the local men took part in a discussion on state government. The forum was led by several high state officials who conducted a question and answer panel after the regular talks.

To conclude the program of the weekend a dinner and business meeting was held on Sunday afternoon. The principal speaker at the meeting was the National Vice-President of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. A stationary knife for cutting potatoes leaves both hands free for cutting. BABSON

Babson Discusses Bonds

Babson Park, Florida, Feb. 28.— Three weeks ago in this column I discussed the stock market. I gave ten reasons favoring higher prices. This week I will discuss bonds. These bonds may be divided into two major groups.

Taxables vs Non-Taxables

By taxable bonds I have in mind those of established corporations and U. S. Government bonds. Nearly all such corporation bond issues now on the market should be safe. They yield from 3 percent to 5 1/2 percent according to their marketability. For an investor buying only for income and security, the medium-grade bonds often are better than the low-yielding bonds. Each issue should, however, be judged on its own merits.

All the U. S. Governments should be safe. The small investor should buy Series "E" which yield about 3 percent although you must wait ten years before getting your interest. Large investors buy the "F's" or "G's" which yield 2 1/2 percent. The interest on these bonds is taxable like the interest from any corporation bond, but the security should be of the highest possible.

Non-Taxables Too High

I am bearish on non-taxable bonds at this time and this applies to all of the three leading groups as follows:

1. Municipal bonds of our biggest cities such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Detroit, etc. are truly risky to hold. Only a world spiritual awakening can prevent World War III. If this War III comes, some of these cities will surely be bombed and their bonds could drop to 50 cents on the dollar overnight. No, I don't want any of these non-taxable bonds.

2. Municipal Bonds of small cities which defaulted about 15 years ago and were "re-organized" are risky to buy at present prices. Bonds of many Florida cities are illustrations of this group. These bonds were originally sold at par to pay 5 percent. Then they defaulted and their prices fell to 20 cents on the dollar or less. Then their interest was scooped down to 1-2-3-4 percent. Recently, these same bonds have sold at nearly par again. Yet, many of these cities are no better off fundamentally than they were ten years ago. Arcadia, Florida, is not paying her coupons on time and asks for another "re-organization." Probably other Florida cities will make the same demand. This could hurt all municipal bonds which were re-issued in the 30's.

3. Municipal bonds of high-grade medium-sized cities which are in a safe locality and have excellent credit should be a sound investment. These bonds should not default but, due to the great demand by rich people for "tax exempts", these bonds yield only 1 percent to 2 percent. Now, in view of the coming cut in income taxes, rich people will not be so crazy to buy them. Hence, even these best municipals will gradually sell off in price.

What About Taxes?

Investors have lost more money in the long run by trying to save taxes than by paying them. My advice is to buy and sell on merits without thought of taxes. Don't buy questionable securities to save income taxes; don't refrain from making profits for fear of paying a 25 percent profits tax.

Certainly in today's market it is better to buy good yielding taxable corporation bonds than to gamble in non-taxables of any group. Of these corporation bonds, I further prefer the industrial bonds of long-established companies rather than railroad bonds. Utility bonds are good; but their yield is low and they are liable to be called at anytime.

Music Instructor Tells of Work Done In High School Choral Music

By Carolyn Bodwin

This being the first article written about the present choral or vocal program in the high school, I would like to give you, the parents of high school students, an over-all picture of the various choral activities carried on each day.

There are two classes designed especially for girls. One is the Girls' Glee Club which has a present enrollment of fifty and the other is Girls' Glee Chorus, having a present enrollment of about twenty-five. These classes are identical in their nature and the music studied is the same in both groups. Needless to say, in the smaller group there is a greater opportunity for individualized instruction, teacher-pupil planning, and teacher-pupil relationship. These classes are held at different hours, enabling more girls to participate in choral work.

The boys, likewise, have a class of their own known as the Boys' Glee Club. This group has a small but increasing enrollment. In spite of its size much music of lasting value is covered in a semester's time. Special attention and encouragement is given to the boy with the changing voice and solo opportunities are given those who show special talent and interest in the field of music.

The Mixed Chorus offers the opportunity for boys and girls to sing together and gain experience in four-part and six-part harmony work. Students in this group become acquainted with some of the best choral music written. The only group which has a limited enrollment is the Girls' Double Quartet. These eight girls are at present working on some 18th Century Madrigals as well as semi-classical selected by contemporary composers.

At a later date there will be presented information on the music program of the Junior High School.

Many Teachers Quit Profession

Over 100,000 teachers have left the profession since 1929 and not more than three percent of the students enrolled in colleges at the present time expect to teach," stated Miss Mary Edna Lewis, Ann Arbor High School Teacher, Vice-President of the M.E.A., and Michigan State Director of the N.E.A., which she spoke to the Plymouth Teachers' Club at their regular meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 18.

Miss Lewis discussed the benefits derived from local, state, and national organizations in the fields of public relations, health, and other professional problems as salaries, advanced education, tenure, teacher bond, and physical equipment.

The newly organized Teachers' Club received much inspiration and information concerning the help that organized teacher groups can give to the community.

So it's a good idea to make this a rule: every three months, and oftener if possible, bring your child in to our experienced fitters for a foot check-up. Then you'll be sure that shoes are neither too large nor too small . . . but just right.

Fisher Shoe Store

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

BY • ELTON R. EATON

While the progressive Michigan Conservation department officials and employes and various sportsmen's organizations about the state are doing what they can to make fishing better in Michigan, there are other groups that want to get all the fish they can now and forget about the future.

We did that about the homing pigeon. We almost wiped out our deer some 30 years ago. We've cleaned the white fish out of Burt lake. Notwithstanding all of the efforts of the Conservation department to keep fishing "good" in Michigan, it has constantly deteriorated in recent years.

Houghton lake, 20 years ago, regarded as the best fishing lake in the United States, is now hardly "fair". To improve fishing conditions in Houghton lake, it was closed to ice spearing some 15 years ago. Now an effort is being made to permit the spearing of what few big fish might be left in the lake. If the Advocates of this plan should be successful, Houghton lake will, within a few years, be a total "washout" as far as being a good fishing lake. More emphasis on fishing early and late in the season to avoid the less productive summer months of July and August is urged by the institute for fisheries research of the department of conservation.

Dr. Albert Hazzard, institute chief, suggests that fishermen concentrate their efforts in May and early June for perch and pike fishing and in September for perch, pike, bass and bluegill fishing to obtain the best catches.

Inland lakes north of highway M-48, which crosses the state from Muskegon to Port Sanilac, are open to fishing the year around. There is all-year fishing in these waters for perch, calico and rock bass and pike fishing begins there May 15.

Hazzard says that the often repeated theory of light fishing results in midstream is borne out by many tests.

"It is virtually impossible to secure adequate collections of fish using every possible type of gear from about July 15 to September 1," he says. "Apparently this is because fish are not active during the warmer part of the summer."

"Theoretically one should be able to locate fish at any time of the year if he used the proper type of gear, but so far I do not know of anyone who has developed methods to take the larger fish when they are inactive."

Hazzard's statement was made in connection with the forthcoming announcement of an enlarged series of seining operations to check on fish populations in the inland lakes which has been ordered by the conservation commission. The seining will be carried on in a large number of Michigan lakes from early spring until late fall.

Michigan's resort season could be substantially lengthened were the facts more widely publicized among Michigan and out of state fishermen, Hazzard suggested. The poorer fishing occurs at the height of the present Michigan resort season—July and August. Were the public generally to realize that their chances of good catches are much better in May, June and September, the vacation season might well be extended another several weeks, he stated.

If more Michigan forest products could be processed here instead of being shipped out of the state for remanufacture, Michigan's forests would mean much more to the state's economy, P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the Michigan department of conservation, recently told Michigan retail lumber dealers at their convention in Grand Rapids.

Though 589 wood industries employ 43,000 persons earning $54,000,000 in wages, and products of forest industries amount to $200,000,000 annually, much Michigan wood still is shipped out of the state and returned in finished form as millwork, flooring, plywood and even felt roofing, Hoffmaster said. He called for an aggressive program of research to point the way for more Michigan manufacturing of the forest products produced.

Hoffmaster pointed out that while Michigan is a forest state because 17,000,000 acres (out of a total of 36,000,000) are stocked with trees, private ownership of 95 per cent of the merchantable sawlog timber places on private interests owning forest land and using forest products a share of the responsibility for maintaining the supply of raw material. The 6,000,000 acres of state and federal forest are largely cutover land in the restocking stage, but they are being managed in accordance with good forestry practice, he said, adding plantings to improve them could continue for another 50 years.

Hoffmaster found encouragement in the fact that some larger companies are employing trained foresters and good management practices though clear cutting still is the general rule and the cut is materially greater than the replacement growth. Small farm woodlots cannot be overlooked, either, he said, for they are producing a third of the state's wood products at present.

The conservation director sees no immediate prospect of government regulation of forest cutting in Michigan, "unless the people dealing in wood favor it and actually do something to have it enacted."

Failure of pheasants that have been coming to feeding stations to appear in the first few days following the big storm is no cause for worry, conservation department game men are assuring the state's sportsmen. The birds probably are enjoying the shelter of the best cover available in the vicinity, and besides, they say, the ringneck is tougher than most people think.

There are records of individual birds which have through accident or error been deprived of food and water for up to two weeks, without fatal results. And there is the laboratory record in Penn-Gerstel, where wild pheasants were found, under controlled temperature conditions, "to be capable of enduring a period of 19 days at zero degrees Fahrenheit without food or water."

Sharptailed grouse have a similar ability to sustain hardship, as indicated by experience with live-trapped specimens that spent five to eight days in the crates, losing an average of one-tenth their original weight. In captivity they disdained such strange food as grain and apples, yet on release, just after a blizzard, they were the sharptails that so successfully stocked Drummond Island.

Complaints about the small number of cock pheasants in proportion to hens seen in winter are less common, game men say, now that more sportsmen understand the winter segregation of the sexes, with hens flocking in fields and males scattered singly in heavy cover. Only after the spring crowing season, when each male gathers his harem of eight to ten hens, can sportsmen expect to see the two sexes in company in the fields.

What's smart for '47? BUICK

THAT grille's as fresh and fashion-worthy as a Paris label in a new bonnet.

That long, clean, sweeping-all-the-way-through fender line is as much a "must" with the style-wise as white tie with tails.

There's the sparkle of bright, fresh colors—the rich sheen of chaste chrome—the sleek, slick, able look of an express cruiser, shined and polished for Regatta Day.

But is this the only way in which Buick's smart? Not by a barrelful!

Look at the engine room in that bonnet—that means torrents of Fireball power to put the lift of a lifetime in every mile.

That hug-the-road look means steadiness always—and cushiony coil springs on all four wheels spell serene disregard of any road's rude jolts.

Look at the width amidships that gives you lolling room both front and back—and at push-button controls that not only raise and lower the top, but move door windows up and down and the front seat back and forth.

And look deeper. At engines so fine-made they keep their new-car liveliness seemingly forever. At stout metals and sturdy underpinning, at husky, curl-around bumpers, controls light as a ladyfinger; at wheels that curb heel-over on turns, and brakes both easy and sure.

Fact is, in this trim Convertible or any of the eight other body types, Buick's the smartest buy as well as '47's smartest car. It's the place where dollar-sense meets with style-sense to produce America's most wanted automobile.

Such being so—why hesitate? A day lost now in placing an order can be a week lost later in taking delivery, so—get your order in now!

Letters Tell of Winter Plight in British Isles

How bad are conditions in the British Isles? It's all according to your point of view. Last week The Mail carried an item about a "phone conversation from Scotland" in which a resident of the far northern part of the British Isles was reported to have said that he was "comfortably situated." Now comes a second story about the "tight little island."

William A. Otwell, of the Eckles Coal and Supply Co., who served in England for over two years during the war while in the Canadian Air Forces has many friends there who write to him frequently. So, with his own personal knowledge of the country and its people, he can interpret their letters with the eyes of an Englishman and the views of an American combined.

Mr. Otwell points out that the British are proud they accept adverse conditions with stoicism, and their perspective is much different than people here have. They have not been accustomed to the luxuries that Americans possess, and consequently are not as much concerned as we would be about the inconveniences they are enduring.

While stationed in the United Kingdom, Mr. Otwell resided at times with English families, far from the camps where many of the army men were segregated from the general populace. Thus, he noted first hand the way of life there. In his free time he took many bicycle trips through the country, over macadamized roads which were at the time not congested because there was not much traffic by motor during the war shortages.

On these trips he observed carefully and assimilated a vast knowledge about his new found friends and their country. His close contact with the people on these trips gave him a good insight into the general conditions of the country.

Knowledge gleaned from his wide experience shows that there is a much more definite cleavage between the "have" and "have-not" groups, a condition which is frequently more pronounced in older nations. Therefore, some of the more fortunate families are able to have some necessities that are not accessible to other classes. He also noted that some farming people have an advantage such as the Scotsman mentioned, who might not have felt the coal shortage because many people there are able to burn peat which is native to the area.

Recent letters coming to the Plymouth man have shown that the recuperating powers of British industry are not as fast as in this country. This is especially true in the coal mining business where antiquated methods account for much of the slowness of production by the miners. Add to this inefficiency the inclement weather, the severest winter for the isles in any living man's memory, snow that retarded and impeded transportation and shipping so much that the general economy of the nation has been upset, and the reasons for the severe rationing program are apparent. Coal is rationed and meat allowed per person, according to the letters received here, is about one and one half pounds per week. Long queues form for meat and fish. Fish such as flounders and kippers are considered worth a long wait in line. Sausage is cut with 40 to 60¢ bead. Five gallons of petrol per month is the established allowance, with none for the use of private planes.

A vegetarian's lot is much easier than that of others, because the growing season in England is much longer than Plymouth's 167 days from "first to frost." Potatoes are grown most of the year, March and April are sunshine months that mature the vegetables rapidly. Rainfall is spread over the year, but fortunately is abundant when the crops need moisture, in mid-summer.

Most homes in England, are not centrally heated, so it is easier to cut off heat to some towns, and easier for families to double up in one home when it is necessary to economize on the dwindling fuel supply.

In summer, Mr. Otwell says, conditions would not seem pleasant if we were faced with the same situation that his friends of the war years are enduring.

Men's League Next Game March Third

Monday, March 3 will see basketball play resumed in the men's basketball league, after a week of rest. Monday, the girls' team meets the Box Bays in the first game at 7:30 and the Sport Shop meets the Daisy team in the second game at 9:00.

On the 5th of March, Wednesday, the two winners of the above play will meet at 7:30 and the second game will be between the Round Robin leaders of the tournament, Parkside versus the Northville Jims. So far the Parkside team has breezed through play with the high scoring of Eggloff sparking the team, with an average to date in the play-offs of 26.5 points per game.

A small admission charge will be used to purchase Band Uniforms and defray expenses of winning team in the State Tournament at Battle Creek on March 27, 28, and 29.

Be sure and mark the above dates down and add the following. Wednesday March 12th will see the semi-finals game, and on Thursday, March 13, the championship game will be played. Scores of the last games played were Parkside defeated the Sport Shop by a score of 51-34 and the Northville Jims defeated the Daisy Team by a score of 47-33. The latter game was close throughout and it was in the closing two minutes of the game that the Jims forged through to make the win decisive.

Hockey Play-Off Saturday Night

The Rosedale-Plymouth team in the Southern Michigan Hockey League will appear in a game against the Farmington sextet on March 1 at 8:30 p.m. in the play-offs for the league championship. The game will be preceded by a 7 o'clock tilt between Wayne and Redford. These play-off games will be staged on the ice at Rosedale Gardens near the Presbyterian Church. The night games are made possible by the use of an efficient overhead lighting system.

The winners of the above play-off games will appear in two games, one on Sunday, March 2 at 2 p.m. and the other at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 4, to decide the championship. The winner will be the team having the largest total of goals for the two championship games.

Box score for the league to date is:

Teams	W	T	L	PT.
Farmington	5	0	1	10
Wayne	4	0	2	8
Rosedale-Ply.	3	1	2	7
Redford	3	1	2	7
Detroit Stiffs	3	0	3	6
Detroit Vampires	1	2	3	4

Dog Prizes Are Now on Display

Foster Howell, formerly of Plymouth and a member of the 1928 high school class, has a display of pictures, prizes and ribbons in the windows of the Plymouth Sporting Goods Store on Penniman avenue that have been won by his Chow dogs. Howell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Howell of Gold Arbor road, just east of the city. His kennels are at his home near the corner of Eleven Mile and Telegraph roads.

The Noa Doi Kennel, owned by Foster Howell and his wife, is rated as outstanding for the whole United States. Ribbons have been won in all the major shows in the country. Visitors from Plymouth (who are always welcome at the Howell Kennel) say it is a very modern establishment, and worthy of the many honors bestowed on it.

Most remarkable thing about the chows is contained in the following statement from the former Plymouth resident. "This breed (chow-chow) is considered by experts to have a fine disposition. This is contrary to the popular misconception that it is vicious. This kennel, housing continuously over 35 cogs, has yet to have, or produce, an animal that is not a credit to the breed." Howell states that the viciousness is found only in chows that are not thoroughly bred.

ROCKS BLAY LAST GAME OF REGULAR SEASON

With still a possible chance for a share of the Suburban B cage title, the Rocks travel to Redford Union tonight in hopes of a victory. If Trenton loses tonight and the Rocks beat the Panthers a tie will exist between Trenton and Plymouth.

Last Friday night at Plymouth the Rocks lost one of their toughest games of the season this time to Trenton 42-40. Plymouth scored first then Trenton went ahead and held their lead until early in the fourth quarter. Trenton led at the half 28-19 and held a 32-20 margin when the Rocks started their drive. With Dobs and Becker doing the main work the Rocks were behind by a 32-30 count at the beginning of the fourth quarter, then Dobs tied it and then put the Rocks ahead on a solo dash down the floor. The teams battled furiously for a lead; Trenton tied it up in the last two minutes and won the game with a long shot in the last thirty seconds.

If the Plymouth varsity lost a tough one the Rocks reserve squad also did, the final score being 39-38. Bob Houghton, who scored four points in the last minute was high scorer for the Rocks with 12 points. In the varsity game Trenton's Doyle led with 17 counters. Dobs and Becker led the Rocks, each sinking 16 points. Both these fellows did exceedingly well from the charity toss line, Becker sinking 10 out of 18 and Dobs 6 out of 7. The game was very rough with 24 fouls called on Trenton and 15 on the Rocks. Three Trenton players, including Doyle, went out on fouls.

SOCIETY NEWS

Oldsmobile Series "76" (or "78") 4-Door Club Sedan

Oldsmobile Series "66" (or "68") 4-Door Sedan

The 1947 Oldsmobile is smart in more ways than one. Smart styling . . . certainly. One look will convince you of this. But it's a smart investment, too. An investment in the dependability and quality for which the Oldsmobile name is famous. An investment in the riding comfort of Quadri-Coil Springing and 4-Way Stabilization. An investment in the matchless driving ease of GM Hydra-Matic Drive*—the only drive that shifts gears automatically and eliminates the clutch pedal entirely. It's smart to own a car that will stay modern—a 1947 Oldsmobile with Hydra-Matic Drive*. Choose the low-priced "60" (either a six or an eight)—or the popular-priced "70" (also with a choice of engines)—or the luxurious "98" Custom Cruiser.
