Easter Story
And when the Sabbath was passed Mary Magdalene and Mary, the mother of James and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint Him. And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came into the sepulchre at the rising of the sun. And they said among themselves: "Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?" And when they looked they saw that the stone was rolled away; for it was very great. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were affrighted. And he saith unto them, "Be not affrighted. Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: He is risen. He is not here. Behold the place where they laid him. But go your way, tell His disciples and Peter that He goeth before you into Galilee; there shall ye see Him as He said unto you." —By St. Mark, Chap. 16, Verses 1 to 7.

In Order That Others May Live—Easter Seals
Under auspices of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults, the annual Easter seal sale will be conducted this year from March 6 to Easter Sunday, April 6. Through funds derived from sale of these seals, thousands of handicapped persons throughout the country are given direct and indirect services in health, welfare, education, recreation, vocation and employment. In charge of the seal campaign will be the 44 state and 2,000 local member societies affiliated with the national organization. Thousands of school children throughout the country will aid in the sales drive. The Easter seal sale was inaugurated in 1934. From 22 million seals distributed that year, sales have risen to more than a billion annually.

Plymouth to Vote On Acceptance Of Cash Gift
(Continued from page 1) the purpose of eliminating any question of legality pertaining to the transaction. The one important stipulation in the matter is the requirement that the property be used for library purposes, a requirement that every person who has any interest in the welfare and progress of Plymouth will wholeheartedly agree with. For a dozen years or more Plymouth has been giving consideration to the question of providing a permanent home for its library. When the state highway office was removed from Plymouth and the present building became available three years ago for library purposes, it was quickly found that the site was the best location in the entire city for library use. Near the schools and near the heart of the city, the Wayne County Library commission secured an option on the property, hoping that it would be possible to secure the building as a permanent home for the library. The generous offer of Mrs. Dunning and her daughter has made this possible and the library commissioners are as enthusiastic over the proposal as are the residents of Plymouth. The county commission maintains the building, hires the librarians and provides the books for Plymouth; the same services being provided all other cities and villages in the county where library services are maintained. Northville was fortunate a number of years ago in having its library building donated to the village. The nearby community also has the same library support as Plymouth receives from the county. Wouldn't it be a mighty fine tribute to two loyal Plymouth citizens, if when the votes are counted that EVERYONE favored the acceptance of this gift to the community? Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.—Euripides

Robert Kimbrough, cadet Staff Sergeant at Wentworth Military Academy, Lexington, Missouri will fly home this week-end to attend the opening of his father's new store.
 Mrs. Robert McAllister and son returned this week from a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fair in Lake Worth, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Schrader, of Canton Center road were pleasantly surprised last Satur-

Mr. and Mrs. Schrader received many lovely cards and gifts. Mrs. Schrader had just returned from West Palm Beach, Florida where she had spent two months visiting her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wilson.
 Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Moon of Penniman avenue returned last Wednesday from Florida after a very pleasant vacation. Making their headquarters at a hotel in Lakeland they took daily trips from there. TYPICAL 4-H MEMBERS . . . The fourth "H" in the 4-H club motto stands for health, as typified by these two 4-H health champions, Mary Lou Jacobs of Zachary, La., and Gordon Thompson of Denham Springs, La. They are among the 1,700 rural boys and girls who will participate in National 4-H Club Week, March 1-8.

Blustering March Ushered in With Usual Fanfare

March was ushered in this week like the proverbial lion, a big, bad, blustering, roaring beast. Snow, piled high over the week end, was whipped into drifts and the winds were cutting, although the temperature remained in the twenties and thirties. The snow plows had their last chance to strut their insolent hulks in full view of the populace, including the poor unfortunates who have only recently returned from the southlands.
 Now that that lion business has had its day it is hoped that the "lamb" is near at hand. A hearty welcome to him!

HOW TO GET YOUR New BENDIX automatic Home Laundry

NO doubt you'll want your new BENDIX soon. Most folks do. So come and see us quickly. Let's talk it over, and get the details done!
 Maybe you'd first like to see what this washday wonder does—how it washes, rinses, damp-dries, cleans itself and shuts itself off—all without your lifting a finger. Then it's even more urgent that you come in soon—today if you can!
 Because if you want your BENDIX quickly—and chances are you will—we'll both be pleased if you are one of our "first-to-be-served!"

What you do: put in clothes, set a dial, add soap.

What the BENDIX does: fills itself, tumbles clothes clean, thoroughly rinses, dries clothes ready for the line or dryer, cleans and rinses itself, and shuts off—all automatically! The Bendix takes only 4 square feet of floor space—fits perfectly in kitchen, bathroom, utility room or laundry.

EXCLUSIVE TUMBLE ACTION: tumbles clothes through soap 60 times a minute, yet so gently that even fine fabrics launder beautifully.

ROCKS HUMBLE REDFORD U., 45-36

Before a capacity crowd the Plymouth Rocks and the Redford Union Panthers bowed out of the 1946-47 cage season last Friday. The hotly contested tilt which went to the locals 45-36, ended the league play for the two quintets and left only the play-offs to be completed.

The Rocks insured their second place standing by winning, and had Trenton lost to Ypsi, would have been in a tie for first place. However, Trenton easily won to clinch the title. Becker paced the Rock pointmakers with 18 tallies. Dobs netted 12 while McIntosh garnered 10. Outstanding play by Farwell and Allen on defense helped the Rocks cause considerably.

Detroit Alcoholics Being Cured Out at DeHoCo

Alcoholics Anonymous is a God-send to the country. They are at the present time rehabilitating many alcoholics out at the Detroit House of Correction. Except for alcoholics and those who are engaged in this work, no one knows anything about what we are doing as far as I know.

was attended by about 55 inmates, entirely of their own volition, as there is absolutely no compulsion in the work by the institution or by "A.A.". There were also about 60 men present from the organization, coming from points as far away as Windsor. This effort to do good by the "A.A." people is typical of their will to help others.

until now I have asked Him for a continuation of that aid". Mr. Gillies says that the doctor's exemplary attitude in talking to the group is the rule among the "A.A." men and is best expressed by comparing it with the intensity of doing good that is portrayed in the Ann Arbor based book "Magnificent Obsession".

Mr. Gillies states that the "A.A." program is the greatest aid yet rendered to the inmates. The program is simple, but effective. In the Legislature

By Elton R. Eaton

All of this talk about the legislature taking a recess until the state finds out what the supreme court might do about the badly mixed-up muddle forced upon the state by the sales tax diversion amendment is going to result in just one thing—keeping the legislature in session.

The recess advocates would have the finance and tax committees of the house and senate stay on the job working out legislation that would fit either way the supreme court might rule, the rest of the members to go home and remain there until called back some weeks later.

Our prediction is that the legislature will not take a recess. It should not, in fact, take a recess. There is no reason for it. The law makers would simply put off a duty that must sooner or later be faced, and we are in favor of facing it immediately.

the very same three questions that the writer asked when the bill was before the house.

It seems that the MUCC office must be moved from its present location and there is no office in Detroit big enough for it so the state must buy a building in which to house the outfit.

There is little question but what the MUCC has done the workers of Michigan more harm than they have good and here's one citizen who hopes the day is not far off when the whole mess can be set out in the street by some constable for a time to come. But that isn't solving the present problem. Maybe by the time this is printed we will have the answers to the questions that the Governor has asked.

The house tax committee is still hunting for ways to finance the soldier bonus you voted for last fall—trying to find a way to pay for it will be something like extracting a tooth without pain. There's a possibility that the committee may have to go way beyond the requirements for the soldier bonus. Maybe, and quite probably, new taxes will be required to maintain the state government. That is one of the questions yet to be decided—if and when the supreme court should make a ruling on that tax diversion muddle. You can rest assured that the tax extraction plan will be made as painless as possible.

Some farmer members of the legislature are talking about more gas tax money for country roads. They figure that a two cent raise in the gas tax will be in keeping with the rate charged in other states and that it will provide the counties and road commissions with money they badly need for road improvements. So far they haven't made much progress in selling their idea, but maybe they will be able to change the minds of some if it can be shown that the need is as great as they claim.

It will not be long before there will come before the legislature numerous bills pertaining to conservation matters. If newspaper readers think there has been more than an ordinary amount of debate, wait until these bills appear. Bow and arrow hunters want authority to kill any kind of a deer—and already there are members of the legislature who are "burning up" merely at the suggestion of any one killing a doe—no matter what its age might be. If this bill ever gets out of committee, watch the fur fly!

New Pipeline Brings Fuel Oil to Plymouth

The new Sinclair products pipeline into Detroit makes available burning oil for home use and gasoline for local motorists according to a statement made today by Wm. C. Hartmann local Agent for Sinclair Refining company.

Mr. Hartmann said: "These new facilities assure petroleum users in this area of deliveries in all kinds of weather. This pipeline connects the great East Chicago Refinery area with industrial Detroit from which is supplied the Plymouth area.

"Capacity of the new line into Detroit, which will carry burning oils as well as gasoline, is at present 500,000 gallons daily. This capacity will be increased as needed up to a total of 800,000 gallons daily. Tankage at Sinclair Detroit Terminal totals 5,000,000 gallons. Adequate provisions have been made for the short haul from Detroit into our storage plant at Northville."

Men commonly think according to their inclinations, speak according to their learning and imbibe opinions, but generally act according to custom.—Bacon

Roller Skaters Thrill Big Crowd

The Riverside Senior Figure and Dance club engaged in a gala exhibition of roller skating at the Riverside Rink out Plymouth road last Thursday evening. Although the party had been planned previously as an exhibition, it turned out to be a homecoming welcome for the club's famous "Petro and O'Meara" who are appearing at the Olympia with the "skating Vanities."

Jean O'Meara was crowned queen of the evening with a presentation of a crown of white gardenias and George Petrazewsky was crowned with a golden head piece. The "king and queen" reciprocated for the honor by giving the crowd of over 350 people a chance to see their "Romance in Rhythm" routine as they do it in the show.

Other featured numbers were executed by John Petrazewsky (the "king of George) and beautifully costumed Pat Johnson, while Sunny Jeffery and Frank Bertellini did single numbers to the delight of the enthusiastic spectators. To the tune of "Brazil," the Dayneys, John and Barbara, well known Plymouth couple did an intricate pair's number. Barbara and John were spectacularly costumed in outfits of sparkling sequins, dazzling the audience by both costume and skating skill. Robert Puro and Beverly Handzik did a number in tango rhythm which was well received by the onlookers.

To supplement the skating entertainment the party was made complete by a card game, a country music and a fortune teller who enjoyed the patronage of many of those present. Prizes were also given to enliven the evening. A large table, attractively decorated, was given away during the grand march.

Each credit is given to the efforts of the purely amateur skaters who worked so diligently in preparing for the successful exhibition. Club officers, business manager Connie Petrazek and John Dayney, George Garmet and Tom Sorel.

The club expressed its gratitude to the generous Plymouth women who donated the prizes for the exhibition.

Proceeds from the party, which netted about $125.00, will be used by the Senior Figure and Dance club to send our members who are in state championships to the national competitions.

Cancer Pad Work Plans Changed

The Plymouth group of the American Society for Cancer Control announced a new system of distribution of materials and pick-up of finished cancer pads to be inaugurated at once. Up to the present time materials have had to be obtained in Detroit and the finished pads returned to the Detroit Red Cross quarters by local organizations doing the work.

This plan has made unnecessary work which is now terminated because arrangements have been made with Marion Beyer to bring the material to Plymouth by the Red Cross station wagon and have it distributed from a local point in Plymouth.

Active in this new planning are Mrs. Gladys Lundquist, Mrs. Walter Nishol and Mrs. Sidney Strum. Mrs. Nishol has offered to have the supplies brought to her home for distribution so that local organizations may obtain the materials from her home at 985 Church street or by phoning Plymouth 1055.

After the pads are finished they may be returned to the Church street address and will be available to any Plymouth resident who needs them. Any surplus of the pads not used in Plymouth will be returned to the Detroit Red Cross headquarters by Miss Beyer.

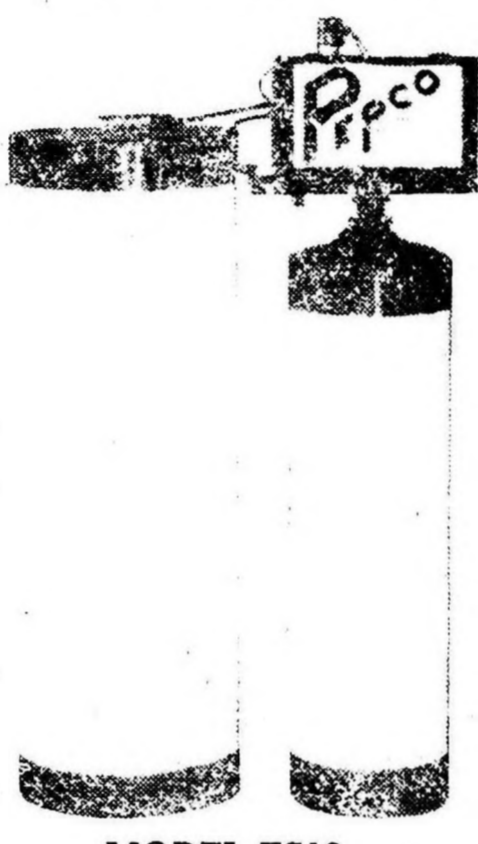

Do not think that nothing is happening because you do not see yourself grow or hear the whir of the machinery. All great things grow noiselessly.—Dunmond

Report Confirms
Dr. Peck's Views

Dr. Luther Peck, city health officer, finds more than ordinary interest in the report made to the city commission by the municipal water engineering concern that made an investigation into the water problem of this city at the request of the present city commission.

It has been the contention of Dr. Peck for sometime that the water from the new city well that was driven in 1942 and 1943 was not suitable water for drinking purposes, although tests showed that it was not contaminated. It was both the smell and the taste of the water that brought forth his strong objections to the continued use of this well last summer. Not one of the present city commissioners was in office during the time that the source of the city water supply was changed from the Plymouth water farm to the new well on the shore of Wilcox pond.

Older residents of the city will recall the intensive search made years ago when the growth of Plymouth required a larger and suitable water supply.

Numerous test wells were driven in and around Plymouth, with the verdict of both citizens and officials of the village against the acceptance of water flowing under the city for municipal use. Finally the large water supply at the Plymouth "water farm" on Beck road was discovered and developed. Plymouth for years had the name of having the best drinking water of any community in the state. It was when the source of the supply was changed a few years ago that trouble began—and now Plymouth has found, as always contended by those who knew, that there is just one suitable source of water for this city—and that is from the Plymouth water farm.

We understand that to get ahead in the song-writing world, all you have to do is take something composed by an old master—and decompose it.

The farmer was looking at a sign in a country store window: "Ladies Ready to Wear Clothes." "Well," he muttered, "It's darn near time!"

Stranger: "But how will I know when I come to the crossroads?" Native: "You can't miss the place. It has only four filling stations."

Fair in the Light of Memory Shines

MICHIGAN, My MICHIGAN

BY ELTON R. EATON

Readers of Michigan, My Michigan will recall that a few months ago it was suggested that commercial fishermen operating on the Great Lakes when they catch lamprey, instead of throwing them back in the lakes, prepare and sell them for food. Some one years ago told the writer that in the early days people living along the Atlantic seaboard regarded the lamprey as a great food delicacy and paid an extra price for it. The lamprey is sometimes called an eel. It has now invaded the Great Lakes and are said to be rapidly destroying native game fish.

W. K. Kelsey, popular Detroit News commentator, a few days ago, writing in his column in the News, expressed the same idea as to the use of the lamprey for food. Wrote Mr. Kelsey: The sea lamprey is reported to have gained a foothold in Lake Superior. In the other Great Lakes it is already a curse to fishermen. It kills food fish by attaching itself to them and sucking their blood. Even if they succeed in freeing themselves from the attacker, they suffer from wounds and gashes that in many cases prove fatal.

But time was when the sea lamprey was regarded as an excellent food fish—something hard to digest but quite palatable. Indeed, King Henry I of England, who because he could read and write, was known as Deacon and also as the "Scholar," was fond of lampreys that it is said he ate himself to death on them, after deciding never to smile again when his son was drowned in the famous loss of the White Ship. A man who had not smelt in 15 years derived sympathy if he found solace in lampreys.

It is hereby suggested that fishermen who take lampreys perform some culinary experiments with them. Who knows? Perhaps a taste for lampreys can be developed in the American people, and the potted lamprey become a delicacy as the potted eel. In that case the invasion of the lamprey might well prove a boon to fishermen of the Great Lakes, rather than a disaster. The Commentator is heartily in favor of a trial, though he prefers that others undertake it. His own digestion might not prove any better than King Henry's.

Conservation department game men are turning thumbs down on suggestions by some Michigan light plane owners for developing a new sport—shooting foxes and coyotes directly from aircraft.

Michigan rules for aircraft, they pointed out, require pilots to maintain an altitude of at least 500 feet over open country and 1,000 feet or more over towns and villages. Game rules forbid harassment of wild animals and birds by aircraft, and federal rules require this with respect to migratory waterfowl. Ducks rafted far out on the lake, out of gun range, often have tempted pilots to stir them up, and planes blundering low over duck marshes have drawn pot shots from irate hunters.

Light plane uses in Michigan are quick transportation to distant hunting grounds and, in the case of fox hunts, for spotting the quarry. But leaded firearms aboard planes are "out" by the federal law is the same for planes as for automobiles. And shooting from planes cannot be done in Michigan under any special permit—a change in the law would be required to authorize it.

In Minnesota and North Dakota where hunting of coyotes from planes is permitted, restrictions on territory to be hunted, planes used, arms and ammunition employed, bonds or insurance posted, and qualifications required of pilots make this flying unattractive to the casual sport plane pilot. Numerous accidents, some fatal, indicate that even among professionals the hazards of low altitude flying are great.

At its last convention in Rapid City, South Dakota, the Association of Midwest Fish and Game Commissioners, of which Michigan is a member, endorsed the limiting of low altitude flying and unauthorized landings strictly to emergencies. Problems that strict control would diminish, the commissioners agreed, include plane accidents, fires, trespass, harassment of farm stock and wildlife, and game law enforcement.

Inexperienced shoppers who plan to buy a new fur coat may find a bargain if one of the current reduction sales if they know Mrs. Evelyn MacLeod, home economist at Michigan State college, firmly believes that you shoppers must be informed about furs before you buy them. You should know what color looks best on you, how much you can afford to pay for a coat, and what furs are most suitable. Decide whether you want a "natural" or "tipped" skunk's color coat. If you are buying a long or short-haired fur, it will be better. Hudson seal is a short-haired fur which will also give excellent service. Persian lamb, Alaskan seal or South American broadtail would be more expensive choices.

Furs can be grouped according to the family of the animal from which they come. The most expensive fur in any family may not be the most durable, and the most durable fur will not give you years of service if you don't take good care of it.

Popular furs in the weasel family are the skunk and the mink. Less common are the sable, marten, ermine, fish, kolinsky, badger, wolverine and the blue fox. The blue fox is the most durable and the finest mink comes from eastern Canada. The center back of the mink has a narrow dark stripe and imitation minks have the stripe blended or painted on. Less expensive mink coats are made from the mink paws, throats and sides.

White stripes in the skunk fur bring results.

BABSON

Babson Discusses Spending

Babson Park, Fla., March 7.—Too many people have a child-like unconcern as to what is done with their hard-earned cash after it passes into Government hands. Too many have a childlike trust of all institutions, from banks and insurance companies to government bureaus. All should study and investigate the concerns or groups which either receive or handle their funds.

We all should know where our tax dollars are going and how wisely they are being spent. Although savings are as low as they have been in many years, do you realize how extravagant is the new Truman Budget? It calls for two to thirteen times as much money to be spent by each government department in the coming fiscal year as was spent in any pre-war year. We enter the third year of peace with a proposed budget of around $37,500,000,000, now in process of being whittled down by Congress. Nine billion was our peak in "huge" pre-war budgets.

Typical Budget Items

Why should it cost taxpayers almost $700,000,000 more in 1947 than in 1946 to operate regular government bureaus and departments? Why does operation and cost of upkeep of the executive mansion have to be more than three times the amount spent before the war? Do we need over a million more civilian personnel in war agencies today than we did before Pearl Harbor? All our departments of government are slated to get what we used to call "war-time appropriations."

The Department of Commerce, for example, is to have more than thirteen times the $20,000,000 at its disposal before the war. It is difficult to understand why in times of good employment almost as much money is delegated to "relief" as in depression periods. The veterans, the farmers, the old people among us are adding to the unreasonably high budget by asking the Government to solve all problems. Individual self-reliance and economical planning are being discarded as every one turns to Washington.

SUBSIDIES

The cost of subsidies this year will be over $13,000,000,000. Today many individuals who desire something for themselves or for a particular group first endeavor to obtain it through Washington rather than through their own resources and initiative. Formerly, only as a last resort, did our people take their problems to the Federal Government. Subsidies given to any individual or group cause a shift of some control to men and bureaus in the Federal Government. This control is unhealthy for our country.

Handing over much of the country's cash to support certain groups is not democratic and is financially dangerous. The United States spent $80,000,000 in price supports to the farmers on potatoes alone in 1946. More and more farm products are asking for price supports. Farmers will probably be paid well over $320,000,000 for cutting down production this year. The program for export subsidies means the Government sells farm products overseas at a loss, after buying them here at high prices with the taxpayers' money. On-job training for veterans is to result in a billion dollar subsidy to businessmen.

Financial Suicide?

By recent estimates each worker labors almost a full day every week just for the Government. If over-grown and wasteful Government continues to expand, the worker's pay will be "take-home" less we realize that every time we ask our Government for money we are really digging into our own pockets and those of our children for perhaps generations to come.

It will be a pity if we as farmers, businessmen, jobholders, and veterans hand down to future generations a heritage of debt and greed. Both can kill at the roots of the future opportunities for the high standard of living of which we have been so proud. We are at last learning to "turn over the box and look at the price" when buying merchandise; let us follow the same principle when paying our taxes. Surely, let us see what is in the ox!

The new store presents a most attractive and neat appearance. Mr. Whipple was the recipient of a number of beautiful floral pieces from friends, which were displayed in the window. Mr. Whipple is an elder in the church, and has rendered faithful service in the choir and in various other departments of church activity.

A Branch Money Order agency has been established by the American Express Co. at Glenn Smith's Cigar store and the public is now offered the convenience of obtaining these reliable money orders at this place of business as well as at the Beyer Pharmacy and the local Express office.

On account of its growing business as well as to be more conveniently located for its members, the office of the Plymouth Home Building Association will be moved about March 15, from the village hall to the store of Calvin Whipple on Penniman avenue, where it has rented desk room.

A new venturi meter has been installed in the water main, where the main enters the village, near the booster pump station. This meter accurately measures all the water that is used in the village. The village is installing meters as fast as it can be done, and it will not be a great while before every water consumer will be on the meter system. There are about 900 water users in the village, and out of this number 170 are now using meters.

Mr. Kade was formerly connected with the Cal Simon store on Main street and has many friends here. Assisting him in the new business is another former Simon employee, Miss Agnes Quaveva.

Mr. Kade expressed his pleasure in returning to Plymouth and announces that, although all the fixtures are not as yet in place, he expects to have the store complete within the week. A full line of dress and work clothing, and shoes, for both men and boys, is being carried by the new store. During the interval that Mr. Kade was away from Plymouth he was associated with the Sims Brothers store in Pontiac.

INVITED

A certain king made a marriage for his son and called his subjects to the wedding feast, but we are told "they made light of it." (Matt. 22:3) They thought they were judging the king while in reality they were passing judgment on themselves.

A tourist went to "do" one of the picture galleries in Florence. He looked at one picture then another, and finally, as he was leaving he said to the custodian who had cared for the pictures for many years: "I do not think much of your pictures." "Oh," said the old man, "that does not matter sir; the pictures are not up for judgment but the visitors are. Jesus Christ is not up for judgment and criticism, he has invited you to come to Him for life eternal. Are you making light of Him?"
