with the workers, especially the old timers who had been associated with him for years.

Intensely interested in all things American, Mr. Ford created Greenfield Village, which he developed into probably the most interesting sight-seeing place in all the world. Plymouth also has a part in this development. The little old woolen mill which stood for years on the north side of the city, was removed to Greenfield Village by Mr. Ford, where it will remain for future generations to see.

Whether the tailspin into which the world has been thrown by wars, rabble-rousers, haters and good-for-nothings will permit another Ford to rise to help mankind, no one knows, but those who still have faith in the future believe that in the centuries to come there possibly may be another Ford who will fit some other way bring aid, comfort, jobs and pleasures to human beings, as did Mr. Ford.

quickly enough to put out the fires before they had a chance to started." He particularly commended the residents for keeping their wits about them when they turned in alarms, giving streets and numbers correctly. Also, he said, it was much better to call the fire department and then try to put out the blaze, rather than wait until it was determined that the individual couldn't get the fire out and then call the department.

McAllister said that Plymouth is fortunate in the manner its city commission has seen the needs of an up-to-date fire department. Equipment here is as good as any for a city its size, and most of it is comparatively new. We have 15 good volunteer firemen here in Plymouth, who are a great credit to the success of the department, and of unestimable value to the city," he declared.

Preceding the program, of which the fire chief was chairman, vocal solos were sung by the Misses Linnea and Mable Vickstrom. In keeping with Holy Week, Linnea sang "The Holy City" and Mable, "The Lord's Prayer."

they were distributed to the various areas of the country in a percentage ratio of those services for the entire country. In Plymouth and vicinity these services were represented by more than an average number of men, the veterans counselor points out.
Beneficiary forms are not available as yet. There will be a wait of about 10 days for these in the local counselor's office.
Counselor Bentley reminds veterans who have submitted claims for terminal leave bonds and checks prior to March 1 and have not received them as yet should immediately communicate with the Terminal Leave Disbursing office. Hundreds of these claims are being held for various reasons. Chief among these is the fact that they are filled out incorrectly. Another reason is the fact that post offices do not forward the bonds if there is an incorrect address of if the recipient has moved. All communications should indicate service number, as claims are filed by service numbers and cannot be located without the number.
The following questions and answers in regard to the filling out of the bonus applications were propounded in the counselor's office and may be helpful to veterans.
Q. In the upper left hand corner of the application blank appears a space for claim number. Does this mean the Veterans Administration claim number?
A. Do not fill in this blank. It means the State of Michigan claim number.
Q. This veteran has two honorable discharges for two periods of service. What do we do?
A. Make out two applications—one for each period of service. The two applications should be clipped together and submitted together. The Notary Public should endorse "CERTIFIED FOR MICHIGAN VETERANS MILITARY PAY" on the reverse side of BOTH discharge certificates.
Q. Veteran served as an enlisted man and was discharged to accept a commission. What does he do?
A. He fills out an application blank for his enlisted service and City employes however did complain because pickets at the rear of the building refused to permit them to make the usual collection of refuse from the building.

Plymouth residents will be interested in knowing that the strike threw out of employment in the local telephone office more than 120 operators and employes. Every one is hoping that the strike will be ended quickly.

night event staged at Northville last fall when four of the ablest pacers and a like number of jockeys then on the grounds were brought together for a test. In the long race, 1-9 16th miles, the free-legged pacer, Charming Scot, owned by Earl Menzenberger, of Gablett, Ind., set a world's record of 3:12 1/2 for the distance.
In view of the schedule worked out for the three big features by Racing Secretary John Dailey and William C. Connors, it appears likely that the winners of the Pacing Derby and of the Driving Club Trot will clash in the Governor's Cup event to provide a spectacular climax to Northville's 42 night season which was approved last Monday by Governor Kim Sigler and announced by William J. Dowling, deputy racing commissioner.
Apart from the three $5,000 events, the stake program drawn by Dailey and Connors provides seven events for as many classes of trotters and six for pacers. Of particular interest are special stake events for two-year-old and three-year-old colts that were trained north of the Mason-Dixon line this Spring, these races being especially designated for stables in the North, as a vast majority of Michigan-owned stables did.

Plymouth Suffers Its Worst Flood
street to South Main street.
Loren Goodale probably suffered the severest loss of any one in Plymouth from the flood. The day before the flood he had received a large shipment of groceries and these cartons were piled in the basement. Hundreds of dollars worth of soap chips were in the shipment, as well as other supplies packed in paper cartons.
While a desperate effort was made to remove the boxes as the flood water poured into the basement, it is estimated that $1,000 would not cover the damage done. As far as can be found out, no flood insurance is held by any one in Plymouth.
Water flooded into the A & P store on Ann Arbor trail, filled the basement of the professional building, flooded the main floor of a part of the Perfection Laundry building on Wing street and caused damage to nearly every piece of property lying within the old creek valley.
Hundreds of basements throughout the city were flooded, many stokers and oil burners being put out of commission as a result. A rise of one inch more would have extinguished the fire in the stokers of the Mayflower hotel.
City employes worked diligently to prevent as much damage as possible and were successful to some extent. Streets and thoroughfares were badly damaged by the storm and it will cost the city thousands of dollars to repair the washouts caused by the flood.
For a time Saturday there was not one road open out of the city. Hollows along the thoroughfares becoming vast lakes. Scores of automobiles became stalled in these big pools of flood waters, the drivers not realizing how deep was the water.
In addition to the flood damage, the wind Sunday did its bit to add to the loss. A big plate glass window in the D & C store at the corner of South Main and Ann Arbor trail was broken by the wind and numerous windows about the main streets were damaged. A gas station on the other corner also suffered similar damage.
The Rouge river, like Tonquish creek, which covers a large drainage area, quickly turned from a trickling stream to a mighty wall of water rushing through the Rouge valley.
The parkway road was covered in places by water from two to four feet deep. The Plymouth-Northville road was damaged to the extent of thousands of dollars by washouts.

STARTS IN SUNDAY'S NEWS

Born in 1863 in a farm house in Greenfield Township near Detroit, Henry Ford might have been just another able farmer but the spark of genius was in him and the call of machines early lured him to the city. While working there he employed his spare time in experimenting with and building the horseless carriages, which led him step by step to the height of industrial achievement.
The story of his amazing career has been told many times, but never by anyone so close to Henry Ford's great industrial years as James Sweinhart. You will be fascinated by this story which is closely interwoven with the growth of Detroit and Michigan. Read the first installment Sunday in

In the Legislature
By Elton R. Eaton

There is one thing you can be sure of from now on—there will be plenty of action in the Michigan legislature. The "honeymoon" period is over and the committee work is now in full progress. The Governor is getting somewhat restless and he wants a whole lot of action, which he is going to get.

A member of the house labor committee was commenting a day or so ago about a public hearing held recently by the committee on a number of labor bills. High C.I.O. officials, Federation leaders and industrial representatives were present. This legislator declared that in all of his life he had never before witnessed such a cat and dog fight as took place before the labor committee. He declared that he could not understand how working people could select such leaders as claim to represent labor. Their language was "terrible," he declared and when any one tried to speak in behalf of industry, they were interrupted, ridiculed and assailed. The chairman of the committee found it impossible to maintain even a semblance of order. It appears that all is not well in our labor-industry relations.

Watch for appropriation bills to begin coming from committees, and watch for a readjustment of some of the state's income measure.

The Escanaba Press had the following comment to make about a bill to help the Upper Peninsula which recently passed the house:

"The bill introduced in the state legislature recently by Representative Melvin E. Richards of Marquette, to exempt unworked ore deposits from taxation, is very new in the interest of all of us in the Upper Peninsula. The bill covers the entire state, but it is the Upper Peninsula which provides most of Michigan's mineral wealth. It is likely that much commercial iron and copper ore, and perhaps gold and other ores, remain to be made useful for mankind. In the ground, they do not stand today, the mining companies or owners of valuable mineral lands must pay taxes on disclosed reserves.

"The mining companies are permitted by the federal government to set aside appreciable sums each year for exploratory purposes. This is a good law, for otherwise, there would be far less incentive to find new commercial deposits. Such sums are not taxable under the internal revenue regulations, and they are invested in ways that often mean new wealth for the district, and many new jobs.

"The exemption of unworked deposits would apply not only to the mining companies, but to anyone owning lands on which a strike occurs or may be made. Mining is always more or less a gamble, and the Richards bill is designed to take out a little of the hazard to those engaged in the business. It should encourage legitimate mining and perhaps help to stimulate explorations which may result in the finding of further mineral wealth. Present iron and copper reserves are getting lower daily throughout the country, and anything which tends to foster these industries is worthy of a fair trial."

It appears that it is not going to be an easy matter to get liquor legislation enacted this year, either for or against the business. The house a few days ago emphatically rejected a step which it thought might somewhat liberalize one of the liquor laws. There are many liquor bills before the committee but it is safe to predict that not many of them will see the light of day.

The gasoline tax bill is being flopped in and out of committee. It is back in committee again for a "hearing". The real reason is believed to be in the fact that there are not enough votes to get it passed. What is lacking are facts and figures, which might be produced later with beneficial results.

There has been in progress over in the state senate a most amazing inquiry into the affairs of an alleged communistic student group at Wayne University. It is known as the "American Youth for Democracy" and is branded by the F.B.I. as a Communistic front organization.

Wayne University has asked for state funds to help support the institute but before the money is voted, the legislature wants to know just how many Communist students there are attending this school.

Senator Colin Smith of Big Rapids, one of the outstanding attorneys in the legislature, who is a member of the investigation committee, after hearing much of the testimony, issued a scorching statement pertaining to the situation.

The writer attended one of the recent sessions of the inquiry. I was amazed at the brazenness, the defiant attitude and the sneering of these young students who appeared as witnesses. There was not a single "Yankee" face in the whole crowd and the sergeant who stood among them declared that never in his life had he heard such vile language as was used by both the young men and girls.

You will be interested in reading Senator Smith's statement, which follows:

"Two weeks ago I made a statement to the press that it was my opinion state aid to Wayne University should not be granted so long as the American Youth for Democracy, as a student organization, is fostered and maintained on the campus of Wayne University.

"I want to state now that the press did not misquote me on that statement. The statement was an expression of my feeling on the subject then, and that is yet my thought.

"Were I to sign a committee report today regarding our findings of subversive activity in connection with our colleges and universities, I would express views demonstrating that in my mind, the organization known as the American Youth for Democracy, and fostered by Wayne University, and meeting on that campus is a Communist front.

"To me the evidence is all conclusive the AYD, as a national organization has been declared to be a Communist front by J. Edgar Hoover, director of the federal bureau of investigation. The evidence discloses that the AYD, as national organization, has as officers young men and women who profess to be Communists.

"The testimony shows that I personally asked Dr. Henry J. the Wayne University chapter was affiliated with the national chapter of the AYD and his testimony was that the Wayne University chapter is a member of the national organization of the AYD.

"I have also studied over very carefully a bulletin which was taken from the files of the administrative offices at Wayne University and which bulletin is entitled 'A Year in the Life of the AYD.'

"From study of this bulletin it would appear to me that the AYD has become involved in minor acts of revolution and terrorism and which minor acts have been directed toward citizens and businessmen of Detroit.

"Now, what conclusion can I personally reach other than that the AYD is a Communist front. The national organization has been so declared by the leading law enforcement agency of the country. The AYD has been declared to be a Communist front by the Dies committee in our Congress.

"I do not want to appear to be an alarmist but testimony by certain Detroit police officers indicate to me clearly that there have been acts of violence performed by Wayne chapter of AYD.

"It is my personal opinion that mob rule, mob authority, intimidation and mob terrorism has no place in the education of our youth.

"Those interested in promoting the AYD say I, as one member of this committee, am attempting to curtail rights guaranteed to us under our Constitution—that is, the right of free speech and public assembly. Those who would accuse me of that curtailment under our Constitution claim to be Americans.

"I believe in America, that freedom of speech and freedom of assembly means free speech to the extent that it does not undermine and threaten our American way, and free assembly so long as it is peaceful assembly and does not lead to acts of terrorism and intimidation.

"I firmly believe that students in our American universities should have objective study clubs. But in an objective study club theories of government are compared and each theory thoroughly studied and compared.

"It is my firm belief that a university club desires to study the subject of communism and then make as thorough a study of other forms of government—that is good. An academic comparison of governments—that is objective study.

"But to have an organization study thoroughly the principles of communism, revolution and terrorism and without marked comparisons drawn, that, in my mind is entirely un-American. Proofs show that study, by the AYD of Wayne Campus, has been in lecture form by Communists of renown."

Smith Speaks To Lake Orion Rotary Club Members

Accepting an invitation of the Lake Orion Rotary Club, George A. Smith, retired superintendent of Plymouth schools spoke before a capacity attendance of members and guests at their regular meeting last Monday evening.

Taking as his subject "Looking to the future" Mr. Smith discussed looking ahead from the standpoint of economics from where we now stand basing his opinions on an apparent pattern which has followed every war except the Spanish-American war.

"The costs of World War II, the policies employed by those countries receiving UNRRA materials, plus the increase in living costs over wages have been factors affecting the home economic situation," he said.

One of the greatest obstructions, he believes, to better business and to getting things straightened out is the action of the present congress in relation to tax legislation. "It is necessary," said Mr. Smith, that a tax bill be put through that labor will know how much of their earnings is "take-home-pay".

Speaking on the foreign situation Mr. Smith believes it is our responsibility to see that the world functions as a unit. In his opinion a scare of war would spoil our post war economic pattern. "If there ever was a time when we should think clearly, now is the time," he said.

In respect to the currently proposed loan to Greece Mr. Smith believes that it is not a question of can we afford to do it, but can we afford not to do it. "When we consider that over 40 percent of the world's oil is in Asia Minor," he said "we must save these countries or democracy is threatened".

"We need these countries and we need Russia as a country and we need to live together harmoniously to assure world security," he said.

It is Mr. Smith's personal belief that the proposed monies will be spent in order to stabilize the world.

Mr. Smith was accompanied to Lake Orion by Harold F. Hamill.

Plymouth Helps Increase Total

Plymouth, right in the heart of one of the largest production centers in Michigan, of vegetables, berries and small fruits, will be interested in knowing that the vegetable crop of this state is "big business."

This locality adds many hundreds of thousands of dollars to the state total. Recently compiled data shows that the Michigan 1946 value of commercially produced vegetables is estimated at 34 million dollars. In terms of retail value, this means something within the range of 100 million dollars.

Of all vegetables in Michigan, celery is at the top of the list with an annual crop value fluctuating between five and 18 million dollars. Second in value is the tomato crop.

Some of the other crops valued at more than a million dollars each year are: sweetcorn—2 million; snap beans—1½ million; rhubarb and cauliflower—1 million each.

In addition to the crops mentioned, about thirty vegetables are grown in the state. Michigan produces nearly one-half of all of the pickles in the United States—forty thousand acres.

In overall annual production of vegetable crops in the United States, Michigan ranks between fourth and sixth. In the past ten years, only California, New York, and Florida have consistently ranked higher.

Why is it that Michigan ranks so highly as a producer of vegetable? S. H. Wittwer, vegetable specialist at Michigan State college, says that the answer is found in three words: climate—soil—and markets.

The climate, made up of cool nights, warm sunny days, and low humidity in late summer, permits production of a wide variety of crops. Conditions are ideal for growing vegetables for the fresh market, as well as for canning and freezing.

The soil types—much light sands—lend themselves to many special crops. There are plenty of heavier loams for market garden vegetables, too.

Large cities and citizens with big appetites for fresh vegetables make it easy to dispose of the vegetable crops.

Who has felt the loss of human peace has not gained stronger desires for spiritual joy? The aspiration after heavenly good comes even before we discover what belongs to wisdom and Love.—Mary Baker Eddy

Wage Boost For Bus Drivers

A 10 percent wage increase for bus drivers and maintenance men at the Dearborn Coach company was announced Saturday by the company and division 1265 Street car and Bus Operator Union.

The recommendations made by a three man committee appointed by Governor Sigler were followed. On the committee were two prominent Plymouth men, George A. Smith, former superintendent of schools, and Carl Shear, city commissioner and owner of the local Buick Sales organization.

The wage increase, which will increase the drivers' rates to $1.37½ beginning May 1, was included in a new contract signed by the company and union officials.

As part of the agreement a 5c per hour retroactive wage increase will be paid for the period of negotiation from January 1 to April 30.

Wage Boost For Bus Drivers

A 10 percent wage increase for bus drivers and maintenance men at the Dearborn Coach company was announced Saturday by the company and division 1265 Street car and Bus Operator Union.

The recommendations made by a three man committee appointed by Governor Sigler were followed. On the committee were two prominent Plymouth men, George A. Smith, former superintendent of schools, and Carl Shear, city commissioner and owner of the local Buick Sales organization.

The wage increase, which will increase the drivers' rates to $1.37½ beginning May 1, was included in a new contract signed by the company and union officials.

As part of the agreement a 5c per hour retroactive wage increase will be paid for the period of negotiation from January 1 to April 30.

Need Good Soil
 For Good Garden

The first ingredient of a successful home garden is good soil. E. D. Longnecker, soils specialist of Michigan State college extension service, says that poor garden soils can often be built up so that better crops are produced. The ideal garden soil is loose, granular and spongy. Water and air can penetrate to the roots easily in this type of soil. Home garden soil, however, is often sandy or heavy and tight and hard to work.

A few basic materials will help to improve poor garden soils. Longnecker lists: manure, compost, sewage sludge, fertilizer, and in some cases, lime.

Liberal supplies of manure will improve most garden soils. The manure should be spaded or plowed under if it is fresh and contains much straw.

Compost can be supplied by turning under the sod. Big clumps of sod and heavy vegetation should be broken up and then spaded under. A compost pile, started this year, will supply future needs.

Lime counteracts the effect of soil acids and furnishes the calcium and magnesium needed by plants. Longnecker warns that soils should not be limed unless a soil test shows a definite need.

Chemical fertilizers are needed unless the soil has been built up with lots of manure. Tests show that fertilizer is most effective when it is placed in bands 2 inches on either side of the row and slightly below the seed. Fertilizer may also be broadcast over the surface at the rate of 25 pounds per 100 square feet and then worked into the surface layer.

Cattle Free Of Deadly Disease

Foot and mouth disease, which has become well established in Mexico, has not yet affected animals in Michigan.

Dr. B. J. Killham, extension specialist in animal pathology at Michigan State college, says that U.S.I.A. veterinarians are assisting Mexico authorities in controlling the disease. A strict border quarantine has been established. However, Dr. Killham points out that the virus of the disease can travel long distances and in many ways. Increased airplane travel has made it important that all persons who observe animals be on the look-out for outbreaks of foot and mouth disease.

In past years, there have been eight outbreaks of foot and mouth disease in the United States with an estimated loss of $200,000,000. The worst outbreak of the disease in the United States began in 1914 in Michigan. The source of the virus that caused the outbreak has never been explained. It was not known that the disease existed on the North America continent at that time. The disease is capable of affecting practically all cloven-footed animals. It is one of the most highly contagious diseases known. When an animal is infected with the disease, lesions which rupture and leave sore areas are found in the mouth and on the feet. Teats of cows may be affected. In hogs, the trouble is largely confined to the feet. Killham urges everyone who comes in contact with animals to watch for symptoms of the disease. Symptoms that might be those of foot and mouth disease should be reported to the nearest veterinarian or to the state veterinarian immediately.

BUDDING REPORTERS VISIT DETROIT NEWS
 The Journalism classes I and II will make a tour of the Detroit News on April 16. The students hope to gather information about the different steps used in publishing a newspaper, how pictures are made for the papers, and other information which may be valuable in their work on the school paper.
 A school bus will transport the students to Detroit, leaving school at 12:15 and returning before 3:30.

Local Bowlers In State Test
 Three local bowling teams made their appearances at the State Bowling Tournament in Muskegon over the weekend. Goldstein's, Boyer's and Daisy Air Rifle were the three teams from Plymouth which made the trip. Although the storm and rains of the weekend stopped many motorists, the Plymouth bowlers made the difficult trip. A few detours were encountered, but were overcome by the enthusiastic keepers. "A few floods can't stop us or dull our spirits when it comes to entering these events," say members of the teams.
 The tournament is not yet complete, and whether or not the local men are "in the money" will have to be determined at the end of the tournament.

M.S.N. COLLEGE BAND ENTERTAINS STUDENTS
 In assembly Tuesday, April 1, the students of Plymouth Junior and Senior High were entertained by the Michigan State Normal College band under the direction of Mr. Fitch.
 Don Vetal, who graduated from Plymouth High School last year, was one of the trumpeters in the band.
 A few of the selections played by the band were: "Suite for Band," "Caribbean Fantasy," "Begin the Beguine," "United Nations March," and "On the Square." One of the numbers was a drum solo with band accompaniment. The applause of the students showed that this was the most popular selection.

THREE NEW BOOKS ADDED TO LIBRARY
 Three new books have been added to the Plymouth High School Library recently: Florence Nightingale by Jeanette Covert Nolan, Don Marshall, Announcer by Edward Force, and Gray Canaan by David Garth.
 The first of these tells of the thrilling life of Florence Nightingale, the woman, who, although she could have had money, position, and happiness in her own home, devoted her entire life to the care of soldiers and to nursing.
 Don Marshall, Announcer, is the story of a boy who, when he wanted to be an announcer, did something about it.
 Also in the historical class with Florence Nightingale is the book, Gray Canaan, which deals with the Confederacy. A secret is held in the word "Canaan."

MRS. D. REINCKE ATTENDS N.V.G.A.

We're Proud To Be On THIS TEAM!

The Ford Motor Company has just announced that the Ford three-window, six-cylinder business coupe is back in production at a price twenty dollars below that which prevailed when this model was temporarily discontinued last fall. This reduction, plus those announced last January 15th, makes the Ford business coupe and the two-door sedan the lowest priced cars in their field. We Ford Dealers are proud to be part of the organization that pioneered and is continuing such a clear, realistic and progressive policy. We consider this newest Ford price reduction still further proof that the Ford Motor Company leads in offering the American Public the most value at the lowest possible price. And we feel certain that it will play a definite part in speeding the return of sound and sensible prices, and a secure future for consumer, seller and producer alike.

What do you think railroads make?  The public thinks we make 15% 15%	What do you think they should make?  The public thinks 10% would be fair 10%	What are the facts? Actually the railroads earned only 2 3/4% in 1946. To provide the service you want, railroads need to earn at least 6%. But estimates indicate that even with the recent freight rate increase, the return for 1947 will be only about half that requirement.  2 3/4%

Why it takes 6% to make the grade...

Impartial research poll shows that, on the average, people think we make 15%. They also think a fair return would be 10%.

What We Make
 But for the year 1946, with the biggest peace-time traffic in history, the railroads earned only . . . 2 3/4%. This is less than one-half the comparable earnings for other industries.
 The reasons for this low return are not hard to find. Since 1939 railroad wages have increased 52 1/2% and the prices of fuel, materials and supplies have gone up 61 1/2%.
 But freight rates have just recently been increased an average of only 17 1/2%—a year after the effective date of the last big wage increase.

What About This Year?
 It is estimated that the return for 1947, even with the recent freight rate increase, will be only about half the 6% minimum return required to provide the improvements and service needed. This will be because of increased costs of materials and supplies; because certain wage increases granted in 1946 were in effect for only part of 1946 but will be in effect for all of 1947; because of increased special payroll taxes on railroads; and because of a decline in passenger business.

What Does This Mean To You?
 The answer is "Plenty!" Your standard of living is the highest in the world because of MASS PRODUCTION. But mass production would not be possible without MASS TRANSPORTATION, which the railroads provide at low cost.

Why 6% Is Needed
 The kind of service your standard of living requires takes a lot of money for new equipment and improvements. To carry out the post-war improvement program for better equipment, tracks, terminals and modern safety devices, a minimum return of 6% is needed.

So when the railroads make only 2 3/4 cents on each $1.00 of their net property investment, it concerns you.
 The funds for future new equipment and improvements must come from railroad earnings and also from investors. They will furnish money on reasonable terms only if they have confidence in the future earnings of the railroads.
You Have Another Stake In This
 Even if you do not own any railroad stocks or bonds, insurance companies and savings banks do. So you still have a special interest in seeing that the railroads are allowed enough to do a good job . . . for you.
 We are publishing this and other advertisements to talk with you at first hand about matters which are important to everybody.
 *On total property investment, the railroads made only 2.19%.

MICHIGAN MICHIGAN

ELTON R. EATON

Look for numerous changes in the Michigan hunting and fishing laws this year. They may not be important changes, but they may make quite a difference if all are adopted.

The conservation committees of the legislature have been devoting much time to a study of present regulations but they may not be able to make their reports for a week or so, maybe not so soon.

Whatever is done will be for the benefit of fishing and hunting in Michigan.

Now come along a "Kill-joy" who would have us believe that James Fenimore Cooper did not write that interesting novel, "The Oak Openings" which tells so much about early Michigan history in story form, while he lived in Michigan.

Some Illinois Institute of Technology professor named Mentor L. Williams in a recent article published in "Michigan History" declares that Cooper's journal shows that he wrote the story at Coopers town, New York during the winter of 1847-48.

Over in Schoolcraft in Kalamazoo county there is a brass plaque on a brick house built more than a hundred years ago which says that Cooper lived "here" when he wrote his story that reveals so much about pioneer days over in southwestern Michigan.

As a youngster we knew one of the early settlers of Kalamazoo county named Henry Luttenton. He lived in Comstock township. After we heard him talk much about a "miting-fellow" named Cooper, he old pioneer had frequently visited with Cooper and more than 50 years I knew well the story of "the Oak Openings."

In fact in the long years ago it was said that Mr. Luttenton was the real bee-hunter mentioned so frequently in Cooper's book, instead of Judge Bazel Harrison of Climax. It can quite readily be understood why one active enough a Judge might flatteringly be given some such nick-name instead of a lowly pioneer who was devoting his time to clearing the land and growing crops. I have always believed that it was Luttenton instead of Harrison who was the "bee hunting" character referred to in Cooper's book.

Remember a few weeks ago there was comment in this column about good fishing always following a long, hard winter? Dewey Loomis, who operates a fishing camp up on the Manistee river some 11 or 12 miles east of Manistee, is the authority for this contention.

This summer will tell the story, but there is another true fishing story out of the Loomis fishing camp you will be interested in.

In the national fishing contest conducted last year by Outdoor Life, three of the first prize winners were taken by fishermen who had made their catches on the Manistee near the Loomis camp. Out of the 20 awards made, 13 were from Michigan, including the three from "Loomis Landing."

The shortage of cover is more serious to upland game birds in

The range program of the Forest Service is backed by long years of study and practical experience. Any delay in the execution of plans agreed to by the Service and grazing permittees for the stopping of damage to watersheds, and ranges used by both livestock and game is tantamount to exploitation, it is believed.

Some of the participating states have allocated state funds to handle planting costs as a department expense rather than depend on volunteer work. Maine is contemplating a P-R research project on eelgrass. Several interested conservation clubs have requested the assistance of a biologist to outline a planting program for their respective areas. Many individuals have written or called the office of the various cooperators to learn more about the program and to ascertain what they might do to help out.

Since 1931, as the result of a disease, eelgrass has virtually disappeared along the Atlantic Coast, and from that time the Black Duck population has steadily declined. The scarcity of eelgrass is one of the reasons for the decline. Food limitations control wild-life abundance, and the critical period comes in winter and early spring. Eelgrass formerly was an important winter food when freeze-ups of inland waters drove the Black Ducks to the coast during January and February. During this period the principal source of food is limited to the narrow marginal strip below the high tide mark, usually kept free of ice by tidal action. These shallow tidal waters are the natural environment of eelgrass, and it is here that the cooperators are working.

There is good evidence that the eelgrass blight is past its peak. The plant is slowly staging a comeback. Natural recovery may take years, and the process can be speeded up materially by transplanting healthy, blight-resistant plants to suitable areas made barren by disease.

— so does your wife!

JUST look at yourself standing there, that come-to-Poppa gleam brightening in your eye with every passing second.

Look at you — taking in those long, sleek, all-the-way-through fender lines — and falling harder for them every minute.

Honestly now — aren't you just itching to get hands on that wheel and touch off the surging Fireball power packing that big bonnet?

Aren't you picturing yourself giving the scornful laugh to the cobbles and the bumps, the jars and the jolts, in this steady, road-wise, coil-spring-cushioned husky?

Haven't you spotted a new light-of-your-life that you'd love to call your one-and-only — if you only dared confess it?

Well, go ahead—your wife won't mind.

She's probably way ahead of you in spotting the spanking fresh new styling of this brawny Buick. She has decided she wants the smart and roomy interiors — the featherweight handling—the gorgeous glamorous bigness of it.

She's probably saying to herself, "Well, don't just stand there — do something! Let's get one of these for our own!"

So go ahead. Make up your mind.

And take the first step toward having a Buick of your own — which is simply to get your order in.

HOMEMAKING CLASS PLANS PRE-SCHOOL PARTY

Child Study has been the recent project of the girls in Homemaking II. Under the direction of Miss I. Lunden they have been doing research work on the subject and will have a chance to show what they have learned next Monday after school, when the girls will give a party in the Kindergarten Room, for children of pre-school ages. Each girl in the class is to invite one or two small children whose habits and actions will be observed by the girl having charge of them. Light refreshments will be served.

Park Campers to Pay Higher Rate

Many Plymouth residents and others in this locality who enjoy spending their summer vacations "camping out" will be interested in a new schedule of fees for the state parks' 16 frame and log camps for group use, designed to increase short term off-season occupancy and meet increased maintenance and operation costs in the summer season. Has been approved by the conservation commission.

The new summer rate for camps with sleeping accommodations is $1.50 a week for children under 18, $3.50 a week for adults, no charge for camp staff or help. For periods of less than a week in these camps the charge is 25 cents a day for children, 50 cents a day for adults. In camps without sleeping accommodations the summer charge for both children and adults is 10 cents a day. Summer rates apply from June 15 to September 15, when reservations must be made at the parks division Lansing office and preference is given to youth groups.

During the remainder of the year, arrangements for short term use of the group cabin camps may be made directly with resident park managers. New short term rates are 10 cents per person per day, accommodations, where the old rate was a flat 25 cents per person for a 24-hour period in camps with sleeping accommodations, where the old rate was a flat 25 cent charge. In facilities without cots and mattresses the charge is now a dime a day per person, and a new minimum fee of $2.50 assures use of the camps to groups formerly too small to qualify.

Use of the camps by nonprofit civic, social, school and church groups is reported steadily increasing, particularly in winter months.

Individuals, as nations, unite harmoniously on the basis of justice, and this is accomplished when self is lost in Love—or God's own plan of salvation.—Mary Baker Eddy

How to Reclaim Cloth Feed Bags

It's smart to use the sturdy cotton fabric of many flour and feed bags for home uses. The shortages and high prices of textiles make the use of bagging a wise economy. Michigan State College home economists believe.

This material is used by thrifty housewives for almost every fabric use. House dresses, children's clothes, dish towels, lunch-cloths, are only a few of the many articles that can be made with the material.

But—have you ever struggled to get off the printing that labels the bag? Textile specialists at Michigan State College say that there are several methods that can be used to take the print from the sacks.

1. Scrub the bags with hot water and laundry soap. This is a good start and often removes most of the ink. Then boil the bags in soapy water for an hour and rinse. A chloride bleach should remove any lingering traces of the ink.

2. Rub the dry bag with a wet bar of laundry soap. Then roll the bag up and let it stand for several hours. A final wash and boiling usually takes out the remaining ink.

3. Soak the bag overnight in kerosene. A wash in lukewarm water, then soapy water, and rinse thoroughly.

4. Cover the printed areas on the bag with soft petroleum jelly or lard and rub into the fabric thoroughly. The grease will loosen the ink overnight and a washing in soapy lukewarm water and a rinse will take out the final traces.

5. Boil the bags in water with sodium hydrosulfite or other dye remover. The package will give directions that should be followed. Then rinse the sack well.

Many Gifts For Wounded Vets

Plymouth's V.F.W. "Cootie" group in conjunction with similar organizations from Redford and Dearborn passed out gifts at Veterans' Hospital in Dearborn Sunday. Plymouth was represented by all the officers of the service organization and by about 20 other members.

Gifts from Mrs. P. Soles and her girl scouts were assembled with others from Plymouth and pooled with presents from the other cities. A fleet of trucks supplied by the J. L. Hudson Company, and manned by its drivers, was donated to take the gifts to the Dearborn institution.

Though there are thousands of disabled veterans in the hospital, not one was missed in the presentation. The boys from Plymouth say it is a real pleasure to see the soldiers at these hospitals receive their gifts, and well worth the work they put into it.

The next scheduled visitation by the local group is to be at Maybury Sanatorium on May 11. The "Cooties" are also planning a benefit dance to be held at Newburg American Legion Hall on May 24th.

If you have any items of interest about your family or friends please call Plymouth 6.

Announces Details of $20,000,000 Price Reductions

Details of the recently announced International Harvester policy of making price reductions to save users of our products approximately $20,000,000 a year have now been worked out.

We have reduced prices on 163 models. These cover 12 basic models of farm tractors, 123 basic models of farm machines, 16 basic models of industrial tractors and engines, and 12 models of motor trucks, as well as certain motor truck attachments. The new lower prices are effective as of March 10, 1947.

These reductions were made not because of any decline in demand, but because we believe nothing is more important to this country than to lower the prices of the goods people buy.

While prices have not been changed on all products, we have made reductions wherever possible, in the amounts possible. Prices of many of our most popular products have been substantially lowered.

Altogether, more than half of the company's customers will be benefited by the reductions, which range from 1% to 23.8% and from $2.50 to $300 per item, based on list prices, F.O.B. Chicago.

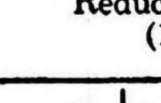

Since the people have demanded that the government withdraw from price control in peacetime, the responsibility to keep prices in check is back where it should be—in the hands of business and industry. The business outlook makes it possible for us to move toward the goal of lower prices, and we have felt a duty to act as promptly as possible.

Our ability to maintain these lower prices will depend on the supply and price of materials we buy from others and on uninterrupted production at reasonable wage levels.

The prices listed here carry out our announced policy that "Any price is too high if it can be reduced."

Avoid More School Taxes

When, however, the politicians demand more money for schools "in order to make young people more efficient and solve juvenile problems", this is the bunk.

People are getting information by newspapers, radio and movies; but not wisdom and self-control. These latter are spiritual qualities which we get only by our mother's knees...

spending more tax money on schools will not solve juvenile delinquency.

Children Need Work

This present howl for more money for schools as a solution to our social troubles reminds me of the other cure-alls which have been offered during my day. When I started in business, Roosevelt was busting the Trusts as a cure-all. Great fights resulted in dissolving the Tobacco Trust, the Standard Oil Trust and the Railroad Trust.

Adult Education

This brings me to the subject of adult education. The brain is much like the blood. As the blood can absorb only so much vitamin, so the brain can absorb only so much knowledge. Hence, education will be improved, not by spending more money on present high schools, but by encouraging more self-supporting adult courses and serving people when they finally want to learn something.

The greatest opportunity facing school committees lies with adult education, given to people who have awakened to the need of more education and are hungry for it. This is why the new College which I am backing at Eureka, Kansas, (the geographical center of the U.S.) is solely for adults. It will give short intensive Five-Week Courses for adults, but only in the subjects for which they have found the need and are hungry.

Conclusion To Teachers: Follow union labor and get all you can while the going is good. To Parents: Don't fool yourselves by thinking that more money spent upon schools will make better boys and girls. Rather spend money and time to make your homes more attractive. To Churches: Most of us know enough; our difficulty is that we lack self-control to apply what we know. Self-control comes after rebirth due either to sad experiences or to spiritual conversions. Rehabilitate the Churches, Sunday Schools and bring back sane evangelism. Education and Religion must go hand-in-hand or both fail.

Land purchases approved by the conservation commission at its March meeting included one key parcel needed for development of Warren Dunes state park; 213 acres in southeastern Michigan in Island Lake, Pontiac Lake and Proud Lake state recreational areas; 282 feet of frontage for public fishing access to Duck Lake, Gogebic county; 124 acres valuable for deer management on Drummond Island, with 1,450 feet of frontage on Sitgreaves bay; 40 acres in Rose Lake wildlife experiment station and 166 acres in Dansville and Gratiot-Saginaw state game areas.

25 YEARS AGO FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL FILES

Mrs. Charles Lundy of Plymouth, wishes to announce the marriage of her youngest daughter, Lillian, to Percy E. Carson, of Northville, which took place at Novi, March 25th. The happy couple will make their home with Mrs. Mary Carson, the groom's mother.

Miss Elsie Hartung, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hartung of this place and Ralph Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Cole, were quietly united in marriage in Detroit, Monday afternoon, April 3 by Rev. Henderson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Grand River avenue.

At a meeting of the village commission, last Monday evening, President J. W. Henderson made the following appointments: Treasurer, George W. Richwine; Assessor, Arthur V. Jones; Health Officer, Dr. J. H. Kimble; Board of Review, R. R. Parrott, W. R. Shaw, A. V. Jones.

Village Manager Sidney Strong made the following appointments: Chief of Police, George W. Springer; Supt. Public Works, William A. Reddeman.

Mrs. Ella Chaffee is having a garage built on the rear of her lot at the corner of Church and Harvey streets.

J. H. Patterson has the contract to erect a new business block for W. T. Conner on Main street, to take the place of the buildings recently occupied by D. M. Berdan as an office and C. G. Drayton's store. The building occupied by Mr. Drayton will be moved around on Penniman avenue as a temporary place for him to carry on his business while the new store is being built.

The heavy sleet and ice storm, the latter part of the week, did great damage to many of the beautiful shade trees about town. The heavy coating of ice on the branches caused many of them to break, completely ruining the trees. For three days a body of men was kept busy clearing the broken limbs from the streets to keep traffic moving. The electric light service was out of commission until late Saturday.

Edwin Schrader received the highest mark last quarter for attendance, deportment and scholarship in his class. Raphael Matetal is teacher of this Presbyterian Sunday School class.
