Plymouth, represented by two teams in the contest, is supplying more than its share to the tournament. If the nation were represented on a per-capita basis as heavily as the "city of homes" is there would be over 20,000 teams entered, says one local statistician. Construction of the alleys in the Los Angeles Armory was completed in March at a cost of $108,000. Supervision of the erection of the hard-wood lanes was by Joe Norris and Charles Collier of the Brunswick-Balke-Clendenen Co. Plymouth men who have participated in the American Bowling Congress contests for several years past say that the alleys are always of the best, and kept in top-notch shape. The team members are looking forward to a pleasant journey to and from the tournament, as well as the thrill of bowling in the outstanding event in the sport. They hold high hopes of bringing honor to Plymouth, and Plymouth residents will be watching the headlines on April 24 and 25.

French of Laurel road, became the bride of LeRoy Cole Woodward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Woodward, of Ravine Drive. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry J. Walsh in the First Presbyterian church of Plymouth.

The bride was attired in a suit of light blue gabardine, sheer blouse and white hat. Her corsage was gardenias.

Irene Newman was the maid-of-honor and wore a gray gabardine suit and gardenia corsage. The best man was Paul Woodward, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother chose a silk jersey print for her daughter's wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore navy blue. Each wore a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed in the home of the young couple on Grantland, just off Newburg road.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bome, Jr., of Chicago, Ill., Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Woods, Mrs. Amos Lundstrom, of Lansing, May McCarty, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klann, Mrs. Terese Bonie, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bailey, Ted Matick, Mrs. Susan Bailey and daughter, Lois, of Detroit.

Zobel-Stevens Wedding Held in Detroit Church Saturday Evening Mar. 29

The Calvin Presbyterian church of Detroit was the scene of a pretty wedding, Saturday evening, March 29 when Joyce Lois Zobel of Farmington road, became the bride of Douglas Howard Stevens, son of Mrs. Frank Steffes of Detroit and T. W. Stevens of Pontiac.

Rev. Thomas P. Lindsay performed the double ring ceremony at eight o'clock before an altar decorated with palms and candelabra, and two large vases of white stock.

The bride, given in carriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and marquisette made with a tight bodice and marquisette yoke. Her tight fitting sleeves came to a point over the wrist. The full skirt of satin was fashioned with an overskirt of marquisette which fell into a medium train. Her finger-ring veil was held in place by a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried white carnations showered with white satin ribbon.

The bride's sister Elaine was maid-of-honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink satin made with a tight bodice, round neck line and cap sleeves. The skirt was fashioned with an overskirt of pink net. Long lace mits, a shower bouquet and head piece of blue carnations completed her costume.

Mrs. Betty Stulz, as bridesmaid, was dressed in aqua satin and net. She carried a shower bouquet of yellow carnations and wore a bandeau of the same flowers in her hair.

Joseph Stevens of Detroit was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were his brother Richard Stevens and Quinns Stulz, both of Detroit.

A fifteen minute prelude of organ music by Mrs. Donna Bernd, preceded the ceremony. Jack Pfleger sang "I Love You Truly." Following the ceremony, a reception for two hundred guests was held in the church dining room.

There's no use in refusing to let our wife have her own way—she'll get it anyway.

There's nothing more elusive than success—some people pursue it all their lives without catching up.

In New Albany, Ind., Mrs. Goldie Sutton testified that her late husband had 1) thrown her over a cliff, breaking her collarbone, 2) trod on her neck, 3) doused her with kerosene and set her afire, 4) slashed at her throat with a razor 5) menaced her with hot grease, 6) shoved her out a window, 7) singed her hair with a shotgun blast. The jury thereupon acquitted her of first-degree murder.

The measure of choosing well, is, whether a man likes and finds good in what he has chosen.—Lamb

Businesses are suffering untold losses and the news of the day is lacking as can be seen by the curtailed "local" columns of the Plymouth Mail. Doctors, ambulances, police and the fire department have received their calls without too much delay.

The supervisory staff of the local telephone office is doing a splendid job in trying to forestall any serious incidents which might be sustained during the strike. It is understood that about eight or nine people handle the emergency calls during the day, five in the evening and one during the night.

With the co-operation of local residents in not asking for service on anything except emergency calls it is hoped that the present number of calls can be handled. The management of the company again appeals to subscribers to not abuse the privilege of placing only emergency calls.

There is some talk in the Detroit daily papers about the possibility of refunds on service charges during the strike. This will pertain only to manually operated switchboard users such as the Plymouth system has.

Sliced Potatoes Good for Cows

Farmers who have been thinking about feeding surplus carrots and potatoes to dairy cows will be interested in advice given by E. I. Besemer, county agricultural agent, for using these products as feeds. Carrots and potatoes are classed as succulent feeds as is corn silage. Experiments show that potatoes are almost as high in digestible nutrients as corn silage, while carrots are worth about one-half as much. Five pounds of corn silage or potatoes and 10 pounds of carrots as equal to one pound of corn grain. Cows must be taught to eat potatoes since they are not common feed. The potatoes should be introduced gradually into the ration and the amount limited to 30 pounds daily. It is important that carrots and potatoes be chopped before feeding. This is to prevent choking. It is also necessary to feed the carrots and potatoes after milking to avoid an undesirable flavor in the milk. Since both carrots and potatoes are very low in protein they should be supplemented with proper feeds. A legume hay such as alfalfa or clover, a grain ration containing soybean oil meal or other protein supplements should be fed with the carrots and potatoes. Agent Besemer adds that when potatoes are supplemented with the proper feeds, they will not dry up the cows as is sometimes believed.

Two Awarded Contest Bicycles

Two Plymouth youngsters won bicycles last week in the contest for collecting used fats, sponsored by Thompson's market on Penniman avenue. The lucky winners were Phillip Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Patrick, 11325 East Side Drive; and Barbara Erdelyi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. B. Erdelyi of 751 Forest avenue.

Phillip collected and turned in 688 1/2 pounds of used fats to win the boy's bicycle. Barbara collected 585 1/2 pounds to win the girl's division of the contest.

The children who entered the contest received from 15c to 19c per pound for the fats, in addition to receiving points toward the prizes. There were 82 entrants.

Stewart Unger, manager of Thompson's Market, reports that the store bought 4,308 pounds of the fats during the event.

The contest will be featured in an article in the Grocers' Spotlight, a trade magazine, in its next issue. Pictures of the fortunate and hard-working Plymouth winners will accompany the story.

Plymouth Buys Nearly 500 Duck Stamps in Year

Postmaster Harry Irwin has just been advised that he will receive his 1947 allotments of new duck stamps soon after the first of July.

But that isn't the most important news about this notice. Who would ever believe that the Plymouth postoffice last year sold nearly 500 stamps to duck hunters?

"That means" said Postmaster Irwin "that Plymouth sportsmen not only contributed heavily to the state's conservation department's financial needs, but they helped the federal government's conservation work to the extent of almost $500 through their purchase of these stamps." Postmaster Irwin says the Federal "duck stamp" for the 1947-1948 hunting season on migratory waterfowl will feature geese, according to an announcement made today by the Fish and Wildlife Service. The law requires the use of the stamps by all migratory-waterfowl hunters over 16 years old.

The design of the new stamp, which is the work of Jack Murray, artist for Outdoors Magazine in Boston, Mass., includes two snow geese in flight.

Fourteenth in the series, the migratory bird hunting stamp is now in the hands of the engravers

For the period from July 1 to December 31, 1945, all records were broken with the sale of 1,836,390 stamps.

ELTON R. EATON

If any of the many pheasant hunters in Plymouth and this part of the state have plans to return to South Dakota this fall for the pheasant and duck hunting season, it might be well right now to change your plans and forget all about going up to the Dakotas to "bag your limit."

The South Dakota legislature has changed its regulations and while you can go there to hunt pheasants, you are going to pay plenty and get little.

The taking of migratory waterfowl and big game in that state will not be legal for nonresidents for the next two years at least, it was stated, and hunting without permission on land containing livestock or unharvested grain was prohibited by the Legislative Assembly just closed.

In addition to the usual 20,000 state license, nonresidents must secure a county license costing $3.00 that is not required of resident hunters. Licenses will have to be obtained from county treasurers or other agents next fall instead of state game wardens, and 5 per cent of the license fees will be allocated to county highway funds.

The new regulations provide that nonresidents are restricted to 10 days of hunting. Resident hunters will enjoy an open season of 10 days before hunters from other states are permitted to hunt.

The prohibition of taking waterfowl by nonresidents came about largely because local hunters were deprived of their hunting grounds by outsiders who purchased and leased the land, it is reported. Additional fees reflect the desire of rural people to get some of the benefits derived from the herds of out-of-state hunters who invade their fields each fall.

In explaining the astounding decline in ring-necked pheasants in South Dakota last season following many years of phenomenal population density, Elmer Peterson, Director, Department of Game, Fish and Parks, recently said "my own personal opinion is that this is due in large measure to the fact during the past few years we had such an overpopulation that it was necessary, as a measure of control, to have unreasonably long seasons with unusually large bag and possession limits. Last year with the population somewhat near normal, it was necessary to restrict both seasons and bag limits. This was a disappointment to many hunters who were formerly accustomed to securing their birds quite readily without much, if any, effort. I contacted hunter after hunter during the past season who gave me the stock reply, 'Yes, I secured my limit, but I had to work for it.' It is true that our population in the eastern counties of the state is alarmingly low, but those of us who were here during the peak of the drought period know that every sloughed and lake in the state, or in that section of the state, produced a wealth of winter and nesting birds and as a result we had a high pheasant population in that part of the state. With the advent of normal moisture conditions, these areas again have water with the result that pheasants had no place to nest, and had no place to seek cover during winter storms, and that territory produces rather severe winter storms regularly. Coupled with this condition, the hatching seasons in 1945 and 1946 were fair to poor."

The sudden pheasant decline in South Dakota was not a surprise to many wildlife specialists, the Wildlife Institute advised, since they have been predicting that a drop would come if unfavorable weather should strike at a time when much of the cover formerly used by pheasants was in crop production.

Of the total Great Lakes area, Michigan holds 41 per cent, Ontario 36 per cent and seven other

Ex-Marines to Meet Tuesday, April 22

The newly formed Marine Corps League's Plymouth organization will hold its second meeting at 8 o'clock on Tuesday, April 22, in the Hotel Mayflower.

Earl K. Miller, state commandant of the league stated that a good turnout was enjoyed at the initial meeting and urges all ex-marines and the women's reserve to attend this second session. He wishes to encourage all local Marines to be at the next meeting and make it a 100% affair.

Voting will be held to select a name for the Plymouth division of the Marine Corps league.

In Washington, Veterans' Administrator Bradley announced the VA adviser on women's affairs had closed up shop; women veterans have turned out to be no problem. In Tulsa, nostalgic ex-service women at Tulsa University named their sorority Beta Khaki Gamma.

Musical Evening Is Enjoyed by Kiwanis

Program Chairman Harry Reeves gave local Kiwanians a musical treat at their Tuesday evening meeting. He presented Paul Wagner, director of instrumental music at the high school, and a group of high school students in a musical program.

A clarinet quartette played several intricate pieces arranged especially for the instrument. The rendition, the Kiwanis members say, was very professional, and held their interest completely.

The Girls Octette, a vocal group also appeared with pleasing selections and Patsy Lidgard played a clarinet solo.

To conclude the program Mr. Wagner presented the Saxophone Quartette, which he directs.

Seeing that we have to attain to the ministry of righteousness in all things, we must not overlook small things in goodness or in badness, for "trifles make perfection" and "the little foxes spoil the vines."—Mary Baker Eddy

Langmaid Review Legion Progress

The American Legion has built up over the past 28 years a virtual "rehabilitation empire" for serving the nation's war veterans and their dependents.

It was compared here today to the giants of American industrial enterprises in business volume, personnel and smooth nationwide functioning by Commander William H. Langmaid of the Passage Gayde Post No. 391.

"The American Legion has used the same native American genius for organization that has developed this country's amazing productivity to shape its nationwide machinery for aiding all American fighting men and women," he said.

This machinery was created by the American Legion, Commander Langmaid pointed out, to assure that veterans and their families get their rights under the great structure of state and federal laws which it was instrumental in securing through its legislative efforts. He estimated that American Legion-sponsored legislation has provided more than $15,000,000 in various kinds of benefits for veterans.

Declaring its service organization was "without parallel," Commander Langmaid listed the following highlights of the American Legions vast rehabilitation network which is at the "free beck and call" of every veteran in the United States and its possessions:

Service outlets through nearly 16,000 posts.
A service officer at almost every whistle stop in the nation.
More than 30,000 trained service officers on the job daily.
All states organized by communities, districts and counties.
Legion representatives at all VA regional offices.
Legion staffs at all VA branch offices.
A national staff of 30 experts in Washington, D. C.
A force of 25 full-time paid field secretaries constantly checking on government services to veterans.
More than 28 years of know-how.
An annual rehabilitation budget of nearly $400,000.
Many times $400,000 spent each year by department, district, county and post organizations for rehabilitation services.
Five annual area school-conferences for state rehab leaders.
Annual state school-conference for post service officers.
The average American Legion post service officer, Commander Langmaid explained, is on the job to help all veterans and their dependents to file claims and obtain and assemble evidence in support of such claims. Vernon Miller is charged with this, in the local post. "He has on hand the necessary forms," Commander Langmaid said, "to help veterans file a claim for such benefits as disability compensation or pension, for hospitalization or outpatient treatment, for G.I. Bill loans, for G.I. bill educational subsistence allowance for vocational training under Public Law 16, for death benefits for widows, orphans and parents, for mustering out pay, for review of discharge or release, for reinstatement and conversion of government insurance—all made possible through American Legion-sponsored legislation. He also can advise a veteran in regard to surplus property, veterans preference, employment and many other personal problems.

In every state the American Legion has department service officers who supervise and work with post service workers according to Commander Langmaid. "The department has their own service officers at every VA regional office," he pointed out. "There are 65 such offices. When a post service officer completes a claim he passes it on to the department service officer for processing the VA regional office and to make the necessary appearance on behalf of the veteran or his dependents before the VA rating board. The department service officer also prepares appeals for veterans not satisfied with decisions of the rating boards."

Joe Merritt Wins Managership

Announcement has been made by the Wisconsin National Life Insurance Company of the appointment of Joe Merritt as manager for Wayne County. Mr. Merritt has been one of the company's outstanding insurance salesmen since his return from the army.

The promotion to county manager of the Plymouth representative comes as a result of his excellent record. He has sold in seven months over $300,000 in paid policies.

All representatives in Wayne County will now come under his supervision. Lawrence Forward, 397 Pacific, will work from the Merritt offices on South Main street in Plymouth, continuing the same sales program in conjunction with Mr. Merritt that the agency has carried on in the past.

When better automobiles are built BUICK will build them

Plymouth Buick Sales Co.
640 STARKWEATHER
PLYMOUTH, MICH.

Yot're practically that, of course, the minute you take over any new 1947 Buick. Never before has any automobile so completely won the country by its beauty — so clearly defined the shape of cars to come.

But really to take the stage and hold it — to cut a dashing figure in the smartest of smart company —

It is without question the most wanted version of America's most wanted car.

It's wanted for the freedom that's yours when its handy control swings back the top — and the sky becomes your roof and the birds your travel mates.

It's wanted for the lift and surge of its satiny straight-eight Fireball power plant, master of every grade and hill, monarch of the farthest horizon.

It's wanted for bigness, and the deep comfort of low-set, cushiony seats — wanted for the floating ease of soft all-coil springing, and the sure-footed stride of a car that's big enough and brawny enough for its job.

It's wanted for styling that already has set the pattern for years to come — it's wanted for fun, for adventure, and for year-round, all-round full family use.

The demand for it? Great, of course. The supply? Mounting as fast as Buick's beaver-busy production staff can free up the supply of the fine materials that go into it.

So with patience, one can be yours. With patience, that is — and the foresight to get your order in now.

A FINGER TOUCH — and the door window runs up or down automatically. Other handy controls raise or lower the top and adjust the front seat.

Need Permit for Septic Tank

So you are going to build a house out in Plymouth Township, or maybe Canton or Livonia, are you?

If so you had better make some inquiry about building that septic tank you will find necessary to install.

A regulation governing the installation of all septic tanks and sewage disposal systems throughout Wayne County was placed in effect by the Wayne County Board of Health recently.

This regulation states that persons wishing to install a septic tank, tile field, or both must make application for a permit to do so from the building department of their particular township, village, or city. Where there is no local building department, application must be filed with the County Health Department, division of Engineering and Sanitation, Henry Ruff Road and Michigan avenue, Elioise, Michigan. All construction of septic tanks and sewage disposal systems is to be in accordance with standards which have been established by the Wayne County Board of Health.

Because of the sewage problem which now exists throughout the county, the regulation was deemed necessary in order to protect the citizens from the threat of dangerous diseases caused by sewage pollution of streams, rivers, and open drains.

In the Legislature

By Elton R. Eaton

There will be plenty of news out of Lansing during the next few weeks. The legislature knows what it has got to do pertaining to financial matters. It knows the problem is not going to be an easy one, but it is ready to do its duty.

The decision of the Supreme Court was not a surprise to the writer. At no time did we believe that the entire amendment would be thrown out.

The court unanimously upheld the validity of the amendment which would return 1 cent of the sales tax to cities, townships and schools, and stated it was self-executing and became effective last December 5. The court, however, held that that portion of the amendment which guaranteed a fixed school aid appropriation in proportion to sales tax collections does not become effective until the beginning of the next fiscal year, July 1, 1947, and not being self-executing, will require legislative action.

It appears that the state, in some sections at least, is growing somewhat liberal minded. Representative Haufler of Saginaw would make Michigan into another Nevada. His bill, if passed, would permit the licensing of slot machines, chuck-a-luck, black-jack, faro, poker, wheels of fortune and other forms of gambling.

This bill to legalize gambling would permit an applicant to apply to his sheriff for a permit, and in addition to the county license, each operator would be required to obtain also a state license and pay the State 1 percent of his gross revenue in excess of $3,000.00 a quarter. The introducer of the bill takes the position that people are going to gamble regardless, and such being the case, they ought to pay for the privilege, as well as those who make profits out of it. The amount of revenue to be derived, is uncertain as there are no figures available.

Representative Joseph Warner of Ypsilanti is going to make another effort to induce the legislature to pass a capital punishment bill. He has re-introduced into the house the same bill he had before the legislature two years ago which provides for the electrocution of any one convicted of murder. Mr. Warner believes es there has been sufficient change in sentiment to pass the bill this time. It was defeated by a narrow margin two years ago.

Fertilizers and materials used in farm production and for the sale of breeding stock and poultry would be exempted from the sales tax under a bill that is now in the house.

Equal representation would be given on the board of supervisors to any city whose population is half of the total population of the county, in another bill that has been introduced.

The house refused to go along with the Senate on a bill which would permit persons having an annual income of $300 to receive old age benefits. The House took the position that passage of this measure might endanger the state's 23 million dollar federal grant in aid for old age assistance.

One bill in the legislature would require filing either an 8th grade graduation certificate, or a certificate from a doctor or psychologist showing a person is not feeble-minded, when applying for a marriage license, while another bill would abolish common-law marriages in Michigan, and would provide for recording of all common-law marriages now existing.

The house has passed and sent to the Senate a bill which would require the posting of floor plans and a diagram of exits in all hotels. This is a safety measure arising out of so many disastrous hotel fires. Another bill amends the liquor act to permit the issuance of licenses in resort areas without regard for population limits.

A bill appropriating operating funds for the boulevard building in Detroit, recently purchased by the state has passed the house.

Plymouth Youth Stars at Albion

Bob Birt of Plymouth who attending Albion College is out for his tennis letter. Athletic Director Dale R. Sprinkle of the college, in announcing the college's tennis match schedule has named the Plymouth youth as one of the outstanding men out for the competition. Coach Bob Reed states that besides Bob he has several other promising players and should have a good season in the sport.

In Cape Town, South Africa, when postwar radio-telephone service to Eric was resumed, nostalgic Don O'Reilly, 51 years away from the Emerald Isle, put in a station-to station call, instructed a dazed Dublin operator to "Give my love to the purple hills of Wicklow," contentedly hung up.

Trifles discover character more than actions of seeming importance; what one is in little things he is also in great. — Swift

Police Issue Another Warning

Because of an incident last week in which a very young Plymouth girl accepted a ride from a stranger, police have been alerted to watch for a repetition of the act. "Although no harm was done in this case," says Chief of Police Lee Sackett, "It is imperative that we dispell the possibility of a recurrence that may be more serious in its outcome."

The child involved in this case was with another little friend when the stranger stopped them on South Main street. She accepted the ride and was taken over a route that covered only two or three city blocks, then returned to the point of pick-up without incident.

Police have not been able to arrest the driver because the girl's description is incomplete. However, they do have a reasonably good description of the car and are watching for it.

Parents are cautioned by Plymouth police to warn their children against accepting rides from any but close acquaintances.

In Regina, Sask., two women boarded a night train to Saskatoon, awoke next morning still in Regina, snowbound, stepped off to eat breakfast and returned to find the train gone.

In London, Rance, a female elephant at the zoo, felt a cold-in-the-trunk coming on, was dosed by her keeper with a pint of rum.

Extension Group Has High Aims

(By Emma DuBord)
 Nearly 20,000 Michigan women are enrolled in home extension groups this year. Emma DuBord, Home Demonstration Agent, says that 113 of these extension members are enrolled in Wayne County. These women in extension groups learn such varied activities as making foods for locker storage, making gloves from native wool hies, tailoring suits and upholstering furniture. Their projects cover the fields of food and nutrition, clothing, home furnishings, health, home management, and home machinery repair and child development. Community projects also interest many of these extension groups. They make clothing for the Red Cross, help hospitalized veterans, conduct safety campaigns and carry on many other activities. They have adopted the slogan, "Make Michigan Beautiful", and are doing it in various ways such as beautifying cemeteries and developing recreation areas. Extension women regard the whole as their community. They learn about their foreign neighbors and send food and money to those in need. They contribute to state, national and international projects as well as to their own community.

Longer Handle Speeds Pruning

Members of the Emergency Farm Labor program of the Michigan State college extension service say that this method of pruning in the orchard will save time, labor, and spray materials and will avoid the danger of falling from ladders. A pruning saw handle eighteen inches or longer in length, instead of the regular size, will allow pruning of seventy-five percent of the water sprouts and much thin wood from a standing position on the ground. The longer handle will not only save climbing trees and ladders, but will do an effective pruning job so that suckers won't be robbing the soil of moisture and fertility, shading the fruit, lowering quality and preventing spray materials from reaching all parts of the tree. The saws are obtainable at most local dealers, and bulletins are available at the county agent's office on using this type of saw when following the "thin wood" method of pruning.

Cub Scouts Plan For Real Show

(By Harold H. Schryer)
 The forthcoming Handicraft show to be put on at the Plymouth High School by the Cub Scouts of Northville, Plymouth and Starbuck of the Western Community District Seven on Saturday, April 26, and starting at 7:30 p.m., is another real demonstration of the merits of handicraft in the home and neighborhood. There is a definite need for such close co-operation between the Cub and adult as is to be found in the joint experiences of the youngsters and adults of these groups and displayed here for the edification of both the young and old. It is under the leadership as can only be found in the home itself that such things as this can be readily brought to full completion in the light of the sense and meaning of the purpose for which it is intended. Father-mother-son collaboration in the interests of youth advancement in both the mental and physical aspects of family growth. The visual displays to be found at this showing are the result of the past year's activities and will serve as a yard-stick to measure such post-cooperation and mark out the coming year's forward steps. It will mark the growth of the Cubs during their various tenures of Cubbing and detail the needs of the coming year with the greater possibilities that as yet lie ahead for the observant family and Cub. No one can foretell the future, yet many of our Cubs have already begun to show marked interests in various fields of endeavor and with the able leadership of our Cubbing parents, friends and leaders, who can say that this seeming promise shall remain unfulfilled.

Among the various displays will be Scrap Books demarcating mental advancement; collections of various nature's proving interests in many fields of Nature and completely finished products of handiworks befitting the fact that small hands and minds are sans interests in the properties of the home and neighborhood.

All-in all, this Show will encompass fields which lie around about us, is the workmanship to be denied, as it is not what the boy does to the material that counts—but what the material does to the boy!

Everyone is urged to attend this Handicrafts Show in true difference to these Cubs who one day will be our leading citizens.

In Baniff, Alberta, Dr. Pat Costigan got an urgent call while playing hockey, bolted from the ice, delivered a baby girl, swooped back within the hour to help his team win, 6-to-4.

State Fights Tomato Blight

Late tomato blight, which caused damage to the tomato crops in many parts of the country last year, is being guarded against in Michigan this year.

L. Carl Knorr, plant pathologist at Michigan State college, says that central Michigan escaped serious damage last year due to the drought conditions. However, in southeastern Michigan, many fields were badly affected.

In northern states, the fungus which causes the blight lives over winter in potato tubers and in tomato plants in greenhouses. Wind and rain then carry the spores of the fungus to the plants in gardens and tomato fields. Cool, wet weather causes the blight to spread rapidly.

The Plant Disease Survey of the U. S. Department of Agriculture has set up a farming service this year to protect tomato growers. Cooperators in 32 states will gather information on the earliest occurrences and progress of the blight. These reports will then be assembled and spraying recommendations and control measures issued.

The Agricultural Insecticide and Fungicide association will see that there are adequate supplies of fungicides on the market to combat the disease.

Michigan cooperators are Knorr and Mrs. M. C. Strong of the Michigan State college department of botany and plant pathology.

In Baltimore, George McCormick got 18 months in jail, $300 fine for forging an income-tax refund check with his signature: a scrawled "X".

How well do you know your own home?

How many electric motors are there in your home? And how many electric heating appliances do you have?

When you check the list below, perhaps you'll find that you've underestimated the electrical equipment that keeps your home pleasant and comfortable.

Our records show that customers are using more and more current in their homes—our production of electricity is at record-breaking heights, far greater even than when war plants worked round the clock. But that increased use of current means that—for a few more pennies a week—you get household tasks done in less time—with less effort—and for less money than in any other way.

Check your electrical equipment against this list...

- Motors: Sewing machine, refrigerator, washing machine, clock, razor, record player, furnace fan, electric tools, ventilating fan, ironer, vacuum cleaner, kitchen mixer, dishwasher, vibrator, sifter or oil burner, electrical toys, home freezer.
- Heating Appliances: Toaster, heating pad, electric blanket, range, water heater, roaster, space heater, bottle warmer, hand iron, mangle, coffee maker, waffle iron, bun warmer, curling iron, grill, tea kettle, heat lamp.

(Figures show that the average Edison customer has more than five of these.)

BABSON SAYS

Babson Discusses School Committees

Eureka, Kansas, April 18. — When passing through the Great Central West—as I have the past week—the subject of general interest is not “crops” but rather “schools”.

The Present Outlook

My western friends say: (a) Since 1940, 350,000 of the 875,000 public school teachers have left their blackboards never to return! (This figure does not include the normal annual turnover of another 75,000.) (b) Sufficient replacements are not being trained to fill these vacancies. (Only 20,000 of the 1,000,000 veterans in American colleges are attending teacher-training institutions.) (c) While the teaching population shrinks, the pupil population increases. It is quite apparent, therefore, that something must be done quickly if we are to save our public schools.

The Crux of the Problem

Let us face facts. Truck drivers and garbage collectors make more money today than the average public school teacher with $37 per week! The problem is primarily the need for a living wage for a professional class who have invested heavily in terms of time and money to prepare themselves for their “profession.” We, moreover, have entrusted to them one of the most important tasks in a democracy,—developing the minds of the citizens of tomorrow.

It is a sad commentary on the status of U.S. public education when Russia spends 7.5% of its national income on its schools; Britain spends 3.5%; and the United States spends only 1.5% of its national income. Is it any wonder that the youth of our country are refusing to invest heavily in time and money to prepare for teaching when 45,000 teachers in more than 20 of our states earn less than $800 per year?

School Politics

Who determines salary schedules, plots raises and educational policies, approves the hiring and firing of teachers in most communities? Usually it is the school committees. Too many committeemen have remained on the defensive with their apologies and alibis. The excuses which they make for failure to meet the crisis run like this: “We must pare the budget; the taxpayers won’t stand for increased taxation. Or, “Let the teachers get jobs somewhere else if they don’t like the way we treat them.” I haven’t heard very many of them soliciting the cooperation of the local press or meeting with the Parent-Teacher Associations to tell them why we must increase our budgets for the schools.

I’m wondering if all of we voters are not ultimately to blame for our present dilemma? We need on our local school committees more trained educators who know something about how a school should be run. We need crusaders anxious to fight for our schools and our teachers. We must cut through politics and elect men with educational “know how” and have better school committees. In some cities the school committees are hot beds of politics. Out here in the rural communities a child has some chance of an education.

Schools or Roads?

Here is a suggested course of action which might well help in solving our problem:

- (1) We must exercise our right to vote, particularly in the primaries, and see to it that our school committees are those who know something about complex educational problems.
- (2) We ought to support a good school committee in its every effort to raise not only the teachers’ salaries but also the standards of the schools.
- (3) Let us roost out those petty politicians who are looking primarily for personal glory and jobs for relatives and friends.

We ought to insist that an adequate amount of our gasoline tax dollars goes to our schools. It’s the younger generation who are wasting the gasoline today. Let them repay for their education by a gasoline tax plus a larger tax on cigarettes, movies and night clubs. After all, it’s not only the teachers who are suffering—it’s our children and our very way of life! The Supreme Court has declared valid laws forbidding the sale of certain things to minors. Why not put an extra tax on unessentials sold to minors and give this money to the teachers?

25 YEARS AGO FROM THE PLYMOUTH MAIL FILES

Maxwell Todd, Warren Westfall and Marion Tefft are ahead in the third grade spelling contest.

The Plymouth Choral Society will give a concert in the Penniman Allen theatre, Monday evening.

A new 7 1/4 h.p. generator has been installed at the Penniman Allen theatre, which provides direct current in place of alternating current as heretofore. This gives 100 per cent better light for the showing of pictures on the screen. The local theatre now has the very best equipment for the showing of pictures that money can buy.

Plymouth explain society and Progressive club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Stringer, 141 Main street, last Tuesday.

The Helping Hand society met last week at the home of Mrs. Archie Collins in Plymouth with a good attendance of members present.

Through the courtesy of the officials of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, the commercial geography class escorted by the teacher, Miss Levan, visited the factory.
